Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempsstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York:—Hy Gainsboro, Duke of Flushing, who claims to be in Dr. Works' class as a bridge player, is considering giving lessons to a selected class at the Motion Picture Club between 4 and 6 Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday . . . Al Feinman has at last got a title which fits his ambitions; he has been made National Counsellor to the United States Chamber of Commerce by the A.M.P.A. and what's he going to do with all of it . . . Joe Shea, one of Jeff McCarthy's school of road show aces, has resigned from the road show department of Pathe and will take a vacation before hooking up with one of several offers . . . Harry, Abe and Jack Warner are so busy receiving congratulations on the "Singing Fool" that they haven't much time to attend to the regular run of their work, and why not? . . . Harry Reichenbach has again joined out with Universal and will handle the Colony Theatre, opening on September 30 with with Lonesome, and again those Universal people demonstrate what wise birds they are . . . Harry Thomas, who has many boosters, is receiving congratulations over buying the Commonwealth Exchange, long owned by Sam Zierler . . . Pete Smith is here from the coast and as he probably will team up with Howard Dietz, everyone had better be on the quiver—whatever that is . . . Phil Reisman, general sales manager of Pathe has departed on a long western trip which will take him to the coast before he gets back . . . Ernst Laemmle, Universal director who was smashed up in a motor accident, sails today for Germany to recuperate, after which he will direct at least one picture with Carl Laemmle's German unit . . . Roger Ferri, who has been running the Fox house organ and doing exploitation work in the sales department, has been transferred to the coast studios . . .

Skouras to Rival Katz in Warner-1st Nat'l. Combine

(Continued from page 1)

stood that Spyrou Skouras has been motivating the Warner control of First National with the hope of becoming head of the vast theatre circuit of over three hundred theatres in the Warner-Stanley-First National pool, and he will occupy a position similar to that held by Katz as head of Publix Theatres.

Skouras is the third pivot in the keystone of the controlling voting trust of First National, the other two being Balaban and Rosshiem. With Rosshiem and Skouras in accord, the way was paved for swinging the proposition.

Effect Economies

Both companies, for the time being will retain their individual identities. Almost immediately, after actual signing of the papers and the official announcements, both organizations will commence merging their respective selling and producing forces, to effect further economies in overhead expense.

The best sales elements and exchange locations of both organizations will be retained, when centralization is effected.

The Warner Studios will later move over to Burbank, as soon as the numerous sound stages being built there by First National are completed. The Warner Studios on Sunset Boulevard have become too valuable as physical property, to be able to retain them there solely for pictures.

Why Warner Bought

It was this week just learned what the principal reason was for the Warner acquisition of the Stanley chain of theatres. The Warner selling organization woke up to the fact that they had overlooked the possibility of making five-year contracts with all the big circuits which were clamoring for talking picture product, which contracts could have easily been obtained, due to their enviable position as the first producers to put out successful box-office sound successes.

Had all deals for Vitaphone product been made on this five-year basis, there would have been no immediate necessity for this tremendous theatre buying.

Fox to Sell?

The only other large holder of First National stock now left is William Fox, whose West Coast Theatres gives him a 25% interest. Whether Fox will throw this over to a possible pool which may be formed with the other minor franchise holders in First National who are opposed to the Warner deal, and thus organize a formidable opposition to the managing directorship, or sell this 25% interest, is a matter of speculation.

1st Nat'l the Gainer

This Warner deal promises to be an excellent thing for First National, because of the immediate availability of Vitaphone product to First National franchise-holders and accounts. In the past several years, the franchise-holders have been playing diverse product, Paramount and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer pictures getting a good break and in many cases, very little First National product being found suitable.

It is now expected that the booking percentage of the First-National-Warner product will now show an upward swing in all circuits operated by the franchisers.

NON-THEATRICALS HAIL NEW SAFETY DEVICE

Non-theatrical outlets, which have been faced with fire-underwriter's restrictions heretofore in the projection of educational and industrial will find their troubles over, after the demonstration in New York this week of a new non-combustible film, which will be permitted to be used without a booth and even using a wooden instead of metal projector head.

The process is an invention of the Tree-Pho photographic film process which is being sponsored by the Graves Holding Corporation.

"Seven Footprints"

First National is to do the A. Merritt story, "Seven Footprints to Satan". Benjamin Christensen will direct.

"Apache" for Columbia

Columbia has bought an original story, "The Apache" from Ramon Romeo. Phil Rosen will direct and Margarete Livingston will have a leading role.

Arbitration Board

Bans Re-Argument

(Continued from page 1)

hibitors.

A number of national distributors obtained an award of $4,500 against a circuit of theatres represented by Payette & Dalke, for the bicycling of film.

The exhibitors last week attempted to reopen the case on the ground that new evidence was discovered and the exhibitors had not had their day in court. The Board, after hearing arguments of attorneys for both sides, Louis Nizer, representing the exchanges, decided that arbitration decisions are final and they would not reopen this case.

For the first time, an arbitration board itself has decided that it has no authority to reopen anything once decided, and that this will work both ways, favoring exhibitor and distributor alike.

Sapiro Organization Agrees to Dissolve December 1st

(Continued from page 1)

velopments in the I.M.P.E.A. believe that this intention to break-up the association was forced by those theatre owners who have deals on for selling their theatres to Fox or Warners, and who felt that the Association was standing in the way.

Aaron Sapiro's resolution to the membership disclosed that the proposed appeal in the Mayer & Schneider case will be abandoned, and that suits against them for payment of dues will be left in the hands of the Administrative Committee.

The Association will continue its legal existence so that the members may revive activity in the future if they so desire.

CINEMATOGRAPHERS

Bell & Howell—Akeley Cameras
Still Cameras—Graflex Cameras
All Sizes—Portable Lights—
Projectors

For Rent
IRVING BROWNING
110 W. 40th Street, New York City
Penn. 1253-9

The $250,000 King

Barney Glazer has always been one of the highest priced writers in pictures. Now he has reached the financial top as a supervisor. For Barney has a contract with Joe Kennedy supervising sound for FBO-Pathe which calls for $5,000 a week and every week for a year. If this don't make him a king, what then?

Change for Maynard

"Wells Fargo Express," a story of the famous stage coach company that guaranteed safe delivery in the days of bandits and road agents, is to be Ken Maynard's next western production for First National Pictures, instead of "The Lawless Legion" as previously announced. Al Rogell will direct.

C. E. Smith Returns

Cresson E. Smith, Assistant General Sales Manager of United Artists returned to New York yesterday from a month's trip to the mid-west territory. Smith reports exhibitors anxious to play sound pictures but they must be good.

Ufa Denies Story

BERLIN—The Ufa company yesterday denied the rumor that Herr Hugo Correl would resign his office as direction and production chief.

Mayor Life-Member

On Monday the Board of Directors of the Motion Picture Club will have ready for presentation to Mayor Walker a unique document.

At the last Board of Directors meeting, it was decided to present Mayor Walker with a gold certificate of life membership.

Joelson-Suchman Lose

Blenheim-U.A. Verdict

(Continued from page 1)

the theatre had been closed and the exhibitors sent notification of a clause in paragraph 18 of the contract, cancelling these pictures, claiming they were unable to open for three months.

Louis Nizer, representing United Artists, contended first that the fire did not prevent the theatre from opening and that the exhibitors saw fit to keep it closed for other reasons and they therefore could not take advantage of the clause, and secondly that the computation of the three months' period must be made from the notice of availability of a picture and not from the date of the fire and that therefore three months had not elapsed.

This point, which has never previously been tested out in arbitration, resulted in the Board granting an award in favor of the exchange.

British Find a Valentino Gilbert-Cortez Wonder

LONDON—British International Pictures are touting a new screen find in the person of Alexander D'Arcy, whose latest work is in "Paradise".

The company is advertising D'Arcy as "another Valentino, but he can act"; "another John Gilbert, but he is better looking"; "another Ricardo Cortez, but he is human".

PICTURE REVIEWS

"MOTHER KNOWS BEST"

For.....Movietone
Directed by.....John Blystone
Staged By Charles Judels and Dave Stamper

Dialogue.....Eugene Walter
Featuring.....Madge Bellamy,
Louise Dresser, Barry Norton

A fine production that is a credit to Fox and to the industry; sincerely and intelligently produced from Edna Ferber's thoughtful story—Dialogue does not exhaust the patience of an audience, but Madge Bellamy's impersonations of Jolson, Harry Lauder and Anna Held lack talent, as such. Her Anna Held, the best. Norton and Bellamy adequate though not vital and forceful enough. Dresser's performance, the finest, by far.

Story concerns a mother's determination to guide her talented daughter into a stage career, to the counter destruction of every normal impulse to spiritual and emotional love which motivates the girl. Because the mother had an unhappy married life, she teaches daughter to despise all men. This fails and although the girl climbs the histrionic heights, she cannot hide her love for a boy-composer, who loves her. She finally collapses through repressed emotions and only through the return of her lover, thought dead, in the war, and the mother having learned her lesson, does she recover and all is well.

"Q SHIPS"

New Era—British
Directed by.....Geoffrey Barkas and Michael Barringer
Photography.....Sydney Blythe
Technical Advisors.....Lt. Comm. H.
Auten and Comm. Rhone

Produced with sanction and co-operation of the British Admiralty and making use of many scenes from official British war pictures. A gripping production which holds an audience all the way through in a tense way and makes them actually live through a phase of the World War.

The picture is a treatise on the awful destruction accomplished by German submarines during the beginning of the war and the various ways in which the British evolved plans to check-mate the menace. One of these schemes was the conversion of old tramp vessels into submarine fighters, by equipping them with real armament, thoroughly hidden. Thrilling submarine scenes are pictured as well as the operation of the "Q" ships and actual sea battles.

Sincerity and considerate treatment of both sides in this sea struggle, is the key-note of the film, which should prove of interest to 90 per cent of all American audiences.

"THE RIVER PIRATE"

Direction.....Wm. K. Howard
Story by.....Francis Coe
Photography.....Lucien Andriot
Cast.....Victor McLaglen,
Lois Moran, Nick Stuart, Donald Crisp, Earle Fox.

This is a very interesting and novel story of a hard-boiled river pirate's devotion to a lad with whom he has become pals during their stay in jail. The boy has been "rail-roaded" and after his escape he helps the older man ply his crooked trade only to get in another jam—this time with him. Scenes in the reformatory were exceptionally well handled and the picture contains an excellent set of titles. McLaglen fans will eat this up because in this one he's not only tough but does some real acting and has great human appeal as well. Nick Stuart too, shares acting honors, doing his best work so far. The entire cast is excellent and the picture maintains a pace that makes for good entertainment.

"DOCKS OF NEW YORK"

Direction.....Josef Von Sternberg
Photography by.....Hal Rosson
Cast.....George Bancroft, Betty Compson, Baclanova, Clyde Cook.

Despite the box-office title and powerful cast, we doubt whether it will be possible to "mop-up" with this one. There is something terribly lacking in the picture, which had all the background and acting ability for a smashing success. "Docks of New York" concerns itself with an incident in the life of a rowdy stoker, during a single night ashore, and what starts out to be gripping drama, dissolves instead into three intensely perfect character studies.

The picture is expertly directed throughout but more with the hand of a portrait painter than that of a story teller, and contains some of the most interesting and beautiful photography we have ever seen. Von Sternberg has given us a more than adequate picture of these sordid lives, but entertainment value rests on more than characterization alone, even tho in this instance it is unexcelled by George Bancroft and the entire cast.

"THE WHIP"

First National
Directed By.....Charles J. Brabin
Featuring.....Dorothy Mackaill,
Ralph Forbes, Anna Q. Nilsson and Lowell Sherman

Old English derby race melodrama containing all the familiar elements of love and trickery, occasioned by the great annual Ascot Day races. There is the fine old Lord who is grooming his temperamental favorite for the race; the race tout, the crooked notary, the pseudo Duchess, the two lovers and the designing villain.

The railroad wreck scenes as well as those of the race itself, and a thrilling automobile smashup are thrillingly depicted in direction and photography, though otherwise there is nothing new to make the film anything but ancient entertainment, whose plot can be anticipated by any average audience, as it unfolds.

If your audiences are not particular and will be satisfied with an old story fairly well done, you won't lose. Titling is adequate, though it could stand pepping up.

"THE CAMERAMAN"

M-G-M
Directed by.....Edward Sedgwick
Featuring.....Buster Keaton,
Marceline Day, Harry Gribbon.

The best and funniest of the trilogy of films which have appeared about the tribulations of newsreel photographers—Keaton has gagged this one to a riot and the tongue-war sequence will grip grown-ups as well as the kids. Exhibitors booking this one should rig up a loud-speaker amplifier outside the house to carry the roars of laughter to passers-by. It's a tonic.

Keaton turns from making tin-type portraits to that of newsreel photographer, investing his meager savings in an old battered camera that has seen its best days, in order to be near the girl he has fallen in love with. In trying to make good, everything goes wrong, though he works hard and photographs everything in sight. He comes back from a tongue war which he exclusively covers, only to find no film in his camera when it's all over, and similar hard luck greets him all along the line until he finally makes good for the sake of the girl.

"CAPTAIN SWAGGER"

Pathe
Directed by.....E. H. Griffith
Featuring.....Rod La Rocque,
Sue Carol, Ulrich Haupt.
Photography by.....J. J. Mescall

The stories being handed La Rocque by Pathe are not designed to do justice to his talents and this is one of the weakest. Director has done as well as anyone could do, but there is nothing in this that will stir your audience, not even a first-rate love-story. La Rocque and Ulrich Haupt as well as Sue Carol labor mightily and what results is just another picture ordinarily handled.

Gentlemen of leisure and flying ace during the war, finds himself broke when returned to private life. He almost turns bandit, but in this way meets the girl, also broke—together they make a success as cabaret performers. Cafe is held-up by ex-German flying ace, a friendly enemy of our hero's during the war—Drummond corners the crook, shoots him and then aids him to escape—girl thinks Drummond pulled the job—German explains and all ends well.

Sound Featurettes

"DEBUREAU"

Fox Movietone—Lionel Atwill
An unusual departure for film fans, in this monologue delivered by Atwill, from one of the scenes of the play "Debureau." It is distinctly 'theatre' and the sort of thing that picture-goers may not relish so well, as it is apt to grow tedious.

Atwill appears in front of stage curtain and imparts the wisdom of acting to his son, who is not seen in this action, not being essential. A complete master of the art of pantomime and the spoken word, Atwill with great feeling runs the gamut of human emotion, in describing to his son the proper conduct and procedure to be followed as one of the profession.

Atwill's name will mean a lot in hilling this skit, but on account of its length, audience may tire of it before it is half-way through.

"CROONING ALONG"

Vitaphone—The Crooners
Three jazz and blues singers, accompanying themselves on the ukulele and with a piano accompanist. A singing and instrumental number that is chiefly distinguished by the tenor of the trio and his fine crooning voice.

Two of the numbers are ordinary for modern jazz stuff but the third is hot and is done in a distinctive way. This Vitaphone short will suffice as a program filler on a feature talking bill.

"A BIT OF OLD SCOTCH"

Vitaphone—Kitty Doner
Kitty performs a good part of her standard vaudeville repertoire in this short featurette, doing a peppy combination singing and dancing number that has personality plus all over it. Her hoofing is of the tap dancing nature and the act opens with her donning scotch attire while singing.

When she has completed her costuming, she advances to the front of the stage and does a fast dance to piano accompaniment and her own song. She is a well-known male impersonator, and as a leg show, while dressing will go big in the big towns.

"THE BATTLE HYMN OF THE REPUBLIC"

Fox Movietone
This short talking feature is one of the finest and most appealing things yet, done through this new medium of voice and shadow. Picture will arouse patriotic fervor, through its genuineness.

Act opens with the daughter of Julia Ward Howe, Mrs. Elliot, describing to her niece, Miss Hall, how the well known lyric has been inspired and written in 1861 during the Civil War.

This she feelingly describes, and then she recites the hymn and as it nears the closing lines, the scene is double exposed into marching lines of troops in the dim light.

Balaban and Katz

again demonstrate what smart showmen they are by cashing in on the start of the football season with the snappiest of football comedies

WIN THAT GIRL

with DAVID ROLLINS and SUE CAROL
DAVID BUTLER PRODUCTION

Opens Today
at the

ORIENTAL, CHICAGO

Synchronized for theatres playing
Movietone—Silent for others

It's grand entertainment either way and timely as tomorrow morning's paper

NOW

IS THE TIME FOR SMART SHOWMEN TO SCORE A GOAL WITH

FOX

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Formerly EXHIBITORS TRADE REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

VOL. 24 No. 70

New York, Monday, September 24, 1928

FIVE CENTS

OBSERVATIONS

Front Page

The current dramatic hit in New York, "Front Page" is causing most every studio to rush a newspaper story into production. Fox, Paramount, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Warners, Universal, Tiffany-Stahl and goodness knows how many others, have but one thought—"a newspaper story". The market will be flooded. Fox we understand is going to produce the "real McCoy". Meaning it will be made as an all-talker and the talk will be quite astounding. Probably not as "heavy" as the current stage attraction. But heavy enough.

Warners

With the Warner-First National deal set, Harry M. Warner is no doubt centering his attention on the closing of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum circuit. Many feel that this sale has already been set and point to the fact that Murdock, Kennedy and Pat Casey left for their European jaunt at probably, the most important time of the year in so far as K-A-O is concerned. Booking offices, theatres and the general atmosphere around the Keith office has always taken on a very busy air around Labor Day, for this has always been the beginning of a new season, and this, they reason, was no time for these theatre heads to be away. They figure the Warner deal has been definitely closed for some time, for if it was not J. J. Murdock would have been at his desk and not in Europe. That reasoning is a little faint but has some foundation.

Pathe

Many are asking, if K-A-O go to Warners, what will happen to Pathe. There is an answer but we have not found it yet. Murdock is heavily interested in Pathe. More than many of us imagine. Will Pathe be included in this K-A-O sale? We doubt it. There seems to be more reason to assume that this organization will join forces with FBO under the joint operation of Murdock, Kennedy and Radio Corporation of America. However any guess is as good, maybe better than ours. What's yours?

WILKERSON

GERMAN GOV'T.-UFA OFFICIALS DENY BAN ON AMERICAN FILMS

OFFICIAL LINDBERGH FILM PRESENTATION

Picture Producers at Aeronautical Dinner Tonight

The Hon. William R. Castle, Jr., Assistant Secretary of State, will tonight be officially presented with the 7-reel feature Lindbergh film, for the United States Government, at the dinner the Aeronautical Industry is giving the Motion Picture Industry at the Waldorf-Astoria tonight.

One thousand notables, headed by such names as Earl Rowland, winner of the Transcontinental Air Derby; F. Trubee Davison, Edward P. Warner, Asst. Secretary of the Navy; William O. McCrackern, Asst. Secretary of the Commerce Department for Aeronautics; A. H. G. Fokker, Lester D. Gardner, Pres. of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce; (Continued on page 2)

Otterson to Address

Electrical League

J. E. Otterson, President of Electrical Research Products, Inc., will address the members of the New York Electrical League, at their next luncheon on Wednesday at the Hotel Astor.

Otterson will talk on "The Voice of the Movie and What It Means". He will attempt to tell what is ahead in this new talking picture field.

Fall Convention Picture Engineers in 5-Day Session

The Fall meeting of the Society of Motion Picture Engineers which commences today at Lake Placid, N. Y. and which will last until Friday promises to be the most important session ever held by this body, in view of the very latest scientific developments in talking motion pictures. Over 300 members of the Society are in attendance today to listen to the Presidential address of W. B. Cook, of the Kodascope Libraries.

Other addresses or papers to be read today will be Progress in the Industry by Frank Benford, Public Reaction to Sound Movies by Mor-

WILL H. HAYS

who will tonight at the dinner tendered by the Aeronautical Industry, officially present Feature Film of Lindbergh's exploits

LAEMMLE TO ATTEND "LONESOME" OPENING

Carl Laemmle, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Rosabelle Laemmle, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fleckles, and Jack Ross, his secretary, will leave Los Angeles in time to arrive in New York Sunday, September 30th. (Continued on page 2)

Invitations Issued for Amer. Participation—Klitsch Misquoted

By Dr. R. OTTO
Special Correspondent

BERLIN—Officials of the German Exhibitors' Association are amazed at the reports printed in the American papers imputing that the European exhibitors intend to ban American pictures from the European screens.

There is no exhibitor between the North and South poles who does not know the value of American films, and who does not appreciate what the American Industry has done for his trade and for him.

It was not the Berlin Committee's fault that not one American exhibitor attended the conference. Invitations were tendered through the (Continued on page 2)

VITA IN BERLIN

"Noah's Ark" in Legitimate Theatre—Prod. Also

BERLIN—Herman Starr who arrived here last week, has announced plans for the Vitaphone premiere of "Noah's Ark" in Berlin, in January or February, in a legitimate theatre.

Warner Brothers will also produce Vitaphone pictures in Germany, but not before next summer.

PHOTOPHONE CREATES COMMER. DEPARTMENT

Leroy P. Sawyer Elected V. P. in Charge—Heyl for Foreign Bus.

With a rapidly growing national and international demand for Photophone talking-movie apparatus, the RCA Photophone Company are making extensive plans for further expansion.

The first step taken, according to announcement from E. E. Butcher, was the appointment and election of Leroy P. Sawyer, as Commercial Vice-President of RCA Photophone, Inc., effective October 1st. He will head the new Commercial Department just organized.

E. O. Heyl has also joined the executive staff of Photophone and his work will be in the development of Photophone business in foreign fields.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher and Editor

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schaefer, Business Manager; Executive and Editorial Offices, 45 West 45th Street, New York. Telephone Bryant 6160. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Exhibitors Review Publishing Corporation. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Burr, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hemstead 1514)

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York—Fred McConnell and Lou Metzger played golf Saturday and if Fred lost he was to fast over Yom Kippur and both refuse to tell the result of the match . . . Earl Hudson is again in our midst, having accepted the position of assistant publisher of the Motion Picture News, which shows Bill Johnson is still a smart bird . . . Julius Singer blossomed out Saturday with his second shave of the day and the first carnation of the season replacing the usual aster, and they haven't yet found a way to stop that Beau Brummel . . . Nat Rothstein and Doug Leishman, a couple of local Scotchman, proved true to type by visiting Scotland and mailing postal cards with both names on the same card . . . Ray Rockett, after a long stay making pictures in Germany sailed for home last Saturday on the Leviathan, and Al Rockett will delay his return to the coast to meet up with him . . . John N. Harris, picture theatre impresario from Pittsburgh is in New York spending a few days on business and looking at the big sound pictures . . . Max Alexander, Eastern representative of Stern Brothers, who has been in Europe for some time, sailed for home this week . . . Jack Bachmann, one of Paramounts associate producers on the coast, is coming to New York soon to do nothing but look at a lot of Broadway shows, and who wouldn't have such a job? . . . William Fox, John Zanft and Jack Leo have returned from Detroit where they went to see that the new Fox 5000 seat theatre got opened properly . . . Vivian Moses, who has been spending a couple of weeks in New York, goes back to the Paramount coast studios on Wednesday if he doesn't miss the train . . . Louis B. Mayer got in from the coast Saturday and for the next couple of week will spend a lot of time with sound picture making . . . William H. Skirboll, Columbia franchise holder in Cleveland, is in New York for a series of conferences with Joe Brandt . . .

ZAKORO SELLS PADDOCK KEN'Y-OHIO TERRITORY

"The Olympic Hero", the 5-reel comedy featuring Charles Paddock, formerly America's leading sprinter, was released by the Zakoro Film Corporation, national film distributors of 723 Seventh Avenue, to the Fischer Film Exchanges, covering the territorial rights in Kentucky and Ohio, yesterday.

BOWES-MENDOZA-AXT SCORE CRAWFORD FILM

The Capitol Theatre is busy installing complete Movietone facilities this week for the presentation of its first sound picture, "Our Dancing Daughters", next Saturday. This film by Josephine Lovett, features Joan Crawford, and Harry Beaumont directed.

In addition to "Our Dancing Daughters", the Capitol will present Van and Schenck, in a Metro Movietone Act; an "Our Gang" two-reel comedy, "The Ol' Gray Hoss", in Metro Movietone; and Fox Movietone News.

The synchronized score of "Our Dancing Daughters", with its theme song, "I Loved You Then as I Love You Now", was prepared by Major Edward Bowes, David Mendoza and William Axt. Forthcoming productions at the Capitol which have already been synchronized under their supervision include Lon Chaney's "While the City Sleeps" and Lillian Gish's "The Wind".

Official Lindbergh Film Presentation

(Continued from page 1)

Will H. Hays, Adolph Zukor, William Fox, Nicholas Schenck, Albert and Harry Warner, S. R. Kent, Jesse L. Lasky, S. L. Rothafel, Major Bowes, Sam Katz, George Eastman and many others will attend.

Distinguished guests from Washington, members of the French, Belgium and British Embassies will also be present. Prints of the feature, which has been compiled from news-reel pictures of the exploits of Lindbergh, by members of the Hays organization, will be presented by a special mission to the governments of France, Belgium and Great Britain.

A novelty preceding the dinner will be flying trips offered to as many of the guests as can be accommodated, by the Atlantic Aircraft Corporation. A. H. G. Fokker, president of the company, will put one of the new F-10-A ships at the disposal of the Dinner Committee, and guests wishing to fly will be able to do so as the formal guests of Mr. Fokker.

Florey Completes First

Robert Florey has completed his first Paramount short reeler. It will be known as "The Pusher in the Face" and was made at the Paramount eastern studio. His next will feature the Four Marx Brothers.

Al Hall Promoted

Al Hall, formerly in charge of cutting at the First National studios and more recently in charge of the cutting of Colleen Moore's pictures has been elevated to the position of comedy constructor on Miss Moore's future pictures.

P-F-L Ad Sales Dept. Creates "Color Paint"

James A. Clark, manager of the Paramount Ad Sales Department, today announced an innovation in ad sales material for exhibitors. The new display, known as Color-Paint, is the size of a one-sheet, 28 by 42 inches containing hand colored photographic enlargements of scenes from particular pictures.

Color-Paint is a distinct departure in display advertising bearing no resemblance to any form of ad sales material now in use. It is designed for display in any type of theatre but will appeal particularly to deluxe and first run house operators because of the rich effects achieved in its composition. It is also a very effective medium for window tie-ups, libraries and other high class special locations.

"Wings" and "The Wedding March" are the first two specials to be treated with Color-Paint.

Laemmle to Attend

"Lonesome" Opening

(Continued from page 1)

In time, for the re-opening of the Colony Theatre, where "Lonesome", Universal's first talking picture, will have its Broadway premiere. Carl Laemmle, Jr., and Dr. Paul Fejos, supervisor and director respectively of "Lonesome" will reach New York earlier in the week.

Griffith Leaves Caddo

Raymond Griffith, who went to Caddo under a six-months' contract after his split with Paramount, has been released, without having made one film for Howard Hughes.

German Gov't.-Ufa Officials Deny Ban on Amer. Films

(Continued from page 1)

German Foreign Office.

Without representation of the greatest exhibiting country, America, the conference was incomplete and without the goodwill of the American exhibitor, all the plans adopted by the Conference may come to naught.

American reports stated that Herr Klitsch, head of the Ufa producing and distributing organization declared at the Conference that no American picture should in the future be imported.

Nothing can be more false! Herr Klitsch, on the contrary, in his great speech laid stress on the necessity, that whatever regulations the German government may devise for the protection of the home industry, nothing should be done to strangle the import of foreign pictures.

The same demand was put forward by the official speaker of the German Government, Dr. Posse.

Robinson at Gotham

Casey Robinson, youthful author, has been signed by Sam Sax as a supervisor of Gotham productions. His first will be "The Head of the Family". Joe Boyle will direct, William Russell and Virginia Lee Corbin will have the leads.

CALL WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.

for

Library Stock Scenes

130 W. 46 St. New York

Bryant 8181

If You Read...

The Daily Review

You Will Read...

All the News

The entire motion picture industry, both foreign and domestic, is covered by newsgatherers for this publication. Our Hollywood and studio service is the most complete in the industry.

HOLLYWOOD PREVIEWS

"STOLEN LOVE"

FBO
Directed by.....Lynn Shore
Photography by.....Ted Paull
Featuring.....Marceline Day,
Owen Moore and Rex Lease.
A good program picture that never gets far away from the cut and dried formula and thus ensures a pleasant feeling for everyone concerned.
When the girls two maiden aunts pack her off to school to cure her love for the country boy, she outwits them by climbing off the train and starting back to meet her sweetheart. But the handsome stranger gives her a lift and she discovers that the boy, who has been told the girl had discarded him, has gone to the city. She allows the handsome stranger to outfit her with fine clothes and provide her with an excellent position. When she attends a gay party with the stranger she meets the boy who fails to understand the innocence of her position—but all ends well. Direction, commendable, cast good and the titles exceptional.

"TAKE ME HOME"

Paramount
Directed by.....Marshall Neilan
Photography by.....J. Roy Hunt
Featuring.....Bebe Daniels,
Neil Hamilton.
The combination of Marshall Neilan as director and Bebe Daniels as star resulted in a picture that will increase the popularity of both. A sure fire box office attraction that gives us a Bebe with all the old dash and pep as well as a new touch of charm and loveliness.
The story is of the currently popular back stage type. A little chorine loves a rube kid, who in turn, becomes stage struck and with the help of the chorine and her friends, develops into a good hooper. The star of the show fancies the new hooper and seemingly wins him away from the girl. She is heart broken, but in her own way, she gets the kid back and the end of the story finds them both back in the quiet and peace of the country. In addition to the excellent work of Miss Daniels, Lilyan Tashman and Neil Hamilton stand out with praiseworthy characterizations and splendid support is given by the rest of the cast. Photography and titles excellent.

Roach Teams Girls

Hal Roach has teamed Anita Garvin and Marion Bryon for a series of two reel comedies patterned after the type comedy Sant Laurel and Oliver Hardy are now doing for his organization.

George Arliss on Warner-WOR Mon.

George Arliss will be the guest artist for the second Warner Bros. Vitaphone Jubilee Hour which will be broadcast Monday night, September 24th, through WOR in New York City and twenty other radio stations comprising the entire Columbia Chain.

"FLIGHT OF THE SOUTHERN CROSS"

G. Allen Hancock Prod.
Arranged by.....Fred Stanley.
This aerial epic is a film epic of the successful flight from California to Australia made by Capt. Kingsford Smith, Charles P. Ulm and Harry W. Lyons and James Warner.
This picture, a complete record of this historic flight is a tremendous picture that will capture every heart and eye in the audience and hold it all the way through. When sound is added, it will become even more thrilling.
Entire sequences of the picture center on the interior scenes in the plane where Warner and Lyons were stationed. From Honolulu to Brisbane, thrilling sky scenes and rain storms are pictured. The equatorial storm that the plane ran into near Suva, with its terrific lightning and thunder is blood curdling.
Book this one for crowded houses. Proceeds from the film are going to the aviators.

"COME AND GET IT"

FBO
Directed by.....Wallace C. Fox
Photography.....Virgil Miller
Featuring.....Bob Steele
An action story that will appeal to the type of houses that specialize in thrillers of the rough and ready sort. Action audiences will eat it up.
Bob Steele is a champ boxer of the Navy whose fistic prowess does not thrill either his mother or his sweetheart. But when a friend of the family is killed because of a stolen necklace unwittingly owned by Bob's mother and his father is on the verge of hanging through circumstantial evidence, Bob enters the ring to win the bribe necessary to pay off one of the criminals, who would turn state's evidence for a given sum, and everything ends happily. There is plenty of action, innumerable thrills, ample comedy and not too much plot. Steele's cleancut boyish personality is a decided asset to the story.

"River Woman" Booked by Mid-Wesco Circuit

Budd Rogers, Vice-President of Gotham Productions announces that Jack Grauman of Gotham's Milwaukee exchange has sold the entire Mid-Wesco Circuit on "The River Woman", Gotham's initial 1928-29 special, starring Lionel Barrymore and Jacqueline Logan.

P-F-L Sign New Girl

Leone Lane, 19 year old beauty of Boston, has been placed under contract by B. P. Schulberg production head of Paramount. Miss Lane has been playing leads in a series of two reels being released by FBO.

"PORT OF DREAMS"

Universal
Directed by.....Wesley Ruggles
Photography.....John Stumer
Starring.....Mary Philbin
Given a simple story with all the elements that made "Seventh Heaven" such an outstanding attraction, Universal has here a strong contender for box office honors. Not a great story, but one that is sure to delight the fans and result in the passing the good word around.
The story concerns the efforts of a young convict to find love and happiness despite the not entirely new idea of having the law as his opposition. The youth is beloved by the girl who pictures him as the embodiment of all the beauty and joy that life has denied to her. Mary Philbin is sincere in her delineation and will win many new admirers, while Fred Mackaye, a new discovery, shows great promise. The direction abounds in fanciful touches and the photography is truly magnificent.

"HEART TROUBLE"

First National
Directed by.....Harry Langdon
Featuring.....Harry Langdon
This can hardly be considered more than ordinary comedy and far away from the standard promised by the earliest of Langdon's feature releases. The laughs are scattered and the story is weak. If Langdon's name still means anything, the fans who come in will be disappointed.
Perhaps the answer to this story can be found in the fact the Langdon, as has been the case in the past two or three flops, insisted on handling the direction. In addition he has gotten away from the characterization that brought him screen fame almost overnight. There may be those who can direct their own comedies, but it is clearly evident that Langdon would do better if he is interested in his screen future, to remain a comedian, in which field he is almost without a peer.

"MARKED MONEY"

Pathe
Directed by.....Spencer Bennett
Photography.....E. Snyder
Featuring.....Junior Coghlan
A "kid" story of average program merit. The entire story is built around a mischievous and lovable youngster and is developed in the manner customary to this type of screen story.

The boy is delivered into the hands of a gruff old sea captain, whose antipathy toward raising the lad is overcome by the youngster's love for ships plus twenty-thousand dollars. Melodramatic complications ensue and are cleared up in the usual fashion. Bert Woodruff gives an outstanding performance as the old sea captain, but the rest of the cast is quite ordinary. The picture as a whole will have more of an appeal to the youngsters than it will to adults.

"ALIAS JIMMY VALENTINE"

M-G-M
Directed by.....James Conway
Featuring.....William Haines
New version of old film which starred Bert Lytell, which was a drama. This one is a comedy and rates as an average production. However, sound is being added to it, with special effects which may turn the film into a big hit. Direction is good but uninspired. Haines somewhat unsuited to crook roles but does well in dramatic spots.
Plot of Alias Jimmy Valentine, popular play more than decade ago, concerns a clever crook, noted for his ability to open any safe-combination. He wanders into a small town to rob a bank and falls in love with the bank-president's daughter. He turns over a new leaf, taking a job in the bank. At the climax, the banker's little daughter is locked in the vault. Despite the risk if his past becomes known, Jimmy Valentine sets to work to open the vault and save the child's life.

"SHOW GIRL"

First National
Directed by.....Al Santell
Cast.....Alice White,
Charles Delaney, Lee Moran,
Richard Tucker, Kate Price.
Screen Story by James P. O'Donohoe.
Some viewing this one might call it plot No. 642 mention the acting, direction and general production and let it go at that. All this is true, but with it all it is a very entertaining picture of Broadway, cabaret and theatrical night life, and this is always good if properly handled and Al Santell did this and more. Alice White comes out in this production as a real star and deserves it. She is exceedingly good. The rest of the cast is O.K. The picture will entertain and it will get a lot of money at the box office and when this is said what else is there to be added?

Langdon 3-Reeler Ready

Mack Senett, the comedy king, who discovered and developed Harry Langdon, presents the droll-faced comedian in "Soldier Man," a three-reel mirthful, mythical kingdom story released by Pathe on September 30th. Harry Edwards directed from script by Arthur Ripley and Frank Capra.

New Rayart Exchange

Rayart Pictures Incorporated is the name of a new Mayart exchange devoted exclusively to the handling of Rayart pictures in the Iowa and Nebraska territory, with headquarters in Omaha. E. J. Drucker of the same organization operating in Denver and Salt Lake, will have charge of the Omaha office.

Brooks to Germany

Louise Brooks, Paramount player, is to leave Hollywood shortly for Germany. She is to make one, and possibly two pictures for the UFA company.

Gilda's English Film

Gilda Gray has been signed by British International studios for the featured role in "Piccadilly Shiver" which will be put into production immediately.

"Voodoo" Story for Fox

Randall Faye, ace writer for Fox, has written a dramatic story dealing with South Africa, its life and customs. It will be produced by Fox in the very near future.

Studios and Theatres Create Serious Crisis with West Coast Previews

Fans Stay Away on Nights
When No Previews
Billed

By JOE BLAIR
Hollywood Correspondent

Previews are killing business around Hollywood and Southern California. That is, the lack of them are leaving empty houses.

Studio's have made a practice, during the last couple of years, of taking pictures fully assembled, but not completely cut, to neighboring houses in an effort to get an audience reaction to the various sequences. This practice is now so general and the theatres are making such a fuss over them, that unless a theatre shows a preview every night in conjunction with their regular program, an empty house is the result.

Searchlight Tips Off

Formerly the houses gave no evidence that this extra attraction was going to be displayed. But recently big signs are hung in the lobby announcing the preview and in many cases the name of the studio presenting it and in some instances the name of the picture and the cast. In addition to this theatres have instituted the idea of a big searchlight on the top of the theatre. When this light is on, it is preview night, if it is dark, there is no preview. Consequently patrons look for the search light or the lobby sign and if there is none in evidence, they drive on to the next theatre.

The houses having the most previews are the houses doing the business. No single attraction will get any business now. Nothing but previews. Studio officials are considering the advisability of discontinuing this practice.

FBO After Lyon

Ben Lyon is in great demand. This talented leading man is at present working in the Mormon picture being made in Iowa and Utah. FBO have made overtures for him to star in a series of pictures. First National wants him for the lead in Colleen Moore's new picture and M-G-M are angling for his services.

Walthall Series

Henry B. Walthall has been signed to do a series of two-reel productions for the independent market. They are to be made by Addison Dintliff and the first is to be known as "The Little Colonel". George MacIntosh and Ethel Stone will have the juvenile leads.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Lupe Valez has been loaned by United Artists to Paramount for the girl lead in "The Wolf Song". She will play opposite Gary Cooper.

"Helen of London" is the title of a new Tiffany-Stahl picture soon to be put into production with Eve Southern as Helen. George Auchambaud will direct.

Ralph Forbes is to leave Metro. Ralph has not been satisfied with the type roles given him by this organization. At least that is the Forbes side of the matter. M-G-M might have another reason for his leaving.

The Ernst Lubitsch-John Barrymore-United Artists company has returned from location in the Canadian Rockies.

"The Desert Song" will be made in colors by Warners. It will, of course, be a 100% talkie.

Columbia has started work on "The Street of Illusion". Earle Kenton is directing Jacqueline Logan, Theodore Von Eltz and Bryant Washburn in this production.

Edythe Chapman has been given the mother role in the Clara Bow picture "Three Week Ends" being done at Paramount.

The title of the Clarence Brown production originally known as "The Wife of Stephen Trombolt" has been changed to "Wonders of Women".

Harry Gribbon is having a tough time making ends meet with the many assignments starring him in the face. He worked eight consecutive nights in rain scenes for the M-G-M production of "Honeymoon". He finally got to bed one morning at six o'clock only to be called two hours later for scenes in "Mysterious Island".

There will only be one white person in the cast of the (almost) all-negro picture King Vidor is to do for M-G-M.

Gaston Glass has been assigned one of the leading roles in the Pathe production of "Geraldine".

James Cruze, his wife, Betty Compson and a party of friends will soon leave for the Hawaiian Islands on a vacation trip.

Charles Eaton, Helen Twelvetrees, Carmel Myers, and Earle Foxe have been selected for the cast of "Badges", Max Marcin's play, which will be made into a Movietone feature at the Fox West Coast studios. Lew Seiler will direct this all-talking picture.

Charles Klein's first production for Fox Films which hitherto has carried the titles of "Fog" and "The Case of Mary Brown" now has a third title, "Blindfold".

Warner Brothers have completed "On Trial". This is an all-talkie and was directed by Archie Mayo.

Conrad Nagel has been cast in the new Warner production of "Kid Gloves". Raymond Enright will direct.

Hobart Bosworth has been added to the cast of the Ernst Lubitsch-United Artists-John Barrymore picture "The King of the Mountains".

Kenneth Thompson surprised the gangaround the Fox lot on his return from New York recently. He presented Mrs. Kenneth Thompson. She was formerly Alden Gay. Kenneth is working in the Emmett Flynn picture "The Veiled Woman".

New York will soon see Alice White. After the completion of "Ritzzy Rosie" she will leave Hollywood for a visit to the metropolis.

Margaret LaMarr, Mike Tellegen, and Bo Ling have been added to the cast of "Husbands Are Liars" which Raymond Cannon is making for Fox.

Will Chappel has been signed by Universal to write the adaptation of "Husband Wanted" the next Laura LaPlante starring picture.

Peter Milne has finished the adaptation and continuity of "The Head of the Family" for Gotham.

Warners Change Policy

Due to unusual business, the Warner Theatre in Hollywood has been forced to run a continuous policy at this playhouse. Formerly the theatre closed between 5:30 and 7 P. M.

TARZAN-'U' SERIAL NOW 15 CHAPTERS

Fred J. McConnell, Short Subjects and Serial Sales Manager for Universal, has just announced a radical innovation in the serial field, in the form of lengthening "Tarzan the Mighty", Universal's current super serial, during its production, as a result of insistent demands by exhibitors cashing in on its early episodes, that it be made as long as possible.

The serial has been increased from twelve to fifteen chapters. It was released beginning August 13th. With the additional chapters, the weekly release period will run to include November 19th.

FOX "STELLA POLARIS" HAS LONDON PREMIERE

"Stella Polaris", a new Fox picture, opened a London engagement yesterday at the Plaza Theatre in Piccadilly Circus. This is none other than "Lost in the Arctic", which recently had a run on Broadway. While the title has been changed for England the Movietone accompaniment remains the same.

"College Humor" Series

H. N. Swanson, editor and publisher of College Humor is sponsoring a series of single reels to be made by Duane N. Mowat. This series will tie up all the big football games throughout the country this coming Fall. Al Davis, formerly Fox comedy director, is writing the stories and will do the directing. Horace Mowat and Ann Carter will play the leads. They will all be photographed in sound and will have talking throughout.

Fox Buys "Hell Lady"

The Fox organization have purchased the stage play, "From Hell Comes the Lady" written by George Scarborough. This production had a Hollywood showing last year and was produced by Joseph Schilkraut.

"D. W." to Act

D. W. Griffith is going to have a part in the picture he is now directing for United Artists. D. W. had several voice tests made and decided after viewing and hearing these tests to enact a role in "The Love Song".

Hersholt Going Abroad

From present indications it seems that Jean Hersholt, Universal star, will make at least one and possibly two pictures that will be made in Germany by Universal. Paul Kohner is at present in Germany arranging the details.

A ROAD SHOW SPECIAL - FOR EXTENDED RUN THEATRES

WHY GIRLS GO WRONG

A SCREEN EPIC OF THE HOME - A THRILLING AND ELABORATE PRODUCTION

For Bookings and Distribution: WIRE: ROAD SHOW PICTURES INC. 489 FIFTH AVE. SUITE 503 NEW YORK

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Formerly EXHIBITORS TRADE REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

VOL. 24 No. 71

New York, Tuesday, September 25, 1928

FIVE CENTS

OBSERVATIONS

Kennedy

What's happened, if anything, to Joseph P. Kennedy? Why this antagonistic attitude on the part of quite a few of the big mouths in this business? What is the reason for it? Yesterday he was Mr. Picture, today, according to some, he is anything but. What is the reason for it all? Other than the First National break, Mr. Kennedy seems to be holding the same position now, that he held before he left for Europe. Why then, do some of our trade papers insist on discrediting him all around? Has the "hidden force" in this industry decided to turn thumbs down on Joseph P.? If so, for what reason?

Credit

This Kennedy person, is a very clever business man. He is competent and if any of you doubt that, have a look at F. B. O. and you will see a smooth running profit-making young producing and distributing organization, with no strife, little if any, internal troubles, making a good program brand of pictures at a cost that will net the organization a good profit and sold to exhibitors on a basis that will permit them a sufficient intake to pay off some of the losses for pictures of the larger producing and distributing companies. And Mr. Kennedy had more to do with this than any other person.

Economies

J. P. instituted some economies in FBO that caused quite a bit of laughter to some. These savings were the results of sensible conclusions on the part of a competent business man. Results have been shown. FBO is making better pictures today than ever before and, considering the type and the advance in production values, are making them cheaper. What is the answer then, to this attack on Kennedy?

Metzger

In conversation with Louis B. Metzger, general sales manager at Universal, we were astounded to be told that 92% of the key points have been closed for Universal product for the coming season. In looking back over other years, that would not seem worthy of mention, but with buying strikes, talking pictures and general unsettled conditions existing today, we would judge this as somewhat of an accomplishment. WILKERSON

WM. FOX CONTRACTS FOR GREATER N. Y. HOUSES

S. M. P. Engineers

—Lk. Placid

TODAY'S PROGRAM

9:30 A. M.

Sound Picture Situation in Hollywood—Frank Woods Photo-Electric Cells

L. R. Koller

Light Valve Recording

Donald Mackenzie

Kerr Method of Recording

V. Zworykin

Ground Noise in Sound

Reproduction—O. Sandvik

Classroom Use of Films

T. E. Finegan

8:30 P. M.

Entertainment by

Electrical Research Products

Kodacolor Demonstration

Eastman-Kodak

SEATTLE EXHIBITOR WINS P-F-L DISPUTE

SEATTLE—Paramount lost a decision in arbitration and an award of $971.50 was granted Winkler and Bedgesoff of the Green Parrot Theatre in this city.

The present owners of the theatre asked the Board to enforce its contract with Paramount Famous-Lasky for two pictures a week, which performance was to have begun in December 1927.

Neal East, representing the P-F-L Exchange stated that through an error, although an agreement was made with O. T. Klawitter, former (Continued on page 2)

300 "KING OF KINGS" BOOKINGS SEPT. 30

12½% of Total Day and Date Showings in Sound Houses

Pathe will on September 30th begin a national simultaneous day and date release of "King of Kings" in 300 theatres 12½% of which showings will be in sound. An intensive exploitation campaign will be issued on behalf of the picture and the exhibitors.

Eighteen principals of stellar importance head the cast. Among the noteworthy principals may be mentioned H. B. Warner, Dorothy Cumming, Ernest Torrence, Joseph Schildkraut, Jacqueline Logan, Rudolph Schildkraut, Montagu Love, Sam De Grasse, Victor Varnoni, Theodore Kosloff, George Siegmann, Majel Coleman, William Boyd, Julla Faye and Robert Edeson. (Continued on page 2)

CARL LAEMMLE EAST FOR COLONY OPENING

Carl Laemmle, accompanied by his daughter Rosabelle and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fleckles, is leaving Hollywood today for New York to attend the opening of his Colony Theatre Sunday Sept. 30th. The house will re-open with the Paul Fejos production "Lonesome" and will have both talk and synchronization.

Tonal Vibration Difficulties Up for Discussion by M. P. Engineers

HELLER-SHUMATE-DAY VISIT BRISTOL PLANT

Herman Heller, formerly musical director of Warner-Vitaphone in New York, has been selected to do the score for the Bristolphone synchronization of the Gotham Production "Times Square".

Heller, Harold E. Shumate, director and Alice Day, journeyed up to the Bristolphone sound stages at Waterbury, Conn. on Saturday, to start the addition of the sound effects to the picture.

By J. C. Steinberg
Bell Telephone Laboratories, Inc.
New York, N. Y.

Speech waves are composed of a large number of tones of different frequency which change continually during utterance. When these waves enter the ear the tones cause disturbances which are spread out along a membrane containing the nerves of hearing. The high tones disturb one end of the membrane; the low tones disturb the other end.

This action might be compared to the keys of a player piano in operation; at one instant the keys at one part of the scale are depressed; at a (Continued on page 3)

Definite Announcement When Entire Group Closed

William Fox is actually closing contracts for the purchase of some fifty or more theatres in the greater New York territory.

This publication announced some time ago that Fox was negotiating for the purchase of a string of independent theatres in this zone on the basis of a price that was agreeable to both the present theatre owner and the Fox head. Since that time the Fox broker, A. L. Blumenthal, has been conducting daily conferences with the independent groups from his suite at the Ambassador Hotel and last Friday an actual con- (Continued on page 2)

HAMMONS-WHITE TEST ALL SOUND APPARATUS

Jack White and E. W. Hammons are carefully looking over the various talking film synchronizing apparatus on the market with a view toward selecting the best method to use in making Educational's sound comedies for next year.

Whether it will be Vocafilm or some other method has not yet been determined upon, but indications would seem to point to the selection of a different one than Vocafilm, with which several comedies have already been synchronized, although Hammons has stated he has a contract to distribute all Vocafilm pictures for the next five years.

White's present contract with Educational expires within the next few months, and this matter will probably be adjusted with Hammons for his future services, before the studio head leaves for California in 10 days.

SAPIRO LAYS FAILURE ON LACK OF MEMBERS

Aaron Sapiro in his resolution presented to the membership of the I.M.P.E.A., before final dissolution was voted upon, gave as his reasons for the failure of the cooperative movement, first, that the association never had even half of the independent exhibitors in New York, and through this could not achieve the position of power they had hoped for. Sapiro further states:

"In addition, we met with severe opposition, some of it, frank and (Continued on page 3)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher and Editor

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schieffer, Business Manager; Executive and Editorial Offices, 45 West 45th Street, New York. Telephone Bryant 6160. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year: United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyrighted by Exhibitors Review Publishing Corporation, Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service. Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hemphstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Distributors, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York:—Hy Dail says there are three pleasant things about writing a successful play—writing it, watching it being produced, and sitting back receiving royalty checks, and the latter not the least.

Pat Garry declares his social duties over the week ends have become so strenuous that they have commenced to run him ragged.

J. David Blaufox, one of the old New York exploitation guard, postcards in from Cleveland that business is going great and that newspapers are getting softer for United Artists pictures.

Bill Orr, who won a fine cup at last spring golf tournament, has been trying to repeat ever since and has finally made up his mind that he did all of his stuff on the one day. Carl Laemmle has sent on word from the laemmle that he will return to New York in time to attend the opening of "Lonesome" at the Colony Theatre next month.

Frederick Wynne-Jones, speaking of his signature, says even at his bank no one can read it but they pay off all checks on the hyphen.

Joe Brandt says he is still of the opinion that "Submarine" is a good picture and he should know as he sees it every other day.

Ted Schlanger, Eastern Divisional sales manager of Universal, who has been on a long trip over his territory, is due back in New York this week. Will Hays put on a picture show last night showing the pictures of Lindbergh's exploits at a dinner given by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce, and then presenting the prints to the U. S. Government.

Joe Kennedy is supposed to have sailed from some place in Europe for home last Saturday, but so far his office doesn't know when to expect him.

Charlie Rogers, who recently returned from Europe, is expected to leave for Hollywood this week with his new distributing contracts signed and sealed. Bruce Gallup, who has been sojourning in Florida and enjoying himself, storms notwithstanding, will be back on his job at United Artists next Monday.

WARNER AND WALLIS LEAVE FOR HOLLYWOOD

J. L. Warner, production head of Warner Bros., is en route to Hollywood from New York where he has been spending the past three weeks. The purpose of his trip east was to attend the world premiere of Al Jolson in "The Singing Fool" at the Winter Garden and to supervise details relative to the opening of the Vitaphone Studios in Brooklyn which will occur next month for the production of Vitaphone pictures.

Also westbound is Hal Wallis, studio publicity chief, who has been in New York conferring with A. P. Waxman, Warner Bros. Director of Publicity and Advertising.

Reisman Going West

CHICAGO—Phil Reisman, Pathe's General Sales Manager, made this city his first stop in what will be a tour of the exchanges in the Western district, which will probably take him all the way to the West Coast.

Wm. Fox Contracts for Greater N. Y. Houses

(Continued from page 1)
tract was signed for the purchase of one group.

Other contracts in this immense theatre deal will be closed from day to day during this and next week with no definite announcement coming from Fox of these closings until all theatres he is now negotiating for have been set. This will be done in a week or ten days.

The DAILY REVIEW is informed, and by a very reliable source, that with the actual closing of all the houses in greater New York, the Fox activities will be moved to Philadelphia where he will purchase fifteen or twenty houses in that city and the immediate vicinity to be added to his present Fox theatre and a number that will be placed under construction in Philadelphia at a very early date.

Aside from the Philadelphia and New York purchases and the contemplated closing of the Walter Reade string in New Jersey, Fox is said to have options on houses in Baltimore, Washington, Richmond and Norfolk.

300 "King of Kings" Bookings Sept. 30

(Continued from page 1)
The musical accompaniment provided for "The King of Kings" is a masterpiece. Hugo Reisenfeld prepared the score which has been played throughout the world by large orchestras and is provided for his use during the run. This same score has been played by a symphony orchestra for the synchronized version which also has singing by a chorus of 110 voices from the Metropolitan Opera Company and tremendously effective sound accompaniment where this addition enhances the enjoyment of the attraction.

Bootblack Actor in Mystery Story

Oscar Smith, bootblack at the Paramount Hollywood studio, who was transformed into an actor through the friendship of Richard Dix, has been given an important role in "The Canary Murder Case", filming of which is scheduled to start this week. Malcolm St. Clair will direct.

New Nice Studios

Rival Ingram Plant

NICE—The La Victorine studios here, a short ways out of Nice is commanding the attention of American and European producers, because of its splendid facilities and equipment.

The lighting plant of these new studios is capable of producing 18,000 amperes and the studio has its own laboratories, prop rooms, dressing rooms, etc.

Exteriors of great scenic value abound, with a view over the Bay of Angeles and the Alps. An artificial lake for water scenes is also on the property.

Zakoro Gets Another

Rights for the distribution throughout the United States of "Mother of Mine", an eight-reel drama of step-mother love, have been purchased by the Zakoro Film Corporation, 723 Seventh Avenue, national distributors of films, from Jacques Feyder of Paris, through an American producing concern. Mr. Feyder wrote the story and directed the picture.

Al Morris Here

Al Morris, assistant to Harry Rapf, is in New York to make tests of negro players for the forthcoming King Vidor all-negro (but one) production he is to make for M-G-M.

Chevalier Sails October 20

Maurice Chevalier, stage idol of France, who has been signed by Jesse L. Lasky to come here and make talking pictures for Paramount, will sail October 20 and will commence his first film early in November.

New Gaynor-Farrell

Frank Borzage, who directed Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell in "Seventh Heaven" will have this pair in another to be made by same organization. It will be a story now being written by Tristram Tupper.

Classified Advertisements

Advertisements in this column, 5 cents per word. Cash must be sent with order. No charge for Box Number line. Minimum order, $1. 10% discount 12 issues or more.

POSITIONS WANTED

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY, LADY with 8 years experience in film business desires position in Motion Picture Industry. Highest References. Box 111, Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

FOR SALE

LECTURE FILMS, SLIDES, MA-chines bargains. Box 24, Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

MOTION PICTURE AND "STILL" cameras rented, sold and exchanged. Portable lights for sale and for rent. Keep us advised of your wants. Ruby Camera Company, 727 Seventh Ave., New York City.

LOCAL FILMS

MOTION PICTURES MADE TO ORDER. Commercial, Home or Industrial. We have excellent facilities and the best cameramen. Our price, 20c per foot. Ruby Film Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

WHETHER YOU WANT TO HIRE someone or be hired; buy or sell a theatre; trade or sell equipment, or to almost anything else in the motion picture business, an ad in this department will get you results. If you want us to word the ad for you, the services of our advertising experts are at your call. Simply tell us what you want to do, and how many words you want used. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

OREGON STAGE HANDS WALK OUT ON THEATRES

PORTLAND—The stage hands union at Salem, Oregon went out on strike last week, leaving the Capitol and Elsinore theatres flat.

According to the Motion Picture Record, the stage hands have always been a rather refractory gang in the Capitol City and this move has been brewing for a long time.

All houses have combined in issuing an ultimatum that they refuse to arbitrate matters, preferring to operate on a non-union basis.

Junior Orchestraphone

The National Theatre Supply Company has put on the market a new Junior Model Orchestraphone which has just been perfected. The new instrument does not replace the regular orchestraphone, but is designed to accommodate the musical needs of the smaller theatre.

Seattle Exhibitor

Wins P-F-L Dispute

(Continued from page 1)
owner, at the time of the signing the contract, that the minimum admission price would be 15 cents, the contract was not changed from the printed 10 cents.

He also said that Paramount had not agreed to transfer this contract from the old firm to the new, and therefore, the present operators had no contract at all with Paramount.

Jim Hone, representing the exhibitors, contended there was no change in ownership. Bedgesoff bought out Klawitter and later sold an interest to Winkler.

THE OGDEN

50 W. 72nd St., New York City
NEW YORK'S NEWEST APARTMENT HOTEL

between Central Park and the
HUDSON RIVER

Delightful homelike atmosphere. Inviting and Quiet—within a few minutes of Everything in New York City, and a complete Golf Course on Roof.

1 2 & 3 Rooms
with Serving Pantries

Furnished or Unfurnished
Permanent or Transient
Excellent Food—Moderate Tariff
Endicott 3333

Lewis Milestone Signs for Two United Artists Productions

By JOE BLAIR
Hollywood Correspondent

Lewis Milestone, whose reputation was established by his direction of "Two Arabian Knights", has been loaned by Howard Hughes of Caddo to John W. Considine, Jr., of United Artists, to direct "The Shot" and then "Taras Bulba" respectively Pushkin and Gogol stories that will be filmed in 1929 for United Artists. Mr. Milestone will first direct Emil Jannings Next Paramount Picture, "Ellis Island".

Successful direction of "Two Arabian Knights", "The Garden of Eden" and "The Racket" won for Lewis Milestone high place in the ranks of picture-makers. The young man has been a protegee of John W. Considine, Jr., who is but a year his senior. The association of this pair in the making of "Two Arabian Knights" will be resumed with "The Shot," based on a story of Alexander Pushkin and to feature Rod La-Rocque, and will be continued in the filming of "Taras Bulba," Nicolai Gogol's story of a Cossack hetman and his two sons.

ALLIED AMUSEMENTS IN NEW UNION AGREEMENT

SAN FRANCISCO — The Allied Amusement Industries, Inc. and the Musicians Union of this city are negotiating a new two-year agreement. The negotiations with Local No. 6 included the observance of the six-day week, applying to outlying or district theatres, using orchestras nights only, and also the wage increase.

The wage agreement will cover the pro rata of the seventh day lost by the musicians two years ago in the strike.

The special committees acting for the two organizations were: A. M. Bowles, Division Manager of West Coast and Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Allied Amusement Industries; Irving C. Ackerman, Louis R. Greenfield, R. A. McNeil, Cliff Work and Thoms D. Van Osten, Secretary of the Allied Amusement Industries. For the Musicians: Al Greenbaum, Secretary of the Musicians' Union; Walter A. Weber, K. A. Dietrick, Frank Borgel and Phil Sapiro.

Olmstead for Columbia

Gertrude Olmstead has been selected for the leading feminine role in their forthcoming production of "The Lone Wolf's Daughter". Bert Lytell will have the opposite lead.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Universal have signed Peggy Howard to a long-term contract. For the time being she will appear in stock on the "U" lot.

Paul Bern, g.m. at Pathe, has signed a young fellow by the name of Stanley Smith on a term contract for his organization.

Margaret Livingston has been signed for an important role in the Sam Goldwyn production that will star Vilma Banky. Most of the picture will be made in New York.

The next Gary Cooper-Fay Wray picture for Paramount will be "Rodeo Romance". This will be followed by "Haunting Melody" written by John Farrow.

Ben Lyon, on the completion of the picture now in work at Sal Lake, will fly to New York for a vacation.

Louis Wolheim will play the heavy in Paramount's picturization of "The Wolf Song", which Victor Fleming will direct. Gary Cooper is announced for the male lead.

Lothar Mendez, the former Ufa director, who recently completed the silent sequences of Paramount's first all dialogue picture, "Interference", acquitted himself so creditably that he has been signed to a new contract.

Herman Mankiewicz will write the dialogue for "Sins of the Fathers", which Emil Jannings is now completing under the direction of Ludwig Berger. His supporting cast includes Ruth Chatterton, ZaSu Pitts, Barry Norton and Jean Arthur.

"Brass Band", an original story of modern society by Josephine Lovett, who wrote "Our Dancing Daughters", will be Jack Conway's next directorial assignment at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio. Conway has just completed "Alias Jimmy Valentine", William Haines' new starring vehicle and the first picture to be made by M-G-M with talking sequences.

Robert Julian, who directed "The Phantom of the Opera" and "Three Faces East", has been added to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer roster and will make a mystery melodrama for that company. No further production details have been announced.

Things We Do

Not Believe

According to William Collier, Jr., his contract with Tiffany-Stahl permits me to choose my own stories and to make them at my own convenience, in order that they will not interfere with pictures to be made in any other studio.

Tonal Vibration Difficulties

Up for Discussion

(Continued from page 1)

later instant the keys at some other part of the scale are depressed.

The pattern of the disturbance is carried to the brain and interpreted as a speech sound. The lower tones give tone color or timbre to the voice. The higher tones contribute to the prominence of the hissing and frictional sounds such as s and f.

The most understandable sound of speech are the vowel sounds, which are also the loudest. The frequency range below 2500 cycles (vibrations per second) contributes most to their interpretation. The most difficult sounds are among the unvoiced consonants. They are also the faintest of the speech sounds. The frequency range which contributes most to their interpretation begins at about 2000 cycles and extends as high as 8000 or 9000 cycles.

As in the case of speech, musical tones consist of a fundamental frequency and various overtones of the fundamental. The tones, however, are sustained for appreciable lengths of time, and when they are changed, the changes take place in definite steps known as musical intervals. The timbre is determined by the first few overtones. The higher overtones contribute to the brilliance or definition of the musical tones.

In general, the bass instruments produce the greatest sound pressures; the tenor and alto instruments next and the soprano the least pressures that are used in music. Percussion instruments require the greatest frequency range for successful reproduction. These are followed by wind and bowed instruments.

Borden-Pickford Talk

Olive Borden and Jack Pickford will have a talking sequence in the FBO production "Gang War" now being made at the Pathe studios at Culver City.

HE WANTED IT- HE GOT IT- BOTH WAYS-

By Special Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—This is a sad tale and marks a moral to wit: "If you are looking for opportunity and it comes your way, make the best of it".

A year ago, a young fellow came to Hollywood with the great ambition of being another "John Gilbert". He roamed around for days. No work. Finally one day a big director spotted him, picked him out of the mob and gave him an important assignment in a picture. He did well with the part and when the production was released he came in for quite a bit of praise from every paper in the country. His ambition was on the way of being realized.

Then one day he bought a case of gin.

Today this same boy is wandering around Hollywood, begging nickles and dimes from anyone that will hand the touch. His clothes are all gone and he is sleeping in a three dollar rooming house.

That case of gin finished him.

Sapiro Lays Failure

on Lack of Members

(Continued from page 1)

open, some of it subtle and concealed. The boycott of the Association by the three leading film producers was in itself a tacit admission of your strength as an organization and of fear that this type of organization might some day become a dominant factor in the industry."

"Definite attempts were made to weaken members of the Association by selling away to their competitors some of the most desirable pictures of the year, and members became fearful of the effect on them of such action on the part of the producers."

"Many of the members were faced with difficult financial problems and therefore felt that their investments were put in hazard and they began to seek means of relief, by the sale of their theatres or otherwise."

Will Take the Cut

Several studios contemplating location trips East are having little trouble signing players at quite a cut in salary. Every player wants to come to New York for work, a visit and do a little playing.

"Desert" Role to Unknown

Warners have selected an outsider for the coveted feminine lead in their production of "The Desert Song". Carlotta King will play it. She has been singing over the Warner radio and attracted the notice of studio executives. Tests were made and there's the story.

A ROAD SHOW SPECIAL-FOR EXTENDED RUN THEATRES

WHY GIRLS GO WRONG

A SCREEN EPIC OF THE HOME-A THRILLING AND ELABORATE PRODUCTION

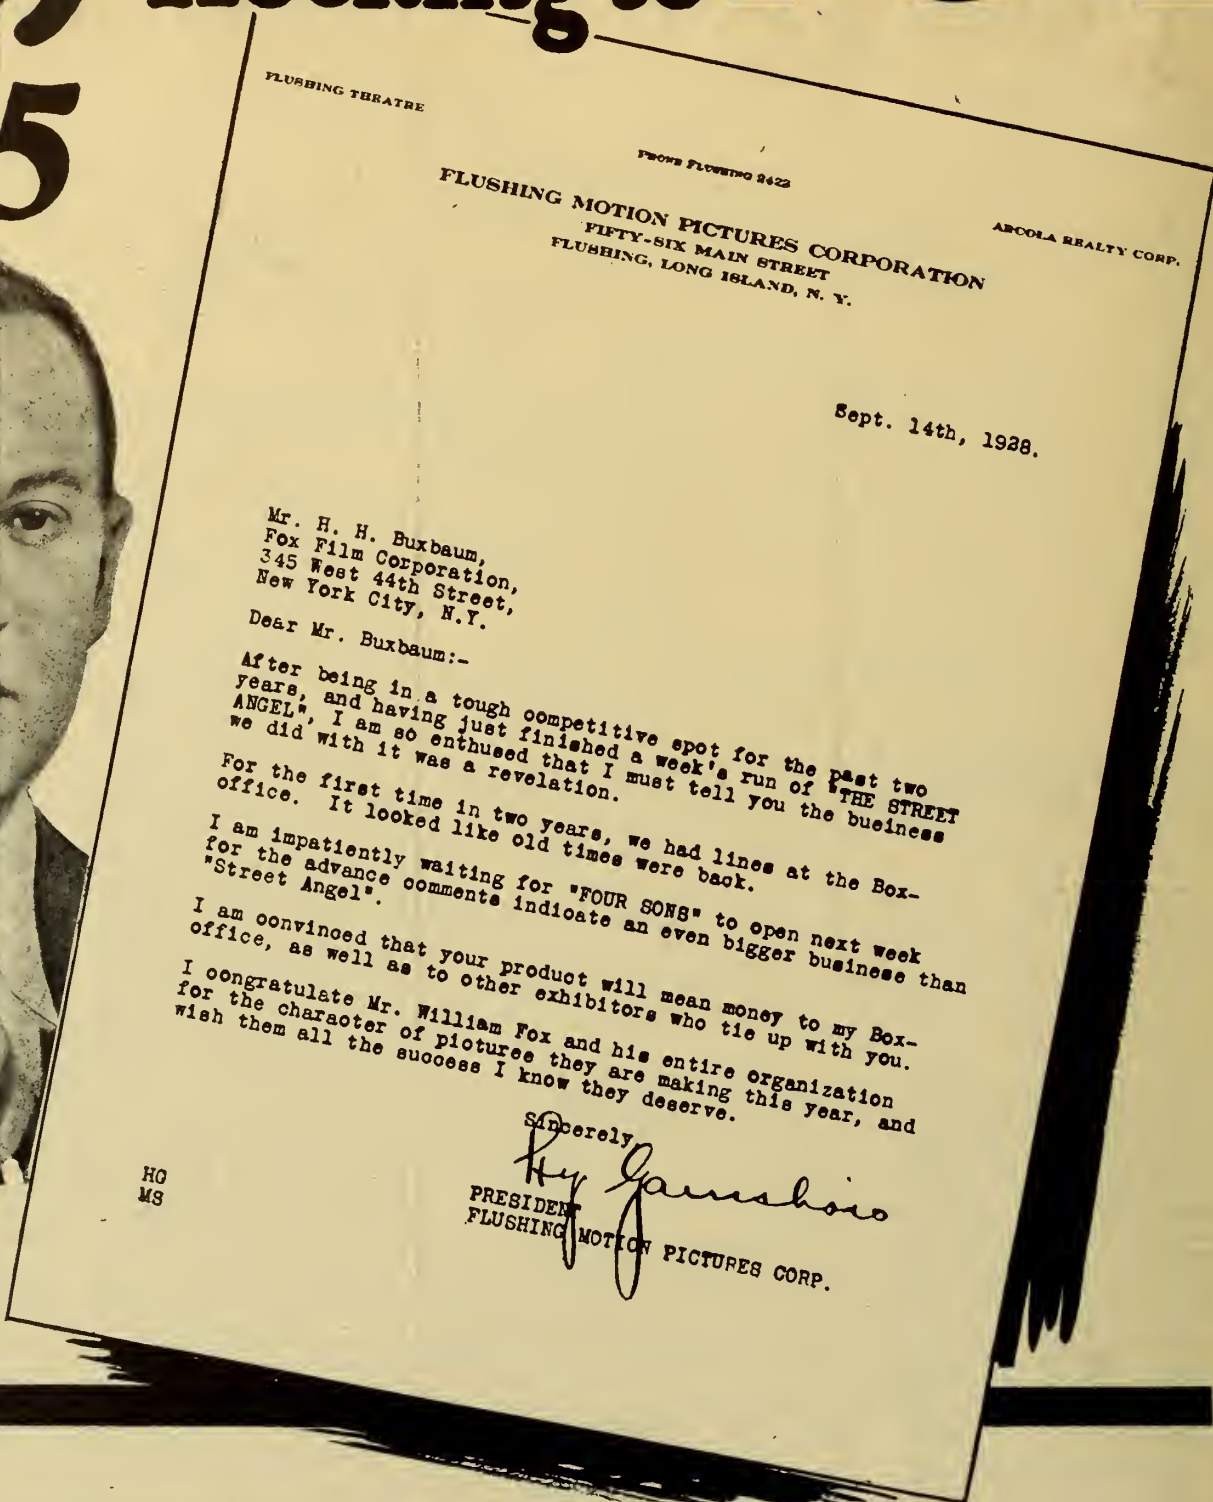

For Bookings and Distribution: WIRE-ROAD SHOW PICTURES INC. 489 FIFTH AVE. SUITE 503 NEW YORK

Why they are flocking to FOX

Nº 5

Hy Gainsboro

"For the first time in two years, we had lines at the box-office."

Certainly —

It's the showman's delight to play FOX!

FOX has 8 $2 Specials NOW
Breaking
Records Everywhere

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Formerly EXHIBITORS TRADE REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

VOL. 24 No. 72

New York, Wednesday, September 26, 1928

FIVE CENTS

OBSERVATIONS

At The Waldorf

The dinner tendered the Motion Picture Industry Monday evening at the Waldorf by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce, was more a tribute to the "newsreel boys" than the industry in general. It is not often these men get the credit they so richly deserve, but Tuesday night was another thing altogether.

The General

Will H. Hays spoke for our industry and was placed on the defensive almost from the start. The General could not seem to get himself untracked after crediting a Jersey town for the first flight of the Wright Brothers and finally had to name almost every other State in the Union before he made the right guess. It was very humorous. But altogether the affair was a huge success and will do a lot for both motion pictures and aeronautics.

An Excellent Cause

Amusements have always been the first to offer money and service to any cause that merited it. People in pictures, on the stage, theatres and every branch of this business rise as one to meet any occasion that demanded help. The recent hurricane in Florida and Porto Rica has caused a lot of suffering and there are many in want. Among the first to offer assistance has been the motion picture theatre, actors and actresses, executives and their organizations. The Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America through its President, R. F. Woodhull have sent out an appeal and already benefit performances are being arranged in many theatres. In Hollywood and Los Angeles, the Theatre Managers Association are running a series of boxing contests, all of the bouts being refereed by studio stars and seats selling for as high as $1,000 apiece. This in addition to benefit performances in all their theatres.

WILKERSON

$10,000,000 MOVIE TONE CITY IN FOX HILLS STUDIOS READY

COONEY CREDITORS MEET OCTOBER 1

CHICAGO—The first meeting of creditors of the National Theatres Corporation (Cooney Chain) bankrupt company, has been called for October 1st, by Garfield Charles, the Referee in Bankruptcy.

The meeting will be held in the offices of the referee, at the Home Insurance Building.

PARAMOUNT CANADIAN 1928 EARNINGS LARGER

TORONTO—The earnings of the Famous Players Canadian Corporation for the year just closed will, according to reliable observers, be shown substantially higher than for the preceding period. Earnings may be large enough to enable the company to place its junior issue on a regular dividend basis.

The company estimates that through increased attendance, its 130 houses have had an aggregate seating capacity of 42,241.

Delight Evans New Screenland Editor

An announcement comes from the offices of Screenland Magazine that Delight Evans will take over the editorial reins of that publication beginning with the issue dated January, 1929. Miss Evans is the youngest woman editor in the publishing field.

Woodhull Appeals to Exhibitors for Red Cross Hurricane Relief

DEFOREST CANADIAN F-P-SUIT POSTPONED

MONTREAL—The suit of De Forest Phonoflms Company of Canada against Famous Players Canadian Corporation, for patent infringements and $25,000 damages, has been postponed by the Courts until October 1st, when decision will be had.

The company sought to restrain Famous from exhibiting Movietone performances.

Warner Ends Conference with F.N. Papers Unsigned

At the conclusion of an all-day conference yesterday at the Warner headquarters, Harry M. Warner told Exhibitors Daily Review that papers in the First National deal had not finally been signed as yet.

Officials at First National also stated the same thing. Legal difficulties, it was gathered, are temporarily holding up the signatures, but these minor details are expected to be brushed aside within a day or so.

Lazarus Gets Fox 5-Year Prod. Contract

Harold B. Franklin, president of West Coast Theatres, today announced that at the request of W. R. Sheehan, he has released Jeff Lazarus, new director of publicity and advertising for West Coast Theatres, for promotion to Sheehan's production staff at the Fox Studios in Hollywood.

Lazarus has been given a five year contract by Fox Films, and will work under Sol Wurzel, general superintendent.

Otterson at Astor

J. E. Otterson, President of Electrical Research Products, Inc., will address the New York Electrical League today at the September luncheon of that organization at the Astor Hotel.

Most Complete Sound Plant Ever Conceived—Wm. Fox Tribute

25 BUILDINGS

HOLLYWOOD — Movietone City, the huge $10,000,000 Fox Film Corporation plant for synchronized picture production at Fox Hills, which has been completed in the quick time of 90 days, will be formally opened today. This is the first plant especially created and designed for the new art of talking pictures. Movietone City covers 40 acres and contains 25 buildings, and was conceived by William Fox. Ground was broken on July 28th. Dedication

(Continued on page 2)

KAUFMAN ASSOCIATE SOUND PRODUCER

In addition to his duties as assistant to Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president in charge of production for Paramount, Albert A. Kaufman, pioneer film executive, has been appointed associate producer of sound pictures at the Paramount Hollywood studio.

(Continued on page 2)

HAMMOND INJUNCTION CONTINUED IN PITTS.

PITTSBURGH — The injunction suit brought recently by H. E. Hammond of the Lyric Theatre, Erie, Pa., against Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and others, has been continued for a final hearing by Judge Frank Patterson in the Court of Common

(Continued on page 4)

L. A. THEATRE MANAGERS ORGANIZE R.C. BENEFIT

LOS ANGELES—A Benefit Boxing Performance, at which motion picture stars of prominence will gather, will be given next Saturday, September 29th, at the Olympic Auditorium, for the relief of recent Hurricane victims.

The entertainment is being given under the auspices of the Theatre Managers' Association of Los Angeles. The Executive Committee in charge of the affair, is composed of Fred Miller, Harold B. Franklin, Alexander Pantages, Harry Singer, Si Masters and Henry Duffy.

National President R. F. Woodhull of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America yesterday issued the following appeal to Theatre Owners to aid the hurricane sufferers:—

"Theatre Owners everywhere are earnestly urged to do everything in their power to aid the unfortunate victims of the hurricane in Porto Rico, Virgin Islands, Florida and elsewhere in our country and its possessions.

"This can be done effectively in different ways. Direct contributions can be given to your local Red

(Continued on page 4)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher and Editor

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager; Executive and Editorial Offices, 45 West 45th Street, New York. Telephone Bryant 6160. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyrighted by Exhibitors Review Publishing Corporation, Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempsstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York—Hy Gainsboro, looking at the Fox page ad on the last page of the Daily Review discovered the picture of a handsome young man and then found out that it was Hy Gainsboro, Duke of Flushing . . . Harry Reichenbach is up to his old tricks, getting first page space and editorials on exploitation stories of Universal's big picture "Lonesome" and that's why Harry's checks always have such a deluxe appearance . . . Sam Spring is out with a neat card announcing his resignation from First National and giving the address of his law office which is 36 West 44th Street . . . Harry Rapi, of Metro, has sent Al Morris here from the coast to make tests of a number of negro actors and actresses for the all-colored picture which Metro will soon start . . . Jack Warner has gone back to Hollywood feeling pretty good over the way his latest big one "The Singing Fool" went over at the Winter Garden, and now Jack will make another big or bigger one . . . Ralph Williams, Universal's assistant divisional sales manager for the southern district, is up from Atlanta for a conference with Lou Metzger and other home office officials . . . Jim Normandy, the popular assistant cashier of the Bank of America, has been elected assistant treasurer of the Motion Picture Club, to help Treasurer Artie Stebbins sign checks and take care of all the money . . . Victor Shapiro has been searching without success for an apartment that suits him and has made application for permission to sleep on a billiard table at the Motion Picture Club if his tough luck holds out . . . Paul Lazarns (of course not thinking about Shapiro) says one way to keep an apartment is to pay rent once in a while so the landlord won't get discouraged . . . Hal Roach has been out playing polo with that American team so it is no wonder they had to revamp the personnel . . . Charlie Moyer up at United Artists, is wrestling with "Three Passions"—but it is only a picture of that title, so it don't mean anything . . .

LA. ACADEMY OF M.P. ARTS TO OFFER COURSE

NEW ORLEANS — The Louisiana Academy of Motion Picture Arts, Inc., has obtained a charter from the State Department of Education, placing them on a par with other State Universities and the Academy, which has secured its own grounds and buildings in New Orleans will offer a 3-term course in silent and talking motion picture instruction.

A number of motion picture directors of deep experience are being recruited for the staff of instructors. The buildings are equipped with studio facilities, dormitories, and other technical equipment.

$10,000,000 Movietone City in Fox Hills Studios Ready

(Continued from page 1)

of the plant will follow in the very near future.

The principal units of Movietone City at Fox Hills are the four buildings containing the sound proof stages for Movietone production. They are 212 feet long, 165 feet wide and 45 feet high. Each building has two stages that possess individual equipment, apparatus rooms, test laboratories and projection rooms.

Stage One has on its second floor the largest Wurlitzer organ ever constructed, built specially for Fox Movietone. It comprises every appliance and effect possible of use in sound pictures.

An unusual feature of Movietone City which gives it a striking, semi-Oriental effect are three high towers. A decorative column 75 feet high is silhouetted above the big administrative building. In the rear of the stages are reared 2 towers, 100 feet tall, one of them being the gravity tower for the automatic sprinkler system and the other the cooling tower for the air-conditioning system.

The air-conditioning plant, the largest on the Pacific Coast, is housed in three buildings and can heat or refrigerate the temperature inside the stages, independent of the outside weather. It can regulate the humidity and also cope with any number of incandescent lights and people who might otherwise affect the temperature on the stages.

Included among the smaller buildings are the recital hall for auditions, an electric power plant, master projection room, wardrobe building, dressing room structure, garage, carpenter and paint shops, musical library, film storage vault, modern hospital and buildings for studio police and fire departments.

Max Trell to Sail

Max Trell of First National's publicity department, has resigned his post and will sail for Europe on the Cleveland on Saturday (Sept. 29th). Trell will devote himself to newspaper syndicate work and plans the completion of several books. Herbert Crooker, formerly New York representative for Johnny Hines, has been named to succeed Trell.

Young-Cook Return

L. A. Young, President and Grant B. Cook, Treasurer-Secretary of Tiffany-Stahl Pictures returned from Europe yesterday on the Majestic after a month's tour abroad.

Aviation Acknowledges

Debt to M.P. Industry

The Aviation Industry through Major Lester D. Gardner paid deep tribute to the film industry, at the dinner given by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce this week.

"The motion picture more than any other single agency should be credited with transforming aviation in the public mind from a joke to a great industry," said Major Gardner.

FOX NEWS CELEBRATES ITS TENTH BIRTHDAY

Fox News will celebrate its tenth birthday today. During the nine years of its existence Fox News has developed a staff of cameramen which covers every corner of the earth.

Herbert Hancock, an experienced newspaperman, was the first editor. Later, Edwin C. Hill took hold. Then came Truman H. Tally as director-in-chief, under whose guidance Fox News made its broadest strides.

A new department of the reel was recently established in Los Angeles, under the supervision of Blaine Walker, to serve the great string of West Coast Theatres.

The editorial staff at the Fox home office in New York includes James E. Darst, associate director; John J. Spurgeon, foreign editor; Edmund Reek, news editor; Daniel Doherty, asst. news editor; Joel Swenson and John Miley, makeup editors; Harry Lawrenson, European editor.

Kaufman Associate

Sound Producer

(Continued from page 1)

Kaufman has had wide experience in the film field, having served in executive positions in virtually all branches of picture-making and distribution since the pioneer days of the business. He accompanied Lasky on the latter's recent survey of European film conditions and was appointed assistant to the studio chief upon their return to America.

S.M.P. Engineers

at Lake Placid

TODAY'S PROGRAM

9:30 A. M.

Acoustic Linings for Sound Proof Stages and Sets

F. S. Crowhurst

Revocalized Films

Edwin Hopkins

Acoustics of Sound Recording

Rooms P. E. Sabine

Dynamic Loudspeakers

J. A. Minton & I. G. Maloff

Optics of Sound Recording

Systems A. C. Hardy

Advances in Wax Recording

H. A. Frederick

2:00 P. M.

Sound Entertainment

H. B. Franklin

Measuring Quality of Sound

Reproduction J. B. Engl

Electrical Synchronizing and Resynchronizing System

W. H. Bristol

Projection Problems with

Sound Pictures Harry Rubin

Sound Film Processing

J. W. Coffman

Pictures With Sound

L. T. Robinson

Open Forum on Sound Recording

Process of Inserting Action in Backgrounds, Dodge Dunning

Heat Absorbing Glasses

H. P. Gage

6:30 P. M.

Early History of Sound Movies

Terry Ramsaye

Physical Characteristics of Music and Speech

Dayton C. Miller

The Stanley Way

A complete motion picture service for advertising products or the theatre.

Stanley Advertising Co.

220 West 42nd St. New York
WISconsin 0610

NEW YORK'S NEWEST AND FINEST HOTEL

SMARTLY NEAR THE CENTER OF THINGS

Around the corner from New York's exclusive shopping district, readily accessible to leading theatres, and railroad terminals, yet in a neighborhood socially correct and away from the noise and turmoil of the business district. The Park Central enjoys a location distinctly unique in its advantages. Come to the Park Central, New York's newest and finest hotel where you will find advantages heretofore unknown to American hostesses — Radio outlets . . . Electric Refrigeration . . . Periodic Saunas and Roof Patios for private social functions . . . swimming pool . . . Florentine Grille featuring the Park Central Grille Orchestra . . . other features equally unusual and desirable. Single rooms five dollars per day and up. Double rooms eight dollars per day and up.

THE PARK CENTRAL

FIFTY-FIFTH STREET AT 7th AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY

THE FINAL TITLE of

Wesley Ruggles' NEXT PICTURE IS "Port of Dreams"

A Universal Production
WATCH FOR IT!

LASKY RAIVES ON 'INTERFERENCE'

Claims First Stage Play Talkie Has Real Quality

Jesse L. Lasky has just returned east from Hollywood, bringing an enthusiastic report of the immediate outlook for Paramount pictures.

"I have seen 'Interference' already, and I know what I am talking about when I say it is a great picture," said the producer.

"Save for a small number of exceptions, the sound pictures shown so far have succeeded on the basis of novelty. Few of them have presented real quality. We have been passing through months of experiments and promises.

"The time for talk has passed. Producers of talking pictures now must show results, and 'Interference' is a picture which we are proud to show. It can meet the test of solid merit. I believe it will set a new standard as a quality talking picture.

"'Interference' brings to the screen a faithful representation of the fine stage play of the same name which had a long and successful run on Broadway last season. It will be the first stage success to be brought over into pictures with complete sound and dialogue synchronization."

"Interference was directed by Lothar Mendes and has a strong cast which includes Evelyn Brent, Clive Brook, William Powell and Doris Kenyon.

Mr. Lasky announced that preparations are nearly complete for the production of "Burlesque", another of the outstanding hits of last season and of "Drums of Oude", from the famous play by Austin Strong. Both these pictures will be dialogue. William DeMille has been assigned to direct the latter.

"Silent pictures still will receive the most careful attention, being considered as of no less importance than those with sound," Mr. Lasky said.

"Among our new pictures already in production or soon to start I want to call particular attention to "Sins of the Fathers" starring Emil Jannings, "Three Week Ends" with Clara Bow, "The Canary Murder Case", "Redskin", "The Wolf of Wall Street", "The Shop Worn Angel", "Wolf Song" Ellis Island" and "The Saturday Night Kid".

Mr. Lasky was accompanied east by Jean de Limur, film writer and director, who will be associated with production at the Long Island studio. De Limur has had long experience at the Paramount studio in Hollywood.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Buster Keaton will soon start work on his next picture, "Spite Marriage". It will be released by M-G-M.

Don Alvarado has been signed for the leading male role in "The Apache". Margarete Livingston will play opposite him.

James Ford has been definitely set as leading man for Colleen Moore in "Synthetic Sin".

Neil Hamilton, and not Robert Castle will play opposite Clara Bow in "Three Week Ends". Castle has been assigned the lead with Bebe Daniels in a newspaper story as yet untitled.

How is this for a cast of feminine leads in a picture—Joan Crawford, Dorothy Sebastian and Anita Page. M-G-M have assigned these three ladies for parts in "Brass Band". Jack Conway will direct.

Otto Brower will direct the new Zane Grey Paramount picture "Sunset Pass". Jack Holt, Baclanova, Dorris Hill and John Darrow are in the cast.

Robert Armstrong and Lina Basquette have been given the leads in the first picture to be directed by William Goldbeck. It will be called "The Getaway" and will be released by Pathe.

Josephine Dunn, ex-New York show girl who has her first important screen role in "Excess Baggage", new William Haines vehicle now playing at the Capitol, has been given a long-term contract by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Miss Dunn is now playing the feminine lead opposite Haines in "A Man's Man", which James Cruze, who made "Excess Baggage", is directing.

Bobby Clark and Paul McCullough will have Carmel Myers, Mack Fluker, Ben Holmes, Elwood Gray and Wally Sharples as supporting players in "The Bath Between", a two-reel Fox Movietone comedy, which they are making now at the Fox West Coast studios.

"A Clean Sweep," a short comedy Western starring George Chandler, has been finished at Universal, according to an announcement from the studio.

Walter Fabian directed under the supervision of William Lord Wright. Regina Doyle appears in the feminine lead with Nelson McDowell, Al Ferguson and William McCall and others in the supporting cast.

Things We Do

Not Believe

"Director Mervyn LeRoy used 56 bathing beauties during a day's filming on "Ritzy Rosie" and it took 72 pounds of makeup material to get them ready for the camera."

Hall-Taylor Teamed

James Hall and Ruth Taylor are being teamed for a Paramount production called "Domestic Love". No director has been assigned as yet.

Poland Leaving "U"

J. Francis Poland, Universal supervisor of production is leaving that organization on the termination of his contract in November. Poland expects to join another company in the same capacity.

LaPlante's Three

Laura LaPlante, Universal star, has three pictures to make on the current Universal program, in addition to her work in "Show Boat". They are "One Rainy Night", "That Blonde" and "Dangerous Dimples".

Starke in Talkies?

Pauline Starke arrived in New York with her husband Jack White several days ago, for a short vacation. She has already received three offers for talking pictures. She will accept one.

Hammond Injunction

Continued in Pitts.

(Continued from page 1)

Pleas.

The preliminary hearing occurred on September 13th.

The injunction proceedings grew out of differences between the theatre owner and the distributors over an arbitration award in favor of the distributors. The temporary injunction which was granted forbids the cessation of service to the exhibitor until the case is finally settled.

Woodhull Appeals to Exhibs for R.C. Hurricane Relief

(Continued from page 1)

Cross Chapter.

"News Reel pictures of the devastated areas are now available and are being shown in many theatres. Do not allow these to pass just as the pictorial representation of the catastrophe. Make a special showing of this part of the News Reel and then follow with a specially made Appeal Reel or Slide."

9 VITAPHONE PICTURES KEEP WARNER LOT BUSY

Warner Bros. are now actively engaged on nine more Vitaphone productions in their Hollywood studio.

Three of these are in the editing room at the present time, one being "Noah's Ark" starring Dolores Costello which has reached this final stage of production. The others are "On Trial" and "Stark Mad" both of them 100% talking throughout. "On Trial" was directed by Archie Mayo with Pauline Frederick, Bert Lytell and Lois Wilson in the leads while "Stark Mad" was done by Roy Del Ruth and features such players as H. B. Warner, Louise Fazenda and Jacqueline Logan.

Three other Vitaphone productions are now actually in front of cameras and microphones. Texas Guinan is working in "Queen of the Night Clubs" directed by Bryan Foy. Betty Bronson and William Collier, Jr., are teamed as co-stars in "One Stolen Night" directed by Scott R. Dunlap and Monte Blue has the stellar lead in "The Greyhound Limited" under the direction of Howard Bretherton.

This week two more productions will be started. Michael Curtiz will begin the production of Dolores Costello's next special "Medonna of Avenue A" and Archie Mayo will undertake megaphone orders for "Kid Gloves" in which leads are filled by Conrad Nagel and Lois Wilson.

In preparation is "The Desert Song", the first operetta to be both seen and heard on the screen. Roy Del Ruth is slated to direct the cast headed by John Boles.

Connie's Leading Man

Jean Murat, who plays the lead in the first Derussa film, "Escaped from Hell," shortly to be released by the Affiliated European Producers, Inc., has been selected as Constance Talmadge's new leading man in "Venus", to be produced in France.

Hallelujah!

King Vidor has left the coast for Chicago, bound on a countrywide tour, in search of colored players for his new story of Negro life to be called "Hallelujah." The screen continuity is now being prepared by Richard Schayer and the film will have dialogue and vocal sequences.

The DeMilles Resume

William DeMille and his bride, did not take much time for a honeymoon. Both of them are at work on the Paramount lot. William is writing a story he is to direct and his wife is writing an original for Clara Bow to be known as "The Saturday Night Kid".

A ROAD SHOW SPECIAL-FOR EXTENDED RUN THEATRES

"WHY GIRLS GO WRONG"

A SCREEN EPIC OF THE HOME-A THRILLING AND ELABORATE PRODUCTION

For Bookings and Distribution: WIRE: ROAD SHOW PICTURES INC. 489 FIFTH AVE. SUITE 503 NEW YORK

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Formerly EXHIBITORS TRADE REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

VOL. 24 No. 73

New York, Thursday, September 27, 1928

FIVE CENTS

OBSERVATIONS

M-G-M-Loew

All along we have felt that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Loew's Theatre Enterprise have something up their cuff and would come out with an announcement of a theatre buy or a merger with another organization that would bring more theatres into their already big string of houses. It did not seem reasonable to assume that these organizations would permit William Fox, Warners or anyone else to tie up the theatre situation in such a manner that they would be on the outside pleading for bookings.

What Is the Deal?

Information very close to the front, comes to us that Nick Schenck is most ready to give out a story that will set this old business on its left ear. It is said to be gigantic. What can it be? What theatres or circuit of theatres is there to be had that would "stand the business on its left ear"? Certainly it is not the Keith Circuit. That has already been spoken for, if it is to go to other than its present owner. What other circuit could it be? Can you name it? We can't.

Merger

Then this startling piece of information must be a merger with a company controlling a bunch of houses. Who will they merge with? You might say United Artists. We count this out for U. A. have only a few houses and not sufficient to cause any great stir in this day of great theatre buying. Certainly it is not Fox, and too, it could hardly be Warner-First National-Stanley, for we have already sold them to Mr. Zukor. We don't believe that the acquisition of the Universal chain would be of sufficient value to astound the industry. And if we mentioned Paramount-Publix, it would hardly seem possible.

Nevertheless

Mr. Zukor and Mr. Schenck have been in each others company quite a bit recently. More than ever before. There is something on between them other than a game of golf or pinochle.

Puzzle

If you are in the picture business and have a hankering for cross word puzzles, try and make a guess on this big Metro-Loew announcement, you will find it more fascinating than 40 cross word puzzles.

WILKERSON

OTTERSON SURVEY SHOWS 250 FILMS SCHEDULED WITH SOUND

Warner Announcement Today on First Nat'l. Acquisition

Major Albert M. Warner announced yesterday that the company is preparing to give out an official announcement today, concerning the acquisition of the controlling stock in First National Pictures and the final signing of papers by which they will become one of the largest and most influential producers, distributors and theatre owners in the history of the industry.

Harry H. Warner, President of the company was in conference with the Wall Street financiers, controlling the destinies of both companies, all day yesterday and could not be reached for details of the merger.

The financial tickers yesterday carried a statement that the Warners now have a total of 42,000 shares of First National stock which were acquired from the principal First National franchise-holders whose stock had been pooled previously by Rossheim.

NEW P-F-L COMMON LISTED ON STREET

Today is the date on which the Board of Directors of the Paramount Famous-Lasky Corporation has authorized the distribution of the new 3 for 1 common stock to stockholders.

The new shares will be listed this morning on the New York Stock Exchange and will open at approximately $\frac{1}{4}$ of yesterday's closing figure. (Continued on page 2)

"Lonesome" to Reopen Colony Sun. Night

"Lonesome" Universal's special will re-open the Colony Theatre in New York next Sunday night, which has been closed for several months. Carl Laemmle, Sr. and Jr., Glenn Tryon and Barbara Kent will attend the opening, which will be largely a public showing.

This film is considered the real launching of Universal's Sound picture program. Harry Reichenbach (Continued on page 4)

Ex-Exhibitors to Celebrate

Having finally sold their theatres to Fox, several of New York's ex-theatre owners are planning an immediate jaunt to Europe to celebrate and help spend some of Fox's cash which they received in his outright buy.

They will make up a party for an extensive trip and in the solace of some nice French throat-ticklers will endeavor to forget the storm and stress of trying to compete with organized theatre chains.

U. A. WINS AWARD OF $4750 FROM SCHINE

United Artists yesterday were awarded a claim of $4,750 against the Schine Enterprises, by the N. Y. Film Board of Arbitration.

The case which lasted all day, involved the failure of the Avon Theatre in Utica, operated by Schine, to waive protection over the Hamilton Theatre, in Hamilton, N. Y. and failure to play "The Gaucho" and "Sadie Thompson".

The Schine Circuit was to waive protection over the Hamilton in consideration of United Artists taking out "Sadie Thompson" and putting in the "Gaucho" in its place on a certain date.

The theatre claimed that United (Continued on page 3)

Predicts 3000 Talkie Theatres by 1930—

Honor Speaker at N. Y. Electrical Luncheon

John E. Ottersson, President of Electrical Research Products yesterday stated at the luncheon of the New York Electrical League that 600 theatres are now equipped with Movietone reproducing apparatus and that at least 1,000 theatres would be equipped before the end of the year. Of the 600 installations, 43 are in New York City.

By the end of 1929, Ottersson expects 3000 theatres to be equipped. There are also 30 portable outfits now in use and 100 have been ordered.

Ottersson's survey of the producing schedules of the major companies (Continued on page 2)

1ST NAT'L. 6 MOS. PROFIT $709,032

First National reports a net profit for the first six-months of 1928, of $709,032, compared with $605,892, for the corresponding period last year.

Commenting on the report, Warren C. Boothby, Treasurer yesterday, said: "During the six month period we retired $760,000 of 6% Purchase Money notes, $100,000 of First Mortgage 6½% Gold Bonds and also 760 shares of First Preferred and 1000 shares of Second Preferred Class A (Continued on page 4)

44 Independent Theatres in N. Y. Purchased by Fox Chain

15 FOTOVOX EXCHANGES PLANNED BY NOV. 1

Fotovox, Inc. is preparing to enter the production and distribution talkie market with a network of 15 exchanges in the principal key centers.

This company will produce synchronized screen entertainment for all types of reproducing systems. It will make use of P. A. Powers' Cinophone and an improvement over this (Continued on page 4)

After Ascher Circuit of 7 in Chicago

Additional Houses Sought in Philadelphia

Fox is allowing no grass to grow under his feet in an effort to build up a tremendous chain of theatres for his product, and in addition to having already closed cash deals for 44 independent theatres in the larger of the circuits in New York, (Continued on page 3)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher and Editor

Abraham Beinstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager; Executive and Editorial Offices, 45 West 45th Street, New York Telephone Bryant 6160. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year: United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyrighted by Exhibitors Review Publishing Corporation. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hemphstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York:—Frank Hughes and Perry Charles engaged in a bicycle race at the Motion Picture Club and Perry lost the race and his pants and that's the way Frank Hughes treats a guest . . . Chris Dunphy, who shoots in the seventies when he is feeling half way right, is expected to join Artie Stebbins' Motion Picture Club golf team, and he'll help some . . . Al Feinman, of Feinman & Strauss has been engaged by Harry Reichenbach to help out on the publicity and exploitation of Universal's big picture "Lonesome", which opens at the Colony next month . . . Harry Schwalbe was Jay Dee Williams' luncheon guest yesterday at the M.P. Club, and their table was the mecca for many who stopped to greet the two former First National chieftains . . . Martin Quigley, who with his family spend the summers on his own Island in the Sound, moves his menage back to Chicago for the winter, departing next Monday . . . Ray Rockett is due back in New York from Europe on Monday according to the latest dope from Lynde Denig . . . Joe Seider, accompanied by his handsomer half, sails Saturday for a three months sojourn in Europe during which they will visit many countries, and maybe Joe will own a few foreign theatres before he gets back . . . Tom Gerety, Metro's birdie shooter, says his golf has been so bad recently; it's been worse . . . Major Bowes switches the Capitol over to sound next Saturday with the advent of Metro's "Our Dancing Daughters" and now all of them on Broadway have it . . . Pete Smith was Howard Deitz's luncheon guest yesterday at the Motion Picture Club and nothing untoward happened . . . Pete Woodhull wants funds for the storm victims, and so do a lot of other people for other purposes and let's hope they all get it . . . Arthur Kelly, of United Artists, talked for twenty minutes with Capt. Alistair McIntosh in London and all Arthur was able to get into this end of the phone was a number of yesses . . .

Otterson Survey Shows 250 Films Scheduled

(Continued from page 1)

ies, shows that 250 productions will be made this coming year with musical accompaniment, dialogue or both.

He also prophesied the widespread use of talkies in the fields of industrial advertising and for educational and religious teaching. Many of the major industries have already made arrangements to make talking films for their sales and distributing organizations so that demonstrations of product can be given throughout the country to branches.

Quite a galaxy of leaders in the Bell Telephone, Western Electric and the Motion Picture industries were guests of honor at the luncheon. They included F. B. Jewett, Pres. of the Bell Telephone; Edgar S. Loom, Pres. of Western Electric; E. B. Craft, Exec. V.P. of Bell Telephone; Whitford Drake, Exec. V.P. of Electrical Research Products Inc.; David Bernstein, V.P. of M-G-M; Major Albert Warner, William Fox R. H. Cochrane, Courtlandt Smith and Charles Christie. Others present were Frank Meyer, Norman Colver, Glendon Allvine, Harold Flavin, Paul Gulick, Si Seadler, Walter Eberhardt, Warren Nolan and many others.

Excerpts of Otterson's speech follows:

"In the beginning, we felt that the addition of sound to motion pictures was only an embellishment, an effect comparable with that of a new system of lighting or of coloring, but today, we are confident that here is something more than effect. Here is born a new art that will be revolutionary in the field of entertainment not only in motion pictures, but with an effect upon the legitimate stage as well.

Were I to enter the field of prophecy, it would be to speak of the application of talking pictures to the fields of advertising, politics, education and religious teaching.

I visualize the use of talking pictures to deliver the message of factory executives and sales managers to their employees, to their conventions, to prospective customers in sales and demonstration rooms throughout the world.

Political campaigns in which the Governor Smiths and the Secretary Hoovers will speak in screen person to thousand of audiences throughout the country in place of submitting to the limitations of their physical endurance to withstand the hardships of speaking tours.

Progress since has been extremely rapid, both in the development of studios for the production of sound pictures and the installation of equipment in theatres for their production.

There are now sixty-odd recording equipments in use or under order and about thirty stages are in process of construction and equipment. In addition, about one hundred portable recording equipments for location and news reel work have been ordered. About thirty are now in operation here and abroad.

Pictures accompanied by sound have broken all records for attendance and box office receipts and the theatres which have installed the equipment are highly successful. Six hundred theatres now have reproducing equipment installed and at least one thousand will be equipped by the end of the year. Our manufacturing program for next year calls for at least an additional two thousand, making three thousand by the end of 1929.

It may fairly be said that talking pictures are in reality a means of communication whereby the art and inspiration of great actors, teachers, preachers and statesmen may be carried from the sphere in which they move, to the ever-widening sphere of world interest and to future generations who may find in the better understanding of our lives, our achievements, and our dreams, the inspiration and example that will lead them to a still higher civilization in the days to come."

"4 DEVILS" IN $5.50 N. Y. OPENING OCT. 3

The second picture to be made by Fred W. Murnau for Fox Films, the widely heralded "4 Devils", will have its world premiere on Wednesday evening, October 3, at the Gaiety Theatre.

For the premiere the prices will be $5.50 for the orchestra seats and $3.00 in the balcony. Thereafter the highest priced seats will be $2.00.

NEXT AMPA TNT AFFAIR HOLLY. MASQUE BALL

This year's T.N.T. of the Associated Motion Picture Advertisers will be a Hollywood Masque Ball, was decided at the first meeting of the Ball Committee appointed by President George Harvey, which convened at the Paramount Grill Wednesday noon. Don Hancock, Chairman of the Committee, presided, and others present were Paul Benjamin, Lou Rydell, Leon Bamberger, Edward Klein and George Harvey.

This very first Masque Ball of the motion picture business held in New York is planned for early in February, and though the idea is just being developed, it is expected that there will be a maximum attendance of star personalities due to the talking picture, which has reestablished motion picture production in the East.

New P-F-L Common Listed on Street

(Continued from page 1)

ure, which was 145½.

From officials of the company, who speak confidently of the greatest progress yet in store for the company, it is prophesied that the new stock will reach a price of about $70 per share by the end of this year.

The Fleets In!

Next week's screen attraction at the Paramount will be Clara Bow in "The Fleet's In", a story with real U. S. Navy battleships, real "gobs" and real waterfront atmosphere. The story is an original for the screen by Monte Brice and J. Walter Rubin.

New Zakoro Film

"Mother of Mine", the eight-ree drama of step-mother love recently purchased by the Zakoro Film Corporation, of 723 Seventh Avenue from an American producer operating in Paris, will be released for public showing early next month.

Kennedy Here Friday

J. P. Kennedy, who sailed alone on the Majestic, without Murdock and Casey of Keith-Albee-Orpheum, who are arranging a British book-alliance, arrives in New York tomorrow.

Kennedy is reported to have been instrumental in holding up the rumored purchase of the K-A-O chain by Warner Brothers.

Wesco Has 80 Million

80,000,000 people attend performances in the two hundred and fifteen theatres of the West Coast Theatres, Inc., during 1928, according to statisticians of the company.

Today's Program at Lk. Placid Engineers' Meet

9:30 A. M.
Effect Lighting in Theatres
J. H. Kurlander
Announcements of New Apparatus
2:00 P. M.
Processing Machine
H. V. Jamieson
16 MM Developments
H. C. McKay
Voltage Regulators, F. A. Byles
Stereo, Color and Standard
Projector George Lane
Non-Intermittent Optical
Projector J. F. Leventhal
Transmission of Movies by Radio Francis Jenkins
8:00 P. M.
Formation of a Photographic Image
C. E. K. Mees

Horen Returns

Sidney Horen, New York representative of the Fox Film Foreign Department returned to New York yesterday from his trip to Porto Rico, where he was during the hurricane. He reports that the roof of the hotel where he was stopping was blown off.

Block Reassigns Pathe

Directors on 2 Films

Associate Producer Ralph Block has made a switch of Pathe directorial assignments whereby Edward H. Griffith will direct the next Phyllis Haver vehicle, "The Shady Lady", and Paul L. Stein will direct the one immediately following "The Office Scandal". Originally Griffith was to have directed "Office Scandal" and Stein "The Shady Lady".

Jack Jungmeyer has completed the continuity of "The Shady Lady", which with Miss Haver, Louis Wolheim, Robert Armstrong and Russell Gleason is strongly cast. The star's role is that of a Chicago girl who gets mixed up with the operations of a gang of gun-runners in Cuba.

Paul Cangelin is writing the "Office Scandal" story which Stein will direct.

FIGHT CONN. IN R. I.

Exhibitor Running for Mayor Is Boycotted

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—The labor unions of Providence has ordered a boycott of the theatres of Jacob Conn, who is a candidate for Mayor in coming elections. His theatres the Olympia, Liberty and Utown are said to be employing non-union labor.

Conn's radio station WCTO was recently silenced by the Federal Commission.

Peggy Prior Promoted

Peggy Prior, whose work as a script clerk at the Pathe Studios has extended over several months during which she worked on productions including "Hold 'Em Yale," "Love Over Night," "Captain Swaggar" and "Marked Money," has been promoted to the scenario department. Her first assignment was to collaborate with George Drumgold in the preparation of the continuity of Booth Tarkington's "Geraldine," which is now being directed by Edward H. Griffith with a cast headed by Marion Nixon and Eddie Quillan.

Kerr Cell Method of Sound Recording Is Demonstrated

DEPINET LISTS ONLY 4 OCTOBER RELEASES

Four pictures will be released by First National during October.

The releases are: Oct. 7—"The Crash", starring Milton Sills; Oct. 14—"Do Your Duty", starring Charlie Murray; Oct. 21—"Companionate Marriage", the picture made from dramatic incidents in Judge Ben B. Lindsey's book; and Oct. 28—"The Glorious Trail", a western starring Ken Maynard.

44 Independent Theatres in N. Y. Purchased by Fox

(Continued from page 1)
not previously affiliated with distributors, he is shifting the scene of operations to Chicago and Philadelphia.

In Chicago, the Ascher Brothers Circuit which has been in the hands of the receivers, is to be placed on the market shortly to satisfy creditors' claims. Fox already owns about $500,000 of Preferred Stock in this circuit and the creditors are holding about $400,000 worth of stock. Both the Aschers and Fox are out for control of the 7 theatres, but the readiness of Fox to pay cash for his present-day theatres purchases may give him the upper hand.

In Philadelphia, in addition to having announced his building program of six theatres, Fox is also out with offers to purchase additional independent houses, to build up a still stronger opposition to the Stanley domination.

In New York, actual purchase terms have been agreed upon between Fox and the theatre owners and actual papers which are now being drawn up will be signed within the next 24 hours.

Fox has proceeded with his plan to purchase first the largest of the independent circuits, after which he will take up options he holds with the smaller circuits and individual owners. The theatres already acquired are the Federated Circuit of 6 houses; the Brandt Circuit of 12; The Consolidated Amusement Circuit of 17 and the Springer Circuit of 8.

Zuro Musical Head for FBO Synchron

Joziah Zuro, formerly with Hugo Riesenfeld, and orchestral leader of note, has been named General Musical Director for FBO and Pathe Films.

Zuro will function at the Sound Studios, Inc. with a 35-piece orchestra and a staff of assistants. He is now engaged in scoring "Captain Swagger" with Photophone for Pathe release.

Lindlar Puts Over

"Jeannine, I Love You"
Thanks to the publicity department of First National, the theme song from "Lilac Time", "Jeannine, I Dream of Lilac Time" is receiving wide-spread exploitation in the cabarets and radio stations. Walter P. Lindlar has had a record made of the song.

Two types of sound recording are in general use, defined according to the sound track produced, as variable area-constant density, and constant area-variable density. The Kerr Cell method is applicable to the latter type of recording.

The Kerr Cell system provides a light valve free from mechanically moving parts. Wide latitude of adjustment is possible which permits proper exposure and linear light modulation on the film. The recorder lends itself readily to portable equipment, because of its small size and very small power requirements.

A discussion and brief mathematical treatment of the theory of operation was given and experimental data to substantiate these were shown at the Convention of Motion Picture Engineers at Lake Placid this week. Mention was also made of the photographic problems involved in variable density recording.

CHINA REJECTS BRITISH FILMS FOR YANKEES'

SHANGHAI—According to one of China's leading film importers, 40 European productions, French, German and British have been shelved because of poor results at the box-office. He writes:

"When we tried to show European pictures at the new Capitol Theatres were good, our box-office red-heartening that we had to practically cut them out."

"Even though some of these pictures were good, our box-office receipts were less than those for any small American picture we could have shown."

N. J. Theatre Test

ELIZABETH—Isadore Segal of Newark, half-owner of the Park Theatre here was arrested last Sunday in violation of the blue laws of the State of New Jersey, for opening the theatre and giving a benefit picture performance.

A hearing will be had tonight. Segal threatens to re-open his theatre again next Sunday and further threatens to cause the entire town of Elizabeth to be shut tighter than a drum, through a thorough enforcement of the blue laws in every particular.

M.P.T.O. of Nebraska

Convenes October 24

OMAHA—The M.P.T.O. of Nebraska and Western Iowa will hold their next annual convention here on October 24th and 25th. President Charles E. Williams has invited every theatre owner in the two states to be present at the conclave whether they are members or not.

Changes in the officers and directors will be made. A sound technician to give complete demonstrations on the talkies will be a feature of the convention.

Dresser Fox Contract

Louise Dresser, featured in Fox's "Mother Knows Best" and veteran of the screen, has been given a long-term contract by Winfield R. Sheehan.

2ND NETOCO PORTLAND $1,750,000 ENTERPRISE

PORTLAND, ME.—In addition to the Maine Theatre, which brings its total of theatres in New England to 50, the New England Theatres Operating Corporation (NETOCO) last week met with fee-holders of the properties at High and Congress Streets, to iron out the details of the $1,750,000 transaction which will begin the construction of the new Netoco State Theatre.

The new theatre will be housed in an office building which will contain 22 stores and 170 offices. According to the plans of the architect, the house will be the largest and most elaborate theatre east of Boston.

U. A. Wins Award of $4750 from Schine

(Continued from page 1)
Artists violated the 37-day protection of the Avon by playing the picture at the Hamilton ahead of the Avon. Louis Nizer, representing the exchange, produced evidence to show that Schine had agreed to waive its priority in order that the Hamilton in a college town, be permitted to play the pictures before they became useless to them, through the closing of the college term. Mr. Lynch, for the theatre, denied that there was such an arrangement.

The Board found that there had been a waiver of the protection and decided in favor of U. A. for the full amount, but recommended that the Avon be given an opportunity now to play the pictures, to which the exchange agreed.

New Newman Policy

KANSAS CITY—The Newman Theatre reopened under a new policy last Friday, with the opening of "Wings". The theatre is using no orchestra, as nothing but sound productions will be run.

The Royal, recently taken back from Loew by Publix will reopen soon as a first-run house with a smaller admission price than the Newman.

"Wings" Knocks 'Em

Cold in Poland

Poland is the eleventh country in which Paramount's road show "Wings", has been screened, according to cabled advices received by E. E. Shauer, general manager of the Foreign Department of the Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation.

"Wings" was the first sound production to be presented in Poland, where it opened in Warsaw on September 22nd.

Swanson Buys Another

Gloria Swanson has bought a short story written by Lucy Stone Terrill called "Clothes". This will follow "Queen Kelly" which is now almost ready to go into production under the direction of Eric Stroheim.

Powell in "Tong War"

Having finished work in "Interference", Paramount's first all dialogue picture, William Powell has been cast for a nefarious role in "Tong War", which will be directed by William A. Wellman. The only others chosen thus far are Wallace Beery and Florence Vidor.

Flopping to the Stage

One of Broadway's greatest producers is receiving wires by the dozens every day from Hollywood stars and near stars, offering their services for immediate New York stage work.

This manager told a reporter from the DAILY REVIEW that "we are on to those guys, they want to come to New York, get on the stage and return to Hollywood with a 'reputation' for the talkies".

Balaban & Katz to Play "King of Kings"

Pathe's "The King of Kings," during national release week, will be shown in the houses of Balaban & Katz Mid-West Circuit, including Burford Theatres, according to advice just received by Phil Reisman, Pathe General Sales Manager, from Harry Lorch, Branch Manager of the Chicago office.

Bell Handling 4

Monta Bell will supervise the making of 4 sound pictures at the Paramount Long Island studios. They are "Gentlemen of the Press", the Ward Moorehouse play; "The Letter" with Jeanne Eagles which Robert Florey will direct; "The Birth of the Blues" with Eddie Cantor, and the Four Marx Brothers in "Cocoanuts".

Objects to "Racket"

Paramount's "The Racket" was the subject of a complaint made to the N. Y. State Censor Board by A. Kutz, president of the Far Rockaway Parents Teachers Association, after the film has been shown at Rockaway.

His protests, however, failed to stop the showing of the picture.

CALL WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.

for

Library Stock Scenes

130 W. 46 St. New York

Bryant 8181

TRAVELERS select the Great Northern for its wonderful location in Chicago's "loop". They return because the large comfortable rooms, homelike environment, attentive service, excellent food and moderate charges make it an ideal hotel.

400 Newly Furnished Rooms, $2.50 a day and up. Sample Rooms $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00.

Walter Craighead, Manager
DEARBORN STREET FROM JACKSON TO QUINCY
New Garage One-Half Block

"Talkies Here to Stay" Says Laemmle

Will Give Silent Film Added Attendance Impetus!

By JOE BLAIR
Hollywood Correspondent

"Talking pictures, instead of being detrimental to the silent drama, will give the present style of soundless films on attendance impetus such as it has never experienced before," stated Carl Laemmle, president of Universal, before leaving for N. Y. "It will also add an interesting angle to the silver screen without overturning the silent drama.

"When the movies first gained their foothold, calamity howlers claimed that they would sound the death knell to the stage," continued the film magnate. "Time proved that they were wrong. The movies, instead of devitalizing the stage, became merely another form of entertainment, in addition to, not instead of, the drama.

"Now the sound film has made its appearance," continued the Universal chief. "Calamity howlers are once more in evidence. 'The silent picture is doomed,' shrieks one. 'Talkies cannot last,' cries another. 'The industry is in a panic,' moans a third. This is all poppycock. The Talking Picture is here to stay. It is another cog in the wheel of progress. Progress will not be halted. And you will see that the Talking Picture will develop into an additional form of entertainment, taking its place in the amusement world along with the stage and the silent film."

"Hell's Angels" Cutting

Ten film cutters, under direction of Frank Lawrence, editor-in-chief of the Caddo Company, are cutting and editing the more than 1,500,000 feet of film of "Hell's Angels," Howard Hughes' $2,000,000 air picture, now in its fourteenth month of production.

Among the film editors engaged on the gigantic task are Edward Adams, Douglas Biggs, Perry Holingsworth, Faye Bunny, Frank Byars, Victor Presbrey and Ruth Hampson.

Warners Signs Lytell

Bert Lytell has been signed to a long term contract by Warners. The first picture under this contract will be "On Trial".

Paramount Buys "Drums"

B. P. Schulberg, general manager of production for Paramount, has announced the purchase of "The Drums of Oude" the story by Austin Strong. It will be an all-talker and will be directed by Roy Pomeroy.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Otto Matiesen has been selected by Winfield Sheehan for the role of Napoleon in the Fox production of "Napoleon's Barber".

"Captain Lash" the Victor McLaglen picture has been put into production on the Fox lot. J. G. Blystone is directing with a cast consisting of Claire Windsor, Earle Foxe, Albert Conti and Clyde Cook.

Harriet Hinsdale, who has been story editor for Columbia Pictures for the past few months, has begun work with Ramon Romero, well known scenarist on "The Apache", soon to be placed into production.

Jack Pratt, formerly of grand opera has been assigned to the role of Ali Ben Ali and Otto Hoffman, noted in musical comedy will play Haffee in the Warner production of "The Desert Song".

The cast for the Reginald Denny production of "Clearing the Decks" has been completed. It will comprise in addition to the star, Olive Hasbrook, Lucien Littlefield, Otis Harlan, Colette Merton and Robert Anderson.

One of Columbia's forthcoming pictures to be started soon is "The Wicked Angel." This story by Gertrude Atherton, who also wrote "The Crystal Cup" and "Black Oxen," will be adapted immediately for the screen by Perry S. Nathan, well known writer formerly with Fox and First National.

Because of his excellent work in handling "Runaway Girls," Mark Sandrich has been re-signed by Columbia to handle the directorial reins of "The Wicked Angel."

Having completed one of Columbia's best pictures on the 1928-29 program, "Driftwood," Christy Cabanne has been recalled to the Columbia studios to begin work on another picture.

The new film will be "The College Coquette," a fast moving comedy drama of co-ed life. Howard J. Green has been signed to write the screen story.

Nat Ross is hastening completion of the third series of Collegians in order to prepare for the announced movietoning of all future Collegian episodes.

Lawrence Grant has been cast as the seventh suspect in "The Canary Murder Case", which has entered production under the direction of Malcolm St. Clair at the Paramount studio in Hollywood.

Thing We Do Not Believe —that Baclanova, one of the outstanding actresses on the screen, will be shown to advantage in support of Jack Holt in a Zane Grey western.

Rogell at Columbia

In substantiation of the statement recently made by Jack Cohn, in charge of affairs at the Columbia studios, that he is out after the best directorial talent available, comes the announcement that Al Rogell has been signed to direct two of the specials on this season's Columbia program.

Rogell's services were obtained by an arrangement with First National who holds his contract with yet some time before expiration. It was for this firm that Rogell made several outstanding successes, the most notable being "The Shepherd of the Hills" a production that advanced Rogell into the front rank of directors.

His first under the two picture agreement with Columbia will be "The Lone Wolf's Daughter" and "Hurricane".

Collyer Stole Prince

Quite a few of the Hollywood feminine stars are looking daggers at June Collyer. This Fox star met Prince George, youngest son of King Edward, at a lunch given by Mary Pickford, and while the rest of the girls were looking, walked out with him, took him over to the Fox lot, had some pictures made with him, and entertained his highness for the rest of the afternoon.

England's Lovers

British Screen Productions, Ltd. believe they have found the "Perfect Lovers" of the British screen in Betty Siddons and Eric Findon, who are leads in their production, "Cupid in Clover", an adaptation of the novel of rural England published under the title of "Yellow Corn".

15 Fotovox Exchanges

Planned by Nov. 1

(Continued from page 1)

device invented by Eugene A. Lauste, sound film pioneer.

There is planned a yearly release of 52 pictures, the first to be ready November 15. Production will be at the old Aurora studios in Ft. Lee and those already reported under contract, by the company are Jessel, Jimmy Hussey and other vaudeville and stage stars.

A DAY AT 1st NATIONAL

Workmen sending down the deep piers of concrete that will support the new sound stages . . . A dare devil standing on one leg atop the high tower that carries the mixed concrete up . . . Miles of red cable that go into the buildings for some reason . . . Colleen Moore, tanned by the Pacific sun, returning from a vacation on her yacht . . . Billie Dove, walking along up the center of the street, clad in a silver evening gown . . . Alice White posing before the camera in a postage stamp bathing suit, with a cape of crepe de chine . . . Lucy Doraine, the former UFA star, who has the "million dollar legs," in a short skirt that verifies the report . . . Charlie Murray with two new stories, told in verse . . . Very funny, too . . . Benny Rubin, the impressario of the baton, playing in "Ritzie Rosie" and carrying a dime-sized banjo into the scene . . . A man in a crush hat and smoking a cigar in the midst of extras in a ballroom scene . . . It's the producer looking over the set . . . Frances Hamilton in a gorgeous white gown . . . Doris Dawson tripping down the street in a coolie coat and sandals . . . Lucien Prival in his ever-present monocle . . . An orchestra in Russian uniforms playing high up on a balcony . . . Extras dancing on the floor below . . . Nicholas Soussanin, the foreign actor, in a dress suit talking to his dancing partner . . . Mervyn LeRoy, the smallest director, and his assistant, Ben Silvey, the largest assistant director in Hollywood . . . Sixty airplanes overhead flying in formation and the movies are forgotten for a moment while everyone gazes skyward . . . And the day is ended.

Tryon-Kent to N. Y.

Glenn Tryon and Barbara Kent, featured players in the Universal production "Lonesome" will arrive in New York tomorrow from Hollywood to be present at the opening of the first Universal talking picture, at the Colony Sunday night.

1st Nat'l. 6 Mos.

Profit $709,032

(Continued from page 1)

Stock. The Company's surplus for the period showed an increase of $666,719, bringing the total to $7,188,155.

"LONESOME" TO REOPEN COLONY

(Continued from page 1)

is handling the house exploitation and Ben Bernie and his Roosevelt Hotel orchestra has been engaged for the run of the picture, in addition to which the picture has Movietone sound and effects. James A. Carrier is the house manager.

A ROAD SHOW SPECIAL-FOR EXTENDED RUN THEATRES

"WHY GIRLS GO WRONG"

A SCREEN EPIC OF THE HOME-A THRILLING AND ELABORATE PRODUCTION

For Bookings and Distribution: WIRE: ROAD SHOW PICTURES INC. 489 FIFTH AVE. SUITE 503 NEW YORK

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Formerly EXHIBITORS TRADE REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

VOL. 24 No. 74

New York, Friday, September 28, 1928

FIVE CENTS

OBSERVATIONS

Stage & Screen

Along with the announcement that Warner's have gained control of First National and the contemplated closing of the deal that will bring in the Keith-Albee-Orpheum houses, we look for this "buying group" to announce the acquisition on one of the largest chain of legitimate houses together with the production forces that have turned out hundreds of successful stage plays.

The Idea

It is the idea of Harry M. Warner and those behind him to get absolute control of vaudeville, a big slice in the legitimate and a very large hunk of pictures both sound and silent. With all these forces working together this is what will happen:—A play will be produced in New York, it will go to Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston for the legitimate runs in those towns. After this has been exhausted or while the show is still playing in New York, a picture version will be made with the identical cast, costumes, etc., etc. It will then play the Warner string of houses from coast to coast, to be followed by other houses franchised by this company.

Vaudeville

Players booked over the vaudeville circuit will do their acts for Vitaphone. Writers of acts short skits and what not will turn out material for the organization who in turn will pick the talent out of the list of available vaudevillians, casting them for the acts.

When

When the above dream comes true and it will, this Warner organization will have all their strings tied into one solid knot and this knot will represent something:—unthought of in this industry as early as ten months ago. They will have theatres, players, writers, producers and directors from the legitimate pictures and variety, molding entertainment into forms that will supply each of the three fields almost simultaneously, and at a production cost that will hardly be any greater than any of the three distinct amusements are now paying.

—WILKERSON

Foreign Restrictions of U. S. Films Necessitate New Int'l. Conference Nov. 14

DISTRIBUTORS SEE W.C. OUTLETS SHRINK

LOS ANGELES — The booking situation on the west coast has become very acute. Since the Fox ownership of the tremendous West Coast Circuit and naturally, the settling in of all Fox product, quite a few distributors who formerly had these theatres from year to year are left out in the cold.

There is a mad scramble on the part of the exchanges so affected to gather in all the independent circuits and houses and due to this scramble, independent operators are sitting back, listening to propositions and waiting for the film companies to cut each others throats. Conditions with these owners, point to a very good year due to the fact they will be able to buy fairly good product at a very reasonable price.

Bristolphone to Make

Broadway Film Play

When "The Great Power", Myron C. Fagan's play at the Ritz is withdrawn tomorrow night from Broadway, the producer will have it filmed at the Bristolphone plant in Waterbury. After which he will reopen the play and the picture simultaneously on the main stem.

Colvin Brown Back

from Coast Trip

Colvin W. Brown, executive V.P. of Pathe Pictures, Inc., returned Wednesday from the Coast after a three-week's trip to the Pathe Studios, to see how the first Photo-phone productions were getting on.

Fox Angling for Brandts to Manage N. Y. Theatre Chain

With the definite closing of over forty houses in the greater New York section by William Fox and the addition of from twenty to thirty others, Fox will have a chain of 75 in New York and environs.

From informants close to both parties, William Brandt, equal owner with his brother Harry, of the Brandt circuit of theatres in Brooklyn taken over by Fox, will be put in charge of theatre operations in this zone. Exhibitors in the Metropolitan ter-

$1,000,000 Paid to Balaban & Katz

$1,000,000 is the price received by Balaban & Katz from Warner Bros. for their First National franchise holdings, of which they held about 5,000 shares. Herbert Stern, president of Balaban & Katz arranged the sale for his company.

Some 9,000 additional shares acquired by Warners for 1st National control were held by Finkelstein & Ruben; E. V. Richards Robert Lieber; A. H. Blank and the Skouras Brothers.

Skouras will have the management of the huge chain of theatres now controlled by Warners, as exclusively predicted in Exhibitors Daily Review on Saturday, September 22nd.

New P-F-L Stock at 48½

Most of the trading in Paramount Famous-Lasky Corporation swung over to the new common shares which were issued after the 3 for 1 split. 29,300 shares were traded in opening the first quotation at 49½ and closing at 48½. Only 5,300 shares of the old stock were swapped.

B & K TO BID MONDAY FOR CHI. NAT. CHAIN

CHICAGO—Balaban & Katz may put in a bid for the defunct National Theatre Chain of houses, for which a creditors' meeting has been called next Monday. The former Cooney houses are now reported to be making good profits. If B & K do not succeed in buying the chain, they may build opposition houses.

France Makes Little Theatre Progress Due to Severe Taxes

Agitation against American films is again being noted by European observers, despite the concessions gained by Will H. Hays for American product last Spring, and it is believed that the entire question will again come for reconsideration next June when the French 60% import concession granted to Hays, expires.

As the first step in the campaign for unanimity among the film industries of the entire world, it is understood that the International Chamber of Commerce has called a conference for November 14th, for the purpose of regularizing all existing motion picture restrictions. According to the N. Y. Times correspondent, representatives of all film-producing nations will be heard.

(Continued on page 4)

J. MADAN IN N. Y.

Closing Deal for Sound Apparatus in Calcutta

J. Madan, Indian theatrical magnate, who is in New York on a shopping tour of pictures for his large circuit of motion picture theatres, is about to close negotiations for the installation of American talking picture apparatus in his Calcutta theatres.

He plans to sail for home next week, instead of Saturday, to close these negotiations for the first sound apparatus in India.

A Good Gag Washed Out

A. P. Waxman and Warren Lewis of Warner's had a good idea and told Variety out it. This end was O.K.

The sight of the opening of "The Singing Fool" saw this idea, completely washed out.

When the gang began to file out of the Winter Garden after the performance, a terrific rain and wind storm was on display. The crowds stuck in the lobby and on the sidewalk for over an hour trying to get in their private cars and cabs.

When all of them had left several boys were seen lugging a special Al Jolson edition of Variety down the street to the Warner office. Of the 1500 copies printed, less than a 100 were given out.

Announcing The Distributor of In

HARRY H. TH

TO THE TRADE:

"FIRST DIVISION PICTURES, INC. are pleased to announce the acquisition of COMMONWEALTH FILM CORPORATION and COMMONWEALTH EXCHANGE of New York.

"First Division Pictures, Inc. will carry out all unplayed contracts between Commonwealth and the exhibitors in the Metropolitan area with the same courtesy, efficiency and cooperation that has built up First Division to the pre-eminent position that they occupy in the New York territory today.

"The acquisition of the Commonwealth exchange with its many exhibitor friends, its good will, and quality pictures is further proof of GREATER FIRST DIVISION PICTURES' determination to be 'ALWAYS IN THE LEAD'.

"I take this opportunity of thanking my many exhibitor friends for their sincere cooperation which has made possible this expansion."

HARRY H. THOMAS

Millions have read these "Famous Novels"

Not Short Stories But The Best Selling Novels Of Great Authors

GREATER-FIRST DIVISION GIANT HITS

"FORTUNE'S FOOL"

With Emil Jannings

"LINDA"

Made by the producers of "The Road To Ruin"

Pola Negri in

"ARE WOMEN TO BLAME"

Booked entire Loew Circuit—118 days

"THE PORT OF MISSING GIRLS"

Dir. by Irving Cummings
Booked by entire Keith Circuit

"THE HOUSE OF SHAME"

With
Creighton Hale and Virginia Brown Faire
and

"CRIME AND PUNISHMENT"

World's Greatest Dependnt Pictures

MAS, President

TEN EXCELLENT SPECIALS

BROKEN BARRIERS
DAUGHTERS OF DESIRE
DAVID VALLORY
ONE SPLENDID HOUR
GILDED LOVE
HEARTS AND MODELS
MONTMARTRE ROSE
MELLOWING MONEY
SABLES FOR TWO ROSES OF PICARDY

EIGHT BOX-OFFICE WINNERS

THE ROARING FORTIES
THE PEACOCK FAN
CAMPUS KNIGHTS
SOUTH OF PANAMA
THE SCARLET FLAME
CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE
BELOW THE DEADLINE
THE ADORABLE CHEAT

TEN SENSATION SPECIALS

FANNY HAWTHORNE
THE NIGHT ANGEL
THE WRECKERS
THE ORCHID WOMAN
PENNY PRINCESS
KING SOLOMON'S WIFE
BONDS OF BIRTH
ONE GOOD WOMAN
MASQUERADE MARRIAGE PASSION SONG

EIGHT ACTION CLASSICS

THE SILENT TRAIL
ON THE DIVIDE
THE MANHATTAN COWBOY
THE LAW OF THE MOUNTED
ARIZONA DAYS
WEST OF SANTA FE
HEADIN' WESTWARD
TEXAS TOMMY

EIGHT CELEBRATED ATTRACTIONS

SHOULD A GIRL MARRY
SWEET SIXTEEN
WHEN DREAMS COME TRUE BROTHERS
THE ISLE OF LOST MEN
SOME MOTHER'S BOY
HANDCUFFED
THE ROMANTIC FOOL

FOUR DE LUXE ATTRACTIONS

THE DIVINE SINNER
SHANHAI ROSE
THE BILLIONAIRE
SHIPS OF THE NIGHT

And One of the Greatest Sensations of All Time!

"THE ROAD TO RUIN"

Distributed by TRUE LIFE PHOTO PLAYS CORP.
(A subsidiary of First Division)

Nine Weeks in Camden
Six Weeks in Atlantic City
Two Weeks in Trenton

Three Weeks in Jersey City
Two Weeks in Asbury Park

PLAYING MORE WEEKS AT HIGHER PRICES
THAN SO-CALLED $2 BROADWAY HITS PLAY
FOR LESS THAN A WEEK'S ENGAGEMENT

Playing Every Type of Town and Theatre at 35c—50c—75c Prices and Breaking Every Known Box-Office Record.

TRY AND DO THIS WITH ANY OTHER PICTURE NOW PLAYING

NOW BEING ROADSHOWED

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher and Editor

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager; Executive and Editorial Offices, 45 West 45th Street, New York. Telephone Bryant 6160. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Exhibitors Review Publishing Corporation. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hemstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York:—Billy Brandt, through the deal selling the Brandt Theatres to William Fox, may assume charge of handling all the Fox theatres in greater New York, and again he may not; Brandt isn't saying anything and Fox has not told me his plans. . . . Jimmy Carrier heaved a sigh of relief and threw out his chest yesterday when the last electrician walked out of the Colony theatre after installing all the sound apparatus for the showing of "Lonesome". . . . Richard Virtuous Anderson, general sales manager of International News, is a high speed guy and drives a high speed car, and the latter got him in a debate Sunday with a traffic copper, with Anderson the winner after a hard verbal struggle. . . . Joe Kennedy is due in New York today, and even though he left Murdock and Casey on the other side, there is apt to be something doing in K-A-O affairs. . . . Carl Laemmle arrives from the coast on Sunday morning and owing to the change from Daylight Saving the welcoming committee will have to cut short the Sunday morning slumber. . . . Herbert Wilcox, one of Great Britain's biggest, reaches New York this morning and will go direct to Hollywood to make a further study of what is doing in sound pictures. . . . Abe and Julius Stern will hold a get-together here next week when Julius arrives from Europe and Abe from the coast to look him over after his long stay abroad. . . . Harry Warner is said to be considering taking a one-day holiday, during which he will not buy even

Sheehan to Make "Connecticut Yankee" As Will Rogers Talkie

By JOE BLAIR
Hollywood Correspondent

Nothing seems to stop Winfield Sheehan, general manager of Fox production. "Winnie", since the advent of talking pictures has had a hankering to do "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" as an all talkie. And of course if he wants something, he generally gets it.

But he wanted Will Rogers for the picture and Will was all tied up with contracts for the concert and speaking stage. Sheehan found a way around it with the result that production on this subject and with Will Rogers in the lead, will be started around Dec. 15th.

Fox originally made this picture in its silent version. Sheehan then was general sales manager of the organization. When the sample print arrived in New York from the coast, every executive in the home office threw forty fits at what they had seen. Everyone was for putting it in the ash can and starting all over again, but not "Winnie" Sheehan. He sent for Ralph Spence, had a few minutes talk with him, locked the door for three days and the next time the picture was shown, no one was able to recognize it. This production turned out to be the big hit of the year and one of the most successful productions Fox ever released.

Universal After Neilan

Who's going to direct "Broadway" for Universal? The company announced Paul Fejos, who recently made "Lonesome" and further, Fejos and Carl Laemmle, Jr., will soon depart for New York to look over the night clubs for ideas. However, with it all, Universal studio officials are paging Marshall Neilan all over Hollywood, with a contract to do this important production.

Walker Coming

H. M. Walker, Vice-President of Hal Roach studios, and the man responsible for the clever titles in Hal Roach M-G-M Comedies, will leave for New York the latter part of October for a six weeks sojourn.

one theatre chain. . . . Ernest Maas, one of the Fox supervisors, has returned from Europe and will go on to the coast after a few days at the home office. . . . Ben Bernstein, Los Angeles exhibitor, and one of the heavyweights in California exhibitor organization, is in New York for a couple of weeks for a series of conferences with Will Hays. . . . Max Trel, who recently resigned from handling publicity for First National, expects to leave soon for London. . . .

WARNERS PLAN "JEST" WITH BOTH BARRYMORES

It seems very evident that Warner's plan to do "The Jest" with both John and Lionel Barrymore in their original stage roles. Naturally it will be a talker. There is only one rub to these plans and that is that Lionel Barrymore is under contract to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and seems to be in the cast of every picture that organizations contemplates making for the next five years. However there has been a friendly "borrowing spirit" between Warner's and M-G-M and for such an important production the loan of this player might be negotiated.

John Barrymore will shift his make-up box to the Warner studio on the completion of his present picture at United Artists.

Fox Re-Signs Borzage

Frank Borzage, director of "7th Heaven" and "Street Angel", has just been signed to another long term contract by Winfield Sheehan, vice president and general manager of Fox Film Corporation.

Tin Pan Alley at M-G-M

The M-G-M lot has taken on the aspect of "tin-pan" alley. What with Gus Edwards, Billy Rose, Herb Brown and Arthur Fried, all well known song writers walking around the studio, one would think a new musical production was being prepared.

"Coquette" Tests

Broadway stage players, aspirants for the various roles in Mary Pickford's first all-talking picture, "Coquette", were given voice and screen tests yesterday, at the Famous Players Studio, Astoria, Long Island by Sam Taylor who will direct.

Block W. C. Bound

After a week in New York seeing plays and selecting material for next year's Pathe program, Ralph Block associate producer, left on the Lake Shore Limited Wednesday, for the Pathe Studios in Culver City in order to rush plans for "Leathernecks."

Goldbeck at Pathe

Willis Goldbeck, one of the best known screen writers, has been signed by Pathe. He will write and direct his own original story "The Gateway". This will be Goldbeck's first directorial appointment.

Foreign Restrictions of U.S. Films Necessitate Conference

(Continued from page 1)

The next film season, 1929-1930 looms as the most troublesome in the history of the American film industry in Europe, due to the possibility of new internal restrictions being made against American films, within foreign countries. The various governments will attempt to raise the quota restrictions higher, starting next July.

French Situation

Despite the comparatively insignificant cost of operating cinemas in France, exhibition has made no progress. Theatre construction has been discouraged by the Cinema Tax which ranges from 3 to 12½% on each 100 francs of gross receipts plus 2% increase and 10% poor tax; to which is added a municipal tax, graded from one franc 50 centimes out of every 100 francs for theatres playing to less than $600 a month; to six francs 25 centimes out of every $4 for theatres playing to 100,000 francs a month.

The cinema tax has discouraged capital which might be available for theatre construction, but the despair of prospective investors is the cost of the construction — plus the difficulty of assembling a desirable plot.

American motion picture men, pioneering in France, declare that the American revenue from the French market could be tripled if the cinema were better housed. It is not only the small town which views its movie in surroundings reminiscent in the nickleodeon days on Fourteenth Street; cities of size fare little better.

French Production

One of the reasons why French production is retarded, is that French producers, having no distributing channels, cannot amortize more than one-third of the cost of a film's production; and that therefore the French motion picture industry cannot mobilize credits. Production being thus inadequately capitalized, French pictures cannot compete. It is the French contention that the lure of Hollywood salaries has depopulated native studios, and that because of the depreciation of the franc, this constitutes unfair competition.

Modern Theatres Solution

But no argument is more cogent than that of the exhibitor who declares that audiences for films are created in theatres, and that until motion picture theatres are improved, there will be little development in the French motion picture industry.

Though France last year added 50,000 seats in her cinema theatres, these figures are not representative of any real construction program. France is dotted with soap-box theatres; shoe-string exhibitors open a hall or convert a shop into a "cinema" — and bid $5 or $10 a day for the cheapest film offered in a glutted market. Of the 4,000 cinemas in France, less than 40% are open daily; and only 900 have a seating capacity of 750 or over. Cinema theatres are antiquated, uncomfortable and unclean. They are poorly lighted and unheated; uninviting and almost dismal places. Contemplating them it is understandable that there are more people in France who can boast that they never entered a cinema than in any other country in the world.

Cosma Formed

The Cosma Enterprises of Yonkers has been organized with 200 shares of common stock and will engage in motion pictures.

A ROAD SHOW SPECIAL-FOR EXTENDED RUN THEATRES

"WHY GIRLS GO WRONG"

A SCREEN EPIC OF THE HOME - A THRILLING AND ELABORATE PRODUCTION

For Bookings and Distribution: WIRE: ROAD SHOW PICTURES INC. 489 FIFTH AVE. SUITE 503 NEW YORK

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Formerly EXHIBITORS TRADE REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

VOL. 24 No. 75

New York, Saturday, September 20, 1928

FIVE CENTS

OBSERVATIONS

News Shots

Independent news today. Columbia the last of the big independents have gone in for sound. This is significant in that these producers have gotten around to the thought that "we have to keep up with the parade". Tiffany-Stahl using Photophone, Gotham using Bristolphone and Columbia going in for Western Electric.

The Capitol

Howard Deitz informs us that the Capitol will inaugurate a mid-night show starting next week. No doubt they will follow the same idea of Paramount in that the feature picture and news reel will comprise the entire show. And we know a lot of picture fans that have been patronizing this 11:30 Paramount show for the reason they want their pictures without any presentation and all that goes with it. We have often said that the Loew's New York Theatre is a tremendous success for the same reason.

The Brandt's

Harry and Billy Brandt are in the news. They have sold their chain of Brooklyn theatres to Fox and, we are told, that a part of this sales contract provides that both these boys shall come to Fox with the theatres, otherwise, no purchase. From our point of view, the fact that Fox will get Harry and Billy is more important than his acquiring their theatres. Both these boys know exhibition in all its phases. Their Brooklyn houses have reflected this knowledge. They are showmen and their steady rise to great importance is full testimony to their ability.

In Town

Joseph P. Kennedy is in town and we can expect some very healthy news items. It has always been pretty tough to get him to talk for publication, but if we have a guess coming, we will pin it on him doing a lot of talking in the next few days, and plenty for publication. Kennedy is not going out of the picture business and he is too smart to be relegated to the background. Watch him.

WILKERSON

COLUMBIA PICTURES LICENSED FOR W. E. VITAPHONE SYSTEM

32 Trade Boards to Offer Free Films for Red Cross Benefits

Hal Roach Studios, Inc.

Earned $321,439 in 27-28

Net earnings of the Hal Roach Studios, Inc., for the fiscal year ending last July 28th, with the Federal Tax deducted, were $321,439. This is equivalent to $10.40 a share on preferred stock and five times the annual dividend requirements.

Common stock is owned by Hal Roach himself. A reduction of $50,000 has been effected in the trust indenture obligations, leaving a total of $350,000.

EUROPE TO SPEND 17 MILLION ON PRODUCTION

British and continental film producers are planning to produce 500 pictures during 1928, which will cost between $26,000,000 and $27,000,000. This schedule compares with 450 films made in 1927, costing $17,000,000.

This would indicate that these producers plan to spend at least $10,- (Continued on page 2)

P-F-L New and Old

Stock Rise on 'Change

Paramount Famous-Lasky stock hit a new high mark for the year yesterday, gaining 3 3/4 points and reaching 148 3/4. Exhibitors Daily Review, last June when the stock was selling around 123, predicted this stock would reach 150 on the (Continued on page 2)

SHUMATE RETURNS

Synchronizes Dialogue and Sound on "Times Square"

"Times Square" the Gotham production has completed its production of a sound and talking picture negative at the Bristolphone Studios in Waterbury, Conn.

Harold E. Shumate, who supervised the work has returned from Waterbury. The sound negative will contain 2 full reels with dialogue, between Arthur Lubin and Alice Day.

The Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, have notified the 32 Film Boards of Trades in the U. S. that they stand ready to furnish film gratis to any and all theatres which will stage benefits for the victims of the hurricane in Porto Rico, Virgin Islands and Florida.

A deluge of responses have come in from various boards, indicating approval of the scheme and furnishing notification and details of nu-

(Continued on page 2)

NETOCO SEWS UP HALF OF PORTLAND, MAINE

Acquires Four Goodside Houses and Now Building Two

Samuel Pinanski, president of Netoco announces that the New England Theatres Operating Corporation, and Abraham Goodside of Portland, Maine, represent the following corporations, the Strand Amusement Company and The Empire Amusement Company, both Maine Corporations, and the Capitol Theatre Company, a Massachusetts Corporation, executed an agreement on Sept. 19, 1928, whereby the New England The-

(Continued on page 2)

First Big Independent to Use Western Electric System

Columbia Pictures Corporation is the latest producing organization to definitely announce a program of sound pictures. In making his new policy public, Joe Brandt, president of the company, stated yesterday that the high quality of the silent pictures on the Columbia program will not be affected by the sound pictures, and that a special organization is working at the studios in Hollywood and New York to perfect those pictures on the Perfect 36 program that are to be accompanied by sound, music, effects and talking sequences.

Columbia Pictures has signed a contract for the production of sound pictures with the Electrical Re-

(Continued on page 2)

Kennedy Re-Arranging FBO for Distribution

J. P. Kennedy, accompanied by Mrs. Kennedy arrived in New York yesterday on the Acquitania, after a month's trip abroad.

It is understood that Kennedy, while abroad, completed arrangements for new foreign distribution of FBO product throughout Europe.

Hersholt with P-F-L

HOLLYWOOD — Jean Hersholt, whose contract still has 18 months to run with Universal, may be farmed out to Paramount for three pictures, the first of which will be "Victory."

British Exhibitors Vote to Join Int'l. Federation -- Meet in Brussels

By Dr. R. OTTO
Berlin Correspondent

The British Cinematograph Exhibitors Association, after lengthy discussions, has voted to join the International Exhibitors Federation which came into existence several weeks ago.

H. V. Davis, President of the British theatre owners and the General Secretary, Mr. Fuller, have been instructed to meet the French and German delegates in Brussels next month.

There the statutes of the Federation will be definitely adopted and special efforts made to dispel any false ideas disseminated in other countries about the scope of the organization and to impress upon the American exhibitors that it is essential that they should join the Federation.

U. S. Films Strong

American films are holding their own in the German exhibitors' programs. Among the 31 features released in August, 15 were domestic, 6 from other European countries and 10 were American.

Counting the entire output of features, educational and topical there were 232 domestic productions while America supplied 100 pictures.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher and Editor

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schierer, Business Manager; Executive and Editorial Offices, 45 West 45th Street, New York. Telephone Bryant 6160. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15, single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyrighted by Exhibitors Review Publishing Corporation. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hemstead 1514)

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York—Dave Bader threatens to sing into the new Ediphone up at Universal in order to get a line on his voice for sound pictures, and someone could be put in jail for what the boys threaten to do to Bader . . . Joe Kennedy, hale and hearty and chock full of pep returned from Europe yesterday and was met at the dock by a reception committee consisting of Joe Schnitzer, E. B. Derr, Lee Marcus and Eddie Moore . . . Paul Gulick, after listening to the test of synchronization of "Lonesome" at the Colony and says it is the best he has heard and if he has missed any of the others he wants someone to send tickets and he'll take a peep . . . Victor Shapire is still looking for a home to live in, and if anyone has an extra one please notify Vic at United Artists . . . Jack Alicote, chairman of the M. P. Club athletic committee, is arranging for a series of hand ball matches with some of the other clubs of the city, and likes his own team pretty well for beginners . . . Eddie Moore, Joe Kennedy's right hand man, ayways carries four pairs of glasses with him in case he should break three, and Eddie has the reputation of being a peaceful guy at that . . . Ben Hyatt, for the past eight years in the purchasing department of Universal, left the old job flat yesterday to start his own employment agency at 100 West 43rd street . . . Julius Singer, all dolled up with usual trimmings of fresh carnation fresh shave and a fresh supply of cough drops, acted as toastmaster at a farewell dinner to Ben Hyatt and what he did to the job was plenty . . . Al Lewin likes the Motion Picture Club so well that he is afraid he won't enjoy being called back to the west coast, where they haven't such a club . . . E. F. Albee has given $500 to the hurricane relief fund, and he never misses out on a chance to do something helpful . . . Charles Skouras is in New York and spending the daylight . . . Colvin Brown has returned from the west, and all the bosses are gathering.

Columbia Pictures Licensed for W.E. Vitaphone System

(Continued from page 1)

search Products, Inc., subsidiary of Western Electric Company. The system of recording and reproduction is the same as that employed by Warner Bros. in Vitaphone.

Based on the preferences shown by theatre-owners toward the Western Electric system, we finally committed ourselves to this system.

"We are particularly fortunate in having among our vehicles for the Season 1928-29 a large number of outstanding stage attractions. These are now being seriously weighed and considered for production as sound pictures," stated Brandt.

"As a producing organization we are not loaded down with expensive stars, nor do we carry non-productive technical men and high-priced advisors. We are not forced to put into roles that call for dialogue in our sound pictures, stars whose voices do not fit the new medium.

"We are ready to throw all our resources into the making of high-class sound pictures without having to write anything off the books, just as we have always made high-class silent pictures without a dollar of waste—pictures that this season have demonstrated their ability to play a deluxe Broadway theatre at $2 top.

"Not all our forthcoming pictures will be in sound, naturally. We are going to continue to make silent pictures. But we want to go on record with the statement that whether sound or silent—Columbia Pictures always will be sound value for the exhibitor who books and plays Columbia Product."

32 Trade Boards to Offer Free Films

(Continued from page 1)

merous benefits to be staged.

The first of these will take place tomorrow, Sunday, when all the theatres in Memphis, Tenn., will turn over their entire proceeds to this charity, the American Red Cross Relief Fund for the Victims of the Hurricane in Porto Rico, Virgin Islands and Florida.

The City of Washington will be the next to probably adopt the measures pursued in Memphis, with other cities falling in line within the next two weeks.

The most comprehensive benefit of its kind ever undertaken by the industry on the West Coast, for the same Fund, will take place today at the Olympic Auditorium, where a boxing show of 50 rounds will be put on. The Los Angeles Theatre Managers' Association is putting on the benefit. Leading film stars will referee the bouts.

Europe to Spend 17

Million on Production

(Continued from page 1)

000,000 in the improvement of their pictures this year.

Great Britain will produce 100 films costing $8,000,000; this country only produced 24 pictures in 1927, costing $2,600,000. France will make 85 films costing $3,500,000. Germany will complete 250 productions and 65 other films will be produced in the other production centers.

P-F-L NEW AND OLD

(Continued from page 1)

Exchange by early Fall.

The new P-F-L split-up common, since opening two days ago continued its early climb and yesterday gained 1½ points hitting 49½. This stock is due to touch 70 by the end of the year, according to our financial informants.

New United Artists Theatre in Portland, Ore., an Event

Netoco Sews up Half of Portland, Maine

(Continued from page 1)

atres Operating Corp is to acquire a controlling interest in the Empire, Strand and Jefferson theatres Portland, and the Capitol Theatre, Springfield, Mass.

The agreement provides for these houses to be taken over on or before November 1, 1928.

Arrangements have been made under which Mr. Goodside is to remain connected in a managerial capacity with the company which will operate the theatres in Portland, and the Capitol in Springfield, Mass.

Cantor on WOR

Eddie Cantor will be the guest artist for the third Vitaphone Jubilee Hour broadcast next Monday evening, October 1st, through Station WOR and twenty other stations comprising the Columbia Chain.

Bernstein Here from Europe—Seider Sails

Joseph E. Bernstein, Pres. of the State Theatre in Jersey City, accompanied by Mrs. Bernstein, arrive in New York this morning from Holland on the S.S. New Amsterdam.

Joseph E. Seider, President of the New Jersey Theatre Owners, sailed for Europe last night on the Ile de France. He will be gone for several months.

G. B. "Judge" Frawley

Heads "Pep" Club

G. B. "Judge" Frawley has been unanimously elected to the Presidency of the Paramount "Pep" Club, an organization comprising the entire personnel of the Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation home office. Mr. Frawley has been a member of the Board of Directors of the club for the past four years.

The new 1,000-seat United Artists Theatre in Portland, Ore., which opened for the first time about ten days ago, is the talk of the town, as it has proved to be a great step forward in Portland Theatre circles. While comparatively small, it is a luxurious house done in a modern style that puts it in a class by itself.

The waiting room and foyer space can accommodate an extra thousand people, practically doubling the capacity of the house.

The theatre front is perhaps the finest designed in the city, consisting of a tremendous marquee that extends over the whole building side, brilliantly illuminated on its under side and with a double row of illuminated letters on its face. The United Artists sign is a huge affair, towering over the roof-top, and is supplemented by United Artists Theatre in Neon script along the two walls on both sides.

It was originally planned to open the United Artists house on September 14, but the date was set back until the 20th by J. J. Parker, who is the managing director of the new theatre. The Movietone installation has not been completed, owing to the labor troubles which have developed along those lines, but Parker engaged a well-chosen orchestra which will substitute until the sound equipment is ready, at which time the house will revert to a Movietone policy.

NEW YORK'S NEWEST AND FINEST HOTEL

SMARTLY NEAR THE CENTER OF THINGS

Around the corner from New York's exclusive shopping district, readily accessible to leading theatres, and railroad terminals, yet in a neighborhood socially correct and away from the noise and turmoil of the business district. The Park Central enjoys a location distinctly unique in its advantages. Come to the Park Central, New York's newest and finest hotel where you will find advantages heretofore unknown to American hostels — Radio outlets . . . Electric Refrigeration . . . Period Salons and Roof Patios for private social functions . . . swimming pool . . . Florentine Grille featuring the Park Central Grille Orchestra . . . other features equally unusual and desirable. Single rooms five dollars per day and up. Double rooms eight dollars per day and up.

THE PARK CENTRAL

FIFTY-FIFTH STREET AT 7th AVENUE

NEW YORK CITY

PICTURE REVIEWS

"PLASTERED IN PARIS"

Fox
Directed by Ben Stollorf
Featuring Sammy Cohen,
Jack Pennick

A fast-moving riotous comedy-farce with plenty of hokum and gags sprinkled throughout to keep your audience giggling — Sammy Cohen as Nosenblum does the best work of his career and the film is different from the usual run of comedies through its direction and sprightly episodes.

Sammy, who was injured in the war, has become a kleptomaniac who must be slapped to be brought out of his trance—Sammy and his war-buddy attend Legion convention in Paris and through Sammy's taking ways, they steal a couple of enlistments in the French Foreign Legion and are sent to Africa. Humorous events are depicted in the training of the Legion, and the boys nearly get shot through a trick—they escape from the Fort, rescue the commandant's daughter in the desert and are rewarded by being released from service.

"BEGGARS OF LIFE"

Paramount
Directed by Wm. Wellman
Story by Jim Tully
Cast Wallace Beery
Louise Brooks, Richard Arlen.

This picture marks Wallace Beery's return to the drama, but is notable for many other reasons as well. "Beggars of Life," faithfully adapted from Tully's book, answers the cry for something different in a grand way, giving us an insight into hobo-life and it is chock full of suspense, amusement and drama.

This picture should go big with any audience because it is fast-moving and interesting from start to finish. Louise Brooks shows remarkable improvement, as the girl who takes to "the road" with a young tramp to escape a charge of murder and Richard Arlen, by his naturalness and sincere playing herewith shares acting honors with the star.

"Beggars of Life" is beautifully directed throughout, and contains some remarkable "shots." Beery is great in a part built to order for him.

"BURNING BRIDGES"

Pathe
Directed by James P. Hogan
Featuring Harry Carey,
Kathleen Collins

If the Carey vogue hasn't passed in your territory, the fans will find just what they're looking for in this one—good drama and villainy in the plot, with Harry playing a dual role—art titles and photography lift picture out of ordinary Western Class. Collins Girl a winner in any cast.

Carey plays a genial cowboy, who acts the good samaritan in his town. He has a twin brother whose mental equipment was knocked awry during the war and who now turns train robber. Harry is accused of his brother's crimes and sets out to vindicate both his and his brother's names. The crooked undersheriff who is the real criminal is finally captured and forced to confess, by Carey's daring and hard riding.

"FORBIDDEN HOURS"

Pathe
Directed by Graham Cutts
Story by Noel Coward
Featuring Lili Damita,
Paul Richter, Harry Leidtke

This foreign production made from Noel Coward's "The Queen Was in the Parlor", with judicious cutting and retitling will prove acceptable in the U.S. The star does capable work and looks very charming — Story of conventional Princess-lover-Queen-Revolution type but creditably done.

Young princess is relieved from odious marriage when the licentious prince dies—goes to Paris to forget and live joyously—meets handsome author — they fall in love — about to be married, she is summoned back to her country to become Queen—marriage with neighboring Prince arranged—day before wedding, her lover saves her from shooting by anarchist — he spends last night with her and then commits suicide.

Film could lose one reel and stand some expert titling. Barring few slight idiosyncrasies, picture should please most fans.

"THE BIG HOP"

Starring Buck Jones,
Jobyna Ralston, Ernest Hillard.
Directed by James Horne

The recent attempt made by a group of flyers to span the Pacific forms the basis of "The Big Hop". So far as we are concerned the picture, being neither "fish, flesh nor fowl", is a big flop. Only ardent followers of Buck Jones will be entertained by this one, which, as we saw it, seemed about two reels too long.

Jones manages to work in a little fast riding at the start and finish, but for the most part the picture concerns itself with his efforts to enter the air race which he finally does, against the wishes of his sweetheart, played with much old fashioned chest heaving, by Miss Jobyna Ralston. Also in the "plot" we have a nasty villain who puts poison in the pilots coffee, etc. Some judicious cutting may pep the picture up quite a bit, but though the idea is new.

"The Big Hop" seemed terribly out-of-date and flat. Maybe it was the subtitles—some of them are priceless!

"SHOW FOLKS"

Pathe
Directed by Paul Steln
Featuring Eddie Quillan,
Lina Basquette.

An interesting and timely picture, with a strong ending. Picture weak in beginning as director lacks comedy values—Acting of high type in imitations of show-folk — titling could be improved.

A tale of a boy and girl who determine to succeed on the stage and who stand by each other winning or losing. They try to rise above their lowly start on the boards; the boy wanting the world to think that he is the entire show and the girl, who has great wisdom and love for the boy lets him think so.

The direction is splendid and proves that Stein can handle the best of dramatic stories. Lina Basquette covers herself with glory in this one. Others in the cast besides Quillan, who deserve mention are Bob Armstrong, Bessie Barriscale, Carol Lombardi and others.

"EXCESS BAGGAGE"

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer
Directed by James Cruze
Story by Jack McGowan
Cast William Haines,
Josephine Dunn, Ricardo Cortez.

Another, and slightly different picture of back-stage life; this time that of a small-time vaudeville juggler, very much in love with a dancer, who after marrying him becomes a famous movie star. Its all very pathetic, since he claims he is helpless without her, besides being very much in the background and unable to work, but somehow or other, the story doesn't ring true.

Haines, as the adoring husband, does very fine work; in fact the entire cast is excellent. The direction however, is spotty, and there is an overabundance of closeups, tending to make the picture drag.

The photography, very poor at the start, takes a turn and becomes noticeably better toward the end. A more logical wind-up could have been found which existed at that point. Altogether, "Excess Baggage" is only fair entertainment. Ralph Spence's titles are a treat.

"DANGER STREET"

FBO
Directed by Ralph Ince
Featuring Warner Baxter,
Martha Sleeper

Impossible tripe of the glorified gangster type story which all producers are breaking their necks to hand out today—If your audiences aren't tired of crook stories you can take a chance on this one—Direction, and acting ordinary, although picture has suspense and a few laughs. This is a Le Baron Production if that means anything!

Wealthy chap, jilted on his wedding day, is heart-broken and don't care if he dies—happens into the underworld district, where he figures he has a good chance to be killed —takes possession of a haberdashery frequented by two gangs who are ready to kill for exclusive apparel —He meets girl working in cafe; they marry and then part through mis-understanding and the girl is shot by gang leader who makes attempt on hero's life—they are reunited.

Sound Featurettes

"ROSE AND TAYLOR"

Vitaphone-Orchestra

This is a band number made by Rose and Taylor, a California team which performs in typical band style. Three numbers are recorded and seem to be well played.

The band is from the Hollywood Montmartre Cafe and is introduced by a Master of Ceremonies in typical California style; his banterings serve to lend divertissement to the band's efforts and makes the act stand out.

In one of the numbers, individual playing of instruments is featured and this always has a good effect.

"HOLLYWOOD BOUND"

Vitaphone-Sketch

Humorous and novel sketch featuring Gladys Brockwell, James Bradbury and Neely Edwards.

Skit opens with Bradbury, small-town clerk bitten by the Hollywood movie-bug, after winning popularity contest—he boasts and struts and nothing is too good for him while getting shaved, he dreams he is in Hollywood. There Gladys Brockwell welcomes him as her new leading man, but in such a hot way that he is overcome.

As he wakes from the dream, the Barber tells him the bubble has burst and the Barber has won the contest instead. Our hero, nevertheless is determined to get to Hollywood and does—as a street cleaner.

SHAW & LEE

Vitaphone-Nut Act

These two eccentric vocalists, who have a strong vogue in vaudeville at the present time are sure-fire stuff and good for many laughs.

They open singing together; their songs consisting of nutty rhymes and senseless witticisms which are so foolish they make you laugh.

The material is old but good. Toward the end the boys throw nut questions at each other and get nut answers. They perform in the simple boob style and hardly crack a smile, which is O.K.

"EARL BURNETT"

Vitaphone-Orchestra

The Earl Burnett orchestra perform an attractive instrumental series of numbers, which will go over outside the big cities where the songs played haven't grown out of popularity.

The act is well-dressed and handled in a real showman way. Attention in this, as in similar Vitaphone band records, is focussed in some of the numbers' individual playing.

This one no better or worse than the usual type of talking-program filler-in, to relieve the serious spots in a feature program. "The Song Is Ended" is the chief number featured.

Howard Hughes Hollywood's "Santa Claus" Industry's Most Lavish Spender Through!

Spent $4,000,000 on 4 Productions
Returns to Date Only $1,000,000

By JOE BLAIR
Hollywood Correspondent

Howard Hughes, known around Hollywood as the boy producer, the millionaire kid, "Santa Claus" and head of Caddo Productions has decided to quit pictures. He is leaving Hollywood within a few days for Berlin to undergo an operation on his ear.

Hughes as head of Caddo Productions and producer of "Two Arabian Knights", "The Racket" "Hell's Angels" and "The Mating Call" has had a wild career around Hollywood studios due to his desire to spend money with a hand that has never before been equalled in the annals of picture making. It is said his weekly income averages around $25,000 as a result of royalties on a patented drill in use by most everyone drilling oil wells, but Howard soon found that even with an income of this size, it is hard to make ends meet in the production of motion pictures.

First Picture

The first picture made by Caddo was "Two Arabian Knights". This was an outstanding picture and did a good gross business, but due to the fact of the excessive cost and the peculiar arrangement of release, it is said that Hughes has yet to get his cost out of this production. Lewis Milestone directed with William Boyd and Louis Wolheim in the leads.

The Big Effort

His next effort was the production of "Hell's Angels" an air epic of the recent war. Luther Reed was assigned the direction and after finishing the interiors threw up the sponge with the word that Hughes knew more about making pictures than he did. Consequently the boy producer took up the direction himself. Reed started shooting interiors last October and finished around the first week in December. It was thought that the exteriors would require not more than three weeks. The picture is yet to be finished. A flock of German bombers, airplanes and other paraphernalia were imported from the other side, immense flying fields built, money spent with the same lavish hand that had made "Two Arabian Knights". Hughes took as many as 100 takes of a simple scene. He spent days and days on one little insert. The cost to date is well over $2,000,000. There is said to be over a million feet of negative on this subject.

Two for Paramount

While in the midst of his direction of "Angels" Hughes was talked into a contract to do two pictures with Fommie Meighan for Paramount release. Both have been finished. "The Racket" made by Milestone was released and has been doing exceptional business, but for the same reasons experienced on "Two Arabian Knights" it is not thought he will not get his negative cost out of it. James Cruze was engaged to do the second Meighan "The Mating Call". This is yet to be released.

Contracts

Hughes has several people under contract to him, the most important being Lewis Milestone, now doing a picture for Paramount and finishing that will do two for United Artists. It is said Milestone is trying to buy his contract. Others tied to Hughes are Louls Wolhelm and Lucian Prival.

Hollywood in losing Hughes loses the best spender motion pictures has ever had. His investment to date has run well over $4,000,000 with less than $1,500,000 returned to date. "Hell's Angels" might pull a lot of it back, for those in the know say if they can ever get it cut, it will be a wow of a picture.

Doris Hill with P-F-L

Doris Hill, the young actress who played the feminine lead in Syd Chaplin's "The Better Ole" in her first venture before the camera, and then was signed to a contract by Paramount, has made good and yesterday B. P. Schulberg, head of that organization's Hollywood production, announced that she has affixed her name to a new contract.

Vidor Touring

King Vidor, M-G-M director, looking around for available negro talent for his forthcoming all-negro picture "Hallelujah" is on his way to New York.

Fox Buys Smith Story

Wallace Smith, artist, writer and soldier of fortune, has sold to Fox an original story for talking pictures, "Little Ledna". The story originally appeared in his book of short stories of vaudeville life entitled "Are You Decent".

STUDIO GOSSIP

Add to the cast of the the Texas Guinan Warner picture "Queen of the Night Club" the names of Richard Barthelmess and Wilson Mizner. However this is off the record. Both Richard and Bill appeared in a scene in the night club scene for "Tex" as guests and only for a laugh.

Speaking of Warners and the Guinan film brings to mind something entirely new in pictures. Byran Foy the director claims that Lila Lee has "Sex Appeal" in her voice.

Edmund Burns has been added to the cast of the Henry King production "She Goes to War". Other members already signed are Eleanor Boardman, Cliff Holland, Gertrude Astor and Al St. John.

Captain H. Caldwell and Katharine Hilliker, his wife, have completed the editing and titling of the Sam Goldwyn picture "The Awakening". It stars Vilma Banky.

This is a wise one from Al Boasberg. "I cross my heart and hope to dialogue."

Marie Wells, Los Angeles stage favorite, has been added to the cast of "The Desert Song".

Russel Simpson recently returned from the Mormon country around Salt Lake where he worked in the picture "The Exodus" says that "although the Mormons of today may be one-wife men, they still live in two family houses."

Josephine Dunn, who has the feminine lead opposite William Haines in "Excess Baggage," now playing at the Capitol, and has just completed the chief feminine role opposite Haines in "A Man's Man," will have a somewhat lighter part in her next Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "All at Sea," co-starring comedy vehicle for Karl Dane and George K. Arthur which Alf Goulding will direct. Miss Dunn was formerly a New York show girl.

Gertrude Astor and Kathryn McGuire have been chosen for important roles by John McCormick for Colleen Moore's next First National picture, "Synthetic Sin." The new picture is a screen adaptation of the successful stage play by Frederic and Fanny Hatton, and will be directed by William A. Seiter.

Dresser Sails Nov. 15

Louise Dresser, who has just been signed to a long term contract as a reward for the excellent work she did in "Mother Knows Best," will leave for Italy with Director John Blystone on November 15th to make scenes for a new picture.

Manckiewicz Dialogues

Herman Manckiewicz has been assigned to write the dialogue for the talking sequences of George Baneroff's new Paramount picture, "The Wolf of Wall Street." Rowland Lee will direct.

Counselman at Pathe

William Counselman, until recently supervisor of production at Fox, has been signed in the same capacity by Pathe. His first work will be on "Listen Baby" from an original story by Elsie Janis. Eddie Quillan and Lina Basquette will play in it.

Bebe's Next

Bebe Daniels is all set and ready for work in her next Paramount production "The Big Scoop". It is an original by Grover Jones and Lloyd Corrigan and is a newspaper story.

Marian Orth Renews

Winfield Sheehan has signed Marion Orth, scenarist, to another long term contract. Miss Orth has just completed the scenario for "Street Fair," Janet Gaynor's latest Fox picture, which is now in production at the company's West Coast studio.

Pathe's Negro Story

Pathe is going to do an all-negro story as a full length talking picture. It will be the Theatre Guild play "Porgy". The screen treatment of the play is being done by Benjamin Glazier who will supervise the production also. A director has not been assigned but efforts are being exerted to borrow Harry D'Arrast from Paramount.

M-G-M Signs Hyams

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer have signed Leila Hyams to a long term contract. Miss Hyams has been under contract to Warner's for the past two years and during this time she appeared in more pictures outside the Warner lot than she did on it. Warner's did a thriving business farming this blonde beauty out.

A ROAD SHOW SPECIAL-FOR EXTENDED RUN THEATRES

"WHY GIRLS GO WRONG"

A SCREEN EPIC OF THE HOME-A THRILLING AND ELABORATE PRODUCTION

For Bookings and Distribution: WIRE; ROAD SHOW PICTURES INC. 489 FIFTH AVE. SUITE 503 NEW YORK

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Formerly EXHIBITORS TRADE REVIEW

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

VOL. 24 No. 76

New York, Monday, October 1, 1928

FIVE CENTS

OBSERVATIONS

Warner's Again

Today Warner Brothers jump into top news again. This is happening with great frequency. You can't keep them out even if you want to. This time with the purchase of the Kunsky string of 13 houses in Detroit. The Warner office, as usual, are silent about it, but regardless of this, the deal has been made and gives this "lightning" group a few more very fine theatres to operate. All in Detroit with the exception of one.

Part of the Deal

This purchase, was no doubt part of the First National-Stanley-Skouras deal. What will be the next one? There is a whisper around about Universal. We don't know. Both companies say no! However that does not mean No. Anything can and will happen. If they took over the Balaban-Katz Chicago string it would cause little surprise. This whole motion picture map will have a different contour in a few months. If you were to do a rip-van-winkle for a few hours, on awakening you would not be able to recognize it.

Thinking

This recent buy causes a lot of thought and MIGHT have a lot of significance. Think this over. Stanley, Skouras and the Kunsky string have always been strongholds for Paramount. And when we say strongholds, we mean extra-strongholds. Paramount-Publix, has been, and is now under Federal investigation. They have not taken over any new houses since this investigation has been in progress. It would not be a bright thing to do. Remember too, William Fox has been, and is now, buying a lot of houses. Accordingly do you think that Mr. Zukor, Mr. Katz and Mr. Publix are standing by and watching Fox and Warner tie up all the best available theatres? Certainly you don't and neither do we. So when Skouras and Kunsky and Stanley are taken in by Warner's don't it cause you a little thought? Can't you wink your eye a little bit and say to yourself, "so that's it?" More later.

WILKERSON

Warners Buy Kunsky Chain of Detroit 1st Run Houses

LAEMMLE RETURNS WITH NEW OPTIMISM

Carl Laemmle, president of Universal, arrived in New York yesterday for a stay of a month or six weeks. He was accompanied by his daughter Rosabelle and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fleckels.

Mr. Laemmle was very enthusiastic regarding the outlook for Universal in particular and the entire motion picture industry in general. He said "Conditions were never better in our company. We are, as usual, months ahead of our pro-

(Continued on page 2)

NEW SAX-GOTHAM SOUND STUDIO IN 2 WEEKS

Sam Sax arrived from the Coast Saturday bringing with him the answer print of "The Head of the Family" his latest Gotham Production featuring Virginia Lee Corbin, William Russell and Mickey Bennett.

Sax will supervise the construction of Gotham's Eastern Bristolphone Sound Studio which is being built at Waterbury, Conn., and which is expected to be completed in two weeks. The studios will be 200x50 and three stories high.

Rogers Back in U. S.

Saul E. Rogers, vice president and general counsel of Fox Film Corporation and Fox Theatres Corporation, returns today on the S.S. Leviathan from a four months' stay in Europe. He is accompanied by Mrs. Rogers.

ACQUIRE PUBLIX STRONGHOLD — ANGLING FOR UNIVERSAL CHAIN

Following closely on the sensational theatre developments sponsored by Warner Brothers in the last month, plus their acquisition of First National control, which is officially not yet set, comes the surprising news that the Vitaphone pioneers have acquired the Kunsky chain of 13 theatres in Michigan, 12 of which are in Detroit.

LEE TO DISTRIBUTE BRITISH SOUND IN U. S.

Arthur A. Lee, President of the Ameranglo Corporation, who arrives today on the Leviathan from London, has laid plans to distribute British sound films in the United States. They will be made with British Acoustics sound system.

Negotiations are being conducted for distribution. Distribution in Canada will be through the Universal offices. Gaumont-British plan to produce three films in Canada, which will be British quota films to be made with British players from Hollywood.

24 Pictures in all, are listed by the Gaumont British of Canada for release during 1928-29.

Rajahs Form 2 New

India Producers

Two new production companies will get under way in India shortly. They are the Alliance Picture Corporation, with a capital of $700,000 and the British Dominion Films, Ltd., which has been started near Calcutta by D. N. Ganguli, Indian film actor.

Several rajahs are said to be financially interested.

Internationalism's End Seen by Kennedy--Television Soon

Warner Orphan Asylum Memorial Dedicated

The $100,000 new Warner Gymnasium, a personal gift of the Warner Brothers to the Hebrew Orphan Asylum in New York was officially dedicated last night.

The beautifully equipped gymnasium was presented to the orphans as a memorial to the late Samuel L. Warner.

J. P. Kennedy, President of FBO who returned from Europe on Friday in an interview, predicted the future of talking motion pictures by stating that the use of talking pictures represents the end of Internationalism in picture making, by which he meant to infer that films would cease to be suitable in any country which heretofore viewed the silent motion picture solely as an appeal to the eye and to understanding through the eye, are now through the localizing of interest in a film

(Continued on page 2)

The deal which was closed Friday night, takes in control of the Birmingham, Birmingham, Mich.; the Adams, Alhambra, Capitol, Columbia, Kramer, Lincoln-Square, Madison, Martha Washington, Michigan, State, Strand and Kunsky-Redford; which, next to the Woodward-Koppin chain of 20 in Detroit, is the largest string of houses, but the Kunsky chain is the chief first-run outlet and most modern.

The Kunsky chain of which Barney Balaban is Treasurer, has long been considered a Paramount stronghold, ever since that company switched from Gleichman and other independents some five years ago.

Not content with adding these theatres to some 300 which Warners now directly control, negotiations, it is understood, are being carried on for the Universal Chain of several hundred theatres throughout the country.

(Continued on page 2)

PARAMOUNT FAILS TO RE-OPEN CASE

DALLAS—An attempt by Paramount to reopen an arbitration award, which they lost recently, in the claim brought against the Sugarland Industries, at Sugarland, Tex., has been turned down by the Film Board of Arbitration, which based its conclusion on the premise that cases can only be reopened by and with the consent of both parties, and that the powers of arbitrators cease when an award is made.

"LONESOME" HAD 3 COLONY OPENINGS

"Lonesome", Universal's Paul Fejos-Carl Laemmle, Jr. production with sound effects, musical accompaniment and dialogue, re-opened the Colony Theatre last night.

It was not a typical trade invite, but a public opening, with three shows at 6, 8 and 10 o'clock. Ben Bernie's band inaugurated the musical divertissement for the theatre.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher and Editor

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager; Executive and Editorial Offices, 45 West 45th Street, New York. Telephone Bryant 6160. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year: United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyrighted by Exhibitors Review Publishing Corporation. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hemstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York:—Phil Reisman, general sales manager of Pathe, is proving himself a ladies man by putting on a sales contest in which the fair sex participates, the prize being a silver fox scarf. . . . Ted O'Leary, also of Pathe, is out shopping for the scarf, and can you imagine that of Ted. . . . Joe Seider, accompanied by Mrs. Seider sailed on the Isle de France Saturday for a two months vacation in Europe. . . . Ernest Shipman, now a South American, who has been looking over his haunts for the past couple of weeks, left Saturday for New Orleans and points south. . . . Louis B. Mayer was Col. Schiller's luncheon guest Saturday at the Motion Picture Club and left wondering why they didn't have something like that on the coast. . . . Jack Warner says 80 percent of the present motion picture stars will make good in the talkies, and does he mean even the male star with the beautiful tenor voice. . . . Bert Adler has been named by President George Harvey to serve as treasurer of the T.N.T. dinner committee, and the T.N.T. is nee the Naked Truth dinner. . . . Jack White and E. H. Allen, having settled the fate of the sound pictures in various conferences with President Hammons of Educational, have taken their departure for the coast. . . . King Vidor has arrived in New York and will make screen and sound tests of colored talent for Metro's "Hallelujah" which he will direct. . . . Gil Bong is a mean man, trying to make his wife lose her job by getting an injunction to stop Gilda Gray from continuing her work in British pictures. . . . Joseph E. Bernstein, New Jersey theatre man, who has been rusticated in Europe for a couple of months, is back on the home heath. . . . Lou Metzger has received a wire that "The Melody of Love", Universal's first 100% talkie, had busted to smash all records at its opening at Kenosha, Wis., and will soon hop along to New York. . . .

NEW FEDERAL SUIT AGAINST W.C. GROUP

LOS ANGELES—The Wesco chair and 8 other producers in California, were the object last week of anti-trust proceedings filed by the U. S. Department of Justice in Washington.

The defendants were accused of a conspiracy to prevent independent exhibitors from obtaining first second or suburban runs on their product, in Southern California. The West Coast Theatres, Inc., particularly are charged with conspiring to prevent other theatres from competing against them.

The accused producers are Pathe, United Artists, Fox Film Corp., Paramount Famous-Players Metre, Goldwyn-Mayer, Universal and Vitagraph (Warners).

Attorneys for the defendants will shortly file application for an extension of time.

Gotham Expands Force in Cincinnati Office

Budd Rogers, Vice-president of Gotham Productions, announces that the Cincinnati exchange has added H. M. Berger and S. S. Silverstein to the sales staff. M. C. Howard is the special representative from the home office.

Carl Mos Returns

Carl Mos, veteran Universal advertising assistant, who has been on a special mission in the London office of the European Motion Picture Company, Universal's British distributors, returned to the Universal home office Saturday.

Salesmen Meet

The Motion Picture Salesmen of America held their regular monthly meeting Saturday night at the Park Central Hotel. Problems of present day-film selling, with its chaotic conditions, formed the principal topic of discussion.

Callaway on Trip

W. E. Callaway, Southern sales manager for First National Pictures, leaves Monday on a three weeks' trip through the Middle West and the South. He goes first to Chicago and then to St. Louis, Kansas City, Oklahoma City, Dallas, New Orleans, Memphis, Atlanta and Charlotte.

Warners Buy Kunsky Chain of Detroit 1st Run Houses

(Continued from page 1)

This rumor, however, has up to the present time, no basis for fact, and is denied by Universal, on one hand, and silenced on the other by Warner Brothers.

While J. P. Kennedy is reported to have remarked that he had received no offers from the Warners or their financial agents, for the Keith-Albee-Orpheum Circuit, which is probably true, reports still persist that there is a keen struggle on for these theatres. When the stock market opened on Saturday morning, the first sale in Keith-Albee-Orpheum stock reported, was the purchase of a single block of 10,000 shares at 30½, which is fraught with significance to those who like to read between the lines.

MINDLIN LOSES ST. GEORGE PLAYHOUSE

From reliable sources it was yesterday learned that Michael Mindlin, managing director of the chain of little art cinemas in New York has relinquished the St. George Playhouse in Brooklyn and may possibly do the same with the 55th Street Cinema and the 5th Avenue Playhouse.

It is understood that his policy of running mostly poor-made foreign productions for the first time in these houses has been unsuccessful financially. Mindlin couldn't be reached for a statement.

Pep Club Dinner on Oct. 18 for Officers

The new officials of the Paramount Pep Club, elected last week, will be installed at the annual dinner of the Club at the Hotel Astor on October 18th. The officers are G. B. J. Frawley, Pres., Edward A. Brown, V.P., Marion Coles, Treas., and Rose Eidelsberg, Secretary.

The new board of Governors will be Vincent Trotta, Sam Denbow, Lou Diamond, Sara Lyons and Alice Blunt.

Internationalism's End Seen by Kennedy

(Continued from page 1)

by the dialect of the speech, automatically becomes limited to the country to which the dialect is applicable.

Kennedy also viewed with interest the spread of Television and stated "Television is one of those scientific developments which must be taken into account. The RCA company claims to have an instrument that you can carry in a suitcase, which will provide both pictures and music in one's own home. That is going to have a big bearing on the news-reel business."

Laemmle Returns with New Optimism

(Continued from page 1)

duction schedule and in so far as these productions are concerned, Universal will deliver a brand of pictures that will far exceed in quality, any other series of pictures ever made by us before". He spoke at great length regarding "Show Boat" and feels it will be one of the outstanding pictures of all time.

Industry Progress

"I feel that the motion picture industry has never been in better circumstances", said Mr. Laemmle. "Producers are making better pictures and are, for the most part, giving theatres both a sound and silent version of all pictures produced, enabling those with sound equipment an opportunity to take advantage of this marvelous advancement, and to those not yet equipped, a brand of pictures, better than the industry has ever had before".

Tryon on Way Here

Glenn Tryon, Universal star, is on his way to New York and will be joined later by Carl Laemmle, Jr. and Paul Fejos, respective producer and director of the next Tryon production "Broadway".

Midnight Pictures

Inaugurated at Capitol

Simultaneously with the advent of the sound-picture policy starting at the Capitol Theatre on Saturday, October 6th, the inauguration of regular midnight picture presentations will occur.

Canadian Fire Chief to Address M.P.T.O.A.

Marshal Hon. J. Grove Smith, Dominion of Canada Fire Commissioner, will be one of the principal speakers at the Annual Convention of Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America in Toronto on October 16-17-18.

Smith will touch on fire-prevention topics and the relations of theatre owners with the authorities in Canada.

Woodhull Invites

AMPA Conv. Speaker

R. F. Woodhull, in behalf of the M.P.T.O.A., has requested the A.M.P.A. to send a member to speak on exploitation before the Ninth Annual Convention of the Exhibitors' organization, which will be held at Toronto in October. President George Harvey announced at Thursday's meeting of the Associated Motion Picture Advertisers held at the Paramount Hotel.

Harry Delf at M-G-M

Harry Delf has been signed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to write and direct dialogue pictures. Delf was until recently, on the Fox lot having done "The Family Picnic."

CALL

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Fitter, Pres.

for

Library Stock Scenes

130 W. 46 St. New York

Bryant 8181

Classified Advertisements

Advertisements in this column, 5 cents per word. Cash must be sent with order. No charge for Box Number line. Minimum order, $1. 10% discount 12 issues or more.

POSITIONS WANTED

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY, LADY with 8 years experience in film business desires position in Motion Picture Industry. Highest References. Box 111, Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

FOR SALE

LECTURE FILMS, SLIDES, MACHINES bargains. Box 24, Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

MOTION PICTURE AND "STILL" cameras rented, sold and exchanged. Portable lights for sale and for rent. Keep us advised of your wants. Ruby Camera Company, 727 Seventh Ave., New York City.

LOCAL FILMS

MOVION PICTURES MADE TO ORDER. Commercial, Home or Industrial. We have excellent facilities and the best cameramen. Our price, 20c per foot. Ruby Film Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

WHETHER YOU WANT TO HIRE some one or be hired; buy or sell a theatre; trade or sell equipment, or do almost anything else in the motion picture business, an ad in this department will get you results. If you want us to word the ad for you, the services of our advertising experts are at your call. Simply tell us what you want to do, and how many words you want used. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

HOLLYWOOD PREVIEWS

By JOE BLAIR

"FORBIDDEN LOVE"

Pathe
Directed by.....Graham Cutts
Story by.....Noel Coward
Featuring.....Lili Damita,
Paul Richter, Harry Leidtke
This foreign production made from Noel Coward's "The Queen Was in the Parlor", with judicious cutting and retitling will prove acceptable in the U.S. The star does capable work and looks very charming—Story of conventional Princess-lover-Queen-Revolution type but creditably done.

Young princess is relieved from odious marriage when the licentious prince dies—goes to Paris to forget and live joyously—meets handsome author—they fall in love—about to be married, she is summoned back to her country to become Queen—marriage with neighboring Prince arranged—day before wedding, her lover saves her from shooting by anarchist—he spends last night with her and then commits suicide.

Film could lose one reel and stand some expert titling. Barring few slight idiosyncrasies, picture should please most fans.

"DO YOUR DUTY"

First National
Directed by.....William Beaudine
Featuring.....Charles Murray
The best comedy turned out by Murray and a great bet for any exhibitor—film has hilarious but old gags—titling is excellent—also the photography—Murray, Lucien Littlefield and Doris Dawson are very effective.

Murray plays a patrolman of long service who is trying to win his lieutenantcy; his noisy family at home interfere with his studies—he finally wins promotion but is demoted again when crooks frame him. He is ashamed of this, and cooks up a scheme to wear two uniforms, the lieutenant's at home and the patrolman's on the job, which he keeps at a Scotch tailor shop—Fresh difficulties arise over the marriage of his daughter to the captain's son, and all ends well.

"SAL OF SINGAPORE"

Pathe
Directed by.....Howard Higgin
Story by.....Dale Collins
Cast.....Phylis Haver,
Alan Hale, Fred Kohler, Noble Johnson

It is hardly fair to review this picture as shown at the preview, but inasmuch as it will be switched around a bit, a little added and a little taken out, we feel it will be one of the better program attractions from Pathe.

As a matter of fact it has a story that is a bit different and together with the fine acting of the entire cast it should have been a wow. But something has been left undone. It is a sea story, and a good one. Phylis Haver is splendid in her part. Alan Hale and Fred Kohler furnish more action and laughs than is ordinarily seen in any one picture. Both of them great. Direction fair. Better than the average from every point of view, and with some good editing it should be improved.

"THE MATING CALL"

Paramount-Caddo
Directed by.....James Cruze
Featuring.....Thomas Meighan,
Evelyn Brent, Renee Adoree

Doubtful if picture will carry general appeal, although it will find favor with sophisticated audiences. Meighan performs well but his part is only a drab personality, without any romance. Suggestions of plots by a "Klan" organization, may bar this film in certain sections.

A soldier who returns from the World War, finds in his home town that the girl he secretly wedded before leaving for the 'big fight' is now married to someone else, the soldier's marriage being annulled—The soldier tries to forget with another girl, whom he marries; his first wife becomes jealous and her husband likewise; the climax of the plot coming at the whipping post, by members of "The Order."

Cruze will add nothing to his prestige with this one, although the story attempted to portray a serious phase of life.

"THE AWAKENING"

United Artists
Directed by.....Victor Fleming
Story by.....Carey Wilson
Cast.....Vilma Banky,
Walter Byron, Louis Wolheim,
Bert Woodruff

At the time this was shown, it was far over-footage and will, undoubtedly be more engrossing when cut. As it stands the story is nothing remarkable but the superb acting of Louis Wolheim in the character of a brutal villain, but acting in the belief that he is right in his brutality, is one of the high spots in the screen entertainment of the year.

Miss Banky, as usual is beautiful and her work in the part was very satisfactory, but the material given her was not sufficient to test her well known ability. Walter Byron was pleasing. Photography by George Barns was up to the standard of this great cinematographer. Victor Fleming made the best of a poor story.

"MAKING THE GRADE"

Fox
Directed by.....Alfred E. Green
Featuring.....Edmund Lowe
Lois Moran

Director did well as he could with weak story—full of comedy and gags and stunts which fall short for the most part—plot is too hodge-podge and audiences will find too much hokum in the story—Lowe is not a comedian and Miss Moran looks charming.

Lowe plays a wealthy type who puts pleasure and family prestige above everything else—even work. Being brought up in Europe he has become a snob who expects love to be handed him on a silver platter. He finally falls in love with a demure, shy girl, one of his tenants, whose roof is always leaking. She thinks he is wonderful, but doesn't love him. He realizes he must do something to win her and tries various forms of pseudo-work that all end disastrously, but he wins the girl.

There are some talking sequences done very well.

"TIDE OF EMPIRE"

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer
Directed by.....Alan Dwan
Featuring.....Renee Adoree,
George Fawcett, Harry Gribbon
Photography by.....Merritt Gerstad

What was to be a big picture turns out to be a fine Western without a Western hero—picture has great deal of character comedy which may click—another attempt at a "Trail of '98" type of picture which falls short of its high purpose.

The story attempts to show the pursuit of gold in California by an ever-rushing stream of prospectors from the East. The early Spanish settlers and lords have to give way before the onward rush of newcomers, which sequences have real drama and beauty of scene. Gold, Gold, Gold is the theme but the last half of the picture trails out into comedy and forgets all about the drama.

The cast performs very creditably. If your audiences aren't too critical, you can play this one with some profit.

"INTERFERENCE"

Paramount
Directed by.....Lothar Mendes
Screen story by.....Ernest Pascal
Cast.....William Powell,
Evelyn Brent, Clive Brook,
Doris Kenyon

This is the silent version of this stage play. Paramount is doing it in dialogue also. In this version William Powell walks away with the picture and again proves that he is one of the truly great actors on the screen. And in the talking version Powell will be equally effective due to his marvelous voice and stage experience. Evelyn Brent plays the role of a blackmailing vixen for all it is worth. She seems best in these characters. Clive Brook is all that could be asked. The picture is highly satisfactory all around and will make an excellent vehicle for Paramount to pin the title of "the first talking picture". But it is all Bill Powell.

Paddock Film for

Illinois-Indiana

"The Olympic Hero", the 5-reel comedy featuring Charles Paddock, formerly America's leading sprinter, will be exhibited throughout Illinois and Indiana as the result of the sale yesterday of territorial rights to B. N. Judell, Inc., by the Zakoro Film Corporation, national distributors of the film.

Texas M.P.T.O. Nov. 13

The Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Texas will hold their annual convention on November 13-14. Sound pictures, Sunday blue-laws, and other vital topics will come up for discussion.

Proctor Celebration

F. F. Proctor, dean of vaudeville managers, is this week celebrating his 40th Anniversary commemorating his start in New York 40 years ago. All the Proctor vaudeville houses are joining in the celebration.

"Growth of Soil" to Open New Art Cinema

The Film Arts Guild has acquired the United States and Canadian distributing rights on "Growth of the Soil", a screen version of Knut Hamsun's famous novel which won him the Nobel prize.

This film has been directed by Cavaliere Gunnar Sommerfeldt in the actual Swedish locales of the novel. It will be one of the early presentations at the new Film Guild Cinema which opens late in November.

Mayell Shooting Fox

Movietone in Seattle

Eric Mayell, Seattle Staff photographer for Fox News is now totting a Movietone truck around with him these days in his territory. Paul Heisy is handling the sound.

The truck with its staff will remain in the Northwest as a Paramount assignment. Alex Singelow will continue shooting the silent Fox News in that sector.

Zakoro Gets Cameo for

"Mother of Mine"

"Mother of Mine", the French motion picture in eight reels depicting the tragedy of step-mother affection, will be shown on Broadway next month when the Cameo Theatre will exhibit it.

Joseph Zarovich, head of the Zakoro Film Corporation, national distributors of famous foreign films., declares that the picture will outrank "Potemkin" and "The Last Moment", previous releases of Zakoro.

Incorporations

The Grand Theatre Corporation of Shanghai, China, has been formed in Wilmington, Del., with a capital of $120,000, to operate theatres and places of amusement in China.

The Opera Pictures Corporation was formed in Manhattan last week with $20,000 capital. Films of popular operas will be made with sound.

The Sound Pictures, Inc., with 20,000 shares of common stock was formed in Wilmington.

Hyatt Resigns

Ben Hyatt, assistant to Sam Sedran, Purchasing Agent for the Universal Pictures Corporation, has resigned from Universal after eight years, to establish his own business. He will conduct an employment agency.

Tagus Films First

Portuguese Producer

Portugal does not possess an essentially national film studio, and to remedy this state of affairs the Government is preparing a law to protect the national production.

A new firm, "Togus Films," which is to be strictly Portuguese, has been founded, and under the direction of Antonio Lorenzo, the scenario "Les Denx Mensonges" (The Two Lies) will shortly be produced.

REED HOWES
in "The Skywayman"
A "RUSS FARRELL, AVIATOR"
Picture

"Russ Farrell" clicked right from the take-off! And this one packs even more thrills than "The Sky Ranger"!

"MAKING WHOOPEE"
A TUXEDO COMEDY

A new combination of three comedy favorites that will be an instant hit.
Estelle Bradley Ella McKenzie
Harold Goodwin
A Jack White Production

LUPINO LANE
in "Fisticuffs"

As fast and furious as a champ battle in the days of John L. Sullivan.

DOROTHY DEVORE
in
"Companionate Service"

The servant problem was never like this! The fastest action this snappy comedienne ever put into a comedy!

"POLAR PERILS"

with
Monty Collins
A MERMAID COMEDY

Hot laughs in a cold setting. A comedy that's as timely as it is funny.

A Jack White Production

"WIFE TROUBLE" "THE LUCKY DUCK" with Robert Graves with Billy Dale

Two new pictures, with two new stars—that show how good single reel comedies can be.
CAMEO COMEDIES

HEAR YE!

Hear the din over Sound! Hasn't been so much noise in years. Why not get down to earth and think it over quietly—and without the panic? In the long run, one thing only will count—quality! And in short subjects that means—Educational.

You'll hear soon the details of Educational's SOUND PROGRAM But their long history is your best guarantee that you can count on Educational Pictures as the quality leaders in sound short subjects as well as silent. In the meantime Educational has stayed out of the panic. You'll see that when you see the quality in its new silent pictures—comedies, novelties, thrillers, news. Quality ALWAYS comes before everything else in

BIG BOY
in
"Come to Papa"
"Big Boy" as little Ole, a Swedish immigrant. A riot of fun in the steerage.
A Jack White Production

Educational Pictures

Lyman H. Howe's
HODGE-PODGE

Packed with more ideas to the foot than any other screen novelty. A real cocktail to whet the appetite of any audience.

KINOGRAMS
The most intelligently edited news reel in the market...and the most entertaining.

"OUR WORLD TODAY"
The Modern Screen Magazine

"A brand new and a refreshing series...the first two of the issues in thrill, human appeal and fine handling...surpass anything of the sort we have seen attempted in a dozen years." ARTHUR JAMES
in Motion Pictures Today

"THE QUIET WORKER" with Jerry Drew
AN IDEAL COMEDY

The two-reel comedy that crashed Broadway for a long run, at the Embassy, in a $2 show.
A Jack White Production

MEMBER, MOTION PICTURE PRODUCERS AND DISTRIBUTORS OF AMERICA, Inc. WILL H. HAY, President

'DIRTY WORK' NEWSPAPER STORY FIRST SENNETT SOUND FEATURE

Producer to Make Sound Shorts for Pathe- Gotham

By JOE BLAIR
Hollywood Correspondent

Mack Sennett, comedy producer and the maker of several truly great feature pictures, is going in for sound in a big way. He just returned from New York and has great plans.

Everything though, is being side-tracked for the production of a feature length talking picture to be known as "Dirty Work". It will be a newspaper story and was probably inspired by the stage production of "The Front Page" and "Gentlemen of the Press" now playing in New York at present. We say inspired in that Mack evidently figures a good newspaper, with talk, would make a great picture. And that seems to be the impression of a lot of our best producers as it seems that every studio is working on a newspaper story.

The three contract players, Johnnie Burke, Sally Eilers and Matty Kemp will have the important parts. It is said Sennett will direct it himself. production to start very soon.

It is understood that he will make a series of sound shorts for both Pathe and Gotham.

STANLEY EDUCATIONAL MAKING CANADA FILM

Ben Blake, V.P. and Production Manager of Stanley Educational Division, is taking a camera and technical crew to Canada for several weeks to make a production of an industrial-propaganda nature.

The production will be synchronized with an inter-changeable disc method.

Florence Lake at Fox

Florence Lake, sister of Arthur Lake, a featured player in "The Air Circus", has been signed to a long term contract by Winfield Sheehan to appear in Fox Movietone productions.

Sue Carol to W. C.

Sue Carol is returning from Europe Monday on the Leviathan after having had her vacation cut short by a summons to hurry to Hollywood for work in a new Fox picture.

Sutherland at Par.

Eddie Sutherland, director, who left Paramount last year to go with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, has returned to his first love and will immediately direct Bebe Daniels in "The Great Scoop".

Milne at Columbia

Peter Milne, one of the most successful writers of screen stories, is responsible for the highly entertaining tale of "Nothing to Wear," Columbia's latest production.

1000 Homeless

A Hollywood wag, on hearing that Marion Davies was returning to Hollywood around Nov. 1st, said "that's great, for when she left and closed her house in Beverly Hills and the mansion at the beach, 1000 people were rendered homeless".

FORMER BROADWAYITES AT MOVietone CITY

Initial announcement of the personnel of Movietone City, the new plant for the reproduction of talking pictures which William Fox has just completed at Fox Hills in Hollywood with an investment of $10,000,000, is given out by Winfield Sheehan.

Among the Easterners who have just been promoted to responsible positions on the supervising staff are Philip Klein, son of the noted playwright, Charles Klein; Kenneth Hawks, J. K. McGuinness, erstwhile New York columnist, and Luther Reed, one-time dramaist. Ben Jackson, former manager of several New York theatres, is production manager at Movietone City.

Those who have been elevated to prominence in pictures through sound films are Charles Judels, general stage director for the Shuberts for 5 years; Eugene Walter, "The Easiest Way"; Tom Barry and Hugh Herbert and Maude Fulton.

Others who will be concerned with Movietone production from the standpoint of direction and writing are Earle Lewis McGill; A. H. Van Buren, director; Arthur Caesar, playwright; Ben Holmes, writer and director; and Harlan Thompson, author.

Santell to N. Y.

Director Alfred Santell arrives in New York next week to select the Fifth Avenue site from which most of Vilma Banky's next picture is to be shot. The story is by James Gleason who has been working on it for the last three months at the Samuel Goldwyn studio.

Halperin's in Sound

The Halperin Brothers, producers for United Artists, are going in for the making of short reel talking pictures. Eddie Leonard has been signed to play in "The Heart of a Minstrel". The release has not as yet been set.

Barthelmess' Next

Richard Barthelmess has selected his next story for First National production and release. It will be "Weary River" by Courtney Riley Cooper. Frank Lloyd will direct.

Fox and Shakespeare

The Fox organization has movie-toned a classic by Shakespeare. It has been done in England and acted by the Welwyn Garden City Folk Players. "As You Like It" is the play selected.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Word reaching Hollywood brings the information that Rex Ingram and Cosmo Hamilton are going to make a series of pictures for release by a British concern. They will be done at the Ingram studio in Nice.

William Russel has been signed by Warners for an important part in "Madonna of Ave. A".

Speaking of Warners reminds us that the next picture this organization will do with Monte Blue starred, will be "No Defense". Robert Lloyd is working on the story. Lila Lee will have the feminine lead.

Pert Kelton, Ziegfeld stage favorite and daughter of a Hollywood hotel owner has been signed by Warner Brothers.

Rupert Julian, director, has been signed by M-G-M. His first production will be a mystery thriller.

Considerable mystery surrounds the identity of the actor who will play the role of "Satan" in First National's forthcoming mystery picture, "Seven Footprints to Satan", which Benjamin Christensen is to direct. The character in the novel by A. Merritt is described as a gigantic man with a Mongolian appearance. He is the central figure in the story which is located in the heart of New York City. Christensen, who directed "The Haunted House", the first mystery for First National, refuses to divulge the actor's identity.

Antonio Moreno, who is playing the male lead opposite Billie Dove in the star's current First National picture, "Adoration", is having difficulty with his make-up. As Prince Serge of Russia, he is a dapper uniformed dandy, and later, as a waiter in a Parisian cafe, he assumes a bedraggled appearance. According to production schedules, Tony must always be prepared to be ready for either characterization, which means that he never knows whether to wax his mustache when he reaches the studio or to let it flaunt famboyantly.

Carlotta King, who sang the lead in the New York production of "The Desert Song" has been signed by Warners for this same role in their picture-talking-singing version.

Carmel Meyers has been switched from "Bath Between" to "Badges" both Fox pictures. Charles Eaton, the 17 year old brother of Mary Eaton, stage player, is also in the cast.

William K. Howard has started work on "Street Fair" the Fox picture with Janet Gaynor starred. Rudolph Schildkraut and Charles Morton have important parts. Everything points to this one being good.

The next Buddy Rogers Paramount picture now in production will be "Someone to Love" and is being di-

CONSIDINE COMING WITH U. A. PROD. CREW

"Say It with Music", Irving Berlin's first film venture and Harry Richman's first talking-singing motion picture, will be put into production in a New York studio within three weeks. John W. Considine, Jr., United Artists Studio production head, will leave Hollywood in ten days for New York, bringing with him Alen Crosland, who will direct the film, and C. Gardner Sullivan, who is adapting Irving Berlin's original story. Also in the Considine party will be cameramen and a complete production staff.

Mr. Considine wired from Hollywood yesterday that his party will be followed east by another group that will include actors and actresses who are reversing the traditional procedure by going from Los Angeles to New York in order to appear in a film. Harry Richman, star of "Say It With Music," will continue to perform on the Broadway stage in "George White's Scandals" while he is appearing before the lens and the microphone, so recently wedded by an electric motor. George White, it is understood, will assist in production of the film by staging some dances.

Universal Foreign Pro.

Joseph Levigard, Universal director, is slated to go to Berlin next month for the purpose of making two pictures in Europe for Universal. It is likely he will take Mary Nolan as the lead for these pictures.

The two films will be "The House of Glass," from the play by Max Marcin, and "Fallen Angels," by Arthur Somers Roche.

Warners Signs Lee

Little David Lee, the child player of "The Singing Fool" has been signed to a long term contract by Warners.

acted by Richard Jones. Others signed for this picture are Jack Oakie, William Austin, James Kirkwood and Frank Reicher. Mary Brian will have the feminine lead. It is a story by Alice Duer Miller.

Everyone in Hollywood seems to be of the opinion that "our retiring" heavyweight champion, Gene Tunney will do a picture on his return from Europe and matrimony. It is to be done by one of the big companies from a story written around the life of this boxer.

Fred Warren, well-known character actor, is the latest addition to the cast of the forthcoming First National picture, "Ritzzy Rosie", which is now in its third week of production at the Burbank studios. Alice White and Jack Mulhall are co-featured in the production which Mervyn LeRoy is directing, and among important members of the cast are Thelma Todd, Doris Dawson, James Ford, Fred Kelsey, Benny Rubin and George Stone.

The eighth picture in the "Horace in Hollywood" series of one reel comedies starring Arthur Lake has been completed by Universal, according to an announcement from the studio.

Edward Luddy is directing with Gertrude Messenger appearing in the feminine lead.

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Formerly EXHIBITORS TRADE REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

FIVE CENTS

New York, Tuesday, October 2, 1928

OBSERVATIONS

Production

It looks as if New York and its studios is in for quite a bit of production this year. True all in sound, but nevertheless, pictures. And add to this, that almost all producers of sound shorts will make them in the East due to a lot of things. First and foremost is the desire of production heads to use as many stage players as possible in these shorts, and too, material for this type of production can be had here, much better and a great deal cheaper than in Hollywood, as the pictures demand dialogue writers, and Broadway has them in gobs, and the carfare does not run over a nickle or the phone call a dime.

The List

From present indications M-G-M will make over 75% of their short reel releases at the local Cosmopolitan plant. Paramount is contemplating at least four feature length pictures in addition to some 24 short pictures. Warner Brothers are transferring their entire short reel department to their Brooklyn studios. Universal is contemplating re-opening their Fort Lee studio for both features and short pictures in sound. Pathe and FBO are using the uptown studio of Sound Pictures, Inc., for all one and two reelers. Fox of course will continue their activities at the Fox-Case plant. Add to this amount quite a bit of independent product to be made in and about New York.

The Colony

Universal opened their first picture, containing dialogue at the Colony Sunday night and the gang that tried to get in at all of the three shows was sufficient to fill every theatre on Broadway. It was virtually impossible to get in, and once in, was equally as hard to get out after viewing either the first or second performance. The crowd was terrific. The picture "Lonesome" together with a surrounding program that included the first Universal Vaudeville Novelty, a short reel picture. Both will be reviewed later. Ben Bernie's Band also deserves a word of praise, for the excellence of their performance.

WILKERSON

OHIO EXHIBS SPEND $500 MORE WEEKLY

Sound Films Add That Much to Overhead

NONE IN LORAIN

CLEVELAND—Exhibitors in this city have estimated that it costs them an additional $500 each week and every week, for sound pictures in their houses.

So far there have been 28 installations in the Cleveland territory, five of them in Cleveland alone. The remainder of the 600 houses have adopted a policy of watchful waiting, resulting in film selling lagging behind this year about $2,000,000.

(Continued on page 2)

BALABAN-KATZ GET P-F-L SWAP OFFER

Paramount Famous-Players Corporation is considering a swap of two shares of new common stock for one of the Balaban & Katz Corporation, of which Paramount owns about 65% of the common.

Balaban & Katz have outstanding $6,605,150 of $25 par common stock of the authorized issue of $6,750,000 and $2,851,300 of $100 par 7% cumulative preferred of authorized issue of $2,870,000.

Sapiro Ex-Partner

Frank Aranow and Harris Berlack have served notice that the partnership heretofore existing between them and Aaron Sapiro has been dissolved.

Sapiro will make his future headquarters at the Bank Shares Corporation on 42nd Street.

"OUR GANG" TOURS 12 LOEW HOUSES A DAY

Hal Roach's "Our Gang" Rascals started to create a record for personal appearance in New York and its environs, over the Loew Circuit.

Starting at the Sheridan Theatre at 1:30 P.M., the "Gang" in rapid order covered the Greeley, Lincoln, 83rd Street, 7th Avenue and Victoria before the end of the afternoon.

Beginning at 8:00 P.M. they covered the Canal, Delancey, Avenue "B", the Commodore and American.

This program will be repeated today and tomorrow at other Loew spots, if the "Gang" holds out.

ALL PATHE FEATURES IN DIALOGUE--BROWN PLAN

All of Pathe's features will be dialogued in the future, according to the announcement of Colvin W. Brown, executive Vice President.

The sound tests which were first made by Benjamin Glazer while he was at the studio were so satisfactory that work was at once begun in putting dialogue into pictures now in production. The sound recorders being used are the RCA Photophone.

Brown's visit to the studios was for the purpose of working out a general plan for next year's program. Recent additions to the Pathe production staff and stock company indicate a marked increase in production activities within the near future.

Among the newcomers are Marion Nixon, Carol Lombard and Stanley Smith, all of whom have been placed under contract during the past few days.

They join William Boyd, Phyllis Haver, Alan Hale, Robert Armstrong, Eddie Quilan and Jeanette Loff. Of these all but Miss Haver are under new and recently signed contracts. Miss Haver's contract with Pathe lasts through the present season. Present indications are that it will be continued.

Film Receipts Sept. 29

Warners
"Terror"	$20,789.25
Winter Garden
"Singing Fool"	42,933.75
Paramount
"Beggars Life"	80,200.00
Rialto
"Patriot"	25,400.00
Rivoli
"Two Lovers"	32,500.00
Capitol
"Excess Baggage"	69,650.45
Astor
"White Shadows"	18,554.00
Central
"Lilac Time"	14,513.25
Roxy
"Plastered in Paris"	99,000.00
Gaiety
"Air Circus"	10,040.00
Globe
"Mother K. Best"	14,315.00
Criterion
"Wings"	12,101.50
Cameo
"Q Ships"	6,168.00

WM. J. LOCKE SIGNED

United Artists to get Novelist's First Original

William J. Locke, English novelist and author of "Stella Maris," "The Beloved Vagabond" and other well-known books, has signed a contract with United Artists Corporation to write for that company his first original screen story. He leaves for Hollywood Friday.

Warners to Build in Youngstown, O.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—Warner Bros. will build a new theatre here starting construction in the Spring. The theatre will be a memorial of their youth, as Youngstown was the scene of their early life and activities. They now own and operate the Dome Theatre.

LASKY AND GAUMONT IN ACCORD ON SOUND

LONDON — The Gaumont British Picture Corporation, Ltd., in a statement to representatives of Exhibitors Daily Review pointed out that the Paramount-Pomerooy Sound System, which embraces the use of two negatives, is not the only one using this method.

The Petersen and Poulsen process, (Continued on page 2)

Agnew in Town

Frances Agnew, well-known scenarist, having completed a year's contract with Fox Film Corporation is in New York from Hollywood, to see the new plays and study requirements for future talking picture dialogue and scenario work.

Leviathan Arrivals

Sue Carol, Fox player, Eugene Castle, producer, and Richard Winger, of First National in Berlin, were in-coming passengers on the Leviathan yesterday.

LEGAL PRECEDENT SET IN 'U' 'JAZZ-MAD' SUIT

LOS ANGELES—What is said to establish a legal precedent in film circles occurred here last week when the Superior Court ordered Universal to screen a print of "Jazz Mad", Jean Horsholt starring picture, for the benefit of William James and D. K. Martin, who are alleging plagiarism in their suit against the producers of the picture.

The film was purchased from Sven Gade by Universal, who state that in all their contracts of this nature, they stipulate that the authors take all the responsibility, in the event plagiarism ever arises.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher and Editor

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Scherer, Business Manager; Executive and Editorial Offices, 45 West 45th Street, New York. Telephone Bryant 6160. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15, single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Exhibitors Review Publishing Corporation. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone HEMPstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York:—Paul Benjamin, right hand to President George Harvey of the A.M.P.A. is putting on a great show at the regular session. Thursday, the quadruple attraction being Tommy Meighan, Glen Tryon, Barbara Kent and Eddie Clark . . . Harry Reichenbach, running true to form, put "Lonesome" over in a big way, and among the many important personages who accepted Harry's invitation to the premiere were Carl Laemmle and Glen Tryon . . . Pat Garyn is planning a little celebration in the near future when his tenth wedding anniversary happens along, but keep it a secret as he doesn't want it known . . . Capt. Henry Bate—while we're speaking about this ten year stuff—yesterday celebrated the good fortune of Universal in securing his services ten years ago to date . . . Bruce Gallup, hale and hearty and all tanned up, is back from Florida and wishes someone would tell him of a bridge game where he could win enough money to buy a few acres of orange groves . . . Ray Rockett, who has been in Germany for many months, returned yesterday and was met at the dock by his brother Al and a party of First National big guns . . . Sammy Sax is back from the coast for quite a stay and is figuring on commuting between New York and Waterbury, Conn. where Gotham is building a big sound picture studio. George Harvey, advertising director of Pathe, is getting out probably the first daily house organ newspaper, and he calls it "The Rooster" because it is out early and always crowing . . . Harry Orniston, who formerly worked in Paul Gulick's publicity department, but has recently been conducting his own prosperous business at Palm Beach, was wiped out by the storm, and Universal immediately gave him an exploitation job at Dallas, Texas . . . Ted Jaedecker is now handling the art work for George Harvey's department at Pathe . . .

NETOCO CONTROLS EAST BOSTON ZONE

From the office of Samuel Pinanski, president of the New England Theatres Operating Corp., comes the announcement that Netoco has completed negotiations for the Day Square theatre in East Boston.

This deal clinches the East Boston territory for Netoco, since the Gem, the Central Square, and the palatial Netoco Seville now nearing completion previously came under the circuit's control.

Active operation of the Day Square by the Netoco management began yesterday.

Lasky and Gaumont in Accord on Sound

(Continued from page 1)

known as British Acoustic Films is also on two films, although it can be applied to one. It is the belief of Gaumont that this method is the only true solution of sound production by means of photography and that is to record the sound on a film separate to that bearing the photographic image.

When Jesse L. Lasky was in London recently, he was shown the Acoustic Film Process and expressed himself in accord with their methods.

Ohio Exhibs Spend $500 More Weekly

(Continued from page 1)

In Lorain, Ohio, 40 miles from Cleveland, movie patrons are favoring the silent pictures, as a large percentage of the population is foreign, and the people do not want to be bothered with a language they are not familiar with.

U. S. Fire Prevention Week October 7-13

Fire Prevention Week has been set by the Hays organization for the week of October 7th to 13th, throughout the U. S. The same dates will be observed in Canada.

All film exchange managers are being notified to clean up their premises of all rubbish.

Reilly with U. A.

J. D. Reilly has been appointed sales manager of the Buffalo exchange of United Artists Corporation, it was announced yesterday by Al Lichtman, Vice-President and General Manager of Distribution. Reilly succeeds George Moeser.

Segal Arrest in Final N. J. Blue Law Test

Isidore Segal of Newark, who opened the Roselle Park Theatre last Sunday, for the third time, to test the New Jersey Blue Laws, was arrested on charges of operating a disorderly house and being an habitual offender.

The theatre operator is held in $500 bail and his case will be made a test of the blue laws.

Haines in N. Y.

William Haines, whose latest vehicle, "Excess Baggage", is now playing a second week at the Capitol, will arrive in New York today.

English Monarchs Praise Phonofilm Program

LONDON — King George and Queen Mary witnessed a private demonstration of a talking-film performance given by Phonofilms through the British Talking Pictures, Ltd., at Balmoral Castle.

The Queen described the performance as "marvelous" and thought the noises of the Zoo animals, were wonderfully reproduced.

MOVIEGRAPHS, INC. NOW RUNS 55 ST. CINEMA

Joseph Fliesler, commenting on the Daily Review story yesterday concerning Michael Mindlin and the St. George Playhouse, states that Mindlin has not been connected with that theatre for several months, the house being managed by Sam Baron, under management of Alexander Kahn and J. R. Fliesler.

Fliesler has been managing director of the 55th Street Playhouse since Sept. 1, the house now being operated by Moviegraphs, Inc. The Chicago Playhouse, formerly of the Fifth Ave. Playhouse Group is soon to be given up, leaving only the Fifth Avenue Playhouse under Mindlin's management.

Film Producer Makes $150,000 Restitution

CHICAGO—S. S. Millard, who had been accused of having made three pictures for the United States Health Film Company of Chicago after receiving an advance of $25,000 and then later refused to give the company the original films, has been released by the authorities here upon promise to sign over all his rights to the 3 pictures and to make restitution. Relinquishment of his rights is said to have cost Millard nearly $150,000.

Nane Change.

The International Talkie Film Corporation which was recently incorporated in Delaware, has been changed to the Talkie Film Corporation of America, New York.

Warners Pre-Release 2

Warner Brothers have set pre-release dates for two Vitaphone productions. One is "The Home-Towners" directed by Bryan Foy and featuring Richard Bennett and Doris Kenyon, which will begin on October 27th, and the other "Land of the Silver Fox" with Rin-Tin-Tin, on October 13th.

"U" Signs Rubin

Universal has signed Benny Rubin, popular west coast master of ceremonies and wise-cracker, to act in this capacity in a new Sound Novelty series soon to be announced. Rubin will combine his talents as master of ceremonies, gagster and comedian in the new series.

Trop with World Wide

The latest addition to the personnel of World Wide Pictures, Inc. is J. D. Trop who is now in the publicity department of the J. D. Williams organization. His experience in the industry covers a period of eleven years.

BARRIE'S "HALF HOUR" P-F-L ALL-TALKIE

James M. Barrie's play, "Half an Hour", will enter production as an all-dialogue picture on the Paramount West Coast sound stages during the next few days with a cast of stage trained players enacting the leading roles, Jesse L. Lasky announced yesterday.

Ruth Chatterton, H. B. Warner, Robert Edeson, Ethel Wales, Wilfrid Noy and Joyce Marie Coad, all noted for outstanding work on the stage and screen, head the group of players.

"Half an Hour" will be directed by William C. DeMille.

Olcott with Fox?

HOLLYWOOD—Sidney Olcott may join up with Fox Film Corporation to direct a series of pictures, possibly for all-talkies, if negotiations with Winfield R. Sheehan are completed.

Olcott recently returned from Europe.

Canadian Company Shooting in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD—Sargeson V. Halstead and Director Louis W. Chau-det of the Thunder Bay Films, Ltd., of Canada, have arrived here to shoot interiors for their first production "Spirit of the Wilderness" which will be one of a series of 12 productions. Dorothy Dwan has the lead.

Kramer Books Two "U" Films in Hipp

Earl W. Kramer, New York sales manager for Universal, has just announced the completion of arrangements for showing two new Universal features in the New York Hippodrome. They are "Red Lips" and "The Night Bird," one to play in September and the other in October.

Fed. Trade Publishers Conference on Oct. 9

A trade practice conference is being called by the Federal Trade Commission for publishers, on October 9 at the Waldorf-Astoria. The purpose of the conference will be to draw up standard rules for the elimination of false and misleading advertisements.

We furnish Wire and Local News to Our Readers

That accounts for the steady increase in circulation of

Exhibitors
DAILY REVIEW

Selling begins in November

Tel Bryant 8957
Cables "Bestfilms"

130 W. 46th St.
New York, N. Y.

A New Feature Film Supply

"Photoplays made where the Story's laid."

"Imported"

We propose to import notable novelty features from all over the world and distribute them throughout the United States and Canada.

We deal only in completed pictures

Our Company will be a Clearing House through which unusual photoplays from overseas countries will reach American theatres.

You can see before you buy

You'll be surprised and delighted at our pictures. Europe is making amazing strides in production. A selection Committee of practical men familiar with American tastes will select the productions we will proffer.

You can buy one or all

We will sell one or more at a time; that is, Exhibitors may select such pictures as they feel will be suitable for their needs.

The pictures will speak for themselves

Because a new source of supply of unusual and profitable pictures will add to the security and independence of Exhibitors and because we will open and stabilize American distribution for Overseas producers we feel that we are rendering the Motion Picture Industry of the World a much needed service which deserves the consideration and support of all its branches.

J. D. WILLIAMS
Executive Vice President

Joseph S. Skirboll
Sales Manager

Physical Distribution thru Educational Film Exchange

We maintain our own Sales and Exploitation Staffs

NOTE: The FOX Advertising Department has had to prepare this standing form to rush out details on the consistent successes of Fox pictures.

again another FOX picture breaks another house record

Street Angel
The River Pirate
Four Sons
Fazil
Win That Girl
Mother Knows Best
Plastered in Paris
Me, Gangster
The Air Circus
Mother Machree
Sunrise
Making The Grade
The Red Dance
Dry Martini

Movietone or Silent Prints

MOTHER KNOWS BEST

BROKE EVERY 2 DAY RECORD AT

Palace Theatre, Montreal

Last Saturday and Sunday

Beating by $2,000 previous week-end house record held by

STREET ANGEL

FOX record-wrecker of all time

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Formerly EXHIBITORS TRADE REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off

VOL. 24 No. 78

New York, Wednesday, October 3, 1928

FIVE CENTS

OBSERVATIONS

Clearance

The question of how long one theatre should get protection over another will soon be answered in the government's anti-trust suit against the West Coast Theatres. The answer might not be conclusive and may be termed so that its interpretation will only be applicable to a situation like the West Coast Theatres, The Stanley Company in Philadelphia and Balaban & Katz in Chicago, but the effect will be far reaching and an answer that should have been arrived at a long time before this.

Justification

A big first run house is certainly justified in asking a reasonable protection on a neighborhood house in the same town and we think the length of the protection should be determined by the amount of admission charged in both theatres. For instance the first run charging a dollar, should be given a longer protection over the house charging ten cents than the one who has a twenty-five or a fifty cent admission. Also, the amount of film rental should be considered in this protection. In any instance we don't feel one theatre should be given as much as six month's clearance over the other one and it is our thought that no theatre should be protected in distant towns and counties. That is hardly fair.

Opinion

We have always been of the opinion that a sixty day protection in any case should be sufficient. Feeling that the patrons who would frequent a theatre playing pictures this old, and certainly at a greatly reduced admission price, would in no instance visit the big first run house only on rare occasions. Consequently anything after sixty days would not matter. The six months grant is too much.

WILKERSON

WARNERS TO PAY $9,000,000 IN F & R DEAL--DICKER WITH BLANK

KENNEDY SIGNS FOR RCA IN ALL HOUSES

J. P. Kennedy's return from Europe this week closed a deal whereby the Radio Corporation of America yesterday signed contracts for installation of RCA Photophone in all theatres of Keith-Albee-Orpheum Circuit.

Report was received too late to obtain confirmation from officials of K-A-O. Installations throughout the chain will take about 4 months to complete.

KUNSKY GETS $2,000,000 DETROIT FISHER LEASE

J. H. Kunsy has leased the new Fisher Theatre which has been erected in the $30,000,000 Fisher Building in Detroit.

The theatre which seats 2,871 cost $2,000,000 and it will be completely equipped with sound devices and opened late this month. The definite policy of the house will be first-run pictures, although some of the pictures will be run day and date with downtown Kunsy first-run houses.

"Submarine" for Capitol

When the Broadway run of 'Submarine' Columbia's smash hit at the Embassy Theatre is exhausted, the picture will be booked into the Capitol Theatre. The film is now in its second month at the Embassy.

Warners Forcing 5-Year Contracts with Franchisers

Warner Brothers are now in a position to dictate terms to all franchise holders in First National and is understood to be determined to accept only 5-year contracts with all theatre owners who want Vitaphone product this coming year.

The Warners are said to have profited by their experience in the past, when they neglected to go after contracts of such a term of years, this resulting in their having to secure their own theatre outlets to assure bookings against other talking competition.

DE FOREST PATENTS ALL SOLD TO G. T. P.

At a meeting of the directors of the DeForest Phonofilm Corporation yesterday the consent of the majority of the stock holders of the company was obtained in accepting the proffer of the General Talking Pictures Corporation for the entire assets of the DeForest Company.

All the patents, both granted and pending, of Dr Lee DeForest, are included in the assets of the DeForest company. Dr. DeForest developed his system of recording and reproducing under the trade name of Phonofilm, and beginning in 1923 about fifty theatres in the United

(Continued on page 2)

Old P-F-L Common Trading Ceases Oct. 15--Cutten Interests Boom Stock

1st National Holds

Defu Conference

Richard Weininger, prominent German banker and member of the firm of Von Lustig and Weininger, co-partners of First National in the formation of Defu Pictures, that company's German producing unit, and Ray Rockett, production manager of Defu, arrived in New York yesterday aboard the Leviathan.

The purpose of Mr. Weininger's visit is to discuss with First National officials plans for production of more German film. Mr. Weininger expects to remain in New York several weeks.

Trading in the Old Paramount Famous-Lasky common stock will cease on October 15th and all trading will swing over to the new stock which was authorized as the result of the 3 for 1 split-up.

The old common which has hit a high mark of 153 3/4 closed yesterday at 152 3/4, with only 100 shares traded in. A 3% dividend rate and a jump to about 70 for the new stock, which is now at 50 3/4, is expected by the end of December.

According to financial experts on the "street" one of the real reasons for the continued spurt of the common stock has been the entrance

(Continued on page 2)

Invading Two Publix Strongholds in the Mid-West

MINNEAPOLIS—Warner Brothers have about closed negotiations for the entire Finkelstein & Ruben Circuit of 150 houses in the Northwest territory. The partners are willing to dispose of their chain, it is understood, for the sum of $9,000,000 which is the price offered Fox some months ago and turned down.

11 of the F & R houses in Minneapolis and St. Paul are on a partnership basis with Publix and it is not known at this time, how this situation and the booking agreements made with Fox, will be affected by the Warner purchase.

The only details that still have to be cleared up are some additional holdings in the chain and the cost

(Continued on page 2)

VOLF REPRODUCER TESTS AT FOX-CASE

Final tests are being made this week (Oct. 1-6) at the studios of the Fox Film Corp. in New York of the Volf Reproduter, a new sound projection for use in theatres, in conjunction with talking pictures, radio and speaking programs.

It is the product of Christian A. Volf, Jr., an engineer and acoustician who has specialized in sound devices, and it is being hailed by those who have heard it as a step forward in the art of sound reproduction.

OSWALD BROOKS PROD. MANAGER WITH REGAL

LONDON -- E. Oswald Brooks, formerly with Pathe, Mutual, Gaumont, has been appointed Production Manager of the Regal Film Company. Brooks has 15 years experience in the American film field.

The Board of Directors behind the new Regal company, is one of the strongest and most representative in the history of British pictures.

(Continued on page 2)

"Home-Towners" Arrives

A print of "The Home Towners" Vitaphone's first 100% all-talking feature comedy has been received at the New York offices of Warner Brothers. Richard Bennett and Doris Kenyon head the cast.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher and Editor

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager; Executive and Editorial Offices, 45 West 45th Street, New York. Telephone Bryant 6160. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Exhibitors Review Publishing Corporation. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempsstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York:—Terry Ramsaye was so good in his speech to the Engineers Society at Lake Placid, that George Harvey is thinking of starring him in a Lyceum bureau or playing him a season on the Chautauqua Circuit. Jerry Beatty, member of the Board of Directors, showed up at the Motion Picture Club just one day late for the board meeting, and says he isn't emulating Mayor Walker either. William Reiter, assistant to Director Fejos, who will make "Broadway" for Universal, is rushing east to get a line on a lot of speakeasies, for scenes in the picture, before the Willenbrandt reform wave hits again and closes them all up. Abe Stern is due here from Los Angeles tomorrow to meet brother Julius who comes from Europe. Bruce Johnson, foreign manager of First National, will leave next week for the other side to stay until the Christmas Holidays are due here. Joe Shea, one of the high gun exploitation and publicity men, leaves Friday for the coast where he will be assistant to Bob Yost, in charge of Fox studio publicity. Ted Curtis, of Eastman Kodak, and incidentally one of the best golf players in the industry, has resigned and quit the picture business, and Artie Stebbins is grieving over the loss to the Motion picture Golf Team. Jesse Lasky, just here from the coast, is willing to spend a lot of time telling about what a great picture the exhibitors will find "Interference" when they get a peep at it in a couple of weeks. Eddie Cauter was Walter Wanger's luncheon guest yesterday at the Motion Picture Club, and he didn't even sing one song or cut any didoes during the visit. John Clarke, Paramount Divisional Sales Manager in the west, left yesterday on an extensive visit over his territory. J. D. Trop, who has been writing nice things about motion pictures for the past decade, has joined up with Bill Yearsley's publicity force over at World Wide Pictures.

Honky Tonk for "Soph"

J. L. Warner has announced that "Honky Tonk" will be the title of the first Vitaphone picture in which Sophie Tucker will star for Warner Bros. It will be an all-talking production, marking the screen debut of this noted comedienne whose popularity on the stage extends not only throughout the United States but throughout Europe.

Oswald Brooks Prod.

Manager with Regal

(Continued from page 1)

It includes E. & D. A. Abrahams, chain theatre operators; Charles Gulliver, vaudeville magnate; John Maxwell, Chairman of British International Pictures and Sam Berney, a director of Film Distributors, Ltd.

Their first of six productions to be made the first year, will be Van Druten's play "Young Woodley" to be produced by Thos. Bentley, starring Robin Irvine, at the Stoll Studios.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912.

Of Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW, published Daily except Sunday, at New York, N. Y., for Oct. 1, 1928.

STATE OF NEW YORK, ss.
COUNTY OF NEW YORK, ss.

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared W. R. Wilkerson, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the owner of the Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 411, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are: Publisher, W. R. Wilkerson, 45 West 45th St., New York, N. Y.; Editor, None; Managing Editor, Abraham Bernstein, 45 West 45th St., New York, N. Y.; Business Manager, Herman J. Schleier, 45 West 45th St., New York, N. Y.

2. That the owner is: (If owned by a corporation, its name and address must be stated and also immediately thereunder the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding one per cent or more of total amount of stock. If not owned by a corporation, the names and addresses of the individual owners must be given. If owned by a firm, company or other unincorporated concern, its name and address, as well as those of each individual member, must be given.) W. R. Wilkerson, 45 West 45th Street, New York, N. Y.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities: (If there are none, so state.) None.

4. That the two paragraphs, next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

5. That the average number of copies of each issue of this publication sold or distributed, through the mails or otherwise, to paid subscribers during the six months preceding the date shown above is 4,164. (This information is required from daily publications only.)

W. R. WILKERSON,

Owner

Sworn to and subscribed before me this First day of October, 1928.

HYMAN SCHLEIER,

Notary Public Bronx Co. No. 198.

Register's No. 2922B. Certificate

(Seal) filed in New York Co. No. 1471.

Register's No. 9033A.

(My commission expires Mar. 30, 1929)

Old P-F-L Common

Trading Ceases Oct. 15

(Continued from page 1)

into the market of a strong Chicago group, headed by Arthur Cutten, their buying attracting an immediate following. The original Du Pont rumor arose some months ago through the reports that they sought to divert some of Paramount's film business from Eastman to the du Pont Pathe Film Mfg. Co.

Earnings for the new Paramount shares this year are estimated at $4.50 a share. At current levels the stock is selling at 11 times its earnings, against an average of 14½ times for 581 selected industrials. Next year Paramount is expected to earn $6 a share, and people now sponsoring its market feel that it should sell at 15 times these earnings.

De Forest Patents

All Sold to G. T. P.

(Continued from page 1)

States and Canada made use of Phonofilm.

General Talking Pictures Corporation was organized about ten days ago by the Schlesinger interests of America, England and South Africa, for the purpose of acquiring the rights to Phonofilm. The company will license other companies to produce pictures under the Phonofilm system, manufacture and distribute projection apparatus, manufacture and install recording apparatus, as well as doing synchronizing of musical scores and sound effects to pictures produced by licensed companies.

Meighan at AMPA

Thomas Meighan will be the guest of honor at tomorrow's open meeting of the Associated Motion Picture Advertisers to be held at the Paramount Hotel. Charles E. McCarthy, Publicity chief of P-F-L will introduce Meighan. As an added attraction Walter Eberhardt will introduce Edward Clark, author of "Private Izzy Murphy."

League of Nations

Appeal by Federation

The International Cinema Federation instituted recently at the International Exhibitors' Congress in Berlin, will notify the League of Nations of its creation, and, at the same time, suggest that an International Chamber of the Motion Picture industry be instituted at the League of Nations so that no film problems would be discussed in the future without hearing the International Federation.

Warners to Pay

$9,000,000 in F & R Deal

(Continued from page 1)

of installing sound producing devices. The F & R Circuit is one of the few large chains still left and is said to be in excellent financial shape.

Finkelstein and Ruben are understood to be willing to retire from the amusement field if they can realize a good return on their investment. Warner product at this time is well set, as far as bookings are concerned, in the F & R houses and this deal is to give Warners control of the theatres as well.

Both Finkelstein and Ruben, who were in New York have checked out of their hotel and gone West to hold a final meeting to clinch the deal.

Another group of theatres reported in the Warner bag at this time, is the A. H. Blank Circuit of 19 theatres, in Iowa and Illinois, in which Publix is a 50% owner.

The
Stanley
Way

A complete motion picture advertising service

Stanley Advertising Co.
220 West 42nd St. New York
WISconsin 0610

NEW YORK'S NEWEST AND FINEST HOTEL

SMARTLY NEAR THE CENTER OF THINGS

Around the corner from New York's exclusive shopping district, readily accessible to leading theatres, and railroad terminals, yet in a neighborhood socially correct and away from the noise and turmoil of the business district. The Park Central enjoys a location distinctly unique in its advantages. Come to the Park Central, New York's newest and finest hotel, where you will find advantages heretofore unknown to American hoteliers — Radio outlets . . . Electric Refrigeration . . . Period Salons and Roof Patios for private social functions . . . swimming pool . . . Florentine Grille featuring the Park Central Grille Orchestra . . . other features equally unusual and desirable. Single rooms five dollars per day and up. Double rooms eight dollars per day and up.

THE PARK CENTRAL

FIFTY-FIFTH STREET AT 7th AVENUE

NEW YORK CITY

THE MAGIC
Name of
VICTOR HUGO
Will pack them in!

A Picture for Everybody
It should be shown in every town where people live who react to courage, passion, love, cruelty, injustice, and virtue triumphant!
Gripping in drama—
daring in love scenes—tear compelling in pathos it plays upon the emotions as few pictures have done.

PAUL LENI'S

Remarkable Picturization of the Master Story-teller's most inspired work!

The MAN WHO LAUGHS

A Carl Laemmle Super Production

SCORE another winner for FOX

Here's how the happiest, snappiest, scrappiest of football pictures scored at the ROXY:

P R E S S				P U B L I C
1	0	0	%	1	0	0	%

You will welcome
"Win That Girl."

—N.Y. Telegram

A cleverly acted, amusing comedy.

—N.Y. Times

Refreshingly different, consistently entertaining.

—N.Y. Journal

Steadily amusing.

—N.Y. Post

WIN THAT GIRL

with

DAVID ROLLINS
SUE CAROL

DAVID BUTLER Production

Give yourself a treat with a sight of "Win That Girl."

—Chicago Herald
Examiner

Should be a good box-office bet.

—N.Y. Graphic

Immensely pleasing and refreshing.

—N.Y. Telegraph

Lively comedy.

—Chicago American

Smart showmen are teaming up with

FOX

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Formerly EXHIBITORS TRADE REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

VOL. 24 No. 79

New York, Thursday, October 4, 1928

FIVE CENTS

OBSERVATIONS

"4 Devils"

Last night, as "4 Devils" unfolded during its premiere at the Gaiety Theatre, the notion bore down on us that it is one of the best photographed and acted pictures we have seen in some time. The production must have cost William Fox plenty of money, for production is written all over it.

The Story

While its locale is vastly different than that of "Sunrise", "4 Devils" from the same director, may well be compared with it, for in story it is the same tale of a sweet pure girl and boy whose lives are turned upside down by the sudden appearance of a scarlet lady. The one great weakness of the picture is its story.

Color

There is a great deal of color to "4 Devils", set as it is against a circus background, especially the opening sequences, showing how the then unknown quartet of acrobats came into being, and the heartbreaks of their childhood. Yet, even with its thorough attention to detail and exquisite camera work, one cannot lose sight of the fact that the picture is slow moving and long drawn out. Probably careful cutting will eliminate a lot of this.

Murnau

It is amazing that a director of Murnau's supposed genius could not show more originality, not only in the choosing of his themes but in its handling. He establishes his characters and then seems to let them shift for themselves while he concentrates on the technical end of the production.

Credits

Credits must go to the technical staff, the photographer, to Janet Gaynor, J. Farrell McDonald and a newcomer, one Charles Morton. However, Miss Mary Duncan, a much talked of acquisition to the films, photographed exceptionally well, but some of her antics last evening, which she may or may not have been called upon to perform were ludicrous.

We liked "4 Devils" but nevertheless we feel that Mr. Fox has always had very good luck with domestic directors.

WILKERSON

Yamins Forces Arbitration Meeting at Hays Office

Government Seizes West Coast Files in New Conspiracy Suit

Full Standard Contract Committee Meets Today at Noon

RAPEE DENIES FOX "ANGELA MIA" RIFT

Erno Rapee, conductor at the Roxy, and co-author with Lew Pollack of "Angela Mia", theme song of "Street Angel" yesterday denied that there was any unpleasant relationship between Fox and himself. Rapee has written three theme songs for "4 Devils" which opened last night.

Rumors arose some weeks ago that because of interference on the part of the Society of Authors and Composers, a performance of "Street Angel" was held up in France, due (Continued on page 4)

BIG SECRET PHOTOTONE DEAL WITH GERMANY

By SAM HARRIS
"Today's Cinema"

LONDON — Clayton Hutton, who has just returned from Germany has completed a secret deal with the Deutsches Ton-Bild Syndikat, on behalf of British Phototone, which will be the biggest thing that has been done in this industry for 20 years.

Hutton would only divulge that the deal involves something beyond the pictures, that is, in addition to pictures.

By Special Staff Correspondent
LOS ANGELES, Calif.—There is going to be a lot of fur flying when the government gets representatives of West Coast Theatres in court, relative to the clearance on pictures asked and received last year. The testimony of several of the local exchange representatives of the large producing organizations, will cause quite a stir. It is known that six representatives of the Federal government have been operating in and around Los Angeles for the past year, without the knowledge of the local Fed- (Continued on page 4)

"4 Devils" Premiere

Murnau's second Fox classic, "4 Devils" opened last night at the Gaiety Theatre at a $5 top. Tickets were at a premium and the crowds tied up Broadway as early as 7 o'clock.

Jack Conway Variety

Veteran Passes On

Jack Conway, on the Editorial staff of Variety for 14 years, died of heart disease Tuesday night in Bermuda, where he had gone on his vacation. Conway was 42 years old and was one of the best liked men in the trade paper and amusement fields.

Conway was a free-lance title writer for a time, and had a Paramount contract several years ago out in Hollywood.

BUNK ! BUNK ! BUNK !

There is a lot of silly talk going the rounds of Broadway, regarding the possible pooling of the theatre interests of Publix, Loew, Fox and Warners, and further allocating certain zones throughout the country, for the exclusive exhibition use of each member of the pool. In other words Loew to operate in the East, Fox in the West, Publix in Mid-West and South and Warner in the Mid-East and North. That's all bunk.

Can't and Won't

In the first place, such an arrangement, cannot and will not be consummated. Five minutes after the start of such a pool, the government would step in and break it up. In the second place, William Fox is playing the game of theatre buying, exhibition and producing ALONE. Always has and always will. In the third place, no sane man would ever give ten minutes contribution to such an arrangement. And altogether, it is a lot of wild talk by people who do not know what they are saying.

The showdown demanded by exhibitor members of the Committee which drew up the new Standard Exhibition Contract last year in Chicago, on some "unfinished business" will take place today at the meeting called in the Hays office at 12 o'clock.

This meeting will be attended by Will Hays, C. C. Pettijohn, Gabriel Hess, R. F. Woodhull, Chairman of the Committee, Berinstein of California, Nathan Yamins of Fall River, Biechle of Kansas, R. H. Cochrane, Ned E. Depinet and others.

The "unfinished business" refers to a plan to finance exhibitor organization, provide for uniform arbitration and other protective measures for exhibitors, in which a suggestion was made in Chicago last year that there be added to film contracts, 1% of the rental for the financing of arbitration.

Nathan Yamins, as a member of the committee, corresponded with R. F. Woodhull several weeks ago, reminding him that a pledge made at Chicago last year provided that if nothing was accomplished in the way of some plan to accomplish the objects sought by the exhibitors, another meeting of the contract committee was to be held in June of this year, and that because of that pledge, exhibitor members of the committee withdrew their objections to certain of the clauses in the new uniform contract.

This meeting was held and a further conference agreed upon is being held today. The exhibitor group (Continued on page 4)

Berkowitz Gotham S. M.

J. Samuel Berkowitz has been made General Sales Manager of Gotham Productions and of Gotham Bristolphone Corporation. Mike Simmons, Gotham publicity chief left for Waterbury last night for a short conference with Bristolphone officials.

Whitbeck Replaces

Lazarus at Wesco

Frank Whitbeck, who has been in charge of publicity and advertising in the San Francisco West Coast Theatres, has been promoted to the post of advertising and publicity for the entire West Coast Theatre circuit, with headquarters in Los Angeles. He steps into the post left vacant by Jeff Lazarus.

COLUMBIA SO

Electrical Research Products
INC.
SUBSIDIARY OF Western Electric Company
INCORPORATED

1195 BROADWAY
NEW YORK

September 27, 1928.

J. E. OTTERSON
PRESIDENT

MR. JOSEPH BRANDT, President,
Columbia Pictures Corporation,
1600 Broadway,
New York, N. Y.

My dear Mr. Brandt:

I wish to express to you our pleasure in having Columbia Pictures Corporation join the other well-known producers licensed by us to use the Western Electric system of talking motion pictures.

We are placing at your disposal our technical experience and manufacturing facilities and welcome the opportunity to be of service to you.

Very truly yours,

J. E. Ottersson
President.

"SUBMARINE"

- NOW PLAYING TO CAPACITY AT EMBASSY
THEATRE, N.Y. AT $2 TOP

Will be available in either silent or sound version . .

UND PICTURES

COLUMBIA has always given you sound values in its silent productions.

You'll get even greater values in COLUMBIA SOUND PICTURES.

Our choice of the Western Electric recording and reproducing system (the same as that now being used by Vitaphone and Movietone) is a guarantee of sound quality in COLUMBIA SOUND PICTURES.

Through our foresight in providing sound box-office vehicles for our "Perfect 36," we now possess a number of outstanding stage plays and stories which are admirably suited for reproduction as sound pictures. Among the plays that we are now carefully considering for this purpose are "The Donovan Affair," by Owen Davis; "The Younger Generation," from the play "It Is to Laugh," by Fannie Hurst; "The Fall of Eve," by John Emerson and Anita Loos; "Redemption," by Count Leo Tolstoy. ¶ Among the stories on the current season's program available for production as sound pictures are "Acquitted," by Mary Roberts Rinehart, and "Trial Marriage," the Saturday Evening Post serial story by Elizabeth Alexander.

Theatre-owners can rest assured that when COLUMBIA finally decides to put a vehicle into production as a sound picture, it will have all the necessary values and qualities to make it a superlative box-office attraction.

SOUND STORIES + SOUND VALUES
= COLUMBIA SOUND PICTURES

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher and Editor

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schieler, Business Manager; Executive and Editorial Offices, 45 West 45th Street, New York. Telephone Bryant 6160. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Exhibitors Review Publishing Corporation. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hemet 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York:—Sime Silverman received a cable from Bermuda yesterday announcing the death of Jack Conway, of the Variety staff, who had gone south some time ago for his health . . .

Joe O'Sullivan, of Pathe advertising staff, returned yesterday from Europe where he went six weeks ago to hear his wife sing in Grand Opera, and he opines she sings right well . . . Paul Fejos, who directed "Lonesome" and others for Universal, is hustling to New York by aeroplane to begin work on "Broadway" which is his next big one for the same company . . .

Arthur Hornblow, one of the heavyweight picture men from the west coast is in New York for a couple of weeks, on business and a little recreation combined . . . Ray Rockett, just back from a long stay in Germany, says it took four years there to make a good book for James W. Gerard, but he could write fully as big a one about two years there . . . Vivian Moses, who has been spending a month in New York, leaves the big town flat today and starts back to the Paramount studios—and Vivian crossed us up because this column started him back a week ago . . .

Joe Shea, who recently severed his connection with Pathe, takes his departure for the coast tomorrow—destination being the Fox studios where he will assist the publicity chief, Bob Yost . . . Abe Blank is in New York and like every other circuit owner who comes here, is said to be negotiating a deal to sell to Warner Bros. and maybe he will . . . Meyer Schine, bulkier than ever, arrived in New York yesterday from up the state, and announced to friends that he would welcome any advice that would tend to trim down the embonpoint . . . Roger Ferri, who disappeared into the Fox igloo on Tenth Avenue several years ago, has emerged by being made an assistant to Jimmy Grainger . . . King Vidor arrived in the city yesterday to make tests of colored talent and one white actor for Metro's "Hallelujah"

LAEMMLE ASSIGNS RUGGLES TO 'SHANNONS OF BROADWAY' PLUM

Gleasons to Be Starred in Same Stage Roles

By JOE BLAIR
Hollywood Correspondent

The question of who is going to direct "The Shannons of Broadway" adapted from the stage play by James Gleason, was settled before Carl Laemmle left for New York to attend the opening of "Lonesome". This directorial plum has been given to Wesley Ruggles, on the strength of his marvelous work in his last picture "Port of Dreams".

Ruggles, for some reason or other has been known around the Universal lot as a comedy director. And once any studio gets set on a director in a certain type of work, it is hard to get them away from that line of thought. Ruggles came to Universal over two years ago to direct the first series of "Colleagues" and since that time has been doing light feature comedies until, after a lengthy battle, he was given "Port of Dreams". When this picture is released Ruggles will be put up around the top rung by most of our best students of pictures.

Paul Scofield, in collaboration with Gleason and his wife, did the continuity on "Shannons" and Mr. and Mrs. Gleason will be starred in the same parts they portrayed in the New York presentation of this play.

Yamins Forces Arbitration Meeting at Hays Office

(Continued from page 1)
through Berinstein has submitted a plan which can form the basis of a satisfactory arrangement, but according to Yamins, the Distributor group has offered nothing so far.

Distributors who will attend today's meeting assert that the committee will try to work out something that will be satisfactory to both sides, on the arbitration clauses being disputed.

Government Seizes

West Coast Files

(Continued from page 1)
eral office and representatives. They have been working out of a down town office building and are said to have received such astounding information that they were prompted to confiscate the files in the offices of West Coast Theatres and five of the leading exchanges and what they found will cause a great stir when presented as testimony in court.

It has been determined that the case will be tried and prosecuted on the evidence accumulated regarding the tactics adopted by West Coast last year and the clearance asked for recently will have no part in this trial.

Al Santell, eminent director of good pictures, is due to arrive in New York the latter part of this week . . .

Things We Do

Not Believe

From JETTA GOUDAL

"I have never made unnecessary or impossible demands during my picture career and the only words I speak while working on the set are the lines I have to recite and the orders I must give my wardrobe maid. Clothes are my stock in trade and for this reason alone I will not go on with a picture until I am satisfied that I am looking my best."

"One Stolen Night"

Finished at Warners

Another Vitaphone picture was finished at the Warner Studio this week when Scott R. Dunlap completed the direction of "One Stolen Night". Betty Bronson is co-featured with William Collier, Jr.

Jay Velie with Vita

Jay Velie, Broadway musical comedy player, has been signed to appear in a number of Vitaphone productions.

Rapee Denies Fox

"Angela Mia" Rift

(Continued from page 1)
to the non-payment of license fees for the use of the music and the showing only went on when the Fox Company was forced to pay for the right to use music one of its own men wrote.

The Fox home office, it is understood has determined that theme songs written by its staff for its own pictures will hereafter be published by themselves, although Rapee maintains that all his future songs will go through De Sylva, Brown and Henderson.

17 K-A-O Changes in Split-Week Openings

Beginning Sunday, October 7th, Keith-Albee-Orpheum houses will shift the opening dates of their split-week policy from Monday to Sunday. Former policy covered Monday and Thursday changes, whereas now changes will occur on Sundays and Thursdays.

The split-week houses are the Jefferson, Coliseum, Regent, Hamilton, Fordham, Franklin, Royal, Chester, Madison, Orpheum, Kenmore, Tilyou, Prospect, Bushwick, Greenpoint, Proctor's 86th and 125th.

The full-week houses remain the same. These include the Palace, Hippodrome, Riverside, 81st Street, Broadway, Albee and Proctor's Palace, Newark.

Fitzmaurice Returns

George Fitzmaurice and his company who have been in the Hawaiian Islands making scenes for First National's "Changeling" returned to San Francisco yesterday. The company which includes Milton Sills and Dorothy Mackaill, has been gone six weeks.

COLUMBIA TO SELL FOOTBALL SERIES

"Chick" Meehan, New York University football coach has made a series of one-reel "demonstration" pictures, which depict the famous shifts, forward passes and line plunges, that have gained victory for some of the most famous elevens in the country.

Meehan has made arrangements with the Columbia Pictures Corporation for the distribution of his novelty reels.

Brooks Finished

Louise Brooks has finished her contract at Paramount and this organization will not renew it. Miss Brooks is in New York and will leave shortly for Germany to do one or two pictures for the UFA company.

Educational Busy

Production activity at the Educational Studios has continued while Jack White, director-in-chief and E. H. Allen, general manager of the studios, have been in New York City in conference with E. W. Hammons, president of Educational Film Exchanges, Inc. Lupino Lane and "Big Boy" have been engaged in completing final camera work on their newest releases.

At the same time several other new pictures, including subjects in the Mermaid, Cameo and other series, have been in the cutting room. While this has been in progress, finishing touches have been put on new stories for pictures in practically every series being produced at the Educational plant.

John Thomas Here

John Thomas, author of "Dry Martini," the best selling novel of American expatriates in Paris, which Fox Film Corporation has completed in picture form, has just arrived in this city from the French capital. He is at work on a new novel.

Sloman Shooting Soon

Edward Sloman, Universal director, is to direct "The Play Goes On" as his next for that organization. Charles Kenyon did the script.

Theatre Classics

The Theatre Classics Corporation, a new company which will engage in the opera and picture business has been formed with $100,000 in preferred stock and 2,000 shares of common.

CALL

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.

for

Library Stock Scenes

130 W. 46 St. New York

Bryant 8181

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Formerly EXHIBITORS TRADE REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. On

VOL. 24 No. 80

New York, Friday, October 5, 1928

FIVE CENTS

OBSERVATIONS

"Marching On"

On the same program with "4 Devils" Fox has a short reel movietone titled "Marching On". Chic Sales has the lead in a sort of characterization that is somewhat familiar to vaudeville patrons who have followed the career of this marvelous artist. It is the best thing in talking pictures, long or shorts, we have seen. It has everything that most talking pictures have not demonstrated to date. It has production, photography, story, fine spoken titles and a continuity of action that would do honor even to the highly artistic silent drama. In other words, if this production would have been made as a short reel silent drama, it could not have been made any better. Fox seemingly has found a means of overcoming many defects, heretofore demonstrated in the all-talkies. If you are equipped for sound, get this subject. It will not only please during its run, but it will add new patrons for talking pictures.

Presentations

Are the expensive presentations going to be shoved aside in favor of the less expensive talking pictures? We think so. The first move in this direction comes from Atlanta in the announcement that Publix is discontinuing their presentations in the Howard, being replaced by talking shorts. What has been done in Atlanta will probably be followed in other houses very soon. Presentations are very expensive and there is no comparison between the best presentation than a short reel talkie such as "Marching On".

"Con"

Broadway and pictures have lost one of its most beloved characters in the sudden death of Jack Conway. Writing under the name of "Con" he had been on VARIETY for 14 years. His fame had become world wide. Using his own expression, Jack "Clicked". Last year, after titling two pictures for Paramount in the East, he went to the coast for them. Later he titled several pictures for FBO. Returning to New York last Spring and his best loved VARIETY. Talking to him several days ago he told us he was going to return to the coast very soon. All of us will miss Jack.

WILKERSON

RCA DICKERS FOR BROADWAY PLAYS

It looks as if RCA is to get some kind of a break for their recording equipment if plans they have proposed to several of the better Broadway stage producers goes through.

For some reason or other, RCA have sort of been shut out of the picture in so far as lining up major production for their recording devices. Western Electric, a half brother by marriage through the A.T.T. & Co., have gobbed all the big bets on long term contracts, and with the exception of Pathe and FBO, are left holding the bag. The reasons seem to be many, but the one and foremost is that Western Electric outstepped them in that they employed several picture showmen to go out after the business, while RCA expected to accomplish these things by sitting behind the desks in the RCA office and not having a

(Continued on page 2)

Small-Strausberg Acquire Popula Chain

The Popula Theatres in Brooklyn have merged with the Small-Strausberg Circuit and the S-S Queen's Theatres. The deal was closed this week but neither side would talk.

LYNG MADE V.P. OF ERP WESTERN ELECTRIC CO.

J. J. Lyng, apparatus development engineer of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, has been made vice-president of Electrical Research Products, in charge of engineering and technical development, according to an announcement made today by the Western Electric Company. Mr. Lyng, who is widely known as an eminent telephone engineer, assumed his new duties on October 1st.

In his work at the Bell Laboratories, Mr. Lyng has directed a staff of nearly 700 technicians engaged in the development of electrical communication equipment and the perfection of sound pictures.

K-A-O Warner Purchase Nears Completion

The Keith-Albee-Orpheum Circuit is still being dickered for by Warner Brothers, according to the financial experts of several dailies yesterday, who explained that revival of activity in K-A-O shares yesterday, which resulted in a gain of 4½ points, was based on authentic reports that negotiations for the acquisition of Keith-Albee-Orpheum by Warner Brothers was nearing completion.

PHOTOPHONE TO START INSTALLATIONS SOON

RCA Photophone has begun to appoint special sales representatives in key centers of the U. S. for the purpose of beginning the installation of Photophone equipment in theatres.

In Dallas, Texas, a Mr. Snyder has arrived to take charge, but he has not received final instructions as to securing orders for equipment, or as to probable dates of delivery. He states that these matters will be taken care of shortly.

N. J. EXHIBITORS PAID $230,000 PROTECTION

Joseph E. Bernstein, who is appearing before the Case Legislative Committee in Trenton, on an inquiry, being conducted into alleged graft which motion picture theatres have had to contribute to in order to keep open Sundays, yesterday admitted that the theatre owners and managers in the last few years had contributed a fund of $230,000 which he had collected.

He stated that the funds were all deposited in a special account and were endorsed to himself.

TNT March 2nd

March 2nd is the date which has been selected by AMPA for their next TNT Hollywood Masque Ball in New York, at the Hotel Astor.

Lightman to Discuss Talkies at Toronto M.P.T.O.A. Meeting

Morning Telegraph Sold

The Morning Telegraph has changed hands, it is understood, the new owners reported being headed by a Mr. Moore. The purchasers have formed a new corporation in Delaware, with 50,000 shares of common stock.

"Pete" Woodhull who returned from Toronto yesterday, where the M.P.T.O.A. convention will be held shortly, expressed himself as more than pleased with the progress made by the Canadian exhibitor committee in lining up entertainers for the convention delegates.

(Continued on page 2)

CONTRACT CONFAB TO RESUME AT 10 A.M.

Woodhull and Cochrane Without Votes As Chairmen

The meeting of the Standard Exhibition Contract Committee which was attended in full yesterday at the Hays office, was a short one, lasting until 1 o'clock when the World Series ball-game broke up deliberations.

The meeting has been adjourned until 10 A. M. this morning. R. H. Cochrane of Universal and R. F. Woodhull, who sat on the committee meetings in Chicago last year, and who attended the meeting yesterday, are understood to be without a vote in the committee, merely acting as alternating chairmen.

MINN. ARBITRATION SETS PRECEDENT

MINNEAPOLIS—Educational Exchanges, Inc., was involved in an unusual Arbitration Award here, in the first meeting of the Arbitration Board since the differences between the theatre owners and the arbitration board were ironed out.

The precedent handed down was decided in a case brought by Educational against H. A. Brummond, former owner of the Princess Theatres, Thief River Falls, Minn.

Educational had voluntarily cancelled a Kinograms contract because of inability to deliver a seven-days-old news, and the exhibitor retaliated by cancelling out an unfinished comedy contract.

W. A. Steffes presented the exhibitor's case, claiming equity, and argued that the exhibitor should be granted the right to terminate another contract held with the same company which had cancelled out a contract on the showman.

The Board ruled in favor of the exhibitor.

TRENDLE-KUNSKY WIRE NO "WARNER SALE" YET

George W. Trendle, general manager of the Kunsky houses in Detroit, in a wire to this publication today, emphatically denied the story printed in this and other papers that the Kunsky circuit had been sold to Warner Brothers or anyone else. Mr. Trendle stated that the publication of such a yarn had proven very damaging to the Kunsky chain in "negotiations now in progress in other matters."

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher and Editor

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schiener, Business Manager; Executive and Editorial Offices, 45 West 45th Street, New York. Telephone Bryant 6160. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Exhibitors Review Publishing Corporation. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hemet 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York—Charlie McCarthy, of Paramount, introduced Tommy Meighan at yesterday's session of the A.M.P.A. and inasmuch as McCarthy hadn't been there for more than a year, Meighan thought he should do the introducing . . . Bert Adler was another long time absentee to show up at the A.M.P.A. and someone remarked that they had to make him treasurer of the T.N.T. dinner fund to get him to come . . . Julius Stern arrives from Europe on the Berengaria and he will be met at the dock by Abe Stern et al . . . Milton Cohen says he can't see why he should fight his way through a crowd, so he sat down in front of a radio yesterday and got all the ball game in comfort and made mind bets with himself on each inning . . . Billy Brandt is injecting a great deal of mystery in his big stag smoker at the Motion Picture Club on Oct. 11, and won't tell anyone what is likely to happen but promises a lot of surprises . . . Ralph Williams, of Universal's southern sales force, who has been here for a couple of weeks, expects to return to Atlanta tomorrow . . . Al Feinman proved himself a Cicero in introducing Glen Tryon to the A.M.P.A. members yesterday, but the inside tip is that Dick Anderson got stuck for the taxi bill . . . Myron Josephs was here from New Haven yesterday spending the day with Ted Schlanger, of Universal, and doping out some big theatre deal . . . Charles Wilcox, brother of the wider known Herbert Wilcox, arrives in New York today from England with a couple of pictures built for the American market . . . P. A. Parsons, always a gallant, proposed that the A.M.P.A. send Delight Evans a congratulatory message on the occasion of her becoming editor of Screenland Magazine, and it was sent . . . George Blair, who formerly came to New York frequently, arrived in New York yesterday on one of his now rare visits, and will return to Rochester tonight . . . George Harvey was a happy president yesterday over the fact that more than 100 members turned out for the regular weekly session . . .

NAT. STUDIOS HAS 5 COS. IN COMBINE

The National Studios, Inc., has begun to function actively, since the amalgamation of several film supply companies, including the Excelsior Illustrating Co., the National Photographers, Inc., the Animated Products Corporation, the Manhattan Slide & Film Corporation and the Standard Slide Corporation.

The officers of the new corporation are B. J. Knoppleman, Pres., I. A. Rosenberg, V.P., Murray Robinson, V.P., Jack Knoppleman, Sec'y and Nat Cherin, Treasurer.

In a formal statement, Knoppleman points out that a tremendous overhead has been eliminated and through the pooling of resources, a complete motion picture service in slides, displays and photography in all its branches will be rendered.

Lightman to Discuss Talkies at Toronto Meeting

(Continued from page 1)

He made a flail survey of the situation and predicts that the Toronto meeting will eclipse all previous efforts.

Additional speakers will include M. A. Lightman, Pres. of the Arkansas M.P.T.O. who will talk on "Main Street and Talking Pictures," and a representative of the big electrical companies now manufacturing talking pictures.

George Harvey, Pres. of the A.M.P.A. has been selected as a delegate of the advertising and publicity men to the convention.

RCA Dickers for

Broadway Plays

(Continued from page 1)

picture man in the organization.

Recently some one suggested they go out and tie up some of the big legitimate producers, offering finances to make pictures of their stage successes and further, guaranteeing them a release.

It is understood the release is a triangular affair of Educational-Earl Hammons-J. D. Williams. Most producers approached have listened attentively and are now looking for the money. None have definitely seen this mazuma yet.

Waxman Appeal

The law suit of A. P. Waxman, Warner publicist, and Channing Pollock, Edgar and Arch Selwyn, which the former lost and was ordered to pay costs, came up in the U. S. Supreme Court in Washington on Monday.

Attorneys for both sides filed petitions for writs of certiorari to appeal the decision to the Second Circuit Court of Appeals.

Brice on Vitaphone

WOR Radio Hour

Fannie Brice will be the guest artiste for Warner Bros. next Vitaphone Jubilee Hour Monday evening, October 8, at 9:30 over Station WOR and the entire Columbia Chain.

At that time Miss Brice will sing several of the song numbers featured by her in her first Vitaphone picture, "My Man" which she recently completed at the Warner studio.

B'KLYN MARK-STRAND NOVEL TALKIE STUNT

Managing Director Harry C. McDonald of the Brooklyn Mark Strand has assembled the first Harold Lloyd feature with a talking sequence. As an added attraction the Brooklyn Strand is playing Harold Lloyd in "The Freshman" the climax of which is a football game in which Harold Lloyd as Speedy wins the big game for his college with a touchdown in the last minute of play.

Into this football action Mr. McDonald has inserted a talking sequence from the current Fox Movie-tone News. The talking sequence shows Rockne of Notre Dame, Roper of Princeton and Yost of Michigan instructing their squads in how to throw passes, etc.

"Buster Brown" Booked

over Fox Circuit

The William Fox circuit of theatres in greater New York have booked the "Buster Brown" Universal series of single reel comedies, to fill the silent spots in their programs. What with the excellent brand of short reel movietone subjects made by Fox, the booking of a silent single reel in these houses is quite an honor for the Universal sales force.

HOPKINS CONE DEVICE

TO IMPROVE TALKIES

Titanifrone, a new device invented by Marcus C. Hopkins, which is expected to improve the art of the talking motion picture has been demonstrated at the Eltinge Theatre to a number of electrical and talking picture engineers.

The new principle discards the horn principle in sound reproduction and substitutes the cone principle, which will give Movietone and Vitaphone a quality of reality and beauty, according to the inventor.

Hanaphone in Mich.

DETROIT.—The Hanaphone Corporation of Michigan has been organized, with Dave Mundstuk as president, to distribute Hanaphone talking picture equipment to Michigan exhibitors.

Mundstuk will also have a series of single reels for exhibitors installing Hanaphone, and later on a series of talking and sound features.

Circuits Book Serial

The serial "Vultures of the Sea" is getting quite a play by the larger circuits around New York. It has been booked by Loew's, A. H. Schwartz Enterprises, Consolidated Mayer and Schneider and the Morris Kutinsky circuit in New Jersey. It is a Mascot serial produced by Nat Levine and released in New York by Biltmore pictures.

Coast Producers Here

C. C. Burr, Charles Rogers and Sam Sax, Hollywood producers are all in town and stopping at the Park Central Hotel.

MEIGHAN IN TRIBUTE TO JUDICIOUS PUBLICITY

Thomas Meighan, who was a guest of the AMPA yesterday paid tribute to the publicity men by stating that it was his sincere opinion that at least 50% of his success on the stage and screen was due to judicious publicity.

Other guests of the Association were Glenn Tryon, Barbara Kent, stars of "Lonesome" and Edward Clark, author, producer, actor, etc. of the play "Relations".

'COQUETTE' PRE-RELEASE SET FOR APRIL FIRST

"Coquette", Mary Pickford's first all-talking picture for United Artists, will be pre-released simultaneously in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and Boston on Easter Monday, April 1, 1929, probably at advanced prices. Definite contractual arrangements with the producer of the stage play determined the pre-release cities.

National release of "Coquette" to all theatres will be set for early next fall, and at that time both sound and silent versions, which Sam Taylor is making separately, will be distributed. Production starts October 15th.

New Aurora Studios

DENVER.—A motion picture studio in Aurora, Colorado, may be established by Sid Newman, cameraman, who intends to take over the old studio and plant of the True Features Corporation at East Colfax and Emporia Street and convert it into a modern plant. Comedies and a newsreel will be first produced.

NEW YORK'S
NEWEST RENDEZVOUS!

LUNCHEON $75
DINNER $150

Hotel Windsor
Dining Salon

Gypsy Music
Gypsy Atmosphere

No Cover Charge

Dance to the Music of
ALBERT BELA SOBLO'S GYPSY
ORCHESTRA

100 West 58th St.

At 6th Avenue

Phone CIRCLE 8580

Direction H. FEINBERG
Formerly Knickerbocker Grill

A Showman's Treat

By ARTHUR JAMES
in Motion Pictures Today

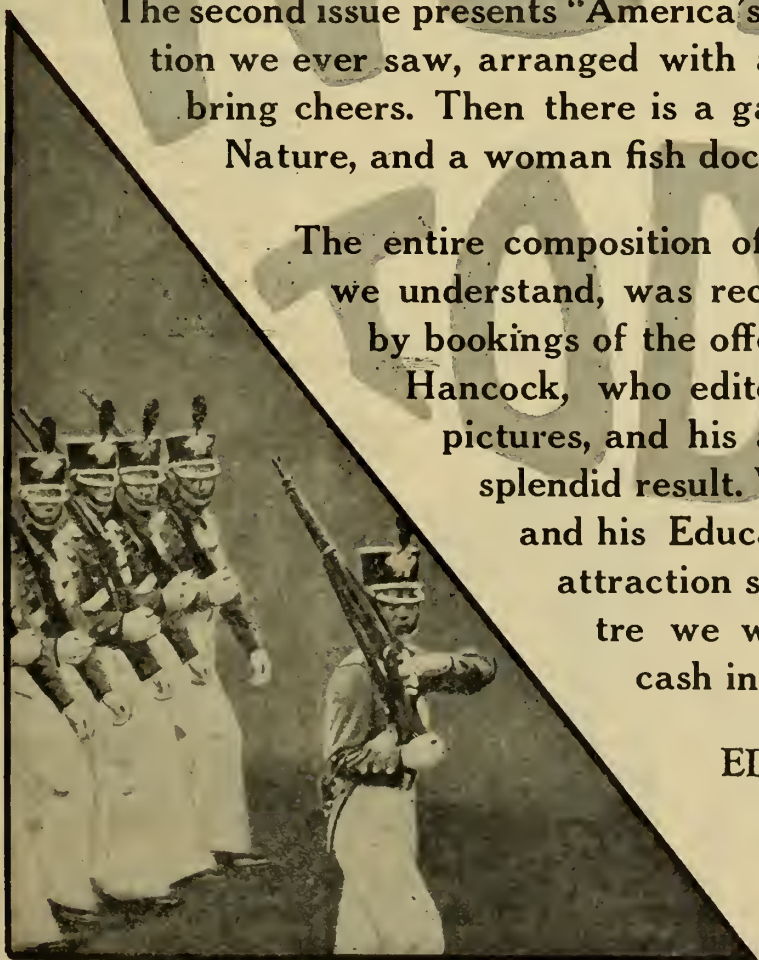

A brand new and a refreshing series has come to our eye in Educational's new magazine reel "Our World Today." We have been privileged to see the first two of the issues, and in thrill, human appeal and fine handling they surpass anything of the sort we have seen attempted in a dozen years. The issues have the class quality which will make them especially acceptable to the larger theatres and the mass quality which is essential for all theatres.

Number One—serially numbered 1868—includes a stirring sequence "Thrills of the Sea" which is titled in rhyme. It has dignity, power and movement that is fascinating. In the same reel Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney's sculptures in a "Women of the Hour" feature of the reel and a corking cowboy sequence give variety contrast and wide appeal.

The second issue presents "America's Pride," the best West Point presentation we ever saw, arranged with a certain dramatic sense that should bring cheers. Then there is a gasoline station contrived by Mother Nature, and a woman fish doctor in interesting activities.

The entire composition of each is good showmanship which, we understand, was recognized by the Paramount Theatre by bookings of the offerings. We felicitate Herbert Ernest Hancock, who edited these initial "Our World Today" pictures, and his associate, Allyn Butterfield, on their splendid result. We congratulate Earle W. Hammons and his Educational customers on this very vital attraction series in short form. If we ran a theatre we would smartly advertise the lot and cash in on the pleased patronage.

EDUCATIONAL
FILM EXCHANGES
Inc.

MEIGHAN WITH U.A. RUMOR

Large P-F-L Stock Holdings Enrich Tommy's Fortune

By JOE BLAIR
Hollywood Correspondent

There is a current rumor around the United Artists lot that Thomas Meighan will become a U.A. star next season. On a check up, it was neither denied or affirmed.

Tommie Meighan, after being sunk at Paramount, due to the poor stories he had selected for himself was shifted to Caddo Productions on an arrangement of Howard Hughes making two pictures and Paramount would release them. The pictures have been made, and one, "The Racket" was released and is doing an excellent business. The second one "The Mating Call" is to be given a showing next week, but from previews at several Hollywood theatres, it looks as if this one is a "dud".

Meighan is perhaps the wealthiest actor on either the screen or stage. In the early Paramount days, Tommie took the majority of his salary in Famous Player stock. This made him several times a millionaire and we are told he is one of the largest individual holders of the stock of this organization. In addition to this, Meighan has been very successful in other stock manipulations.

"Juanita" in Spain

LONDON—British Filmmaker Productions will shortly start production of "Juanita", a drama of Spain and the bull-ring with Gladys Frazin and Kenneth MacLaglen.

The film will be made in Seville and Madrid, with the aid and cooperation of the Spanish Government.

Gropper with Fox

Milton Herbert Gropper, co-author of "We Americans" and "The Big Fight" has been signed to a short-term contract by Fox-Movietone and is due in Hollywood by the 15th to do a story or some dialogue.

The company has bought an old play of Gropper's it is understood.

Barrie Play Postponed

Because more time is required in preparing "The Twelve Pound Look" by Sir James Barrie, for the screen, George Arahainbaud, signed to make it, will do another for Tiffany-Stahl before tackling the heavy drama. The new story is "Helen of London" and Eve Sothorn has been signed for the stellar role. The male lead has not yet been cast.

Kerry and Talmadge

Norman Kerry, having just returned from his trip abroad, reports seeing Constance Talmadge in Paris, and that she will return to Hollywood immediately upon the completion of the picture she is making over there now. Kerry is free-lancing now, but it is rumored that he and Miss Talmadge will be co-starring in a series of pictures by one of the big companies. Both are under contract to Frank Joyce and Myron Selznick who will not divulge their plans at present.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Richard Barthelmess and his company filming "Scarlet Seas", the star's forthcoming First National picture, have returned from a four weeks' location cruise on the Pacific. After shooting some important scenes around Catalina Island they found their land legs once more. Betty Compson plays opposite the star and Loretta Young has an important role. John Francis Dillon is directing.

Sylvia Field, who recently left Broadway for Hollywood, has completed her first Movietone assignment at the Fox Studio. She played the role of "Mary" in "Marching On", a two-reel Fox Movietone comedy, in which Chic Sale had the leading role.

"Homesick," a feature comedy with Sammy Cohen, Marjorie Beebe, Harry Sweet, Henry Armetta and Pat Harmon in the cast has been completed at the Fox West Coast Studio. Henry Lehrman directed the production.

Harry Pollard anticipates completing "Show Boat" the Edna Ferber Story by November 15th.

The Cohens and Kellys, who began their everlasting quarrel in Atlantic City, will make up in the final reel at Universal City this week under the direction of William Craft.

Julian Johnson, head of Paramount's staff of title writers, has just been assigned to title the latest Emil Jannings picture, "Sins of the Fathers", now in production at Hollywood. Johnson's titles for "The Patriot", the Ernst Lubitsch production starring Jannings now current at the Rialto Theatre, were singled out for special praise by many of the critics.

E. D. Biggers in N. Y.

Earl Derr Biggers, popular novelist, whose mystery story, "Behind That Curtain," has been bought for screen production by Fox Films, has arrived in New York from California.

John Loder Assigned

Captain John Loder, the British actor discovered by Jesse L. Lasky during his recent European trip, was assigned yesterday to appear in "Half an Hour", the James M. Barrie play.

Eames Returns

Clare Eames, who has a prominent role in support of Alice Terry in Rex Ingram's "Three Passions," made in France and England, has just landed in New York. She has completed her part in the Cosmo Hamilton film.

Abe Stern in N. Y.

Abe Stern, vice-president and treasurer of the Stern Film Corporation, makers of two-reel comedies for Universal release, returned to New York this week from Hollywood, where he spent the summer.

"Nize Baby" Halted

Activities on the production of "Nize Baby" have been halted at the M-G-M lot. The story is being changed and several members of the cast are being replaced.

Thompson Busy

Harlan Thompson, Broadway playwright who recently left for Hollywood is now at the Fox West Studio writing dialogue in collaboration with Frederick H. Brennan for "Badges," a new Movietone feature.

Veiller to Coast

Bayard Veiller, author or "The Trial of Mary Dugan," leaves tonight (Friday) for the West coast, where he will assist in the production of the all-talking version of his play at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio.

Walsh Returns

After three weeks in Zion National Park and Cedar City, Utah, filming exterior scenes for "In Old Arizona," an all dialogue feature, Raoul Walsh and a company of players have returned to the Fox Movietone city in Hollywood, where interior scenes will be made.

Reisner with Pathe

Chuck Reisner, recently signed by Producer Paul Bern, started camera work this week on "Noisy Neighbors," his first directorial effort at the Pathe Studios. This is the production that will have the entire Quillan family of vaudeville fame in featured roles.

Lewis Editing Serial

Camera work has been completed on "The Tiger's Shadow," the Pathe serial to follow "Eagle of the Night," and has been turned over to Randolph Lewis for editing. Lewis was at one time associated with the publicity and advertising departments of Pathe in New York.

WARFIELD DENIES PICTURE ENTRANCE

David Warfield is quite peeved at the report given out on the coast that he was to join the Warner Brothers in that he would play in several Vitaphone pictures the coming year. A representative from The Daily Review was told over the phone by Mr. Warfield, that he had "no intention of going in any picture silent or sound", and as a matter of fact was "considering nothing but rest and amusement".

"U" Gets Prize Novel

Alfred Neumann, author of "The Patriot", considered by many, to be the finest picture ever made, has sold his prize winning novel, "The Devil" to Universal. This book ran to eighty-five editions in Europe and five editions in America, and Universal plans making it on a huge scale. The story takes place at the time of Louis XI and concerns a half French and half German barber, confidante of the King. Joseph Schildkraut will probably get the lead.

TRAVELERS select the Great Northern for its wonderful location in Chicago's "loop". They return because the large comfortable rooms, homelike environment, attentive service, excellent food and moderate charges make it an ideal hotel.

400 Newly Furnished Rooms,
$2.50 a day and up. Sample
Rooms $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00
and $8.00.

Walter Craighead, Manager
DEARBORN STREET FROM JACKSON
TO QUINCY
New Garage One-Half Block

NEW YORK'S NEWEST AND FINEST HOTEL

SMARTLY NEAR THE CENTER OF THINGS

Around the corner from New York's exclusive shopping district, readily accessible to leading theatres, and railroad terminals, yet in a neighborhood socially correct and away from the noise and turmoil of the business district. The Park Central enjoys a location distinctly unique in its advantages. Come to the Park Central, New York's newest and finest hotel, where you will find advantages heretofore unknown to American hostilities — Radio outlets Electric Refrigeration . . . Period Salons and Roof Patios for private social functions swimming pool . . . Florentine Grille featuring the Park Central Grille Orchestra . . . other features equally unusual and desirable. Single rooms five dollars per day and up. Double rooms eight dollars per day and up.

THE PARK CENTRAL
FIFTY-FIFTH STREET AT 7th AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY

All Elements in Industry Unite on Contract Without Loopholes

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Formerly EXHIBITORS TRADE REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

VOL. 24 No. 81

New York, Saturday, October 6, 1928

FIVE CENTS

OBSERVATIONS

"Toilers"

We saw Tiffany-Stahl's "Toilers" yesterday and heard one of the best synchronizations yet tacked on to a picture. It was recorded by R.C.A. Photophone from an orchestration done by Hugo Riesenfeld. The music was well adapted and the sound effects were sensible and not overdone. If you are wired for sound be sure and get this one and without wires play it anyhow, it is a good picture.

Poor Business

Reports coming to us from some exhibitors in small towns and theatres operating in neighborhoods of cities tend to show that the installation of a sound equipment and the booking of both long and short talking pictures have not increased business and in some cases patronage fell off. Add to this the knowledge that the big downtown houses running talkies and sound pictures are doing exceptionally well. How do you figure it? Why should sound pictures draw in the big houses and not do so well in the small towns, considering the fact that with few exceptions the same pictures are being run in the houses of both types?

Paramount Lot

Every building on the Paramount lot has a double use. In addition to the service of offices, dressing rooms, etc., the exterior of the buildings are so constructed so that they might be used in pictures. As an instance, the exterior of Clara Bow's dressing room is a brown-stone front house, what appears to be the main entrance of a large hotel is the dressing room of Emil Jannings. Jesse Lasky's office has an exterior of old English architecture. That is sane economy.

Loew-Publix

The rumor persists that the theatres of the Loew and Publix chains will be merged in some way and with the joint attractions of Paramount and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, with a few Warner-First National pictures thrown in, there will be no booking time left for any other producer. A sidelight to the rumor brings the information that William Fox has known for some time that Messrs. Zukor and Schenck had some thought of pooling their theatres, and from the moment this word was

(Continued on page 2)

STANDARD CONTRACT NOW FINAL NO RESERVATIONS-EXCEPTIONS

MARKS BROS. ASK FOR COURT DELAY

CHICAGO—The Marks Brothers suits against the Balaban & Katz Circuit, Publix, K-A-O and other film and vaudeville distributors, for alleged blacklisting on pictures and presentation artists, comes up in Judge Page's court again, after having been put over from July 12.

Counsel for both sides will appear today, to agree on a date for trial. Attorneys for Marks Brothers have asked the defendants for an additional extension of time, which was agreed to.

One stipulation was made that two week's notice be given before the plaintiffs are ready to go to trial.

LOEW CIRCUIT BOOKS 'LONESOME' & 'MELODY'

"Lonesome" and "The Melody of Love", Universal's first talking pictures, will be shown over the entire Loew Circuit in and around New York City at an early date, according to a deal completed yesterday between David Loew, representative of the big New York chain, and two Universal sales executives, Earl W. Kramer, general sales manager for the New York territory and Eddie Golden, sales manager for sound pictures.

Freud-Voronoff and Steinach in Talkies

A new European talking picture device is at present recording a scientific lecture which will be released shortly on an American lecture circuit, thus replacing the lecturer. Dr. Benjamin Gayelord Hauser, Viennese physiologist and chemist will "speak" to audiences in as many as half a dozen auditoriums in various parts of the United States simultaneously.

Dr. Hauser will send a film and an operator in his place. In addition to himself as principal lecturer, Dr. Hauser will appear in conversation and dialogue with such eminent authorities as Professors Steinach and Voronoff, famous rejuvenation specialists, Dr. Kuehne of Leipsic and Professor Freud, the psychoanalyst of Vienna.

Full Committee Hits on Plan to Finance Arbitration Boards Not to Be Linked with Operation of National or Local Exhibitor Organizations

The salient points of the all-day session of the Contract Committee of the Motion Picture Trade Practice Conference at the Hays office yesterday, resulted in three vital agreements between the exhibitors and distributors. These agreements should settle for the time being and for the next few successive years, the differences which stood in the way of perfect accord in their contractual relationships.

Chiefly, the resolution drawn up and agreed to yesterday by the full Contract Committee, provides that the contract as agreed upon at Chicago in February 1928 is now finally agreed upon as the Standard Exhibition Contract of the motion picture industry — without reservations or exceptions of any kind or character.

Secondly, a definite stand on financing of Arbitration Boards was taken, when it was decided that this financing of Board of Arbitration should not be linked with the financing of the national and local exhibitor organizations and THIRDLY, and this settles the one bone of

(Continued on page 2)

Conway Funeral Services to Be Held Tuesday

Funeral services for Jack 'Con' Conway, late of Variety, will be held next Tuesday at 10 A.M. from St. Malachys Church on 49th St. Friends and associates of the veteran screen writer and editor will attend.

NEW UFA THEATRE IN GALA BERLIN OPENING

BERLIN—The new UFA theatre, "Universum" has been opened with "Looping the Loop" the sensational circus film with Werner Kraus and Warwick Ward as rivals in love.

A notable gathering of private and governmental officials highly praised the architectural and decorative qualities of the new theatre.

Powers Cinephone to Distribute in Pa.

The Cinephone Equipment Corporation of Pennsylvania has been organized in Dover, Delaware with $50,000 capital, to make devices for production of sound for and from picture films.

This company will handle the distribution of reproducing devices of the Powers Cinephone in Pennsylvania.

Tucker at AMPA

Sophie Tucker will be the guest of honor at the weekly luncheon of the AMPA in the Paramount Hotel on October 11th.

"SUBMARINE" BOOKED FOR $2 ROADSHOWS

"Submarine", Columbia's undersea special will be road-showed by the company in Philadelphia and Baltimore.

The picture opens day and date at the Erlanger Theatre, Philadelphia, and the Ford Theatre, Baltimore, on October 8. Both are limited engagements at $2.00 top. Preparations are now under way for gala openings in both cities, to be followed by two performances daily for the remainder of the run.

KRASSIN FILM SHOT

Nobile Expedition Salvage to Be Shown

MOSCOW—Approximately 100,000 feet of film was used in recording the exploits of the icebreaker "Krasin" on its Nobile Expedition salvage.

A crack Russian cameraman equipped with Debisil apparatus accompanied the expedition. Cutting of the film is now in progress and will be shown shortly in Berlin.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher and Editor

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager; Executive and Editorial Offices, 45 West 45th Street, New York Telephone Bryant 6160. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Exhibitors Review Publishing Corporation. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Jue Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514)

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Distributor, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York—George Harvey is getting real good to the ladies; he's going to have Sophie Tucker at the A.M.P.A. next Thursday and Sophie will tell the boys all about things over in England . . . Walter K. Hill, dean of press agents, has written many jokes during his checkered career dealing publicity, and now he's making use of them by going through the old scrap books and digging them out for radio audiences . . . Jesse Goldberg arrived from the coast yesterday for a stay of a couple of weeks . . . Harry Brandt says the world series ball game looked like a motion picture convention with every branch of the industry represented . . . Henry E. Wilkinson, buyer of the Greek Circuit, is here from Pittsburgh for a few days, loading up (? ?) with good pictures, so find him boys for he's said to be easy . . . James F. Lundy has been added to the exploitation staff of Universal and sent to Cincinnati, and there are rumors that a number more men wanted; now watch the run on the bank . . . Julius Stern and Max Alexander returned yesterday from a long stay in Europe and will go to the coast in a couple of weeks . . . Keley Allen tried to buy a theatre ticket for half price, pointing out to the box office man that one eye was on the blink and he could see nothing with it . . . George Bradley, the versatile, has been signed up by the Mirror to write a column under the heading "Broadway" and will devote a lot of space to the doings of picture people along the big street . . . E. K. Nadel has gone to the coast for Fox to take an important position in the production end of Movietone . . . Charlie Brenan, Universal's Washington exploitation man has a nice job for a few days, escorting Barbara Kent around while she makes a lot of personal appearances . . .

A. F. OF L. THREATENS READE CHAIN WALKOUT

The Reade chain of theatres in New Jersey are faced with a musicians strike and walk-out, as the result of the employment of a scab orchestra in the Savoy Theatre at Asbury Park.

The American Federation of Labor is planning to call out all union employees of the Reade chain, in retaliation, and these will include stage hands, operators and musicians in Long Branch, Red Bank and other towns.

Unless demands for the regular union wage scale is met today or by Monday at the latest a general walk-out will occur.

NAVY BAND HELPS ZURO WITH SCORE

Henry J. Peterman, leader of the United States Naval Academy Band, is cooperating with Josiah Zuro, musical director of Pathe sound pictures, in insuring absolutely authentic music for the synchronization of "Annapolis", the Pathe picture staged in the actual locale of the patriotic adventure story.

Standard Contract Final no Reservations contention which has existed to date, the Committee now has agreed upon a plan to finance the operations of the Boards of Arbitration.

(Continued from page 1)

What this plan is, was not divulged yesterday, but details will be forthcoming shortly.

The entire resolution adopted by the Committee reads:

"WHEREAS, the current Standard Exhibition Contract was agreed upon by the Motion Picture Trade Practice Conference Contract Committee at Chicago on the 21st day of February, 1928, with the understanding that if prior to June 1, 1928, a plan to finance the operations of the Boards of Arbitration and of the national and all local exhibitor organizations was not agreed upon the Contract Committee would again meet at a time and place to be designated to make whatever amendments, eliminations from, or additions to the contract deemed necessary, and

"WHEREAS, the Contract Committee having again met in the City of New York on October 4th and 5th, 1928, and having considered and discussed many plans and suggestions to finance the operations of the Boards of Arbitration and the national and all local exhibitor organizations, and

"WHEREAS, the Committee have reached the conclusion that the financing of the Boards of Arbitration should not be linked with the financing of the national and local exhibitor organizations, and

"WHEREAS, the Committee have agreed upon a plan to finance the operations of the Boards of Arbitration,

"NOW THEREFORE, the members of the Contract Committee hereby agree that the contract as agreed upon at Chicago on February 21, 1928 be and the same hereby is finally agreed upon as the Standard Exhibition Contract of the motion picture industry, without reservations or exceptions of any kind or character, the Contract Committee, however, continuing to act in relation thereto under and in accordance with the Resolution of the Trade Practice Conference which appointed the Committee.

"Signed by Felix F. Feist, Jos. I. Schnitzer, Ned E. Depinet, R. R. Biechele, Nathan Yamins, B. N. Bernstein, Gabriel L. Hess, Secretary, H. M. Richey, Secretary.

"Attested by Chairmen R. H. Cochran and R. F. Woodhull."

Two Big Films to Hit B'way Columbus Day

Publix Theatres announces a conflict in courtship and marriage in their schedule of "The Wedding March" at the Rivoli and "The Battle of the Sexes" at the Rialto.

Both pictures open the same day, Friday, October 12th. "The Wedding March" will begin at the Rivoli at 9:45, and fifteen minutes later "The Battle of the Sexes" will be staged at the Rialto.

Victor to Equip Big Spanish Exposition

At the invitation of the United States government the Victor Talking Machine Company will install in this country's three exhibition buildings at the Ibero-American Exposition which opens in Seville, Spain, March 15, 1929, one of the most elaborate systems for reproducing and broadcasting music thus far developed by Victor experts.

For the participation of the United States, Congress has appropriated $700,000, two-thirds of which will be used for a permanent United States building which, at the close of the exposition, will become the quarters of the United States consulate at Seville.

The United States will be the only English-speaking country to participate in the Ibero-American Exposition.

Sugarman Happy

SAN FRANCISCO—Harry Sugarman, President of the West Coast Junior Circuit has realized a life-long dream, in the opening of his new Golden Gate, a De Luxe film theatre, after the Egyptian style. The theatre seats 1,800. Sugarman is the son-in-law of Mike Gore, former Wescos theatre magnate.

"Our Gang" Departs

Hal Roach's "Our Gang" youngsters yesterday caught the express for St. Louis, where they will spend a week, with another week in Kansas City before returning to the West Coast studio.

OBSERVATIONS

(Continued from page 1)

brought to him, called his board of directors and financial advisors together and the result of this meeting caused Fox to start his present buying and building plan.

WILKERSON

Marion Davies Home from European Trip

Marion Davies arrived home yesterday from a European visit and will spend a week or two in the East before going on to the coast studio. The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star was accompanied by her father, Judge Bernard J. Douras of Brooklyn Francis Marion, the scenarist and Carolyn Bishop.

Miss Davies's last picture, "Show People," in which she is co-starred with William Haines, completed before she sailed abroad will be released as a Cosmopolitan sound feature for M-G-M.

WORLD SOUND FILM SYMPHONY STARTED

LONDON—Walter Ruttmann, noted German producer, who has under way an odd picture with sound called "The Melody of the World" is leaving shortly for America to engage notables to appear in the talking film, which is described as a "world sound-film symphony".

He has thus far made arrangements to dialogue Mahatma Gandhi, Rabindranath Tagore and other world notables. The sound system he is using is the Tri-Ergon Musik A.G. which is the same as Movie-tone.

Spanish Congress

MADRID—The first Spanish national moving picture congress will take place shortly in this city, with King Alfonso presiding, 500 editors, exhibitors, artists, directors, etc., will attend, and discuss means of promoting the film industry in Spain.

Several German firms are sending representatives to the conference.

Small in N. Y.

Edward Small, Hollywood, producer and one of the industry's largest agents, is in New York at the Park Central. He expects to be in town for several weeks in the interest of an idea he has regarding the production of sound pictures.

M. P. Club Smoker

The Motion Picture Club of New York is planning a House Warming Smoker for members on October 11, the eve of Columbus Day.

NEW YORK'S
NEWEST RENDEZVOUS!

LUNCHEON $75
DINNER $150

Hotel Windsor
Dining Salon

Gypsy Music
Gypsy Atmosphere

No Cover Charge

Dance to the Music of
ALBERT BELA SOBLO'S GYPSY
ORCHESTRA

100 West 58th St.
At 6th Avenue

Direction H. FEINBERG
Formerly Knickerbocker Grill

Phone CIRCLE 8580

PICTURE REVIEWS

"LONESOME"

Directed by Paul Fejos
Featuring Barbara Kent
and Glenn Tryon.

"Lonesome" is a good program picture but a poor special, tho advertised as a "super talking picture." Had it not been for the uninspired direction, the poor photography and the very amateurish work of the leading players, this simple story of a lonesome boy and girl, their quest for comradeship and love and how they found them, would have been a classic. The talking sequences are appropriate and well done, but for the most part the picture lacks original handling, and Glenn Tryon, a capable young actor in other roles, seems here terribly miscast, as does Barbara Kent, who has a lot to learn since her work at no time smacks of sincerity. Throughout the picture one is always conscious of the director's orders, and whatever they were, they kept "Lonesome" from being a great picture. The picture, doubtless, has great audience appeal and its biggest faults are the "sins of omission."

"YELLOW CONTRABAND"

Pathe
Directed by Leo D. Maloney
Featuring Leo Maloney,
Gretel Yoltz, Noble Johnson.

Photography by Edward A. Kull
Pathe has a corking mystery-melodrama here in a Western setting, with Maloney playing a dual role, in most satisfactory manner. Gretel Yoltz, who should change her name, is a great bet, displaying fine talent and a brain. Continuity is splendidly done, with mystery interest held tight throughout. At only one or two spots, does the story become intricate for the fans to follow, otherwise, the plot is O.K.

A story of the efforts of the Internal Revenue department to run down a gang of dope peddlers and smugglers. The action opens with a raid on a Chinese gambling joint, which results mysteriously for the cops. The action then goes back to explain why the raid was made and how it happens to mystify the police. Sufficient to state, that the girl who aided the dope-runners turned out to be a Federal detective and she marries the hero, who also was an operative.

"WIN THAT GIRL"

Fox
Directed by David Butler
Featuring David Rollins,
Sue Carol, Tom Elliott, Roscoe Karns.

This film started out as a breezy and sprightly satire on football as it was and is played, in the past and today. Fine research work and direction lifts the first half of the picture out of the ordinary, but when the story lapses into the modern period, it simmers down to an ordinary collegiate kid-story. The best work is done by the elder members of the cast, with Carol and Rollins, just nice and adequate.

Two families, college rivals for football honors, carry their hate down through the second and third generations, their principal object being to develop offspring that will make football heroes. One college has never been able to defeat its rival and our present day hero, a puny disappointment, physically, nevertheless manages to win the first victory, through no particular efforts of his own, not counting a hay fever attack which does the work.

"THE FLEET'S IN"

Paramount
Directed by Mal St. Claire Story by Monte Brice
Cast Clara Bow,
James Hall, Jack Oakie.

With the combination of Clara Bow's popularity and a knockout title, this one can't miss. Not as good a story as some of her recent pictures, "The Fleet's In" is very amusing nevertheless. Concerns a very pure little red hot mamma who works in a dance hall, and it seems from the picture that all the boys joined the navy just for a chance to get in a fight over her. There is a great deal of rough-housing and the titles by George Marion are a panic. Excellent work is done by the star and James Hall. Jack Oakie comes in for a few laughs too. St. Clair's subtle hand is evident in many scenes which had they been less carefully handled would have been vulgar. The picture does not exactly afford Miss Bow a chance to add to her public, but there is no doubt but what it will be a box-office clean-up.

"THE MYSTIC MIRROR"

UFA
Featuring Fritz Rasp,
F. Malten, E. von Winterstein.

This foreign production is chiefly commendable for its fine photography and excellent acting. The continuity is well done, but the story is not expertly woven together at all points. It is a mystery play, whose climax keeps you guessing. Rasp does the best work in the cast. If your patrons do not dislike foreign pictures, this ought to be a good buy.

An ancient castle, which contains a magic mirror able to foretell the future, is purchased by a wealthy libertine, who brings his city guests along to the castle—the ground-keeper who resents the new owner, advises him not to look in the mirror—in an attempt to seduce the ground-keeper's daughter, he chases her into the room where the girl is saved, when the owner looks into the mirror and learns that he is to meet death by strangulation. How this occurs and how the girl is reunited with her real lover forms the balance of the tale.

"SINNERS IN LOVE"

FBO
Directed by George Melford
Featuring Olive Borden,
Huntley Gordon, Daphne Pollard.

Just another underworld-gambling story, which has been changed too much from the story to make it worth-while—will hardly satisfy anyone except fans who want their romance in imaginative doses. Borden does fair work as does Huntley Gordon. Pollard is always marvelous.

Girl living in misery and squalor of mill town goes to New York where she is picked up in a night club and gambling joint on suspicion of being a spy — The owner makes her a maid, so as to find out who she really is. In time, they train her as a come-on for victims of the roulette table. When a wealthy sucker is trimmed, her eyes are opened and she flees—the owner of the club, who has grown to love her rushes to rescue her from assault by the dope fiend, who is killed and then forsakes his evil ways, for the sake of the girl.

"THE TOILERS"

Tiffany-Stahl
Directed by Reginald Barker
Story by L. G. Rigby
Cast Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.,
Jobyna Ralston, Harvey Clark,
Wade Boteler, Robert Ryan.

Reginald Barker has fashioned a fairly good picture out of an original story by L. G. Rigby. It is well acted by a very capable cast of players. The photography is well better than the average and all told, it is good entertainment and will please any type audience. The production could be greatly improved by a new set of titles, the present one's being poor.

It is a story of an orphan girl being adopted by three miners. The climax of the picture is centered around a raging fire in the shafts of the mine, entombing some of the men. The picture is synchronized and the best we have heard.

"THE NIGHT BIRD"

Universal
Directed by Fred Newmeyer
Featuring Reginald Denny,
Betsy Lee, Sam Hardy.

Story by Fred & Fanny Hatton
This film not one of Denny's best and critical audiences in large centers will find the story disappointing—Denny's facial mannerisms are as effective as ever and Betsy Lee, while miscast in this role, gives a talented performance. Director's treatment of story is adequate, but no great highlights.

Prizefighter, on eve of battle for championship, overtrains and is taken to New York, where his managers figure the night life will ease him down a bit—the hero is woman-shy however, but is prevailed on by a little Italian waif, whom he picks up in the park, to take her home and care for her—the girl leaves him, thinking she is in his way, and returns to her cruel uncle—the day of the bit fight comes—our hero wins the battle and hurries to rescue the girl from the clutches of her cruel relative, who gets plenty—all ends well.

Sound Featurettes

"HOW'S YOUR STOCK"

Vitaphone Sketch
Muray Roth and Bryan Foy worked hard to gag some laughs for this one. Its all about Wall Street and the stock market—to the extent of a ticker in the family living room.

Husband buys stock that goes floozy and wife upbraids him for wrecking family bank roll. Maid takes a look at ticker and finds she's been made rich on oil stock. Ditto cook. While husband is tearing hair burglars enter and rob safe right under his nose, bus husband doesn't even get the scent. Father-in-law gives a look at ticker and finds that worthless stock he's holding is now worth a pot of jack. Then it all ends with the old dream gag. Husband is ribbon clerk, and the fade out is on husband gettng balled out by a nance floorwalker.

"REINOLD WERRENATH"

Vitaphone-Vocalist
Here's a gabbie that's flawless in tone, and worthy of a place on any program — especially in uptown houses.

Opens on salon set with the baritone nonchalantly leaning against the piano. Without ceremony or prelude he breaks out with "Mandalay." Then "Duma"—a companion piece, the plaint of an old salt. The two numbers round out a satisfying interlude. And the way Werrenath sings them its nobody's business.

"HURLEY, PUTNAM and SNELL"

Vitaphone-Piano and Songs

This number opens with a trio of singers standing in a living-room, with the license plate end of a piano in focus. They start off with a list of pop numbers we heard last spring. Duo then swing into "I wonder What Will William Tell"—which made us wonder if they knew any more old comedy standbys.

Pianist does a solo while the boys change their pants. They then do a wop comedy ditty "Pastifusa". This final number is done with prop gestures, and the boys look like cabaret cigarette girls.

"3 BROX SISTERS"

Universal-Movietone

Famous sister team of vocalists of the soft and dreamy variety sing three or four numbers in dressy set, accompanied by pianist (girl). The girls have done this sort of thing before in musical comedy and vaudeville and are well known in the big towns.

Their rendition are pleasing although there was a slight mistiness about the reproduction that made one strain the ears. O.K. as a pleasing filler.

Jack Warner-Al Rockett to Head Combined Production

STUDIO GOSSIP

Gilbert Adrian, costume creator at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio who has been visiting the East, engaged in the business of selecting new wardrobes for Greta Garbo, Norma Shearer and other stars of his organization, left yesterday (Friday) for California.

Raymond Hackett, who is now playing the male lead in "The Trial of Mary Dugan" at the Century Theatre, has been given a motion picture contract by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. He plans to leave for the coast on conclusion of the New York engagement of Al Woods' melodramatic hit.

"All At Sea", new Karl Dane-George K. Arthur co-starring vehicle, has gone into production at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio, with the two comedians wearing what are said to be the largest and smallest uniforms ever turned out at the Navy outfitting shop in Los Angeles. Alf Goulding is directing the new picture, and Josephine Dunn, feminine lead in the Capitol's current feature, "Excess Baggage", has the principal feminine role.

John McCormick, producer of Colleen Moore pictures for First National, announces that Al Hall, film editor, has been promoted to comedy constructor on the unit. He will do his first work on "Synthetic Sin."

Prince George's shipmates from the H.M.S. Durban of the British Navy visited First National Studios last week as the guest of Billie Dove. They watched the star make scenes for "Adoration," and voted her their favorite actress.

Six First National contract players are working in one picture, "Ritzy Rosie." They are Alice White, Jack Mulhall, Thelma Todd, Doris Dawson, Frances Hamilton and James Ford.

Brooks Benedict and Eleanor Leslie have been added to the cast of the Reginald Denny-Universal picture "Clear the Deck".

Jack Duffey has started in the second of the Christie-MacDuff series of comedies being released by Paramount. It will be known as "Loose Change".

Charles Lamont and Stephen Roberts, two of the veteran directors at the Educational Studios, are in Mexico inspecting mining properties recently acquired by Roberts. Estelle Bradley, wife of Lamont, and Mrs. Stephen Roberts accompanied the party as far as Houston, Texas, where Mrs. Roberts remained to visit friends and relatives.

Several important stories are being whipped into shape for early production at Universal City.

Joseph Poland and Earl Snell are adapting "His Lucky Day" as a forth-coming Reginald Denny Production. It will be made with dialogue and sound effects.

Nan Cochrane and Faith Thomas are adapting "The Masked Marvel",

By JOE BLAIR
Hollywood Correspondent

With the actual closing of the contract that will bring Warner Brothers and First National together, it is said that all Warner activities will be transferred to the big First National studio and the Warner Hollywood plant will be torn down and business buildings will be erected on this plot.

Jack Warner will be production head of both producing organizations, but the organizations will continue to function separately. Al Rockett will handle First National under the supervision of Warner. This arrangement will continue throughout the present production schedule that will require six or seven months to complete.

CHAPLIN'S NEXT WITH SOUND AND DIALOGUE

Charlie Chaplin's "City Lights" will be fully synchronized and there will be sequences in dialogue. Mr. Chaplin will not permit his tramp character to talk; he will depend wholly upon pantomime.

"City Lights" goes into production within a week. Mr. Chaplin took six months to write his story, and dialogue employed in the talking sequences will be written by him also.

Chaplin hopes to finish camera work in eight weeks.

The supporting cast has not been finally selected. Cameramen will be headed by Rollie Totheroh, with Eddie Gheller and Mark Marlatt assisting. Chaplin was assisted in preparation of his story by Harry Crocker, Henry Clive, Henry Bergman and Carlyle Robinson.

Borden at Columbia

Olive Borden, long a featured player for Fox, has been assigned the leading feminine role of Goldie, gangster girl in Columbia's thrilling drama of the underworld, "Stool Pigeon."

Stone in "Heat"

Lewis Stone has been cast for an important part in the M-G-M-Sidney Franklin picture "Heat". Garbo is starred and Nils Asther plays the lead.

a story taken from the famous Continental novel and play "Polish Blood." It is very likely that this picture will actually be made in Europe, at the exact locations called for in the script.

Paul Schofield, well known coast scenario writer, is adapting "Little Miss Satan" for Laura La Plante, who is now nearing the completion of her big role as Magnolia in "Showboat." "Little Miss Satan" will be directed by Wesley Ruggles and will be made with dialogue and sound.

Speaking of Columbia reminds us that Christie Cabanne is to return to that studio to do "The College Coquette". He recently finished "Driftwood" there.

Guinan Picture Done

The Texas Guinan-Warner picture, "Queen of the Night Clubs" has been finished at the Warner studio. It has not been determined whether Tex will do another for this company.

SHEEHAN ENTHUSIASTIC OVER CAESAR'S 'BARBER'

Word received at the New York office of Fox Film Corporation from Winfield Sheehan, vice-president and general manager, indicates that John Ford is making a talking "wow" of Arthur Caesar's story, "Napoleon's Barber."

In addition to snappy dialogue which has been supplied by Caesar and Ben Holmes, Ford is getting some wonderful pictorial scenes, the report says and lists this Movietone subject as worthy of feature billing on any program.

The cast includes Otto Matiesen, Natalie Golitzin, Frank Reicher, Helen Ware, Philippe de Lacy, D'Arcy Corigan, Rus Powell, Michael Mark, Buddy Roosevelt, Ervin Renard, Y. Toubetsky, Joe Waddell and Henry Hebert.

Hill to Star

Little Doris Hill, having finished her work in the Paramount picture "Avalanche" and given a new long term contract, is to be starred by that company.

Cody for Vaudeville

Lew Cody is about to start on his annual vaudeville tour, having completed his work in the most recent Pringle-Cody picture for M-G-M. While in the East, Lew might do a talking picture.

Ray Griffith Takes

Whispering Test

Ray Griffith has been worried as a result of talking pictures. Ray has no voice and talks in whispers. Someone persuaded him to have it tested for sound pictures. The result of the test proved marvelous and is said to be a riot. Two of the large companies having heard it, have propositioned Ray on a contract. Griffith is all smiles now.

Barthelmess-Moore

to Do Talkers

Both Richard Barthelmess and Colleen Moore will do their next pictures as talkies. The Barthelmess story is "Weary River" by Courtney Riley Cooper and will be directed by Frank Lloyd. Miss Moore has already started work on "Synthetic Sin" which will have dialogue throughout.

Marshall with P-F-L

Frederick Marshall, stage player, has been engaged for the Paramount-Jean Eagles picture "The Letter". It will be directed by Monta Bell and made at the Paramount Astoria studio. Production will start in about ten days.

Hornblow in N. Y.

Arthur Hornblow, Jr., production executive for Samuel Goldwyn, arrived in New York yesterday to confer with Dr. Hugo Reisenfeld on the vocal, sound and orchestral effects for "The Awakening", Vilma Banky's first individual starring picture which is expected for early release.

NEWS

is the currency with which reader interest is bought. No publication ever grew great on a meager editorial bank-roll. THE DAILY REVIEW is making sound investments in news for its growing bank of readers.

Are you cashing in on this? If it's printed in THE DAILY REVIEW it is news and is worth your reading investment.

THE DAILY REVIEW

45 West 45th Street

New York City

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

VOL. 24 No. 82

New York, Monday, October 8, 1928

FIVE CENTS

SALUTATION!

With this issue EXHIBITORS DAILY REVIEW comes under the direction and ownership of the undersigned through purchase from W. R. Wilkerson. Mr. Wilkerson remains as part owner of the publication and in executive association with us.

This newspaper has no heroes. It believes every man in the picture business is made from common clay and is glad of it. It shall delight in recording the success of those who have through good luck or good management been able to keep head above water and make the distance. It proposes to be tolerant of those who strive and even in honest effort, fail of the goal. But it sets out to be intolerant of all who seek to pose with a superior wisdom and it shall be against all sham. It proposes to militantly espouse the cause of the motion picture and to oppose vigorously all who, through inaction or fatheaded stupidity, give aid and succor to its enemies. There can be no middle course in a cause like ours.

When Brookhart bills arise we shall neither straddle nor be half hearted and it shall be our privilege to nail to the wall of publicity those who in reckless or callous fancy fail to support the business that gives them bread. Our only axe is the pictures and picture people. We confess to an open partisanship. We like pictures and we like the people who make and sell them. We don't like those who pussyfoot when any of our picture family is sneered at or attacked. So then with this simple formula we make our bow and we ask only that we shall be judged and measured by our performance.

ARTHUR JAMES.

RCA BUY OF K-A-O CHAIN PREMATURE SAYS KENNEDY —MAY BE CLOSED SOON

FBO INCLUDED IN SALE TO RADIO-PHOTOPHONE GROUP KENNEDY HAS CONTRACT TO OPERATE PATHE—MAY STICK

By W. R. WILKERSON

"The announcement that the Radio Corporation of America had secured control of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum Circuit and the Film Booking Offices of America is premature," said Joseph P. Kennedy in an exclusive interview with the writer.

"It seems as if it will be closed in a short time," added Mr. Kennedy.

This beyond all doubt, sets at rest the rumor that has been going the rounds for the past month that Keith-Albee-Orpheum will be acquired by Warner Brothers.

In an exclusive interview and on being asked what he would do, when and if the deal was consummated, Mr. Kennedy said, "I don't know. You know I am a banker by trade and I might return to that business, but still, I like pictures and have become intrigued with it, and don't forget I have a contract for the operation of Pathe.

When I originally came into this industry it was supposed to have been for only six months and here it has been over two years. I like the business and might stay in it, for if we make this deal, we will have a lot of money to spend, more than I have ever seen or heard of in this industry.

(Continued on page 3)

ROACH AND VICTOR STUDIOS HOOK UP

By the terms of contracts just signed between Hal Roach and the Victor Talking Machine Company, the Hal Roach Studios in Culver City, California, will be allied for many years to come with the reproducing facilities of the Victor organization.

This means that the public will hear the Our Gang Kids, Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, Charley Chase and other Hal Roach stars in talking pictures.

Victor technicians are en route to Mr. Roach's studios and the enlarging of this motion picture plant, which was begun some time ago, will be rushed to completion. The Roach Studios are the only ones whose

(Continued on page 3)

ASHER, SMALL, ROGERS ASSOCIATE WITH GOTHAM

Asher, Small and Rogers have formed a corporation with Sam Sax and Budd Rogers, of Gotham Photoplays Corp., to distribute and service installations of the Bristolphone synchronizing disc device, and to produce features and short subjects synchronized with Bristolphone.

These two organizations are forming the Gotham Bristolphone Photoplays Corp., which will distribute pictures under two brands, to wit: a series of Asher, Small and Rogers productions, and a series of Gotham productions.

The knitting of these two entities

(Continued on page 3)

M.P.T.O. OF MICHIGAN KALAMAZOO CONVENTION

The Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Michigan begin their 9th annual State convention tomorrow at the New Hotel Burdick in Kalamazoo, Michigan.

The convention proper, while opening tomorrow morning and extending over to Wednesday, will be preceded today by a Golf Tournament at the Maple Hills Country Club at noon, and a Board of Directors Dinner, given by W. S. Butterfield at his home on Gull Lake. A short meeting will follow the dinner.

At 6:00 o'clock Wednesday night, a banquet will officially close the convention, at which prominent State

(Continued on page 3)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schlier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 45 West 45th Street, New York. Telephone Bryant 6160. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Exhibitors Review Publishing Corporation.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hemstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondence: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York—Billy Brandt was compelled to notify all the members of the Motion Picture Club to cancel invitations to guests for the smoker on October 11 as so many reservations are demanded that the session will be confined to members only . . . Al Lewin, of the Metro production department, who has been in New York for the past two weeks looking over some plays, will return to the coast on Wednesday . . .

Morty Spring says they can usually take care of one of those coast fellows so he'll be ready to go back in a few days, and is laboring under the impression that Al Lewin brought a horseshoe or something with him . . .

Hal Roach, who has been here for several weeks playing polo and doing other things in addition to a little business, left for the coast Saturday, and now thinks he will buckle down to work on a few sound pictures . . . Joe Kennedy, who is always a good subject for a story, is soon to return from F.B.O. and K.A.O., and maybe he will and again there may be another guess or two, for Kennedy hasn't spoken on the subject . . . George Beban's death on the coast from an injury received while horseback riding, brought grief to his many friends in the industry in New York . . . Cecil Mayberry, general salesmanager of Columbia has departed for the middle west for a trip around the key cities . . .

Charlie Chaplin, according to info from the west, will not talk in his all talkie "City Lights" but will let the others in the east do the vocal stuff . . . E. Oswald Brooks has done what we all know he would—go back to England and grab himself off a big job where his American picture experience will help the British make better pictures . . . Bert Glennon arrived yesterday from the coast to direct "Stepping High" which will be made in sound here in the east.

GENTLEMEN, WE THANK YOU!

High-Spotted in the Friendly Avalanche of Telegrams and Messages of Good-Will Are the Following, and More Will Be Printed To-Morrow.

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
Congratulations on your enterprise as a publisher Stop Controlling as you do the editorial outfit of two trade papers your power for good in this industry is immeasurably great and having watched your work I am confident that you will not abuse this power Stop My associates I am sure join me in this sentiment for your success

Louis B Mayer

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
Congratulations to the entire industry which will further benefit by an enlargement of your activities

R A Rowland

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
Congratulations on your latest step. There is no doubt but that your new trade daily will be militant and well worth while. You have the good wishes of the Universal organization and I am sure that the industry will lend a ready ear to your experienced advice and counsel.

R. H. Cochrane.

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
News of your acquisition of the Exhibitors Daily Review has reached me and knowing of your past activities in the Journalistic Field of Motion Pictures the success of this Daily is more than assured Stop Please accept my heartiest congratulations Stop Good luck

Charles Chaplin

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
More power to you in your new venture. This is a day for strong ideas and experienced guidance in the industry. Your new daily should be decidedly influential.

P. D. Cochrane.

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
Congratulations upon your acquisition of the Exhibitors Daily Review Stop If you will put the same militancy into the Daily Review as you put into the Motion Pictures Today your paper will be of inestimable value to the industry Stop With a daily paper you can give a quick and immediate blow to those who endeavor to injure the industry Stop The value of such an immediate blow is incalculable Stop You have my very best wishes for the success of your enterprise Stop Regards

J. Robert Rubin

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
Two live dailies are twice as good for the business as one Stop I know we can count on you to tell the truth and shame the devil Stop Competition in journalistic enterprise means a better trade press and a strong trade press is a powerful constructive force for the industry Stop Congratulations and success

J D Williams

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
Congratulations Stop I expect to see the Trade Review make rapid strides under your able supervision and fearless editorship

W Ray Johnston

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
I am very glad indeed to join your many friends in congratulating you upon the acquisition of the Exhibitors Daily Review Stop In your further opportunities for constructive service the Motion Picture industry is sure to profit

Irving D Rossheim

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
Its great news and I want to be one of the first to offer my heartiest congratulations Stop Its a fine thing for you and a fine thing for the Motion Picture business Stop Best of luck always

Ned E Depinet

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
Congratulations and best wishes on your new venture Stop Regards

Al Lichtman

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
This business certainly gets away with merger Stop Now that you have taken over the Daily Review suggest you go further and annex a few of the regionals for example Saturday Evening Post and Liberty Stop Best wishes for your success

Howard Dietz

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
We felicitate you on the broadening of your activities and responsibilities in the trade press field, and want to express our sincere hope that you may be able to carry out to the full your splendid ambitions of service to the industry.

Gordon S. White.

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
Just heard of your purchase of the Trade Review Stop Congratulations and best wishes Stop From a friendly enemy

Jack Alicoate

Publisher the Film Daily

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
Congratulations on the wider usefulness of your publications

Glendon Allvine

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
Congratulations and best wishes for your success Stop Expect my cooperation

Harry H. Thomas

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
Congratulations to you and to the Daily Review Stop May you be as big a hit as Lilac Time Stop Greater success than this no man can wish you

Jerome Beatty

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
Instead of the quick and the dead in the Daily field, will now have two live ones. A James daily jolt will accelerate the business. Put World Wide Pictures down for a ringside seat.

Bill Yearsley.

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
You are in tune with the spirit of the times Stop I hope you will be able to accomplish those things you set as your goal Best wishes

Victor M Shapiro

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
Heartiest congratulations on your new venture Stop In your hands this publication should prove a real power in the field Stop Your brilliant results with Motion Pictures Today makes it certain that your new publication will be a shining success Stop Regards

Capt G McL Baynes

Kinogram Publishing Corp

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
Congratulations on your purchase of the Exhibitors Daily Review Stop Your influence in daily journalism will aid wonderfully the good work you have done for Motion Picture with Motion Pictures Today Stop You have been the bulwark of the independents and they and the whole industry owe you much Stop Best personal regards

Samuel Zierler

"All First National Product To Have Dialogue"—Rockett

By JOE BLAIR
Hollywood Correspondent

"Hereafter, all First National pictures will have dialogue," Al Rockett stated upon his arrival at the Burbank Studios. "Both talking and silent versions of all stories will be made. All First National stars including Colleen Moore, Richard Barthelmess, Billie Dove, Corinne Griffith, Milton Sills, Dorothy Mackaill and Alice White are involved in the new state of affairs."

Three sound stages are now in the process of erection at the studio, the first having been practically finished. The second and third will be completed within sixty and ninety days. More than $1,000,000 worth of sound device equipment is now awaiting installation.

Mr. Rockett also announced the purchase of six plays now running in New York by his organization. All are highly successful dramas and will be filmed as movies and talkies.

Arthur A. Lee Returns

Arthur A. Lee, president of Amer-Anglo Corporation, New York City, and vice-president of the Gaumont-British Corporation of Canada, Ltd., returned this morning on the Berengaria from a three-weeks' visit to London, where he conferred with executives of the several British producers and distributors.

RCA Buy of K-A-O

Premature Says Kennedy

(Continued from page 1)

So who can tell? I can't at this time."

About Pathe

When questioned regarding the future of Pathe, Mr. Kennedy stated that the "organization would continue to function as it has in the past few months" and that "Pathe is not included in this deal."

Severe Loss

The industry will be the loser if Joe Kennedy leaves it. Without any knowledge of motion pictures, this young Boston banker came into it a little over two years ago and accomplished more in that short time than has ever been effected before. He took FBO when its profits were small; and with a little careful cutting here and there managed to produce a tremendous profit within a period of not more than six months, and since that time has made everyone connected in its ownership a lot of money.

He was brought into Keith-Albee Orpheum at a time when the stock was selling for 15 and in a little over six months from the time he entered, the stock had consistently risen to a little above 33. In the short time he has been in Pathe he has reduced the indebtedness of that organization over $800,000. If this is not doing things, then we don't know what we are talking about. The accomplishment speaks for itself.

Picture Profits

Mr. Kennedy said "One of the sure ways of making money in pictures is to sell at a time when some one wants to buy and if we did not accept the proposition made to us by RCA we would be adjudged insane. Picture profits, that is actual profits in the production and distribution of pictures, always seem to be around the corner. Take the amount of money invested in this business and compare that with the actual profits and you have a story."

RCA a Power

This deal will make Radio Corporation of America one of the big powers of the industry. It will control 372 houses scattered from coast to coast and will have a production and distribution organization that is fastly forcing itself to the top with a product that has, for the past few months, been consistently good. And it is our guess that Sarnoff and RCA will not stop with this present deal. RCA has been outplayed and outwitted by its cousin Western Electric, but from now on things will be quite a bit different.

AW RATS!!

J. Graham Cutts, director for Gainsborough Pictures, London, having directed Ivor Novello in "The Rats" and "The Triumph of the Rat," will now make "The Return of the Rat."

BERN CREATES BLAYDON PRODUCTION MANAGER

Richard A. Blaydon has been appointed production manager for the Paul Bern productions at the Pathe Studios.

Blaydon started his film work with Paramount a few years ago, and recently has been an assistant and unit production manager to Edward H. Griffith, the Pathe director.

In his new position he has taken up the active management of "Gerardine," "Noisy Neighbors" and other features that Bern is making or preparing for Pathe.

Asher, Small, Rogers

Associate with Gotham

(Continued from page 1)

makes for a holding corporation that places the firm practically at the crest of the independent field. Asher, Small and Rogers are known as producers of such attractions as "McFadden's Flats," "Cohens and Kelleys," "Ladies' Night in a Turkish Bath," "Shepherd of the Hills," "Clashed," and other first run product.

"Times Square," which has just been completed with dialogue and sound effects, will be the initial offering in the firm's new program, with release set at November 1. Alice Day and Arthur Lubin are starred. Herman Heller furnished the synchronized score under production supervision of Harold Shumate.

UFA Fire Loss

Berlin—Fire broke out in the UFA Film Company building last week, in the department in which topical pictures are produced. The damage is more serious than was believed at first, valuable negatives and positives having been totally destroyed.

BRUSSELS FEDERATION SESSIONS START TODAY

BRUSSELS—The first sessions of the newly-organized International Exhibitors' Federation which was formed in Berlin recently, will take place here today, with English, German and French representatives in attendance.

The first rules, regulations and creed of the Federation will be drawn up. Leopold Guttman, president of the German Cinematograph Exhibitors Association, has resigned his post as chairman of the Berlin and Brandenburg District Association, in order to devote himself more fully to the work of organization in the Federation.

Roach and Victor

Studios Hook Up

(Continued from page 1)

sound production is operated by Victor.

Mr. Walter W. Clark, General Recording Expert of the Victor Company, will shortly leave for the coast to supervise the installation of the Electrical Research Products equipment for the Victor Company.

In making the announcement of his contract yesterday, Mr. Roach, who left for the coast, said that the combined efforts of the Victor Company and Hal Roach Studios can produce a new type of entertainment that will be happily received by exhibitors and the motion picture field at large."

T.F.'s Talker

Tiffany-Stahl has decided to make "Squad's Right" as an all-talkie. Eddie Gribbon, with plenty of stage experience under his belt, will have the lead and Eddie Cline will direct.

UFA Pittsburgh Office

David Brill, president of UFA Eastern Distributors, has opened a Pittsburgh branch and appointed Jack Cohen manager.

Buy "Night Hostess"

First National have announced the purchase of the New York stage play, "The Night Hostess," and also an original story, "Riviera."

Fox Signs Another

Fox has a new European find. His name is Muni Weisenfreund (they will do something about that name, that's a cinch.) and will be remembered for his impersonation in "Four Walls."

Beban Relatives to Set Funeral Date

Los Angeles Funeral services for George Beban, noted stage and screen portrayer of Italian roles who succumbed to fatal injuries here Friday, will await the arrival of the actor's sisters and son from New York today.

M P T O of Michigan Kalamazoo Convention

(Continued from page 1)

officials and Edgar A. Guest, Michigan's poet, will talk.

The program tomorrow will open with registration of delegates and the start of the business session at 1:00 P. M. Among the principal addresses will be those made by President H. T. Hall, G. A. Cross, W. S. McLaren, General Manager H. M. Richey, W. C. Bunn of Electrical Research and Mayor E. M. Kennedy.

Tuesday's sessions will include the closing business reports and the election of officers and directors and an address by the new president.

"Show Boat" Soon

There is great jubilation around the Universal lot. This is caused first by the daily rushes of their big production, "Show Boat," and secondly the knowledge that the production will be finished right on schedule. In other words there is just ten days more work on the production.

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.
for
Library Stock Scenes
130 West 46th Street New York
Bryant 8181

Classified Advertisements

Advertisements in this column, 5 cents per word. Cash must be sent with order. No charge for Box Number line. Minimum order, $1. 10% discount 12 issues or more.

POSITIONS WANTED

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY. LADY with 8 years' experience in film business desires position in Motion Picture Industry. Highest References. Box 111, Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

FOR SALE

AN OLD AND WELL ESTABLISHED ORCHESTRAL BUSINESS or Band Providers. Fully licensed, agency for variety, etc. Price $4,500. Commodious offices, extensive up-to-date library and music. Established 25 years. Open to every inspection and investigation. Write May Walter Orchestrals, 81, Shaftesbury Avenue, London, W.1.

MOTION PICTURE AND "STILL" cameras rented, sold and exchanged. Portable lights for sale and for rent. Keep us advised of your wants. Ruby Camera Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City

LOCAL FILMS

MOTION PICTURES MADE TO ORDER Commercial, Home or Industrial. We have excellent facilities and the best cameramen. Our price, 20c per foot. Ruby Film Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

WHETHER YOU WANT TO HIRE someone or be hired; buy or sell a theatre, trade or sell equipment, or do almost anything else in the motion picture business, an ad in this department will get you results. If you want us to word the ad for you, the services of our advertising experts are at your call. Simply tell us what you want to do, and how many words you want used. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

NEW YORK'S
NEWEST RENDEZVOUS!

LUNCHEON $.75
DINNER $ 1.50

Hotel Windsor
Dining Salon

Gypsy Music
Gypsy Atmosphere

No Cover Charge

Phone CIRCLE 8580
100 West 58th Street

At 6th Avenue

Dance to the Music of
ALBERT BELA SOBLO'S GYPSY
ORCHESTRA

Direction H. FEINBERG
Formerly Knickerbocker Grill

NOTE: The FOX Advertising Department has had to prepare this standing form to rush out details on the consistent successes of Fox pictures.

again another FOX picture breaks another house record

Street Angel
The River Pirate
Four Sons
Fazil
Win That Girl
Mother Knows Best
Plastered in Paris
Me, Gangster
The Air Circus
Mother Machree
Sunrise
Making The Grade
The Red Dance
Dry Martini

—
Movietone or Silent Prints

$1500 more than Canada's Biggest Week!

MOTHER KNOWS BEST

beat week record held by
"Street Angel" at the Palace Theatre, Montreal and now holds record for biggest week
in any theatre in Canada.

*Talking about talkers—this John Blystone
Movietone now holds International Records!*

FOX record-wrecker of all time

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. — Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 83

New York, Tuesday, October 9, 1928

FIVE CENTS

HOG TYING

In William Randolph Hearst's New York American yesterday the publisher's trial Editor called loudly for a legal censorship (pre exhibition) on stage plays and quoted the distinguished publicist as follows:

"There are certain inconveniences in censorship, certain injustices, in fact, certain dangers, if the censorship system is used.

"But there is nothing in censorship which carries so great a menace to the life of the nation, to the moral standards of the American people, as the appalling degeneracy of the present-day drama.

"The actual process of censorship may not have done so much to make moving pictures cleaner than they were, but the fear of censorship, the dread of what censorship would do to the picture, if the producer transgressed has been almost entirely responsible for the redemption of moving pictures."

For the purposes of discussion let's carry the Hearst idea farther. Daily newspapers—some of them—are offensive to decency and are frequent in their flagrant violations of good taste, good manners and the moral code.

Therefore the New York State Motion Picture censorship law should be broadened to include publication censorship of all newspapers and later of the pulpit and of magazines and books and finally private conversation.

Let's hog tie all forms of human expressions.

If it's right to extend censorship from pictures to the stage, the rest of the program is fully as fair.

It will bring home to publishers and public the fact that all censorship is basically unsound and subversive of liberty.

Censorship is not a cure; it's a poison and it is more dangerous than that which it seeks to cure.

ARTHUR JAMES.

SETTLE RACE - RELIGION CLAUSE

SOME PICTURE!

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer have a great picture in "Our Dancing Daughters" running this week at the Capitol. It is a "flaming youth" idea, but it is real and out-classes anything of its kind ever done in picture heretofore. Great story, fine cast, and excellent direction. Will make plenty of money in any locality and under any conditions.

GRAUMAN TO START "NOAH'S ARK" NOV. 1

LOS ANGELES.—Warner Brothers mammoth super-special "Noah's Ark," made to top any picture the company ever made, will have its world premiere on November 1st, at Grauman's Chinese Theatre, replacing "White Shadows of the South Seas."

Sid Grauman is planning the most brilliant opening for this spectacle that the West Coast has ever seen.

Carrier Off on Wide Beauty Tour Hunt

James A. Carrier, Vice President and Director-General of the International Beauty Tour, Inc., is en route to Europe on the "Leviathan," to select the most beautiful girls in the various European countries for a tour of the entire United States on a "trackless train."

Accompanying Mr. Carrier is Dudley Reed, cameraman, formerly with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, who will take pictures of the European trip.

Gotham-Asher, Small and Rogers Form Bristolphone Vaudeville Booking Dept.

As one of the first steps in the creation of the new producing forces of Asher, Small and Rogers with Sam Sax and Budd Rogers of Gotham Bristolphone Photoplays Corporation, is the creation of a new department, already functioning, which will book vaudeville acts, concert artists, radio stars, etc.

This talent will form the nucleus of a comprehensive program of Bristolphone shorts, which will be distributed along with the new Asher, Small and Rogers Productions and the Gotham Productions, all of which are to be made with the Bristolphone disc system.

EXHIBITOR CAN CANCEL BUT HE MUST MAKE HIS CLAIM BEFORE ARBITRATION BOARD

OTHER POINTS DETERMINED

The oft-disputed Section 21 of the Standard Exhibition Contract which deals with the right of an exhibitor to cancel a picture on racial or religious grounds has been interpreted by Gabriel Hess, General Counsel of the Film Boards of Trade, in a complete letter to Louis Nizer, Secretary to the New York Board, in which all the questions raised are answered with finality.

"UNITEAPHONE" SECOND CANADIAN SOUND SHOW

MONTREAL.—The first presentation of a new sound method, and the second public showing of sound films in Canada, occurred at the Rosemont Theatre, a suburban house, several weeks ago.

The advertised showing of "Uniteaphone" on the Rosemont's program was sponsored by the United Amusements, (Continued on page 7)

Ten Hurt in Fort Lee Studio Explosion

Ten persons were injured yesterday afternoon in an explosion and fire at the Metropolitan Studios at Fort Lee, New Jersey. The most severely hurt were taken to the Englewood Hospital.

The explosion occurred while the workmen were sound-proofing one of the stages to convert it into a studio for the taking of talking motion pictures. A composition used in the work threw off a gas that was ignited by a blow torch.

The letter is herewith presented in full for the information of the entire industry and exhibitors in especial.

"(1) The exhibitor is not given the right to cancel or to refuse to exhibit a picture which he claims will be offensive to the public in the place where his theatre is located, because of racial or religious subject matter. Such claim must be presented to the Board of Arbitration in the city out of which the exhibitor is served, after the exhibitor has given the distributor written notice thereof within a reasonable time before the play date of the picture; and it is only after a hearing upon such (Continued on page 7)

"HOME-TOWNERS" OPENS AT WARNER OCT. 23

Warner Bros. will offer their third 100% all-talking picture to the public when George M. Cohan's great success, "The Home Towners," opens at the Warner Bros. Theatre on Broadway, Tuesday evening, October 23rd.

"The Home Towners" constitutes the first comedy presented by Warner Bros. as an all-talking picture.

Bryan Foy directed and Richard Bennett and Dorris Kenyon head the cast.

Publix Units for F-P-L Canada Theatres

Intimation has been given that leading houses of the Famous Players Canadian Corp., in Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal, will offer Publix unit presentations, a circuit of the three cities to be formed as soon as the new Famous Players house in Ottawa is completed. Publix units will be seen at the Capitol, Montreal, and the Uptown, Toronto.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager. Executive and Editorial Offices, 45 West 45th Street, New York. Telephone Bryant 6160. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Exhibitors Review Publishing Corporation.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondence: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York—George Harvey, not being a drinking man is not at all interested in anything they might sell in bottles over in Toronto where he is going to represent the A.M.P.A. and the M. P. T. O. A. annual convention.

Pete Woodhull says the same horse that runs for Harvey also runs for him at Toronto. Mike O'Toole says he doesn't need to go on record as everyone knows where he stands and falls.

Max Laemmle, a nephew of the Big Chief, who got his film selling schooling working out of Big U, is back from Canada after a very successful eight weeks' sales trip.

Herbert Kaufmann, head of Warner's New York exchange, gave a birthday party Sunday night at the apartment of Dorothea Antell, the crippled actress, and pictures from almost every one of the larger companies were shown.

J. D. Trop, of Bill Yearsley's staff over at World Wide Pictures, may appear a little nervous these days but it is only because he is readying himself to get married in about five weeks, and a man has a right to get nervous.

Milton Simon, special representative of the sales department of Universal, who has been out on a long trip on the road, dropped into the home office yesterday to talk over things with Lou Metzger and Ted Schlanger.

Arthur A. Lee, who went to England three weeks ago for a series of conferences with British producers, arrived home Saturday on the Berengaria, looking so happy that the guess is that everything fell right on the other side.

Rita Josse, Universal's sales promotion girl—with a real rep as such, returned Saturday from a two weeks' sailing trip to Newfoundland and other foreign seaports, all pepped up and now watch those U sales step along.

Phil Reisman, sales manager of Pathe, stopped over at the coast studios on his wide swing over the circuit, and, after looking and listening at and to the sound pictures, wired that home office to get ready to enthuse over some great stuff.

AGAIN WE THANK YOU, GENTLEMEN!

Further Expressions of Good Wishes from Important Persons in the Industry

- - and There Will Be More Tomorrow!

Arthur James

This minute your telegram reaches me advising of your purchase of the Exhibitors Daily Review Stop May I congratulate you on this opportunity for still greater service and wish you the fullest measure of success Stop It is impossible to estimate the usefulness of motion pictures and in the development of this value the trade press has a very definite and important part Stop Kindest personal regards

Will H. Hays

A. James

Congratulations on your expansion. I wish you every success.

Harry M. Warner

Arthur James

Congratulations on your purchase of Exhibitors Daily Review Stop In enlarging your trade paper activity your knowledge and experience in motion picture business should prove great asset to industry as a whole

Adolph Zukor

Arthur James

Exhibitors Daily Review

It gave me a great deal of pleasure to learn that you had bought the Daily Review. I am certain that under your inspiring leadership, the paper will attain a splendid and most useful position in this industry.

Carl Laemmle
President, Universal Pictures

Arthur James

Dear Arthur glad to see you now have daily as well as weekly and welcome your entering into this new publishing field. Kindest regards

Jimmy Grainger

Arthur James

Accept my congratulations on your acquisition of Exhibitors Daily Review and best wishes for your success with the publication Stop Best regards

S. R. Kent

Arthur James

I learn with very considerable satisfaction that you have acquired ownership of Exhibitors Daily Review Stop As editor of Motion Pictures today you have been constructive not destructive the industry is to be congratulated on having daily as well as weekly contributions from your fluent pen

C. C. Pettijohn

Arthur James

Accept sincere congratulations upon your purchase of Exhibitors Daily Review Stop Your clear vision on picture problems has aided hundreds in this business and I am sure that the new deal will double the values you will give your subscribers Stop Your many friends here at Metra-Goldwyn-Mayer are all with me in appreciation of this latest demonstration of your enterprise cordially

Cecil B. DeMille

Arthur James

Exhibitors Daily Review

Congratulations on the purchase by you of the Exhibitors Daily Review and wish you success in the undertaking. I feel no one is better equipped to make it succeed than yourself

P. A. Powers

Arthur James

Exhibitors Daily Review

When independence and intelligence get together it is a great combination with which to go into militant action Stop I believe the Daily Review under your able guidance will be a fine influence as well as a great credit to the industry Stop Best wishes always

Douglas Fairbanks

Arthur James

Exhibitors Daily Review

I have always regretted that your constructive messages were only available once a week. It therefore makes me very happy to know that through your connection with the Exhibitors Daily Review that the industry will hear from you every day. Good Luck and Lots of It.

R. F. Woodhull

Arthur James

Congratulations on your increased activities and best wishes for success

Colvin W. Brown

Arthur James

The acquisition and personal management of Exhibitors Daily by Arthur James should be great news to the entire industry Stop I never fail to read today whether James's or Brisbanes because I read truth and always learn something new Stop Now I will be able to read both every day instead of weekly Stop Under Arthur James Today and Exhibitors Daily will be worthy dignified mouthpieces of our profession Stop More power to you congratulations and success

M. H. Hoffman

Arthur James

Congratulate you on acquisition Exhibitors Daily Review Stop Can't think of a better man who should be putting his genius, resourcefulness and sturdy sense of always battling for right than Arthur James. Wish you a long career of prosperity and success

Asher Small and Rogers

Arthur James

Congratulations to you on your acquisition of Exhibitors Daily Review and very best wishes that under your management this publication will be developed into one of wide usefulness and service in the motion picture industry

Martin J. Quigley

Arthur James

We salute your acquisition of Exhibitors Daily Review and know that this is an indication of wider scope greater power and militant editorship such as you deserve Stop Count on us to continue the friendship and co-operation which we have learned is so well appreciated in the past.

Sam Sax—Budd Rogers

Sound or Silent—

FOX

KNOWS BEST

THE AIR
CIRCUS

The RED
DANCE

MOTHER
MACHREE

WIN THAT GIRL

SUNRISE

The RIVER PIRATE

STREET ANGEL

FAZIL

FOUR SONS

FOX HILLS STUDIO

MOVIETONE CITY

WILLIAM
FOX
PRESENTS

MOTHER

EDNA FERBER'S BEST STORY

and now ~

"Mother Knows Best" has box-office value because of its engrossing story, its interesting romance and its cast.

—N. Y. Graphic

A splendid motion picture, well done and superbly acted.
—Motion Pictures Today

This is in. A peach of a woman's picture and of wide appeal to all classes.
—Film Daily

FOX knows best the

KNOWS BEST

MADGE BELLAMY~LOUISE DRESSER~BARRY NORTON
JOHN BLYSTONE PRODUCTION

A sure-fire in the regular houses.
Fox's first real dialog picture, a most worthy and class effort.
—Variety

Has everything that spells entertainment. You'll like it.
—N. Y. Evening Journal

Fascinating tale. Well worth seeing.
—N.Y. American

A dandy picture. Madge
Bellamy and Louise Dresser give magnificent perfor-
—N. Y. Daily Mirror

Highly entertaining, with capable acting and sound direction.
—N. Y. Times

A superior picture. Worthy of your consideration and attendance.
—N.Y. Herald Tribune

It looks as tho when it comes to buying a corking story and sticking to it, "Fox knows
best."
—Exhibitors' Daily Review

See and hear the best thing in this town... go to the Globe.
—N. Y. World.

modern taste in pictures

BRISTOLPHONE

ASHER, SMALL and ROGERS announce to the trade:

After making a thorough examination of all synchronizing devices, we have come to the conclusion that Bristolphone is without doubt the most desirable. For human quality of dialogue, for proper volume and tonal effects, we believe it is the peer of all present devices. When you add to this its unique re-synchronizing feature which makes it possible, in case of accident, to immediately re-synchronize the picture, you have a system that achieves the peak of perfection.

For these reasons, it is a pleasure to announce that we have formed a corporation with Budd Rogers and Sam Sax of Gotham Productions, to distribute and service the Bristolphone machines, and to produce features and short subjects synchronized with the Bristolphone disc system.

ASHER, SMALL AND ROGERS

BRISTOL

PHONE

IN associating ourselves with Asher, Small and Rogers, we feel that we have reached a point of development in motion picture activities, commensurate with the great advent of sound on the screen. The enviable record of Asher, Small and Rogers, collectively and individually, as producers of outstanding productions such as, "McFadden's Flats," "Cohens and Kellys," "The Gorilla," "Classified," "Ladies Night in a Turkish Bath," "Shepherd of the Hills," and others, is a substantial part of the industry's box-office history.

Their interest in the distribution and servicing of the Bristolphone system is the finest endorsement that could be made for this device. The participation of this enterprising and successful firm of producers in the making of features and short subjects with sound and dialogue, is an assurance of results that will meet the most critical needs of the box-office. We see in this association, a most complimentary confirmation of all we had hoped for in Bristolphone.

GOTHAM PHOTOPLAYS CORP.
Sam Sax, Pres.; Budd Rogers, Vice-Pres.

United Artists to Finance Tolstoy's "War and Peace"

Associates with Russian-German Film Combine For Production

LUNARCHARSKI SCRIPT

By SAM HARRIS
"Today's Cinema"

A Russian-German-American film-producing agreement is in the making, whereby the Mesjrabpom-Russ company, whose contract with Derussa has expired and has thus far not been renewed, will become associated with the Prometheus Company, in the production of Tolstoy's "War and Peace" and other productions.

The third entity in the triangle is United Artists, which will also be associated with this group in the making of pictures, and which will half the negative cost of "War and Peace." From different sources in New York, there will be no skimming of the surface of this matter. It will be gone into in a thorough manner.

Lunarcharski, the Russian Commissioner for Education, is to write the script. In the new films which are projected, Russian, German and English players will appear. Maria Jacobini and Bernard Goetzke will have the leading roles.

Associated with Prometheus in the new combination is Lander-Film G. m. b. h.

United Artists expect to release "War and Peace" in the United States as one of their big specials in 1929.

ONLY SYNCHRONIZATION FOR U "SHOW BOAT"

"Show Boat" which Universal is now making, will finally appear before the public synchronized with sound throughout. Although there are no difficulties existing at the present time between Florenz Ziegfeld and Universal, over the right to reproduce dialogue from the play, there will be no dialogue in the first Universal version of the current stage production at the Ziegfeld Theatre.

This decision by Universal follows reports from the West Coast that the film would contain dialogue.

PUBLIX ROBBERY!

CHICAGO.—The Chicago Theatre was held up Sunday night by a lone robber who herded five employees into the Treasurer's Office, and escaped with $6,400. This makes the fourth major theatre robbery in the Loop in the past year.

Shortly afterwards, two stick-up men robbed the Belpark Theatre in Chicago of some $2,800.

Tunney For Talkies

Gene Tunney may appear as the star of a talking picture, if plans go through. He has been offered the starring role in a talking version of Jeffrey Farnol's "The Amateur Gentleman" which was screened some years ago by First National, as a silent film.

SCHULBERG-FINEMAN HERE FOR CONEERENCE

Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Schulberg and Bernie Fineman are leaving Hollywood today for New York.

Mr. Schulberg is leaving to confer with Adolph Zukor and Jesse Lasky on production plans for the coming year.

Bernie Schulberg will spend three weeks in the big city looking over stage plays.

"Missing Man" Pathe 100% Dialogue Starts

"The Missing Man," a stage play by John Posner, the eminent European playwright, and Benjamin Glazer, will be put into production at once as Pathe's first one hundred per cent talking picture.

The decision to put the play into production was made immediately on the return of Joseph P. Kennedy from Europe. Work of casting the picture has already begun at the Pathe Studios in Culver City. Production will be under the supervision of Benjamin Glazer, in charge of sound production for Pathe.

Drexel in Fox Talkies

Nancy Drexel, petite blonde, who distinguished herself in "4 Devils," F. W. Murnau's latest picture for Fox Films, is to have her first talking part in "Dolls and Puppets," a short Movietone subject. She has been cast for the lead.

Gilbert Won't Sign

John Gilbert has returned to Hollywood from New York. He says his contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer will not expire until May, but at that time he would not renew with M.G.M. but would go with another organization.

Schurlock Promoted

Geoffrey Schurlock has been made scenario editor of Paramount. This makes this kid one of the big shots and comes as a compliment to his great ability.

Elder Leaving P-F-L

Ruth Elder will finish her work at Paramount after the production of "Moran of the Marines." This will be quite a surprise to a few believing that Paramount had an ironclad contract with this pretty aviatrix. But Ruth got too "gubby," she wanted all the money in the Paramount treasury, and they had other places for some of that money.

Sennett Reported To Produce "Educationals"

Coast reports seem to indicate that Mack Sennett will make a series of sound comedies for Educational release. Earl Hammons, president of Educational, said "nothing has been signed as yet, but we are talking." W. B. Frank, Sennett's New York representative said "there is nothing to it."

STUDIO GOSSIP

We hear that when Myrna Kennedy's contract expires in November, Charlie Chaplin will not renew wit. This will probably be good news to Myrna, for since signing with Chaplin over a year ago, she has only appeared in one picture. She will not want for a job, for we know of two big studio's that are after her service.

M. H. Hoffman, the Tiffany in Tiffany-Stahl is greatly enthused regarding the work of Sally O'Neill in the production "Broadway Fever." This used to be known as "Applause."

Jack Norworth having finished his work in the Texas Guinan picture, has transferred his makeup box to another studio for a series of two reel talking and singing, shorts.

Ethel Wales has been given a good part in the Paramount production of the James M. Barrie play "Half an Hour."

Earl Derr Biggers, popular novelist, whose mystery story, "Behind That Curtain," has been bought for screen production by Fox Films, has arrived in New York from California. While in Hollywood he visited the Fox studio, where he renewed acquaintance with many old friends, and talked over the picture values of his best seller with Winfield Sheehan, vice-president and general manager. "Behind That Curtain" will be an all-dialogue Movietone feature.

Mary Alden has been assigned one of the leading roles in the Paramount picture "Someone to Love." Charles Rogers will be starred.

James Hall, Gustave von Sefferitz and Emily Fitzroy, have been added to the cast of "The Case of Lena Smith" in which Esther Ralston will play the leading role.

Alberta Vaughn, has been signed to play the lead opposite Eddie Quilan in the Pteh production of "Noisy Neighbors."

Jack White, Educational comedy producer, is returning to Hollywood in a few days with plans for the coming year. Arrangements have been made for the installation of sound recording devices in the Educational studio.

Milton Sills and Dorothy Mackaill are to begin work tomorrow for the talking sequences to be added to "The Barker." Corinne Griffith will do some talk for the "Divine Lady" also. All will do their stuff on the Vitaphone stages of Warner Brothers.

The Tiffany-Stahl production of "Squads Right" will have a cast in addition to Eddie Gribbon of Dorothy Sebastian, Buster Collier and Georgie Stone.

William Powell has been assigned the role in the Paramount production of "Four Feathers" that was to have been played by Arnoll Kent.

Chaplin Pinched!

Charlie Chaplin was sitting in Jules Furthman's car parked on Hollywood Blvd., when a big cop walked up and yelled "Do you own this car?" To which Charlie replied, "No!" I think it belongs to a guy by the name of Chaplin.

Says the cop, "I suppose it is that movie actor." He wrote a ticket, handed it to Chaplin with the remark, "when he comes back, tell him Jackie Coogan was around and left his card."

Julian Testing

The world's most unique "screen test" is being conducted these days in Rupert Julian's big home up on the hills of Hollywood.

Julian has been signed to direct Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's first mystery thriller with sound effects and dialogue. And although no cast has been gathered as yet for the film, several actors and actresses have already approached Julian.

"What I want, among other things, in this mystery tale," Julian tells them, are some spine-chilling shrieks. If you can shriek a shriek that would scare a coyote on the desert at night, I may consider you."

"Come up and let me hear you scream a bit," he invites them with a grin.

And so the residents of Primrose Lane, which runs along in back of Julian's Hollywood house, have been getting "previews" of a sound picture this week that would curdle the blood of a saint.

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.
for
Library Stock Scenes
130 West 46th Street New York
Bryant 8181

Classified Advertisements

Advertisements in this column, 5 cents per word. Cash must be sent with order. No charge for Box Number line. Minimum order, $1. 10% discount 12 issues or more.

POSITIONS WANTED

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY. LADY with 8 years' experience in film business desires position in Motion Picture Industry. Highest References. Box 111, Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

FOR SALE

AN OLD AND WELL ESTABLISHED ORCHESTRAL BUSINESS of Band Providers. Fully licensed, agency for variety, etc. Price £4,500. Commodious offices, extensive up-to-date library and music. Established 25 years. Open to every inspection and investigation. Write May Walter Orchestras, 81, Shaftesbury Avenue, London, W.1.

MOTION PICTURE AND "STILL" cameras rented, sold and exchanged. Portable lights for sale and for rent. Keep us advised of your wants. Ruby Camera Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

LOCAL FILMS

MOTION PICTURES MADE TO ORDER. Commercial, Home or Industrial. We have excellent facilities and the best cameramen. Our price, 20c per foot. Ruby Film Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

WHETHER YOU WANT TO HIRE some one or be hired; buy or sell a theatre; trade or sell equipment, or do almost anything else in the motion picture business, an ad in this department will get you results. If you want us to word the ad for you, the services of our advertising experts are at your call. Simply tell us what you want to do, and how many words you want used. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

Schenck Schedules All U. A. Stars for Dialogue

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. — Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 84

New York, Wednesday, October 10, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Poison

That New York American is whamming away some more for a censorship of the stage and telling the wide world that it's the fear of censorship that has kept the movies clean. Now here are the facts.

The movies are clean because their success was founded on their wide appeal to the masses of the people and they learned years ago that the masses of the people don't like dirt. Motion pictures are a family institution and families are not dirt consumers.

* * *

The picture business protected itself against a misguided and mistaken minority of dirt boys by setting down clean rules and by living up to them. Censorship never did this. Censorship isn't intelligent enough to do anything constructive.

* * *

What's the use of crying aloud for stage censorship when the police power can be, has been and is being invoked to protect the public from obscenities and perversions? The man who calls for censorship is as dumb as the man who supports a Brookhart bill for the Federal control of pictures. He is willing to take prussic acid for a toothache and cyanide for a sore finger.

* * *

Our two great national vices are hypocrisy and stupidity. In the picture business we have found that censorship embraces both and they are bad medicine for liberty of thought, freedom of action and an unhampered progress.

Oh, Willie, lay off that poison!

ARTHUR JAMES

FOX HOLDS KEY POSITION IN FIRST NATIONAL DEAL

VICTOR TO JOIN RCA IN K-A-Q BUY

According to those on the inside of the RCA negotiations for the purchase of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum chain and FBO Pictures, a third entity will join in the combination, this time, the Victor Talking Machine Co.

Negotiations have been going on for some time between Radio Corporation and Victor for many months with a (Continued on page 2)

"Mother Knows Best" Leaves Globe Saturday

"Mother Knows Best" the picture from Edna Ferber's story in which Madge Bellamy and Louise Dresser have Movietone sequences is now in its last week at the Globe Theatre. The run ends on Saturday, when the theatre reverts to musical comedy.

"Annapolis" Preview

The Pathe production, "Annapolis," featuring John Mack Brown, Jeanette Loff and Hugh Allan, was presented at the U. S. Naval Academy in Annapolis last Monday night, October 1, as a special showing to the Superintendent of the Academy, Real Admiral S. S. Robison, and the academic department heads.

Butterfield To Wind Up M.P.T.O. Mich. Convention

BURRELL BACK WITH AZORES CABLE FILM

Charles W. Burrell, of Western Electric, has returned from the cable-laying expedition to the Azores with a corking 4-reel motion picture record of the complete laying of a deep-sea cable to that island.

The pictures were shot by Walter Pritchard and Burrell.

B'KLYN PARAMOUNT TO OPEN NOV. 24

Sam Katz, president of Publix Theatres, has announced that the new Paramount Theatre at Flatbush and De Kalb Avenues, Brooklyn, will have a gala opening on November 24th. The house seats 5,000.

A special exploitation campaign is being organized by Publix to "help bring Broadway to Brooklyn," B. H. Serkowitz is in charge of this work.

PETTITJOHN-WOODHULL AT OMAHA OCT. 24-25

OMAHA.—Two of the principal speakers at the Convention of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Nebraska and Western Iowa, at Omaha on October 24 and 25, will be Charles C. Pettijohn, General Counsel of the Hays organization, and President R. F. Woodhull of the M. P. T. O. A.

Elmer Pearson, now living in Nebraska will also attend the Fall meeting and give his opinion of the industry and its problems. There will also be the annual election of officers.

Merge or Sell — They First Must Ask William!

BOLAND STOCK ASTRAY

William Fox—ah, what a man—holds the key to the First National situation. There can be no deal, no sale, no acquirement, no merger with Warner Brothers or anybody else unless they first ask Bill.

Skouras came to town and had things well in hand and brought Tom Boland in from Oklahoma City, for Tom was an original franchise holder and accordingly possessed of a neat and important slice of stock. He was offered a price on a forty-five day option. It was a neat price, well over $100.00 a share. The option was ready to sign and then the telephone rang. Some friend of Mr. Boland wanted to talk to him. Would he please hurry? It was important.

Well—Boland went out and when he came back he was minus his stock but he had in his pocket exactly (Continued on page 2)

RUBEL RESIGNATION ACCEPTED BY LAEMMLE

Mr. Beno Rubel, who has been associated with the Universal Pictures Corporation in an advisory capacity, has tendered his resignation to take effect at Mr. Laemmle's convenience. Rubel has been acting as Mr. Laemmle's assistant but feels the need of a long rest. His resignation has been accepted with deep regret by Mr. Laemmle.

Buckley Returns

Harry D. Buckley, Vice-President of United Artists Corporation, has returned to New York after a month's tour of United Artists' exchanges and theatres.

Farnol Resigns

Lynn Farnol, publicity representative for Sam Goldwyn in the East, for the past year and a half, has resigned and will go with George Tyler, the theatrical producer, as general press representative.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 45 West 45th Street, New York. Telephone Bryant 6160. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Exhibitors Review Publishing Corporation.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondence: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York—Harvey Day, just back from a three weeks' western trip, is thinking seriously of joining up with the Motion Picture Club as a charter member — just thinking . . . Sam Harris, London publisher, who has given through the A.M.P.A. a handsome trophy to be presented to the publicity or advertising man who has done the most meritorious thing, will be in attendance at the A.M.P.A. on Nov. 12 to make the award and presentation . . . Charlie Burrell, head of the motion picture department of Western Electric, has returned from the Azores with a remarkable undersea pictures of the laying of a cable, and those who have seen the picture say it is a knockout . . . Nat Rothstein post cards from Lucerne that he had found a wonderful location for a melodrama on top of the Jungfrau, and will now move to Pisa and lean against the tower . . . Neil Kingsley and Charles Hoyt, two of the king pins of publicity, have hooked up together and will handle stage and screen stars who look as though they had a lot of stuff that should go well in sound pictures . . . Jack Bower, for many years in the distributing end of the picture business out on the coast, is in New York and being shown around the hidden and open ways by Guy Morgan, said to be a competent daylight guide . . . Dr. George Casuso, prominent film attorney from Havana, is spending a couple of weeks in New York combining business and vacation . . . C. C. Burr says the advent of sound in pictures has brought about a condition where an independent producer such as he is, has no need of a hook up with one of the distributing companies, so it is a hunch that Johnny Hines pictures will go direct to theater owners . . . Bennie Schulberg and Bernie Fineman are now enroute to New York and will arrive about the end of the week, the former for conferences with Zukor and Lasky and the latter to look at a lot of shows.

CONTINUING OUR THANKS

More of the Pleasant Expressions from Industry's Leaders, and We're Proud to Print Them

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review

Congratulations on your purchase of Exhibitors Daily Review and best wishes for continued success in your enlarged field of trade paper activity. I like your program as outlined in this morning's announcements and sincerely hope you achieve your ends. Regards.

Jesse L. Lasky

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review

Please accept my congratulations on the acquisition of the Exhibitors Daily Review. I am confident it will prove of great service to our industry.

Mary Pickford

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review

Congratulations on your acquisition of the Exhibitors Daily Review. I admire your courage in shouldering the editorship of two publications and I wish you great success. Most sincerely

Joseph M. Schenck

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review

Your acquisition of the Exhibitors Daily Review means that there is added to the thoroughness, accuracy and fairness of this trade paper the progressive, militant and persuasive spirit of one who has a keen sense of distinguishing between right and wrong. Not only you but the industry is to be congratulated.

Louis Nizer

Atty. and Executive Secy.
N. Y. Film Bd. of Trade

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review

Best of luck for a deserved success.

William Brandt

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review

Permit me to congratulate you on the extension of your Trade Paper activities in the acquisition of the Exhibitors Daily Review. Knowing your wide journalistic experience, both in the regular newspaper field and trade paper circles, I am sure that your editorial direction of the Daily Review will add immeasurably to the worth of that already much appreciated paper.

M. J. O'Toole

Arthur James

All good wishes to you for even greater success.

Sam E. Morris

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review

Congratulations on your acquisition of Daily Review. Best of good fortune.

Joe Brandt

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review

I nominate you to be the editorial prosecuting attorney for this business which certainly needs one. On behalf of World Wide Pictures I wish you the success you deserve.

Joseph S. Skirboll

Arthur James
Congratulations. I know you will put it over.

A. P. Waxman

Arthur James
Congratulations on your acquisition of Exhibitors Daily Review. Your virile pen should find this a splendid field in the covering of daily news.

George W. Harvey

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review

Best — indeed my very best — wishes are for the success of the Daily Review under your direction and ownership, should I, for accuracy, have said part ownership?

G. L. H.

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
"Here's to you and the Daily Review." The combination should make for tremendous success. Kind personal regards and all good luck.

Pat Garyn

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
If only a small percentage of your friends are sending their congratulations, you must be snowed in under a veritable avalanche of good wishes. Best o' luck.

J. D. Trop

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review
Here's wishing you the best of luck in your new enterprise.

Wm. A. Johnston

Fox Holds Key Position In First National Deal

(Continued from page 1)

$200.00 for every share he parted with and he parted with all of it. The stock is now owned by William Fox and incidentally the Boland holding is said to have given him enough to make up a little over one-third of the total stock ownership in First National.

According to the First National charter there can be no major deal without the consent of a full two-thirds of the stock holdings, so that whenever a deal is made, as was noted in the opening paragraph, they must first ask Bill.

Scott on Tour

Harry Scott, short subjects sales manager of Pathe, is on a tour of the exchanges making Detroit his first stop and his itinerary includes Chicago, St. Louis, Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Dallas and Memphis.

Victor To Join RCA in K-A-O Buy

(Continued from page 1)

plan to develop the cooperating and distribution departments of both companies.

No definite information could be obtained yesterday from K-A-O or the RCA crowd relative to the final closing of the papers, but this formally depends on how soon all the details can be ironed out.

Bellamy's New One

"Winnie" Sheehan, Fox g. m., has changed his mind regarding the next picture for Madge Bellamy. It was to have been "Subway." Now it is "Exiles," a story that the Fox organization acquired quite a while back. Madge will play the role of a cabaret girl. William Beaudine will direct.

Capitol Record

Major Edward Bowes takes pride in announcing that close to sixty thousand people attended the Capitol Theatre last Saturday and Sunday, shattering all previous week-end records for this theatre, on the Capitol's first sound program.

100 in Chorus

Warner's are going about the making of the operetta, "The Desert Song," in a manner that augurs for an excellent picture when finished. They have a chorus of 100 voices for this Vitaphone release.

Cummings Assigned

Due to the painful injury sustained by Raoul Walsh, Irving Cummings has been assigned the direction of the Fox production of "In Old Arizona." The company is now on location in Utah.

Universal Sensations

No. 607—Straight from the Shoulder Talk by Carl Laemmle,
President of the Universal Pictures Corporation.

YOU KNOW, OR YOU OUGHT TO KNOW, THAT UNIVERSAL HAS more quality productions ready right now than most companies have in a whole season!

YOU KNOW, OR YOU OUGHT TO KNOW, THAT IN ALMOST EVERY instance where Universal has approached a big circuit buyer this year the product was sold as soon as it was shown.

THE BIG BUYING BOOM IS ON WITH A VENGEANCE. THE EXHIBITORS who cannot afford to equip their houses for sound have suddenly awakened to the fact that they've got to have the best silent pictures in the world and they know that every silent picture Universal has made has got quality stamped all over it.

EVEN THE HOUSES WHICH ARE PLANNING TO WIRE THEIR THEATRES are awake to the fact that Universal has got what they must have, whether silent or sound.

THERE NEVER HAS BEEN SUCH AN AVALANCHE OF TELEGRAMS and letters praising a picture as are coming in right now on "Uncle Tom's Cabin." This is the year's mop-up, whether silent or synchronized.

AND "THE MAN WHO LAUGHS" IS BANGING ITS WAY TO TRIUMPH AND PROFITS EVERYWHERE.

AS GREAT AS YOU THOUGHT "THE CAT AND THE CANARY" WAS, you ought to know that "The Last Warning" has got it lashed to the mast for solid substantial box-office value.

WHAT ARE YOU PLANNING TO DO ABOUT "LONESOME" WHICH HAS won the applause of the critics in both its silent version and as the perfect combination of sound, music and dialogue? Also Carl Laemmle's first 100% talking picture—"The Melody of Love" in which all the characters speak their lines? How much time are you going to save for "The Cohens and Kellys in Atlantic City?" And did you know that "The Girl on the Barge" has already been tried out with terrific success?

DID YOU KNOW THAT HOOT GIBSON'S "KING OF THE RODEO" IS actually greater than "The Calgary Stampede?" And do you realize that Universal in all its career never turned out better Denny pictures, LaPlante pictures and Tryon pictures than it is ready to book to you right this minute?

THE ONLY REASON ON EARTH WHY THIS IS PROVING TO BE THE most sensational year in Universal's history is because we've got quality pictures—not just one or two or three or four, but a whole load of them—and most of them are completed and ready to show!

ALL OVER THE WORLD THE BOOKING OF UNIVERSAL PRODUCT IS TAKING ON AN EXCITING TURN.

YOU CAN'T GET ALONG WITHOUT IT AND UNLESS YOU SIGN UP for our whole list of tremendous hits you are going to regret it as sure as fate!

Greatest Picture Ever Made On the Sub

IS IT A MENACE?

Is Contract Marriage
Destroying The Family?

Is It Tearing Down
Everything That Is Sacred, Holy And Good?

A PICTURE OF INNUMERABLE EXPLOITATION ANGLES

DIRECTED BY JAMES FLOOD

JACK SAVAGE

TIFFANY-STAHLE PRODUCTIONS INC.

1540 BROADWAY

NEW YORK CITY

ject Of COMPANIONATE MARRIAGE

A WARNING TO
THE WOMANHOOD
OF AMERICA

CONTRACT

A
JOHN M.
STAHL
SPECIAL
PRODUCTION

WITH AN EXTRAORDINARY CAST INCLUDING

PATSY RUTH MILLER
LAWRENCE GRAY
ROBERT EDESON
SHIRLEY PALMER
RALPH EMERSON
RAYMOND KEANE
DUKE MARTIN

AN EPOCH IN MOTION PICTURE ENTERTAINMENT
THE MOST DARING
PICTURE OF ALL TIME
IT IS ENTERTAINMENT

TIFFANY-STAHL PRODUCTIONS INC.

1540 BROADWAY

NEW YORK CITY

TIFFANY-STAHl PLANS GREATEST FAIRBANKS TO TALK IN "MASK"

"Loves of Sappho" To Be John M. Stahl Epic Film

NEGRI FOR LEAD

By JOE BLAIR
Hollywood Correspondent

Tiffany-Stahl having sneaked through the field with a personally directed John M. Stahl picture in the production of "Marriage by Contract," are secretly preparing another one, and in point of production, direction, story and expense, the most ambitious that organization has ever had. You can't get anyone around the T. S. lot to talk about it, few of them know and those in the know will only look and smile.

But the cat was let out of the bag yesterday in a rather unusual way when it was whispered about the lot that Milton Cohen, Los Angeles Attorney, was closeted with John M. Stahl for over an hour. And walking around a bit we heard that the company had several writers working on different treatments of "The Loves of Sappho."

Putting two and two together, this is what we have. Stahl will personally direct "Loves of Sappho" and Pola Negri, is being imported from her dear Europe to enact the leading role, and this production is pointed for the heights, in so far as T. S. is concerned.

Milton Cohen is attorney and personal manager for Negri and when asked regarding the possibility of her returning to America for a picture, he had nothing to say.

We might be wrong on this yarn, but everything looks as if it is set.

New Comerford House

The Comerford Amusement Company has let contracts to Scranton builders for a new theatre to be built for the chain, at Olyphant, Pa.

The new theatre will be on Lackawanna Avenue near Hull Street and will seat 1,750. It will be equipped with Vitaphone and Movietone apparatus and will handle vaudeville.

Shooting Zeppelin Trip

The only cameraman aboard the giant German dirigible, Graf Zeppelin, as it crosses the Atlantic to the United States today, is Robert Hartman, staff cameraman of the Hearst Newsreels, which produces M-G-M News.

Wesco To Build New $1,300,000 Theatre

SPOKANE.—Construction will start within the next sixty days on the new West Coast Theatre building, which is to cost $1,300,000. Harold B. Franklin is organizing the plans for it now.

Pathe's Talkie

After seeing "Show Folks," Pathe officials decided to remake part of it with sound, feeling that the story offered excellent opportunities for talking. Lina Basquette and Eddie Quillan are featured in the picture.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Paul Gertzman, the French boy who pestered Jesse Lasky into giving him a job, will have a good part in the Paramount production of "The Wolf of Wall Street." This comes as a reward for his good trouping in the Menjou picture, "His Private Life."

Paul Scofield, is doing another for Universal. He is adapting the novel "Little Miss Satan" that will be made into a picture by Wesley Ruggles for Laura La Plante.

The cast for "The Diamond Master," Universal's mystery story consists of Louise Lorraine, Hayden Stevenson, Louis Stern, Al Hart and Monte Montague. Jack Nelson will direct.

Lia Tora, Brazilian importation on the Fox lot, is doing a Harry Lauder on the Fox lot. Instead of availing herself with the comfort of a maid, while working on a set, beautiful Lia is putting this money in the bank and having her kid sister put on the apron.

Ray Enright is replacing Archie Mayo as the director of the Warner picture "Kid Gloves." Mayo will be given another assignment immediately.

A pot of paint and a brush is all that Jack Mulhall requires to keep his Tuxedo shirt bosom a glossy white these days. Mulhall, featured with Alice White in First National's "Ritzy Rosie," has a scene in which his shirt front suffers from spilled soup. In taking the scene from various angles, Director Mervyn LeRoy saved a great deal of time by permitting Mulhall to continue to wear the same shirt, but paint out the stains after each camera shot.

"The Lawless Legion," the next Ken Maynard picture, was started by Director Harry J. Brown, who has been production supervisor on all of the Maynard pictures.

To give some of you an idea about the enormous money spent each year by the Hollywood studios, get this: Universal last year spent more than $675,000 for extra talent alone, at the rate of $7.50 per copy.

Word comes out of the Tiffany-Stahl studio that with the release of "The Spirit of Youth" pictures will see a new Dorothy Sebastian. The work this little lady is doing in this production will disarm most every critic. T. S. seems to be doing great work in making a star out of Dorothy for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Reginald Barker, has started his third special for Tiffany-Stahl. It is "New Orleans." Ricardo Cortez is being starred with Buster Collier and Alma Bennett have important roles.

We will very likely, see some new wrinkles in bath-tubs now that C. B. DeMille has decided to do a society ditty for his first M-G-M production.

Voices of All U. A. Stars To Be Heard Except Chaplin's

"DOUG" TO MONOLOGUE

Following on the heels of the exclusive story in the Daily Review a few days ago to the extent that Joseph M. Schenck, president of United Artists, had backed down to a great extent in his attitude towards talking pictures, comes the announcement from United Artists that Douglas Fairbanks, who has steadfastly refused to do any talking in his pictures, will not only put talk in his latest production "The Iron Mask" but will do most of the talking himself.

Slowly but surely, all of the bulwarks that have held out against the talkies are being demolished. Last week Mary Pickford joined the growing throng, and from information direct from U. A. it becomes certain that all their star and feature players will speak lines in all future productions, except Chaplin.

Fairbanks, it is said, will employ a novel method in supplying talk for "The Iron Mask," in that, direct monologue or soliloquy, rather than that of dialogue with other characters will be used. Motives and intents of the characters will be revealed by them directly to the audience. As an instance, Fairbanks, at the beginning of the picture will voice the spirit of the story.

Haines Returns to N. Y.

William Haines returns to New York today after paying a visit to his home town, Richmond, Virginia. His mother accompanies him to New York and will go with him to the coast next week.

United Artists Stuck

In a big hearted moment, United Artists loaned their little Mexican star, Lupe Valez, to Paramount for a role in "The Wolf Song." Now they want Lupe back for the lead in the Harry Richman production of "Say It With Music," but she won't be ready. They are on the look for another girl.

New Dove Picture

The next production scheduled for Billie Dove by First National is "The Man and the Moment" by Elinor Glyn. It will be directed by George Fitzmaurice.

Santell to New York

Al Santell, the director, left Hollywood yesterday for New York. He will select locations for the Sam Goldwyn-Vilma Banky picture, as yet untitled.

Laurel-Hardy

The next Stan Laurel-Oliver Hardy Hal Roach comedy will have a skyscraper theme. This will give these extremely funny fellows an opportunity to "faw down."

THINGS WE DO NOT BELIEVE

(From Universal Publicity Dept.)

"So pressing is the demand for Universal's first one hundred percent talking picture, "The Melody of Love," that they are cutting the print in airplanes while it is being delivered. A Universal City cutter spent an hour cutting a "Melody of Love" print enroute to San Francisco for showing at Pantages Theatre."

They probably developed it while passing through a dark cloud.

Fox Completes Three

With the completion of three new pictures in one week, Fox Film Corporation is keeping abreast of its elaborate schedule of releases. The newly finished screen plays are "Taking A Chance," Rex Bell's latest starring vehicle, directed by Norman McLeod, Emmett Flynn's production, "The Veiled Woman," with a cast headed by Lia Tora, Brazilian beauty, and Paul Vincenti, Hungarian leading man, and "Husbands Are Liars," written and directed by Ray Cannon, with June Collyer and Conrad Nagel in the leading role.

Bobby Vernon Back

Bobby Vernon, Christie comic, is back at the studio, having been away for some time due to an illness that centered in his back and diagnosed by physicians as having been caused by his taking so many "falls" during the making of his many comedies for Christie and others.

McAvoy in "No Defense"

May McAvoy, and not Lila Lee will play opposite Monte Blue in the Warner production "No Defense." Miss Lee is working on another picture and Lloyd Bacon, who is to direct this picture, was all set and ready to go.

ZAKORO DEMONSTRATES NEW SOUND DEVICE

A special demonstration of the Prima Vox, the latest invention in sound equipment, will be given by the Zakoro Film Corp., motion picture distributors, at the St. George Playhouse, 100 Pineapple Street, Brooklyn, tonight at 9:40 o'clock. The film to be shown is a current news reel which will be offered in addition to the regular program.

The
Stanley
Way
Features and Shorts
Produced on Contract

STANLEY ADVERTISING CO.
220 West 42nd St. New York
WISconsin 0610

Steffes Expects 18 State Organizations By December 1st

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. — Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 87

New York, Monday, October 15, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Monday A. M.

This morning actual shooting begins in Paramount's Long Island City studio on "The Letter." It's an all talker with Jeanne Eagles topping the cast. Her voice test foiled the wheeze man who wanted to call her the screaming Eagles.

* * *

Marx Brothers' "Four Cocoa-nuts," the "Birth of the Blues" and "Gentlemen of the Press" will sound their way to fame and fortune from the same studio.

* * *

Frederick H. Elliott's election to the vice-presidency of Motion Pictures Today, Inc., was announced as he stepped into office and assumed active work with our favorite motion picture weekly. It's a pleasure to have him back devoting all his energies and experience to the picture business.

* * *

Somebody sent a telegram from the Motion Picture Club in which the phrase "make whoopee" was employed. Walter Hoban says "whoopie" is not obsolete. The really sophisticated make "Boom Boom" and Harry Hershfield is Hoban's phrase broadcaster.

* * *

Speaking of the Motion Picture Club, the cuisine is so excellent and the surroundings so fortunate that Muschenheim of the Astor is said to be bustin' into tears every day around the lunch hour.

Arthur James

M. P. T. O. A. MEETING TO BE HUGE TRADE CONFERENCE--NO POLITICS

Allied Group To Stump Country Nov. 1 For New Organization

HERE'S A BET

A screen sensation on the timely theme of experimental marriage is the new big Tiffany-Stahl special "Marriage by Contract," in which Patsy Ruth Miller marries four times in eight reels and gives theatres something with which to bring in the crowds. James Flood directed it under the production supervision of John M. Stahl.

Robert Edeson and other competent players are prominent in a large cast. "Marriage by Contract" is a frank but careful handling of the trial marriage plan showing its working out, its mistakes and disasters.

We recommend this picture to exhibitors as a big exploitation picture bet.

A. J.

WARNERS LOSE 1st MINNEAPOLIS CASE

MINNEAPOLIS.—Warner Brothers lost the first case brought before the Board of Arbitration, since reinstatement by the Board.

The company lost the decision in an effort to force play dates after holding up releases several months for First Runs. Nickey Goldhammer, representing Warners, asked that Oscar Woempner, owner of a string of neighborhood houses, be forced to give play dates on

(Continued on page 2)

$100,00 Fund To Be Raised for Outside Leader

A start toward the formation of a new national exhibitor association was made at the recent convention of the Michigan M.P.T.O. with the raising of a fund of $25,000 by the Allied States group of nine exhibitor organizations, according to an interview given Exhibitors Daily Review on Saturday, by W. A. Steffes.

Steffes, Col. Cole, Glenn Cross and
(Continued on page 4)

TIFFANY-STAHl IN BIG WOODWARD DEAL

C. H. Shalit of the Tiffany-Stahl Detroit branch office has closed a big deal for the Star Series, Specials and Color Classics with the Woodward Theatre chain in Detroit.

The theatres sold are the White Star, Norwood, Lakewood, Garden, Uptown, Kopping, Rialto, Republic, Piccadilly, Ambassador, Highland Park, Rosebud, Comique, Ramona and the Calvin in Dearborn; State and Durant in Flint, and the Irving in Brightmoore, and Wayne in Wayne.

Jacobson Heads Wampas

HOLLYWOOD.—Sam Jacobson, University publicity director, has been elected president of the WAMPAS. Joseph Sherman of the M-G-M publicity staff is vice-president. Jacobson succeeds Barrett Kiesling.

Special Trains Carry Ex- hibitor Delegations From Mid-West

Everything is ready for the Toronto Convention. Nothing has slipped, missed fire or gone awry and when the big meeting of Theatre Owners opens on Tuesday in the King Edward Hotel it will be the first time the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America have convened outside the United States.

But another innovation will be introduced in that the convention will be
(Continued on page 4)

CAPT. LOHMANN IN PHOEBUS SCANDAL

By DR. R. OTTO
Review Correspondent

BERLIN.—The resignation of the Chief Commander of the German Navy, Admiral Zenker, is a belated sequel of the Phoebe Film Scandal.

A Captain Lohmann, had secretly transferred certain funds belonging to the Navy Department to the Phoebe Film Co. He had, in these transactions, violated the budget law and misused powers which his superior, Admiral Behnke had entrusted to him and which
(Continued on page 4)

Special Capitol Show For Zeppelin Guests

Major Bowes, managing director of the Capitol Theatre, is making arrangements to entertain Dr. Eckner and his Graf Zeppelin crew tonight, provided the airship has arrived in America safely. Lady Drummond Hay, only woman passenger, will also attend the guest showing of "Our Dancing Daughters."

Sheehan in N. Y.

Howard Sheehan, brother of W. R. Sheehan, general manager of Fox productions, and official of the Fox West Coast Theatres, is in New York at the Park Central.

Berger Sails

Ludwig Berger, Paramount director, sailed today from New York for Berlin. He has a four months' leave of absence from Paramount.

REMOVAL NOTICE!

The Exhibitors Daily Review is now in new quarters, having moved its offices from 45 West 45th Street to 25 West 43rd Street, Room 409.

The New TEMPORARY Telephone Number is

Vanderbilt 5895 and Bryant 5224

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 5224. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York—Al Steffes, A. A. Kaplan and Col. Cole of Texas, are in New York on their way to Toronto, where they say they won't do a thing to the M.P.T.O.A. except stop in on the "boys" . . . O. K. Hanson, Canadian manager for Educational Films is in New York for the week-end and a few days more . . . Al Aronson, who has been representing Metro in Central Europe for the past several years, but who has now allied himself with World Wide Pictures, arrived from Europe Friday for a series of conferences with J. D. Williams and Jos. Skirboll . . . Walter Hill denies that the A.M.P.A. turned down his application and check for membership because he had not been a press agent long enough, and regardless of what any A.M.P.A. man says Walt can write on either an application or a check . . . Artie Brilant, new managing director of the Colony, will have Universal's first 100% talkie, "The Melody of Love" in the Colony when "Lonesome" leaves there, which may happen next week . . . Charley Goetz, head of the States Cinema Corp., expects to leave next week for Los Angeles for a stay of several weeks . . . J. E. Williamson, inventor of the undersea picture taking apparatus, has returned from the Caribbean Sea where he is said to have made a most remarkable picture, even more so than his previous ones . . . Will Hays, accompanied by a party of newspaper men, left New York Friday for Wyoming, where they spend four days hunting whatever it is they have for hunting purposes in Wyoming . . . J. D. Williams made a flying trip to Chicago last week returning Saturday on the eCentury . . . Pete Woodhull and Mike O'Toole left Saturday night for the M.P.T.O.A. convention at Toronto, which convention Pete and Mike say will be a humdinger . . . Donn McElwaine, for years with Fox, but more recently with the Buck Jones Productions, has resigned to become head of Pathe's publicity department on the coast.

TALKING SEQUENCES FOR "SUBMARINE"

Synchronization has already started on "Submarine" at the Victor Talking Machine Studios in Camden, N. J. Columbia plans to take advantage of the technical knowledge and great facilities offered by the Western Electric Studios by having several other productions fitted with sound in the East. From present plans, all talking sequences will probably be done at the company's studios in Hollywood. Ground has already been broken and the erection of several sound stages has begun on newly acquired property adjoining the company's present plant on the West Coast.

Besides "Submarine," Columbia has ten specials and several program features especially fitted for sound, music effects and talking sequences.

Elect M. P. Salesmen

The new officers of the Motion Picture Salesmen, Inc., who were elected last Saturday are G. William Wolf of Fox, re-elected for the third time; Gus Solomon of First National is 1st V. P., Matty Cahan, 2nd V. P., Sol Trauner, Treas.; Ben Rapoport of Tiffany-Stahl, Fin. Secy.; M. Markowitz, Recording Secy.

Sol Title of Educational is chairman of the entertainment committee which is arranging the annual ball to be held on November 24th at the Hotel Commodore.

Texas Meets Nov. 13-14

A mammoth meeting and convention of Texas theatre owners has been scheduled for November 13-14 in Dallas.

Manager W. S. Waid is busy preparing details for the state-wide gathering of exhibitors.

MARCEL SILVER FIRST MOVietone DIRECTOR

Although the new talking pictures are still young inquiring persons already have asked for the name of the first Movietone director. Marcel Silver, a young Frenchman, holds that position. In November, 1926, he directed Raquel Meller in four songs which were the first dramatic Movietone pictures.

Since that time Silver has made eighteen Fox-Movietone subjects.

Cosine With Fejos

Arthur Cosine, one of the leading New York location experts, has been signed by Universal as an aid to Dr. Paul Fejos for that director's New York location work on "Broadway," the Laemmle adaptation of the famous stage success. With Cosine as the point of contact with New York municipal authorities, the police and fire departments, Fejos now is getting a series of scenes around Times Square and in other parts of the city.

Kansas City Proves Good Training Grounds

With the appointment of M. Van Praag, as general sales manager of Universal, we are reminded of other sales and film executives who have achieved fame and position, and who had a better part of their start in Kansas City.

Sidney Kent, Paramount general manager; Louis B. Metzger, general manager of Universal and Milton Feld, Publix official, all did their training in Kansas City.

FOX TO ACQUIRE NEW $7,000,000 THEATRE

CINCINNATI.—The Fox Film Corporation plans to take over a motion picture theatre and hotel property at Fifth Street, between Main and Sycamore, which is to cost $7,000,000.

Construction will begin shortly. The site of the new Fox theatre is not far from E. F. Albee's theatre.

Warner Reorganizes Warner Publicity Dept.

The Warner publicity and advertising department has been reorganized by A. P. Waxman. George Brown has been created advertising manager under Waxman and Mr. Namack is now publicity manager. Jack Lewis will handle exploitation.

Warren Lewis remains in charge of Vitaphone advertising and publicity.

Warners Lost First Minneapolis Case

(Continued from page 1)
a number of pictures under contract which he refused to play.

Woempner requested that the contracts be declared null and void because Warner had held up the subsequent runs in Minneapolis due to the lack of a first-run in the city over a period of nearly six months.

The board decided in favor of the exhibitor and the decision will undoubtedly have far-reaching effect in future situations of this nature.

Weber-Fields on WOR

Weber and Fields will be the next attraction on Warner Bros. Vitaphone Jubilee Hour next Monday, which is broadcasted every Monday night from 9.30 to 10 o'clock over the Columbia Chain, whose local station is WOR.

BI-METALIC BUYS COLORADO THEATRE

DENVER.—A new management is coming into the famous Colorado Theatre with the withdrawal of Bishop-Cass Investment Co. and the entrance of the Bi-Metallic Investment Co.

The change marks the advent of Horace W. Bennett, Denver capitalist, into the theatre business. The theatre is one of the landmarks of the city. $50,000 will be spent by the new management in renovating the theatre and installing sound devices.

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.

for

Library Stock Scenes

130 West 46th Street New York
Bryant 8181

TELL 'EM
WITH TRAILERS

NEW YORK'S NEWEST and FINEST HOTEL

SMARTLY NEAR THE CENTER OF THINGS

Around the corner from New York's exclusive shopping district, readily accessible to leading theatres, and railroad terminals, yet in a neighborhood socially correct and away from the noise and turmoil of the business district. The Park Central enjoys a location distinctly unique in its advantages. Come to the Park Central, New York's newest and finest hotel, where you will find advantages heretofore unknown to American hostilities — Radio outlets . . . Electric Refrigeration . . . Period Salons and Roof Patios for private social functions . . . swimming pool . . . Florentine Grille featuring the Park Central Grille Orchestra . . . other features equally unusual and desirable. Single rooms five dollars per day and up. Double rooms eight dollars per day and up.

THE PARK CENTRAL

FIFTY-FIFTH STREET AT 7th AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY

JOAN CRAWFORD TO BE STARRED

Meteoric Rise of M-G-M Star—Seek Big Story For Her

By JOE BLAIR
Hollywood Correspondent

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer have great plans for Joan Crawford. The first and foremost is a starring contract starting immediately. They are now looking for a story for her first starring vehicle.

Coming on the heels of Joan's great performance in "Dancing Daughters," his announcement will probably surprise no one. Of course M-G-M were prompted quite a bit in making this step by the tremendous business this picture is doing wherever shown. They should give Josephine Lovett some kind of a writing-starring contract also, for her story made this picture great. Harry Beaumont should come in for something good also. And while we are passing around the promotions for Mr. Mayer, might we suggest plenty of good pictures for Anita Page and Dorothy Sebastian.

New Title for "Badges"

"The Ghost Talks" is the new title chosen by Fox officials for "Badges," Max Marcin's play, which Lew Seiler is producing as an all-talking Movietone feature at the Fox coast studios. Helen Twelvetees and Charles Eaton, both former Broadway players, have the leading roles in this feature.

Marcella Gardner Signed

Marcella Garner, feature and magazine writer has been added to Fox Films scenario department. She will read and translate stories of the German and French languages. Miss Gardner is a native of Austria and recently translated the script of "Our Daily Bread," now being produced by F. W. Murnau, the script having been prepared by Berthold Viertel in the German language.

Green Writes "Coquette"

Howard J. Green has been signed by Columbia to write the screen story of "The College Coquette," which is to go into immediate production.

Veidt's Last One

Conrad Veidt's last European film and the one which he regards as his finest, "The Man Who Cheated Life," has been acquired by the Affiliated European Producers, Inc. This picture was released on the continent as "The Student of Prague."

King for "Melody"

Charles King, who had leading roles in "Hit the Deck" and "Present Arms," made such a good impression with his first Movietone recording for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer that he was immediately engaged by this company for the male lead in "Broadway Melody," and left New York (Friday) for the coast.

Harry Beaumont, who directed "Our Dancing Daughters," now in its second week at the Capitol, will make "Broadway Melody."

STUDIO GOSSIP

Tom Reed, Universal's ace title writer, has been signed on another contract by that organization.

* * *

Hollywood rumor has Mae Murray returning to M-G-M for at least one and maybe two pictures. Miss Murray returned here after quite a tour of the Pantages theatres.

* * *

Benjamin Glazer is completing the organization of Pathe's sound staff. The latest to be added are William Jutte, dialogue writer, John Rolfs, production manager and Claud Berkeley, film editor.

* * *

Monte Carter, former stage director, has been signed by Universal as a supervisor of sound.

* * *

Walter Anthony is writing the dialogue for "Erik the Great," the Universal production starring Conrad Veidt.

* * *

Cecil B. DeMille is making good his threat that he would have an unknown play the male lead in his first M-G-M picture "Dynamite." He has selected Orville Walbridge, who C. B. discovered at a gas filling station.

* * *

Marvie Prevost and Kenneth Harlan are going to take a fling at vaudeville. They will do a sketch.

* * *

Margaret Seddon is to appear in the role of the mother of a young soldier in "She Goes to War," Rupert Hughes' newest novel.

* * *

John John McCormick has signed Max Parker, former art director for Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks, to handle the same responsibilities for Coleen Moore's forthcoming picture "Synthetic Sin," which will shortly go into production at the First National Studio.

Newmeyer Gathers Cast

Sally Phipps, Robert Elliott, Frank Albertson, and Francis McDonald have been chosen by Director Fred Newmeyer to play the leading roles in the newspaper story he is to produce for Fox Films. The picture has not yet been titled.

To give some of you an idea about the enormous money spent each year by the Hollywood studios, get this: Universal last year spent more than $675,000 for extra talent alone.

* * *

Word comes out of the Tiffany-Stahl studio that with the release of "The Spirit of Youth" pictures will see a new Dorothy Sebastian. The work this little lady is doing in this production will disarm most every critic. T. S. seems to be doing great work in making a star out of Dorothy for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

* * *

Reginald Barker, has started his third special for Tiffany-Stahl. It is "New Orleans." Ricardo Cortez is being starred with Buster Collier and Alma Bennett have important roles.

* * *

We will very likely, see some new wrinkles in bath-tubs now that C. B. DeMille has decided to do a society ditty for his first M-G-M production.

* * *

"Dream of Love" is the new title selected for the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Balkan kingdom story, "Adrienne Lecouvreur," now in production under Fred Niblo's direction, with Joan Crawford and Nils Asther in leading roles. This film will have a special musical synchronization and sound effects.

* * *

Victor Seastrom, having completed direction of "The Masks of the Devil," the Viennese story adapted from a Jacob Wasserman novel, sailed Friday night for Europe on the Olympic accompanied by his wife and two children.

* * *

Katharine Carver (Mrs. Adolph Menjou) will have a good part in the Monte Blue-May McAvoy Warner picture "No Defense."

"The Big Hop" Sold To Great Britain

Murray W. Garsson, president of the Buck Jones Corporation, while in England, closed a contract with Michael Balcon, president of Gainsborough Productions, for the distribution of "The Big Hop" and other Buck Jones pictures in the British Isles.

NEW YORK'S
NEWEST RENDEZVOUS!

LUNCHEON $.75
DINNER $ 1.50

Gypsy Music
Gypsy Atmosphere

No Cover Charge

Phone CIRCLE 8580
100 West 58th Street

At 6th Avenue

Hotel Windsor
Dining Salon

Dance to the Music of
ALBERT BELA SOBLO'S GYPSY
ORCHESTRA

Direction H. FEINBERG
Formerly Knickerbocker Grill

LANG CLEANS UP "SPIRIT OF YOUTH"

Completes T-S Film in Two Weeks

By Studio Correspondent

Walter Lang, Tiffany-Stahl director, is taking bows all over the lot, as a matter of fact, throughout Hollywood, for his feat in completing his latest picture for T-S, "The Spirit of Youth," in two weeks. He had a four weeks' shooting schedule.

Generally when these "quickies" are shot through so fast, the production suffers from that activity, but in his instance, Lang has done a wonderful piece of work and any trained mind could look at it and feel certain that the full time scheduled had been used for the production.

It's a great picture of the "world championship" fight type and buzzes right along from the first reel to the last.

Jimmie Cruze, after seeing the picture and on being told the length of time it took Lang to make it said, "Walter is one of the screen's greatest directors and all he needs to be generally recognized as such is a few more pictures released."

Gaynor in "Christine"

"Christine" will be the new title for Janet Gaynor's latest Fox picture formerly called "Street Fair." Charles Morton, Rudolph Schildkraut, Harry Cording and Luey Dorraine are in the supporting cast and William K. Howard is directing.

Classified Advertisements

Advertisements in this column, 5 cents per word. Cash must be sent with order. No charge for Box Number line. Minimum order, $1. 10% discount 12 issues or more.

POSITIONS WANTED

MOTION PICTURE OPERATOR—Simplex and Powers—seeks connection in small theatre; no objection to N. Y. suburban house. Available immediately. Name your own salary. Box 112, Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY, LADY with 8 years' experience in film business desires position in Motion Picture Industry. Highest References. Box 111, Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

FOR SALE

AN OLD AND WELL ESTABLISHED ORCHESTRAL BUSINESS of Band Providers. Fully licensed, agency for variety, etc. Price £4,500. Commodious offices, extensive up-to-date library and music. Established 25 years. Open to every inspection and investigation. Write May Walter Orchestras, 81, Shaftesbury Avenue, London, W.1.

MOTION PICTURE AND "STILL" cameras rented, sold and exchanged. Portable lights for sale and for rent. Keep us advised of your wants. Ruby Camera Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

LOCAL FILMS

MOTION PICTURES MADE TO ORDER. Commercial, Home or Industrial. We have excellent facilities and the best cameramen. Our price, 20c per foot. Ruby Film Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

WHETHER YOU WANT TO HIRE some one or be hired; buy or sell a theatre; trade or sell equipment, or do almost anything else in the motion picture business, an ad in this department will get you results. If you want us to word the ad for you, the services of our advertising experts are at your call. Simply tell us what you want to do, and how many words you want used. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

SEVEN NEW FILMS IN B'WAY HOUSES

New films on the Broadway program this week started auspiciously with the introduction of "The Wedding March" at the Rivoli and "The Battle of the Sexes" at the Rialto.

Other new pictures are "Moran of the Marines" at the Paramount, with Dix and Ruth Elder; "Red Lips" at the Hippodrome; "Singapore Mutiny" at the Broadway; a Russian comedy, "Three Comrades and One Invention," at the Cameo.

The Roxy will play "The Air Circus" and the 55th Street Playhouse, "Kriemhild's Revenge." "Our Dancing Daughters" is held over at the Capitol. "Women They Talk About" will be the new Warner film at the Strand.

National Lists Six

Six Universal pictures have just been listed for special recommendations by the National Board of Review. They have been included in the reviewing organization's Photoplay Guide.

The pictures are "The Kid's Clever," the latest Glenn Tryon feature comedy; "Fighting for Victory," the latest of "The Collegians" series; "The South Pole Flight," and "A Horse Tale," two recent Oswald the Lucky Rabbit Cartoon Comedies, and "The Rag Doll," a Laemmle Novelty one-reeler.

Murphy and Chandler With World Wide

Will Murphy, formerly with Warners and C. F. Chandler, formerly with First National have been engaged by World Wide Pictures, Inc., to prepare exploitation campaigns for several foreign productions which the J. D. Williams organization will release.

Frisco Movietone Truck

SAN FRANCISCO.—The First Fox Movietone News Truck to be seen in this city is parking daily in front of the Fox Exchange. The crew is in charge of James Seebach, Fox Movietone Staff and Oscar Darling, sound technician.

Gala Gaiety Opening

UTICA, N. Y.—The re-opening of the completely modernized Gaiety Theatre takes place on Monday evening October 15th. This Shine Enterprise house was renovated under the supervision of Victor A. Rigamont, New York City theatre architect.

Halligan at Fox

William Halligan, the globe trotter and sometime actor, has parked his car on the Fox lot for a siege of writing a few movietones.

Berlin's Own Film Dept.

BERLIN. — The Municipal Government is creating its own kinetograph and picture department, which will shortly begin recording local events, and the creation of a film library to supply schools with pictures, and to train cameramen and operators.

King Vidor Selects Two Hallelujah Leads from Harlem's Black Belt

COLONY BOOSTS RECEIPTS WITH OUTDOOR SPEAKER

The Colony Theatre at 53rd and Broadway is operating a powerful loud-speaker arrangement for the outside of the house.

Five amplifiers are lined up under the marquee just back of the box office and camouflaged from the view of the public in such a way that passersby are unable to figure out where the music comes from and how the machine is operated. Many think the music comes either from the stage and screen inside the theatre.

Phototone is the name of the outfit which is electrically operated.

Allied Group To Stump Country for New Organiz.

(Continued from page 1)

others in the Allied group are to begin a stump tour of the United States starting November 1st for the purpose of persuading each state exhibitor leader to call a convention, to build up a real big meeting.

By December 1st, Allied leaders expect there will be conservatively eighteen states in the affiliation. These states will later be asked to join the Allied States group.

There will be no politics played in the Allied organization, according to W. A. Steffes, because each state will elect its own member to the Board of Directors and will be allowed only one vote.

A fund of $100,000 will be raised for the purpose of hiring someone outside of the business, to head the organization and be its general business manager.

W. A. Steffes, Col. Cole and Abe Kaplan were in New York Saturday. Steffes asserted that he believed there should be reforms in the industry and his group will try to bring them about. There must be reforms brought about for the theatre owners of the country, and a closer relation in the functions of all the branches of the industry for the purpose of bringing about correct methods of doing business.

Steffes reiterated his belief that there should be an organization maintained by the theatre owners themselves, that is a functioning organization, and the only way to do that is to bring each state into a compact organization. "At the present time, we do not know of any single state in the U. S. that is supplying their full quota of dues to any national organization, outside of the Allied States," said Steffes.

"The Board of Directors of the Allied group believe that each member state should meet at least once every sixty days to find out what is going on in the different districts of the country, and to meet spontaneously whenever occasion demands."

Steffes, when asked, who he thought would be elected the next president of the M.P.T.O.A., stated that he and other Allied leaders are not interested in exhibitor politics. He admitted that he might stop off in Toronto on his way home to Minnesota, but was not a member of the M.P.T.O.A. and would not attend any meetings, merely stopping over to greet his exhibitor friends.

King Vidor, who has left for Memphis to take location scenes for his new M-G-M production, "Hallelujah," which will be made with an all-colored cast, has made his final selections for leads, from Harlem's Black Belt.

The two principal roles will be filled by Daniel Haynes, of "Show Boat" and Honey Brown, star singer and dancer of the Harlem Club. The ingenue role will be played by Victoria Spivey, night-club and phonograph entertainer. Everett McGarrity, Chicago colored boy, was previously signed for the second male lead.

VITACOLOR STARTS

Experimental Plant at Realart Studios

LOS ANGELES.—The Max B. Du Pont Vitacolor Corporation has located at the Realart Studios, with experimental laboratories and production headquarters. Attachments for color cameras are being made.

Officers of the company are Eugene Overton, president, C. M. Kellogg, vice president, H. S. Ryerson, secretary and William DeMille, scenarist and director. Max Du Pont will also direct. The company is capitalized at $500,000.

Smith Joins Fox

Paul Gerard Smith, author of "Keep Kool," "Funny Face," "Here's Howe" and other Broadway musical shows, has joined the staff of writers at the Fox Movietone studios in Hollywood.

Dickson Appointed Pathe Service Mgr.

Theodore E. Dickson has been appointed service manager at the Pathe Studios in Culver City, Calif. In this capacity Dickson will have general supervision of costumes, properties, decorations of sets—everything in connection with the physical side of the new Pathe pictures with the exception of architectural design, building and construction.

Richman Held Up

The Harry Richman-United Artists production, "Say It With Music" or "Tin Pan Alley," has been held up until Irving Berlin, together with several other screen writers, work out a better screen treatment of his story. In the meantime Alan Crosland and C. Gardner Sullivan are trying to put another idea in shooting form.

New Pickford Lead

It looks as if William Janney, son of Russell Janney, New York stage producer, will get the lead opposite Miss Pickford in the forthcoming production of "Coquette."

Jessel Gives In

George Jessel, through the aid of a bag of gold, has finally given in to Tiffany-Stahl. He will sing five or six songs for the T-S production of "The Ghetto." Recording will be done via R. C. A. in New York.

Advertises With "Noise"

An enterprising (?) Philadelphia exhibitor is advertising on his marquette, one of the talking shorts, and backs up the picture with the words "WITH NOISE."

RAYART PLANNING TALKING PROGRAM

LOS ANGELES.—Rayart Productions, which move into the Mack Sennett Studios shortly from the Metropolitan Studios is planning to produce some of its 1928-29 productions as talking pictures.

The company may make use of the Photophone equipment which is in the Sennett Studios.

M.P.T.O.A. Meeting Huge Trade Conf.—No Politics

(Continued from page 1)

a huge trade conference with politics left out, bickerings and sore spots entirely forgotten and all intent on doing something big for the whole industry.

It will happen that way, according to R. F. Woodhull, who says it is a sure fire bet, and others among the national officers agree with the president the results should be entirely gratifying all around.

President Woodhull, Secretary O'Toole, Director Joseph W. Walsh and about two dozen others left Saturday night for Toronto. They will likely constitute the advance guard from the United States. A special car on the fast Toronto Express will carry in a group of enthusiastic Ohio folks. Wisconsin, Missouri, Kansas, Indiana, Nebraska and other middle west states will be represented early. Many from nearby states will drive in as the roads are good and the automobiles better.

The entertainment elements are in keeping with the big affair. The civic ceremonies will precede the convention opening on Tuesday and that means some fine talks, good food and other things. That is only the beginning and the pleasanter elements intersperse the convention program all along the line.

The convention will be honored by two Cuban representatives. This is the first time they attended an Exhibitor convention outside their own country. They will bring the greetings of Latin America.

Capt. Lohmann in Phoebus Scandal

(Continued from page 1)

Benke's successor Admiral Zenker, had confirmed. For this, the latter had to bear the responsibility and had to resign.

No blame for this secret jobbery is attached to the Military Ministry or any other high government department. It is, therefore, out of the question that the German Government should have meant to bolster up a national film producing company with private money.

Captain Lohmann himself was never indicted and the results of the official inquiry into the Phoebus case which caused the country a loss of over ten million marks have never been made known. It is, therefore, assumed that very influential circles outside the Government were parties to the Phoebus affair.

SECURITY

THE feeling of absolute security is only possible with a company, a firm or an individual that has proved to you that a man's word is a man's bond.

For fifteen years we have maintained this square relationship with our customers and we are now going a step farther in guaranteeing a series of pictures that will permit a proper resistance of exorbitant prices from the so-called old-line firms.

You have the theatres—we have the attractions. It is to our mutual advantage to get together. And we therefore announce on these pages a lineup of product that represents the cream of the independent production field. Distinguished authors whose names are household entertainment gods, directors whose signatures correspond to the "sterling" on silver, stars that shine from the marquees of every de luxe theatre in the country. We, as "The World's Leading Distributors of Independent Pictures," are your barrier against the aggression of the monopoly groups. If you are smart you will listen and act on these suggestions.

And we don't mean perhaps!

HARRY H. THOMAS.

Millions have read these "Famous Novels"

Not Short Stories But The Best Selling Novels Of Great Authors

POLA NEGRI in "ARE WOMEN TO BLAME"

BOOKED ENTIRE LOEW CIRCUIT—130 DAYS

TEN EXCELLENT SPECIALS

EIGHT CELEBRATED ATTRACTIONS

TEN SENSATION SPECIALS

EIGHT ACTION CLASSICS

EIGHT BOX OFFICE WINNERS

FOUR DE LUXE ATTRACTIONS

Leaving a Trail of Smashed Box Office Records

"THE ROAD TO RUIN"

DISTRIBUTED BY TRUE LIFE PHOTO PLAYS CORP.

(A subsidiary of First Division)

Now Being Roadshowed

The World's Leading Distributor of Independent Pictures

The Giants of 1929

The Giants of 1929

The HOUSE of SHAME

by LEE LAUTHMAR

VIRGINIA BROWN FAIRE GREIGHTON HALE LLOYD WHITLOCK and excellent supporting cast

A DARING AND SENSATIONAL "CUL" THAT WILL BREAK ALL BOX OFFICE RECORDS READY NOW

GREATER

FIRST DIVISION PICTURES

729 SEVENTH AVENUE

NEW YORK CITY
HARRY H. THOMAS
president

Phone BRYANT 4200

IN THE VARIOUS TOWNS WHERE
"PORT OF MISSING GIRLS"
PLAYED IT HAS BROKEN BOX-OFFICE RECORDS
IN THE HEAT OF SUMMER. IRVING CUMMINGS TREMENDOUS HIT PRODUCED LAVISHLY WITH GORGEOUS SETTINGS AND AN EXCEPTIONAL CAST
BOOKED BY THE ENTIRE KEITH CIRCUIT and READY NOW

"The PORT of MISSING GIRLS"

WITH
BARBARA BEDFORD
MALCOLM MCGREGOR
NATALIE KINGSTON
PAUL NICHOLSON
ROSEMARY THEBY
WYNDHAM STANDING
BODIL ROSING
GEORGE IRVING
EDITH YORK
Directed by
Irving Cummings

LINDA

by MARGARET PRESCOTT MONTAGUE

WITH A MOST REMARKABLE CAST

INCLUDING
WARNER BAXTER
HELEN FOSTER
NOAH BEERY
JANE WINTON
RUSSELL SIMPSON
And Others

ALL THE INGREDIENTS THAT "MADE" "MICKEY" and "TOLABLE DAVID" Are Included in MARGARET PRESCOTT MONTAGUE'S Famous Novel "LINDA" Published by HOUGHTON-MIFFLIN CO. and Sold at $ 1.50 NOW BEING PRODUCED BY THE COMPANY THAT MADE "THE ROAD TO RUIN". POSITIVELY WILL BE THIS YEAR'S GREATEST SENSATION.

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT

Directed by
ROBERT WIENE

WITH THE MOSCOW
ART THEATRE
PLAYERS

"THE DIRECTOR WHO CREATED "The CABINET of Dr. CALIGARI" AND THE AUTHOR OF "The BROTHERS KARAMAZOFF" HAVE TURNED OUT THE GREATEST PICTURE OF THEIR CAREER. UNQUESTIONABLY ONE OF THE GREATEST PRODUCTIONS EVER RELEASED

EMIL JANNINGS in "FORTUNE'S FOOL"

THE STORY IS BY HANS KRALEY AUTHOR OF "The PATRIOT" The Combination of KRALEY AND JANNINGS ASSURE THE EXHIBITOR'S BOX-OFFICE SUCCESS 2 WEEKS ON RIVAY NOW READY

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. — Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 88

New York, Tuesday, October 16, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Friend or Enemy!

If the Toronto convention can establish the principle in the motion picture business that buyer and seller need not be sworn enemies, armed with bowie knives and six shooters, and believing all that is bad and little that is good of the other, the Toronto convention will hurtle into history as the most constructive gathering possible to motion pictures.

* * *

The picture business today is the only great business where buyers and sellers do not regard each other as essential business friends.

* * *

The first necessary thing now is that every exhibitor in the United States and Canada should join the exhibitor organization, pay his dues and get back of it like a business man to mutually resist restrictive legislation, oppose insane legal proposals like the Brookhart and the Canon Chase (Hudson) bills, combat censorship and deal with domestic business problems that threaten the exhibitors' control of their own theatres.

* * *

Producers and distributors have at least striven to give the theatres the best entertainment they could provide and there is no problem in the business that cannot be squarely settled if the era of suspicion, rancor and hatreds can be ended.

* * *

Are the essential elements of the business to be friends or enemies?

ARTHUR JAMES

"UNION OF ENDEAVOR ON N. A. CONTINENT" CONVENTION AIM

R. F. WOODHULL

National President of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America, who will today formally open the Ninth Annual Convention in Toronto, Canada.

GOTHAM INSTALLS 2 BRISTOLPHONES

Gotham Bristolphone, handling physical distribution of the installation of Bristolphone, have installed an outfit in

(Continued on page 2)

Fox Movietone Trucks Record "Zep" Arrival

Fox-Case Movietone yesterday had a couple of movietone trucks stationed at Lakehurst to photograph the arrival of Graf Zeppelin in sound.

The talking pictures will be shown on Broadway as quickly as possible, very probably tonight, and they will feature a few words of welcome from Capt. Eckener and other prominent passengers.

UNIV. DIRECTORS ELECT C. B. PAINE TREASURER

At a special meeting of the board of directors of Universal Pictures Corporation, held Friday, and in accordance with the desire of Carl Laemmle, Charles B. Paine was elected treasurer to succeed E. H. Goldstein, resigned.

This appointment was not unexpected. Mr. Laemmle's long continued policy of promotion within the ranks indicated the advancement of another Universalite. Furthermore, in the discharge of the many and various duties he has been called upon to perform, Paine has exhibited excellent judgment, absolute sincerity and a loyalty which were certainly deserving of the reward which Mr. Laemmle has accorded to him.

For the last two years Mr. Paine has concerned himself largely with the financial end of the Universal theatre chain. Until other arrangements are made, he will continue to handle his duties in the chain in addition to those of treasurer. He entered upon his duties on Monday.

At the time of his election as treasurer, Mr. Paine was also elected a member of the board of directors.

Han-A-Phone in Crescent

The first installation of Han-A-Phone synchronizing device in Greater New York has been installed at the Crescent Theatre on Nostrand Avenue, Brooklyn.

The first showing with Han-A-Phone took place last Saturday night.

VICTORY NOTE!

Charlie Pettijohn, after three years of trying, has beaten Arthur Dickinson in a golf game by 1 point. We understand they are not speaking.

City of Toronto Host to Ninth Convention of U. S. Exhibitors

TORONTO.—The Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America, in officially opening their Ninth Annual Convention today at the King Edward Hotel, brought with them a message of greeting to their confreres in Canada, which expressed the spirit of the entire exhibitor element in the U. S.

The message was as follows:

"It requires the services of a trained engineer to find the border line between Canada and the United States. But no form of human analysis nor investigation will suffice to prove any definite difference between the people of both great North American nations in point of character or inherent American qualities.

"We look alike, we act similarly, we speak the same language, cherish generally the same hopes and ambitions and are essentially the same people.

"So in coming to Canada from the United States to hold this convention of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of

(Continued on page 6)

MILLIKEN, PETTIJOHN, DICKINSON AT M.P.T.O.A.

TORONTO.—Joining the trek north to Toronto, in the wake of M. P. T. O. A. officials, who arrived here yesterday for the Ninth Annual Convention at the King Edward Hotel, were three well-known representatives of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, who arrived here this morning.

They were ex-Gov. Milliken, C. C. Pettijohn and Arthur Dickinson. Al Steffes, president of the Northwest Theatre Owners of Minnesota was also a visitor.

Hearst Newsreel 'Zep' Pictures Real Achievement of Industry

Motion pictures carried off first honors in the Graf Zeppelin transatlantic flight from Germany to America, completed yesterday. A news reel man, sitting in the gondola of the air giant, took the record which will give to posterity a pictorial record of this pioneering triumph. He was Robert Hartman, staff cameraman of the Hearst Newsreel, supplying the news of motion pictures

(Continued on page 6)

NOTICE!

EXHIBITORS DAILY REVIEW

New Address: Suite 409, 25 W. 43d St., New York

New Telephone: Bryant 5224

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager. Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 5224. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hemphstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York—Artie Stebbins is leaving next week for the west coast on his annual hunting trip—hunting for any member of the industry who has money enough and who has not yet signed up an insurance policy with him . . . Al Smith, with a notable cast, is starring in pictures every evening in Times Square directly in front of the Motion Picture Club, and he's a good actor, too . . . Harry Nolan, old western war horse of the industry, arrived in town yesterday for a few days of business and just visiting around . . . Dr. Hugo Reisenfeld was in New York yesterday and you have to keep close tab on him to know whether he is here from Camden, N. J. or Hollywood, as he keeps commuting right along between those two places . . . Dick Anderson, of International News Service, and Mrs. Anderson were invited to be the guests last night of the commander of the big Zeppelin on the ship at Lakehurst, and did Dick accept, ask them up around Universal . . . J. J. Murdock, president of Pathe, and Pat Casey, who were left behind in London by Joe Kennedy, have arrived back at the home port . . . Howard Sheehan, always referred to by the film papers as "brother of W. R. Sheehan," is in New York and some day Howard is going to get tired of being designated as somebody's brother and rare right up . . . Henry Bate has grown so accustomed to the new layout of the publicity and advertising department at Universal that he can almost get around safely without a guide . . . Fred Desberg came in from Cleveland yesterday and was the luncheon guest of Col. E. A. Schiller and other Loew officials at the Motion Picture Club . . . King Vidor has been making so many tests of colored talent for Metro's all-negro picture "Hallelujah," that most everything is beginning to look spotty to him . . . Carl Laemmle, and almost everyone else up at Universal saw the Zeppelin from the roof of the Hecksher building, and almost everyone, including the big chief, went back to their offices with stiff necks.

O'Toole Sounds Keynote of Int'l Amity as Conv. Opens

M. J. O'TOOLE

Ex-President and present Secretary-Business Manager of the M.P. T.O.A., analyzes the spirit of goodwill between theatre owners of the United States and Canada, in his convention address.

50 INVITED -- 500 ARRIVE; NO PREVIEW

"The Singing Fool," whose fame preceded it to Boston, Mass., where it is scheduled for a gala opening at the Fenway Theatre, was the cause of disappointment to some 500 exhibitors and their friends last Thursday night.

Herbert E. Elder of Warners in New England, had issued invitations to a group of about 50 prominent exhibitors to attend a special preview of the picture which was to be given at the Fenway after the last performance, Thursday night.

Through no fault of Elder, the 50 exhibitors invited everyman and his wife to come along and the result was that the theatre was crowded with about 500 people. The Publix management then took a hand and regretfully informed the audience that the picture would not be shown.

The real reason for the disappointment lay in the fact that the picture is scheduled for a regular $5.00 opening at the Fenway and Publix did not intend to let the cream of the first-night audience see the film gratis.

GOTHAM INSTALLS

(Continued from page 1)

the Academy Theatre, Hagerstown, Md., and are making immediate installation in the Olympia Theatre, in New York City. These are the first sets of this outfit installed anywhere.

In addition to the above, this company will have delivered within ten days, six recording sets, three to be installed in their New York studios and the other three going to the studio's in Los Angeles.

M. J. O'Toole, secretary and business manager of the M. P. T. O. A. and formerly president of the organization has made pertinent observations regarding Canada and its relations with the United States, which illuminated the need for industrial harmony with the motion picture business and the wastefulness of strife. Says O'Toole:

"A case in point along National lines will serve to illustrate the business value of amity as compared with the wastefulness associated with suspicion and distrust. Most European countries and many in South America spend vast sums in armaments, forts, and men to safeguard and patrol the borders. This is not only wasteful in the initial expense, but it destroys mutuality and impedes business developments.

"In more than three thousand miles of border between the United States and Canada, there is not a serviceable fort or gun and not a soldier on either side, save the usual mounted police to suppress ordinary crime.

"We have not encroached one foot on Canada in our whole national history and Canada has treated us in a similarly fair way. There is no suspicion, no distrust, no worry.

"Every American respects Canadian rights and every Canadian has the same wholesome regard for American rights. When we go to Canada they welcome us and when they come here we welcome them. Our relations are fair, our interests are mutual and our purposes are honorable.

"What a terrible waste of men, money and business opportunity it would be if we allowed distrust to supplant this wonderful confidence and the entire three thousand miles of border were

M.P.T.O.A. Convention Toronto, Canada

Today's Program

Morning:

Registration of Delegates.

11.00 A. M.:

Address by J. C. Brady—M.P. T.O. of Canada.

Address of Welcome—N. L. Nathanson, on behalf of M.P. T.O. of Canada.

Address of Welcome—Mayor Samuel McBride, Toronto.

Response by J. W. Walsh—M.P. T.O.A.

2.00 P. M.:

Formal Opening and Address by President R. F. Woodhull.

Report Board of Directors and National Legislative Committee by A. J. Brylawski.

Report by Secy. M. J. O'Toole. Exploitation—George W. Harvey, President of A.M.P.A.

Report of Treasurer L. M. Sagal.

Address on Fire Safety—W. Grove Smith.

Appointment of Committees.

fortified with armies on both sides.

"Mutual confidence, my friends, is the only sane business standard. We can have it in the Motion Picture Industry."

Gerard in "Madonna"

Douglas Gerrard is the latest player to be assigned by J. L. Warner to the cast of Dolores Costello's picture, "Madonna of Avenue A," which Michael Curtiz is directing. Others figuring prominently in the line-up of featured artists are Grant Withers, Louise Dresser, Otto Hoffman, Lee Moran and William Russell.

NOW PLAYING TO CAPACITY AUDIENCES AT THE CAMEO THEATRE, BROADWAY

New Amkino Releases !!

3 COMRADES and 1 INVENTION

A Soviet Comedy

A SHANGHAI DOCUMENT

A Page from the Chinese Revolution

AMKINO CORPORATION

Representing

"SOVKINO" OF MOSCOW

723 Seventh Avenue
New York City

Bryant 7678

GREAT SCOOP

in Newsreel History—

by the Hearst Organization for

INTERNATIONAL NEWSREEL

Released through

UNIVERSAL

The only newsreel cameraman on board the Zeppelin represented the Hearst Organization!

The only pictures taken were taken by him and you see them in INTERNATIONAL NEWSREEL!

2 Each Week -- 104 a Year

The Start — the Trip — the Landing of the Giant Air Liner

GRAF ZEPPELIN

On her voyage across the Atlantic!

INTERNATIONAL NEWSREEL

There When It Happened

An Announcement by Frank Warner & Company:

BRISTOLPHONE is the world's foremost sound and dialogue synchronizing device. It is the result of fourteen years' experimentation by William H. Bristol, M.E.

WE ARE the direct agents of William H. Bristol and the William H. Bristol Talking Pictures Corporation of Waterbury, Conn.

WE ARE the exclusive lessees of the Recording Studios of the W. H. Bristol Talking Pictures Corporation for the production of a series of talking pictures, pending the completion of special sound studios in Los Angeles and New York, for the exclusive benefit of Bell Tone Productions.

THE FIRST of these productions

"The Great Power"

from the Broadway stage play by Myron C. Fagan is the first all-talking picture produced in the Bristol Studios by the genuine Bristol Process, and it is the first stage play ever produced in talkies with the original stage cast.

WE ALSO wish to announce that the Bell Tone Productions hold the exclusive rights to road-show use of BRISTOLPHONE up to the end of 1929. "THE GREAT POWER" will first be presented as a road show.

FURTHER INFORMATION about our 100% talkie product will be cheerfully given upon application to

BELL TONE PRODUCTIONS

Temporary Address: 225 WEST 49th STREET, NEW YORK CITY

Phone: Columbus 6470

For Bristolphone Installation

PHONE, WRITE, WIRE DIRECT TO

International Bristolphone Distributors, Inc.

WE GUARANTEE immediate delivery.

Fifty installations now being made.

IN ADDITION to the "BELL TONE" 100% talkie productions, of which "THE GREAT POWER" is the first, a complete line of short subjects will be released.

THE MECHANICAL simplicity of BRISTOLPHONE makes it, in the opinion of experts, the ideal synchronizing device for the motion picture theatre.

Special Terms Arranged

International Bristolphone Distributors, Inc.

JULES ULLMAN, Pres. MATTY RADIN, Gen. Mgr.

Temporary Address: 225 WEST 49th STREET, NEW YORK CITY

Phone: Columbus 6470

M-G-M TO SIGN GILBERT AGAIN

New Long-Term Contract To Be Given Star—Cancel Old One

By JOE BLAIR
Hollywood Correspondent

It looks as if Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and John Gilbert have come to a complete understanding regarding the future services of this popular star. On the arrival in Hollywood of Gilbert and his manager, Eddington, it was said that when his contract expired in May, Gilbert would move to United Artists, but since that time something has happened.

Actual shooting on the long delayed production of "Thirst" will begin immediately with William Nigh directing.

It is understood that all contractual differences between Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Gilbert have been ironed out, and that within the next day or two, a long term contract will be signed dispelling any doubt regarding the future services of Gilbert.

STUDIO GOSSIP

"Squads Right," French Foreign Legion story, is about to start with George Archainbaud directing and Buster Collier, Eddie Gribbon and George Stone in the cast.

* * *

Ronald Coleman will have a few weeks vacation between "The Rescue" and—they still say it—his next, "Condemned to Devil's Isle."

* * *

Roscoe Karns has been cast as the stage manager in the "Shopworn Angel."

* * *

Two full days were spent rehearsing scenes and spoken dialogue for "Half an Hour" at the Paramount studios.

* * *

F. Harmon Weight has begun direction of "Frozen River," Harry Behn's new scenario starring Warner Brothers pet, Rin-Tin-Tin.

* * *

Columbia Pictures has bought "The New Generation," by Fannie Hurst. Early production is planned with George Sidney in the cast if he can be secured from Universal.

* * *

After several conferences, F. B. O. says that Eric von Stroheim positively starts work on "Queen Kelly" by the last of next month.

* * *

Tyler Brooke, comedian, has just returned from Europe, where, with his wife, he has spent the summer.

* * *

Reports from Utah, where Raoul Walsh was badly injured in an automobile accident, now say that it is thought that the director's eye, which was hurt, will be saved.

* * *

Robert Flaherty has just returned from Mexico City. It is thought he went down to look over locations for a big Fox film about the Lucas of whom much has been written of late and much of their history unearthed. At any rate, Flaherty and Winfield Sheehan went into executive session as soon as he returned.

* * *

Harvey Gates has already started on Dolores Costello's next, "Alimony Annie." This will be another all-Vitaphone.

Four From First National

Writers, continuity men and supervisors are busy on four new First National pictures the productions now in various degrees of preparation are: "Saturday's Children," from Maxwell Anderson's play, which will be the next Corinne Griffith vehicle. Forrest Halsey is making the adaptation and continuity. Gregory LaCava will direct.

"Seven Footprints to Satan," a mystery picture from A. Merritt's novel. Benjamin Christensen will direct.

"Comedy of Life," an original by Leo Birinski and Josef Laszlo, which Alexander Korda will direct. Milton Sills and Maria Corda have been assigned to the leads.

"Hot Stuff," from Robert S. Carr's story, "Bluffers," which will be an Alice White picture. Adelaide Heilbron is making the adaptation.

"Children of the Ritz," from Cornell Woolrich's prize-winning novel. Adelaide Heilbron is preparing the scenario. This is scheduled as a Dorothy MacKaill-Jack Mulhall production.

"The Squall," a special with dialogue from the Broadway stage success, which Alexander Korda will direct.

"Weary River," by Courtney Ryley Cooper, the next Richard Barthelmess vehicle. Frank Lloyd will direct. Bradley King is writing the adaptation.

In "Apache" Cast

Margaret Livingston and Warner Richmond have been signed to support Don Alvarado in Columbia's "The Apache," a colorful study of Paris night life and intrigue.

Pearce For Christie

Leslie Pearce, well known stage director who has been staging such plays as "Interference," "Alias The Deacon," "The Royal Family," and other current successes, has signed with Al Christie to direct the dialogue version of the Douglas MacLean production, "The Carnation Kid."

"ZEP" PICTURE

(Continued from page 1)

to International Newsreel and M-G-M News.

Shots were taken of the big Zeppelin as it skimmed the skies, in Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia and New York, which were shown in the Broadway houses last night. Actual scenes taken from the airship will be shown today.

Hartman shot footage all the way over on the voyage and added to the record with shots of the large cities after reaching this side, including Philadelphia and New York, before going back to Lakehurst, where the landing was accomplished.

The film was taken from the big Zeppelin at Lakehurst, rushed through by special customs men at the field to the airport adjoining the navy station. From there it was flown by special plane to the Newark airport, where an escorted motorcycle delivery sped the negative to the International laboratory in 19th Street.

This is one of the greatest newsreel achievements in the history of those important purveyors of pictorial information and all the motion picture industry shares in the triumph.

It is said this news and motion picture service cost William Randolph Hearst $75,000.

First National Studios Installs Television

Behind barred doors at the big experimental stage and laboratory at First National Studios, electricians are working upon a television device for the use of studio executives.

It is understood that the device is a telephone with a vision screen above it about twelve inches square. The telephone works on a dial system, and is to be linked with regular inter-studio wires now in use. It will enable the film executive, in his office, to see and hear scenes of his pictures being made out on the stage.

Olmstead, Tashman Signed

Gertrude Olmstead and Lilyan Tashman will support Bert Lytell in Columbia's "The Lone Wolf's Daughter," the latest of the popular Louis Joseph Vance novels to be offered by the company.

"Nize Baby" Changes

Now Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has gone and changed director and cast of "Nize Baby," after spending $52,000 to date. Hobart Henley takes Sam Woods place at the megaphone and Sally Eilers is out of the job as feminine leader, as are Alexander Carr and Lou Waldridge. Milt Gross, author, has gone East leaving Vera Gordon and Hank Mann of the originals. It seems the picture changed its mind from straight comedy to farce, hence the change.

Loy in "The Desert Song"

Myrna Loy will play one of the featured roles in the first Vitaphone operetta, "The Desert Song," according to an announcement from J. L. Warner this week. The production is now under way at the Warner Studio with Roy Del Ruth giving directorial orders.

"Ellis Island" East

We hear that the Paramount production of "Ellis Island" will be made in the Paramount eastern studio and the company headed by Emil Jannings and director Lewis Milestone are leaving within a few days.

Goldwyn's "Isle"

Sam Goldwyn paid a lot of money for the screen rights to the Blair Niles story, "Condemned to Devil's Isle" and brought the author out to Hollywood to work on the screen treatment and from present indications the whole thing is going to be a dead loss, for Sam is not pleased with the results and is for throwing the whole story out altogether.

Douglas at Fox's

Byron Douglas, stage player, has been added to the cast of "The Veiled Woman," which Emmett Flynn is directing for Fox Films. Mr. Douglas for years was leading man for the most famous actresses of the country in productions staged by Charles Frohman, Augustin Daly and other great producers.

Barton for "Burlesque"

James Barton, famous song and dance man of Broadway revues and a headliner of big time vaudeville, has just been signed by Paramount to play the leading role in "Burlesque."

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

The prize critical "belch" of the year comes from Quinn Martin of the New York World. Being a cosmopolitan daily of such importance, one naturally expects its dramatic and picture criticisms to be of a mature and discerning nature.

Mr. Martin is one of the few writers on pictures whose position and yearly income enables him to take a lengthy vacation and it was during his most recent sojourn that the Paramount picture, "The Patriot," opened in New York. On his return he found his desk heaped with letters from his readers asking why some mention had not been given this production, and in response to this solicitation we found the following in his column last Sunday:

"The Patriot" has been overrated. It is a lavish production, a typical "strong" Jannings performance as Paul and a bit of a bore a good deal of the time. It is nothing like so good a performance as the one which Mr. Jannings gave in "The Last Command."

And this, gentle readers, from one whose years of experience should long since have taught him the difference between the "real stuff" and hokum. Most every critic, of big or little importance, took a "nose dive" for this production, and contrary to the views of his fellow critics and many great minds who have voluntarily given it unstinted praise, Mr. Martin seems to derive more pleasure from ten-twenty-three melodrama, than from richness, subtlety and magnificent performances with which "The Patriot" is endowed.

It might be that Mr. Martin was seated so far down front the picture went over his head. However, it is our opinion that only a "moron" could find this production a "bit of a bore."

"DANCING DAUGHTERS"

What do production officials know about the box-office value of pictures? To a great extent, nothing. We were not surprised to hear that M-G-M studio executives were not elated over their production "Dancing Daughters" until after it had smashed every known record in the first three of four houses it had played. Then it was a different story. Some of them are saying "I told you so." At the New York Capitol last week the gross went over $100,000. And it looks as if it will run three and maybe four weeks.

CONVENTION AIM

(Continued from page 1)

America, we from the states realize that our hearts are with our own and that here we will meet with the same gracious welcome and good will which it has often been our happy lot to extend to you.

"It is therefore with a feeling of pride in our joint achievements and a hearty desire to make this pleasing situation meet up with every need nationally and theatrically, that we clasp hands with our Canadian brothers, happy in the realization that a union of endeavor along constructive lines on the North American continent, constitutes the greatest progressive force in the world."

Motion Picture Theatre Owners of A. Election Today

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. — Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 90

New York, Thursday, October 18, 1928

FIVE CENTS

M. P. T. O. A. SOLIDLY OPPOSED TO BROOKHART—PETITIONS CONGRESS

CONDEMN BOOTLEG SEX-HYGIENE FILMS

M. P. T. O. A. Goes on Record Against Interference of Gov't Agencies

By Special Wire
TORONTO.—The Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America in the late afternoon session yesterday went on record as condemning bottleg sex-hygiene pictures.
Another resolution, directed at governmental agencies, urged them to refrain from interference with free and intelligent production, distribution and exhibition of motion pictures.
One exhibitor in each state will probably be charged with the duty of representing the National Group before the Legislative Committees.
Ex-Governor Milliken addressed a group representing more than a score of Canadian civic and church organizations offering them the same privileges of suggestion and review of pictures, as that accorded similar groups in the United States.

STANLEY FABIAN BOOKS 'WHY GIRLS GO WRONG'

For Indefinite Run—N. Y. Censors O. K. Film

Contracts were signed yesterday for the premier showing of "Why Girls Go Wrong," by Herman J. Garfield for Road Show Pictures and V. J. Ullman for the Stanley Fabian Circuit, for an indefinite run starting the week of November 17th, at the Capitol Theatre, Newark, N. J. It was also announced that the picture passed the New York Censor Board, with very few eliminations.

AMPA Turnout Seen

A nice turnout is expected at the M. P. A. today at the Paramount Hotel, as part of the entertainment will include all the leading players of the "Just a Minute" show. C. W. Currell, of Western Electric will describe the thrills of laying a marine cable from Newfoundland to the Azores.

Synchronizing "Annapolis"

Photophone recording of Pathe's "Annapolis" was started yesterday at Sound Studios, Inc., under the direction of Joseph Zuro, musical director of Pathe sound pictures. In addition to a thirty-five piece symphony orchestra, Zuro is using a special brass band and a drum and trumpet corps.

Brylawski Makes Stirring Appeal -- Sunday Blue Law Peril Spreading

By Special Wire from RAY LEWIS

TORONTO, Oct. 17.—After a stirring and informative speech by A. Julian Brylawski of Washington, D. C., the Motion Picture Owners of America yesterday by unanimous vote adopted a resolution protesting against the Brookhart Bill, which it is to present to Congress at the next session.

The resolution came after an impassioned appeal against the Bill introduced by Senator Brookhart in the last session and which was tabled. Brylawski pointed out that while Senator Brookhart was friendly to the motion picture industry, he has been badly misinformed and his Bill was ineptly drawn up. He also prophesied that a Bill for Federal Control by the Government of the industry's theatres, scenarios, studios and production and distribution in all its phases.

Blue Law Peril

Brylawski further pointed out to the exhibitors assembled, that the Lord's Day Alliance is now hard at

(Continued on page 2)

Laemmle 20-Year Record Is 872 Features--4070 Shorts

Publix Backs "Singing Fool" with Campaign

Publix Theatres are treating Warner Bros. Vitaphone production, "The Singing Fool," starring Al Jolson, as one of the most important pictures to be shown on their circuit this year. They have just issued a most comprehensive sales manual to their managers covering in thirty pages the chief exploitation angles on this Vitaphone special.

A recent tabulation of all the motion picture product made by Carl Laemmle, president of Universal Pictures Corporation, since his start as a producer in 1909 revealed an almost incredible total.

Since the Universal brand was inaugurated in 1912 Laemmle has presented 872 feature length photoplays and 4,070 short subjects, including the separate episodes of chapter plays.

Previous to that he had presented several hundred subjects, under the

(Continued on page 2)

MENACE

The Brookhart Bill comes up at the opening of the next Congress. It is a proposed piece of legislation that seeks to put the picture business under Federal control. It is a stupid, vicious and ignorant measure that no friend of the pictures would favor unless he were either plain dumb or wickedly reckless. It's well right now to know where our worthies stand on this bill and we again ask three questions thus publicly:

Does Motion Picture News favor or oppose the Brookhart Bill or will it seek to straddle the issue as before?

Does the World-Herald favor or oppose the Brookhart Bill or will it remain non-partisan when the liberty of the picture business is at stake?

Does Film Daily now favor or oppose the Brookhart Bill? Its printed record shows it as favoring the measure by black type, scare headline stories. Will it now try to evade the issue by silence, will it continue its strange course, or will it come out flat footed in behalf of its own industry and oppose this vicious legislation? If it will be shall applaud it.

(Continued on page 2)

MOTION PICTURES WORLD PEACE HOPE

Milliken Sees Films as Destroyers of All Boundaries

TORONTO, October 17.—Through motion pictures every international boundary in the world will eventually be as barren of fortresses as that between the United States and Canada, Carl E. Milliken, former governor of Maine and now secretary of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., told the convention

(Continued on page 3)

EXHIBITOR FEDERATION IN SUCCESSFUL MEET

BRUSSELS.—Delegates from the leading European countries assembled here last week to discuss the plans of the International Exhibitor Federation.

The new statutes of the organization

(Continued on page 2)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 5224. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempsstead 1514).

London, Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York—Hy Daab says so many rumors are current of F.B.O. being sold down the river that some of the boys—and girls, too, are waking up in the night and hearing the baying of the hounds and the crack of Simon Legree's whip . . . Eddie Hatrick says no one should get all het up over some German made films having been brought over on the Zeppelin for Pathe, as International News did tie up the entire postal facilities of the big airship . . . Mickey Nielan hopped into New York the other day from the coast on one of those rush, hurry-up, mysterious trips of his, and if you try to figure it out remember that Mickey and all his works are full of mystery . . . Irving Berg, of the production department of National Screen, with a smile that doesn't seem removable, is receiving felicitations, commiserations, or what have you from the gang, the occasion being his approaching leap into the realms of wedded bliss . . . W. S. Butterfield, one of Michigan's heavy theatre magnates, is due in New York next Monday for a stay of a couple of weeks, and will look into a little sound stuff while here . . . N. A. McKay, treasurer of the Mary Picture Corporation, arrived in New York yesterday on business for his company and will make his headquarters at United Artists . . . Paul Benjamin, right hand to George Harvey in framing up entertainment stunts for the A.M.P.A., has a big show on today, all the leading players of the "Just a Minute" company being billed to appear . . . Charlie Barrell, recently back from the Azores, is due for a rousing reception today at the A.M.P.A., of which organization he is treasurer . . . Oscar Price arrived yesterday morning from an extended trip to the west coast and was Artie Stebbins' luncheon guest at the Motion Picture Club . . . Ring Lardner is going to bust into the films again—at least his stories are—Sterns brothers having signed up for a lot of his baseball comedy stuff.

M.P.T.O.A. Opposed To Brookhart

(Continued from page 1)

work to enforce a bill for Sunday closing, especially in Washington. He predicted that if it goes through in Washington, other states will follow. Copyright legislation, particularly regarding a much-needed Music Tax relief, will require a big effort on the part of the exhibitors if anything is to be accomplished this year.

Key to the City

At the Civic Luncheon tendered the theatre owners, Controller Gibbons presented a key to the city to Joseph W. Walsh, Chairman of the Administrative Committee. R. F. Woodhull then presented J. C. Brady, President of the Canadian M.P.T.O., with a gold seal of the M.P.T.O.A. Walsh then presented Woodhull with a gift from the M.P.T.O.A.

Speeches then followed by Joe Thompson, Member of Parliament, who told of the educational value of pictures as the greatest asset the youth of any country can have. He praised N. L. Nathanson's policy of Canadianizing the scenes of Canada. Pete Woodhull spoke of the Canadian delegations from the various cities who had finally sold Canada to the M.P.T.O. of America. His timely speech carried diplomatic showmanship vision when he talked of Canadian National exhibition profits for two weeks, of $250,000, and wondered how N. L. Nathanson overlooked that show.

Convention Spirit

Beside the galaxy of theatre and government officials present there was also a representation of about seven hundred Canadian and U. S. exhibitors and all the film exchanges and equipment companies. The luncheon took on the complexion of an Al Smith convention when the orchestra played "Side Walks of New York" and "Sweet Rosie O'Grady."

Both national anthems were sung and the King of England and the President of the United States were toasted. At a tour of the city later in the day for the women-folk, Mrs. R. F. Woodhull placed a wreath on the centoph in front of the Toronto City Hall, which was received by Controller Gibbons, representing the Mayor.

Fire Prevention

In the afternoon session, after reports of officers, Fire Marshall of Canada, Grove Smith, gave a fine address which was warmly applauded. He pointed out the excellent record of fire prevention in Canada and stated that a majority of the modern theatres were fireproof, and that every exit in the modern theatre today should be an emergency exit, used at all times. He likewise advised that no old projection machines should be used and that operators should be efficient employees drilled in theatre safety tactics.

Telegrams of good wishes were received from Maxfield, Florida, the Arkansas and Los Angeles M.P.T.O. Will H. Hays sent a letter of good wishes and also regret that he could not personally attend the convention.

Tuesday night, there was a private screening at the Tivoli Theatre of Tiffany-Stahl's synchronized pictures, "The Toilers" and "The Cavaliers." The showing will be repeated tonight also. All the delegates were invited.

LAEMMLE SPIKES FALSE NEILAN "U" RUMOR

Carl Laemmle, president of the Universal Pictures Corporation, yesterday spiked as unfounded and without warrant a rumor that Marshall Neilan was being considered by Universal for "Broadway."

That picture, Laemmle points out, is already in production, under the direction of Dr. Paul Fejos, who directed "Lonesome," Universal's current talking picture hit. Fejos is now making location shots in New York City with Glenn Tryon, the star, and will return to Universal City next week for the studio sequences of the picture, which is being made under the supervision of Carl Laemmle, Jr.

MENACE

(Continued from page 1)

Motion Pictures Today was the one weekly among the national publications of the industry to vigorously and from the beginning oppose this measure. It printed the first story about it and called the industry's attention to its menace.

Exhibitors Daily Review opposed the measure and with greater vigor now opposes it.

The Canadian Digest and Ray Lewis opposed the measure and will continue to oppose it.

Harrison's Reports, with a stupidity only equalled by its reckless disregard of consequences rooted for the measure that would shackle the business and hurt exhibitors most of all. It still is stupidly favoring the bill.

Variety doesn't give a damn and is content with printing socks at picture people and institutions, while collecting advertising from people and companies who for some unexplained reason fear its enmity. As a show paper it should oppose this bill and we will gladly credit such a course.

Picture publications, deriving revenue from the picture business and as members of the picture family, are properly accorded full liberty by the trade because in no other way could the press of a business be useful. They now have the liberty and the freedom to support the business that they assume to favor by vigorously and without reservation opposing a measure that strikes at the very life of the industry. We shall welcome recruits to the industry's defense and with all fairness and without criticism for past offenses give praise and credit for their support.

Arthur James

EXHIBITOR FEDERATION

(Continued from page 1)

tion were unanimously adopted and the Federation is issuing a request to all countries involved in the Federation to undertake a public campaign against the excessive taxation from which the cinema industry suffers. It was signed by H. V. Davis and W. R. Fuller, English delegates, L. Guttman and Dr. Steffenmeier of Germany and L. Brezillon and R. Lussiez of France.

The British, French and German delegates promised to support the Belgian suggestion that the 1930 Congress be held at Antwerp. The 1929 Congress may be held in London.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

Word has been shot around the "alley" that exhibitors throughout the country are pleading with producers to eliminate the word "love" from their production titles in the future. Their reason being, there have been too many pictures with the word being used some place in the title and on account of it, the hypnotic influence it formerly had, has been lost. In other words, the public is fed up on such titles. On top of this squawk from the "pay-boys" comes word that United Artists are going to change the title of the new Griffith picture. It's present title is "The Love Song."

STORY

Producers are finally awakening to the fact that the story is everything. Formerly all kinds of percentages have been allotted to story, direction, cast and what not, always giving an edge to the yarn. But most every flop picture can be credited more to a poor story than anything else. No matter how good a director may be or the acting qualities of his cast, if the story is weak, the picture is weak.

STERN BROTHERS

The Stern Brothers, Abe and Julius, pioneers of short reel comedies are going in for sound shorts and how. They have purchased four series of stories written by Ring Lardner and will start early production on them. The first of the series, will no doubt be, "You Know Me Al."

With all the talk about material for short reels, both bought and offered for sale, it seems to us that the Stern boys have grabbed the cream for the Lardner text in talk, should be a big smash. We congratulate Abe and Julius as well as Universal, the distributor.

"SILENT ONLY"

Our desk has been heaped recently with exhibitor mail arguing the merits—and the lack of them—on the sound question. One says it's O. K. and the other "it's the bunk." But the prize of all came from an Ohio exhib. this morning stating that since he started to advertise "silent picture only" in both the newspapers and on signs in front of his theatre, his business has jumped up 25 per cent.

LAEMMLE 20-YEAR RECORD

(Continued from page 1)

old Imp Banner. The first photoplay he ever produced was "Hiawatha" made in the summer of 1909.

Laemmle also holds the distinction of having produced the first feature length production. It was "Traffic in Souls" cost $5,690 and was run on Broadway at $1 top, grossing approximately $300,000 during its life.

Day Replaces Prevost

Because of a disagreement over costumes, Marceline Day replace Marie Prevost in the title role of "The College Coquette," Columbia forthcoming production of campus life. Christy Cabanne will direct the new production.

NOTICE

EXHIBITORS DAILY REVIEW

New Address: Suite 409, 25 West 43d St., New York
New Telephones: Bryant 1489 - 5224

Universal Buys "The Climax" for Talkies

Believe Famous Play Will Be Big Dialogue Attraction

By W. R. W.

Several weeks ago, Carl Laemmle, president of Universal, came out of a coast projection room wreathed in smiles. He had just seen rushes of the first Universal talking picture, "Lonesome."

Later that evening, in the quiet of his home, he began to ponder on the great possibilities of talking pictures and with this, his thoughts began to wander until they halted on the subject of the proper material for "talkies." He remembered a famous play he had seen years ago, "The Climax," the famous Edward Locke stage success. He recalled having seen it four times at the old Weber Theatre back in 1909, with Effington Pinto and Leona Watson in the cast.

On arriving at the studio the next morning, Laemmle laid plans for the acquisition of this play. Everything ran smoothly in this direction until suddenly negotiations hit a snag. The snag being, four other companies bidding for it.

Today, Carl Laemmle closed for the "Climax" and production will start soon with Jean Hersholt in the lead and Renaud Hoffman directing.

With any kind of production luck, Universal should have a tremendous talking attraction in this picture, for the dialogue in the "Climax" is probably the best that has ever been written, considering it from a talking picture angle, as well as a stage play.

MENJOU TO LEAVE P-F-L OVER TALKING ROW

All does not seem to be going so well between Adolph Menjou and Paramount. Menjou positively states that he will not make any talking pictures because there is nothing in his contract that says he must use his voice in pictures and he is further quoted as having said that when his contract expires in May he will leave Hollywood to make his future films in Europe.

Menjou is slated to make "The Concert," which the late Leo Ditrichstein made famous and if all this talk holds true, it will mark his farewell appearance on the American screen.

PICTURES PEACE HOPE

(Continued from page 1)
of Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America.

At a banquet last night attended by officials of the Canadian and United States governments and by representatives of more than 10,000 motion picture theatres, Governor Milliken hailed the screen as the major hope of world peace.

Governor Milliken said he stood on soil where the discussion of international relations was purely academic. "Canada and the United States," he declared, "set for the whole world an example of how to live in amity and concord. Industrial peace is as important as peace among nations," and he cited the accomplishments of arbitration in the American motion picture industry as the greatest proof of the efficacy and dollars-and-cents value of good-will in the history of the world.

You'll hear more of beautiful MARY JOHNSON and ravishing NINA VANNA, the two sisters in "WHY GIRLS GO WRONG" whose work is of stellar quality.

"High class audiences will welcome it!"—VARIETY.

"The scene where the girl stands on the wet pavement and considers the situation approaches genius!"—Mordaunt Hall in NEW YORK TIMES.

Wire! FOR BOOKINGS AND TERRITORIAL DISTRIBUTION Wire!

ROAD SHOW PICTURES, Inc. • 489 Fifth Avenue New York City

Telephone Murray Hill 4560

YOU HAVEN'T HEARD ANYTHING YET!

UNLESS YOU HAVE HEARD

RECORDED ON THE FILM BY

CINEPHONE

“HEARING IS BELIEVING”

All standard methods of recording interchangeable with POWERS CINEPHONE REPRODUCING SYSTEM.

NOW TAKING ORDERS FOR

IMMEDIATE INSTALLATIONS IN THEATRES

[Some territories available for qualified representatives]

POWERS CINEPHONE EQUIPMENT CORPORATION
Powers Building 723 Seventh Avenue New York, N. Y.

72, Seventh Ave
New York, N. Y.

Gotham-Bristolphone Sales Mgrs., Praise Amplification

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. — Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 91

New York, Friday, October 19, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Spines

Ray Lewis in her very much alive Canadian Motion Picture Digest says some kind things about us as a publication and congratulates us on our confession of faith given to the industry in announcing our policy of a militant course in behalf of the industry whose causes we serve. We herewith and publicly express our thanks for this friendly appreciation from so competent a source. In other words, we are tickled pink.

* * *

Says Ray Lewis: "If a business is good enough to give you your daily bread, it is good enough to support and protect. . . . No business ever got anywhere with an organization of 'yessirs.' No trade paper which functioned 'yessing' everybody was ever any good to anybody. . . . Call on us for any cooperation necessary to support our industry."

* * *

That's what we call the McCoy and with the example thus set by the redoubtable Ray Lewis we await word from other contemporaries on the present subject of the Brookhart bill.

Where stands Motion Picture News?

Where stands World-Exhibitors Herald?

Where stands Film Daily?

We are interested in the nature and quality of the spinal columns of these publications. We are reasonably curious to know if these spinal columns are of bone and tendon or fashioned from whipped cream. We are interested also in the status of any publication, assuming to be of, for and by the picture industry and yet straddling the issues or helping the enemies of our business.

* * *

Past offenses can readily be forgotten if these publications will get behind the resolution of the motion picture exhibitors at Toronto, opposing the Brookhart bill and petitioning the Congress not to pass it.

* * *

We want nobody's scalp but we insist that there be a definite line drawn between the motion picture papers that support and protect our business and those which through recklessness, stupidity or a callous disregard of its welfare take sides with its enemies, pussyfoot in the hour of action or remain silent when silence is the shield for moral cowardice or business treachery.

Those who are not for the industry are against it and there is no middle ground.

Arthur James

Western Electric Passes Buck to Distributors on Interchangeability

Woodhull, O'Toole, Emanuel

Elected M. P. T. O. A. Officers

By Special Wire

TORONTO.—The Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America adjourned their Ninth Annual Convention at the King Edward Hotel last night, after the election of officers for the ensuing year.

The new Board of Directors report on the election of officers resulted in the re-election of R. F. Woodhull as President; M. J. O'Toole as Secretary, and Jay Emanuel of Philadelphia as Treasurer.

The new Vice-Presidents are J. C. Brady of Toronto, R. Biechle of Kansas, Harry Marks of New York, Charles C. Picquet of North Carolina and M. A. Lightman of Arkansas.

The closing sessions were occupied by addresses on Music Tax License, the Berne International Copyright Convention and other miscellaneous reports.

Protection for W. E. Synchronized Pictures
Chief Object

UP TO EXCHANGES

This question of interchangeability of pictures recorded and franchised by Western Electric on machines (installed in theatres) of other make, seems to be reaching a definite issue. This has been brought on by the playing of "Lilac Time", a First National picture and as such, franchised by Western Electric and synchronized by the Victor Talking Machine Company, holding a license to record productions franchised by W. E. The picture has been run in the Academy Theatre, Hagerstown, Md., owned by Julian Brylawski and the equipment used was Bristolphone, sold by Gotham reductions out of their New York office.

"Whip" Without Sound

This same theatre had announced that the First National production of "The Whip" would also be shown with sound, but the management was informed by the Washington office of F. N. that they had no contract to

(Continued on page 6)

GOTHAM SALES FORCES CONVENTION

Gotham Bristolphone Sales forces, with 16 out-of-town branch managers are holding a sound-sales convention in New York this week.

These managers from Los Angeles, Seattle, Denver, Omaha, St. Louis, Kansas City, Philadelphia, Milwaukee, Chicago, Nova Scotia, Detroit and Cleveland joined a party of 28 officials who journeyed to the Bristol Plant in Waterbury to inspect the Bristolphone recording and reproducing apparatus in actual operation. Most of the managers will leave for their respective offices tonight.

Some of the sales officials queried by

(Continued on page 2)

WORLD WIDE NOT TO DISTRIBUTE UNTIL JAN.

The opening of the selling season by World Wide Pictures has been set back to January to allow the inclusion of several important productions not available before that date.

"Singing Fool" Starts Midnight Performances

There will be a special midnight performance of Al Jolson's "The Singing Fool" at the Winter Garden every Saturday night. The schedule at the theatre now calls for two performances on week days, four on Saturday and three on Sunday. There will be three performances on Election Day.

New French 36% Profits Tax To Hit American Film Firms

"LILAC TIME" LEASE AT CENTRAL EXTENDED

Because of the sensational business of Colleen Moore's sound picture, "Lilac Time," at the Central Theatre, Irving D. Rossheim, president of First National Pictures, announces that his organization has extended its lease on the house and the picture will run there indefinitely. The picture was originally

(Continued on page 2)

PARIS.—American industries in France are shortly to be faced with the severest taxation in history, a 36 percent tax soon to go into effect being the result of actual doubling of the present tax of 18 percent on foreign corporations.

(Continued on page 6)

S.M.P.E. BRANCH IN ENGLAND STARTED

By SAM HARRIS
"Today's Cinema"

LONDON. — A branch of the American Society of Motion Picture Engineers has been formed in England, after indications of support from the industry's leaders.

The technical staffs of the Elstree Studio have promised to join the organization and encouraging promises from the other British studios.

A preliminary meeting took place at Kingsway Hall on Wednesday night. Forty resident members of London will have their own meeting room hereafter, their own chairman and board of governors. All technical papers presented before the society in America will be made available to the British branch.

NOTICE

EXHIBITORS DAILY REVIEW

New Address: Suite 409, 25 West 43d St., New York

New Telephones: Bryant 1489 - 5224

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489-5224. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue. Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York—Herbert Ebenstein is getting so good at ping pong at the Motion Picture Club that he almost defeated Marty Schwartz and now he's thinking of going out after the club championship . . . Morris Joseph, Universal branch manager at New Haven was in the home office acting so mysteriously that there is a suspicion around 730 Fifth Avenue that he is trying to arrange for the Yale Bowl for the showing of "The Melody of Love" . . . Sammy Sax is so enthused over the Hagerstown demonstration of W. E. sound pictures on Bristolphone equipment, that he has called all his branch managers into New York for a conference and big things are said to be planned . . . Phil Reisman, Pathe sales manager, returned to New York yesterday from the coast and declared business great, and the pictures being made for Pathe better than that . . . Lee Marcus has returned from a hurried trip to New Orleans, where he was called by the death of an uncle . . . B. P. Schulberg, Paramount production manager, will arrive from the coast this morning for a stay of a couple of weeks . . . Paul Benjamin presided at the A. M. P. A. yesterday in the absence of President Harvey, who is in Toronto, and did himself proud at one of the best and biggest attended shows of the season . . . Glenn Tryon, who hoofed it on many a local vaudeville stage, has been cast as a hooper in Universal's big Broadway picture, and leaves today for the coast . . . Marshall Neilan is going to England to make three pictures for Herbert Wilcox, according to the latest dope on Mickey's movements, and maybe he will and again maybe he won't . . . Arthur Loew, foreign manager of Metro, sails tonight on the Ile de France for an extended trip abroad . . . Dr. Paul Fejos, who has been in New York studying locations for Universal's "Broadway," which he will direct, left last night for the coast to begin shooting there for the coast to begin shooting there.

CONTINUING OUR THANKS

Pleasant Expressions from Leaders and Friends in the Industry We Are Proud to Print

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review

Every time you take a step it is a forward one, but this stride puts your right foot into the daily trade paper field. Congratulations and best wishes.

Don Hancock

Arthur James

Have just heard of your acquisition of the Daily Review and I sincerely feel that with your aggressive editorial policy you will make it an important factor in the industry. Please accept my very best wishes for your continued success.

David Wark Griffith

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review

Learning that you had purchased the Exhibitors Daily Review and want to extend my best wishes for success.

Nicholas M. Schenck

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review

Cannot think of anyone in the industry who could handle Daily Review better than you. Congratulations with fullest assurance of Canada's cooperation.

Ray Lewis

Arthur James

Congratulations. The trade will now have two class dailies. Hope you make the Review a two-fisted, sock-in-the-eye spokesman for the industry against its enemies and traducers.

David Barrist

Arthur James

Sincere and best wishes for your new undertaking.

Winfield Sheehan

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review

May I take this opportunity of congratulating you and wishing you success in your new venture, Exhibitors Daily Review.

Paul Benjamin

Arthur James

I congratulate you and extend my best wishes for continued success. I am sure that under your guidance the Exhibitors Daily Review will become a prominent factor in the industry and that its popularity is sure to increase.

Edward L. Klein

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review

You have my very best wishes for complete success in the field of the daily motion picture newspaper, which I note you have now entered through the medium of the Daily Review.

Herman Robbins

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review

Just a line or two to Add to those that have Come to you with their Kind remarks and congratulations.

Fortunately, your friends in the United States, are not all Local residents—Your Daily Distributors will cover coast to coast.

Arthur James

I wish the Daily Review all the very best! As secretary of the AMPA we are proud of your latest movement in this industry, especially since you were its first president.

Dave Bader

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review

Please accept my best wishes for your unlimited and continued success.

Edward J. Smith

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review

Please accept my well wishes for a very successful career with the Exhibitors Daily Review.

Oscar Neufeld

Arthur James
Daily Review

As one editor to another we hope to see your fearless independence place you among the high and worthy leaders of the film industry. May your daily be more popular with each issue.

Frank C. Payne

Arthur James
Exhibitors Daily Review

Congrats. You can now be seven times more helpful to the picture business with a daily than you were with the weekly alone. I predict the whole industry will soon feel the added impetus you will give it through the Daily Review.

Wen Milligan

GOTHAM CONVENTION (Continued from page 1)

Exhibitors Daily Review expressed great enthusiasm over the Bristolphone amplification system and the patented focusing device, as well as the other attractive features of price and availability of delivery.

"LILAC TIME" AT CENTAL (Continued from page 1)

booked to run at the Central for thirteen weeks, and it will enter its extended run next Sunday when it celebrates its one hundred and seventy-fifth performance.

"Evangeline" East?

Edwin Carewe has ordered his production manager, Louis Jerome, to pick Eastern location in and around New York for his next United Artists picture, "Evangeline."

ROAD SHOW PICTURES, INC.

Announces Another Special

THE MARRIAGE PROBLEM

NOW IN PRODUCTION

ALL RIGHTS PROTECTED

Pictures that guarantee Profits!

"The Wonder Picture of the Year"

"SUBMARINE"

with JACK HOLT—DOROTHY REVER—RALPH GRAVES
A Frank R. Capra Production

Eight Weeks on Broadway at $2 Top and Playing to Capacity Against the Stiffest
Kind of Competition

Available Either "Sound" or "Silent"

Timely Newspaper Drama — and a Corking Money-Getting Attraction!

"The POWER of the PRESS"

with DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS, JR.—JOBYNA RALSTON
A Frank R. Capra Production

The Public is Demanding This Type of Story. Here's One That's 100 Per Cent!

Heart Interest — Plus!

"The STREET of ILLUSION"

with IAN KEITH—VIRGINIA VALLI
Directed by Erle C. Kenton

Booked on Sight by Leading Exhibitors
Fox Grabbed It for Philadelphia and New York

COLUMBIA PICTURES—The Product that Brings the Money to the Box-Office . . . !

BRISTOLPHONE ENTHU

FIRST GOTHAM INSTALLATION IN ALL EXHIBITORS FA

BRISTOLPHONE

IS A PERFECT SOUND AND TALKIE
DEVICE — IT HAS DEMONSTRATED
ITS MERIT AND IS REASONABLE IN COST—YOU WILL SOON FIND BRIS-
TOLPHONES EVERYWHERE.

The William H. Bristol Talking Picture Corporation are now manufacturing recording machines for installation in our studios in New York and Los Angeles within the next few weeks.

Our production plans call for a series of Asher, Small and Rogers Productions, a series of Gotham Photoplays and a series of short subjects. The first production entitled
"TIMES SQUARE" ready for release November 15th.

NB79 39 10

K TOP

BUDD ROGERS

GOTHAM BRISTOL PHONE F

REPORTS FROM MY ACADEMY THEATRE
OF LILAC TIME WITH BRISTOPHONE SY PERFORMANCE STOP AUDIENCE AND MA
CONGRATULATIONS

A JULIAN BRYLAWSKI

CHAIRMAN BOARD OF DIRECTORS

OF AMERICA.

GOTHAM-BRISTOLPHONE SERVICE CORPORATION

⋮ ⋮

1650 BRO
NEW YO

Phone: Ci

ASTICALLY ENDORSED

ONSTRATES PRACTICABILITY TO G SOUND PROBLEM

Proves Bristolphone and W. E. Systems Are Interchangeable

COMMERCIAL CABLES

PRESIDENT

CABLEGRAMS

TO ALL

THE WORLD

This is a full-rate Telegram or Cablegram unless otherwise indicated by signal in the check or in the address.

BLUE	DAY LETTER
NL	NIGHT LETTER
NITE	NIGHT TELEGRAM
LCO	DEFERRED
NLT	CABLE LETTER
WLT	WEEK END LETTER

Form 16 N.Y. Dbl

TO SEND A MESSAGE
CALL

"POSTAL TELEGRAPH"

OR DIAL

"HANOVER 7840"

IF DESIRED CHARGE
WILL APPEAR ON TELEPHONE BILL

OCT 16 1928

CORPN 1650 BWAY NEWYORK

STOWN MARYLAND ON SHOWING

INDICATE VERY SATISFACTORY

T VERY HIGHLY PLEASED

PICTURE THEATRE OWNERS

Hagerstown, Md. (By Telephone)—The Academy of Music, equipped with Bristolphone sound reproducing equipment, yesterday afternoon began a four day run of "Lilac Time" using the records made via the Western Electric disc system. Alan Bachrach, manager of the theater, declared the interchangeability was perfect. This is the first known attempt to demonstrate the practicability of interchangeability.

The print was shipped to the Academy from First National's Washington exchange several days ago. The records, according to Bachrach, have been in his hands for a week awaiting completion of the installation. The first performance went off without hitch and with no interference of any nature, either from First National, Electrical Research Products or the competitive theater which is the Maryland and which is equipped for Movietone and Vitaphone. The Academy is controlled by Julian Brylawski of Washington. The Maryland is operated by Silverman Bros. who own a string of houses in Pennsylvania.

Bachrach declared yesterday he will begin a two day engagement of "The Whip" on Friday, using W. E. recording over his Bristolphone equipment.

REPRINTED FROM THE FILM DAILY
OF OCTOBER 16th, 1928

We are prepared and ready to take orders for the installation of the Bristolphone machines in theatres throughout the United States and Canada to be installed as fast as exhibitors can prepare their booths and have the necessary wiring done. Delivery being made in accordance with date of receipt of signed contract covering same from exhibitor.

WAY
CITY

::

GOTHAM-BRISTOLPHONE
PHOTOPLAY CORPORATION

25 United Artists Releases for 1928-29 Schedules Only 2 Silent

BIG TIME CIRCUITS FLOCK TO COLUMBIA

The Stanley Company of America has booked the Columbia program for the following theatres in Philadelphia: Iris, Lafayette, Harrowgate, Family, Princess, Savoy, Garrick-Wilmington, Orient Darby, Villa, and their first-run house on Market and Chestnut Streets, the biggest theatre in their circuit.

The Eastman Theatre, the most important first run in Rochester and notoriously hard to crash has booked the output 100 per cent. So have the Strand, Syracuse, and the Lafayette, Buffalo, the two most representative houses in their territory.

Another important deal was closed with the Victor Theatre, McKeesport, Pa.

NEW FRENCH PROFITS TAX

(Continued from page 1)

The doubling of the present tax comes about through decisions of the lower courts, that American concerns doing business in France through legally organized subsidiaries must pay a double tax on its profits.

The tax increase is based on the reasoning that profits remaining after payment of the first 18 percent tax, constitute the profits of an American 'parent' company on its French business and that the American company must also pay the French Profits Tax.

American firms are expecting the highest court to uphold this reasoning and are either preparing to close down their plants and remove to other European countries, or do business through French agents, who escape this huge tax.

As far as the film industry goes, not much concern over this is felt, as the French market has been a meager one, financially, for American companies maintaining distribution offices and theatres, and they had previously been forced to submit to the Government the proposition that if certain laws that they proposed were put through they could not do business there any longer and would be forced to close their offices there.

TRAVELERS select the Great Northern for its wonderful location in Chicago's "Loop". They return because the large comfortable rooms, homelike environment, attentive service, excellent food and moderate charges make it an ideal hotel.

400 Newly Furnished Rooms, $2.50 a day and up. Sample Rooms $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00.

Walter Craighead, Manager
DEARBORN STREET FROM JACKSON
TO QUINCY
New Garage One-Half Block

5 Dialogues, 12 Sound Synchronizations and 6 Indefinite

United Artists have announced an imposing list of feature releases for the season of 1928-29. The total is twenty-five; twelve with sound effects and synchronization, five with dialogue throughout, two strictly silent and six that are indefinite in so far as sound and talk are concerned, they will, no doubt have one or both.

Great Artists

The list of star players includes Charlie Chaplin, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Ronald Colman, Gloria Swanson, Constance Talmadge, Lillian Gish, Rod LaRocque, Ben Lyon, Alice Terry, Eleanor Boardman, Jean Hersholt, William Boyd, Lupe Valez, Phyllis Haver, Lily Damita, John Barrymore, Louis Wolheim, Camilla Horn, Buster Keaton, Vilma Banky, Walter Byron, Dolores Del Rio and Victor Varconi.

List Ready

In the list of productions we find the Chaplin picture "City Lights," John Barrymore's "The Tempest" directed by Sam Taylor, "Steamboat Bill" directed by Charles Reisner, "Two Lovers" directed by Fred Niblo, "King of the Mountains" directed by Lubitsch, "Coquette" with Miss Pickford and directed by Sam Taylor, "The Woman Disputed" with Norma Talmadge and directed by Sam Taylor, "Queen Kelly" with Gloria Swanson and directed by Stroheim, "Revenge" under the direction of Edwin Carewe, "The Awakening" directed by Victor Flemming, the Fairbanks picture "The Iron Mask" directed by Alan Dwan, "The Rescue" directed by Herbert Brennon, "The Battle of the Sexes" directed by D. W. Griffith, also "The Love Song" under the same direction, "Hell's Angles" directed by Luther Reed, Rex Ingram's "Three Passions," Henry King's "She Goes to War" and others.

W. E. PASSES BUCK

(Continued from page 1)

furnish this, or any other production to the Academy with sound and as a consequence, the silent version would be shipped for showing tomorrow. "The Daily Review" was not able to reach Mr. Brylawski, or anyone of sufficient authority around the Hagerstown house, to find out how they got "Lilac Time" from the Washington branch of First National, with the sound and synchronized records.

Depinet Speaks

Ned Depinet, sales manager for First National, said, "I don't recall having passed any contract for the run of 'Lilac Time' and 'The Whip' in the Academy with synchronization. It is my impression that these pictures were booked for this house in their silent form." On being asked how they received the sound version of "Lilac Time," Depinet replied, "I do not know. There must have been some error on the part of our Washington branch."

Will They Serve?

Mr. Depinet was asked, "Would you serve a house your sound or synchronized pictures knowing they would be run on equipment manufactured by an organization other than Western Electric?" He replied, "I cannot answer that for you."

Sam Morris, general manager of Warner-Vitaphone said, "Our contracts call for our product to be run on only Western Electric equipment. This is nothing new and has been generally understood from the beginning." This was in reply to the question, "Will Warners permit a theatre to run Vitaphone subjects on equipment other than Western Electric?"

No One at W. E. Will Talk

A representative of this publication talked to several people at Western Electric, asking them all the same question, and the answer was, "We have nothing to say, other than the fact that we have to protect the product of Western Electric and if find that pictures are being run with equipment other than ours and one that does not do justice to this product, we will insist that the pictures be taken out. We are protected on the legal side and of more importance, is the technical side. We cannot afford to have productions recorded by us run on equipment that will not do justice to this recording." Other than this statement they all suggested "See Otterson," meaning J. E. Otterson, president of Electrical Research.

W. E. Passing the Buck

It seems that Western Electric is passing the buck on to the producer-exchanges franchised by them. This is clearly demonstrated in the Hagerstown case. If W. E. wanted to make an example of the Academy, they could have demanded that the picture be taken out in as much as it was being run on Bristolphone. They did not. They said nothing, but First National refused to deliver "The Whip" in its sound form, saying there was no contract for this version.

Will Come To Head

This question should, and no doubt will, be brought to a head very soon, in as much as almost every theatre in the country is trying to secure sound equipment with no hope in sight at present, of getting an installation from Western Electric of R.C.A. for at least six months. There are several companies, such as Bristolphone and Powers Cinephone that can play both records and "sound on films," but exhibitors are a little squeamish about getting this equipment unless the interchangeability is decided. Although this Hagerstown affair has cleared it a bit, sufficient evidence has not been proven to justify certainty.

Sapene and Pathe To Abrogate Contract

PATHE.—Charles Pathe and Jean Sapene have come to an agreement about the relations of Pathe-Cinema and Pathe-Consortium.

The present agreement between the two firms is annulled and each is free to carry on its own activities. M. Pathe will go ahead with his announced production program.

Zakoro Sells Four "Olympic Hero" States

William H. Horne, sales manager of the Zakoro Film Corporation, announces that he has just sold the California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaiian Islands rights for "The Olympic Hero" with Charley Paddock to the Supreme Company of California.

IN AMERICA'S LEADING THEATRES

SIMPLEX PROJECTORS

HAVE DEMONSTRATED
THEIR ADAPTABILITY
TO ALL

SOUND SYSTEMS

International Projector Corporation

90 Gold Street, New York

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

This Bristolphone crowd are sort of busting things wide open. The Hagerstown incident, dealt more fully with in another part of today's paper is the start of something that ought to see an early finish. Charles Rogers, as well as Sam Sax and Ed- die Small, "are up and at 'em." En- thusiasm is running high, around the Gotham offices. Much activity.

CREDIT

Sax, Ascher, Small and Rogers, should be given a lot of credit. To say that they are pioneering this "in- dependent sound" thing, is not suf- ficient. If they are able to bring Western Electric out in the open, and as a result, secure for exhibitors the right to buy Bristolphone or any other equipment and interchange with pictures franchised by W. E. and R. C. A. they will have accom- plished a great thing, in fact, one of the greatest services for our industry. They might not accomplish this, but they are trying.

NEW YORK STUDIO

Charlie Rogers says they will have a New York studio before very long. In it they will make the better part of 12 short reels in sound and talk, also quite a few of their feature length productions. The local studio will be opened before the one contemplated for Los Angeles.

POWERS

And while on the sound idea a lot should be said of P. A. Powers and his Cinephone. P. A. has been work- ing on this device for over a year and a half, has been saying nothing (and that's nothing unusual with P. A.) but is now all set to step out and do a lot of shouting. The Cinephone equipment can run either discs or sound on film and P. A. is very proud of the amplification on both. In addition to this he has a recording equipment for studios.

DANCING DAUGHTERS" AGAIN

We have more people tell us, (and not one of them connected with pic- tures) that on going to the Capitol they could not get in. We were there today at noon and found the house filled. This is the second week for his picture and on the strength of what we saw, will be safe in saying it will be held over for two weeks more, breaking the Capitol record for length of run, and certainly for gross business.

"Love Song" Talkie

Joseph M. Schenck has or- dered that the David Wark Grif- fith picture, "Love Song," be re- vamped into an "all-talkie." In case you have forgotten it, in interviews given out in both Paris and New York, Mr Schenck suggested that talking pictures would only last three weeks.

Jannings "Sins of the Fathers" Triumph

Things We Do Not Believe

"Wonder what a gold-digger would do with Rex Bell's pres- ents. It seems that that very personable young lad has origi- nal ideas about showing his ap- preciation of a gal, for when Lola Todd completed her work of playing opposite him in his last Western, he presented her with one of his favorite horses. Sally Phipps will probably be his lead- ing lady in his next; let's hope for her sake that he doesn't start collecting crocodiles."

FOUR FOX PICTURES RANKED BY PHOTOPLAY

Photoplay Magazine gives a place of honor to four Fox productions among its choices for the six best pic- tures of the month of October. The pictures are "Me, Gangster," "The Air Circus," "Dry Martini" and "Mother Knows Best."

Under the classification of the best performances of the month, first place goes to Madge Bellamy for her work in "Mother Knows Best," second place to Louise Dresser in the same picture, and the third place to Don Terry for his screen debut in the title role of "Me, Gangster," for which he was picked out of a restaurant by the author, Charles Francis Coe.

Novarro's "Flying Ensign"

"The Flying Ensign" has been se- lected as final title for Ramon No- varro's new starring vehicle—a story with a background of aviation which George Hill, who made "Tell It to the Marines," has just completed.

"MASKED MARVEL" TO BE UNIV. EUROPEAN PROD.

Universal's plans for making photo- plays abroad from scenarios written at Universal City are progressing rapidly, according to an announcement by Presi- dent Carl Laemmle.

The latest story projected for foreign production is "The Masked Marvel," an adaptation of the successful Viennese musical comedy, "Polish Blood," which set European records for longevity. Nan Cochrane and Faith Thomas are adapting it for the screen.

PADEREWSKI'S $150,000

Pianist To Produce German Talking Film Record

Following exclusive announcement by Exhibitors Daily Review some weeks ago that the famous virtuoso Ignace Jan Paderewski had signed to do a talking film record, comes that announcement from Berlin that he has accepted an offer from a German company to play the leading part in a talking film and will be paid the sum of $150,000.

No details are available as to the company and when it is to be made.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Columbia Pictures has started shooting on "The Lone Wolf's Daughter," Al, Rogell directing.

William Desmond has been signed by J. L. Warner for a featured lead in support of Monte Blue in "No Defense."

Sally Phipps, Robert Elliott, Fran- cis McDonald, Roscoe Karns, Arthur Stone and Frank Albertson have all been assigned parts in the big Fox newspaper film which is to be super- vised by Luther Reed, former news- paper man, and directed by Fred Newmeyer.

Edwin Justus Mayer has just ob- tained leave from Metro-Goldwyn- Mayer to come East for a conference with Jed Harris, producer, in refer- ence to a play he has written, "Child- ren of the Dark."

Ralph Forbes has been assigned to play the lead in Columbia Pictures production, "College Coquette."

James Creelman has sold his play, "The Jazz King," to Alex McKaig, producer.

Ernst Lubitsch, about to depart for Europe, says that on his return, he expects to make a comedy starring Emil Jannings for Paramount.

Nancy Drexel and David Rollins will appear together in a Fox short- reel movietone, "The Maker of Dreams."

John Francis Dillon will direct Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall in "Children of the Ritz."

E. H. Griffith has finished directing "Shady Lady."

Alfred Santell has been given an 1807 edition of "Midsummer Nights' Dream" by Al. Rockett in apprecia- tion of his having three productions out of ten on First National's "Roll of Honor."

By JOE BLAIR
Hollywood Correspondent

Paramount has another great Jan- nings triumph in "Sins of the Fathers." This was definitely proved to your hum- ble correspondent at a preview the other night. It is not only because it is human, but because it has humor, pace and is a fine exhibition of good director- ship.

In it, Jannings shows once more what a truly fine actor he is. He is given the opportunity to portray practically every emotion known to the human race and there is artistry in his every action.

This story is from an original by Norman Bernstein, adapted by Charles Furthman, and it is that of a waiter named Spengler who is just "one of us" with a family and the same varying fortunes and misfortunes that pursue almost all of us.

The direction of Ludwig Berger can be especially recommended for its strong evidence of brainwork and re- straint and having gotten nothing but the best from his performers. The supporting cast is excellent with laurels to ZaSu Pitts and Barry Norton.

Baclanova and Rogers For "Fata Morgana"

"Buddy" Rogers and Baclanova have been selected for parts by Para- mount in a picture to be called "Fata Morgana," to be directed by Dorothy Arzner.

This is undoubtedly from the stage play of the same name, and that be- ing the case, will have to be toned down quite a bit.

Talking Picture Manual

A very complete manual on talking picture showmanship has been pre- pared for Universal Chain Theatres by Joe Weil, director of advertising and exploitation.

The manual covers advance ad- vance campaigns, publicity, exploita- tion, advertising, lobby, tie-ups, pro- grams and booking.

NEW YORK'S NEWEST and FINEST HOTEL

SMARTLY NEAR THE CENTER OF THINGS

Around the corner from New York's exclusive shop- ping district, readily accessible to leading theatres, and railroad terminals, yet in a neighborhood socially correct and away from the noise and turmoil of the business district. The Park Central enjoys a loca- tion distinctly unique in its advantages. Come to the Park Central, New York's newest and finest hotel, where you will find advantages hereto- fore unknown to American hostilities — Radio out- lets... Electric Refrigeration... Period Salons and Roof Patios for private social functions... swim- ming pool... Florentine Grille featuring the Park Central Grille Orchestra... other features equally unusual and desirable. Single rooms five dollars per day and up. Double rooms eight dollars per day and up.

THE PARK CENTRAL

FIFTY-FIFTH STREET AT 7th AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY

You started something, Judge Lindsey—

You started something when you startled the country with your daring marriage plan. You started an argument that's been heard 'round the world.—You started thousands of newspapers everywhere.—You thinking, reading your lions on their way to front-page discussions in leading started a whole nation talking, famous book.—You started mil- the lucky theatres that play—

The One and Only Picture
From Judge Lindsey's Great Best-Seller

"COMPANIONATE MARRIAGE"

First National's Exclusive Scoop!

Tumult in Toledo!
Snatched by Balaban and Katz
for the Oriental,
Chicago!

Your name is what puts it over—plus
... We give you all the credit for its hundreds of big-time bookings like the it all; and now First National Exhibitors are That's the way with those boys, though. They get ALL the breaks!

the fame of your famous book smashing premiere success, and Oriental, Chicago... Yessir, you started going to reap all the important profits...

Presented by the C. M. Corporation with Betty Bronson and Alec B. Francis
By Judge Ben B. Lindsey and Wainwright Evans. Directed by Erle C. Kenton

"What's Right With The Movies" - - Starts In Monday's Issue

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. — Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 92

New York, Saturday, October 20, 1928

FIVE CENTS

"Rebirth"

The Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America can point with a justifiable pride to the sessions of their convention which has just closed in Toronto. The gathering was one of the best ever held by the national organization and was in every way constructive. There was a spirit of progress and of cooperation. There was a definite attention to business and there was a clear-headed, forward-looking enthusiasm that well might be called the rebirth of the organization.

* * *

The unanimous election of R. F. Woodhull as president continues a man in office who has earned the respect of the entire motion picture industry. There has never been any question of his devotion to the causes of the motion picture exhibitor, nor has there been any question of his ability to lead wisely, constructively and industriously their organization activities. He understands conditions and he knows the wisdom of cooperation. This newspaper congratulates the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America and the motion picture industry upon the continuance in office of this excellent man.

* * *

The extension of the "Lilac Time" lease at the Central Theatre is the result of the wide popularity earned by this excellent First National sound picture and while the picture is excellent box office as a picture in silence, we believe that the extra push given it by sound is responsible for the sensational success.

* * *

The biggest troubles facing the motion picture theatre owners today are labor troubles and these will be dealt with in subsequent issues of this newspaper.

* * *

Speaking of enough being sufficient we note that both Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Crawford officiate at the organ at the Paramount. Each is an artist and either is big enough to be played solo. Like two Topsyies in a Tom show they might be successfully separated for two attractions at two theatres and each would Chesterfield any audience.

* * *

Mr. Herbert Wilcox is in town from the coast with three good pictures—imported productions. Mr. Wilcox is one of the best arguments for the great improvement in British made pictures and his personality is international.

Arthur James

FOX GREATEST METROPOLITAN EXHIBITOR WITH 150 HOUSES

WOODHULL TO TOUR STATE CONVENTIONS

By Special Wire

TORONTO. — President R. F. Woodhull of the M.P.T.O.A., following the close of the Ninth Annual Convention, has perfected plans for a tour of several states, where he will meet with exhibitors in state convention.

Woodhull will be a speaker at the convention of the M.P.T.O. of Nebraska and Western Iowa, at Omaha on October 23 and 24; the Tristate Convention of Tennessee-Arkansas-Mississippi, at Memphis on Oct. 29-30, and the M.P.T.O. of Oklahoma.

Pete returns to New York this morning, after one of the most successful conventions ever held.

WARNERS NOT TO SHIFT W.C. STUDIO

Conclusive proof that Warner Brothers have no idea of deserting their Sunset Boulevard studios to take up habitation at the First National Burbank plant is evidenced by the announcement from Hollywood by Jack Warner of the contemplated erection of a tremendous new sound stage, 200 by 300 feet in size. Completed the stage will approximate $500,000 in cost and will give the Warners the two largest sound stages in Hollywood.

Warner Statement

Harry M. Warner yesterday soft-pedalled any suggestion that there was a dicker on by Warners for the K-A-O circuit of theatres. Warner stated that his organization is a manufacturing company, interested solely in making pictures and selling pictures to those who needed them and any theatre deals they make are in the nature of picture bookings. There are no other deals contemplated.

Actual Possession of Newly Acquired Houses Dec. 1

NEGOTIATING UPSTATE

The Fox deal for over 150 theatres in greater New York, has been closed. Closed in the sense that contracts have been passed, initial payments have been made and actual possession of this tremendous group of theatres will take place on or about the first of December.

This makes William Fox New York's greatest exhibitor and adds considerably to the strength of the Fox chain of theatres throughout this country.

Deal Without Parallel

This deal will go down in film history as one of the most unique ever closed, in that every theatre purchased is classed as an independent and the greatest amount on any one group will not reach thirty and there were ten or twelve buys of groups

(Continued on page 2)

Hart Here on Talkie Deal for Westerns

William S. Hart, Western hero, who has been rather quiescent in recent years, as far as his screen efforts go, is in New York at the present time, in an attempt to negotiate a new deal.

Hart is working on a proposition to appear in new talking picture versions of many of his old productions which are to be revamped and modernized.

Bachmann in N. Y.

J. G. Bachmann, associate producer of Paramount Pictures arrived in New York yesterday from the West Coast, for home-office conferences.

STOP PRESS—

By Special Wire

HOOLLYWOOD. — Warner Brothers late yesterday signed up Thomas Meighan, world-famous star of Paramount and Caddo Productions. Terms and length of the contract were not announced. He will begin production shortly at the Vitaphone studio in what will probably be a 100 per cent dialogue picture.

GERMANY AND FRANCE AGREE ON RECIPROCITY

PARIS.—A definite agreement on reciprocity between Germany and France, was the outcome of a show-down held in Berlin last week, when representatives of the French film industry threatened to boycott German films and deal with America, unless a greater number of French productions were played in Germany hereafter.

The new agreement calls for Germany

(Continued on page 2)

UFA Director-General Arrives in New York

Herr Kurt Hubert, director-general of the UFA Pictures Corporation of Germany, arrived in New York yesterday for an extended business visit.

Warner Coast Financier To Concentrate on Bristolphone

8 NEW ATTRACTIONS IN B'WAY THEATRES

Broadway film houses will have eight new productions on display this current week. The most prominent of the new arrivals are Universal's "The Melody of Love" which comes into the Colony Sunday night, replacing "Lonesome."

(Continued on page 5)

"The Great Power"—First All-Dialogue Play Ready in Nov.

Coupled with the announcement of the near completion of the first Bristolphone-Franklyn Warner all-dialogue motion picture, "The Great Power," comes announcement of Franklyn Warner's desertion of banking and financial circles in Los Angeles to head the company which

(Continued on page 2)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489-5224. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Tamarind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hemstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York—Henry Bate points out that Universal always does everything with a proper sequence, "Lonesome" now playing the Colony, which will be followed by "The Melody of Love" and then comes along "Man, Woman and Wife," and if you don't get it ask Bate . . . Pat Garyn got back yesterday from four days at Toronto, and he looked pretty good at that, considering everything . . . Sam Morris says he has a great treat in store for theatre owners on January 1, for on that date Al Jolson's "Singing Fool" will go into general release . . . Fred McConnell, of Universal, is in New Orleans and there is a suspicion that he was lured there by the big party the Sanger outfit is supposed to give about this time every year . . . Leon Errol and Tommy Meighan lunched at the Motion Picture Club yesterday (not together), both being members in good standing and with the privilege of signing checks . . . Harvey Day says he reads the World and think's he'll vote for Smith, then he reads the Tribune and is strong for Hoover, then from the evening papers he gets the hunch that he will purposely neglect to register so he won't have to vote for anybody . . . R. H. Gillespie, general manager of one of Great Britain's largest theatre chains, who has been here for the past month, sailed last night for London, filled to the brim with American ideas . . . A Fiedelbaum, of Buenos Ayres, who has been in New York for the past three weeks, sailed last night for home via London, Paris and other foreign seaports . . . Al Jolson and his bride arc back in New York so everything will be all right again and the mystery of the disappearance of the noted bride and groom is a mystery no longer . . . M. A. Lightman, theatre chain owner of Arkansas, is in New York doing a little business with Universal and incidentally visiting with Capt. Henry Bate and talking over old times when they were kids together in Nashville, Tenn.

JAWITZ TO RELEASE 20 INT'L PICTURES

Charles Jawitz of Gold-Hawk Pictures, Inc., has returned from a business trip to England and announces that there is in formation a new company to market International Pictures.

The Jawitz interests have made an affiliation with an English producing firm and a schedule of twenty productions for 1928-29 is being drawn up.

FOX GREATEST METROPOLITAN EXHIBITOR

(Continued from page 1)

comprising two or less. The detail and the work in gathering this bunch together has been great. Primary overtures were handled by A. C. Blumenthal, in charge of purchases for Fox, the actual closing of course being handled by W. F. himself. A separate corporation has been formed under the name of Fox Metropolitan Pictures, Inc., to handle this new string. Money involved will run over $17,000,000.

Sales and Leases

The means of acquiring these houses have been on outright sales and long term leases with options to buy. Some of the houses taken over, will no doubt be closed by Fox as they are too small for this or any other large organization to handle. Without any definite knowledge of just what houses Fox will close, we would say that those seating less than 1,000 would be included in this plan.

The addition of these houses to his, already formidable metropolitan circuit, will give Fox more booking than most all the other big circuits put together. It will give Fox an outlet for Fox product that will cover every zone in greater New York.

Houses To Be Wired

Most of the houses will be wired for sound and in many instances this will be accomplished before Fox takes actual possession. This will mean at least five hundred more booking days for Movietone News, an item great in itself.

Upstate and Jersey

With the closing of the houses in the metropolitan district, Fox will center his attention in acquiring around 100 other houses in upstate New York and the state of New Jersey. Options have already been taken for quite a few of these houses. In addition to New York City and State and New Jersey, this organization has become very active in Eastern Pennsylvania and Northern Delaware in rounding up a group of houses in these localities.

M-G-M May Build Own Wisconsin Houses

MILWAUKEE. — After booking their product into the Garden and Majestic Theatres for 1928-29, where formerly it played the Midwesco houses, and making a similar deal in Minncapolis, M-G-M is now reported dickering for construction sites in Green Bay and other centers.

The evident object of building their own houses in Wisconsin is to give M-G-M product an indeependnt outlet.

WARNER, FINANCIER, CONCENTRATES ON BRISTOLPH.

(Continued from page 1)

has taken over the exclusive rights to the use of the Bristolphone Studios at Waterbury, Conn., for a series of talkie productions, and exclusive use to road-show Bristolphone products.

Mr. Warner though a banker and financier is not unknown to the film industry on the Coast. In the past he has handled the financing of various coast projects connected with motion pictures, but this is the first time he has become actively in control of a motion picture producing organization.

He recently obtained the screen rights to "The Great Power," a Broadway play, and imported a production crew from Los Angeles headed by Joe Rock. The two stages of the Waterbury Studios were used and the picture which is almost three-quarters completed will be offered for release in November.

It is the first time in the history of motion pictures that the original cast as they appeared in the Broadway production retain their respective roles in this all-dialogue film. This makes it possible to use the original cast of New York stage plays while the show is in the middle of its Broadway run.

Reisman Returns

Phil Reisman, general sales manager of Pathe, is back at the home office following a tour of half of the organization's exchanges taking him to the West Coast and the Northwest during the three weeks' trip.

'END OF ST. PETERSBURG' BOOKED INTO ROXY

"The End of St. Petersburg," sensational Russian film, handled by the Big 3 Exchange of New York, has been booked into the Roxy Theatre starting December 8th.

Other big bookings secured by Irving Wormser of the Big 3 are the Poli Circuit, the Loew Circuit, the Fox Brooklyn, Fox Detroit and Philadelphia.

"Dawn," the Edith Cavell picture, has been booked into the Stanley Fabian Circuit.

Threaten Netoco Strike

BOSTON.—A strike in several Netoco houses is set for October 27, if the outcome of the present musician-talking picture squabble is not satisfactory. Stage hands, operators and others will walk out with the musicians in eight theatres.

GERMANY AND FRANCE AGREE ON RECIPROCITY

(Continued from page 1)

many to buy 33 French products for the season of 1928-29, in return for the purchase by the French of 100 German-made films. France thus increases the number over those sold to Germany last year by 18 and Germany her total in France by 9.

CLEAN UP WITH CLEAN PRINTS

WE PROCESS NEW FILM
AND CLEAN THE OLD

PROTECT YOUR SOUND FILM
WITH OUR PROCESS

TRY US—AND YOU'LL BE SATISFIED

NATIONAL FILM RENOVATING AND PROCESS CO.

NEW YORK, N. Y.

Phone: BRYANT 0898

ROOM 1214

J. F. LYONS, Mgr.

W. RAY JOHNSTON PRESENTS

"ISLE OF LOST MEN"

FREDERICK L. NEBEL'S
ADVENTURE NOVEL

A TREM CARR PRODUCTION

Directed by Duke Worne, who made "The Cruise of the Hellion"

With TOM SANTSCI, ALLEN CONNOR, JAMES
MARCUS, PATSY O'LEARY and JULES COWLES

Foreign Distributors: Richmount Pictures, Inc.

PICTURE REVIEWS

"MORAN OF THE MARINES"

Paramount

Starring.... Richard Dix, with Ruth Elder
Director..... Frank Strayer
Photography.... Edw. Cronjager

Miss Elder does well enough but is allotted one unpardonable title—a reference to her Atlantic hop—which seems cheap and unnecessary. The star, as usual, is excellent as is Roscoe Karns as his "buddy."

This is a typical Dix vehicle. It contains a little more melodrama than his recent releases, though. The picture starts off with a San Francisco Cafe brawl, a very amusing sequence, and ends with a fight between Moran and some Chinese bandits, from whom he rescues his sweetheart. The picture is well directed and photographed but drags a little in spots.

"CAVALIER"

(With Sound)

Tiffany-Stahl

Directed by..... Irving Willat
Featuring.... Richard Talmadge, Barbara Bedford, David Torrence, and Stuart Holmes.

With a Riesenfeld sound synchronization (R. C. A. on film) this picture is one of the finest sound attractions yet offered. Its beautiful photography and definite romantic love interest fit with the superb musical score, which transforms a good picture into a sensation.

In the sequence where the hero is pursued by dogs and is running for his life the sound accompaniment gives it vital realism and supreme thrill. Barbara Bedford is unusually beautiful and might well be the star of the picture. The supporting cast is excellent and large crowds are used with good effect.

This is a sound picture attraction.

"WOMEN THEY TALK ABOUT"

Warner Brothers

Directed by..... Lloyd Bacon
Featuring..... Irene Rich, William Collier, Jr., Claude Gillingwater.

This is a Vitaphone offering that played to crowded houses at the Strand Theatre and is a specially well made talkie. It is a story of a woman in politics with the contrasting play of the self made man as against the aristocrats. In the end the two warring elements are united by the pleasant process of matrimony.

The work of Claude Gillingwater is especially fine and his voice is happily attuned to sound reproduction; in fact, he is a voice bet. Miss Rich is charming as usual, William Collier, Jr., is acceptable and Audrey Ferris, Anders Randolph and the other players are satisfactory. The picture has already demonstrated its box office attraction.

"THE BABY CYCLONE"

M-G-M

Directed by..... Eddie Sutherland
Featuring..... Lew Cody, Aileen Pringle

Sutherland has turned out a fine farce from George M. Cohan's play and has obtained some very clever work on the part of Lew Cody and Aileen Pringle who have appeared as a team before in smart situation pictures.

Cody plays the husband who has to play second-fiddle to a rival for his wife's affections. The rival in this case, is a dog, a poodle called the "Baby Cyclone," which causes a peck of trouble for Cody. The comedy centers around Lew's subtle schemes to get rid of the dog but to no avail, as the hound always shows up at the wrong time. The upshot of Cody's marital troubles is that he finally gives in gracefully and accepts the dog as an equal for his wife's affections.

"RED LIPS"

Universal

Directed by..... Melville Brown
Featuring..... Charles Rogers, Marion Nixon

A TYPICAL COLLEGIATE DRAMA ON THE VARIETY OF THE SHY ATHLETIC HERO AND THE COLLEGE WIDOW, WHICH IN THIS CASE IS A BOSTON BEAUTY WHO PALS WITH THE BOYS OF A LOWLY COLLEGE. ROGERS IS HANDSOME AND SINCERE AND NIXON IS PRETTY ENOUGH TO HOLD REAL ATTENTION. THIS FILM IS NOT UNPLEASING BUT LACKS VITALITY FOR ANYTHING MORE THAN A GOOD PROGRAM PICTURE.

An intercollegiate track record-holder coes to the big college and falls in love with the gay Boston visitor. He breaks training to take her home one night and is taken off the team. She realizes the harm she did and leaves him—he grows reckless at her apparent fickleness and goes to the dogs, only to save himself and his college honor in time—as well as the girl's love.

"KRIEMHILD'S REVENGE"

UFA (Siegfried Sequel)

Directed by..... Fritz Lang
Featuring..... Margarete Schoen, Hans Schlettow, Paul Richter, R. Klein-Rogge.

Second portion of the Wagner Nibelunger Ring devoted to a spectacular recounting of the avenging of Siegfried's Death by his widow—powerful and sombre drama of relentless extinction of the Nibelungen by King Attila and his Huns. Powerful cast, great settings and action.

This film, like the first part of the life of Siegfried, is heavy stuff, in the foreign manner, which will appeal to intelligent audiences. The picture needs lively orchestration, as many episodes drag. Subtitles are both in German and English. It takes a while for audience interest to be aroused as the subject material is strange. One awakened, it is held the rest of the way through.

"SHANGHAI DOCUMENT"

Sovkino-Amkino

Photography by..... A. D. Grinberg
Directed by..... Jacob Blokh
Photography by..... Leo Stepanov

This film is a glorified travelogue and more, of the City of Shanghai, its people, customs, industries, amusements and contrasting life, in general, of upper and lower classes.

An attempt is here made to catch the soul of the city in peace and strife, in toil and pleasure.

Recent civil war events are briefly touched on but are not stressed. Action, of course, is rapid and episodic and the real character of the people, both foreign and native is caught by the subtle camera.

"The Ladies' Man"

Fox Movietone (Chic Sale)

Chick Sale as his usual "rube" self in a good low-comedy gag picture. All about the hick that comes to the big city looking for flirtation. He picks up a gal and goes to her home, where things go smoothly until hubby shows up and then Chic, imitating an electrician, goes out the window.

This is a short subject good for a lot of laughs and looks well on the program.

"3 COMRADES AND 1 INVENTION"

Sovkino-Amkino

Directed by..... Alexis Popoff
Featuring..... Serge Iablokov, Serge Iavrentiev, Olga Tretiakova, A. Nirov.

First Russian feature-length comedy, very much unlike American comedies yet strangely akin in fundamental elements of fun and humor the world over. The theme is serious yet hearty laughs and heart sympathy for the comedians exist side by side.

For tired and jaded audiences, this picture will be a welcome relief and will leave a pleasant warmth with patrons when they leave the theatre.

Two soap-factory youths, with an inventive mind, produce a machine that will make packing-boxing cases. The local contractor, with a fat contract for making boxes by hand, uses every trick in his bag to frustrate the successful culmination of the invention. The boys and their girl-friend from the village journey to the state capital for an audience and manage to survive all the traps and vicissitudes in their path. A word of praise is due to the photographer for his gorgeous river scenes.

PATHE STARTS HEAVY PROD. ERA

15 Productions on Schedule For Next Three Months

By JOE BLAU
W. C. Correspondent

Pathe has started on one of the biggest production eras in its history with the beginning of camera work on "Noisy Neighbors" and "The Leatherneck."

"Square Shoulders," Junior Coughlan's next, is rapidly having its continuity whipped into shape while "Ned McCobb's Daughter," "The Shady Lady," "Geraldine," "The Spieler" and "Sal of Singapore" are already in the cutting rooms.

Paul Stein is preparing for early work on Phyllis Haver's next, "The Office Scandal" and William Counsellman, newly arrived in the Pathe fold, is fixing up "Listen Baby" with Scott Darling. This is from an Elsie Janis story.

Dudley Murphy and Elliott Clawson are both busy on the script of "High Voltage" William Boyd's next after "The Leatherneck," while Neil Brant is writing the treatment of another Boyd story, "The Flying Fool."

Robert Armstrong will be featured in "The Elevator Girl" and the list of Pathe activities ends with the announcement that "The Tiger's Shadow," a serial, has been finished and director Spencer Bennett is preparing to start work on the second one of the five scheduled, "The Fire Detective," and the completion of the 18 comedies produced by Mack Sennett.

This is certainly a fine, heavy program and the Pathe Rooster should have plenty to wake up the neighbors about, when all this production comes through.

D. W. -- DE MILLE DIFFER ON TALKING PICTURES

Two decidedly opposite views on the future of talking pictures were expressed the other night by D. W. Griffith and Cecil DeMille, at a meeting of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, J. Stuart Blackton, presiding.

Mr. Griffith declared that he knew nothing about sound or talking pictures and even if he did, wouldn't mention it. He seemed to think that their future is all behind them, so far as art or box-office money-making are concerned.

Mr. DeMille, on the other hand, flatly disagreed with the worthy Griffith's opinion and said that within three years there would not be a silent picture in the theatres of America and very few in Europe.

In conclusion, he stated that, "Everything that the theatre has to offer plus all motion pictures have to offer, is the future of the talkies."

Conrad Nagel gave a brief talk on his experiences in the making of talking pictures and agreed wholly with Mr. DeMille on the great possibilities of the future for sound and talking productions.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Gustave von Seyffertitz has been cast for an important role in "The Case of Lena Smith," as has Leone Lane, recent Paramount "find."

Nora Lane has been given an important role in Adolphe Menjou's next Paramount picture, "Marquis Preferred," Frank Tuttle directing.

Universal is to feature Natalie Kingston in the "Pirate of Panama" by William McLeod Raine, to be directed by Ray Taylor. Others in the cast are: Al Ferguson, George Ovey and May Sutton.

A talking and singing picture in natural colors will be produced in the near future at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio. Gus Edwards, musical producer who recently arrived at the coast to work on sound development, is preparing a musical revue in two reels in which the various bits and singing numbers will be pictured and recorded through a Movietone color process. Harry Rapf will act as supervisor.

Agnes Christine Johnston has been signed by First National to write the treatment on "The Man and the Moment," the Elinor Glyn story which is to be Billie Dove's next starring vehicle at the Burbank Studios. George Fitzmaurice will direct the production.

Victor Seastrom, having completed direction of "The Masks of the Devil," the Viennese story adapted from a Jacob Wasserman novel, sailed last week for Europe on the "Olympic" accompanied by his wife and two children.

Belle Bennett will play her first part in a talking picture in Tiffany-Stahl production to be filmed in New York.

It is reported that Pola Negri has signed to make three talking pictures for Pathe. The contract was thought to have been arranged when Joseph P. Kennedy conferred recently with Miss Negri in Europe.

8 NEW ATTRACTIONS ON BROADWAY

(Continued from page 1)

Warner Bros.-Vitaphone production "The Home Towners" opens Tuesday at the Warner Theatre; "Me Gangster" a Fox-Raoul Walsh picture, will be at the Roxy; Lon Chaney in "While the City Sleeps" is at the Capitol; "Waterfront," with Mulhall-Mackaill is at the Strand.

"The Stool Pigeon," a Columbia-Hoffman drama will be at the Broadway and F. B. O.'s "Stocks and Bonds" at the Hippodrome. Bebe Daniels in "Take Me Home" will be at the Paramount.

Other attractions held over are "The Wedding March" at the Rivoli; "Battle of the Sexes" at the Rialto, "Lilac Time" at the Central, "Four Devils" at the Gaiety, "Submarine" at the Embassy, "3 Comrades and 1 Invention" at the Cameo and "Kriemhild's Revenge" at the 55th Street.

Al. Green will direct Marion Davies in her production of "The Five O'clock Girl," taken from the stage play of the same name.

Emil Jannings' next will be the "The Seeder," a circus and vaudeville story, which Lewis Milestone will direct.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has assigned Rupert Julian to direct "The Doomed Regiment" by Ben Hecht. This will be filmed with sound and voice effects.

Lina Basquette will play the feminine lead with Jean Hersholt in the "New Generation," the Fanny Hurst story which Columbia pictures is making, Frank Capper directing.

Colleen Moore's next will be another ultra-modern story of this younger generation—an original by Carey Wilson, "That's a Bad Girl." William Seiter will direct.

The local Paramount office admits that negotiations are on for the services of George Gershwin. They want him to play his famous "Rhapsody in Blue" in a sound picture. So far no contracts have been signed.

They've gone and picked another blonde for Adolphe Menjou. This time it's Lucille Powers recently of the extra ranks and she will be the other girl in "Marquis Preferred."

James Gleason has signed a contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to do stories and sound picture dialogue for that company.

Filming of "Ton War" under the direction of William Wellman started yesterday. Wallace Beery and Florence Vidor head the cast.

Bert Glennon is directing "The Joyride," featuring George LeMaire, for F. B. O. This is a "talkie" short short subject.

Wallace Fox has completed direction of "The Amazing Vagabond" for F. B. O.

Keegan On Tour

Jack R. Keegan, special Vitaphone field representative, leaves this week on an extended trip which will take him to the Warner Bros. Vitaphone branches in Philadelphia, Atlanta, Dallas and Chicago. The Dallas branch opens today.

Mackaill Almost Another "Sadie Thompson"

Dorothy Mackaill, First National star, has just returned from location in Hilo, Hawaii, with the "Changelings" company.

"My Lord!" she wailed, "how I can sympathize with Sadie Thompson. It would drive you nuts." Referring, of course, to the rainy season of that lovely country.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

DIRECTORS

What has happened to some of our big directors of last year, the year before that and still another year back? Why is it that "soandso" who made the outstanding picture for this or that company, has not done a thing worthy of mention since? Why is it that this fellow who showed such great genius in his direction of "Sally at the Sink" slumped terribly in his recent pictures. Our answer is "stories." Others will answer that the brain cells of the particular directors have become retarded and in some instances completely stopped by taking bows along Hollywood Boulevard and accepting the plaudits of the industry and fans throughout the country.

BUM STORIES

The best director in the world cannot make a good picture out of a bum story. He might give it a better treatment than the little $300 man, but the final result will not add any laurels to his wreath. Out Hollywood way, good stories are often referred to as "director's stories." No doubt for the reason that an ordinarily fair director can make a pretty good picture out of a good story, for with a good story and screen treatment it is hard for even a poor megaphone wielder to turn out anything but a good story.

DIRECTOR'S FAULT

Once a director has really accomplished something good, he is in the position of having a lot to do with the selection of his stories, and it is in this selection that many of our best men fail. We heard one very prominent producer say of an equally prominent director, "If he would permit us to select his stories, he would make the best pictures of any man in this industry, but with him having the yes or no, he will never make another one that will reach better than the neighborhood houses." That statement might be right or wrong; maybe this producer would not be any better in picking them than the director referred to, but the fact remains that story means everything in the making of good pictures. That, to our mind, is the reason why some of our supposedly good directors, have taken flops.

THE TOP

It has always been proven quite a cinch for a director to reach the top in almost one step. But sticking up there is a horse of another color. One good picture will make any director, but the question of "staying made" rests with the type of material either given or selected by him. Go up and down the list, see who is on top today, it won't require much research to find out what put him there. If he was there yesterday and not today, the answer will be equally as easy. One good story is better than fifty good directors.

Eastman Panchromatic Negative

Type 2

A perfected, proved product for the cinematographer

In developing it the Eastman Kodak Company has pursued its long established policy of constantly helping to improve the motion picture art. In presenting it to the trade it maintains its undisputed forty-year supremacy.

EASTMAN KODAK COMPANY
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 93

New York, Monday, October 22, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Vital

A good subject is worth more than one discussion. On Saturday we talked about the rebirth of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners as evidenced by the fine success of the Toronto convention. Today we want to look a little bit into the future. There are in the United States fifteen thousand active exhibitors out of a sum total of twenty thousand who are partly exhibitors and partly something else through their activities in other businesses. All of these should be active paying members of the exhibitors' organization. This is not a matter of sentiment; it is just plain business.

* * *

No other big business in the United States is unorganized in its retail activities and the motion picture business needs very definitely the strongest possible exhibitor organization that can be put together. Under the presidency of R. F. Woodhull, who has at his elbow the former president, Michael J. O'Toole, there is no element lacking in leadership. Both are devoted, sincere and industrious men with a capacity for service to the exhibitors that would be hard to match. Their plans for the enlargement of the organization are definitely set, but no two men can do everything and it is plainly up to every exhibitor, whether he be independent or allied with a chain, to personally identify himself with membership in the national organization. The dues are not prohibitive and the results in the matter of general welfare will be tremendous.

* * *

With a strong exhibitor organization, all the problems that affect the exhibitor division of the business can be ironed out and settled amicably in a businesslike manner. Any unfairness that exists can be done away with and there would naturally be developed a cooperative spirit between buyer and seller which would make for general business progress.

* * *

We cannot urge too strongly to every exhibitor in the industry the necessity for joining promptly and paying dues regularly and afterward fully supporting the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America.

* * *

Labor difficulties which tend to remove the direction of theatres from their present management to other hands, adverse legislation which is an ever present menace and the promotion of public good will rests for the present and the future with this organization cooperating with all other organized forces in the motion picture business.

(Continued on page 2)

32 M.P.T.O.A. Zone Members To Be Appointed At Nov. Meeting

For or Against?

The motion picture industry awaits an expression from:

Film Daily
Motion Picture News
World-Herald

on their stand on the Brookhart Bill-for or against. This measure is a menace to the picture business and silence won't let anybody by. Come on, speak up and let the wide world know where you stand.

Photo-Paper Confab at Biltmore Tuesday

Eastman, Agfa - Ansco and Geveart Co.s on Committee

Invitations to producers, distributors, and users of photographic paper, photo frames, mounts and machines, to attend a general conference of all interested elements of the industry for the consideration of a proposed simplification program for photographic paper, have been sent out by the Division of Simplified Practice of the Department of Commerce.

The purpose of this meeting is to present the proposed simplification schedule on paper sizes to manufacturers of photo frames, mounts, and paper-making machines so that they could consider its adequacy to meet their requirements.

The general conference of manu-

(Continued on page 2)

Roxy To Build New 6,600-Seat Theatre

S. L. Rothafel and associates are contemplating the construction of a brand new mammoth theatre in New York in the Broadway section, which will be the largest theatre in the world, seating 6,600.

This house will not be a picture theatre in the beginning but will feature monthly revues at a $2.00 top. Roxy figures it will be possible to play to a $200,000 gross per week, with the highest-priced artists available being secured. Seats will be sold by yearly subscription for a total of 12 shows.

The theatre will be completed in the Spring of 1930 according to plans.

"Dracula" Bought By "U" For Talkie

Universal Pictures have bought the screen rights to the noted stage thriller, "Dracula," which had an extra long run on the London stage before starting its career in this country.

The vampire-mystery story will be a 100 per cent dialogue and sound picture, with Conrad Veidt slated for the chief role of Count Dracula.

Carewe-Jolson Return

Edwin Carewe returns to New York this morning on the Leviathan, from Europe. Al Jolson and his wife are also returning on this boat.

Conference Committee To Establish Contacts For Legislation

The renewed activity of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America for a 100 per cent and fully efficient organization is evidenced by the announcement that a meeting of the board of directors has been called for early November.

At the meeting, the thirty-two members of the new Conference Committee, one from each film zone, will be selected. Communications have been established with theatre owner leaders in each of the film zones to determine definitely on the personnel of this Conference Committee. This Committee will be the real important body of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America inasmuch as the contracts will be of a kind that will give the situation a nation-wide aspect.

The members of this board will have charge of the legislative and other situations in their territories and this renders their work of the highest importance to the National organization and the motion picture industry generally.

Telegrams in volume have come to National Headquarters from different parts of the country in which substantial theatre owners indicate their approval of the fine business-like industrial conference into which the National

(Continued on page 2)

"U" Chi. Sales Meet

A meeting of all the Universal-Mid-Western sales managers is being held at the Stevens House, Chicago, today and tomorrow, with Morton Van Prague, general sales manager, in charge.

Columbia Pictures To Distribute "Dawn"

"Dawn," the Edith Cavell picture which has been shown in New York at the Times Square and Cameo Theatres, has been acquired by Columbia Pictures for national distribution.

The production is now being road-showed all over the country. It is playing or has played in the Wilmer & Vincent pre-release houses in Pennsylvania the Playhouse in Chicago; the St. Francis, West Coast's road-show house in San Francisco; the St. George, Brooklyn, and the Momart, Brooklyn.

NEW AMPLIFICATION METHOD FOR TALKING-FILM SECRETS

B. J. Madan Sails Wed. 5% Dividend Declared

B. J. Madan, Indian film magnate is planning to sail for Rome on Wednesday, after having completed film and talking picture deals for India.

The Madan Theatre financial statement for the past year listed profits of approximately $230,000, and a dividend of per cent will be declared.

By SAM HARRIS "Today's Cinema"

London.—An important improvement in sound film amplification will be demonstrated shortly, which is intended to make the sound appear to travel about the screen so as to come from the person singing or talking.

By existing methods the loud speakers are placed by the side of the screen, or behind or just below

(Continued on page 3)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 5224. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $16; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter, January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Pictures Publishers, Inc.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York. — Milton Silver, in charge of advertising for Universal, who has been riding with the main herd in the general offices, now has a little house of his own, where he can think deep thoughts without interruption . . . Pete Woodhull, just back from the Toronto convention, is all enthused over the work accomplished and announces that he will tour a number of the mid west states right away. . . . George Harvey says one of the Toronto convention smiles was over the Chicago exhibitor leader who carried a lot of liquid refreshments with him from the Windy City in Canada. . . . John R. Freuler, one of the real old-timers in the picture industry, who has been conspicuous by his absence for a number of years, has returned to the industry and will produce a number of pictures on the coast. . . . Jack Keegan, field representative of Vitaphone, left Saturday on an extended trip through the south and southwest, with Dallas, Texas, as the turning back point. . . . A. C. Blumenthal, who buys theatres for William Fox has been the busy man recently lining up 100 or 150 houses for William Fox to gather into his big chain by signing a bunch of contracts. . . . Carl Laemmle has bought the play "Barnum Was Right," screen rights and everything and will make it into one of the biggest of big comedy pictures. . . . Jules Levy says he doesn't care much what happens to him now since they're got him playing Ping Pong at the Motion Picture Club. . . . Kurt Hubert, director general of UFA in New York for a series of conferences with Frederick Wynne-Jones, the American representative of the big German company. . . . Abe Stern left Friday night for the coast to get the Stern Brothers wheel of industry started on their Autumnal grind. . . . Paul Gulick, after four days in Toronto, just had to spend Saturday and Sunday on his golf course to get the Canadian air out of his system. . . .

IZZ ZAT ZO!

Believe it or not, two woodpeckers yesterday afternoon flew into the lobby of the Central Theatre where Colleen Moore's First National Picture, "Lilac Time," is enjoying a successful run, and ensconced themselves in one of the lilac bushes which lends an appropriate decorative touch to the lobby. They basked in the lobby spotlights.

Gotham Bristolphone Ends 1st Convention

Marking the completion of the first sales meeting staged since Gotham Bristolphone acquired the national distributing rights of the Bristolphone synchronizing disc systems, sixteen Gotham branch managers from all over the country leave for their home offices thoroughly acquainted with the workings, the mechanical ramifications and tonal felicity of the Bristolphone device.

Among those present were: L. G. Berman, Chicago; Phil Monsky, Omaha; Claude Townsend, Detroit; Donn Hayes, Los Angeles; Wm. Hurlburt, Detroit; Jess Fishman, Cleveland; B. Rosenthal, St. Louis; Chas. Bessenbacher, Kansas City; J. S. Berkowitz, San Francisco; R. G. Romney, St. John; M. Trueman, St. John; Herk Webster, Buffalo; Morris Fitzer, Buffalo; L. Korson, Ben Amsterdam, Phila.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grauman, Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Strauss, Milwaukee; Al Steffes, Minneapolis; Col. Cole, Dallas; Chas. Rogers, Budd Rogers, Sam Sax, John Weber, Harold Shumate of the home office.

32 M.P.T.O.A. Members Appointed at Nov. Meeting

(Continued from page 1)

tional Convention resolves itself at Toronto. They take the position that it reflects in a very pronounced way the opinions and desires of theatre owners everywhere as the tendency is now more pronounced than ever to entirely safeguard their interest through lines of procedure established at the Toronto Convention.

Doug-Mary Coming

Doug Fairbanks and Mary Pickford are planning to come East for about ten days, as Miss Pickford wants to take a few more looks at "Coquette," and to interview players under consideration for parts in her film version of that drama.

"What's Right With The Movies"

Number One of A Series From Industry's Leaders

By J. D. WILLIAMS

There are a great many things right with the movies and very few that are wrong. The right thing in the movies in my opinion is the great comedy brigade that furnishes us with our wonderful comedies. The old adage "Laugh and the World laughs with you," is the greatest tonic for all ills that could be devised.

Charles Chaplin is the greatest ambassador that England has ever had.

Harold Lloyd is the greatest ambassador that America has ever had.

I have seen the natives in the South Sea Islands in a theatre looking at a Chaplin picture throw their hats in the air when his picture came one the screen, and when you think of the millions of people that comedians in the movies make laugh every day you may consider the tremendous good it is doing the world. The comedy makers in the motion picture business deserve much more credit than any other branch in the industry.

Look at the list: Charles Chaplin, Harold Lloyd, Mack Sennett, Hal Roach, Jack White, the Christies and the Sterns. Just think what they have all done to develop the making of comedies. Not a complaint do you hear from any country in the world about American comedies. They lead the world because they are the best.

Look at the preparations now being made by these great comedy producers with a view to making sound and talking pictures. You will find when the picture rage is well started that the comedy producers will be well to the front. Of all the developments and progress made in our business, the progress of comedy has been the greatest.

I just looked at a comedy made by Monty Banks called "Honeymoon Abroad." He made this picture in England, Paris and London. It will make twenty millions or more American people laugh. The difference in American and French comedy situations will be discussed by hundreds of thousands of people who will do more to bring about an international feeling of Good Will than any other single factor. That is really a great thing for the motion picture business. The good accomplished by motion picture comedies will have more than offset one hundred times anything that is wrong with the movies.

More power to you and your paper for the good work you are doing for the motion picture.

Miehling With Publix In June 21 Years

Rudolph Miehling, assistant to Harry Rubin, Projection Department of Publix Theatres, who addressed the M.P.T.O.A. Convention in Toronto, is an Electrical Engineer and has 21 years experience in the motion picture field.

For the last two and a half years, Miehling has been instructing projectionists on sound apparatus, for Electrical Research Products Co. and Publix.

"Annapolis" Theme Song

"My Annapolis" (And You), a fox-trot ballad written by Charles Weinberg and Irving Bobo is the theme song being used by Josiah Zuro in his scoring of Pathe's "Annapolis," which will be recorded by RCA Photophone at Sound Studios, Inc., this week.

This number is being published by Bibb, Bloedon and Lang, Inc., who are arranging special displays for exhibitors playing this picture in either sound or silent versions.

Photo—Paper Confab at Biltmore Tuesday

(Continued from page 1)

facturers, distributors, and users of the commodity in question will be held tomorrow at the Hotel Biltmore.

The simplified practice committee consisted of Frank L. Andrews of the Eastman Kodak Company; Joseph Coenen of the Geveart Company of America; L. D. Fields of the Defender Photo Supply Company; Sherman Hall of the Agfa-Ansco Corporation; and J. R. Wilson of The Haloid Company.

VITAL

(Continued from page 1)

Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors' Association has expressed himself definitely as to the need of a strong organized exhibitor group, and in so doing he voices the sentiment of all producers and distributors in the business.

* * *

An alive, alert body will safeguard the future of the motion picture business and the exhibitor who refuses or hesitates about joining is standing in his own light.

ARTHUR JAMES.

CLEAN UP WITH CLEAN PRINTS

WE PROCESS NEW FILM
AND CLEAN THE OLD

PROTECT YOUR SOUND FILM
WITH OUR PROCESS

TRY US—AND YOU'LL BE SATISFIED

NATIONAL FILM RENOVATING AND PROCESS CO.

729 SEVENTH AVENUE, NEW YORK, N. Y.

Phone: BRYANT 0898

Room 1214

J. F. Lyons, Mgr.

U. A. Officials Hear Pickford Test at H. O.

Zellner Brings Voice Tests Made by Mary For "Coquette"

By W. R. W.

Mary Pickford's voice was reproduced on the screen at the United Artists' projection room in New York, at a private showing to company officials.

The tests were made by Miss Pickford, under the direction of Sam Taylor, at the Paramount studios in Hollywood, prior to Miss Pickford's purchase of the screen rights of "Coquette" for her first all talking picture.

Miss Pickford's voice was brought from Hollywood by Arthur J. Zellner, who arrived in New York yesterday for a conference at the Eastern office.

The tests were 400 feet long, made under the dual film process. The scenes were from "My Best Girl," which Taylor, who will direct Miss Pickford in "Coquette," also directed.

Texarkana Managers In Blue Law Arrest

Texarkana, Tex.—Arthur Hardin and Mrs. Hardin, managers of the Saenger and Strand Theatres were last week arrested and released on their own recognizance, on charges of violating the Sunday Blue Laws.

Texarkana theatres were well patronized for the first Sunday pictures in the history of the city. The Saenger and Strand on Texas ground and the Gem in Arkansas, all played to huge audiences.

The arrests will form a test for Sunday pictures for all towns in this section hereafter.

New Amplification Method For Talking-Film Secrets

(Continued from page 1)

it, as near to the character supposed to be speaking as possible, to support the illusion that the voice is coming from the artist.

Critics of present-day talking pictures have complained that the voices often seem to be coming out of the speaker's left vest pocket or down about his shoes, but with this invention, the "bi-aural" sense which judges sound according to the intensity with which it reaches each ear and thus directs the eye, was specialized on and the inventor thus far has obtained an illusion of direction within a few degrees of the one required.

Cohen Opening New Florida Theatre

Sindey S. Cohen, well-known independent exhibitor, is preparing to open his new theatre in Pensacola, Florida, in the early Spring and has sent C. J. McLane there to act as his personal representative.

Benton-Comerford Playing 1st Nat'l

A. W. Smith, Jr., Eastern Sales manager for First National, closed for the Benton Circuit, with principal theatres in Saratoga, Glens Falls and Plattsburgh, N. Y., for the complete First National product for the current season, both President Group productions and the specials.

Smith also reports the closing of a similar contract with the Comerford Circuit of Eastern Pennsylvania, with principal theatres in Wilkes-Barre and Scranton.

M-G-M 2-Reel Talkies

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer have signed Lionel Barrymore and Lowell Sherman to direct a series of two reel talking pictures for them.

Griffith's Sound Dissolve

D. W. Griffith, who gave to silent films the close-up and the fade-out, is now using in sound pictures, the sound dissolve and the sound fade-out. These effects will be presented in "The Love Song," in which William Bove, Jetta Goudal and Lupe Velez appear.

Fejos Returns to W. C.

Dr. Paul Fejos, director, and Glenn Tryon, star, who have been in New York taking atmospheric shots for Universal's production of "Broadway," the celebrated Jed Harris stage success, have returned to California, leaving Arthur Cozine, New York location expert and production executive, to complete the New York shots necessary for the picture.

Graham Wilcox Making Television Film

London.—The Baird Television apparatus and its use forms the theme of a new production which Graham-Wilcox-P. MacLean Rogers are producing. It is called "The Third Eye" and is said to contain a thrilling novelty appeal. The entire Television process will be demonstrated as part of the dramatic story.

PHOTOTONE RUSHES ON DIALOGUE O.K.

Dialogue-dancing sequences made by Eddie Quillan and Lina Basquette for the vaudeville rehearsal and performance scenes of Pathe's "Show Folks" are "sensationally good," according to a West Coast wire to Colvin W. Brown, executive vice-president, following the screening of rushes of this RCA Photophone recording.

Benjamin Glazer directed the team of Eddie Kehoe and Company, otherwise Quillan and Miss Basquette, in a typical conversational dancing Vaudeville act in which lively patter was intermixed with agile steps and tinkling tunes.

$5,000,000 British Theatre Corp. Formed

London.—The Associated British Cinemas, with a capitalization of $5,000,000 has been formed and will be controlled by the British International Pictures.

The Associated was formed to take over the Savoy Cinemas, Ltd., with about 20 existing theatres and the Scottish Cinema and Variety Theatres, with a like amount. Additional theatres of 3,000 seating capacity will be built, in three or four of the larger cities in the U. K.

Barnes-McIntyre Here

George Barnes, ace cameraman, and Bob McIntyre, casting head of Samuel Goldwyn corporation, are in New York at the Park Central.

Both are here in connection with the new Vilma Banky picture, "Next Thing to Heaven," to be filmed in and around New York.

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.

for Library Stock Scenes

130 W. 46th St. New York
Bryant 8181

Classified Advertisements

Advertisements in this section, 5 cents per word. Cash must be sent with order. No charge for Box Number line. Minimum order, $1. 10% discount 12 issues or more.

FOR SALE

AN OLD AND WELL ESTABLISHED ORCHESTRA BUSINESS of Band Providers. Fully licensed, agency for variety, etc. Price £4,500. Commodious offices, extensive up-to-date library and music. Established 25 years. Open to every inspection and investigation. Write May Walter Orchestra, 81 Shaftesbury Avenue, London, W.1.

MOTION PICTURE AND "STILL" cameras rented, sold and exchanged. Portable lights for sale and for rent. Keep us advised of your wants. Ruby Camera Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

LOCAL FILMS
MOTION PICTURES MADE TO ORDER. Commercial, Home or Industrial. We have excellent facilities and the best cameramen. Our price, 20c per foot. Ruby Film Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES
WHETHER YOU WANT TO HIRE some one or be hired; buy or sell a theatre; trade or sell equipment, or do almost anything else in the motion picture business, an ad in this department will get you results. If you want us to word the ad for you, the services of our advertising experts are at your call. Simply tell us what you want to do, and how many words you want used. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

MOVIETONE CITY.

The Fox organization, both East and West, are certainly putting on the steam regarding Movietone City, soon to open in Hollywood. This plant, when opened, will present the finest in everything that could be put into a studio for the making of sound pictures, in addition to giving Fox, together with his Sunset Bldg. property, more stage space than any other studio in the world. With this in consideration, the organization spoken of above, have plenty of reason to get steamed up.

NEWS IN SOUND

Speaking of Fox reminds us that we were talking to a representative of one of the big news weeklies and we asked him about the sound situation in so far as his releases were concerned. He replied, "I suppose we will get to it in time, when, I can't say." He went on further, "Do you know the cost of getting the equipment, by that I mean a sound truck, special camera, etc., for one unit?" We said we did not. "Well, it will go well over $25,000 and when you consider the extra cost in developing and printing and the number of units that have to be outfitted throughout the world, you have an item that is staggering. Add to this the amount of houses now wired for sound pictures and estimate the small gross to be had at this time, and you will have a glaring deficit staring you in the face."

HOW ABOUT FOX?

With the above figures in mind and the small amount of theatres equipt for running sound pictures, it occurs to us that Fox is taking one on the chin at this moment in so far as his Movietone News is concerned. But, somehow or other, if we were in the Fox shoes and had the chin to take it on, we would be glad to take it, feeling we had a punch to deliver in return. This Movietone News is great stuff and, in so far as we are concerned, more than anything else is responsible for our present talkie craze.

TREM CARR.

Trem Carr is fastly forcing himself to the front as a producer of independent product. He has been going along for the last couple of years unsung and hardly heard of, but his pictures have been doing a lot of talking. We hear great things about the "Isle of Lost Men." We hope Ray Johnston invites us for a screening.

Vidor to Retire

It is said that Florence Vidor, on the completion of her present Paramount contract, will retire from pictures and assume the role of Mrs. Jascha Heifetz, exclusively.

Sea Melo for Rayart

Next on the list of Rayart's Box Office Twenty to go into production at Mack Sennett Studios is "Ships of the Night." Producer Trem Carr has lined up an excellent cast, headed by Jacqueline Logan, Sojin, Arthur Rankin, Andy Clyde, Glen Cavander, J. P. McGowan, Frank Moran and Tom Curran.

The HANA-PHONE
HEAR WHAT YOU SEE

Announcement!

ONCE each year the personalities of motion pictures have an opportunity to express their cheerfulness and good will, their satisfaction or hope to their friends and to the leaders of the business which makes everything possible. To make this expression and representation of real value MOTION PICTURES TODAY, the paper with the only complete and blanket circulation of the industry, the only paper that now is regularly and always read, will publish a Special De Luxe Holiday Number with four special eight page sections in rotogravure in superb color. It will be unlike, and finer than, anything the industry has ever known.

The designs are by Mr. Lambert Guenther, the most distinguished commercial artist in America and recognized by the Metropolitan Museum of Art for his supreme contributions to the growth of commercial art in this country. Assisting will be Mr. Robert Frazier, recognized as at the very top of his profession in rotogravure art.

The special sections will give pictorial opportunity for those who have been recognized and favored to greet personally their fellow players, the exhibitors—all of them—and the executives in a pleasant, handsome and appropriate manner with a picture and a greeting.

The prices have been arranged in accord with costs and the representation can be regulated entirely by the purse. MOTION PICTURES TODAY is more interested in the representation than in the amount or size of space utilized by each one desiring to be included in this fine holiday party to be looked in upon by all the picture people on earth.

No other greeting to the industry is necessary, no other space need be purchased because this is the Big Party and the biggest Party the motion picture business in all its fine history ever saw.

We suggest that you reserve space early and that you send your picture and greeting well before December 1st, because fine work requires care and time and our sections start to close on that date. Today is the best time you could figure on. We can take care of you a little later but for your own advantage be as early as possible and let your own good imagination figure the holiday spirit in advance for good and practical reasons.

If you want us to contrive a suitable greeting rest assured you will not be disappointed as you will be cared for with dignity, taste and friendly consideration.

This is an unusual event in an unusual newspaper, the one that has captured the admiration of the trade by doing excellently and professionally all that it has set out to do—your editor requests your best as well as your immediate consideration.

Cordially,

Arthur James

NOTE—800 Daily Newspapers Cooperate With Motion Pictures Today

In This Issue Al Lichtman Tells "What's Right With The Movies"

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 94

New York, Tuesday, October 23, 1928

FIVE CENTS

ART!

If there is no other art than the art of denial in the picture business, there is still enough art for all. At an Academy dinner in Los Angeles, D. W. Griffith, the grand old lion of production, was quoted as saying there was no art in the movies, that the movies were a business.

* * *

Yesterday Mr. Griffith caused to be wired East that he has made no such statement but that our medium, the screen, was perishable and that pictures were written in sand.

* * *

"What I did say," says D. W., "was that I personally preferred to have Motion Pictures called a business; I do not think the industry is yet deserving of being called an art, despite Mr. William deMille's kindly assertion, made in rebuttal, that pictures were deserving of being called an art and that I had made many that had helped to make it an art."

* * *

"I went on to say that when Motion Pictures had created something to compare with the plays of Euripides, that have lasted these two thousand years, or the works of Homer, or the plays of Shakespeare, or of Ibsen, or Keats' 'Ode to a Nightingale' or the music of Handel and Bach and Wagner, then let us call our new form of entertainment an art, but not before."

* * *

Mr. Griffith evidently believes that art to be art must have long life. If he will not grant that motion pictures have reached the altitude of the fine arts and fit to be associated with music, painting, sculpture and poetry we suggest he see "The Patriot" and then give us his views.

* * *

At least pictures can be reckoned between the industrial and the liberal arts, because they have in them superb mechanics and they provide an avenue of expression for history, science and philosophy.

* * *

We regard D. W. Griffith with a respect bordering on awe but we wish he would let Victor Shapiro make his speeches.

ARTHUR JAMES.

SONORA-ACOUSTICS IN DEAL WITH NEW BRISTOLPHONE CO.

"Wings" Record Run at Criterion Ends

"Interference" 100% All-Talkie Opens Friday

Having completed one of the finest long-run records of any picture in any theatre in the world at a $2.00 top, Paramount Famous-Lasky's remarkable production "Wings" will end its run of a year and three months at the Criterion this week.

The picture has not only made a record for time but for consecutive

(Continued on page 2)

British Phonofilm Features For U. S.

General Talking Pictures To Distribute

The General Talking Pictures Corporation, which controls the De Forest Phonofilm Patents in this country, has made arrangements to distribute talking pictures made with Phonofilm in England, for this country.

The first feature made by the British Sound Film Productions, which uses the Phonofilm method

(Continued on page 4)

Radio-Keith-Orpheum Formed By 3 Companies

"Mother of Mine" on Prima Vox System

The Zakoro Film Corp. will distribute their forthcoming picture, "Mother of Mine," in combination with a sound device known as the Prima Vox. The film was written, directed and produced by Jacques Feyder. It was adapted and edited by Walter Anthony, Edward Kahn and Maurice Pivar.

Howell Dead

J. T. Howell, exhibitor of the Washington Theatre, Washington, N. J., well known to the industry in the East, passed away last Saturday morning. The funeral will take place today.

BROADWAY RECEIPTS

Week Ending October 20

Warner—The Terror	$19,151
W. Garden—Singing Fool	43,714
Roxy—Air Circus	104,000
Paramount—Moran of Marines	72,500
Rialto—Battle of Sexes	25,100
Rivoli—Wedding March	33,300
Capitol—Dancing Daughters	91,536
Astor—White Shadows	15,438
Colony—Lonesome	12,136
Central—Lilac Time	13,531
Gaiety—Four Devils	15,236
Criterion—Wings	10,383
Cameo—3 Comrades	7,400

"Mammy" Selected As Jolson's Next

Al Jolson, Warner Bros. star, who returned yesterday on the Leviathan from London said that his next production for Warner Bros. would be called "Mammy." Meanwhile, his latest starring vehicle, "The Singing Fool" at the Winter Garden is standing them up on Broadway.

"Eyes of The World"

Paramount exploiters are sending a clever reminder of the Paramount News to exhibitors, in the form of huge spectacles duly inscribed.

Lesser and F. Warner To Distribute — Produce Bristol Disc Films

With the consummation of a deal between Sol Lesser, Franklyn Warner and W. H. Bristol, head of Bristolphone of the formation of the American Picturephone Corporation comes information that the Sonora Phonograph Company has together with General Acoustics, gone into a proposition with William H. Bristol and his Bristolphone, that will make of this organization one of the greatest in the talking picture field.

No one at Sonora will talk and in an effort to reach Mr. Bristol at Watertbury, Conn., information was received that he had gone for the day. But there is no question that the deal is set and if not actually closed will be within hours.

The Lesser Deal

The entry of Sol Lesser into the talking picture field with Picturphone is of great importance. Mr. Lesser has always been one of the truly great forces in the motion picture business and when he sold out his interests in

(Continued on page 2)

1st National Revises President Group List

Depivet Schedules Eight All-Dialogue Specials and Eighteen Features

Twenty-six dialogue pictures and eleven pictures with sound synchronization will be included in First National's 1928-29 President Group of productions, according to the revised schedule which has just been announced by General Sales Manager Ned E. Depinet.

Arrangements have been completed, according to this announcement, whereby First National will have at its disposal facilities recognized as the leading ones in the industry for the production and development of these talking and sound pictures.

Included in the program of all-dialogue pictures are eight specials and eighteen feature productions. The specials include three Colleen Moore pictures, including "Synthetic Sin," Corinne Griffith's "The Divine Lady," "The Barker," "Stranded in Paradise," "The Squall," and a Billie Dove special as yet untitled.

RCA-KAO and FBO Shareholders to Pool Resources

Sarnoff, Chairman

A committee composed of E. F. Albee, Walter P. Cooke, Maurice Goodman, Marcus Heiman, B. B. Kahane, Joseph P. Kennedy and J. J. Muddock yesterday announced to the common stockholders of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation that holders of 40% of outstanding K-A-O common stock, including the Chairman of the Board of Directors, the President and other executive officers and a majority

(Continued on page 2)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager. Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 5224. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $16; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Pictures Publishers, Inc.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York. — Max Alexander, Eastern representative of Stern Bros. is making what is probably the record trip from New York to Los Angeles and return, going out there with Abe Stern, staying one day and starting right back again. . . . Julius Singer has a new office up at Universal and has to have a guide to help him find it every time he goes out for a fresh slave or a new boutonniere. . . . Robert Ober and Delight Evans will be the attraction at the A. M. P. A. on Nov. 1, with Delight always attractive and Ober doing his best to be so with the handicap of Delight as the other guest of honor. . . . Lou Metzger was the recipient of a testimonial gathering at Universal's offices last Saturday, Carl Laemmle and others doing a lot of speechmaking and telling what a great fellow Metzger is and everybody who knows him will say the same. . . . George Harvey is back to his own A. M. P. A. on Thursday and has called a closed meeting for the purpose, some people guess, of giving the boys the real low down on just what happened and what it tasted like up at Toronto. . . . Ted Schlanger and Fred McConnell, who have been down in New Orleans for the past week, will arrive at the home port today. . . . Jack Cohn, who has been on the west coast for a long stay while his brother Harry was taking a little restful vacation, is due back in New York the latter part of next week, and Joe Brandt is already beginning to perk up. . . . Barney Rosenthal, big exchange man from St. Louis is here looking them over and hasn't yet been forced to adopt dinner glasses. . . . Alex Moss, just riding around town, noticed a number of one sheets announcing that Loew theatres were being wired for sound, and another one sheet alongside boosting "The Power of Silence." . . .

"What's Right With The Movies"

Second of a Series by Industry Leaders

By AL LICHTMAN

Vice President and General Manager of United Artists

What a refreshing question, "What's right with the movies?" after twenty years of hearing "What's wrong with the movies?"

Giving entertainment to countless millions is right. Bringing drama, music and beauty into the lives of those who live in small communities is right.

Theatre ownership and theatre management on a businesslike and efficient basis is right.

Pictures constantly improving is right. Producers with their eyes on production values and their minds on the box-office. Producers who make an exceptional picture can now profit for their resourcefulness, enterprise and ingenuity and that is right.

Stabilizing of all branches of the industry in keeping with the economic laws of big business is right. The favorable change of attitude of bankers and public. A closer understanding existing between film salesmen and showmen.

The sympathy that has grown up between each branch of the industry with the problems of the other is right. The lessening of conflict and the broadening of cooperation. The fundamental desire for a genuine understanding that is motivating the industry.

There is more honesty in the business. The value of frankness has been proved.

That's what's right with the movies. There's nothing left, is there?

Sonora-Acoustics In Bristolphone Deal

(Continued from page 1)

West Coast Theatres and discontinued his production activities, everyone that knew him figured it would not be long before he would return to active duty in this industry.

In association with Fraklyn Warner of Los Angeles, Mr. Lesser will immediately start construction of sound studios in New York City and Los Angeles.

The new company is privately owned and starts with a production budget of five million dollars. Its first talkie, an adaptation of the stage play, "The Great Power," is nearing completion in the studios of the W. H. Bristol Talking Pictures Corporation at Waterbury, Conn.

Two additional productions will be made at the Bristol plant in Waterbury, on the completion of which it is expected that the new sound studios of American Picturephone in New York and Los Angeles will be ready. The new studios will be available to producers who wish to make dialogue pictures by the Bristol process.

Thall Replaces Stuart As Division Manager

Seattle. — To replace Herschel Stuart, formerly Seattle Division Manager of West Coast Theatres, who has gone East to Manage the Fox Poli Circuit, Charles M. Thall has been appointed Stuart's successor. Thall has been with the Wesco for seven years.

O'Hay Will Toastmaster

Because William Collier is leaving for Hollywood, Captain Irving O'Hay, prominent friar, will act as Toastmaster in his stead at the testimonial dinner to be given Harry Cooper Sunday evening, Oct. 28 at the Hotel Commodore. Mayor Walker will speak on this occasion, as well as Eddie Cantor, George Jessel and Bugs Baer.

Title Changed

The title of the next sam. Goldwyn-Vilma Banky picture has been changed from "Childs Fifth Avenue" to "Next Thing to Heaven." Shooting will begin in New York about Oct. 26th, Al Santell directing.

"Wings" Record Run at Criterion Ends

(Continued from page 1)

sustained box-office pulling power, not only in New York but in other domestic and foreign first-run playhouses.

"Wings" will be followed by Paramount's first all-dialogue picture "Interference" taken from a Broadway stage success. This will open at the Criterion Friday night.

The picture had two directors—Lothar Mendes who made a silent version and Roy Pomeroy, the sound synchronized version, and the cast features Evelyn Brent, Clive Brook, Doris Kenyon and William Powell.

Unwelcome Hoosegow

To publicize the picture special, "Unwelcome Children," a young woman staged—under tutelage—an abandoned wife, out in Camden, New Jersey, but when arrested, after a supposed attempt at suicide, by jumping into the Delaware River from the Camden-Philadelphia bridge she told a sobbing story of her search for her runaway husband and her expectancy of the stork. When she told the Judge two stories he gave her three months for perjury and then gave three months to the fixer who rushed in to play the role of the husband. She called herself Mrs. Barbara Elliott and bozo was called Charles.

Oh! these amateurs!

Ampa Sets Nov. 20 as Date of Anglo-American Dinner

The Sam Harris Trophy Committee of the Associated Motion Picture Advertisers announces that the Anglo-American Dinner at which the Trophy will be awarded, will be given at the Biltmore Hotel in New York on November 20, at 7:30 P.M. "The dinner will be the first step in the campaign of the A.M.P.A. to foster Anglo-American friendship and to further international peace.

The A.M.P.A. already has received assurance of the presence at the dinner of a number of government officials, and many men prominent in the film industry. Mr. Harris will come from England for the specific purpose of making the presentation.

Radio Deal Set For Keith-Orpheum-FBO

(Continued from page 1)

of the Directors, have entered into an agreement for the organization of a New Company to be known as Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation, which will issue shares of its Class A stock, share for share, for Common Stock of K-A-O Corp., and will also issue 500,000 shares of Class B Stock in consideration of certain contracts to be made with the New Company by RCA; RCA Photophone, Inc., and National Broadcasting Company.

David Sarnoff, V.P. and General Manager of Radio Corporation of America has accepted the office of Chairman of the Board of Directors of the New Company and RCA will have substantial representation upon the Board.

The plan as formulated, includes the issuance of Class A stock of the New Company, for an exchange share for share of the Capital Stock of FBO productions, Inc.

The group of K-A-O stockholders who have entered into the agreement, believe that the association of RCA and RCA Photophone and the Nat. Broadcasting Co. through the new organization will create a combination of vaudeville, talking moving pictures and radio, with vast possibilities of expansion. The inclusion of FBO will add to the business an established unit for the production and distribution of pictures.

In order for the plan to become really operative, the consent of 51% of the common stock of K-A-O Corporation is necessary, 40% having already consented. Stock exchange will have to be completed before November 15th. If all the holders of outstanding stock in both K-A-O and FBO take advantage of the swap, the new company will issue approximately 1,320,000 shares of Class A stock and when additional Class B stock is issued, a total of 2,000,000 shares of Class A will be outstanding.

British Phonofilm Features for U.S.

(Continued from page 1)

exclusively, is titled "Sinews of War" by Arnold Bennett and Eden Phillpotts and it will be completed within six weeks and shipped to America immediately.

To the Common Stockholders of Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation

Holders of over 40% of the outstanding Common Stock of Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation have entered into an agreement for the organization of a New Company to be known as Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation, which will issue shares of its Class A Stock, share for share, for Common Stock of Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation tendered for exchange, and which will also issue 500,000 shares of Class B Stock in consideration of certain contracts to be made with the New Company by Radio Corporation of America, R.C.A. Photophone, Inc., and National Broadcasting Company.

Mr. David Sarnoff, Vice-President and General Manager of Radio Corporation of America, has accepted the office of Chairman of the Board of Directors of the New Company, and Radio Corporation of America will have substantial representation upon the Board.

It is contemplated that shares of Class A Stock of the New Company will also be issued, share for share, for capital stock of F.B.O. Productions, Inc. a corporation engaged in the production and distribution of motion pictures, and additional shares of Class A Stock may be issued for the purposes set forth in the Plan.

Copies of the Plan containing further details and of the Deposit Agreement, may be obtained from Empire Trust Company, Depositary, 120 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

Holders of Common Stock of Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation desiring to deposit their stock for exchange under the Plan, should immediately deliver or forward by registered mail insured their stock certificates to the Depositary. Stock certificates should be endorsed in blank for transfer and the endorsement witnessed and guaranteed by a bank. The Depositary will issue transferable Certificates of Deposit. All transfer tax stamps required will be affixed by the Committee.

The group of Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation stockholders who have entered into the agreement believe that the association of Radio Corporation of America, and its subsidiary, R.C.A. Photophone, Inc. (controlling the Photophone devices for the synchronization of sound and motion pictures), and its affiliated company, National Broadcasting Company, with your Company through the organization of the New Company will create a combination of vaudeville, talking moving pictures and radio with vast possibilities of expansion in the entertainment field. The inclusion of F.B.O. Productions, Inc. will add to the business an established unit for the production and distribution of moving pictures. The undersigned deem the carrying out of the Plan exceedingly desirable and beneficial from the standpoint of your Company and invite and advise all holders of the Common Stock of Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation to join in exchanging their stock for stock of the New Company.

Lehman Brothers and Blair & Co., Inc., who are holders of substantial amounts of common stock of Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation and have taken an active part in the negotiations for the organization of the New Company, have approved and agreed to the Plan.

Attention is called to the fact that in order to declare the Plan operative, the consent of only 51% of the Common Stock of Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation is necessary and that over 40% of such Stock outstanding has already consented. In order to insure participation in the Plan and the full benefits thereof, Stock should be deposited on or before November 15, 1928.

E. F. ALBEE,
 WALTER P. COOKE,
 MAURICE GOODMAN,
 MARCUS HEIMAN,
 B. B. KAHANE,
 JOSEPH P. KENNEDY,
 J. J. MURDOCK,
 Committee.

October 22, 1928.

Einfeld Proud Daddy

S. Charles Einfeld, assistant advertising manager for First National Pictures, is the father of an eight-pound son, Richard, born Sunday morning, October 21st. Mother and child are reported doing well.

Incorporation

Rochester.—The Supreme Film Exchange of Rochester has been organized with a $20,000 capital, to deal in motion picture equipment.

Seider in Paris

Joe Seider, president of the New Jersey M.P.T.O. now on a European jaunt with Mrs. Sieder, postcards in from Paris about the lovely time he is having. He won't be the same man he was, when he returns. X marks the spot—where Joe had his foot on the rail.

Kipprius Books Pathe

The Kipprius Circuit in the San Francisco territory has signed up for the season's Pathe product.

Cooper Dinner

Owing to the fact that William Collier is leaving for Hollywood, Captain Irving O'Hay, prominent Friar, will act as Toastmaster instead of Mr. Collier as previously announced at the testimonial dinner to be given Harry Cooper on Sunday evening, October 28th, at the Hotel Commodore. Mayor Walker will be a prominent speaker on this occasion, as well as Eddie Cantor, George Jessel and Bugs Baer.

Doug-Mary to Attend Tax Appeal Hearing

Hollywood.—The Board of Tax Appeals will hear arguments on October 25th, on the allegation by the Government that Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford owe approximately $1,000,000 in back taxes.

The United Artists stars are expected to attend the hearing in Washington, D. C. with their attorneys. The results of the conference are expected to obviate the necessity for actual legal action.

Universal Signs Whiteman For Orchestral Sound Picture

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

"SOL'S" BACK

A lot of the boys will be saying "I told you so." This, in reference to Sol Lessor's re-entry into the picture business. We were not so sure he had left. For after he sold out his theatre interests in West Coast and returned from his trip to Europe, he was in with Col. Fred Levy and others in a big chain of small town theatres. A sort of Woolworth idea. But it was no surprise to anyone to hear that Sol was back in production and distribution, and how. The hook-up with Franklyn Warner on the distribution of Bristolphone equipment and the making of a lot of talkies, long and short using the Bristolphone method, seems to be a great spot for Sol. We hear that they are to start the construction of a New York and Hollywood studio at once, and of great interest is the fact that they will rent space to other independent producers for the making of talking pictures with the Bristol method.

PICTUREPHONE

We had a high regard for Bristolphone and this feeling has been greatly increased with Sol Lessor in the picture. His company, Picturephone, will produce and distribute talking pictures aside from equipping theatres all over the country with Bristolphone under the new brand name of Picturephone.

INSIDE STORY

Lessor came to New York a short while ago, ready to sign up for another talking process. He was about ready to close when he heard of William Bristol and his patent. It is said that ten minutes after hearing this one, he forgot all about the other one.

Jazz King and Band to Make Film Story of Leader's Life

By W. R. W.

A new personality for the movies, a new record in moving picture compensation, and a totally new form of moving picture entertainment were signallized yesterday when a contract was signed between Paul Whiteman, jazz king, and Carl Laemmle, president of Universal Pictures Corporation.

Weeks of negotiation followed the original broaching of the subject to Paul Whiteman, but Universal's proposition was so tempting that a contract was the result. By virtue of this contract, Whiteman and his jazz orchestra will interrupt their tour of the country on the first of February for eight weeks to make a production at Universal City which will embody a great many of the tremendously interesting and dramatic incidents in the life of Paul Whiteman.

In the meantime, a screen writer will be assigned to accompany Whiteman on his present tour of the United States. During this tour he will write the screen story, working in the elements which have made Whiteman great and which would adapt themselves to the new form of screen entertainment. The final story will be accompanied by many of the musical compositions which Whiteman has made famous and his entire organization of thirty individual musicians will be used in the portrayal of these compositions. Mr. Laemmle has a series of options for following pictures, which will bring the total compensation to Paul Whiteman well above the million dollar mark.

Porto Rico Slowly Recovering Only 50 Theatres In Operation

Cuba Also Suffering from Depression—New Sugar Crop Awaited

Film conditions in Porto Rico are in bad shape as the result of the recent cyclone and about 50 theatres are all that are operating at the present time.

F. H. Knocke, President of the Medal Film Co., Inc., who is Pathe distributor for Cuba, Porto Rico, the Dominican Republic and the Virgin Islands, stated before sailing for Central America, Saturday, that it will take about six months before the motion picture business in Porto Rico will be near normal once again.

Knocke also stated that Cuba has been suffering for some time from a severe general business depression which has greatly affected the film business, but he thinks that within a couple of months when the new sugar campaign starts, there will be noticeable improvement.

The Medal Film Co. has signed a new contract for the entire Pathe line-up of 1928-29, the deal being consummated by Arthur Rousseau, V. P. and Carlos Jimenez, Latin American representative of Pathe International Corp.

Regarding the hurricane and Cuban conditions, information gleaned from the foreign departments of other American film companies discloses that the recovery from the

"Desert Song" on New Vitaphone Stage

The tremendous new Vitaphone stage recently completed at the Warner Studio is being used in its entirety for the first time for the filming of "The Desert Song" now in production with Roy Del Ruth directing. The stage is a complete Vitaphone unit in itself and incorporates all the latest features perfected through Warner Bros. two years' experiences in making Vitaphone pictures.

Dix in Town

Richard Dix, Paramount star, has just arrived in New York from Hollywood. Mr. Dix recently completed "Red Skin."

Curtiz-Costello Again

Michael Curtiz has been assigned to direct Dolores Costello once again. The new picture has been titled, "Alimony Annie." Mr. Curtiz has already handled the megaphone on three of Miss Costello's pictures, the last of which was the special, "Noah's Ark," not yet released.

storm damage is quicker than was anticipated and that the Cuban condition is a normal one for this time of the year and is no worse off now than in previous years, conditions generally picking up satisfactorily around the first of the year when the new crops are gathered and money is put into circulation.

Studio Gossip

David Lee, child actor, who plays Jolson's son in "The Singing Fool," has been given a long term contract by Warners.

* * *

Despite the fact that Betty Bronson is on her vacation, Warner's are wiring her plenty to accept the lead in "She Knew Men," the comedy-drama of Leon Zuaroo.

* * *

Paramount's next "talkie" will be "The Dummy," from the play by Harvey J. O'Higgins and Harriet Ford. This is a comedy and marks Paramount's first effort in that direction so far as "talkies" are concerned.

* * *

Winfield Sheehan has brought Margaret Churchill, who made a big hit in the Broadway success, "Night Hostess," out to the coast for a series of screen tests. It is thought she will be given the lead in "Big Time" an "original" about the stage which Howard Hawks will direct.

Alan Crossland is to direct "Say It With Music," Harry Richman's "single" by Irving Berlin.

* * *

Gladys McConnell is being considered for the feminine lead in the "Fire Detective," by George Arthur Gray.

* * *

Adelaide Heilbron has been signed by First National to prepare the adaptation and continuity for "Hot Stuff," Alice White's next. Mervyn LeRoy will direct.

* * *

Nora Lane has been signed as leading lady for Ken Maynard in "The Lawless Legion."

* * *

August Tollaie, character actor, has been signed to support Milton Sills and Dorothy Mackaill in "Stranded in Paradise."

* * *

Ralph Emerson has been signed to act in the dialogue sequences of "Hard-boiled Rose," in which Warner Brothers are featuring Myrna Loy and Gladys Brockwell.

YOUR reproduction is vital for your production.

Newspapers WELCOME clean, well-defined illustration and resent the bad product.

Blue Rock Mats are best because they are made expertly and solely for newspaper reproduction.

Tell your purchasing agent to write now to the

Burton Syndicate
28 West 44th Street

for prices and service particulars.

BURTON SYNDICATE • Exclusive rights • BLUE ROCK MATS

In This Issue James R. Grainger Tells "What's Right With The Movies"

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 96

New York, Thursday, October 25, 1928

FIVE CENTS

The Low Down

Well, here's how it stands with F. B. O. and K. A. O. under the new ownership. Joseph P. Kennedy and J. J. Murdock are out of the picture completely. E. A. Albee's contract which has more than a year to run will be carried out and nobody's going to use any baseball bats on his revered and respected head.

* * *

The personnel of both subsidiaries of the holding corporation have been officially advised that everybody who is on the job and doing his work satisfactorily has nothing to worry about. Nobody who knows his business in F. B. O. or Keith-Albee-Orpheum is to be fired to make room for somebody from the outside.

* * *

The man power now present will be utilized as far as is possible. There is a definite atmosphere of upbuilding rather than cuts and slashes for on-paper economies.

* * *

It's constructive policy and David Sarnoff, according to well informed report, is personally at the helm of the entire activity. The policies will be his policies and their carrying out will be by men of experience in the motion picture business.

* * *

Warner Brothers' new talkie "The Home Towners" electrified the audiences at its premiere at the Warner Theatre because of the perfection which the dialogue reproduction has reached. This is without question the finest talking picture that has yet come to public attention and is in fact so smooth and clear as to make an audience forget that it is looking at a picture but feeling rather that it is observing and enjoying a play. This picture demonstrates beyond question that the talkie is now a fact of the present and not a figment of the future.

Warner Brothers are receiving further congratulations for this new and splendid achievement.

ARTHUR JAMES.

K. A. O. HOUSES NOW FREE TO USE ANY OR ALL DEVICES

Film Distribution In England At Standstill Thru Quota Act

LESSER IN—RADIO OUT OF NEW CO.

The entry of Sol Lesser into the International Bristolphone Company and the Belltone Company, may mark the exit of Matty Radin, former vice president and general manager of these companies. It is said Radin is suing.

The combined companies are now to be known as the American Picturetone Company, with Lesser and Franklyn Warner at the head.

CENSOR MENACE IN MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis.—The City Council and Mayor have clashed over an attempt to enforce a Censor ordinance. The row started over an attempt to revoke the license of a burlesque house for alleged objectionable performances.

Following the action started by the Women's Cooperative Alliance, under the guise of protection of the morals of the youth of the city, censorship for all theatres was ordered by the City Council last week.

George E. Leach, Mayor of Minneapolis, refused to take a hand in the censorship row in the City Council and stated he was opposed to censorship, as he believed it un-American and

(Continued on page 3)

TIFFANY-STAHL TO BOOK K-A-O HOUSES

Officials of the Tiffany-Stahl organization, although already well set financially, feel that the purchase of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum Circuit by RCA, now materially strengthens the T-S position among independent companies.

This comes about the RCA Photophone license which Tiffany-Stahl holds and which system is now being used to synchronize the company's product. It is expected that since all the K-A-O houses will have Photophone apparatus, the T-S product will be exactly suited for the big circuit.

London.—A report published in the Daily Express points out that on account of the "Quota Act," which commenced on October 1st, and which stipulates that because of the large amount of the films already booked there shall be an interval of nine months between the trade-showing of a film and its actual exhibition, the entire distributing industry and many film producers are voluntarily closing down until the beginning of next year.

Film-releasing arrangements will continue as usual, and there will be a certain amount of new film production, but to avoid sinking additional

(Continued to page 2)

BANK FOR EXHIBITORS

Berlin.—A bank has just been established in Berlin, with the special object of financing the exhibiting end of the motion picture business. The new organization is to be backed by unlimited financial resources of the Michael Concern, one of the strongest financial groups in Germany. Production financing may occur later on.

Pathe News In Sound Available Armistice Day

Pathe News, founder of the institution of newsreels and news-on-the-screen, inaugurates its sound edition on its eighteenth anniversary, the week of November 11.

The release of the first issue, to be followed by releases each fortnight, has been officially announced by Colvin Brown, executive vice president of Pathe, for the News' Anniversary week.

Pathe Sound News, beginning with the first issue, will be a full and complete reel, containing as wide a diversity of subject matter in news and news features as the standard silent reels of the day.

One innovation is a form of screen interview which tends to combine the salient elements of newspaper repor-

R. C. A. Gives Own Theatres Right To Rival Sound Equipment

The Western Electric Company's Electrical Research statement on interchangeability seems to thicken the fog in the sound field rather than to clear it—at least that was the opinion of the trade yesterday. The direct question of interchangeability is still hedged about by ifs, ands and buts, with an apparent tendency toward a refusal to permit the use of Western Electric devices for any except Western Electric Company licensees.

R.C.A.'s position as to interchangeability was made evident by the fact that the Keith-Albee-Orpheum houses now controlled by R.C.A. through the newly formed holding company, are given the right to contract for and utilize any sound device in the market, at present or in the future.

Men of vision in the sound situation all recognize that the present sound devices are at present temporary. New inventions will within a year or two undoubtedly revolutionize the sound recording and reproduction systems. All the companies engaged in sound activities will be adjusting themselves to new conditions and will be meeting the new demands.

No matter what the present situation may be in the way of any restraint on interchangeability, it is certain that torial practice and screen reporting. The new method promises the possibility of a better utilization of the box office values of important public personalities in relation to the activities and responsibilities which put them in the public eye—and ear.

(Continued on page 4)

Pathe Sound News is recorded by the Radio Corporation of America. Photophone system, evolved by the General Electric Company and Westinghouse. This system claims special merits in the use of a sound recorder separate from the camera, rendering the camera more mobile than in combined units.

Various laboratory advantages are claimed for R.C.A. capacity methods which permits the film printer to time

(Continued on page 3)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTIUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 5224-1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Pictures Publishers, Inc.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will lobby by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York:—Bill Goldman, of Indianapolis, challenged Phil Reisman to a bicycle race yesterday at the Motion Picture Club, and after a spirited contest the race was called a tie . . . Harvey Day leaves today all dolled up in war paint for Pittsburgh where he goes to battle with the Greeks, and place your bets where you want to . . . Charles Cassanave, Chicago theater owner, arrived in New York yesterday for a stay of a couple of weeks during which he will spend a lot of time getting the low down on sound pictures and all the trimmings. . . . Adolphe Osso and Henri Klarsfeld, Paramount representatives in Paris, arrived in New York yesterday for conferences with E. E. Shauer and to look into the company's production. . . . Herbert Ebenstein appeared at the Motion Picture Club yesterday with a handsome black derby and nothing untoward happened. . . . Phil Goldstone is directing Tonefilm pictures over at the old Peerless studio in Fort Lee, which has recently been bought by Alfred Weiss for making sound pictures. . . . Ray Hall is celebrating the eighteenth birthday of Pathe on Armistice Day by getting out his newsreel in sound made with the R.C.A. equipment. . . . Mike Rosenberg joined Sol Lesser in New York yesterday and both trekked immediately to Waterbury to look over what they have out there for making sound pictures with the Bristolphone system. . . . Morton Van Praag, sales manager of Universal, returned yesterday from Chicago, having made a rush trip to preside over a sales meeting. . . . Abe Waxman has tied up with the Columbia broadcasting chain for the longest stretch ever used by one company, Warner Brothers being on the air on election night from 8 p.m. until 2 a.m. . . . W. S. Butterfield, Michigan theater chain owner, and his general manager Ed. Beatty arrived in New York yesterday and will spend a week looking into this and that.

"What's Right With The Movies"

Fourth of a Series by Industry's Leaders

BY JAMES R. GRAINGER

General Sales Manager Fox Film Corporation

One of the things right with the movies is the advantage conferred on this industry by talking pictures in the creation of new business by the attracting to theatres people who usually do not go to the movies. The results are already striking.

This is due in many instances to the novel of entertainment now possible and to the interesting personalities which can be attracted to the screen. A number of recent talking shorts have overshadowed features.

George Bernard Shaw's appearance (yes, its our picture but I leave it to you) in a Movietone film was a sensation after two decades of peevish refusal to permit the filming of his plays. Critics and public alike greeted it enthusiastically. It drew more space in newspapers and magazines than any film in years—and it drew patrons, too. The short talk by King Alfonso XIII of Spain, (yes, ours too, but its fair to talk about what you know about) the first reigning monarch ever to speak from the screen will prove itself. People of America will soon be familiar with many world celebrities who cannot come to the United States and that's right progress for the movies.

The best entertainers of the stage—vaudeville players, famous actors, singers, specialists of every kind, are already available and are demonstrating their popularity. More are coming from the best sources. Production of these numbers is being carried on both coasts by the big companies. Hollywood's roster of new names is startling. Out of this activity will come new ideas, new methods, new magnets for new patrons and that's a right thing with the movies.

What sound reproduction for news reels will do as a box-office attraction has already been demonstrated from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It is a feature attraction wherever shown. There is no possibility of the novelty wearing off, because the new subjects are endless. As for ourselves, the Fox organization is rapidly passing out of the pioneering stage in this field and is covering the principal centers in this country and Europe.

The release of the acceptance speeches of Herbert Hoover and Governor Smith, the latter simultaneously with its delivery, was the biggest advance in the field of news reporting in fifty years. The public appreciated it as much. Some of the football pictures have brought people to their feet cheering.

Sound pictures of every kind are only on the threshold of their development. A new element of incalculable value has come into the picture business and the movies are getting righter every day.

Distribution In England At Standstill Thru Quota

(Continued from page 1)

capital into production which will be held up for practically a year, activities are ceasing and staffs are being reduced with a promise of re-engagement later on.

The loss of business involved in this arbitrary operation of the Quota is estimated to be enormous. The ostensible object of the regulation is the eventual abolition of block and forward booking, but a view strongly held among distributors is that the Quota Act has made an entire industry dishonest.

Quota Details

The quota proportion for the first year is 5%. The quota of British pictures can be shown at any time during the year that exhibitors desire. They can if they wish, show 100% foreign films for the first 9 or 10 months and then crowd all their British quota into the last 2 or 3 months. They must complete their quota for the first year before the end of September 29th.

While 5% of all pictures shown must be British, that 5% may be run as consecutive bookings of one single picture, or may actually be composed of different features, up to the 5% in amount.

Exhibitors may book as few or as many as they like, provided the total number is 5%. The actual proportion of Quota film is reckoned in feet. For example, one British film of 10,000 feet long, shown ten times would serve for 5% quota against 76 foreign films, each of 5,000 feet, and shown five times.

British short product will not be allowed to rank as quota against foreign features as the Act requires that feature foreign films must be offset with feature length British pictures.

Exhibitors must keep a record book showing which films they have shown, which will be inspected from time to time. Newsreels, scenics, industrial or educational films, etc., are not subject to the Quota.

Cline With Universal

Eddie Cline, maker of fine comedies, has transferred his megaphone to the Universal lot. He will make "Lucky in Love," Reginald Denny's next picture.

Denis King Signed

Denis King, stage star of "The Three Musketeers," has been signed by Universal to make a sound picture. He will not start, however, until "The Three Musketeers" closes—whenever that may be.

We wish to Announce the Appointment of

Mr. HERMAN F. JANS

as

State Rights Sales Manager

AFFILIATED
European Producers

INC.

729 Seventh Avenue

New York City

INT'L PROJECTOR NEW DISTRIBUTOR

Int'l Projector's New India Distributors

The International Projector Corporation announces that G. F. Madan & Company, Managing Agents, Madan Theatres, Ltd., 5 Dhurumfela Street, Calcutta, India, have been appointed exclusive distributors for Power's and Simplex Projectors throughout the territory of India, Burma and Ceylon. Mr. B. J. Madan, representing G. F. Madan & Company, who has been in this country for some time making arrangements with many of the largest firms in the motion picture industry, sailed for home yesterday.

CENSOR MENANCE IN MINNEAPOLIS

(Continued from page 1)

that the law could take care of offenders.

Theodore Hays, contact man for Finkelstein & Ruben, interceded for the theatre interests and succeeded in securing a delay. Action comes up again today, when it is proposed to appoint a censor and revoke the licenses of the theatre which gave offense.

Olive Borden East

Olive Borden has left Hollywood for New York. The trip will be business and pleasure.

Pathe News In Sound Available Armistice Day

(Continued from page 1)

for the pictorial image. In addition to the Photophone equipment, which is standard for Pathe Sound News, Pathe has available and in service for supplementary use some specially constructed recording units using the variable densities method making a product identical in physical character with movietone.

Among the cameramen thus far detailed to sound by Pathe are Harry Smith, Tommy Hogan, Robert Donahue and Alfred Gandolfi.

Marvin H. McIntyre, editorial representative at Washington in contact with the White House, the Army and the Navy, has been given responsibilities to the sound news.

All Pathe Sound News prints are being made in Pathe's own laboratories in New York, Jersey City, and Bound Brook, all of which have been specially equipped for this work. Pathe's sound printing machines are the special design of Louis Gaston Chanier, general superintendent of Pathe laboratories. Pathe's high speed developing machines were found readily convertible to the production of sound film with slight mechanical additions which in nowise have affected their primary efficiency.

No changes in the chemical baths and processes, which give Pathe prints their distinctive quality, have been found necessary. All Pathe sound records are made on Dupont positive stock, which is being widely adopted subsequent to Pathe's tests for grain texture. The grain quality of film is

NATHANSON BOOKS "LILAC TIME" RUN

N. L. Nathanson was in New York yesterday arranging with A. W. Smith, Jr., for an extended run of Colleen Moore's special "Lilac Time," with sound at his Palace Theatre in Montreal, starting Thanksgiving week.

Contracts have also been closed for an extended run of "Lilac Time" with Sound at the Tivoli Theatre in Toronto, and for "The Whip" with sound at the Capitol Theatre, Montreal.

Henley In Town

Hobart Henley, M.G.M. director is in New York looking over the current stage plays.

found to be an all important factor in sound recording since the structure of the gelatine and silver molecules is itself productive of what the technicians call "ground noise" as the film glides past the photo-electric cell of the reproducing unit in the theatre projector.

Pathe Sound News prints will be routed from the Jersey City plant under the charge of Robert Richards, superintendent of the general news laboratory. The development of sound negatives and the making of first prints will be done along with Pathe silent news pictures in the high-speed news laboratory under James Pozzi in the home office building at 35 West 45th Street.

"WHITE SHADOWS" HEADS RELEASES

"White Shadows in the South Seas," the story of tropical adventure that is now in its fourth capacity month at the Astor Theatre, New York, will be released in November to exhibitors simultaneously with its featured presentation on Broadway and in other first-run houses.

Also for release from this company during the coming month are John Gilbert's new starring vehicle, "The Masks of the Devil," Lon Chaney's new film, "West of Zanzibar," Tim McCoy's "The Bushranger," and "The Baby Cyclone," with Lew Cody and Ailcen Pringle.

Modern Advertising

Al Selig, in charge of publicity and advertising at Tiffany-Stahl, pulled a "nifty" on his double page spread in this publication the other day. It has all the town talking. Al bear the field to the modernistic advertising layout and lettering.

Hackett For Dugan

Raymond Hackett, who has been playing the part of Jimmie Dugan in that long-run stage hit, "The Trial of Mary Dugan" left last week for the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio, where he will have the same role in the forthcoming all-talking production of Bayard Veiller's melodramatic success.

☞ Tuesday, January 1, 1929 is the date for the Annual Number of Exhibitors Daily Review. It will without question be the finest number ever presented to the trade by this publication.

☞ It will contain data of essential value to everybody in the motion picture industry and everybody of importance in the business will be represented. It will mark the midwinter sales acceleration and will include expressions on the new conditions by the important leadership of the trade.

☞ Pictorially it will be pleasant and in some respects festive. In addition to holiday greetings and the expressions of friendship, there will be an industry interchange that will make it a Good Will number of value to all concerned with motion pictures.

☞ Put down the date. It's TUESDAY, JANUARY 1, 1929.

ROACH SIGNS HARRY LANGDON

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

"THE HOME TOWNERS"

Early in our career as publisher (?) of The Daily Review we tried to kid this talking craze. We joshed it a bit for the reason that other than short reel subjects, news weeklies and features synchronized with sound and music, we could find no good reason for all the wild enthusiasm on the part of our better producers. But after seeing the Jolson "Singing Fool" and being moved, as we had never been moved before on viewing a picture, we began to waiver. Added to this, the enthusiasm of producers generally, heightened with the dawn of every day. The stand made by us began to weaken. But after seeing "The Home Towners" last night at the Warner Theatre, we have a little more courage this morning.

EXCELLENT TALKIE

This production is an excellent talkie in every direction save a few flaws in photography and a rather weak and confused ending. We don't think Warner Brothers or anyone else would ever be able to assemble a better cast of players nor could any other cast do any better with their parts than was the case with Richard Bennett, Robert McWade, Gladys Brockwell, Robert Edeson, Doris Kenyon, Stanley Taylor and John Miljain. The story taken from the George Cohan play, seemed perfectly adapted for talkies. The recording via Vitaphone was the best we have ever heard, the synchronization perfect. But — with it all, we could not help thinking how much better a silent version of this story would have been. This, considering the treatment it would have received by a silent script writer and the ground that would have been covered as a result of this adaptation.

SEEMED LONG

We are now convinced that an entirely new art, different in every respect to our old fashioned movies, will have to be created, if the feature length talking picture is to ever succeed. Of course we mean the "all-talkie." This latest Warner production seemed to have everything that a successful talking picture should have, but it seemed terribly long, but analyzed as a motion picture, it was short. In other words the continual talk of the players, with no let up at any time, seemed to require too much footage for so little story. Had this picture been made as a silent picture, it would have been impossible to release it in more than two reels for the reason that the action would not require any greater footage. But with all the action converted into dialogue, a length far greater, was required. And it is for this reason we feel, if the feature all-talkie is to succeed some other mode of production will have to be resorted to. It seems impossible to apply the formula, or anything approaching it, that has been in use for the making of pictures of the silent variety.

To Make Full-Length Talking Comedies For Roach M-G-M 2 YEAR CONTRACT

Harry Langdon has signed a contract to make full-length talking pictures for Hal Roach, who has hitherto been identified only with the production of one and two reel comedies. Under the terms of this new affiliation, which runs for three years, the coast producer and cinema comedian will become pioneers in the field of the feature-length talking comedy.

No announcement has been made yet by the producer, or by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, through whom his comedies are released, as to the number of films Langdon will make during the coming season, but it is expected that at least two will be made.

At present Langdon is making a series of personal appearances in theatres throughout the country. In about two months he will be free to begin the first of his talking comedies for Roach. The comedian is an alumnus of the vaudeville and legitimate stage, and voice tests are said to have demonstrated exceptional ability for sound film work.

Picks "Waterfront"

"Waterfront," First National's sound picture, co-starring Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall at the Strand Theatre this week has been selected by James R. Quirk of Photoplay Magazine as one of the six best pictures of the month.

"Red Mark" At Hipp

"The Red Mark," James Cruze's personally directed Pathe drama adapted from John Russell's novel of adventure laid on a penal island, plays the New York Hippodrome the week of October 28th. Gaston Glass, Nena Quartaro and Gustav Von Seyffertitz head the cast.

KEITH MEMORIAL DEDICATION MONDAY

On next Monday, Oct. 29, the B. F. Keith Memorial Theatre in Boston will be formally dedicated. This date will by a coincidence become an epochal date in the vaudeville and picture industry, coming as it does at this time, when vaudeville becomes allied with radio, motion pictures in action and sound, and television, in a circuit and organization which is world-wide, the newly created Radio-Keith-Orpheum Company.

"Radio-Keith-Orpheum," the new giant of the amusement industry, marks the debut of the Radio Corporation of America into the theatrical branch of Amusement. Through R.C.A. Photophone and the National Broadcasting Company, two of its subsidiaries, the technical and financial resources of R.C.A., which is a close ally of the General Electric Company and the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, are joined with the vast resources of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation and the F.B.O. Productions, Inc., producers of deluxe photoplays and superfeatures.

Studio Gossip

Norman Trevor has recovered from his recent illness and will resume his screen career in Columbia's "The College Coquette." This will be his first appearance in many months.

* * *

Vilma Banky will speak in her next picture. This was definitely decided after a long distance telephone conversation between Sam. Goldwyn in Hollywood and Arthur Hornblow, supervisor, and director Alfred Santell, in New York.

* * *

Mr. Hornblow, Director Santell, Casting Director Robert McIntyre, Cameraman George Barnes and Mr. Goldwyn's entire technical staff are now in New York making arrangements for the shooting of the picture, to begin when Miss Banky arrives in about two weeks. The talking sequences are also to be made in New York, with Arthur Richman writing the dialogue.

* * *

Nicholas Soussanin, has just been given a featured role in "Tong War" by Paramount. Soussanin replaces William Powell who was switched to "Four Feathers" because of the death of Arnold Kent.

* * *

Charles ("Buddy") Rogers has just signed a brand new contract with Paramount.

* * *

Universal has bought Charles Kenyon's well-known play, "The Play Goes On," and Edward Sloman has been assigned to direct it.

* * *

Harry D'Arrast is receiving congratulations on having made another good one. This time it's "Dry Martini."

* * *

With the building of foreign locales for William Boyd's next starring vehicles, "The Leatherneck," "Forty Acres," the tremendous space devoted to outdoor sets for Pathe productions at Culver City, resembles a veritable relief map. Among the "foreign" locations are a French prison camp immediately following the armistice, a French cafe, the heart of Vladivostok, somewhere in China and other odd spots in various corners of the globe where Yankee marines have been stationed during the last decade.

* * *

Nils Asther will play a Japanese prince in Garbo's next M-G-M vehicle. Lewis Stone, who also plays in support of Miss Garbo in "A Woman of Affairs," in which she is co-starred with John Gilbert, has the other male lead in the new film.

* * *

Glenn Tryon has definitely been given the part of the boy in the Universal production of "Broadway." It is thought that the feminine lead will be handed over to Barbara Kent, although nothing has been decided upon in that direction.

* * *

Kenneth Thompson, who proved himself an actor with a voice in "The Bellamy Trial," has been assigned to an important part in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer talkie, "Broadway Melody."

M-G-M CALLS OFF "NIZE BABY" PROD.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer have decided to shelve "Nize Baby," the Milt Gross story, after spending over $50,000 on the production. Shooting had already started in the M-G-M studio's in Hollywood under the direction of Hobart Henley, together with quite a bit of atmospheric shots being made around New York.

The Daily Review reported a few days ago that Sam Woods was the director at the time shooting was discontinued. This was not the case. Mr. Woods was in the hospital at the time this production was started. Returning to the studio, executives were considering the writing of a new version with Woods slated to direct. This was over-ruled.

It is thought that this company will have the whole story revamped, recast and redirected and shooting to start again sometime after the first of the year.

K. A. O. Houses Free To Use Any Devices

(Continued from page 1)

in the not far distant future it will be possible to use any device to reproduce any sound production without hindrance. It is, of course, understood that all of these business privileges will be paid for and that both the manufacturers of apparatus and the manufacturers of sound pictures will be permitted to make profits.

Restraint of free interchangeability is held by the forward looking group to be a temporary hardship that is not broad business operation.

In the words of a big executive yesterday: "There is money enough and glory enough for everybody in this situation and the competition has got to be on excellence of product and entertainment value as far as the pictures are concerned and the highest possible type of sound reproduction as far as the apparatus is concerned."

WAFILMS, Inc.
Walter A. Futter, Pres.
for Library Stock Scenes
130 W. 46th St. New York
Bryant 8181

The Comfortable Great Northern Hotel CHICAGO

Former Guests Represent 90 Per Cent of the Daily Arrivals

TRAVELERS select the Great Northern for its wonderful location in Chicago's "Loop". They return because the large comfortable rooms, homelike environment, attentive service, excellent food and moderate charges make it an ideal hotel.

400 Newly Furnished Rooms, $2.50 a day and up. Sample Rooms $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00.
Walter Craighead, Manager
DEARBORN STREET FROM JACKSON TO QUINCY
New Garage One-Half Block

In This Issue E. W. Hammons Tells "What's Right With The Movies"

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 97

New York, Friday, October 26, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Heavy Party

That Anglo-American dinner is growing into a big affair. The date is set for Tuesday, November 20th and the Hotel Biltmore is the place. It is set also that Sam Harris, donor of the cup to be awarded to the man or woman who has done the most to foster and promote amity and cordial relations between the film industries of the United States and Great Britain, is crossing from England to present the cup in person to the person.

* * *

The A.M.P.A. first sponsored the idea and now it is proving so popular that reservation requests are already coming in. It is just one of those things that catches on and once it catches nobody wants to be left out. Not to be seen at the Anglo-American dinner will be interpreted three ways—illness, absence or obscurity.

* * *

At the A.M.P.A. business meeting yesterday the dinner was the heaviest topic in point of interest. Mike Simmons is to deal with it in broadcasting over WOR and WPCB and some of the high lights of the news are being reserved until then.

* * *

A toastmaster of unusual distinction is to preside and the name of the winner of the cup may not be made public until the night of the dinner.

* * *

Ideas, if they are big ones, grow into big facts—in the right hands.

* * *

Here's a thought for the interchangeability boys. Which, in the long run, will make the most money, to have devices free for general use or have them restricted to use for a circumscribed group? The old Patents Company once had the motion picture business by the necktie but P. A. Powers and William Fox can both tell the world how foolish the Patents Company was to be haughty, exclusive and monopolistic.

* * *

We are glad to see David Sarnoff of R.C.A. in favor of complete freedom for everybody on the interchange of devices and apparatus. It's the smartest as well as the biggest policy.

ARTHUR JAMES.

KENNEDY AND BROWN OPEN PATHE SOUND-SALES CONFAB

Tonefilm Making Three Models Can Install Within 30-45 Days

PHONOFILMS NOT SALE PATENTEES

F-P-L Attorneys Claim De Forest Patents Antedated

Montreal.—Attorneys for Famous Players Canadian Corporation, Ltd., contesting the suit brought by the De Forest Phonofilm of Canada, Ltd., to prevent the exhibition of sound pictures at the Famous houses in Canada, entered a defense on Wednesday, citing several sound photography patents prior to the patents of Dr. De Forest.

To prove that the De Forest company could not claim infringements of patents which were known and in common use long before the date of De Forest's, the Paramount attor-

(Continued on page 2)

Wooley Appointed Quigley Assistant

Burgess W. Wooley, formerly a member of the Legal Department of Western Electric Company, has been appointed assistant to George E. Quigley, vice-president of the Vitaphone Corporation.

Mr. Wooley is also president of the Argentine-American Chamber of Commerce, an organization devoted to building better business relations between the United States and Latin American countries.

Guinan Back Saturday

The Twentieth Century Limited on Saturday, October 27th, will bring Texas Guinan back to Broadway after a two months stay in Hollywood where she made her first all-talking Vitaphone picture, "Queen of the Night Clubs" for Warner Bros.

She was supported by Jack Norworth, Lila Lee, Eddie Foy, Jr. and others. Bryan Foy directed the production.

The Tonefilm Company, newly organized Alfred Weiss organization handling a new picture recording and theatre apparatus, announces three distinct types of apparatus to be manufactured.

Tonefilm machines will consist of three type models. The A model for theatres with seating capacity up to 600. The Model B for theatres from 600 up to 1000 seats and the Model C over 1000 seats. As a part of the regular equipment will be a non-synchronous apparatus which will play regular records to be used on pictures that are not scored.

TONEFILM will install the apparatus ready for the exhibitor to turn on the switch and run and installations can be promised from 30 to 45 days after ordering.

By December first a TONEFILM equipment will be installed in every exchange center in the country.

TAX BOARD MAY DELVE IN SALES

Seek To Discover Sales Methods of Fairbanks-Pickford

Washington, D. C.—After four appeals made by the Douglas Fairbanks Pictures, one involving the Elton Corporation, which owns the Douglas Fairbanks Picture Corporation and another involving Fairbank's personal income, the U. S. Government's claim for back taxes of $1,000,273.56 may be settled in the next few days.

Doug and Mary slipped into Washington yesterday and were in conference with their attorneys. The Federal authorities believe that Miss Pickford has also been delinquent, but to what extent has not been revealed. The dispute centers upon the method by which the stars market their pictures.

"All Pathe Pictures To Talk," Brown's Newest Policy

Pathe's aggressive sound picture program and next year's product are the main topics of discussion at the regional meetings of division managers and eastern branch managers now being held at the home office, with Colvin W. Brown, Executive Vice President presiding. The Convention opened yesterday.

Following the opening session a luncheon was held at the Hotel Roosevelt when Joseph P. Kennedy, Official Advisor to Pathe, was the principal speaker.

"All Pathe Pictures Will Talk" was the keynote of Brown's discussion of the complete R.C.A. Photophone sound and dialogue picture program.

He told the gathering about the first one hundred per cent talking picture, "The Missing Man," just placed in production at the studios in Culver City. He stated that Benjamin Glazer would personally direct this international stage success with a superior cast.

Particular enthusiasm was expressed over the first issue of Pathe Sound News to be released on Armistice Day, November 11th, marking the eighteenth anniversary of the pioneer news reel.

Sessions are being continued today and following the business meeting, the Patheites will visit the studios of the Radio Corporation of America to see

(Continued on page 2)

B. & K. INSURED ON $300,000 LOSS

Chicago.—The Great States Theatre Co. was fully covered by insurance, when it was estimated that there would be a $300,000 loss caused by the destruction by fire of the Rialto Theatre at Aurora, Ill.

Officials of the company also revealed that they were covered from loss of profits, while the theatre is out of commission. Balaban & Katz has the controlling interest in Great States Theatres.

Bellamy at Roxy

"Mother Knows Best" the Fox sound and dialogue feature with Madge Bellamy, Louise Dresser and others, will play its first performances at popular prices, starting at the Roxy Theatre tomorrow.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleiter, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 5224-1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter, January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Pictures Publishers, Inc.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will lobble by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone HEMPstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York.—Si Seadler, deep in the heavy thimbo stuff, forget that he had quit commuting and woke up to the fact that he was living in town when he found himself on a train bound for Sea Cliff. . . . Artie Stebbins has changed his plans, having found a man here who was not insured, and delayed his departure for the coast until next Wednesday.

. . . Henry Foster, prominent film man from the other side, is spending a few weeks in New York, looking into sound and other pictures. . . . Henry Wilkinson has resigned from his long time job as booker for the "Greek Circuit," which as any sales manager will tell you, is strong around Pittsburgh and that neck of the woods. . . . Hobart Henley arrived yesterday from the coast for a couple of weeks looking them over in the big city. . . . Murray Korman, artist of note, spends a lot of his time watching the people looking at his wonderful display of paintings of the members of the cast of "The Home Towners" at Warner's theatre. . . . Morrie Ryskind, he of the smooth smile and many friends, has clicked hard in "Animal Crackers" the Four Marx Brothers show, the book of which he wrote, and now he's busy fending off producers who want him to write for them.

. . . Herman Jans has been appointed states right sales manager for Affiliated European Productions, Inc. . . . Nat Goldstone, whose job is signing up high gun talent for Universal talking pictures, left yesterday for Chicago and may continue on to the coast. . . . Nat Rothstein postcards that he is half way through that European literary itinerary and hasn't even commenced to think about turning his face homewards. . . . Billy Brandt, chairman of the Motion Picture Club entertainment committee, is the busy bird preparing for his big election night frolic, which he says is going to be his masterpiece. . . . Bill Ferguson, Metro exploitation chief, says New York is the place to live but that Bergen County, N. J. is a good place to own a lot of real estate. . . .

"What's Right With The Movies"

Fifth of a Series by Industry's Leaders

By EARLE W. HAMMONS
President and General Manager Educational Pictures, Inc.

Perhaps the most "right" thing about the movies is the fact that they have provided a means of amusement, entertainment and recreation for many millions of people all over the world who, without benefit of the movies, would have little or no means of getting away for a time from the humdrum existence of life or from what is all too often a difficult and bitter struggle.

Whatever faults may be found with motion pictures, whatever short-comings they may have, this one service to society in an age that sets our lives at such a hard and gruelling pace should so far overbalance all those things which may be considered wrong with the movies that for this one reason alone we ought all be able to hold our heads high and look our critics in the eye unflinchingly.

Only slightly secondary to this perhaps in its power to make us feel justly proud of our industry is its tremendous contribution to the education of the masses. A laborer who would not think of reading a book of any kind after his day's toil will gladly watch a motion picture and through it absorb without any thought of receiving teaching much of the best kind of education. In this way motion pictures have contributed notably to the remarkable elevation of the average of intelligence in our country.

Kennedy - Brown Open Sound-Sales Confab

(Continued from page 1)

and hear some of the Pathe sound features.

Those in attendance in addition to Messrs. Kennedy and Brown are: John Flinn, Vice Pres.; T. C. Streibert; Asst. to Ex-V. P.; Lewis Innerarity, Secretary; John Humm, Treasurer; Perry Ramsaye, Editor-in-Chief of Eastern Production; Phil Reisman, General Sales Mgr.; Ray L. Hall, Editor of Pathe News; E. J. O'Leary, Feature Sales Mgr.; Harry Scott, Short Subject Sales Mgr.; George W. Harvey, Director of Advertising and Publicity; John F. McAloon, Mgr. Exchange Operations; Stanley Jacques, Central Div. Mgr.; L. J. Hacking, Supervisor Eastern Div.; Lou Kniskern, Asst. to Gen. Sales Mgr.; Arthur Rousseau, Vice Pres. Pathe International Corp.; Lou Miller, Sales Prom. Short Subjects; Bob Wolff, and Bill Raynor, Mgr. New York Branch; Oscar Hanson, Mgr. at Buffalo Beru Moran; Mgr. at New Haven; Charles Stombaugh, Mgr. at Albany; Bob Mochrie, Mgr. at Phila.; R. C. Robin, Mgr. at Washington; R. C. Cropper, Mgr. at Boston; Harry Lorch, Mgr. at Chicago; and D. A. Doran, Eastern Story Editor.

Phonofilms Not Sale Patentees

(Continued from page 1)

neys asserted that before 1920, a complete system of sound photography was known to the scientific world, and submitted the London Times of 1921 which gave a description of a talking picture and submitting prior patents covering the filming of sound waves and their reproduction from the film.

Realistic Sound Film

There is a fine example of what's right with sound pictures in Lon Chaney's "While the City Sleeps," at the Capitol this week.

It is thrilling to listen to the machine-gun fire in the gang war scenes; to hear the policeman beating his stick on the pavement, blowing his whistle, the hum of the mob and noise of the traffic in the street scenes. And the picture is standing them out.

Warner Club Gala Affair On Nov. 3

The next affair of the Warner Club is to be held at the Warner Bros. Brooklyn Vitaphone Studio, on Saturday, November 3rd, 1928. Well-known artists have been secured for the purpose of entertaining the members and their guests.

A buffet supper will be provided before the dancing begins, after which the members will be entertained by Broadway celebrities.

Livingston With Fox

Blanche F. Livingston, for many years a member of Exhibitors Daily Review staff and contributing editor on the Roxy Theatre program, has been appointed by John Zanft as assistant to Milton Harris, Director of Publicity for the Fox Theatres.

Zimbalist On WOR

Warner Bros. have engaged Efrem Zimbalist, internationally celebrated violinist, to play for the radio audience during the next Vitaphone Jubilee Hour on Monday, October 29th over WOR.

HERMAN JANS JOINS AFFILIATED EUROPEAN

Mr. Herman F. Jans, one of the outstanding figures of the motion picture industry a few years ago, has re-entered the field and has accepted the appointment as states-rights sales manager for the Affiliated European Producers, Inc.

Jans has been in the picture business for twenty years starting with the All Star Features Company. He was one of the original incorporators of Metro and also produced a number of pictures.

M-G-M. Title Change

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has taken its first step toward filming Ben Hecht's story "The Regiment of Doom" by changing the title to "The Green Ghost." It is a talkie thriller.

Rupert Julian is to direct. Thus far the cast includes Lionel Barrymore and Aileen Pringle.

Couderc Signed

Pierre Couderc has been engaged to write adaptations and originals for Universal. His first will be an adaptation of a story written by Carl Laemmle, Jr.

New York's Newest and Finest Hotel

SMARTLY NEAR THE CENTER OF THINGS

Around the corner from New York's exclusive shopping district, readily accessible to leading theatres, and railroad terminals, yet in a neighborhood socially correct and away from the noise and turmoil of the business district. The Park Central enjoys a location distinctly unique in its advantages. Come to the Park Central, New York's newest and finest hotel, where you will find advantages heretofore unknown to American hostels—Radio outlets . . . Electric Refrigeration . . . Period Salons and Roof Patios for private social functions . . . swimming pool . . . Florentine Grille featuring the Park Central Grille Orchestra . . . other features equally unusual and desirable. Single rooms five dollars per day and up. Double rooms eight dollars per day and up.

THE PARK CENTRAL

FIFTY-FIFTH STREET AT 7th AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY

Small Units in FILM CENTER BUILDING

*Examine the Units on the Chart
Then See the Units in the Building*

FILM CENTER BUILDING ▼ 44th St. NINTH AVE. 45th St.

Fireproof storage vaults on all floors...shipping platform in basement, with ramps to street...special projection and inspection rooms...executive office facilities...low insurance rates...safety, efficiency, accessibility, and economy — plus the advantages of contact with some of the greatest institutions in the Film Industry, now enrolled as tenants.

Open for Inspection

ELEVATORS RUNNING AND A REPRESENTATIVE TO SHOW YOU AROUND
44th Street Side

FILM CENTER, INC. Builders

ABE N. ADELSON, Pres.

Spear & Co.
INC.

Agents

225 FIFTH AVE.
ASHland 4200

"JIMMY VALENTINE" PLEASES

M-G-M Home Office Enthusiastic Over First Talker

By W. R. W.

Both studio and home office officials of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer are all "hopped up" over "Alias Jimmy Valentine," the first M-G-M feature with dialogue in it. There is about 2000 feet to the talking sequences and the cast comprising Haines, Lila Hyams, Lionel Barrymore, Tully Marshall, Karl Dane and Howard Hickman are said to hit the heights in so far as talk is concerned.

The picture was scheduled for regular release and was no doubt headed for the Capitol, but after seeing it, the powers that be around the Loew building began to hurry around looking for a Broadway legitimate theatre, feeling the promotion is a cinch hit for a run on the old street. Someone suggested that it be put in the Astor, thereby ending the run of "White Shadows of the South Seas," but this was tabooed on the strength of the business being done with that picture.

Tonefilm Road Show Special Starts Monday

With the completion of his sound stages at the Metropolitan Studios at Fort Lee, Phil Goldstone announces the starting of his first Metropolitan Road Show Special. This picture, it is promised, will represent an innovation even in talking pictures.

Metropolitan will also produce two short subjects weekly consisting of sketches, playlets, short operettas and prominent orchestras and singers. The first releases will be announced shortly.

Metropolitan Productions will play on any standard disc apparatus including TONEFILM, WESTERN ELECTRIC or BRISTOLPHONE.

Herbert Brennon East

Herbert Brennon, United Artists director, is expected in town in a day or two. While here Brennon will work on the screen treatment of his next picture "Lummox." Fannie Hurst, the author of this story, will work with Brennon.

Swanson Starts

The production of the Gloria Swanson picture, "Queen Kelly," is supposed to start at the F.B.O. studio today with Eric Von Stroheim directing. This is after many postponements caused by changes in the story and Miss Swanson's quick and unexpected visit to New York.

Reports around the lot have "Von" quoted as saying that a shooting schedule of ten weeks has been set on the picture and he would make it in less than that time.

Don't forget—Von Stroheim said this himself.

Studio Gossip

Gladys McConnell has again been signed for a Pathe Serial. This time it's "The Fire Detective."

* * *

Phyllis Haver is not only actively engaged in three simultaneous productions, but she is also busy collecting an extensive wardrobe for her part in "The Office Scandal."

* * *

The first motion picture air derby was staged for one of the principal sequences in a forthcoming Short Feature in the "Russ Farrell, Aviator" series being produced by Chas. R. Rogers and Harry J. Brown for Educational release.

* * *

Alice White's new picture for First National has suffered the third and final change of title. It is to be released as "Naughty Baby." This was the original "Ritzy Rosie."

* * *

Doris Dawson has been added to the cast of "Stranded in Paradise," a First National picture now in production.

* * *

Nils Asther and his dog, "Clumsy," are enjoying their first vacation since coming to Hollywood about a year ago.

* * *

"Glorious Adventures," the latest Lyman H. Howe's Hodge-Podge to be released by Educational, is a glorified tour of vacation-land, including stops in California, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Ausable Chasm in New York, Canada, Sweden and Hawaii.

* * *

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has replaced the concrete walks and driveways around the big sound stages with sound-proof sidewalks. The new paving is said to deaden all sound and eliminate vibrations caused by heavy traffic.

* * *

"The Quiet Worker," an Educational-Ideal Comedy, featuring Jerry Draw with Betty Lloyd, Estelle Bradley, Eddie Featherstone and Stanley Blystone is now in production. Directed by Charles Lamont.

Fox Buys "The Claw" For Talkie Star

The Henri Bernstein drama of former years, "The Claw," in which Lionel Barrymore starred, has been purchased by Fox Film Corporation for talking pictures.

Paul Muni, formerly known as Muni Wiesenfriend, star of "We Americans" and "Four Walls" on the stage, and now under long-term contract to Fox will be starred in the principal talking role. It will probably be an all-dialogue picture.

Voicephone Change

The Voicephone Co., Gene Marcus' Hanaphone company, has changed its corporate name to Han Dix-A-Phone Co. of America, at Wilmington, Delaware.

Things We Do Not Believe

The management of the Central Theatre, where Colleen Moore's First National sound picture "Lilac Time," is playing two performances a day and three on Sunday, has ordered a new screen because of the wear and tear on the old one caused by the strenuous air battles and fast action it has held on its white surface for one hundred and eighty performances.

(From First National Publicity Department.)

"Barnum Was Right," Bought For Denny

"Barnum Was Right," a stage comedy by Philip Bartholomae and John Meehan, produced at the Frazee Theatre in 1923, with Donald Brian as the star, has been bought by Universal for Reginald Denny. It will be screened as an all-talking comedy feature.

The play was based on the story "It Might Happen to you," by Hutcheson Boyd.

Columbia Signs Forbes

Ralph Forbes has been signed for the leading male role opposite Marceline Day in Columbia's "The College Coquette." This adds another of the screen's most prominent names to the roster Columbia is presenting in its "Perfect 36."

Pathe Fashions

Paul Poiret, famous master of the art of milady's dress, is interviewed pictorially in a Parisian fashion novelty presented in Pathe Review No. 45. Advance tips on the new fashions are attractively pictured and offer the exhibitor a chance to feature this little subject on his program.

Collier For Talkies?

William Collier, Sr., father of the popular Buster, who has repeatedly turned his back on the movies is now reported as seriously considering a very flattering offer to make a sound picture. He is thinking about it so seriously, in fact that he is thinking of going out to Hollywood to investigate it.

Bee Re-engaged

Irving D. Rossheim, President of First National Pictures, announces that Richard Bee, who wrote the adaptation and continuity for "The Haunted House," the first of this organization's three mystery pictures, has been signed to write the adaptation and continuity of "Seven Footprints to Satan." The forthcoming picture is from the novel of the same name by A. Merritt, and will be directed by Benjamin Christensen. Production will start soon at the Burbank Studios.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

"SKEETS" GALLAGHER

We saw "Stocks and Blondes" recently at the Hippodrome. The picture was not so much. Poor story and bad direction, but excellent performances by Richard "Skeets" Gallagher and Albert Conti.

We are interested in this fellow Gallagher. He showed great promise under Milestone's direction in "The Racket." With better direction he would have measured up to this performance in "Stocks and Blondes." Dudley Murphy, the director of this one, insisted on Gallagher doing a lot of trick things that he had no business in doing. However, this boy Gallagher is a "bet." One of our big producers should grab him, give him good stories and competent direction. He is sure fire for the talkies. Has had plenty of stage experience and is blessed with a tremendous personality on both the stage and screen.

ADD—SOUND

Put "Tonefilm" down on your list of talking equipments. This one is being fostered by Alfred Weiss and Phil Goldstone. Phil, we understand, is going to handle the production end and Alfred the equipment. We have not heard this one, but have heard Phil talk about it and it must be good. Both Weiss and Goldstone are veterans in motion pictures and both have accumulated a good size bank roll. They are considered among the "very wise" in this business and for this reason, we say "Tonefilm" must be good.

STUDIO

They have, what used to be the World-Peerless studio over at Fort Lee, and when completed, it will be one of the largest, if not the largest, sound stage for an independent, in the East. We understand that Goldstone is going to make a lot of short reel novelties first, and then go into feature production a little later. Phil made some very fine pictures for the old Tiffany Company and others and he can be classed as a real tiffany producer in that he has the showman's angle on stories and has always had a knack of making pictures with an eye on the box office. Hollywood points to him as one of its most successful producers having run a shoe string into several millions.

ALFRED WEISS

Alfred Weiss has been in and around the picture business since the year "one." He was one of the prime movers in the old Goldwyn company and walked out with more money than he could carry. In other words he had to weigh it, he could no longer count that much. In recent years he has been centering most of his attentions on the sale and distribution of Agfa negative and a very flourishing rotogravure company.

"In a Persian Market" New T. S. Sound Short

Tiffany-Stahl are about ready to release the first of a series of short reels, done in technicolor, with sound and synchronization. It is called "In A Persian Market." There is a complete musical synchronization throughout in addition to several songs interspersed.

In This Issue Charles R. Rogers Tells "What's Right With The Movies"

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 98

New York, Saturday, October 27, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Well, Well!

Well, well, in spite of all that Pete Harrison printed demanding that Charley Williams resign as president of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Nebraska and Western Iowa because he had the intelligence as a small exhibitor to see the menace of the Brookhart Bill and openly oppose it, we say, in spite of all this, the Theatre Owners of Nebraska and Western Iowa (Brookhart's own bailiwick) have actually re-elected him president. And well, well again, the election was unanimous!

* * *

We heartily congratulate these clear headed exhibitors on their renewed choice and we herewith assure Charley Williams that he can laugh in both sleeves while Poison Pete gnashes his incisors, canines, bicuspid and molars.

* * *

Exhibitor leadership like the leadership of Charley Williams is what our industry needs more of. He is no man's man. He is honest, he is intelligent and he is courageous. He doesn't regard a producer or distributor as his natural enemy but as a business man he doesn't let anybody put anything over on him either. That's why Charley Williams has the respect of the thinking men of this business.

* * *

Douglas and Mary are in town and that's a news event for the newspapers as well as a happy item for picture folk. Both an honor to our business—both proud of our business—both representative of the best in our business.

* * *

We remember when Douglas Fairbanks had his first motion pictures taken for "Our Mutual Girl"—back in '14. He screened so well that it gave the picture folk an idea right away. And what an idea that turned out to be!

* * *

We remember Mary Pickford when she was making short pictures for Griffith and thus began a popularity which never has waned. And Mary Pickford is just the same Mary today in kindness and fine spirit.

ARTHUR JAMES.

SOUND DEVICE MONOPOLY GETS SET BACK IN COURT

Pettijohn Raps Censorship Evil

C. C. Pettijohn, general counsel for the Motion Picture Producers & Distributors of America, in addressing the meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Nebraska and Iowa, at Omaha, went after motion picture censorship and its evil influences.

"Ours" said Mr. Pettijohn, "is an industry of opportunity and it necessarily follows, if it is an industry

(Continued on page 2)

MOVIETONE CITY DEDICATION SET

The celebration of the dedication of the Fox Movietone City, newly created producing center for the producing of Movietone Productions at Fox Hills will be a double header, with ceremonies taking place simultaneously in Hollywood and in New York.

In New York, tomorrow afternoon at the Roxy Theatre, The Fox home office will play host to their friends in the industry exactly the

(Continued on page 2)

Williams Vindication Seen In Reelection By Nebraska M.P.T.O.

1500 TO ATTEND COOPER DINNER

Fifteen hundred people embracing the theatrical, social, political and commercial world will attend the testimonial dinner to be given to Harry Cooper, well-known Broadwayite, at the Hotel Commodore tomorrow night—October 28th. The dinner is tendered Harry, who retired from vaudeville a few years ago after 35 years of service.

Bert Satz, well-known jeweler, is chairman of the dinner committee. Among the speakers will be Mayor James J. Walker, Senator Royal S. Copeland, Capt. Irving O'Hay, who will act as Toastmaster; Eddie Cantor, George Jessel and of course, Mr. Cooper himself.

INTERCHANGE ORDERED BY FEDERAL JUDGE IN DETROIT ACTION BY ROBERTSON—FIRST LEGAL DECISION FAVORS FREEDOM—FINAL ARGUMENT TUESDAY

T-S "Cavalier" At Embassy Tuesday

Sound picture interest centers next Tuesday on the Embassy Theatre where Tiffany-Stahl's "The Cavalier," will have its New York premiere under particularly interesting conditions.

The score has been prepared by Dr. Hugo Riesenfeld, the synchronization is by the R. C. A. method, the direction is by Irving Willat from a lively story by Max Brand, and the event marks the first presentation of a sound picture by Tiffany-Stahl Productions.

Hammons to W. C.

Earle W. Hammons, President and Gen. Mgr. of Educational Pictures left New York yesterday for the Coast on his annual Fall visit to the Educational Studios.

Hammons and Jack White will supervise the details of launching their new comedy sound production plan for the new season.

HUMAPHONE USED

James N. Robertson, president of the James N. Robertson Enterprises of Detroit Michigan, controlling a circuit of three theatres in the suburbs of Detroit was granted a temporary mandatory court order by Judge DeWitt Merriam of the Federal Circuit Court of Wayne County Michigan, compelling all the Detroit exchanges with whom Robertson held contracts, to deliver any and all disc records for any synchronized pictures these companies might have to any of the three houses owned by James N. Robertson Enterprises. (The Cinderella, Roosevelt, and DeLuxe.) A further hearing on the temporary injunction will be argued in the same court next Tuesday.

(Continued on page 2)

To Jack, Bill & Marty!

A waiting industry still is entitled to know how the publications of the picture business stand on the Brookhart (Federal control) measure that greets the Congress at its next session.

Is Film Daily still in favor of this Bill that would put the picture industry in chains and sock the small exhibitor even harder than the big ones? Film Daily gained a definite notoriety in the trade by favoring this bill sensationally when it was up before the previous Congress. And those favoring the bill quoted Film Daily at the hearings in Washington. How does it stand now and where? Is Film Daily for this industry or against it?

Come on out and be counted—for or against—unless yer skeered or 'shamed.

Will Motion Picture News be for or against the Brookhart Bill or will it again stretch the bosom of its pants by a straddle?

Will Herald-World pass on in serene and callous silence as before, in the Brookhart matter?

Silence on this question may be more deadly to all three of these journals than they seem to appreciate.

(Continued on page 2)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryan 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York:—Charlie Einfeld, of First National, has been holding out on us, never batting an eye about the arrival of the eight pound boy at his house last Sunday morning, and don't do it again Charlie. . . . John Considine, Jr. is due here from the coast in a few days to see that work is properly started on "Say It With Music", the Harry Richman picture for United Artists. . . . Victor Shapiro took Major White, the celebrated broadcaster, to the Motion Picture Club for luncheon, and after giving the whole place the once over declared that the wave length was all right. . . . E. W. Hammons, head of Educational Pictures, leaves on the Century today for the coast to spend a couple of weeks looking over production. . . . Irving Berg, of National Screen Service, who was married last Sunday, is honeymooning at Atlantic City, his bride presumably being with him. . . . Ralph B. Williams, southern district sales manager of Universal, is here from Atlanta. . . . Doug and Mary, after being entertained at Washington by the President and Mrs. Coolidge, came up yesterday morning to New York and will remain here several weeks. . . . Hal Burrows, art director of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, has bought himself a domicile at Manhasset and joined the ranks of the commuters. . . . John Hamrick, of the Blue Mouse Theatres at Seattle, arrived in New York yesterday and was Al Lichtman's luncheon guest at the Motion Picture Club. . . . Will Hays, mighty nimrod from Wyoming, will arrive in New York next Monday, and we're all waiting with bated breath to learn what game he got and whether he used worms or store bait. . . . Paul Benjamin presided at Thursday's closed meeting of the A. M. P. A. in the absence of President George Harvey, who was kept away by a sales meeting. . . . Don Hancock, high gun of the A. M. P. A. Hollywood Masked Ball, to be held here in January, says the affair already promises to eclipse any similar thing yet attempted in the film industry, and we hope so . . .

"What's Right With The Movies"

(Sixth of a Series by Industry's Leaders)

By CHARLES R. ROGERS

Pres. Gotham-Bristolphone Photoplays Corp.

What is particularly right with the movies is that despite the darts of its critics, the disparagements of high-brow skeptics who look at life through a clouded monocle, and self-elected moralists who feel that they are achieving Nirvana by putting a wet blanket on the pleasures of life—the movies nevertheless survives this hocus-pocus by the sheer vitality of its human appeal.

This state of survival of the movies over all obstacles, impediments and ambush-sniping, is its own best testimony as to what's right with the movies. One of the fundamental virtues of the movies is that its last court of appeal is the public. The public and the public only is qualified to sit in judgment on the movies. The wholehearted support which the public gives the movies is graphic evidence that there is plenty right with the movies.

This is no implication that the movies has achieved its highest ideal, particularly with the advent of It has plenty of grade to make. It has defects to improve. It still has some wisdom to acquire, particularly with the advent of sound. But the fact that the movies, instead of sitting on its hind-quarters, lost in dubious reflection over these facts, is constantly in action—trying, doing, and achieving—is what's particularly right with the movies.

Pettijohn Raps Censorship Evil

(Continued from page 1)

of opportunity, that it is an industry of obligation. The people who are now engaged in this business appreciate the fact and understand pretty plainly that the opportunity afforded to the individuals engaged in this business goes hand and hand with their obligation to the industry itself and to the public."

Of the operation of the Film Boards of Trade, Mr. Pettijohn said: "Let it be said without fear of contradiction that in the more than fifty thousand cases thus disposed of there has not been one instance in any case where there has even been an accusation or even an insinuation that any individual serving on any board has been influenced in his honest opinion by the offering or the offering or the receipt of anything of value from a cigaret to a yacht. . . . The arbitration system in the motion picture industry is in my opinion in the greatest outstanding achievement in American industry in the last decade. It has resulted in a 'transition from rows to referees.'"

"One thing", continued Mr. Pettijohn, "we can all agree on, whether we are on the inside or the outside of the motion picture business. Every motion picture should be fundamentally clean. The most unfit pictures that I have seen of late are the so-called sex-hygiene pictures, none of which are made by any of the producers regularly engaged in the production of motion pictures, and the funny thing to me is that these particular pictures portraying the human body—not for educational purposes and most certainly not for entertainment purposes—are all endorsed by doctors, clergymen and so-called social workers who have a peculiar complex that these pictures have a wholesome moral effect on the youth of the land."

Williams Vindication Seen In Nebraska M. P. T. O.

(Continued from page 1)

enthusiastically received after which the convention unanimously endorsed the work of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America, pledged allegiance and support and decided to take whatever part might be assigned to the State organization in carrying out the National Program.

Movietone City Dedication Set

(Continued from page 1)

same time as like ceremonies are being conducted in Fox Hills. William Fox, John Zanft, Courtland Smith and other executives of the company will be on hand and wired messages from the Coast will be broadcast here, as they are received.

The new Fox enterprise is said to have cost approximately $8,000,000 and is the first studio center of the modern trend, to be constructed solely for talking motion pictures, and is intended as an enduring monument to the pioneering genius of the leader of the Fox Film Corporation.

Sound Device Gets Set Back In Court

(Continued from page 1)

All three of the Robertson houses are using an equipment invented by Mr. Robertson himself which he calls Humaphone.

Mr. Robertson, generally, took every company he is doing business with into court, but particularly he moved against Paramount as he had the Richard Dix picture "Warming Up" booked for his houses this coming Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

No company was represented with the exception of Paramount who had Frank Eman, a Detroit attorney appearing for them. Eman moved to have the injunction vacated but this was denied by the court.

After the injunction was granted Eman suggested to Robertson that instead of running "Warming Up" in his houses Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, he take in its stead the United Artists production of "The Tempest." Robertson accepted this compromise and at the time (Friday evening) a was talking to Mr. Robertson, he had the prints and the records of "The Tempest" in his theatres.

Due to the late hour of the receiving this story the only person reached that is in any way connected with this order was Mr. John Hammel the mid-western division manager of Paramount who suggested that the Daily Review get in touch with Austin Keough, Paramount attorney. His phone did not answer.

This marks the first appearance in any court of a person or persons questioning the matter of interchangeability and the who country will have

QUOTA BOOKINGS LEAVE OPEN DATES

LONDON.—There has been a magnificent quota response, since the beginning of the operation of the Quota Act Oct. 1. According to reports filtering in from the provinces, exhibitors throughout the country are definitely over-booked, more than 5% required by the Quota.

About 10% of the year's programs of British films will be booked and there will be many open dates for which no films have not been booked.

Radin Denies

Asserts He Is Still With Int'l Bristolphone

Matty Radin, in a general denial of his severing connections with the International Bristolphone Company and the Belltone Company asserts he is still Vice-President and General Manager of both concerns.

Previous reports indicated his withdrawal upon the entrance of Sol Lesser into the Franklin Warner company.

'Interference' Nov. 16

"Interference" Paramount's first all-talkie is going into the Criterion Theatre on November 16th. "Wings" closed its 13th-month run at this theatre last night. The house will be dark for three weeks.

their eyes turned towards Detroit next Tuesday morning when Mr. Robertson will seek to have the motion made permanent.

If the case is won, and Mr. Robertson seems to think he will win it, the whole talking business will be split wide open.

Picture Reviews

"The Melody of Love"

Universal—Movietone
Sound and Dialogue

Directed by.....A. B. Heath
Featuring.....Walter Pidgeon, Jane Winton, Tom Dugan, Mildred Harris
Universal's first attempt at an all-dialogue feature, made with Movietone, which through being rushed, falls far short of perfection found in good silent product. The sound amplification and recording, while perfectly synchronized, is horrid and distorted in many acts. Where songs are sung by Pidgeon and the quartette, this comes over great. Sounds of gun and shell-fire, however, are hardly realistic.

A Broadway song-plugger joins the call to War, against the wishes of his blase and practical sweetheart. While "over there," the hero and his rough side-kick are both wounded. The tough-egg, invites a French cabaret performer to come over to America, where he'll place her on B'way. The War over, both return home, but the hero is cast aside by his sweetheart, and goes to the dogs, finally winding up in his pal's Bowery cafe, where the Frenchie has turned up. The hero and the French girl acknowledge their love, and all ends well.

The picture could have stood better continuity and building up of the second love affair, as not enough plausibility is given for the love climax. Story had great possibilities, but suffered in the way the production was rushed. Pidgeon and Dugan steal the picture, with Jane Winton a huge surprise and Mildred Harris good. The photography was also poor.

"Take Me Home"

Paramount picture

Story by.....Grover Jones and Tom Crizer
Directed by.....Marshall Neilan
Starring.....Bebe Daniels with Lilyan Tashman and Neil Hamilton
FAST MOVING COMEDY. LOTS OF LAUGHS AND GOOD DIRECTION. THIS MEASURES UP TO THE BEST OF MISS DANIEL'S EFFORTS IN THE PAST YEAR.

Miss Daniels is a chorus girl in this one, and manages to hold the hayseed hooper whom she has befriended, in spite of the dirty work of the star of the show. There is a great fight between Bebe and Lilyan Tashman, (as Derelys Devore,) when Lil has her fired because she is angling for her boy friend and is jealous of Bebe. The picture maintains a good pace throughout, and the titles are better than the average.

Miss Tashman does fine work as usual, and mention must be made of Joe E. Brown as Bunny, the assistant stage manager.

The theme of this picture is pretty old, but it is refreshingly handled and is Al entertainment value.

"While the City Sleeps."

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer

Directed by.....Jack Conway
Story by.....A. P. Younger
Featuring.....Lon Chaney, Anita Page, and Polly Moran

LON CHANEY IN AN UNDERWORLD STORY DIRECTED BY JACK CONWAY RESULTS IN A HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL COMBINATION. HERE IS GOOD DRAMA, GOOD COMEDY AND GOOD PROPAGANDA—A PICTURE THAT EVERYONE WILL ENJOY.

Chaney is the detective (without make-up), in this, who falls in love with the daughter of an old friend, whom he protects from a murderous gangster, only to give her up to the young boy whom he has given a chance to go straight. He is excellent in this part and has been given a strong supporting cast headed by the talented Anita Page. Carroll Nye, a newcomer, does fine work in the juvenile lead.

The synchronization of this picture is great and is used very effectively in the fight scenes, making them particularly thrilling.

"Me, Gangster"

Fox

Starring.....June Collyer with Don Terry and Anders Randolph
Directed by.....Raoul Walsh

"ME, GANGSTER" IS A TRIBUTE TO RAOUL WALSH, THE DIRECTOR, FOR WITH AN ORDINARY STORY, HE HAS WOVEN IT INTO A REMARKABLE PIECE OF MOVING PICTURE ENTERTAINMENT. THE CAST WAS EXCELLENTLY CHOSEN, TOO, WITH MISS COLLYER GIVING MORE THAN AN AVERAGE ACCOUNT OF HERSELF.

The picture was made from the novel of the same name, which story concerned itself with the workings of a gang of shady characters, with a bit of ward-healing politics thrown in for good measure. There was really nothing unusual in the plot, but in the manner in which it was presented on the screen, it was certainly fast moving and full of fire.

Colleen Moore's Next

Word comes from Hollywood that Colleen Moore will portray the 1929-model modern girl in her next First National picture, "That's a Bad Girl," which will go into production shortly after the completion of the star's present feature, "Synthetic Sin." The forthcoming picture is from an original story by Carey Wilson, and it will be directed by William A. Seiter.

"Stocks and Blondes"

FBO

Directed by.....Dudley Murphy
Featuring.....Skeets Gallagher, Jacqueline Logan, Albert Conti

Exhibitors can play this one, but it will not draw any more than the regular trade. Innocuous and only slightly amusing. Story a "Dud" with good cast wasted. Gallagher a type who needs expert direction to bring out his best. Logan sweet and capable, but the role defeats her sincerity. Conti stands out best. Night-club sequences are amateurish.

Stock broker's clerk, in love with a cabaret performer, loses his job because of his know-it-all attitude and rash ways. His girl and her side-kick entertain his former boss at the night club and the heroine overhears a tip on the market being passed. She gives it to her sweetie, who from then on plays the market, winning heavily, from tips garnered in the night club by all the gold-diggers. Soon our hero has enough to marry on, and on the night he is to propose, there is a misunderstanding. The girl sees him spoiled by his money and to save him, has his former employer break him on the market. However all ends well and the lad is taken back as a partner.

The picture can play second-runs or double programs. The title has exploitation possibilities and some good exploitation may help to draw them in; the heavier the ballyhoo, the better for the picture.

"The Home Towners"

Warner Brothers

Starring.....Richard Bennett and Doris Kenyon
Directed by.....Byron Foy

"THE HOME TOWNERS" MIGHT ALMOST BE CALLED THE VERY BEGINNING OF THE REAL TALKING PICTURE. IT IS CERTAINLY NO LONGER TO BE CONSIDERED IN THE EXPERIMENTAL OR LABORATORY STAGE. THIS 100% TALKIE WAS TAKEN FROM THE GEO. M. COHEN PLAY OF THAT NAME, AND MORE THAN RIVALS THE FAME OF THE PLAY.

Byron Foy who directed this did an amazing piece of work and shows a genius for patience and handling of stage direction. The excellent speaking and acting performances of Richard Bennett and Doris Kenyon as well as that of Robert McWade, Robert Edson, Gladys Brockwell, John Miljan, Vera Lewis and Stanley Taylor, go far toward building up the prestige of this picture.

The technical recording of this picture is probably the best to date of any Warner product, with the exception of "The Singing Fool." The sound boys certainly deserve a hand for this one.

"Stool Pigeon"

Columbia

Story by.....Edward Meagher
Directed by.....Renaud Hoffman
Featuring.....Olive Borden and Charles Delaney

JUST ANOTHER UNDERWORLD STORY. THE TITLE WILL UNDOUBTEDLY ATTRACT BUT THE PICTURE WILL FAIL TO HOLD THE AUDIENCE. THE DIRECTION IN THIS IS PRETTY BAD AND THE STORY IS JERKY. CHEAP SETS.

This picture deals with the story of a boy, suspected of being a stool pigeon, who has only been stealing in order to give his Mother the good things of life. Needless to say, he is saved from a bad end and reforms and P. S. the heroine gets her man.

Olive Borden is the featured player and does nothing but mug her way through about twenty scenes. Delaney is not so bad but his work is almost ruined by terrible direction. This will not exactly lose money for the exhibitors but it will never be anything to write home about.

"Forbidden Grass"

Nichols Production

Released By Oscar A. Price
Directed by.....E. M. Eldridge
Photography by.....M. A. Anderson
L. de Angelis
Featuring.....Jack Padian, Elsie Duan, Walter Long

STORY WITH A THEME THAT COULD HAVE BEEN BUILT INTO ANOTHER "REX THE WILD HORSE" BUT THROUGH POOR CONTINUITY AND DIRECTION CAN HARDLY BE CLASSED AS A GOOD WESTERN THRILLER. OUTSIDE OF SOME FINE SCENIC SHOTS OF THE NEVADA-UTAH RANGES AND THE FEW WILD HORSE ROUNDUP SCENES THERE IS NO LIFE IN THE PICTURE.

Through a now-obsolete law out West, all wild horses were to be gathered in and disposed of, unless a range tax—for grazing was paid. Included in these wild horses were often those of private herds which the bad men also gathered in in order to claim "head tax" on them. Thus, this picture depicts just such a struggle, with the villain and his gang, with a state contract for the extermination of the horses, meeting doom at the hoofs of the wild herd, and the hero and heroine happily united in their equine cause and otherwise.

The honky-tonks and third-runs will play this one and no complaints. No names for the box-office, no direction to speak of, and only the horses as audience appeal, will keep this one away from all, except those who need "two to fill."

NEW SILLS F. N. CONTRACT

"Comedy of Life" First Talkie Under New Star Arrangement

By W. R. W.

Irving D. Rossheim, president of First National, announces that his organization has just awarded Milton Sills a new starring contract, and that the picture "The Comedy of Life" will be the first production under this new arrangement.

This announcement will be bad news to at least two producing organizations who have been angling for Sills.

Sills has a marvelous voice for talking pictures, probably the best on the screen. In addition to being a star in his own right in the silent drama, he was previously an outstanding player on the speaking stage and with this experience, plus his great speaking voice, is it any wonder that Rossheim is able to make the above announcement?

Milton recently completed a series of talking scenes for the F.N. production of "The Barker." At present he is working opposite Dorothy Mackail in "Stranded in Paradise."

Sloane With Fox

Paul Sloane has been signed on a long term contract by Fox to make movietone productions.

Sloane was recently in New York attending the instruction school conducted by Western Electric. His first story has not yet been selected.

Studio Gossip

Leslie Pearce will direct the dialogue version of "The Carnation Kid" for Christie.

* * *

Richard Tucker is now in Hal Roach comedies.

* * *

Ann Brodie has been added to the cast of "The Case of Lena Smith" which Paramount is making.

* * *

Clarence Badger will direct the next Taylor-Hall picture for Paramount.

* * *

Eve Southern will star in "The Girl Who Came Back" for Tiffany-Stahl. When she finishes this, she will leave for London to make stock shots for "Helen of London," for the same company.

* * *

Viola Brothers Shore has signed a new contract with Fox.

* * *

Production of "Jazzland" starring Jacqueline Logan direction by Dallas Fitzgerald, starts at Tec-Art, Oct. 25th.

* * *

"The Boy Wonder" will be Arthur Lake's next for Universal.

* * *

Alice White's next role for First National will be in "The Bluffers."

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer have purchased the screen rights to "False Faces," by Louis Joseph Vance.

* * *

Thelma Todd has been selected by First National for the part of Satan's mistress in "Seven Footprints to Satan."

* * *

Marie Prevost has patched up her troubles with Columbia and will play the lead in "The Sideshow," a dramatic circus picture.

* * *

William Haines has returned from his vacation in his home town and will begin work shortly on a new M-G-M picture.

* * *

F. W. Murnau returns to Europe sometime around the end of December in order to keep his promise to be in Germany by January first.

* * *

The J. G. Blystone troupe have returned from location near Sacramento. The picture is "Captain Lash."

* * *

Raquel Torres has been signed on a long term contract by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

* * *

There will be a harem of beautiful girls in First National's picture, "Seven Footprints to Satan," which Benjamin Christianson is directing. They will be the favorites of Old Man Satan.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

FILM CENTER

We were conducted through the new Film Center building yesterday. To say it is the last word in fire-proof construction is placing it mildly. In addition to this feature, the entire building is made to order for the housing of film exchanges and motion pictures generally. We have seen many specially constructed "film buildings" throughout the country, but the Film Center is the best of all. And too, it is located in the center of the new motion picture map.

MOVIETONE CITY

Anyone ever residing in Hollywood or lower California, always has the urge, at this time of the year to return, for when the chill breezes begin to blow, California sunshine calls. For this and the reason that Fox is going to open Movietone City, Sunday, we would like to be out there. That Fox opening is bound to be the last word in inaugural festivities. Probably everybody in California will be at Fox Hills some time Sunday afternoon. And for those of us around New York that can't get out, Glenn Allvine is going to try a little ceremony at the New York Fox Hills estate in the Roxy Theatre. This will be simultaneous with the celebration on the coast.

☞ Lambert Guenther has designed the cover for the eleventh annual announcement number of Exhibitors Daily Review and it's in the modernistic mode.

☞ It has strength, dignity, beauty and freshness, for Lambert Guenther is the greatest commercial artist in America.

☞ Within the covers of this issue (the date is January 1, 1929) will be presented the industry plans, purposes and general set up as announced by the major and minor companies.

☞ It will include the business and personal greetings of individuals to the trade and will go a step beyond the previous publication efforts in the industry. It's a Good will number, surpassing pictorially and a worthy thing—again the date—Tuesday, January 1, 1929.

In This Issue Sam E. Morris Tells "What's Right With The Movies"

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

OL. 24 No. 99

New York, Monday, October 29, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Monday A.M.

Hollywood and New York were the yesterday afternoon when the ceremonies opening the new Fox Movietone City at Westwood were received by direct wire to the waiting group in New York and those who were three thousand miles away were for all practical purposes present at the festivities.

* * *

The studios will contain nine stages and it is no exaggeration to call the place a city. It is the most elaborate, complete and pretentious sound equipment center in the world and is another monument to the enterprise and practical business progress of Fox Film Corporation.

* * *

Richard Bennett, in making a personal appearance at the premiere of "The Hometowners," delivered himself of a neat speech about the encouragement to the actor offered by the talkies. They would strive to give their best because their effort would live for coming generations. It was well phrased and well delivered and it made a hit. Then Bennett told the Warner Theatre audience he had a "great treat" in store and promptly dragged out Jim Tully, the author of "Jarnegan," the play that verizes the movie studios.

A woman back of us took one look at the "treat" and exclaimed:

"My gawd, he even looks it."

"Yep," said her companion, "he has a face that only Dick Bennett and his own mother could love."

Both these exclamations were fact understaters, for Tully is no more lovely than his play.

* * *

We have been offered a bet that the members of the committee appointed to choose the winner of the Sam Harris international cup will be notified of their appointment before the night of the Anglo-American dinner.

ARTHUR JAMES.

FEDERAL COURT TO RULE ON ROBERTSON INJUNCTION

First Talkie in London Causes Biting Reviews

According to an Associated Press report, the London critics have taken a sour attitude on talking pictures, after viewing the first all-dialogue film to be shown in Great Britain.

The film was the Warner-Vitaphone, "The Terror," and the general verdict by newspaper reviewers was "insufferably slow, tedious and unreal." Much of the adverse criticism as directed to the drama itself.

PROD. IN EUROPE COLUMBIA PLAN

Harry Cohn in Paris Lays Out New Organization

London.—Harry Cohn, V. P. of Columbia Pictures, who is in Paris on a business deal, announced that his company is planning to establish studios in Europe, for the production of European pictures.

An initial schedule of 15 productions is being planned and in March a number of productions executives from

(Continued on page 6)

New Talmadge Film At Rivoli Nov. 9

Norma Talmadge's new United Artists Pictures, "The Woman Disputed," will have a gala first night presentation at The Rivoli Theatre on Friday, November 9th, at 9 P. M. All seats will be reserved.

Tickets are now on sale at the Rivoli box office. Loge seats cost $5; orchestra $2 and $1.50; balcony, $1.50 and $1.00. The opening will be attended by celebrities of stage, screen and civic life.

"The Woman Disputed" was directed by Henry King and Sam Taylor. Gilbert Roland, Arnold Kent, Gustav von Seyffertitz and Gladys Brockwell support Miss Talmadge.

All proceeds of the opening night will be donated to the New York American Christmas and Relief Fund.

Paramount Contends Interchange Order Has No Contract Basis—"Warming Up" Records on Humaphone

Lightman Merging Tri-State Groups

Memphis.—The first Tri-State Convention of theatre owners ever held in this part of the country, convened here yesterday for a two-day session which has for its principal purpose, the creation of a new organization, embracing the Tri-State Theatre Owners of Arkansas, Tennessee and Mississippi.

M. A. Lightman, President of the Arkansas M.P.T.O., is the guiding spirit in this movement to bring the activities of three states, among theatre owners, under one banner. He is presiding at this convention and made the opening address of welcome yesterday.

In the matter of planning a Tri-State body, the exhibitors will offer as one of the services of such an organization, the facilities of an office main-

(Continued on page 2)

Williams Gets New "Dominion" Films

Another tie that makes for friendlier relations between the old and new world is the announcement that World Wide Pictures, Inc., will distribute a series of British Dominions' Productions in the United States and Canada.

The series will include Wilkie Collins' masterpiece, "The Woman in White," starring Blanche Sweet, and Sir Hall Caine's world-famous novel, "The Bondman," starring Norman Kerry. Both are "photo-plays" made

(Continued on page 3)

HECHT GOES WEST

Ben Hecht, who once left the picture business flat after having a set-to with Paramount about "Underworld," has left for the coast, to work with Rupert Julian on his mystery story, "Regiment of Doom," for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Paramount attorneys on Saturday characterized the Robertson-"Warming-Up" court controversy as "a tempest in a teapot," and also asserted that the exhibitor had no contract for the sound version of the Richard Dix picture.

In addition, it is the Paramount claim, Judge De Witt Merriam of the Circuit Court, who issued the mandatory court order, forcing the company to turn over the sound records of the picture to Robertson last Saturday, modified and vacated the temporary injunction the next day. Whereupon, Robertson, who holds a contract with United Artists for sound pictures, booked "The Tempest" for the following three days.

According to the attorneys, Robertson came in court ex-parte, with an affidavit alleging oral agreement with a Paramount booker, to deliver the sound records with the picture, but he had no contract whatsoever, except a contract for the picture, silent.

(Continued to page 6)

9 Mos. Paramount Earnings Jump

$300,000 Over 1927 Figures—Total This Year $5,973,600

Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation estimates its profit, after all charges and taxes, including its undistributed share of earnings of Balaban & Katz Corporation, a sixty-five per cent owned subsidiary, to be $5,973,600, for the nine months, and $2,100,-

(Continued to page 6)

Considine Coming East

Hollywood.—John Considine, Jr., leaves Hollywood tomorrow for New York to begin production on the Harry Richman picture. No leading lady has yet been signed.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager. Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York.—Harvey Day is back from Pittsburg all scarred up from his battle with the Greeks, but will likely soon be recognizable. . . .

Dave Bader, working in Universal offices at two o'clock last Saturday, explained his lateness and surprising industry by saying that he does not play golf nor care much for football. . . . Lou Metzger holds a championship at the Motion Picture Club, having alone and unaided secured 30 new members within the past month, among them some of the real big men of the industry, and they should slip a medal to Lou. . . . Pat Garyn gets a great kick out of dropping in to the Rivoli and listening to the people applaud a sound trailer on "Wings" which they are doing at every performance, which applause for a trailer shatters another world's record. . . . Pall Gulick, editor of the Motion Picture Club Bulletin, is out with his first issue, a neat little paper telling all about the activities of the club and its members, and Paul anticipates a great deal of pleasure in getting out future issues. . . .

Jack Bower, formerly and for years on the coast with United Artists, has been appointed manager of the Washington branch of that company. . . . Colvin Brown looks right nice pictures as an official of the M.P.T.O.A. in the trade papers, but Colvin always was a handsome guy. . . . Jesse Lasky has again been named head of the motion picture division of the American Red Cross. . . . Joe Levigard, eminent Universal director, who has come up through the ranks from driving a truck, is in New York on his way to Europe where he will make two productions for Universal. . . . Charles Pettijohn "raps censorship" according to newspaper headlines, but he don't remember that this is any switch for Charlie, so why fuss about it. . . . Herbert Wilcox has sailed for home after closing a big deal with World Wide Pictures, J. D. Williams' new and big distribut-

"What's Right With The Movies"

(Seventh of a Series by Industry's Leaders)

By SAM E. MORRIS

General Manager of Distribution, Warner Bros.

RADIN HAS 3500 BRISTOL ORDERS

Matty Radin, President of the International Bristolphone Distributors, Inc., announces sale of one machine to Mr. Jack Springer to be installed at the Symphony Theatre the early part of next week.

He is also installing numerous other machines in the City of New York.

They also have orders on hand now for close on to 3500 machines which will be filled in the order of the acceptance of their applications.

Fully 85% of the United States is practically closed for distribution with the foremost State Right buyers in the business. Mr. Radin also stated that he would announce the names of these concerns the early part of next week.

PATHE INTERNATIONAL REPRESENTATIVE SAILS

Carlos Jimenez, Latin-American sales representative for Pathe International Corporation who engineered the recent big deals with F. H. Knocke for the complete Pathe 1928-29 program in Cuba, Porto Rico, the Dominican Republic and the Virgin Islands and with Anker Brothers, of Guatemala, for Central American rights on features and with Maio Uibini for shorts in the same territory, sailed Saturday on the Siboney of the Ward Line for a five months' sales trip in southern territories.

3 Circuits Signed

A trio of Chicago circuits—the Coston, B. & K. and Great Lakes—have been signed up for Pathe shorts, according to a wire from H. S. Lorch, local branch manager to Harry Scott, short subjects sales manager.

New Vitaphone Branch

Paul J. Swift, Vitaphone sales manager, is in Dallas, Texas, where he is to superintend the opening of the new Vitaphone branch in that city. C. D. Touchon has been appointed branch manager.

LIGHTMAN MERGING TRI-STATE GROUPS

(Continued from page 1)

tained on the market in charge of a paid manager

Efforts will be made through such an organization to have members appointed to the board of arbitration who will give a careful study to the contract and arbitration practices. It is planned to have some method of paying expenses of arbitrators to and from the meetings.

R. F. Woodhull, president of the M.P.T.O.A. is a guest of the convention and will address the exhibitors today.

ing organization. . . . Felix Feist gets a new thrill every time any one talks to him about "Alias Jimmy Valentine," which Felix thinks is one of the real ones of the year and is willing to bet money that his judgment is right. . . .

The motion picture industry has more reason for optimism today than it has had any time during the past twenty-five years. The business has taken a fresh lease on life and is facing an entirely new era. The first hint of this new era came in August, 1926, with the initial exhibition of Vitaphone. Last season when Al Jolson, in "The Jazz Singer," was released, the whole industry took cognizance of the inevitable change it forecasted. That picture rescued the business from a rut that had held it in one path until the public's interest was perceptibly waning.

Change is always a healthy thing. The drastic change that Vitaphone has brought about has already proved an efficacious tonic which has restored the whole industry to a state of well being. Production in every studio is steaming ahead with vigor and a spirit of competition which in itself is a boon. Exhibitors are beholding the cheerful sight of crowds coming out in tremendous numbers that had dwindled alarmingly a short while before. And the public has abandoned its lethargy and has not only resumed but surpassed its most ardent patronage of the past.

Indeed talking pictures today enjoy the greatest popularity of any sort of entertainment. While this situation obtains, how can the industry fail to be prosperous? For as long as people are alive they will pay for diversion and as long as producers can supply them with the most appealing kind, the business will flourish.

Yes, there is a great deal "right with the movies." And I believe that Warner Bros. through Vitaphone can claim credit for setting much of it "right."

"Three Bad Men" Again

J. Farrell MacDonald, Frank Campeau and Tom Santschi the "Three Bad Men" of pictures, are to be together again in "In Old Arizona." This is the Raoul Walsh-Irving Cummings special which Fox is producing—with difficulties.

Gilpin to Start

Charles Gilpin, colored actor whom Fox signed in New York has arrived in Hollywood and will start in a principal part of a Fox movie-tone special. The director, cast and theme of this picture are as yet unannounced.

YOUR reproduction is vital for your production.

Newspapers WELCOME clean, well-defined illustration and resent the bad product.

Blue Rock Mats are best because they are made expertly and solely for newspaper reproduction.

Tell your purchasing agent to write now to the

Burton Syndicate

28 West 44th Street

for prices and service particulars.

BURTON SYNDICATE • Exclusive rights • BLUE ROCK MATS

"MOVIETONE CITY" DEDICATED

Formal Opening of Project in Fox Hills, L. A., Marks Another Milestone in Achievements of a Picture Pioneer—William Fox. World's Largest and Most Comprehensive Production Center for Movietone Cost $10,000,000

Hollywood, Cal., October 29. . . . Exactly ninety days after the first construction started, William Fox, pioneer in Movietone development, formally dedicated his new $10,000,000 Movietone Studio at Fox Hills yesterday afternoon with a most impressive ceremony.

All roads seemed to lead to Fox Hills, ten miles west of Hollywood today as the more than fifty thousand people from many states gathered to take part in the dedication exercises. These thousands constituted the largest number of people ever to be assembled within a motion picture studio, and this dedication marked the most far-reaching event ever engineered by the motion picture industry in Southern California.

Largest In World

This Fox-Movietone Studio is not the largest in the world, but it is the first complete studio city to be devoted exclusively to the production of dialogue and sound pictures. Twenty-seven buildings of reinforced concrete and steel were erected on forty acres of land in the southern end of Fox Hills. The construction includes four sound-proof stages, each measuring 212 feet long by 165 feet wide. This colossal undertaking represents an investment of $10,000,000 in land value, buildings, sound-recording, photographing equipment and electrical equipment.

Clark & McCullough

Thousands had gathered at Fox Hills long before the hour set for the dedication ceremony. For a half hour before the official exercises, which started at 3 o'clock, there was a special entertainment program, headed by Clark and McCullough, who have appeared in several Fox-Movietone comedies and who will make their future pictures in this new studio. The musical program was arranged by the Al Malaikah Shrine Band, which was placed on the speakers platform and the Harold Roberts Golden State Band, stationed at the Santa Monica gate.

Lumsden Hare, former leading man for Ethel Barrymore and Maxine Elliott, and internationally known as a dramatic actor, was the master of ceremonies for the dedication. The day's events were broadcast through station KMTR by radio announcer Freeman Lang.

Dedication Service

The invocation was delivered by the Rev. Neal Dodd, pastor of The Little Church Around the Corner, Hollywood. Dr. Isadore Isaacson of the Holy Temple of Israel in Hollywood, and Father Joseph Sullivan, president of Loyola University, both delivered a brief prayer. Oscar Lawler, a noted corporation lawyer of Southern California, made the dedication address. George L. Eastman, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the new Fox-Movietone Studio as an important addition to the cultural and industrial life of Los Angeles. A bronze plaque, commemorating the dedication of the first studio of its kind in the world, was unveiled by Mary Duncan, a new Fox star, who came to Hollywood following a notable Broadway stage career.

East Keeps In Touch

Through special arrangements with the Western Union Telegraph Company, a direct wire established communication between those on the speakers' platform and Mr. William Fox, who was host to a group of newspaper writers at the Roxy Theatre in New York. A special telegraph operator sent frequent bulletins concerning the afternoon's events to Mr. Fox and the New York newspaper correspondents. This dedication was recorded by cameras mounted in an airplane which circled the field, while the Movietone cameras caught sound and pictures.

Several committees composed of Fox Film stars entertained the Los Angeles news writers and national correspondents at luncheons before the dedication ceremony. Among the stars who served as special press committees were Mary Duncan, Janet Gaynor, Sally Phipps, Marguerite Churchill, Maria Alba, Helen Twelvetrees, Mary Astor, Lois Moran, Madge Bellamy, Lia Tora Lola Salvi, June Collyer, Victor McLaglen, Edmund Lowe, Charles Farrell, George O'Brien, Charles Morton, Barry Norton and Earle Foxe.

Traffic Arrangements

Fully 10,000 automobiles conveyed the thousands of guests to Fox Hills and this avalanche of cars constituted a tremendous traffic problem. Fox Film officials engaged L. H. Anderson, traffic expert of Ieland Stanford University, who supervised all traffic to and from the Movietone Studio and who had charge of the special parking space on grounds adjacent to the main studio. He had the assistance of 500 college men from the University of Southern California and the co-operation of the Los Angeles Police Department. During the past four years Mr. Anderson received state-wide recognition for the manner in which he handled the crowds attending the Tournament of Roses and the annual football game at Pasadena on New Year's Day.

The general committee, working under the supervision of Vice-President Winfield Sheehan, in charge of the dedication was composed of the following Fox studio officials: Sol M. Wurtzel, Chairman; J. J. McCarthy, Ben Jackson, Harold B. Franklyn, Joseph Pinchus, Alfred Wright, Howard Sheehan, James Ryan, Edward W. Butcher, H. A. King, Joseph Egli, Fred. W. Bestson, Chandler Sprague, M. S. Boylan, H. Keith Weeks, Walter Quinlan, Michael Leshing, David Thompson, Philip Klein, Eugene Walter, Charles Judels, Donald Gallaher, Arthur Caesar, Earle Lewis McGill, Dave Stamper, George Schneiderman, William Darling, Gabriel Bee-Hoffman and R. M. Yost.

Press Credit Fox

The opening of the Fox-Movietone Studio further entrenches Hollywood as a producing center of talking pictures. In commenting on the importance of this phase of Movietone development on the West Coast, the Los Angeles Times said in an editorial on October 24: "This action of the Fox Film Corporation also entrenches Los Angeles more firmly as the movie and dramatic center of the world. Sensing its coming hold on theatre goers, New York has been making strenuous bids to secure for Gotham this valuable productive industry. The Movietone City, near Hollywood, puts an end to the hopes of other communities to separate the talkies from the old movie home."

"Since this innovation calls for a greater variety of talent than the silent drama required, it will bring many more leading playwrights and actors from all over the world to Los Angeles."

"Faith in the future of this novel appeal at once to both the eye and the ear could, ask no better justification than the establishment of a Movietone plant on a scale of these dimensions. The talking films offer many new fields for instructing and entertaining the public and these fields will be assuredly extended with the installing of such large production centers of Fox-Movietone City."

WELL, HERE'S HOW THEY STAND!

For the Brookhart Bill:
Film Daily
Harrison's Reports.
Straddling:
Motion Picture News.
Silent as two deaf mutes:
World-Herald.
Variety.
Against the Brookhart Bill:
Motion Pictures Today
Exhibitors Daily Review
Canadian Digest
Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America, and
The intelligent sentiment of the entire motion picture business—resenting Federal control and stupid meddling by outside bunglers.
When aloof gentlemen lack the courage to step out and be counted we save them the effort by turning on the spotlight and doing the counting for them.
If we are in error we'll be delighted to print the correction.

Williams Gets New "Dominion" Films

(Continued from page 1)

where the story's laid." Herbert Wilcox directed both productions.

The deal was closed by Charles Wilcox, following negotiations participated in by J. D. Williams, Alexander S. Aronson, and Joseph S. Skirboll for World Wide and W. Henderson Clelland, and Herbert Wilcox of British Dominions who returned to London last week.

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.

for Library Stock Scenes

130 W. 46th St. New York

Bryant 8181

Classified Advertisements

Advertisements in this section, 5 cents per word. Cash must be sent with order. No charge for Box Number line. Minimum order, $1. 10% discount 12 issues or more.

FOR SALE

AN OLD AND WELL ESTABLISHED ORCHESTRA BUSINESS of Band Providers. Fully licensed, agency for variety, etc. Price £4,500. Commodious offices, extensive up-to-date library and music. Established 25 years. Open to every inspection and investigation. Write May Walter Orchestra, 81 Shaftesbury Avenue, London, W.1.

MOTION PICTURE AND "STILL" cameras rented, sold and exchanged. Portable lights for sale and for rent. Keep us advised of your wants. Ruby Camera Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

LOCAL FILMS

MOTION PICTURES MADE TO ORDER. Commercial, Home or Industrial. We have excellent facilities and the best cameramen. Our price, 20c per foot. Ruby Film Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

WHETHER YOU WANT TO HIRE some one or be hired; buy or sell a theatre; trade or sell equipment, or do almost anything else in the motion picture business, an ad in this department will get you results. If you want us to word the ad for you, the services of our advertising experts are at your call. Simply tell us what you want to do, and how many words you want used. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

Vidor Singers Leave

The Dixie Jubilee Singers, the colored troupe composed of six men and three women who have appeared frequently on the concert stage, left Wednesday for Memphis, Tennessee, where they will join King Vidor and the cast of "Hallelujah," and take part in some of the vocal sequences of this picture.

Nolan With Gilbert

Mary Nolan, who has just completed the feminine lead opposite Lon Chaney in "West of Zanzibar," has been cast for the chief feminine role in "Thirst," John Gilbert's new starring picture which William Nigh will direct for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Bower With U. A.

Jack Bower has been appointed branch manager of the Washington exchange of United Artists Corporation, it was announced yesterday by Al Lichtman, Vice-President and General Manager of Distribution. Mr. Bower, who was formerly with United Artists in Los Angeles, replaces J. E. Luckett.

PICTURE OF THE YEAR

THEY ALL AGREE—
THE FILM WILL DRAW ALL THROUGH ITS CAREER
A CLEAN-UP FOR EXHIBITORS
A BIG EXPLOITATION PICTURE BET
IT CAN'T MISS
CLASS PRODUCTION
FROM ALL ANGLES
DO WELL AT
THE BOX-OFFICE

Motion Picture News

Marriage by Contract Good Box-Office Material (Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

THIS tale has as its moral that women should remain well satisfied with the good old-fashioned marriage ceremony, that precarious as that sometimes is, it will continue to be generally accepted as the proper and safest standard. However, companionate marriage has come in for a deal of discussion and because of that there is plenty of box-office material in this feature. If it is to be adversely criticised at all, it is because there may be one too many of the marriage sequences.

Patsy Ruth Miller trudges her way sadly through four or five "agreements," each time being satisfied she has bit upon the right man at last. And then she wakes up to find it has all been a dream, that her original companionate agreement with the youth she loves and who loves her has not departed because of a tiff that brought on all the hysteria. But she is smart enough, after all, and so is he, to realize that the old fashioned marriage ceremony is much the most satisfactory.

Miss Miller is very convincing in the handling of a somewhat difficult role which takes her from the young modernist wife through the various marriage episodes until she comes to the border of middle age and with it there is the desire to retain her youth. It is somewhat a relief to know all of these hardships have not been hers when she awakens from her troubled sleep. Lawrence Gray also does some creditable work, as do the other members of the cast. It is a picture that has quite a considerable appeal and it should do well at the box-office.

Drawing Power: The subject is one that has had much attention, and with a well molded story, well done, it promises to click in nearly any house. Exploitation Angles: The companionate marriage subject lends itself to ready exploitation; the good story, the well balanced cast.

THEME: Thoroughly modern girl and youth decide upon a companionate marriage; they quarrel and she leaves in a huff. She drifts from one marriage contract to another, only to finally wake up and realize it has been a dream, which, however, has a happy ending.

Produced and distributed by Tiffany-Stahl. Length, 7,786 feet. Released, December 1, 1928. The Cast; Patsy Ruth Miller, Lawrence Gray, Shirley Palmer, Ralph Emerson, John St. Polis, Claire McDowell, Ruby Lafayette, Duke Martin, Robert Edwards, Raymond Keane. Director, James S. Edwards. Continuity, Edward Clark.

THE Film ALL THE NEWS ALL THE TIME

A Picture

EXCITEMENT hit the office a smack last night. It was like this. In came the head reviewer, bubbling over about something or other he had just seen. That, in itself, was unusual. So we inquired what it was all about: Said reviewer had hurried officeward directly after seeing "Marriage by Contract," a Tiffany-Stahl release. Nobody could hold him. We then figured that if this picture was that good, we had better pass on the word as fast as possible.

So we then asked him to point out what the why and the wherefore. And this is what he said—in essence, not in toto, because we had to trim his rave to space requirements:

Built on companionate marriage theme. Shows step by step how modern girl imbricks on such a marriage, but how conventions, etc. break it up. She tries it again. It fails again. Big punch is in showing that a woman has no protection in this companionate marriage stuff. The man walks off, picks another gal but the woman is licked. Age does the trick. A natural for feminine support from all clubs and church organizations.

Very sexy, but discreetly handled by director James Flood, under the aegis of the Tiffany-Stahl Class production from all angles.

Theme: enormous woman interest in marriage problems which are dramatically developed. Which is saying plenty about any picture. Toronto and the exhibitor convention beckon, but just as soon we're going to see it.

THE Film AND WEEKLY FILM DIGEST

Patsy Ruth Miller in

"Marriage By Contract"

Tiffany-Stahl Length: 7786 ft.
A WINNER. EXPOSES THE BUNK IN THE COMPANIONATE MARRIAGE GAG. SEXY. HUMAN. DRAMATIC. TIMELY. GREAT WOMAN PICTURE.

Cast... Patsy Ruth Miller as the modern girl who tries companionate marriage gives one of her best performances. Laurence Gray fine support. Strong cast includes Ralph Emerson, Shirley Palmer, Robert Edeson, Duke Martin, John St. Polis, Claire McDowell, Ruby Lafayette, etc.

Story and Production... Drama of youth and today. This one is in, by a mile. It's got a great dramatic punch tied up to the very modern theme of companionate marriage. It shows very humanly and powerfully how a modern girl imbricks on a contract marriage, and hits the rocks in three months when hubby stays out till 3 a.m. and gets plastered with an old girl friend. In other words, you can't change human nature by dodging a wedding ring and license. That's the tough lesson the girl learns. And she keeps on learning till youth and beauty have flown, along with her admirers. Powerful preachment which women's clubs and churches will back strong. It can't miss.

Direction, James Flood, expert; Author, Edward Clark; Scenario, Frances Hyland; Editor, L. R. Brown; Titles, Paul Perez; Photography, Ernest Miller, excellent.

TIFFANY-STAHLE PRODUCTIONS INC.

1540 BROADWAY

NEW YORK CITY

PICTURE OF THE YEAR

THEY ALL AGREE—
THE FILM WILL DRAW ALL THROUGH ITS CAREER
A CLEAN-UP FOR EXHIBITORS
A BIG EXPLOITATION PICTURE BET
IT CAN'T MISS
CLASS PRODUCTION
FROM ALL ANGLES
DO WELL AT
THE BOX-OFFICE

Motion Picture News

Marriage by Contract Good Box-Office Material (Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

THIS tale has as its moral that women should remain well satisfied with the good old-fashioned marriage ceremony, that precarious as that sometimes is, it will continue to be generally accepted as the proper and safest standard. However, companionate marriage has come in for a deal of discussion and because of that there is plenty of box-office material in this feature. If it is to be adversely criticised at all, it is because there may be one too many of the marriage sequences.

Patsy Ruth Miller trudges her way sadly through four or five "agreements," each time being satisfied she has hit upon the right man at last. And then she wakes up to find it has all been a dream, that her original companionate agreement with the youth she loves and who loves her has not departed because of a tiff that brought on all the hysteria. But she is smart enough, after all, and so is he, to realize that the old fashioned marriage ceremony is much the most satisfactory.

Miss Miller is very convincing in the handling of a somewhat difficult role which takes her from the young modernist wife through the various marriage episodes until she comes to the border of middle age and with it there is the desire to retain her youth. It is somewhat a relief to know all of these hardships have not been hers when she awakens from her troubled sleep. Lawrence Gray also does some creditable work, as do the other members of the cast. It is a picture that has quite a considerable appeal and it should do well at the box-office.

Drawing Power: The subject is one that has had much attention, and with a well molded story, well done, it promises to click in nearly any house. Exploitation Angles: The companionate marriage subject lends itself to ready exploitation; the good story, the well balanced cast.

THEME: Thoroughly modern girl and youth decide upon a companionate marriage; they quarrel and she leaves in a huff. She drifts from one marriage contract to another, only to finally wake up and realize it has been a dream, which, however, has a happy ending.

Produced and distributed by Tiffany-Stahl. Length, 7,786 feet. Released, December 1, 1928. The Cast: Patsy Ruth Miller, Lawrence Gray, Shirley Palmer, Ralph Emerson, John St. Polis, Claire McDowell, Ruby Lafayette, Duke Martin, Robert Edeson, Raymond Keane. Director, James Flood. Story, Edward Clark. Continuity, James Flood.

THE Film ALL THE NEWS ALL THE TIME

A Picture

EXCITEMENT hit the office a smack last night. It was like this. In came the head reviewer, bubbling over about something or other he had just seen. That, in itself, was unusual. So we inquired what it was all about. Said reviewer had hurried officeward directly after seeing "Marriage by Contract," a Tiffany-Stahl release. Nobody could hold him. We then figured that if this picture was that good, we had better pass on the word as fast as possible.

So we then asked him to point out what the why and the wherefore. And this is what he said—in essence, not in toto, because we had to trim his rave to space requirements:

Built on companionate marriage theme. Shows step by step how modern girl imbricks on such a marriage, but how conventions, etc. break it up. She tries it again. It fails again. Big punch is in showing that a woman has no protection in this companionate marriage stuff. The man walks off, picks another gal but the woman is licked. Age does the trick. A natural for feminine support from all eluhs and church organizations.

Very sexy, but discreetly handled by director James Flood. under the title of "The Marriage by Contract." Class production from all angles. Can't miss, timely theme; enormous woman interest in marriage problems which are dramatically developed. Which is saying plenty about any picture. Toronto and the exhibitor invention beckon, but just as soon we're going to see the picture.

THE Film AND WEEKLY FILM DIGEST

Patsy Ruth Miller in

"Marriage By Contract"

Tiffany-Stahl Length: 7786 ft.
A WINNER. EXPOSES THE BUNK IN THE COMPANIONATE MARRIAGE GAG. SEXY. HUMAN. DRAMATIC. TIMELY. GREAT WOMAN PICTURE.

Cast...Patsy Ruth Miller as the modern girl who tries companionate marriage gives one of her best performances. Laurence Gray fine support. Strong cast includes Ralph Emerson, Shirley Palmer, Robert Edeson, Duke Martin, John St. Polis, Claire McDowell, Ruby Lafayette, etc.

Story and Production...Drama of youth and today. This one is in, by a mile. It's got a great dramatic punch tied up to the very modern theme of companionate marriage. It shows very humanly and powerfully how a modern girl embarks on a contract marriage, and hits the rocks in three months when hubby stays out till 3 a.m. and gets plastered with an old girl friend. In other words, you can't change human nature by dodging a wedding ring and license. That's the tough lesson the girl learns. And she keeps on learning till youth and beauty have flown, along with her admirers. Powerful preachment which women's clubs and churches will back strong. It can't miss.

Direction, James Flood, expert; Author, Edward Clark; Scenario, Frances Hyland; Editor, L. R. Brown; Titles, Paul Percz; Photography, Ernest Miller, excellent.

TIFFANY-STAHl PRODUCTIONS INC.

1540 BROADWAY

NEW YORK CITY

Hatch Books "Lilac Time" In Chicago Armistice Day

Stanley Hatch, Western sales manager for First National Pictures, has returned from a four weeks' business trip to Chicago and reports that on Armistice Day, Sunday, November 11, the company's Colleen Moore special, "Lilac Time," will begin a three weeks intensive showing in the circuit and independent theatres of that city. Twenty prints will be kept in continuous use.

Mr. Hatch reports that G. L. Sears, Chicago branch manager, closed with the Coston Circuit for "Lilac Time," and all of the program pictures in the President Group.

"Lilac Time" is now showing in the Minneapolis territory and on the Butterfield Circuit in Michigan, and Mr. Hatch states that it is doing a consistently record-breaking business in all theatres showing it.

Federal Court to Rule On Robertson Injunction

(Continued from page 1)

Without further hearing, Judge Merriam issued the order, effective Saturday noon. Paramount had no recourse but to obey this order and later found it was impossible to locate the judge to revoke it. So it went through.

The order is returnable for argument tomorrow, when the merits of the case will be gone into finally.

James N. Robertson, owner of the three houses advises that so far, the Cinderella and Roosevelt Theatres in Detroit have played "Warming Up" and "Sawdust Paradise" and that on Sunday both theatres will open with United Artists "Tempest" with disc records, for four days.

This would indicate that the U. A. picture licensed to record with the Movietone system, is furnishing their picture to Robertson to be run over his own apparatus, called the Humaphone.

Should the courts tomorrow decide that Robertson had contracts for Paramount product with sound accompaniment, the company will have inadvertently been a party to another severe test of interchangeability of talking pictures, as has been already demonstrated by the exhibitor's public exhibition of a Western Electric licensee's product on apparatus of an unknown quality.

Several of these W. E. licensees have been recording their product with records furnished by the Victor Company and whether these pictures, so recorded, can play on devices other than Movietone or Vitaphone, of which there doesn't seem to be any doubt that it is being done may enter into the Federal decision tomorrow.

9 Months Paramount Earnings Jump

(Continued from page 1)

000 for the quarter, both ending September 29, 1928. The 9 months' earnings are $300,000 over the 1927 total for a similar period.

These earnings for the nine months are equal to $8.69 per share on the stock issued and outstanding prior to the recent split up of three for one, and are equal to $2.90 per share after such split up, on the new basis of stock outstanding.

FILM ARTS GUILD TO DISTRIBUTE JOLSON

The Film Arts Guild announces that they have secured the World distributing rights on "His Darker Self," the picture which Al Jolson made, first under direction by D. W. Griffith and later left the cast, being replaced by Lloyd Hamilton under Jack Noble direction.

The first effort of Jolson as a film actor was not altogether pleasing and resulted in a law suit brought by Griffith for damages occasioned by Jolson's withdrawal, which Griffith lost.

It will be released on Broadway shortly.

"South of Panama" Done

Lon Young, in charge of production for Chesterfield on the West Coast advises that studio and camera work on "South of Panama," the third release in the current series of eight features, has been completed and that editorial work of cutting and titling is now well under way.

Charles J. Hunt, directed the picture under the supervision of Lon Young and Mr. Hunt also goes on the credit list as editor, he being listed as one of the most capable film editors on the West Coast.

"South of Panama" will be ready for release November 1st.

Dunlap With Columbia

Richard Thorpe and Scott Dunlap have been signed to direct two forthcoming productions by Columbia. The titles of these will be made public very soon.

M-G-M Sign Mary Nolan

Mary Nolan, once known as Imogene Wilson, has just been given her first big chance in pictures. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has signed her to play opposite John Gilbert in that company's production of "Thirst." Miss Nolan was in "Sorrell and Son" but has done nothing worth while since.

Ina Claire in Films?

Ina Claire is either being flirted with or doing a little flirting on her own hook with the picture business. The fair Ina seems quite peeved with the stage and its producers and declared "the best inducement any stage producer could offer a star is a good play and there does not seem to be any lying around." Miss Claire said she had two or three offers for pictures and felt that she would accept one of them.

Prod. In Europe Columbia Plan

(Continued from page 1)

Hollywood will proceed to Europe to take charge. With them will be the leading technical experts of the firm.

Dorothy Revier has been chosen leading lady for these productions while the leading man will be either a well-known French or British actor.

Cohn is conferring, while in Paris, with Frederick E. Shoninger, foreign sales manager.

TWO FORMER STARS IN "IRON MASK"

Two faces familiar to the moving picture fans of the past decade appear in Douglas Fairbanks' newest picture, "The Iron Mask." They are those of Florence Turner and Francis Ford.

Miss Turner portrays the role of the Mother Superior of the Carmelite Convent. Mr. Ford enacts a gentleman of the court of Louis XIII. Both Miss Turner and Mr. Ford were screen stars of the first magnitude in the early days of motion pictures, when Douglas Fairbanks was making his first step from the stage to the screen.

Mr. Fairbanks plays D'Artagnan, the bravest soldier of France, in "The Iron Mask," the sequel to "The Three Musketeers," which he filmed six years ago.

Smitty" Director

Harry Edwards, who has recently completed directing Mack Sennett's "Handy Andy" series, featuring Johnny Burke, has been signed by the Amedee J. Van Beuren Enterprises to direct another Pathe series of two-reel comedies, the "Smitty" subjects.

Flo Lewis in Talkie

Flo Lewis, known on the variety stage as "the inimitable singing comedienne," is to be seen and heard in a Vitaphone comedy sketch, "Give Us A Lift," in which she will be supported by Leo Karlyn, according to an announcement made by Bryan Foy, Vitaphone director and executive.

Warner Signs Many Players

J. L. Warner signed a number of well known players this week to augment further the casts of Vitaphone pictures now in production at the Warner Studio. Lee Moran and William Tooker were selected by him for "No Defense" in which Monte Blue and May McAvoy are co-stars.

William Irving has joined the lineup in "Madonna of Avenue A," in which Dolores Costello is starred. John Davidson has been named for a featured role in "Kid Gloves." Its principals are Conrad Nagel and Lois Wilson.

"You're Wonderful," Pathe Theme Song

"You're Wonderful," Paul Ash's featured song in collaboration with Buddy Fields and Jack Gardner, is the love theme song used by Josiah Zuro in the R.C.A. Photophone recording of Pathe's "Captain Swagger."

Sherman Directs

Stanley Houghton's one-act play, "Phipps," produced on Broadway in 1914 under the direction of the late Holbrook Blinn, will be transferred to the screen as an all-talking picture under Lowell Sherman's supervision. Sherman will direct this play at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio and play the leading role.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

"ROXY"

At different times recently, we have heard a word dropped here and there that Samuel Rothafel, better known as Roxy, will leave the theatre bearing his name at the termination of his present contract. And further that he will be in charge of another 6,000 seat house bearing the name of Rothafel. This theatre to house a permanent stage company of players, given over to the policy of musical reviews. This might be only a rumor, that is, in part. However, most everyone that seems to know as little about it as we do, insists that Roxy will leave the Roxy very soon.

A MISTAKE

If William Fox permits Roxy to leave his Roxy Theatre organization we think he will be making a tremendous mistake for Sam Rothafel under the title of Roxy has the "biggest" name in motion picture show business and a reputation well deserved. He stands head and shoulders over any other showman, theatricals generally and pictures in particular. He is the master of presentations and the greatest producer of stage attractions to be found anywhere. The task of filling a house the size of the Roxy is tremendous. Pictures alone will never do it and it requires a combination of stage presentations, such as has been devised by Rothafel.

A DEBT

Motion pictures owe a greater debt to Sam Rothafel than it can ever repay. He made big theatres possible and individually was instrumental in taking motion pictures out of the store show variety. His ideas and his alone, are responsible for whatever prosperity the big picture palaces are enjoying at present. There is no single person in this industry that has done as much for it as this same Roxy.

We have followed his every movement since the days of his management of the Regent Theatre at 116th St. and 7th Ave. We remember his opening of "The Birth of a Nation," his Strand Theatre policy, the openings of the Rialto and the Rivoli, and his move to the Capitol when everything looked bad for that big house.

A lot of wise showmen argued by the hour with facts and figures to prove that the Roxy Theatre would be the greatest financial bust in show history. It could not pay, the overhead was too great. The task tremendous.

A FOUNDATION

If we were Zukor, Fox, Schenck, Laemmle or any one of the big shots we would start a Samuel Rothafel Foundation Fund. We would go to everybody in this business and solicit funds until several million had been reached. We would lay the whole sum in the lap of Roxy with the words "there you are, old boy, build yourself a theatre, any kind, but it must be on Broadway and run pictures. It's yours. We are paying off our debt and ask only one favor for this payment, that we may continue to steal your ideas for our personal use in order to insure future progress in the exhibition of motion pictures."

SPANISH TALKING NEGATIVES

Fox Harkens To Foreign Revenue — Makes Separate Dialogue

By Special Coast Representative

Realizing that out of a possible 100% in the cash gross on any picture, at least 20% comes from countries that speak and understand Spanish, the production executives on the west coast lot for Fox are now making an additional negative on every talking picture and talking sequence, the dialogue being done in Spanish.

The importance of this move is easily recognized when you consider that the percentage in grosses on pictures for the English speaking nations is about 65%, and with the 20% added for the Spanish nations, but 15% remains for all the remainder of the nations of the world.

It is said that Fox now has over a hundred thousand feet of Spanish talking negative already completed.

Seena Owen Signed

Seena Owen has agreed to leave the quiet of her ranch to play the part of the queen in "Queen Kelly." This is a part that ranks second only to that of Miss Swanson's and Walter Byron's. Erich Von Stroheim is directing this picture.

"Christmas Carol" Again for Universal

Several years ago, Universal made a two real version of the Charles Dickens famous story "Christmas Carol." Rupert Julian directed and played the role of Scrooge.

This organization has now decided to remake this picture under the direction of Tom Terris who will also double in the role of Scrooge. Production starts immediately with release set in plenty of time for the holidays.

Berlin Production

The first picture to be made by Universal in Berlin will be from the Ouida story, "Farone." The treatment and continuity were written by Lucille DeVers. Production will start soon.

"Juanita" For P. F. L.

Captain George Banfield, now putting the finishing touches to "Spangles," super circus production for British Filmcraft, will go on location into Spain for at least a month,—in about two weeks. The picture which takes him into Spain is "Juanita" and will have Gladys Frazin in the lead and Kenneth McLaglen, youngest of the McLaglen brothers, in an important role.

"Juanita" will be released throughout the world by the Paramount organization.

Studio Gossip

The future Rus Farrell airplane pictures are to be made with sound. Reed Howes is in these.

* * *

Harry Meyers has just completed "Dream of Love" Fred. Niblo, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production.

* * *

Frank Hagney is playing the heavy in Burton King's current production.

* * *

Ralph Tucker is making his first comedy for Hal Roach.

* * *

Anders Randolph is back in Hollywood after a seven weeks location trip on the "Exodus." He starts work at Fox soon.

* * *

Poodles Hanneford will make eight more comedies for Weiss Brothers.

* * *

George Kotsonaros has started on his second talkie for Universal, "The Shakedown."

* * *

Nina Quartero is playing the lead in the current Warner Brothers Rin Tin Tin picture.

* * *

Clyde Cook is still working on "Captain Lash" for Fox. After seven weeks, he calls it a career, not a picture.

* * *

Robert Lorraine, who occupies somewhat the same position in the English theatrical world as that held in America by Walter Hampden, may be starred this season in London in a play by a Hollywood motion picture director.

The play is "Daughter of Joy" and was written by E. H. Griffith.

* * *

Eulalie Jansen has been added to the cast of "She Goes to War."

* * *

Joe Jackson is both titling "The Greyhound Limited" and writing the dialogue for "Alimony Annie."

* * *

Billy Bevan will make one picture for Sennett.

* * *

Thelma Hill, Bud Duncan and Kit Guard have started work on the sixth of the Toots and Casper series. St. Elmo Boyce is directing it for Darmour-F.B.O.

* * *

Marion Davies' next picture for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer will be "Mary of Vassar," by Sarah Y. Mason.

* * *

Frances Marion's first assignment on returning from Europe will be the screen treatment of Lon Chaney's next for M-G-M, "Tatterly."

* * *

Louis King director for F. B. O. has resumed work on "The Little Savage" after being held up six weeks by the broken arm of Buzz Barton.

* * *

D. W. Griffith's "Love Song" is due for a change in title. "Masquerade" and "Passion Song" are being considered.

WILLIAM COLLIER TO DIRECT JOHNNY HINES

William Collier, Sr., noted stage player and director of legitimate productions as well has left for Hollywood to handle the talking sequences in the first Hines talking picture, "A Pair of Sixes."

This production will be made by the B. & H. Enterprises, who made all of the Hines First National pictures and is being made without any definite release in sight. It is the contention of C. C. Burr, if the picture is good, they will have no trouble in getting a satisfactory release.

Paramount Contract

Contracts for the erection of the new Liberty Theatre, Corning, New York, have been awarded by Victor A. Rigaumont, theatre architect of New York City, to the Corning Building Company. Construction is to be fireproof throughout. House will play pictures.

"U" Executives Back

Ted Schlanger, sales director, and Fred J. McConnell, sales manager of short product, for Universal, returned to New York Friday from New Orleans, where they had gone to confer with the Schlanger interests on Universal representation in the gulf coast section.

Ralph B. Williams, southern sales division manager, accompanied them to New York. Announcement of the arrangements consummated during their trip probably will be made later.

"Marked Money"

Pathe

Directed by Spencer Bennett
Story by Howard Green
Featuring Junior Coughlan with Bert Woodruff and George Duryea.

GOOD DRAMA DIRECTED BY PATHE'S FAMOUS SERIAL DIRECTOR. HAS A BANG-UP FINISH AND HOLDS THE INTEREST THRUOUT. THE KIDS WILL LOVE IT AND THE OLDER ONES WILL TAKE THE KIDS.

Junior Coughlan is the boy who causes all the trouble, because when his father died he requested Capt. Fairchild, (Bert Woodruff), to take care of him and the $25,000 he had saved for the child's education, etc. There's a gang of thieves after this booty and the action of the picture concerns the foiling of their plans by Junior and the happy ending whereby the aviator hero is finally accepted by the retired sea-faring captain, who always hated "those flying fools."

Coughlan is fine as is Bert Woodruff and the comedy relief is well handled by Tom Kennedy. George Duryea and Virginia Bradford do well enough as the hero and heroine of the love interest.

WEST COAST PRODUCTION NEWS

By J. HARRISON EDWARDS

There seems to be a renewed activity around most of the major studios, due to their untangling a lot of difficulties recently encountered with talking pictures. The plants are by no means running capacity, but more productions are scheduled for early shooting at this time than at any time for the past six months.

Spot News

Fox, through an arrangement with Paramount, that gives them a participation in the services of Nancy Carroll for a certain number of pictures, has assigned this popular young player to the feminine lead in "The Great White North" which will have an early production on under the direction of Charles Klein. . . . The first Fox Movietone production with the celebrated negro actor Charles Gilpin, will be from the pen of Walter Weems, former black face comedian in vaudeville and will be known as "Lonesome Road." Gilpin arrived in Hollywood today. . . . Tom Geraghty will write the titles for "Naughty Baby" the Alice White vehicle to be released by First National and directed by Mervyn LeRoy. . . . Raoul Paoli, one of Europe's champion athletes, has an important role in the Fairbanks picture "The Iron Mask." . . . James Tingle will direct George O'Brien and Lois Moran in a Fox production titled "False Colors." . . . Leatrice Joy has been signed by Fox to play opposite Victor McLaglen in an untitled picture to be directed by John Ford.

Pickford Undecided

Word comes from the coast that Mary Pickford is undecided about making a "Movie-talkie" version of the New York stage success "Coquette."

It is thought that it would be inadvisable for her to portray the part of a girl that commits suicide.

Doraine to Marry

Lucy Doraine, ex-wife of Michael Curtiz, director, and one time leading woman in pictures has announced her engagement to Dr. Richard Riethmuller of the staff of oral surgery at the University of Southern California. Miss Doraine obtained her divorce from Curtiz in Europe.

Margaret Mann for Vaudeville

Margaret Mann, sixty year old star of "Four Sons," whose contract with Fox is about up, has decided to make her stage debut in vaudeville. She will visit Aberdeen, Scotland, to see a sister living there, before starting on her vaudeville career.

Goldener With F. N.

Abe Goldener, former film man of Paramount and first National in Michigan is now connected with Jules Levy's First National office in the New York territory.

Now IN OPERATION the World's Largest Studio

LEGEND
1 ADMINISTRATION BLDG.	11 AIR-CONDITIONING BLDG.
2 PROJECTION ROOM	12 POWER HOUSE AND REFR.
3 RECTICAL HALL	13 REFRIGERATION MACHINE
4 CUTTING RM. & TEST LAB	14 AIR CONDITIONING BLDG.
5 SOUNDPROOF STAGES 7&8	15 CARPENTER SHOP
6	16 DRAPEY
7 FAN ROOM	17 TRANSPORTATION BLDG.
8 ORGAN BLOWER ROOM	18 GENERATOR BLDG.
9 SOUNDPROOF STAGES 9&14	19 COOLING TOWER
	20 ELECTRIC BLDG.
	21 PAINT SHOP
	22 PROF. DEPARTMENT
	23 DIRECTOR'S OFFICES
	24 GARAGE
	25 PARKING GROUND
	30-31 VAULT

FOX MOVIE TONE STUDIO
FOX HILLS
LOS ANGELES CAL.

Movietone City—Home of FOX
TALKING FILM

In This Issue Carl Laemmle Tells "What's Right With The Movies"

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 100

New York, Tuesday, October 30, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Critics

Somebody told the admirable Robert Sherwood, the motion picture's severest pal and most amiable critic, that "expert showmen say that all a critic is called upon to do is to review and report rather than criticise" and he retorts, "They are talking nonsense and they know it."

* * *

Nonsense is right and what expert showmen have said or are saying it? The views of the proper province of a motion picture critic are almost as varied as the number of persons who hold views about critics. There are some points of agreement among showmen and one of them is this:

A critic for the daily newspaper is serving his readers best when he gives them a clear idea of the nature and quality of a picture so that they may be advised of good fun, good tragedy or other good entertainment or warned away from the waste of time in seeing poor stuff.

* * *

The chief problem of the critic—is critic he be on the foregoing appraisal plan—is to be able to figure what entertainment will and what will not delight the reading public he is writing to. If he appraises well and guesses with judgment he stands out as a desirable scribbler for his paper and is beloved of his public. If he socks a good picture he unwittingly misinforms that public and if they see the picture and like it they put him down as a numb wit.

* * *

For Mr. Sherwood his own formula is undoubtedly best and it is this: "All that a critic in any branch of art is called upon to do is to shout forth his own private, personal views and opinions, and the more loudly he shouts them the better and more useful a critic he will be." For less competent holders of opinion than Mr. Sherwood the formula is not so Jake. We know daily newspaper critics of motion pictures whose opinion isn't worth reading.

* * *

"You have a good motion picture," said a man to a great producer. "Who says so?" asked the great producer, and with this question he drove into the midriff of the subject of critics. "Who says so" is important. If Sherwood says so we listen.

ARTHUR JAMES.

SEX HYGIENE PICTURES BRING CENSORSHIP MENACE

DE FOREST VICTOR IN U. S. SUPREME COURT ON OSCILLATING TRANSMITTER

The United States Supreme Court yesterday decided a suit brought by De Forest Radio Telephone & Telegraph Co., against the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co., involving a feedback patent on radio oscillating transmitter, which is an adjunct sometimes incorporated in talking pictures to increase volume, against the Westinghouse Co.

Westinghouse was represented by John W. Davis and Dr. De Forest by Charles Evans Hughes and Darby and Darby.

The device on which the patent suit was fought, is now used generally in broadcasting, by building up volume through regeneration.

De Forest, Edwin Armstrong and two others originally filed applications for patents on this device, but De Forest's, not being properly protected, patents were granted to Armstrong who assigned his patents to Westinghouse.

Law suit followed law suit in different courts, until the District of Columbia courts sustained De Forest's contentions and now finally the U. S. Supreme Court. The Radio Corporation of America has already been licensed by both Westinghouse and De Forest for use of this transmitter, and if Westinghouse had won, it is believed a monopoly would have been set up.

Pettijohn Appeals For 100% Clean Screens

Purveyors A Disgrace

So called Sex Hygiene pictures are creating a furore in the business owing to the imminence of adverse legislation as a result of their use by theatres.

In Minneapolis a local leasure is being introduced into the councils to ask for censorship regime and this is due to the showing of several sex hygiene pictures in some of the larger chain groups and not by small exhibitors.

(Continued on page 2)

De Forest- Movietone Suit Set For Nov. 20

The De Forest Movietone suits against the Fox-Case Corporation, which has yet to come into court, will now get its first hearing on November 20th, which is the arbitrary date set by both sides.

Darby & Darby are representing De Forest in this suit.

Ade Story for Meighan

Thomas Meighan, who recently joined Warner Bros., as a Vitaphone star, left New York today for French Lick where he will confer with George Ade on a suitable manuscript to serve as Mr. Meighan's first Vitaphone vehicle.

Election Possibilities

This is the earliest in any political campaign to date that motion picture theatres have begun to exploit the possibilities of election night to the theatre.

In many first-runs throughout the city, slides, placards and one sheets are already announcing the flashing of election returns on the screen of the theatre, inviting patrons to spend the evening in a comfortable seat, while the national returns come in.

Exhibitors who hop to this early are going to cash in, as the intense interest displayed in this election exceeds that of any in the past 50 years.

WARNER-SHUBERT $1,000,000 DEAL

Warner Brothers, it became known yesterday, are dickering with the Shubert Theatrical Enterprises for the film rights to some 30 stage dramas and musical comedies, produced by the Shuberts, in former years. The annual royalty for use of such a group of plays is expected to exceed $1,000,000.

It is probably that any arrangement which may be worked out will include exhibition privileges at Shubert houses.

BIG WORLD WIDE UFA-U. S. CONTRACT

Following negotiations between the representatives of the World Wide Pictures, and the UFA Pictures, a deal was yesterday closed whereby World Wide will distribute UFA productions hereafter in the unsold territory of the U. S. and Canada.

On behalf of UFA, papers were signed by Kurt Hubert and F. Wynnee Jones, while Alexander S. Aronson, J. D. Williams and Jos.

(Continued on page 2)

Eastman Kodak to Market New Talkies in 2 Months

TONEFILM PERFECTION DUE TO WEIN TUBES

TONEFILM uses no batteries, the entire power for its system being supplied by electric wires which operate through tubes manufactured by the TONEFILM Company.

These tubes are the invention of Mr. S. Wein, who is also the inven-

(Continued on page 2)

Rochester — Reports are filtering through that the Eastman Kodak Company is preparing to put on the market a new talking picture process shortly which will be distributed through the Radio Corporation of America.

Eastman Kodak chemists have been working on the device for some time and expect to put their O.K. on it before Christmas.

The Eastman Theatre has already received a franchise for the new

(Continued on page 2)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sundays

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager. Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wadour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada

New York; — Dave Bader, Ted Schlanger's able assistant up at Universal, did a lot of driving over the week and proudly announces that he did not have even one debate with a traffic officer. . . . Watterson Rothaker, fresh from a long vacation in Italy, arrived in New York Sunday morning and plans to remain here until after the Horse Show. . . . Eddie Klein and George Harvey staged a parade down Broadway, one with a British flag and the other with an American, finishing up at the Motion Picture Club where the flags form a background for the magnificent Sam Harris trophy which is on exhibition. . . . Jack Bachmann, who has been here for the past two weeks looking at plays for Famous Players, will leave Thursday for the coast, and New York still looks good to him. . . . Paul J. Swift, sales manager of Vitaphone, is making a long stay in Dallas, Tex., getting the new exchange in good working order. . . . Charles Stumar, star cameraman and John Surtees, assistant director, arrived from the coast yesterday to join Director Levigard who will make pictures in Europe for Universal. . . . Artie Stebbins leaves for the coast tomorrow for a lengthy stay, and during his absence the fine Italian hand of Assistant Treasurer Jim Normanly, will be affixed to all Motion Picture Club checks. . . . J. J. McCarthy, now located in Los Angeles for Fox, is in New York for a couple of weeks and is stopping at the Plaza, feeling fine and hearty. . . . R. S. Bell, First National's district manager for Canada, with headquarters in Toronto, is in New York conferring with Ned Depinet and other First National officials. . . . W. E. Galloway, Southern district manager for First National, who has been traveling over his territory for the past two weeks, is expected home in a few days. . . . Phil Goldstone has started his first Tonefilm picture at the Metropolitan studios at Fort Lee.

"What's Right With The Movies"

(Eighth of a Series by Industry's Leaders)

By CARL LAEMMLE
President, Universal Pictures

One of the best ways I know to find out what's right with a proposition is to look first at the things which may be wrong. Using this method of getting at the film business, let's ask ourselves,

ARE RETURNS TOO SMALL?

Well, I know of no other line of business where an equal amount of work and brains will bring better returns. I have heard the automobile industry cited as an example of easy money. If you believe this, ask the man who's in it. He'll tell you he has had to sweat blood to get anywhere at all in his business—and he's always worrying lest the bottom drop out of his market overnight. If you do succeed in finding some line of work that brings safer profits than the movies, you will also find that it has been established from two to ten times as long as our industry.

IS THE WORK TOO HARD?

Of course it's hard. It is an industry demanding constant application and a complete disregard of working hours. It is a business of hustle, jump and action. It is a job of scheming, planning, looking ahead, trying to out-think the other fellow with new plans and new improvements. But it is also a business of glorious thrill, of tingling excitement, of immeasurable pleasure in achievement. What other work would give us the "kick" we get out of this?

IS THE INVESTMENT RISKY?

Someone who gets fat on statistics has dug up the fact that the percentage of failures in the moving picture business is less than the length of a gnat's eyelash when compared with that of any other big line of business. Think back over all the years you have known of this industry — how many downright financial failures can you remember? A New York banker recently told his fellow bankers that he considered the producing and distributing end of the business the safest thing he ever investigated, because the producer and distributor still own what they sell.

IS THERE A CONSPIRACY?

Great complaint is made because foreign countries are passing special laws against American pictures. I have never been seriously afraid of such artificial barriers to trade. I am sure the only thing that can give us a severe trouncing in the film markets of the world is better pictures — and no other country has made them yet.

ARE STORIES HARD TO FIND?

Of course they are. Nearly everything that goes to make up a good picture is hard to find. If they were easy to find anyone could take our jobs away from us in a flash. Good stories are hard to find, but they are not dying out. As a matter of fact more good authors and thinkers are devoting their efforts to the improvement of screen story technique today than ever in our history. The best stories are still to be written. The best pictures are still to come.

ARE THE "TALKIES" A CURSE?

Temporarily they are a terrific problem for everybody. No man is wise enough to know whether they are a permanent thing or a passing novelty. But while there is any demand at all for them, we've got to have them. That means you and me and everybody else. The fact that we've got to solve new technical problems is only another hard job, but it is by no means the hardest we have ever had to tackle. One step at a time will take care of us.

So, suppose we look at the doughnut instead of the hole. Suppose we hitch up our trousers and get ready for the era of additional prosperity which will be ours if we pave the way for it and deserve it.

Sex Hygiene Pictures Bring Censorship Menace

(Continued from page 1)

C. C. Pettijohn, general counsel of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America in speaking on this subject yesterday said:

"The most unfit pictures are the so called sex hygiene pictures, none of which are made by any of the producers regularly engaged in the production of motion pictures. The funny thing to me is that these pictures portraying the human body—not for educational purposes and most certainly not for entertainment purposes—are all endorsed by doctors, clergymen and so called social uplifters, who have a peculiar complex that these pictures have a wholesome, moral effect on the youth of the land. In 46 of the 48 states there are statutes providing for the punishment upon conviction of any individual who has any part in the distribution or exhibition of a filthy, immoral or indecent picture.

"The states do not need and if they knew would not want censorship. The people who have these few pictures that are a disgrace to the business are afraid to run them in a state that does not have censorship. They are afraid of the state laws. They make their big money in the towns and municipalities where they can get permits from Censorship Boards to protect them from those statutes and those are the places where they sell and exhibit that type of picture, much to our disgust."

Tonefilm Perfection Due to Wein Tubes

(Continued from page 1)

tor of the Wein tube used in Television. The advantages claimed by TONEFILM in perfection of tone quality and cheapness of operation are due to these tubes which eliminate batteries and give a more stable and powerful current, thus eliminating the base vibrations that are found in so many systems when reproducing the human voice.

This is another reason for the claim made by TONEFILM, that once its equipment is properly installed (and all installations will be made by the TONEFILM Company) that their equipment will give less trouble and be operated with less expense than any other talking equipment on the market.

Eastman Kodak Markets Talkies in 2 Months

(Continued from page 1)

RCA Photophone which will be in operation here for the next few weeks. It is asserted the new Eastman patents will harmonize with the film rights for the Photophone, although this is not definite.

New York — E. C. Boucher of RCA Photophone said yesterday that he knew nothing about this deal and that there wasn't anything on as far as RCA was concerned. He did think that the new Eastman device concerned a talking picture outfit for the home, and whatever report has come from Rochester he knew of no RCA hook-up with it.

William Rubin Dead

William Rubin, prominent attorney, real estate owner and interested in the amusement business, is dead of apoplexy at his home in Syracuse, N. Y.

He was a senior brother of J. Robert Rubin, vice president and general counsel of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. The late Mr. Rubin was well-known to many motion picture people of importance and was esteemed as a man of high character, marked ability and possessed of personal qualities which included a rare kindness and a capacity of friendship.

$3. P-F-L Dividend Rate Expected

Wall Street's financial experts are prophesying a bright outlook for Paramount. Interest in the prospects of the company are increasing as the time of the dividend meeting draws near.

Paramount Famous-Lasky directors will meet on November 12 and it is expected that the new common stock will be placed on a $3. basis at that time.

Big World Wide UFA—U. S. Contract

(Continued from page 1)

S. Skirboll O.K.'d the deal for World Wide.

This complete North American distribution, which is in addition to the territories now being handled by Brill Distributing, will make the entire product of the UFA studios available to the public of this country.

Climb Aboard With Success!

No. 610—Straight from the Shoulder Talk by Carl Laemmle,
President of the Universal Pictures Corporation.

UNIVERSAL PLUS PAUL WHITEMAN AND HIS WORLD-FAMOUS jazz orchestra! Silent and sound!

UNIVERSAL PLUS "THE CLIMAX," THE FAMOUS PLAY BY EDWARD
Locke. Silent and sound!

UNIVERSAL PLUS "BARNUM WAS RIGHT," THE FAMOUS PLAY BY Philip Bartholomae and John Meehan. Silent and sound!

UNIVERSAL PLUS RING LARDNER'S "YOU KNOW ME AL," THE slang classic of the century. Silent and Sound!

UNIVERSAL PLUS "THE MINSTREL SHOW," PLUS EDDIE LEONARD,
the beloved minstrel man. Silent and sound!

UNIVERSAL PLUS "SHOWBOAT," THE GREATEST BOX-OFFICE PROPerty in the business. Silent and sound!

UNIVERSAL PLUS "BROADWAY," FAMOUS PLAY OF THE METROPOlis by George Abbott and Philip Dunning. Silent and sound!

UNIVERSAL PLUS "THE BARGAIN IN THE KREMLIN," THE MIGHTY story by Sir Philip Gibbs, with Joseph Schildkraut. Silent and sound!

UNIVERSAL PLUS DENNIS KING, THE STRONGEST-PULLING STAR
Ziegfeld ever had. Silent and sound!

THESE ARE ONLY A FEW OF THE GLORIOUS THINGS IN STORE FOR you if you tie up with the fastest-moving organization in the fastest-moving business in this most excellent world!

THESE ARE ONLY A FEW OF THE NEWEST SURE-FIRE MONEY-MAKERS
the Universal has clinched for you in the face of the stiffest kind of competition.

UNIVERSAL IS STEPPING OUT AS NEVER BEFORE. IT IS LETTING absolutely nothing stand in the way of putting you ahead of the times—of giving you the world's very best—of seeing that quality reigns supreme!

UNIVERSAL IS NEGOTIATING STILL MORE DEALS WHICH WILL AStonish the theatre and moving picture world. It is mapping out its program so far ahead that it will be able to give you the cream of the cream in both silent and sound pictures.

UNIVERSAL WILL BE SATISFIED WITH NOTHING LESS THAN UNDISputed leadership in the show world.

WATCH UNIVERSAL GO! AND WHILE YOU'RE WATCHING, TIE UP with it as tight as you can!

What's RIGHT with the Movies?

"I don't know about you, Old Timer, but EVERYTHING'S jake with me.

"What kick have I got coming when I've just finished a two-week run of Colleen Moore in 'Lilac Time', with the old house record taking it on the chin both weeks!

"You can afford to give cynics the razzberry when you can play attractions like Corinne Griffith in 'Outcast', 'The Whip', 'Waterfront', Billie Dove in 'The Night Watch', 'Companionate Marriage', Milton Sills in 'The Crash' and Ken Maynard in 'The Glorious Trail'—all within as many weeks.

"And you just naturally can't help feeling that show business is one sweet racket to be in when you're sitting pretty with coming shows like Corinne Griffith in 'The Divine Lady'; Milton Sills, Dorothy Mackaill and Betty Compson in 'The Barker'; 'Show Girl' with Alice White; and 'The Haunted House' with a nine-star cast—all dated up for weeks to come.

"I don't have to worry about Sound. I'm set with 26 talkies from First National, and 11 more with sound effects.

"Stars? Every First National picture I play carries more money names than I can find room for on my marquee.

"And what a future to look forward to when you've signed for Colleen Moore in 'Synthetic Sin', Corinne Griffith in 'Saturday's Children', Richard Barthelmess in 'Scarlet Seas', Billie Dove in 'Adoration', 'Stranded in Paradise' with Milton Sills and Dorothy Mackaill, and Alice White in 'Naughty Baby'.

"Yessir, if you're asking me I'll say that First National Pictures are What's Right with the Movies

"Right?—H - - I, they're PERFECT!"

In This Issue Lou B. Metzger Tells "What's Right With The Movies"

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 101

New York, Wednesday, October 31, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Joyful Sound

Tiffany-Stahl's first picture ambassador to the Embassy sounded on last night at the theatre recently blessed with Columbia's "Submarine"—to a piping business. The new delighter, "The Cavalier," is an all-star romantic drama with a Reisenfeld score that is as pashly ardent as a Strauss waltz and what with its R.C.A.—right on the film—sounding, it is the best musical offering in that playhouse since the "Merry Widow." That was, by the way, with an alive and hard-working orchestra.

* * *

"The Cavalier's" cast is heroined by Barbara Bedford, a comely baggage, and then besides Richard Talmadge there are Stuart Holmes—comic heavy—David Torrence—heavy heavy—and Nora Cecil. Talmadge in all his dangerous exploits is astoundingly good but the big gizzard parts his hair in the middle and wears a bandeau over his brow that makes him look like something knocked off a birthday cake. Yet and nevertheless and notwithstanding, the picture lives it down and provides a well-seasoned dish of Spanish romance, garnished with melodrama and served with exciting speed. And the synchronization sounded good to us and to the starch-fronted first-night audience.

* * *

Speaking of audience—just think—less than two years ago we called 'em spectators!

* * *

Plans for the Anglo-American dinner are ripening and an active committee is shaping the affair along big league lines—as might be expected. The awarding of the Sam Harris cup to the male or female who has done most to promote international film amity between America and Britain, is still keeping the guessers guessing. If it were not for embarrassing the committee (which, strike us pink we would certainly avoid) we would trot out our choice for the honor and print his name in bold face type. If the committee is at all interested in our vote we shall be glad to oblige in camera sotto voce, q.t. and snub nosa.

* * *

Henry King's most recent which arrives on Friday, November 9th, at the Rivoli is called "The Woman Disputed." An inquisitive asks: "Does it mean she was or she did?"

ARTHUR JAMES.

"INTERCHANGE ACCORD PROMISES RETURN TO NORMALCY" - POWERS

Court Grants P-F-L Delay In Robertson—Talkie Case

RCA's - NEW TALKIE PROJECTOR READY

The RCA Photophone, who have previously been reported by Exhibitors Daily Review as secretly engaged in the production of a new talking picture projector which would be a standard single-unit outfit, not dependent on separate attachments, has finally completed the new model.

This machine has been installed in the Eastman Theatre in Rochester and is awaiting a try-out test, at the concluding of which it is expected that the company will start manufacturing quantities for delivery to all theatres already licensed and to be licensed by Photophone.

G. E. PHOTOPHONE BEAM NOT FOR TALKIES

The General Electric Company demonstrated at Atlanta, Georgia, this week, the turning of light beams into music with Photophone equipment, at the will of the operator.

The device utilized the photoelectric tube, electric pick-up and new amplifiers and sound reproducers.

This "stunt" sending over a light

(Continued on page 2)

Final Argument on Nov. 7—Restraining Order Stands

Detroit — Paramount attorneys yesterday requested a temporary adjournment of the final arguments which were to be heard here yesterday in the Circuit Court, on the temporary restraining order obtained by the James N. Robertson Enterprises against Paramount and several other distributors, which forced them to

(Continued on page 2)

6000-SEATER FOR STANLEY-NEWARK

Irving D. Rossheim, president of the Stanley Company of America, yesterday announced the acquisition by the Stanley-Fabian Corporation, a subsidiary of the Stanley Company, of a site in Newark, New Jersey, upon which there is to be erected the largest, best appointed and most beautiful theatre in the State.

The plot, located at 878-880 Broad Street, covers an area of more than 50,000 square feet, and the de luxe theatre to occupy this site, and to be known as the "Stanley," will have a seating capacity of 6,000. The plot and building upon completion will represent an investment of approximately $4,500,000.

Cinephone Prepared For Rush of Business As Anxiety Decreases

Commenting on the statements made by E. E. Boucher of R.C.A. Photophone, and J. E. Otterson of Western Electric Company, on the question of "interchangeability," P. A. Powers of Cinephone yesterday stated:

"The declarations of Mr. Boucher and Mr. Otterson on the subject of 'interchangeability' will have a most gratifying effect in settling much of the chaotic condition of the motion picture business."

"The disordered condition of the industry, caused by the sudden popularity of the sound picture, has affected the entire business, from the box office to the studio. And the greatest single item in the general disorder has been due to the anxiety of the exhibitor to be assured freedom in the selection of product.

(Continued on page 2)

GOODMAN SLATED FOR R-K-O PRESIDENCY

Maurice Goodman of Lehmann Brothers and also a Vice President of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum Circuit, who played an important part in the sale of K-A-O to the Radio Corporation of America and associates, will become president of the new company which has been formed, the Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corp., according to those close to Lehmann Brothers.

H. M. Warner On Coast

H. M. Warner, president of Warner Bros., has arrived in Hollywood from New York. He will spend several weeks in the film capital conferring with J. L. Warner on details relative to the completion of the company's current schedule of pictures.

Hoagland With Univ.

Carleton Hoagland has been engaged by Universal to act as contact man, working out of the home office, for all Movietone people in the East. He will handle people from the legitimate and vaudeville stages.

NOW GET AFTER THIS ONE!

Exhibitors Daily Review again records itself as against the Hudson Motion Picture Bill and calls on other papers published in behalf of the industry to take a similar position. Canon Chase, who is organizing the propaganda in behalf of this bill, which he has announced he is sponsoring, is arranging for a ballyhoo party in Washington, November 20th, for the purpose of boosting the measure.

Officially this is House Bill 13686, and it is the most radical measure ever offered to the Congress, which affects the motion picture industry.

It provides for the creation of a Commission with power to control, regulate and dominate the whole industry—producers, distributors and exhibitors. It includes the salient features of not only the Brookhart Bill, with which the industry was confronted at the last session of the Congress, but also those of the important Anti-trust Laws, the Federal Trade Commission Act, and certain portions of the Interstate Commerce Commission Act, and concludes with provisions for national censorship.

Tomorrow we will present further facts concerning this bill.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wardour St., London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York;—Teddy Kessler, book-keeper of the Motion Picture Club, is thinking of starting a class in penmanship for the benefit of a number of club members whose signature on restaurant checks furnishes a daily puzzle . . . Mort Shaw, he of much hair and no hat, is writing titles for German made pictures for Affiliated European Producers, and I'll bet they'll be good . . . John Humm has been named chairman of the chess committee of the Motion Picture Club and is now hunting for enough talent to build up a tournament . . . Eddie Halperin is enthusiastic over reports from the coast of the progress of his new picture, now in production, the title of which is "She Goes To War" and is built on a story dealing with the woman's angle of the great war . . . Tommy Meighan has gone to French Lick to meet up George Ade and the two of them will try to find a story for Meighan's next picture . . . Major Bowes will appear in person and on the Movietone screen at the Capitol next week, the occasion being the Ninth anniversary of the big Broadway house, and a big anniversary party will be on all week . . . Al Aronson, European representative of World Wide Pictures, who has been here in conference with J. D. Williams and Jos. Skirboll for the past three weeks, sails today for France . . . J. Robert Rubin, of Metro, was called to Syracuse yesterday by the death of his brother William Rubin a prominent attorney with many friends in the film industry . . . Mary and Doug, after a short and quiet stay of but a few days, left Sunday night for the coast, and the hunch is the trip east was chiefly for the purpose of being entertained by the President and Mrs. Coolidge . . . Marshall Nielan, who has been in New York for the past three weeks framing up a lot of big new business, is leaving on the Century this morning for the coast . . .

"What's Right With The Movies"

(Ninth of a Series by Industry's Leaders)

By Lou B. Metzger

General Manager, Universal Pictures

You bet the movies are all right, and they are getting better right along. We still have a lot of very cheerful and profitable improvements to look forward to. One very hopeful sign, too. I know a great many of them will be brought out by your very interesting symposium.

One very hopeful sign to me of the splendid solidity of this industry and its progressive spirit is the way it has taken hold of and adapted this newest invention, talking pictures. When the radio came, some industries not so virile as ours, might have caved in. But the movies didn't even make a whimper. It went right ahead and assimilated radio. It assimilated it so well that the radio method of amplification became the basis of the talking picture invention which has caused as great a revolution as ever engulfed an industry. My admiration has been excited by the way the industry rose to the opportunities rather than staggered under a blow.

Talking pictures may not be the greatest possible invention for moving pictures; many others may come later which will be even more important. Nevertheless, I would like to draw a picture of the interest and the benefit which have followed the acceptance of talking pictures.

In the first place, it has been a great stimulation to theatre business, and anything which will result in a stimulation of this character is splendid and is to be encouraged. Talking pictures have attracted a great many who have never been to the theatre or who have for any reason interrupted their theatre attendance.

In the second place, talking pictures have done a great deal not only for the country at large but for the small town exhibitor. It has brought to the small town exhibitor a potentiality which he can share with the Roxy, the Capital, the Paramount, in proportion to his attendance figures. In a short time there will be available to him synchronization and sound accompaniments which, within his own limitations, will permit him to present the same things which Roxy presents in his theatre. This will make for a great deal more enjoyment on the part of moving picture patrons and should make for many more moving picture patrons for the small town exhibitor as well as virtually bringing the small town theatre on a par with the big town theatre.

The movies, more than any one agency, have brought contentment to the rural communities and to the smaller cities outside of metropolitan areas. With improvements which have come and which will come, moving pictures will bring a unity of thought and living and of enjoyment to the whole of the United States which it has never enjoyed before and which it never could enjoy because of the lack of this one unifying medium.

A business which can produce such an essential as that cannot help but be right.

Court Grants Delay In Robertson Case

(Continued from page 1)

deliver sound accompaniment to Robertson, on all pictures he had so contracted for.

The Court set a new date of November 7th and the restraining order still stands, according to Robertson, who O.K.'d the request for adjournment.

New York — Paramount Famous-Lasky Corp., who had been forced to deliver sound records to Robertson's theatres on "Warning Up," yesterday stated that the postponement of final argument on the mandatory order, was arranged, for mutual convenience. They said further, that as far as Paramount was concerned, there was no restraining order bothering them, since Robertson, who had no need to apply for a court order against other distributors with whom he has contracts for sound pictures, picked out someone with whom he had no contract for sound, and with whom he only had some sort of booking arrangements.

Levigard Sails For Foreign "U" Production

Joseph Levigard, Universal director, arrived in New York Saturday en-route to Germany where he will make pictures for Universal at their studios there. He planned to book passage for the return trip of the dirigible Graf Zeppelin, but the craft departed before it could be arranged. He sails on the Columbus to-night at midnight. He is accompanied by Charles Stumar, cameraman, and Robert Surtees, assistant.

Before commencing his first production, he plans to visit his home in Frankfort, Germany. While there he will accept the invitation of his Alma Mater, Geissen College, to receive a special degree.

Interchange Accord Promises Normalcy Return—Powers

(Continued from page 1)

"This was a most natural anxiety. To be limited in the matter of bookings meant a permanent box office handicap and business caution demanded hesitation until all doubt of freedom in film and equipment selection was settled by definite declarations on the question of 'interchangeability'."

CINEPHONE CONFIDENT

"That there never was any doubt in my mind on the ultimate answer to this question is evidenced by the research and laboratory work on Cinephone which has gone forward without interruption for the past three years. Manufacturing activities were put into full operation several months ago but appreciating the mental attitude of the exhibitor practically no effort has been made to sell equipment beyond entering into distributing agreements with qualified sales organizations in a number of important territories.

"Now that the atmosphere has been clarified and the exhibitor's doubt on 'interchangeability' dispelled, we may expect the industry to return to normalcy in bookings, equipment, and healthy competitive business policies.

HERE TO STAY

"No one doubts that the sound picture is here to stay. With this as an accepted fact there remains only the matter of proper installations to satisfy the demand for sound pictures and the free selection of product to meet competition, to put the industry back on a well ordered business basis.

"There remains, of course, only one other question. The question of patent protection. But, speaking for Cinephone, this need not concern the exhibitor nor the producer, as a clause in our contracts protects the licensees from liability in all questions of patent rights.

"This clause reads:

"Cinephone agrees that subject to the provisions hereof, it will at its own expense defend any and all actions and suits which may during the term hereof be brought against the Exhibitor for infringement of patents or license agreements by reason of the use by the Exhibitor, for the purpose and in the manner contemplated by this agreement, of apparatus and equipment furnished by Cinephone hereunder, and will pay or satisfy all judgments and decrees for profits, damages and/or costs which may be finally awarded against the Exhibitor by the Court of last resort in any such action or suit on account of any such infringement, provided that the Exhibitor shall give Cinephone prompt notice of such action or suit, full information and all reasonable cooperation in connection therewith and full opportunity to defend the same, and provided further, that this agreement shall not extend to any infringement or claim of infringement from the use of any of said equipment in combination with any apparatus or thing (not including films or records of Cinephone's licensees) not furnished by Cinephone, and that the liability of Cinephone under this agreement shall in no case exceed the total amount paid hereunder by the Exhibitor to Cinephone."

G. E. Photophone Beam Not For Talkies

(Continued from page 1)

beam is reputed to be 45 years old, first invented by Emile Berliner and called by him Photophone, in 1885. It has no relation to the RCA Photophone talking picture development, which transmits light into sound and then reverses, and is not intended for movies, according to RCA Photophone officials.

TONEFILM

THE STANDARD
TALKING PICTURE MACHINE
OF THE WORLD

CAUTION! EXHIBITORS

DO NOT BUY A MOTION PICTURE TALKING
DEVICE OF ANY MAKE UNTIL YOU HAVE HEARD
IT PLAY—

THERE IS A VAST DISTINCTION BETWEEN SOUND AND MUSIC—BETWEEN CHATTERING
NOISES AND CLEAR CONCISE CONVERSATION
NECESSARY TO BUILD COMEDY AND DRAMATIC SUSPENSE—

AND WHEN YOU HEAR A METROPOLITAN
ROADSHOW SPECIAL OR A METROPOLITAN
SHORT SUBJECT PRODUCED BY PHIL GOLD-
STONE OR A TALKING PICTURE PRODUCED BY ANY OTHER COMPANY PLAYED ON TONEFILM
YOU WILL HEAR THE BEST IN MUSIC AND VOICE
REPRODUCTION—THE BEST IN MECHANICAL PERFECTION OF ANY MACHINE ON THE MAR-KET—

INSTALLED ON A BASIS THAT EVERY EXHIB-ITOR CAN AFFORD———AND IMMEDIATE IN-STALLATIONS, TOO.

TONEFILM
CORPORATION

ALFRED WEISS

President

THE STANDARD TALKING PICTURE MACHINE OF THE WORLD.

Fox Movietone Program Hits Peak

12 Dialogue Features And Shorts Shooting At Movietone City

By W. R. W.

With twelve talking pictures in production at its two studios in California, Fox Film Corporation now has the most ambitious schedule of talking films ever undertaken since the development of Movietone disturbed the placid routine of silent pictures.

The feature films that are in process of production are as follows:

"The Valiant," in which Paul Muni, noted stage star imported from Broadway, will soon begin his first talking picture under the direction of Marcel Silver, first Movietone director.

"North of Dixie," in which Charles Gilpin, noted negro star, is now at work as the vehicle for his debut on the audible screen. This feature, which will have an all-colored cast, is taken from Walter Weems' stage work, "Lonesome Road," and is being directed by Paul Sloane.

"Friendship," written and directed by Eugene Walter, starting this week with a cast that includes Sylvia Field, Donald Gallaher, Clifford Dempsey, and Lumsden Hare.

"Through Different Eyes," a Movietone version of a stage play by Milton Herbert Gropper, in which Mary Duncan will appear in her first talking picture, with Conrad Nagel in the leading male role.

"The Ghost Talks," just completed by Director Lew Seiler, is an adaptation by Frederick Hazlitt Brennan of a stage play, "Badges," by Max Marcin and Edward Hammond, and has the stage stars Charles Eaton and Helen Twelvetrees in the cast, together with Carmel Myers and Earle Foxe.

"In Old Arizona," an all-dialogue feature picture, is being finished this week. Directing has been done by Raoul Walsh and Irving Cummings.

Talking Shorts

The talking shorts will use within their briefer compass the same Movietone resources as the longer features, employing the dialogue and sound reproduction methods which have already given to such two reel pictures as Charles (Chic) Sale's "Marching On," a high standard in this form of entertainment. They comprise the following:

"Napoleon's Barber," a three reel comedy adapted from the one-act stage play by Arthur Caesar, and has in its cast Otto Matiesen as Napoleon.

"The Diplomats," with Clark and McCullough, famous musical comedy stars, now being directed by Norman Taurag. This comedy was written by Arthur Caesar and Bobby Clark.

"In Dutch," the next vehicle for Clark and McCullough, with Taurag directing. This is an original story written by Paul Gerard Smith.

"The Ring," another Clark and McCullough offering, to be directed by Harry Sweet, erstwhile gag man and comedian.

"Dream House," nearly completed with David Rollins, Nancy Drexel, William V. Mong and Ralph Fitzsimmons in the cast.

"The Cornet Rehearsal," with George Bickel, of the famous footlight comedy team of Bickel and Watson, in a leading role for this story by Sidney Lanfield and William K. Halligan.

Johnston-Pearson Conclude Deal For 12 International Specials

Wesley Ruggles Next

As soon as Paul Scofield finishes the continuity of "The Haunted Lady," Wesley Ruggles will start directing it, with Laura La Plante in the featured role. On completing this story, Ruggles will next direct Mr. and Mrs. James Gleason in an all-talkie, "The Shannons of Broadway."

Sherman As Butler

Lowell Sherman is playing the role of the suave butler in the M-G-M production of "The Last of Mrs. Cheney." Thus far, Sherman and Norma Shearer are the only two players to be assigned to parts in this picture.

Buchanan For Movies?

It is rumored that Carl Laemmle is trying to persuade Jack Buchanan, of Charlot Revue fame, to accept a contract to make a talking picture. So far nothing has been signed.

Blue-McAvoy Again

As soon as Monte Blue and May McAvoy complete their work as costars in Warner Bros. picture, "No Defense," they will appear together in a second production to be called "From Headquarters."

Menjou In Talkie

After declaring that he positively would not appear in a talking picture, Adolphe Menjou has decided to bow to public demand and in his next production, "The Concert," he will be both seen and heard. Florence Vidor will play opposite him and Lothar Mendes will direct.

Incidentally, "Interference," which Mendes has just finished directing, is reported to be one of the best pictures to come out of the Paramount Studios this year.

Pascal Story Bought

Universal has just bought "The Charlatan," by Ernest Pascal, prominent author and playwright, and plans to feature Conrad Veidt in it—production to start immediately, with George Melford directing. "The Return of the Phantom" has been postponed to release Veidt for his part in "The Charlatan."

Gotham Releases "Head of Family"

Sam Sax, President of Gotham Productions, announces that "The Head of the Family," last on the program of 1927-28 releases, will be released November 1st.

The story, by George Randolph Chester, was adapted by Peter Milne. Virginia Lee Corbin and William Russell are co-starred. Joseph C. Boyle directed.

Trem Carr To Supervise Series—Will Make 3 In Hollywood

A contract of international importance was announced yesterday by W. Ray Johnston at a luncheon given to George W. Pearson, Managing Director of British Screen Productions, Ltd., of London, at the Motion Picture Club to meet the press.

The new contract is an affiliation between Rayart Pictures and British Screen Productions, providing for the production during the 1929-30 season of twelve special productions, nine of which will be made in Hollywood and three at the British Screen Studios at Isleworth, near London.

The contract provides for the entire twelve pictures being made under the personal supervision of Trem Carr, Director-general of the Rayart Studios organization, who will go to London to supervise the British made pictures.

Production of the first picture will start in Hollywood in May, while the three to be made in London will be made consecutively in June, July and August, at which time production will be resumed on the Pacific Coast.

In addition to the program of twelve being co-operatively produced, a number of important British Screen Productions, including "The Kohinoor Diamond," which is being made with the approval of their majesties the King and Queen, will be distributed through the Rayart organization in America.

Mr. Pearson, in addition is completing arrangements for staff representatives in important United States points for news-weekly service for the "British Screen News." The "British Screen News" is distributed throughout the United Kingdom by Paramount as well as British Screen Productions. Pearson sails Saturday for England.

ORTH WITH GOLDSTONE AS PROD. MANAGER

Phil Goldstone of Metropolitan Productions announces the appointment of George Orth as Production Manager for Metropolitan Studios. Mr. Orth comes from the Paramount Long Island Sound Studios where he was Production Manager of the first Paramount all-talkie picture which was just completed and which will open at the Criterion Theatre shortly.

Mr. Orth is well known in Motion Picture Production circles in the East and has made a perfect study of the production of talking pictures.

Chas. Nasca also joins Metropolitan as designer of sets to be used in making sound pictures. Mr. Nasca has been an art designer for years designing some of the biggest sets used for pictures made in the East and is now building sets of the Johns Manville acoustical material which will be used in all Metropolitan Productions.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

CENSORSHIP

The champions of censorship of the motion picture are very busy these days throughout the country. And the exhibitors are feeding them plenty of meat, good luscious sweet meat, to help carry on their crusade. And these exhibitors are not of the "shooting-gallery" type either. They are big chain organizations in almost every locality that up to this moment are not burdened with State censors.

THE BLAME

These big exhibitors are playing every "sex" picture they can get their hands on. The contention being that "business is at a low ebb and any attraction that will bring in the money is going to play their houses." To say that they are shortsighted is placing it mildly. They are crazy and lack intelligence and showmanship. There was never a "sex" picture made that had ANY entertainment value. They have all been bunk, poorly made and with the only one thought—DIRT. Certainly, pictures of this type draw a great audience, but 90 per cent of this audience leaves the theatre disgusted and it takes them some time to make up their mind to return to the theatre. The smell is very bad. The odor is tough to fumigate.

BAD BUSINESS

Any exhibitor of standing and one that has a substantial investment in theatre properties is a sucker if he contributes any ammunition for censorship in his locality. The greed for a few extra dollars gets the best of some of our greatest theatre chains. The prosperity created by the running of these pictures is only temporary, for the bad picture, the poorly made picture and one that has not one moment of entertainment, and this formula covers every "sex-hygiene" picture ever made, always causes a great loss in future patronage, who were "caught" by the wild advertisement and exploitation given one of these productions.

It is bad business all around. Good showmen with even an ounce of intelligence should not play pictures of the "sex-hygiene" type. He gains nothing in the long run and only subjects himself to destruction in forms of censorship and lack of patronage.

ROXY AGAIN

Our opinions of Sam Rothafel seemed to have struck home with a lot of people in our industry. Our phone was kept pretty busy yesterday where in the writer was permitted to take a few bows in the form of congratulations on our thoughts and opinions concerning this master-showman. We are glad they all liked it. We thought it was pretty good ourselves.

McCarthy In Charge of Movietone City

J. J. McCarthy, who has just been appointed head of the new $10,000,000 Fox Movietone City in Hollywood, arrived in New York today on business for Fox Film Corporation.

Early Roxy Opening

Owing to the length of "Mothe Knows Best," accompanied by the biggest stage entertainment ever given at the Roxy, S. L. Rothafel announces that the doors of the theatre will open at 11 A. M. daily, a half hour earlier than the usual opening time.

In This Issue Sam Sax Tells "What's Right With The Movies"

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 102

New York, Thursday, November 1, 1928

FIVE CENTS

The Hour

The time for a direct offensive by the motion picture business which will have for its objective the removal of all forms of pre release censorship is now arrived. It is not enough that the industry should be making a continuous defense against new encroachments upon its rights and liberties. An offensive, to wipe out all censorship is manifestly essential.

The New York Times points out that Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick says "as frankly as possible" that censorship is useless in trying to clean up the theatre. "You must build up from the inside."

The cinema is the one medium of human expression that wears shackles. It has built up its own decencies from the inside. It has established a production code that is clean and wholesome. It was not induced to do so through censorship but because from a purely business morality it is conscious of the fact that clean pictures pay.

Why then, with its own house in order, should it be farther burdened with the expense of a progress restraining censorship.

As the Times points out, picture censorship is so elastic that it covers the private life of an actor and can refuse to pass a picture if the actor's morals are in question. A more stupid and bat cellar ignorance would be hard to find.

Will the industry unite on a forward movement to wipe out this censor business completely?

Arthur James.

FOX ORGANIZING TREMENDOUS MUSICAL MOVIE TONE ACTIVITY

KENNEDY - DERR OFF TO WEST COAST

J. P. Kennedy, President of FBO, is en route to Hollywood, having left New York on Tuesday. Kennedy still has a contract to operate Pathe until next March and will probably confer with production officials at the Pathe Studios on production.

E. B. Derr, right hand man of Kennedy will join J. P. in a day or so.

M-G-M AWARDED $6,000 IN N. J. BICYCLING

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer was yesterday awarded $6,000 damages by the N. Y. Film Board of Arbitration, through the action of the Hildinger Booking Co., of Trenton, N. J., in sub-renting "Rookies," "Scarlet Letter" and "West Point" to the

(Continued on page 7)

Nat Rothstien Back

Nat Rothstien, Universal advertising expert, accompanied by Mrs. Rothstien, returned today on the Olympic from a tour of England, France, Italy, Switzerland and the continental watering resorts. The trip was both business and pleasure, said pleasure being a nice little winning at Monte Carlo.

Acoustic Products—Sonora Acquire Bristolphone Cos.

MINNEAPOLIS DELAYS CENSORSHIP MEASURE

Minneapolis — The City Council has decided to delay action on the proposed censorship ordinance for another 10 days or so, after one of the largest gatherings in the history of the Council, in which a cross-fire discussion by ministers, public officials, theatre owners and labor leaders resulted in a row.

(Continued on page 7)

"Sound a Menace" To New York Sound Studio

A story is going the rounds of Broadway about the head of an independent studio in New York, having a deal on with a producer to sell him the plant. The day arrives for the sound expert to come up and test the plant for external noises.

Knowing the time of the arrival of the expert this fellow had two friendly cops, station themselves at different corners and direct all automobile traffic away from the studio.

The sound expert turned in a good report, the studio was sold, and now the producing company is having a tough time shutting out all street noises.

FBO ANGLING FOR NEW SHORTS PRODUCERS

Film Booking Offices are reported making offers for new independent producers of short product to release through FBO, with a view toward getting lined up with suitable material for 1930 release, should no renewal be made with Larry Darmour.

Although Darmour is now in New York to confer with J. I. Schnitzer. Schnitzer's office yesterday reported

(Continued on page 7)

Take Over All Existing Contract and Rights—C. R. Rogers Active

One of the most important announcements of recent years has been made by P. L. Deutsch, President of the Acoustic Products Company and the Sonora Phonograph Company, Inc. According to this announcement, the Acoustic Products Company has the right to acquire the full rights and interests of

(Continued on page 2)

Royce, Noted Stage Director Signed

Cream of Song Writing Talent also Secured

It now seems a certainty that William Fox is going into the production of musical comedies and operettas on a very large scale via movietone.

This organization announced the signing of Edward Royce, celebrated stage director, to a Fox contract. Royce will be in charge of the production of several famous musical stage shows, the first is thought to be "The Dollar Princess," which had a big run in New York at the Knickerbocker Theatre. Royce staged the original London production of this show at the Gayety Theatre, London, in which house it ran over two years. Royce is probably the best known of musical "staggers." He has been associated with Ziegfeld, Dillingham and his

(Continued on page 7)

RADIO-KEITH-ORPHEUM SECURES 51% CONSENT

The shares of the new Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation, which was formed by the omman stockholders of the RCA Photophone and Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporations, went on the Curb Market yesterday, opening at 34 $\frac{7}{8}$ and closing at 33 $\frac{3}{4}$.

This would indicate that the sponsors of the merger, who some days ago issued formal request for exchange of share for share of the old common for the new, have already obtained the necessary 51% majority that was necessary to swing the deal.

Erlanger in "Talkies"

A. L. Erlanger, legitimate producer, has closed for the motion picture and talkie rights to the Gen. Lew Wallace story "The Prince of India." Erlanger produced the show in 1906, but only closed for the picture rights yesterday with Lewis Wallace Jr. Inquiry at the Erlanger office brought no definite news as to the actual production or method of release.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hampstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wardour St. London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York; — Eddie Mannix got in from a four year sentence at the coast yesterday, took a look at Broadway and wondered what all the crowd was about . . . Ben Goetz is another old time New Yorker who is now located on the coast and is here on one of his rare trips to the big town, getting a big hand everywhere he goes . . . Ray Johnston gave a real man-sized big party at luncheon at the Motion Picture Club on Tuesday and a good time was had by all, especially several of the boys . . . Nat Rothstein got in from a two months trip abroad yesterday morning and is willing to tell all and sundry that Europe is a pretty fair place to adjourn for a summer, especially with Monte Carlo furnishing the get-a-way money . . . E. B. Derr, of F.B.O. will go to the west coast next week and this time declares himself that he isn't going to allow himself to be so tied up with work that he can't get in a little golf and tennis . . . L. Rosenfeld, Columbia distributor in Canada, is in New York and was a luncheon guest of Joe Brandt at the Motion Picture Club yesterday . . . Larry Darmour, head of Darmour productions, is here from the coast to confer with Joe Schnitzer, of F.B.O. . . . Artie Stebbins, of insurance, golf, bridge and other kinds of fame, left for the coast on the Century yesterday after notifying all his business connections not to look for him back for two months and possibly three, and it's nice to be that way . . . J. Barnstyn is the busy man tonight, the occasion being the wedding of his two daughters at an elaborate affair at the Ritz-Carlton . . . Charles Wilcox, British producer who has been in New York for the past month making distributing arrangements for his product, sailed for home last night . . . E. J. Sparks, of Jacksonville, Fla., is in New York on a brief business trip and looking into the sound picture situation while here . . . Mickey Neilan, who has been here for the past three weeks, left for the coast on the Century yesterday to begin work on another big picture . . .

"What's Right With The Movies"

(Tenth of a Series by Industry's Leaders)

By SAM SAX,
President, Gotham Productions

It's a healthy sign with the movies, as with plays and books, that when an unusually good picture is produced, it enjoys an after-life of revival. This proves that films, despite their fleeting nature, are not entirely things of the dead past, once they've run their current course of bookings.

We have frequent examples of films being taken off the shelf years after their current release and again enjoying a generous share of patronage. The classic example of this is, of course, "The Birth of a Nation." But to a lesser degree other pictures have enjoyed this distinction, and it certainly proves that something must be distinctly right with the movies.

What seems to be particularly right with the movies is the eagerness and enthusiasm with which each new development is greeted. The movies refuses to vegetate. Never can it be accused of procrastinating. Here again, the classic example is the advent of sound. In no other industry in the world could such unanimous interest and support have been elicited so quickly and enterprisingly as was the case with the acceptance of sound. The activities of the companies handling sound devices were quickly matched by the exhibitors, who immediately saw the handwriting on the wall and set about to accommodate themselves to the new factor in motion picture entertainment. If that isn't a pertinent instance of what's right with the movies, then there's nothing right with anything anywhere.

Another outstanding instance of what's right with the movies is the fact that despite new revolutionary developments like sound, and the changes in the mechanics of production which these entail, the essential principles of successful film making remain the same. In other words, in the last analysis of any film, it is a good story, well cast and well directed which counts in the final verdict. This is one of the most encouraging signs of what's right with the movies, for it means that regardless of the new forms, accessory devices etc., that find their way into film making, the actual principles of production remain just as important as ever, and offer a durable guide for successive generations of producers to learn from and be guided by.

Any industry or art with principles so well rooted as these must be right.

Acoustic Products-Sonora Acquire Bristolphone Co's.

(Continued from page 1)

the Wm. H. Bristol Talking Picture Corporation, the Asher, Small & Rogers Corporation, the Gotham Bristolphone Service Corporation, and the Lesser-Warner Productions in the world-wide Bristolphone patents.

Upon the acquisition of these rights, the Acoustic Products Company will also take over all the contracts which the Gotham Bristolphone Service Corporation and the Lesser-Warner Company have outstanding for the distribution of Bristolphone machines and all outstanding licenses for producing pictures with sound under the Bristol patents.

"A new Corporation will be formed," said Mr. Deutsch, "in which all of the above interests will be combined and in the management of which Mr. Charles R. Rogers will be actively engaged. This new corporation will probably combine the names of Sonora with Bristolphone, and will have exclusive distributing rights on the Sonora Bristolphone for the entire world; the company will also have the sole rights for the licensing of producers to employ the Bristol process of synchronising sound with pictures. The Acoustic Products Company will manufacture the machines which the new Company will sell and service.

The Wm. H. Bristol Talking Picture Corporation already has extensive manufacturing plant and film studios at Waterbury, Conn., and the producing corporations have modern studios at Hollywood and there is now added to this organization the vast manufacturing and distributing resources of the Acoustic Products Co., and the Sonora Phonograph Company, including the plants at Saginaw and Stamford, and the studios and laboratories in the Sonora Building at 50 West 57th Street, New York City.

Negotiations are already well in hand with independent artists and producers for the production of 'talkies' by this proposed organization. Talking pictures covering the whole wide realm of cinema possibilities will be produced—industrial, educational, religious, and entertainment. In addition arrangements will be made to make talkies of 104 short subjects during the next twelve months.

The Sonora Bristolphone Corporation's artists will include some of the best known figures in the film world and from the legitimate stage. Present plans call for the production of pictures by Asher, Small & Rogers, by the Gotham Bristolphone Photoplays Corporation, Lesser-Warner Co., and other producers.

"We believe," concluded Mr. Deutsch, "that the exclusive Bristol patents, which include the only re-synchronising mechanism on the market, coupled with the tonal excellencies for which Sonora has always been famous will put the new Sonora-Bristolphone into a position where it will be an important factor in the entire talking picture field."

The offices of the company will probably be in the Sonora Building 50 West 57th Street, New York City so that this huge organization will be housed under the roof of Sonora's own home.

It is proposed that the distribution of the new "talkies" will be handled through a distributing organization to be formed as a separate unit. A budget is now being prepared to provide for an extensive and powerful advertising campaign designed to blanket the country.

Wenger At Roxy

S. L. Rothafel announces the engagement of John Wenger as art director of the Roxy Theatre. His appointment takes effect immediately, his first settings for the "cathedral of the motion picture" to be on view next Saturday in the stage program surrounding the William Fox sound picture, "Dry Martini."

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.

for Library Stock Scenes
130 W. 46th St. New York
Bryant 8181

"THE CENTER OF MOTION PICTURE SOCIETY"

If you want to see Who's Who in the motion picture industry,
dine at

THE PARK CENTRAL GRILL

Open for lunch, dinner and supper

DINE AND DANCE

To the tunes of

BEN POLLACK

and his

PARK CENTRAL ORCHESTRA

THE PARK CENTRAL

FIFTY-FIFTH STREET AT 7th AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY

This FOX TALKER TALKS MONEY

... because it dares to speak the truth about our daughters of today.

.. because the talk in this talker creates talk, which means they're talking money for you!

... and because the all-dialog scene, illustrated here, alone will pack 'em in to the rafters!

THE DOCTOR:

"Let flaming youth have its fling. Midnight joy rides and moonlight kisses are less dangerous to our jazzy generation than sex-starvation."

MOTHER KNOWS BEST

FOX MOVIE TONE ACCESSORIES

Here's a talker worth talking about—and here's special material worth talking with!

MOVIE TONE 24-SHEET (24MA)

HEAR FOR THE FIRST TIME THE VOICES of Madge Bellamy-Barry Norton-Louise Dresser
 ALL TALKING THEIR PARTS IN
MOTHER KNOWS BEST
 EDNA FERBER'S STORY
 of a Love-starved Daughter denied Romance by a Managing Mother
 DIALOG WRITTEN BY EUGENE WALTER-STAGE & THEATRE EMBELLISHMENTS BY DAVE STAMPER & CHARLES JUDELS DIRECTED BY DIALOG BY JOHN BLYSTONE, ON FOX MOVIE TONE

PRESENTED BY WILLIAM FOX

THE TALKING FILM

FOX gives you not only the best pictures, but also the best service, both for silent and Movietone showings.

In addition to the accessories shown on these pages, the special Fox Movietone Press Book Supplement on MOTHER KNOWS BEST contains publicity and press ads especially prepared for campaigns by wired theatres. It also contains a special full-size 1-sheet, illustrated to the right. It's printed in striking colors and packed with scenes and selling talk to sell the Movietone features of the production to the public. Use this handsome 1-sheet in your lobby. It's free.

The 24-sheet shown on the right hand page is the regular pictorial stand with a special Fox Movietone strip across the bottom. Similar strips are obtainable for the regular 6-sheets, 3-sheets, 1-sheets and window cards.

A special 11x14 Movietone title card, illustrated to the right, has been provided for the regular set of 11 x 14's on MOTHER KNOWS BEST, STREET ANGEL, FOUR SONS, FAZIL, THE RED DANCE, THE AIR CIRCUS, SUNRISE and MOTHER MACHREE.

Special stock Movietone cards for display in frames may also be secured, for use on all Fox Movietone productions.

Remember...

Fox Accessories are Necessities!

HEAR FOR THE FIRST TIME THE VOICES of Madge Bellamy
 Barry Norton
 Louise Dresser
MOTHER KNOWS BEST
 on FOX MOVIE TONE film
 HEAR and SEE
 this sensational TALKING picture which dares to speak the truth about our love-hungry daughters of today!

Phonetic Youth or Love-starved Youth made a new film out!

HEAR THE VOICES of
 MOTHER
 KNOWS
 BEST!

HEAR AND SEE
 THE PLAYERS TALK THEIR PARTS
 on FOX MOVIE TONE

Edna Ferber's Story
MOTHER KNOWS BEST
 Dialogue Written by
 EUGENE WALTER

MADGE BELLAMY
 LOUISE DRESSER
 BARRY NORTON

Theater and Stage Embellishments by
 CHARLES JUDELS & DAVE STAMPER

John Blystone Production

Left—
 Full Size
 Colored
 1-Sheet
 Contained in The Special
 Movietone
 Press
 Book on MOTHER
 KNOWS
 BEST

→
 11x14
 Title
 Card

HEAR and SEE
 THE PLAYERS TALK THEIR PARTS
 on FOX MOVIE TONE

Edna Ferber's Story
MOTHER KNOWS BEST
 Dialogue Written by
 EUGENE WALTER

MADGE BELLAMY
 LOUISE DRESSER
 BARRY NORTON

Theater and Stage Embellishments by
 CHARLES JUDELS & DAVE STAMPER

John Blystone Production

on MOTHER KNOWS BEST

WILLIAM FOX PRESENTS

MOTHER KNOWS BEST

with MADGE BELLAMY
LOUISE DRESSER · GARRY NORTON
ALBERT GRAN · LUCIEN LITTLEFIELD from the Story by EDNA FERBER
Scenars by MARION ORTH

HEAR THE VOICES OF YOUR FAVORITE FILM STARS TALKING THEIR PARTS ON FOX MOVIE TONE FILM

REGULAR 24-SHEET WITH SPECIAL MOVIE TONE STRIP

Below—Special Movietone
Press Book Supplement

Special Supplement for Dialogue Show

FOX MOVIE TONE

Mother Knows Best

A Talkie They Will Talk About
If You Talk to Them About

Theatre Audiences Will Hear
Louise Dresser's Glorious
Voice Through Fox Movietone

Sound Film Give
Fox Stars Chance
To Be Versatile

Madge Bellamy
Has A Speaking
Role in Fox Film

A Special
Song Tie-Up

YOU KNOW BEST

THE MAGIC OF
MOVIE TONE

After You've HEARD
Madge Bellamy
Barry Norton
Louise Dresser
Talk Their Parts in

MOTHER KNOWS BEST

EDNA FERBER'S SENSATIONAL
STORY
of a Love Hungry Stage Star
Directed in Dialog by JOHN BLYSTONE
FOX MOVIE TONE
DEVELOPED AND PRESENTED BY WILLIAM FOX

HEAR
the first time
MADGE BELLAMY
tells in a part from the story through the magic of
FOX MOVIE TONE
along with the voices of
GARRY NORTON and LOUISE DRESSER
all talking their parts in Edna Ferber's great story of a love-hungry actress
"MOTHER KNOWS BEST"
Presented by WILLIAM FOX

Above—
Special 1-Sheet (1MA)

Left—
Special 3-Sheet (3MA)

what the doctor ordered

see hear!

EDNA FERBER'S
daring story

MOTHER KNOWS BEST

A SHOWER OF CASH AND BOUQUETS!

Greatest business in history of Canada — records everywhere!

VARIETY PICTURE GROSSES

Talker Sweeps Montreal; Palace, 2 Weeks, $50,000

Drawing New Trade—Helps
Film Houses; Hurts Vaude

Montreal.
(Drawing Pop, 600,000)
Weather; Fine
Crowds still continued for second week of the see and hear picture
"Mother Knows Best" at the Palace. Around $18,000 grossed, total for the two weeks of about $50,000.
easily a record for this city.

For the first time since pictures have been shown here a current of biz is flowing in from surrounding country points to take in the much discussed latest screen development. All theatres here are benefitting from the overflow.

A sure-fire in the regular houses. Fox's first real dialog picture, a most worthy and class effort.
—Variety

This is in. A peach of a woman's picture and of wide appeal to all classes.
—Film Daily

"Mother Knows Best" is the most intelligently directed and acted talking picture ever made.
—Los Angeles Herald

A splendid motion picture, well done and superbly
acted.
—Motion Pictures Today

Mother Knows Best
proves again that

FOX KNOWS BEST

QUIGLEY DENIES NEW WARNER TALKIE RUMOR

G. E. Quigley, Vice Pres., of Vitaphone Corporation yesterday emphatically denied reports yesterday that Warner Brothers or Vitaphone had secured rights to a new talking picture apparatus which will be held in reserve in case of possible future differences between the company and Western Electric, over retarded deliveries of Vitaphone apparatus, now a bone of contention.

Quigley stated emphatically that as far as Vitaphone or Warner Brothers was concerned, they were not interested and there was nothing to it. The new device which was said to have been considered, is listed as interchangeable with other types of apparatus and is to sell for about $2,500.

Murtagh Organist At Paramount-Brooklyn

J. L. McCurdy, manager of the new Brooklyn-Paramount Theatre which will open on Saturday November 24th, at Paramount Square, Flatbush and De Kalb Avenues, announced yesterday that Henry Murtagh, well-known organist, formerly at the Paramount in New York, had been engaged as the organ soloist for the Brooklyn house.

Paul Ash and his band will furnish the "magic flying stage" shows each week at this theatre.

Fox Organizing Tremendous Musical Movietone Activity

(Continued from page 1)

most recent bit of work was in the staging of the George M. Cohan success, "Billie." He will leave for Hollywood Nov. 19th.

Almost a simultaneous announcement, brought the information that the ace trio of song writers, DeSylva, Brown and Henderson have also been signed by Fox. This combination will write the book, words and music for at least two pictures the Fox organization will release next year. This trio have more song and stage hits to their credit than any other set of writers.

Add to the above the name of Dave Stamper, long with Ziegfeld in the production of his "Follies," Harland Thompson, successful writer of musical pieces with a record of three hits at the Vanderbilt Theatre New York, Con Conrad and Chas. Judels until recently general stage manager for the Shuberts, Archie Gottler and Sydney Mitchell, internationally known song writers, writing theme songs and getting set on a musical piece they are jointly turning out for a Fox "single and talkie" an you have the meat of a tremendous musical movietone production department.

Tim McCoy's Next

"The Desert Law" will be Tim McCoy's next M-G-M starring vehicle, to be directed by Nick Grinde, from an original story by Ted Shane and Milton Bren. Raquel Torres will play opposite McCoy.

M-G-M Awarded $6,000 In N. J. Bicycling

(Continued from page 1)

Lawrenceville School, Lawrenceville, N. J.

The case was one of many that the Copyright Protection Bureau is scotching, lately, and was characterized by Louis Nizer, representing M-G-M, as a 'dishonest practice' which must be stopped in the interests of all.

The M-G-M exchange proved there were no contracts made with the school and that the pictures were supplied to them by Hildinger on the same day that they were booked in the Hildinger house, only 6 miles away. The Board awarded $2,000 damages in each case.

FBO Angling For New Shorts Producers

(Continued from page 1)

they had held no conferences with Darmour thus far, and were not ready yet to discuss contracts.

According to coast reports, Jack White, whose contract as an Educational comedy producer-in-chief was previously reported by White himself to be expiring within a few months, has been made an offer by FBO for his future releases, with a 50% guarantee on his production costs.

White and Hammons are now in Hollywood reported to be lining up Educational's new program of sound shorts and the New York offices of Educational deny that White's contract is expiring and likewise doubt White is discussing contracts with anybody at this time.

BRITISH NAVAL HERO AMPA GUEST TODAY

Captain Harold Auten, V.C., who has established himself prominently in the film field as the author of the sensational "Q Ship," picture, will talk at Thursday's meeting of the Associated Motion Picture Advertisers and illustrate his remarks with a reel from his film.

Other guests of honor on this occasion will be Delight Evans, editor of Screenland Magazine and Robert Ober, well known stage player who is now gaining fame in the talkies.

"Why Girls Go Wrong" Sold For Michigan

Herman J. Garfield, general manager of Roadshow Pictures, Inc., returned yesterday from Detroit where he closed a contract with Louis Wisper for the distribution in Michigan of "Why Girls Go Wrong." The picture will be handled by the Favorite Film Exchange of Detroit.

Minneapolis Delays Censorship Measured

(Continued from page 1)

Action on censorship originally arose over the question of revoking the license of the Gayety Theatre, a burlesque house, which was alleged to have presented an immoral performance. This resulted in an ordinance being proposed covering all motion picture and theatrical performances, with Mayor Leach vigorously opposed to the measure.

Of a Chewsdah—January the wanst!

☞ That's the date of the Eleventh Annual Announcement number of Exhibitors Daily Review and be assured that when a bigger and better annual announcement number is issued, the man who owns one will issue it—but not until a year later, for this is to be the number festive, the inclusive issue, the pleasant and well furnished omnibus which will carry all to all in the trade with acceptable, readable and interesting data, facts and observations—some delightfully new—words of good will and much pleasantry to those who seek to make good clean, vulgar money out of the picture business.

☞ We already have word of an unique four pages that will sound the note of difference in advertising copy, for the number comes at the midwinter impetus season of selling and good copy serves a great purpose in such a situation. Absolutely this rule will be followed—To those who speak early will come space position and the advantages. Late comers will take their chances. We believe this to be fair and our advertising spear shall know no brother.

☞ Recall again the date—

Of a Chewsdah, January the wanst!

POLLARD FINISHES "SHOW BOAT"

Big Universal Special With Sound Effects In Cutting Room

By W. R. W.

Universal has finished the "Show Boat."

This production started early in the Summer from the Edna Ferber novel, is now in the cutting room at Universal City. Its completion will signal the supreme effort of the Laemmle organization for the present year.

The picture was directed by Harry Pollard, the man who made "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and has in its cast Laura LaPlante, Joseph Schildkraut, Emily Fitzroy, Alma Reubens, Otis Harlan, Nelly Edwards, Max Asher and a host of others.

"Show Boat" will have a synchronization and full sound effects.

1st National Activities

Colleen Moore is busy with "Synthetic Sin," which John McCormick is producing and Will A. Seiter directing; "Stranded in Paradise," from Donn Byrne's memorable novel "Changeling," is also in production, with George Fitzmaurice handling the megaphone. Alexander Korda is preparing to start "The Comedy of Life" with Milton Sills; Richard Barthelmess will soon begin "Weary River," with Frank Lloyd at the helm; "Children of the Ritz" with Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall will be directed by John Francis Dillon, who has just completed "Scarlet Seas" starring Richard Barthelmess. Alice White is to begin "Hot Stuff" with Mervyn Le Roy as director; Billie Dove is to make "The Mand and the Moment," directed by George Fitzmaurice; "Seven Footprints to Satan" will be megaphoned through its weirdly thrilling course by Benjamin Christensen.

All of these productions will have dialogue or sound effects.

"Legend Gosta Berling"

SWEDISH.

Directed by.....Mauritz Stiller
Featuring....Greta Garbo-Lars Larson

This foreign production is hardly up to standard of American films in continuity, direction and photography, but is noteworthy for Dr. Lagerlof's story and fine work of Garbo-Hanson-Kammeren as Count Henrik and Ellen Cederstron.

The story features in its leading roles both Garbo and Hanson, and was made prior to their Hollywood work, but there is nothing in their performances they need be ashamed of. It is a typical tale of Norwegian sternness and intrigue over property rights and rigid moral concepts. How a spoiled son can come completely under the domination of his grasping mother, who seeks to pass on rights to the estate to the son, even to causing him to cast off his wife, so that she does not share in it, forms the meat of this tale.

Only a few exhibitors will care to run this for their patrons, as most audiences will walk out on it. If your fans want intelligent thought in a picture, you can take a chance.

Studio Gossip

Fred Warren is substituting for Arthur Stone in the main role in the Fox movietone, "Headlines." Fred Newmeyer is directing.

* * *

Frank Borzage, director, who fell on the back of his head at a polo match last week, is faced with the possibility of serious injury to his eardrums.

* * *

John Darrow has left Caddo and is now with Columbia, playing in "The Younger Generation."

* * *

After he completes his present production of "Captain Lash," John Blystone, director, is scheduled to leave for Italy to make exteriors for a new story, yet untitled. Louise Dresser, who will have the principal role in this new production, will accompany Mr. Blystone and his technical unit to Europe.

* * *

A wire from Hollywood states that John McCormick has added Ben Hendricks, Jr., to the cast of Colleen Moore's forthcoming First National picture, "Synthetic Sin." William A. Seiter is directing.

* * *

Fred Kohler has been signed to provide the menace in his third consecutive Pathe picture. He will play the bad man of "The Leatherneck," which stars William Boyd and features Robert Armstrong and Alan Hale.

* * *

Victor McLaglen, who is now completing his second starring Fox picture for the 1928-29 season, "Captain Lash," is scheduled for a busy time at the Fox West Coast Studio. Winfield Sheehan, Vice-President and General Manager of the company, has announced "Strong Boy" as the next picture for McLaglen to be started soon.

* * *

Following this production McLaglen will make "The Cockeyed World" under the direction of Raoul Walsh. This story, by Laurence Stallings, is said to be a sequel to "What Price Glory." Edmund Lowe will again be seen with McLaglen in "The Cockeyed World."

Eleanor Griffith Wins

After searching Hollywood for the right girl, Roland West, director, finally sent to New York for Eleanor Griffith to play the lead in "The Nightstick." Miss Griffith was last seen on Broadway in "The Spider" and won this part for herself on the strength of her speaking ability.

Lewis In "Spider"

First National announces that Sheldon Lewis has been signed for the role of "The Spider" in the mystery thriller, "Seven Footprints to Satan," which will shortly go into production at the Burbank Studios, under the direction of Benjamin Christensen. Creighton Hale will play opposite Thelma Todd.

Rock Directs Talkie

With a record of over two hundred silent motion pictures to his credit, Joe Rock the veteran film director, is now handling the megaphone on the first Bristolstone feature length all dialogue picture "The Great Power."

This record alone was not the main reason for his selection to direct the first picture for Franklyn Warner and Sol Lesser, to be released as a Picturephone Production. Prior to his entrance into the motion picture field, Rock had spent many years in vaudeville and on the legitimate stage.

Warner Studio Busy

Seven pictures are in production at the present time at the Warner Studio. The greater part of the Vitaphone equipment is being employed for the first Vitaphone operetta, "The Desert Song," one of the most elaborate pictures ever undertaken by Warner Bros. Roy Del Ruth is directing with Carlotta King, John Boles and Louise Fazenda in the leads.

Director Archie Mayo began work this week on Leon Zurado's story, "She Knew Men." He has added to the cast Gertrude Olmstead, Claude Gillingwater, Lucy Beaumont and Tommy Dugan. Players previously announced for the leads are Betty Bronson, William Collier, Jr. and John T. Murray.

Lloyd Bacon is on a location trip to Oregon with the unit making "No Defense," a co-starring vehicle for Monte Blue and May McAvoy.

The Vitaphone scenes for "Madonna of Avenue A" starring Dolores Costello will soon be completed, rendering this production ready for the cutting room. Michael Curtiz has been directing it with Grant Withers, Louise Dresser, Douglas Gerrard, William Russell and Lee Moran in prominent roles.

A trio of special Warner Winners complete the seven on which the Warner forces are concentrating at the present time.

PATHE'S "MAN" SOON

With production preliminaries and initial voice tests completed at the studios in Culver City for "The Missing Man," this stage success recently announced by Colvin W. Brown, executive vice president, as the first Pathe one hundred percent talking picture, will reach the filming stage as soon as final RCA Photophone tests determine the principals.

Benjamin Glazer, supervisor of Pathe sound pictures, will personally direct "The Missing Man."

Parker With M-G-M

Dorothy Parker, well-known poet and critic, has signed with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to write dialogue for talking films.

Mrs. Parker, whose published books include "Enough Rope" and "Sunset Guns," will leave for Culver City, California, within the next few weeks.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

FAIRBANKS.

There seems to be a feeling in and around Hollywood that Douglas Fairbanks is soon to desert motion picture acting and devote all his time and energies to the production and direction of pictures for United Artists. It is rumored he has confided to friends that after finishing work in his present vehicle, "The Iron Mask," he will bend every effort to find a story that will afford Miss Pickford and himself an opportunity to be seen together in a motion picture. After this has been accomplished he will salt away the makeup box for all time.

Such funny and unreasonable things happen in this business from day to day, that even Fairbanks leaving the screen at this time would cause no surprise. But we have our doubts. The screen personality of Douglas Fairbanks carries too much weight for this same Fairbanks person to turn his back on it. Still—he always seems to be in a jam for a story, and what might easily please him as a producer would find rejection as an actor. We know that he has not been satisfied with his story material, and this goes back a couple of years.

INDECISION.

Paramount production officials seem to be up a tree in deciding where to look for their future casts for pictures. We understand the main reason for the meeting being held in New York now is in an effort to reach some definite angle. Some want stage people, others insist on training new faces in the combined technique of stage and screen acting, and still another group, not so enthusiastic about talkies, want to use the combination policy of actors from both stage and screen, with emphasis on the player, known and reared in the silent drama.

To us, the whole problem, stripped of all its hokum, is, "Will we center all activities on straight talkies or continue our activity in the production of good motion pictures with a little dialogue thrown in here and there?" And it is our opinion that long after the return of Schulberg, Fineman and others to the Hollywood studio, they will still be asking themselves the same question.

JIM BARTON.

It begins to look as if Jim Barton will not have the lead in the Paramount production of "Burlesque" after all. There was much hullabaloo recently centered in the signing of this great stage character. It seems that some of the Paramount crowd saw Barton do some dramatics in his recent vaudeville sketch and lost no time in putting him under contract. Now reports come out of Hollywood that Jack Oakie, under contract to that organization as a stock player, has been slipped the part and that Barton will be assigned another picture altogether. What's the reason?

If we had anything to do with the casting of this all-important role, our choice would be "Skeets" Gallagher.

In This Issue Nicholas M. Schenck Tells "What's Right With The Movies"

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 103

New York, Friday, November 2, 1928

FIVE CENTS

The Interchange

Seems petty, this argument and distress over the interchange usage of the devices for sound. In the large view, the public is to be considered. Whether the entertainment is provided on a silver platter or a pewter tray makes little difference.

Sound is with us and sound is here to stay. The trifles must be shoved into the background. The exhibitor must be able to install a device feeling when he does so that he can use all of the sound pictures available.

He is providing entertainment to this public and he must not be hampered by technical trifles. Western Electric undoubtedly is too big to enforce rulings on an exhibitor that will embarrass him. RCA has already thrown the door wide open.

P. A. Powers, a factor and a figure since pictures began, has greeted the liberal group with enthusiasm. He realizes, as David Sarnoff realizes, that there is money and glory enough for all in this sound situation and that details are of no great importance.

Invitations are now out for the Anglo-American dinner and the award of the Sam Harris cup will be made next week. Bruce Callup with a live-wire enthusiasm, assumed the duties of chairman of the committee and the wide world may therefore be assured that the award will be fully and completely on the level. In this activity it would be unfair to omit great credit to Eddie Klein whose managerial activities have spelled success for the party.

Don't forget that Hudson Bill—that Canon Chase measure that not only puts our business under Federal control but which puts a tax on us of over $7,000,000 in order to provide $1,000,000 for educational purposes. Sound out your Congressional candidate and assure him your vote will go the other way if he favors this bill.

ARTHUR JAMES

DILLON READ BEHIND $2,500,000 ACOUSTICS-BRISTOLPHONE DEAL

Woodhull Resents Allied Criticism of "Sell Out"

TO NEFILM CONFUSION LEADS TO BIOPHONE

Weiss-Goldstone Device Changes Name—In Key Centers Dec. 1

Due to many similar names of equipment on the market causing confusion to the exhibitors, the TONEFILM Corporation has changed its name to the BIOPHONE Corporation, and the Tonefilm Machine will hereafter be known as the BIOPHONE. Alfred Weiss, president of the corporation, announces that exhibitors have

(Continued on page 4)

Mindlin Opens "Little Carnegie" To-night

Michael Mindlin, managing director of the Little Cinema Theatres, Inc., is tonight opening the newest art theatre in his chain. It is the Little Carnegie Playhouse on 57th Street, which will be graced by the presence of the elite of the social and cinema world.

The theatre has been designed as an innovation in this field and has such adjuncts for its patrons as a Ping-Pong Court, Ball Room, Bridge Tables, Art Gallery, Lounge and Modernistic Auditorium.

Startling Answer To Sound Questionnaire!

One of the biggest sound producers, not the Fox-Case people, sent out a questionnaire to exhibitors, to find out what sort of sound "shorts" they preferred to have on their programs.

The answer from one exhibitor provoked considerable merriment at the home office. He wrote back "I prefer Movietone News."

Issues Caustic Answer To Col. Cole Charges—4 States Renew Allegiance

Pres. R. F. Woodhull of the M.P.T.O.A., returned yesterday from a tour of the Mid-West States and reports that the M.P.T.O.A. of Arkansas, Mississippi and Tennessee as well as Nebraska, whose conventions he attended, have by unanimous consent decided to continue their allegiance to the National organization.

Woodhull yesterday took occasion to take a "shot" at the aspersions cast upon the M.P.T.O.A. members of the Allied States group recently. He said:

(Continued on page 4)

DILLON READ FLOATS EDUCATIONAL W. W. BUY

Through the floatation by Dillon Read & Co., of a special issue of 35,944 shares of common stock, Educational Pictures, Inc., has been able to finance the purchase of a half interest in World Wide Pictures, Inc., according to an announcement by E. W. Hammons, President of Educational.

An arrangement also exists whereby Educational will handle the actual distribution of foreign films throughout the United States and Canada. The agreement links the

(Continued on page 2)

9th Birthday of Capitol Theatre

Major Edward Bowes announces that the Capitol Theatre ushers in its Ninth Birthday with a notable program "The Wind" a new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer synchronized production, starring Lillian Gish heads the film attractions beginning tomorrow.

(Continued on page 2)

Asher, Small and Rogers And Lesser-Warner To Ratify Today

Yesterday was a very busy day for all parties concerned in the General Acoustics-Sonora, Asher-Small-Rogers, Warner-Lesser, Bristolphone deal. Meetings were being held on all sides and by every group to determine the proper procedure for the turning over of the Bristol patents and the Bristolphone plant, together with marketing arrangements for the equipment and the procedure of making pictures with the Bristol recording.

$2,500,000 SALE PRICE

The only thing that is definitely set is the fact that William H. Bristol has sold out his Bristolphone patents and plant to a group of bankers, believed to be Dillon Read for the sum of $2,500,000. J. An-

(Continued on page 2)

KENNEDY-BROWN TO ADDRESS 3 MEETINGS

Continuing the special Pathe regional sales meetings, sectional sales meetings will be held in Chicago, New Orleans and Los Angeles. J. P. Kennedy will address the Los Angeles meeting and Colvin Brown will speak at the Chicago session.

The meeting of the Central Division will be held at the Blackstone Hotel, in Chicago, on Sunday, November 11th, simultaneously with sessions of the Western Division in Los Angeles. The Southern Division

(Continued on page 2)

VOGEL RETURNS FROM PATHE TRIP ABROAD

William M. Vogel, Vice-President and General Manager of Pathe International Corporation, foreign distributors of Pathe pictures, arrived in New York aboard the S. S. Mauretania to-day, after a two months' trip throughout Europe.

Vogel has visited the P. I. C. offices in the principal cities on the Continent, where he completed arrangements for the distribution of the new Pathe product.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager. Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscriber will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempsstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samue Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wadour St. London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York;- Billy Brandt says if the election night show at the Motion Picture Club is not the biggest thing he has pulled off in his checkered career, he'll hie him back to the wilds of Brooklyn and hunt himself a hiding hole and dig in . . . E. B. Derr is supposed to be on his way to the coast with Joe Kennedy, who left Wednesday, but he isn't here and going next week. . . J. S. Jossey, well known as a big independent exchange man, is here from Atlanta and the guest of W. Ray Johnston . . . Jim Savage, old time heavyweight fighter and one of the best trainers in the fist game, is now physical director of the Motion Picture Club . . . Harry Brandt and Marty Schwartz, bitter rivals, are putting on a clash at pool every day at the Motion Picture Club and some of the members are thinking of charging admission for kibbitzers. . . Delight Evans, always a delight, was honor guest yesterday at the A. M. P. A. and the turnout of the boys was all that was expected even by Dave Bader, the optimistic editor of the A.M.P.A. News . . . Tom Spry of First National, is developing into a spellbinder, his later Ciceronian effort being in presenting Jake Lourie with a $400 silver service at a dinner given to the Notoco official in Boston . . . Dwain Esper is here from the coast to arrange for state right distribution for a number of pictures recently made on the coast . . . Artie Stebbins, Mickey Neilan and Al Jolson arranged before leaving New York to meet at the Blackstone Hotel in Chicago yesterday and continue the trip to the coast together, and what a trip that will be . . . John Wenger has been appointed art director of the Roxy theatre, and Roxy doesn't overlook any of the good ones . . . Pete Smith is so het up over Metro's "Women Of Affairs" that he wires that it makes "Flesh and the Devil" look like a Pollyanna story . . .

"What's Right With The Movies"

(Eleventh of a Series by Industry's Leaders)

By NICHOLAS M. SCHENCK,
President, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer

There are many reasons why motion pictures have come to occupy a preeminent place in the development of modern life, but perhaps a majority of them can be summed up in the phrase: Exchange of ideas.

The twentieth century differs a good deal from other eras in the fact that life has been made richer and more enjoyable through new ideas and in the establishment of new bonds of contact between widely separated places and persons. In this advance the movies have played an important part. Accepted as an unimportant novelty in 1903, a quarter of a century later the greatest entertainment force in history and one of the great forces in broadening the horizon of individuals and of groups.

The movies have helped bring the small community in line with the thought and ideas of the metropolis. They have helped, indirectly but steadily, to break down narrow prejudices and to link together in a common appreciation different countries and races. Think of a New York theatre audience cheering newsreels of the take-off of the Graf Zeppelin three days after this event. With the advent of television no one can predict how far this sort of thing will go.

The movies have been called the universal language. That is true. I think they have done far more to promote a better understanding between different nations than all the printed or oral speeches of the last fifty years. Interchange of ideas is the dominant note here, too. A statesman of the past generation once remarked that the artistic accomplishments of a people are a better advertisement than three trains of ambassadors. This is more than ever true now, with the movies broadcasting such an accomplishment to millions of foreign theatregoers.

The picture industry has been like an electric current running through and enlivening old ideas and customs. All over the world the movies have been recognized as the great amusement for both the classes and the masses. In a business way, the industry has received backing and recognition that spell a splendid creative future.

Small faults can be ironed out as they have been eliminated in the past. The movies are groping and growing and daily gaining ground as a world influence for good.

Dillon Behind $2,500,000 Acoustics-Bristolphone Deal

(Continued from page 1)

thony Probst, of the law firm of Probst and Probst handled the sales transaction for these bankers who in turn have turned patents and plant over to the General Acoustic-Sonora Company. The one great interest in the Bristol patent in so far as G. A. Sonora is concerned is the matter of amplification for their talking machines, which they have not had up to the closing of this deal, as the only other outstanding means of amplification is held by RCA and Western Electric. The Bristol amplification is different from that held by the big electricians and is known as "zero" amplification.

EQUIPMENT & PRODUCTION

The matter of the distribution of the equipment and the production is in the hands of two groups. Asher-Small-Rogers on the one side and the Warner-Lesser on the other. Both having held a contract for distribution and production of the Bristolphone equipment and recording. There will be a merger of these two groups with Charles Rogers, of the Asher-Small-Rogers group, as general manager of the whole thing in matters of production and distribution.

NOTHING SIGNED YET

There has been nothing signed as yet between these groups but a preliminary understanding has been reached and it is just a matter of getting together and assigning what part the two interested groups will play in the general aspect of the whole lay out. This agreement will be reached within a day or two. The appointment of Rogers as general manager, however, is set and the proceedings will start from that point.

MUCH PRODUCTION

The firm of Asher-Small-Rogers will start on almost immediate production of a series of feature length and short reel talking pictures with Bristol recording. Sol Lesser is already talking to authors, directors and players regarding a series of feature length pictures he is going to make. From the two groups exhibitors can expect a minimum of at least 50 to 60 feature pictures and about 104 short reel productions. Studios for the making of these productions will be constructed in New York and Hollywood.

LESSER ENTHUSIASTIC

Sol Lesser, when reached on the phone last night, was very enthusiastic regarding the turn of affairs and said that "Charlie Rogers is the right man for the job." When asked what part he was going to play in this new arrangement, he replied, "I don't know at this moment, but it will be sufficient to keep me busy for some time. What we should all be mostly concerned in at this moment is to see that the great number of orders for equipment are filled as quickly as possible."

Kennedy-Brown To Address 3 Meetings

(Continued from page 1)

regional convention will be held in New Orleans Sunday, November 11.

Colvin W. Brown will be the principal speaker at the Chicago meeting. Other Home Office executives who will address the convention will be Phil Reisman, General Sales Manager; Harry Scott, Short Subject Sales Manager, and J. F. McAloon, Manager of Exchanges Operations.

Dillon Read Floats Educational—W. W. Buy

(Continued from page 1)

largest producers of Germany and England with World Wide.

One of the first results of the arrangement is expected to be a breaking down of quotas recently imposed by foreign countries. Certain of these restrictions require that at least 50 per cent. of the pictures shown be of domestic origin. Because of the wide distribution which will be assured by the new arrangement, however, it is expected that a larger percentage of American films will again be admitted abroad in return for the increased foreign showings guaranteed in this country.

9th Birthday of Capitol Theatre

The theme song for "The Wind," "Love Brought the Sunshine" was composed by Dr. William Axt and David Mendoza of the Capitol's Music Staff. Other screen features include the noted star of "White Lilacs," Odette Myrtil in a Metro Movietone subject, and the Fox Movietone News. Midnight picture showings occur nightly at 11:30. There will be five de luxe performances Saturday and Sunday.

Graham Pathe Manager

INDIANAPOLIS.—Harry Graham, who has been identified with Pathe's Chicago branch for some time and who was previously short subject manager of the firm's former Double I exchange in the Windy City, has been appointed manager of the Indianapolis branch and has already assumed his new duties.

TRAVELERS select the Great Northern for its wonderful location in Chicago's "loop". They return because the large comfortable rooms, homelike environment, attentive service, excellent food and moderate charges make it an ideal hotel.

400 Newly Furnished Rooms,
$2.50 a day and up. Sample
Rooms $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00
and $8.00.

Walter Craighead, Manager
DEARBORN STREET FROM JACKSON
TO QUINCY
New Garage One-Half Block

You've been Looking for these — for years!

"Wooden Soldiers"
is one of 13
LAEMMLE NOVELTIES

"Come On Horace"
is one of 13
HORACE In HOLLYWOOD
COMEDIES

"Farmyard Follies"
is one of 13
OSWALD CARTOON
COMEDIES

THREE SENSATIONAL COMEDY BRANDS

(Running time for each 8 minutes)

You haven't booked them yet because you didn't know we had them —

There isn't a FIRST RUN house in the country that can't improve it's program by playing them all —

And there's plenty more where they came
from —

Ask your Universal Exchange to show you
"WOODEN SOLDIERS" -- "COME ON HORACE" and "FARMYARD FOLLIES" —

As a BIG LEAGUE Showman you'll recognize their value on sight.

Universal One Reel Sensations!

"Movietone News" Costliest Sound Reel

Cost Almost As Great As Average Feature Length Talkie

By W. R. W.

Probably the most widely booked set of pictures ever known in this industry is the Fox Movietone News. Of the 600 houses equipped for the showing of sound pictures there are exactly 593 of them playing either one or both of the weekly releases of this sound news reel. That is a record.

As has often been stated before, the Movietone News has had more to do with this sudden craze for sound pictures than almost any other element by virtue of the fact that by watching a series of news events in sound a person could easily visualize the great possibilities of this same sound in a feature length picture. The adaptability of sound to natural news events is more effective than sound placed in any other picture or pictures.

$1,000,000 EQUIPMENT

We understand that the Fox organization has about 40 sound trucks for the photographing of news events scattered thruout the world. One was sent to the Orient the other day. There are two in England, one in Central Europe, another in Southern Europe, one in South America, one in Canada, one in the West Indies and some thirty-two in the United States. This equipment cost represents over $1,000,000.

This cost for equipment and the additional cost of operators, laboratory expense and other incidentals makes this news reel the most expensive single reel ever known in this industry and if we would say that one reel of a movietone news would cost almost as much as the average feature length picture we would not be shooting far off the facts.

INVESTMENT RISK?

A lot of people would think that Fox has too much of an investment in this news reel. And if it is considered on the basis of 600 or even 2500 houses wired for sound, they be right, for it would take more than 3000 regular bookings to get him out of the bag on this particular piece of entertainment. But the sales organization is only selling five year contracts and, as suggested above, over 98% of the houses now wired are playing either one or both of the weekly releases. If there are two houses in opposition to each other, each one gets one a week. If the wired house has no wired opposition, then he gets both releases. So Fox might be taking it on the chin now but with the new sound equipment being set at the rate of 15 to 20 a day, and with the above percentage carried on for a while and all on a five year contract, things will begin to brighten up after a bit.

Right now, Movietone News, is the best screen entertainment obtainable, and that takes in long and shorts, with talk and otherwise.

Studio Gossip

Fox has bought for early production "Through Different Eyes," by Milton Gropper. Mr. Gropper is preparing the dialogue.

* * *

Sally Eilers and Mack Sennett have severed business relations. Miss Eilers will free lance.

* * *

Willard Mack has received a wire bidding for the screen rights to his play, "The Common Sin," for an all-talkie production.

* * *

Jimmie Adams, former Christie comedy star, has been signed by Pathe for one of the principal roles in "The Office Scandal."

* * *

Word comes from First National that "His Captive Woman" is the final title for "Stranded in Paradise."

* * *

Leslie Fenton, who appears opposite Phyllis Haver in her latest Pathe picture, "The Office Scandal," made a strong impression upon the Hollywood film colony by his portrayal of the leading role in the Los Angeles stage production of "An American Tragedy."

* * *

Jed Prouty has been given a comedy role in "His Captive Woman," the First National picture now in production under the direction of George Fitzmaurice, which co-stars Dorothy Mackaill and Milton Sills.

* * *

Alan Hale portrays a German character in "The Leatherneck," William Boyd's new Pathe feature now in production with Photophone recording.

WHITEMAN BAND TO START "U" FILM FEB. 16

Nat Goldstone, sound picture executive for Universal, who was in New York for several weeks, engineering contracts with various artists, acts and other talent for forthcoming Universal talking Pictures, is back in Universal City to resume his activities as a studio synchronization expert.

While in New York, his efforts resulted in a number of outstanding deals, the most notable of which was the signing of Paul Whiteman, the king of jazz.

Whiteman, will take his entire orchestra to Universal City February 16th next, for six weeks of picture synchronization and sound recording.

Gilks Honored By P-F-L Astoria Studio

Alfred Gilks, head cameraman for Paramount at the Long Island Studio since its reopening, was tendered a farewell dinner last night at the Astoria studio, on the occasion of his return to the West Coast studios today.

Gilks has been with Paramount since 1917 and has shot some 40 pictures in that time. He was presented with a wrist watch by John Butler, Eastern Production Manager, on behalf of the studio gang.

Tonefilm Confusion Leads To Biophone

(Continued from page 1)

seemingly been confused by the similarity in names to that of TONEFILM.

Weiss further announces that as per their promise to the exhibitors, by December first, they will be able to hear the BIOPHONE Machine in their own exchange cities.

Darmour to Produce all FBO Shorts With Photophone

BIG FIRST RUNS ON COLUMBIA PRODUCT

Columbia's "Perfect Thirty-Six" continues to bring in important bookings. The Michigan Theatre, Flint, Michigan, a new first run house has contracted for the output 100%.

The entire product has also been booked by the Empress Theatre, of Denver, Colorado, one of the most important first-run houses in its territory.

The Hippodrome, Baltimore, has booked "Driftwood" for the week of October 29, to be followed by "Sinners' Parade," on November 12.

FBO Producer Continuing Under Long Term Contract

Larry Darmour and the Standard Cinema Corporation will continue their producing and releasing arrangements with Film Booking Offices, for an indefinite period, it was learned yesterday.

Darmour has 28 more pictures to make under the existing schedule before the new schedule for 1930 is drawn up.

It is definitely arranged that Darmour will start production on this new schedule within the next month or so, all future shorts for FBO release to be made with Photophone synchronization and to be ready for release with sound next April.

Woodhull Resents A'lied Criticism of "Sell Out"

(Continued from page 1)

"My attention has been directed to a statement given out by H. A. Cole of Texas and broadcast through the medium of the trade press. It is very seldom that I reply to such nonsense but inasmuch as the expression 'sold out' has been used I feel constrained to make this statement.

"In the successful efforts of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America to build an organization which would be worth something to all exhibitors, fair and unfair criticisms have been made from time to time by various men. But it has remained for H. A. Cole of Texas to overstep all bounds of decency and honor by making the reckless statement that the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America 'has sold out' to the producers and distributors."

"Since this statement was made in connection with our recent Toronto Convention, I assume that it was caused by the fact that at that session the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America elected to membership on the Board of Directors representatives of so-called affiliated theatres. If this is what inspired Mr. Cole to make his unwarranted and untrue statement, then it is doubly unfair because in his own state organization he has admitted affiliated theatres to membership and has been accepting dues from them. If this constitutes 'selling out' to producers and distributors' then he has been 'sold out' for a long time.

"In years past it was considered smart to play underhand politics and bring careless charges against every man who made an honest endeavor to build up exhibitor organizations. I had supposed that this old stuff would never be resorted to again, but it is evident that Mr. Cole has an old fashioned idea that destructiveness will give him more publicity than constructiveness.

"I am proud of the present position of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America and I feel the great responsibility which has become mine since my unanimous reelection. I shall continue to give to the members the very greatest service of which I am capable, regardless of snipers."

"Lonesome"—"Melody of Love" Heavily Booked

Universal's first two talking pictures, "Lonesome" and "The Melody of Love" have reached the nationwide showing stage, with current and early presentations set in many centers.

The Butterfield Circuit in Michigan, the Loew Theatre in Houston, the Aldine Theatre (Locw) in Pittsburgh and the United Artists Theatre in Chicago, are the latest to set in one or both of these attractions. With the exception of the Chicago theatre, which so far is signed up for "Lonesome" only, the foregoing houses will play both talking pictures.

Schumann-Heink

Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, famous and beloved opera star, is now in Hollywood about to start work in a sound picture to be called "Motherhood."

In This Issue Joe Brandt Tells "What's Right With The Movies"

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 104

New York, Saturday, November 3, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Big Stunt

Through journalistic enterprise that arouses our enthusiasm, Motion Picture News covered the world premiere of "Noah's Ark," the new Warner Brothers colossal picture yesterday by Telephoto and Fotogram so that pictures and statements made in Hollywood at Grauman's Chinese Theatre on Thursday were reproduced in New York the next morning. Warner Brothers forwarded advertising copy by the same processes and the result was a matter for entire industry congratulation.

* * *

John Barrymore, Dolores Costello, Harry Rapf, Jack Warner, E. W. Hammons, Sid Grauman, Clarence Brown, Al Christie, Charles H. Christie, Efe Asher, Joseph M. Schenck and J. Stuart Blackton all signed enthusiastic tributes to the new picture and these were reproduced in their own handwriting.

We heartily congratulate Motion Picture News on this achievement.

* * *

Much talks about some pictures for educational uses.

The educational picture of the future will be both visible and audible. Through the vast resources of two great companies in spirited rivalry in the manufacture of sound devices and equipment, the money for development will be readily available. It is not to be expected that these companies will content themselves solely with the making of equipment. They will be in the business of making pictures before they are well aware of it.

* * *

The classroom of the near future will have professors and teachers brought from great distances and giving instruction through sight and sound, even in the little red school-house atmosphere. Learned men will appear before the camera and will deliver lectures that will be heard 'round the world. Chemistry can be taught with greater facility, plant life can be brought from distant countries and presented before the students, animal life similarly, and all branches of education will be broadened and made more available to pupils of all ages.

Contemplation of this picture is so fascinating as to be almost in the dream class, but the new development of service to mankind is now an existent fact.

ARTHUR JAMES

INTERCHANGE FOR "REELTONE" DEVICE

Final patents have been secured by Reeltone Corporation that make it interchangeable with all other synchronizing devices. This statement was issued today by Thomas G. Young an executive of the corporation. Basically Reeltone is a "disc recording device," but by virtue of these new patents they are enabled to record sound on the film.

18th Birthday For Pathe Newsreel

The Pathe Newsreel, is with No. 91, celebrating its 18th Birthday. A special review of world events, which happened during the life of the reel, is featured in this issue, out this week.

REXY OPENING SET FOR NOV. 9

The Stanley Co., of America will open another link in their chain next Friday, November 9th, in South Philadelphia, with the new REXY Theatre, which will seat 2,200 people.

There will be a matinee daily and two evening performances with Movietone and Vitaphone presentations. In opening this house, Irving D. Rossheim states "It is the finest theatre in South Philadelphia and will fill a long-felt want in this community."

The REXY Theatre, through its close similarity to another name, has no connection whatever with the Roxy Theatre enterprises in New York.

200 For "Lilac Time"

Today marks the 200th performance of "Lilac Time," First National's sound picture starring Colleen Moore, at the Central Theatre. The run of this picture will continue indefinitely.

Mrs. Novak Dies

Mrs. Sally Novak, sister of Mrs. Joseph H. Seidelman, wife or the assistant manager of the Paramount Famous-Lasky Foreign Department, died early yesterday at the Reception Hospital, from injuries received in a fall from a horse in Central Park.

She was a member of Paramount's Short Feature Department.

"Careful, Mr. DeMille"

A Hollywood correspondent reports that Clive Brook, intent on getting a speech over in a talkie sequence on the Paramount sound stage, sort of got mixed up in his lines and in a fit of anger, gave his knee a terrific slap. Results being that every recording instrument on the set blew out as a result of this slight concussion.

Imagine what might happen on the DeMille-MGM set when "C. B." gives an order to 31 or 36 of his assistants who will all reply, "Yes, Mr. DeMille." The explosion will probably be heard in Spain.

$8,400,000 VITAPHONE 1st NAT'L FEATURES

Hollywood — the talking picture budgets of the major companies are rapidly assuming shape and exhibitors may shortly have a complete line-up for their disposal of dates, for this coming year.

It was yesterday ascertained that First National pictures would be synchronized with Vitaphone, of which there will be 56, to cost approximately $8,400,000.

Universal Pictures will make 22 Movietone features at a cost of $4,000,000. Mack Sennett is spending $1,500,000 for his sound equipment and 37 standard comedies and three 8-Reel features with RCA photophone.

(Continued on page 2)

"MARRIAGE CONTRACT" IN EMBASSY NOV. 9

Tiffany-Stahl are announcing the world premiere of "Marriage by Contract" featuring Patsy Ruth Miller and Lawrence Gray.

The picture will open at the Embassy Theatre on Friday November 9th.

GOLDSTONE OPENS N. J. MET. STUDIOS MONDAY

Phil Goldstone announces that after a year of preparation that the Metropolitan Studios at Fort Lee, New Jersey, the largest and most complete Sound Studio in the East, opens for operations on Monday, November 5th.

This will be a gala event for the Metropolitan organization and a gala event for the exhibitors who

(Continued on page 2)

"SONORATONE" NEW ACOUSTIC NAME

At a luncheon yesterday given by Charles R. Rogers to P. L. Deutsch Pres. of Acoustics and Sonora, it was announced that the name of Bristolphone as a trade-mark of the talking picture apparatus just acquired by the Deutsch companies was now being dropped in favor of a new trade-mark, called Sonoratone.

The change was occasioned by the greater reputation of the Sonora machine, in the record reproducing field.

The new organization, which has taken over the Bristol sound studio in Waterbury, will introduce an innovation in the records for the con-

(Continued on page 2)

Midwesco Shakeup

Stan Brown Resigns—Other Department Changes

Milwaukee—Recent uneasiness in the Midwesco Chain of Theatres may shortly manifest itself in a general shakeup, which has possibly started with the resignation of Stan Brown, one of the most prominent district managers in the chain.

A number of house managers in other Milwaukee cities may shortly leave the circuit and several departments reorganized.

The reason for the unrest, according to report, is the lagging business for the past few months in the key houses of the chain, caused by the lack of good product, occasioned by withdrawal of M-G-M product for one, in Milwaukee, and by opposition of Orpheum Circuit houses, taking the best from Fox competitors.

UFA EASTERN DIST. HAS PRIOR RIGHTS

The UFA Eastern Division Distribution, Inc., which includes the New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, and District of Columbia, through exclusive franchise, has decided to help co-ordinate the distribution of UFA films by Educational Pictures, Inc., who has just bought a half-interest in World Wide Pictures.

Dave Brill yesterday stated, that regarding simultaneous releases of UFA product, his company has prior rights and first call, subject to selection by P-F-L and M-G-M, on all motion picture subjects produced by UFA, up until January 1st, 1933.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hemstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema," 80-82 Wardour St. London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

Emil Jensen, Joe Schenck's personal representative here, says he is going to be a rich man or very much vice versa right after election—depending a lot on whether Al. Smith carries New York or whether Hoover is the one who does that little act . . . Ernie Maas, who was responsible for the production of all shorts in the Paramount Magazine before the Astoria studio closed and who more latterly was supervising production in Hollywood for Fox Films, is back in New York looking over sound studios. . . . Jim Tully and Dr. Lee DeForest are billed as the attractions at the A. M. P. A. luncheon for next Thursday, and Paul Benjamin, the supervising architect of the A.M.P.A. shows is going to be surprised if there is not a record attendance . . . Mort Shaw of the wild and woolly thatch, is a back slider, having bought himself a hat and he says his trouble always has been to find one big enough . . . Denny Harris, Pittsburg theatre impresario, arrived in New York yesterday for a stay of a couple of days while he looks them over—meaning pictures . . . William Vogel, vice president and general manager of Pathe International Corp., arrived in New York yesterday from Europe for consultations with home office executives . . . Michael J. Gouland, president of Affiliated European Productions, returned to New York yesterday after a two months stay in Europe lining up his production . . . Pete Woodhull is back western wilds, and someone must have been feeding him meat the way he goes after the affable Col. Cole, of Texas, who has an idea that the M.P.T.O.A. sold out to somebody or something . . . Otta B. Mantell has resumed his old job with United Artists, now being sales manager for Central and South America, according to information sent out from the office of Arthur Kelly . . .

"What's Right With The Movies"

(Twelfth of a Series by Industry's Leaders)

By JOE BRANDT

President Columbia Pictures Corp.

There never can be anything fundamentally wrong with an industry that continually makes progress.

Even the most skeptical will admit—grudgingly perhaps—that the "movies" have made enormous strides in every one of its various phases from its early inception to date.

I have been actively identified and allied with the motion picture industry in one capacity or another since the days when a 200-foot subject was a novelty and a single reel a film classic. I have sat with it during its tender, early years, and watched the "infant" of a new form of entertainment struggle to its feet and learn to walk. I have seen the industry grow in stature and strength, and have been sympathetic of its growing pains. I have seen it beset on all sides—from enemies within and enemies without. I have seen it emerge—stronger than ever before—from period after period of doubt, darkness and dispute.

Never have I lost my faith in the motion picture industry—and, what is perhaps of more importance—neither has the vast public that has nourished and helped bring it to its present state of development.

So far as potentialities are concerned, the motion picture industry is starting out along a new and unplotted road. This has been sharply—and somewhat hectically—brought to our attention by the recent hysteria in connection with sound pictures. Where the new road is going to lead, no one at this particular moment is in position to state with any degree of certainty and definiteness.

The "movies" are now in a period of transition. To revert to our simile, the child, having learned to walk, is now learning to talk. Most of its utterances are gibberish—crude and ineffectual attempts to express itself and make itself understood in a new medium. But give it time! It's learning—and learning very fast. One need have no fears that the "movies" will not come through its new phase of growth and development as it has come through the others, more entertaining and more beloved by a public that has taken it so closely to its heart.

If I were not limited by the subject of my thesis, I could touch right here on the changing complexion of the industry—reflected in the mergers and the marriages with the electrical and radio industries. But of the outcome, I have no fears. The future is rich and fertile in vast possibilities for extension into a broader and more universal field of entertainment.

This much I will say, however: Regardless of anything, the motion picture industry will remain as an important factor in the social and industrial life of the entire world despite the fact that it will periodically undergo metamorphosis and radical change. The industry has progressed, is still progressing—and, in the final analysis—must continue to progress. This to me is proof conclusive that the answer to "What's Right with the Movies?" is—everything.

M-G-M AWARDS $10,000 PRIZE TO COW-GIRL

Tad Lucas, Fort Worth cow-girl, was crowned the Champion Cow-girl of the 1928 World Series Rodeo at Madison Square Garden Thursday evening. George Jessel, prominent stage and screen actor, presented the $10,000 Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer trophy to the winner—an award which was won last year by Miss Florence Hughes, of Ardmore, Oklahoma, but which must be captured three times in succession by the same contestant before permanent possession is assured.

Goldstone Opens N. J. Met. Studios Monday

(Continued from page 1)

will shortly be in a position to get Metropolitan Short subjects and the Metropolitan Road Show Specials. Goldstone further announces that not only will Metropolitan pictures be produced there, but the studio will be available to any producer who will make high-class Sound Pictures and Metropolitan Studios will also synchronize pictures already produced, with music, sound effects and in many instances talking sequences.

$8,400,000 Vitaphone 1st National Features

(Continued from page 1)

Fox has already listed 12 features, with a greater number soon to increase this amount.

Trem Carr, independent producer (Rayart) at the Sennett Studio, will spend $1,000,000 on eight feature length talkies. Famous Players will make 45, Warner Brothers 40, Christie, 36.

Second Fables In Sound Started Today

"Stage Struck," the second of the Pathe Aesop's Sound Fables to be synchronized by the RCA Photophone process will be recorded at Sound Studios, Inc., in New York, today.

Josiah Zuro is in charge of the recording and will lead the orchestra while Paul Terry and John Foster, co-author's of the fable, will cooperate with effect director, Morris Manne in accentuating the laughs via audible accompaniment.

"Sonoritone" New Acoustic Name

(Continued from page 1)

venience of projection, in that 18-inch records will be manufactured, one set of records for machine No. 1 carrying the synchronization for reels 1-3-5-7 of a feature and the other set for No. 2 carrying reels, 2-4-6-8.

There are about 70 Sonoritone machines ready for installation at this time. Deutsch commented on the resynchronizing feature of the machine which aids the projectionist in that bring his records back in to time instantly, should a break occur. Demonstrations of the machine will be held at the Sonora headquarters on 57th Street and will also be shown in an 8th Avenue theatre soon.

Deutsch commended Rogers very highly and also spoke very encouragingly about the future of the talking pictures and of his associates in the deal.

Perez With P-F-L

Paul Perez, former United Press writer and film man, has been engaged by Paramount to title Elinor Glyn's "Three Week Ends," starring Clara Bow.

"TAVERN KNIGHT" 1st BARRY-VITA.

The widespread speculation concerning John Barrymore's first Vitaphone talking picture was set at rest today with an official announcement from J. L. Warner that Mr. Barrymore's initial vehicle will be "The Tavern Knight" by Rafael Sabatini. Warner Bros., believe they have made a perfect choice in this popular novel which is one of the famous author's best known works.

Zakoro Gets Rights To U. S. Prima Vox

The new Prima Vox, the sound equipment invented by Walter Altshuler, an engineer, has been purchased for distribution rights throughout the United States by the Zakoro Film Corp., picture distributors.

The equipment will be used for road show purposes and will enable theatres in small towns to have sound pictures at once.

Hamilton Signed

Neil Hamilton has been selected to play opposite Colleen Moore in "Why Be Good?" Miss Moore's starring vehicle which will follow "Synthetic Sin," which is still in production. William A. Seiter will direct "Why Be Good?"

"Phantom City" Ready

Prints of First National's new Ken Maynard release, "The Phantom City," will soon be ready for shipment to the company's exchanges. The picture was shown at the home office this week. It is scheduled for December release.

Picture Reviews

"Varsity"

PARAMOUNT.

Directed by.....Frank Tuttle
Story by.....Howard Estabrook
Featuring Chester Conklin, Mary
Brian and Charles Rogers

THE PERFORMANCE GIVEN BY CHESTER CONKLIN IN THE CHARACTER OF "POP" CONLAN, LIFTS THIS PRODUCTION OUT OF THE DEPTHS. THE STORY HAS BEEN DONE ON ANY NUMBER OF OCCASIONS, SOMETIMES BETTER.

The plot centers around three people; "Pop" Conlan, a janitor at Princeton, who in reality is the father of Jimmy Duffy, who falls for Fay, the girl in a Wild West troupe. Jimmy drinks, worries "Pop" and Fay, collects money for a college charity and it is lifted by Luke while he is drunk. "Pop" and Fay set out to right all wrongs and, of course, see that everything ends happily. A college picture without a foot-ball game. Original.

Frank Tuttle, the director, has made the best of a poor yarn. He has some nice shots on the Princeton campus. But Chester Conklin is the whole show.

"Ned McCobb's Daughter"

PATHE.

Screen Story by...Beulah Marie Dix
Directed by.....William J. Cowen
Featuring Irene Rich, Robert Armstrong and Theodore Roberts

A FINE, GRIPPING STORY. STRAIGHT DRAMA INVOLVING NOT ONLY A GOOD BOOTLEGGING PLOT BUT EXCELLENT CHARACTERIZATION. THIS HAS GREAT BOX-OFFICE ANGLES AND SOUND BOX-OFFICE VALUE.

The picture deals with the marriage of Ned McCobb's daughter, Carrie (Irene Rich), of the family of sturdy, honorable, sea-faring New England McCobbs, to a miserable weakling, George Callahan (George Berraud). In order to save him, George, from jail, Carrie goes into the bootlegging racket with George's brother, Babe (Robert Armstrong). The story concerns itself with the elimination of George and the admirable love of Carrie and Babe.

The direction is splendid and done with restraint and a fine appreciation of suspense. Irene Rich and Robert Armstrong do excellent work and it's a pleasure to see Theodore Roberts again. He is still a splendid actor and his role is all too short.

Revier With Powers

Harry Revier, pioneer director and producer, will direct an all-talkie picture for P. A. Powers to be recorded via Powers Cinephone. The picture will be made from a play, now having a successful run on Broadway.

"The Midnight Taxi"

WARNERS-VITAPHONE

Directed by.....John Adolphi
FeaturingAntonio Moreno
Helen Costello, Myrna Loy, Wm. Russell.

A PLEASING CROOK MEL-ODRAMA WHICH EXCELLS IN THE LATTER HALF OF THE PICTURE. SUSPENSE IS KEPT UP NICELY IN THIS HALF AND THE CLIMAX FURNISHES A SIGH OF RELIEF. THE ENTIRE CAST EXCEPT LOY ARE ADEQUATE.

A couple of rum-runners cook up a liquor deal of large proportions. One plans to double-cross the other and get away with his share of the purchase money. To play safe an unknown girl is selected to innocently carry the money to Vancouver, along with the gang. She, in reality, is after the crooks who stole $200,000 in bonds and framed her fiancée. The real double-crossing crooks almost succeed in stealing the hero's money and placing another crime on his shoulders, but everything works out nicely with the bad boys caught at the Canadian border.

With a slightly heavier part, Tom Dugan, as the stuttering gangster, would have stolen this picture. Both Myrna Loy and Moreno are miscast, while Russell is only fair.

"The Red Mark"

PATHE

Direction.....James Cruze
Featuring Gaston Glass,
Von Seyffertitz, Nina Quartaro
Photography.....Ira Morgan

A DRAMA OF FATHER AND SON, SET IN AN UNUSUAL LOCALE, VIZ: A FRENCH PENAL COLONY. WHILE OF A SINISTER CHARACTER, THE PRODUCTION IS A BIT INCREDULOUS AND UNREAL. STILL, BECAUSE OF ITS DEPARTURE FROM STEREOTYPED PICTURES, IT WILL INTEREST MOST AUDIENCES.

The Governor of the penal colony, a saturnine and vile executioner at heart, has not seen his beloved son for many years. He happens to be a prisoner in this colony, who is receiving a pardon shortly. The son falls in love with a girl of one of the inmates (in this colony, all are allowed a chance at home life and the pursuit of some occupation), but unfortunately, the Governor also sets his eye on her and attempts to remove the youth (his son) from his path. For assaulting an officer, the lover is condemned to die, and on the scaffold, just in time, his identity is revealed to his father and his life is saved.

The leading lady (who is just a mite in size) is unconvincing in this role, although she does good work. She appears a trifle immature, von Seyffertitz is always splendid, and Gaston Glass is good.

"Marked Money"

PATHE.

Directed by.....Spencer Bennett
Story by.....Howard Green
Featuring Junior Coughlan with Bert Woodruff and George Duryea

GOOD DRAMA DIRECTED BY PATHE'S FAMOUS SERIAL DIRECTOR. HAS A BANG-UP FINISH AND HOLDS THE INTEREST THRUOUT. THE KIDS WILL LOVE IT AND THE OLDER ONES WILL TAKE THE KIDS.

Junior Coughlan is the boy who causes all the trouble, because when his father died he requested Capt. Fairchild (Bert Woodruff), to take care of him and the $25,000 he had saved for the child's education, etc. There's a gang of thieves after this booty and the action of the picture concerns the foiling of their plans by Junior and the happy ending where-by the aviator hero is finally accepted by the retired sea-faring captain, who always hated "those flying fools."

Coughlan is fine as is Bert Woodruff and the comedy relief is well-handled by Tom Kennedy. George Duryea and Virginia Bradford do well enough as the hero and heroine of the love interest.

"The Haunted House"

FIRST NATIONAL.

Scenario and Titles by...Richard Bee
Directed by...Benjamin Christiansen
Featuring Chester Conklin and Thelma Todd

FAST MOVING MYSTERY THRILLER. LOTS OF ACTION. THE STUFF THAT EVERYONE GETS A KICK OUT OF AND GOES TO SEE. ALWAYS A GOOD BOX-OFFICE BET. WITH ADDED SOUND EFFECTS, IT IS EVEN MORE EFFECTIVE.

This time it's a story about Uncle Herbert (Ed. Breese), whom his money-grabbing relatives are trying to kill off for his gold. He pretends he's dying and by forbidding his relatives to enter his house, wherein a large sum of money is supposedly hidden, he gathers them all together there and gives them the time of their lives with hired spooks, etc. Of course, the villain is discovered and the happy ending comes along just as all happy endings should.

Chester Conklin is always good for a laugh and the rest of the cast is entirely capable. There's good direction that hits a good pacc and sticks to it.

Warner Club Today

The Warner Club at the home office in New York is holding a big affair to-day over at the Vitagraph Studio in Brooklyn, which will shortly be reopened for sound production by Warner Brothers.

It will be the biggest affair put on by the employees, and a fine entertainment program has been arranged.

"Legend Gosta Berling"

SWEDISH.

Directed by.....Mauritz Stiller
Featuring...Greta Garbo-Lars Larson

THIS FOREIGN PRODUCTION IS HARDLY UP TO STANDARD OF AMERICAN FILMS IN CONTINUITY, DIRECTION AND PHOTOGRAPHY, BUT IS NOTE-WORTHY FOR DR. LAGERLOF'S STORY AND FINE WORK OF GARBO-HANSON-KAMMEREN AS COUNT HENRIK AND ELLEN CEDERSTRON.

The story features in its leading roles both Garbo and Hanson, and was made prior to their Hollywood work, but there is nothing in their performances they need be ashamed of. It is a typical tale of Norwegian sternness and intrigue over property rights and rigid moral concepts. How a spoiled son can come completely under the domination of his grasping mother, who seeks to pass on rights to the estate to the son, even to causing him to cast off his wife, so that she does not share in it, forms the meat of this tale.

Only a few exhibitors will care to run this for their patrons, as most audiences will walk out on it. If your fans want intelligent thought in a picture, you can take a chance.

"Mask of the Devil"

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER.

Directed by.....Victor Seastrom
Featuring John Gilbert,

Alma Rubens, Theodore Roberts
Story by...Wasserman-Gade-Marion

A RED-HOT TYPICAL GILBERT LOVE STORY OF THE TYPE THAT MADE HIM FAMOUS IN EARLIER DAYS—HAS LOADS OF FEMININE BOX-OFFICE APPEAL AND WHICH, IF THE UNHAPPY ENDING IS CHANGED, WILL BE A CLEAN-UP. DIRECTION AND CAST GREAT.

Story concerns a fashion-plate heart-breaker, an irresistible (to women) and cruel philanderer who has no scruples about betraying each new love. He is finally shot and killed by a friend, whose trust he has betrayed, in loving his fiancée. The death of Gilbert adds no strength to the picture, as audiences are led to still hold out hope of his eventual reformation, and after all he should not be made to die; for making love to the other fellow's girl.

Eva von Berne scores a hit in this picture and Robert Forbes likewise comes to scratch.

Hanaphone Sold For English Distribution

The "Hanaphone" talkie system, which is now in use in American cinemas, is to be handled in London by an all British company.

Look to Eastman

Panchromatic motion picture film, now used in practically every important production, represents one of the many contributions, nothing short of revolutionary, made to the art by Eastman scientists.

In the future, as in the past, look to Eastman for advances that will help the motion picture industry to attain still higher levels of artistic achievement.

EASTMAN KODAK COMPANY

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

In this Issue Irving D. Rossheim Tells "What's Right with the Movies"

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 105

New York, Monday, November 5, 1928

FIVE CENTS

The Art Arty

The Cinema Art Theatre movement has been given its best and most important impetus in the opening of the Little Carnegie Playhouse at 146 West 57th Street, New York. Its managing director is Michael Mindlin and its personal supervisor is Beatrice D. Mindlin. Mr. Mindlin has made a success of the Fifth Avenue Playhouse and the 55th Street Cinema, but the new theatre is a big jump ahead of both of these efforts and the small theatre gesture in Brooklyn.

It is beautifully equipped and in addition to a commodious auditorium has a large lounge, a ping pong court, a miniature ballroom, tables for bridge in the salon intime and an art exhibit in the foyer. The whole atmosphere is of the highest class and the artistic adornment in the modernistic school. Mr. Otto Kahn is reported as being interested in the venture and this will assure a certain social prestige as well as that of adequate financing.

Fanny Hurst in writing for the first night program says: "Upon such a perfect little temple of the youngest art as the one in which you are now seated rests the white hope for truth and beauty of motion pictures. Let the pictures which enter here leave mediocrity behind". Miss Hurst also refers to this little playhouse as one of the "small crucible of idealism".

The movement is extending to Boston and Chicago and there is every promise that there will be a chain of Cinema Art Theatres which will provide an outlet for films of a type that are not popular with the masses but which do have a definite value and which should have a place in the cinematic scheme of things.

The movement puts the cinema into dinner jackets and pretty frocks and affords the note of distinction which delights the eye of an interesting group in sufficient numbers to make the ventures profitable if the quality of entertainment is not strained. The Little Carnegie Playhouse is an artistic delight and it has an uncommonly good ventilation which hitherto has been minus in the art arty efforts of the screen.

ARTHUR JAMES

Preparations Under Way to Combat Tax and Censorship Laws in 43 States

SMITH CLOSES BIG STANLEY CONTRACT

E. J. Smith, general manager for Tiffany-Stahl, returned to New York Saturday from Philadelphia and Washington where he closed the entire Stanley circuit of theatres on "Marriage by Contract". The opening booking is to be played at the New Theatre, Baltimore, the latest of the Stanley houses.

After this opening, it will play simultaneous runs in the "A" houses of this circuit throughout District of Columbia, Maryland, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Laemmle W. C. Bound

Carl Laemmle, President of Universal left New York Saturday on the Century, bound for Hollywood, where he will only stay a short while. Laemmle will confer on production problems for next season, with studio executives.

T-S Producers Bound for Japan Mission

SAN FRANCISCO—A Tiffany-Stahl production crew headed by Howard C. Brown are on the high seas bound for Japan, to produce a Tiffany Color Classic of the picturesque ceremony of the accession of the Japanese Emperor.

In addition to this ceremony, a Tiffany Color Symphony entitled "A Japanese Carnival" is to be made with Japanese actors in the leading roles. Original weird Japanese music will be used for the synchronization of this picture.

Ernest Torrence Cast

Ernest Torrence has been assigned by M-G-M to an important role in John Gilbert's next picture, "Thirst". Mr. Torrence was last seen with Gilbert in "The Cossacks".

Capital Anniversary

This week, the 9th Anniversary of the Capitol Theatre is being celebrated in New York, with a fine special program. Major Edward Bowes, Managing Director, is appearing on the stage to welcome the theatre's patrons.

Legislative Sessions 1929

Arizona	Jan. 14
Arkansas	Jan. 14
California	Jan. 7
Colorado	Jan. 2
Connecticut	Jan. 9
Delaware	Jan. 1
Florida	April 2
Georgia	June 26
Idaho	Jan. 7
Illinois	Jan. 9
Indiana	Jan. 10
Iowa	Jan. 14
Kansas	Jan. 8
Maine	Jan. 2
Maryland	Jan. 2
Massachusetts	Jan. 2
Michigan	Jan. 2
Minnesota	Jan. 8
Missouri	Jan. 2
Montana	Jan. 7
Nebraska	Jan. 1
Nevada	Jan. 21
New Hampshire	Jan. 2
New Jersey	Jan. 8
New Mexico	Jan. 8
New York	Jan. 2
North Carolina	Jan. 9
North Dakota	Jan. 8
Ohio	Jan. 7
Oklahoma	Jan. 8
Oregon	Jan. 14
Pennsylvania	Jan. 1
Rhode Island	Jan. 1
South Carolina	Jan. 8
South Dakota	Jan. 8
Tennessee	Jan. 7
Texas	Jan. 8
Utah	Jan. 14
Vermont	Jan. 9
Washington	Jan. 14
West Virginia	Jan. 9
Wisconsin	Jan. 9
Wyoming	Jan. 8

Industry to Hold Enemies to Strict Accountability

Forty three state legislatures beginning with sessions in January and continuing to June, will give the motion picture industry food for thought at an early time.

The movement for censorship abolishment seems ripe, as that institution has outlived whatever value it may have had, but more than this activity, adverse tax legislation and anti-block booking bills are expected in a number of states.

The schedule for legislative sessions for 1929 is given in the column adjoining.

The Film Boards of Trade secretaries and exhibitor committees are now cooperating in defense of the industry and already the preparations for meeting adverse conditions are under way.

This year, as never before, the friends and enemies within the business will have to stand up and be counted, as the industry will hold the bolsheviks and malcontents fully responsible for their attitude and activities.

Wuerker with Fox

Al Wuerker, for many years associated with Fred Thomson, Western star, as director and production manager, has been placed under contract by Fox Films. He has been assigned to direct a feature length production. Jeff Lazarus, formerly publicity and advertising director of the Western division of William Fox Circuit of Theatres, will supervise the forthcoming production.

New "U" Policy Splits Country into East-West Divisions

JENSEN LOSES $4,500 THEATRE SUIT TO FBO

SEATTLE—Walter F. Jensen, theatre owner, who formerly had the Melrose Theatre, was the loser in one of the most tricky theatre deals in this territory, losing a judgment of $4,500 to FBO.

(Continued on page 4)

Schlanger Made Assistant Gen. Sales Manager

The deserved promotion of Ted Schlanger to Assistant General Sales Manager, and the early appointment of several new District Managers, are announced by Carl Laemmle in making public a new alignment in the Universal sales organization.

(Continued on page 2)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hemphstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York:—Harvey Day, just back from Washington, says he intended getting some inside information on the election results and make himself a little change, but Mr. Coolidge was tied up in a conference so he didn't get to see him . . . Harry Reichenbach is writing the story of "The Stowaway" for a big picture Universal is to make of the kid who got the free trip to Germany on the Zeppelin . . . Eddie Golden, cherubic smile everything, is back from a mid west trip during which he found everybody clamoring for Universal sound pictures . . . Dave Strumpf, FBO advertising art chief, has returned from Quebec where he spent a week playing around with Mr. Frontenac, a prominent distiller . . . George Marion, Jr., ace Hollywood title writer, and the best southpaw pitcher in the film colony, is in New York and registered at the Harvard Club and after seeing some Broadway shows will sail for a ten weeks trip to the other side . . . Charlie Burr, who has been in New York for the past three weeks, has bought himself a lot of musical comedies for Johnny Hines and will leave for the coast next Saturday . . . Billy Brandt, who is staging the big party at the Motion Picture Club tomorrow night, is also putting on one of his own with fifteen guests . . . Julius Stern, of the comedy making team of Stern Brothers, has been ill for several days and confined to his hotel . . . Colvin Brown left Saturday for Chicago where he presided over a Pathe sales meeting of middle west salesmen . . . George Jessel has signed up with Tiffany-Stahl to make a song picture entitled "Luck Boy" and most of the picture will be made in New York . . . Jack Harwood, with many friends among the exhibitors here, has been re-elected president of the Cleveland exhibitors organization . . .

"What's Right with the Movies"

(Thirteenth of a Series by Industry's Leaders)

By IRVING D. ROSSHEIM

President of First National Pictures

Motion pictures are to a great degree responsible for the general prosperity of the country, to the improvement in the general living conditions of the people. They have brought the different sections of the country closer together, interpreting the Westerner to the Southerner and the Easterner, and the other way about. They have helped make the nation more homogeneous, raised the solidarity of the nation. That is one thing that is right with the movies—and it's a big thing.

The movies show one half of the nation how the other half lives. They have developed mutual understanding; been a sort of national public school in which the pupils have been the patrons of the motion picture theatres of the country whatever age, color or creed.

The child of thirteen today knows more about the United States, the conditions of life in the various sections, than the man of thirty, with an average education, knew before motion pictures were perfected and became the most popular form of amusement.

The child of parents unable to provide them with the luxuries of life — with motor cars, phonographs, radios, electric washing machines, and other equipment considered essential in many households — has seen that others in circumstances not so much better than their own manage to get them and make life more livable and they imbibe the ambition to succeed, to raise the standard of living in their own families.

It is no exaggeration to assert that millions of young boys and girls have felt the first stirrings of ambition as a result of seeing on the screens of their local theatres pictures that teach that application and industry will bring them some of the good things of life they have missed.

Motion pictures have been a disseminator of civilizing influences, the cause of introducing new inventions that have made work easier, and play more enjoyable. They have proved salesmen of higher standards of living, and of culture. There can never be anything radically wrong with an industry that can accomplish these things as a by-product of entertaining the public, which remains and always will be the chief function of the motion picture.

New "U" Policy Splits Country into Divisions

(Continued from page 1)

Schlanger, highly recommended to Mr. Laemmle by Lou B. Metzger, Universal's new General Manager, and by M. Van Praag, who succeeded Metzger as General Sales Manager, takes office Monday as Van Praag's right hand man. For the past eight months Schlanger has been Eastern Sales Director for the Laemmle organization.

A further step away from the three grand division plan, East, West and South which marked Universal's sales territories several years ago and the more recent two grand division plan, East and West, divided by the Mississippi, has been brought about to conform with changes in the distribution and sales end of the industry.

Closer contact is sought with the exhibitor in Universal's new plan, and closer supervision over the various territories. Heretofore two sales directors in the home offices have divided supervision of the entire United States and Canada between them, with one or two assistants or district managers each.

Under the new arrangement, there will be more district managers, and the district managers will have increased supervision over their respective territories. It is likely that each district manager will have four or five exchange territories under his jurisdiction.

Fast Thinking

There is a story going the rounds that Harry Reichenbach, demon publicist, having read of the stunt pulled by the Hearst papers in placing a stowaway on board the Graff-Zeppelin, got red in the face with envy.

Not to be outdone, Harry conceived a yarn while taking the last two gulps of a cup of coffee, grabbed a phone and sold it to Universal for a picture.

It will be known as "The Stowaway" and will be put in to immediate production.

TWO PATHE SALES MEETINGS HELD

With Joseph P. Kennedy, Official Advisor, and Colvin W. Brown, Executive Vice President, as the principal speakers, in Los Angeles and Chicago respectively, the Western and Central Divisions of the Pathe sales organization held sales meetings simultaneously yesterday (Sunday) to discuss the aggressive sound picture program.

In addition to Vice President Brown, home office executives who addressed the Chicago session at the Blackstone were Phil Reisman, General Sales Manager; Harry Scott, Short Subject Sales Manager and J. F. McAloon Mgr. of Exchange Operations. Stanley Jacques, Central Division Sales Manager and the following Branch Managers were in attendance: H. S. Lorch, Chicago; J. A. Harris, Cincinnati; W. E. Branson, Des Moines; H. Graham, Indianapolis; W. A. Aschmann, Milwaukee; J. H. MacIntyre, Minneapolis; R. S. Ballantyne, Omaha; E. S. Olsmith, Kansas City; C. D. Hill, St. Louis and H. P. Zapp, Detroit.

Liebeskind Joins W-A As N. Y. Sales Head

Nat Liebeskind has resigned his post as a special representative for the Fox Movietone, to associate himself with the Woody & Adler organization in the capacity of sales manager of the newly opened W-A exchange at 729 Seventh Avenue.

Roxy Election Returns

S. L. Rothafel announces that nation-wide returns of the election will be announced at the Roxy Theatre on Tuesday evening.

There will be five de luxe performances on Election Day, the last one beginning at 11:00 P. M., the audiences being informed of the progress of the election intermittently during the performance.

New Mexican "Beaut"

Robert Flaherty has delivered Senorita Delia Magana to the Fox lot for seasoning. This is the Mexican music hall beauty that has caused West Coast studio officials a lot of worry recently. She was discovered by Flaherty who was on a location hunt for his Indian epic he is to make for Fox. She wanted plenty of money to desert that "dear Mexico" and she probably got it.

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.

for Library Stock Scenes
130 W. 46th St. New York
Bryant 8181

Classified Advertisement

Advertisements in this section, 5 cents per word. Cash must be sent with order. No charge for Box Number line. Minimum order, $1. 10% discount 12 issues or more.

FOR SALE

AN OLD AND WELL ESTABLISHED Orchestra Business of Band Providers. Fully licensed, agency for variety, etc. Price $4,500. Commodious offices, extensive up-to-date library and music. Established 25 years. Open to every inspection and investigation. Write May Walter Orchestra, 81 Shaftesbury Avenue, London W.1.

MOTION PICTURE AND "STILL" cameras rented, sold and exchanged. Portable lights for sale and for rent. Keep us advised of your wants. Ruby Camera Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

LOCAL FILMS

MOTION PICTURES MADE TO order. Commercial, Home or Industrial. We have excellent facilities and the best cameramen. Our price, 20c per foot. Ruby Film Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

WHETHER YOU WANT TO HIRE some one or be hired; buy or sell a theatre; trade or sell equipment, or do almost anything else in the motion picture business, an ad in this department will get you results. If you want us to word the ad for you, the services of our advertising experts are at your call. Simply tell us what you want to do, and how many words you want used. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

GOSSIP OF LONDON

By LIONEL BURTON

LONDON—in the autumn—nearing actual winter.

I find, as a total and utter stranger, an odd condition existing in the local realm of the cinema. As an example I discover that what with quotas and things there is more money now from the financiers for the making of cinematigraphics or movies as the Bowery has it. Two millions in pounds sterling have been placed atop three million pounds sterling in a matter of 48 fortnights to improve and enhance British excellence and promote British status in the cinema international relation. A tidy sum and redoubtable results too, what with the Wilcoxes with an almost Yankee smartness for the international thing and the American market never out of view, together with Bromhead, always accepted as a fine example of leadership in British cinema progress. What shall happen of it? Nothing but good and the crashing—a great Yankee word—of the American market through the box office is of course an idea in a decade.

It may interest American readers to know that dear old Bioscope refers to Lillian Rich as a "pantomime babe" and announces with quite a heavy solemnity that only ten years ago she played one of the "Babes in the Wood at the Lyceum". Now what's the average age of a babe in the wood? If it's three, Lillian Rich must now be all of thirteen years of age—a nice age when one passes it.

The same cinema journal gives space to the very occupied time of Mr. William Bosco which my American experience tells me is the same name employed by a snake eater who bit off the heads of serpents and when hungered ate them alive. However it must have been that the American was trading on the name of a famous theatre and cinema gentleman for Bioscope says of him: "Mr. Bosco has always taken the greatest interest in his make-up necessary for the variety of parts he plays. I saw a still picture at the studio of his Lord Palmerston, an extraordinary striking character study. Mr. Bosco has to be careful to see that his name is included in the cast of any film in which he plays for he often makes himself quite unrecognizable even to his own friends."

It occurred to me quite as a possibility that Mr. Bosco would and possibly does worry his wife quite a bit by the art and convincing nature of his make up. Or it might worry Mr. Bosco as well were he to be greeted in the boudoir with the wifely observation: "But, yes, Lon Chaney, suppose my husband should arrive at any moment?"

My total unacquaintance with cinema conditions must be my full excuse for the lack of quality in the correspondence but as I can't be as big an aw as Haanen Sweffer (one must be born to it) I must rely on your patience until I know as much as you may desire.

VITACOLOR DEAL FOR EDUCATIONAL FILMS

LOS ANGELES—Negotiations are under way between officials of the Vitacolor Corporation and national agencies representing education film companies and clinical laboratories—two fields in which the new color method is said to be particularly well adapted—following showings of the process before physicists of the California Institute of Technology, motion picture studio representatives, professional photographers, newspapermen and others, and, more recently, before members of the Pacific International Photographic Association at their convention in Portland.

While special film tests are underway in the Vitacolor laboratories to insure availability of the process for the professional field at the earliest possible date, manufacturers of amateur movie equipment in the country are considering Vitacolor apparatus exclusively for their products.

Vitacolor pictures are made possible through two small attachments, one of which fits upon the camera and the other upon the projection machine, and the use of a special film, which is not unlike ordinary panchromatic film, and will be supplied through regular channels by leading manufacturers.

WARNER EXECUTIVES ATTEND CLUB AFFAIR

The Warner Club Hallowe'en party which was held at the Warner Bros. Vitaphone Studio, located at 1400 Locust Avenue, Brooklyn, New York, was acclaimed as an outstanding success. There was a hundred percent attendance of club members, each of whom brought guests. Warner executives present included Major Albert Warner, Herman Starr, Sam Morris, A. P. Waxman and Albert Howson.

A buffet supper was provided before the dancing began, after which the attendees were entertained by Broadway celebrities. As soon as this was over, several interesting games took place in which all participated. In addition to the supper, refreshments were passed out during the course of the games. Dancing concluded the program for the evening.

"On Trial" at Warners

"On Trial", new Warner-Vitaphone all-dialogue film, is opening at the Warner Theatre on November 14th and will replace "The Home Towners".

Here's How It Is

Edward L. Klein is Chairman of the Anglo American Dinner Committee. Bruce Gallup is chairman of the "Sam Harris Cup Selection Committee" which meets this week to pick the winner. This is printed to correct any impression that Mr. Klein has changed places with anybody. He is on the job—and how!

Messiter Appointed

Fred A. Flader, general manager of the Universal Chain Theatrical Enterprises, Inc., has appointed H. M. Messiter, manager of the Acoustics Department. He will supervise equipment installation and the contracting of synchronized scores and acts for "U" theatres.

To let the holidays pass without greeting your friends is a social oversight you cannot afford.

The best way and the way that's smart as well as cordial is to reserve your space—large or small in the

ELEVENTH ANNUAL ANNOUNCEMENT NUMBER

of
EXHIBITORS DAILY REVIEW

THE DATE

TUESDAY, JANUARY 1, 1929

THE COPY

Early copy means first attention AND best position

THE ISSUE

The finest in the history of this publication

And We Don't Mean Perhaps

WARNERS TO CLOSE HOLLYWOOD STUDIOS FOR TWO MONTHS

1928-29 Schedule to Be Completed by Dec. 15

REOPEN IN FEB.

By J. HARRISON EDWARDS

The Big Sunset Bldg., plant of Warner Brothers will be closed about the 15th of December and will not reopen until Feb. 15th. This announcement was made by studio officials yesterday.

The 1928-29 schedule of pictures have been completed, or will be, by the time of closing and the fact that all actual production will cease for a period of sixty days is, in this case, a very healthy condition.

Some few production heads, directors, stars and players will be given a much needed vacation. But what will be rest for some, will be heavier activity for others for there will be so many construction changes around the lot during this "rest period" that a person returning will think they are in the wrong place. Old stages will be removed and new ones will take their places. Alterations will be made here and there in order that every available foot of space on this tremendous lot will be in use for the very heavy production schedule for the 1929-30 lineup.

An additional staff of writers, added to the already large list under contract will be put to work making adaptations of stories in plays to be put into production after Feb. 15th.

Schenck Buying "Kim"?

Joseph M. Schenck, president of United Artists, has started negotiations for the buying of the screen rights of Rudyard Kipling's "Kim." These are held by Maude Adams, who once attempted to make "Kim" in color.

Bellew Signed

C. Kyrle Bellew, who has had fine stage experience, has been signed by Pathe for the part of Sir Richard Barclay, in "The Missing Man." This will be an all-talkie.

Columbia's "Affair"

Columbia have stepped out and bought themselves a real live, honest to goodness, rip roaring, murder mystery stage play. It is "The Donovan Affair" and it is to be made as an all-talkie with Jack Holt in the lead and Frank Capra directing. With the genius demonstrated in his direction of "The Submarine" Capra should make a "wow" out of this one.

Nagel with Fox

As soon as Conrad Nagel can cut away from M-G-M and "The Last of Mrs. Cheney" he will rush over to Fox and dash off a few lines as leading man with Mary Duncan in "Through Different Eyes."

Banky's Citizenship

Vilma Banky, Sam Goldwyn star, took out her first naturalization papers in Hollywood preparatory to becoming an American citizen. "Atta girl Vilma!"

STUDIO GOSSIP

Albert Grau has been signed for a part in the Harry Richman all-talkie, that United Artists is making.

Gertrude Howard, colored comedienne, plays a comedy role in the courtroom scenes of "Stranded in Paradise," the George Fitzmaurice production for First National Pictures.

Dorothy Janis has been assigned a part in "The Pagan," M-G-M picture starring Ramon Novarro.

Sidney Bracey plays a valet in First National's "Stranded in Paradise," another sophisticated role for this popular character actor.

George Kahn and W. S. Van Dyke, director, have left for the South Seas. This is a location trip for the filming of "The Pagan."

Agnes Christine Johnson is writing the treatment on "The Man and the Moment," the Elinor Glyn story which George Fitzmaurice will direct for First National. Billie Dove is the star.

Renee Adoree has the featured feminine lead in "The Pagan" an M-G-M production.

Garrett Graham is titling "Adoration," the Billie Dove starring vehicle which was directed by Frank Lloyd.

Charles Reisner, who is now directing "Noisy Neighbors" for Pathe, has the distinction of having been the first "gag-man" in the motion picture industry.

William V. Mong and Kalla Pasha have been added to the cast of the forthcoming mystery thriller, "Seven Footprints to Satan," which Benjamin Christensen will direct for First National.

One of the greatest annoyances in the making of sound pictures, according to Pathe Studio officials, lies in the recurrent passage of airplanes, flying low over the buildings in Culver City where dialogue and music are being recorded in synchronization with camera work.

Frank Capra has been assigned to direct "The Donovan Affair" for Columbia Pictures.

Universal has copyrighted and registered with the Will Hays office the name, "Flaming Daughters." The next thing is to write the story.

Tom Dugan, stage and screen comedian, has been added to the cast of First National's "The Barker," and will portray a side-show spieler in the dialogue sequence of the story.

Lucien Littlefield and Charles Lane have been added to the cast of Corinne Griffith's forthcoming First National picture, "Saturday's Children," adapted from Maxwell Anderson's Pulitzer Prize play.

DIX BACK TO ASTORIA FOR P-F-L PROD. DEC. 15

Richard Dix will make his next picture at Paramount's Long Island Studio in Astoria, beginning about December 15th, it was announced today by Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president in charge of production of the Paramount Famous-Lasky Corporation. His last picture in L. I. was made in 1926.

J. G. Bachman will supervise, having had charge of the Dix unit in several recent productions. Bachman now is in the east, making preparations for the new Dix picture.

The picture will be directed by Victor Schertzinger, who directed the latest Dix film "Redskin". It is expected that Schertzinger will come east shortly. Edward Cronjager, who has been first cameraman with Dix for several years, is expected to come east in about two weeks.

Dix expressed great pleasure at his assignment to New York and to talking pictures.

PICKFORD TO CHANGE "COQUETTE" ENDING

Mary Pickford has decided to go through with the production of "Coquette" but its production for the screen will be quite different from the stage play. One of the many changes to be made will take out the ending, wherein the character to be played by Miss Pickford will be permitted to live, and not do away with herself, as was the case with the stage version. And in addition to this, all the naughtiness in dialogue and action being done in the spoken drama will be softened up so that "our Mary" will continue her sweet innocence in this vehicle.

Jensen Loses $4,500

Theatre Suit to FBO

(Continued from page 1)

Jensen sold the Melrose Theatre to H. E. Hostettler and Hostettler assumed the contracts in writing from Jensen and the credit committee. Hostettler then refused to play the pictures under the majority of the contracts and after having the theatre about a month, served notice he was closing.

The house was closed for several days and when it re-opened Mr. Hostettler advised that John Hulling had purchased the theatre. Mr. Hulling advised that he would not assume any of the contracts excepting one. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer brought an arbitration claim against Hulling and received an award which was complied with.

FBO brought a claim against Jensen the original signer of the contract and an award was given FBO which Jensen refused to comply with. As a result suit was brought and judgment for the full amount was given FBO.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

CROWDED

New York is crowded with out-of-town exchange men. All looking for some kind of a talking device to distribute in their respective territories. Naturally, all of them are looking for an equipment that will interchange with both Western Electric and RCA, feeling that the question of interchange ability will soon be settled.

Some of them have been in town for weeks, others a few days, and some just arrived. To those having recently arrived, the ones that have been here for weeks advise, "You may as well go home and come back next year, unless you want to get a non-synchronous outfit and even with that we are not so sure."

NOT READY

These boys claim that the two or three machines that are being manufactured that would interchange have nothing to deliver at this time. When?—No one seems to know. In other words the matter of equipping a theatre with an equipment of the "so-called" independent manufacture is further in the distance than the "promises" W. E. and RCA are handing out. And this condition is almost as bad with the non-synchronous devices.

So the boys are blue. They are down in the mouth. Most of them have a lot of film in their vaults in their different offices, and from present indications it looks as if it is going to stay in the vaults. (At least that is their assumption.)

CONDITIONS

Conditions in the various territories with the independent exchange is, no doubt, in bad shape. Contracts are almost out of the question at the present time. They are getting some bookings for their pictures, but all of the "spot" variety. None of the theatres, large and small, will tie themselves up on any kind of a contract with the distributor of independent product. They are all thinking of talking pictures, synchronized pictures and talking equipment. As one fellow said, "Even theatre in my territory thinks that it is only a matter of a few weeks before there will be so many, and varied, sorts of equipment on the market that he can put in an order for one that meets his fancy for tomorrow and have it in by Monday." Going further, "they are waiting for the price break. They don't want to pay Five, Six or Seven Thousand for a device, feeling certain they will be able to get the same one, or another equally as good for $2,500 with in a short time and it is in an effort to either get something of this kind or find out what is available for these houses, that I am here. But I have lost a lot of time and spent a lot of money. In the first place you can get nothing for less than $4,500 and then can't get an installation for months. In the meantime what am I going to do with all my film? I can't send a fellow out on the road, over the same territory every month, it is too expensive. It looks as if this talking fever has done what no other condition seemed to be able to accomplish—"kill off the small exchange."

In this Issue Lee Marcus Tells "What's Right with the Movies"

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors' Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 106

New York, Wednesday, November 7, 1928

FIVE CENTS

The Campaign

Now that the tumult and the shouting of the most knock down and drag out presidential campaign in a quarter of a century has died it is fair to return to a view of the dignified, decent and non-partisan part played by the motion picture. Individuals had their choice but companies gave both sides a break if they participated at all.

At the start of the campaign our good friend Jimmy Walker was distressed lest Louis B. Mayer and Joseph M. Schenck — Republicans — should deliver the screen and all its works to Hoover. Somebody was silly enough—Jimmy Quirk if we are not mistaken—even to resent the attendance of these two gentlemen as delegates to the Republican Convention.

Then it turned out that Nicholas M. Schenck was contributing to the Smith campaign fund and that equalized the Schenck family 50-50.

William Fox, a Democrat, reproduced the acceptance speeches of both nominees in Movietone and made each committee a present of a copy of the excellent result.

All through the business the Democrats proceeded with justified enthusiasm as Democrats, the Republicans worked like beavers as Republicans. This was not only their right but their duty as citizens. But as an industry and as a business there has been no partisanship, no delivery of the screen and no attempt at it.

ARTHUR JAMES

WEST COAST STUDIOS NEGOTIATE NEW 2-YEAR I.A.T.S.E. CONTRACT

$200,000 NETOCO EQUITY SUIT FILED

Breach of Contract in Goodside Theatre Deal Charged

According to the latest dispatches from Portland, Maine, the repudiation by Abraham Goodside of the recently announced agreement between him and the New England Theatres Operating Corp., whereby Netoco was to take over the controlling share in the Goodside theatre interests in Portland and in Springfield, Mass has resulted in litigation. Netoco, through its Portland attorneys, Bradley, Linnell and Jones has instituted legal proceedings against Goodside (Continued on page 2)

BANKERS-K-A-O-RADIO REPRESENTED ON BOARD

The first Board of Directors of the Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation, of which David Sarnoff, Vice-President and General Manager of the Radio Corp. of America, will be chairman, also includes Owen D. Young, chairman of Radio Corp. and of General Electric Co.; Gerard Swope, president of General Electric Co.; General James G. Harbord, president of Radio Corp.; David Sarnoff, H. P. Davis, vice-president of Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co.; Edward M. Harden, director of Radio Corp.; M. H. Aylesworth, president of National Broadcasting Co.

Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corp. will be represented on the board by E. F. Albee, Maurice Goodman, Marcus Herman, B. B. Kahane, Joseph P. Kennedy, Mrs. Caroline Kohl, J. J. (Continued on page 6)

Musicians Accompany "Canned Music"

Since the advent of sound in the Paramount Theatre, the pit orchestra has had a pretty easy time only playing a scant four or five minutes at each performance. However this week things are a bit different, they are accompanying the Movietone orchestra in the short reel of Richard Bonelli singing the prologue from Pagliacci.

Booker Said "Sound" — Joe Said "Sign"

A short while ago, Joe Brandt of Columbia Pictures was rather outspoken against the "Talkies." Saturday he was asked why his company had signed a Western Electric contract for recording. Joe replied, "A big circuit booker offered me over $19,000 worth of contracts on 'Submarine' if I would have the picture synchronized—and I said—Brother that picture will be synchronized—sign that contract."

57 S. W. HOUSES NOW IN GRIFFITH CHAIN

Oklahoma City.—With the purchase last week of several new theatres, the Rex, Wink, Texas; Rivoli, Blackwell, Tex; Palace, Blackwell, Tex; 50% interest in the Isis, and Lyric, Bartelsville, Tex., and a new theatre in Wellington, Tex., the Griffith chain now reaches the formidable strength of 57 houses, in Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle.

This rapid expansion has been accomplished within four years by the Griffith Brothers, operating the Griffith Amusement Co.

GLUCKMAN HEADS BIOPHONE SALES

Alfred Weiss, president of Biophone, Standard Motion Picture Talking Machine, formerly called Tonefilm, announces the opening of the New York Agency.

Herman Gluckman will be General Manager and associated with (Continued on page 6)

Depinet Lists 4

November Releases

Ned E. Depinet, general sales manager for First National, has arranged the November releases to include the company's big special, "Lilac Time," starring Colleen Moore. The November releases include:

November 4th — "The Haunted House," a mystery melodrama from Owen Davis' play, directed by Ben- (Continued on page 2)

Camera Union Strength Improving—Showdown on Rates Soon

For the past three years, West Coast cameramen have been quietly forming a union among themselves. Everything has been done in whispers and behind closed doors. The producers have known for some time that such a thing was contemplated but had no idea it had reached the stage of formation that exists today. The Daily Review is reliably informed that every cameraman of any importance in Hollywood and environs has joined this organization. At present the membership reaches better than 500 and the men in charge of this formation are making it tough for the rest of the camera operators to get in.

To Make Demands

It looks as if this body is going to make itself known to production executives before very long. Its membership will be displayed and when this has been done, a demand is going to be made for a minimum salary and extra pay for overtime. It has long been the contention of the cameramen that the stage carpenters, grips and electricians make more money than they do, due to the time and a half overtime paid the others, and when the years receipts are totaled and placed along side of (Continued on page 2)

"DESERT SONG" SUIT WON BY WARNERS

Judge Julian W. Mack of the United States Court for the Southern District decided in favor of Warner Bros. in an action taken against them by Louis Macloon, contesting Warner Bros. rights to release "The Desert Song" as a Vitaphone production west of Denver.

Macloon, who has the stage rights west of Denver, alleged that the moving picture rights did not include the talking picture rights and that the production of "The Desert Song" (Continued on page 6)

Jolson in Hollywood

Al Jolson, Warner Bros. star has arrived on the coast for a brief stay in Hollywood to talk over the plans for his next Vitaphone picture with J. L. Warner, chief executive of the Warner Studio.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Faramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

West Coast Studios

Negotiate New Contract

(Continued from page 1)

that of any studio mechanic, the salary of the cameraman will fall far short. This, of course, is not true in all cases, but exists in the larger percentage.

New Contract Negotiated

Negotiations were started recently between the Motion Picture Producers of the West Coast and the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees for a new two-year contract between the studios and the carpenters, painters, electricians, lamp operators, miniature set builders and scenic artists.

The conferences were held between Guy W. Currier of FBO and International President William F. Canavan, in the offices of Currier and resulted in an agreement to continue the present contract, signed in November 1926, and which has remained in force the past two years.

The contract came about through the necessity for standardizing studio wage scales and working conditions, the details of which were worked out by committees representing both sides. The original agreement was signed by G. F. Hedrick for the Painters, John Flynn for the Carpenters, J. P. Noonan for the Electricians; Joseph N. Weber for the Musicians and W. F. Canavan for the International Alliance.

The producers signing the agreement were R. H. Cochrane, Nicholas M. Schenck, W. R. Sheehan, S. Spring, E. J. Ludvig, J. I. Schnitzer, E. B. Derr, F. C. Munroe, Albert Warner and E. W. Hammons.

Since the Committees started their work on ironing out difference between the two groups, in March 1927, a great improvement in conditions at the studios has been noted.

Victor Talking Records

For "Show Girl" Songs

Victor records have been made of the two songs especially composed for First National's Alice White picture, "Show Girl," which is showing at the New York Strand Theatre this week.

They were recorded by Ben Polack and his Park Central Orchestra. Every Victor dealer in the country will carry these records and will be prepared to tie up with theatres showing the picture.

"What's Right with the Movies"

(Fourteenth of a Series by Industry's Leaders)

By LEE MARCUS

General Sales Manager of FBO

Nothing so accurately reflects the condition of a specific industry as its trade press. And the very fact that the Exhibitor's Daily Review calls for this statement on "What's RIGHT With the Movies", is a sure indication in itself of the upward swing—the militant Forward March of the motion picture. For the Exhibitor's Daily Review, like the rest of the trade press, senses and mirrors the optimism, the lusty growth, the vibrant progress and the overwhelming confidence of the exhibitor, the distributor, and the producer in the future of the fourth greatest industry of the nation.

The final test of an industry is its ability to make forward strides. In 1910 the United States boasted only 9,000 picture houses. 1928 showed 20,500 . . . 100,000,000 is the average weekly attendance today. Swing back to the days when the movie was shown in the nickel shooting gallery to the hoi polloi, despised by the intelligentsia. Look at the field today with gigantic motion picture palaces of the type of Roxy's and the Paramount's, housing their thousands of the nation's most discriminating and cultured citizens.

Think of the colossal progress of this young giant of amusement which, with the stride of its seven-league boots has already obtained a position where its gross revenue is more than sixty times larger than that of all the "legit" houses combined. Then, bear in mind that $200,000,000 is being spent yearly in the construction of magnificent new picture palaces each year and you will readily agree that something is healthily, lustily right with this new-born infant of Uncle Sam's industry.

Now, here is the strange and encouraging thing about this infant of which we all in the motion picture business are so proud. It never stops growing. Each year sees some new accession to its growing powers. This year we have witnessed the tremendous accession of the SPOKEN motion picture. Sound and Dialogue electrify the nation of theatre-goers. Theatres literally bulge with undreamt-of crowds eager to HEAR and see. As far as we of the FBO are concerned, everything is right and sweet with the movies.

Man does not live by bread alone. We are all parts of the intricate machine known as industry. And I believe the motion picture can take pride in what it has indirectly done for the rest of American industry and prosperity. The motion picture field, since the war, has done more to sell the manufactured goods of American industry in foreign markets than any other medium. It is the greatest salesman the American exporter has ever had. It displays his wares fascinatingly, entertainingly, indirectly and with the subtle force of suggestion that is more powerful in creating consumer demand and closing sales than all the eloquence of master salesmen and catalogues can be.

Each year sees new wonders achieved in the technical perfection of the motion picture. Stories are told with more art, directors are more expert in their profession, and the whole business of sifting, selecting and buying the best in manuscripts is today organized on a more efficient plane.

With theatres embodying each year more and more comforts, conveniences and elegances for their patronage, with every small as well as large city offering its amusement seekers motion picture luxury and entertainment undreamt-of in years gone by, with capital flowing smoothly, optimistically and abundantly into production, distribution and construction, with an eager public looking forward to each new innovation in motion picture entertainment, with a nation's officials, press and pulpit ever more friendly and helpful, we can truly say, "Everything is right with the movies."

Salemen's Ball Nov. 24

G. William Wolf, Chairman of Motion Picture Salesmen, announced at the regular monthly meeting held at The Park Central Saturday that the arrangements were complete for the big annual Ball to be given at the Commodore Hotel, November 24. Sol Title of Educational Films is in charge of the affair.

$200,000 Netoco

Equity Suit Filed

(Continued from page 1)

for the sum of $200,000 for breach of contract and has also brought a bill in equity against Goodside and his theatre corporations for specific performance of the agreement.

Following Netoco's announcement on Sept. 17th of the culmination of the deal, Goodside at first denied all knowledge of the alleged agreement. He subsequently issued statements to the press that the directors of the Strand, Empire, Jefferson and Capitol theatres had voted not to enter into "any agreement for the sale or other disposal of these theatres."

The bill in equity insofar as it concerns a plea for temporary injunction to restrain the Goodside corporations from transferring stock and from encumbering leases or disposing of other assets is returnable Nov. 14th.

Wasserman Resigns

Owing to the heavy press of his many duties as field manager for the New England Theatres Operating Corp., Harry Wasserman today formally resigned his presidency of the Roxbury Board of Trade.

DEPINET LISTS 4 NOV. RELEASES

(Continued from page 1)

jamin Christensen.

November 11th—"Outcast," the new Corinne Griffith production. William A. Seiter directed and Agnes Christine Johnson wrote the adaptation.

November 18th—"Lilac Time," the Colleen Moore special now in the thirteenth week of its road show engagement at the Central Theatre, New York.

November 25th—"The Ware Case," a mystery melodrama. Stewart Rome, regarded as the leader of England's younger stage and screen stars, has the featured role.

Talmadge With Sound

Price To Have 3 All-Dialogues In Action Series

Oscar A. Price has arranged for a synchronized score for "The Bachelors' Club," the Richard Talmadge action-comedy drama. Three others in the series, starring Talmadge, will all have spoken dialogue.

"The Park Central Houses the Picture Industry"

When one of your contract players or stars visit New York

A LUNCHEON AT THE PARK CENTRAL

in one of our many private dining rooms is the very thing for a press interview.

We would suggest that you visit us and inspect some of these individual dining salons, and talk over your desires with our banquet department.

THE PARK CENTRAL

FIFTY-FIFTH STREET AT 7th AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY

BIOPHONE

THE STANDARD
TALKING PICTURE MACHINE
OF THE WORLD

NOTICE

DUE TO THE MANY NAMES SIMILAR TO TONEFILM CAUSING CONFUSION IN THE EXHIBITORS' MINDS, THE WORLD'S FINEST MOTION PICTURE TALKING MACHINE WILL HEREAFTER BE KNOWN AS THE

BIOPHONE
THE STANDARD
TALKING PICTURE MACHINE
OF THE WORLD

DETAILS AS TO WHEN AND WHERE EVERY EXHIBITOR WILL BE ABLE TO SEE AND HEAR THE BIOPHONE MACHINE IN HIS TERRITORY MAILED ON REQUEST.

Price Right

Terms Right

Prompt Installations

1600 Broadway

New York City

BIOPHONE
CORPORATION

ALFRED WEISS - President

THE STANDARD TALKING PICTURE MACHINE OF THE WORLD.

NATHANSON

REEL

FACTS SPEAK LOUD

REELTONE with any

A SURVEY OF THE SOUTHERN
THE FOLLOWING
BACKS IN MOST SYNCHRONIZED

- 1—Prohibitive installation costs !
- 2—Delays in delivering equipment !
- 3—Slight disorder disrupting mechanism !
- 4—Distorted tonal effects !

Reeltone is suitable for the means of
*Theatre owners and chise holders are inv
derful device.*

Wire,

NATHANSON
220 West 42nd

"The Ghost Train," sensational road show production, has already been synchronized by Reeltone and is booked to play over the entire Pantages Circuit.

READY FOR IMMEDIATE

SON ONE ER THAN WORDS

exchangeable
and device.

ELD TODAY REVEALS STANDING DRAW-
NIZATION DEVICES:

- 1—Reeltone installations cost nothing!
- 2—Reeltone is ready for immediate installation!
- 3—Reeltone is absolutely fool-proof!
- 4—Reeltone renders perfect reproduction of sound and voice!

e houses and within lest theatre.
ive territorial fran-ar and see this won-

call

LTONE CORP.

New York City

52 Single Reels "Pictures that tell a story"—including dramatic vaudeville and novelty subjects—synchronized by Reeltone will be released on the basis of one a week.

TE INSTALLATIONS

Warners Begin Eastern Prod. Dec. 15

Bryan Foy Starting for New York to do Short Product

December 15th is the date set for the re-opening of the old Vitaphone Studio in Brooklyn, by the Warners, after a shut down of many years.

Arrangements are now under way to move the Vitaphone short subject department from the Warner Bros. studio in Hollywood to the Vitaphone studios in Brooklyn. Bryan Foy, pioneer director of short subjects for Vitaphone, will leave Hollywood for New York in the near future and complete arrangements for immediate production.

According to the present plan, Foy will go to New York to sign some of the leading musical comedy and dramatic stars of Broadway to appear in Vitaphone productions. One and two reel acts, sketches and playlets will be made with these people at the Vitaphone studios.

During the period of preparation in New York, the short Vitaphone subjects will continue to be made at the Warner Bros. studio in Hollywood at a capacity program.

Ruggles Directs Talkie

Wesley Ruggles will devote this week to the direction of dialog for his latest Universal production, "Port of Dreams." Several highly dramatic sequences of the picture will be made audible, and the screen talkers will include Mary Philbin, Fred MacKaye, the Ruggles "find" who makes his debut in this picture, Edmund Breese, Otis Harlan and others. The synchronized musical score of the picture has been completed.

This will be Ruggles' first direction of a talkie, and is preparatory to his work on the next Laura La Plante feature, "The Haunted Lady," on which work will start next week, and which will be largely in dialog.

Krassin—Nobile

Pictures Due Soon

Scenes, taken during the daring rescue of the Nobile polar expedition by the Russian icebreakers "Krasin," "Malygin," and "Persay," will arrive in New York soon, according to an announcement by Amkino, representing Sovkino of Moscow in this country. The picture consists of six reels and includes the scenes taken from the airplanes piloted by M. Babushkin and by M. Shukhnovsky, who was responsible for the discovery and rescue of the Malmgren group of the Nobile expedition.

Gluckman Heads

Biophone Sales

(Continued from page 1)
him as manager of sales will be George H. Wiley. An installation in a down-town New York Theatre is being completed and within a few days a showing for the exhibitors in the New York territory will be held, so that the exhibitors can see and hear the Biophone Machine.

The policy of this Company is that exhibitors should not buy or contract for any machine until seen and heard.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Dorothy Dwan, wife of the late Larry Semon, will go to Ontario to be leading lady for the Thunder Bay Film Co.

Jane Keckley has been added to the cast of Pathe's "Noisy Neighbors."

Garrett Graham has been signed by Pathe to write the titles for "The Shady Lady."

Frank Shaw, master of ceremonies at "Coffee Dan's" in Los Angeles, has been signed to appear in a Vitaphone presentation, "A Little Bit Of This And That."

Ethel Doherty and Louise Long, Paramount screen writers, have renewed their contracts with the company.

Eva Von Berne, one of the European "finds," failed to register and M-G-M are not renewing her contract.

Wallace Beery is now a licensed pilot of airplanes.

James Hall, for the first time in months, is busy doing nothing between pictures. He and Ruth Taylor will probably make another picture.

Rex Lease has replaced John Darrow in "The Younger Generation," which Columbia is making.

Lewis Milestone will direct Emil Jannings in his next picture which will be from an original by Victor Schertzinger.

Bankers—K-A-O—Radio

Represented on Board

(Continued from page 1)
Murdock, Lehman Brothers and Blair & Co., Inc., will be represented by Walter P. Cooke, Elisha Walker, Edward F. Hayes, R. C. Hunt, Louis E. Kirstein, Monroe C. Gutman and Paul M. Mazur.

Christie Starts "Kid"

Actual talking started this week in the new Christie sound studios where the first talking production to go through the microphone is Douglas MacLean in "The Carnation Kid."

The players who will talk in the first Paramount-Christie feature production besides Douglas MacLean, the star, are Frances Lee, Lorraine Eddy, Wm. B. Davidson, Francis McDonald, Maurice Black, and others.

"Submarine" Booking

With November 11 set as the official release date of the "Sea and Hear" version of "Submarine," important circuits and exhibitors of first-run wired houses everywhere are rapidly booking Columbia's undersea special.

Grauman to Produce

Sid. Grauman, famous exhibitor of the West Coast, has decided to produce a talking picture. So far, nothing has been decided on, by way of a story, cast, etc. but his mind is made up and a picture will be made.

Talking Movie

Prize Contest

The New York Evening Graphic, is offering a cash prize of $50.00 for the reader sending in the best letter based on the question of whether they do or do not like talking pictures.

We would like to see some of the answers.

WILLIAM JOINS C. B.

DE MILLE AT M-G-M

William C. DeMille has been signed by M-G-M to direct talking pictures, Louis B. Mayer announced Monday. As Cecil B. DeMille recently affiliated himself with M-G-M and is now preparing to direct his first production for that company, this will place the two brothers, who have been picture pioneers, with the same organization.

Warners Complete

First Foreign Talkie

The first talking picture in a foreign language has been completed at the Warner Bros. Vitaphone studio in Hollywood, according to an announcement made today by Jack L. Warner, vice-president in charge of production. The title of the production is "Zwie and Fierzigste Strasse" and the principal players are Ann Codee and Frank Orth, both internationally famous.

Although the majority of the lines spoken are German, there are a few lines of French included. Three songs, two of them in German and the other in French, are sung and in the American presentation of these numbers they are easily understandable, so good is the pantomime of the artists.

Jim Tully at A.M.P.A.

The A.M.P.A. announces that not only will Dr. Lee De Forest be a speaker at this week's meeting, but that Jim Tully, famous author of "Jarnegan," etc., will give a talk.

Colbert With Richman

Claudette Colbert is the lucky. United Artists has selected her to play opposite Harry Richman in his big all-talkie production, "Say it with Music." Miss Colbert once made a picture with Ben Lyon, but has made her greatest success on the speaking stage.

Old Favorites Signed

Henry B. Walthall and Edmund Breese have been signed by J. L. Warner for the Warner production, "From Headquarters." This picture stars Monte Blue and will be directed by Howard Bretherton.

"Desert Song" Suit

Won by Warners

(Continued from page 1)
as a talking picture infringing upon his stage rights.

The verdict was an unequivocal victory for Warner Bros. and establishes a precedent for the future. Max Steuer appeared for Macloon.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

THE BOOKER

Let's take the case of the booker in the exchange. Here is the most important fellow in the motion picture industry, and he is given the smallest credit. On his shoulders 85% of the responsibilities of the film exchange rests. He is the boy that is always wrong, when something happens. His job covers everything from janitor to sales-manager. He sells, he books, his daily correspondence with exhibitors is more than the rest of the organization put together, he gets dates on undated contracts, he helps iron out difficulties caused by dumb salesmen, he receives all the complaints and attempts to rectify them, he is the main contact between exhibitor and exchange. And in order to function these many duties he is generally at his task in the exchange all day and most of the night. If he does get a few hours off some evening, he can generally be found around the theatres trying to talk exhibitors to set in some playing time for undated pictures. That boy works.

CREDIT

And what does the booker get for all this? A salary, that in most cases, is smaller than any other member of the organization excepting the office girls and the boys in the poster room. When there is a sales drive with cash prizes offered by the home office to the winners, he generally gets the smallest bit or nothing at all. He is the "patsy" of the office. His superiors fight and scold him as does the exhibitor if he gets a bad print or a "miss-out". The salesmen order him around and if it were not for the ability and the generous mind of most bookers, a lot of salesmen would be out of a job, for the bookers cover them up in a lot of cases, this covering coming as a result of a lot of hard work, mostly at night, working out difficulties caused by verbal promises to exhibitors in order to get them to take their pictures. The booker has a tough job and gets little credit from the industry.

NEGRI

Pola Negri never looked quite so good as she does in "The Woman From Moscow". She looks gorgeous. We rather liked the picture, but a lot of people around us had different views and a couple of them were funny. Two fellows were sitting in front of us, having a word battle. Both complaining about the picture. Said one to the other "Don't yell at me, I didn't bring you in, you brought me". And in back of us a girl said to her fellow, "If it were not for the clothes those movie people put on her, she (Negri) would have a tough time getting a job as a super". And while on the subject of this picture we think it well to mention the photography. It was exceptional. Victor Milner did it. He is one of the best cameramen, if not the best, we have. He takes his place along side of Oliver Marsh. Charles Rosher and other "ace" grinders.

On the strength of what we saw at the Paramount last night, we think Pola Negri, that very talented actress is due to return to our shores. She is too great a bet to lose.

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review
Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 107 New York, Thursday, November 8, 1928 FIVE CENTS

Now, How-Then? by ARTHUR JAMES

If you were an author and had written a play and had submitted it to a producer who after a time sent it back to you, and if you went to the theatre one night and saw your own play presented by that producer with another author's name to it, and if you asked for a square deal and received in return the horse laugh and then if you brought suit and after years of battle and expense you found yourself awarded a verdict and then, exactly 18 years after you had had your play stolen you found the courts upheld your rights and awarded you a total of $781,889 you'd feel pretty good wouldn't you, even if tired out, but:

How would you feel then if you found the producer was bankrupt and the affairs of the playwright the subject of a suit by creditors? Oh—what? Well that's how Mrs. Grace Fendler of Los Angeles feels right now after winning her "Bird of Paradise" play stealing suit from Oliver Morosco and Richard Walton Tully.

It is stated that Mrs. Fendler's son, because, as a youth, so absorbed in the copyright issues involved that he decided on copyrights as his career, and hence now finds himself as one of the leading copyright lawyers of the country, earning fine fees in lieu of the verdict his mother got but may not collect on.

Be that as it may, the law's delay should be insured against out of the public treasury for only then would courts be torn away from petty and suide procrastinations that always work the hardship on the wrong person.

Accuracy, Terseness, Accuracy!
Here's a wire from C. C. Pettijohn, sent from Indianapolis last night:
"Just saw your story in Film Daily that I am a director in company organizing circuit of theatres in Indiana. No truth in that statement. I am neither officer nor director."
C. C. Pettijohn."

JIM TULLY FEAST OFF AFTER DE FOREST FLOUTS VILLIFIER

TIMID BOYS HATE TO PICK WINNER

So Harris Cup Prize Will Be Settled by Directors

The Sam Harris Cup Award committee went on the rocks yesterday when three editors of three trade papers declined to serve as members of a committee to decide what person had done the most in the past year to "foster a better understanding and a closer cooperation between the peoples in the film industries of

(Continued on page 2)

Western Electric Plant In Balto. for Talkies

BALTIMORE — Machinery for manufacturing the talking picture reproducing apparatus of the Western Electric will be installed in the new $15,000,000 plant which W. E. will build here.

The first units of the plant will be for the electric cable manufacture for the Bell System, but later, machinery to make sound pictures will go in.

Franklin in N. Y.

Harold B. Franklin, President of West Coast Theatres arrived in New York yesterday and will be in New York for several weeks straightening out the details of the separation of Publix and United Artists theatres from the West Coast chain.

Howard Sheehan, V. P. of Wesco is in charge of the activities on the coast in the meantime.

DR. LEE DE FOREST
A man of real achievement who declines to sit at table with the muck-slugging Jim Tully

Late AMPA Announcement Schedules Board of Directors' Meeting

Dr. Lee De Forest, the celebrated inventor whose name and patents are synonymous with sound pictures, evidenced his respect for himself and for the motion picture industry yesterday by declining to appear at the A.M.P.A. luncheon at the Paramount Hotel today and speak from the same platform with Jim Tully, author of "Jarnegan" the slime play which misrepresents and traduces the motion picture people. The luncheon late yesterday was postponed for "a director's meeting" but the fat was already in the fire.

Dr. De Forest's declaration was made known to the A.M.P.A. and a Board of Directors meeting was held, discussing the situation. It was finally decided to ask Dr. De Forest to appear and address the body on the following week, but the invitation to Tully was not withdrawn. A definite misconception of the words "Open Forum" brought about

(Continued on page 2)

HARRY MARX RESIGNS BIG PUBLIX POST

At the weekly Publix inter council meeting, Sam Katz announced the resignation of Harry Marx as the Executive Associate of the President and Vice President. That Mr. Marx's retirement from Publix came as a surprise would be indicated from the fact that he only recently had been promoted from his duties of General Director to Theatre Management. It

(Continued on page 2)

LINDSEY TO BRING SUIT AGAINST T-S

Judge Ben B. Lindsey has informed Tiffany-Stahl that he intends instituting suit against that company on the ground of infringement. He claims their picture "Marriage by

(Continued on page 2)

Warner-ERP Agreement Read At Robertson-P-F-L Trial

HOOVER BIOGRAPHY IN FOX NEWSREEL OUT EARLY

The Fox Newsreel enterprise included in its regular midweek newsreel, Vol. 10—No. 13, which reached theatres yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, included a comprehensive

(Continued on page 2)

DETROIT—The arguments in the Robertson injunction against Paramount and other distributors, were continued before Judge Guy A. Miller yesterday, in the Federal Circuit Court and most of the first half of the day was taken up by presentation of the plaintiff's side of the case. Robertson's attorney is Ralph A. Routier and attorneys for the de-

(Continued on page 2)

Warner Stock Hits New High—$22 a Share Seen

A solid vote for sound business policies, a minimum of Governmental interference, but increased efficiency, was reflected in the stock market yesterday, following the selection of Herbert Hoover as our next President.

Most film stocks remained quiescent, except Warner Brothers which jumped 7½ points to a new high mark for this year, closing at 135. An upward trend in Warner business, present and future, indicates that this stock will soon be paying $22 a share in dividends.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York:—Harvey Day, as he started to vote, said he knew Hoover was bound to win unless it should chance that Al Smith won enough states to give him a plurality in the electoral college, then, of course, Smith's chances were best . . . Eddie Smith, Tiffany-Stahl sales manager, is back from a midwestern trip, and what he did in the way of selling Tiffany-Stahl new product is nobody's business . . . Paul Gulick took time out from yesterday's golf labors to a vote, presumably for Hoover although he didn't take anyone but he voting machine into his confidence . . . Eddie Klein and others connected with the Sam Harris big reciprocity etc. dinner, want it distinctly understood that a gentleman named Eddie Klein is still high gun of that dinner . . . Eddie MacNamee, who labors (?) over at National Screen service, says that Paul Benjamin is secretly practicing up in the hope of becoming a virtuoso on the harmonica in order to give a real concert at some future A.M.P.A. meeting . . . Victor Shapiro has a new joke at which he laughs himself while telling it, but since this is a family newspaper, we'll let you get it from him direct . . . Roxy Rothafel, vice-president of the Motion Picture Club, made his first appearance there after he had learned from this column that Jim Savage had been engaged as physical instructor . . . Billy Brandt and Harry Brandt stick as close as the proverbial brothers on business matters, but sometimes split other ways, as Harry gave a big election night party of his own down in the country instead of attending Broher Bill's big show at the Motion Picture Club last night . . .

Jim Tully Feast Off After De Forest Flouts Villifier

(Continued from page 1)

the refusal to withdraw the Tully invitation.

President George Harvey threw the meeting open to the directors and in attendance were P. A. Parsons, former president of the body, Charles Barrell, Walter Eberhardt, also a former president, Dave Bader, Alex Moss, Paul Benjamin and Ed McNamee. They maintained that in the more than a dozen years life of the body that an open forum had always been maintained and that they would continue this policy, even in the case of the unspeakable Tully.

Insofar as this newspaper has ever been able to discover, the open forum never threw the gates wide open for swine, whether they were on two legs or four and on behalf of the industry it resists fully what it regards as the honest but fully mistaken attitude of the board of directors.

Dr. De Forest being a gentleman, exercises the right to pick his company and his action, so soon as it became known, was applauded everywhere except among the unhappy patriots who took the "Death before a Restricted Forum" attitude.

The really big laugh in the whole situation is the militant squawk of the "Film Daily" which suddenly woke up to the fact that Tully was alive and that his play "Jarnegan" trampled the prestige of the industry. Motion Pictures Today gave Tully attention immediately after the opening of his play, following its established custom of resenting and resisting all that attacks the motion picture business and its people, and Exhibitors Daily Review attacked his villification immediately.

The newly virtuous "Film Daily" said: "The A.M.P.A. finds its sole reason for existence in the fact that it is presumably of, by and for motion pictures," tomorrow acts as host to Jim Tully, author of "Jarnegan", slinger of mud and traducer of the industry prestige. Then follows a criticism of the entire body, which is unfair, because there was never any vote on the invitation as far as the full membership was concerned and there are more men in the A.M.P.A. today who resent Tully's appearance than who favor it, even on the mistakenly brave attitude of the "open forum".

It was reported during the lunch hour at the Motion Picture Club that a telegram would be sent to the Hotel Vanderbilt, where the expug has his New York habitat, asking him not to come to the luncheon, but this proved to be mistaken. Today's luncheon would have been attended only by the morbidly curious, as men of gentlemanly instincts and a respect for the motion picture industry would have expressed their attitude by remaining away.

But—there is no luncheon—today's directors meeting pushes it away into limbo.

$5 Top for Opening Of "Interference" Nov. 16

When "Interference", Paramount's first all-talking picture, has its New York premiere at the Criterion Theatre on Friday evening, November 16, tickets will be scaled at $5.50 for the opening. Because of the anticipated heavy demand, all seats for the opening night will be sold, with no invitations being extended, except to film reviewers.

"What's Right with the Movies"

(Fifteenth of a Series by Industry's Leaders)

By AL CHRISTIE

President, Christie Film Company

The Greatest thing which has happened to the moving picture business in the last few years, of course, being the introduction of sound pictures, has had the effect of making every person in the production end of the business work harder than ever before. Every now and then some new stimulant comes along which jogs people up, makes them alive to new situations, makes them WORK, and THINK and try to keep progressing.

Right now people in all branches in the studios are working as they have never worked before, a fact which is bound to have its effect on product which is coming. This new stimulant and desire and necessity of working hard will affect not only the sound pictures, which is the immediate aim, but will also affect the quality upward of the silent pictures which are made simultaneously.

In adjustments which are brought about through the introduction of talking pictures, the material becomes more important than ever before. The star-system bows before the newly-powerful slogan "the play is the thing". The industry is adjusting itself to this, and it is already having its effect in presenting pictures of all types which strikes out into new angles of entertainment.

Hoover Biography in Fox Newsreel Out Early

(Continued from page 1)

biography of Herbert Hoover's life.

The cut and titled negative was in the laboratory, awaiting the outcome of the election Tuesday night and at 10 o'clock, Editor James E. Darst gave orders to start printing.

The special Hoover subject reached New York theatres early Wednesday morning, were dispatched to all parts of the United States by air mail and were showing in a majority of theatres supplied by Fox News Wednesday evening, within sixteen hours of the time it was known that Hoover had been elected. They were the first to be delivered.

Lindsey to Bring Suit Against T-S

(Continued from page 1)

Contract" infringes on his story "Companionate Marriage" which was put into picture form by Sam Sax and sold to First National pictures. He has retained Clarence Darrow, the noted attorney, to prepare papers and plead his suit.

Edward Smith, general manager of Tiffany-Stahl acknowledges that Lindsey had been in touch with his company regarding the impending suit and claims, "Judge Lindsey has no basis for his suit and we would be very glad to have the matter tested".

Both pictures, "Companionate Marriage" and "Marriage by Contract" are playing day and date runs in Denver next week and it is in this city that Lindsey hopes to bring his suit.

Warner-ERP Agreement

Read at Robertson-P-F-L

(Continued from page 1)

fense, are Frank Eaman, Judge Stuart Hanley and David H. Crowley.

The second half of the day featured a reading of the entire agreement between the Electrical Research Products and Warner Brothers by attorneys of the defendants, who also brought out that Robertson had no actual contracts for sound pictures, except verbal claims and contended that P-F-L stood ready to deliver all product which the defendant did have contracts for.

The case was adjourned and will be continued today.

Timid Boys Hate To Pick Winner

(Continued from page 1)

Great Britain and the United States". Their excuse was that they were "not familiar with conditions sufficiently to judge" and their names are W. A. Johnston, Motion Picture News; Jack Alicoate, Film Daily and Martin Quigley, Herald-World. This naive confession from three great editors about not being familiar caused the entire staff of this newspaper to utter low gurgles. Mr. Sime Silverman of Variety declined to serve for the very legitimate reason that he was not the editor of a trade paper and so the choice of the winner will be made today by the board of directors of the A.M.P.A.

Yesterday's session was red hot, as it developed that outside influences had been legging in behalf of their own candidates for the cup winner. All were unmentioned at the meeting. One of these is a financier who has by money loans aided Anglo-American activities. Another is a foreign manager, a third was the maker of a picture and there were more, the most conspicuous figure in the promotion of amity between the two countries' film industries having no politicians manouevring in his behalf. The award will be announced today and a general call will be issued for industry support of the dinner, November 20th at the Biltmore.

The purpose of the dinner is so worthy and so totally aside from politics in its motives that it is believed that now that the atmosphere is to be clear the dinner will be much larger than was first expected. The committee is working hard on a fine program and representative leaders of the industry will be present.

Harry Marx Resigns

Big Publix Post

(Continued from page 1)

is understood it is Mr. Marx's desire to operate a group of his own theatres, the controlling interest of several having been offered him recently.

The former Publix official had been associated with Sam Katz for approximately ten years and was brought to New York City from the Balaban and Katz interests of Chicago when the latter took over the operation of Famous-Player and associated theatres.

“And The World Laughs With You”

No. 613—*Straight from the Shoulder Talk by Carl Laemmle,
President of the Universal Pictures Corporation.*

“LAUGH AND THE WORLD LAUGHS WITH YOU; WEEP AND YOU WEEP ALONE.”

I DON'T REMEMBER WHO SAID THAT, BUT THERE NEVER WAS A TRUER SAYING—IN this business or any other.

THE WORLD LOVES THE CHEERFUL FELLOW; IT GROWS FEARFULLY SICK OF THE moper, the knocker, the kicker, the complainer.

YOUR PATRONS — YOUR WORLD — WILL LOVE YOU AND PAY YOU REAL MONEY IF you make 'em laugh. That is the principle underlying the yearly success of “Joy Week” — which will be celebrated in every theatre in the land, December 23rd to January 2nd. Incidentally it is the principle underlying the success of Universal Pictures, year after year in every civilized spot on the globe — for Universal has made more happy pictures and fewer gloomy ones than any producer in the business.

AS USUAL, YOU WILL HAVE TO LOOK TO UNIVERSAL FOR THE RIGHT KIND OF PICTURES for your own “Joy Week”—and, as usual, you will find our supply full and running over with joy and happiness and laughter.

THE VERY THOUGHT OF GETTING READY FOR YOUR OWN “JOY WEEK” WILL BRING many a smile to your own frontispiece. You will find to your amazement that your frown wrinkles have disappeared and that grin wrinkles have taken their places.

PLAN A REAL ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN FOR “JOY WEEK.” GET YOUR LOCAL merchants to jump in with both feet. Get your house staff to show the spirit of “Joy Week” in everything they do. Use some or all of the many ideas and suggestions now ready and waiting for you in Universal's exploitation and advertising departments.

YOUR “JOY WEEK” WAS NOT AN ACCIDENT. THE FACT THAT IT COMES AT A time of year when holiday spirit is in the air was figured out from pure showmanship. It is a time of year when peace and good will prevail and enemies and hatreds disappear from human thought.

WITH THE PEOPLE IN A GALA MOOD, IT IS A POOR SHOWMAN WHO CANNOT pick and choose exactly the right program to fit the mood.

WATCH FOR THE “JOY WEEK” ISSUE OF THE UNIVERSAL WEEKLY DATED DECEMBER 1st. In it you will find more than enough to fill your every need. Without any other guide whatever, you will be able to select exactly the right variety.

“JOY WEEK” IS A WHALE OF A THING IF YOU GIVE IT HALF A CHANCE—AND you're giving it a whole chance if you use Universal Pictures and tell your people about it!

ESPECIALLY RECOMMENDED FOR UNIVERSAL “JOY WEEK” ARE UNIVERSAL'S MASTERFUL shorts, unquestionably the outstanding hits of the year . . . Dickens' “CHRISTMAS CAROL” (sound effects, singing, dialogue), “THE WOODEN SOLDIER” (extraordinary for special holiday presentations), “FARMYARD FOLLIES” (Oswald cartoon comedy), “COME ON, HORACE” (Horace in Hollywood series), and “THE COLLEGIANS.”

FOX NEWS

There first with

HOOVER

film biography

Yesterday, while North Carolina was still listed as doubtful Fox News was unanimously elected leader of all newsreels by audiences at the Roxy, New York, Fox, Brooklyn and theatres in Philadelphia, New Haven, Albany, Washington and Chicago.

His boyhood, his student life at Leland Stanford, his associations with King Albert of Belgium, his work as Food Administrator, his relief work in Poland and other high spots in his colorful career were presented as part of Volume 10, Issue 13 by

FOX NEWS

Exclusively

FOX

ALWAYS
in the
LEAD

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 108

New York, Friday, November 9, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Playing Safe

By ARTHUR JAMES

We hear strange rumbles about the award of the Sam Harris Cup which was to have been determined yesterday and which was again postponed to see if a chosen person could attend the dinner. As we understand it, if he can attend he gets the cup.

...

The directors of the A.M.P.A. who, after the Three Editorial Timidities declined to say what individual had done the most to promote international amity between the film groups of Great Britain and America, were forced to take the matter into their own hands. The meeting is described as acute. The spirit was mettlesome. Several excellent names were brought forward and all were received with great consideration.

...

But there was something in the air! It was the spirit of a compromise choice. We have no knowledge of who is to be chosen although we do know that the winner will be selected from a limited field already talked about. We have no candidate to promote, we have a choice we would have made public in committee but the committee evaporated—likewise then our choice as it became none of our bally business.

...

Whoever is chosen will suit us and the choice will suit the others who might have been selected because outside of the inner circle there is much amity, and good nature in this whole picture. A cheap little politician or so and a nervous ego more or less won't make much difference a few years from now—even in the inner circle where now nerves, fear, shivers and trepidation reign to beat the band.

ROBERTSON FILES CONSPIRACY-- MONOPOLY CHARGE IN DETROIT

T-S PREMIERE AT EMBASSY TONIGHT

The subject of trial marriage seems to have awakened wide-spread interest in this city judging from the acceptances received by Tiffany-Stahl for their premiere of "Marriage by Contract" at the Embassy Theatre tonight.

Judges of the Supreme Court, city magistrates, prominent lawyers, club women, clergymen and welfare workers have signified their intention of attending.

Patsy Ruth Miller and Lawrence Gray are the featured players in "Marriage by Contract", which is a new Tiffany-Stahl sound production with something new in the way of a synchronized score called "musical dialogue."

PUBLIX BOOKS "U" "LOVE ME" IN SOUTH

According to information just made public at the Universal home office, "Love Me and the World Is Mine," the Universal super production starring Mary Philbin and Norman Kerry, has been set into a number of important situations in the South by Publix.

The first Publix houses to show the picture under the new deal will be the Queen Theatre, Houston, the Hippodrome in Ft. Worth, the Rialto in McAlister, Okla., and the Sugg in Chickasha, Okla., all first-run houses.

Rosengarten Leaves Commonwealth Exch.

David Rosengarten, until yesterday general sales manager for the Commonwealth Exchange, has left that organization having made a settlement on his existing contract with Samuel Zierler, president of the company. Rosengarten's future plans are indefinite for the present.

Montagne Writes Original

E. J. Montagne, scenario editor for Universal pictures Corporation, has written "The Compromise," an original drama for Laura La Plante, according to an announcement by president Carl Laemmle. Production probably will start around the first of the year.

Nine Month's Universal Profit $1,286,516

The Universal Pictures Company, Inc., for the nine months ended on Aug. 4 reports a net profit of $1,286,516 after charges and Federal taxes, comparing with $1,026,772 in the corresponding period of 1927. For the quarter ended on Sept. 4 the net profit was $635,383, against $482,958 in the third quarter of 1927.

COHN ARRIVES AFTER LAYING PLANS ABROAD

Harry Cohn, Vice-President of Columbia Pictures, in charge of production returned from Europe yesterday on the Leviathan, after having arranged a Columbia Foreign Production organization, which will actively function next Spring.

Cohn found that despite strong restrictive quotas still existing abroad, there was no serious competition there for American films.

Pearson Returns

Elmer Pearson, former V.P. and Gen. Mgr. of Pathe Exchanges, Inc., is in town for a spell, after several months out West on his cattle-breeding farm.

Pearson would make no comment whether he was here for business or not.

"Jimmy Valentine" Premiere Next Wed.

The premiere of "Alias Jimmy Valentine," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's first full length film with dialogue sequences, as well as sound synchronization, will be at the Astor Theatre, next Wednesday evening, (Nov. 14th).

William Haines is starred in this picturization of the famous stage play by Paul Armstrong, and the cast includes Lionel Barrymore, Karl Dane, Tully Marshall and Leila Hyams. Jack Conway was director, and A. P. Younger made the adaptation.

"White Shadows in the South Seas," which has been running at the Astor since July 31, will close after the evening performance next Monday.

Exhibitor Cites Kalamazoo Meeting of Exchange Managers

NO U. A. BREACH

By SPECIAL WIRE

DETROIT—Ralph A. Routier, attorney for James N. Robertson yesterday charged five of the leading film distributors in Detroit, with conspiracy, coercion and monopoly, in Judge Guy A. Miller's Wayne County Circuit Court. The new charges allege that the theatre owner has been shut off from the supply of available synchronized pictures, for his theatres, equipped with the Humaphone device.

Routier further specifically charged the managers of the various film exchanges, with holding a special meeting recently at Kalamazoo, Mich., to effect the conspiracy and coercion.

In the second day's proceedings of the trial, in which Robertson seeks a permanent order to force the film companies to carry out contracts (Continued on page 2)

ZUKOR-KATZ GUESTS OF BROOKLYN, NOV. 13

Movie stars and celebrities will be present at a dinner tendered in the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce Club by its board of directors Tuesday, Nov. 13, with Adolph Zukor, president of Paramount Famous-Lasky, and Sam Katz, president of Publix Theatres, as the honor guests.

The dinner is in appreciation of the new Brooklyn-Paramount Theatre at Paramount Square, Flatbush and DeKalb Avenues, which opens Nov. 24 and gives Brooklyn world-leadership by possession of "the last word" in theatre luxury and beauty.

3rd Annual Fox Banquet At Waldorf Feb. 2

The Third Annual Banquet, Entertainment and Dance of the Fox Athletic Club, composed of employees of the Fox Film Corporation, will be held in the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel on Saturday night, February 2nd.

The entire membership of 600 are expected to be present.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Faramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempsstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

Pat Garyn, recently Jimmy Grainger's host at golf over in Jersey, says Jimmy has some peculiar ideas of the game, one of them being that the player who reaches the eighteenth hole first is the winner of the match . . . Col. Cole, of Texas, says he didn't say what Pete Woodhull thought he said when Pete gave the Texan a lambasting, and he didn't, he made it worse . . . Jim Tully's invitation to address the A.M.P.A. has some people all het up over what the bosses may have to say to their publicity and advertising men after it is all over, and it might be plenty . . . Dick Rowland has been out of First National for some time and they haven't named a successor for him so it may be that is part of the economy program of the new management of the company . . . Carl Laemmle must be leading a double life for in spite of the fact that he is on the coast someone got a good picture of him the other day at the Motion Picture Club . . . Jack Bachmann, who spent three weeks here recently, is due back shortly to supervise Richard Dix in the making of a sound picture at Paramount's Long Island studios . . . Oscar Price will soon begin work on four sound pictures with Richard Taluadge, and says that his star's dialogue voice will make them all sit up and take notice . . . Director John Blystone will be in New York shortly on his way to Italy to get back ground shots of a big picture . . . Herman Gluckman has been made general manager of a New York branch which Alfred Weiss will open for handling his Biophone talking picture device . . .

"What's Right with the Movies"

(Sixteenth of a Series by Industry's Leaders)

By ADOLPH ZUKOR

President, Paramount Famous-Lasky Corp.

The chief thing that is right with the motion picture industry is its constant change. What is right today may be wrong tomorrow, and the fact that the intelligent leaders of the industry realize this condition is the greatest asset the industry has. Just as soon as an industry, a company or an individual thinks everything is right and should not be changed, just so soon does that industry, company or individual wither and go into a decline.

To the observer unacquainted with this business, its frequent changes may seem like chaos. Nothing could be farther from the truth. It is merely growth—healthy, vigorous growth.

By this I do not mean that these changes are unorganized and revolutionary. On the contrary they are guided along sound lines of business principles, and are revolutionary, rather than drastic. They are brought about by many things, but chiefly by the demand of the great world public which the motion picture serves.

From the movies millions of people throughout the world receive their greatest recreation and entertainment. With our pictures we take happiness and knowledge of one another to every race on the globe. Through our new modern theatres we give people this entertainment in an atmosphere of comfort and luxury which not so many years ago not even kings could command. In doing this we give employment to hundreds of thousands of men and women, and the profit from this vast business is shared by thousands of investors.

Happiness, understanding—those are the great gifts of the movies to mankind, and the fact that this business is constantly changing so that it can better distribute these gifts is the greatest proof that we are doing our best to meet our obligations to the public.

out written confirmation from the home office, and Robertson may have to produce such written authority to gain his point.

The trial is continued over until this morning. Frank A. Eaman is representing Paramount, Pathe and Warner; David H. Crowley, First National and Stuart Hanley, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Mannix Here on 3-Week M-G-M Studios Mission

Edward J. Mannix, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer producer, who has helped supervise the building of this company's new sound stages at the coast, arrived in New York last week, and will remain in the East about three weeks.

Mannix brought with him a print of "Alias Jimmy Valentine," M-G-M's first picture with dialogue sequences.

BIOPHONE INSTALLS 2 IN GREATER N. Y.

The Biophone equipment is being installed in two theatres in Greater New York, one at the Leo Brecher Plaza Theatre and the other in the Stanley-Fabian Newark house The Goodwin. These installations will be completed by Wednesday of next week, at which time, Herman Gluckman, controlling the sales of Biophone for Greater New York, will invite exhibitors to visit either of these theatres to inspect this device.

Robertson Files Conspiracy--Monopoly Charge in Detroit

(Continued from page 1)

for sound pictures, the charge against United Artists was dismissed, as the Judge held Robertson could prove no breach of contract against them, and he refused to sustain an action merely on grounds of anticipated breach.

The defense witness of the day were Ed Canty, head booker of the Paramount Detroit office and John E. Ryder, Paramount City Salesman, who were cross-examined by the plaintiff, regarding booking certain pictures to Robertson's theatres. Routier called upon them to verify the booking record.

The defense, at this point, scored heavily, when Judge Miller instructed Routier, that before he proceeded further with his cross-examination of the defense employees, he would have to prove their competency to testify and whether they had the power to enter into verbal agreements for the producing companies.

It is upon this important point, that Robertson's case may hit the rocks, as it is an accepted understanding in the industry that, bookers, salesmen and even branch managers have no authority to vouchsafe a verbal agreement with-

SAENGER CIRCUIT BOOKS "U" LINEUP

Contracts have just been signed by the Universal Pictures Corporation and the Saenger Circuit of New Orleans by which the big Southern Chain gets Universal's entire line-up for the current season. The deal includes both silent and synchronized pictures, and embraces the entire Saenger circuit, approximately 120 houses in Louisiana, Texas and other parts of the South.

Ted Schlanger, then Eastern Sales Director for Universal, headed the negotiations for Universal. He since has been appointed Assistant General Sales Manager by Laemmle. In the Saenger deal, he was assisted by Ralph B. Williams, Southeastern division manager for "U", Fred J. McConnell, short subjects sales manager, and W. M. Richardson, Universal manager in New Orleans.

"Hungarian Rhapsody"

Has Berlin Premiere

BERLIN—"The Hungarian Rhapsody" which opened here Monday night at the UFA Palast is the biggest UFA-Pommer success since "Variety" in the opinion of critics. It was an unprecedented social and artistic event.

Willy Fritsch, male lead, who received an ovation, read telegrams from Lil Dagover and Dita Parlo, now in Hollywood. Director Schwarz and Cameraman Hoffman answered curtain calls after the film showing.

Wingart Bound West

Earl Wingart, of the Fox Eastern Publicity Department left for the Coast on Sunday to prepare some special work for the company at the Fox Hills Movietone City plant. Mr. Jerauld will take Mr. Wingart's place while he is away.

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.

for Library Stock Scenes
130 W. 46th St. New York
Bryant 8181

"New York's Motion Picture Headquarters"

HOW ARE YOUR SALES? ARE BOOKINGS BAD?

The greatest stimulant to an aching sales force is a little inspiration luncheon dinner or supper. Get the crowd around a table, talk things over. Give them a little "pep"

You will find the Italian, Colonial, Arabian French or Gothic salon, just the atmosphere you need.

Call up our banquet department, tell them your desires and they will do the rest.

THE PARK CENTRAL

FIFTY-FIFTH STREET AT 7th AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY

Thomas Meighan

ADD ANOTHER BOX OFFICE FAVORITE TO the significant parade of stars assembled for Warner Bros. Vitaphone Pictures!

THOMAS MEIGHAN, FORCEFUL AND VIRILE personality, screen idol beloved by millions of American men and women!

MEIGHAN HAS BEEN ONE OF THE SCREEN'S greatest attractions since his unforgettable sensational appearance in "The Miracle Man," when he achieved stardom!

SEVERAL SEASONS IN STOCK COMPANIES and successful appearances in big stage productions have seasoned him, so count on his voice to thrill the movie fans. He reaches the apex of his career through that apex of box office miracles—VITAPHONE!

MEIGHAN IS NOW PART OF VITAPHONE HISTORY. Vitaphone is part of box office history! Add Meighan to the Vitaphone roster that boasts Al Jolson, John Barrymore, Dolores Costello, Monte Blue, George Arliss, Texas Guinan, Sophie Tucker, Fanny Brice. And a host of others.

"NOAH'S ARK"—NOW—TOPS
ANY PICTURE EVER MADE!

A Man's Man Whom Every Woman Loves!

Warner Bros.
Vitaphone Pictures
Are the Standard
Of the World!

Al Jolson in
"The Singing Fool"

"The Terror"
with May McAvoy
and Louise Fazenda

"Lights of New York"
All Star Cast

George M. Cohan's
"The Home Towners"

"On Trial"
with Pauline Frederick
Bert Lytell, Lois Wilson

Fanny Brice in
"My Man"

Dolores Costello in
"Glorious Betsy"
with Conrad Nagel

Al Jolson in
"The Jazz Singer"

"The Lion and the Mouse"
with May McAvoy
and Lionel Barrymore

Dolores Costello in
"Tenderloin"
with Conrad Nagel

JUST A FEW OF THE
BIG HITS WITH PLENTY MORE ON
ON THE WAY

Now A Warner Bros. Vitaphone Star

New Studio "Call Bureau" To Break Grip of "Agents"

Central Casting Service System Extended for Benefit of Stars

By J. HARRISON EDWARDS

It looks like curtains for the Hollywood agent. They call themselves "artists representatives" but the majority of them will have to look to other fields to represent in order to collect their 10%, for motion pictures are about to wash them up.

Several years ago producers got together and formed what is now known as the Central Casting office. Its purpose was to act as a contact between the studio and the extra and bit player and no charge was to be levied against the player for this service. Each studio paid 5% of the days outlay for these players, to cover the expense of this office. This action was brought about due to the avarice of casting agents in "socking" these players anywhere from 10% to 25% for getting them work and, in addition to this, there had always been a bad smell to these transactions. The Central Casting office has been highly successful from every point of view.

"Call Bureau"

Recognizing the success of the Central Casting office, the Association of Motion Picture Producers have decided to establish a "call bureau" with offices located in the same building with the Association and its purpose will be to act as a contact between star, featured players and artists of "part standing" and all studios in this association. There will be no charge made for this service, but each studio will assume his portion of the expense for the operation of the bureau in the same manner that Central Casting is operating.

No Agents

After the bureau is established it will not be necessary for a player to burden himself with the services of an agent in order to get work in any of the major studios. The bureau will act as his agent and he will not have to pay fee. All of this has come about due to the shady work of several agents at different times in the past couple of years. It is the beginning of the end for these boys, the good will have to suffer for the bad.

In its present formative state, all those connected with the Association say that no effort will be made to interfere with the work of agents, but that is "baloney". What need will a player have for a ten percent if he can get the same service (and maybe better) without having to lay out a dime? What Central Casting did for the extra, this call bureau will do for the part player not under contract to the studios.

The casting director of each studio will make known his wants each day to the head of the bureau who will, in turn, get in touch with all players who seem to qualify for that part. By this means, these players will go direct to the studio with first hand information of what is wanted and be in a position to close for their services themselves.

STUDIO GOSSIP

"The Boy Wonder" is being written by Matt Taylor and Clarence Thompson as a starring vehicle for Arthur Lake of Universal.

Eddie Cline is to direct "The Crash" for First National Pictures. Milton Sills will star.

The first assignment that William DeMille will have for M-G-M will be "The Trial of Mary Dugan." He will direct both silent and talking versions and they will differ considerably.

Columbia Pictures have purchased "The Fall of Eve" by Anita Loos.

First National have bought the screen rights to "Fast Life" by Sam Shipman and John B. Hymer.

Tom Miranda is titling "Shop Worn Angel" for Paramount and Randolph Bartlett is doing the same for "Loopin the Loop", a German picture which Paramount is releasing.

Eleanor Griffith will be featured in United Artists "Night Stick."

The title of Charles Gilpin's all-colored picture for Fox will be "North of Dixie."

The title of "The Baggage Smasher" has been changed to "Strong Boy." Victor McLaglen has the lead in this.

Lumsden Hare has been given a part in "False Colors."

Betty Compson and William Holden have been cast in First National's "Weary River."

Paramount has renewed its option on Olga Baclanova for another year.

Considine-Crosland

Arrive for Production

John Considine, Jr. and Alan Crosland arrived in New York Monday to prepare the production of Harry Richman's United Artists picture "Say It with Music".

PAT ROONEY WITH "U" FOR SOUND PICTURES

Pat Rooney, famous stage comedian, song and dance man, and the idol of countless thousands of vaudeville patrons from Coast to Coast, has been signed by Carl Laemmle for Sound Pictures. Marian Bent, his wife and stage partner, and Pat Rooney III, their son, also have been engaged by the Universal Pictures Corporation.

Edgar Allan Woolf, noted playwright and stage producer, who has been responsible for many Pat Rooney successes in the past, is to write the stories for the Rooney-Universal pictures. He already has started work on them, and is in close touch with Rooney.

COMPLETE STAFF FOR MET. STUDIOS NAMED

Phil Goldstone yesterday announced the completion of the studio technical staff which will be in charge of Biophone production at the Metropolitan Sound Studios in Ft. Lee, New Jersey.

The staff consists of James Byers, Engineer in charge of sound; H. Tackats, Engineer in charge of Synchronization; George Orth, Studio Manager; Charles Nasca, Art Director; Louis Katzman, Musical Director and Music by the Anglo Persion Radio Orchestra.

Fox Starts "Big Time"

Howard Hawks, Fox director, is about to begin production on his next picture, "Big Time." His latest production, "The Air Circus," on which he was co-director with Lewis Seiler, is now current.

The new film deals with vaudeville and concerns a hooper and his dancing partner who graduate into a major circuit. Marion Nixon will have the leading feminine role.

Paramount "Sounding"

Paramount will immediately launch at its West Coast studio a vigorous sound campaign preparatory to the opening of its four new sound stages early in January.

Active work is now being rushed on the production within the next two months of twelve 100 percent talking pictures, three of which are now under way. Ten additional pictures synchronized with dialogue and singing, are also in various stages of preparation and production.

Willard Mack's First

Willard Mack's first talkie for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer will be "Hunted." This is of the melodrama type and has been written by Mr. Mack, dialogue and all. It is thought that Evelyn Brent will have the leading role in this, if it is possible to get her, with Robert Ames as the male lead.

TALMADGE OPENING DRAWS NOTABLES

Among those who have made reservations for the gala first night of Norma Talmadge in "The Woman Disputed" tonight, at the Rivoli, are Dolores del Rio and her mother, Senora Asunsolo, Irving Berlin, David Belasco, Fannie Hurst, Mary Ellis, Channing Pollock, Fannie Brice, William De Lignemare, Alan Crosland, Basil Sidney, John W. Considine, Jr., Thomas Meighan, Hope Hampton, Eugene O'Brien, C. Gardner Sullivan, and members of the Notre Dame and Army football teams.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

SAM KATZ

To talk to Sam Katz or hear him talk to others, will make you or anyone else a Sam Katz booster. He is really one of the truly fine characters in this or any other business. He is modest, retiring, extremely democratic, a natural-born organizer, a tireless worker and one of the greatest and most successful men in the motion pictures business. He is at the head of a tremendous organization and every man in that organization would cut his right arm and both legs off at the nod of his head. Katz is human and has an understanding of the proper treatment of men under him that few others have. His success has been fairly won and is the result of unceasing and tireless work coupled with ideas that have been right.

THE REASON

One of the main reasons, as we see it, for the success of Sam Katz, and as a result the success of every theatre he has ever had under his wing, is the model—and if you care to think "high-hat"—service given patrons from the minute they buy their ticket until the time they leave the theatre. The particular service we refer to was original with Katz in his first big theatre venture, the Central Park in Chicago and carried by him with a little more elaboration to his Riviera Theatre in the same city and improved on, by him in every new theatre undertaking. This service was distinct and without parallel in any theatre whether it be pictures, vaudeville or legitimate. Consequently we were quite surprised to read in one of the weekly publications that, after a swing around the Public circuit, Katz had decided on many changes and among others is mentioned "to make house service pleasing and uniform, the house staffs should place themselves on a par with the audience". If that is not bunk, we don't know the meaning of the word. The story states further, that this servility on the part of usher and house attendee's has gone too far. In other words, it is being overdone. More bunk.

MORE FLATTERY

The very foundation as we see it, of the Sam Katz success has been his management of "the" theatre. Not so much in the booking of the right pictures or the proper staging of prologues or his desire to get the best music obtainable, BUT the service given patrons once they entered. This service has been so remarkable it has been flattering, and to flatter anyone, be it a hod-carrier making his monthly trip to the movies or Mr. Park Ave. in his regular weekly visit, is to win them and when you win them you have a customer and these customers have made Katz and his associates rich. So for anyone, to suggest that this service is to be changed causes us a big laugh. Instead of putting a muffer on it, we believe that Katz lays awake at night trying to devise means of improving it.

CHARITABLE

But let's get back to the Katz of the first paragraph. His great success has brought him millions and from what we gather he is giving a great portion of it to worthy charities. One item we know costs him thousands every year. He has endowed and pays the entire overhead of a tremendous orphanage in or around the City of Chicago and this undertaking reflects his one great "weakness" (if we dare call it such) and that is love for children. A very remarkable young fellow, we call him.

In this Issue A. J. Van Beuren Tells "What's Right with the Movies"

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 109

New York, Saturday, November 10, 1928

FIVE CENTS

From Here to There

By ARTHUR JAMES

Today the donor of the Sam Harris cup steams from England to America to be present in person at the Anglo American amity dinner at the Biltmore November 20th. Word came from the dinner committee yesterday that acceptances and reservations were beginning to be received in numbers of stimulating size and that all things pointed to a really fine party with trimmings. The secret of the cup winner is still a secret but the way matters now begin to look the event will outshine its object.

We hear that the name of Charlie Chaplin has been presented to and considered by the Committee and nobody could find any fault with that. Charlie could win any amity cup in the world with his hands tied and carrying 20 pounds excess. But this is a matter for the little gods. May they have a hell of a good time about it. Empires have gone blooey over lesser circumstances and smaller crises.

The Motion Picture Club is such a credit to the industry and so admirable a contribution to its business social life that it is small wonder the list of applicants for membership grows apace. Al Lichtman and his group of enthusiastic associates have worked against the early odds of apathy and now they have made it a real club the tide is coming their way. Congratulations are superfluous but here they are again just the same.

A brilliant picture with pleasant sound, "The Woman Disputed" which opened with Miss Norma Talmadge starring, last night at the Rivoli Theatre—more of this United Artists triumph later.

The agent who toils not and spins not but who collects plenty is in for a permanently hard season, as artists and those who seek to be can now deal direct with studios and save the unnecessary percentages. A good move and one long needed on the west coast.

The real agent who attends to the affairs of the artists, who is for all practical purposes a business manager, earns his bread and salt but the shifty clique that do nothing but loaf and collect are bar-macles on the pinnacle of progress.

FIVE DISTRIBUTORS VICTORS IN DETROIT SOUND INJUNCTION

Roxy Dividend Declared —May Retire Class "A"

The Roxy Theatre Corporation Board of Directors yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of 87½c for the period ending November 15th, payable December 1.

There were also rumors in the "Street" yesterday that the Roxy Class "A" stock may be retired shortly.

FRANKLIN COMPLETES THEATRE DIVORCEMENT

Harold B. Franklin, President of West Coast Theatres, having successfully arranged the details of separating Publix and United Artists houses from the West Coast chain, while in New York the past few days, is again returning to the West Coast on Monday.

Change "Alias" Opening

"Alias Jimmy Valentine" latest M-G-M all-dialogue thriller which was scheduled to go into the Astor Theatre on November 14th, has been moved forward a day to the 15th, as a courtesy to Warner Brothers who are opening "On Trial" on the 14th at the Warner.

Fox Hot After "Midtown" Broadway Theatre Lease

Neeper Returns from 3-Week Lloyd Trip

Creed A. Neeper, assistant manager of the Harold Lloyd Corporation in charge of the New York offices of the company, today returned to his desk after a three weeks trip throughout the south and middle west in the interests of "Speedy", Harold Lloyd's current Paramount comedy release.

While on the road Mr. Neeper visited the Paramount exchanges in Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Memphis, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, Omaha, Sioux Falls, and Des Moines.

VOCAFILM IN 13 YR. SCHWARZ DEAL

David R. Hochreich, President of Vocafilm Corporation of Vocafilm had closed a thirteen year exclusive license agreement with the Maurice Schwarz Yiddish Talking Pictures Corporation, of which Maurice Schwarz is Director General.

Jews throughout the world, by means of Maurice Schwarz's Vocafilm productions, will be able to see and hear Maurice Schwarz and his famous Yiddish Art Theatre Company of artists.

Maurice Schwarz's Yiddish Talking Pictures Corporation will make a minimum of six plays each year over the Vocafilm synchronization system, and each will be a "100% Talker".

John Graham in N. Y.

John Cecil Graham and Mrs. Graham and Major and Mrs. Charles E. Bell arrived in New York yesterday. Mr. Graham is Managing Director of the Paramount British organization. Major Bell is also connected with the Graham organization.

Small in Town

Edward Small of Asher Small & Rogers arrived in New York yesterday from the Coast and will confer with Charles Rogers on recent developments of the Sonora-Bristolphone deal.

Robertson Drops Case Asking Dismissal of All Charges

By SPECIAL WIRE

DETROIT — Paramount, Pathe, Warner, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and First National won a complete victory here yesterday with the abandonment of the Robertson Injunction trial before Judge Miller in the Wayne Co. Circuit Court.

Attorneys for the plaintiff, Robertson, who had sought to obtain a permanent injunction restraining the film companies from withholding sound pictures from his theatres, on pretext of having actual contracts for such sound versions, requested that the case against the defendants be dismissed.

The various defense council agreed, by previous arrangement that this would be done and that both sides would pay their share of court costs.

The fact that the case is dismissed (Continued on page 2)

SONORATONE STARTS SHORT SUBJECT PROD.

Charles R. Rogers, General Manager of Sonoratone Pictures, the distributing organization of Asher, Small and Rogers, Gotham Productions and Lesser-Warner pictures, announces that a Gotham producing unit, headed by Sam Sax, has started work at the company's studios in Waterbury. The first three short subjects of the company's scheduled 52, are being 'shot', with the Sonora-Bristolphone sound process.

Trini, famous Spanish dancer, and her Marimba Band, will constitute one subject; The Four Nightingales, a feature of Beatrice Lille's recent musical comedy, will be another, and Mary Copeland, "blues" singer, the third. Herman Heller, formerly musical director of Vitaphone, will direct.

KATZ TO START 5TH MANAGERS CLASS FEB.

Announcement was made today by Sam Katz, president of the Publix Theatres Corporation, that steps would be taken to select another class for training of the Publix Theatres Managers Training School.

The school was organized in July. (Continued on page 4)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hemphstead 1514)

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

New York:—George R. Green, office manager of World Wide Pictures is at his home recovering from a flock of bruises and contusions received when he and a truck bumped each other, and a pedestrian has little chance against a truck in a bumping contest . . . Jack Cohn is due here today after a long stay on the coast, and that's the reason for that permanent smile on the classic features of Joe Brandt . . . Jeff McCarthy, who has been in New York for several weeks picking up stuff for sound and feature pictures, leaves today for the coast . . . Harold Franklin is here from the coast to unscramble a theatre situation on the west coast which Government officials decided needed considerable unscrambling . . . Watterson Rothaker, who stopped over in New York after a long vacation in Italy, has seen the horse show and will shortly leave for the coast . . . Will Hays stopped over on his way from the coast to vote at Sullivan, Ind., and this column will give odds that it wasn't one of the 16,000,000 deposited for Al Smith . . . Emil Jensen, after collecting large wads of the stuff you can buy things with as the result of election bets, was heard to remark that a lot of people were kidding Al Smith all the way through . . . Dr. Lee DeForest evidently knows who he wants to team up with and whom he doesn't, and isn't a bit backward in saying so . . . Harry Marx has resigned as executive associate to Sam Katz after ten years as Sam's right hand man, and someone is going to be lonesome for awhile . . . Harry Warner got back to New York yesterday after a short trip to the coast . . .

Smith Forecasts All Talking Production

Courtland Smith, General Manager of the Fox-Case Corporation yesterday stated that the talking pictures have proved their worth in the past three months and very shortly will have completely replaced the silent variety.

Smith also said that actors and actresses would be more abundant, rather than less, because pantomime is far more difficult than acting with speech.

Five Distributors Victors In Sound Injunction

(Continued from page 1)

automatically dissolves the injunction which Robertson had obtained several weeks ago, in order to secure the sound records on Paramount's "Warming Up".

The dismissal yesterday was foreshadowed the day previous by the Judge's order to Robertson to show proof that witnesses for the defense were authorized to enter into verbal agreements with him.

Concerning the charge of conspiracy, coercion and monopoly brought in court Thursday by Robertson, against the film companies, it is the belief in film circles that this was only a method of causing the temporary injunction to continue in force as long as possible, and that Robertson, in the event, he was serious in his charges, must proceed with his action in Federal Courts, as it properly comes under the Clayton-Sherman Act.

Thus, the freeing of the exchanges from any further court action by Robertson, is today being hailed as a complete vindication and victory for the film distributors.

Another test of sound-film interchangeability took place at Madison, Wisconsin last night, when Fred Desormeaux screened for the first time a sound version of "White Shadows of the South Seas," at his Strand Theatre, over Bristolphone apparatus.

The booking of the M-G-M picture with Movietone synchronization apparently has the approval of the M-G-M branch and home office.

Fox Hot After "Midtown" Broadway Theatre Lease

(Continued on page 2)

good product to book into the Midtown caused operators to look cautiously at the new theatre.

A long-term lease with Fox may shortly be closed.

Ufa "Homecoming" to Play Paramount

The UFA production "Homecoming" featuring Dita Parlo, Lars Hansen and Gustav Frolich will receive its Broadway showing at the Paramount Theatre the week of November 17th.

It is an Erich Pommer production and was directed by Joe May.

Buck Jones Arrives

Buck Jones arrived in New York from Los Angeles yesterday for the purpose of conferring with his associates in the Buck Jones Corporation prior to starting on his next production.

"What's Right with the Movies"

(Seventeenth of a Series by Industry's Leaders)

By AMEDEE J. VAN BEUREN
President, Van Beuren Corporation

Throughout the history of the Motion Picture Industry we find one predominating underlying thought which shows itself as a challenge to any and every other industry in the world, namely, that all the brains and power behind the Motion Picture Industry have never for one moment believed in the time worn proverbial saying "leave good enough alone".

Preponderance of advanced ideas have added not only to the progress of the industry but have gained the deepest respect of the theatregoers for the work and thought that is constantly being put into motion picture production by large and small producers alike.

The introduction of the talking motion picture involving a tremendous investment by the producer and with not one cent extra charge to the theatregoer bears out these statements.

How many industrial producers are continually trying to better the quality of their product after the trade name has been established. Year after year commodities sold to the consumer remain as good but no better than the original output. But who can make that charge against the Motion Picture Industry? No body! The Motion Picture Industry will continue to work along constructive lines. It will continue to look ahead. It will continue its tremendous investments. It will never sit back in its chair comfortably satisfied that what is good enough now should be good enough a year or even a month from now. Let other industries hold merely to standard production, our industry will ever strive to raise its standard. Motion picture history will repeat itself. That is "What's Right with the Movies".

Sheehan Arrives

Clayton P. Sheehan, manager of the Foreign Department of the Fox Film Corporation, returns today on the Conte Grande from a two-month business trip through Europe.

Novat Promoted

Jerome Novat, associated with Paramount for the past ten years in various capacities, today was named manager of the Paramount poster art department succeeding Francis Blakely who resigned to take up work in a new field.

Goldin Bankrupt

Sidney M. Goldin, film director, has filed a petition in bankruptcy in the Southern District Court, listing liabilities of $11,015 and no assets.

Principal creditors are Molly Field, $7,360 and William Resh, $1,500.

Heller and Beier Join Woody-Adler

Edward Heller, formerly of the B. F. Keith exploitation department and Murray Beier have joined the Woody and Adler organization in the handling of their first release "Fighting the White Slave Traffic". They will operate in the southern New Jersey territory.

McCarthy Leaves Today

J. J. McCarthy, General Manager of Movietone City at Fox Hills is leaving New York today to assume his new duties. While in New York McCarthy signed up Edward Royce and several other stage technicians for Movietone production.

Pathe Sound News

On B'way Today

The first issue of Pathe Sound News goes into the Capitol, Strand and Colony today.

WANTED

I can use from one to five hundred used Acme projectors . . . must be in fair running condition . . . any model . . . price must be right. State how many you have. Write to box No 13, Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW

TRAVELERS select the Great Northern for its wonderful location in Chicago's "loop". They return because the large comfortable rooms, homelike environment, attentive service, excellent food and moderate charges make it an ideal hotel.

400 Newly Furnished Rooms, $2.50 a day and up. Sample Rooms $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00.

Walter Craighead, Manager
DEARBORN STREET FROM JACKSON TO QUINCY
New Garage One-Half Block

PICTURE REVIEWS

"Shadows of Fear"

First National
Directed by..... Jaques Feyder
Featuring..... Gina Manes,
J. Marie-Laurent, H. A. Schlettow, Wolfgang Zilzer.

A GRUESOME TRAGEDY, ESPECIALLY WELL DIRECTED AND PRODUCED. POWERFUL CAST MAKES THIS PRODUCTION STAND OUT, DESPITE A MURDER, TWO SUICIDES AND A PARALYTIC MISFORTUNE. ONLY FOR SERIOUS AUDIENCES, AND THEN IT MAY LEAVE BAD TASTE.

Story of a middle-class Frenchman, who works as an accountant while his new bride and his mother run a small shop. Camille is a weakling and when an artist friend of his boyhood wanders into the scene, an immediate attraction is set up between the accountant's wife and the artist. They finally plan to drown the husband which they do. In time, they marry, urged on by the dead man's mother. But they find no happiness as the shadow and spirit of the dead man always comes between them. The culprits finally take to hating each other and the mother after learning of their guilt has a paralytic stroke. From then on, they gradually retrograde until they finally commit suicide as the paralyzed woman looks on, with satisfaction.

Though produced abroad, from a production standpoint it is well handled and up to our standards.

"Companionate Marriage"

First National
Story by..... Judge Ben B. Lindsey
Directed by..... Erle C. Kenton
Featuring..... Alec B. Francis and Betty Bronson

ANOTHER ATTRACTION BY TITLE ONLY. PEOPLE MAY GO TO SEE IT BUT NO ONE WILL EVER RECOMMEND IT. IT IS CHEAP.

The story is just a tedious bit of preaching that proves nothing against marriage but a whole lot against people—especially those who made the picture. It is in reality a plea for birth-control and offers no remedy for human nature or ills.

The direction is terrible and the titles date from Laura Jean Libby. Alec B. Francis and Betty Bronson are entirely lost and wasted on a badly thrown together picture.

The action drags terribly and the players are allowed to go through scene after scene doing nothing but mugging. Another thing about the titles is the fact that they never say what the players do. It is so easy to read their lips and the sub-titles are either two scenes ahead or behind what they are saying.

Story taken from Lindsey's noted book and production personally supervised by author. This did not help it much as Lindsey insisted that the letter and spirit of the book be carried out.

"Man, Woman and Wife"

Universal
Directed by..... Edward Laemmle
Featuring..... Norman Kerry, Marion Nixon, Pauline Starke, Kenneth Harlan.

WHILE THE STORY LEAVES MUCH TO BE DESIRED, YOUNG LAEMMLE HAS TURNED OUT A FINE PROGRAM PICTURE AND HAS BROUGHT FORTH THE BEST WORK SHOWN BY KERRY, STARKE AND CRAUFORD KENT SEEN IN SOME TIME.

This film, has, in addition a pleasing synchronized score which adds materially to the whole. It is a tale of a poor man who marries the daughter of a wealthy Senator, and later turns out to be a coward in the Great War. He deserts and his pal marries his wife, they thinking he is dead. A former sweetheart picks him out of the gutter and gives the gunman who is keeping her the air, in order to start life afresh with the man she has always loved. This they do, but they are traced to their hideaway by the gunman, who is killed by the hero. He goes to prison for life, but his common-law wife almost effects his escape from prison—only to see the hero deliberately allow himself to be killed, for the sake of his first wife's peace of mind and safety.

The lighting of this picture is not up to snuff, and appears to have affected many sound pictures recently made. Neighborhood, suburban and off-the-main-street houses will like this one.

"The Cop"

Pathe
Directed by..... Donald Crisp
Featuring..... William Boyd, Jacqueline Logan, Alan Hale and Robert Armstrong.

THIS IS FAIR DRAMA OF A COP OUT TO GET HIS MAN. HAS GOOD POPULAR APPEAL AND SHOULD DO WELL IN ANY NEIGHBORHOOD THEATRE. THE PHOTOGRAPHY IS POOR.

William Boyd plays the part of a sort of dumb lead in this who is "done dirt" by a man whom he befriends and so he becomes a cop in order to avenge himself. He falls in love with a member of the gang and manages to convince her that she has made a mistake in leading such a life and of course puts an end to the life of the bad gangster, who has killed his best friend on the force.

Boyd does well in his part but he is photographed very poorly. There are times when it is hard to distinguish his face from the background. Jacqueline Logan does some of the best work of her career as the heart interest and Alan Hale and Robert Armstrong are both excellent.

The direction is pretty good. The only mistake is that in leading up to a smashing climax, the director seemed to forget all about it by the time he reached it. It made the ending rather weak, but it's a good picture and will give the exhibitor nothing to worry about.

"Dry Martini"

Fox.
Directed by..... Harry D'Arrast
Featuring..... Mary Astor, Albert Gran and Matt Moore

SO-CALLED SOPHISTICATED COMEDY. SLOW MOVING WITH A WEAK STORY TOO EVIDENTLY PADDED. GOOD DIRECTION WASTED ON A PICTURE THAT WILL NEVER MEAN MUCH AT THE BOX OFFICE. FOR THE NOT PARTICULAR FEW.

The little story there is concerns itself with a divorced ex-patriot living in Paris, whose daughter visits him there and while being shown the town, shows up the American life in it. There is no action to the plot and it proves nothing except that it was a mistake to make a picture of it. There is one scene that is inexcusably vulgar and the photography is terrible.

Albert Gran works hard and well in his part, while Matt Moore and Sally Eilers, erstwhile Sennett girl, do good work and deserve better material. Harry D'Arrast's direction is excellent and strives hard to lift the picture out of the mediocre class.

"The Wind"

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer
Directed by..... Victor Seastrom
Story by..... Dorothy Scarborough
Featuring..... Lillian Gish, Lars Hansen, Montague Love, William Orlamond, Dorothy Cummings.

WIND — WIND — WIND. TOO MUCH WIND. WIND TO THE RIGHT OF YOU, WIND TO THE LEFT OF YOU. WIND ALL AROUND YOU. AFTER THE WHOLE THING IS OVER, IT IS STILL WIND, AND QUITE A BIT OF SAND.

One of the best things in this picture is the excellent acting of Lars Hansen. He makes his character human and wholesome. Miss Gish gives a performance that makes one believe there were a lot of things she would like to have done with the part but this did not meet with the approval of director Seastrom. The story concerns itself with life in a wind devasted region and the conflict of a girl from a country, not so afflicted. Circumstances force her into a marriage that, although is not so pleasing at first adjusts itself, but not before the villain has been shot by the heroine and many, many feet of wind and sand is thrown before the lens of the cameras.

"The Woman from Moscow"

Paramount
Directed by..... Ludwig Berger
Story by..... John Farrow
Featuring..... Pola Negri, Norman Keery, Paul Lukas, Bodil Rosing, Otto Matieson.

THIS IS THE LAST PICTURE MADE BY POLA NEGRI DURING HER AMERICAN STAY AND IS A FAIRLY GOOD PICTURE HURT BY SOME VERY SPOTTY DIRECTION. NEGRI NEVER LOOKED BETTER.

This screen play was adapted from "Fedora" by Victorien Sardou. The story concerns the Russia during the days of the Czar, and has for its leading character the Princess Fedora whose fiance was killed by an uprising of Nihilists. She sets out to find the person directly responsible and this being done finds her real love. Having promised vengeance and not wanting to harm her lover, she commits suicide instead. Miss Negri is excellent in her part, ably supported by Norman Keery, Paul Lukas and Otto Matieson. The direction of Ludwig Berger is very spotty and, to our mind, the pictures great weakness. The camera work of Victor Milner was beautiful.

"Show Girl"

First National.
Directed by..... Alfred Santell
Featuring..... Alice White with Charles Delaney

HILARIOUS FARCE. PACKED FULL OF LAUGHS. GREAT EXPLOITATION ANGLES AND SURE FIRE BOX OFFICE VALUE. EVERYONE CAN ENJOY A GOOD LAUGH AT THIS ONE.

Its all about a wise-cracking baby from Brooklyn who through her own fresh brazeness and a series of publicity stunts is pushed through to stardom on the Broadway stage. This calls for a lot of funny situations and broad satire on the methods involved in starmaking. It is taken from J. P. McEvoy's book and the subtitles lifted bodily from this same book are plentiful and very good.

Alice White in the part of Dixie Dugan proves that First National used good judgment in lifting her to star parts. Charles Delaney is fine and Jimmy Finlayson as Dixie's Pa gives a particularly funny version of the henpecked husband that does the familiar worm-turning act. Altogether, this picture should be a decided help to the exhibitor.

RUGGLES TO DO "KING OF JAZZ"

Given Direction of Paul Whiteman "U" Sound Production

By W. R. W.

Wesley Ruggles, has been assigned the direction of the all important production that will bring Paul Whiteman to the screen in a Universal picture. This announcement was made by Carl Laemmle, president of this company.

The story is being written by Paul Scofield and will detail the life story of Whiteman in his rise to become the leading exponent of Jazz. It will be titled "The King of Jazz".

The original music to accompany the production is now being written by L. Wolfe Gilbert and Marian Wayne. It will be played by the Whiteman orchestra. The picture will include many of the compositions that have become popular through Whiteman's presentation and which have in turn made him famous.

Actual shooting on this production will be begun about the 1st of Feb. and will require from eight to twelve weeks.

"The Cleanup" for Fox

"The Cleanup" is the title which has been chosen by Fox Film Corporation for the newspaper story which is now being produced at the West Coast studios. Fred Newmeyer is directing. The leading feminine role is being played by Sally Phipps, with Robert Elliott and Frank Albertson also in the cast.

Grey with Columbia

Johnnie Grey, well known scenarist and playwright, has been added to Columbia's roster of prominent writers. He will do the adaptation and continuity of "The Donovan Affair," the famous mystery play by Owen Davis, which is scheduled to be one of the company's most pretentious productions of the year.

Big "U" Sound Stage

With the first two sound-proof stages completed and equipment being installed, Universal has started construction on the largest sound-proof stage yet to be erected by any motion picture studio.

The new stage will measure 150 by 200 feet and will be 50 feet high. It is planned to make on this stage practically the entire dialogue version of "Broadway," the super production which Dr. Paul Fejos will direct under Carl Laemmle, Jr.'s supervision.

Katz to Start 5th

Managers Class Feb.

(Continued from page 1)

1925, and has graduated four classes whose members have been absorbed into executive positions in the theatrical industry in every section of the country and abroad.

The fifth class to receive training in theatre management will assemble in February. The class will be limited to twenty-five men. The majority of those will be men now in the employ of Publix, whose record and whose ability merit for them the opportunity of this special training at the expense of the corporation.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Ernest G. Grooney has been engaged by Warner Bros. to train the chorus of their Vitaphone operetta, "The Desert Song."

Alma Tell has been signed for an important role in Corinne Griffith's new starring vehicle, "Saturday's Children," for First National.

The role played by Louis Wolheim in Pathe's "The Shady Lady," is that of a big Havana racketeer and casino proprietor.

Corinne Griffith will be directed by William Seiter in her next starring vehicle, "Prisoners," by Ferenc Molnar.

Paramount has bought "Close Harmony" by Elsie Janis and Gene Markey. This will be an all-talkie.

Jed Pronty has been added to the cast of "Broadway Melody" by M-G-M.

Conrad Nagel has the lead opposite Norma Shearer in the "Last of Mrs. Cheney."

Tiffany-Stahl has added Ruth Cherrington to the cast of "Spirit of Youth."

Vernon Dent has returned to the Sennett lot to make two reel talking comedies.

A. J. Kelley will direct "Confessions of a Wife" for Excellent Pictures.

Frank Austin has joined the cast of "The Drifter" for FBO.

Etta Lee will have a part in "Heat" which Sidney Franklin is directing for M-G-M.

Oliver P. Garrett and Leo Birinski are preparing an original as George Bancroft's next starring picture.

Sharon Lynn, on whose services Fox had an option, is now permanently working for that organization.

Carmelita Geraghty, daughter of the famous Tom of 'script fame, is leading woman for Johnny Burke, vaudeville headliner, in "Jim Jam Janitor," his latest Mack Sennett two-reeler for Pathe.

Ken Maynard's next picture will be "The California Mail." Dorothy Dwan will play opposite him.

Marion Byron, William Holden and Sidney Bracey are the latest additions to the cast of First National's dialogue picture, "His Captive Woman."

Lois Wilson, having signed another contract with Columbia, will play the lead in "Object, Alimony."

Clara Beranger has just signed a contract to write scenarios for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Five billion candle power was required to light one of the huge interior sets in Douglas Fairbanks' United Artists Picture, "The Iron

Extra—Extra

One day when Henry King was directing a scene, several extras were instructed to stand in doorways and peer out at Miss Talmadge, in the role of a girl of the streets, as she passed. King wanted a little man in a big coat for one of the close-ups. Charlie Chaplin, who happened to be visiting the set, was asked by Henry King how he would like to make $7.50 as an extra.

Impulsively Chaplin interrupted the general laughter by exclaiming, "Certainly! Get me an overcoat and I'll do the scene with Norma!"

COLUMBIA STUDIOS BUSY PRODUCTION AT PEAK

With three pictures in production, two ready for shooting and several in preparation, the Columbia studios are very busy. Several mid-season productions are among the offerings now being made ready for exhibitors.

Camera work has been completed on "Nothing to Wear," and the production is now in the cutting room to be edited and titled for early release. Erle C. Kenton has been directing this marital comedy, which features Jacqueline Logan, Theodor Von Eltz, Jane Winton and Bryant Washburn.

Phil Rosen and "The Apache" company are back from location, where they were shooting the waterfront sequences of the French underworld Margaret Livingston, Don Alvarado and Warner Richmond are featured.

Al Rogell is shooting the radio broadcasting and television scene which supplies the denouement of "The Lone Wolf's Daughter." This marks the first screen appearance of this latest invention. It shares the featured roles with Bert Lytell, Gertrude Olmstead, Lilyan Tashman and Charles Gerrard.

Shooting started this week on "Restless Youth" under the direction of Christy Cabanne. Marceline Day, Ralph Forbes and Norman Trevor have the featured roles.

Sonya Levien have completed the script on a special production adapted from Fannie Hurst's play "It is to Laugh." Frank Capra will direct. Jean Hersholt, Lina Basquette and Ricardo Cortez are among the featured players.

Marie Prevost, Ralph Graves and Little Billy head the cast of "Side-show," a circus story to be directed by Erle C. Kenton.

"The Donovan Affair," "Behind Closed Doors" and "Greenwich Village," are the trio in various stages of preparation.

"The Donovan Affair" is Columbia's first "talkie" production, which will be directed by Frank Capra with Jack Holt as the star. No cast or director has yet been selected for the other two.

Mask," now in production.

Cliff Bowes, the male half of the famous comedy team of Cliff Bowes and Virginia Vance, has been re-engaged to play leads in one-reel Educational-Cameo Comedies.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

CRITICISM

This question of calling pictures as you see them should be the only thought in mind when a critic reviews a picture, particularly when the review is set for the eyes of exhibitors. There are times when it seems most evident that a reviewer either has an axe to grind in giving a picture a bad review or was asleep during most of the picture. This present thought was inspired by a review given by Pete Harrison on the Pathe picture "Ned McCobbs Daughter". Pete either has it in for Pathe or had a bad night before reviewing the picture and as a result fell asleep in the projection room. In either case Pete is not doing the right thing by his subscribers.

ON THE OTHER HAND

And too, it might be that Pete had no axe to grind with Pathe and that during the unreeling of the picture in the projection room, he saw every foot of it. This being true, we are surprised that Pete could not appreciate Pathe's effort to make an adult picturization of a story that could easily have been resolved into cheap "true story" magazine stuff. If a critic overlooks the best piece of suspense in a picture in favor of an automobile chase that any slapstick comedy uses, how can one expect the public in general to ever grow up?

CREDIT

It is the duty of any exhibitor publication to call every picture as his critic views them. There should never be any necessity of favoring this or that company with a good review or cursing them with a poor one. If the production has value, say so. If the reverse is true, that goes also. The duty of any publication is to inform its readers and if the wrong information is given, you have failed in your duty. Advertising or the lack of it should never enter into a review or if one or the other company did something you did not like, that too, is aside from the question. And when every critic, large and small gives a good review to a picture, there seems no good reason for one to flop-out entirely.

REAL AND HUMAN

"Ned McCobbs Daughter" is real and human. It has no clandestine love scenes, no sticky sentimentalities. The story is founded on a love born of respect and the audience is permitted to watch an admiration grow, not through passionate scenes, but by the chief character's reactions to circumstances concerning each other—the will to help each other to something better. Harrison contends that this is "demoralizing and extremely sordid". It is anything but.

Any exhibitor or critic will have a tough time finding a better picture than "Ned McCobbs Daughter" this or any other year.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 110

New York, Monday, November 12, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Monday A.M.

By ARTHUR JAMES

Good old New Jersey has come out of the bat cellars of superstition and has kicked intolerance where the kicking would do the most good. It now is no crime to run or to see motion pictures on Sunday. With all the blue laws and the blue nose statutes on the books how was this miracle accomplished? By the sane processes of a grand jury which gave the blue laws full consideration and examination and then decided that changing conditions had rendered the old time laws obsolete.

One Isidore Segal of Newark insisted on keeping his motion picture theatre in Roselle Park open on Sundays. Twice he was fined a dollar and on the third violation was held for the grand jury. This body refused to indict and in its presentment asked that the matter be brought to the attention of the legislature and the governor for permanent remedial action.

In this presentment the grand jury set forth:

"These places of business, amusement and recreation, could not be operated on Sundays unless there was a demand for and patronage of them, due, we believe, to the wishes of a large proportion of our people. Under these conditions we do not deem it wise or proper to vote indictments against hundreds of our citizens or to discriminate against some in favor of others, but rather deem it our duty to present this matter to the court and public and especially to the Legislature of this State."

And the presentment added that it was not believed that non-observance of some of the laws is due to any desire on the part of persons to violate the law but rather to a change in the conditions and customs which make present law governing moral life on the Sabbath more or less obsolete.

This indeed is progress along the lines of sanity and intelligence!

EXHIBITORS IN ARMS AGAINST TALKIES STRANGULATION

Synchronizing Devices

and

How They Line Up for Installation

Movietone-Vitaphone (W.E.) (Film and Disc Systems)	As rapidly as possible. Present rate about 20 installations per week, but are giving no guarantees of delivery in less than 6 months.
RCA Photophone (Film and Disc System)	Several already installed, but not prepared to talk immediate or quantity delivery, although rapidly getting under way.
Sonora-Bristolphone (Disc System)	Available immediately upon acceptance of order. Installation immediate, depending on length of time necessary to wire house.
Biophone (Disc System)	Taking orders immediately. Installation within 30 days after acceptance of order.
Cinephone (Film and Disc System)	Immediate delivery. Installation inside theatre guaranteed within 30 days after order.
Phototone (Disc System)	Won't be in position to deliver, until receipt of first batch of machines, within week or two.
Phonofilm (Film and Disc System)	Initial installations will be completed about November 25.
Han-A-Phone (Disc System)	About 110 machines already installed throughout country. Accepting all orders.
Filmtone (Disc System)	Taking orders immediately and delivery within 4 weeks. Film subjects also available immediately.
Nathanson Reeltone	Taking orders immediately. Delivery and installations within one week.

In Desperate Straights Theatre Owners Sponsor Interchange Tests

Exhibitors throughout the country are in a panic regarding sound. Those that have their houses equipped are doing business or they are not doing it. Some theatres are standing them out, other doing fair and still some not making expenses. The exhibitor that has no equipment is attributing his bad business, if this is the case, to his inability to get sound in his theatre and finds that, in the case of Western Electric, it will take from six to eight months to get an installation. They figure, business or no business, in order to get the full benefits of pictures being made today, for today and tomorrow, they have to have a sound apparatus in their houses, for every producer of any note is only thinking in sound.

True, they are advertising pictures both sound and silent, but the further they go, the more concentrated they become on the talking idea solely. Their story purchases are made with a "talkie" in view and maybe the picture done silently will not be so good, even if they do

(Continued on page 2)

P-F-L SEMI-ANNUAL SALES MEET TODAY

Paramount home office executives, district and branch managers start a four day sales conference today at the Paramount home office, for the purpose of checking up on activities during the first half of the film year and formulating sales policies for the balance of the 1928-29 season.

Visiting executives are staying at the Paramount Hotel, New York City. About 75 persons are in attendance.

"Awakening" Has

Coast Opening

"The Awakening", Vilma Banky's first individual starring picture for Samuel Goldwyn, opened last night at the United Artists Theatre, Los Angeles. "The Awakening" is expected to come to New York around the first of December.

M-G-M Puts O.K. on Bristolphone Apparatus for "White Shadows"

REICHENBACH SIGNS LONG-TERM 'U' CONTRACT

Harry Reichenbach on Saturday became a permanency at Universal Pictures Corporation. On September 20th he was engaged for eight weeks to preside over the publicity destinies of the new policy at the Colony Theatre. On Saturday, Reichenbach signed a long time contract to stay with the Universal and to relinquish the other publicity enterprises in which he has for a number of years been engaged.

(Continued on page 2)

By SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

"White Shadows of the South Seas" a Metro-Goldwyn Mayer production opened at the Strand Theatre, Madison, Wis., Friday night, perfectly synchronized by means of a Sonora-Bristolphone machine, and opened to the greatest business ever known in the history of Madison. It might be recalled that this M-G-M production was recorded by the Victor Talking Machine Company who holds a recording lease through Western Electric, it should be mentioned also that it is understood that W. E. frowns upon its licensee's issuing discs on one of their re-

(Continued on page 4)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Iramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hemphstead 1514)

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

GOSSIP OF ROME

By ANDERSON GREGG

ROME—End of October.

Being careful to make a fork of the index and fourth finger—the familiar sign of the "jettatura" invented by Romulus himself to ward off the evil eye-devotees of bel canto as it passes through Pucini and Mascagni in its native land and at last condescend to discuss the talkies.

This is the first and biggest item of gossip to greet me on my arrival day before yesterday. Who started it? Why, none other than George Tyler. Who is George Tyler? Well, ask Pietro Mascagni, who knows that George can be depended on to meet him down the Bay whenever the maestro visits New York. Pietro will tell you that George is the last word of wisdom on all matters of art in America. So when Tyler deigned to talk talkies as he was leaving Italy for home via Paris and London, the Roman cognocenti literally sat up and listened.

It was good listening to the bel canto-ites, for the way George slammed the talkies was as soothing to them as O Sole Mio from the larynx of Tito Schipa.

J. H. Duval gave me this choice morsel even before I had seen the Victor Emanuel Monument. Duval is by way of being a Roman-American oracle himself.

"Tyler had left before I arrived," he told me, "but the echoes of his talkie slam were still reverberating from peak to peak of the Seven Hills. I gathered that Tyler told Mascagni, and Pietro told all his friends that, the talkies were terrible, and would go to their infernal reward the moment their propaganda value was exhausted."

Knowing that Duval had been an early purchaser of stock of the company organized to exploit the De Forest patents, I ventured to surmise that he had not confessed that act to his musical friends.

"Unfortunately," said Duval, gloomily, "I told them all about it."

"And—" I prompted.

"They called me 'traditore', and I had to flee for my life."

"What's Right with the Movies"

(Eighteenth of a Series by Industry's Leaders)

By SAMUEL ZIERLER
President, Excellent Pictures

There are so many things right with the movies that I could not describe them in five hundred words. An institution that can day after day, week after week and month after month for two decades and more bring entertainment, refreshment, diversion and happiness to the millions of poor people as well as those more fortunate all over the world is essentially and basically right or it could not so long exist.

The movies are right because they are primarily homespun entertainment for the common people. They are right because they are comparatively inexpensive to the public.

They are right because in large measure they are clean and wholesome and their influences are good influences.

They are right because they foster and promote ideals, the love of family, the love of country, the love of the decent and the right thing.

They are right because they refresh the weary and the tired. They are of great service to the sick and suffering because through modern devices they are carried to the hospitals so that those stricken may be helped even before they reach the stage of convalescence.

The movies are right because they are the great friend of the children and because they stand today as the children's most popular amusement.

They are right because they are educational, broadening and developing to the human mind.

They are right because they are the most splendid invention in the history of mankind.

Exhibitors in Arms Against Talkies Strangulation

(Continued from page 1)

get one without the spoken word.

In Arms Against W.E.

Most all of the independently owned houses are up in arms against Western Electric and their boast that "orders will be filled in the order that they are received" and cite cases of the chain operated houses getting equipment almost any time they desire and on a very short notice, compelling W.E. to shelve, for the time being, orders received prior to the circuit contract. Some of them are asking how it is possible for the Loew houses to get sixty sets in sixty different theatres when it is known that contracts for installation in independent houses were received, even before Loew-Metro decided to use W.E.

Price High

Many exhibitors are yelling about the price being charged by W.E. feeling that sooner or later they will either be selling for less, or will put out a machine of smaller cost. And still others are buying machines of other makes feeling certain that the distributors will not continue to shoulder the burden of interchangeability for W.E. in not selling a W.E. recorded picture to a house not equipped with a W.E. device.

Other Makes

There are machines of other makes that, in so far as quality and the reproduction, are interchangeable with W.E. Many of these equipments can be had on a week or ten days' notice and some exhibitors encouraged by a cheaper price, early installation and the almost certain conviction that the distributors will suddenly give in and furnish the discs to be run on any equipment, are dumping orders into these organizations. Others are buying machines with two turn tables and are cueing their pictures with a Victor, Columbia, Brunswick or Sonora disc catalogue in their hand, buy the records and put a sign out in front of their theatre advertising the picture "with sound". These exhibitors can see no difference, in so far as the audience is concerned, whether the sound has been synchronized for the picture at a studio or cued and played in their own theatres, both are sound and if cued right, both have the same effect. Of course the straight talking picture is another thing altogether.

Reichenbach Signs

Long-Term "U" Contract

(Continued from page 1)

With the withdrawal from these enterprises he also gives up the offices he has maintained in the Strauss Building for the last three years, and will make his permanent headquarters with Universal at 730 Fifth Avenue.

The approaching release of Universal's more important pictures for 1928-1929 determined Carl Laemmle prior to his departure for California to tie up Reichenbach's full time and energy as a specialist in publicity ideas and campaigns. He is already at work on novel and individual showmanship ideas for "Show Boat," "Broadway," "The Last Warning," "Give and Take," "The Girl on the Barge," "The Cohens and Kellys in Atlantic City" and Reginald Denny in "Red Hot Speed."

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.

for Libray Stock Scenes
130 W. 46th St. New York
Bryant 8181

WEISS-GOLDSTONE BIOPHONE 1 YR. OLD

Exactly one year ago November tenth Mr. Alfred Weiss and Phil Goldstone decided to start the manufacture of a talking picture machine and also the production of talking pictures.

In co-operation with the best engineers obtainable, Weiss perfected the BIOPHONE Machine which is now being offered to the exhibitors and which every exhibitor in every territory will be able to see and hear by December first.

Goldstone, assisted by engineers of the Johns Manville Company, built and equipped a large sound studio in the East, for the production of talking pictures. These stages are now in operation and will shortly deliver to the market a line of talking, singing short subjects, features and road shows.

WANTED

I can use from one to five hundred used Acme projectors . . . must be in fair running condition . . . any model . . . price must be right. State how many you have. Write to box No 13, Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW

Classified Advertisement

Advertisements in this section, 5 cents per word. Cash must be sent with order. No charge for Box Number line. Minimum order, $1. 10% discount 12 issues or more.

FOR SALE

MOTION PICTURE AND "STILL" cameras rented, sold and exchanged. Portable films for sale and for rent. Keep us advised of your wants. Ruby Camera Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

LOCAL FILMS

MOTION PICTURES MADE TO order. Commercial, Home or Industrial. We have excellent facilities and the best cameramen. Our price, 20¢ per foot. Ruby Film Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

WHETHER YOU WANT TO HIRE some one or be hired; buy or sell a theatre; trade or sell equipment, or do almost anything else in the motion picture business, an ad in this department will get you results. If you want us to word the ad for you, the services of our advertising experts are at your call. Simply tell us what you want to do, and how many words you want used. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

AFFILIATED EUROPEAN PRODUCERS, Inc.

announce the early release of

"The Holy Devil"

with Gregor Chmara, of the Moscow Art Theatre, as RASPUTIN

N. Y. DAILY CRITIC TAKES RAP AT VITRIOLIC TULLY

Betty Colfax's neat tribute to Jim Tully, the 'pug' who was NOT entertained at luncheon by the AMPA Thursday, appears in the N. Y. Evening Graphic and is worthy of repeating. Says Betty:

"Jim Tully departs from New York, Hollywood bound this week, which is good news for Manhattan, but a sad message to send the West Coast movie colony. For of all the intruders who ever repaid badly needed hospitality with vitriol, Tully is a prize-winner.

"No one knows better than Rupert Hughes, Charlie Chaplin, Jack Dempsey, Jack Gilbert, Jim Cruze or any one of a score of others the high cost of a friendly gesture in the general direction of Mr. Tully.

"Self-styled hobo, giving the impression of not wanting to fit into any but his natural background, Tully has a powerful gift which he has used as a dangerous weapon. He can take a grain of truth, a shovelful of imagination and fashion an article highly entertaining to everybody except the victim. He walked the tracks into Los Angeles one morning and he's been shaking his dirt around the doorsteps and dressing rooms of Hollywood since.

"Tully is the bugaboo of stars, producers, directors, cutters and electricians. That's what this extramp has done with a remarkable vocabulary, a sharp wit, a California calling list and an apparent absence of scruples.

"How Hollywood will welcome the bad, bad boy of Vanity Fair."

Rogers Film Gets

Victor Pict-Ur-Music

Announcement comes from the office of Louis T. Rogers that arrangements have been made with the Victor "Pict-ur-Music" Library Record Service for the Adaptation of the Non-Synchronous Sound Projector for his Emil Jannings' picture, "FORTUNE'S FOOL."

This makes it possible for every theatre equipped with the Sound Projector of Electric Research Products to secure a cue sheet and records from the Victor Talking Machine Company for this picture.

No Bow for "Zieggie"

It seems that Clara Bow's contract was about up and Miss Bow got an idea that her services were worth quite a bit more money. So whether by luck or design, an offer came from Florenz Ziegfeld Jr., New York's great stage producer, for lovely Clara to switch her makeup box to one of the Ziegfeld theatres. But Paramount had other ideas. They too, felt that their big star had an increase in pay coming to her with the result that "Zieggie" will have to wait, at least two more years if he want to tag Clara for his "Follies."

WARNERS TO INCREASE COMMON AND PREFERRED

The New York Stock Exchange has received notice of a proposed increase in authorized common stock of Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., to 2,500,000 shares from 550,000 and the creation of 785,604 shares of new preferred stock.

The last balance sheet of the corporation and its subsidiaries, for the year ending August 31, 1928, showed a net profit of $2,044,851.

This compares with a net profit for the corresponding year previous of $30,426 and the present profit and loss surplus for the current period was $810,429 as compared with a deficit of $1,234,412 on August 27, 1927.

Cantor Short Reel

on "Criterion" Bill

A short talking picture, "Eddie Cantor, That Party in Person," will be shown at the Criterion Theatre on Friday night as part of the preliminary bill to "Interference", Paramount's first all-talking picture.

The Cantor film was produced at the Paramount Long Island studio under the supervision of Monta Bell and shows the popular stage performer as a singer, dancer and comedian.

Peter Pan

The interior lobby of the Paramount Theatre is now adorned with a new statue of Peter Pan, which Charles Andrew Haffner modelled in bronze. It will stand at the head of the grand staircase.

FIRST PATHE SOUND NEWSREEL ON BROADWAY

The contents of the first Pathe Sound Newsreel, which is issued with RCA Photophone synchronization and out today reveals a wide variety of subjects.

The reel opens with a demonstration of a non-shatterable bullet-proof window glass; then follows with a massed group of four Texas Regimental bands playing "Over There".

Other subjects include a historical resume of the Pathe News, featuring a Theodore Roosevelt subject taken in Christiana, Norway in 1910; a baby subject and ends with an address by Sec'y. of the Navy, Wilbur.

EDWARDS APPOINTED

Will Manage Two "U" Houses in Corvallis, Ore.

Fred A. Flader has announced the appointment of Cal Edwards, Jr., to the managership of the two Universal houses in Corvallis, Oregon, the Majestic and the Whiteside.

'White Slave Traffic' Opens Syracuse Empire on Thanksgiving Week

Syracuse.—"Fighting the White Slave Traffic," the Woody & Adler production now playing Newburgh and Poughkeepsie, opens at the Empire here Thanksgiving week.

The booking was made through A. Kaufman and a heavy exploitation campaign will be carried through.

WE'LL PRINT IT IN GOLD

if you say so—that greeting and that announcement of yours, or we'll say it in words of silver, ablaze with color—But you MUST SAY SO EARLY—as time speeds apace in the creation of the

Eleventh Annual Announcement Number EXHIBITORS DAILY REVIEW

out Tuesday, January 1, 1929

Your reservation made now will insure proper display—suitable copy and a fortunate result.

They Are Coming In, Now!

KENNEDY PUZZLES HOLLYWOOD

After Nucleus of Big Producing Organization—But for Whom

By J. HARRISON EDWARDS

Joseph P. Kennedy, has all of Hollywood guessing. He arrived last week and immediately took on the aspect of a very busy man working from the FBO headquarters.

This same Kennedy person "burns-up" the chissling scribblers in that he refuses to do any talking to anyone from the press at any time and the scribblers can't believe it is true, they don't know what to make of it. To think of some one in the picture business too busy to see a scribbler, or even to answer a letter or phone call. And the very thought of a man heading a producing and distributing organization, whose very backbone is "publicity" refusing to give out a story. This reality is too much to bear.

Concentrating on Pathe

Kennedy seems to be concentrating all his attention to Pathe, checking over finished production and talking to his production heads about new product. He can be seen going in or out of his office or the Pathe studios early in the morning (too early for the scribblers) and leaving late at night. To every inquirer that happens to corner him he gives the same reply "I have nothing to say". And that always means nothing.

Rumors

There are rumors around Hollywood that Kennedy is raising havoc with a lot of the studios in that he is checking up on the length of time different star players have remaining on their present contracts, and if it is not too long to wait, he interviews the star, offers them a proposition and, it is said, "always gets his man" much to the consternation of the studio who holds his services at this time. It is thought that Kennedy has in addition to Gloria Swanson and Tom Mix; Adolphe Menjou and John Gilbert, and it is his intention of getting two more stars of major proportions and this being done will start an entirely new distributing and producing organization along lines schemed on a different principle than exists today, and have the star make only two pictures a year.

Columbia Loans Dorothy

Revier to Fox

Dorothy Revier, Columbia's popular blonde star, has been borrowed by Fox to appear in the featured role of a newspaper story soon to go into production under the direction of Fred Newmeyer.

After completing her Fox engagement, Miss Revier will return to Columbia to whom she is under long-term contract. She is scheduled to appear in several of the company's outstanding productions this year.

Hugo Stays West

United Artists has decided that it is most important to them to have Hugo Reisenfeld in Hollywood, so Reisenfeld has obligingly consented to stay and keep on making musical synchronizations for the pictures of that company.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Fritzi Ridgeway and Lucien Littlefield will have featured parts in Vilma Banky's next, "Childs Fifth Avenue."

Josephine Dunn has been added to the cast of Fox's "White Silence".

Tom Reed has renewed his contract with Universal for six months.

Farrell McDonald will have a part in "Strong Boy" which Fox is making.

Wesley Ruggles is directing the dialogue of "Port of Dreams" featuring Mary Philbin.

Norman Burnstine has signed a new contract with Paramount.

Marcella Daly has been added to the cast of "Tong War".

Lilyan Tashman has joined the cast of "Broadway" for Universal.

Dudley Early will write the dialogue for "Nightstick".

Tenen Holtz has a one year contract with M-G-M.

Mal. St. Clair will direct "Saturday Night Kid" for Paramount.

Robert F. McGowan, who has ever guided the destinies of Hal Roach's Rascals, otherwise and better known as "Our Gang", is putting his tots to work again next week. This will be their first camera work in the past three months.

Jack Holt has left for a cattle ranch in Arizona with a company of 50 to make scenes for his new western.

Tim McCoy has gone on location to film parts of his latest cowboy picture.

Charley Chase, Hal Roach comedy star, will start production tomorrow on another of his society farces for release by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. The direction will be in the hands of Jimmie Horne.

ALL-BRITISH PICTURE UNDER WAY ON COAST

By J. HARRISON EDWARDS

British Dominion Film Company, an English producing organization, is going to have a picture made in Hollywood and Marshall Neilan is going to direct it.

These British companies seem intent in crashing the American market somehow or other. They have tried a lot of things, using American directors and players in their productions made on the other side, but that did not seem to have much effect in gathering in dollars from American exhibitors, now the Dominion Film Company have hit on the idea of making one in Hollywood (at the Metropolitan studio) with an all-English cast, and seeing what effect that might have.

The picture will be known as "Behind the Headlines" and it will be a newspaper story. Production to start within thirty days.

What! No Women?

All men in the cast is a novelty being tried in "Friendship," a two-reel movietone subject at Fox's. Robert Edison, Donald Gallaher, Edward Earle, Joseph Striker, Carl Miller and Paul Fung, Chinese actor, are in it. Eugene Walter, playwright, not only wrote, but directs it.

M-G-M Puts O.K. on Bristolphone Apparatus

(Continued from page 1)

corded pictures to be run on a device other than W. E. unless the tonal and reproducing qualities of the equipment is as good as W. E.

M-G-M Determines Quality

In order to determine the quality of the Sonora-Bristolphone apparatus installed in the Strand, Sam Shurman, Milwaukee manager of M-G-M visited the Strand in Madison last week, listened to the installation and put his stamp of approval on it for M-G-M and agreed to turn over the W. E. discs for "White Shadows of the South Seas" to manager Fred Desormaux for the run of the picture, although the Strand only held a contract for the "black and white" silent picture.

"Lilac Time" Next Week

Manager Desormaux informed a correspondent for the Exhibitors Daily Review that he was highly satisfied with the great business being done and the reproduction of Sonora-Bristolphone and that he was going to run this picture for seven days and had booked the First National production "Lilac Time" for next week and would give it a seven day play also. He said "there seems to be some trouble with First National though, for I was informed today that, inasmuch as I only had a contract for the silent production they would not furnish me with the discs."

"I got Ned Depinet, First National sales manager on the phone, and told him I expected to receive the discs with "Lilac Time" and if I did not, I would not run the picture and would close my house for the seven days, entering suit for the amount of damages incurred, feeling that the disc records were just as much a part of the picture as a cue sheet, a poster or a press book."

At the time of going to press the Exhibitors Daily Review was not able to reach anyone in the home office of First National for their version of the Madison booking.

"Sound Your A" Changed

Announcement was made today by Fox that the two-reel Movietone subject announced as "The Blew Danube" will be released under the title of "Sound Your A". This is an all-dialogue subject by Sidney Lanfield and Ben Holmes, with Harry Lehrman directing.

Luddy Directs Lake

Edward Luddy has been selected to direct Arthur Lake in his first feature length starring vehicle for Universal, "Campus Kisses", according to an announcement by president Carl Laemmle.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

STUPID

Whoever was responsible for holding the crowd of ticket holders in the lobby and on the street in front of the Rivoli Theatre Friday night until 8:50 should be packed and sent back to the carnival he evidently came from. It was the most stupid piece of theatre management it has ever been our misfortune to witness, and the injury to the Rivoli, to United Artists, to Miss Talmadge and her very fine picture "The Woman Disputed" and to motion pictures generally, can not be reckoned.

* * *

CONFUSION

It was the opening performance of the latest Norma Talmadge production and as such had special significance. Added to this, United Artists, very generously, gave the entire receipts to the New York American Christmas Fund. Picture was scheduled to start at 9 o'clock. People that had no intention of going in the theatre, were allowed to fill the lobby, hoping they might get a glimpse of a picture star or some famous personage. When ticket holders began to arrive at 8:15 or 8:30 they could not get near the entrance. A man in uniform informed them the doors would open at 8:45. The crowd became so dense, patrons arriving in their cars could not get out in front of the theatre as the street was packed. Once the doors were open, there was a mad rush to gain admittance. When inside confusion was added by the fact that so many people arriving at the same time made it impossible for the ushers to seat them. Patrons were walking up and down the aisles trying to locate their seats. Much criticism was heard on all sides for the cheap, and very undiplomatic supposed piece of showmanship (if you care to call it showmanship—we have another word for it).

* * *

WHO BENEFITED?

It was most evident that this "hold-out" was arranged to give the public passing the theatre the idea of a tremendous opening with a hope of enticing them to the box office. It this was the thought, and it could be the only one, it missed by a million miles, for had any one person been attracted by the mob and wanted to go in, it would have taken them all night to reach the box office, and for this reason, a lot of seats were unfilled and unsold. Added to this the fact that most everyone in attendance were pushed and mulled around to such an extent that he or she were in no frame of mind to enjoy the excellent attraction offered on the screen. The management of any theatre should have one thought in mind at all times, PLEASE THE PUBLIC.

* * *

THE PICTURE

"The Woman Disputed" is one of the best of Miss Talmadge's many good pictures. It was ably directed by Henry King with unusual photography by Oliver Marsh. The supporting cast was of high order.

M. H. Hoffman Tells "What's Right with the Movies"

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 111

New York, Tuesday, November 13, 1928

FIVE CENTS

The Happy Award

By ARTHUR JAMES

The Giannini award of the Sam Harris cup is in itself an expression of and a recognition of amity. There is no more friendly nor more kindly man in the motion picture industry and the friendship toward him is evident in both England and America. Were we, on some possible occasion, to need an Ambassador of friendship Dr. Giannini would be the natural choice. We are moved to express upon behalf of all the industry our felicitations to Dr. Giannini and our congratulations to the industry here and in England over this happy award.

• • •

In the California sense an agent is a guy who collects a percentage of a player's salary for looking wise and talking lots. The real agent is a business help to the player. The barnacle agent is—a cheap grafter.

• • •

If we weren't too darned honorable we'd tell you who wins the Photoplay medal for the best picture of the year, but as we are too darned honorable we won't speak till Thursday.

• • •

Worthy friend Channing Pollock says: "If there was 'no new thing under the sun' when the Bible was written, I think it hardly likely that any minor author, such as myself, will find an unsullied subject these thousands of years later".

What does new mean anyway? In 2000 years there might be a chance for something new to develop—Lindy for instance—the movies—and more than we have room or wish to print.

A. H. GIANNINI CHOSEN WINNER OF ANGLO-AMERICAN HARRIS CUP

Iowa MPTO to Join National Group at Coming Convention

WOODHULL MEETING TO SOUND 'REFORM' DANGER

An important meeting of the Board of Directors of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America will be held at the National Headquarters, 1650 Broadway, New York City, Thursday, November 15th. A number of matters referred to the Board at the Toronto Convention will be given special consideration.

In this list will be the Labor, Legislation and Sound Pictures problems. Reports on these situations prepared by special committees will be submitted. A general review of the Music Tax proposition will be made. A number of situations have come to the front in this matter recently which materially changes the complexion of things from the standpoint of the Exhibitor and brings the day of a favorable solution of the same nearer.

Legislative situations now press for attention in view of the close proximity of the Congressional session and the fact that the Legislatures in forty-three states meet in the coming winter and spring. The natural view to take of the situation is that many bills will be presented affecting the Motion Picture industry. These, in the main, will, as experience proves, be without merit. But all must be watched carefully to prevent disturbances in the business.

Congress will again hear from the Brookhart and Hudson bills and from the Walsh Senate Resolution. A special conference of reformers has been called for Washington next month to prepare a line of procedure in favor of these measures.

President Woodhull has a very interesting program for the Board of Directors which comprehends the entire situation enumerated here as well as other matters. The session will commence at 10 o'clock Thursday morning and will take up at least the entire day with a possible evening session.

DES MOINES — The M.P.T.O. of Iowa, it is rumored, may desert their leaning toward the Allied States group, and join the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America.

Those in close touch with President E. P. Smith, of the theatre owners' association predict that as a result of the visit paid the Iowa group by R. F. Woodhull recently, the exhibitors will either affiliate nationally or else remain independent.

Smith has stated that Iowa is not tied up or honor bound to either group and intimates that the coming

(Continued on page 4)

H. M. Warner Returning

H. M. Warner, president of Warner Bros. is due back in New York at the Home Office this week following a short trip to the company's studio in California where he outlined preliminary plans for next year's productions with his brother J. L. Warner who is chief studio executive.

Texas Sound Film Turmoil Brings 200 to Dallas Today

DALLAS — The Annual Convention of the M.P.T.O. of Texas, the highlight of which will be a round-table emergency discussion of the sound-picture turmoil, has drawn a total of 200 exhibitors throughout the State to the Baker Hotel here, where President H. A. Cole will call the convention to order this morning.

Cole's report will cover the activities of the association during the past year, on theatre taxes, power rate problems, the Alexander contract, reviews of recent constitutional changes, Sunday shows, Music Tax and sound and synchronization problems.

A new set of officers and directors to serve for the ensuing year, will be chosen tomorrow afternoon and the convention will wind up with a Cabaret dinner-dance on the Peacock Terrace.

Hays, Otterson, Burkan, Sam Harris, Blumenfeld Honored Dinner Guests

This trophy is an award by Sam Harris, publisher of "Today's Cinema" in London to the man or woman who in a given year does the most to promote international amity between the film industry of Great Britain and the film industry in America.

The cup was donated to the Associated Motion Picture Advertisers and the award is made annually. The winner this year was chosen by the Board of Directors of the A.M.P.A. and the cup will be presented

(Continued on page 4)

GUS SUN-CHAKERES IN SCHINE MERGER

CLEVELAND — A merger of the Chakeres and Gus Sun theatrical interests has taken place here and an affiliation of this group with the Schine Theatrical Enterprises has been effected. This is the largest theatre deal in Springfield, O. history, and became effective November 10th.

The merger of the Gus Sun Regent

(Continued on page 4)

DIRECTORS APPROVE $3 P-F-L DIVIDEND

Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation directors yesterday declared a quarterly dividend of 75c on the new common stock payable December 29th to stockholders of record on December 7th. This places the new stock upon a $3.00 basis.

Commenting upon the increase in dividend, Mr. Adolph Zukor, president of the Corporation, stated that the present business of the company and its immediate future profit outlook were such as to make the other directors and himself feel that placing the stock on a $3.00 basis is entirely warranted.

THE PUBLIC

Thousands of letters have been in every part of the nation asking "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will be shown in public is aroused in its desire to see have been reading our Saturday stories, magazine stories, review cities, word of mouth advertising of human communication. Hundred towns have already made big money. Thousands more exhibitors will do is when public interest is aroused campaigns from your nearest on Carl Laemmle's received by Universal from people when "The Man Who Laughs" and their towns ----- evidence that the these pictures. For months they Evening Post Ads, newspaper publicity reprinted from newspapers in other and every other conceivable form of exhibitors in large cities and small as a result of this huge publicity everywhere. The time to get the money get the two tremendous selling Universal Exchange NOW

IS AROUSED

two super winners!

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15, single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, or registered postage. Entered as second class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Farmand Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514)

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

GOSSIP OF BERLIN

By XAVIER STRASSMAN

BERLIN — First week in November.

Following the gloomy departure of Charles Delac, President of the French Motion Picture Chamber of Commerce, British International Pictures, Inc., has celebrated a special triumph for its product at the Berlin Alhambra. Right on the heels of a prosperous week at that theatre with "The Constant Nymph," the English producing concern "showed" highly amused Berliners with Monty Banks for another week in his new comedy, "Adams' Apple."

Sidney Garrett brought over the effervescent Monty for personal appearances which went far toward making the laughs unanimous. Incidentally, I found the popular British comedian in a state of elation over a cable from New York stating that "Adams' Apple" had been definitely accepted by World Wide Pictures for distribution in the United States and Canada, where it will be billed as "Honeymoon Abroad."

The story of the film exploits the last word on the comic strip mother-in-law idea. The bride's mother insists on personally managing the honeymoon, and does it so efficiently that the bridegroom, from the altar in New York to Paris, to London, and back home, continues in the sad situation of a husband in name only.

The thick slabs of gloom which surrounded Charles Delac as he took the train back to Paris after several days' conference with leading German distributors, by his own confession, spelled defeat. He said frankly that if Germany and France couldn't produce a better movie entente, France might as well close the frontier to German films and seek a more equitable arrangement with the United States or England. The figures for 1928 sufficiently illustrate the point; German films into France, 120; French films into Germany, 15. In 1924 the balance was in favor of France, 44 to 20. However, it is rumored here that French producers have heard about the "talkies", and are giving the innovation due consideration.

"What's Right with the Movies"

(Nineteenth of a Series by Industry's Leaders)

Vice-President and General Manager, Tiffany-Stahl Productions

By M. H. HOFFMAN

The talkie upheaval — great because it is progress, creates greater interest in the movies and more patronage for the industry;—because it means greater attendance, providing that, notwithstanding sound, good pictures are made and providing that they are good whether shown with or without sound.

Talkies troublesome for producers?—of course they are, but nothing worth while comes easy.

Keen competition in production makes better producers and better pictures. Keen competition in exhibition makes better showmen and better shows.

Even occasional unfair competition, particularly in the exhibiting end, makes some exhibitors realize that in union there is strength; that big business is not conducted single-handed; the petty jealousies do not pay; that to command respect from "opposition" and to turn that respect in cooperation, they must put up a proper front with proper leadership.

So I say everything is right with the movies, even if some must be hurt to have sense bumped into them.

Some producers will be hurt if they do not follow in line with progress; some will be hurt if, while clamoring for the new, they forget that for sometime to come many thousands of exhibitors will play the pictures silent, therefore pictures must be good without as well as with sound.

Some will hurt if they forget that, sound or no sound, the play is the thing and the picture must be good as silent entertainment; that sound should only make a good picture better; and that sound is an improvement but that the quality and entertainment value of the picture must still speak for itself in silence.

The exhibitors must exercise more than ever their ability to choose pictures which will stand up in silence. The exhibitors must be on the alert against disappointing the public by serving dessert where a hearty meal is wanted.

Just as it is bad to advertise a bad article, just so would it be dangerous to serve the public with poor pictures now when the interest of a greater patronage is aroused, because the greater number interested the greater number will be disappointed and will turn from pictures to some other form of amusement.

Let us not forget that the increased admission prices at motion picture theatres have put these theatres in competition with legitimate roadshows—and the pictures had better be good to stand such competition. EVERYTHING IS RIGHT WITH THE MOVIES, just let us keep pace with the times!

A. H. Giannini Chosen

Winner of Harris Cup

(Continued from page 1)

at the Anglo-American dinner, to be given at the Hotel Biltmore on November 20th. Mr. Harris will be present and will personally hand the cup to Dr. Giannini.

It is understood that the winner of this year's honor was reluctant through personal modesty to accept the trophy but his blushing reluctance was overcome and yesterday he notified the committee that he was happy to accept and that he deeply appreciated the great honor.

Dr. Giannini is one of the best loved men in the motion picture industry and has been conspicuous as one of those whose confidence in the industry has been invariable and continuous. As a banker doing business with picture companies in England and America for many years he has never suffered the loss of a dollar through obligations incurred by the picture interests and this speaks well for the responsibility and integrity of the industry.

So soon as it became known that Dr. Giannini was the winner of the cup a renewed interest was shown in the Anglo American dinner, and it is probable that it will now be one of the big events in the history business.

Among the honor guests at the speaker's table will be Will H. Hays, Mr. Ralph D. Blumenfeld, editor of the London Daily Express and President of the Royal Institute of Journalism of Great Britain, who as chairman of a delegation of fourteen newspaper men from Great Britain and Ireland have been touring the United States from coast to coast as guests of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace Major General Robert Lee Bullard of the War Department at Washington, D. C.; Dr. A. H. Giannini, chairman of the Bank of America; Mr. J. E. Otterson, President of the Electric Research Products, Inc., Mr. Nathan Burkan, and Sam Harris, editor of The Cinema of London.

Edward L. Klein, chairman of the Anglo-American Banquet Committee, which has been working day and night on preparations for this function, has received a number of communications from England complimenting the A.M.P.A. on their efforts to promote the spirit of good will and cooperation between the motion picture industries of the United States and Great Britain.

Gus Sun-Chakeres

In Schine Merger

(Continued from page 1)

and Fairbanks Theatres, with the State and Majestic owned by the Chakeres Amusement Co. has been accomplished by the formation of the Regent-State Corporation of which Phil Chakeres will be the managing director.

Steps will be taken to build a new 3,000-seat house in Springfield in which Keith vaudeville and first-run pictures will predominate.

Iowa M.P.T.O. to Join

Nat'l. Group at Convention

(Continued from page 1)

annual convention, dates on which will be announced shortly, and at which Steffes, Richey, Rembusch and Cole will be present, ought to decide the issue.

JEANNE EAGLES' WORK WINS $150,000 CONTRACT

Stage Star's Rushes in "The Letter" Brings New Long-Term Offer

By W. R. W.

In so far as Jeanne Eagles is concerned, the Actors Equity Association can go and look for a hole to bury itself in. It will be remembered that Miss Eagles was barred from future stage activities due to her run out on the production of "Her Cardboard Lover" in Milwaukee and St. Louis. It looked bad for this brilliant star until someone around the Paramount office got the bright idea that she was ideally suited for the feminine lead in their proposed all-talkie production of the Somerset Maugham play "The Letter", and in acting on this idea, they experienced no trouble in getting together with Miss Eagles. They signed her on an eight-week contract for $25,000 with a pro rata arrangement should the picture require a longer time.

Very Enthusiastic

Eastern production heads and home office officials are wild about Jeanne. This after seeing the first rushes on the picture. They are trying to get her on a long term contract and probably will. They have offered $150,000 a year for a three year period to make two or three pictures each year. This is the rub. The money is O.K. with the star, but she only wants to do two, instead of three pictures for this amount. If they insist on three, she wants the ante raised to $200,000 and for the same period.

What has encouraged Paramount in making this offer is not only the work of this star, but the manner in which she is going about it. They say she is the first person in the studio each morning and the last one to leave at night and during the making of most of the picture she has been far from well but has never complained a minute nor has her famous temperament been in evidence. This, of course, is something to be encouraged about as Miss Eagles did "her number" on more than one occasion while at the M-G-M studio last year and the word was passed down the line that she was impossible to handle.

Ahead of Schedule

There is much jubilation on the part of everyone around the Paramount at the results so far on the production of this picture. The rushes have been marvelous. The picture is being directed by Monta Bell, who is handling the dialogue, and Jean DeLimur and Fred Fleck are handling the silent sequences.

An eight week schedule was laid out, but it seems this limit will be beaten by at least three weeks. The picture started October 16th, and from present indications will be finished in about a week or ten days. There has been no definite release set as yet, but if the finished picture is as good as all Paramount seem to think it will be, it is certain to reach Broadway and the provinces at a very early date.

J. M. Skirboll Tells "What's Right with the Movies"

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 112

New York, Wednesday, November 14, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Yoking the Stag

By ARTHUR JAMES

The announcement that Harry Reichenbach has been signed to a term o'years contract to serve as devising and conferring publicist for Universal means that Uncle Carl Laemmle's production and distribution activities will have the full time of a vibrant brain in a tireless body as a constant reinforcement.

Harry Reichenbach is the greatest publicist now active in pictures and the greatest—with one exception—that the pictures have ever known. This exception is known to Harry and we believe he will keep the secret.

In this appraisal we are not including at all his spectacular stunts which some of his rivals have been inclined to regard as his only box of tricks, but rather we refer to his less showy but far more important selling campaigns that have had the most practical cash results for his principals.

He has mental courage, business daring and a certain verve in action, that carries the issue to success. He has imagination and never runs away from a battle. His frankness has commanded respect from those who have felt its penalties but the blessing of an alive sense of humor has taken the after sting out of his combats and he numbers his friends in hosts.

We believe that Harry and Carl Laemmle will both be happy in this term o'years arrangement but it does seem to us that it is like Solomon deciding to stick to one wife. Our best wishes go to him in this permanent relation.

There's a new lingo growing up among the slangsters of the talkies, as for example—the female is a "larynx lizzie", the deep voiced male is a "bull frog" or "talkie toad", the high voiced male is a "lung lifter" and the tragedian or heavy is a "thorax squeezer". It may not be art but the slang slingers flourish just the same.

Hedda Hopper was noted yesterday lunching at the Algonquin with Jim Tully. So that's how she does her slumming!

PARAMOUNT BREAKING IN SALES FORCES ON NEW SOUND POLICY

Hays Tenders Good-Will Dinner To French and Australian Envoys

Happy Jack's in Town

Jack Connolly is back from Europe after a series of fine successes in behalf of the William Fox organization. The most recent feather in the Connolly cap is the George Bernard Shaw appearance on the screen in the talkies, although the reticent Jack refuses to talk about it.

He will remain in New York a fortnight before returning to Europe. There are few men in the picture business who have more enthusiastic friends than Jack Connolly and there are few men who deserve more friends.

F. N. PROFITS JUMP

Earns $976,810 for 9 Months Period In 1928

First National Pictures earned $10.71 a common share in first nine months 1928, against $9.44 a share in same 1927 period, according to announcement yesterday.

The regular quarterly dividends of $2 on the first preferred and $1.75 on second preferred A were declared, both payable January 1.

Directors voted to retire 1,000 shares of the second preferred A stock, series 5, on January 1, 1929, at par of $100.

(Continued on page 2)

The Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America entertained at luncheon yesterday Mr. Louis Aubert, prominent French producer and exhibitor, and Walter M. Marks, chairman of the Royal Film Commission of Australia. General Will H. Hays presided and a representative gathering of important film personalities enthusiastically welcomed both guests.

Mr. Aubert, who has been making a study of film conditions in this country, paid tribute to the good humor evident among the employees of the film companies everywhere, particularly Hollywood and urged that in production the countries of all the world should be given an opportunity, to add the note of variety which is essential to the future popularity of the pictures with the public.

(Continued on page 4)

WEISS GUARANTEES INTERCHANGE COSTS

Alfred Weiss, president of Biophone Corporation announces that the Chicago Agency and all Middle Western Agencies will be open within ten days, the Coast shortly after, so that by December 1, there will be a Biophone agency in every exchange city in the U. S.

(Continued on page 3)

Grand Jury Indicts Cooney Bros. in $2,500,000 Bond Deal

CHICAGO — The Cooney Brothers and 4 others have been indicted by the grand jury, charging perjury in making false returns to the State of Illinois, as the outcome of the bankrupt National Playhouses, Inc., now in the hands of the Chicago Title & Trust Co., receivers.

The defendants are accused of conspiracy to violate the Illinois Securities Law. The other four defendants are members of brokerage houses.

The Grand Jury action came after evidence had come to light in connection with the $2,500,000 bond

(Continued on page 3)

COLORED HOUSE TO GET TALKIES IN COLUMBUS, O.

COLUMBUS, O.—J. Real Neth will start an innovation here shortly with the opening of Neth's Cameo Theatre, which will open the field of talkie entertainment to colored patrons.

Neth is closing his Vernon Theatre on Mt. Vernon Avenue and is installing Vitaphone and Movietone equipment in the Cameo at a cost

(Continued on page 3)

Latest Methods Adopted Outlined in 4-Day H. O. Convention

In order to acquaint the sales force with their new policy, Paramount called a convention which is being held in their home office and is attended by 60 men from out of town and 15 of the local sales force.

Recently, at a meeting held and attended by every important executive of this organization, both production and sales, a new policy was suggested and adopted regarding the future policy of making pictures and selling them. Every conceivable angle of the sound situation was covered in order that Paramount might take advantage of this new form of amusement, and the policy once determined Sidney Kent, general manager, lost no time in getting his men to New York for instruction and to show them what has been accomplished by their organization in so far as sound and talking pictures were concerned.

The convention opened Monday morning and the entire day was devoted to an explanation of this new policy. Adolph Zukor, Jesse Lasky, Sam Katz and Sidney Kent spoke to the gathering. The evening was spent at the theatre.

Yesterday, the entire day was devoted to the screening of Paramount pictures.

(Continued on page 4)

HANAPHONE MERGER WITH RECORD COS.

The Gennett Recording Co., the Star Piano Co. and the Hanaphone Corp. of America, have been amalgamated into a giant producing and recording combination with the formation yesterday of the Gennett Hanaphone Corp. according to Gene Marcus of the Hanaphone Corp.

The Woodside, L. I., and Richmond, N. Y., offices are being consolidated.

New Exchange Bldg.

For P-F-L in Kansas

KANSAS CITY — The Paramount Famous-Lasky Exchange will occupy new quarters in their own building, within a few months, as steps have been taken to erect a new exchange building on 18th and Wyandotte Streets.

The building will be ready in March 1929.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

GOSSIP OF PARIS

By ROLFE P. GILSON

PARIS — Second week of November.

Yes, we want no cinema Paderewski in Paris. If history supplied a George Sand for a Chopinized Ignace in film, the Quartier Latin might be interested, even the boulevards. Otherwise, not. This is after faithful investigation and a deluge of contumely. Paris will cheerfully pay Paderewski $150,000 to play the piano, but not to talk into the microphone for a German film producer—as a London writing chap avers he has agreed to do. So calm yourself, old top. Eh, what?

* * *

Warner Brothers, Fox, Paramount, et al in the talkie sweepstakes, are advised not to be impatient. Cinema patrons in France have heard that the American screen is becoming vocal for all the new big productions and one of these days will be demanding samples. It is true that French producers are looking into the matter, but not so intently as to cause them to drop the national habit of taking two hours off for lunch, so there is no immediate cause for alarm. At this writing Leon Gaumont is still trying to explain to the Societa Francaise Filmparlants why his recent demonstration of the Peterson-Poulson system of recording and reproduction turned out so dimly. "Bad atmospheric and too much loudness of the loud speakers," he concludes. But patience, my friends. All will be well eventually, is it not?

* * *

It is said to be dawning upon some French producers that a let-down in quality may be responsible for at least part of the steady dwindling film exports to Germany, and other countries, and the notable increase of German film imports. It is known that a hint to that effect was dropped in the French Film Chamber of Commerce on the return of President Charles Delac from Berlin with his suggestion that the frontier be closed to German productions. A member of the Chamber is reported to have inquired whether President Delac would, for similar reasons, close all other frontiers.

KAO Stockholders Ratify

The stockholders of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation have announced their assent in the ratification of the plan to exchange their common stock for Class "A" certificates of the newly formed Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation.

Holders of the 51% of the stock have deposited their stock with the Empire Trust Co. under the plan.

HAYS WILL PRESIDE AT INT. DINNER

Gen. Will H. Hays is to be the toastmaster and chairman of the Anglo American dinner at the Hotel Biltmore the evening of November 20th. The speakers will be Gen. Bullard, Ralph Blumenfeld, J. E. Otterson, Dr. Giannini, Commander Symington of the Navy and one other speaker to be announced.

The demand for tickets increased yesterday and within the next few days the table allotments will be made. It was definitely announced yesterday by the committee that ladies will be included among the guests.

Famous Canadian Has $794,134 Net Profit

TORONTO—The Famous Players Canadian Corporation, Ltd., lists an operating profit of $1,507,068 for the year ending August 25, and a net profit of $794,134.

Theatres operated by the company and subsidiaries total 146 as compared with 126 in 1927. Present plans call for the erection of additional theatres in Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa, Quebec and other key centers.

F. N. PROFITS JUMP

(Continued from page 1)

The company reports for nine months ended September 30, 1928, net profit of $976,810 after interest, federal taxes, etc., equivalent after allowing for regular dividend requirements on $2,274,000 8% first preferred, $838,000 7% Class a second preferred, and $295,900 7% preferred Class B stocks, to $10.71 a share earned on 72,894 no-par shares of common stock. This compares with net profit in first nine months of 1927 of $884,233, which computed on present share basis is equal to $9.44 a share on common stock.

Net profit for quarter ended September 30, 1928, was $267,778 after interest, federal taxes, etc., equal to $2.77 a share on 72,894 no-par shares of common stock, comparing with $362,804 or $4.08 a share in preceding quarter and $278,341 in third quarter of 1928, or $2.92 a share computed on present share basis.

In figuring share earnings, no allowance has been made for participating provisions of 8% preferred or for accumulated dividends on second preferred Class B shares.

Walker in New York

H. M. Walker, vice-president of the Hal Roach Studios, Inc., and the person responsible for all the well-known subtlety and humor of Roach titles, arrived last week in New York. He was accompanied by Mrs. Walker, and will remain in the East about two weeks.

"What's Right with the Movies"

(Twentieth of a Series by Industry's Leaders)

By JOSEPH M. SKIRBOLL

General Sales Manager World Wide Pictures

Any industry that has associated with it men who devote their entire lives to bringing their business to perfection is bound to be all right.

With men like Adolph Zukor, Joseph Schenck, Jesse Lasky, Carl Laemmle and others who have accumulated vast fortunes still sticking to their business endeavoring at all times to perfect it, there can be nothing very much wrong with the industry with which they are associated.

There can be nothing wrong with the business when men like John Maxwell and Herbert Wilcox in England, Sapene in France, Mr. Ludwig Klitzsch of Ufa in Germany, Pittaluga in Italy and others after ten years of set back on account of the War are striving and in most cases have accomplished bringing the standard of their productions up to that of the United States and who are willing to invest their money in order to bring their pictures to America to compete with pictures made in Hollywood.

As long as motion pictures continue to be the entertainment of the masses and as long as men are willing to devote their lives and money in order to compete with each other to create the best pictures possible, there will be nothing wrong with the movies.

NEUFELD BOOKS RAYART IN STANLEY

Oscar Neufeld of Success Pictures, Inc., distributing Rayart's Box Office Twenty in the territory of Eastern Pennsylvania and Southern New Jersey, yesterday advised W. Ray Johnston that the Stanley Company has booked "Sweet Sixteen" into their Regent Theatre, Philadelphia, for two weeks, beginning November 12.

"Sweet Sixteen" is a Trem Carr Production with Helen Foster, the sensational little star of "The Road to Ruin", in the title role.

Trowbridge-Pickford

Carroll S. Trowbridge, Eastern Representative for Douglas Fairbanks, has been appointed to serve in a similar capacity for Mary Pickford, effective yesterday.

Hines Releases

It is rumored that Charles Hines, brother of Johnny Hines, comedian, is negotiating with Joseph Schenck for the release of Johnny's comedies. Nothing definite has yet been done, though.

"White Shadows" First Talkie Seen in Paris

PARIS—The first American sound and talking feature to be shown in Paris opened last night at the Madeleine Cinema, when Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "White Shadows of the South Seas" had a gala performance. It will be in for an indefinite run, and is using the same Victor record accompaniment as run on at the Astor in New York.

Kingston, N. Y. Wins Sunday Movie Fight

By a majority of 697 votes, Kingston, New York, won on the issue of Sunday movies and the Broadway and Kingston Theatres, on the Walter Reade Circuit, will start their Sunday programs on November 11th.

WANTED

I can use from one to five hundred used Acme projectors . . . must be in fair running condition . . . any model . . . price must be right. State how many you have. Write to box No 13, Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW

"The Mecca of All Picture Functions"

ARE YOU PLANNING A LUNCHEON—
A TEA—
A DINNER—
A DANCE OR A BANQUET?

We have intimate and individual rooms that would suit every occasion.

You might like the Gothic room, the French room, the Colonial room, or the exquisite Italian or Arabian rooms.

If the affair is sufficiently large we could care for you in either the Florentine Grill, the Roof Garden or one of the Ball rooms.

Call our banquet department and let them offer suggestions.

THE PARK CENTRAL

FIFTY-FIFTH STREET AT 7th AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY

OKLAHOMA CLOSE-UPS

Charles Mahone has opened his new Oklahoma Theatre at Hobart, Okla.

The old rock livery barn where Will Rogers first began his twirling rope tricks in Claremore, Okla., has been made into a modern up-to-date theatre named Yale.

The Ritz at Shawnee, Okla., a Griffith chain theatre, has opened with Vitaphone synchronization.

C. H. Ison, auditor for the Mid-western enterprises, has been appointed manager of the Shrine Auditorium at Oklahoma City, in addition to his present duties.

The Bison Theatre at Shawnee, Okla., will show vaudeville on Sundays and Mondays.

Wallace Walthall reports sales of National Screen service to Odean Theatre, Chandler, Gem at Edmond and splendid good business at Tulsa.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Pickrel of Ponca City were Okla City visitors last week.

R. M. Avery has taken over the Rialto Theatres at Clinton, Okla.

H. H. Unger is the new manager of the Our Theatre at Paden, Okla.

Sam Carver, of the Independent Film Co., at Kansas City, is showing his road show picture "Road to Ruin" at the Palace Theatre in Oklahoma City.

E. E. Middleton has leased the Liberty Theatre at Marietta, Okla.

T. H. Coyle has purchased the Colony Theatre at Colony and the Pastime at Eakley, Okla., from P. W. Kuhn.

Scenarist at AMPA

Elizabeth Meehan, well known scenarist who did the scripts for "Laugh, Clown Laugh," and "Beau Geste" and is now working on "Lummox" for Herbert Brenon will be guest of honor at Thursday's meeting of the AMPA at the Hotel Paramount.

Grand Jury Indicts Cooney Bros. in $2,500,000 Deal

(Continued from page 1)
issue on the theatres last year.

Under the Illinois State Securities law, only 15 per cent commission, maximum, is allowed a brokerage firm for the total sale and distribution of a bond issue. According to Gerald L. McMullen, Attorneys for many of the 5,000 stockholders, more than 70 per cent commission was paid the brokers who handled the bond issue. According to Attorney McMullen, a commission of $425,000 in cash was charged, as well as an extra $100,000 in cash, 50,000 shares of Class A stock and one-half of one per cent paid monthly as a bonus.

The attorneys for the stockholders charge that the intention of those named in the indictment, was to freeze out the small stockholders. The extra stock issued was supposed to have been given as a bonus with the sale of the bonds, but it is charged, was never distributed as intended.

ROXY INJUNCTION AGAINST N. J. CORP.

S. L. Rothafel has applied for an injunction against the Roxy Theatrical Enterprises, Inc., a New Jersey Corporation, in Federal Court here today.

He seeks to restrain the corporation from operating a "Roxy" sign at its motion picture theatre in Irvington, N. J. and also asks that the defendants be restrained from using either name (Roxy or Roxe) in its corporate title, advertising or stationery.

There have been numerous companies formed from time to time with the name of Roxy, ever since the opening of the Roxy Theatre in New York, but this is the first instance on record where Rothafel has had to take measures against another enterprise, in this instance, because of the similarity of the name and the business.

Lichtman Makes 3

Sales Appointments

Al Lichtman, Vice-President and General Manager of Distribution of United Artists, made the following announcement of appointments yesterday:

J. Abrose succeeds Harry Dodge, resigned, as manager of the Cleveland exchange.

W. M. Blgford replaces Carl Milton, resigned, as office manager of the San Francisco exchange.

Doak Roberts replaces Ralph Morrow, resigned, as manager of the Dallas exchange.

Weiss Guarantees

Interchange Costs

(Continued from page 1)

The Biophone Company is guaranteeing all exhibitors who install the device complete legal protection for the exhibition of any synchronized pictures over Biophone machines.

It is likewise guaranteeing the mechanical perfection of the apparatus and will replace all defective parts free of charge.

Vilma Banky Arrives

The Twentieth Century brings Vilma Banky to New York this morning together with Lucien Littlefield, Fritzi Ridgeway, and the other players who are to support Miss Banky in her newest picture, which is to be filmed in New York. Director Alfred Santell heads Samuel Goldwyn's technical staff, arriving at the same time.

New Astor-Fox Role

Mary Astor is to play a featured role in "New Year's Eve", her next picture for Fox Film Corporation, according to an announcement from that company. The film, which is taken from a story by Richard Connell, published in the Cosmopolitan Magazine under the title of "The Hundred Dollar Bill", will be directed by Henry Lehrman.

Evelyn Brent Signed

Paramount have signed Evelyn Brent to another long term contract. Prompted by her fine performances in "Underworld", "The Drag Net", "The Last Command" and "Interference" studio officials met the demand for increased pay.

THE BUM WITH BRASS

The New York Sun's appraisal of Jim Tully, the man who pictures Hollywood as a moral sewer and who has lived off men in the picture business only to pan them in type, has been written by Sidney Skolsky and it includes the following:

JIM TULLY
Courtesy of The New York Sun

"His hands are small and pudgy. He has thighs of a burlesque queen * * * He bites his finger nails. His uncle was a horse thief * * * Wears only $5 neckties and has his suits made to order by an anarchist tailor in Hollywood * * * His philosophy of life is: 'What the Hell, the grave ends everything'—In youth looked forward to being the world's greatest bank robber. Gave up the idea when told by a railroad detective he would be caught easily. Because no other person on earth could possibly look like him * * * His pugilistic career ended in a California ring when he was knocked out in the first round and remained unconscious twenty four hours * * * Easily recognizes his own ability and is annoyed by those who don't * * * Wears high-laced tan shoes — made to order for him and imported from London * * * He doesn't smoke * * * He has a yen for beautiful and beautifully dressed women. He dreads the thought of death."

This is the bum that with a clever effrontery misrepresents the picture people in the cesspool play called Jarnegan. How he must laugh at the suckers in the picture business who fawn on him and play him as a genius. In the life of Menckeu and Nathan is just a picturesque hobo with a pencil. To the picture people who have a grain of sense he is an ungrateful double crossing pup who has bitten the hands that fed him and who slanders the entire business by cleverly mingling fact with rancid fancy to the detriment and belittlement of the entire game. Don't be deceived—Tully is not a genius—he's just a bum with brass.

"U" Foreign Executive

On Rescue Ship

Monroe Isen, Universal supervisor in South America, is aboard the S.S. Santa Barbara, fine new coast-wise steamer of the Grace Line, which was one of the first ships to reach the spot where the ill-starred Lamport & Holt ship Vestris went down off the Carolina sea-board Monday afternoon.

Isen is on his way to New York for his annual visit to the Universal home office and conference with N. L. Manheim, Export Manager for the Laemmle organization.

Colorea House to Get

Talkies in Columbus, O.

(Continued from page 1)
of about $25,000.

So far as is known, Neth's Cameo will be the first talkie house expressly for colored patronage in this part of the country. The Cameo will open to split-week policy, with prices somewhat lower than those quoted in downtown houses. On Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Mr. Neth plans to present the longer productions and super-specials, with a Fox Movietone News, and on Thursday, Friday and Saturday the shorter talkies with three acts of Vitaphone or Movietone Vaudeville. Some of the bigger productions will play the Cameo simultaneously with the Grand.

"White Slave" Film

Gets Vitaphone Score

According to an announcement made this week by Cy Fabiau, "Fighting the White Slave Traffic", the Woody and Adler production, will play the Stanley Fabiau National Theatre at Jersey City, the week of December 8th, with Vitaphone accompaniment.

This is one of the first outside pictures to be synchronized with the Vitaphone process and it is believed that this picture will beat its high record at the Capital theatre, Newark.

FIRST-RUN SITUATION IN DENVER CHANGES

DENVER—The second theatre to fail on Curtis Street in the last two months, closed its doors last week, when the Bert Levey Vaudeville Circuit discontinued operation of the Empress Theatre, which had a first-run picture and vaudeville policy.

A short while ago, the Colorado Theatre Company was forced to close the Colorado Theatre. Everything now points to the fact that the successful first-run houses in Denver will soon be scattered all over the downtown district instead of being grouped within two blocks of each other.

Trop-Warshaw Nuptials

J. D. Trop, publicity and advertising director of the Nathanson Reel-tone Company will be married next Saturday to Sylvia Warshaw. Dave Bader of Universal will be the best man.

Cast Completed

The selection of Audrey Ferris, Douglas Gerard, Arthur Rankin, Dale Fuller, Albert Gran, Lee Moran, Andre Beranger, Louise Beaver and Tom Kennedy for supporting roles in "Alimony Annie" starring Dolores Costello completes the casting for this picture on which Director Michael Curtiz will begin work shortly. Ralph Graves is Miss Costello's leading man in this story by Harvey Gates.

Gilpin in "Dixie"

Charles Gilpin, noted negro actor, having warmed up in Hollywood after arriving from the more chilly climate of New York, is now preparing to appear in "North of Dixie", a Fox Movietone feature. Gilpin, who made a name for himself by his performance in Eugene O'Neill's stage play, "The Emperor Jones", will be supported by an all-colored cast.

Turnbull to Test Schulberg Sound Plan

Will Make "The Dummy"
As First Effort in
New Policy

Hector Turnbull has returned to Paramount. He has been named as associate producer of sound pictures at the West Coast studios of Paramount. Turnbull was with the Paramount for many years, having left a little over a year ago to act as a producer at the Pathe-DeMille studio.

In making the announcement, Schulberg made public his plans for a new producing policy in the making of talking motion pictures.

"Because of the necessity for closer co-ordination between the director and the associate producer supervising the production of synchronized pictures, due primarily to the difficulties of editing and cutting sound films as compared to silent productions, Paramount has evolved a system which will result in a close unity of effort between the executive and directorial branches of the studio organization," he declared.

"Under this new arrangement, the associate producer and director will co-operate in the production of pictures on the sound stages, working out together on the 'set' the many complex questions of dialogue and synchrony which enter into the filming of audible productions."

Turnbull's first assignment as an associate producer is "The Dummy", a 100 percent talking picture now being filmed under the direction of Robert Milton, long noted as a stage director.

D'ARRAST QUILTS P-F-L IN CHEVALIER ROW

Harry D'Arrast has been relieved of the task of making the Maurice Chevalier picture for Paramount. He asked to be relieved and was. Another director will be appointed immediately.

D'Arrast and B. P. Schulberg could not get together on the type of story Chevalier should do. Schulberg wanted to copy the Al Jolson idea and D'Arrast had other thoughts. He wanted to do something original. The result being that the director was not only relieved of the assignment of this picture but was let out entirely. He probably will not have any trouble tying up with another studio.

James Murray Cast

"The Play Goes On," one of Universal's important pictures for the current season, is ready to go into production at Universal City. James Murray, one of the most promising juveniles on the screen, will play the leading role, with Robert Hill directing.

Hanaphone Merger

With Record Cos.

(Continued from page 1)

mond, Ind. plants of the Gennett Recording Co. will be utilized to turn out sound pictures and machines. A program of shorts will start soon in Woodside.

The Gennett company has been a large producer of phonograph records heretofore.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Vernon Dent, a well-known comedy player who has been seen in Christie Comedies and who made such a hit when teamed with Monty Collins in the Educational-Mermaid Comedy, "Social Prestige," has been engaged to play a similar role in another Mermaid Comedy. Estelle Bradley will be seen as leading lady while Stephen Roberts will direct.

The title of Ramon Navarro's latest starring picture has been changed from "Gold Braid" to "The Flying Fleet."

"Big Boy" Williams is to make two pictures for Warner Brothers.

Katherine McGuire has signed to play an important role in First National's "Children of the Ritz."

Edgard Shure and Lew Stern have been added to the cast of First National's "Seven Footprints to Satan."

Pathe gave a "welcome home" party to Margaret Livingston when she arrived on their lot to play in "The Office Scandal."

Joseph Girard, Philo McCollough, Lee Shumway, Lloyd Whitlock and Mitchell Lewis have joined the cast of "The Leatherneck."

Edna Purviance has returned from Europe to resume picture work in Hollywood, about January first.

Lorayne Duvall, until a few weeks ago, an extra, has been given a contract by Universal.

Merna Kennedy has been making tests for a part in C. B. DeMille's "Dynamite," which he is making for M-G-M.

Raymond Cannon, who has lately been finishing a Fox comedy entitled "Red Wine," will write as well as direct his next production.

Hays Tenders Good-Will

Dinner to Envoys

(Continued from page 1)

Mr. Marks pointed out that 98% of the films used in Australia are American and said that there was a constant improvement in their quality, especially during the last year. He spoke for wholesome, clean entertainment as being the one and only sort desired. He made a plea for the exquisite silent films and expressed the hope that they would not be crucified entirely by the sound invasion. He said that when he wanted to rest he went to the motion picture houses, where the excellent music and the silent picture refresh him and that there were millions of people in the world who shared his feelings. He expressed satisfaction every time he heard a Warner or Fox sound picture but said that many others were not in the least pleasing.

He expressed his warm appreciation of "Lilac Time" and pointed out that it was a glorification of the Royal Air Forces which he regarded as a fine thing for an American company to have done and he added: "The more we can do to bring our peoples together the better for all of us".

MEIGHAN STARTS 1ST VITAPHONE IN JANUARY

Work on the first Vitaphone picture to star Thomas Meighan under his new contract with Warner Bros. will commence shortly after the first of the year, according to the present plans of J. L. Warner, head of the Warner Studio. Meighan who is now in French Lick, Indiana, where he is reading story material with George Ade, will go to California immediately after Christmas.

ALL-DIALOGUE FOR EDWARD LAEMMLE

Edward Laemmle, successful director of "Man, Woman and Wife," and other outstanding Universal pictures, is to start work shortly on a 100% talking picture. It will be "The Drake Murder Case," adapted from an original story by Charles A. Logue, with complete dialogue supplied by that noted writer. It is understood to be a thrilling mystery tale.

DISNEY ANIMATED CARTOONS IN SOUND

Four of a series of twenty-six new all sound animated cartoons to be made by Walter Disney, creator of the Oswald cartoons are now in work at the new Powers Cinephone studio in New York.

The new series are tentatively titled "Micky Mouse" with a mischievous little rodent as the comic hero. The first subject has been fully completed and three others will be ready for screening within the next week or ten days.

Paramount Breaking in Sales Forces

(Continued from page 1)

mounts new pictures. Last night was another party. Today and tonight the same program will be followed. Thursday will see them all on the links at the Winged Foot Golf Club where a tournament will be held, to be followed by a dinner.

Richman Starts Dec. 1

The Harry Richman United Artists picture "Say It With Music" will get under way at the Cosmopolitan studio December 1st, with Alan Crosland doing the directing being assisted by Flynn Martin. Irving Berlin has contributed the general idea of the story that was adapted by C. Gardner Sullivan. Joe Brown, in addition to the star, is the only member of the cast so far definitely placed.

Miljan in "Hunted"

John Miljan has been signed for the leading role in "Hunted." This is the thriller which is being written, directed and acted in by Willard Mack for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Mary Doran, Duane Thompson and Robert Ames are the others so far chosen.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

"NOAH'S ARK"

The Warner Brothers production of "Noah's Ark" is doing a tremendous business in Hollywood at the Grauman Chinese Theatre. It has been a sell out since its opening over a week ago and the advance sales are of such proportions that makes it evident the picture will have a long and successful run at that house. The Hollywood and Los Angeles critics took a nose dive for the picture and the "raves" were plentiful. It seems a cinch Warners have another big hit.

GOOD AGENTS

The situation created in Hollywood by the formation of the "call bureau" is causing a lot of agents plenty of worry. They see a good thing being taken away from them and it is either a case of now going to work or passing out of the picture entirely. A good artist representative has no worry, for the assistance and help given players by such an agent is of great value. He gives them decent representation in all his business transactions, helps with his publicity, assures cordial feelings at the various studios and is of great assistance all around. But the agent who has been sitting in his office, calling a switchboard girl take the calls from the casting offices and when this information is relayed to him, gets the "caster" on the phone, suggests that the player wanted is, or is not available, and in turn calls the artist to go over to the studio for an interview, and if the player is wanted, the agent sends over an office boy to pick up the contract, thereby collecting a nice fee for this service, that type representative is finished. There is no place for him. As a matter of fact there has never been a place for that baby, he has been collecting money under false pretences.

GIVE PRAISE

Every player not under contract in Hollywood, and as a matter of fact, those under contract, should give praise to the founders of the "call bureau". It is the greatest thing that has ever happened to them, and nothing of greater value could be conceived. Unless their time is of such value they are compelled to engage a business representative to handle their various affairs, an artist does not need the services of a representative to get work in the Hollywood studios in the future. He has only to register his name at the bureau, giving his address and telephone number, and if he has had parts in the past that gave any recognition, that should be the extent of his labors as the studio being familiar with his or her work calls the bureau who in turn gets in touch with the player and is advised to go to the studio for the part in question. If a player has done nothing that would make his name known, he would, in addition to having his name on file at the bureau, be compelled to see the different casting heads in order that they might become familiar with his or her past work either on the stage or pictures.

Emanuel Cohen Tells "What's Right with the Movies"

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 113

New York, Thursday, November 15, 1928

FIVE CENTS

The Picture

"TALKIES"

Last summer we attended the premiere performance of the first 100% all-talkie, "The Lights of New York" made by Warner Brothers. Scientifically, we thought it marvelous but this was our only entertainment. Last night we witnessed the first showing of the latest Warner all-talkie, "On Trial" and to make a comparison between the two pictures, both released within a few months of each other, is to attempt the impossible. There is no comparison. The one picture proved it could be done and the other last night demonstrated it had been done.

"ON TRIAL"

This reviewer has never been entertained by a talking picture until last evening. We speak of entertainment here with the same feeling experienced at the witnessing a silent picture of the quality of "The Patriot". On our previous visit to the talkies we gave recognition to the scientific entertainment satisfaction our mind received, but never once did we become intrigued with the unravelling of the plot, or balance the fine qualities of the acting. We thought "The Singing Fool" marvelous but this was not an all-talkie.

THE CAST

Whoever assembled the cast for "On Trial" should be given the first credit on this production. This job was expertly handled, every member, save Pauline Frederick was unusually good. Miss Frederick for some reason we can't explain failed due to the fact that her voice did not record as well as one would expect from an artist whose brilliant stage career is well known. Lois Wilson, Bert Lytell, Richard Tucker, Johnny Arthur, Edmund Breese, Jason Robards and little Vondell Derr was excellent.

ENJOYABLE

All together it was a very enjoyable evening and to add pleasure we were presented with a nice new copy of a morning paper as we left the theatre, a very generous gift made possible by the Warner press department. Hurrah for Warner Brothers.

FOX'S "7th HEAVEN" HONORED BY PHOTOPLAY GOLD MEDAL

POWDER HOUSE ON F. N. LOT EXPLODES

(Special Wire to Exhibitors Daily Review)
HOLLYWOOD — A powder house on the First National lot at Burbank blew up yesterday, killing one and mortally injuring two others.

The accident happened during the filming three productions, by Milton Sills, Corine Griffith and Colleen Moore respectively, when water from very recent heavy rains seeped into the store of smoke-bombs in the powder-house, causing the explosion.

The three companies in active production were only held up for the space of one hour in their work.

GERMAN GOV'T. TO PUT SUPPORT IN EMELKA

BERLIN — The German Government has decided to retain its present holdings in the Emelka film company, and will seek to push this company to the forefront of producers, despite the speculations of Capt. Lohmann, reported in Exhibitors Daily Review exclusively, several weeks ago.

The attitude of the Government is that it is using public money to prevent a monopoly in the picture field, which is taken in some quarters as an indication of UFA opposition.

Both films and the radio will be used by the State as a means of culture propaganda.

Paramount Birthday

The Paramount Theatre will celebrate its second birthday next week when Dave Rubinoff, the famous classical jazz conductor takes over the baton and directs the Paramount Grand orchestra. Eddie Peabody will direct the stage band in "Stars", a John Murray Anderson production, produced for the occasion.

Hammons Due Today

E. W. Hammons, president of Educational Film Exchanges, Inc., is on his way to New York from the coast, having left Los Angeles Monday, November 12, following a visit to the Educational Studios, where he held conference on production plans with E. H. Allen, studio general manager, and Jack White, director-in-chief.

Photoplay Gold Medal Awarded to the Fox Production "7th Heaven" as Best Picture of 1927

VAN PRAAG HOLDS "U" SALES CONFAB

Dave Miller, Universal exchange manager in Buffalo, Nat Levy, who occupies a similar post in Pittsburgh, and Morris Joseph, the veteran "U" manager in New Haven, assembled in New York yesterday to confer with M. Van Praag, general sales manager for Universal and Ted Schlanger, Van Praag's assistant.

The three managers report a decided up-grade in business in their territories, with prospects of a record breaking year. The national election, they state, effected the motion picture industry less than ever before, despite the interest centered

(Continued on page 2)

ALL-TALKIE PROGRAM AT ROXY NEXT WEEK

An important event in current motion picture activities is scheduled for the Roxy Theatre next week where S. L. Rothafel will present the first all-talking program to be seen and heard at this theatre.

The program will consist entirely of all-Fox-Movietone dialogue productions. The first of these, "Napoleon's Barber", will be remembered as the play by Arthur Caesar which George Bernard Shaw declared the finest one-act play in the English language. It is John Ford's first Movietone production.

The comedy of the program will

(Continued on page 2)

PARAMOUNT SALES FORCE VISITS STUDIO

The Paramount sales crew in New York attending the convention spent all of yesterday looking at pictures. During the morning they viewed several of the pictures on the new

(Continued on page 4)

Chosen As Best Picture of 1927 in Nation-Wide Poll

Fox-Sheehan Tribute

"7th Heaven" has been awarded the eighth annual gold medal given by Photoplay Magazine, a memorable tribute to the Fox Film Corporation. Announcement of the award, resulting from a nationwide vote of readers of the magazine, on the best picture of 1927 is made in the December issue of "Photoplay" out today.

William Fox
The Winner

Frank Borzage, who guided Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell into prominence and stardom with "7th Heaven," is the only director who has attained the Photoplay gold medal twice. Borzage, who is only 35, won the first of the series with "Humoresque" in 1920. It is the first time that the medal has been won by Fox.

"Sunrise" Also Honored

This is the second signal recognition of the quality of Fox product to be made this year. The first occurred last January when a Berlin newspaper announced that a survey of critics in 25 countries throughout the world placed F. W. Murnau's "Sunrise", also with Janet Gaynor, at the top of all pictures released last winter.

Winfield H. Sheehan
Producing Genius

In the "Photoplay" selection, a eulogy is also given to William Fox, president of the Fox Film Corporation, and to Winfield Sheehan, vice-president and general manager, as the men primarily responsible for the picture.

Fox-Sheehan Eulogy

"Mr. Fox," says Photoplay, "is one of filmdom's pioneers. Years ago it was Fox who fought and broke the stranglehold of the Patents Companies upon the picture business.

(Continued on page 4)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

GOSSIP OF LONDON

By LIONEL BURTON

(Special Correspondence of Exhibitors Daily Review)

LONDON—November, second week. Doing something American to London and making London like it is quite an achievement. I am able to report that London likes what Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has done to that ancient and sedate locality known as Leicester Square. In the week that has elapsed since the brilliant opening of the new Empire Theatre all classes of picture patrons show a disposition to welcome this Broadway-izing of the heart of London, and to forget the glories of the Old Empire.

They appreciated the choice of Norma Shearer's film version of a Pinero masterpiece — "Trelawney of the Wells"—for the opening attraction, which was applauded throughout. They were charmed with the architecture, the interior arrangements, the decoration and all the equipment of the new "cinema palace." And this verdict includes not only a sizeable delegation of British nobility bulwarked with the manifest approval of eight Ambassadors and ministers, but also 'Arry and 'Arriet in large numbers, who made of the occasion almost a Bank 'Ooliday.

While the prosperity of the New Empire continues unabated, the veteran British film critic, W. G. Faulkner, writes in the Film Review: Judging by the accommodation provided and the flexible prices of admission, the owners evidently mean to try to make that house a natural meeting place for the entire pleasure-loving Londoners. The prices certainly are attractive enough to draw in thousands who would count the shelter and the comfort, to say nothing of the entertainment, dirt cheap at the price."

"Remember" that you must take great efforts to avoid becoming vasals of the United States," is quoted here as the parting words of John Maxwell, of British International Films, to Herr Galewski and Herr Holenfer of the German C. E. A. as they departed homeward. Now what did Maxwell mean?

"What's Right with the Movies"

(Twenty-first of a Series by Industry's Leaders)

By EMANUEL COHEN

Director Short Feature Production
Editor Paramount News
Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation

That things are right with the motion picture industry is quite apparent. If it were otherwise the industry would not have survived as the chief amusement of the people—not only of this country but of the world.

It is not so long ago that motion pictures were looked upon as — at best—a fad, destined to have a short life and soon to be replaced by some other form of entertainment. No one would dare mention "fad" in connection with motion pictures nowadays.

We have seen the industry progress from the short reel of film, thrown on the screen of a "store show" to the big feature pictures which are so popular with the public that tremendous motion picture palaces are required to house the throngs that are anxious to see them.

We are now witnessing the introduction of "talking pictures" which unquestionably will mean proportionately as much for the industry as did the introduction of feature pictures.

The change from "silent" to "sound" entails very heavy expenditures in both the studios and the theatres. In fact, new stages, equipped with very expensive "sound" apparatus, must be built and the theatres also must install reproducing apparatus.

Fortunately, the leaders of the industry—both in production and exhibition—have not hesitated. They are in most instances the same men who made the big "silent" pictures possible, and they have the vision to see the necessity for "sound" and also are willing to make the investment necessary to bring the added attraction of "sound" to the screen.

Water never rises above its source. The industry is indeed fortunate in having as its present leaders men who are willing to concede that "sound" will bring great advantages to the motion picture.

Hesitation would be fatal. The public is always looking for something new and if we were to sit still and continue with silent pictures only, we would find the public slipping away to some other form of entertainment.

That the industry has such leaders is, in my opinion, one of the chief reasons why things are right with motion pictures.

Pathe Signs Hopper

E. Mason Hopper, who has directed Phyllis Haver, Marie Prevost and others in Pathe features, has been re-signed to direct "Square Shoulders," Junior Coughlan's next rooster brand production. This picture will have Photophone dialogue sequences.

Film Guild "Hands"

The Film Arts Guild has obtained the United States rights to a film called "Hands" in which the screen story is told entirely by hands. It was produced in Germany by Stella F. Simon, an American residing in Berlin.

New Zurich House

On September 18, a new cinema, the "Apollo Theatre" was opened in Zurich. It seats 2,000 and is the largest motion picture theatre in Switzerland.

WANTED

I can use from one to five hundred used Acme projectors . . . must be in fair running condition . . . any model . . . price must be right. State how many you have. Write to box No 13, Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.
for Libray Stock Scenes
130 W. 46th St. New York
Bryant 8181

INT. BEAUTIES TO BE FEATURED AT COLONY

The Universal Film Corporation will have first option on the appearance of 10 International Beauties who will arrive in New York about November 23rd on the S. S. Harding, at either the Colony Theatre in New York or the Rialto in Washington.

The pulchritudiness aggregation are to tour the theatres of the country on a trackless train of the International Beauty Tour being directed by James A. Carier and Howard Lichey.

All-Talkie Program

At Roxy Next Week

(Continued from page 1)

be supplied by Clark and McCullough in "The Bath Between", their first two-reel all-dialogue comedy. Carmel Myers appears in the cast of the picture which was directed by Benjamin Stoloff.

There will also be a newsreel of all-Fox-Movietone News and a musical program which will surpass anything of its kind ever attempted at the Roxy.

Van Praag Holds

"U" Sales Confab

(Continued from page 1)

in the radio campaigns of the various candidates.

Sound is whooping it up in the big cities, all report, with the small and suburban unwired houses taking it on the nose.

Wise showmen book the best box office attraction available for the holiday weeks!

Stanley Company:

Globe Theatre, Atlantic City—Christmas Week

Wilmington—Thanksgiving Week

Camden—New Year's Week

Stamford Theatre, Stamford (home of United Artists and Metro pictures exclusively)— Thanksgiving Week

Fighting the
White Slave Traffic

Goes into Stanley-Fabian National, Jersey City, as a road show, 75c top, with Vitaphone synchronization.

WOODY AND ADLER, Inc.

723—7th Ave., New York City (BRYant 0207)

EXCHANGE: Room 406, 729 7th Ave.

N. LIEBSKIND, Manager

Coming!!!

The BIG Money-Making Special Event of the Year

HOW TO PUT "JOY WEEK" OVER WITH A BANG!

Go to your nearest Universal Exchange and ask them to give you the marvelous and special complete lineup of Universal's GREAT Joy Week Product.

Announce in your programs, in your heralds, in your one-sheets, on your poster stands the coming of JOY WEEK. Use all your advertising means to put the BIG DATE across—December 23rd to January 2nd.

Call on your local newspaper Editor—tell him about the big hookup—He'll be glad to cooperate.

See your local merchants—make a Prosperity Tie-Up with the live wires. You can cover the town with JOY WEEK propaganda without extra cost to yourself. The whole world loves laughter—the whole world wants JOY WEEK—make them remember the date—December 23rd to January 2nd.

Show your local merchants our special posters and window cards on JOY WEEK. Tell your patrons you've got the Joy pictures sewed up for your Theatre—tell them about DICK-EN'S CHRISTMAS CAROL; tell them about OSWALD in THE FARMYARD FOLLIES, the funniest cartoon comedy that ever raced across a screen—tell them about HORACE IN HOLLYWOOD—the one reel picture with the BIG background of stars—tell them about WOODEN SOLDIER—the Laemmle Novelty with the highpoint of Christmas cheer—tell them you've got a complete Joy Week program of short reel pictures that stand alone and make them laugh—laugh—laugh.

Shout the glad tidings in all of your advertising—stress the date—December 23rd to January 2nd. Get started early and you'll sure get the holiday mobs.

Von Stroheim's Actors Squawking

10-Week Schedule Forces Night and Day Work—Studio Staff Rebels

By J. HARRISON EDWARDS
Hollywood Correspondent

Poor Von Stroheim—he seems to be continually in hot water. Now the actors and the extras are up in arms against him in form of an appeal and squawks to the studio officials.

"Von" is directing the Swanson picture "Queen Kelly" and in order to get the job had to accept a shooting schedule of ten weeks. This, under ordinary, would seem plenty of time for any ordinary director, but "Von" is not an ordinary director. Anyhow, he agreed to the time allotment and in his effort to complete the picture on schedule is working such long hours that most everybody in the cast, including himself, will have to be confined to a sanatorium before very long.

Extremes

The "Queen Kelly" company have been doing locations out on the old Lasky ranch and "Von" has been working them, that is keeping them on location, from nine in the morning until one and two o'clock the following morning. The actors, including the extras, although not actually working all this time, are compelled to stay on the "set" and after sun down it gets pretty cold in the night air.

The result being that some of the extras were said to have appealed to the labor commission for relief and the actors put in a heavy squawk with the studio executives with the result that "Von" has been compelled to use a shorter day and in doing this he is afraid that he will not be able to complete the picture in the required time and if this happens, he will lose some of the money that has been guaranteed him for his work. It is said that Joseph P. Kennedy gave the order for the let up in long shooting hours and told "Von" schedule or not schedule he could not afford to subject his actors to such intense work and exposure.

Von Stroheim is showing the results of these long hours also. He looks as if he has not been to bed since the picture started and there might be a lot of truth to this doubt. After he finishes his work on location he goes back to the studio and looks at the rushes of the previous days work, and after arriving home, he probably is up for an hour or more, going over his work for the following day.

Pomeroy Coming

Roy Pomeroy will be in New York in time to attend the opening of Paramount's "Interference" at the Criterion, Friday night. While in the East, Pomeroy will spend about a month at the Paramount Astoria studio installing his sound recording system in the studio.

Cobham Air Film

Sir Allan Cobham has just completed a 20,000 mile flight around Africa, accompanied by a Gaumont cameraman. Sir Allan is now editing and titling the 30,000 feet of film photographed and a six reel feature subject will be the result.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Sally Eilers and Jean Nash have been signed for the leading feminine roles in "The Missing Man" which Pathe is making as its first all-talkie.

Ken Maynard's latest, "The Lawless Legion", has been completed and is now being edited.

Marie Prevost will play opposite William Boyd in "High Voltage", production to start this month.

Belle Bennett is again being considered for the part of the servant in "Lummox", by United Artists.

William Beaudine, who will direct Madge Bellamy in "Exiles" for Fox, has selected Don Terry, who essayed the title role in "Me, Gangster", to play opposite the star.

Warner Bros. have signed Guinn Williams for two forthcoming productions on the strength of his spectacular performance in their Vitaphone special, "Noah's Ark". The erstwhile Western star is now working in "Our Daily Bread", under the direction of F. W. Murnau. He has a featured role in this Fox picture in support of Charles Farrell and Mary Duncan.

Herman Manckiewicz will write the titles for "Three Week-Ends", Clara Bow's latest starring film, which is adapted from an Elinor Glyn story.

Fox's "7th Heaven"

Honored by Gold Medal

(Continued from page 1)

To-day he is the head of an organization which, in the past two years, has stepped to the forefront of screen production. Under the guidance of Winnie Sheehan, Fox productions have made tremendous strides.

Speaking of the changes which have occurred in the ten years since Sheehan joined the Fox forces, Photoplay says:

"In the interim Sheehan has worked miracles for William Fox. Sheehan believes in youth and this belief is personified in the roster of Fox players and in the personnel of the entire studio staff."

Spirit of Youth

The spirit of youth in the Fox organization, the magazine points out, was illustrated particularly in "7th Heaven". It brought forward in Miss Gaynor and Farrell a new pair of screen lovers who were young and untried, but who have since proved a sensation. They have been separated lately, Miss Gaynor in "4 Devils" and "Christina," and Farrell in "The Red Dance" and "Our Daily Bread."

Recent announcement made known that the trio of Borzage, Miss Gaynor and Farrell will shortly be reunited in a new and unnamed story by Tristram Tupper, as soon as Borzage recovers from the injuries he received at polo just after completing "The River" with Farrell and Mary Duncan.

Summing up the selection, the magazine says: "Photoplay is proud of its readers' judgement. '7th Heaven' is a great and worthy film, well qualified to enter its niche in the film fans' own hall of fame."

'TALKIE' PROLOGUE IN WORK ON 'RIVER WOMAN'

Charles R. Rogers, General Manager of Sonora-Bristolphone and Sonorotone Productions announces that "The River Woman" starring Lionel Barrymore and Jacqueline Logan, is to have a "talkie" and singing prologue, work on which will be completed this week at the Waterbury, Conn. studio.

Madeline Fairbanks, recently a feature of George White's "Scandals" has a prominent role in this sequence, together with Tommy Gillen, Robert Fisher and a unit of negro entertainers. Harold Shumate is directing. Joseph C. Henabery directed from a script by Adele Buffington.

$8,500 Weekly New Barthelmess Contract

First National, in writing out a new contract for Richard Barthelmess has raised his salary from $5,500 to $8,500. This makes him one of the highest paid men in pictures.

BIOPHONE OPERETTA SHOOTING AT FT. LEE

Phil Goldstone, producer and director of such pictures as Wild Geese, Souls for Sables, College Days, etc., will personally direct the first Metropolitan Road Show Production which will be done in the form of an Operetta now called "The Flame of Love."

Metropolitan plans to make this one of the biggest pictures of the year and to release it as a road show attraction to be first played in the legitimate theatre and then to the regular theatres.

The first short subject entitled "Honeymooners", and the "Gossips" will be ready for showing and release by December first and thereafter Metropolitan will release two short subjects weekly. Arrangements are also being made to release a series of twelve talking feature productions which will be released one a month.

Paramount Sales

Force Visits Studio

(Continued from page 1)
seasons program. During the afternoon they visited the Astoria studio of Paramount and was shown most all of the finished all-talking picture, "The Letter."

There will be a golf tournament today at the Winged Foot Golf Club and a dinner tonight will close the convention.

Goulding Joins Pathe

Edmond Goulding has left Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to direct talkies for Pathe. Goulding was one of the first to direct talking pictures for M-G-M.

Xmas Film Finished

Work on the movietone Christmas picture, "Forget Me Not" has been completed by Fox. It has been shipped East for general release during Christmas week.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

REHEARSING

With the advent of the talkie, the actor, (that is the player not under a term contract with a studio,) is confronted with a serious situation in that some studios are making an effort to compel him to rehearse for the dialogue sequences without pay.

The rehearsing, in most instances will take longer than the actual photographing and recording of the scenes. In other words what might require one or two days to rehearse will only require a couple of hours to "shoot" if everything runs on schedule. Consequently if an actor is signed for a part he might rehearse in it for almost a week and find that his work would be finished in three or four days, and only getting paid for that amount of time.

* * *

UNFAIR

We don't know that all the studios are insisting on this, but one or two of them are trying and so far, have gotten away with it. This is extremely unfair to the actor, and will eventually prove of no benefit to the studio. The fact that the stage actor is compelled to rehearse for a number of weeks without pay has nothing to do with this matter, as the play once produced either has a run that would recompense the actor for the time spent in rehearsal or prove a flop-out pretty quick. The studio talker has not that opportunity, good, bad or indifferent his work in any one picture would not cover his rehearsal period.

* * *

PHOTOPLAY MEDAL

The announcement that Photoplay has awarded the 1927 gold medal to the Fox organization for their production of "Seventh Heaven" will cause no surprise to anyone acquainted with motion pictures. We doubt if you would assemble ten or a hundred people from our industry and ask them what was the best picture of 1927, that anyone would give a different answer than did Jimmie Quirk, publisher of Photoplay. There might have been a bit of dissatisfaction in years past concerning this award, but certainly not this year. No doubt William Fox, Winfield R. Sheehan, Frank Borzage and the entire Fox organization are very proud of this great honor, but not to any greater extent than the motion picture theatre owner who played the picture, thereby giving his patrons a treat the type of which is very rare in this or any other industry. And by the way, this is the second time Frank Borzage, the director has been so honored. His picture "Humoresque" received the gold medal back in 1920.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 114

New York, Friday, November 16, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Alias Jimmy

By ARTHUR JAMES

A superb picture in both sound and silence, Alias Jimmy Valentine, delighted the first night throng at the Astor Theatre last night. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer scores with the first sound picture that wears gloves, dresses in the mode and is mannerly beyond reproach. It has vitality beneath the smart exterior, has heart interest, human sympathy, surprise and a fully satisfactory and complete entertainment.

Jack Conway has directed a sound and dialogue picture with restraint. The talking begins late and effectively.

It comes as a surprise after it has been demonstrated that a perfectly fine silent picture is under way.

Five characters are important. William Haines, the star, is Jimmy Valentine who, in the manner of the Paul Armstrong classic is clever, sensitive of finger and smart in alibis. But Haines gives the character the Haines unction and charming smart alec effrontery that makes it a new and a vibrant character.

Leila Hyams, lovely as the bankers' daughter, Karl Dane, as the big Swede companion of Jimmy, Tully Marshall, as a veteran crook, and then Lionel Barrymore, as Doyle, the detective, completes the principals. All are good, but Barrymore is magnificent. The greatest actor in the world today showed how fine and intelligent he can be in a role of secondary importance, by walking away with the show.

Joe Farnum titled it with distinction and added to it the sum total of its excellence. Howard Hickman played the banking father, Billy Butts and Evelyn Mills were the children.

Alias Jimmy Valentine which began on the stage and which later was a screen success, is now in its highest form as entertainment.

It is a convincing play, splendidly presented and without doubt headed for extraordinary box office triumph. We congratulate all concerned with its making and the public on its opportunity to see and hear a really refreshing play.

Producers Force Showdown With W. E. By Demanding Open Field for Sound

M.P.T.O.A. DIRECTORS APPOINT COMMITTEES

The Board of Directors of the M.P.T.O.A. met yesterday to discuss matters in general connected with the association and to take action on the legislative situation and to appoint a legislative committee consisting of Harry Crandall, Chairman, Fred Dolle, Harold B. Franklin, Sam Denbow and M. E. Comerford.

A committee on standardization and interchangeability of sound apparatus was also appointed, continued on page 2

KOLSTER RADIO IN SOUND-FILM FIELD

Patenting Device for Recording on Films

A new talking picture apparatus using the film recording method will soon be added to the welter of conflicting devices already flooding the market and clamoring for recognition.

This device, now nearing perfection on the Pacific Coast is being fostered by a newcomer to the industry—the Kolster Radio Corporation, manufacturers of radio equipment and sets.

The Kolster company is at present in process of negotiation to take continued on page 4

FOUR COS. TAKE TABLES FOR ANGLO-AMER. DINNER

Dr. A. H. Giannini, recipient of the Sam Harris Anglo-American cup, will be the guest of honor at the Anglo-American Banquet at the Biltmore next Tuesday, November 20th.

Among other prominent men who will attend are Will H. Hays, who will act as toastmaster, Colvin W. Brown, Arthur Loew, Arthur Kelly, J. D. Williams, Lou Metzger, Walter Wanger, and Harry Reichenchach. Tables of ten each have been reserved by M-G-M, Pathe, First National, and Universal. Other companies continued on page 4

KEITH CIRCUIT BOOKS "U" TALKING SHORTS

Universal's first two talking picture short subjects are to be shown over the entire Keith Circuit, according to an arrangement just made by Earl Kramer, general manager continued on page 2

Licensed Distributors Decline to Be "Goats" in Appeal to Otterson

It begins to look as if this matter of changeability, which up to this writing has been merely physical, will soon become a legal fact and that the doors will be open for any talking apparatus whose patents are clear and whose amplification is of sufficient quality to permit discs and film to be run with no material damage to either the mechanics or the quality of the entertainment. The burden of compelling exhibitors to run pictures licensed by Western Electric has been on the shoulders of the producers and distributors and these organizations have been most uncomfortable with its weight. Demand Is Made

It is known that the larger companies licensed by W. E. have made a demand on Electrical Research Products, Inc., in a letter to J. E. Otterson, its president, to ease up and change several clauses in their contracts with the producers in order that their distribution companies might permit the run of their sound pictures on equipment other than W.E.

They have pointed out the advisability of this almost instant change, and although nothing definite has yet been agreed on, it seems certain that Otterson is in favor of capitulating to some extent. Just how far he is willing to go, has not yet been determined. But that there will be some change very soon, is a foregone conclusion.

Distributors the "Goat" The distributors feel they have been made the "goat" in this whole sound business, as their contracts will not permit them renting sound or synchronized pictures to a theatre not equipped with W.E. and figuring that it will be months and continued on page 4

New Universal Play Producing Department Created on Coast

March 9 Selected As AMPA "Masque" Date

March 9th was announced as the date of the Hollywood Masque Ball by President George Harvey at yesterday's meeting of the Associated Motion Picture Advertisers, upon which occasion Elizabeth Meehan, Anna Aiken Patterson, Kerry Conway and Mr. and Mrs. Henri Thermen were guests of the organization.

Universal Film Corporation has established a Play Producing Bureau, which will be conducted as a separate branch detached in its workings from the studio regime, but operating with the full use of its facilities.

The object of the department is to encourage new playwrights and to assure them a stage production first and screen production afterwards, the Universal company retaining the option on screen rights continued on page 4

U. A. THEATRES SHOW $516,919 NET FOR YEAR

Report of United Artists Theatre Circuit, Inc., and subsidiaries for year ended August 31, 1928, shows net profit of $516,919 after interest, depreciation, amortization, etc., equivalent after 7% preferred dividend requirements to 40 cents a share earned on 500,000 shares of no-par common stock.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

PATHE SOUND NEWS REEL FORMS STAFF

The Pathe Sound News organization personnel is being drawn chiefly from the long trained and disciplined Pathe staff. It is the policy of the editorial directors, Terry Ramsaye and Ray L. Hall, to promote members of the existing staff with replacements to go into the silent edition organizations.

Old Timers Drafted

The first to be drafted to sound was Joseph O'Brien, film editor and cutter from Pathe News, who has been schooled at the Radio Corporation of America's laboratories in the technique of sound picture assembly. Among the cameramen thus far detailed to sound by Pathe are Harry Smith, Tommy Hogan, Robert Donahue and Alfred Gandolfi.

Marvin H. McIntyre, editorial representative at Washington in contact with the White House, the Army and the Navy, has been given responsibilities to the sound news.

RCA Experts Help

Through the initial period of product Pathe Sound News has had the cooperative attention of E. E. Bucher, vice president of RCA, and the engineering staff under Carl Dreher, including Harry Dreyer, and Harry Jones, assigned to technical supervision of the operations of the sound recording camions.

Dr. Albert Jean DeVaud of the General Electric Company at Schenectady is in consultation with the engineers and editors with reference to the designing and manufacture of a large array of additional equipment and various camion units, several of which are being especially designed to meet special purposes in the news-recording field.

Eugene Cour, midwest editor of Pathe News, also an engineer who has done much experimental research in sound recording, has been a consultant on design.

Sebastian Gets Lead

Dorothy Sebastian has been given the feminine lead opposite Buster Keaton in the stolid-faced comedian's next Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring film, "Spite Marriage." Edward Sedgwick, who made Keaton's last picture, "The Cameraman," will direct the new film.

F. N. Victors in Arbitration Of "Availability" Wrinkle

An unusual point in arbitration was settled by the New York Board on Wednesday, when the question of playdates after availability dates, was determined.

First National Exchange brought a case against Anthony Livoti of the Majestic and Grandview Theatres in the Bronx, for failure to lift six pictures.

The defense was that there was a protection clause in the contract which read "No protection to and from" the Irving and Wycoff Theatres, which ran as Livoti's opposition.

Livoti claimed that this meant that the Irving and Wycoff Theatres would have to play day and date with the Majestic and Grandview theatres and he presented proof to show that the Irving and Wycoff Theatres played ahead of the Majestic and Grand, which in his opinion was a breach of contract and he was therefore not liable.

Louis Nizer, who represented First National explained that "no protection to or from" does not mean that they must play the pictures day and date. It means, he explained, that equal notice of availability must be sent to those theatres and that those who have prior dates open on their books to date the pictures in can play ahead of the other, regardless of which one beats the other, providing that the exchange is giving is giving each the same starting point.

Nizer also pointed out that it meant day and date, "no protection to and from" would have lost its purpose, as it meant that both exhibitors would have to play it at the same time. On five of the pictures, notice of availability had been sent to both exhibitors and on the sixth, where notice was not sent, Livoti failed to take advantage of the 15-day clause after notice of availability and let his opposition play it ahead of availability. Nizer here pointed out that, in failing to set a date after the allotted and understood time allowed to everybody, Livoti objected to someone else using the pictures ahead of himself.

The Board ruled for the Exchange for the full amount.

Keith Circuit Books "U" Talking Shorts

(Continued from page 1)
ager of Universal's New York exchange.

The two shorts are "Bailey and Barnum" a black-face song, instrument and gag act, and "In Hawaii" a song and ukelele act made by the three Brox sisters, a noted vaudeville trio.

M.P.T.O.A. Directors Appoint Committees

(Continued from page 1)
sisting of Fred Desberg, Joseph W. Walsh, Colvin Brown. This committee will use its own judgment in collecting its data with a view to ascertaining if some method cannot be agreed upon for the absolute interchangeability and standardization of all instruments.

Those present at the meeting were Fred Desberg, Cleveland; M. E. Comerford, Scranton; Sam Dembow, N. Y. C.; Harold B. Franklin, Los Angeles; Jack Miller, Chicago; Colvin Brown, N. Y. C.; J. W. Walsh, Danbury; Fred Wehrenberg, St. Louis; A. Julian Brylawski, Washington, subbing for Harry Crandall; R. F. Woodhull, Pres.; Jay Emanuel, Phila.; Treas. F. C. Walker, N. Y. C., General Acting Counsel and M. J. O'Toole, Secretary.

The Administrative Committee which will act for the Board between sessions consists of M. E. Comerford, Sam Dembow and Fred Desberg.

Sound Pictures Increase

Sound Pictures, Inc., of New York have increased their capitalization from 20,000 to 40,000 shares, no par value.

Paramount Signs Weaver

John V. A. Weaver, poet, playwright and novelist, has been signed by Paramount as one of its staff of dialogue writers for forthcoming sound films, it was announced yesterday by B. P. Schulberg, general manager of West Coast production.

MIKE SIMMONS TO ADDRESS OHIO M.P.T.O.

COLUMBUS, O.—The Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Ohio have invited a representative of the Sonora-Bristolphone Corporation to attend the 8th Annual Convention to be held in Columbus on November 20-21, to tell about their plans for installing sound equipment especially devised for small theatres. Michael L. Simmons of Sonora-Bristolphone will address the exhibitors.

Governor-Elect Myers Y. Cooper will be an honored guest at the closing banquet of the association on Tuesday night, November 20th.

P-F-L in Wilmette

WILMETTE, ILL.—Now that the Village Board has legalized Sunday movies, the Midwest-Paramount Company of Chicago is planning to rebuild the old Central Theatre.

The theatre which last showed pictures twelve years ago, will be ready for operation in the Spring.

Chaplin Sued for $100,000 on "Circus"

HOLLYWOOD—Antoinette Kopetsky yesterday brought an action in the Superior Court for $100,000 against Charlie Chaplin Film Corporation, claiming she was the author of "The Circus", and had submitted it to Chaplin in March 1919.

Wallace to Direct

Maurice Chevalier, idol of the French music halls, who is now in Hollywood, will have Richard Wallace as the director of his first Paramount talking film. Production will get under way as soon as Wallace finishes directing Gary Cooper and Nancy Carroll in "The Shopworn Angel."

IN AMERICA'S LEADING THEATRES

SIMPLEX PROJECTORS

HAVE DEMONSTRATED
THEIR ADAPTABILITY
TO ALL

SOUND SYSTEMS

International Projector Corporation
90 Gold Street, New York

Who are You?

Dedicated to the God boys in the picture business.

Mr Big Eye: "I don't like that actress! She's no good at all. She falls down in the big chances. She isn't pretty. She isn't young enough. Well, she's no good at all. She's a washout."

A voice:—"You don't like her? Who are YOU?"

Mr. Big Eye: "I don't like that title writer. His stuff is flat. He uses too many words. He isn't funny. I don't care whether those titles get a laugh or not, I'm telling you he's no good."

A voice:—"You're telling us? Who are YOU?"

Mr. Big Eye: "I don't like that advertisement. There is too much white space in it. Why pay for all that white paper and not put something on it? Do you think this company is made of money and just throws it away? Did you ever sell any fillum? I oughta know, I've been on the frin' line in my shirt sleeves and I've sweat with them boys. Where do you get that gift for writin' advertisements? I say you're lousy and that goes."

A voice:—"YOU say he's lousy? Who are YOU?"

Mr. Big Eye: "I don't like that trade paper—it has too many knocks in it. I wouldn't advertise in a paper that didn't boost my stuff—besides I gotta budget and how can I buy more space than I got money appropriated to pay for it? Besides we're so great we don't need advertising. We lead the world, we're just plain hell, that's all, and I advertise the way I feel—I call it the 'feel of the paper'—Sure, I am known as a great guy and I intend to keep that knowledge spreadin'."

A voice:—"You are known as a great guy? Who ARE YOU?"

"Last Moment" Sold

Mr. Joseph H. Zarovich, general manager of the Zakoro Film Corporation announces that William M. Horne has just sold the Italian rights of "The Last Moment" to the Hoffberg Cornfeld Co.

Doane Leaving

Warren Doane, vice-president and general manager of the Hal Roach studio at Culver City, leaves today with Mrs. Doane for the coast, after spending several weeks in the East conferring with M-G-M executives and arranging plans for the forthcoming sound comedy program at the Roach plant.

New Film Reel

A new Sound Film Reel for exhibitors using sound-film equipment has now been placed on the market by National Theatre Supply Company. This reel features an improved 5-inch hub which prevents the film from passing the aperture plate at too great, or at an uneven, speed, accuracy of which is a necessity in sound projectors.

The Sound Film Reel is now being exclusively adopted by many of the larger producers of sound equipment and marks another notable contribution to the perfection of sound pictures.

RCA ENGINEER HAS NEW TALKIE DEVICE

John C. Aalberg, engineer with the R.C.A. Photophone working at the Pathe Studios, in Culver City, has perfected a sound attachment for the portable Moviola, used for the cutting and editing of talking pictures.

It overcomes one of the biggest difficulties in the preparation of dialogue and sound screen attractions, making it possible for the cutter to literally "cut a word in half".

The attachment is a portable instrument which can be connected with the Moviola. As with the Moviola, the sound attachment can be stopped at any time and can be reversed, making it possible to determine the exact spot where the film should be trimmed.

Its compactness also is a great advantage, due to the fact that it can be attached to any cutting-room table. For all practical purposes ear phones are used for listening to the dialogue and sound, but the device also can be used with a loud speaker.

"LOVERS OF HISTORY" FOR GREAT ART CO.

Frank D. Ferrons, president of Great Art Pictures, has signed contracts for the release of 13 short subjects, both silent and sound, having "Great Lovers of History" as their subject matter.

These will be released in the United States and Canada by Ben Levine and in Europe and other foreign countries by Edward L. Klein. Production plans have been completed and work will begin on the series within a fortnight.

Mr. Ferrone is well known as an art director and did effective work on the Barthelmess pictures with Tec Art, as well as a number of other productions.

FIRST VITAPHONE IN PARIS JANUARY

Vitaphone's domain will be extended in January to the continent of Europe according to an announcement this week by Herman Starr, Warner Bros. executive, who made public that his company will introduce Vitaphone in Paris shortly after the first of the year.

The Aubert Palace is the theatre chosen and the first attraction will be Al Jolson in "The Jazz Singer" which is scheduled for an indefinite run.

New Vitaphone Branch

Cleveland, Ohio, has been selected as the seventh branch distributing point for Vitaphone subjects. The new branch will service Cleveland, Cincinnati, Detroit and the intervening cities.

On "Arizona" Location

More than 100 players have spent the entire week in San Fernando, California, where production of "In Old Arizona", Fox's hundred percent talking production is under way with Irving Cummings directing. Warner Baxter is featured as the "Cisco Kid".

"Phantom of Opera" Case Gets Re-Hearing by British Exhibs.

Noted Film May Be Distributed in England After 3-Yr. Delay

The Universal production "The Phantom of the Opera" will have a general release throughout Great Britain as a result of a request made by Carl Laemmle to the general council of the Cinematograph Exhibitors Association.

This organization decided to grant the request of Mr. Laemmle for reconsideration of the incident of June 1925, when British territorial troupes were induced to provide a military escort from Southampton to London for the Universal picture "The Phantom of the Opera."

The Cinematograph Exhibitors Association in a statement issued yesterday says:

"In his letter Mr. Laemmle referred to the fact that he had agreed three years ago to withdraw "The Phantom of the Opera" as an acknowledgement of the error of judgment which had been made in connection with its exploitation. He asked that the matter might now be reconsidered, and appealed to the sense of British justice, which did not contemplate unending punishment. He gave definite assurance that his firm would never again give offense to British sentiment. The General Council, after fully considering the matter, decided to grant the request."

Gus Edwards' Next

"Gus Edwards' Christmas Party" will be the title of the next Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer short Technicolor talking feature to be staged by the well-known song writer and revue producer. This will take the form of a juvenile song-and-dance picture, and coast writers report that a special pair of reindeer is now being imported to serve as background.

American Seating Shows $500,000 Profit

The American Seating Company reports for the September quarter a net income of $502,552 after interest and depreciation but before Federal taxes. This contrasts with a loss of $28,009 in the preceding quarter. The net income for the first nine months of this year was $539,503.

Dick Grace Signed

Dick Grace, one time stunt flyer, has been signed to make a series of two reel pictures for the same company that made "The Mormon Tale" in which Marie Prevost and Ben Lyon were starred.

TRAVELERS select the Great Northern for its wonderful location in Chicago's "loop". They return because the large comfortable rooms, homelike environment, attentive service, excellent food and moderate charges make it an ideal hotel.

400 Newly Furnished Rooms, $2.50 a day and up. Sample Rooms $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00.

Walter Craighead, Manager
DEARBORN STREET FROM JACKSON
TO QUINCY
New Garage One-Half Block

"The Mecca of All Picture Functions"

ARE YOU PLANNING A SALES MEETING—

AN EXHIBITOR GATHERING—

Do you want to GIVE YOUR SALESMEN A LITTLE DINNER—A DANCE—A BANQUET?

Call our banquet department and let them offer a few suggestions.

We have banquet rooms, meeting rooms, ball rooms that will take care of your every want.

THE PARK CENTRAL

FIFTY-FIFTH STREET AT 7th AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY

CHRISTIES BEGIN NEGRO TALKIE

Gilstrom to Direct Roy Cohen Story with All-Colored Cast

By J. HARRISON EDWARDS
West Coast Correspondent

An all colored cast is being assembled for the first of the talking pictures which Christie is to produce from the famous Octavus Roy Cohen stories which ran in the Saturday Evening Post for many years. Selected as the first story to be made into a talkie is "The Melancholy Dame", which has just been put into screen form by Alfred A. Cohn, Christie editorial supervisor.

Arvid E. Gilstrom has been selected to direct the first of the Cohen pictures which will go into the sound studios next week.

Presented in the first Cohen story are those unique fiction characters, Permanent Williams and his wife, Jonquil, proprietors of darktown's swellest colored cabaret, with Webster Dill, the bi piano player and his dancing wife, Sappho, prominent in the plot.

The Cohen stories will be made into all-talking pictures, which will be pre-released to the first-run wired houses. They are being made under the Western Electric system of sound recording in Christie's new talking picture studios.

Contracts Renewed

Universal Pictures Corporation, this week exercised the options on the services of seven contract players, according to an announcement by President Carl Laemmle.

Barbara Kent, George Lewis, Eddie Phillips, Churchill Ross, Beth Laemmle, Kithryn Crawford and Elene Aristi found their work so pleasing to studio officials that they have been retained.

New Universal Play

Producing Department

(Continued from page 1)

as recompense for its stage production expense.

Universal will have its own stock theatre in Los Angeles and will run a repertory and road-show policy so that many vehicles can be given action at one time.

Hugh Hoffman is in charge.

Menjou Refuses "Concert"

Paramount is now having its troubles with Adolphe Menjou. That very bright star has sent them word that he doesn't consider "The Concert" good for a movie or talkie and that he will not appear in it. While Famous Players decide on what to do about it, Menjou and his wife will take a holiday in New York.

"Juanita" Postponed

Capt. George Banfield, who has just returned from Spain, whither he journeyed to secure locations and facilities for the production of "Juanita", a story of Spain and the Bullring, announces that he has had to postpone the immediate production of this film, owing to the fact that Bull-fighting has finished for the season and will not be re-commenced until next Easter.

STUDIO GOSSIP

William Desmond and his wife, Mary Melvor, are en route to Chicago to resume their position as headliners over the Orpheum-Keith-Albee vaudeville circuit. The popular actor just completed a featured role in "No Defense", a Vitaphone production.

Fred Kohler, the big heavy who has glowered and glared at George Bancroft and Emil Jannings in recent Paramount films, is the latest well known screen actor whose voice will be heard in the talking films. He was assigned yesterday to a prominent role in "The Dummy".

Larry Gray will play the lead opposite Nancy Carroll in "White Silence", a talkie which Fox is making.

Michael Vavitch and Angustina Lopez were engaged yesterday for character roles in Paramount's "The Wolf Song", featuring Lupe Velez, Gary Cooper and Louis Wolheim.

Producers Force Showdown Demanding Open Field

(Continued from page 1)

months before W.E. will be in a position to give enough installations that would permit the producers and distributors a sufficient play on their product to command coast-to-coast representation in town of 25,000 and better, a letter was sent Otterson asking that a change be considered.

From sources close to both parties it has been said that Otterson knowing that it had to come sooner or later, began to stall for all the time he could get before giving them any definite answer. This stall went on for three weeks, and then another letter was sent, demanding instant action and a reply was made that action would be given within a few days. That few days is up now.

Percentage to ERP

It is said that the producers and distributors have offered Electrical Research a small percentage of the amounts received over and above the price charged any exhibitor for a silent picture in the past. Just how long this percentage thing will run has not been determined, but the picture people argue that the inability of W.E. to deliver sufficient equipment to meet the demand, and continuing to hold the distributors by contract from serving a theatre having apparatus other than their own, would soon kill the whole sound business, for there is not sufficient W. E. equipment to keep pace with the rapid strides made in every other direction in sound.

Bristolphone Uptown

The Symphony Theatre, Broadway and 96th Street, will have a Sonora-Bristolphone sound apparatus. Work began on the installation today.

Four Cos. Take Tables

For Anglo-Amer. Dinner

(Continued from page 1)

Columbia, Rayart, New Era Films of London, Exhibitors Daily Review, Western Electric and Bank of America.

MacLean Threatens

Carol Law Suit

Sue Carol is being threatened with a law suit if she persists in thinking that she has the right to leave the Douglas MacLean Corporation.

That company has the option on her services for three years to come and Sue is anxious to leave because she has been lent to other companies for many times what her salary is, the profits all going to Douglas MacLean Corp.

Thinking that they had failed to renew their six months option, she hastened to the Fox lot but it now seems to have been a mistake and Miss Carol will probably have a big law suit on her hands.

Bellamy in "Exiles"

Madge Bellamy, having recovered from her recent illness, is preparing to appear in a new Fox picture called "Exiles." Don Terry will have the male lead opposite Miss Bellamy. Arthur Stone and Earle Foxe will also have principal roles in this picture, which is to be directed by William Beaudine.

Complete Two Talkies

Final scenes are scheduled to be filmed this week on two more Warner Bros. pictures in which Vitaphone figures prominently.

The first to be finished will be "Frozen River" starring Rin Tin Tin. F. Harmon Weight has been directing this story by John J. Fowler.

The other feature now practically done is "No Defense". Monte Blue and May McAvoy are its co-stars working under the direction of Lloyd Bacon.

"Watch Out" Started

Active work has started on "Watch Out," a Fox Movietone subject written by Catherine Kavanaugh and Harry McCoy, with dialogue by Ben Holmes. The director is James Parrott. In the cast are Clifford Dempsey and Maude Fulton, who made a name for themselves in comedy roles on the Broadway stage.

Nolan in "Broadway"

The second player for the imposing cast of Universal's production of the popular stage play "Broadway" has just been selected. Mary Nolan will play the role of "Pearl." Carl Laemmle, Jr., supervisor, has already chosen Glenn Tryon for the "hooper" and Paul Fejos, who will direct the picture, has just arrived at Universal City with a few thousand feet of film taken around Times Square.

Kolster Radio in

Sound Film Field

(Continued from page 1)

over the assets and business of the De Forest Radio Co. which will include radio patents and the tube business, and which will practically guarantee independence from the Radio Corporation of America.

The Kolster method of recording sound on the film will be ready for demonstration within the next two months.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

STILL STUPID

Several days ago we reported a piece of very stupid showmanship, or what have you, in the handling of the opening night gathering at the Rivoli Theatre for "The Woman Disputed". This report got a rise out of A. M. Botsford, in charge of advertising for Publix Theatres and Victor Shapiro, holding a like capacity with United Artists. Both of them told us we did not know what we were talking about for the reason the crowd was not held out of the theatre to create the impression we suggested, namely, the attracting of the passerby with the tremendous opening. They each gave a reason, but not sufficient to forgive the discomfort caused ticket holders attempting entrance to the Rivoli on this occasion.

BOTSFORD SPEAKING

Mr. Botsford says: "In donating these 9 o'clock premieres the theatre has to make sacrifices. The Rivoli is continuous from 10:15 A. M. to midnight, no seats reserved. To jump from this policy before the end of a final day's showing of one picture to a reserved seat 9 o'clock showing of another picture, takes more management planning than you are possibly familiar with. The public which had come to see the continuous film has to be eliminated and the new show has to be prepared at once, with not sufficient time for rehearsing."

SHAPIRO SPEAKING

"When I arrived at the theatre I found the house manager trying to get the orchestra leader out of the pit and having little success as he insisted that the music be properly rehearsed before the house opened. The afternoon show was not over until almost eight o'clock and certainly these men had to prepare their orchestration."

WHAT OF IT?

Suppose both of these gentlemen are correct, as they no doubt are, what of it? What answer is that to give hundreds of patrons huddled in the lobby and on the sidewalk being pushed from one side to the other for a half hour or more, nor does it excuse the fact that once they were permitted to enter the theatre, there were not sufficient ushers to seat them and the confusion inside was almost as bad as that outside. And all of this was caused, as we see it, for the reason that either United Artists, Publix Theatres or both, would rather give Rivoli patrons this discomfort and confusion in order to save a few dollars that would have to be paid the musicians to stay after the show the preceding night and rehearse the music, or not caring to do this, they could have called off the six o'clock grind show of the late afternoon and had plenty of time for the orchestra to prepare their score for the premiere picture. But this would have cost money also, consequently they did the next best thing and held the crowd in the lobby and on the sidewalk until 8:50 of a 9 o'clock premiere thereby contributing another page to idiotic showmanship.

Fox To Release King George Movietone November 24th

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 115

New York, Saturday, November 17, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Interference

By ARTHUR JAMES

Evelyn Brent
Clive Brook

Doris Kenyon
William Powell

Paramount's first all talking entertainment turned out to be the greatest of all examples of this new art and the first night audience at the Criterion theatre last night came away charmed, fascinated and convinced by Interference. It was preceded by a screen speech by Daniel Frohman and two short novelties, one of which was Eddie Cantor.

The entire presentation of Interference was beautiful, intelligent and definitely dramatic. There was a total absence of any slowing up of action.

William Powell, always a good actor, was triumphant in the role of a man who killed one woman to save another woman from disgrace.

Evelyn Brent—With a voice perfect in reproduction — carried off the honors as a vampish person and Clive Brook gave dignity, finish and gentility to the character of Sir John Marlay. Doris Kenyon played Lady Marlay.

Perfect direction by Roy J. Pomeroy and very intelligent dialogue by Ernest Pascal gave to this talking picture a fully competent treatment. It is beyond question the great talking picture of the day and it will serve to set at rest all doubt about the future of this form of entertainment.

Paramount took its time but the result places the Zukor-Lasky product at the head of the list for class production and convincing drama.

An excellent cast supported the principal players.

W. E. PREPARES CHEAPER DEVICE TO MEET EXHIBITOR DEMAND

King George In Movietone Great Fox Accomplishment

High-Hat Opening

The opening of the Paramount all-talkie production "Interference" at the Criterion last night, attracted more high-hats than has been seen at any premier since the Jolson start at the Winter Garden two months ago.

The tariff for the opening was $5.50 and those attending, excepting the press, paid for their tickets and this also included employee's of Paramount.

Harris Here Today

Sam Harris arrives today on the Berengaria from England to be present at the Anglo American dinner and to personally present the Amity Cup to Dr. Giannini at the Biltmore function next Tuesday evening. More than 150 guests already have sent in their checks and the big men of the business will be there. Tables for ten have been taken by Paramount, M-G-M, Pathe, Universal and First National.

Jackson with Fox

LONDON—Fox Film's new publicity director is Tony Jackson, who succeeds Peet Leslie. The appointment was made by W. J. Hutchinson who is managing director of Fox Films in England.

Connolly Returns With Interview By Monarch

Lloyd George and Richard Strauss also Finished

The latest achievement of Jack Connolly now in New York, on behalf of Fox-Case Movietone, was the Movietone pictures of King George the 5th of England, secured by Connolly before he left for the U. S. This picture will be released to wired houses in the Movietone News-ree one week from today.

Connolly, in thus adding to his laurels, has the distinction of getting the first pictures of the famous monarch talking to American audience. (Continued on page 2)

Il Duce Cans Censors Over "Street Angel"

ROME — Premier Mussolini is all hot and bothered about the showing of the Fox production of "The Street Angel" in Rome several nights ago. The Il Duce is so hot that he has fired the entire Italian Board of Censorship following the gala performance of this picture to an invited audience.

The "big shot" of the Fascisti has taken offense at the manner the Fox organization handled the story, contending there are no such characters in the whole of Italy, as those (Continued on page 2)

Meetings for Contract Changes On—Producers Want Interchangeability and Quick Installation

It is the belief of many persons seemingly in on the know that Western Electric, knowing they have to throw open the door on the matter of sound equipment for the theatre sooner or later, are stalling for all the time they can get, thereby giving their sales force ample opportunity to close as many contracts as possible for the expensive sets they are now putting in theatres and further they will not capitulate until they are satisfied they have milked all the big theatres throughout this country.

All Day Meeting

Legal heads of all companies licensed by Western Electric, met with the attorneys for W.E. and its subsidiary, Electrical Research Products, yesterday, in an effort to hasten action on this matter. As was reported in THE DAILY REVIEW (Continued on page 6)

LOEW CIRCUIT BUYS MOVietone NEWS

A contract was concluded yesterday between the Fox organization and 56 theatres of the Loew chain for the showing of the Movietone News in these theatres starting today. Each of these theatres will take both weekly issues of the news.

With the signing of the Loew Theatres, 10 booking days will be added to the run of the Movietone News each week. The deal was engineered by David Loew and Milton J. Schwartz.

VESTRIS SURVIVOR IN PATHE SOUND EXTRA

As its first special extra, Pathe Sound News now in its inaugural week, delivered to theatres yesterday a Photophone interview with Harry Fay, who was one of the last to leave the ill-fated S. S. Vestris. Fay who hails from Charlevoix, Pa., was on his way to South America to fight Firpo.

Picked up after 14 hours in the water, Fay was rescued by a life-guard. (Continued on page 2)

New $6,250,000 Film Trust on Between Germany and England

2nd Studio Explosion At Metropolitan Studios

HOLLYWOOD—The second serious arsenal explosion this week occurred yesterday when the powder storehouse at the Metropolitan Studios on Santa Monica Boulevard blew up. The first mishap took place at the First National Studio in Burbank.

LONDON—A new European producing combine of vast proportions, and embracing a capital of $6,250,000 is under way, with the object of combining a number of famous German and British companies, with British Empire and Continental distribution.

The highlights in this new Trust formation, seeks to acquire the (Continued on page 2)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

Nat Rothstein is an amateur photographer of no mean account, in fact he swings a mean lens — Colvin Brown is said to be the most even tempered man in the picture business with a disposition as calm as a Buddah — Sam Sax is the smart dresser of the independents and he likes any color so long as it's grey — Si Seadler has a secret that even Howard Deitz hasn't guessed—when alone in the woods he yodels—Paul Gnlick okays more good candidates for the Motion Picture Club than anybody else so far as is visible to the nude or naked eye—Glen Allvine holds the smart color advertising record for the year and if there was a medal up for it he would win it—Joe Plunkett has a brand new house up Westport way which proves Joseph knows a good location when he sees it—News Reel Hatrick likewise has a new house, in the Westchester county suburbs and they do say it's an architectural darb—Eddie Klein having a success on his hands in the Anglo American dinner decides to retire as banquet chairman for future affairs because it cuts into his bridge evenings—J. D. Williams drives a golf ball so far that it's nobody's business except the loser of the bet and C. L. Yearley would rather cast a fly than an aspersion.

COLUMBIA TO GET BRITISH FBO QUOTA

LONDON — F. A. Enders' FBO Company have completed plans for the production and distribution of its own Quota films in England. The first picture to go into production next April will be "Whose Wife".

There will be an interchange of stars and directors. American stars will go to England but the English productions will be quota films. Columbia Pictures of New York will distribute these films in America and Australia.

Blair Leaves Fox

Harry N. Blair of the Fox Film press department in New York has severed his connection with that company and is leaving to assume management of the Anthony Wayne Theatres at Wayne, Pa., and to handle publicity for the Fried Enterprises.

IL DUCE CANS CENSORS

(Continued from page 1)

depicted in the production, and as a result he has barred the picture and taken the power of censorship away from the board that has been passing on product of all nations and in its stead is turning over the censorship to a new State film monopoly, thus putting a powerful weapon in the hands of a body that has already shown a keen desire to cut down American films from being shown in Italian theatres.

The premier recently banned the showing of all foreign war films except those shown by his special permission.

King George in Movietone Great Fox Accomplishment

(Continued from page 1)

ences, coming on top of the George Bernard Shaw interview, another triumphant feather in the caps of Connolly and William Fox, these subjects will do more than possibly any other medium to cement the relations of the two countries.

The Fox-Case Movietone in England under supervision of Peet Leslie, publicity head, since resigned, has also succeeded in filming a talking picture of ex-Premier Lloyd George and his family at the state-man's estate at Churt, England. 1500 feet of the Lloyd subject were shot.

Another crew composed of Clarence Wall and Benjamin Miggins are now in Vienna at the villa of the composer Richard Strauss, where they are recording a song from the opera "The Egyptian Helen" recently sung at the Metropolitan in New York by Marie Jeritza.

Joint Foreign Product

An agreement has been concluded between the Hungarian Filmfund and the Film-Industries A. G. (Fiag) of Austria, for joint production of several films. This is a valuable combination for Austria as well as for Hungary. A Hungarian production is now in the making at the Vienna Flat Film Studios. It is being financed by the Hungarian Filmfund, and features the Rheinhardt Theatre actress, Iris Arland. Warner Pittschau plays opposite the star, and direction is in the hands of a Hungarian, Anton Forgacs.

BUTLER-STUART CO. BACK FROM EUROPE

David Butler, director, and Nick Stuart are returning to America today on the Berengaria and will leave immediately for Hollywood. They have been chasing through Europe making scenes for the Fox picture "Chasing Through Europe".

Harry Brand, production manager and Russell Multh, location man, also returned with the company.

Cinephone Projection

Rooms Now Ready

Demonstrations of the Powers Cinephone which were interrupted by the dismantling of the company's projecting room to make way for the construction of producing stages will be resumed Monday in the new sound equipped projecting room just completed on the second floor of the Powers Building in New York.

The new projecting room is equipped with the several styles of horns and cone speakers used in the Cinephone equipment for different sizes of theatres and a series of switches will enable the operator to throw the sound from one horn to another in volume demonstrations.

Film Trust on Between

Germany and England

(Continued from page 1)

Emelka and its subsidiaries, the company in which the German Government has decided to reinvest public money—to acquire 80% of the capital of the Deutsches Lichtspiel Syndicate—80% of the Maxim Film Gesellschaft Ebner & Co.

It further plans to amalgamate with British Controlled Films, Ltd., and also with an established British producing firm as well as an established renting company.

It is their object also to acquire a talking picture device which will be made to sell for about $1,000 and also to produce approximately 30 films each year, ten of which are to be made in Berlin, 10 others in Munich and Berlin; 3 Super Films in Great Britain and another three on the continent.

Vestris Survivor in

Pathe Sound Extra

(Continued from page 1)

boat which was rapidly filling with water.

Prints of this Photophone special were delivered at the Mark Strand, Colony and Capitol in time for Friday's first show. Early Friday, prints were sent to the many Pathe Sound News customers throughout the country.

Montgomery—Banky lead

Robert Montgomery has been selected as leading man to Vilma Banky in her next picture.

Miss Banky is scheduled to arrive in New York about November 15, with Mr. Santell, George Barnes and Samuel Goldwyn's entire technical staff.

Frank Newman Back

Frank Newman, accompanied by Mrs. Newman, returned to New York last week from Europe and are stopping at the Park Central. They will both return to Hollywood soon and Mr. Newman intends building a string of theatres on the West Coast.

Moviola vs.

Orchestraophone

The Daily Review had occasion to call up an equipment and supply house concerning some information about Moviola, (a device used in the cutting and editing of talking pictures) and was told that they don't handle the Moviola but they do carry the Orchestraophone! a non-synchronous record cueing device used in theatres.) Sound pictures are still a puzzle to the trade!

HAL ROACH BACK TAXES UNDER FEDERAL FIR

WASHINGTON—The United States Board of Tax Appeals is shortly to reach some decision on the pending Hal Roach Studios appeal on back taxes.

Three cases are on the docket two for studio taxes and one for personal tax, and some $60,000 involved.

Roach maintains that the Government has computed his taxes due for 1919-1920 in an unfair method. He insists that his capital investment was $10,000 and his net income for 1919, $28,205, and for 1920 it was $239,075.

On this total, a tax of $59,727 for the two years was levied, but Roach only admitted $17,734 of it.

Red Cross Shows

Life-Saving Film

A film on life-saving and resuscitation methods was shown for the first time yesterday at the Red Cross Headquarters in the new Dobbs Building at Fifth Avenue, and 57th Street. This picture is to carry the message over the country that common sense applied to bathing can naturally reduce the number of deaths caused by drowning. The picture states that there are between six and seven thousand fatal accidents of this kind in the U. S. every year.

BEBE DANIELS WANTS P-F-L CONTRACT RELEASES

Bebe Daniels, Paramount star, has been dickering with studio officials to buy up her present contract which she has about nine months more to go. The price offered is said to be $150,000 but not accepted as yet.

Miss Daniels has a very attractive offer from another producer for her services and in as much as the type material given her at Paramount recently has not met with her approval and feeling the other offer would bring her good stories and better productions all around, she is making this effort to leave the organization that has housed her for the past five years.

O. P. Heggie Signs

O. P. Heggie, distinguished character actor of the legitimate stage who is now playing at the Paramount Long Island Studio in the talking film version of "The Letter," has signed a year's contract to appear in Paramount pictures. The announcement was made today by Jesse Lasky, first vice-president in charge of production of the Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation.

PATRONS ARE REQUESTED TO FAVOR THE COMPANY BY CRITICISM AND SUGGESTION CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

CLASS OF SERVICE
This is a full-rate Telegram or Cable-gram unless its designated character is indicated by a suitable sign above or preceding the address.

WESTERN UNION

NEWCOMB CARLTON, PRESIDENT
J. C. WILLEVER, FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT

12208

SIGNS
DL = Day Letter
NM = Night Message
NL = Night Letter
LCO = Deferred Cable
NLT = Cable Letter
WLT = Week-End Letter

The filing time as shown in the date line on full-rate telegrams and day letters, and the time of receipt at destination as shown on all messages, is STANDARD TIME.

Received at
AUA 10 71 NL-LADISON WIS 12

BUDD ROGERS-
CARE GOTHAM BRISTOLPHONE SERVICECORP 1650 BROADWAY
NEW YORK NY-
1928 NOV 13 AM 1 17

DID NOT WIRE YOU FRIDAY AFTER OPENING WITH BRISTOLPHONE AS I WANTED TO DETERMINE THE COMMENTS FROM OUR PATRONS AFTER SATURDAY AND SUNDAY PERFORMANCES STOP I AM PLEASED TO ADVISE
WE ENJOYED A MOST SUCCESSFUL OPENING PLAYING TO PHENOMENAL
BUSINESS AND THE CONSENSUS OF OPINION IS THAT THE TONE
QUALITY EXCELS ANYTHING THEY HAVE EVER HEARD I MOST HIGHLY RECOMMEND BRISTOLPHONE AND WISH YOU EVERY SUCCESS IN THE DISTRIBUTION OF SALE-

A P DESORMEAUX.

Thanks
Mr. Desormeaux

PICTURE REVIEWS

"The Armored Vault"

UFA
Directed by Lupu Pick
Featuring Ernst Reicher,
Heinrich George, Imogene
Robertson.

THIS IS NOT THE GREATEST DETECTIVE THRILLER FILMED YET IS UNLIKE ANY OTHER MYSTERY STORY AND HAS ENOUGH SUSPENSE AND NOVELTY BACKGROUND TO PLEASE MOST AUDIENCES — CAPABLY PRODUCED AND READY-MADE FOR EXPLOITATION.

A famous detective is mysteriously summoned by a gang of crooks and offered a fortune to disappear while the gang pulls off a big job—he refuses and is held captive, finally escaping. The head of the gang intimidates a wealthy manufacturer of bank-note paper into permitting the gang access to his armored vault of bank-note stock for the purpose of counterfeiting money. The detective begins to track down the gang, which he finally accomplishes. The wealthy man who is being ruined, has a dream in which the detective, himself, the gang and his wife are locked into the vault which is timed to blow up and destroy them all.

The suspense shown in this reel (the vault-dream sequence) is excellently done.

"Bondage"

UFA
Featuring Heinrich George,
Mona Maris, Harry Halm.

WHILE THE THEME IS NOT MOMENTOUS AND THE PICTURE UNWINDS SLOWLY THE WELL-DEVELOPED LOVE-STORY OF A RUSSIAN NOBLE FOR A SERF IS FINELY ACTED. CONTINUITY AND PHOTOGRAPHY ARE EXCELLENT.

The cruel slavery of Russian serfs, in the 1850 era is the theme of this picture. The absolute sway over life and death by the titled land-owners attempts to separate a pair of lovers of separate classes. The youth's mother, the countess, arranges a wealthy marriage for him and marries off his sweetheart to another serf. This serf, realizing the tragedy of the girl's broken dream keeps her inviolate for her lover. The Count later learns of his mother's deception and denounces the whole affair and alienates the Governor of the province, who plans to deport the serf and the girl wife to Siberia. A revolt is started and subdued by the Cossacks, with the noble serf, dying for the lovers' cause.

Heinrich George stands out powerfully for a sincere and moving performance, as does the heroine Mona Maris, a type especially suited for American pictures. The lady playing the Countess deserves a word of praise also.

"His Private Life"

Paramount
Directed by Frank Tuttle
Featuring Adolphe Menjou,
Kathryn Carver, Margaret Livingston.

MENJOU FAN FILM. LIGHT AND ENTERTAINING. GOOD COMEDY PICTURE FOR THE GROWN-UPS. LITTLE BETTER THAN THE AVERAGE AND SHOULD DO WELL ALMOST ANYWHERE.

Menjou is his usual suave, smiling self and spends his time in this picture in Paris, chasing a fair blonde and catching up with her in time for the final kiss close-up. The lady in question, (Kathryn Carver) believes him to be having an affair with her best friend and that he's a terrible roué anyway, but she decides in the end to marry him, just the same. There's a jealous husband that pops in and out of scenes regularly and a few good gags. In other words, regulation Menjou fare.

Frank Tuttle has done well with practically no story at all and George Marion, Jr.'s titles are excellent. Kathryn Carver has become a bit more animated and does good work in her part.

Photography and sets are both very good. The Paris atmosphere has gone completely Hollywood but at any rate Menjou will lose none of his public.

"The Goodbye Kiss"

First National
Produced by Mack Sennett
Featuring Sally Eilers,
Matty Kemp Johnny Burke

LIVELY WAR COMEDY DRAMA WITH CAPITAL FUN. STORY TAKES GREAT LIBERTIES WITH ARMY DISCIPLINE BUT BROAD HUMOR OF JOHNNY BURKE AND TITLES GET IT OVER. STIRRING CLIMAX SAVES THE PICTURE.

This tale of a small-town boy and girl who go to France when America enters the war deals with the shattered nerves of the boy and the girl's scorn for his apparent cowardice, while under fire. The girl and the boy's pal, an awkward goof with a warm heart, do what they can to save his honor and help him win back his courage. This he finally does, and through an accident, learns of the plans of a traitor in the regiment who has helped the Germans mine the U. S. trenches to blow them up. The boy worms his way into the enemy lines and prevents the American troops from being blown up, winning back his honor and his girl, through his heroism.

Burke of vaudeville fame, does much to put this picture over with his innocent boobery and inclination to put his worst foot forward in every mess. Fans will like this one, as the antiquity of the story of the World War is given a humorous treatment, and they'll go out laughing.

"On Trial"

Directed by Archie Mayo
Story by Robert Lord
Featuring Pauline Frederick,
Lois Wilson, Bert Lytell, Richard Tucker, Edmund Breese and Vondell Derr.

THE BEST ALL-TALKING PICTURE MADE TO DATE BY WARNERS OR ANY OTHER COMPANY. DIRECTION IS A BIT WEAK AT TIMES BUT ON WHOLE IS SATISFACTORY. ACTING OF ENTIRE CAST EXCELLENT. A CINCH AT THE BOX OFFICE.

Warners made a good selection in taking the Elmer Rive play "On Trial" for a talking picture. It is the best that has been shown to date and is only marred by poor direction at times and the total failure of Pauline Fredericks voice in the recording. This might be the fault of Vitaphone mechanism but she could hardly be heard in one of the most important roles. The acting and talking of Richard Tucker, Edmund Breese, Jason Robards, Lois Wilson, little Vondell Derr and Bert Lytell is all that could be asked.

This one will please most of the talking picture skeptic's. It is sure box office. Grab it.

"Ten Days That Shook the World"

Sovkino
Directed by E. M. Eisenstein

A KALEIDOSCOPIC ATTEMPT AT A FILM RECORD OF THE TEN MOMENTOUS DAYS IN RUSSIA, PRECEDING THE DOWNFALL OF KERENSKY AND THE RISE OF THE SOVIETS. EISENSTEIN INJECTS VITALITY INTO EVERY SCENE, CAUSING THE FILM TO STAND UP AS OUT OF THE ORDINARY.

This production will appeal only to deep students of the screen, as it rushes pell-mell all over itself, in disconnected short scenes and sequences. Everything that could possibly have happened in those ten days, to show up the weak-kneed provisional Government and the inspiration spark being infused into the rebels by their leaders, is crowded into the record and unless the mind can follow the rapidity with which the events happen, one's interest and attention is apt to wane before it is half through.

Eisenstein's camera angles, pantomime, groupings and composition are highly praiseworthy and the real spirit of the Russian people gleams subtly throughout the whole pattern. Only a few exhibitors will choose this film for their patrons.

"Show People"

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer
Directed by King Vidor
Story by Agnes Christine Johnson and Laurence Stallings
Featuring Marion Davies,
William Haines, Del Henderson,
Harry Gribbon, Polly Moran.

A VERY AMUSING SCREEN STORY, EXPERTLY DIRECTED WITH A VERY GOOD CAST SURROUNDING MARION DAVIES AND WILLIAM HAINES. MISS DAVIES IS EXCELLENT IN HER CHARACTERIZATION OF PEGGY PEPPER.

This production will have great audience appeal. It has every thing a picture of this type should have. The story is written around Peggy Pepper arriving in Hollywood from Georgia and her rise to the ranks of picture stardom. Before hitting the top she is taken over the hurdles via a comedy company. There are many amusing angles helped materially by a good set of titles by Ralph Spence. Dell Henderson and Harry Gribbon should share acting honors with Davies and Haines.

Put this one on your date book. Has synchronization with good score and sound effects.

"The Woman Disputed"

Directed by Henry King
Story by C. Gardner Sullivan
Featuring Norma Talmadge,
Gilbert Roland, Arnold Kent.

ONE OF THE BEST NORMA TALMADGE PICTURES. SUPERB DIRECTION OF HENRY KING, BEAUTIFUL PHOTOGRAPHY BY OLIVER MARSH AND EXCELLENT ACTING OF ROLAND AND KENT CONTRIBUTE TO EXCELLENCE OF THIS PRODUCTION.

The story taken from the Broadway play by the same name furnishes Miss Talmadge with excellent emotional opportunities, being the story of a street girl, regenerated by the love of two men whose friendship she unwillfully destroys. The picture is exceptionally interesting, even considering that at times it is a bit draggy due to too many close-ups of the star and her actions.

The acting of the entire cast is of exceptional variety and the direction of Henry King is, at all times good. Some of the most beautiful photography yet seen in pictures is shown in the work of Oliver Marsh.

THRILLING SOUND VERSION

Playing to packed houses at Marbro and Granada
theatres, Chicago

Rod La Rocque in "Captain Swagger" is more than fulfilling advance predictions.
This initial Pathe sound production is proving a veritable sensation in Chicago pre-release—playing to packed houses at every performance at the Marbro
and Granada Theatres.

"SENSATIONAL SUCCESS"

Telegraphic report says:
"CAPTAIN SWAGGER WITH
RCA PHOTOPHONE SOUND
VERSION SENSATIONAL suc-CESS THIS WEEK MARBRO
AND GRANADA THEATRES
STOP AUDIENCES UNANI-MOUS IN THEIR PRAISE OF PICTURE AND SYNCHRONIZ-ATION STOP PLAYING TO PACKED HOUSES AT EACH PERFORMANCE."

Here is a partial list of exhibitors who have already booked this great SOUND picture for a CLEANUP!

Illion, N. Y.	Capitol
Oneida, N. Y.	Madison
Rome, N. Y.	Capitol
Selma, Ala.	Academy
Tuscaloosa, Ala.	Bama
Buffalo, N. Y.	Colonial
Buffalo, N. Y.	Shea's Opera House
Rochester, N. Y.	Eastman
Chicago, Ill.	Granada
Chicago, Ill.	Marboro
Danville, Ill.	Terrace
Ashabula, Ohio	Palace
Dallas, Tex.	Capitol
Detroit, Mich.	Michigan
Flint, Mich.	Regent
Logansport, Ind.	Colonial
Kansas City, Mo.	Main St. Orpheum
Wichita, Mo.	Uptown
Los Angeles, Cal.	Cameo
Los Angeles, Cal.	Pantages
Manitowoc, Wis.	Capitol
Sheboygan, Wis.	Sheboygan
Faribault, Minn.	Grand
Bridgeport, Conn.	Cameo
New Haven, Conn.	Rogers Sherman
New Haven, Conn.	Garde
Middle Village, L. I.	Arion
Bradford, Pa.	Bradford
Greensburg, Pa.	Manos
Johnstown, Pa.	Cambria
Wheeling, W. Va.	Court
Baker, Ore.	Clarick-Orpheum or Empire
La Grande, Ore.	Arcade
Medford, Ore.	Craterian
Fresno, Cal.	Pantages
Spokane, Wash.	Clemmer
Tacoma, Wash.	Pantages
Baltimore, Md.	Palace
Baltimore, Md.	Rivoli

SOUND OR SILENT

ROD LAROCQUE IN
"Captain Swagger"

with
SUE CAROL

A Hector Turnbull Production
Adapted by Adelaide Heilbron
from an original story by Leonard Praskins
Directed by Edward H. Griffith

Pathe  Picture

Member of Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc.—Will H. Hays, President

LAEMMLE'S JUDGMENT PROVES CRITICS WRONG ON "UNCLE TOM"

Production Department Opposed Universal's Biggest Drawing Card

Carl Laemmle was right. "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is proving to be one of the big drawing pictures in film history. They are coming down out of the hills to see it and from every section of the country, exhibitors report unusual business with this deluxe rendition of the famous old book and play.

Although still in its first runs in many sections, with big houses reporting exceptional business, "Uncle Tom" already is playing in many small towns. And here is the kick! The picture is proving to be an absolute bonanza for small exhibitors, according to their own reports. Harriett Beecher Stowe's popular characters have the same great appeal throughout the country-side as they always have had.

"Biggest business I have ever enjoyed" comes the message from the Star Theatre, Beaver City, Utah; to THE DAILY REVIEW.

"It's a natural! Biggest business of anything we've played," is the word from the Braumart Theatre, Iron Mountain, Mich.

"Largest gross of any two day picture" comes the astounding news from the Ruffin Amusement Company, of Covington, Tennessee. This popularity of the picture down in Dixie is not an isolated case. It is being played by more and more theatres in all parts of the South. Memphis, Tenn., Lynchburg, Va., and Winston-Salem, N. C. are three points which have just made box-office history with the picture. Winston-Salem liked the picture so much, the Auditorium Theatre there re-booked it for a return engagement.

The Stanton Theatre, Philadelphia, and The Paramount, Akron, O., have just reported exceptional business on "Uncle Tom." Frank C. Reinicke of the latter house wrote to THE DAILY REVIEW saying, "It is the biggest and best box-office sensation that has ever been released. It broke all house records in my theatre."

Carl Laemmle ordered the production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in the face of strong advice to the contrary. In fact, he staked two million dollars on it. Today he is seeing his far-sighted judgment vindicated in a way that has opened the eyes of the industry. "Uncle Tom" is going "down the river" but at full steam with all whistles and bells at full blast.

Goulding Signed by Pathe for Sound

Edmund Goulding, writer and director who has recently been specializing in talking pictures, has been signed by Pathe as an important member of the sound division, recording by the Photophone method under the supervision of Benjamin Glazer at the Culver City studios.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Cast of Pathe's "Square Shoulders," featuring Junior Coughlan, includes, Anita Louise, Phillippe De Lacey and Louis Wolheim.

Billie Dove is on a vacation before starting work on Elinor Glyn's "The Man and the Moment" for First National.

St. Elmo Boyce will direct "Big Hearted Toots" for FBO.

Chesterfield Productions has bought "Circumstantial Evidence" an original by Wilfred Noy. Noy will direct.

James Ford has a role in First National's "Children of the Ritz."

Dorothy Devore has finished work on "Misplaced Husbands" for Educational.

Jacques Feyder, French director, sails for this country Nov. 28th to work for M-G-M.

Al St. John's newest comedy for Educational is titled, "Hot or Cold."

Gus Edwards has completed his third of his one-reel talking Technicolor features, "Gus Edwards Color-tone Revue."

Lila Lee is being starred in "The Black Pearl" which was written by Mrs. Wilson Woodrow.

Paul Sloan is getting ready to start on an all-talkie about Nov. 20. It is as yet untitled.

Leo Maloney is playing the villain in Pathe's new serial, "The Fire Detective."

W. E. Prepares Cheaper Device to Meet Demands

(Continued from page 1)

VIEW of yesterday, letters and conferences have been read and talked about, but nothing definite accomplished other than the producers being encouraged to the point that they believe everything will be all right sooner or later. They have made several demands on W.E. and insisted on an immediate answer and it is thought that this will be accomplished with the meeting held yesterday and still in force late last evening.

W.E. and Cheaper Equipment

There is a lot of talk going around the street that Western Electric have a machine they will be able to manufacture and sell for at least two thirds less than the one they are now putting in the theatres and it will be ready within a few weeks and installations can be had within two to four weeks from the date of taking the contract.

It seems a cinch that if Western Electric does open the doors for their competitors, they will come out with a machine that will meet this competition not only as far as price is concerned but be in a position to deliver the equipment as quickly as the other manufacturers.

Things We Don't Believe

A wire from First National's Burbank studios gives the thrilling information that Alice White kissed twenty-two prospective leading men who are competing in tests for the leading masculine role in the star's picture, "Hot Stuff."

Director Mervyn LeRoy conducted the tests and now there is considerable suspense as to which young leading man will be chosen, for apparently the "votes" are all in—and possibly the applicants!

CINEPHONE DIALOGUE PLAY NEARS FINISH

Scenes taken from the second act of the Broadway stage play being produced as a dialogue picture by Powers Cinephone will be rehearsed on Monday and Tuesday of next week under Harry Revier's direction and it is expected that they will be recorded and assembled with the first act scenes, within the next few days.

In directing this first Powers Cinephone production Revier has devised a directorial plan which he calls the "numbered beat" system, designed to save time in rehearsals and also assure harmonious modulations of sound.

"Letter" Completed

"The Letter" Somerset Maugham's play which has been in work at the Paramount Astoria Studio for the past six weeks, has been completed as far as shooting goes.

The picture which stars Jeanne Eagels, will now go to the cutting room for editing.

Littlefield in Town

Lucien and Mrs. Littlefield, of the Hollywood movie colony are in New York on a brief visit. Littlefield, one of the best-known character actors in pictures, has been steadily working in prominent pictures for the past four years.

Wilson in Shorts

Lois Wilson, featured player in some of the biggest pictures ever released, has been signed by the Christie Film Company to appear opposite Edward Everett Horton in a series of two reel sound comedies which will be pre-released by Paramount this year in all houses wired for sound.

Baron on Road

Paul Baron, who entered the motion picture industry several years ago via the Publicity Department of the Universal Pictures Corporation, is to go on the road for the Laemmle organization as play date representative. His first trip will be through the middle west. Baron, since leaving the Universal Publicity Department, has been a film salesman in that section for Universal and for P.D.C.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

GOOD BUSINESS

Fe find it good business to print opinions about Sam Rothafel. Last week we ran a couple and the office was besieged all day with requests for copies—and this at five cents the head. And besides, Rothafel is easy copy. He does a lot of things that cause opinions, both pro and con. With us it has always been "pro" and we do not even know him personally, but a person that can put together such stage shows as he does week after week at Mr. Fox's Roxy, deserves more than we can give him.

LATEST ONE

The Roxy was not on our visiting list this past week as we had seen "The Red Dance" at the Globe. But hearing everyone speak of the stage attraction, we went up yesterday. And durned happy we did. It was one of the most exquisite prologues, presentations or whatever you want to call it, we have ever seen. The music, the lighting, the gorgeous colors and the singing were entertainment such as you would get in no other theatre in the WORLD. And the wonder of it all is, as we see it, that Rothafel and his corps of assistants only have a few days to get a show like this together. With this in mind, take any big Broadway stage hit now current; select three of the best numbers from the show and then look at any Roxy show and make a comparison. There "ain't none". And these legitimate producers have weeks and months to prepare, Rothafel a few days. That's why we think he is "the" producing genius we spoke of last week.

CONVINCED

We are convinced that anyone passing up a show at the Roxy will miss something. Regardless of what the picture attraction might be, it might have been shown before, we are going in to see the stage show if nothing else. You had better do the same thing.

Baclanova for Talkie

Olga Baclanova has been given the lead by Paramount in "The Woman Who Needed Killing." This is to be an all-talking production and John Farrow is writing the dialogue. Miss Baclanova will of course speak her part, accent and all.

"What 3 Stars Do You DISLIKE the Most?"

LONDON—Sidney L. Bernstein, London exhibitor, in order to find out what the public in general and his patrons in particular, think about films, has circulated a questionnaire, quite different from the ordinary.

The questionnaire contained such queries as: "What 3 Film Stars Do You Dislike the Most?"—"What pictures do you dislike the most?" and "which are the most objectional films, American, English, German or French?"

Bernstein forgot to add: "What theatres or exhibitors do you dislike the most?"

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 116

New York, Monday, November 10, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Cheering

By ARTHUR JAMES

Herbert Hoover, the next president of the United States is a friend of the motion picture. He is against outside censorship of the motion pictures. He believes that the industry should censor its own pictures and in a public speech made before the industry in 1927 he said: "The industry must be its own censor. I have a growing confidence in it. The proof is that today the lowest levels of morals and inspiration in the films are higher than the current stage itself".

President elect Hoover is against outside censorship because he is a man of intelligence and judgment and the presence in the White House of an executive who has through contact and experience formed sound opinions regarding the motion picture industry is a source of the greatest satisfaction to every man, woman and child connected with the business.

This is especially important in view of Canon Chase's anti-picture medicine show which starts at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, November 26. Canon Chase, who sponsors the Hudson Bill, seeks to saddle the picture business with seven million dollars worth of annual taxation for the purpose of securing one million dollars for educational purposes. In addition to this he is using his most pestiferous endeavors toward the passage of the Brookhart Bill which puts the picture business under Federal control.

Canon Chase has an organization with a high sounding name and a small membership. He is a definite enemy of the picture business and of anything else the opposition of which will give him a chance to get into the limelight and appear publicly as a great reformer.

It is our opinion that this man's activities are pernicious, that they should be dealt with summarily, completely, promptly and finally to the end that he should be removed from the arena and sent back to a more quiet life in Brooklyn. The misguided people who have been supporting his misrepresentative organization are doing a damage to the finest and greatest influence in the entertainment field and they seek to hamper and harry an educational force, compared to which their ambitions are as fly specks on a sunrise.

The industry should be represented.
(Continued on page 2)

791 Wired Houses in Latest Survey-- Dual Equipment Is Ultimate Solution

"Sell Talkies to All Wired Houses" New P-F-L Sales Policy

AMELKA CONTROL TO STAY ALL GERMAN

By Sam Harris

Just before I left for New York, the resident London director of the Amelka Film Company called upon me and stated that nothing definite has been arranged with any company whatever.

Three or four various suggestions have been made from different parties to acquire an interest in Amelka which in no case would exceed
(Continued on page 2)

Rothstein at AMPA

The McCarthy Sisters—Margaret and Dorothy—of George White's "Scandals" and other musical comedy fame, who have just made their first appearance in the talkies, and Nat Rothstein, AMPA, who has just returned from Europe, will be the
(Continued on page 2)

Product Now Available to All — Company's Own Sound Resources Allow Free Rein

The chief result of the Paramount Famous-Lasky Corporation's sales convention held at the home-office last week, it is understood from outside sources, was the issuance of instructions to the entire sales force to begin renting Paramount Pictures to any theatre which is fully equipped.
(Continued on page 2)

Stanley Sound Studio Formed in New York

The Stanley Recording Company of America has been formed in New York to establish a sound studio for synchronizing pictures already produced. It has no connection with the Stanley Company of America.

Authentic Figures Show
743 Movietone-Vita-
Phone Dual Wiring
ONLY 12 INDES

After a thorough survey on the part of THE DAILY REVIEW from authentic records, it is now known that there are (as of last Nov. 14th.) 791 houses wired for sound throughout the United States. Of this 791, there are 743 wired with a dual installation of both Movietone-Vita-phone; 28 with Vitaphone alone, and 8 having a Movietone set exclusively. There are 12 equipments of machines of other makes, making a complete total of 791, with installations of all makes progressing at the rate of about 22 each week.

The Dual System

It becomes more and more evident that the exhibitor will have to equip his house with a machine that can run both discs and the sound on film, for there does not seem to be any tendency of Warner Brothers or any of the other companies record.
(Continued on page 4)

MAYER-C. B. DE MILLE GUESTS OF HOOVER

Louis B. Mayer and Cecil B. DeMille, both personal friends of President-Elect Herbert Hoover, were guests of Hoover Friday at luncheon, in his home at Palo Alto.

In regard to Hoover's coming trip to South America, the Associated Motion Picture Producers, represent-
(Continued on page 4)

"Cinephone" Precedent Set by Colony Show

A precedent in the question of "interchangeability", exactly the opposite of the Hagerstown case, is set this week at The Colony Theatre on Broadway, New York, where the Walter Disney animated sound cartoon, "Steamboat Willie" with sound recording by Powers Cinephone, is being presented and reproduced on a Western Electric device.

The Colony Theatre is equipped with Western Electric sound on film and disc reproducers. The Powers Cinephone recording is on the film and its reproduction at The Colony
(Continued on page 4)

The Unholy Three

Said a trade paper publisher to an advertiser in the film business: "There are too many trade papers and I suggest you play with just three of them, one daily and two weeklies.

"The idea is to let the others die off through non support and that will solve a great problem for the producer and distributor".

Hch Heh! And solve a problem also for Quigley, Alicoate and Johnston who are most favorable to this unholy idea. The Divine Right of Kings was a good gag while it lasted—good for the kings—but the divine right of trade paper status must be earned by service to the industry from which the bread and salt is derived.

When the Brookhart bill, subjecting the industry to Federal control, was up before the Congress joint committee, the Unholy three stood this way—

Film Daily—absolutely for the measure that would have crippled the picture business.

Motion Picture News—straddled the issue completely, seeking vainly to serve both sides.

Herald-World—ignoring the issue as though it were unimportant.

Should this course be rewarded by the support of the industry in order that they may kill off their competition? By what sleek effrontery is this accomplished? This newspaper serves notice on all concerned that this desperate and sneaking course shall not go unresisted and it is prepared to pull the lid off if the whispering campaign continues.

No foolin', neighbors, no foolin'.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempsstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digests, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

When Jack Cohen arrived from the coast and met Harry Cohen bound in from Europe it was the first time those busy brothers had been together in eight years in New York—that's what these movies do to you!—A. Pam Blumenthal, Pres. of Stanley Educational Division, is now a proud daddy—the youngster will probably be named Max Pam Blumenthal—Charlie O'Reilly has a brother who looks like Harry Scott of Pathe only perhaps more so—Arthur Kelly is the best dressed man in United Artists because of a certain swank that suggests a resemblance to Winston Churchill—Michael O'Toole, a successful Democrat in Republican Pennsylvania writes a better news story than 15 out of 16 publicity experts in the pictures. And Mike is properly proud of the fact that he never has stopped being a good newspaper man—Fred McConnell can win the industry hand ball championship if Dick Rowland will keep off the courts—Pat Garyn told a Swedish story the other day and managed to local color it with a Greta Garbo look in the eyes—Herman Robbins keeps his tan perpetual by taking his setting up exercises in the full glory of the morning sun—Ben Grimm of Universal entered pictures when Lockwood and Allison were co-starred and he still likes to think of it—Waterson Rothacker, the millionaire kid of the industry, was the protege of the admirable Marse Henry Watterson of international fame and he has done his sponsor proud—Jimmy Grainger eats sandwiches in his office rather than taking time out for luncheon and that's one of the reasons why Fox product is not lagging behind—Gabriel Hess will not deny that the way to get a statement into the consciousness of Pete Harrison is to have it translated into Greek—

"Sell Talkies to All Wired Houses" P-F-L Sales Policy

(Continued from page 1)

ped to show sound and talking product.

This action has been expected for some time and was somewhat foreshadowed by the recent decision of all the large producers, who hold Western Electric Movietone licenses, to demand more leeway in their contracts to the extent that an open market be created for the distribution of Movietone or Vitaphone product to all houses wired for sound, providing 100% interchangeability and satisfactory reproduction was available.

Other leading producers and distributors such as Warner Brothers, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, First National, United Artists, Universal and Columbia are rapidly expected to adopt the same sales policy set forth by Paramount sales heads. Such action adopted universally and immediately will be a god-send to both distributors and exhibitors, as it will mean an end to the paralyzing delay which has begun to end so disastrously for the small theatre owner particularly.

One of the first steps taken by Paramount, Warners, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Columbia and others, was the immediate testing-out of the better-known independent synchronizing, recording and reproducing apparatus, such as the Biophone, Sonora-Bristolphone, Phototone, Cinephone, etc., for purposes of placing their approval on whatever devices come up to major specifications, as far as the exhibition of their respective pictures are concerned, and to assure all installers of independent apparatus that product will be available.

Amelka Control to Stay All German

(Continued from page 1)

twenty five per cent of the whole company. Any contract that had been entered into was only a contract subject to certain consents being obtained, notably the German banking interests.

He was of the opinion, however, that none of the contracts would go through, as it was desired if possible to keep the whole of the interest in German hands.

Classified Advertisement

Advertisements in this section, 5 cents per word. Cash must be sent with order. No charge for Box Number line. Minimum order, $1. 10% discount 12 issues or more.

FOR SALE

MOTION PICTURE AND "STILL" cameras rented, sold and exchanged. Portable lights for sale and for rent. Keep us advised of your wants. Ruby Camera Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

LOCAL FILMS

MOTION PICTURES MADE TO order. Commercial, Home or Industrial. We have excellent facilities and the best cameramen. Our price, 20c per foot. Ruby Film Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

WHETHER YOU WANT TO HIRE some one or be hired; buy or sell a theatre; trade or sell equipment, or do almost anything else in the motion picture business, an ad in this department will get you results. If you want us to word the ad for you, the services of our advertising experts are at your call. Simply tell us what you want to do, and how many words you want used. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

CHEERING

(Continued from page 1)

ed in the Mayflower conference by a strong man able to tell the truth in the open. If participation by representatives of exhibitors and producers is denied, so much the worst for Canon Chase and his ballyhoo.

ROTHSTEIN AT AMPA

(Continued from page 1)

guests at next Thursday's meeting of the Associated Motion Picture Advertisers at the Hotel Paramount.

The girls have promised to give their impressions of the talkies in words and music, after appearing in a prologue for Pathe's "Annapolis".

Gish En Route to U. S.

—Reinhardt Coming

Lillian Gish, who will star in Max Reinhardt's first motion picture for United Artists sailed for America on the S. S. Ile de France, leaving Havre yesterday.

Miss Gish has been dividing the summer between Berlin and Salzburg, working on the scenario of her next film with Professor Reinhardt and Hugo von Hofmannsthal.

Brent To Leave F-P-L?

The big question now is, just what will Evelyn Brent do when the option held on her services by Famous-Players-Lasky expires this month. She has achieved great popularity in the past year and tho she has not said that she will leave Paramount, there are several companies dickering for her services and naturally, the lady will go, or stay, where the advantages are greatest.

"U" TO SYNCHRONIZE 'OSWALD' RABBIT COMICS

Oswald, the Lucky Rabbit of the Universal cartoon comedies, is to be synchronized or whatever they do to rabbits to make them talk and make funny noises. The cartoon comedies henceforth will appear with full Movietone sound and music effects.

The first Oswald with sound will be called "Oswald's Ragtime Band." It will be made as both a silent and a sound picture, since thousands of theatres are running the Oswald cartoons which do not have sound picture apparatus and who probably will not get it during the next year or longer.

"Oswalds" are made for Universal by the Winkler productions, Inc., headed by Charles Mintz.

Loretta Young Cast

A wire from First National's Burbank studios states that Loretta Young has been added to the cast of the mystery thriller, "Seven Footprints to Satan", which is being produced under the direction of Benjamin Christensen with Thelma Todd and Creighton Hale playing the leading roles.

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.

for Libray Stock Scenes
130 W. 46th St. New York
Bryant 8181

LAST CALL!

FOR RESERVATIONS

to the

ANGLO-AMERICAN BANQUET

HOTEL BILTMORE
TUESDAY NOV. 20

25 West 43rd Street

EDWARD L. KLEIN

Chairman Dinner Committee

25 West 43th Street

Phone Bryant 3191

GOSSIP OF BERLIN

By XAVIER STRASSMAN

(Special Correspondence of Exhibitors Daily Review)
BERLIN—Mid-November.

Ordinarily, the German nose for news is about as keen as Schopenhauer's, who, it will be remembered, invented a new philosophical system and held out on the public until it was all printed in a thick book. That was all right; but in the case of the activities of Mr. Joseph Schenck, U. S. A., the smelling and listening faculties of all and sundry engaged in picture production are alert day and night. In case it occurs to Mr. Schenck to finance any more picture specials here or in Russia, will he kindly write immediately—or cable?

The head of United Artists got away from Berlin and arrived in New York to be expertly interviewed by newspapers and film journals ten days before film circles here received the first vague details about that concern's money being available for the payment of German and Russian organization production bills, with distribution all set in America. It is understood here that Tolstoy's "War and Peace" will have the benefit of such cooperation, while, for Russia, land of Soviets and symbolism, Gogol's "Taras Bulba", and other literary masterpieces, will have a similar advantage. I am able to report that quite a number of capable German producing concerns are willing to consider cooperative propositions from Mr. Schenck.

Hush. Step softly. Luigi Pirandello is here from his native Italy holding mysterious conferences with German producers of imperishable literature. Pirandello, being the author of "Six Persons in Search of an Author", is considered worth a conference or two, especially as the subject is a deep secret, understood to deal with the "unconscious". Following the first conference, a certain producer is said to have dropped unconscious, and was revived with considerable difficulty.

RUBIN REPLACING BEN BERNIE AT "U" COLONY

Benny Rubin, popular west coast master of ceremonies and wisecracker, who has been engaged by Carl Laemmle as an impresario for Universal sound pictures, arrived in New York yesterday.

He has come East to arrange for the installation of a Benny Rubin orchestra in the Colony Theatre, Universal's Broadway show-window, at the termination of Ben Bernie's contract November 26th.

"Veiled Lady" Cast

"The Veiled Lady," which Emmet Flynn is directing, will have Bela Lugosi in the role of heavy. Mr. Lugosi is a Hungarian and a newcomer to the screen. Others in the cast include Lia Toro, a Brazilian girl, and Paul Vincenti another Hungarian. This will be a talkie production.

150 RESERVATIONS FOR INT. BANQUET

With reservations for approximately 150 persons now at hand, the success of the Anglo-American banquet at the Biltmore on the 20th under the auspices of the A.M.P.A. is assured.

Sam Harris, donor of the cup which is to be awarded to Dr. A. H. Giannini at the banquet, is in New York and will personally explain his ideas on Internationalism.

Among those for whom reservations have been made are Jack Ali-coate, Capt. Harold Auten, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barrell, H. A. Bandy, Colvin W. Brown, Jerome Beatty, W. C. Boothby, David Bernstein, Joe Brandt, David Blum, W. E. Callaway, Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Cohen, Jack Cohn, Ned Depinet, Felix Feist, John C. Flinn, E. S. Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gulick, Will H. Hays, Earl Hammons, George Harvey, Don Hancock, J. Hemerich, S. W. Hatch, John Humm, Lewis Innerarity, Monroe Isen, Theodore Jaedeker, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur James, E. Bruce Johnson, Ray Johnston, Arthur W. Kelley, Harry G. Kosch, Maurice Kann, H. F. Krecke, Arthur Loew, Arthur Lee, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Manheim, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Metzger, David Mountain, J. J. Murdock, Rutgers Neilson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Paine, R. W. Perkins, P. A. Parsons, F. C. Quimby, J. Robert Rubin, Wm. S. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reichenbach, J. J. Rein, Phil Reisman, Arthur Rousseau, A. W. Smith, Edward A. Schiller, C. W. Steele, Joseph Skirboll, Joseph Seidelman, Martain J. Starr, Morton A. Spring, Edward A. Saunders, Max Schlesinger, T. C. Streibert, P. S. Thomson, J. D. Williams, Gordon S. White, J. R. Wilson, Walter Wanger, William Vogel and C. L. Yearsley.

Tables seating ten have been reserved by First National, M-G-M, Pathe, Paramount and Universal. Many other companies are represented in the individual reservations. Vice Consul W. G. R. Howell of the British Consulate will be a guest.

Maynard Starts Today

Production starts today at First National's Burbank's studios on Ken Maynard's next western feature, "The California Mail". Paul Hurst, J. P. McGowan and Captain C. Anderson are the only members of the cast selected to date. Albert Rogell is directing the picture and Harry J. Brown is supervising.

Gourland Returns from European Trip

Michael J. Gourland, president of the Affiliated European Producers, Inc., arrives today aboard the Mauretania after a ten weeks visit to Europe in the interest of opposing further restrictions on American pictures.

Gourland met the heads of practically every large producing company in England, France and Germany and explained to them that further restrictions on American pictures in Europe might retaliate in the adoption of similar measures here against European films. He pointed out that America was now accepting foreign films without any bias.

They're lining up for the Big picture parade that will be a feast for the eyes of all the industry.

Eleventh Annual Announcement Number of

Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW

Out Tuesday, January 1, 1929
Stars, Directors, Executives, the players and the technical folk will be represented with pictures and greetings to the trade at large.

A specially designed cover by Lambert Guenther—beautiful typography and a world of interesting and vital text—

Reserve your space Now and be assured of the best possible position.

PATHECHROME NEW COLOR FILMS

Pathe Review Launches Special Process Made In French Labs.

Pathe, the first to bring commercially practical color to the motion picture screen, now announces a new process to be known as Pathechrome.

Forthcoming issues of Pathe Riview will present the first offerings of Pathechrome, supplanting the use of the long famous Pathecolor process. The new process is an outgrowth of the Pathecolor process technique, with methods which it is claimed give to the film a new sparkling brilliancy and a verity that has not been previously possible.

The Pathechrome process is applied to the films by the celebrated Pathe Cinema laboratories in Vincennes in France, by a corps of color experts schooled in its niceties by working through the progress of its evolution. Pathe has found it impossible thus far to reproduce this work in America, because of the high degree of special training required of the colorists and the vast array of equipment necessary to the operations involved.

A section of every issue of Pathe Review is sent to France for processing and return for American distribution. Meanwhile a large number of prints go into European and British empire distribution through Pathe connections.

TWO-NEGATIVE SYSTEM FOR COLUMBIA PRODUCT

Joe Brandt, president of Columbia picture announces that his organization will have a silent version to every all-talkie they make in order that exhibitors not yet equipped for sound will be in a position to run the full Columbia program of pictures for the coming season.

Mr. Brandt says: "In order to give the owners of both types of houses only the best, we have decided to make two versions of every picture we produce with sound. We will not take a silent picture, cut out half a dozen sequences and replace them with so much conversation. Instead, we will make one version in the technique suited for dialogue and the other in the best manner we know how as a silent picture.

"Cinephone" Precedent Set (Continued from page 1)

is on the same machine used for Movietone.

The Colony showing of the Disney cartoon also marks the first public presentation of the Powers Cinephone system. Film tests of the Powers Cinephone leading to the perfection of the machine have been going on during the past three years but they have all been shown privately.

The presentation of the Disney cartoon is also the premiere of a new series and a new comic character. It is also the first animated cartoon made especially for sound production, and as such it illustrates the perfection of synchronization that is possible when pictures are constructed especially for sound accompaniment.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Karl Dane has joined the cast of "The Duke Steps Out."

Ethlyn Clair has been given a part in "From Headquarters" by Warner Bros.

A troupe of fifty Chinese and more than a score of technicians were used on a desert location for "The Leatherneck."

Charles Logue, scenarist, has joined forces with Universal.

Ben Bard has been added to the cast of "The Comedy of Life" by First National.

Louis Mercier, grand opera baritone, is acting as technical director for the opera sequences of "The Comedy of Life."

Nick Grinde has been assigned to direct "Desert Law," for M-G-M.

Edward Martindel has a featured part in First National's "Good Bad Girl."

Joseph Schildkraut has just signed a long-term contract with Universal.

791 Wired Houses

In Latest Survey

(Continued from page 1)

ing via disc, to discard this method for the film recording. And it seems equally certain that Fox, Paramount, Universal, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and others using the film method now, will not switch over to the discs, to any great extent. Consequently with the release of all talking pictures by these various companies an exhibitor will either have to have a dual equipment or none at all.

Present No Criterion

Exhibitors should not be fooled by the present crop of synchronized pictures, as most all the studios with the exception of Fox and Warners were not prepared for this rush on sound and in order to take advantage of it and grab as much money as possible they have had most all their silent pictures synchronized at the Victor plant and maybe, have added a little dialogue, using in most every instance, discs. But with the release of all new product, that is of the all-talking variety, they will have to be wired for both methods, or pick the companies that will comply with the wired method they already have.

W. E. Strangle Hold

For the above reasons it seems as if Western Electric has the strangle hold, regardless of their decision on interchangeability for they are the only manufacturers of the dual machine.

Gould Gets "Scrapped"

The Film Arts Guild has obtained the world rights to another low cost novelty film called "Scrapped: A Life Story in Tabloid," produced by a group of studio workers at an expenditure of $297. The staff consisted of an assistant cameraman, cameraman, a newspaper woman, a Hollywood troupier and a prop man.

LE BARON CONFERS WITH SARNOFF REGARDING FBO

William LeBaron, production head of FBO under the regime of Joseph P. Kennedy, is in New York having daily conferences with David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of the Radio-Keith-Orpheum, controlling FBO.

At the time the FBO sale was announced no one seemed to be certain of the status of LeBaron who has been in charge of all FBO production for the past two years, but it is now understood, after several conferences with Sarnoff, that he will not only continue his production control but will have added duties that will make of him the big man in that organization.

UNIVERSAL PURCHASES "THE LUXURY HUSBAND"

Universal has acquired the talking picture rights for Maysie Grieg's popular novel, "The Luxury Husband," according to an announcement from the Universal home office. The book is said to be unusually rich in scenes and situations adaptable for talking and sound picture material.

The production undoubtedly will be a special. Universal advises that it will be put into work at an early date.

Santell Starts Banky

Alfred Santell, who is directing Vilma Banky's new and yet untitled picture, now being filmed in New York, played the leading male role, — that of a taxi driver — opposite the Hungarian star. The first shots were filmed Thursday afternoon near Willis Avenue, the Bronx. Sequences in the Bronx will be completed next Wednesday.

Mayer-C. B. DeMille

Guests of Hoover

(Continued from page 1)

ed by Fred Beetsen, have offered to furnish the Navy Department with fifty complete motion picture programs, for the entertainment of the Hoover party, on the trip South, on the S.S. Maryland.

Pictures programs from all producing companies will be submitted for Hoover's selection.

"Bulldog" for Goldwyn

Paramount was already to announce the acquisition of the crook play "Bulldog Drummond" for the next Richard Dix picture to be made at Astoria. It was to have been an all-talkie. But someone neglected to state that Sam Goldwyn held an option on this material and last week Mr. Goldwyn exercised his option and announced that Ronald Colman will be starred under the direction of Richard Jones.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

BILL POWELL

Friday night, during the progress of the screening of "Interference" at the Criterion Theatre, a man in back of us said, "this fellow Powell is the greatest individual bet in pictures today." We were so enthused with the performance this great actor was giving in the production on view, we mumbled under our breath, "you said it, brother."

In doing a little raving about Powell, we have no intention of discrediting the excellent performances of Clive Brook and Evelyn Brent, but Bill Powell has always been a great favorite of ours, both on and off the screen and it is in consideration of a brilliant star finally being afforded the opportunity of demonstrating an ability that is incomparable in this industry, that this rave is being put on.

We say opportunity for the reason that it seemed for a time that Paramount was doing everything physically possible to keep Powell in the class of "contract player." They cast him in Westerns, assigned him to support Beery and Hatton, gave him a bit here and a small part there, but in every picture, the moment Bill Powell walked on the screen he dominated the situation being played. He weathered all the miscasting Paramount was guilty of and after working in "Interference," is now in the position of saying, "I am sitting pretty, Mr. Paramount, what are you going to do about it?" And Bill Powell can't be denied now, for, as the fellow in back of us said, "this fellow Powell is the greatest individual bet in pictures today." . . .

GIVING IN

We got a great kick out of "Interference" for the reason that we have always said to ourselves and others, "this talking racket is only temporary, it can't last." But we are now convinced we have been looking at a bunch of poorly directed quickies of bad stories with a lot of shouting put in for talk. In so far as this writer is concerned, the talking picture business had its beginning with the premier of a picture called "Interference" and shown for the first time at the Criterion Theatre, New York City on the night of Friday, November 16th. And, might add, it was a Paramount picture. And going still further, will suggest that this company has accomplished wonders with this one picture. "Interference" will convince all the skeptics and die hards, it has set a standard that every company will have to shoot at, including Paramount itself.

POMEROY

Who is this fellow Pomeroy? Where did he come from and what has he directed before? Certainly he is the same fellow that has been working for months out in Hollywood trying to perfect a "two negative print" method of recording and reproducing sound, consequently, we were surprised to view his directing of such sterling artists as Powell, Brent and Brook, in dialogue written by Ernest Pascal, with the best camera work yet seen in talkies by J. Roy Hunt. He deserves and will receive, great credit.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 117

New York, Tuesday, November 20, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Tonight

By ARTHUR JAMES

Tonight at the Hotel Biltmore the Anglo American dinner and the presentation of the Sam Harris amity cup to Dr. Giannini will constitute an international gesture of good will and friendship. It will be presided over by that excellent toastmaster Will H. Hays, representing the organized industry of motion pictures in America. The Army will be represented in the person of Gen. Bullard, the Navy in the flesh of Admiral Symington, the heart of the industry by Nathan Burkan and all other elements including British official life will be in evidence.

The occasion is to be more of pleasant sentiment than of heavy dignity. It is a good fellowship gathering that has had the enthusiastic effort of the Associated Motion Picture Advertisers in the arrangement of its details and the hearty approval and cooperation of all the industry so soon as the plans were fully made known.

To Mr. Edward L. Klein, for his properly militant spirit in the promotion of so happy and so pacific an idea, there must go the lion's share of the credit and it is for the full recognition of this credit that this is written. Now that the big party is in assured success it will rebound to the glory of all concerned.

We believe we are not overstating the case when we hail Mr. Sam Harris, Editor of the Cinema and the Daily Cinema, as England's most representative journalist in the field of motion pictures. He is alert and loyal to the picture causes of his own country and fully alive to the wisdom of cooperation between the English speaking peoples. He ably represents the broad ideas of the film group with vision and without the least compromise in the matter of a patriotic devotion to the British film industry, he has the eyes to see the present and future sanity of a closer understanding, sympathetic operation and co-operation between the British Empire and the United States for their mutual good.

As a publication we feel honored that Mr. Sam Harris is our correspondent and representative in London.

MORAL BOA CONSTRICTOR TO START COILING NEXT WEEK

HAYS TO SOUND INT'L AMITY KEYNOTE TONIGHT

The International Amity Cup to be awarded tonight to Dr. A. H. Giannini

SCHLESINGER SEEKS EMELKA CONTROL

By Dr. R. OTTO
Berlin Correspondent
(Special Cable to Exhibitors Daily Review)

BERLIN — Despite the Government's intention to keep control of the Emelka concern, current reports have it that Major Rassam of Bri-

2% "U" Dividend

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Board of Directors of Universal Pictures Company, Inc., at a meeting held November 13th, a quarterly dividend of two percent (2%) per share will be paid on the outstanding First Preferred stock of the Company; said dividend to be due and payable on the 2nd day of January, 1929, to First Preferred stockholders of record as shown by the books of the Company at the close of business December 19th, 1928.

The Anglo American dinner which will be held tonight at the Hotel Biltmore and which will be presided over by Will H. Hays, promises at the eleventh hour to be one of the greatest functions in the history of the motion picture business. More than two hundred acceptances and reservations have been received and late hour reservations are being asked for.

Among those who definitely will be present are J. Robert Rubin, vice president of M-G-M, Felix Feist, Arthur M. Loew, Fred Quimby, Al Lichtman, Arthur Kelly, Lou Metzger, Ned Depinet, Joe Brandt, Jack Cohn, Jesse Lasky, Walter Wanger, J. D. Wil-

Sam Harris
Cup Donor

(Continued on page 2)

OHIO KEYNOTE TODAY 'REORGANIZE CENSOR BD.'

COLUMBUS, O.—The reorganization of motion picture censorship is the keynote to be sounded at the 8th Annual Convention of Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Ohio this

(Continued on page 4)

Criterion Gets "Letter"

The next attraction at the Paramount-Criterion will be "The Letter" recently completed at the Astoria studio of Paramount. It is said, regardless of the business, "Interference" will have a short stay in this house as it is the desire of Paramount executives to get this talking picture out on general release as quickly as possible.

Every one who has had an opportunity of seeing any of the finished work on "The Letter" are of the opinion it will make film history, even more than the production of "Interference" which showed great talking progress.

Canon Chase Seeking to Embrace the Industry Will Hold Pow Wow

ENTERTAINS LADIES

Canon William Sheafe Chase, the moral boa constrictor, who seeks to wrap himself about the motion picture business and strangle it into virtue and profit, is creating a mild excitement in Washington among the membership of the D.A.R., the Y.W.C.A., the League of American Penwomen and the Parent-Teacher Association, by his pow wow which is to take place at the Mayflower Hotel in the capitol city the first three days of next week. Canon Chase, who helped to put the tax bill over on the picture business in the state of Connecticut and then sent to the state of Connecticut a bill for his services, has an organization with a long name, which seeks, according to him, to "in a friendly way proceed against monopoly in the picture business".

The Canon—it is spelled with a single rather than a double n—is rooting for the Brookhart bill on the one hand and sponsored the Hudson bill for Federal censorship on the other.

In literature put out in behalf of the Canon Chase propaganda reference is made to "broken promises

(Continued on page 2)

Stiller Dead

STOCKHOLM—Nov. 8 — Mauritz Stiller, well-known Swedish producer who recently left Hollywood, after completing several pictures for Paramount, the most noted one being "Hotel Imperial" with Pola Negri, passed away here, after a short illness.

Stiller was connected with the Swedish Biograph in the early days and produced the famous Swedish picture "Gosta Berling."

Fox Earnings Up

The Fox Film Corporation yesterday reported earnings of $1,500,000 for the 3rd quarter of 1928 as compared with $1,005,000 for the same period last year.

This is an increase of $445,000 or about 33 1/4% after depreciation but before Federal taxes.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

C. C. Pettijohn is exhibitor conventioning in Columbus today and so is Microphone Simmons—Alfred Santell, who was borrowed by S. Goldwyn from First National, to direct em Banky film will do it Manhattan, Al stopping at ye Hotel Warwick the while—Past presidents of the A.M.P.A. give a luncheon tomorrow at the Motion Picture Club in honor of present president George Harvey—G. William Wolf, who presidents for the Motion Picture Salesmen is hustling for their grand ball on the night of November 28—Phil Goldstone of Biophone is the same Phil Goldstone who made such good pictures on the Coast—Canon Chase wants Federal censorship so that there won't be such a temptation to graft in state censorship, ooh wot a leff!—E. Bruce Johnson is a patron of Kennedy's (food not film) these lunch hours—James R. Grainger is housed with a heavy cold, the fashionable malady of the day—E. W. Hammons returned from California looking as though he had been shooting moose in Maine (which he also does very well)—W. E. Cullaway, First National's southern manager, is back from six weeks of success in the Dixieland (song writer stuff for the South) — Lieut. Richard Grace, the stunt aviator of "Lilac Time" is in town from Los Angeles for a fortnight and is writing a tome on his crash and crack up experiences in the movies and in the World War—Eddie Maunix leaves today for the Coast.

GOLDSTONE TO HANDLE BIOPHONE IN MID-WEST

Biophone's special representative, Mr. Henry Goldstone, is leaving for the Midwest territory fully equipped with a number of instruments which he will install in Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, and other key points.

Mr. Henry Goldstone, who has been for the last few weeks in New York, has studied the complete system of the Biophone machines to such an extent that he is now in a position to not only discuss intelligently with exhibitors the equipment and installation, but he is so well posted as to supervise the complete installations.

Moral Boa Constrictor to Start Coiling Next Week

(Continued from page 1)

of the motion picture industry". This newspaper recalls the time when Canon Chase agreed with leaders in the motion picture industry to withhold his activities in behalf of the New York State censorship bill until further conferences could be held and still in the face of this promise proceeded immediately upon leaving the conference room to have the bill introduced at Albany. This bill was subsequently adopted through the influence of Governor Miller who promptly appointed political censors who were nothing else. The motion picture industry has still been paying the freight on this iniquity, to nobody's advantage. This faith breaker, Canon Chase has issued a bill of particulars containing 18 elaborate points in which he says that Federal censorship would end the necessity of censorship in the states, which of course it would, but even though it ended the necessity for it, it would not end censorship because this newspaper in a questionnaire to the governors of every state in the Union received word from 26 governors that their states would not be affected in the least by a Federal program and that they would maintain a such censorship as they had might have, despite the Federal censorship. Another interesting item in the Canon's dream sheet is found in paragraph 6 which says informatively "to lessen the danger of the graft possible in local and state censorship boards and to secure better moral supervision of the films than through such boards". The graft charges are the Canon's and not the industry's.

Herbert Hoover, the next president of the United States, has said that the lowest moral standards of the film are higher than the present day standards of the spoken drama and that the pictures should do their own censoring because they have demonstrated that they can do so and that they are thoroughly and fully responsible.

The Moral Boa Constrictor will hold forth heavily and will amuse and entertain the ladies, especially those who have no time to spend with their families and children, for the sessions at Washington next week.

Stanley Taylor Cast

Director Michael Curtiz has cast Stanley Taylor for a speaking role in Dolores Costello's next Vitaphone picture, "Alimony Annie" now in production at the Warner Studio.

"The Barker" to Open Dec. 1 in Los Angeles

First National's big special production, "The Barker," will have its premiere western showing with dialogue and sound effects at Fred Miller's Carthay Circle, Los Angeles, about December 1st, according to an announcement just made by Ned E. Depinet, general sales manager of First National.

Hays to Sound Int'l Amity Keynote Tonight

(Continued from page 1)

liams, Earl W. Hammons, Colvin Brown, John C. Flinn, William Vogel, J. J. Murdock, Louis Inerarity, Stewart Webb, Charles R. Rogers, Winfield Scott Palmer and a host of others.

The governor of the state of New York will be represented by his son, Alfred E. Smith, Jr., and there will be present representatives of the Bank of Italy group and the Bank of America, together with officialdom from Great Britain and the Army and Navy.

At the guest table presided over by General Hays, will be Dr. A. H. Giannini, recipient of the cup, Mr. Sam Harris of London, Mr. Ralph Blumenfeld of London, Major Robert E. Bullard, John E. Otterson, Nathan Burkan, Commander T. E. Symington and the British Vice Consul, W. G. R. Howell.

It is entirely probable that much interesting news will develop in the course of the dinner, as the speakers' table contains no wax works and the entire industry will be fully represented in this international amity gathering.

We would like to impress upon your minds that you have a date for Saturday Night, November 24, 1928. A holiday for the members of the MOTION PICTURE SALESMEN, their Wives, Sisters, Sweethearts, Mothers, Fathers, Brothers and Friends.

8th ANNUAL DINNER & DANCE

ON SATURDAY NIGHT, NOVEMBER 24, 1928

AT HOTEL COMMODORE

42nd Street and Lexington Avenue

DINNER — DANCING

ENTERTAINMENT — SOUVENIRS

HERE'S YOUR CHANCE TO MEET A FLOCK OF MOTION PICTURE STARS

TICKETS $7.50 PER PERSON

Make Reservations NOW—First Come—First Served
Sol Title, Chairman—Room 805—729 7th Ave., N. Y. C.

Telephone BRYant 0421

NEWSREEL HAVE 5 MEN WITH HOOVER

Five of Newsreels' finest photographers are aboard the U. S. S. Maryland, accompanying President-Elect Herbert Clark Hoover on the South American tour, which began yesterday when the party left San Pedro, Cal.

The five men who, through their previous efforts for their respective companies, have won the honor and distinction of this enviable assignment, are Arthur De Titta, Fox Newsreel; J. C. Brown, Hearst Newsreels Washington Staff; Robert Benton, Paramount Washington Staff; Merle La Voy, Pathe Staff man and Charles Sandwald, Kinograms New York Staff.

Mt. Etna Destruction Scenes on Broadway

Pathe News will show today pictures of the disastrous eruption of Mt. Etna in Sicily which Ray Hall describes as the most sensational which he has seen in his fifteen years experience. For the first time in news reel history is shown the total destruction of a city by a river of molten lava.

Giovanni Pucci, staff cameraman of the Pathe News operating out of Rome, is the daring individual who took the pictures. He states that all the time he was getting them he was working in a rain of ashes, amidst blistering heat.

The entire KEITH CIRCUIT {35 Big- Time Houses} books UNIVERSAL'S outstanding talk- ing acts!

THE headline above tells the whole story of SOUND PICTURE success in the wired houses. Other BIG BOOKINGS keep rolling in—Getting the money with these three novelty talking shorts is like pushing a snowball downhill—BOOK UNIVERSAL IF YOU WANT THE MONEY MAKERS!

*Bailey & Barnum

Syncopating blackface vaudeville headliner team with Bill Bailey singing his famous "Ups and Downs", "My Mammy" and "Cantaloupe". Barnum performs delightfully on cello and banjo. One reel, movietoned.

*Brox Sisters

Harmonizing Hawaiian trio extraordinary whose "Come out and Get Under the Moon" is an especially appealing number. One reel, movietoned.

Zimmerman & Grandville

A unique and charming Swiss yodeling act with Fritz Zimmerman as "The Master Yodler", Marcelle Grandville, "The Echo." Mountain background. Exclusive with Universal. One reel, movietoned.

* Booked by K-A-O.

In Short Subjects too, Carl Laemmle Leads the Way!

Lionel Barrymore to Direct Madame 'X'

Noted Actor Makes Good And Will Handle All- Talkie for M.G.M.

By J. HARRISON EDWARDS
West Coast Correspondent

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer have decided to make an all-talkie of "Madame X" the celebrated stage play, with Lionel Barrymore directing. Production is expected to start within three weeks at the Culver City studios.

Barrymore is said to have done such excellent work in his direction of a short reel talkie recently completed that it set the studio executives on heads with enthusiasm. They immediately began a look over all available material for a feature length talkie for his direction and came across "Madame X". We hear that Pauline Frederick will have the role of the mother and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., the son.

'U' BROADWAY CAST SIGNS 2 ORIGINALS

Universal has signed two well known actors from the original cast of the stage sensation "Broadway" to play for the screen the same roles they made famous on the stage. They are Thomas Jackson, who created the role of Dan the detective, and Paul Porcasi, who created the role of Nick the cabaret proprietor. Both will leave New York at an early date for Universal City, where plans for a super-production of the Jed Harris stage hit are nearing completion.

Glenn Tryon has been chosen to play the leading role of the "hooper" in "Broadway." Mary Nolan, beautiful blonde ingenue of Universal pictures is being considered for the hard-boiled cabaret entertainer, Pearl. Carl Laemmle, Jr., is supervising the preparatory work on the picture, which will be with full dialogue and sound effects.

Ohio Keynote Today

"Reorganize Censor Bd."

(Continued from page 1)

morning, when the exhibitors convene at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel.

Myers Y. Cooper, governor-elect of Ohio will be one of the four principal speakers at the banquet tonight, the other speakers being R. F. Woodhull, C. C. Pettijohn and the Rev. William M. Macleod of Pinehurst, N. C., a famous movie-booster.

State Senator Joseph N. Ackerman of Cleveland will address the convention, as well as the Hon. William H. Day, ex-Judge of the U. S. District Court.

Caldwell H. Brown, president of the Brown Theatrical Enterprises of Zanesville will speak on sound and talkie pictures in the small towns; Fred Desberg, manager of the Loew Cleveland Theatres will talk on the future of these pictures in city theatres.

Michael L. Simmons of the Sonora-Bristolphone Corp., will demonstrate his company's apparatus for small town theatre owners.

The annual election of officers on Wednesday will be the chief business of the day.

Ping Pong Rules by

Harry Reichenbach

(Courtesy Motion Picture Club Bulletin)

Ping Pong was created to while away dull hours by the head hunters of the Solomon Islands.

Each evening after an hour of Ping Pong, the members of the Solomon Island tribes would go out into a forest shaded glen and look for fairies.

Soon, oh not necessarily too soon, a number of fairies from the glen joined the tribe and became amongst the most wonderful Ping Pongists.

Ping Pong is known in the west as "Nance Tennis" or female polo.

The first stroke or "serve" should be made with the left hand resting on the left hip. After two serves, if server wins, he should walk around table and kiss opponent so that it will be apparent there is no hard feeling. That is, not too hard.

The players should act as masculine as possible. The audience deserves consideration.

If the rattle of the balls on the table becomes irritating, they can be softened by soaking in hot water. The balls, not the rattles.

Ping Pong should be played by two people, one at each end of the table. Care should be taken in this.

The expert is he who can hit the ball and run around to the other end of the table in time to knock it back in the opposite direction. In case of players donning athletic suits, red should be avoided. There is enough suspicion without that color.

After a strenuous game, nothing is more revivifying than a nice cool glass of lemonade. If this is too stimulating, White Rock will do.

Overhand passes are barred. Hobnail shoes cannot be worn.

Collars should button in front and trousers in back during the playing of tournaments.

The bicycles in the gymnasium are for the benefit of retired exhibitors. They will be reminded of old times. Of course this isn't necessary.

Ta ta.

1ST NATIONAL UNITS AT WARNER STUDIO

Recently it was announced by Jack Warner that their West Coast studio would close for a period of two months. This was caused by the fact that their production force were far ahead of their schedule on the product for release during 1928-29. Now it is learned that the Sunset Blvd. plant will not close after all, but the stages will not house Warner companies, but First National units.

First National has around thirty pictures of its 1928-29 program to finish. This has been caused by practically no work being done at the Burbank studio during the time the organization was being passed around, and now they have to put on full steam, using both the Burbank studio and the stages of Warner Brothers.

INDIA PROUCER'S HOLLYWOOD SURVEY

(Special to Exhibitors Daily Review)

HOLLYWOOD — A. Narayanan, India film producer, is in Hollywood looking over production and the salaries and general production costs of our picture colony have astounded him. Narayanan says that the most popular leading man in India only gets $100.00 a month and that the best woman gets a salary of $400.00 a week. He was surprised to learn that a local Zoo gets $150 a day for the services of an elephant. He said "In India we could get 150 elephants for that price. They only cost $1.50 a day".

Narayanan said that India was making more pictures today than England and that the great drawback in his company was theatres, there being only 400 theatres for a population of 350,000,000.

Schlesinger Seeks

Emelka Control

(Continued from page 1)

Fish Controlled Films has won the race against J. W. Schlesinger, the South African movie magnate and has secured for his company half of the Emelka shares; 80% of the German Exhibitors' Producing Syndicate Shares and 86% of the Maxim Films.

Last week, Schlesinger was cheered in London as the successful buyer of the great Emelka concern; today Berlin declares the deal off and in London, Major Rassam is the hero of the day.

Every European producer and distributor is racing for markets. Every faint chance is early followed up and any vague rumor exploited.

Such hectic feeling, however, does not prevail in the fatherland. Yesterday the Berlin Friedrichstrasse exploded the Schlesinger report; today it contradicts the Rassam report.

The appearance of the D.L.S. in the reports was unusual. This exhibitors' producing and renting association which had outstanding success as long as Herr Friedrich Zelnik was its producer, is evidently finding favor among British exhibitors and plans are afoot there to start something similar. Now the reported acquisition firm is locked on as an attack of British producers and distributors against British exhibitors.

There is a long way yet toward the formation of the European bloc. It will be a long time before British pictures find a million seats in Germany and a long time before the 3 to 1 German-French reciprocity arrangements lately discussed comes into force.

Gilbert for U. A.?

It is now rumored that John Gilbert signed a contract with United Artists when he was in New York a short time ago. It is believed that there will be an announcement to this effect as soon as his present M-G-M contract expires.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

"CHASING THROUGH EUROPE"

The Fox unit that has been chasing through Europe making a picture with this same title, returned to America Saturday, and from the stories that are being told around town, this gang must have had a great time, even though they did work day and night, get pinched several times, and risked being mobbed by admiring throngs every time they set up their tripod. They visited almost every important country in Europe, had a few days in London, Paris, Venice, Naples, Rome, Marseilles, Lille, Bethune, Tangier, Tetuan, Barcelona, Zaragoza and Guadelupe and would probably have been over there yet if it had not been for a cable sent by "Winnie" Sheehan calling them back.

DAVE BUTLER

The troupe was fathered by David Butler, Fox director, with Nick Stuart as the star. They exposed over 84,000 feet of negative, having photographed most every celebrated person in Europe including two kings, two dictators, one royal prince, two notable commanders of the World War and one Sultan. They probably have sufficient material for four or five pictures.

SAM GOLDWYN

"Darn clever these Chinese". Sam Goldwyn finds himself with a great star in Vilma Banky and has been told about the tremendous grosses being made by talking picture. But — Miss Banky speaks very broken English. So Sammy has a story written that permits Miss Banky a characterization of a young Hungarian girl, speaking very poor English. And in order to make this thing real, the main characters in the story have to learn some Hungarian for the first part of the picture which centers on Miss Banky's arrival in this country wherein she does not speak any English at all.

WARNER'S LITHOGRAPHS

The lithographs on the recent Warner productions have been exceptionally good from every point of view. We inquired the other day and was told that the Warner organization owns the Continental Litho Co., bag and baggage. Certainly if your own plant could not turn out good work for you, who could.

It seems evident that the Warner boys thought it best to grab a plant for themselves rather than be dictated to by the Morgan group who seem to have a strangle hold on all the lithograph business in our industry. We think aside from Fox and Warners, the Morgan gang does all the major work.

Cecil B. De Mille Tells "What's Right with the Movies"

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 118

New York, Wednesday, November 21, 1928

FIVE CENTS

A Great Night

By ARTHUR JAMES

Everybody who is anybody was at the Anglo-American dinner last night at the Biltmore and those who failed to get inspiration from the manifest cordiality would be hard to impress. General Hays in his best form and with a definite sincerity handled the affair with skill and to the satisfaction of all present.

...

Dr. Giannini, duly modest in the face of the honor conferred upon him, fully justified the choice of the committee in awarding him the cup.

...

Nathan Burkan, who is blessed with a sense of humor, added to the grace of the occasion with an interesting speech. Gen. Bullard, Admiral Symington, Mr. Otterson and others at the guest table were representative and in accord with the spirit of the hour.

...

Sam Harris acquitted himself, as was fully expected, admirably uniting the dignity of his profession and the cordiality which from now forth should be the ruling idea between the two nations. The Anglo American dinner, beginning in a small way, developed into one of the most interesting and most important affairs in the history of the industry. It was in all respects a tremendous and gratifying success.

...

We are moved to congratulate the Affiliated Exhibitors on their enterprise in securing the services of so able a man as Abram S. Meyers of the Federal Trade Commission to manage their affairs. Mr. Meyers made a very good impression upon the industry at the Federal Trade Commission Conference over a year ago by his calm and understanding way of handling the problems with which he was then not fully familiar. In the days that have passed since that time he has fully acquainted himself with all the conditions in the industry and all concerned will welcome his active association with the business.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSIONER MYERS TO HEAD ALLIED STATES

WARNERS SIGN 6-YR. MANAGEMENT PACT

Goldman-Sachs Contract Assures Stockholders Of Future Services

It became known yesterday that a 6-year employment contract has been entered into between the three Warner Brothers, Harry, Albert and Jack, on the one hand, and the stockholders of the Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc. represented by Goldman Sachs and Company, which will insure the continuation of the Warners at the head of their organization for the life of the contract.

A representative of Goldman Sachs & Company, stated yesterday that they were merely acting for the stockholders of the company, and had secured the contract with the Warner Brothers to safeguard the position of the stockholders in Warners, and to take this means of putting their further confidence in the three executives.

"It is to the vision and foresight of the Warner Brothers that the

(Continued on page 4)

"Barker" in N. Y. Dec. 3

"The Barker," First National's first talking picture, will open its New York run at the Central Theatre, to follow "Lilac Time", on Monday night, December 3rd, according to an announcement just made by Ned E. Depinet, general sales manager of the company.

Columbia After $2,000,000 To Acquire New Exchanges

Hays Surgical Film Plan Launched Yesterday

Through the courtesy of Will H. Hays, a program of four French surgical films was exhibited at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel last night, for the New York physicians.

(Continued on page 4)

Al Jolson

The "Slinging" Fool

LOS ANGELES—They are dubbing Al Jolson the next middle-weight champion of the world as a result of his mixup with a "tuxedoed" gentleman who, with a few drinks under his belt, made some insulting remarks to Al as a result of the manager of one of the local night clubs moving a table in for Al and his party, said table obstructing the view of Al's adversary.

Al said after the battle, "Maybe I am in the wrong racket. If the Warner boys don't get me a good story, I'll get a manager and try the fighting game."

KANSAS THREATENED BY NEW THEATRE TAX LAW

KANSAS CITY—As a result of a tax meeting called by the Governor of the State, and at which theatre owners and tax experts were present, a resolution was passed instructing the Governor and the Chairman of the conference to appoint a committee which would draft a proposed law concerning taxes, to be placed before the legislature in January, and which would tax all motion picture theatres in the State.

R. R. Biechele, President of the M.P.T.O. of Kansas and Western Missouri, who attended the meeting stated that "Kansas exhibitors had better get busy. They are facing a drastic measure and unless they get in touch with their representatives to convince them that the proposal is unfair, an amusement tax is almost inevitable."

Will Lead Steffes Group Campaign for New National Organization

U. S. Official to Resign—Gets $100,000 Salary

COLUMBUS, O.—A sensational development was sprung at the M.P.T.O. of Ohio convention yesterday, at which Al Steffes, Glenn Cross and Col. Cole of the Allied States group are in attendance, when it became known that Abram F. Myers, Federal Trade Commissioner who conducted the Government investigation of the film industry last year, has been offered the leadership of the Allied group of theatre owners, at an annual salary of $100,000 and has accepted, according to confirmation by Al Steffes.

Myers, who sprang into prominence through his aggressive investigations for the Federal Government, will resign his official duties immediately and take up the task of directing the work of nationally organizing the various state exhibitor units which may be amenable to the Allied State plans.

Theatre owners here were roused to a high pitch of enthusiasm when

(Continued on page 3)

DENT DEAL OFF FOR R & R THEATRES

DALLAS—Harry T. Peebles, vice-president of the Specialty Film Company, holding company for the Robb and Rowley chain of theatres which was recently reported as under sale to the L. L. Dent interests, has issued a statement denying the published rumor that the R & R chain would be sold.

Dent did have an option for the R & R theatres, but the deal failed to go through. W. E. Paschall, general manager for Dent has likewise denied that the deal was on.

Sentry Pres. Sails

Jos. E. Cohen, president of the Sentry Saftey Control Corporation, will sail today on the S. S. Berengeria. He will be in England and on the Continent until late December, returning home about New Year's.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyrighted by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 239 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

Mrs. Cecil B. DeMille, in one of her infrequent excursions into the public prints, comes forward with the news that DeMille's previous stage experience will be invaluable in his first M-G-M picture which will be a talkie . . . She will make a good press agent . . . December will be Henri Elman Month in Chicago when the Columbia Film Exchange will go after the greatest business in their history . . . Louis Laemmle, brother of Carl Laemmle is installing sound apparatus in his Alcey Theatre, Highland Park, Ill. . . . Jack Johnson, ex-pugilist is "knocking 'em dead" in Boston movie houses, using in his stage act motion pictures of his ring battles . . . Ed Ryan, Jr., personal secretary of Col. W. S. Butterfield is on a 6-week vacation in Europe and will spend the holidays with his mother in N. Y. . . . Roxy is sitting for his portrait by the noted Roumanian painter, Elie Cristo-Loveanu, which will be exhibited at the Gainsborough Galleries soon . . . Adolph Zukor accompanied by Mrs. Zukor and Mrs. Mildred Zukor Loew and two Zukor grandchildren are en route to Hollywood for a pleasure tour . . . At the Motion Picture Club some one suggested what would happen in case Mr. Fox decided not to take up his buying contracts for the New York independent houses. The answer was—there would be a lot of funerals around town . . . Jimmie Grainger has been missing from his office for a couple of days. One of those golf colds . . . Since Marty Van Pragg is sitting behind the big desk, one notices he wears a high polish on his shoes, a carnation in his lapel and plenty of "stay-comb" on his hair . . . Oscar Price must have sold the foreign rights on his Dick Talmadge pictures, he was smiling at every one he met yesterday . . . Some afternoon around four o'clock there is going to be a sudden death on the handball court at the Motion Picture Club. To hear Sam Rothafel and Charlie Swartz argue about a point you would think a murder was being committed.

"What's Right with the Movies"

(Twenty-second of a Series by Industry's Leaders)

By CECIL B. DeMILLE

Pres. Association M. P. Producers

The successful general is he who fights on the offensive; who pushes the attack into the enemy's territory. The defensive fighter gets nowhere.

Arthur James rightly has called to our attention the fact that we have been too timorous in our attitude towards our art-industry. Instead of answering questions fired by those who seek to find fault; we should be making positive affirmations. The motion picture needs no apologist; it could use a Ulysses S. Grant!

In discussing "What's Right with the Movies?" we will get at the answer best by discussing the general average of pictures today as against ten years ago. To ascertain this just take a night off and screen the best picture of 1928; and the worst of that year; the best film made in 1928, and the worst from all standards of taste and quality which has been made this year.

Such a comparison will amaze you. Why the best of 1918 would be counted only as second rate today! And the worst of 1928 looms up almost as a super-special alongside the inferior production of ten years ago.

We have come to maturity in pictures. We have shed juvenile experiments and juvenile bad taste. We who make pictures look upon our job as a responsibility which demands every atom of our best and most considered judgment. Even if the producers did not feel a deep moral obligation towards this most powerful of expressive mediums; we could not under any circumstances return to the "border line" type of story which occasionally was attempted in earlier years of the industry. That kind of story, the type which has a "double meaning", one of them unwholesome, cannot be made today. First of all it will never pass the severe tests set by the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America; second, it can't make money because it attracts only a limited audience. As pictures cost a fortune to produce and distribute, it is obvious that bad pictures are very bad business.

This has all been said before but it bears reiteration. "What's Right with the Movies?" When any expressive medium shows the growth in moral and intellectual stature and average made by motion pictures in the last decade—certainly that medium needs no apologist.

Individual criticism directed at individual scenes in individual pictures falls back against the proof and evidence of this great growth. Individual attack we will always have with us—and individual attack never means anything except one man's opinion. When unified public opinion can find anything to criticize in the movements of the average of motion picture quality, Film producers and exhibitors will have cause to worry, but not until then.

Buys "Trial Marriage"

Charles Goetz, president of State Cinema, announced his organization had purchased the worlds rights on the production "Trial Marriage". Corliss Palmer and Jack Richardson are featured in the cast.

Pascoe Biophone Rep.

Alfred Weiss, President of the Biophone Corporation has just announced the appointment of Mr. C. P. Pascoe as General Representative in the territory of Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

'ANNAPOLIS' PROLOG

Bert Glennon Shoots Special Musical Film in N. Y.

As a Photophone prologue to "Annapolis," Pathe has produced a lively musical comedy presentation reel at the Sound Studios in New York with the McCarthy Sisters, formerly of George White's "Scandals" heading the array of talent which includes the Hastings Twins, of the "Scandals," Morton and Mayo, Nell Jewel, Dolores Weekes, six specialty tap dancers and a Francis Weldon troupe of twenty-four dancing girls.

Bert Glennon directed this novel reel which offers all the entertainment of a stage production such as is featured in the big Broadway houses. Solo and ensemble, song and dance numbers make it a tabloid musical comedy. Josiah Zuro, musical director of Pathe sound pictures led the orchestra and Francis Weldon directed the dances. Clark Robinson designed the setting. The costumes were inspired, of course, by those worn by officers and midshipmen at Annapolis.

Throughout the music and dances are nautical, making the prologue blend perfectly both in sound and theme with the "Annapolis" feature which is offered with Photophoned sound and musical accompaniment.

Harry Thomas Heads N. Y. Film Trade Board

Harry Thomas, President of First Division Pictures, has been chosen President of the N. Y. Film Board of Trade, replacing David Rosengarten, who resigned because of the fact that Commonwealth Film Exchange has been acquired by First Division and he therefore ceases to be a manager of an exchange.

The Board expressed regret at Rosengarten's resignation and conveyed their appreciation of the services he had tendered the Board.

Thomas has been a member of the organization since its inception holding the office of Vice-President, and is one of the most popular members of the Board.

"Q Ships" Picked For Hoover Show

The Navy Department on Saturday gave a rush order to Captain Harold Auten, representative of the New Era Films, Ltd., for a print of "Q Ships" to be placed immediately on board the battleship "Utah" at Brooklyn Navy Yard for the use of Mr. H. Hoover, during his forthcoming "Goodwill" cruise to South American waters. The "Utah" left Brooklyn Monday for South America.

Aubert Gets Soviet

PARIS—A contract has been signed between Herr Zohrer, representative of Derussa in Berlin, whereby M. Louis Aubert secures the French rights for all films of Soviet production.

"The Center of Motion Picture Society"

If you want to see Who's Who in the motion picture industry, dine at

THE PARK CENTRAL GRILL

Open for lunch, dinner and supper

DINE AND DANCE

To the tunes of

BEN POLLACK

and his

PARK CENTRAL ORCHESTRA

THE PARK CENTRAL

FIFTY-FIFTH STREET AT 7th AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY

GOSSIP OF LONDON
By LIONEL BURTON

(Special to Exhibitors Daily Review)

LONDON—November, mid-month. The Film Quota Act in Great Britain and Prohibition in the United States seem likely to create a new bond of sympathy between the two countries. However, we are "holier than thou," since our bootlegging of the Quota makes lawbreakers only of picture producers, distributors and exhibitors, instead of a whole nation. But while English 'fans' are not accessories before the fact, they will profit by a system of Quota-juggling that will let in more American features than strict observance of the law would permit.

There is quite a lot of indiscreet gossip about the proposition to produce four-reel dramas on the thinly disguised theory of seven-reelers. Double-feature programs will increase in number because a four-reel photoplay can be slipped in after a seven-reeler and still leave room for a "short." The dear British masses do love their "shorts", so leading producers maintain—and most "full length" features are padded anyway. So a revival of features crowding the Quota minimum of 3,000 feet is hailed as a spiffy idea.

In the meantime H. B. Parkinson has publicly announced shooting begun on a program of nine subjects, six to be four-reel dramas and all aimed at the Quota. Incidentally, you will be interested to know that one of these—an old Dion Boucicault melodrama called "The Streets of London" — will have Beatrice Duffy for the lead, because she is of the Colleen Moore type. Needless to remind Colleen that she might mention this casually when calling at First National headquarters.

Suggestion from a mere looker-on to four-reel producers: In bootlegging the Quota, keep in mind the Enforcement bobby with his tape measure.

R.C.A.'s Motto

EARLY TO BED,
AND EARLY TO RISE.
WORK LIKE HELL
AND SYNCHRONIZE.

Federal Trade Commissioner
Myers to Head Allied States

(Continued from page 1)

the news became known and the general consensus of opinion around the convention hall was that the Steffes clique had put over a master stroke in securing the services of their new organizer.

There is much speculation here today as to the psychological effect of the news on the convention, when the annual election of officers takes place, and when it is probable that the Ohio M.P.T.O. will go on record regarding their future affiliations.

Steffes and his active co-workers have begun their national stumping tour, which was announced two months ago, and which will attempt to whip into line as many state organizations as possible. With Myers now at the helm, the work of the leaders in the field, will begin to be properly consolidated.

Columbia After $2,000,000
To Acquire New Exchanges

(Continued from page 1)

changes, the other half are in the control of individuals who have franchised their product for a term of years. This move has been made possible by the desire of the heads of this organization to be in full control of all branches in view of their desire for expansion in every direction.

FOX NEWS MT. ETNA
SPECIAL ON BROADWAY

Fox News added a memorable achievement to newsreel history this week with the release yesterday of amazing motion pictures of the Mount Etna eruption spreading ruin and terror in Sicily. Virtually the entire Fox reel consisted of pictures actually filmed within the ravaged zone by Fox News Italian staff cameramen headed by Arturo Giordani, chief of the Rome bureau, at the peril of their lives.

The volcano pictures were delivered to Broadway theatres in time to be shown at the afternoon performance yesterday. They were shipped to all parts of the country by air-mail, reaching Chicago and mid-western cities by 7 o'clock Tuesday evening. The film was due to reach Pacific Coast cities Wednesday evening.

Berlin Film Trade Unions Organized

BERLIN—Trade unionism has won a victory in the ranks of film workers. Architects', cameramen's, scenarists' and directors' associations formed amongst themselves an organization for the defense of their common interests.

At the advice of the Ministry of Economics, these associations agreed to declare themselves trade unions. Only the picture directors still hesitate to follow the lead of the others.

First-Run Seating Total
Reaches 25,000 in Detroit

The first-run theatres in Detroit, with the addition of the new Fisher Theatre, have now reached a total of 25,000 seats. They line up as follows; Fox Theatre, 5,100; the Michigan, 4,100; Capitol, 3,448; Fisher, 3,000; State, 3,000; Madison, 1,976; United Artists, 3,000; Adams, 1,770 and the Little Theatre, 500.

Lt. Grace, Aviator of "Lilac Time" Arrives

Lieutenant Richard Grace, aviation ace, who has probably crashed more planes to thrill motion picture fans than any other flyer, arrived in New York yesterday from Hollywood and is registered at the Fifth Avenue Hotel where he is busily engaged whipping his war experiences into shape for a forthcoming volume which is tentatively titled, "Crashing into Hell."

Gilbert-Garbo Due

The print of the newest Gilbert-Garbo picture, "A Woman of Affairs," is on its way East to the M-G-M offices. Clarence Brown directed this and from preview reports from the coast, the picture is a knockout and due for a long Broadway run.

M-G-M AND FOX WIN
HOLDOVER VICTORY

ALBANY — Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Fox Film Corporation in their case against J. M. Beck of Liberty, N. Y., before the Albany Film Board of Arbitration, have won the largest award ever rendered here in a case of this type, Fox winning $2,000 and M-G-M, $5,000.

The exchanges, represented by Louis Nizer, brought the action against the exhibitor for holding over 10 M-G-M comedies and four Fox features, "Sunrise", "Fazil", "Four Sons" and "Mother Machree", for one day beyond contract date.

The unusual nature of the award followed Nizer's summation of the case when he pointed out that the Albany Film Board of Trade could give its answer to the industry, concerning the position it was going to take with regard to dishonest practices.

He pointed out that if one, who was involved in illegitimate practices, merely had to give back that which he had been caught with, it would place a premium upon dishonesty. Distributors cannot send a policeman along with each print, but Arbitration Boards, sitting as courts of equity, ought to do their share to discourage dishonesty when it is revealed.

THE DAILY REVIEW*Has MoreEXHIBITOR READERSDuring the course of a weekThan any otherMOTION PICTURETrade Publication.More than30,000 COPIESAre Printed and Read*

'U' DIALOGUES 'PORT OF DREAMS'

Laemmle Orders Ruggles to Add Talkie Sequences

By J. HARRISON EDWARDS
West Coast Correspondent

Universal has decided to put a lot of dialogue in their production of the "Port of Dreams" recently completed by Wesley Ruggles. Coast reports are very good on this picture, everyone who attended the preview were quite enthused about it.

Consequently when Carl Laemmle arrived on the coast and took a look at it, he immediately saw the possibilities of dialogue so, he summoned Ruggles and told him to gather his cast of Mary Philbin, Fred McKaye, Otis Harlan, Edmund Breese and Mary Alden and go to work on one of the new sound stages.

Warners Sign Adolphi

J. L. Warner has added John Adolphi to his list of contracted directors at the Warner studio. Adolphi signed on the dotted line this week for a long term which provides for him to make a number of Vitaphone talking pictures on the company's schedule for 1929-30. He is already thoroughly familiar with Vitaphone technique having given megaphone orders on "The Midnight Taxi".

Worth with Talmadge

Barbara Worth is the brunette and Edna Murphy the blonde around whom much of the plot of "The Bachelors' Club" starring Richard Talmadge, revolves. This is the first of a series of four fast-moving action comedy dramas which Oscar A. Price, formerly President of United Artists, has the daring young stunt actor under contract to make. Noel Mason directed "The Bachelors' Club" which will be released shortly.

Barrymore to Wed

HOLLYWOOD — John Barrymore and Dolores Costello yesterday filed notice of intention to marry. The announcement caused great surprise as no one was aware that Barrymore intended to divorce his present wife, Michael Strange.

M. G. M. Shorts Completed

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer have completed a series of four two-reel all-talking pictures.

Two one-act plays by Kenyon Nicholson, author of "The Barker," have been recorded as two-reel dialogue films. One of these, "Casino Gardens," which has a Harlem background, was directed by Carlo De Angelo.

The other Nicholson play, "Confession," is a story of the A. E. F., and was transferred to the screen under the direction of Lionel Barrymore, with Robert Ames and Carroll Nye in leading roles.

"Phipps," Stanley Houghton's one-act play has been made into a Movietone short feature under the supervision of Lowell Sherman.

Gus Edwards' first M-G-M talking feature is a two-reel Technicolor subject, labeled "Gus Edward's Song Revue."

STUDIO GOSSIP

Ricardo Cortez has been signed to play the lead in "Life," a mystery story that Tiffany-Stahl will make.

Lon Young has shipped his third Chesterfield Production, "South of Panama" to New York.

Conway Tearle has been signed by Tiffany-Stahl to make a talkie for them. So far, no story has been selected.

Garrett Fort has been signed by Paramount and added to their writing staff in Astoria Long Island studio.

Edward Burns has been added to the cast of "Children of the Ritz," which First National is making.

Polese Sedan, musical comedy singer, has joined the cast of First National's "The Comedy of Life."

Ransom Rideout, author of the stage play, "Goin' Home," has been signed by M-G-M to write original stories for them.

Ethlyne Clair will play the feminine lead opposite Monte Blue in Warner Bros. Vitaphone picture, "From Headquarters."

Leila Hyams will have an important role in Buster Keaton's next picture for M-G-M, "Spite Marriage."

Raquel Torres will play the part of Papita in the picturization of "The Bridge of San Luis Rey." Charles Brabin is directing.

Warners Sign 6-Yr Management Pact

(Continued from page 1)

company has achieved its spectacular success," said this Goldman Sachs executive, "and we want to be certain that in our relationship to the public, the Warners are to continue the management of the company."

HAYS SURGICAL FILM PLAN

(Continued from page 1)

When Mr. Hays was in Paris last Spring, he suggested the idea of a world interchange of medical knowledge on the screen. George Eastman has likewise lent his support to the plan and contributed the film facilities.

Mr. Eastman is working out a plan whereby a great central library of such films will be available to medical schools and societies. These films point the way to a greatly enlarged field of usefulness for the motion picture.

Congressman Signed

Juan Sedillo, graduate lawyer and one time congressman of New Mexico has been signed by Fox to make pictures for that company. He will start in silent movies and if his voice proves good, will be given a chance in Movietone productions. It is said that he resembles the late Rudolph Valentino.

"NIGHTSTICK" FIRST U. A. ALL-TALKER STARTED

"Nightstick" is the first United Artists all-talking picture to go before the sound cameras. Synchronized photography and voice recording will be begun this week in the United Artists Studio in Hollywood.

Rehearsals identical with those that precede first nights of stage plays have been held for the past two weeks by director Roland West, and the film actors have memorized their speaking lines.

Meighan Returns

Thomas Meighan, Warner Bros. star, returned to New York last week from French Lick. He will remain in New York until after Christmas when he plans to leave for California to begin work at the Warner Studio.

Carlotta King Here

Carlotta King, who has just completed her work in the leading role of Warner Bros. first Vitaphone operetta, "The Desert Song," has arrived in New York for a vacation. She is accompanied by her husband, Russell.

Chaney's Latest

Lon Chaney, being ready for work before the story of "Bugle Sounds" could be completed, he will first make a picture with Tod Browning directing. This story has been written by the director, and in it Chaney will play the part of a mysterious trader in the tropics, and he will not use any grotesque make-up in it.

F. N. Cutting Down

Within about two months, it is said that First National will have on its list of stock company contract players only five actors and actresses. This of course, excludes Colleen Moore and Corinne Griffith, who are listed as individual producers, releasing through First National.

Jannings' Next

Jannings next picture will be from an original story by Hans Kraly, which will deal with Russia. The idea was furnished by a Russian actor and Lewis Milestone will direct. It is thought that Dita Parlo will play the wife in this picture, provided she is not too young—that, however, is up to Mr. Milestone.

Boles-Winton Signed

John Boles has been signed by Universal to play the lead opposite Laura La Plante in her next picture, "The Haunted Lady." Jane Winton has also been signed for an important part in the same picture.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

DIRECTORS

What has become of the directors of yesterday? Where are they and what are they doing? For instance, Robert Vignola has a beautiful home out in Hollywood and is living the life of Reilly. Bob saved his money . . . Francis Ford is working as an extra . . . Lois Weber is living on her ranch in California . . . Charles Giblyn is doing heavies . . . Eddie Dillon acting here and there in small parts and bits . . . Oscar Apfel doing character bits . . . Sidney Olcott on the high sea's hoping to win a suit in a British court . . . J. P. MacGowan working around the Hollywood studios doing small parts . . . Frank Reicher working as an extra . . . Louis Gasnier directing small pictures here and there . . . Dell Henderson playing small bits for small change . . .

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Germany has some great cameramen. The best in fact. We saw "Homecoming" at the Paramount and the photography in this Paramount-UFA picture was a treat for the eye. It was done by Gunther Riettau, a master with the camera. Both interiors and exteriors; close-ups and long shots were exquisite. On a par with the best the American way we prophecy a brilliant future for Dita Parlo, who has just arrived in this country to work for Paramount. She is pretty and has acting ability. With proper direction and good stories she will prosper. She is too young to be cast for the role of the wife of Jannings though, and we are told it was, with this part in mind, that Paramount brought her over.

LEILA HYAMS

In "Alias Jimmie Valentine", M-G-M gave the feminine lead to Leila Hyams, a beautiful blonde and quite a good actress. She has been buried at Warners for the past two years, was loaned for a couple of Fox pictures, but with neither company was she given the opportunity. At M-G-M they seem to have different ideas, if we are to judge by her first assignment. Miss Hyams seems to have everything necessary to become a successful box office star, as she probably will be with the assistance of M-G-M.

FOX FOLLIES

Word comes from the West Coast that "Winnie" Sheehan has taken off his coat, rolled up his sleeves and jumped into hectic work in the preparation of the "Fox Follies". We understand that this will be a yearly affair from now on with the Fox organization. The picture will be done in sound with original tunes by the pick of all song writers, leading men and women who have good singing voices, good comedians and plenty of beautiful girls. The idea is great as well as being unusual for pictures.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 119

New York, Thursday, November 22, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Aftermath

By ARTHUR JAMES

Here is a letter which speaks for itself and speaks eloquently:

Dear Mr. James:

I was particularly impressed at Tuesday night's banquet with the splendid, heartfelt, straight-from-the-shoulder speeches of Dr. Giannini, Gen. Will Hays and Nathan Burkan. The messages that they have given me to take back to England—that America is ready and willing to take good films—no matter where they come from—the message from Will Hays that the door is wide open, and Nathan Burkan's clear statement all prove their readiness towards cooperation and a friendly hand.

This is the kind of message I expected, because I know America wants good films the same as other countries. Britain wants the best, which she is undoubtedly getting from America, both as regards films and men.

To refer to one only—I noticed present at the banquet John C. Graham. Whilst America sends such splendid ambassadors as J. C., who is admired and appreciated by whole British industry—her interests will always be not only protected, but fostered.

May I, through your esteemed journal send on behalf of the Film Trade of England—my thanks and appreciation to the whole American industry for the wonderful tribute of good feeling and comradeship expressed by the speakers, and so delightfully echoed by everyone present?

I am

Yours very sincerely,
Sam Harris.

The echoes from the Anglo American dinner are of one accord in their praise of the reason for the event and the satisfactory carrying out of the excellent program.

Mr. Harris will carry back to England the cordial appreciation of the industry in this country for his splendid international gesture of friendship. He made a fine impression and the trade generally was much pleased with the event.

Many telegrams were received, including one from Adolph Zukor which concluded with the words: "Gesture which must make for incalculable good in the film world and which will be one of the milestones of film history". Cordial greetings were also received from Carl Laemmle, R. H. Cochrane, George Arliss, former Ambassador James W. Gerard, Ralph Blumenfeld, Lord Ashfield, John Maxwell,
(Continued on page 3)

MAJOR ALBERT WARNER SLATED FOR 1st NATIONAL PRESIDENCY

"M.P.T.O.A. Useless" Cole War Cry Swings Texas to Allied Group

Pathe Cutting Down

Former Gross Loss

The Pathe Exchange, Inc., and subsidiaries report for the period from April 21 to July 14 a net income of $65,338 after depreciation, interest and other charges, and after charging certain estimated excess production costs of pictures in production prior to April 21 to a special reserve fund. This is the first report of earnings under the present management. The previous report for the sixteen weeks ended on April 21 showed a net loss of $415,389.

11 AMPA EX-PRESIDENTS AT HARVEY LUNCHEON

George W. Harvey, President of the Associated Motion Picture Advertisers, was tendered an exceptional honor by past presidents of the organization, who, for the first time in thirteen years of A.M.P.A. activity were all present at the annual luncheon to the new executive, which was held yesterday at the Motion Picture Club.

The complete attendance of all
(Continued on page 3)

Photophone in New K.A.O. Rochester Dec. 25

Announcement was made yesterday that the new super-theatre being built in Rochester—the Keith-Albee Palace Theatre—will open on Christmas Day, December 25th. Costing nearly $3,000,000 and being the type of theatre erected in Cleveland, Brooklyn and Boston, under
(Continued on page 3)

Skirboll on W. W. Trip

Joseph Skirboll, general sales manager of World Wide Pictures, left this week for an extended visit to Educational Exchanges, through which the new company will make its physical distribution when it starts to sell the first of its series of imported pictures soon after the first of the year.

DALLAS—Texas has gone Allied States, with but two dissenting votes, after a stirring appeal made by Col. H. A. Cole, president of the Texas exhibitors.

In a masterly fashion, Cole jammed through the resolution for affiliation with Allied States. "I can see no possibilities or benefit to the Texas organization from the present set-up in the M.P.T.O.A.," Cole said.

The Colonel then explained the proposed financing for the Allied organization and the employment of a national leader (Abram F. Myers), big enough to sit at the table with Mr. Hays or anyone else.

Unofficially pledging Texas for $5,000 toward the revival of Allied, Cole declared he was ready to give his check for $1,000 toward that fund.

One representative from each affiliated state will constitute the membership of the new National organization.

Publix Takes over Shea's Buffalo Century

BUFFALO—The Century Theatre here has been leased by the Publix Theatre Corp. from the local operating company headed by Michael Shea, making the sixth house in the Publix chain.

It will be operated by the Shea Operating Corporation, handling all Publix Houses in Buffalo.

Morris and Depinet to Head Sales Organization—Warners Moving Stanley Executives to N. Y.

From sources that seem absolutely reliable, the Daily Review is informed that Major Albert Warner, one of the three Warner Brothers, will be elected President of First National at the meeting which will take place after the meeting to ratify the purchase of that organization by the Warners. This meeting will be held around the first week in December.

Morris in Charge

With the practical consolidation of both the Warner and First National organizations, Sam Morris will become general manager of both companies supervising the sales. Ned Depinet, general sales manager of First National will retain that post and work directly under Morris.

Exodus Soon

There will be a general exodus of what will be left of the First National home office on Madison Ave., to quarters in the Warner Building on 44th Street, around the first week in December. The Madison Avenue space will be sublet. Soon after the move of First National, space will be found in the Warner home office for all executives of the Stanley Company, it being the desire of the Warners to have all their properties under one roof.

Exchanges to Join

Wherever, and as soon as possible, the distributing exchanges of both
(Continued on page 3)

Gaumont British Takes Over German Producing Syndicate

By Dr. R. OTTO

(Special Cable to Exhibitors Daily Review)

BERLIN—At last the English have gained ground in Berlin, a deal being in process of completion between the Gaumont British and the German Exhibitors' Producing Syndicate (D.L.S.).

This Syndicate, an association of several hundred exhibitors, who intended to become independent of producers and distributors, has been in want of funds for a long time.

Unable to carry on the producing business, with the exhibitors' savings, it had to borrow capital and engaged Herr Isidor Felt as a manager.

In the first year, the D.L.S. with Herr Zelnik as a director and with his wife Lya Mara in the star roles, produced some of the best pictures of the season. These successes, however, eased off when Herr Zelnik left the syndicate.

In order to find markets abroad the D.L.S. proposed to form similar exhibitors' producing syndicates in other countries and to develop into
(Continued on page 4)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

Joe Blair, West Coast Representative, 1255 Taramind Avenue, Los Angeles (Phone Hempstead 1514).

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 239 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

Al Lichtman, under whose presidency the Motion Picture Club has flourished like a green bay horse, invariably slips the credit to his associates when the subject is mentioned—Lou Blumenthal, who once was a trade paper magnate, now has lots and lots of lots, with houses on 'em—David Sarnoff corrects the rumor that his name is pronounced "Sarnow", it's Sarnoff, just as spelled—when S. R. Kent, Sam Katz and Bob Kane dwelled together there were few with the temerity to talk about the K.K.K., as none of the three K's ever went around in a night shirt with a hood attachment—Lou Metzger has a smile so engaging that it must come clear from the inside—Everytime Wesleyan wins a football game P. A. Parsons busts into song, and how that young man can sing! Russell Holman is a Phi Beta Kappa man which means that he not only went to college but he was smart at it—Martha Wilchinski who publicizes for Roxy is a poet in private life—

PHONOFILMS SUIT ON FED. CALENDAR SAT.

Suit of the De Forest Phonofilms against Fox-Case has not been postponed until next February, as far as is known, since the case, No. 33 on the Calendar is due to be called next Saturday the 24th.

It is likely, however, that, due to pressure of criminal suits on the calendar, the action may be delayed again.

According to Variety, Anthony J. Biddle, wealthy society man and sportsman is said to be financially behind the recent De Forest Phonofilm Schlessinger deal and is also reported intensely interested in the outcome of the De Forest-Fox-Case action in the Federal court.

PROPER THEATRE ADVERTISING?

The President of Universal Pictures Corporation
Gives His Views on Theatre Exploitation Methods

K & F WITH 22 THEATRES CONTROLS CHEYENNE

CHEYENNE, WYO.—The K and F Theatre Company this past week assumed ownership and operation of all the theatres in Cheyenne, having closed with Carl Ray, owner of the Princess, Atlas and Capitol.

Immediately following the acquisition of these theatres The K & F Theatres Company proceeded to exercise an option which they held for the purchase of the Lincoln Theatre, the only other remaining theatre in the Wyoming capitol. This was purchased a few days later from the Plains Theatre Corporation, of which Harry T. Nolan, well-known exhibitor, and Max Kravetz are the principal officers and stockholders. The Lincoln Theatre is practically new and one of the finest houses in the state of Wyoming.

This is probably the largest deal and most important addition to The K & F chain of houses since this amusement company entered the amusement business. The K & F Theatres chain is now composed of twenty-two theatres, most of which are operating. The theatres are located in Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming.

Mel Todd, former manager of the Ray Theatres has been retained by the K & F Company to manage their newly acquired Cheyenne theatres.

Hammons Returns

E. W. Hammons, president of Educational Film Exchanges, Inc., returned from the coast Friday morning on the Twentieth Century after a brief visit to the Educational Studios, where he conferred on production plans with E. H. Allen, studio general manager, and Jack White, director-in-chief. He has been away from New York City since October 27th.

Sam Harris at AMPA

Sam Harris, donor of the trophy awarded to Dr. Giannini at the Anglo-American dinner Tuesday evening, will attend today's (Thurs.) meeting of the A.M.P.A. at which Nat Rothstein will discuss exploitation in Europe and the McCarthy Sisters will furnish words and music on the talkies.

Harry McDonald Puts Over Licorish Stunt

Harry McDonald claims credit for the K-A-O showmanship in securing Lionel Licorish, the hero of the Vestris disaster for personal appearances at the Palace, Hippodrome and Broadway Theatres. Mr. McDonald was formerly at the Brooklyn Strand.

You have asked me to say a few words on the subject, "A new form of theatre advertising is needed." I would rather discuss the proposition that better use should be made of all the forms of advertising now available to theatre managers. Why look for new forms of advertising when we have not even begun to exhaust the possibilities of what is available to us today?

Keeps Pace

Motion picture exploitation has kept pace with the marvelous advance of the motion picture industry. Producers today have finely organized staffs of exploitation advertising and publicity experts whose brains are evolving practical, worth while business getting ideas and passing them on to the exhibitor.

The days of the scare-brained stunts designed primarily to make pretty trade paper pictures are over. Today we must reach vast multitudes of people,—get our message over in a way that will draw them to the box office, cover large territories and do it at an expense that the box office can stand.

Competition Keener

Competition is far keener than it ever used to be. Theatres are in close proximity to each other offering to the public programs of practically equal merit. Exploitation must be charged with showmanship, but at the same time be dignified. The loud ballyhoo stunt, considered clever in the other days, will oftentimes drive people away from box offices today.

Competition is so keen that exploitation, publicity and advertising must of necessity be handled on what we might almost call a scientific basis. The problem of the exhibitor has been made much easier through the producers' staffs of exploitation, publicity and advertising men.

Good Advice

I have this to say to exhibitors: Use the posters prepared—but work out new ideas for adapting them to shadow boxes and for cut-out use; cover larger areas—pick better locations.

Use the heralds—but study your distribution more carefully and place them where they can and will sell seats for you.

Use the pressbook cuts—but adapt them to fit your space requirements and cut them up to work into your individual ideas on what newspaper ads should be.

Use the radio,—ballyhoo—tie ups—but vary your campaigns so that you reach different people and appeal to different minds week after week. Keep on the alert to attract new patronage to your shows each week. Vary your campaigns as you do your film programs.

We do not need new forms of theatre advertising. We need a more studied application of the many splendid ideas that are prepared for use on all good pictures!

Warner Bros. Sign Three Prominent Scenarists

That Warner Bros. are already giving serious thought to the formulation of their plans for 1929-30 is shown by the announcement from J. L. Warner, head of the studio, that he has added three well known writers to the scenario department which is soon to start on next year's program. They are Harvey Thew, L. G. Rigby and J. Grubb Alexander.

H. M. Warner, president of Warner Bros., has been at the studio for the past month in conference with his brother and some additional announcements are expected soon in regard to future Vitaphone talking pictures to be made when their present schedule is completed.

AFTERMATH

(Continued from page 1)

A.C. & R.C. Bromhead, George Pearson, Michael Balcon, Samuel Eckman, James B. Bryson, E. Gordon Craig, and many others. We again express our good wishes to Mr. Sam Harris and renew our congratulations to him.

Extra Loew Dividend

Loew's Inc., declared an extra dividend of $1.00 and a regular quarterly dividend of 50c on common, both available December 31 to stockholders of record December 13.

CALL

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.

for

Library Stock Scenes

New York Hollywood
130 W. 46 St., c/o Leon Schlesinger
Bryant 8181 1123 No. Bronson Ave.

TRAVELERS select the Great Northern for its wonderful location in Chicago's "loop". They return because the large comfortable rooms, homelike environment, attentive service, excellent food and moderate charges make it an ideal hotel.

400 Newly Furnished Rooms, $2.50 a day and up. Sample Rooms $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00.

Walter Craighead, Manager
DEARBORN STREET FROM JACKSON TO QUINCY
New Garage One-Half Block

Movie Glossary

Frank J. Wilstach has put together some of the trade terms heard in the motion picture industry. Here are a few of them.

A Bust: When a picture does not draw.

A Chaney: A freak make-up.

A Frame: Each individual photograph in a strip of film.

A Lot of Hay-Wire: Flimsy; unsubstantial.

A Natural: Success without ballyhoo.

A Seat Filler: A motion picture salesman's expression for a good picture.

A Shooting Gallery House: A theatre playing westerns, action pictures and inexpensive product.

A Trailer: A few hundred feet of film announcing a forthcoming picture.

America's Sweetheart: Mary Pickford.

Amplifier: The electrical apparatus similar to that in modern radio sets, which magnifies the human voice during the recording or reproducing process.

Art: Means Photographs of the star, her home, her dog, or other item.

B. O. A.: Box office attraction. Any popular and profitable picture.

Baby Spot: A small type of spotlight.

Bank: Lights grouped.

Black Lighting: Banking of lights to produce an aura.

Block Booking: The renting of pictures in quantity.

Bloops: A voice with echoing quality.

Bombom: A light that is shaped something like the old baby spots.

Brains: A phrase used sometimes derisively for the scenarist.

Break Its Neck: The hanging of white silk sheets in front of lights in order to diffuse the lights.

Breakaway: Furniture or scenery that comes apart for comedy uses.

Broad: Large light throwing broadside beam.

Broads: Side arcs.

Burning One: To throw extra strong lights on one in photographing.

Camera: Direction of cameraman to start turning his camera.

Casaba: A one stand light, that looks like an egg bisected laterally.

Central: Central casting bureau.

Charley: A fellow with a mustache.

Cheat the Chair: Means that the property man is to shove the chair backwards and forwards, slightly.

Clinch: Final love scene in a picture.

Coffee Grinder: The camera.

Close-up: When the face of a person fills the entire eye of the camera.

Coming Through: Warning given by workmen who are carrying any heavy article through a crowd.

Comma Hound: Editor of titles.

Continuity: The action in a series of scenes for the guidance of the director.

Cook the Opera: Preparing story for moving picture production.

Cook's Tours: Visitors in a studio.

11 AMPA Ex-Presidents

At Harvey Luncheon

(Continued from page 1)

these well-known personalities in the motion picture business is exceptional because of their present prominence and important executive positions. All have been active publicity and advertising exploitation men, and are proud of it.

Arthur James, the first President, who served two terms—1916-1918—is now the Editor publisher of motion picture trade papers—Motion Pictures Today, a weekly, and Daily Review. P. A. Parsons, President during 1918-1919, is now in his 16th year as a promotion executive with Pathe, which, incidentally, is probably a record in the film business. Paul Gulick, 1919-'20, is Publicity Director of Universal for a long term of years. Paul W. Lazarus, 1920-'21, is a sales executive with United Artists. C. L. Yearsley, 1921-'22, long with First National is now right-hand man to J. D. Williams of World Wide Pictures. John C. Flinn, 1922-'23 is Vice President of Pathe. Victor M. Shapiro, 1923-'24, is Director of Advertising and Publicity for United Artists. A. M. Botsford, 1924-'25, is Advertising Director of Publix Theatres. Glendon Allvine, 1925-'26, is Director of Advertising and Publicity for Fox Films. Walter F. Eberhardt, 1926-'27 is associated with the Advertising and Publicity staff at First National Pictures. George B. Gallup, Jr., is Advertising Manager of United Artists and George Harvey is Director of Advertising and Publicity for Pathe Exchange, Inc.

The achievements of these men are outstanding proof of the fine type of individuals who have made and are making the Associated Motion Picture Advertisers one of the most important organizations in the film industry.

Maj. Albert Warner Slated For 1st Natl. Presidency

(Continued from page 1)

companies will be joined and operated out of the same offices, but with different sales forces. The physical distribution, booking, shipping, poster departments, examining force, accounting, etc., will all be handled by one crew, thereby saving a ton of money in rents and salaries. What offices the joint distribution will occupy will depend on the space now held by one or the other, the price and the location.

Changes in Production

The weeding-out process on the West Coast has become evident. Directors, players, writers, unit business managers, etc., have been given the gate at the Burbank plant by Jack Warner, general manager in charge of production of both organizations. It is the intention of Warner to whittle production costs of the F.N. picture down to the size of the Warner productions. The high salaried director, player or business executive is on the move out of Burbank.

McCurdy Par. Mgr.

With twenty-two years of theatrical experience behind him, despite the fact he is only thirty-six years of age, John L. McCurdy assumes the post of managing director of the new Brooklyn-Paramount theatre, Paramount Square, Flatbush and DeKalb Avenues, when it opens on November 24th.

Associated Theatre Owners of America Pick Metzger

KENWORTHY HEADS NEW OHIO ALLIED GROUP

SEATTLE — The Allied Amusements of North Idaho was formed at a meeting of theatre owners of Northern Idaho last week at the Davenport Hotel in Spokane.

M. Kenworthy was elected president; F. F. Moe Kellogg, V.P. and Eddie Rivers, Secretary-Treasurer. The organization was formed to affiliate with the Western States Theatre Owners or the South Idaho group.

Bristolphone in Mich.

DETROIT—Two orders for Sonora-Bristolphone machines have been received by the Favorite Film Company for installation in Muskegon and in Springett's Family Theatre in Jackson.

Cutting "Bway Melody"

"Broadway Melody," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer talkie and single has been completed and is in the process of being cut and edited. Bessie Love has the leading feminine role in this picture and M-G-M seems to think it has a big winner in this production.

CHICAGO — The new Board of Directors of the Associated Theatre Owners of America was held last week and Charles R. Metzger, General manager and counsel, was given full powers to act for the association in all matters.

Helen Brown continues as assistant manager and secretary; Metzger holds a similar position to his present one, with the Associated Theatre Owners of Indiana.

June Marlowe to Star In 2 European Films

June Marlow has been selected by Universal to play the leading role in the two European productions which Joseph Levigard is to produce abroad. She is soon to sail for Europe accompanied by Joe Pasternack, who is to be Kohner's assistant on production in Europe.

The two specials which Levigard is to direct are "Fallen Angels" by Arthur Somers Roche and "The House of Glass," by Max Marcini.

Hays Presents Film

A special reel entitled "Rising Women" has been compiled by the Hays organization, composed of newsreel pictures of modern activities of womankind. This was presented to the N. Y. State Federation of Women's Clubs, by Will H. Hays.

s-s-S-Sh-Sh !

IT'S A SECRET — —
AND WE'RE LETTING YOU IN ON IT!

DON'T MISS THE BIG NIGHT

Motion Picture Salesmen, Inc.

8th ANNUAL

DINNER DANCE
ENTERTAINMENT AND SOUVENIRS

HOTEL COMMODORE

THIS SATURDAY NIGHT

NOVEMBER 24, 1928

SOL TITLE, Chairman

Room 805

729—7th Avenue, N. Y. C.

Telephone Bryant 0421

Horatio Alger Hero Rises From Hash-Slinger to Production Mgr. in 3 Years

Joe Pasternak Given First Chance by Dwan Now
"U" Executive

EN ROUTE TO EUROPE

A real Horatio Alger story of the rise of a little immigrant boy, from a studio waiter to a production manager in a short period of three years is found in the announcement from Universal that Joe Pasternak, general assistant at Universal City was leaving to join Paul Kohner in Berlin where he will act as assistant production manager of all foreign production under Kohner.

Determination

Pasternak made up his mind he was going to get in the picture business in some capacity a few days after he arrived in this country from Budapest. He hung around the Long Island studios of Paramount for days and days, trying to break in some how. Finally on the morning of a big press luncheon given at the studio, the restaurant manager up against it for waiters approached Joe and asked if he wanted a days work. From then on this boy used all the cunning of a genius to get him out of the restaurant on the studio floor. This was accomplished through Alan Dwan who made him his second assistant. He worked with Dwan later as his first assistant, with Eddie Sutherland and Mal St. Claire. Later when the studio closed he went to the Coast, got a job at Universal as assistant to Wesley Ruggles and from then on the steps were easy to his present advancement.

Speaks Six Languages

Aside from making a careful study of production, both the technical and business end Pasternak made it his business to go out of his way to please anyone from the office boy to general manager. A wise move. He speaks six languages.

P-F-L PRODUCT TO PLAY PUBLIX METROPOLITAN

LOS ANGELES — Publix Theatre Corporation, after deciding to operate the Metropolitan Theatre independently of any other organization on the Pacific Coast, has arranged for new bookings for that theatre which involve showings of the remainder of the 1928 Paramount-Famous-Lasky product and selected pictures from other studios.

Gaumont British Takes over German Prod. Syndicate

(Continued from page 1)

a Foreign Producing Syndicate.

This idea found favor among English exhibitors and it seemed to take shape in the formation of an independent British exhibitors' producing organization.

If now, a British producing and renting concern buys the D.L.S. it seems as if the whole idea of such an independent exhibitors' syndicate is dead and buried.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Lon Ostrow has left M-G-M to join Columbia as supervisor of production.

Carol Lombard is to be made a star by Pathe. She has been a contract player for six months.

Ken Maynard's next picture for First National will be "The California Mail." Al Rogell will direct.

Conrad Nagel will have the lead in Cecil DeMille's forthcoming talkie, "Dynamite."

Tom Gibson has been signed to write dialogue for Pathe. His first assignment will be "Noisy Neighbors."

Lionel Atwill has started on his third short talkie for Fox. This will be called "The Knife".

Fred Wilde will direct Harold Lloyd's next picture.

Harry Pollard is on his way East to arrange for orchestration and songs for "Show Boat." He will also scout for actors for "The Minstrel Man," his next for Universal.

Joe E. Brown will make personal appearance for United Artists in connection with the picture, "Hit of the Show."

Sammy Cohen will make a tour of the Publix circuit when his contract with Fox is up. He will start in Chicago January 19th.

Howard Hughes is adding dialogue to the colored effects of "Hell's Angels."

King Vidor has completed "Hallelujah" in the east and is on his way back to the coast. This is the M-G-M all-colored picture.

Robert Emmett Keane and Claire Whitney, musical comedy and variety stars have been signed by Warner Bros. to make a Vitaphone comedy, "Gossip."

George Fawcett has been signed by Paramount for the part of Col. Faversham in "Four Feathers."

Miss Juliet will make her Vitaphone debut in an act of impersonations called "Forget Me Not."

Charley Chase, between pictures, is starring in a Publix review on the west coast.

Estelle Bradley has an important part in the new Educational comedy, "Bumping Along."

Trixie Friganza will present her act, "My Bag O' Trix," for Vitaphone shortly.

Chester Conklin will furnish the comedy in Jack Holt's newest western for Paramount, "Sunset Pass."

Dorothy Parker leaves Thursday night for the coast where she will write dialogue for M-G-M talking pictures.

"Sound" Values

An argument heard at the Motion Picture Club.

Mike: "These producers are crazy spending so much money in making sound pictures. There are not sufficient theatres with sound equipment to pay the negative cost even if they played in every house."

Ike: "You're nuts. You don't know what you are talking about. Bill Fox got his negative cost back on "The Street Angel" after playing his own first run houses in New York, Brooklyn, Detroit and Philadelphia. Where do you get off with that talk."

SCHERTZINGER HERE FOR ASTORIA JOB

Victor Schertzinger, Paramount director, arrived in New York yesterday to start preparation of the next Richard Dix picture "Nothing But The Truth" to be made at the Long Island studio under the supervision of J. G. Bachman.

"Bulldog Drummond" was supposed to have been the next vehicle, but Paramount found Sam Goldwyn with an option on this play and as soon as Paramount took an interest in its values for a talking picture, Goldwyn exercised his option.

'CHARLATAN' BWAY HIT STARTS AT 'U' MONDAY

"The Charlatan," to be a special Universal production, from the stage success by Leonard Praskins, adapted for the screen by Robert N. Lee, will go into work at Universal City next Monday under the direction of George Melford.

Conrad Veidt is understood to be the star of the picture. Universal announces the following other players for the production, John George as the dwarf, Rockville Fellows, Lilyan Tashman, Anita Carvin and Bud Marshall.

The picture will be synchronized with sound effects and musical setting.

FBO Closing Studio

LOS ANGELES—All pictures on the 1928-29 schedule of FBO have been completed with the exception of one, on the finish of that one, the studio will close until it can be completely equipped with sound, which will require about 60 days.

PHOTOPHONE IN NEW K-A-O

(Continued from page 1)

the personal supervision of President E. F. Albee, it is a most desirable Christmas gift and one any community can well be proud of. It will be one of the first of the new houses to have installed the Radio Corporation's newest Photophone equipment.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

M-G-M WAITING

All eyes and ears in the M-G-M organization are tuned in on the cutting rooms of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Culver City studio. For it is there that this organizations first all-talkie "The Broadway Melody" is being put through the process of "make-ready". Every department is waiting the outcome. They want to know if they have an idea what this talking business is all about. If it is good and meets the advance made by other companies in their production of talking pictures, everything will be O.K. If on the other hand this production proves that M-G-M still has a lot to learn in the production of this type of entertainment—well, they will have to start all over again. Nick Schenck could not wait for the results, he hopped the Century the other day to be on hand when the patient was brought in.

SPEAKING OF WAITING—

And while on the subject of this watchful waiting, Paramount was in a similar position a few weeks ago when they were standing in the outer office waiting for their production of "Interference" to be wheeled in. And Oh! boy, what a tonic they received for their strained nerves. It seemed too good to be true.

To us; one of the most remarkable achievements made in talking pictures at this stage of the game is the almost technical perfection of this first Paramount all-talkie. When you figure that this organization accomplished more with the recording of the spoken word in their maiden effort than other organizations have in their months it makes you realize the great quality of the producing resources of Paramount. Certainly the major credit should go to Roy Pomeroy, but this gentleman is in the employ of Paramount, accordingly the organization can step out and take plenty of bows on "Interference" and say to other producers "there it is boys, go out and make one as good".

"THE LETTER"

And to prove that this first one was not an accident they will soon release their second all-talkie "The Letter". We talked to several people who have had a look at it and from their remarks we judge this one is even better than their first. Of particular note on "The Letter" is the fact that straight Western Electric recording was used and not the Pomeroy two negative two print process. This will interest quite a few in view of the fact we heard remarks after the initial showing of "Interference" conveying the thought that, on account of its tremendous expense in both production and projection the Pomeroy idea was not practical and that Paramount spent a barrel of money and tremendous effort to create an impression and that their future product would dive to a level far below that being attained in their initial production. If "The Letter" is of the quality we have reason to believe, it will answer the skeptics.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 120

New York, Friday, November 23, 1928

FIVE CENTS

A Slant International

By ARTHUR JAMES

The Anglo American Cup awarded for this year to Dr. Giannini and so worthily to be held by him for the 12 month period, should be held in the highest regard despite the petty animosities of rival publishers or other persons who by their printed expressions seem to be short of vision. We earnestly recommend that the A.M.P.A. call for an English committee to determine next year's winner and that this committee be chosen by the responsibilities of the industry in Great Britain.

The committee, if we may make bold to suggest, should consist of some five or seven gentlemen who beginning immediately shall look for the acts and service that shall warrant its award a year hence. This opens the field for all and sundry to devise plans and express ideas and promote projects that shall really develop a spirit of international amity, cooperation and conduct.

It is a great honor to be awarded this cup. It should stimulate our best brains and encourage our kindest and most sincere sympathies and its attainment should be a proper goal.

Mr. Sam Harris in the first instance put the matter up to the A.M.P.A. and the Anglo American dinner and its happy results have justified that confidence. But if we are to be fully international let the next award be made on the other side of the water and let our English leaders decide.

Who has, in their opinion, done the most to promote the good spirit between the two great English speaking peoples? From what know we now—Martin Quigley, Bill Johnston or Jack Alicoate might win it—if they pursued a policy that would earn it. As for themselves, we would be glad to announce the selection of either of these gentlemen in the merits of the situation. And we say at this point that American trade journalism is a bit more sporting than the British. Fredman of the Renter sought to knock and discredit Mr. Sam Harris. His stuff has been about as silly as anything we have seen and especially are we reminded of the fact that the A.M.P.A. gave this person a dinner enabling him to get advertising for his paper—which he jolly well did—and yet he cheaply pans a fine idea so well carried through with dignity and importance.

FOX ANNOUNCES MOVIE TONE NEWS EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR

Kent Denies Zukor-Schenck Fake

"I regard as absolutely silly the published inference drawn from the fact Adolph Zukor and Nicholas Schenck are travelling together from New York to Hollywood. This is not the first time the two men have travelled together with their families. They made the trip in the same manner last November when I was a member of the party and, in previous years, Marcus Loew travelled to the Coast aboard Paramount special convention trains.

"I deny all of the published rumors referring to negotiation looking towards combinations or closer understandings which arose through the fact Mr. Zukor and Mr. Nicholas Schenck travelled together to the Coast."

M-G-M FILES JUDGMENT TO COMPEL ARBITRATION

Exhibitors who refuse to submit to film arbitration can be forced to do so, as was shown this week when the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer New York exchange had a case against the Louis Theatre Corporation brought before the Film Board of arbitration to compel the theatre owner

(Continued on page 4)

RCA Television Set

Radio Corporation of America have a television set installed in their Fifth Avenue studio. It is being used for experimentation at present.

Ufa Passes Dividend

BERLIN—German Ufa Film Co., reorganized last year, has omitted the common dividend. It is reducing the amount owed former creditors to 11,480,000 marks.

$3,000,000 for Kennedy

Having obtained the 84% percent of common stock of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum, more than enough to ratify the deal of selling this company to RCA, it is gossiped around Broadway that Joseph P. Kennedy who went into K-A-O six months ago with practically no investment, but as representative for the banking group that acquired the interests of E. F. Albee, is now walking out with $3,000,000.

Not so bad for a young and enterprising fellow, trying to get along.

"Marriage Contract" for U. A. and Eastman

Tiffany-Stahl has just concluded arrangements for the showing of their production "Marriage Contract" in the George Eastman Theatre in Rochester and the United Artists Theatre in Los Angeles.

Fox Theatres Show Two Million Profit

Profit of Fox Theatres Corp. for year ended October 31, 1928, excluding Roxy Theatres Corp. and Fox Case Corp., was $2,144,898 after depreciation but before taxes. In previous year company reported net profit of $823,658 after charges and adjustment for federal income tax reserve.

First National Cleared of Block-Book Charge by Trade Commission

The Federal Trade Commission has decided in favor of First National Pictures, Inc., in dismissing an application for complaint charging First National Pictures, Inc., with violating the law in employing the practice of block booking, according to an announcement today by Irving D. Rossheim, President of First National Pictures, Inc.

On March 5, 1928, First National was notified by Otis B. Johnson, Secretary of the Federal Trade Commission, that:

"The Federal Trade Commission has reason to believe you are violating the law in employing the practice known as block booking in the

(Continued on page 2)

Fifty Travelling Trucks Scattered Throughout World—75 to Come

Theatre Attendance to Be Stimulated

A Fox Movietone News release every day in the year was announced late yesterday by James R. Granger, general sales manager, after a final approval had been given by William Fox.

The increase in releases is progressive. Beginning December 1 three Fox Movietone News issues will be put out weekly. February 2, 1929, there will be four each week. April 6th, there will be 5; June 1, six.

(Continued on page 2)

FISHERS DROP RCA FOR NEW FILM CO.

(By Special Correspondent)

DETROIT — With the selling of their entire holdings in RCA this week, it has been intimated here that the Fisher Brothers, manufacturers of automobile bodies and in control of hundreds of other enterprises, will enter the picture business on a very large scale.

It is said their original buy in RCA was with a hope of being able

(Continued on page 2)

Madan Sails Today With Simplex Contract

LONDON—B. J. Madan, co-managing director with his brother, of the Madan Theatre Circuit, India, is sailing today for home, having completed his business deals in Great Britain and America.

In the U. S., Madan bought the outputs of Fox, Universal, Warner, Paramount, United Artists and FBO for India and acquired exclusive rights for the Simplex projector for that country.

Madan further contracted for the installation of Movietone and Vitaphone apparatus in Bombay theatres.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

J. Harrison Edwards, West Coast Representative, Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles.

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

The ping pong set at the Motion Picture Club resents the asparagus cast on their pet pastime by the wise-crackers—I agree they are not getting a fair break and insist that ping pong is a real game, but not for strong women—Lee Ochs has a son big enough to lick him but he is too good a lad to prove it — Georgie Jessel will undoubtedly surprise 'em when his talkie is released to the public and this is a tip —Quinn Martin, New York's handsomest motion picture critic is (as Winchell says it) that way over Paramount's "Interference" — Joe Fine is handling the advertising for the Fox Athletic Club's annual party and he'll handle all that's accompanied by the proper accompaniment—Hank Linet, formerly of this paper and Motion Pictures Today, has gone regional—Benjamin DeCasseres, the luminous critic of pictures, has written another book "Anathema" and the sale already is large—The foreword was written by Eugene O'Neill who Hairy Aped before He Desired Under the Elms or Strange Interlude—and by the way, some scrivener calls the latter "The Strange Interlewd" — Joe Brandt who, before Prohibition, was affectionately known as Brandy, wears dress clothes with a grace that suggests he was born with 'em on—Another tip — Watch for bigger and better mergers, deals and combinations before New Years.

Myers Goes Into Huddle With "3 Wise Men" Before Contract

Good Bye, Hali!

The startling innovation of removing the menace of halitosis confronting patrons of 40 West Coast Theatres has been achieved by a general order to all house ushers to gargle with a mild deodorant.

Good-bye Hali!

TIFFANY TRADE LUNCH FOR JESSEL 'LUCKY BOY'

Tiffany-Stahl fed the "hungery" yesterday. The occasion being the shooting of some of the interior sequences in sound at the RCA studio's for the George Jessel picture, "Lucky Boy".

It used to be known as "The Ghetto" and the silent production was finished last April in Hollywood, but T.F. decided to sound a few of the sequences with Jessel singing some songs. If the picture is as good as the lunch, they will have a big hit.

Fishers Drop RCA

For New Film Co.

(Continued on page 2)

to get control, but finding this was next to impossible, sold their stock and have been talking to several important picture executives of one of the independent producing and distributing organizations with a view of throwing their entire financial backing into the company.

Fox Announces Movietone News Every Day in the Year

(Continued from page 1)

and beginning September 1, 1929, there will be seven each week and this schedule will continue thereafter.

Fifty trucks, recording sound and picture subjects are now at work and by April 1, there will be 75 at work all over the world.

The King George of England subject will be among the first three reels to be issued on the week of December 1. Next, King Alfonso of Spain, Lloyd George, Richard Strauss and 120 other subjects already produced and recorded are in hand and ready.

As an attendance stimulation this event is of the utmost importance as within one year from date, 4,500 sound installations are promised by Western Electric alone.

Of the 779 theatres now equipped for sound Fox Movietone News is serving 600.

This latest announcement is another evidence of Fox courage, Fox showmanship and Fox progress.

Holmes in Town

O. J. Holmes of the Holmes producer, is in New York stopping at the Victoria. He anticipates remaining here at least a week.

FOX XMAS SPECIAL ON THE WAY EAST

The Fox Special Christmas production, a three-reel talkie song and soundie is on the way East. Handel's exquisite music and the Christmas carols are used.

Marcel Silver directed with David Rollins and Nancy Drexel in the leads. With this for the holiday week, will be shown "Prep and Pep" a picture of youth.

British Quota Not

Slap at Americans

The highlights of yesterday's AMPA meeting were talks by Nat Rothstein, who recounted his recent experiences and observations in Europe, and Sam Harris, of "Today's Cinema", London, who sought to remove the erroneous impression that the British quota was against American films.

Harris stated that the Quota was chiefly for the purpose of furnishing greater financial assistance to home production and exhibition.

First National Cleared of Block Book Charge

(Continued from page 1)

film industry. You may have informal hearing before the Board of Review on the questions of fact involved, within thirty days, if desired. Such hearing in nature of opportunity to show cause why complaint should not issue against you alleging violation of law." The following notice was received from the Commission yesterday:

"With reference to an application for complaint lodged with this Commission with respect to certain practices alleged to have been followed by your firm, I am now writing to inform you that the Commission, having conducted a preliminary inquiry in the matter, has dismissed the application, being of the opinion that the facts developed did not call for the exercise of the remedial powers granted by law to this Commission. By direction of the Commission."

Dix in Town

Richard Dix arrived in town yesterday for his forthcoming all-talker to be made by Paramount on Long Island. As has been reported before it will be "Nothing But The Truth".

Warners Call Class "A"

Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., has issued a notice to owners of class A stock that Dec. 1 is the last day on which they may convert their class A stock into common stock of the corporation and that all class A stock not converted has been called for redemption on that date at $21.50 a share. A special meeting of shareholders will be held on Dec. 4.

"The Park Central Houses the Picture Industry"

When one of your contract players or stars visit New York

A LUNCHEON AT THE PARK CENTRAL

in one of our many private dining rooms is the very thing for a press interview

We would suggest that you visit us and inspect some of these individual dining salons, and talk over your desires with our banquet department.

THE PARK CENTRAL

FIFTY-FIFTH STREET AT 7th AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY

and now

OSWALD

THE LUCKY RABBIT

in SOUND!

with the

UNIVERSAL JAZZ BAND

Oswald, the Lucky Rabbit, is going to be more comical than ever before. Because, now he'll be in sound. And what sound—squeaking, roaring, squealing, wheezing, and sounds that there are no names for. Assisting Oswald will be the syncopating Universal Jazz Band.

Oswald's nutty—the music will be nutty—the sound effects nuttier still. But funny? Just give a listen.

For unwired houses, Oswald will continue to caper in silent form.

15 sound cartoon sensations

Winkler Productions

Released by

UNIVERSAL

FOX ROW GOES JOURNALISTIC

25 Ex-Newspapermen on Prod. Staff—Sheehan and Publicity Dept. to Appear In "Scarehead"

By J. HARRISON EDWARDS
West Coast Correspondent

It's a time-honored saying in journalistic circles that once a newspaper man gets the printer's ink in his blood, he never gets it entirely out.

Fox is making a newspaper story under the title of "Scarehead," directed by Fred Newmeyer, written by J. Clarkson Miller and supervised by Luther Reed—all seasoned newspapermen. They thought they represented quite a goodly proportion of journalistic talent on the Fox lot. But their activities have brought graduates from Park Row and other printing press hotbeds swarming from all sorts of nooks and corners.

Winfield Sheehan, vice president and general manager of Fox Films; Malcolm Stuart Boylan, editorial supervisor and head title writer; Chandler Sprague, scenario editor; Freddie Schader, Archie Buchanan, Ed. Walton, Douglas Z. Doty, Raymond Cannon, Jimmy Gruen, F. D. Langton, Seton Miller, James K. McGuinness, H. Keith Weeks, D. G. Tomlinson, Eugene Walter, Paul Gerard Smith, Arthur Caesar, Marion Spitzer, Virginia Carneal, F. H. Brennan, Edmund Joseph, Marcel Silver, Benny Markson, Harry Brand, Charles Condon and the entire publicity staff, will be seen in the picture.

The average director feels he is kept hopping by having one supervisor to stand at his elbow. Just figure how fast Newmeyer and his assistants are bound to keep moving, with such an array of experts willing-nay, eager-to give suggestions.

PATHE SINKS $450,000 IN 3 PRODUCTIONS

PARIS—Charles Pathe, who has become active again in film production has offered financial assistance to Wengeroff, German film impresario, for the production of three Franco-German pictures, in which on the French side, the Etablissements Aubert will collaborate.

The sum of nine million francs, on account, has been deposited in the Banque du Nord, for this purpose.

Three million francs will be spent on one production "Caligostro" in which the Societe des Films Albatros is interested.

Norma Shearer Gets Coveted "Dugan" Role

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has selected Norma Shearer to play the principal role in "The Trial of Mary Dugan" which has gone into preparation.

Bayard Veiller has completed the screen version and Robert Z. Leonard will direct the dialogue in conjunction with Frederick Lonsdale. Raymond Hackett will play the male lead.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Jacqueline Logan, Warner Oland and Gaston Glass signed for Columbia's "The Faker."

First National announces that they have signed Lincoln Stedman and Louis Natheaux for important roles in Colleen Moore's next picture, "That's a Bad Girl."

Norma Shearer has started work in "The Trial of Mary Dugan." Bayard Veiller, who wrote it, is also directing.

Edward Farle is playing the heavy in Buster Keaton's picture, "Spite Marriage."

James Hall has been loaned by Paramount to Sam Goldwyn to play the male lead in Banky's picture, which will be made on the coast after all.

Production on "The Hole in the Wall" has started at the Paramount Astoria studios.

Bert Glennon has started work on "Stepping High" for FBO.

Betty Bronson may be given the lead in Universal's production of "Broadway."

M-G-M is shooting short stuff only up at the 126th Street and Second Avenue studios.

Warner Baxter has signed a five year contract with Fox.

Victor Schertzinger will direct Richard Dix at Paramount's Astoria studios in his next, probably "The Wheel of Life."

Raoul Walsh will arrive in New York, on vacation, some time next week.

Olga Baclanova is seriously ill with influenza in Hollywood.

O. P. Heggie leaves for the coast today to play in Paramount's "A Genius is Born."

Junior Coughlan will begin "Square Shoulders," his first dialogue Photophone production within a few days at the studios in Culver City. Louis Wolheim will play Junior's father and Anita Louise has been signed as the child feminine lead. E. Mason Hopper will direct.

Mitchell Leisen, for years art director for Cecil B. DeMille will be chief assistant to Mr. DeMille during the making of "Dynamite" by Jeanie Macpherson.

John Kraft, title writer at Pathe is editing "The Leatherneck," William Boyd's latest starring vehicle.

Ginger Conley will support Big Boy in "Follow Teacher," Educational's latest Big Boy starring vehicle.

Sylvia Fields, stage star, will play the lead in Willard Mack's production of "Haunted" for M-G-M.

A Rothstein Picture?

There is a rumor around Broadway that several people are considering the making of a picture with the story patterned after the life of Arnold Rothstein, noted New York gambler, recently murdered.

We hope it is just a rumor for pictures can get along quite well without making capital of a series of events in the life of this man.

W. R. W.

Erickson Fox Director

A. F. Erickson, better known as "Buddy", assistant director to F. W. Murnau, and who was for seven years assistant director to John Griffith Wray, has at last been given a directorship. Luther Reed is to supervise the production.

Goldwyn Company Leaves

The Sam Goldwyn company, at present in New York shooting exteriors for the new Vilma Banky picture, have decided to return to the coast, and duplicate the shots they wanted to make of New York, in the Hollywood studios.

This decision was determined after two days work on the streets surrounded by such crowds that shooting effective scenes proved impossible. James Hall has supplanted Roy Montgomery as the lead.

Seize Murray Assets

LOS ANGELES — Mae Murray's autos, money and furniture have been seized by the sheriff, who served a writ of attachment at the behest of a Los Angeles bank, which alleged that the star failed to meet a foreclosure action.

The seizure was made despite the fact that Miss Murray was victor in two law suits recently against a Hollywood architect, over a property dispute.

Charles Klein Directs Fox "White Fury"

Director Charles Klein has started production of "White Fury," his second picture for Fox Films.

The story by Frederick H. Brennan and Becky Gardiner was adapted to the screen by Harry Behn, and deals with the reversion to primitive passions of a group of civilized persons stranded in the frozen northland.

M-G-M Files Judgement To Compel Arbitration

(Continued from page 1)

to submit his claim to arbitration. The formal method was chosen of applying to the N. Y. Supreme Court for a judgment of $944 for pictures unplayed, in order to enter the judgment so that execution could be issued against the property of the exhibitor, who is no longer operating his theatre.

If the exhibitor does not appear before the arbitration board, the judgment will be issued against him for collection.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

WHEN?

There is hardly a question in any person's mind but what our producing forces will soon decide on one definite form of recording for sound pictures. Will it be disc or will it be put on the film? Each side has its champions at present with no thought of giving in to the other. But until experimental progress and actual practice determines which is the best, sound pictures will continue to be up in the air a bit. Exhibitors think they are the goat in the argument, being forced at present to install a dual system in order to play the variety of pictures they have been in the habit of using. The decision to adopt one or the other system will probably be some time coming, but the sooner it does, the better it will be for everyone.

IMPOSSIBLE

The Sammy Goldwyn-Vilma Banky unit have found it almost impossible to set up a tripod on the streets of New York to shoot exterior scenes for their production of "Childs, Fifth Avenue." As soon as a camera is uncovered a million people swarm around it and in their effort to see what is going on retard actual work to such an extent that for what should only take a few minutes to accomplish, hours are consumed. This interference makes it very expensive and at best the scenes are not very effective, for after a director, cameraman and player fights the crowd away for a half hour, it is with difficulty the proper composure is retained to make the scene properly. We understand the unit is returning to Hollywood and will make the shots in the studio.

Other companies will, no doubt, profit by Sam Goldwyn's loss. Street scenes in New York are impossible. They cost more to make than is required to build a duplicate of the scenes on a studio lot. And too, And too, the weather in New York is always doubtful.

SAM MORRIS

Everything seems to point to the elevation of Sam Morris, at present general manager of Warners distribution, to the important post of g.m. of both Warner's and First National. This is a big job, probably the most important in our industry and from our point of view Sam is the boy that can handle it. Morris has sort of been hidden in this whole Warner spurt by the name of Warner, but his part in the miraculous rise of this company has been of tremendous importance and this elevation is the recognition of this great service.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Continuing Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 121

New York, Saturday, November 24, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Orchestras Other Things

By ARTHUR JAMES

Mike Ciofine was advised by this newspaper of the startling announcement by Fox of coming movie-tone news release every day. "Well", he said after a brief silence, "I suppose Mr. Hearst will now be going in for a morning and evening edition".

...

In one of America's finest motion picture theatres we noted the orchestra clad in colored coats as they fiddled and trumpeted through a classic symphony. Everybody but the leader looked like an organ grinder's monkey and there was a sorry contrast between the majesty of the music and the trick clothes of the players. For jazz orchestras all the funny costumes that the barmies in and out of the booby hatches can devise, invent and contrive are all right, but for great orchestras playing music of impressive dignity and power the smart evening clothes with the spotless shirt fronts and the black bow ties can't be improved upon.

Can you figure Abraham Lincoln delivering his Gettysburg address attired in a clown rig?

...

Frank J. Wilstach in his movie glossary defines a "Broad" as a "large light throwing broadside beam". All right, Frank, now go on with the story.

...

"Lucky Boy", the talkie and sound special produced by Tiffany-Stahl with George Jessel, has so definite an appeal for the public that it is being classed now with the Jolson pictures which have proved such a tremendous success. The original story, on a Ghetto theme, has been entirely redone and a great deal of money has been expended in building it up to a big attraction. The Jessel songs are reported to have been reproduced with remarkable clarity and the picture is apparently now in the same position that "The Covered Wagon" was after it was enlarged and made into a success attraction.

OHIO FANATICS LAUNCH BILL FOR TALKIE CONTROL JAN. 7

Shuberts Cleaning up $10,000 Per Week on "Singing Fool"

MANNY GOLDSTEIN NEW SARNOFF CONTACT MAN

Word was around town yesterday that E. H. Goldstein, former general manager of Universal, will join RCA as the motion picture contact man for David Sarnoff, Vice President and general manager of RCA and chairman of the board of RCA-K-A-O-FBO.

PICQUET N. C. GROUP TO STAY M.P.T.O.A.

PINEHURST, N. C.—There seems to be no doubt but that the Theatre Owners Association of North Carolina will continue with the National Organization, when the Annual Convention begins in Charlotte, N. C., December 10th and 11th, according to President Charles W. Picquet.

The feeling among the exhibitors in the association is that the M.P.T.O.A. is now well qualified to handle the national end of it. R. F. Woodhull, the National President, A. Julian Brylawski of Washington, M. A. Lightman of Arkansas and C. C. Pettijohn are expected to attend the convention.

Among the principal topics to be discussed in Charlotte will be the Sound situation as it affects the exhibitor on Main Street. Legislative matters will be a very serious question this year, as well as other subjects affecting the North Carolina Association.

The Reverend Murdock McLeod, who made such a favorable impression at the M.P.T.O.A. banquet in Toronto, will act as toast-master at the Annual Banquet of the North Carolina Association.

NATIONAL SCREEN FOR BIG BOARD

National Screen Service has disposed of a part of its holdings to the brokerage firm of Samuel Ungerleider & Co., who it is understood will later on bring the stock out on the board.

"Noah's Ark" to Play Win- ter Garden and 4 Big Shubert Houses

Warner Brothers "Noah's Ark" which will follow "The Singing Fool" at the Winter Garden, will also be shown in the near future at four of the largest houses in the Shubert chain, situated in Philadelphia, Chicago, Pittsburgh and Boston, which are now being wired for Vitaphone.

All of Shubert's 98 theatres in 24 cities will eventually be wired for sound films, the company finding it a very profitable proposition. "The Singing Fool" at the Shubert Winter Garden in N. Y., has netted them a weekly profit of $10,000.

The Jolson picture has been grossing as high as $50,000 a week and its average for nine weeks has been $42,000. The Shuberts' share of this is 40%. The receipts from the film have been larger than Jolson's previous personal appearance in this theatre, due to the fact that the theatre is giving 17 performances in all

(Continued on page 4)

ROSABELLE LAEMMLE ENGAGED TO WED

Miss Rosabelle Laemmle, only daughter of Carl Laemmle, president of the Universal Pictures Corporation, is engaged to be married to Stanley Bergerman, an executive of the May Company, big department store corporation of Chicago, Los Angeles and other points, it was announced yesterday by the Universal chief.

"The Viking" at Embassy

"The Viking," an all-Technicolor feature based on the exploits of Lief the Lucky, will have its world premiere next Wednesday (Nov. 28) at the Embassy Theatre.

Described as an innovation in picture-making and a film that will do much to demonstrate the future possibilities of color photography, "The Viking" was produced for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer by Dr. Herbert Kalmus.

State Education Head to Introduce Measure for Special Censor

THREATENS 2 FILMS

COLUMBUS, O.—Exhibitors in the Ohio territory are expected to begin a strong campaign shortly against the destructive plans made public at the Ohio Council of Churches convention this week.

J. L. Clifton, state director of education, who addressed delegates of the Church organization, and who seeks to wield the censor power in his state, advised that legislation to control the "talkies" will be placed before the next legislature.

Clifton cited two films which he intended to bar from showings in Ohio hereafter. They are the "Birth of a Nation" and "Jesse James", a Paramount production.

The pictures will be barred "in the interest of what is best for the people of Ohio," according to Clifton, who further told his audience

(Continued on page 4)

B & K EARNINGS FOR 9 MOS. $1,593,375

CHICAGO—The Balaban & Katz Corporation is floating a new $5,000,000 5½% Serial Gold Notes, of an authorized $7,500,000 issue.

The proceeds of the issue will be applied to retire certain outstanding indebtedness of the corporation, leaving it with no mortgages upon its real estate and no funded debt, other than this issue.

The net assets of the corporation are listed at $16,679,432, and has reported net earnings for the first nine months of 1928, of $1,593,375.

Publix Takes over 3 Rochester Houses

Publix Theatres have taken over the Eastman, Piccadilly and Regent Theatres in Rochester, N. Y. formerly operated by a company headed by George Eastman.

The present arrangement is the operation of the houses by Publix on a partnership basis, but they have an option to buy after the first of next year.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

J. Harrison Edwards, West Coast Representative, Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles.
London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

"Herbert Hoover" said Jay Dee only yesterday, "is interested in the Solid South America—Buckley of United Artists is meticulous and correct in dress and when a formal dinner is on you'll know it by observing his attire. This note is written not in lightness but in admiration—When a knocker wants to plant one in the middle of your back he speaks of you as "smart but unreliable" or says the trouble about you is "you won't stay put", ask the Unholy Three if this is right or wrong—When Jimmy Grainger read about Canon Chase as a "moral boa constrictor" (oh, yes, in this newspaper!) he got well of his heavy cold and went Foxing again—Jerry Beatty receives reports of his quit-tance of First National as "undesirable rumors".—George Harvey is living proof that you can make an advertising writer out of a publicity man and the Pathe copy shows it—I wonder if Jack Allicoate is really proud of Fredman (knocker of Hays, panner of J. D. Williams, and sneerer at all real American good will expressions) as his London correspondent and ally in his international news arrangement? Jack is so good a sportsman that it seems pitiful he should be trotting with a rotter—I extend my most elaborate sympathy, with tuberoses and hyacinths—Nat Rothstein gains laurel as the roughneck raconteur after his stag-gish speech before the A.M.P.A. and any man who didn't enjoy it probably carries lace handkerchiefs—Boothby of First National looks to me like a natural picture bet, gracious, modest but very definite about business. I expect much of a man of his abilities and capacity—Harry Thomas is as bad as William Fox about having new pictures taken but the essentials of business will iron out that modesty—Dinner time at the Motion Picture Club sees Ray Johnston present among the rapidly increasing patronage—Odd, but our good men do like their good food good—Hyatt Daab holds to the dictum that the flag of success follows advertising—If they would let him loose he'd make any company famous—

"Barker" Opening Changed to Dec. 5

Because of the elaborate preparations which are under way for the gala opening of First National's first dialogue picture, "The Barker," the opening date has been changed from December 3rd to December 5th. Milton Sills is starred in the title role and Dorothy Mackaill, Betty Compson and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., are featured. George Fitzmaurice directed the production.

Karch New Motion Picture Club Mgr.

By resolution of the Board of Directors at its last meeting, an invitation to undertake the duties of club manager as well as steward was extended to A. J. Karch.

Mr. Karch's experience has been so broad, his contacts in club life so numerous and his acquaintances so extensive that the club should congratulate itself that Mr. Karch is willing to undertake the additional duties of manager.

Gasnier-Knopf Signed

For its all talking production of William Robison's "A Genius is Born," Paramount has signed Louis Gasnier and Edward Knopf to direct. O. P. Heggie will have the lead. Gasnier is an old time director who has not done much in the past few years. Howard Knopf is the brother of the publisher and is altogether new to the picture business.

Roxy to Play "End of St. Petersburg" Dec. 8

"The End of St. Petersburg," acclaimed as the greatest picture Russia has produced has been booked by the Roxy Theatre for the week of December 8.

The deal with the Roxy was effected by the Big Three Exchange which is handling "The End of St. Petersburg" for Arthur Hammerstein.

Pudovkin, director of "The End of St. Petersburg," has just finished cutting his newest picture, "The Descendant of Ghenghis Khan," which will be released simultaneously in 60 theatres in Russia. Amkino Corporation, representing "Sovkino" of Moscow in the United States, announces that the picture will soon arrive in America.

Classified Advertisement

Advertisements in this section, 5 cents per word. Cash must be sent with order. No charge for Box Number line. Minimum order, $1. 10% discount 12 issues or more.

FOR SALE

TWO PAPER STENCIL CUTTING Machines Foot and Power . . . Sacrifice $35.00 each. National . . . 226 West 56th Street, City.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

WHETHER YOU WANT TO HIRE some one or be hired; buy or sell a theatre; trade or sell equipment, or do almost anything else in the motion picture business, an ad in this department will get you results. If you want us to word the ad for you, the services of our advertising experts are at your call. Simply tell us what you want to do, and how many words you want used. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

'NAPOLEON'S BARBER' ON ROXY ALL-TALKIE BILL

At the Roxy Theatre starting today there is an all-sound and talking picture program. John Ford's 3-reel production of "Napoleon's Barber", which costs $150,000 will be shown as well as a two-reel all-talkie comedy "The Bath Between", starring Clark & McCullough.

The latest edition of Movietone News will also be on the bill as well as a specially-devised stage program based on the "Napoleon" film.

2 Biophones Ordered By Lyric and Mason

Two prominent theatres in North Carolina have ordered installation of the Biophone apparatus. These houses are the Lyric Theatre, Rocky Mount and the Mason Theatre, Goldsboro.

The Biophone plant in Fort Lee is working at top speed to supply immediate delivery of the Biophone synchronization machines.

M. P. Salesmen at Commodore Tonight

The 8th Annual Dinner Dance and Entertainment of the Motion Picture Salesmen, Inc., will be held tonight at the Hotel Commodore.

The organization is composed of a large number of salesmen in the New York and New Jersey territory. Sol Title is chairman of the affair and is handling the tickets.

BKLYN-PARAMOUNT LAUNCHED TODAY

The newest link in the Paramount Publix chain of theatres, the Brooklyn-Paramount Theatre, at Paramount Square, Flatbush and DeKalb Avenues will throw its doors open to the public today at noon.

The opening picture is "Manhattan Cocktail" starring Richard Arlen and Nancy Carroll. The stage show is John Murray Anderson's production, "Stars." Henry Murtagh is the organist and John L. McCurdy managing director. Paul Ash is master of ceremonies.

INT'L. BEAUTY TOUR WINNERS LAND IN U. S.

The President Harding is bringing to the United States today a party of nine beauties, contest winners representing the different countries and cities in Europe, who are going on a tour of this country under the auspices of the International Beauty Tours, Incorporated.

The group includes Miss France, Mlle. Marguerite du Freche; Miss Paris, Mlle. Ginette Gaubert; Miss Luxembourg, Mlle. Anna Friedrich; Miss Russia, Mlle. Nathalie Barr; Miss England, Miss Engelo Joyce; Miss London, Miss Joy Ashley; Miss Berlin, Fraulein Marie T. Reiter; Miss Austria, Fraulein Elsie Korin and Miss Spain, Senorita Jacqueline Cobra. James A. Carrier and Guilford Read, managers are accompanying them.

In Philadelphia
Choose

HOTEL MAJESTIC

Broad Street and Girard Avenue
Philadelphia

400 Large Rooms

Only Hotel in Philadelphia with a subway entrance from main lobby

Wire at our expense
for reservations!

JNO. C. GOSSLER
Mgr. Dir.

PICTURE REVIEWS

"Outcast"

First National
Directed by..... William A. Seiter
Starring..... Corinne Griffith,
Edmund Lowe, Kathryn Carver
and Louise Fazenda.

CORINNE GRIFFITH IN BEST PICTURE SHE HAS MADE SINCE HER RETURN TO SCREEN. STRAIGHT DRAMA FOR THE GROWN UPS. SHOULD BE BIG HELP TO BOX OFFICE.

Miss Griffith, as Miriam, is a Lady of the Evening, befriended by a man whose sweetie has jilted him for an old man and his millions. He takes her to the wedding and makes a scene in Church insulting not only the lady but the outcast. He apologizes to Miriam and they become mutual help and inspiration to each other. Miriam falling deeply in love with Jeffrey, (E. Lowe). The ex-sweetie turns up again, full of evil intent but Miriam saves the day, situation and man by a clever ruse that shows up the society gal's cheapness and her own fineness.

This is decidedly Miss Griffith's picture with Edmund Lowe doing very well as the lover, but highest honors should go to the director. Seiter has used intelligence and subtle humor in fashioning a good picture out of a story full of pitfalls for a poor director. One sequence in particular is a fine example of excellent tongue-in-cheek humor. The synchronization and photography are both very good but tho the titles are few and far apart they are a very weak spot in the production.

"The Air-Legion"

FBO
Story by..... James Creelman
Directed by..... Bert Glennon
Featuring..... Ben Lyon,
Antonio Moreno and Martha Sleeper.

AIR-MAIL SERVICE PROPAGANDA. WILL GET BY THROUGH PRESENT CRAZE FOR AIR PICTURES. CHEAP PRODUCTION. CHILDREN MIGHT LIKE IT BUT THERE'S NOT MUCH KICK IN THIS ONE.

Tony Moreno is chief pilot at an air mail station and Martha Sleeper is the postmistress whom he is in love with. He helps place in the service the son of his dead army pal. This boy has been a stunt flyer and on his first flight for the service shows himself to be a coward. The boy falls in love with the postmistress and she with him and with this as inspiration, he conquers his cowardice for the glory of country, service and postmistress.

The direction is sloppy and the entire production lacks punch and class. Looks as if it had been thrown together in order to reap in the shekels while the public was still hot for airplane stuff, but they forgot how to photograph that part of the picture to make it look real.

"Gang War"

FBO
Directed by..... Bert Glennon
Featuring..... Olive Borden,
Jack Pickford, Eddie Gribbon,
Walter Long

Story by..... James Ashmore Creelman
NOT A MOMENTOUS PICTURE OF GANGSTER WARFARE BUT CAN BE CLASSED AS FAIR ENTERTAINMENT, HELPED OUT SOMEWHAT BY AN INTERESTING ALL-DIALOGUE PROLOGUE, WHICH SEEMED TO HAVE NO BEARING ON THE MAIN THEME ITSELF.

The prologue, shot after the picture itself was completed, launches the character of the story, by introducing newspaper men, sent to ferret out the facts on the framing of a girl of the underworld. The story proper then begins and retails the account of how a nifty saxophone player falls in love with a gangster's girl and how he is taken prisoner and mistreated by the gangster's enemies, and still manages to keep his mouth shut, according to underworld ethics. The fearless gangster learning that the girl he married loves the sax player, makes the supreme sacrifice and frees the youth from the clutches of the rival gang. All ends well for the boy and girl.

Sound effects in this production, of machine-gun fire and fire-cracker celebrations are hardly realistic. Continuity, titles and photography rate as a trifle better than ordinary.

"Homecoming"

UFA—Paramount
Director..... Joe May
Story by..... Fred Majo
Featuring..... Dita Parlo,
Lars Hansen, Gustav Froelich.

A GERMAN MADE UFA PRODUCTION EXTREMELY SATISFYING. UNUSUAL PHOTOGRAPHY BY GUNTHER RICHTAU. THIS PICTURE WILL HAVE NO TROUBLE PLEASING ANY AUDIENCE. DITA PARLO EASY TO LOOK AT AND CAPABLE ACTRESS.

The story of "Homecoming" details the lives of two German soldiers and the wife of one. The soldiers are held as prisoners by Russia during the late war. Both escape, the husband is caught, the other returns to Germany and to the home of his pal. Is attracted by the wife. A flirtation is carried on. War over, the husband did not return. The flirtation develops. Later the husband returns only to be told by his wife that she is in love with his pal. Husband goes to sea and leaves wife and comrade together.

The picture is capably directed and acted. Dita Parlo seems destined to become a big star.

"Eva & the Grasshopper"

UFA
Directed by..... Dr. G. Asagaroff
Featuring..... Camilla Horn,
Warwick Ward, Gustav Froelich
Insects Created by..... Starevitch
Titles..... Joseph R. Fliesler

A SIMPLE STORY OF CONTRASTS IN TWO WOMEN, ONE WITHOUT A CARE, AND THE OTHER SERIOUS; THEIR NATURES PARALLELED BY THE ANT AND GRASSHOPPER OF THE INSECT WORLD. MINIATURE SEQUENCES UNUSUAL.

Story opens with the establishment of the character of the ant and the grasshopper in the insect world. The grasshopper dances lightheartedly all day without a care of the future, while the ant works from morn till night, for his winter comfort. Then the modern story begins showing two girls, one just like the grasshopper, the other like the ant. The flighty miss wrecks the other girl's life by eloping with her sweetheart; then deserting him for another, and finally coming to ruin and death. The good girl does all she can to put the man she was to marry on his feet again, as his eyes are finally opened to what he had lost.

The most notable thing in this production is the creation and maneuvering around of the animated insect models, which are almost life-like and at all times convincing. These insect sequences are marvelously photographed and manipulated.

"Alias Jimmy Valentine"

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer
Directed by..... Jack Conway
Story by..... A. P. Younger, Sara Mason
Featuring..... William Haines,
Leila Hyams, Karl Dane, Lionel
Barrymore, Tully Marshall.

A GREAT PICTURE UNTIL IT STARTS TO SPEAK AND THEN THE INTEREST DIVES A BIT. WELL WORTH PLAYING ANY HOUSE AND WILL GET PLENTY OF MONEY. EXCEPTIONAL CAST.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer have gone the limit on this one and will, no doubt, cash in on it. The picture as a whole is good but would have been much better had the talking sequence (running about 30 minutes towards the end of the picture) been left out, and this in view of the fact that the talk is good and done by fine actors with perfect recording voices. But the last part of the picture does not measure up with the first part in general interest.

The titles of Joe Farnham are excellent. Jack Conway has a good job out of the direction and the cast is the best that money could buy. Leila Hyams looks good. Haines, Barrymore, Karl Dane and Tully Marshall are perfectly cast and give exceptional performances.

"Interference"

Paramount
Directed by..... Roy Pomeroy
Story by..... Roland Pertwee,
Harold Dearden.
Featuring..... William Powell,
Evelyn Brent, Clive Brook,
Doris Kenyon.

TECHNICALLY THE MOST PERFECT ALL-TALKING PICTURE YET MADE, ACTED BY AN EXCELLENT CAST. THE DIRECTION AND PHOTOGRAPHY VERY GOOD, BUT THE STORY A BIT WEAK. A CERTAIN BOX OFFICE SMASH.

Every way you take it, this is the best all-talking picture yet made. The recording, the acting, the directing and photography is far above the standard set to date in talking pictures. The story is its one weakness, being an adaptation of the play by the same name, and concerns with the appearance of a husband thought dead, and the blackmailing plot of his former mistress in order to get revenge on his wife for having taken her lover away from her. The wife had remarried a doctor of great influence. Of course everything turns out O.K. but the real meat of the play was left out of the picture for some reason or other. The acting of Powell, Brent and Brook was the best. Doris Kenyon being in fast company with these three had to take a back seat.

This should be a great money maker in any theatre.

"Mata Hari, The Red Dancer"

National—Big Three Prod.
Directed by..... Frederick Feher
Featuring..... Magda
Sonja, Fritz Kortner, Wolfgang
Zilzer.

FOREIGN PRODUCTION OF A NOTED FEMALE SPY WHO PAID THE PENALTY FOR SACRIFICING HER COUNTRY FOR HER LOVER'S SAFETY. STAR MISCAST IN HER PART.

The working out of this drama is poorly done, the chief characters doing things that intelligent leaders would hardly do in real life. The star will not win the sympathy of an audience as she is too old and buxom to carry any sex-appeal.

Her love-affair with an innocent Russian farmer-student is laughable. He lives alone, in a magnificent farm-house and is so simple he never once questions her appearance of regal and costly appearance and manner, nor does he ever question why he is thrown into prison, or why she is imprisoned.

Her easy way out of the task she has been set, of getting the fortification plans of Lemburg, is laughable. The Austrian Archduke, a former lover, hates to hand over the fortification plans, so on her suggestion, he gives her false papers, without any qualms on either side. The ending is tragic, the spy facing a firing squad.

Christie Surprise in "Carnation Kid"

Doug MacLean Latest,
Written from Silent
And Sound Angles

It is said that Al Christie and Douglas MacLean will spring something of a surprise on the industry when they demonstrate with "The Carnation Kid" how much typical moving picture movement and action can be put into a dialogue picture.

It is for this reason that it is believed "The Carnation Kid" when released in its silent version, will present an advance in picture making because it should be a better silent picture than most any of the silent version of the talkers to date.

The reason this has been accomplished is that the Al Cohn scenario from which "The Carnation Kid" was written with moving picture action in mind. From the start of the scenario of this story it was written for a dialogue picture which would not confine the dialogue to still scenes, but extend it so that the picture could have lots of action all the way through.

MacLean's pictures, too, have nearly always had lots of action and rapid movement and this is said to be the most speedy of all of the pictures in which he has starred.

"ERIK THE GREAT" 1ST INT'L. TALKIE

Dr. Paul Fejos is now finishing the first talking motion picture with sequences in French, German and English, according to information received yesterday.

Before starting on "Broadway", Dr. Fejos had completed the shooting of "Erik the Great", featuring Conrad Veidt and Mary Philbin. The film has since been reshot and can now be called the first international talking film.

Veidt refused to make a talking version in English unless he could make one in German and Dr. Fejos compromised by making it in both English and German and also adding French.

The prints with the German and French sequences will be sent abroad immediately.

Shuberts Cleaning up $10,000 Per Week

(Continued from page 1)

each week whereas 8 has been the rule with Shubert legitimate productions.

While no details between the Shuberts and Warner arrangements have been made public yet, at least five Shubert houses will be showing Warner sound films this winter, the estimated net box-office receipts from these theatres running well over $1,500,000 for this fiscal year.

Shuberts' predominating position in the theatrical field gives the company an unusual advantage in exploiting sound films. Showmen around the Shubert offices hold the view that the Warners need the Shubert facilities, as its own chain of theatres is not nationally extensive enough and not altogether adapted for proper presentation of first-run sound showings.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Edward Robinson, stage actor, will have a role in Paramount's "Hole in the Wall" as his first picture part.

Russell Gleason will have a leading part in Pathe's first talkie, "The Missing Man."

LoRayne Duval, two months ago just an extra girl, will play the lead opposite Reginal Denny in "His Lucky Day."

A print of Rex Ingram's "Three Passion" is on its way to New York.

Mike Donlin, baseball player and Robert Perry, boxer, will have parts in Pathe's "Noisy Neighbors."

Lillian Gish is in New York waiting for the arrival of Max Reinhardt to make her first picture for United Artists.

Jacqueline Logan has sufficiently recovered from the flu to resume work in Columbia's picture, "The Faker."

Cecil DeMille is offering prizes totalling $2,000 for an idea for a talking picture.

Nat Shilkret, who wrote the theme song for "Lilac Time," is doing the same for "Synthetic Sin," First National.

Constance Talmadge has begun work on her new picture, "Venus", being made in Europe.

Nellie Bly Baker and Louis Liggett have been added to the cast of Milton Sills' forthcoming First National picture, "The Comedy of Life."

Beatrice Bayard. (Mrs. Willard Mack,) has been added to the cast of "Hunted."

Nick Grinde is on his way to New York to make some movietone subjects for M-G-M.

"If Men Played Cards as Women Do," is the latest all-talkie short novelty filmed by Paramount: It is based on a sketch that was in the Music Box Revue several years ago, by George Kaufman.

Emily Fitzroy has been selected by M-G-M to play the part of the Marquesa in "The Bridge of San Luis Rey."

Bill Haines mixed it up with Jack Roper at the Hollywood Legion stadium for an important sequence in the film "The Duke Steps Out," a story of a prizefighter.

FOX STUDIOS CREATE NEW TECHNICAL DEPT.

By SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT
HOLLYWOOD — Things are happening so fast in this business, even producers are having a hard time keeping up with them. In this connection we hear that the West Coast studio's of William Fox, have established a special technical department, supervised by a staff of engineers, chemists, camera experts, and technicians from various fields, who will carry on experimentations, testing the usefulness of any invention of process that might have anything to do with the making of motion pictures.

This department is wide open to anyone thinking he might have a thought, device or invention that would in any way benefit pictures. At the present time they are working on the George K. Spoor third dimension idea.

Fox Buys Play

Fox has just purchased the play, "From Hell Came a Lady." This was produced in Hollywood and one of the authors is Jaime Del Rio, ex-husband of Dolores. Madge Bellamy will have the lead in the picture and Charles Kenyon will write the screen play.

F-P-L Buys Sequel

Famous-Players-Lasky have bought the screen rights to "The Greene Murder Case." This is a sequel to the famous "Canary Murder Case" and will be made into a talkie.

Merna Kennedy 5-Yr. Contract with "U"

Merna Kennedy has been signed by Universal on a five year contract. Her first assignment will be the part of the girl in "Broadway." It was the promise of this "plum" that made Miss Kennedy decide to listen seriously to Universal's offer. At the time it came she was making tests for Cecil DeMille's "Dynamite."

Suderman Dead

Herman Suderman, famous European author died in Berlin, Thursday, after an illness that had resulted in paralysis. He gave to the screen such famous stories as "Sunrise," "Magda," and "Flesh and the Devil." He was the foremost literary figure in Germany.

Ohio Fanatics Launch Bill For Talkies Control Jan. 7

(Continued from page 1)

that "he was momentarily expecting a court order demanding that he censor the controversial movie and that he would censor it with a prejudiced mind and would likely not permit it to pass;" (referring to the "Birth of a Nation").

"Jesse James" will be barred, if Clifton has his way, on the grounds that it shows train robberies, hold-ups and other so-called objectionable features.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

GEORGE JESSEL

A great little fellow. Very sincere, hard working and possessed with quite a few ideas regarding George Jessel and his possessions. Yesterday we talked to him about many things and the one question that is a sore spot is "The Jazz Singer". Sore because it was his baby. He played with it, founded it, was responsible for its existence. He told us how he carried the script under his arm day after day trying to sell some picture producer the idea it was great picture material. Some thought it O.K. and others not. To the O.K. gang the price George put on it was not the price they wanted to pay.

SAW POSSIBILITIES

After seeing a couple of Vitaphones, George conceived the idea that this production with songs via Vitaphone would be a wow. He went to the Warners, all of them he had known for years, with his thoughts. At first they were not impressed but gradually, he worked them into his idea. They bought the rights to the play, gave him $2,000 cash and were to pay the rest in easy stages. George was happy for he figured that in selling his play he created a big opportunity for himself in that he would do the lead in the picture. But for some reason or other, probably salary, George and Warners could not get together and Jolson was given the part. The rest is history and were the first pages written in the creation of a new form of screen entertainment.

BROKEN HEARTED

Jessel was broken hearted. He wanted to do that part, not so much for the part itself but with the conviction that the finished product would revolutionize the screen in that it would bring on the exact condition existing today. George felt that it was his salesmanship that made this whole thing possible, for in the beginning Warners did not want to tackle it in feature length pictures. George said, "It was a tough break for me, but tomorrow is another day".

SUBMARINE

We hear that the Loew Circuit of Theatres in New York offered Columbia $30,000 in bookings on their picture "Submarine". And understand, these particular theatres are only in Greater New York and New York State. Of course Columbia could not accept it, even if it was, almost as much as the negative cost, as it had already been sold on their program of 30 pictures. However it is an excellent tribute to the quality of this picture.

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 122

New York, Monday, November 26, 1928

FIVE CENTS

The Medicine Show Begins

By ARTHUR JAMES

The moral boa constrictor, Canon William Sheafe Chase, begins his annual medicine show in Washington at the Mayflower Hotel, today. With a solemnity that is as impudent as it is preposterous, this religious meddler seeks to set up his own plans for the conduct of the picture business. He would harness the greatest avenue of human expression with his own narrow and bitter bigotry, he would run its finances, its business set up and its taxes and would taint and restrict its reflection of life by guiding the mirror to a twisted reproduction of his own pet ideas.

All this he would do in the name of morality when he himself is a breaker of faith and of promise. We say this with a full responsibility and we base it on personal experience. In our presence he agreed to withhold the introduction of the New York censorship measure until further constructive conferences could be held and then promptly went out and sent the measure to Albany. We believe in his own warped and twisted view that he thought he was dealing with the devil and that under the circumstances his course was not only justified but clever.

Canon Chase is a type. Ella Boole is another. Comstock belonged to the same group. We believe that the pathologists would classify them as proper subjects for treatment. Comstock was as twisted as the maddest inmate of Mattewan but he flourished because all he did was done in the splendid name of morality.

Those who make pictures are as decent and as moral as those moral fixers and meddlers who butt in where normal persons hesitate to tread. The witch burners of Salem were sincere but crazy. The bigots of history all have been madmen. Do as I will, as I judge, as I decide or you are wicked—that is the dictum.

Chase isn't personally worth this space but that pestiferous and meddling, cocksure certainty of Divine Inspiration in both morals and finance are important because they represent an ever recurrent menace to all freedom and liberty, to all sane development, to all normal growth.

FISHER BROS-MEEHAN SEEK WARNER-PATHE CONTROL

William Fox—All Alone

With all talk of mergers, past and present, the one name that is never mentioned in this connection is William Fox and his various amusement holdings. Fox has and always will, play a lone hand. He is the boss of the Fox organization and everyone knows that. The Fox backers, and they are numerous, would not have the organization any other way. He has made all of them millions in the picture business. He can get these and other millions by a phone call.

When ever it seems necessary for some other organization to impress their bankers the word that "Fox is doing so and so...." always gets instant action. And the word is around the "street" that "this fellow Fox is going too far with his theatre buying. He is stepping on too many toes". But who is going to head him off?
W.R.W.

Pathe Sound Newsreel and Warner Theatres Goal of Bankers

The heavy movement upward in Pathe stock is attributed to the drive by Fisher Brothers, of General Motors fame and tremendous Wall Street speculators, and M. J. Meehan of the brokerage house bearing his name.

It is also known in the 'Street' that they are likewise buying large quantities of Warner stock on the open market. It is a well-known fact that Fisher Brothers, who withdrew their large holdings in RCA recently, are determined to get a piece of the picture business. General Electric, it is understood, approves of the Fisher move and is cooperating with them to effect an entrance into the game in a big way.

Mergers in the Air

Banking houses in Wall Street, already heavily 'in' on the film business, are not going to stop until they effect absolute control to produce.
(Continued on page 2)

ROTHSTEIN RESIGNS UNIV. ADV. POST

Universal Pictures Corporation announced Saturday that Nat Rothstein, Advertising Director, has resigned from the company and would leave next week for California where he has a Beverly Hills home.

Rothstein, who recently returned from a two month's trip abroad, came to Universal 13 years ago as Advertising Manager, from a Chicago office.
(Continued on page 2)

KERMAN DEVELOPING NEW TALKIE DEVICE

The Kerman Film Company of New York, of which Moe and Al Kerman are the heads, is coming out with a new sound recording device via the film method, which will not only be able to record studio production but newsreel events as well. No trade name has yet been chosen.

The projection apparatus which will be out of the laboratory within another week, will be sold to theatres at about 70% less in cost than the cheapest device now on the market, according to the Kermans, and they claim for it 100% better tonal quality.
(Continued on page 2)

Monroe Isen Here

Monroe Isen, in charge of Universal Pictures in South America, is in New York, stopping at the Park Central. Mr. Isen is here on his regular semi annual visit to confer with home office executives.

James In Washington

Arthur James, Editor of Exhibitors Daily Review and Motion Pictures Today is now in Washington to keep an eye on the first meetings called by Canon Chase and the coming attack on the motion picture industry, as outlined in the Hudson Bill.

These publications, ever watchful of destructive moves by enemies of the industry, will be right on the job this year, as always, to defeat the flood of deadly legislation headed the way of motion pictures.

Pathe Sells Pantages

Lex Wier, western division manager for Pathe, has just closed a contract with Alexander Pantages for the Pathe sound News for all his theatres.

PUBLIX STAGE UNITS AGAIN FOR NORTHWEST

SAN FRANCISCO—The separation of the operation of Publix houses by West Coast Theatres, which was done at the behest of the Federal authorities, in lieu of their withdrawing monopoly suits against West Coast, Publix, Loew and other distributors, actually takes place December 1st.

In cities such as Seattle and Portland, where the Publix theatres go back to exclusive Publix operation, it means that they will not play any more Fox product and the West Coast Theatres will play no more Paramount. It leaves Publix with one house each in Portland and Seattle, in which to play the entire Paramount product, if they so choose. Several small downtown theatres will also play Paramount.
(Continued on page 2)

SAM SAX PARTY FOR 'THROUGH THE BREAKERS'

Sam Sax, President of Gotham Productions is playing host to a party of film celebrities, who will occupy a box at Fox's Academy, tonight, for the opening of "Through the Breakers" a Gotham production, adapted from Owen Davis' stage play. Harold Shumate, Associate Producers will talk about the film.

Brennon to New York

Herbert Brennon, director, left Hollywood Saturday for New York. While here he will finish script preparation for the forthcoming production of "Lummox" to be made by Sam Goldwyn for United Artists release.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

I. Harrison Edwards, West Coast Representative, Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles.
London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

Wireless, grapevine and post card advices show the honeymoon trip of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Trop has reached Baltimore via Atlantic City, bride and bridegroom are doing well—They do say that Glendon Allvine is that way about Marie Dressler and has been so these twenty years—Joe Skirboll finds sound demand in the middle west but there are exhibitors who are still tone deaf—C. C. Pettijohn is Canon Chasing in Washington this diem—Victor Shapiro is dialectician of such attainment that he speaks Arabic, Armenian and Goldwyn with equal fluency—Lew Cody is New Yorking all by his lonesome but he expects Mabel Normand eftsoons—George Ratkin says until yesterday he had always thought mufti meant a man with a beard—Wilma Banky now facing the camera in New York attributes her peach complexion to regular exercise, fresh air and gulyas, the national sport of Hungary—Frank Ferrone's first shortie will be a romance with Long Island sound effects. Donovan Hancock is contriving novelties for the A.M.P.A.'s Hollywood bal masque that are good enough for a million dollar production and I don't mean perhaps—Charlie Giegerich is cinephoning to beat the band—Alfred Weiss is doing almost all of his talking over the Biophone and signing contracts between times.

Fisher Bros.—Meehan Seek Warner-Pathe Control

(Continued from page 1)

test their investments and the real mergers starting with RCA acquisition of Keith-Albee-Orpheum and FBO are yet to begin.

RCA, for example, have their eye on several organizations. They would like to pull Warners over with them. They want theatres and Warner have them today and are adding more. They want the Warner talkie experience. Pathe looms in this RCA picture also. Pathe has an incalculable asset in Pathe News, particularly since it is being released in sound. The Daily Review believes that RMA would think well of the idea of adding a weekly with the Pathe tradition and prestige to a possible acquisition of Warner Brothers.

Paramount—M-G-M

There seems to be no reason for Paramount and M-G-M talking merger. They have an arrangement that provides for a more complete understanding than the possible merging of their interests and this understanding has existed for several years. It concerns the playing of pictures made by both companies in the houses controlled by each company. This playing is to the exclusion of every other picture should condition make this advisable. The combined playing time of both Paramount and M-G-M is of sufficient cash gross to remove any worry regarding a possible profit.

Theatres the Thing

As soon as mergers are discussed the first consideration is theatres. How many have they and how many is it possible to acquire. The big company of tomorrow is the one that can show the most playing days in theatres owned or controlled by them. If the playing time is there, it is a cinch on the production end, but regardless of what quality a producer might contribute to a picture, if he is not equipped to control the extensive playing he is licked.

Rothstein Resigns

Univ. Adv. Post

(Continued from page 1)

cago Advertising Agency.

It is understood that Harry Reichenbach, who was recently signed by Universal to a five-year contract will be director of advertising and exploitation with Milton Silver handling the actual advertising copy.

German Films Praised

American films are the most capable and the most objectionable; the German, most artistic and worth while; the English, the least objectionable and most dull, was the verdict of Desmond Coke, British author, to Exhibitor Sidney Bernstein's questionnaire as to which films were the most disliked.

Publix Stage Units

Again for Northwest

(Continued from page 1)

houses in these cities may possibly benefit thereby, should there be an overflow of product.

The rearrangement also means that Publix road-show units will again be seen in Seattle and Portland. The Fifth Avenue in Seattle and its sister house, the Broadway in Portland, have been getting away good with the new policy of pictures without stage presentations. Each house has had weekly receipts almost as high as when the Fanchon and Marco "ideas" were on the boards. Adding the overhead of the F & M shows to these two houses will not, it is believed, add to their weekly receipts sufficiently to cover the added overhead.

The F & M shows, because of routing, etc., are cheaper than the Publix shows; so the Seattle and the Portland also will have higher overheads to meet, but with slight prospect of the Publix shows pulling more than the present policy with F & M.

Kerman Developing

New Talkie Device

(Continued from page 1)

reproduction than other devices now in use. Installation orders will be in order in approximately one month.

The Kerman company is likewise building a studio on Long Island for the production of features and shorts.

Netoco Casino Opens

Equipped with Sound

BOSTON—The New England Theatres Operating Corp., will open their fiftieth house, the revamped Casino Theatre on Sunday, November 25th, with a Movietone-Vita-phone talking and sound picture policy with vaudeville.

Netoco took this house over from Waldron a few weeks ago and closed it for complete renovation and decoration.

Portable Melophone Talkie Device To Benefit Small-Town Exhibitors

SEATTLE—George P. Endert, former Paramount Manager and William J. Drummond, have launched a new portable synchronizing device and have organized the Melophone Talking Picture Company of America.

The device which creates and recreates talking and sound pictures is intended for the small town exhibitor whose house is not wired. Being portable, Melophone will be used for road-show proposition which travel the small towns.

There is no installation charge, or service charge, the Melophone films being booked on percentage by Endert and Drummond. Several Melophone machines are already on hand, with factory facilities to turn out three each week being arranged. Several pictures with talking and singing sequences and musical scores are also ready. The first Melophone show was put on at the Princess Theatre in Edmonds, Wash., on November 15th.

'SHOULD A GIRL MARRY?' READY FOR ROAD DEC. 1

Rayart Special to Have Filmtone Scoring and Full Road Shows

The Filmtone synchronization of Rayart's special production "Should a Girl Marry?", which will be road-showed throughout the country, will be completed in New York within a week, at which time a number of road-show companies will be ready to start out on bookings in the Eastern territories.

Each company will carry a Filmtone reproducing machine with a technical staff, consisting of electrician, operator and checker. Advance agents and publicity men are now enroute to the key centers to arrange for initial presentations.

The Filmtone machine is portable and can be installed in three or four hour's time.

The picture, rated as one of Rayart's greatest, is a Trem Carr Production directed by Scott Pembroke and features Helen Foster, Donald Keith, Wm. V. Mong and Dot Farley.

Fox Sound Truck

For Hoover in S. A.

When president elect Hoover first sets foot in South America he will come face to face with a Fox Movietone sound truck. This truck left New York the day following Hoover's announced intention of visiting the Latin American countries. This truck will be with the expedition until it returns to the United States.

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.

for Library Stock Scenes

130 W. 46th St. New York
Bryant 8181

Classified Advertisement

Advertisements in this section, 5 cents per word. Cash must be sent with order. No charge for Box Number line. Minimum order, $1. 10% discount 12 issues or more.

FOR SALE

LOCAL FILMS

MOTION PICTURES MADE TO order. Commercial Home or Industrial. We have excellent facilities and the best cameramen. Our price, 20c per foot. Ruby Film Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

MOTION PICTURE AND "STILL" cameras rented, sold and exchanged. Portable lights for sale and for rent. Keep us advised of your wants. Ruby Camera Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

TWO PAPER STENCIL CUTTING Machines Foot and Power . . . Sacrifice $35.00 each. National . . . 226 West 56th Street, City.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

WHETHER YOU WANT TO HIRE some one or be hired; buy or sell a theatre; trade or sell equipment, or do almost anything else in the motion picture business, an ad in this department will get you results. If you want us to word the ad for you, the services of our advertising experts are at your call. Simply tell us what you want to do, and how many words you want used. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

Nation-wide Balloting by Readers of Photoplay Magazine

Confirms What Every Discriminating
Observer Knows

The Finest Films are Fox and Fox Supremacy is Consistent

L e a d e r s h i p
in 2 Talking Newsreels weekly

L e a d e r s h i p
in Condensed
Features in Dialog

First to bring to America voices of world celebrities

O n l y
Producer
this season of
8 $2 top successes

Public Acclaim Now Confirms
Verdict of the Industry:
FOX LEADS

7th HEAVEN

the best picture of the year

This Gold Medal Winner
Leads the
Fox Quality Procession

WILLIAM FOX is proud to credit the individuals who contributed to the SUCCESS of 7th HEAVEN

FRANK BORZAGE

Who for the second time is honored by the Photoplay Medal award.

JANET GAYNOR

A star if there ever was
one. —Variety

CHARLES FARRELL

Whose remarkable performance as Chico made him a star overnight.

JOHN GOLDEN

Producer of the stage play upon which the picture was based.

AUSTIN STRONG

Who wrote the stage
play.

BENJAMIN GLAZER

Who wrote the screen
play.

WINFIELD SHEEHAN

Whose production genius set a new high standard for the screen.

and the following members of the supporting cast:

David Butler

Ben Bard

Albert Gran

Jessie Haslett

Emile Chautard

Lillian West

Gladys Brockwell

George Stone

Marie Mosquini

The proof of FOX supremacy is in the Record:

STREET ANGEL

FOUR SONS

FAZIL

THE RED DANCE

MOTHER MACHREE

SUNRISE

THE AIR CIRCUS

DRY MARTINI

WIN THAT GIRL

ME, GANGSTER

THE RIVER PIRATE

PLASTERED IN PARIS

MOTHER KNOWS BEST

PREP AND PEP

RILEY THE COP

ROMANCE OF THE UNDERWORLD

BLINDFOLD

When Medals Are Awarded for Talking Pictures Count FOX In

With such pictures as these issuing from FOX MOVIE-TONE CITY:

THE GHOST TALKS IN OLD ARIZONA SPEAKEASY BEHIND THAT CURTAIN THRU DIFFERENT EYES

CURRENT PRODUCTION RESUME

52 Big Pictures Now In Work—Other Co. Schedules at Low Ebb

By J. HARRISON EDWARDS
West Coast Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Production in the Hollywood studios is at a rather low ebb. Heavy schedules are planned but not in operation at present. Fox leads the procession with 12 pictures in actual production. M-G-M has 8, Paramount 7 and First National 6. Universal is busy adding talking sequences to most of their already finished pictures with but 2 pictures in actual work. The following list does not include those being made by the various "quickie" studios.

Fox Lot

On the Fox lot there are: "In Old Arizona," Irving Cummings, director; "The Big Bout," Harry Sweet; "Friendship," Eugene Walter; "Watch Out," James Parrott; "Strong Boy," John Ford; "White Silence," Charles Klein; "Exiles," William Beaudine; "False Colors," James Tinling; "Scarehead," (working title), Fred Newmeyer; "Christine," William K. Howard; "Our Daily Bread," F. W. Murnau.

P-F-L Lot

Paramount: "Sunset Pass," Otto Brower; "The Dummy," Robert Milton; "The Wolf Song," Victor Fleming; "The Wolf of Wall Street," Rowland V. Lee; "Tong War," William Wellman; "The Case of Lena Smith," Josep van Sternberg; "Four Feathers," Cooper-Shoesack.

M-G-M Lot

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer: Sidney Franklin directing Greta Garbo in "Heat," (working title); William Nish directing John Gilbert in "Thirst," Ramon Novarro in "The Pagan," W. S. Van Dyke; "The Duke Steps Out," James Cruze; "The Spite Marriage," E. Sedgwick; "Hunted," Willard Mack; "Mysterious Island," Lucian Hubbard.

F. N. Lot

First National: "Seven Footprints to Satan," Benj. Christiansen; "Weary River," Frank Lloyd; "Comedy of Life," Alexander Korda; "That's a Good Girl," William Sietter directing Colleen Moore; "Children of the Ritz," John F. Dillon; "Saturday's Children," Corinne Griffith, directed by Gregory LaCava.

Warner Bros: "From Headquarters," Howard Bretherton; "The Desert Song," Roy Del Ruth; "She Knew Men," Archie Mayo; "Alimony Annie," Michael Curtiz.

Unitel Artists: John Barrymore in "King of the Mountains," directed by Ernst Lubitsch; Douglas Fairbanks in "The Iron Mask," Allan Dwan; "Night-Stick," produced by Roland West.

Universal Lot

Universal: "His Lucky Day," Reginald Denny directed by Eddie Cline; "A Christmas Carol," Tom Terris.

Pathe: "The Missing Men," Benjamin Glazer.

Tiffany-Stahl: "Reputation," Al Ray.

Hal Roach: One "Our Gang" comedy. Bob MacGowan.

Columbia: "Object Alimony," Scott Dunlap; "The Faker," Phil Rosen.

Christie Comedies: One "Confessions of a Chorus Girl" and one Bobby Vernon.

FBO: Gloria Swanson in "Queen

STUDIO GOSSIP

Jack Natterford is writing a story with a Switzerland locale which will be a Reginald Barker special for T-S.

Pat O'Malley, Eleanor Griffith, Chester Morris and Mae Busch all have parts in "Nightstick" which Roland West is making for United Artists.

Emile Chantard, French actor, has a leading role in the Tiffany-Stahl production of "The Girl Who Came Back."

Isabelle Sheridan has been given a part in United Artists, "King of the Mountains."

H. B. Warner will have the part of the district attorney in M-G-M's "Trial of Mary Dugan."

Edmund Burke of the Chicago Opera Company, will have a part in "The Melody".

Chester Conklin will direct Ricardo Cortez in a picture tentatively called "Life" for T-S.

It is rumored that Bebe Daniels will sign with Fox.

Alf Goulding has been signed by Fox to direct one feature picture.

Frank Moran, ex-prize fighter has been signed by T-S for a featured role in "Spirit of Youth."

Mabel Normand is going abroad to make personal appearances in Great Britain.

Lee Patrick, featured stage player, has been given the leading feminine role in Pathe's "The Missing Man."

Paul Stern has completed shooting on "The Office Scandal", starring Phyllis Haver.

Bradley King will write the treatment and continuity on "The Squall" for First National.

Alice White has started production on her next picture, "Hot Stuff," without a leading man having been signed.

Fitzmaurice Finishes

George Fitzmaurice wound up production yesterday on his latest First National picture, "His Captive Woman," co-starring Dorothy Mackall and Milton Sills.

Another for Fairbanks

Douglas Fairbanks will start preparing immediately a new production to follow "The Iron Mask," now nearing completion. Lotta Woods, scenario editor for Fairbanks, is now at work upon the script for the new story, an original as yet untitled.

Kelly," directed by Eric von Stroheim; for United Artists release.

Inspiration Pictures, (Tec-Art Studios), "She Goes to War," directed by Henry King for United Artists release.

Cutting Down

Word is being whispered around Hollywood circles that Florence Vidor and Esther Ralston are through at Paramount. Reason being given that neither have voices of sufficient quality for talking pictures.

English Peeved at Fox

LONDON — English exhibitors are very keen to run the Movietone subject recently completed by Fox of the speech made by King George at the opening of the New Tyne Bridge. But they are up in arms at the price this organization has set for the subject.

The price being twice as much as has been asked for any Movietone subject to date. Some of them are yelling "American exploitation of the King's personality for extra profit" however the British cinema's are tumbling over themselves trying to get some of this "extra profit". They will, very likely, meet the Fox rental demand and like it.

"Hottentot" as Talkie

Warner Brothers are planning to make a Vitaphone production of William Collier's play, "The Hottentot." This has already been filmed once—silent some years ago. Edward Everett Norton will play the part originally created by William Collier. Lois Wilson will play opposite with Roy Del Ruth directing.

50 M-G-M Talkies Done

More than fifty Metro Movietone acts had been completed and most of them released by M-G-M up to and including Nov. 24. A large percentage of these were made at the newly renovated Cosmopolitan Studio, 127th Street and Second Avenue, New York, where short feature work is now progressing at a rapid rate.

Columbia Talkie

"The Younger Generation," the Columbia special adapted from Fannie Hurst's stage play, "It is to Laugh", will be a "talkie" and also have a synchronized music score and sound effects.

Nat. Trade Journals

The National Trade Journals, Inc., has acquired Architectural Forum; Heating and Ventilating Magazine; Good Furniture Magazine, Specialties Salesmen and Salesology, giving the company 17 publications in all.

Miss Love's Plans

Bessie Love has been planning to vacation in New York shortly, but Fox has just sent for her to make tests for their talkie, "Big Time." If the tests are successful terms will undoubtedly be made and the holiday will be off. Several producers are after Miss Love's services because of her singing and dancing ability, and its a question which will win.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

A SMILE GONE ASTRAY

Boy!—how our phone burned up Saturday morning after Columbia read, what we wrote, in more of a smile than of facts—that the price the Loew people offered them for a New York run on "Snubmarine" almost covered their negative cost. The price was $30,000. Certainly we knew this production cost more than this figure. For instance we had the knowledge that Jack Holt received plenty as his salary for the production and that the combined salaries of Frank Capra, the director and Ralph Graves and one or two others would easily make up the rest of the 30 grand. To say nothing of the actual production expense, studio, story, etc., etc. We knew all this. But we did not know that the synchronization stood Messers Cohn, Brandt and Cohn the sum of $25,000. Where do those Victor people get off with such figures. Certainly they did not get all of this, (the man who scored the music got a few dollars) but they did get the big slice. However, we have to apologize to Columbia, they read the note and we only wrote it. And in writing it we had no desire to cheapen this picture. This could not be done by even such a great... (shall we say) writer.

CUTTING DOWN

Most of the major studios in Hollywood are doing a bit of pruning. They are cutting down their list of stock players, both featured and otherwise. This is done for several reasons. The first and most important is their desire to reduce production costs and every time this idea crops up the first thing production executives think of is their stock lists. And too, with the talking picture a reality, the situation of casting productions is quite uncertain and studios having made voice tests of all their stock players, some good and others bad, figure it best to take their chance with the stage player, the one with picture experience preferable.

DAVID SELZNICK

The elevation of David Selznick to the position of assistant to B. P. Schulberg production head of Paramount, has been given a hearty O.K. by everyone who has ever come in contact with the youngest member bearing the Selznick name. He is well liked and his promotion is as a result of capabilities and nothing else. David has a happy faculty of being able to walk into a very difficult situation, iron everything out and have all sides happy at his arrangement. He can handle temperamental directors, players and writers better than anyone in this business. His manner will soothe the most agrieved temper. This Selznick is going to go further in our industry. As a matter of fact he just started

WHY WAIT FOR YOUR HOUSE TO BE WIRED ?

RAYART'S FIRST TALKING PICTURE

THE FIRST ROAD-SHOW
WITH COMPLETE MUSICAL SYNCHRONIZA-TION, SOUND AND TALKING SEQUENCES.

HELEN FOSTER & DONALD KEITH
WM.V.MONG and DOT FARLEY

"SHOULD A GIRL MARRY?"

THE SENSATION OF THE SEASON
50 ROAD COMPANIES WITH FILMTONE EQUIPMENT ON TOUR AT ONCE

A COMPLETE SHOW INCLUDING FIVE
BIG-TIME VAUDEVILLE AND RADIO
HEADLINERS IN FILMTONE PRESENTATIONS

ONCE AGAIN RAYART LEADS THE FIELD !

A TREM CARR PRODUCTION

DIRECTED BY SCOTT PEMBROKE

AVAILABLE AT YOUR NEAREST RAYART EXCHANGE OR

RAYART PICTURES CORPORATION

723 SEVENTH AVENUE

FOREIGN DISTRIBUTORS RICHMOUNT PICTURES

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 123

New York, Tuesday, November 27, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Washington Racketeers

By ARTHUR JAMES

Washington, November 26

Chicago does it with machine guns and hand grenades. Here in Washington the skull druggery is better mannered, but just as deadly. The moral racketeers use a lobby, a high-sounding organization name and then the gall of the devil himself, all tentet over with high claims to all the virtue and all the morality in the world.

The Federal Motion Picture Council is the paper organization of Canon William Sheafe Chase, who, with a handful of reform barnstormers financed by old ladies who will money to sleek gentlemen with the idea they are helping to save the world from sin, and by contributions secured from living dupes under the same delusion.

Once a year the tom toms of a pseudo morality are sounded and all and sundry are invited to get together and save the United States from the cesspool of iniquity, the sloughs of despond and the low censoring of the picture people.

This year, Chase asked womens' organizations to come to Washington in protest against indecent films. The method is as simple as it is effective. It is preposterous and vicious because it is not representation and by trick and chicane it offers as real, that which is counterfeit.

But make no mistake. It is effective. It must be combatted with truth, sunlight and fresh air like a disease, for it is a disease of a rotten morality, a cheating and a strong pretence of virtue. Its name is hypocrisy and Canon Chase is its great apostle.

HUDSON BILL FRAMER MISLED BY BOGUS CENSORSHIP DEMAND

Rev. MacLeod Scores Right of Fanatics to Legislate Morals

U. S. PRODUCER TO FILM MUSSOLINI FASCIST HISTORY

An American film producing company has been given permission by Premier Mussolini to make a historical film portrayal of the cause and rise of Fascism, and to include what Mussolini and his followers have done for Italy's progress and stability.

The picture will be made in Italy with the cooperation of the Italian Government, although financial aid

(Continued on page 4)

BOSTON SITE FOR HUGE FOX THEATRE

BOSTON—The Fox Theatres may build a huge skyscraper and theatre on a site at Tremont and Boylston Streets, if the leases on a number of small buildings on this site can be obtained.

The Touraine Hotel on Boylston, Tremont La Grange and Tamworth Streets is said to be agreeable to a

(Continued on page 4)

Sennett Preview Today

Educational will hold a preview of Mack Sennett's first all-dialogue 2-reel comedy at the RCA Photophone Studios today. It is titled "The Lion's Roar". Johnny Burke and Daphne Pollard have the leading roles.

Webb With Paramount

Millard Webb, director, has been engaged by Paramount to make a picture. He left Hollywood Friday and will arrive in New York tomorrow. The picture, as yet not definitely decided on, will be made at the Astoria studios.

Speaker at Canon Chase Banquet Resents Attempt To Involve Churches

WASHINGTON—The Rev. William Murdock MacLeod, Pastor of the Pinehurst Presbyterian Church of Pinehurst, N. C., was one of the principal speakers at the Annual Convention of the Federal Council of Motion Pictures at the Mayflower last night. Rep. Grant M. Hudson of Michigan and Senator Wildman Brookhart of Iowa were also present.

MacLeod challenged the right of the Federal Council or any other body to commit the ministers of the U. S., by fact or through implication, to the Federal censorship of motion pictures.

"We are getting clean pictures now," Rev. Mr. MacLeod said, "and we are getting them by and with the

(Continued on page 4)

Warner Studios Shuts Dec. 12 for 4 Weeks

Harry M. Warner, who returned from the Coast last week, stated yesterday that the studios on the West Coast will close December 12th and all players and directors will have a four-week vacation, after which they will start the 1929-30 program.

Connelly With Small

Mike Connelly, formerly casting head at the Fox N. Y. studio, has formed a partnership with Edward Small. They will represent artists of both stage and screen.

M-G-M Sound Showing

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is holding a trade show of Movietone dramatic and comedy sketches, entirely in dialogue, today at the Astor Theatre. They include a Gus Edwards Musical Revue; first Technicolor Movietone presentation and the first Hal Roach comedy with music, dialogue and sound effects.

Private Chase Lobby Induced Congressman To Foster Censorship Measure on "Premises"

Professional Reformer's Frantic Calls for More "Delegates" Flops

36 OUT OF 400 ATTEND

By ARTHUR JAMES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 — Murder will out in some cases and the case of Canon Chase and his anti-motion picture legislation program is one of the cases. The murder came out today when it was discovered that Representative Hudson induced by Chase to introduce the measure bearing his name and which provides for Federal Censorship and a wicked and oppressive taxation on the industry, was sponsored by the Congressman only on Chases' promise that he would demonstrate there was a widespread demand for it.

Private "Lobby"

The 'demonstration' was the pow wow staged at the Mayflower Hotel today under the auspices of the so-called Federal Motion Pictures Council, which maintains paid offices here within two blocks of the Capitol at 206 Pennsylvania Avenue, S. 3., all the year round.

This lobby is a privately financed institution with a small membership that on occasions sends out a hurry call for some ostensibly high moral purpose, to all the womens' societies, DAR, Womens Club Associations and organizations and makes everybody a delegate.

Attendance Dwindles

The call went out this time for all to assemble "in protest against indecent films. 400 reservations were made for the banquet at the Mayflower. Saturday, this was reduced to 200 and Sunday afternoon it was cut to fifty and hurry calls were sent to every woman's organization in Washington, asking two delegates to attend, and the "credentials" were sent in blank, signed by the secretary of the "Federal Motion Picture Council," for Mrs. Robbins Gilman the stalking dummy representing Canon Chase.

Women Protest to Hudson

Each "delegate" was asked to be

(Continued on page 4)

3 talking newsreels every week

RESPONDING to the public's tremendous enthusiasm for the 2 talking newsreels now issued weekly, William Fox will draw on his vast international news recording service for a third weekly issue, beginning December 1.

50 Movietone Newsreel crews now covering the world will be increased to 75 by next February.

No wired theatre can afford

F It speaks for itself
MOVIE TONEWS
X 3 times every week

WILLIAM FOX announces that beginning next September Fox Movietone news will be issued daily—one complete talking newsreel every day.

This sensational world-wide,
daily news service will be accomplished on the following schedule:

4	issues	weekly	beginning	February 2
5	"	"	"	April 6
6	"	"	"	June 1
7	"	"	"	September 1

F

not to play MOVIE TONEWS
X

Laemmle Jr. Borrows Evelyn Brent for "Broadway" Role

Universal Recruiting Another Floradora Chorus of Ten

By J. HARRISON EDWARDS
West Coast Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Universal has "grabbed" the prize package of the whole talking picture racket for the production of "Broadway" soon to start at "U" City.

Announcement has been made that Evelyn Brent will have the part of Scarface Edwards' girl. She has been borrowed from Paramount who just recently tagged her with a long-term contract.

Junior Means Business

Junior Laemmle means business with this "Broadway" picture. He is going to rise or fall with its production. Realizing that most every picture made last year had some part of this famous New York play in it, and that in order to have something outstanding, unusual effort would have to be exerted, the younger Laemmle is leaving no stone unturned. The cast so far, in addition to Miss Brent, has Merna Kennedy, (the Chaplin discovery) in the ingenue lead, Margaret Livingston in the part of "Mazie" and of course, Glenn Tryon in the male lead.

Famous Chorus

Those having witnessed the stage show will remember that a chorus of girls had a very prominent part in the success of the piece. Carl Jr., has everybody in Hollywood and New York looking for the ten most beautiful girls of both face and figure for the chorus of the picture version. Junior said, "These ten girls will go down in picture history with the same renown as the old Florodora sextette" and it was said in such a manner and with such force of conviction, we believe it.

Scarborough With U.A.

George Scarborough has been engaged by Joseph M. Schenck, head of United Artists, as consulting dramatist on dialog pictures. His first assignment was the dialog for "Masquerade," the new Griffith picture that will be completed December 12th and that will introduce the singing voices of Lupe Velez.

Name Gilpin's First

"Hearts in Dixie" is now the name of the all-talking picture in which Charles Gilpin, celebrated negro star of "The Emperor Jones," will make his screen debut under the Fox banner. Production has just started at the Fox Movietone studios under the direction of Paul Sloan.

This story by Walter Weems will have an all-negro cast which includes Madame Sul Te Wan, a voodoo woman. A mixed chorus of fifty voices will sing spirituals, plantation songs and tunes of the old South.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Bertram Millhauser under a long term contract to Winfield Sheehan, is preparing a story of his own for the screen.

Ian Keith has an important part in Universal's "The Haunted Lady."

W. Scott Darling's illness has halted work on the screen version and dialogue of "Listen Baby."

Lonise Fazenda has been given a part by First National in Alice White's new picture "Hot Stuff."

Jane Winton and Ernest Torrence has been assigned parts in "The Bridge of San Luis Rey" by M-G-M.

Clarence Brown's next picture will be "Wonders of Women," from the Sudermann novel, "The Wife of Stephen Tromholt."

Ramon Novarro has started actual shooting of scenes for "The Pagan" down in Tahiti.

Rev. MacLeod Scores Right of Fanatics to Legislate

(Continued from page 1)

advice and help of the motion picture industry itself. That it is time that leaders in religious life speak out firmly against attempts to regulate morals by law. The bible teaches that man was given the choice of good and evil. It is the business of ministers to lead men to choose aright, not to set up some external moral authority."

"No man," declared Rev. Mr. MacLeod, "can presume to speak for the churches of the United States. For it is a fact that many of the great denominations have no centralized authority to impose on their pastors a common program."

"I yield to no man in my determination to fight for clean pictures. No man in the christian ministry today wants anything else, but it is an insult to the intelligence of the church-going public, or the public at large—this idea that a federal censorship can accomplish more than intelligent and decent public opinion."

"As I conceive it," continued Rev. Mr. MacLeod, "one of the primary duties of the christian ministry is to stimulate the public conscience to make its own choice between right and wrong, between the clean and the unclean. This proposed legislation is a direct blow at the moral and intellectual integrity of the american people."

"On behalf of the people of my own community, I must state my belief that they will resent most intensely any suggestion that they are mentally or morally incapable of making their own decisions and in making known to the theatre owners their sentiments in this respect.

A.J.

Improves With Age

Von Stroheim, interviewed by a Los Angeles paper said "I have changed my attitude. I am more philosophical about the making of pictures. I am, so to speak, aged in the wood....mellow." Giving "Von" a picture to do in ten weeks, would seem to us, do more to him than age and mellow one of such temperment, (that is, of course, if he finishes in ten weeks) it might change him from an artistic genius to a director of motion pictures.

Hudson Bill Framer Misled By Bogus Censorship

(Continued from page 1)

sure to attend the banquet at $3.50 per ticket. Representatives of the Womens' University Club called on Congressman Hudson today to ask him what it was all about and to say they knew nothing of anything except the hurry call. They explained the manner in which they were made temporary members of the "Federal Motion Picture Council" and also said that they were not in sympathy with his bill.

The Congressman was considerably enlightened and Chase may not find the situation for the legislative child so satisfactory. Chase is moving heaven and earth to make a showing and has a few of the faithful shouters to make a heavy noise to make it appear there is a genuine sentiment, extending all over the nation for Federal Censorship, Federal Management and inexperienced outside direction for the picture industry.

Chase Stalls

Due to the poor response to his invitations, Chase, this morning, stalling very diplomatically, postponed his afternoon session until 6 P.M. tonight, to "allow more time for the 'delegates' to arrive."

The "reformer" late today released a story to the Associated Press, in which he committed all the organizations that had been invited to the Council Sessions, to his policy on censorship.

Repudiation Follows

Three delegates who heard of Chase's bold move, immediately repudiated this Canon Chase claim and in hot interviews given out, made clear that they were cooperating with the picture industry satisfactorily and they had found a perfect willingness on the part of the business to cooperate with responsible groups, and that they were against Federal Censorship, the Brookhart Bill and the Hudson Bill.

These delegates were Clara Keck Helfebower of Cincinnati, representing the League of American Pen Women; Mrs. Charles D. Owens of Norristown, Pa., representing the Daughters of the American Revolution and Mrs. Minna Church Brand of Maryland, representing the General Federation of Womens Clubs.

The dinner tonight which was first scheduled for 400 reservations found only 36 people in attendance including the curiosity seekers.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman Scheier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10. Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

J. Harrison Edwards, West Coast Representative, Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles.
London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.
Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

"High Voltage" Out

It seems that Pathe's scheduled production of "High Voltage" has struck a lot of snags. It has been returned for a number of changes that will throw the former plans all out of gear, so that it now looks as tho William Boyd and Alan Hale will team together in another story, "The Flying Fool," before further consideration is given "High Voltage."

Stromberg's Next

Hunt Stromberg, who was the producer of the box-office "wow" "Dancing Daughters," has been given leave by M-G-M to go right ahead and make another. His latest will be "The Single Standard," by Adela Rogers St. John. Joan Crawford will have the lead and John S. Robertson will direct. Bess Meredyth will write the scenario.

Ford-McDonald

John Ford, director and Farrell McDonald, beloved character actor, celebrated their tenth anniversary together in pictures when they started work on "Strong Boy," for Fox. Ten years ago, McDonald was starring in two reels being directed by John Ford and they have remained the best of friends ever since.

Boston Site for Huge Fox Theatre

(Continued from page 1)

deal, but other leaseholders are putting obstacles in the way.

Properties which must be razed, if a complete site is obtained by Fox, are the Wilsey Savings Bank Building and several retail stores.

U. S. Producer to Film Mussolini Fascist History

(Continued from page 1)

has been spurned from this source, as the film is to be free from political domination.

Contracts are now being arranged for the distribution of this film in the U. S. and other parts of the world. The picture will not be a propaganda film, but will be a big spectacle with a love story interwoven.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 125

New York, Friday, November 30, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Eloquent Echoes

By ARTHUR JAMES

Echoes of the Canon Chase Medicine Show which occupied heavy attention in Washington early in the week, included some very important facts. As soon as Canon Chase announced to the Federal Motion Picture Council that Pete Harrison speaks "for all the exhibitors in the country". This is not true, nor even partly true, but it shows how the reform element makes use of the bolshevist stuff which continually sees the daylight in Harrison's Reports.

Frank J. Rembusch wrecked Mr. Chase's meeting at the final session by a flatfooted, manly address in which he pointed out that there was no need for the Brookhart Bill and that the Hudson Bill was the last thing in the world that should be passed.

Despite all efforts of the sharp-shooting reformers to stop him he continued until he had completed his story and then with dignity withdrew, on the ground that he had no desire to participate in a forum open only to one side, and that the side of those favoring passage of pernicious legislation. As he left the hall he was followed by a dozen women, representatives of important national organizations for welfare and other work. This left only a handful as there were twenty seven in the room when the exodus began. Our hat is off to Frank Rembusch for his conspicuous loyalty and service to the motion picture industry and we shall have more to say on this subject.

The Chase pow wow was the biggest "bust" that this holy man has ever experienced. Those about him were deluded into thinking that their call to the country would bring people flocking from the four points of the compass and they figured on selling four or five hundred tickets to the opening dinner. There were sixty two in attendance and of these many came as observers and others, merely curious persons, who wanted to know what all the shooting was about.

Nothing will be done on the Hudson Bill until the affiliated and unaffiliated exhibitor representatives have a conference with the Federal Motion Picture Council and that was set by a resolution for which Frank Rembusch is responsible. It is probable that Frank Rembusch and Sam Katz will be the respective delegates, which means that the situation as far as the picture business is concerned will be in the hands of constructive and forthrightly men.

RADIO-KEITH-ORPHEUM ELECTS HIRAM S. BROWN PRESIDENT

"Wings" Biggest Money Maker Jumps Highest P-F-L Earnings

GOV'T USES EMELKA FOR UFA OPPOSITION

By Dr. R. OTTO
(Special Cable to Exhibitors Daily Review)

BERLIN—Like a bombshell came the announcement that the German government had resolved to become a controlling partner of the Emelka by increasing its 10% share of the 50 million marks Emelka capital to 36% and granting an additional two million marks immediate capital. The Government thus becomes the predominating partner in the majority stockholder's pool.

The news flurried the whole German film industry and the several British negotiations who sincerely believed they had bought the Emelka. I. W. Schlessinger and Major Rassam at once hurried back to Berlin from England. Thus it would

(Continued on page 3)

Lesser Troubles

Irving M. Lesser, who took over the Great Neck Playhouse on Long Island in 1925 has retired from this venture, after dispossess proceedings had been brought by Hyman Rosenbaum, owner, for back rent.

Lesser admitted in court that he could not pay the rent of the theatre although he claims $16,500 deposit still remains as security.

Paramount earnings reached their peak for the months of October and November and it is reported on good authority that they are 11% over the same period of 1927. There seems to be no question but that the last quarter of the present year will far exceed the same period of 1927 which was the top for earnings in the history of the organization. This rise is ascribed to the success of "The Patriot," "Wedding March" and "Wings," and the sound picture "Interference."

Concerning "Wings" it is asserted that at its present rate it will earn more money than any other picture ever released by Paramount. The consolidated net profits for the year are expected to go away ahead of last year's million dollar net and the quarterly dividend will reach the interesting figure of $2.90 per share.

RICE GETS CINEPHONE N. Y. STATE FRANCHISE

An exclusive franchise for the sales and service of Powers Cinephone in the upper New York State territory was signed this week by Fred A. Rice, former representative of the Marr & Colton Organ Company, and the present operator of the Oakla Theatre, and the Warsaw Opera House at Warsaw, New York.

Mr. Rice will install the Powers

(Continued on page 3)

Board of Directors also Adds Cravath, Lehman Herr and Brown—Albee Retains Theatre Command

Radio-Keith-Orpheum has elected as its president Hiram S. Brown, president of the United States Leather Company, who has notified his board of directors that he will continue in his leather company activities until January first at which time he will take over the leadership of R-K-O.

(Continued on page 3)

COOLIDGE AUDIENCE WITH 2 KINGS THROUGH FOX

Two kings talked to Calvin Coolidge last night at the Swannanoa Country Club at Waynesboro, Virginia through the medium of Movietone.

The program of talking pictures arranged for the President by Fox Film Corporation included a 15-

(Continued on page 3)

Woodhull Returns

R. F. Woodhull, who just returned from the Ohio M.P.T.O. convention, will attend the meeting of the theatre owners of Oklahoma on December 4 and 5 and will later be in Memphis for a meeting of the Board of Directors of the new Tri-State organization.

From Memphis, Woodhull will go to Charlotte, N. C. for the Annual Convention of the M.P.T.O. of North Carolina on December 11-12.

Woodhull reports fine progress in all territories and states that the new financial plan for affiliation with the National organization is receiving cooperation and within three months, the formation of a strong National body will be a fact.

Pasternak in N. Y.

Joe Pasternak, new foreign production manager for Universal, is in town at the Park Central, having arrived from Hollywood. Pasternak will leave at the end of the week to take up his duties in Germany as assistant, in charge of production, under Paul Kohner.

JIMMIE CRON

It is with a very considerable satisfaction, both personal and for business reasons, that I am able to announce the association with Exhibitors Daily Review of Jimmie Cron, under whose authority will come all matters of advertising for this newspaper.

I regard Jimmie Cron as the most constructive advertising man associated in the trade field in motion pictures. His knowledge of merchandising, his natural talent for showmanship and his long and thorough experience with pictures, picture people and the picture business, give him the best possible equipment for his new responsibilities. I feel certain also that the advertising executives, as well as the chief executives, will welcome this announcement.

Arthur James

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyrighted by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

J. Harrison Edwards, West Coast Representative, Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles.
London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wadour Street, London, W. 1.
Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

GOSSIP OF ROME

By ANDERSON GREGG

(Special to Exhibitors Daily Review)

Much more serious consequences than were at first anticipated are expected to grow out of Premier Mussolini's drastic act in barring the American film, "Street Angel", from all Italian theatres. American film representatives here are especially disturbed by Il Duce's order summarily disbanding by dismissal the entire Italian Board of Censorship following a gala performance of the Fox production in Rome. Their fear is that the dictator will now feel justified in turning over the whole censorship problem to a new State film monopoly which already has shown signs of a fixed determination to minimize American film participation in the theatre profits of this country.

The situation is being made still more difficult by the published indignation of prominent Italian film critics who were present at the invitation performance of "Street Angel." Mario Carli writes: "Even the classic sun of Italy was obliterated by the Fox directors. Can you imagine an Italian sea-scape perpetually steeped in fog! Have the producers in Hollywood nothing better to do than to distort Italian life, costumes, cities and passions! Perhaps in the remote past conditions approached those shown in the picture, but in Mussolini's Italy certainly nothing of that nature exists."

An advantage to be seized for domestic production is the motive which plainly underlies all this uproar. That the disturbing film happened to hail from the Fox studios is merely incidental. American film monopoly of Italian theatre patronage really is where the shoe pinches. Keep your eye on the decisions of the forthcoming new Italian Board of Censorship.

It is gossiped here in Rome, when bookish circles condescend to discuss the movies, that Luigi Pirandello certainly "has something." You will be interested to learn that, whatever it is that the author of "Six Characters in Search of an Author" "has," he will shortly carry with him to America. Pirandello, who has been in Berlin for some time conferring with German film producers, is preparing, so the latest advices say, to go direct to California—which, of course, means Hollywood.

Fox to Buy Loew's and M-G-M—Ha! Ha!

The story printed in one of the weekly publications yesterday intimating there was a deal on between Fox and Loew, whereby Fox would get control of Loew Theatres, Inc. and M-G-M, received a big laugh up and down the Avenue today.

It caused a laugh because the only thing Bill Fox is after at this writing is more theatres to run his pictures in and inasmuch as Loews could not be bought without taking M-G-M and knowing that Fox had no use for the latter company having a production organization of his own, the yarn was laughed off the street.

What really did happen was several conferences between Fox, Loew and Paramount, regarding the playing of each other's pictures in their respective houses. The results of these conferences caused them to bury the hatchet and work out an amicable arrangement regarding the booking of each other's pictures, thus eliminating a fight that would have cost a lot of money in playing time in sections where one or the other had control.

WESCO CONTINUES ALL BIG BOOKINGS

P u b l i x Separation to Affect Paramount Only In Few Spots

As a result of the separation of Publix Theatres from West Coast, effective this Saturday, Harold B. Franklin advises that in association with the Marcus Loew interests, West Coast Theatres will continue to operate the Loew's State in Los Angeles, and Loew's Warfield in San Francisco. The Fifth Avenue in Seattle and the Broadway in Portland, always West Coast Theatres, exclusively, continue in the circuit of the William Fox-West Coast chain.

According to Franklin's statement, West Coast Theatres will continue to show the motion pictures made by the William Fox Studios, those of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, First National Pictures and the best of the independently made productions, with Paramount Pictures reverting to only those Publix Theatres effected.

Continues P-F-L Pictures

The picture booking situation in the "key," or smaller cities, of California, Oregon and Washington, will not be effected with the new arrangement; West Coast Theatres will continue to exhibit the product of Paramount Pictures in all cities where they are represented with motion picture theatres.

No change will be made in the operation of the Criterion Theatre in Los Angeles — this theatre will continue as the downtown operating point of the super-productions for first showings and the exhibitions of features that have been exhibited elsewhere on a higher scale of box office admission charge.

It is understood that this change has become necessary because of the expansion program of the William Fox organization, which includes West Coast Theatres, especially in those cities where new Fox theatres are now under construction. Another important factor that enters into the new arrangement is the playing of stage presentations. The Fanchon and Marco "Ideas," a West Coast Theatres exclusive product, will continue to show in West Coast operated theatres with the eastern revues going to Publix operated houses.

Shayne Joins Synchro Music Library Service

Sam Shayne has been appointed Publicity and Advertising Director of the newly organized Motion Pictures Synchronization Service, Inc. of N. Y. which will service exhibitors with a weekly supply of music cues for non-synchronous devices.

Sepp Morscher and Maurice Nitke are directing this service which has compiled a complete record library of music of 300 numbers.

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.

for Library Stock Scenes
130 W. 46th St. New York
Bryant 8181

Says Wall Street—

Various explanations have been attempted for the spectacular fluctuations which came into the Pathe issues late last week. One rumor, widely spread, was that an offer was coming to stockholders from bankers who represent Warner Bros. No confirmation was obtainable, but many outsiders purchased the stock on this report and because of the low selling prices for the stocks.

KANSAS THREATENED WITH NEW CENSORSHIP

KANSAS CITY—The "Wholesome Amusement Committee" composed of church and civic organization representatives, has been organized to bespeak the State Legislature on behalf of censorship of so-called "filthy shows" which is to include motion picture productions as well as legitimate.

The rumpus started last week when the Kansas City Star printed an editorial attack on the Shubert production of "Gay Paree." A committee has been appointed, headed by I. M. Hargett, churchman to appeal to the new Governor, H. S. Caulfield.

The Kansas City Film Board of Trade and the M.P.T.O. Association of Kansas and Missouri are watching developments closely. Arthur Cole of Paramount, representing the Hays organization, doubts that the new committee will vitally effect the Kansas City exhibitors, as houses in the city are already under censorship.

YOUR reproduction is vital for your production.

Newspapers WELCOME clean, well-defined illustration and resent the bad product.

Blue Rock Mats are best because they are made expertly and solely for newspaper reproduction.

Tell your purchasing agent to write now to the

Burton Syndicate

28 West 44th Street

for prices and service particulars.

BURTON SYNDICATE - Exclusive rights - BLUE ROCK MATS

Harry Reichenbach ON POCKET BILLIARDS

(In The Motion Picture Club Bulletin)

Pocket billiards is played by two or more men with one white and fifteen colored balls.

The table is square. Use your own judgment about the players.

The players all hold a long stick in their hands and with these they play with the balls, using their white one to knock the others into one of the six pockets. It is the manner of putting these balls in pockets that gives the game its name.

No two players handle the balls alike.

When one will fondle and play with them in an easy-going manner, the next will knock them about in ruthless manner.

If a player's balls are frozen before he begins playing, he is considered at a handicap and shouts of glee and considerable discussion usually precedes his shot.

When the balls are grouped and no issue is likely, the player as a rule, "Plays safe." If he fails to touch a ball he is penalized.

Because the cue or white ball is solid ivory, it is easy to use "english" on it. English is used to influence the ball to go in the direction the shooter intends it to go. When it gets there it gives a violent kick. This is only one of the reasons it is called "english."

Billiards is like Pocket Billiards except the players have fewer balls to worry about.

When a man is shooting and scratches his ball is put back in its original position. This is very painful to the good player who has been known to go through life without scratching.

Young men should avoid billiard balls until attaining their majority. Less.

Women are taking up pocket billiards extensively now and are said to be even more dexterous than men in some instances.

Care should be taken in the handling of the balls, as once they are "nicked" they are practically useless.

Coolidge Audience With 2 Kings Through Fox

(Continued from page 1)

A minute talk on the Movietone by His Majesty, Alphonso XIII, King of Spain, following his film introduction by the American Ambassador to Spain, Ogden Hammond.

The President also heard the dedicatory remarks of His Majesty George V. King of England, made last October 11th at the opening of Tyne Bridge at Newcastle-on-Tyne. Arrangements for projecting this Movietone program for the President and his party were made by Jack Connolly, European Representative of Fox Film Corporation, who sails December 5th on the Leviathan.

Rice Gets Cinephone N. Y. State Franchise

(Continued from page 1)

Cinephone equipment in his own theatres, and although the franchise was not officially signed until Monday, Rice has already closed several contracts including one for an installation in The Auditorium Theatre at Perry, New York, which is a competitor of Mr. Rice's own theatres.

Gov't. Uses Emelka For Ufa Opposition

(Continued from page 1)

seem that Schlessinger's association with Emelka will only be that of a subsidiary, adding the talking film process which he controls.

There is a rumor that these negotiators were duped and that the whole transaction was a job arranged between a large shareholder and some powerful socialist deputies. The opinion prevails however, that the Government really means to break the monopoly of the nationalist owners of the Ufa concern and that the British bidders may after all not see their hopes scattered, as even under Government control the Emelka must expand its foreign markets.

Should the Reichstag adopt the government's proposal, then for the first time the Government of a great country enters into competition with a great national producing and exhibiting company; the Phoebe Theatres belonging to the Emelka embracing a seating capacity of 60,000 and the Ufa Theatres 80,000.

The Government will certainly not defy the rules of proper showmanship by indulging in political propaganda in the state-controlled theatres, as little as the Ufa productions show political tendency under the leadership of the nationalist deputy Hugenberg. Only in the numerous Ufa topicals jealous eyes pretend to envy political partisanship. But the screen is a great power and the talking film still a greater power.

Radio-Keith-Orpheum Elects Brown President

(Continued from page 1)

"The selection of Mr. Brown was announced by Mr. David Sarnoff who declared that the appointment is the consummation of a step that has been under consideration for the past three weeks. It is a selection of an unusual man for a post requiring exceptional constructive and administrative ability. The Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation is building upon a foundation that has no exact parallel in the amusement field."

Hiram S. Brown is one of the most successful corporation managers known to Wall Street. As president of the Central Leather Co., he took over the United States Leather Company when the company had paid only $2.00 a share in 1926 and in the two years has brought it to a point where in the last six months the dividends per share were $4.20.

His integrity and high standing are expected to mean much for the combination and his selection sets at rest all speculation about who would be the leader of this group.

The selection of Hiram Brown means that the company will have the highest type of intelligent, constructive and progressive business management.

Mr. Sarnoff also announced that at the directors' meeting held today, the following were added to the company's Board of Directors: Messrs. Paul D. Cravath, Arthur Lehman, Edwin M. Herr and Hiram S. Brown. Mr. Edward F. Albee continues as President of Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation, the theatre chain unit of the new company.

Sound Difficulties Force P-F-L To Release "Interference" on Discs

Paramount made up only two sets of films for "show" purposes on their present and first, all-talkie production "Interference". The prints for general release will have the sound via disc having been made by the Victor Company.

Reviewers both in New York and Los Angeles were knocked into a cocked hat at the perfection in photography and voice of the first Paramount talkie. The recording on the picture was done via the Pomeroy two-negative, two print method, thereby lifting both the voice and photography to such a high plane of perfection. With this Pomeroy method each print is developed separately from the other relieving all the difficulty now being experienced by producers using the film recording method, of having to develop both sound and photography on one film, often with unsatisfactory results.

Two Projectors

In order to project productions made via the Pomeroy method, a special contraption must be added to the regular sound equipment permitting the running through of two positive prints simultaneously, and there is only one of these machines in existence; or the method in use at the Criterion of using four projectors in the booth, two running simultaneously, one for the voice and the other for the photography. This method, of course, is not practical at this stage of the game as exhibitors now equipped with sound would not consider adding another set of projectors to their equipment as it is too expensive.

Certainly the discs will not show "Interference" to the advantage that was seen in the openings in both Los Angeles and New York. But it will permit Paramount to get the picture out in all the key centers.

Lilac Time Closing

The Central Theatre will remain dark for Monday and Tuesday after the 269th performance of Colleen Moore's "Lilac Time," Saturday night, in order that the elaborate preparations can be completed for the moving in of "Colonel Gowdy's Big Town Shows," when First National's first dialogue picture, "The Barker," opens Wednesday night.

ELEVENTH ANNUAL ANNOUNCEMENT NUMBER of DAILY REVIEW

THE DATE

TUESDAY, JANUARY 1, 1929

THE COPY

Early copy means first attention AND best position

THE ISSUE

The finest in the history of this publication

Lasky Announces Paramount Astoria Production Program

The current production of half a dozen important talking short features and plans for a large program of one and two reel pictures to be made at the Long Island Studio were announced yesterday by Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president in charge of production of the Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation.

"The short feature department, headed by James R. Cowan, has just added three important writers to its staff," said Mr. Lasky.

"They are S. Jay Kaufman, widely known newspaper man and author of many dramatic works; Morrie Ryskind, co-author of the book of 'Animal Crackers' and of other plays, and William Grew, author of 'The Sap,' 'Undressed Kid' and of the books for several Earl Carroll's Vanities.

"These writers will be at the studio for a long term, writing original short comedies, sketches and novelties and adapting material from other fields. They also will assist Joseph Santley, the director."

Mr. Lasky announced that George Abbott, the eminent director is engaged in directing "The Bishop's Candlesticks". This is expected to be one of the most important short talking features yet made at the studio. The cast of Broadway stage actors is headed by Walter Huston.

Abbott will direct still another short feature, after which it is expected that he will make one or more full-length pictures.

Other short subjects in sound either completed recently or still in production include the sketch, "If Men Played Cards as Women Do" by George S. Kaufman, "Highlow-brow" by S. Jay Kaufman, Eddie Peabody and his band, Borrah Minnevitich and his troupe of harmonica-playing boys, songs by the Geirsdorf Sisters and a group of songs in an Oriental setting by Anna Chang and other Chinese and Japanese artists.

Meanwhile, plans are going forward under the supervision of Monta Bell, production executive, for work to begin next Monday on "The Hole in the Wall", crook mystery play with a spiritualist setting. Robert Florey will direct.

Good Shots

A director, who spent three weeks in New York presumably to shoot street scenes, returned to the studio and showed the executives the results of his trip. He received congratulations after the showing, but one of the executives said, "these shots must have been made months ago, instead of last week, for I see that the 'Greenwich Village Follies' are still at the Winter Garden and 'The Man Who Laughs' is at the Central. I left New York two months ago and both these productions had left long ago.

It seems that New York had offered too many outside attractions and the director had gone to a stock film library and bought the footage.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Frank Ward Crane has been signed for an important part in "The Comedy of Life," starring Milton Sills.

William DeMille will direct "White Collars," screen version of the play produced in New York, as a talking picture, for M-G-M.

Helen Fairweather and Richard Bolder have been added to the cast of "Seven Footprints to Satan," by First National.

Jimmy Aldine is playing an important role in Pathe's "The Office Scandal."

Richard Barthelmess will probably make "Diversion" as his first picture under his new First National contract.

Lloyd Bacon, Warner Brothers director, has left Hollywood on a four weeks motor trip to Vancouver.

Loretta Young has had her contract renewed by First National. Miss Young is a protege of Colleen Moore.

Benjamin Glazer, head of Pathe's sound department, recently made voice tests of sixteen players in a single day for roles in "The Missing Man."

Frank Tuttle will make "The Studio Murder Mystery" as his first all-talker for Paramount.

George Archainbaud will direct Eve Sothorn in "The Miracle" for Tiffany-Stahl.

Charles Grapewin and Anna Chance start the first episode in Grapewin's Traveling Man's Vaudeville series for Christie, Dec. 3rd.

Evelyn Blanchard has sold an original to M-G-M, "Maymie Struts Her Stuff." It will be a talkie and Jimmy Gleason will do the dialogue.

R. William Neill has been given a contract by Columbia to direct for them.

Edward Everett Horton's two short talkers for Christie before beginning with Warners will be "A Cup of Tea" and "Meet the Wife."

Stuart Anthony has been signed by Columbia to write scenarios.

Harry L. Decker has had the option on his services renewed by Universal for the third year, as production supervisor of Universal feature comedies.

Julia Swayne Gordon will play her first part in a comedy in a Hal Roach two-reeler.

Ken Maynard will do "The Royal Rider" as his next picture for First National.

Paramount has failed to renew their option on the services of Lane Chandler.

SHUBERT'S 'WHITE LILACS' FIRST CINEPHONE PROD.

Original Cast in Current B'way Musical Comedy Starred in Talkie

"White Lilacs" the current Shubert Broadway stage success, is the first Powers Cinephone 100% dialogue picture now being shot and according to production schedule this current musical episode in the life of the great composer, Chopin, will be completed in sound film form within the next few days.

Work on the sound picture version of "White Lilacs" has been in progress at the Powers Cinephone New York Studio for the past several weeks but the title and nature of the subject had been withheld until it was learned that the sound picture version is being played by the original stage cast.

On the screen as on the stage, the leading roles are filled by Guy Roberson, Grace Brinkley, Allan Rogers and Maurice Holland.

Harry Revier is directing for Powers and Jack Livingston is in charge of production details. Joe Seiden is chief cinematographer, and William E. Garity chief technical engineer of the Powers Cinephone is in charge of sound recording.

Jannings in New Role

Emil Jannings' next starring picture will have an Alpine background, according to B. P. Schulberg, general manager of Paramount West Coast production, who today assigned Hans Kraly, adaptor of "The Patriot" to prepare the German star's new vehicle. Lewis Milestone will direct.

Colman's First Talkie

"Bulldog Drummond", the famous English crook melodrama, is to be Ronald Colman's first talking picture. It will be made throughout with dialogue. Richard Jones will direct. The picture version of this play will go into production within the next two weeks and will be Colman's second individually starring picture.

Joy With Arlington

Al Joy, noted English film comedian, has been placed under a three year contract by Leonard W. Horton, president of the Arlington Pictures, Inc., who plan to star him in a series of two reel talking comedies, which the Capital Film Exchange will release.

Basquette Freelancing

The contract held by DeMille-Pathe for the services of Lina Basquette has not been renewed. Miss Basquette will freelance.

"Kohinoor" Prod. Interests H. R. H. Queen Mary

LONDON—H.R.H. Queen Mary is reported interested in the production of a picture called "Kohinoor" by Geoffrey Malin, who is now in India completing his arrangements and which he will start active work on in January.

The picture will have a native cast of 5,000.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

WAITING

The small and medium sized exhibitor, being forced to wait for sound installation, though at first quite peeved on being told they could not get equipment for six or eight months, are now laughing up their sleeves at their inability to get a set at the time they wanted it so badly. Most of them have put in a non-synchronous device, using the ordinary talking machine records, after the picture had been cued by the piano player, the organist or some member of the staff. In so far as synchronization is concerned, this outfit is perfect. Of course, talking pictures are another thing altogether.

THE LAUGH

Several weeks ago when they got hot under the collar on being told they had to wait, this anger was caused by the thought of not being able to get "sound" quick. Now they have it, or have as much as they need temporarily, at one tenth of the price and by waiting they are placed in the position of finding out "what the thing is all about." In six or eight months (and that is the time it would have required for them to get their installations,) many things can happen. By that time it will be determined if producers are going to stick to two methods of recording, film and disc. One or the other might weaken thereby not making it necessary to get a dual set for sound. And too, there is bound to be a price drop, either in the type of sets now being installed or a different device manufactured that would satisfy the needs of the small house at a much cheaper price. Also there is the consideration that all present equipment might become antiquated in six or eight months with the improvements that are certain to take place all up and down the line of sound and talking pictures.

CONTENTED

Accordingly, these small fellows are contented. They are running sound pictures without having to pay sound rentals, are giving their audiences as much entertainment as they would get with the straight synchronized sets and under any conditions it would be some time before the talking picture would be ready for their exhibition. So what started out to be a "mad yell" is now a smile of satisfaction.

EXPRESSIONS

A person having been away from a motion picture set for the past few months, on returning would not know what the gang were talking about. He would have to learn new language. Old and familiar terms like "camera," "action," "hold that" and "cut," are now being supplanted by new expressions such as "red lights," "sound ready," "get the phase," "damping and 'overload.'" In addition to these we have the "dialogue consultant" crowding out the "gag man."

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 126

New York, Saturday, December 1, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Piffle Pete Wrong Again

By ARTHUR JAMES

Poison Pete Harrison has a genius for being wrong. In his current issue of his "Reports" he devotes a column and a half to this writer referring especially to an article in Exhibitors Daily Review entitled: "The Unholy Three". This article was a warning to my worthy contemporaries in the publishing field to lay off their whispering campaign. Pete interprets it as having been a warning to producers that unless they advertise in Motion Pictures Today and Exhibitors Daily Review we were "going to kick the bucket" and then he speaks of the ingratitude of producers and asserts, again wrongly, that Motion Picture News, Film Daily and Herald-World have been "receiving tons of advertising lately". He says Herald-World more particularly had to turn most of it away since the consolidation for inability to handle it. Pete can't see straight and can't count straight or he would know that the Herald in 1927 printed 1307 pages of film advertising and that in 1928, combined with the World, it has printed 1217½ pages.

If Pete hadn't an infinite capacity for being wrong he would know that in 1927 the News printed 1391 pages and that in 1928 it has printed 983 pages of film advertising, or 408 less pages with only a month in the year to go.

If Misconstruction Pete was not farsighted in one eye and nearsighted in the other he would know that Film Daily is 105 pages behind last year and that Motion Pictures Today in eleven months of the current year has published 107 pages more film advertising than in the entire year of 1927.

This record is approximately exact and we present it in refutation of the twisted statements of the potential banana peddler.

The rest of Pete's article is just about as accurate and therefore is not worthy of attention unless we may find time to regale our readers with comment later on.

Poison Pete is also Piffle Pete and there is no doubt in the world about that.

BRUNSWICK-VICTOR COMPANIES-- TIFFANY-STAHL IN R-K-O MERGER

Technicolor Sale?

Reports are coming through that RCA is angling for control of the Technicolor Corporation, or has already bought control.

On seeking confirmation, Judge Jerome of Technicolor denied that this is true and stated that his control of 70% of Technicolor stock has not changed hands.

MONTAGNE BRINGS PLANS FOR 'U' 1929 RELEASES

Edward J. Montagne, scenario head of Universal is en route to New York with details of Universal's releases for next year, beginning in September 1929. He will outline the program just O.K.'d by Carl Laemmle at Universal City, with home-office officials and sales heads.

Pathe Tries Complete Sound Service Plan

Pathe has decided to release complete picture unit shows in sound so that exhibitors will, if they desire be able to buy a feature, sound news reel, two reel comedy and short 1-reel filler, all in sound, all in one shipment.

This idea is along the lines of Universal's Complete Service Plan which has been in successful operation for many years.

HIRAM S. BROWN

Newly chosen leader of the Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation, which has taken over Keith-Albee-Orpheum and FBO, who takes up the reins, January 1st

FOX SOUND NEWS UNIT SAILS TODAY

The Fox Movietone Newsreel Unit consisting of Cameraman Fred H. Brutt, Soundman Clarence Ellis and Contact Man, Earl Allvine, which sails today on the Empress of Australia, will make the second special Fox unit now engaged on a world tour of sound photography.

(Continued on Page 2)

An Attorney Writes Us a Letter

November 30, 1928.

Exhibitors Daily Review,
25 West 43rd Street,
New York City.

Dear Mr. James:

I beg to acknowledge receipt of the letter written you by Exhibitors Review Publishing Co. complaining against your use, in connection with the Exhibitors Daily Review, of the words "Exhibitors Trade Review." After careful examination of the facts submitted to me by your office, I find that the Exhibitors Trade Review was acquired by Mr. George C. Williams on July 28th, 1923. This publication at that time was a weekly. That on or about October 5, 1925, Mr. Williams or the Exhibitors Review Publishing Co. started a daily, originally entitled Exhibitors Review and sub-

(Continued on Page 2)

Fishers—L. A. Young and T-S Officials Framing Deal in Detroit

Disc Control Sought

Everything points to the Radio-Keith-Orpheum taking over Tiffany-Stahl. The deal is on and will be set within a few days. It is said on the best authority that the Fisher Brothers are behind this new acquisition with R-K-O and is the first move in the contemplated assembling of at least two other companies.

L. A. Young, millionaire manufacturer of automobile springs, is the big money interest that has been behind Tiffany-Stahl since its inception. Young and the Fishers are very friendly. They are working out the details of the merger in Detroit now, together with Edward Smith, general sales manager and Grant Cook, general manager of T-F.

To Add Brunswick

It has been generally understood, but nothing as yet officially announced, that R-K-O have taken over the Victor Talking Machine Company of Camden, New Jersey. There

(Continued on page 2)

JERSEY MPTO VAGUE ON BROOKHART BILL

Sidney E. Samuelson, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of New Jersey, in giving the status of the New Jersey theatre owners organization, disclaims any affiliation with any national body and in concluding his statement remarks:

"In connection with the Directors' meeting, several matters of interest to Jersey Theatre owners, such as the Brookhart Bill, etc., were also

(Continued on page 2)

Emelka Scoop

One week before Emelka got the backing of the German Government to oppose UFA, Exhibitors Daily Review spread the news to the waiting trade. This is just another indication of the news service of Exhibitors Daily Review.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

J. Harrison Edwards, West Coast Representative, Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles.

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

Charles McCarthy, publiciteer for Paramount is in fashion as the gripe has him down for a week—Elmer Pearson is New Yorking and Motion Picture Club greets him frequently—Hiram S. Brown, new president of R-K-O dresses as smartly as the best attired film notables—Ed McNamee won the Thanksgiving turkey and it made 15 pounds more to carry home—J. D. Trop is back from the honeymoon and the congratulations are still coming in—Fred McConnell has departed for points middle and west to further the Universality of things until after the Christmas season — Many ask about me. They want to know who I am. This is embarrassing in view of the fact that I spent eight years on the Morning Telegraph writing and signing my stuff. Of course my trip to Africa took me away from the buzz of things but it's tough to come back and be asked who you are or who one is, as the South Africans so well express it. I ask the editor's pardon for this personal intrusion but the number of the inquiries while flattering are embarrassing beyond words. I am Gordon Trent of the Trents on Trent although that was a long while ago. And I am at your very personal service, now and then again—Jay Dee Williams and Sam Harris of London have been internationally amitying which is a progressive and constructive idea — Quinn Martin discusses the smaller forms of insect life with Peter Vischer—So does Tally—Fox not bridge—Joe Kennedy of the Boston Kennedys is shoving off from Hollywood for New York this week which must mean today—Au Revoir until the new week.

Brunswick-Victor Tiffany-Stahl in Merger

(Continued from page 1)

is a story going the rounds that not only Victor but Brunswick also will come under the guidance of R-K-O. If this is true, R-K-O will, practically have the entire talking record business tied up as Victor and Brunswick are the two leaders in this field.

Great Combination

This combination of the two chief record makers and R-K-O will bring the latter organizations the pick of the great artists of the world under contract to the former. It is said future contracts with those formerly recording with Vitor and Brunswick together with all other available talent, will be signed providing for the artists, in most cases, to make records for broadcasting through R-C-A and to appear on the vaudeville stage through the Keith houses and to work in pictures for the companies under the wing of R-K-O. Quite a hookup and a sensible one.

Warner-Pathe Deal

The talked of deal with Warners and Pathe joining R-K-O is not out by any means. All parties are still talking and an announcement at any minute making this a fact would surprise few.

Fox Sound News

Unit Sails Today

(Continued from page 1)

The first unit has already started for South American ports while the second, sailing today, will first touch at Madeira Islands, Algiers, Egypt and the Holy Land, and will supply the newsreel shots for the 3rd Weekly Edition of the talking newsreel, first issue of which is released today.

An Attorney Writes Us A Letter

(Continued from page 1)

sequently changed to Exhibitors Daily Review.

Thereafter and shortly prior to July 1st, 1926, Mr. Williams discontinued "Exhibitors Trade Review" and so notified the United States Post Office Department, pursuant to its second class permit and advised it would run two sections per month as a part of the Exhibitors Daily Review. This section 2 contained among other things, a subdivision known as "Theatre Management". Subsequently these sections were eliminated with the exception of Theatre Management, and again notice thereof was given to the United States Post Office department, that the Exhibitors Daily Review would be published daily except Sunday but would run one issue per month to be published as of a Sunday date; and on or about August 24, 1926, eliminated all reference to Exhibitors Trade Review.

About this time, the only publication put out by the Exhibitors Review Publishing Company and Mr. Williams, was the Exhibitors Daily Review with the Theatre Management section. The publication was continued in this manner until the end of October 1927. The first issue of the Theatre Management as a separate publication was the issue of November 1927.

Commencing in the Spring of 1928, the management of the Exhibitors Daily then determined to revive the name of Exhibitors Trade Review and in its daily publication, in small type directly underneath the words EXHIBITORS DAILY REVIEW, inserted the following words "Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review".

This designation and caption appeared on all subsequent issues up until the time you acquired this publication. Bearing in mind that each issue of the Exhibitors Daily Review, with this additional statement, in the masthead, carries the statement that it was duly published and copyrighted by the Exhibitors Review Publishing Corporation—pursuant to the terms of your agreement or purchase, this gives you the sole and exclusive right to use the words "Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review," and any use of the same or similar phrase by the Exhibitors Review Publishing Co. is an infringement of your rights; and as your attorney, I have so advised the Exhibitors Review Publishing Corporation.

Jersey MPTO Vague On Brookhart Bill

(Continued from page 1)

discussed. These discussions were in executive session and the only statement authorized for publication is the one above quoted.

"It would be interesting to know whether the M.P.T.O. of New Jersey favors the Brookhart Bill or not. Why they should hesitate to declare themselves and why the subject of the Brookhart Bill, which involves the freedom of the motion picture industry should be a secret matter is hard to understand."

Dea Organized

The Dea Film Corp., has been organized in New York, with Charles Lovecchio, Pres.; Jose Garza, V. P., Gino Calalano, Treas., and Sidney Sprague, Secretary. The company plans to introduce films with Italian backgrounds and with new screen players.

KAHN LEAVES M-G-M FOR FOX FOR. DEPT.

Henry W. Kahn, who for the past 14 years has been connected with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, in both the domestic and foreign fields, has joined the Foreign Department of Fox Film Corporation. Mr. Kahn has just returned from Germany where he supervised the Sales for Paramount, Metro and Ufa (Parufamet). He is well-known in both domestic and foreign fields.

Mr. Kahn will sail for Europe shortly to take charge of the affairs of the Fox Film Corporation in Sweden, Norway, Denmark and Finland.

German 1 to 1 Kontingent Remains for 1929

By Dr. R. OTTO

(Special Cable to Exhibitors Daily Review)

BERLIN—The Kontingent question is still under discussion by the Ministry of Economics and other trade associations. A regulation following the old lines of a one to one Kontingent will be issued before the end of the year for another twelve months. But being only temporary, it will neither satisfy producers nor importers.

PATHE EXCHANGE TO BE IN FILM CENTER BLDG.

Film Center, Inc., Abe N. Adelson, president announces the signing of a lease with Pathe Exchange, Inc., for a large part of the eighth floor in the Film Center Building located on the easterly side of the Ninth Avenue block front from 44th to 45th Streets. This lease is for a term of ten years, at an aggregate rental in excess of $200,000, and possession is to be given about January 1st.

Adelson states that the balance of the eighth floor will be occupied by FBO Pictures Corporation and that with leases previously signed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Pictures Corporation, First National Pictures, Universal Pictures Corporation and Educational Pictures, the building is fifty per cent rented above the ground floor.

Horace Judge Resigns

From 1st Nat'l-Pathe

Horace Judge, Publicity and Advertising Manager for First National Pathe, and, prior to the amalgamation of those companies, for First National Pictures, Ltd., a 9 year service, is to relinquish that post at the close of the current year, it is announced.

42 Minutes from Broadway

THE GLORIOUS
HALF-MOON HOTEL
CONEY ISLAND N.Y.

Sea Baths ~ Roller Chairs
Exceptional Restaurant
An Enchanting Hostelry
Offering Astounding Rates
$3.00 Daily
$65.00 Monthly

400 ROOMS WITH BATH!
Attractive Winter Rates
$3.00 Daily $65.00 Monthly

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) HARRY D. KOSCH.

PICTURE REVIEWS

"Power of the Press"

Columbia
Directed by.....Frank Capra
Featuring.....Doug Fairbanks, Jr.,
Robert Edeson, Philo McCullough,
Jobyna Ralston, Wheeler Oakman.

THIS ONE HAS EVERYTHING TO MAKE GOOD FILM ENTERTAINMENT. IT IS A NEWSPAPER-CROOKED POLITICS-MYSTERY STORY THAT HAS TRULY PICTURED NEWSPAPER LIFE. DOUG FAIRBANKS, JR. GIVEN A REAL CHANCE HERE DOES BEST WORK OF CAREER.

A cub reporter with lots of nerve and ambition is assigned to get the story behind the murder of the district attorney of the town. He fails to get inside the house, but catches sight of a girl escaping from the scene of the crime. He lands his first story, when he learns the identity of the girl, who is the daughter of one of the candidates running for Mayor. The published story ruins her character and the chances of her father to win the election. The girl wants the cub to effect a retraction in the paper and he is fired as a result. He picks up a clew on the outside and together with the aid of the girl they get on the trail of the real murderer, who is a tool of the opposition candidate for Mayor. Another girl who is hep to the murder is being kept under cover by the opposition candidate, but the cub cleverly gets to her and she spills the real dope on the murder.

The picture has plenty of action and suspense, and while there isn't much love story and Doug hardly classes as a Don Juan, the direction of the mystery elements puts the picture over.

"Power"

Pathe
Directed by.....Howard Higgins
Featuring.....William Boyd,
Alan Hale and Jacqueline Logan.

FAIR COMEDY. NOT MUCH STORY BUT GOOD BOYD-HALE FAN FILM. LIGHT AND AMUSING SHOULD GO WELL ON ANY PROGRAM.

Just what the title has to do with the picture must remain a mystery. Boyd and Hale are pals working on a dam who constantly rival each other for some gal's affections. Finally a gold-digger comes to town and plays them both for suckers getting their dough and making them come to blows over her. The gold-digger fools them and goes off with a third man and Boyd's and Hale's money. They then swear that never again shall a woman come between them and just then a beautiful pair of legs walk by.

Boyd and Hale do good work as the friendly enemies and Jacqueline Logan as the heart and brains of the picture, does pretty well. The direction is neat and while the picture is loaded down with titles, the reading matter is laughter producing and helps what little story theme there is, to get along. Boyd and Hale deserve better material than this production offers, but the picture won't hurt them as the "neighborhood" will.

"The Viking"

Kalmus—M-G-M
Directed by.....R. William Neill
Featuring.....Donald Crisp,
Pauline Starke, LeRoy Mason,
Anders Randolph.

Screen Play.....Jack Cunningham
A CORKING BOX-OFFICE ATTRACTION, ENTIRELY IN TECHNICOLOR, WITH ROMANCE, BEAUTY, ADVENTURE, LOVE AND HISTORICAL GLAMOR. EXCELLENT CAST AND FAIR DIRECTION. COLOR WORK FOR MOST PART 100%.

This is a tale of the much-feared Vikings of old in Greenland and a detailed account of how Leif Ericsson, down in history's pages as the first discoverer of America, made the famous voyage. The story starts with a raid of the Vikings in England the capture of a young and handsome noble, who is made a slave and taken first to Norway, where a Norse maiden under protection of Ericsson, buys the English slave and later falls in love with him. After quite a spell in Norway, Ericsson and his gallant crew of ruffians return to Greenland, where the English hero is made aide-de-camp to Ericsson. A religious quarrel separates Ericsson from his father Eric the Red and Ericsson steals enough food from the storehouses to outfit his vessel for the voyage to unknown lands. Egil, a Black Knight, who has always desired the Norse Maiden and resented the hero winning out in the race for her hand is caught red-handed in trying to kill Ericsson and is himself disabled. Land is finally discovered and the hero and heroine remain in the new land to begin their life.

With more careful editorial supervision and better direction, could have been one of the year's biggest As is, 80% of all audiences will like it, if it is cut down about a half-reel in length.

"The Masks of the Devil"

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer
Directed by.....Victor Seastrom
Starring.....John Gilbert,
Theodore Roberts, Eva Von Berne and Ralph Forbes.

JOHN GILBERT SURROUNDED BY WOMEN IN A PICTURE THAT WILL THRILL THE GALS AND MAKE 'EM SEND FOR MORE PICTURES. DRAMA ON DRAMA FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE BOX OFFICE.

Gilbert portrays that "devil", Baron Reiner, suffering from too much money, women and a mirror complex. He finally manages to fall genuinely in love, however, with his best friend's fiancée, but not until one countless attempts suicide, one husband is shot to death and plenty of dirty work on the part of Reiner to get the virtuous gal in his powah by sending her sweetie on an expedition and managing to snitch their letters to each other. All ends well.

The production is gorgeously mounted and competently directed. Gilbert is fine, mostly, but sometimes goes decidedly ham, altho always the screen's perfect lover. Eva Von Berne is good but somehow fails to register. Theodore Roberts is of course, excellent.

Altogether, it looks like a money-

"The Somme"

NEW ERA
Directed by.....M. A. Wetherell
Photographed by.....Sydney Blythe Literary Adviser.....Boyd Cable

A REALISTIC AND STIRRING REPRODUCTION OF THE ALLIES CAMPAIGN AGAINST GERMANY, BEFORE THE FINAL COLLAPSE OF THE CENTRAL POWERS. PRODUCED WITH OFFICIAL SANCTION AND COOPERATION OF BRITISH ARMY COUNCIL.

This record of a superhuman effort on the part of the Allies is thrilling and absorbing all the way, relieved here and there by the humor of the Tommies, Anzacs and South Africans. Advance after advance is shown, the taking of every inch of ground bitterly contested, to scenes of frightful slaughter.

Tank and machine gun scenes, as hundreds of men on both sides are mowed down, are impressive in the extreme and added scenes of the misery and discomfort of life and warfare in the trenches gives a faint idea of what the soldiers went through to achieve victory.

Several incidents of individual valor are portrayed, the Richardson bagpiper heroism bringing a laugh as well as a tear. Any theatres that feel that war films have not exhausted their welcome and whose patrons want something more than a love story, can play this one, provided one or two good comedies are on the bill.

"Manhattan Cocktail"

Paramount
Directed by.....Dorothy Arzner
Featuring.....Richard Arlen and Nancy Carroll.

GOOD COMEDY DRAMA ABOUT BROADWAY AND ITS HEARTBREAKS. THRILLING CLIMAX. LAUGHS AND TEARS FOR EVERYONE. FINE SOUND ATTRACTION FOR ALL HOUSES.

This is the old story about the talented home town girl and boy who seek their fortunes in the big city on Broadway. The girl leaves the serious sweetie behind. After weeks of tramping the streets, she lands herself a job in the show that her hoover boy friend has gotten a part in, thru the producer's wife. The producer, is of course a dirty villain, but the hero, (serious boyfriend, writer of Greek plays and basketball coach) turns up in time and all ends well for the home town gal.

Dorothy Arzner has handled this very old theme refreshingly. There is a very feminine softness about the production but it is ably done and decidedly pleasing. Richard Arlen is more or less wasted on a very small part, for a hero to have. Nancy Carroll gives a good account of herself and has a pleasing voice. Danny O'Shea, as the hoover, does fine work. The titles are more than satisfactory and there are some good gags throughout the picture.

It is a good show and should do

"Small-Town Sinners"

Int. Forwarding Co.
Produced by.....Hugo Brahn
Featuring.....Asta Nielsen,
Herman Picha, H. A. Schlettow,
Marla Paudler.

GERMAN PRODUCTION MADE SOME YEARS AGO BY THE PANTOMIME COMPANY BASED ON FARCE COMEDY IDEA. TREATMENT OF STORY IS VERY HUMOROUS IN THE HEAVY CONTINENTAL MANNER — DIRECTION AND PHOTOGRAPHY NOT UP TO STANDARD AND MUCH OVER-ACTING.

This production gets off the beaten track and presents a very workable scenario, which lets down somewhat after its climax. An inn-keeper's wife is informed that a pension is to be paid to her old grand-father, long dead, so she borrows an old man from a neighbor to substitute for the departed. The neighbors exact all they can for the privilege of loaning their grandpop away and make life miserable for the inn-keepers. The Berlin man comes to pay the pension and falls in love with the inn-keeper's wife. Another admirer, in a fit of jealousy tumbles to the scheme and exposes the deception to the Berlin man, who promptly proceeds to vent his wrath on the owners of the hostelry. The inn-keeper, a timid soul, is induced by the meddler to divorce the woman, so that the meddler can get her, but instead, the Berlin man makes up with the wife and they leave the inn-keeper in the lurch.

Several excellent characterizations by the inn-keeper's wife, the old man, the meddler and the neighbor's daughter redeem an otherwise poor picture.

"Napoleon's Barber"

FOX
Directed by.....John Ford
Story by.....Arthur Ceasar
Featuring.....Otto Mattieson,
Helen Ware, Frank Reicher,
Phillipe DeLacy.

THE FIRST OF THE FOX-ALL-TALKIE PRODUCTIONS. THREE REEL IN LENGTH AND THOROUGHLY ENTERTAINING THROUGHOUT. SEEMED TOO SHORT. ADD TO THIS SUBJECT "THE BATH BETWEEN" THE TWO REEL CLARK AND MACCULLOUGH PICTURE AND YOU HAVE A CORKING PROGRAM.

"Napoleon's Barber" was taken from the stage skit written by Arthur Ceasar. Otto Mattieson plays Napoleon and Frank Reicher, the barber. Both are excellent. The main points of the story concerns the conversation and action of a village barber shaving Napoleon, not knowing who he was. The barber goes to great length to recite what a tyrant this Napoleon is, and what he would do to him if he ever got him in his chair. "The Little Corporal" takes it all in, after awhile his identity is disclosed, and he tells the barber to go over his neck once again. Needless to say this is done without any damage. John Ford's direction was exceptionally good, the photography could have been better. The picture is bound to please any-

And, History Will Repeat—

The original motion picture film ... workable long rolls...colored film base..duplicating film..panchromatic negative....the history of the important developments in American motion picture materials is a factful story of this Company's cooperation with the cinematographic industry.

Obviously an association that has borne such fruits in the past can be expected to repeat in the future. For 1929 the Eastman resources and Eastman cooperation are pledged anew to the further advancement of the motion picture art.

EASTMAN KODAK COMPANY

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 127

New York, Monday, December 3, 1928

FIVE CENTS

More on Pete the Pitiful

By ARTHUR JAMES

Pete the Pitiful has actually accused us of advising the Hays organization. This is high praise but it is undeserved. We have told the Hays body nothing save in print but if we can be accredited as partially responsible for their splendid work in behalf of the industry we should think at least twice before we should dodge the honor.

Times change and people change but Pete never does. He is the only man in the world who is eternally wrong. The language as we write and print it always means something else to Pete. We would for the sake of letting him know what is going on, print our entire paper in Greek but then we would be under Pete's handicap. We couldn't read it.

It seems odd to us that this man whose supreme ambition in life was to wear clothes made by Finchley should continue to befuddle and deceive a few exhibitors by presuming to advise them. He has opposed all independent exhibitor leadership if it failed to agree with his dumb dictum. Dictum comes from the Latin so the potential banana peddler will have to get out the old dictionary to know what it means—but we have to talk in our own lingo—including that plain English which Americans understand.

Pete's lack of understanding and his plain stupidity are his greatest assets. Exhibitors with that dumb feeling regard him as an understanding pal. His honesty I never have questioned. His enthusiasm for money I have never doubted. He got about $6,000 from two companies for subscriptions and I never personally saw a knock on their pictures in his paper after that. It may be virtuous not to accept advertising but as my papers have earned advertising and still have told the truth and the whole world knows that to be true for all these years.

Pete as he seems to us is a wart on the body politic. He does nothing that is constructive, he simply remains prominent as a wart. If this industry or any part of it believes that the man who tears down has a place with us, all very well. We would even agree if the destroyer could or would replace his destruction with substantial suggestions and helpful comment. And that's that. Receiving from the compass' four

(Continued on Page 2)

KENNEDY PLANS BIG NEWSREEL MERGER FOR R-C-A SOUND SYSTEM

Phonofilm Apparatus in Canton, Ohio Runs RCA Photophone "The Toilers"

FOX GOING IN FOR STEREOSCOPIC FILM

(By Special Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD—It is said that the Fox Film Corp., has taken over the George K. Spoor patents for his stereoscopic "third dimension" film and will shortly release a picture with this effect in addition to having it all in color and with full sound.

It is said that the stereoscopic film has been so perfected that no change in the regular projection outfit will be needed to project it. The effect is said to be a revelation and will cause even more talk than the recently instituted "sound".

CLAVERING SLATED FOR WARNER-F.N. PROMOTION

LONDON—Arthur Clavering, managing director of Warner Brothers in Great Britain, has been holding conferences last week with First National-Pathe officials and has been making quick visits to their branch offices throughout the country.

It is rumored that Clavering will direct the First National-Pathe affairs for Warner Brothers, although both concerns will carry on as separate entities.

Hiram Brown to Co-ordinate Huge Resources for R-K-O

Will Utilize $71,000,000 Assets to Obtain the Best Entertainment

Hiram S. Brown, newly chosen leader of the Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation outlined his attitude and ideas with regard to the new field which he now enters, on Saturday. "We have the product," stated Brown, "and all we need is the co-ordination to sell that product to

(Continued on page 3)

Alhambra Theatre Claims Complete Interchange Success—Movietone Next

CANTON, Ohio — The Alhambra Theatre here on Saturday began a week's booking of Tiffany-Stahl's "The Toilers" which has been sound-ed by the RCA Photophone method, and which now runs over the theatre's Phonofilm apparatus, licensed by the General Talking Pictures Corporation, controlling the De Forest patents and Phonofilm machines.

Mr. Silverman, owner of the theatre claimed that the program, con-

(Continued on Page 2)

EQUITY ORGANIZING W. C. FULL BLAST

(By Special Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD—Hollywood is filled with organizers for the Actors Equity Association. Meetings are being held every hour of the day between representatives of this organization and screen artists. Equity is said to be out for a "kill" this year, having flopped in their efforts to organize the picture colony last year and the year before.

(Continued on page 3)

Newsreel Heads Here Keeping Mum on Definite Acceptance

Hard Competition Worries

By SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

HOLLYWOOD—There is a persistent report in Hollywood that Joseph P. Kennedy, leaving for the East tomorrow, is to head a gigantic news reel combine, the parties to the combination being the two Hearst News reels, one being released by Universal and the other by M-G-M, the Paramount News, Kinograms and the Pathe Sound News. All of these to be formed into "an associated press of the news reels" all to be released in sound via RCA and to be issued daily.

Long Contemplated

The formation of such a merger has long been contemplated due to the tremendous expense entailed in news reel manufacture and the great competition in this field. It has been said from time to time that there was not a news reel in the business

(Continued on page 3)

IDAHO EXHIBITORS FIGHT DRASTIC TAX

May Affiliate With Hone's Washington Organization

SEATTLE — Last Thursday, the Northern Idaho exhibitors who have formed themselves into an association, met at Spokane to perfect their organization and lay plans for scrapping the drastic state tax measure

(Continued on page 2)

Our Thanks-Mr. Boothby

Arthur James Exhibitors Daily Review, 25 West 43 St.

Please accept my heartiest congratulations for your very fine job of reporting the censorship meetings of the Canon Chase group in Washington.

Warren C. Boothby Treasurer First Nat'l Pictures, Inc.

T-S FORMS NEW TIFFANY PROD. CO. ABROAD

LONDON — Following the recent visit to England of L. A. Young, President of Tiffany-Stahl Productions, Inc., C. F. Bernhard has announced the formation of a new organization which will be known as the Tiffany Productions, Ltd.

This Tiffany outfit will build pic-

(Continued on page 2)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyrighted by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

J. Harrison Edwards, West Coast Representative, Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles.

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

Albert L. Godoy the Roxy of Mexico has been six months in Long Island City perfecting a balloon that will become solid. The trade thought he was in Mexico all the time—Randolph Lewis writes me he has licked the flu and is titling Pathe serials. There's a good man!—Phil L. Ryan has his phone number on his letterhead written thus GR. and it don't mean growl either — Louis Nizer, Executive Secretary of the N. Y. Film Board of Trade is in Cincinnati where his brilliant legal talents are now employed in straightening out an arbitration tangle—Ed Smith, Tiffany-Stahl's Sales impresario is back from Detroit feelin' fine — Emanuel Cohen, Paramount News Director, also Short Reels is, coming back to town today from a vacation in Maine—or was it business?—Max Hart, foremost representative of stage artists is going to open a department for screen talkie talent, I hear—Charlie Penzer, specialist in prize fight pitchers has organized a company for low priced sound equipment for small theatres —Wheeler tells me that Grubb Alexander writes in order to grubb Alexander — Jack Francis is back with Fox on the Coast—Milt Silver moves today with the big office overlooking Central Park — Charles Rogers makes for a subway with all the speed of a Kentucky Derby winner.

"What's Right with the Movies"

(Twenty-third of a Series by Industry's Leaders)

By WARREN C. BOOTHBY

Treasurer, First National Pictures Inc.

A score or so of years is all that marks the pathway of evolution of the motion picture from a mere experiment to one of our leading industries. Its phenomenal rise, within a relatively short space of time, gives proof conclusive that the motion picture possessed from the start, certain qualities and possibilities which have destined to make it great.

Great Amusement

One of the outstanding facts is that motion pictures today provide pleasure and recreation for a larger number of people than any form of entertainment in the world. The zeal with which the industry has built up and defended that enviable position has been demonstrated time and time again in the quality of the product which has been presented to the public.

At the outset, the motion picture industry fell victim to the usurious rates of the money lenders and many banks looked with disfavor upon loans for motion picture companies. Later years found this situation slightly improved but the facilities for financing did not keep pace with the immense proportions which this industry was assuming.

Financial Genius

It became necessary to educate banks and other financial institutions to make them realize that the motion picture industry was founded on sound business principles and that its resources and reasonable expectancy returns represented definite collateral values. This was finally accomplished through the introduction into the industry of executives with a background of banking experience, who acted as liaison officers between their respective companies and the banks and who, by a proper presentation of facts and figures, established credit and widened the channels of restricted financing.

Excellent Credit

The result is evident today. Motion picture companies are able to borrow money to finance their undertaking on the same reasonable basis as any other established lines of business. The mere fact that most picture companies can borrow money today without putting up any collateral is the best indication of the changed order of things.

I believe that the improved facilities for financing are in large measure responsible for the advanced steps that are being made in the artistic side of the industry. The star can concentrate upon his or her art, unhampered by unjust financial worries. A skilled director who applies his talent and his energy to a costly spectacle can feel assured of a fair return for his work of merit. And the result is demonstrating itself in the constantly improving line of entertainment that the motion picture industry is offering to the world.

Idaho Exhibitors

Fight Drastic Tax

(Continued from page 1)

proposed in the legislature.

Among those present were M. Kenworthy, Moscow, who is president of the Northern Idaho unit; Eddie Rivers of Lewiston, F. F. Moe of Kellog, G. Myers, Wallace; Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Weskil, Sand Point; W. L. Casey, Bonners Ferry; Walter Hanson, Wallace and Fulton Cook, St. Maries. Jim Hone, secretary of the MPTO of Washington, was a guest.

The MPTO of Washington will probably be changed in name to the Allied Amusements of the Pacific Northwest at the convention to be called soon; and it is probable that the Northern Idaho unit will cast its lot with the Hone organization. For the time being, Jim is representing the Northern Idaho exhibitors in Seattle, and will make a political trip to Boise for them.

Phonofilm in Canton, Ohio Runs RCA "The Toilers"

(Continued from page 1)

sisting of "The Toilers" and three Phonofilm shorts, two of them, "The Nugents" and "Jazz vs Opera", was a huge success and in addition, by actual test, finds that Photophone pictures can run as easily on Movietone apparatus as well as on Phonofilm apparatus, both being the same, for all purposes.

Silverman has not run any Movietone scored pictures over his Phonofilm apparatus, as yet, but has several pictures, so scored, booked. The first is "Mother Machree" with Fox-Case Movietone scoring and dialogue which he expects to get next week. He does not anticipate any trouble or refusal in getting Movietone scored product, and believes, as an alternative, he would have to cancel his entire Fox contract, if it doesn't come through.

T-S Forms New Tiffany

Productions Co. Abroad

(Continued from page 1)

ture studios in England, patterned after American studios, and will also distribute Tiffany-Stahl pictures in England. Four British Tiffany pictures are being scheduled.

35 Salesmen have been engaged to start selling dates for the new program, which will include the entire Tiffany-Stahl lineup in addition to the new four British pictures. These last four will be distributed in America and Canada through T-S exchanges.

Grant L. Cook, a partner of Mr. Young's has been busy acquiring and organizing a chain of theatres and exchanges throughout the continent. It is the intention of the Tiffany organization to trade show the pictures throughout the country in groups of six, each group to contain one of the super-special productions. William F. Husband will be in charge of publicity and advertising.

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.

for Library Stock Scenes

130 W. 46th St. New York
Bryant 8181

SCREEN TESTS

Incandescent Lighting

Local No. 644 Cameramen

Complete Equipment

Studios for Rent

BROWNING STUDIOS

110 West 40th St. N. Y. C.
PENN 1258

MORE ON PETE THE PITIFUL

(Continued from page 1)

points pleasant words about Jimmy Cron we are sparing his blushes by refraining from arranging them in display form. This then will serve to thank those pleasant friends of all of those telegrams now in his mercy on their souls for Jimmy has us and of him and may heaven have pockets.

Revier's "Scintalant"

Harry Revier, directing a Broadway play for Powers Cinephone in New York, has devised a sound film treatment which intensifies sound recordings and safeguards the sound track from scratches. The process is called "Scintalant."

Classified Advertisement

Advertisements in this section, 5 cents per word. Cash must be sent with order. No charge for Box Number line. Minimum order, $1. 10% discount 12 issues or more.

FOR SALE

LOCAL FILMS

MOTION PICTURES MADE TO order. Commercial Home or Industrial. We have excellent facilities and the best cameramen. Our price, 20c per foot. Ruby Film Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

MOTION PICTURE AND "STILL" cameras rented, sold and exchanged. Portable lights for sale and for rent. Keep us advised of your wants. Ruby Camera Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

WHETHER YOU WANT TO HIRE some one or be hired; buy or sell a theatre; trade or sell equipment, or do almost anything else in the motion picture business, an ad in this department will get you results. If you want us to word the ad for you, the services of our advertising experts are at your call. Simply tell us what you want to do, and how many words you want used. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

Warner Stock Called In

Warner Brothers Pictures Corporation's A stock was called in Saturday at $17 a share. Trading in the stock on the Stock Exchange ceased on Wednesday and transactions yesterday were for cash. Until the close of business today, the stock will be convertible, share for share, into common stock, which sells around $127, by presentation at the New York Trust Company. Failure to convert it would mean a loss of $110 a share.

Loew New Year Bills

Novelty programs are being arranged for special midnight performances New Year's Eve in practically every Loew Theatre in Greater New York. A number of the theatres will sell reserved seats for this special performance, including Loew's Oriental, Metropolitan, 46th Street, Bay Ridge, Bedford, Willard, Premier, Palace, Hillside, American, Gates, Commodore, Fairmount, National, Boulevard, Grand, Lincoln Square, State, Newark, N. J., Orpheum and Victoria Theatres.

MUST SUBMIT TALKIES TO ENGLISH CENSORS

It has just been announced in London that the British Board of Film Censors is to continue to act as sole censor on talking and sound films in addition to silent films, the Department of Commerce learns.

There was some question as to whether the Lord Camberlain's theatrical censorship department should be represented when talking films are being reviewed, but other consultations among the authorities concerned it was decided that talking films should be judged as ordinary films, and that at present there was no need for theatrical censors to view them, according to Trade Commissioner William M. Park, London.

The Board of Film Censors have decided to issue a special certificate to distinguish talking from silent films.

TRAVELERS select the Great Northern for its wonderful location in Chicago's "loop". They return because the large comfortable rooms, homelike environment, attentive service, excellent food and moderate charges make it an ideal hotel.

400 Newly Furnished Rooms, $2.50 a day and up. Sample Rooms $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00.

Walter Craighead, Manager
DEARBORN STREET FROM JACKSON
TO QUINCY
New Garage One-Half Block

10 FIRST RUNS IN SEATTLE-5 CLOSED

Change of Gay White Way Leaves 3 Houses Stranded

SEATTLE — Despite the closing down of five downtown theatres, Seattle still ranks considerably ahead of any other Pacific Northwest key center in first runs.

Ten first-run houses remain operating here, including the Winter Garden, Universal's house which plays about half first-runs and the other, seconds; and also the Embassy, which has recently jumped from a strictly first-run house to using seconds occasionally.

The houses now idle are the new Mayflower at Seventh and Oliver, which has never opened. At present workmen are leisurely finishing up the decorating and furnishings, it is said, with no indications of an opening at any early date.

Over between Pike and Pine on Eighth Avenue is the closed Olympic Theatre, which is rented out occasionally to some fellow who can't get his film or show over in any other downtown house.

The closings also include the Liberty, old J&V money-maker on First Avenue; the Strand, another old J&V house, which is downtown on second Avenue, and the Columbia, Universal's house on Second Avenue. The Columbia may be reopened with a change of policy, but nothing definite is known of a reopening scheme at this time.

With the change of the "gay white way" from First and Second Avenues on over to Fifth—where the Coliseum, Orpheum, Hamrick's, Blue Mouse, Hamrick's Music Box and the Fifth Avenue hold sway—it left the Liberty, Strand and Columbia with a rapidly dwindling clientele. The Columbia (as a first-run house) was the last to succumb.

Hiram Brown to Co-ordinate Huge Resources

(Continued from page 1)

the people at the lowest possible cost and at the most advantageous prices. As I see it, selling entertainment, if you have the goods, as the Radio-Keith-Orpheum has, is just the same as selling anything else. We have the Keith-Albee-Orpheum Circuit of theatres with their reputations for good entertainment. We have the Photophone rights of the Radio Corporation and, added to that, we have the pictures of the FBO Productions Company.

"It is safe to presume" continued Mr. Brown, "that whatever advancement there is in the development of the sound film, our organization will have better than an even chance to produce it. We hope to develop new talent on the stage, and to advertise it by broadcasting. In other words, the object is to obtain the best there is in the entertainment field and then give the artists and the public the benefit of that talent. We will seek out and bring before the public all of the great personalities of the theatre many of whom may have remained in the background. And we can do this through the greatest facilities ever obtainable for such an enterprise."

FIFTH WEEK!

"Ten Days That Shook The World"

Produced in U. S. S. R.
by SOVKINO OF MOSCOW

Director S. M. EISENSTEIN who directed the famous "POTEMKIN"

"It is a master-piece—a triumph of direction."

Quinn Martin
N. Y. World

"Out of the ordinary."
Exhibitors Daily Review

"A Magnificent Russian Film—The Fire of Perfection spreads across the screen."

John S. Cohen, Jr.
N. Y. Eve. Sun

"Impressive—Sweeping."
The Film Daily

DISTRIBUTED BY
AMKINO CORPORATION

REPRESENTING
Sovkino of Moscow

723—7th Avenue New York City
Bryant 7680

Kennedy Plans Big Merger For RCA Sound System

(Continued from page 1)

making money and some kind of a combination had to be effected. The decision, if there has been one, to merge these news releases was probably brought to a head by the announcement of William Fox to issue a daily release of Movietone News.

No Confirmation

The Daily Review's efforts to get some kind of confirmation to this contemplated combination was to no avail, Edward Hatrick, Hearst's representative being out of town. Colvin Brown of Pathe said he had heard nothing about it and did not think it probable, R. V. Anderson in charge of the Universal News reel said "there is nothing to it", Cohen of Paramount and Capt. Bains of Kinograms were out of town.

Equity Organizing W. C. Full Blast

(Continued from page 1)

Great Opportunity

Equity feels that the iron is hot due to the advent of talking pictures, as studios seem to be under the impression that a stage player is much to be preferred over screen artists in the casting of the "talkies" and with the knowledge that most every actor or actress from the stage is a member of Equity, the rest will be easy. They feel confident of being able to perfect an organization this year and this being done, a closed shop will be ordered at which time a demand will be made on all studios, both East and West, for better working conditions for the screen players, etc., etc.

Strike Probable

Local Equity officials are already talking strike. They think they have the upper hand now, for the first time, and intend to press the issue as quickly as possible. Studio heads are considerably upset and ways and means to protect themselves against this onrush are being devised.

Universal Lists 26 Sound Features for 1929

Montagne Brings Full List of Titles—Stars And Directors

$5,000,000 PROGRAM

By J. HARRISON EDWARDS
West Coast Correspondent

Universal, as has already been announced, is launching a $5,000,000 sound picture production plan, and the present trend of events in the picture industry makes it practically certain that Universal's major release schedule, including the super-pictures, the specials and the Jewels, all will have sound next year. This situation makes it certain that Montagne has been instructed by Carl Laemmle to be on the look out for outstanding sound picture vehicles to complete the production schedule now being formulated.

The Laemmle organization's enviable status as regards material on hand for coming production embraces a wide variety of popular novels, stage hits, stories and original conceptions. Among the projected pictures are the following:

"The King of Jazz," a super-sound picture starring Paul Whiteman, noted jazz orchestra leader, with music by L. Wolfe Gilbert and Marian Wayne, and story by Paul Schofield.

"The Minstrel Show," a super-sound picture starring Eddie Leonard, world-famed minstrel man, from a story by Norman Sper and George Rogan.

"The Climax," from the famous stage play by Edward Locke, with a special theme song by Victor L. Schertzinger, and directed by Renaud Hoffman.

"The Great Cinema Murder," a sound special, from a story by Leonard Fields, adapted by Will Chap- pel.

"Barnum was Right," a sound and dialogue adaptation of the popular stage success by Philip Bartholomae and John Meehan.

"The Bargain in the Kremlin," by Sir Philip Gibbs, in which Joseph Schildkraut will be starred under the direction of Edward Sloman.

"The Shannons of Broadway," with James Gleason, from the Broadway stage hit, to be directed by Wesley Ruggles.

"The Drake Murder Case," by Charles A. Logue, to be directed by Edward Laemmle, melodrama and thrill expert.

"The Luxury Husband," an ideal sound picture vehicle from a story by Maysie Grieg.

"The Haunted Lady" by Adela Rogers St. John, which will have Laura La Plante, star of "The Cat and the Canary" and "The Last Warning" as the star, directed by Wesley Ruggles.

"Flaming Daughters," from a story by Beatrice Van.

"Eric the Great," with Conrad Veidt and Mary Philbin, from a story by James A. Creelman, directed by Paul Fejos.

"The Last Act" from a story by Joseph Swerling.

"Grease Paint," by Svend Gade.

"The Geezer" by Damon Runyon.

"The Spring Shower" by Ilona Fulp, starring Mary Philbin.

"Children of the Sun," a Maori drama made in New Zealand by Alexander Markey.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Frederick March, leading man of the stage, has signed an agreement with Paramount calling for his exclusive services in talking films.

Lia Torre, Fox contract player, has written a story with Vicomte Julio de Moraes, which will be made into a picture with herself in the leading role.

Ed (Strangler) Lewis, wrestling champ will play the lead in a picture to be made in Rome, "The Gladiator."

Collette Merton, Dixie Gay and Edward Clayton have been signed for important roles in F. N.'s picture, "That's A Bad Girl."

"The Wolf of Wall Street" will be a one hundred percent dialogue film. This picture stars George Bancroft.

Rose Tapley, former Vitagraph actress, will have a part in Universal's "The Charlatan."

Robert Vignola is directing his second picture for FBO. "The Red Sword," featuring Noah Beery.

Holmes Herbert has been given the lead in "The Charlatan." It was originally planned to have Conrad Veidt in this part.

Richard Barthelmess will be heard singing the theme song in his next picture, "Weary River."

Aileen Pringle will play the part of the vamp in Marion Davies' production of "The Five O'Clock Girl."

Fejos' cast for the filming of "Broadway" is now complete and production on this Universal special will soon start.

Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy and a White Horse are to be featured in another comedy shortly by Hal Roach.

"Man Hunt" by Harry Hoyt.
"No Place to Love," starring Mary Philbin, from a script by Will Chap- pel.

"Why Girls Walk Home" from a story by Inez Gregg.

"The Braggart," starring Jean Hersholt, from a story by Benjamin S. Kutler, directed by Edward Sloman.

"The Worm Turns" by Ward Russell.

"Campus Kisses," starring Arthur Lake in a story by Colin Clement and Will Chappel, directed by William Luddy.

"The Girl Dodger," another starring Arthur Lake, from a story by J. G. Hawks.

"The Boy Wonder," a third Arthur Lake starring vehicle.

"The World To-Morrow," a novelty feature of exceptional interest and entertainment value, written by Leonard Fields.

KENNEDY TO FINANCE NEGRI-SHAW PICTURE

From England comes the news that Pola Negri, after conferring with George Bernard Shaw at his home in London, has obtained the consent of the world-renowned author and playwright, to the filming of his play "Caesar and Cleopatra," in which Pola will play Cleo.

It is very evident that J. P. Kennedy will finance the production of this film and handle the distributing arrangements. The picture will most likely be made in England. Kennedy holds a personal contract with Miss Negri for her exclusive services.

Brown with Glazer

Anthony Brown, who has been connected in executive capacities with various theatrical producing organizations in New York City for a number of years, has been signed by Benjamin Glazer, head of the Pathe Studio sound division to work on the company's future dialogue attractions.

"Glory" in Sound

With the withdrawal of all existing prints on "What Price Glory" it is hinted that the Fox organization will make an all-talking version of this production for release next year.

Roach to Direct

Hal Roach, producer of some of the best comedies being made, has decided to take up the megaphone once more and personally direct a picture. It will presumably be a comedy and will have sound effects. Nina Quartero, Charles Rogers, Vivian Oakland and Ed Kennedy, have been signed for parts in this production.

Bancroft to Talk

Paramount has decided to dialogue and synchronization in "Black Eagles," George Bancroft's next starring picture. Esther Ralston will be co-featured with Bancroft and of course, both will have speaking parts.

Lily Damita Loaned

Lily Damita, the French actress that Samuel Goldwyn brought to this country to play opposite Ronald Colman has been loaned by him to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to play the leading feminine role in "The Bridge of San Luis Rey." Miss Damita will have the part of the Spanish dancer. Charles Brabin will direct.

"Phantom" Ban Lifted

LONDON — The Cinematograph Exhibitors Council has rescinded its ban on Universal's "The Phantom of the Opera" after 4 years, as a result of Carl Laemmle's appeal, and is beginning bookings for the first time.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

IN THE BANK

We hear that Abram F. Myers has told Al Steffes and his affiliated exhibitors that he will not accept the job of leading their organization, that while the money they have offered is O.K., he wants to see the color of it before he signs the papers. In other words, Mr. Myers, having been told of the experiences of Jimmie Walker and Aaron Sapiro, wants his money banked before he would take over the work. This ultimatum sort of slowed up these exhibitors and placed a different aspect on the situation.

GREAT INTEREST

Ziegfeld, the Shuberts, Erlanger, George White, Arthur Hopkins and, as a matter of fact, all stage producers have suddenly become greatly interested in motion pictures. This interest has been aroused by the advent of talking pictures. They feel "those picture fellows" are going a bit too far and will soon be on the toes of the producers of stage attraction. We were told an indignation meeting was called last week and a committee was appointed to look into this intrusion. Edgar Selwyn, we hear, is soon to leave for Hollywood in order to make a thorough examination of talking picture conditions for this group of theatrical managers.

HOWARD HUGHES

The boy producer of Hollywood and known to everyone connected with West Coast production as "Santa Claus" is reported to have bought the picture rights to "Front Page" with the intention of bringing this great stage hit to the screen in its original form. If this is the case, most of the screens throughout the country will burn up with the scorching dialogue of this production. However, there is hardly a doubt but that Hughes will be compelled to eliminate at least fifty percent of the lines now used on the stage. But it is hard to tell just what this fellow will do for he is still all hot and bothered at the treatment "The Racket" received at the hands of several censor boards.

RADIO-KEITH-ALBEE

This Radio crowd seems to be stepping high, wide and handsome. You hear them mentioned in almost every contemplated deal, and are certainly in the "talk" wherever a deal is started. We hear that not only are they going to take over the Victor company, but that Brunswick is to be added to their organization. Both Warners and Pathe are in and out of this picture also.

Sarnoff and his gang, realizing they have to work fast, are leaving nothing unturned. They can't forget the opportunity they "muffed" a few months ago when, with the single scratch of a pen they could have had every important producer making pictures via their equipment, but they stalled a little too long.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 128

New York, Tuesday, December 4, 1928

FIVE CENTS

That Pathe Sound Idea— Et cetera.

By ARTHUR JAMES

With the brand new application of a showmanship principle that founded the success of motion picture exhibition, Pathe has devised a Show Sound Unit program that brings practical show plan to the door of the small theatre, the middling sized theatre and, quite possibly the big theatre. In the first several of these units there is assembled an opening overture, a newsreel in sound, a short drama, synchronized according to its requirements, either with dialogue or music or both, and a comedy with sound. Variations of an added drama or cartoon comic and novelties make a complete meal of entertainment and the exhibitor gives the whole show from the projection booth.

This looks like fine show progress to us and it is so down to earth that you can put your hands on it. A dozen years ago the balanced program brought the crowds into the motion picture theatres and they came regularly. They developed the habit of attendance because they were served with a constant variety of fare and always with a full meal.

This Pathe plan uses the basic principle of this proved success method, enlarges it, improves upon it, gives it class and the extra attraction appeal of good sound accompaniment.

George Jean Nathan has pulled the beard from the present stage—legitimate they once called it before the movies showed them legitimacy—and finds it, in the current American Mercury, to be “so unspeakably rotten that there is no use mincing matters”. He says Mae West has done more to bring on theatrical censorship than any hundred persons before her but we pause to note that the public power has been adequate to the Mae West situation, filthy and rotten as it has been. We are moved to commend Mr. Nathan for his frankness but to chide him on his vulgar rather than strong treatment of his subject. Rowdy and filthy language we should leave to Tully of the Jarnegans, and the hooligans. It was never anything but false hair on the chest of a weakling.

And Nathan seeks to identify all the influential persons he attacks by allusion, reference and innuendo

(Continued on Page 2)

Exhibitors Offered Cheap Installation of Reeltone Disc For $150 and $30 a Week

AMUS. STOCKS DROP —WARNER HITS HIGH

A hectic market yesterday caused some sorrow among speculators in film stocks, when the Keith-Albee-Orpheum Preferred stock dropped 11½ points to 132, the year's high having been as much as 160. The common, also dropped 3 points going to 44½.

The newly organized Radio-Keith-Orpheum slipped 3¼ points to 44½, having only opened on the market several weeks ago, at 50. Victor Talking Machine went off 3½; Radio Corp. of Amer. off 2½. Warner Brothers gained 6¼ and went back to its high mark of the year, 135.

The probable cause of the drop in Radio-Keith-Orpheum and Keith-Albee-Orpheum was the issuance of the financial report for 8 months of 1928, which showed a loss of $1,064,278.

COMERFORD OPENS FIRST SOUND HOUSE IN PA.

SCRANTON—The Comerford Theatres, Inc., last night opened probably the first theatre ever designed and built especially for the exhibition of sound pictures, in the East.

It is the Rivera Theatre seating 1250 and a new departure in the interior of the theatre is the fashioning of the round style of architecture instead of the square or hexagonal form of acoustic reception.

Tri-State in Memphis Pass MPTOA Affiliation Resolution

1ST NATIONAL BOOKS TWO IN PARAMOUNT

First National has booked two of its productions in the New York Paramount Theatre. They are “The Haunted House” and the Colleen Moore picture “Synthetic Sin”. “Haunted House” will play the week of Dec. 22. No date has yet been set for the other.

A New Pair of Shoes?

(From New York Times)

“Mrs. Coolidge sang “Angela Mia” last night for a Fox Reeltone record and also walked about playing with her dogs”.

And we have it on reliable authority that this was not an ad for Allens Foot Ease.

FOX BUYS CENTRAL THEATRE SITE

William Fox has bought the ground and buildings located at the corner of Broadway and 47th Street, that now houses the Central Theatre and a theatre brokerage office. A 2,500 seat theatre and 20 story office building will be constructed.

‘MY MAN’ OPENS DEC. 20 AT WARNERS THEATRE

Warner Brothers will withdraw their Vitaphone production “On Trial” at the Warners Theatre around December 20th, to make room for the Fannie Brice production “My Man”, print of which has arrived in New York.

The premiere will take place on Friday, December 21st, four days before Christmas. Fannie Brice and Archie Mayo the director will attend the opening.

Interchangeability of Records Demonstrated— Suitable for Any House

By W. R. Wilkerson

Exhibitors now seem to have an opportunity to get sound and talking pictures at a price within the reach of every theatre regardless of size or location.

A demonstration was given yesterday in a local projection room on the Reeltone apparatus, which sells for an initial installation cost of $150 and a weekly charge of $30. From the demonstration seen and heard, it has as perfect a synchronization as any machine yet put on the market and although the tonal qualities of this first public showing did not measure up to the qualities of others, on investigation, this writer found that the horns were set on one side of the projection room with the sound being thrown against the other and for this reason it was a bit difficult to hear all the spoken words. But when the horns are set in back or in front of the screen with the sounds going directly to the audience, it is our impression the audible expressions will be heard with perfection.

(Continued on page 2)

GAUMONT LOSES LICHTSPIEL DEAL

By Dr. R. OTTO

(Special Cable to Exhibitors Daily Review)

BERLIN—The story that the Deutsches Lichtspiel Syndicate would be bought by Gaumont British has not been substantiated.

This association of exhibitors, counting about 700 members, for the purpose of joint production and distribution of pictures is looking for capital.

All of its assets are held by the Nontan Bank which advanced a million marks and would now like to withdraw. A music publishing firm in Munich is prepared to give as

(Continued on page 2)

Richard Thomas Here

Richard Thomas, Hollywood producer is in New York. Thomas last year developed a color process for films.

(Continued on page 2)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

J. Harrison Edwards, West Coast Representative, Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles.

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

Vice President H. M. Walker of the Hal Roach Studios will be in town another week before dashing back to the Coast—More than one man's eyes in this town went moist when word came of the death in California of Edward Connelly, one of the splendid character actors of the screen. He was a fine friend and an intelligent and conscientious player—A man wears collars if he be wise, according to his neck. Therefore Lou Metzger wears 'em low and comfortable and Will H. Hays wears 'em high and affable—Chidnoff is making a timely display of portraits (his own taking) of John Barrymore and his bride Dolores Costello. Fifth Avenue is getting the treat—Adolphe Menjou came to town to resist the suit of an agent who wanted commissions on something. Adolphe has one more picture to do for Paramount and he has six months in which to do it. This will not be a talkie—Howard Hughes expects to finish "Hell's Angels" by March first or six months after starting it — Roxy's broad smile is due to the favorable opinion of the intelligent critics on his Ela Barate stage shows—Little "Fox" Blumenthal figures his negotiations for the 103 theatres for the Fox absorption as so well in hand that he will be out of the trenches by Christmas with a neat one million bucks in the kick as commission—Sol Raives' sale of the Grammercy Theatre went to a novice—Walter Reade only asks $24,000,000 for his 23 houses in Jersey—Howard Dietz is in Chicago — Col. Clarke has returned from England and is heading for Canada in the matter of the Bairnsfather picture—Si Seadler is making an honesty test instead of playing the market. The test is secret until it is proved Okay or Kayo—

PODOVKINE TO USE TONEBILD TALKIES

BERLIN—Two Continental directors of note have gone talkie and will direct their future efforts in this channel. They are Poudovkine, the eminent Russian director, who recently visited Walter Ruttmann in Berlin.

Ruttmann demonstrated for Poudovkine his new sound-film "Sound-wave", using the Tonebild Syndicate method of recording. Poudovkine declared the sound pictures are the beginning of an entirely new direction in art and stated his next picture, from Emile Zola's "Germinal" will contain sound effects.

HOLLYWOOD PICTURES--ROSS--IN FILM CENTER

Leases in the new Film Center building at Ninth Avenue, 44th and 45th Streets, N. Y., are going fast. The latest deals announced by A. N. Adelson, president of the Film Center, Inc., are with the Hollywood Pictures, Inc., distributors of Columbia Pictures, for part of the tenth floor.

The Herman Ross Enterprises have taken quarters on the fourth floor, for offices, vault and shipping facilities. The Hollywood Pictures deal is the first of the independent film companies to follow the lead of the national exchanges. They have taken a lease for five years at a rental in excess of $30,000.

THAT PATHE SOUND IDEA

(Continued from page 1)

while being very nameful and bitter about Mae West, already arrested. If George Jean has the courage his language would make us hope for, let him give us the names he veils. If he fears libel he is no critic. If hasn't the facts he shouldn't write. This bold and fearless warrior has a spine that calculates and a liver that only masquerades as red.

Exhibitors Offered Cheap Installation of Reeltone Disc

(Continued from page 1)

Warners Interested?

The fact that Walter J. Quigley, vice president and general manager of Vitaphone was a spectator at this audition lends some interest to this new device. Some thought that this might be the cheaper device that rumor had Warner fostering. This, however, was denied by both Warner officials and Nat Nathanson of the Reeltone company.

The pictures used for this demonstration were two short subjects produced and recorded by one of Western Electric's licensee's and demonstrated without any doubt the interchangeability of the Reeltone machine.

Poland at First National

Joseph Francis Poland, for two years with Universal, started work last week at the First National studio making an adaptation of the story "Two Weeks Off" which is to star Jack Mulhall and Dorothy Mackaill.

Universal Releases Desmond Thriller "The Mystery Rider"

Universal this week is releasing a new William Desmond chapter-picture. It is "The Mystery Rider," a ten episode thriller of the West with the serial star in a dashing dual role similar to the roles he played in past serial successes.

"The Mystery Rider" is the fourth of a series of western mystery chapter-pictures starring Desmond and which have been exceptionally popular, according to Fred J. McConnell, sales manager for short products for the Laemmle organization. The first of this series was "The Riddle Rider," released several years ago and which hit a new note in serial entertainment.

Desmond has built up a made-to-order patronage for this serial by a series of personal appearances he has been making in theatres throughout the country for the past year.

Pathe International To Sell Color Films

A. George Smith, managing director of Pathe International Corporation's London office, has just announced that negotiations have been completed whereby P. I. C. will distribute in Great Britain immediately 6 one-reel color films produced under the Blattner Keller-Dorian system.

Tri-Sate in Memphis Pass MPTOA Resolution

(Continued from page 1)

about the aims of the revitalized national exhibitor association.

The Directors authorized the payment of the affiliation fee to the M.P.T.O.A. Reports of officers indicated that the membership drive of the Tri-State group was meeting with splendid success.

Gaumont Loses

Lichtspiel Deal

(Continued from page 1)

sistance if the syndicate buys the screen rights of the light opera librettos and scores the firm owns.

The D.L.S. has in fact ceased to be a producing and renting association of independents and has developed into an ordinary renting concern, the future of which will be worth watching.

12 With Zuro

Maurice Manne, effect director, associated with Josiah Zuro, musical director of Pathe sound pictures at the Sound Studios in New York, employed a corps of twelve sound effect men for the synchronizing of "Stage Struck," the second Aesop Sound Fable now ready for release by Pathe. Paul Terry's "leading man," Farmer Al Falfa, puts over a banjo solo in this release.

Thew on Next Swanson

Harvey Thew has been commissioned to make the screen adaptation for the next Gloria Swanson picture. As yet no title.

OKLAHOMA BRIEFS

By WILLIAM NOBLE

Tiffany-Stahl Productions has moved into the Film Exchange building at Dallas, Texas.

B. C. Howell & Sons three theatres at Coleman, Texas are being prepared for sound equipment to be installed in the near future.

The Circle theater owned by M. A. Momand will open at Capitol Hill, Okla. City, December 10th.

Griffith Bros. will open their new Sooner theater at Norman, Okla., December 20.

A. F. Dickinson of New York, chief of the Hays organization conservation department is in Oklahoma City inspecting exchanges.

The new Best theater at England, Ark., will reopen Dec. 20, replacing the old Best that was destroyed by fire some time ago.

Roland Siegle will open his new theater at McGehee, Ark., soon.

H. A. Williams is wiring his new theater at Lawton, Okla. for sound procedure.

The Pastime Theater opened Nov. 24 at Hamburg, Ark.

The New Theater at Star City, Ark., has closed indefinitely.

Feyder in Town

Jacques Feyder, noted French director, arrived in New York yesterday on the Ile de France. He will remain in the city only a short time before leaving for the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio, to begin work under terms of a contract signed last spring. Pictures directed by Feyder include "Faces of Children", "Shadows of Fear" and the Raquel Meller "Carmen."

Classified Advertisement

Advertisements in this section, 5 cents per word. Cash must be sent with order. No charge for Box Number line. Minimum order, $1. 10% discount 12 issues or more.

FOR SALE

1200 UPHOLSTERED THEATRE Chairs, 1000 Veneer Theatre Chairs, 500 Upholstered Chairs with spring seats, panel back. Also all make REBUILT projectors, spotlights, reflector lamps, screens. Everything for the theatre at bargain prices. AMUSEMENT SUPPLY CO., INC., 729 7th Avenue, New York City.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

WHETHER YOU WANT TO HIRE some one or be hired; buy or sell a theatre; trade or sell equipment, or do almost anything else in the motion picture business, an ad in this department will get you results. If you want us to word the ad for you, the services of our advertising experts are at your call. Simply tell us what you want to do, and how many words you want used. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

U. A. "LOVE SONG" HAS TROUBLES

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

Griffith Re-Shooting for Third Time Says "There Ain't No Santa"

By J. HARRISON EDWARDS
West Coast Correspondent

The most dejected individual in all Hollywood today is "the old master" D. W. Griffith. He is walking around talking to himself in words that seem to indicate that he has reached a crisis in his career as a director of motion pictures. All because he was forced to do, re-do and still do some more, a story he knew from the beginning did not have a chance to get to first base as screen entertainment. Now after spending months and months on something that should have required the same number of weeks he has been told to reassemble his cast and put several talking sequences in. This at a time when "D.W." thought that he had finally gotten rid of a very bad proposition.

Nothing But Trouble

Griffith has had nothing but trouble from the day he was given the script of "La Paivo" changed to "The Love Song". He read it and returned it to the studio with the suggestion it be put in the ash heap. But Joseph M. Schenck and United Artists studio executives would have none of his suggestions. The story must be done and he had to do it. Schenck talked to him for hours "selling" the qualities of the yarn. Finally "D.W." gave in. His first trouble happened when Estelle Taylor walked out after reading the treatment. He was then promised Connie Talmadge, but she said No! Finally Lupe Velez was cast, along with Jetta Goudal, Bill Boyd, Albert Conti and George Fawcett.

Still More Trouble

Shooting was not long in process before Velez and Goudal began to tell each other what the other did not know about acting. First one would walk off the set then the other. It was finally arranged so that neither would be working at the same time. Finally the picture was finished. After a studio screening Griffith was told by Schenck to re-photograph several sequences. This having been done, "D.W." figured he could get away and forget all about this fiasco. After another studio screening, it was decided to remake most of the picture from a new treatment.

Some Talk

After this new treatment was shot Griffith was advised to reassemble his cast for several talking sequences. But no one could find Goudal. She took to the mountains for a rest and no one seems to know of her whereabouts. Consequently everything is held up for her return. And Griffith is now being haunted night and day with the thoughts of what the critics will say about his latest picture and to add insult to injury he is said to have found out the other day, after making this big sacrifice for Joseph Schenck, that Mr. Schenck has yet to read a copy of the script of the story he spent hours in telling him what a great picture it would make.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Corinne Griffith's next picture will be "Prisoners." This deals with the theme of "Iron bars do not a prison make."

Claude Gillingwater has replaced Edmund Breese in the cast of Warner Bros. "Alimony Annie."

Guinn Williams, having completed his work in Fox's "Our Daily Bread" is now playing a featured part in "From Headquarters."

William Desmond will return to Hollywood in a few days to resume picture. Rumor says that he has been promised a "fat" part.

Virginia Bruce, who as Virginia Briggs, was discovered by William Beaudine a short time ago, has been given a five year contract by him.

Sydney Jarvis, former concert singer, has been added to the cast of Buster Keaton's "Spite Marriage."

Tod Browning is looking for four giraffes to add local color to Lon Chaney's new picture.

John Lawson, playwright, will write the dialogue for Cecil DeMille's picture, "Dynamite."

Tom Mix has started work in "The Dude Ranch." Kathryn McGuire is his leading lady and Eugene Ford is directing.

Lilyan Tashman has been given the lead opposite O. P. Heggie in "A Genius is Born."

S. J. Kaufman, newspaper writer, has been signed by Paramount to write dialogue for them.

Morrie Ryskind, newspaperman and publicity writer, has been given a contract to write speeches for the talkies.

Lewis Stone will be heard on the screen for the first time as the attorney for the defense in "The Trial of Mary Dugan."

William N. Robson, 2nd, ex-student of Prof. Baker's drama class at Yale, has been given a new contract by Paramount on the strength of his story, "The Genius" which is being made into a talkie.

Charles King's work in M-G-M's "Broadway Melody" has earned for him the lead opposite Marion Davies in "The Five O'Clock Girl."

Pathe, in addition to the all dialogue production of "The Missing Man" will also make a silent version of the same picture.

Edward H. Griffith, it is rumored, may do "Porgy" as his next picture. If he does it will be an all-talkie.

Wallace Smith is doing the screen story of "Bulldog Drummond," Ronald Colman's next starring picture.

Russell Simpson was recalled to the Pathe lot for the sound sequences of "Noisy Neighbors."

Raymond K. Johnston is titling and editing "The Exodus" which he wrote and directed.

C. B. DE MILLE DEFENDS INDUSTRY'S SCENARISTS

Predicts Stage Writers Will Leave Field to Screen "Old-Timers"

Special Correspondence

HOLLYWOOD — The panic seems to be on with many picture directors. With the daily arrival of renowned stage directors from New York, Paris, London and theatrical centers throughout the universe, men who have made a name in their direction of silent pictures are being forced by some producers to either take a back seat, or share the directing honors with his brother from the stage.

Cecil B. DeMille however, thinks these stage men will be packing their trunks shortly. "C.B." says:

"A few years ago we imported famous playwrights from New York. They came out here and what happened? One by one they went back to New York and our own scenario writers were put back on the stories. These newcomers did not understand the technique of the screen."

"Those were strenuous times," he said, "when we were deciding to graduate from the one-reel to the feature length pictures. We did not know how the public would accept entertainment that lasted from one to two hours. But even that was not as radical a change as the talkies. The talkies have upset all the old accepted forms of construction so that the director as well as the scenario writer and the actor are in the precarious position of having to begin all over again."

"Personally, I think it is easier for the director who knows motion pictures to learn to direct talkies than for the stage director to adjust his knowledge to sound pictures."

If it is a question of the survival of the fittest, I believe our screen directors will win out.

Florey Starts

Robert Florey started production on "The Hole in the Wall" at the Paramount studios, Astoria, yesterday. This is to be an all talkie, mystery picture. Claudette Colbert has the lead and the cast includes Edward G. Robinson, David Newell, Louise Closser Hale, Barry Macollum, Donald Meek, Alan Brooks, George McQuarrie, Katherine Emmett and Nelly Savage.

Pomeroy Speaks

Roy J. Pomeroy, director of sound pictures for Paramount, is firmly convinced that the technique of direction is bound to change due to the talkies. He claims that it will have to be a combination of screen and stage in order to meet the demands of more and more people who are forming the talkie public. It looks as tho the dialogue films are here to stay.

STAGE PEOPLE

Production executives are holding their heads out Hollywood way. They are up a tree and don't know which way to turn. They are afraid to trust the responsibilities of speaking lines to their "silent artists" and quite a few of the stage people they have imported from the New York stage have, sort of, flopped under the burden. The case of Pauline Frederick in "On Trial" is only one of many. What should they do? They are under the impression that the public wants talking pictures and in order to stay up with the parade, they must make talkies, but who is going to do the talking? Good screen players, (those tried and proven) they think are too much of a gamble and the stage player who is supposed to be able to handle lines, either has not the proper voice for the "mlke" or being good vocally, is all wrong in so far as screen technique is concerned. What's the answer?

OUR ANSWER

In the first place, the public is not as wild about the talkies as the producer would have everyone believe. True, they have flocked in to see them, but only for the novelty. We have talked to a lot of fans and have yet to hear one say, they liked them. We except "The Singing Fool" for it is not to be considered as a talkie and too, there is only one Al Jolson. These "experiments" that have been on display for cash admissions, are experiments and the industry should have considered them as such, confirming their screening to the studio projection rooms until a semblance of perfection had been reached. One smart executive told us. "It will be five years before we are able to present talking entertainment on an artistic par with our silent productions". Consequently we think they should have waited.

TAKE A CHANCE

Since they have not, it is our opinion that the line of least resistance and one more certain to do business and at a smaller cost would be to assign "silent" artists to talking parts, particularly in feature length productions, and take a chance. Good or bad the names that have been great box office magnets will continue to attract in talkies even though the voice is punk. Maybe after a couple of pictures it will improve, it might be good. Add to this the consideration that few great stage stars have ever been whooping successes in pictures and it will probably take just as long to train stage people to screen technique as it would to train the voice of the silent artist to talk. And experience has proven that a stage name cost just as much as a silent star and the former is quite a stranger in the movie provinces, while the latter will get the dough.

We say, develop our own talkers for the talkies and let the aristocrats of the drama keep on pounding the stage.

Christmas Gold for Showmen from Fox!

The Ideal Holiday Feature. A rollicking tale of young love and high jinks at prep school.

Directed By
DAVID BUTLER

PLAY THIS PERFECT CHRISTMAS BILL!

Two Holiday Features with the Youthful Stars

DAVID ROLLINS and NANCY DREXEL

The same Christmas week bill selected for the ROXY

Here's your 100% Christmas presentation. A merry toyshop romance in song, talk and dance.

Story and Direction By
MARCEL SILVER

It's bound to be a merry Christmas if you play this holiday program from FOX. PREP AND PEP, for your full-length feature, has sure-fire holiday appeal in its youth and prep school background. FORGET ME NOT, a condensed feature all in dialog, is a real Christmas treat that will draw like a feature. Made to order for children's matinees. A double bill that guarantees double profits.

F
MOVIETONE
X

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 129

New York, Wednesday, December 5, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Good Morning! Mr. President

By ARTHUR JAMES

The election of Joseph I. Schnitzer to the presidency of FBO is a reward well merited and a forward step on the part of the new board of directors of this very important organization. Schnitzer was one of the founders of FBO and since its inception has been a motivating factor in its great success in the production and distribution of motion pictures.

...

"Joe" is one of the pioneer's of our industry. Shortly after he saw his first flicker, he joined the Pittsburgh Calcium Light & Film Co., as manager of its Des Moines branch in 1907. If we are not mistaken Harry Warner had his start with the same organization.

...

Schnitzer has made less changes in this business than any other important executive I know. After leaving the Pittsburgh Calcium Co., he joined the Mullin Film Service as their Minneapolis manager and later became general manager of the company. In 1916 he joined Universal in the capacity of branch manager and later was made division manager. From 1920 to 1922, he was president of Equity Pictures Corporation and from there he came to FBO as Vice President.

...

The old bromide "the right man for the right job" seems to fit Joe Schnitzer and FBO perfectly. He has everything a film executive should have. First, last and always, he is a showman. He knows pictures, knows story values, and once the picture is completed he has a very keen knowledge of knowing how to market it.

Congratulations Joseph—

Congratulations FBO.

WARNER PROFITS FOR 3 MONTHS JUMP TO $3,000,000 AGGREGATE

Schnitzer Chosen New FBO President—Kennedy Resigns

The meeting of the Board of Directors of FBO Productions, Inc. was held at the office of the company yesterday afternoon.

The new Board of Directors consists of Hiram S. Brown as Chairman of the Board, David Sarnoff, J. I. Schnitzer, Paul Mazur, Maurice Goodman, B. B. Kahane and Guy W. Currier.

J. I. Schnitzer was elected president. William LeBaron and C. E. Sullivan remain as vice-presidents. C. J. Scollard and Thomas Delehanty remain as treasurer and secretary, respectively.

Joseph P. Kennedy voluntarily retires from the company as Chairman of the Board and President.

BILTMORE-BUCK JONES ARBITRATION

One of the infrequent occasions when the American Society of Arbitration is called upon to settle a film dispute, arise today when a claim brought by the Biltmore Pictures Exchange of New York against the Buck Jones Corporation will be heard by Cyrus W. Curtis, owner of the Evening Post, sitting as special arbitrator.

Biltmore Pictures contracted for the four pictures which Buck Jones was scheduled to make, for the New York territory. Their incentive to contract for the pictures was the stipulation that Buck Jones would make a series of personal appearances for Biltmore, in three consecu-

(Continued on page 3)

Burkan Seeks to Enjoin World-Wide Educational and Ufa Eastern Sales

National Screen Floats 45,000 Shares Common

Formal offering of 45,000 shares of National Screen Service Corporation capital stock of no par value was

(Continued on page 3)

JOSEPH I. SCHNITZER
Elevated from Senior Vice-President to President of FBO yesterday

'THE BARKER' OPENS CENTRAL TONIGHT

"The Barker," First National's first talking picture, opens tonight at the Central Theatre. Milton Sills, in the title role, Dorothy Mackaill, Betty Compson, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and others will be heard for the first time in this story of "Colonel Gowdy's Big City Shows," which was directed by George Fitzmaurice. A Vitaphone program of selected features will precede the picture.

Nathan Burkan appeared in the Supreme Court this week on behalf of Ufa Eastern Division Distribution, Inc., to argue for the granting of an injunction against the Ufa Films, Inc., the World Wide Pictures, Inc., and Educational Pictures, Inc.,

(Continued on page 3)

Stockholders Approve Stanley Deal—Increase Com.-Pref. Issues

WILMINGTON, Del. — Net profits of Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc., in the three months ended Nov. 30th last, representing the first quarterly period of its new fiscal year, are expected to aggregate around $3,000,000, according to opinions expressed by authorities close to the organization. This is even better than Harry Warner suggested to the stockholders in his annual report published a few weeks ago.

Stanley Buy O.K'd

The stockholders here yesterday voted to approve the acquisition of the capital stock of the Stanley Co. of America, deposited on or prior to October 30th.

They also voted to approve the increase in authorized common stock to 2,500,000 shares from 550,000 and the creation of 785,604 shares of new preferred.

Ticker Statement

Albert Warner, in a statement carried by the ticker at 1:30 P. M. yesterday he said:—Due to the widespread nature of our activities in which we are engaged, it is impossible at this early date to state our earnings accurately. However, after depreciation and amortization, but before deduction for taxes, they were

(Continued on Page 2)

Bon Voyage to

Sam Harris

Mr. Sam Harris, editor and publisher of the Cinema, both daily and weekly in London, and England's special correspondent for Exhibitors Daily Review, sails for London tomorrow. The donor of the Sam Harris amity cup has made a most favorable impression on the trade in America because of his frankness, his understanding, his knowledge of film conditions and his fine effort in behalf of the fostering of cooperation between England's film industry and America's as well as by his attractive personal qualities which fit him for the gracious role of a good will ambassador. He sails with our cordial good wishes and carries with him assurances of our respect and our admiration for the success of his splendid mission.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

J. Harrison Edwards, West Coast Representative, Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles.

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by
GORDON TRENT

Nine members of the Motion Picture Club on hearing that the contrivers of the swillish play "Jarnegan", which defames the picture business and besmirches its authors, were applying chloride of lime and other disinfectants to a scenario of the piece for picture production—and a talkie at that—were ready to make wagers that some producer would fall for it on the angle that it would make money.

The scenarists propose to deodorize it, wash its mouth with laundry soap, bathe it in a carbolic solution, dry it off, scent it with musk (that would be their perfume) and powder it well so it will look fine and smell sweet.

After they do all that we suggest it will no longer be "Jarnegan" and that as a slimy box office, low money attraction it would impose upon the producer and the public. I shall be glad to see what producer accepts it and the boss tells me I may write the news of it in my own way — George Herriman says that pernicious economy in advertising brings pernicious anemia to the sales force and dry rot to the box office. That's a sentiment we know to be true but tell it to an economy shark and see how smug he'll look—Patsy Ruth Miller is the daughter of a newspaper man and we used to work with him, which proves nothing except Patsy is the daughter of old man Miller and the name is actual—Speaking of the Main Stem femmes, Rose Felswick for Mr. Hearst's Evening Journal is running the most interesting, the most intelligent and the most box office motion picture department in New York. Our wholly selfish slant in behalf of the picture business is that more of the same would stimulate and sustain interest in pictures and do much for the old empty orchestra chair—Years ago we put on Griffith's "Escape" at the Cort Theatre, the first side street legit theatre experiment with a movie. We played to paper until we played the Evening Journal and then we had to ask the police to help us handle the crowds — There is nothing about

First Moviephone--Magnetic Wire Spool Method Launched

Dr. Baruch Invents Novel Synchronization
Recording on Copper Wire—Marconi Multi-Tone
Method Similar

The company organized to manufacture the First Moviephone talking and synchronizing apparatus, will give a public demonstration next week to the trade.

The Moviephone system, being manufactured by the Sound Pictures, Inc., has for its basis principle telephonic magnetism, transmitting sound, dialogue or music through a magnetic wire, travelling from one spool to another through a magnet.

This system presumably follows or is akin to that invented by Signor Marconi who calls his Multi-tone method an electro-magnetic process, dependent upon a fine wire which runs independently on an aluminum spool along side the film. Louis Blattner of London, controls the Marconi-Multi-tone system.

The first Moviephone machine is the invention of Dr. S. M. Baruch, an electrical engineer, to whom is credited the invention of the depth bomb used in the war against U-Boats. The company will distribute and release the First Moviephone on a royalty or weekly payment basis, with a synchronized set of spools for any nationally released picture.

The officers of the company are Arthur E. Christie, President, Nathan Lurie, V.P., Wm. S. Remenyi, Treas., and Dr. Baruch, general manager.

"SUBMARINE" TO PLAY OVER PANTAGES CHAIN

The Pantages Circuit, one of the most important Theatre chains in the country, has booked the "see and hear" version of Columbia's "Submarine" for all its wired houses on the West Coast. This contract follows closely upon another Pantages arrangement which contracted for the showing of the silent print of "Submarine" in all its houses which had not been fitted with sound equipment.

Warner Profits for 3 Mos. Jump to $3,000,000 not less than $3,300,000 for that quarter. After making all deductions for taxes and all other contingencies, not less than $2,900,000 net.

(Continued from page 1)

We have no bank loans and none of our stock or any subsidiaries is pledged to secure any loan with the exception of a small amount in process of payment purchase price to Walter J. Rich for Stock and Vitaphone Corporation previously owned by him has been anticipated and this stock which was previously held in escrow has now been released and in our possession.

Reduction and bank loans and other debt has been brought about through applying our earnings and by initial advance of $800,000 by the Warner Bros. personally. Arrangements have been made to repay these advances by the various Warner Bros. for a period of years, thereby improving our current position.

W. R. Hearst that is not instinctively the showman and we call that the best praise we have in the box — Ethel Barrymore may go talkie after the flush of her New York engagement in her own theatre a fortnight hence. If that voice registers she will be forced to live and die a millionaire—Jerome Beatty is one of the meticulous dressers of the industry and he was born in Kansas.

Swain Lab. Head

John Swain has been placed in charge of the laboratory at the Long Island studio of Paramount. After viewing his work on the 100% talkie "The Letter" Paramount officials lost no time in putting John under contract and promoted him to the chief of the laboratory.

KENT AND WELLS BOOK REELTONE

Orders for Reeltone equipment are coming in rapidly after the many inquiries which followed the introduction of this sound device to the market. Amongst the first contractors for this equipment are The Kent Enterprises who control the Doric, Star and Strand theatres of Duluth, Minnesota, and The Howard Wells Enterprises who control a string of theatres in Wilmington, North Carolina.

The Reeltone Company has adopted a new slogan which will be coupled with the equipment. It is "Reeltone, A symphony of Sound and Vision."

RIESENFELD ARRIVES WITH 'RESCUE' PRINT

Ronald Colman's first individually starring picture, a picturization of Joseph Conrad's romance of the sea, "The Rescue", arrived today in the custody of Dr. Hugo Riesenfeld. Samuel Goldwyn has assigned Dr. Riesenfeld to score the picture which will be given special oriental thematic treatment to emphasize its exotic background.

"The Rescue" will be presented about the second week in January. Ronald Colman will speak in his first starring picture.

New Haven M-G-M Exchange Celebrates

NEW HAVEN — The Metro-Goldwyn Mayer Exchange recently held an entertainment and house warming in celebrating the extensive renovations made in the offices.

Cotings from New York and Boston M-G-M Clubs were present including W. F. Rodgers, Division Manager; M. N. Wolf, District Manager; W. A. Scully, N. Y. Manager and J. R. Smith, New Haven Manager.

No Misrepresentation In W. C. Theatre Sale

San Francisco—The Theatrical Enterprises Co., which purchased the Largo Theatre at Watts, from the Herron's recently, lost a suit for $17,000 they had brought against the former owners.

Theatrical Enterprises claimed Herron's represented the theatre as doing a minimum of $1100.00 per week.

An Auditor discovered the theatre was doing a weekly gross of $1096.15. The Judge ruled this was near enough the figure represented to make the sale valid.

SCREEN TESTS

Incandescent Lighting
Local No. 644 Cameramen
Complete Equipment
Studios for Rent

BROWNING STUDIOS

110 West 40th St. N. Y. C.
PENN 1258

CHRISTMAS CARDS AND PARCELS SHOP EARLY MAIL EARLY

"The Government would be grateful if you would—
SHOP EARLY

WRAP CAREFULLY

ADDRESS PLAINLY

and MAIL PROMPTLY

HARRY S. NEW,
Postmaster General."

SHOP EARLY

MAIL EARLY

MAIL EARLY FOR DELIVERY BEFORE CHRISTMAS

CHECK DODGING

By HARRY REICHENBACH

This fascinating game originated in Scotland where a tournament is played each year. The score last year was a tie.

Check Dodging is played by two or more men seated at a table where food has been served. The game starts immediately after the service ends.

The men endeavor to outwait each other. If waiter lives through the night, game is continued the following day with each player in same position and disposition as he originally occupied.

The foremost check dodger known to the game was a man with a huge wart on his wrist which prevented him from putting his hand in his pocket.

Rules

Ignore waiter.

Run to phone every few minutes.

Have friend call you out as waiter approaches bearing document of any kind.

Refrain from dessert until you are sure opponent will succumb.

Suggestions

After opponent has paid, pretend to be angry and say, "Never mind now, tomorrow is my day," or "What's the idea?"

Carry bill in pocket with five aces on it and suggest playing "bill poker" (do not resort to this unless game looks like standoff).

Another method is to discuss being muscle bound and state, during meal, that you have found it almost impossible to move your right arm for weeks.

In event of three handed game, arrange with another competent player to match for it, with odd man out. You lay heads, your partner lays tails.

Check dodging dates back to the early "brill" period when the Brills and the Sols would gather in life to death meetings with the finals runnings for two hundred years.

There is an association of Check Dodgers in Glasgow. Its membership is hereditary. Families have belonged for five hundred years and their family pride is that no member of a clan has lost a game in all that time.

Check Dodging is played every day at the Motion Picture Club.

Gerschel Leaves Ufa

Director Gerschel, of the Deutsche Bank, who was, among others, entrusted with the reorganization of Ufa, since autumn, 1926, has fulfilled his task and is now leaving the company, the Department of Commerce learns. He will assume the management of another industrial concern, also connected with the Deutsche Bank.

MORRIS SETS DEC. 15 FOR "MY MAN" PRE-RELEASE

December 15th has been set as the date on which the first pre-release showings of Fannie Brice in "My Man" will take place in theatres equipped with Vitaphone, according to an announcement from Sam E. Morris, General Manager of Distribution for Warner Bros. Editing of the production will be completed within a few days at the Warner Studio and the first print is anticipated to arrive at the company's New York office by the end of November.

HAMMONS PROMISES SILENT PRODUCT

The Mack Sennett Talking Comedies are available in the talking and sound version only, no silent prints of these pictures being offered by Educational. The second picture in this series will be a mystery comedy to be called "The Old Barn." Production work has been finished on this picture at the Sennett Studios, and it will be available soon. Like "The Lion's Roar," the first of the series, "The Old Barn" was personally directed by Mack Sennett.

The company according to E. W. Hammons, will not forget its duty to the houses which are not wired, which, translated into English, means that there will be plenty of Educational Silent pictures produced this year.

NATIONAL SCREEN FLOATS 45,000

(Continued from page 1)

The bankers say the company will place these shares on a $1.60 annual dividend basis, with the initial dividend to be paid on Jan. 1, 1929. The offering involves no new financing by the company. Application will be made to list the stock on the New York Curb Market and the Detroit Stock Exchange.

Net profits for the first ¾ of this year were $206,385.86, from gross earnings of $1,232,569.85, made yesterday at $25 a share by Samuel Ungerleider & Co.

The issuing company was organized recently to acquire the assets and business of the National Screen Service, Inc., makers of trailers in connection with advertising in the motion picture field.

Burkan Seeks to Enjoin World Wide

(Continued from page 1)

alleging that the German UFA company is attempting to break its distributing contract. Judgment by the court on this injunction has been reserved and decision will be rendered next week.

The complaint, filed by B. F. Schreiber, Collins, Myers and Buchter, the attorneys of record for Ufa Eastern, states that they have distribution rights for all UFA product in the principal Eastern territories of the U. S. until December 31, 1930, after Paramount Famous-Lasky and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer have taken their choice of the UFA product for this country, by prior contract.

The Ufa Eastern organization headed by David Brill and W. C. Herrmann believe they have evidence showing that UFA is seeking to break their contract and give sole distribution rights in the U. S. to World Wide Pictures, which has distributing agreements with Educational Pictures, Inc. They ask an injunction against violation of the contract and an accounting of profits on pictures which it claims should have been delivered to them by UFA.

F. Wynne-Jones, U. S. Director of UFA Pictures, stated yesterday that he had nothing to say at this time and that their side of the story would appear in the evidence. Attorneys representing UFA are Banzhof & Richter, who represent Griffith and other film stars.

McINERNEY WITH U.A.

Leaves Publix to Handle Harry Richman Publicity

Studio publicity on the Irving Berlin-Harry Richman picture for United Artists, to be made in New York during the next two months, will be handled by John E. McInerney.

McInerney was director of publicity at the Rivoli Theatre. He was director of exploitation in Canada for Famous-Players. For the past three years he has worked for Publix Theatres.

In order to devote his time to the Richman picture Mr. McInerney has resigned from the Publix organization.

Biltmore—Buck Jones Arbitration

(Continued from page 1)

tive weeks and they paid for the first picture on that basis.

The Buck Jones Corporation failed to produce Buck for the personal appearances and Biltmore now seeks satisfaction. It is understood that Jones did not make the appearances because of personal differences with the Buck Jones Corporation.

13 MAJOR CIRCUITS ORDER BRISTOLPHONE

Sonora-Bristolphone sales department reports wide-spread sales of their apparatus to leading exhibitors throughout the country.

Included among the big circuits which have placed orders are the Finkelstein & Ruben Circuit; Kunsky Circuit; Butterfield Circuit; Strand Theatres Corporation (Wisconsin), E. M. Loew Houses (New England) Schine Enterprises; Fay Theatres Circuit; Delta Amus. Enterprises; Consolidated Amusement Enterprises (N. Y.), L. K. Brin Enterprises; Northwest Theatre Circuit, Great States Theatre Enterprises (Illinois) and the Midland Theatres Circuit (Wisconsin).

PUBLIX MID-WEST HOUSES FOR COL.

A deal just consummated between Columbia Pictures and the Publix Theatres insures the company's product of first-run representation in Duluth, St. Louis, Davenport, Rock Island, Des Moines, Lincoln and South Bend.

"Submarinc," in its "see and hear" version is the first of the company's productions to be presented. It opens at the Capitol, Des Moines, on December 28 and the Colfax Theatre, South Bend, on December 29. Quick dates are now being arranged for the other theatres.

College Atmosphere For Cornell Theatre

The new theatre, store and office building being constructed at Ithaca, N. Y. for the Cornell Theatres, Inc., under the supervision of the architect, Victor A. Rigamont of New York, will provide a semi-atmospheric house. Baronial Gothic style of architecture has been used by Rigamont as reminiscent of the collegiate atmosphere prevailing in Ithaca because of Cornell College. The effects devised are intended to relieve the monotony of the entirely atmospheric theatre.

Univ. Home Office Launches Social Club

Employees of the Universal Home Office have just completed the organization of a social group to be known as the Universal Club. Its membership embraces the entire home office personnel from the officials of the corporation down to the lowliest office boy.

Following the work of organization by a temporary committee, the following were elected: President, M. J. Etchingham; Vice-president, Julius Singer; Treasurer, Joseph Burke, and Secretary, Ethel Black. Governors, L. B. Metzger, Charles B. Paine, Sam Maas, Helen E. Hughes, Eugene Cox, Sydney Singerman and J. V. Ward.

"The Mecca of All Picture Functions"

ARE YOU PLANNING A LUNCHEON—
A TEA
A DINNER—
A DANCE OR A BANQUET?

We have intimate and individual rooms that would suit every occasion.

You might like the Gothic room, the French room, the Colonial room, or the exquisite Italian or Arabian rooms.

If the affair is sufficiently large we could care for you in either the Florentine Grill, the Roof Garden or one of the Ball rooms.

Call our Banquet department and let them offer suggestions.

THE PARK CENTRAL

FIFTY-FIFTH STREET AT 7th AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY

"Sins of The Fathers" New Berger-Jannings Triumph

Powerful Actor in Role Said To Be Greater Than "Patriot"

By J. HARRISON EDWARDS
West Coast Correspondent

Chalk up another great triumph for Emil Jannings. And in distributing credit give a thought to Ludwig Berger, his most recent director and Paramount producer. The picture is "Sins of the Fathers" soon to be released. It is a bootleg yarn, filled with drunken waiters, cheap saloons, bootleggers making blinding liquor and prison cells. Jannings gives even a greater performance in this production than in "The Patriot". He is marvelous at all times, playing a character, that for most of the footage you would despise, but the Jannings artistry always wins your sympathy. He demonstrates a tremendous range of expression in this production. He is discovered as a contented waiter happy at the birth of his son. You then follow him through many transitions until he reaches a prison cell and finally returns to his waiting job.

Ludwig Berger, the director, and by the way the man that Fox imported to this country and let go without even giving him a picture, did a beautiful job in this assignment. He proves himself to be one of our best "story-tellers". He spins his yarn in a fashion that seems to be unknown by our American directors. He demonstrates a rare intelligence in handling scenes of great drama.

The surrounding cast consisting of Ruth Chatterton, Zazu Pitts, Barry Norton, Mathew Betts, Jack Luden and Jean Arthur is exceptionally good. Miss Chatterton is much better than we expected.

PATHE 'FIRE DETECTIVE' SERIAL TO GET SOUND

There is a possibility that "The Fire Detective", a Pathe-serial which Spencer Bennet is directing, will have the distinction of being the first serial with sound sequences.

"The Fire Detective" is said to offer unexcelled opportunities for novel sound effects. Hugh Allan and Gladys McConnell have the leading roles in this chapter drama, with Leo Maloney, former Western star, in a characterization.

"Redemption" Bought

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has just purchased Tolstoy's play, "Redemption," from Arthur Hopkins and will make it into an all-talkie special, starring John Gilbert. Fred Niblo has been assigned to the direction and has already begun to study the ways and means of transferring it to the screen. This will mark Mr. Niblo's debut as a director of talking pictures.

STUDIO GOSSIP

John Francis is now working on the Fox lot writing press stories. Mr. Francis was formerly a newspaper man.

Wallace Smith is doing the scenario of "Bulldog Drummond" for Samuel Goldwyn.

Duane Thompson has been signed for a part in Willard Mack's production of "Hunted" for M-G-M.

Warner Bros., "The Desert Song" and "She Knew Men," both Vitaphone pictures, have been completed and are now in the cutting room.

Ruth Elder has signed with Hoot Gibson for a series of six aviation pictures that he will produce and star in, for Universal release.

Milton Sills, Dorothy Mackaill, Betty Compson and Doug. Fairbanks, Jr. will all be heard for the first time when "The Barker" opens at the Central tonight.

Jack Wagner, Peter Milne and Stuart Anthony, scenarists, have been signed by Columbia to start work immediately on stories for early production.

Billy Rose, song writer is under contract to Universal to write three musical numbers for "Show Boat". The songs will be "Silent Waters," "My Magnolia" and a love song for Magnolia and Ravenal.

Universal has bought another story for Reginald Denny entitled, "You've Got to Fight." Before making this, however, he will do "The Mounted Policeman."

Will Shattel has sold a story to Universal, "The Great Microphone Murder."

Fannie Brice will attend the opening of "My Man" when it starts its run at the Warner Theatre on the twenty-first.

Jetta Goudal is being sought to play the part of "The Menace" Lon Chaney's new picture.

Sally O'Neill, on completion of her vaudeville tour, will go to the Tiffany-Stahl lot and make a circus picture.

Dorothy Hall is about to be signed for the lead in "White Collars."

Virginia Valli is deserting pictures for a while to appear on the stage in "So This is London," being presented in Hollywood.

Charles Rogers will have the leading role in the filming of Elsie Janis' story, "Close Harmony" which Paramount is making.

WEBB TO DIRECT 'GENTLEMEN OF PRESS'

Millard Webb, director, arrived in New York yesterday and immediately went over to the Astoria studio of Paramount to begin preparations for his forthcoming picture "Gentlemen of the Press". Bartlett Cormack, author of "The Racket" is adapting the stage play for the screen.

Walter Huston, well known stage player has been signed for the male lead and Claudette Colbert will be assigned the feminine honors. Production will begin about Jan. 1st.

Claudette Colbert and Sylvia Sidney Signed

The Edward Small office announces that they have signed Claudette Colbert, star of "Tin Pan Alley" with Paramount and Sylvia Sidney, lead in "The Gods of the Lightning" with Fox.

Miss Colbert was signed for two pictures which are to be made at the Astoria studio of Paramount. The first will be "The Hole in The Wall", the second to be made shortly after the first of the year will be "Gentlemen of the Press".

Miss Sidney was signed for two years by Fox. Her first production on this contract will be "Through Different Eyes". She will leave next week for Hollywood.

Collier, Sr. with P-F-L

William Collier, Sr., famous actor and playwright and one of the leading figures of the American stage, will contribute his experience to a talking picture at Paramount's Long Island Studio, it was announced today.

Cozine at Paramount

Arthur Cozine has been appointed location chief at the Paramount Astoria studio. He is working on "The Hole in the Wall" at present.

"King George" at Capitol

As an added feature to "Submarine", now at the Capitol Theatre, a Fox Movietone subject of England's beloved monarch, King George, taken immediately preceding his present illness, was added to the bill.

Plenty Experience

Robert Florey, Paramount director, wanted an exceptionally smart kid for an important role in his current production "The Hole in the Wall". He said to Fred Fleck, casting director, "Freddie get me a child about three years old with a couple of years picture experience".

This was one Fred could not fill.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

ECONOMIES

Several years ago an enterprising producer realizing that a picture scheduled for production would require a large number of extras for almost the entire length of the picture, conceived the idea of using paper mache dummies scattered about the set between the human "dummies". Instead of having to pay $7.50 and $10.00 a day for 350 extra players, he employed 40 at the above rate and had 310 dummies made at a cost of $4.00 each. The effect was perfect. After the picture was completed he did quite a business renting these dummies to other studios for $3.00 a day. This practice has become general among all the studios at a great saving in production costs. We now hear that a fellow has invented a mechanical dummy. One that being seated anywhere will move his head his arms and body. Before long, we might see a "quickie" company starring one of these "robots".

MARK UP ANOTHER

Credit Fox with another news scoop. Mrs. Coolidge, the wife of the president of the United States, is photographed via Movietone singing "Angela Mia" to be released soon by the Fox News. Looks like another conquest for Jack Connolly for he has always been very close to the Coolidge family since both of them were in Massachusetts, the Coolidges in the Governors mansion and Jack at the City Editors desk of a Boston paper.

AN ARGUMENT

The argument is still on out in Hollywood. There is a daily debate in an effort to reach a decision of what is the best—"The pretty screen actress with a voice that is not so good, or the homely stage player with a good voice". Fred Niblo is for the screen actress and William DeMille holds that "there is nothing worse than a beautiful creature who destroys all her charm and illusion every time she opens her mouth and allows her harsh unmodulated words to assault your outraged eardrums". And this is only the start of it. They will be arguing this thing for months and months to come, only to find out that while the argument has been going on, cash patrons have begun to fight shy of the box office.

INTERCHANGEABILITY

What has become of the old "interchangeability" gag? Seems to have been washed-up entirely. Exhibitors are running talking and synchronized pictures on any old kind of apparatus and the exchanges are selling their pictures to theatres without asking "what kind of equipment have you"?

MENJOU

Had a chat with Adolphe Menjou. Says he has but one more picture on his Paramount contract and he has six months in which to do it. Thinks he will go to Florida for a rest. When his voice is recorded and heard his vast army of fans will get a great treat.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 130

New York, Thursday, December 6, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Last Night's Picture

By W. R. WILKERSON

"THE BARKER"

First National joined the rapidly growing list of talkie producers last evening in the opening of their production, "The Barker" at a $2.00 run house, the Central Theatre. The picture taken from the play by Kenyon Nicholson was part talkie and part silent and an excellent evening's entertainment. But walking out of the theatre we felt that had it been 100% one way or the other we would have liked it much more, as we found ourselves disturbed at different times either by the talk or by the silent, having become engrossed in sequences that preceded either. It would have been a wow as an all-talkie and would have been equally as good as a straight silent production throughout its entirety.

GOOD PICTURE

However First National should feel proud of the effort as it stands, if they are not now, they will be later when the big gross business starts to roll in, for this production is bound to take its place as one of the year's winners.

THE STORY

The whole story is set in a carnival background, lifting the canvas from time to time, giving you a first hand view of the lives and loves of these people. It is intensely interesting. George Fitzmaurice did a marvelous job in the direction. He left nothing undone or overdone.

THE CAST

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., walked off with the acting honors. This young fellow was in fast company but his pace had more snap to it than the rest of the troupe. Betty Compson and Dorothy Mackaill were good. Miss Mackaill displayed an excellent voice throughout the talking sequences. Milton Sills as the barker did not have the same appeal as Walter Huston, who acted the same part in the stage production. The force, the pirulence and the barking power seems to be entirely missing save in several scenes right at the finish. George Cooper, Sylvia Ashton and Tommie Dugan were very capable with small parts.

THE SOUND

Something seemed to be wrong with the sound last evening. Whether it was the theatre amplification or the studio recording we were unable to distinguish. Several times the voices of the players were so weak they could not be heard.

SKOURAS STOCKHOLDERS BLOCK WARNER DEAL--PUBLIX BIDDING

RCA PUTS SARNOFF BROWN IN K-A-O

Kennedy Voluntarily Retires
10 Directors Dropped
From Board

DIVIDENDS DECLARED

David Sarnoff was elected Chairman of the Board and Hiram S. Brown, Executive Vice-President, of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation, the theatre chain and vaudeville unit of the recently formed Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation, at a meeting of the Board of Directors held yesterday.

Edward F. Albee continues as President and the other officers are Maurice Goodman and J. J. Ford, Vice-Presidents and B. B. Kahane, Secretary and Treasurer.

Joseph P. Kennedy voluntarily retired as Chairman of the Board and as a Director of K-A-O. The Board was reduced from nineteen to nine, and now consists of Messrs. David Sarnoff, Hiram S. Brown, Elisha Walker, Edward F. Albee, Paul M.

(Continued on Page 2)

Talkies in Supreme Court

PHILADELPHIA — The Pennsylvania Supreme Court yesterday heard arguments on the suits brought by Warners and Fox against the State Censorship Commission, to prevent the censoring of talking pictures.

Decision was reserved.

Publix and Kansas Exchanges Face Restraint of Trade Suit

ST. JOSEPH, MO. — Another restraint of trade suit may crop here soon if E. J. Peskay, manager of the Rivoli Theatre, which closed last week, makes good his threats.

Peskay has been quoted as saying that he contemplates obtaining Federal court action against the Publix Missouri Theatre and several ex-

(Continued on Page 2)

Oh! For a London Opening

By London Correspondent

LONDON — At the opening of "The Singing Fool" at the Regal last week Champagne, sandwiches and cigars were passed out by beautiful girl ushers during intermission.

MCCOOK UPHOLDS UFA-EASTERN CLAIM

Judge Philip McCook in the Supreme Court yesterday ruled that Ufa Eastern Division Distribution, Inc. had sufficient cause for complaint against Ufa Pictures, World Wide and Educational, in their suit charging malicious interference with existing contracts.

Banzhof and Richter, in putting in their defense, asserted that the Ufa Eastern complaint was insufficient, and did not state the cause for the action. Judge McCook, however, ruled that under Rule 92 of

(Continued on page 2)

"U" Premiere Today

Universal Chain Theatrical Enterprises, Inc., adds another house to its operating list today when the Capitol Theatre, Winchester, Virginia, opens its doors to the public. This is the latest of a chain of 14 houses in Virginia controlled by the Shenandoah Valley Theatre Corporation, subsidiary of the Universal Chain.

Warners Offer Stock Exchange for Two-Thirds Control of Chain

The deal between Skouras Brothers and Warner Brothers for the control of the Missouri and Ambassador Theatres and the St. Louis Amusement Company, all of St. Louis, seems to have struck a snag inasmuch as Paramount, equal owners with the Skouras Brothers in the management of the Missouri and Ambassador have put in a bid not only to take over the interest of Skouras in these two houses but to get control of the St. Louis Amusement Company.

Directors Listening

The directors of Skouras organization are said to have refused the Warner offer for their interests and have manifested a desire to listen to the Paramount and other offers for their interest. The proposition of Warner Brothers is said to exchange Warner stock for two thirds of both the Skouras A and B stock Skouras to be made all A stock with a preferential dividend of $3.00 a share.

CAL. ZONING-CLEARANCE WAITS FED. OUTCOME

LOS ANGELES — The L.A. Film Board of Trade has issued a statement refuting the charges being made that small low-priced houses in Southern California are suffering from present zoning and clearance schedules. The Board claims that since no zoning or clearance schedules are now in force, action on readjustments cannot take place until the action of the Federal authorities against West Coast Theatres is settled.

NOTABLES AT NIFTY "BARKER" OPENING

To the ballyhoo of a circus calliope. First National's reproduction of Kenyon Nicholson's stage play "The Barker" made its introduction to the silver screen last night at the Central Theatre, N. Y.

The picture was produced with dialogue spoken by four players who

(Continued on page 2)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

J. Harrison Edwards, West Coast Representative, Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles.
London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

John Webber, of Gotham Pictures is away from the office this week, on account of the death of his mother . . . He takes up his duties again next week . . . William Wanger, genial branch manager of First National in Kansas City hit the big apple yesterday to transact some company business. Hope it's a raise, Bill . . . Harry Bailey, long with Aesop Fables and one of the pioneer animated cartoonists in the business is handing cigars around this week because of the arrival in his family of Miss Phyllis Anne Bailey . . . Show some animation, Harry . . . An auto wreck in Lansdowne, Pa., caused James F. Sullivan, United Artists' field exploitation man to go to the hospital because of his injuries. He was on his way to New York from Canton O. . . . Jack Connolly of Fox Movietone sailed away yesterday on the Leviathan for some more scoops . . . Perhaps the happiest person in New York or elsewhere is Richard Dix. "Rich" likes New York and Paramount have promised him the freedom of the city for his next three pictures . . . Millard Webb is being treated right by Paramount. . . They have assigned Bartlett Cormick to adapt "Gentlemen of the Press" for his direction. Cormack wrote "The Racket" and made the screen adaptation and it was a "pip" . . . Hy (Barnum) Daab is busy gathering ink spots for a display of showmanship on the greatest lineup of pictures ever known. At least Hy thinks so . . . Peggy Goldberg is pinch hitting for a few days in Gordon White's office at Educational . . . Sam Katz is at home for a few days with a mild attack of the grippe . . . George Brown at Warners is going to bust out with a new type for his display ads and suggests that the Daily Review list it with the "protected material department" . . . Everybody in the picture business was at the opening of "The Barker" last night.

STATE ASKS TEXAS BAN ON SAENGER

A temporary injunction restraining the Saenger Theatres, Inc., from operating on Sunday in Texarkana, Tex., has been granted by District Judge Hugh Carney to the district attorney. In the stand of local authorities is seen the inception of a fight which might reach statewide proportions.

The district attorney's petition asked that the company be dissolved, its right to do business in Texas be canceled, and its corporation license in the state be annulled. A fine for the corporation also was demanded. The injunction writ was returnable in county court Nov. 26.

Ufa Theatre Chain Joins German C.E.A.

The Ufa theatre chain has joined the German Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association to which already most of the Emelka theatres belong, the Department of Commerce is advised by Trade Commissioner Geo. R. Canty, Paris. This new accession, it is said, gives increased strength to the Association.

Publix and Kansas Exchanges Face Resraint

(Continued on page 2)

product until the Missouri Theatre was opened by the Publix-Cooper interests. This, his letter states, forced the Rivoli into a second run house, but that the Missouri had bought practically every picture available and, not being able to play them very rapidly, the Rivoli found itself in a position of not being able to get enough product to play even second run.

Film Board of Trade officials claim that Peskay's troubles are partly his own fault, caused by overbuying. Kansas City exchange managers declare that Peskay is exaggerating and has not even approached them with regard to obtaining second-run pictures and that other theatres in Kansas City and elsewhere are getting second-runs and Peskay should have no trouble getting his.

Notables at Nifty "Barker" Opening

(Continued from page 1)

had never appeared in the talkies, with Milton Sills playing the principal role of the Barker. Dorothy Mackaill, Betty Compson and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. have the other speaking roles.

Among those in the audience were Will H. Hays, Harry Warner, Major Albert Warner, Irving D. Rossheim, Warren C. Boothby, Ned E. Depinet, Jesse L. Lasky, Walter Wanger, Gov. Carl Milliken, Motley Flint, the California financier, William Fox, Spyros Skouras, Abe Sablosky, Abe Blank, George Trendle, J. R. Dillon of Hayden, Stone & Co., Dr. A. H. Giannini, J. I. Schnitzer, Sam Katz, Kenyon Nicholson, the author of "The Barker," and Charles Wagner who produced it on the stage.

The showing of "The Barker" was preceded by a program of short Vitaphone subjects.

Ufa Assets Listed at 25 Million Marks--Profits Drop

By Dr. R. OTTO

(Special Cable to Exhibitors Daily Review)

BERLIN—Only a small net profit of 161,215 marks shows on the balance-sheet of the Ufa company after a year of financial reconstruction so no dividend was declared.

During the year ending May 31, 1928, the directors' principal task was the revision of old agreements and the weeding out of unremunerative theatres.

Production which had come to a standstill, was vigorously resumed and 33 features, 35 shorts and about 190 newsreels were produced for this season.

The theatres and studios are valued at 24,379,102 marks as compared with 20,000,000 marks the year before. New theatres were built, older ones renovated. The value on the books of Ufa films has risen from 888,979 to 1,254,849 marks, and some debts have been reduced.

VICTOR INJUNCTION AGAINST COLUMBIA OFF

PITTSBURGH — The Common Pleas Court here has ordered the Victor Theatre of McKeesport to post a bond of $3,500 in its litigation with Columbia Pictures until final trial comes up some time this Winter.

The Theatre had been granted a temporary injunction against Columbia by Judge Ford several weeks ago, which restrained Columbia from discontinuing service, following refusal of the exhibitor to arbitrate a dispute.

Acoustic Co. Deal For Television Sets

Officials of the Jenkins Television Corporation, which this week completed plans for financing commercial production of television sets for the reception of movies by radio in the home, yesterday denied that the Acoustics Products Co., which controls the Sonora-Bristolphone talking picture apparatus, had obtained control of the Jenkins patents.

J. W. Garside, president of the Jenkins company admitted that Acoustic Products are negotiating with them for a deal to manufacture the television sets.

RCA Puts Sarnoff Brown in K-A-O

(Continued from page 1)

Mazur, Marcus Heiman, Maurice Goodman, Lee Shubert and B. B. Kahane.

David Sarnoff was also elected Chairman of the Board and Hiram S. Brown, President of the Orpheum Circuit, Inc., yesterday.

Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corp. yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the preferred, payable January 2 to stock of record December 19.

Orpheum Circuit, Inc., also declared the regular quarterly dividend of $2 on the preferred, payable January 2 to stock of Record December 19th.

Editor at AMPA

Myron A. Kesner, Managing Editor of the American Business Magazine, will address today's meeting of the Associated Motion Picture Advertisers at the Paramount Hotel. Don Hancock will introduce Editor Kesner. President George Harvey will call for committee reports on plans for the Hollywood Masque Ball which takes place at the Astor on March 9.

Rigaumont Opening

ITHACA—Dec. 6—The State Theatre, new house designed by Victor A. Rigaumont, New York theatre architect, for the Cornell Theatres, Inc., will be dedicated this evening. Rigaumont personally supervised the construction of the State and will be present for the dedication.

McCook Upholds Ufa—Eastern Claim

(Continued from page 1)

Civil Practice, no allegation of performance of contract was required and denied the defendants' motion with $10 costs.

Attorneys for UFA Eastern, of which Nathan Burkan is one, will now move for a temporary injunction to restrain the Ufa Film Corporation, World Wide Pictures or Educational Exchange, Inc., from distributing Ufa pictures in the territories which UFA Eastern has under contract for distribution.

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.
for Library Stock Scenes
130 W. 46th St. New York
Bryant 8181

TRAVELERS select the Great Northern for its wonderful location in Chicago's "Loop". They return because the large comfortable rooms, homelike environment, attentive service, excellent food and moderate charges make it an ideal hotel.

400 Newly Furnished Rooms.
$2.50 a day and up. Sample Rooms $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00.

Walter Craighead, Manager
DEARBORN STREET FROM JACKSON
TO QUINCY
New Garage One-Half Block

Sonora

CLEAR AS A BELL

PATRONS ARE REQUESTED TO FAVOR THE COMPANY BY CRITICISM AND SUGGESTION CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

12018

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a full-rate Telegram or Cablegram unless its deferred character is indicated by a suitable sign above or preceding the address.

WESTERN UNION

NEWCOMB CARLTON, PRESIDENT

J. C. WILLEVER, FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT

SIGNS

DL = Day Letter
NM = Night Message
NL = Night Letter
LCO = Deferred Cable
NLT = Cable Letter
WLT = Week-End Letter

The filing time as shown in the date line on full-rate telegrams and day letters, and the time of receipt at destination as shown on all messages, is STANDARD TIME.

Received at

1928 DEC 2 PM 9 57

BPA103 23 NL 4 EXTRA DANBURY 40=TDBP DANBURY CONN 2

SONORA BRISTOLPHONE CO=

50 WEST 57 ST NEWYORK NY=

PALACE THEATRE OPENED BRISTOLPHONE TONIGHT WITH PARAMOUNT
SYNCHRONIZED VERSION OF MANHATTAN COCKTAIL TO PACKED HOUSES
STOP BRISTOLPHONE REPRODUCTION MARVELOUS STOP AUDIENCE
ENTHUSIASTIC STOP CONGRATULATIONS =

J W WALSH PALACE THEATRE DANBURY CONN.

Bristolphone

50 WEST 57th STREET, NEW YORK CITY

Pathe Lands Maugham For Ina Claire

Noted Playwright and Author to do Original Vehicle for Star

By W. R. WILKERSON

W. Somerset Maugham, the noted English playwright and novelist, has been signed by Pathe to write an original screen starring vehicle for Ina Claire. Mr. Maugham will remain in New York until the work is completed.

This announcement by Colvin W. Brown, Executive Vice President, further confirms the statement issued upon the acquisition of Miss Claire that Pathe has under way a definite series of moves that will materially strengthen its position.

Pathe's choice of Maugham to write Miss Claire's vehicle is both a logical and a happy one. The distinguished star's most recent stage appearance, early this season, was as the lead in Maugham's "Our Betters," sponsored by Messmore Kendall and Gilbert Miller, at the Henry Miller Theatre in New York. Miss Claire had one of the most interesting roles of her career in this play.

Huge Pathe Sign

Pathe has erected at its home office, 35 West 45th St., New York City, a large sign, extending across the front of the building, spelling the firm name in gilded block letters sixteen inches high and with a large, red trade mark rooster at each end. Also, at each side of the entrance, the firm name and the street number are lettered in bronze.

Warner Star Returns

Carlotta King whom Warner Bros. brought to the screen by giving her the lead in their first Vitaphone operetta, "The Desert Song," has returned to California from a vacation of two weeks spent in New York. The day before her departure she entertained members of the press at a tea.

3 SILENT CHRISTIES FOR DEC. RELEASE

Bobby Vernon, Billy Dooley, and Jack Duffy are each starred in a new Paramount-Christie silent comedy released during the month of December.

Heading the list of new Christie two-reelers is Bobby Vernon in "Footloose Wimmin", directed by Arvid E. Gillstrom. Billy Dooley's comedy is "Gobs of Love" in which Dooley and another sailor are on matrimony bent, and broke. The next of the Sandy McDuff series starring Jack Duffy is "Should Scotchmen Marry", with Neal Burns, directed by William Holland.

First National, M-G-M Kindly Notice

(From N. Y. Daily Mirror)

With "Flaming Youth" and "Dancing Daughters," two of the great box-office hits of their seasons, Universal plans another to be called "Flaming Daughters."

Fox All-Talkie "In Old Arizona" Wins Praise of Western Critics

STUDIO GOSSIP

Ralph Forbes has been signed by Columbia for the lead in their all talkie production, "Trial Marriage."

Anthony Coldeway has been made assistant associate executive at Warner Brothers' studio.

John Loder's contract with Paramount has been renewed and he has been loaned to Wilcox for the lead in "The Fog."

Fox has bought an original story by Wallace Smith "The Grouch Bag." This will be made into an all talkie.

Paul Perez is writing the dialogue for "His Captive Woman."

Hugo Reisenfeld is doing the musical scores for "The Rescue," "King of the Mountains" and Tiffany-Stahl's "Lucky Boy."

Leo McCarey is personally directing the new Laurel-Hardy comedy.

Rupert Julian will play a minor part in his own production of Ben Hecht's "The Green Ghost" for M-G-M.

Dita Parlo will not have the lead opposite Maurice Chevalier in his first American picture. No one has been selected as yet.

William Collier, Jr. and Carmel Myers have been added to the cast of FBO's picture, "The Red Sword."

John Francis Dillon recently shot studio scenes of eight different cafes, ranging from exclusive night clubs to a humble beanery, for F.N.'s "Children of the Ritz."

Nell Martin has sold the screen and talking picture rights to "Lord Byron of Broadway" to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Clive Brook, one of the principals in Paramount's all talkie, "Interference," left for New York Tuesday for a short vacation.

Judge Ben Lindsey will go on a lecture over the Pantages circuit to speak on "Companionate Marriage."

Paul Bern is flying east to give a talk before the students of Cornell University on movies.

Adam Shirk has joined Columbia Pictures as head of the publicity department.

George Landy has gone with the Edwin Carewe productions.

Albert J. Kelley has been signed by Burton King to direct "The Cleanup," a newspaper story.

Gwen Lee will be the vamp in Billie Dove's new picture, "The Man and the Moment," for First National.

HOLLYWOOD — The World premiere of the first Fox all-talking Movietone production of "In Old Arizona" which was held at the Mission Theatre in San Jose, has received enthusiastic praise from the critics of the Pacific Coast Independent Exhibitor and the San Jose Mercury-Herald who raved over the excellent recording of exterior scenes and their sounds. Dorothy Burgess, a newcomer, Edmund Lowe and Warner Baxter also came in for high praise because of their realistic performances.

A large number of officials of the Fox Film Corporation accompanied the production to San Jose for the preview. Among these were Winfield Sheehan, vice-president and general manager of the Fox Film Corporation; A. M. Bowles, general manager for northern California of West Coast Theatres; Nick Stuart, assistant general manager, northern division; Fred Voigt, manager Fox Film Exchange, San Francisco; Irving Cummings, director of the picture; Elmer C. Hanks, superintendent of maintenance; Bob Harvey, Director of publicity for northern California and John Levin.

Garbo Re-Signed

Greta Garbo has been signed on a new long term contract by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Miss Garbo will enjoy a vacation before resuming work under her new contract. Her first picture will probably be Elinor Glyn's "Tiger Skin."

Dummies Talk

The marionettes are to make a modernistic "talkie," with modernistic settings and lighting. The Fox Film Co. has just discovered the film possibilities in the "sophisticated puppets" of the Guignol Studios, New York's new permanent marionette repertory company. This will be shown in an early release of Fox Movietone News. Later it is planned to make a feature length talking picture using the puppets.

Revnes Joins Glazer

Maurice Revnes, long with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, leaves that organization this week to become assistant to Barney Glazer, production head at Pathe.

What Price Title?

United Artists are certainly having their hands full deciding on a title for the latest Griffith picture. First it was "La Paivo", then "The Love Song", this changed to "The Heart Song", yesterday "Lady of the Pavements" and today "The Masquerade". They ought to have three or four more guesses. And too, it will not have dialogue. The difficulty of reassembling the cast and the doubt surrounding the whole idea probably caused them to make this change also.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

VARIETY'S REPORT

A survey of a few of the key centers throughout the country in Variety this week regarding "sound" grosses is very interesting and is sufficient proof, that with the novelty now worn off talking and synchronized pictures, it becomes a question, "if the picture is good, sound or silent, patrons will buy, if it is not good, all the wiring in the world will not bring them in".

On top of this survey, we have reports from Hollywood that, at least two major producers will release quite a few silent pictures on their programs for next year. By this we mean "all-silent", and not a proposition of making two versions of a picture, with part or all dialogue, and the other straight silent. Both these studios realizing that everyone is going about this thing with too much haste, a continuance of which will spoil sound for all time have adopted a procedure to take it in easy stages with some attempt to reach partial perfection as they go.

"HITCHY"

And while on the subject of sound, we hear that M-G-M have signed Raymond Hitchcock for talking pictures. If there is a worse voice, for either stage or recording in the whole of the amusement business, we would like to hear it. Maybe they are going to use "Hitchy" for the roar of the M-G-M lion.

EQUITY

Reports from Hollywood seem to indicate that Equity is getting a foothold in the affections of the motion picture colony. We are nothing for or against this organization but we hope that the actor thinks twice before stepping. Conditions have not been so bad for him in Hollywood. He has made plenty of money, and this rush of the legitimate player to the West Coast studios will only effect him temporarily, if at all. Why disturb an harmonious and financially successful enterprise especially at a time when the producer has shown a tendency to really do something for him. By this we mean the "call bureau" recently put into effect. It is our opinion sitting 3000 miles away from the seat of action that this bureau is the greatest thing that ever happened for the actor. It really gives him a service, and in order to get this service, the producer will be compelled to pay the cost of making said service possible.

SOME GOOD

The stage and screen are two different enterprises having the amusement of the world as a common ground for likeness. Aside from this, they are both different. Differently organized, differently run. What Equity has done to benefit the stage, the same service would mean nothing to pictures. There are no fly by night producers in pictures that should be compelled to post a bond in order to open a show. There is no protection needed in pictures to protect the actor in matter of rehearsals. And in so far as our knowledge is concerned these are the two chief reasons for Equity. Consequently, if we were an actor we would think several times before disturbing a condition that is exceedingly profitable at present with a better outlook for the future.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 131

New York, Friday, December 7, 1928

FIVE CENTS

A Cowardly Generalization!

By ARTHUR JAMES

The estimable Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences is giving heavy consideration to the iniquities of the Fan magazines. It is charged by the excellent Mr. Frank Woods that the "Fan Magazines write abusive things about stars, players and others". Mr. Woods thinks it should be stopped. Mr. Woods is right but why the wholly iniquitous generalization "Fan Magazines"?

What Fan Magazines and which Fan Magazines are the offenders? Is it Photoplay? Is it Screenland? Is it Motion Picture Magazine? Or are any of these magazines innocent of blame? The only fair and square thing to do is to say which magazine offends and point out the offense. To do less is nothing short of cowardly as the innocent are blamed with the offending.

We have encountered the same thoughtless and stupid generalization regarding the Trade's press. A very splendid man told us the other day that the trouble with trade papers in the picture business was that they didn't care who abused the business or who attacked it. They just went on like contented cows grazing in the field that grew thinner and thinner in grass.

We asked him: "When you say trade papers just what do you mean?"

"Oh," he said, "I mean all but two".

"All right", we rejoined blithely, when our mood was to smite him, "will you be good enough in the future to say so?"

We know a prominent attorney in the picture industry who has been served immeasurably by two of the trade newspapers, yet when he sees something stupid or worse in one of the sleek dumb ones he invariably generalizes and says:

"These trade papers absolutely disgust me. They don't care a rap for the business they are supposed to be devoted to".

DON'T GENERALIZE on the trade's papers or the Fan Magazines. Praise by name those that deserve it and, if you will, BLAME BY NAME THOSE THAT ARE ENTITLED TO BLAME!

It's so, also, with pictures. The whole picture industry declines and properly to take the blame for the few bad pictures. Give the Fan Magazines and the Trade's press the same decent break!

Schenck Blames Stock Manipulators For Loew-M-G-M-U. A. Merger Rumor

Lichtman Calls U. A. Sales Convention in Chi. Dec. 14-15

M-G-M President Issues Firm Denial and Sees Malicious Attempt

LOS ANGELES — Vigorous denial to the rumor circulated involving alleged negotiations for absorption of Loew's Incorporated and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer by another film concern was made today from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studio by Nicholas M. Schenck, president of the former Organizations.

Schenck who expressed the belief that the rumor was maliciously created, stated:

"The story that negotiations were under way for sale of Loew's Incorporated and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to another motion picture concern is absolutely untrue and I wish to deny it in the strongest language

(Continued on page 2)

Paramount News

In Sound

Paramount News will reach the exhibitor in sound at a very early date, according to the announcement of Jesse Lasky. "The Sound trucks and complete working units are being assembled and will function very shortly".

OKLA. M.P.T.O. STAYS NAT'L.—BENDER, PRES.

OKLAHOMA CITY — The Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Oklahoma in convention assembled here unanimously voted yesterday to continue its affiliation with the Motion Pic-

(Continued on page 2)

M-G-M Chicago Confab On Talkie Policy

All division managers of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer plus quite a few of the executives from the home office met in Chicago, the first part of this week. It was a general confab wherein the policy of marketing sound pictures and general sales ideas were discussed. The division managers will call territorial sales meetings immediately to instruct the different branch managers and salesmen regarding the new policy.

T-S Denies Merger

Mr. Grant L. Cook, Secretary and Treasurer of Tiffany-Stahl Productions, Inc., in a statement issued, denies that there is any truth in the report of a contemplated merger of his company with any other organization. He has no idea where the rumor originated. Tiffany-Stahl, he added is going along with its production schedule of sound and talking pictures synchronized by the RCA Photophone method.

Talking Picture Policies to Be Discussed at National Gathering

A national convention of United Artists' sales force will be held at the Stevens Hotel, Chicago, December 14th and 15th. Al Lichtman, sales head, announced yesterday that 1928 has been United Artists, most profitable year and that the convention is a combined celebration of 1928 and preparation for 1929. It will be the first national sales con-

(Continued on page 2)

UNIVERSAL ISSUES FINE DEC. PROGRAM

A strong list of releases for December is announced by the Universal Pictures Corporation. Five special productions and two thrill pictures are included in the list.

Heading the holiday list is "The Melody of Love," put out by Universal as their first 100% talking

(Continued on page 4)

PATHE SOUND NEWSREEL TO ISSUE ONCE A WEEK

Pathe announces the release of a Pathe Sound News every week, beginning February 3rd. Since its debut November 11th it has been issued every two weeks but the steady demand by exhibitors has prompted the launching of the new schedule.

A complete system of branch offices for sounds news gathering will be established throughout the country and in Europe.

Shard Theatres Penalized $13,000 for Bicycling Films

Exhibitor Punished for Grimm Gets Adv. Post In Univ. Home Office

Ben Grimm veteran motion picture advertising and publicity man, has just been appointed Assistant Advertising Director for Universal. He will be the right hand man of Milton Silver, who has just stepped into the post of advertising chief for the Laemmle organization.

Grimm is one of the best known advertising men in the industry. His experience in the advertising, public and it was found that conditions were so bad that in one instance

(Continued on page 4)

(Continued on Page 3)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.
Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

J. Harrison Edwards, West Coast Representative, Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles.

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

Tim McCoy, M-G-M Western star sails tonight on the Majestic for Europe accompanied by his sister and brother-in-law, the Gilbert Millers. A handsome Xmas in London for handsome Tim . . . Two gentlemen of the British Paramount realm have terminated their Eastern studio observations and have departed, John Cecil Graham sailing for England today and Major C. H. Bell going to Hollywood for further study . . .

Dick Sears, Pathe News New England representative kept a date with his pal Bossy Gillis, as Bossy stepped out from the Salem jail—the result is an intimate film study of the hard-boiled egg . . . Leslie Wilkes well-known in Dallas as manager of First National has turned theatre manager and cast his lot with the Dent organization in three Corsicana theatres . . . Ernest Maas left town yesterday for a business trip to Chicago concerning pictures. He returns Monday . . . Sydney S. Cohen made one of his infrequent excursions into print yesterday with a helpful New Year's resolution and a plea for wider and better publicity to help sell good pictures . . . Lou Blumenthal, one of the not so idle rich, is sailing for Europe on the Homeric next month. Will be gone 70 or 80 days. Heigh—Ho . . . Howard Deitz, the father of Leo the Lion, returned yesterday from Chicago. Everything was intact when he was seen entering the M-G-M elevator . . . Jimmie Grainger has only one competitor for the honor of being the greatest donator to the cause of Mr. and Mrs. Pullman. His name is Eddie Smith . . . Richard Dix after being blown around for several days in New York is now longing for his home in Beverly Hills, and if you know how much persuasion it took to get "Rich" to leave New York when the Paramount studio closed two years ago, you would be able to sneak out a story from the above longing.

Barrymore for England?

Adelqui Millar, managing director of Whitehall films is negotiating for the appearance of John Barrymore in an English picture. If he consents to make it, the picture will be directed by Fred Leroy Granville, who recently joined the company.

Lichtman Calls U.A. Sales Convention in Chicago

(Continued from page 1)

vention of United Artists' forces ever held, including district managers, sales managers, salesmen and executives in charge of sales promotion.

Lichtman, Cresson E. Smith and Victor M. Shapiro will leave New York next Wednesday, December 12, for Chicago, in advance of others who will be arriving from all parts of the United States.

Talking pictures now in production will be emphasized by Lichtman in his discussion of 1929 releases. Individual sales and exploitation campaigns on these films will be arranged at the convention. Lichtman said talking pictures would be studied in relation to his analysis of theatres that will be wired during 1929, that all United Artists Pictures will be made with separate silent versions, even all-talkies.

Paul N. Lazarus, sales promotion manager, is preparing a special edition of "United Action," the house organ of the sales force.

volume.ofxx 1m, ET ET ET E E

Schenck Blames Stock Manipulators

(Continued from page 1)

possible.

"Were it not for the fact that such reports are apt to do harm this rumor would be the most ridiculously amusing gossip that I have heard in years. As it is I cannot help but feel that this unfair report was maliciously created possibly with the idea of stock manipulation.

"We are at present entering upon the most ambitious program of activities since the inception of our organization. Never before have Loew's Incorporated and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer occupied a position more enviable in the industry than they do today and we are particularly proud of this fact. Anyone really familiar with motion picture conditions can appreciate how ridiculous it would be for our organization to even consider negotiations such as those circulated, had they been submitted, which they emphatically have not."

A New Year's Resolution

By SYDNEY S. COHEN

Let producers resolve, for a period of at least six months, to increase their advertising in all trade papers that are read, both national and regional. Let them make it as comprehensive and efficient as their best advertising minds can make it.

Where possible, take advantage of billboard advertising, newspaper magazine publicity. It will be found to be self-serving as well as customer-serving, for good merchandise cannot be too extensively advertised.

Okla. MPTO Stays National—Bender, Pres.

(Continued from page 1)

ture Theatre Owners of America. The Allied proposition will be taken up at Board of Directors' meetings later.

The annual election of officers resulted in A. R. Bender of the Mecca Theatre, Cleveland, Oklahoma being made President. W. Z. Spearman, present incumbent was elected Vice-President and Business Manager; John Brown, Treasurer, Edward Kadane, Secretary and E. W. Johnson, Chairman of the Board.

The new directors are J. G. Bennett, E. V. Weaver, John McGinley, Fred B. Pickrel, H. G. Tetmund, Carl Hartman, Phil Isley, J. D. Wine-land, Jack Johnson and Fred Allred.

GRIMM GETS ADV. POST

(Continued from page 1)

licity and exploitation field includes several years as advertising manager of the Moving Picture World, advertising manager for Associated Exhibitors, and supervision of advertising for Warner theatres, as well as advertising work for Metro, Universal and other companies. He was sent to England by Universal, as the first man to introduce American exploitation methods in that country.

Prior to his appointment as Assistant Advertising Director, Grimm edited the Universal sales department organ, "The Gold Mine" and assisted with advertising copy. Fred Eichorn of the Universal advertising department, will take over the editorship of "The Gold Mine."

HIGHLIGHTS OF 3 MOVIE TONE NEWS

The next three issues of Fox Movietone News, all being released week beginning December 8th, feature many splendid sound subjects. The high spots which are found in Volume 2, Release No. 10-A are the opening of Congress and speech by Speaker Longworth; the visit of the Swedish Prince Count Folks Bernadotte, who was a principal in the $750,000 Manville wedding; Coolidge in Virginia trap-shooting and several college subjects.

In Volume 2, Release No. 10-B there are the 10th Anniversary Celebration of the Polish Republic; Stage Stars at the Dog Show; the Kentucky Stakes Horse Race; the Biggest Boy in the World and the Chinese Telephone Exchange in Frisco.

Volume 2, Release No. 10-C feature Visit of Santa Claus to N. Y.; Bossy Gillis Leaving Jail; U. S. Cavalry Charge; and Etiquette Tips by Emily Post, arbiter of fashion.

All three issues have local subjects of the Stanford-Army Football game and an address to youth by George M. Reynolds, Chicago banker.

AT A SACRIFICE

Full equipment for small house.
650 leather uph. chairs.
2 projectors.
12 large lobby frames.
1 large ticket booth.

Can be examined by appointment,
by—

Mr. I. Goldstein

691 Elizabeth Ave. Newark, N. J.

Worn Out Projectors and Defective Parts are Costing Exhibitors Millions of Dollars Every Year in Loss of Patronage and Injury to Prints

International Projector Corporation
90 Gold Street New York, N. Y.

It's the Great American Picture

Dallas, Tex.

"'Uncle Tom' good for ten days more. Expect to make up all Summer losses with it."

Capitol Theatre

Wichita, Kans.

"Just completed week of tremendous business on 'Uncle Tom.' All records smashed."

Charles F. Smith,
Managing Director,
Uptown Theatre

Oklahoma City, Okla.

"Very happy advise necessary hold over 'Uncle Tom' for second week. Did tremendous business."

R. D. Hutchinson,
Liberty Theatre

Grand Island, Neb.

"'Uncle Tom' has broken all records in its first three-day showing topping year's best supers."

Vogel Gettier,
Capitol Theatre

Kane, Pa.

"'Uncle Tom' Universal's greatest screen masterpiece. Opened to record-breaking business despite heavy opposition."

Chase Street Theatre

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN

Exhibitors everywhere should play it—every man, woman and child will want to see it—

CARL LAEMMLE'S

$2,000,000

PRODUCTION

A HARRY POLLARD
PRODUCTION with Marguerita Fischer, Arthur
Edmund Carew, Lucien
Littlefield, James Lowe,
Virginia Grey, Adolph
Milar, Vivien Oakland,
Lassie Lou
Ahern, Mona
Ray, Aileen Manning.

Ottumwa, Iowa

"Had plenty of competition, but they couldn't lick 'Uncle Tom's Cabin.' Now we know Universal has the big ones."

L. S. Brown, Mgr.,
New Square Theatre

Akron, Ohio

"I have seen a lot of big pictures and I have played a lot but beyond any question of doubt 'Uncle Tom' is the biggest and best box office sensation that has ever been released."

Frank C. Reinecke,
Paramount Theatre

White, S. D.

"Wonderful picture in every respect. Better than I thought it could or would be. I wish all the so-called specials were as good."

K. Cummings,
Opera House

Lincoln, Kans.

"A wonderful drawing card and a really big picture. Drew in people that I had never seen in town before."

R. W. Mossleman,
Princess Theatre

Pueblo, Colo.

"Just completed sensational week's run 'Uncle Tom.' Business phenomenal. Biggest seven days ever done."

Harold E. Rice,
Palm Theatre.

Book "THE MAN WHO LAUGHS" and let the magic name of Victor Hugo pack them in for you. Carl Laemmle gave you "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" and "Les Miserables." Now he gives you the most soul-stirring and dramatic of this great Victor Hugo trio. It is glorious entertainment for Big Towns—for Little Towns—for Everybody—Everywhere. Paul Leni's greatest achievement, starring Conrad Veidt and Mary Philbin.

Lasky Issues Next 6 Mos. Talkie Program

Lists 22 All-Talkies — 17
Sound and Talkies—50
Short Talkies

By W. R. WILKERSON

Marking the culmination of a two year period of intensive research and experimentation Jesse L. Lasky, first vice president of Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation today announced a definite program of talking, singing and synchronized pictures which will be released by his company between January 1st and July 1st, 1929.

"For seventeen years our company has produced the finest quality silent pictures," said Mr. Lasky. "For the past two years, ever since sound pictures became possible, we have been working in this new field. We installed in our great studios at Hollywood, California and Long Island City, New York, the most complete and finest equipment for making pictures that talk. We assembled the best technical staff available. We made rigid tests of our stars and players and discovered that the great majority of them have excellent recording voices. As a sample of what could be accomplished with the new medium of artistic expression we recently pre-released 'Interference,' which was greeted on all sides with superlatives."

"There will be 22 all-star all-talking feature pictures and 17 full length productions which will have talking and singing in addition to a synchronized music score. Approximately 50 short talking features will be distributed during that period."

"This does not mean a cessation of silent picture production. Of the 39 sound pictures 24 will also have silent versions. These, in addition to 3 pictures which will be produced entirely in silent form, make a total of 27 feature length pictures which will be available for those theatres not equipped for sound reproduction."

"We will release a series of four units comprising a full program with one feature and two short feature subjects."

STUDIO GOSSIP

Buster Collier, Jr. has signed with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to play the juvenile lead in "The Bridge of San Luis Rey."

George Fitzmaurice, it is rumored, will leave First National when his present contract with them expires.

Martha Mattox and Walter McGrail will have important parts in Tom Mix's latest Western, "The Dude Ranch."

George Perilot has been added to the cast of First National's "The Comedy of Life."

Sylvia Beacher has been given the feminine lead opposite Maurice Chevalier in his first Paramount talking picture.

George Fitzmaurice is completing preparations for his production of "The Man and the Moment."

Robert Castle, Viennese actor will have the part of the artist in Janing's new picture for Paramount.

Thomas Jefferson, character actor, will act in and coach E. H. Griffith's production of "Porgy" for Pathe.

Taylor Holmes, Jr. will play the part of the son in "The Genius" a Paramount picture.

Carol Lombard will have the lead in Cecil DeMille's picture, "Dynamite."

Pathe has taken over radio station KFVD in Hollywood and has bought it.

Edmund Breese will desert movies in the spring to appear on the stage.

D. W. Griffith's "The Heart Song" will be released as a silent picture, after all.

Christie is making a series of all-colored short-reel comedies for Paramount release.

Bad Film Stock Slump!

Due to the rise of call money to 12% yesterday and the change in the rediscount rate, one of the worst slumps of the year took place on the stock exchanges, film stocks being particularly affected.

Warner Brothers went off 10 3/4 points; Radio Corp. was off 15; Paramount off 3 1/4; Pathe off 1 1/4; Loews off 3; Stanley off 3; Keith-Albee preferred off 5 3/4; K-A-O off 3 3/4; Fox off 4 3/4; General Electric off 11; Warner-Curb, off 4; Universal (C) off 2.

One redeeming feature in the film transactions was the gain of 3/4 of a point in Fox Theatres on the curb, going to 31 1/2, with the huge sum of 173,200 shares being traded.

Universal Issues

Fine Dec. Program

(Continued from page 1)

picture on the screen.

"Red Lips" also is an early December release. It is a Melville Brown production adapted from a story by Percy Marks, author of "The Plastic Age."

Another December release is "The Gate Crasher," Glenn Tryon's latest Universal production. Patsy Ruth Miller is Tryon's principal support.

"Give and Take," Universal's adaptation of the Aaron Hoffman stage success, also will reach the screen in December. It is a Carl Laemmle Special, and is being put out both in silent and in synchronized form.

"Honeymoon Flats" will reach the screen from Universal during Christmas week. It is from Earl Derr Bigger's Saturday Evening Post story.

Universal also announces the release this week of "The Hero of the Circus," starring Maciste, Europe's most popular strong man and stunt star and a Ted Wells Western feature this month. It is "Beauty and Bullets," directed by Ray Taylor.

Shard Theatres Penalized $13,000 for Bicycling Films

(Continued from page 1)

on the complaint of two exhibitors Pathe had to pull a print out of the booth of one of Shard's theatres, in order not to cause a miss-out with another exhibitor.

The theatres involved were the Mt. Vista, Pendrola, Emory and Lyric. The exhibitor produced seven witnesses to substantiate his claim that there was no violation of his contract, because he had oral understandings with the companies, that he might use the product in the manner in which he was doing.

Shard claimed that for many years the custom has been to buy for one theatre and use for several because when he bought for a zone and he had two theatres in that zone, it did not make any difference which theatres he played since they were very close to each other.

Louis Nizer of New York assisted by J. Levin of Cincinnati represented the exchanges.

GOSSIP OF PARIS

By ANDERSON GREGG

Enterprising young French authors who have yet to "arrive" are overheard to speak indulgently regarding the "talkies." Having no established reputations to sacrifice, they have even dared to foresee the day when dramatists writing for the audible screen, will be eligible for membership in the French Academy. It delights them to drop remarks to this effect within the hearing of any of the living "Forty Immortals" who are sufficiently robust to bear the shock without danger of dropping dead from apoplexy. Famous academicians long since deceased are declared to be turning in their graves in protest against such possible desecration of their imperishable works.

Nevertheless you may hear before long that the late Anatole France died only a few years too soon to see with his own eyes his "Man With a Dumb Wife" presented as a "talkie." This witty stage classic, and also Moliere's "Imaginary Invalid", in which surgical and medical methods of the same period are satirized, are recognized as rich screen material plus spoken lines of a quality calculated to make any screen audience sit up and listen.

More and more in Paris film circles the "talkies" are dwarfing every other subject of comment. Not a little envy over the activities of British producers along this line is observed. But it is the sort of envy that transforms itself into emulation. The French have always considered their dramatists superior to all others. They are therefore expected to perfect a form of dramatic construction for the screen, now that speech is added, that will be accepted the world over. The forms of a new art, it is argued, can only be created by those having long experience with allied forms. The perfect stage drama is therefore the ground plan of the perfect screen "talkie." Who wrote it, Shakespeare or Moliere? Be careful not to have any doubt on that point when you are in Paris.

When the French fall, they usually land on their feet—at least in their own estimation. Unanimous surrender to the "talkies", when at last it comes, will cause you to be reminded that Sara Bernhardt was the first star of the first movie drama ever produced.

"The Mecca of All Picture Functions"

ARE YOU PLANNING A SALES MEETING—
AN EXHIBITOR GATHERING—

Do you want to GIVE YOUR SALESMEN A LITTLE DINNER—A DANCE—A BANQUET?

Call our banquet department and let them offer a few suggestions.

We have banquet rooms, meeting rooms, ball rooms that will take care of your every want.

THE PARK CENTRAL

FIFTY-FIFTH STREET AT 7th AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY

from OVERTURE to EXIT MARCH

Complete unit program is answer to showman's demand for a perfect show

IN SOUND

PATHE is the first to offer a COMPLETE SOUND UNIT PROGRAM—From Overture to Exit March! . . . PATHE blazes the trail with this startling innovation that meets the drastic changes brought about through the perfection of sound pictures.

Complete in One Can!

The BOON offered to exhibitors by PATHE is a diversified, well-balanced Showman's Sound and Dialogue Program—all complete in one can! PATHE SOUND NEWS and PATHE FEATURES are the backbone of this Unit Program—built upon showmanship principles, keyed to popular appeal—made for box office purposes solely.

From Overture to Exit March!

EACH UNIT SHOW includes an Overture and a closing musical number, assuring the theatre as complete a musical program as would be provided by a symphony orchestra in the pit.

BOOKING DETAILS reduced to a minimum! An entire show in one shipment! Ready for the projector! Rigid Pathe exchange inspection assures perfect condition of film!

Diversity in Sound Unit Shows!

Six sound features now ready! Massive production schedule of sound and dialogue subjects under way! Great array of Features and Short Subjects, Pathe News, Pathe Review, Grantland Rice Sport-lights, "Smitty" Comedies, Aesop's Fables, Topics of the Day—ALL IN SOUND!

READ WHAT THE TRADE PRESS SAYS

"It has remained for Pathe, the oldest organization, to bring the newest innovation to this fast developing new form of entertainment . . . This is not only a progressive but an aggressive bit of showmanship . . . It is just another step in the advancement of sound pictures."

H. David Strauss in The Morning Telegraph

"This looks like fine show progress to us and it is so down to earth that you can put your hands on it. A dozen years ago the balanced program brought the crowds into the motion picture theatres and they came regularly . . . The Pathe plan uses the basic principles of this proved success method, enlarges it, improves upon it, gives it class and the extra appeal or good sound accompaniment."

Arthur James in Exhibitors Daily Review

Pathé Pictures

Talking Box-Office

Sound recorded by the sensational
RCA PHOTO-
PHONE System,
every subject in each unit will be in absolute accord.

Beginning today—
Broadway is a
ONE-WAY Street!

With MILTON SILLS
DOROTHY
MACKAILL

Betty Compson and
 Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.

a GEORGE
FITZMAURICE
PRODUCTION

From the Play by Kenyon Nicholson. Stage Production by Charles L. Wagner. Adaptation by Benjamin Glazer. Presented by Richard A. Rowland.

WITH SPEECH
AND SOUND!

All New York is Headed for THE BARKER

Hats-off press oration at Central Theatre premiere Dec. 5 started city-wide stampede to this

$2.00 ROADSHOW HIT

"The real thing, if I am any judge of swell shows...Pictured beautifully...acted capially...Deserves success."

—Quinn Martin in Morning World

"The picture is there."

—Mordaunt Hall in N.Y. Times

"Genuine three-star entertainment...Sills at the peak of his career... House in uproar at premiere... Swell comic relief... Knockout cast... Big spectacular shots are thrilling... Behind-the-tent stuff 'gets' you... Realism... sparkle... plenty of action. Never a dull moment... Completely engrossing movie."

—Irene Thirer in Daily News

"Milton Sills' best picture since 'The Sea Hawk.'"

—Rose Pelswick
 in N.Y. Evening Journal

"Stirring in the extreme. You can bet it will remain at the Central Theatre for months."

—George Gerhard
 in N.Y. Evening World

"Sillshuman and believable and quite credibly tough... Faithful, well acted, and brightly produced...Deserves success."

—Richard Watts, Jr.
 in Herald Tribune

"Here's entertainment for you. A carnival story in which the guts has been kept... Playstricks on your emotional funny bone... The picture is there. Go to it."

—Kann in Film Daily

"Bound to take its place as one of the year's winners... Marvelous job in direction. Fitzmaurice left nothing undone or overdone."

—W. R. Wilkerson in Daily Review

FIRST NATIONAL talks BUSINESS

Member of Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America Inc. ~ Will H. Hays President

Steffes Allied Speakers to Stump Eastern States

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 133

New York, Monday, December 10, 1928

FIVE CENTS

A Menace? Not Likely!

By ARTHUR JAMES

PRO

News that the $10,000,000 Jenkins Television Corporation public stock issue has been eagerly snatched up and none is now obtainable, is stirring the pulses of many picture people these days. The fact that this new corporation and others, will, within a short while, produce and market its perfected device and hundreds of thousands of families will be watching clear animated motion pictures on walls of their homes at a cost much smaller than in the theatre, is furnishing some food for thought.

Some there be who foresee not only a close co-operation between both interests — the electric and radio companies on one hand and the motion picture producers on the other — but see also a huge source of revenue in addition to theatre receipts, but also a tremendous boon to the small town, the farmers and the shut-ins and home-lovers.

WHAT ABOUT IT?

Let us look into this, a bit. First — what will happen to the vast army of second and third-run theatres throughout the country? What about the millions invested in the theatre properties by the producers themselves? Will they stand for nationwide broadcast of movies direct to homes, and what about the independent theatre owners? Will the percentage returns from television exhibition make it worth while for small town theatres to be scrapped?

Will television actually be a commercial success? Will people stay home nights to see these pictures or will the theatres remain and compete with the home movie? Will this competition force greater attractions to be made for theatres in order to draw patronage enough for substantial profit? And lastly will Television prove an exploded hoax, such as the radio proved to be, as far as theatre menace is concerned?

CON

Television enthusiasts should bear this in mind. Every claim that is now being made for home movie entertainment, was put forth with the birth of the radio receiving set, but we fail to see where radio has hurt the industry. Far from it. Never before has there been such an expansion in bigger and more beautiful theatres, than since the arrival of the radio.

One might be justified in saying

(Continued on Page 2)

BOOTLEG DISC MACHINE PARTS AND OVERPRICING HIT UNWARY

'KOLSTAPHONE' USES 'WINGS' VITA-DISCS

HOOD RIVER, Ore.—Art Kolstead, owner of the Rialto Theatre has perfected a talking picture machine interchangeable with any film or disc and installations are promised within 21 days after contract signing.

Kolstead has organized the Theatre Sound Corporation with offices in Portland. John J. Fleming, head of the Oregon exhibitors' organization is the general manager.

The device, which is known as "Kolstaphone" was used in the Rialto Theatre on December 3rd, running Paramount's picture "Wings" synchronized on Vitaphone records.

WOODHULL AT N. C. CONVENTION TODAY

The battle for supremacy between Woodhull and Steffes shifts this morning to Charlotte, N. C., where the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of North Carolina begin a two-day convention at the Hotel Charlotte.

It will be decided at this meeting whether the North Carolina Association will continue its affiliation with the national body. The relation of the talking picture to the small theatre owner will also form a vital part of the discussions.

(Continued on page 7)

Chain Store Prosperity Pleases Theatre Owners

HONE N. W. GROUP TO MEET ON DECEMBER 18

SEATTLE — The Annual Convention of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Washington has been scheduled for December 18th in this city, according to announcement by J. M. Hone, Secretary.

Because of alleged disharmony with the National Group, the theatre owners will vote on that day on changing the name of the organiza-

(Continued on page 7)

NO DEFOREST CONTROL OF JENKINS TELEVISION

A. J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., chairman of the Jenkins Television Company Saturday denied that the DeForest Radio Company would enter the television field through the ownership of large blocks of Jenkins stock. He gave it to be understood that each corporation would separate corporate existence. Biddle forecast

(Continued on page 7)

North American Co. Starts Sound Studios

The North American Sound and Talking Picture Equipment Corporation, a Delaware corporation has been formed to launch a new disc talking picture machine and to produce their own talking pictures.

A studio is being acquired in New York for scoring finished product and producing new pictures with the North American device.

Screen-O-Scope Device

The Film Guild Cinema is in the final stages of completion. One of the interesting innovations incorporated in the design is a "Screen-o-scope", which is a new method of projection devised by Frederick Kissler, the staff architect of the Film Arts Guild, and which eliminates the necessity of any proscenium, curtain as well as the usual screen.

Standard Turntables, Horns And Records Used— Quick Cleanup Planned

Sound has gone in the bootlegging business.

Exhibitors, contemplating the installation of sound devices, are beginning to look carefully into the buying of disc equipment, so that no headaches crop up after the equipment is in. They want the best value for the money laid out, and are going to see to it.

It seems that everyone in the picture business has a sound equipment to sell. There must be at least 75 different devices, all more or less, good, in prices ranging from $150 to $25,000. Most of them will be washed up during the next year and the business will settle down to four or five different sets by as many

(Continued on Page 2)

ALLIED-M.P.T.O.A. STRUGGLE KEENER

The struggle between the forces of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America and the Allied States Organization grows fiercer and there is a real fight on hand.

From the mid-west comes the news that the Indiana and Iowa M.P.T.O. are already in with the Allied group, and with the entrance into the East-

(Continued on page 7)

SCHLESINGER SAILS ON PHONOFILM MISSION

To perfect working arrangements of a plan already matured for the production abroad of subjects especially suitable to the American market by use of the DeForest Phonofilm system of recording, M. A. Schlesinger, the president of General Talking Pictures Corporation sailed for England on Saturday.

British Talking Pictures, Ltd., owner of the Phonofilm device in England has already produced numerous short subjects and three feature length productions under this policy, and the General Talking Pictures executive will bring back these negatives on these productions when he returns before the end of this month.

(Continued on Page 2)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; James Cron, Advertising Manager; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15, single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

Harry Richman's long-awaited debut as a full-fledged movie star was to take place this morning at the Cosmopolitan Studio in "Say It With Music" but United Artists have called it off . . . Hazel-eyed, blonde Helen Foster, star of "Road to Ruin" picture is making quite a name for herself and has been grabbed for a long-term contract by Cliff Broughton . . . Hollywood scents a great combination in Fred (Ben Hur) Niblo—John (Passion) Gilbert—Redemption—plus dialogue—M-G-M will have to open a special bank account for this one, both going and coming . . . Ben Blake just returned from Hartford, Conn., where he directed one of them there big industrials . . . Paul Perez, the dark and handsome devil, is now titling dialogue for the talking version of Fitzmaurice's "His Captive Woman"—if anybody can tell about captive women, Paul's the lad . . . Edgar Selwyn, Broadway's playboy and star producer is heing his way hence to Hollywood's 'boulevards to look over the talkies . . . Film Arts Guild, that Symon Gould brain-child is quite a flourishing institution. They have just acquired the rights to "Tolstoi Intime" a unique French film record of the last days of Tolstoi, which will be seen here in a few weeks . . . Harry Suchman that perennial bachelor is still holding out against the WEAKER sex—Harry may yet have a big CASE some day . . . "Zwei und Fierzigste Strauss" (Arabic for 42nd St.) is the first foreign-tongue turned out by Warners, for exhibition in German colonies in the U. S. and then for Europe . . . the story of Jaime del Rio's death in Berlin Friday, brought a tear to many an eye. "Dolores, Dolores," he whispered, as he died . . . Our contemporary Irene Thirer of the Daily News has just discovered that "Night Club" Robert Florey's Paramount all-talkie production was a dead secret to the news hounds . . . sorry. Irene to shatter your dream, but Gordon Trent scooped the field with this yarn three weeks ago in the Daily Review . . .

PAUL BERN IN TOWN FOR CORNELL LECTURE

Paul Bern, Pathe producer, arrives in New York from Hollywood today. Bern is on his way to Ithaca where he is to address the students of Cornell University on Motion picture production.

Among the pictures with which Mr. Bern is associated as Pathe producer are "Geraldine" and "Noisy Neighbors," both recently finished, and "Square Shoulders," which has just been put into production.

Bootleg Disc Machine Parts And Overpricing Hit

(Continued from page 1)

different manufacturers.

Dealers in worth-while devices are advising before you lay the cash deposit down, go into the merits of the machine carefully if you can. There is a good deal of bootlegged parts being used for sound equipment and some of these fellows are assembling sets made up of ordinary records, horns, wiring and standard turntables and synchronous attachments that anyone can buy cheaply. Determine if the seller is justified in asking enormous prices for something that can be put together for a few hundred dollars.

The Daily Review knows of one organization selling installations at prices ranging from $3,500 to $9,000, that cost them from $75 to $425. He is bootlegging all his parts, with the exception of the arm that connects the projector to the turntable. The only difference between the $3,500 machine (which costs him $75) and the $9,000 outfit is the matter of more loud speakers at a cost of around $20 each.

The crash in this whole sound-equipment is going to come soon. The holders of basic patents are going to step out and quite a few of the machines now being installed will have to be ripped out.

Be on your guard!

Chain Store Prosperity Pleases Theatre Owners

(Continued from page 1)

ported a decrease of 4.0 for November, and 7.4 for eleven months.

Theatre owners in the various large centres of the country see in this a favorable omen. They anticipate that this prosperity will be reflected in their own box offices during the coming holidays.

A MENACE? NOT LIKELY!

(Continued from page 1)

that when Television novelty has worn off as it greatly has in the case of radio, people will again continue going out—to theatres—to crowds and to human contact and for self-gratification in mass reaction.

This human interest angle is to be reckoned with. Especially where young folk are concerned. They want to go out and will go out, as often as they can.

Theatre owners will hardly wish to give up the field and their living. And it will not be necessary. When the novelty has worn off, they will again be called on to furnish entertainment in the personal manner and with the personal touch, even though they may have to fall back on canned talkies, improvised novelties, and the newest specialties.

NEW ERA FILMS FOR FILM CENTER

Harold Auten, U. S. representative of the New Era Films, Ltd., announces that his company is establishing temporary offices at 1600 Broadway, until such time as the new Film Center Building is ready, when the company will move to permanent headquarters in that building.

'SINGAPORE MUTINY' FBO HIT AT HILLSTREET

Ralph Ince's FBO production, "Singapore Mutiny", opened at the Hillstreet theatre, Los Angeles, yesterday, for a week's engagement.

This is the third FBO feature to play a first-run house in Los Angeles' downtown rialto within a month's time.

ZUKOR MAY TESTIFY IN MARKS BROS. CASE

CHICAGO — Judge Wilkerson of the U. S. District Court has ordered Adolph Zukor, President of Paramount Famous-Lasky Corporation to appear in court to testify in the Marks Brothers suit against Publix. Balaban & Katz and other distributors on alleged trade discrimination.

The postponed case will be heard by Judge Wilkerson on January 15, and this will be the first time that Zukor will appear on the stand in any of the suits brought by exhibitors in the past two years. Sonnenschein, Berkson, Lautman and Levinson; Winston Strawn and Shaw, all represent Paramount and the principal defendants in the suit.

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.

for Libray Stock Scenes
130 W. 46th St. New York
Bryant 8181

SCREEN TESTS

Incandescant Lighting
Local No. 644 Cameramen
Complete Equipment
Studios for Rent

BROWNING STUDIOS

110 West 40th St. N. Y. C.
PENN 1258

TELL 'EM
WITH TRAILERS

NATIONAL SCREEN
SERVICE
SELLERS SEATS

Sound Newsreels

Pathe Sound News No. 3, released this week, presents five pictorial subjects in sound, of topical and seasonal interest, novelty and news value.

President-Elect Herbert Hoover, and the demonstrative public farewell given him before departing on his South American junket, is seen and heard as one of the main topical features. One of the most interesting sound features is the rehearsal of the huge boy choir of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York.

The Christmas spirit prevails in the reel with the presentation of an array of talking dolls and animated animal toys in a Toyland demonstration. The other shots are made up of De Wolf Hopper, the noted veteran stage star, in voice and person on the screen revealing some back-stage secrets, and scenes of a toupe of Broadway chorus girls regaling the old seamen of the Sailor's Home on Staten Island with songs and dances.

Clow and Hurley Firm Handling Moviephone

The Sound Pictures, Inc., manufacturers of the First Moviephone, announce this week that the firm of Clow and Hurley have been placed in charge of the publicity for their activities.

Edward F. Hurley, the junior member of the firm, will be remembered for his work as publicity manager of FBO, Pathe and Associated Exhibitors.

AT A SACRIFICE

Full equipment for small house.
650 leather uph. chairs.
2 projectors.
12 large lobby frames.
1 large ticket booth.

Can be examined by appointment,
by—

Mr. I. Goldstein

691 Elizabeth Ave. Newark, N. J.

Classified Advertisement

Advertisements in this section, 5 cents per word. Cash must be sent with order. No charge for Box Number line. Minimum order, $1. 10% discount 12 issues or more.

FOR SALE

MOTION PICTURE AND "STILL" cameras rented, sold and exchanged. Portable lights for sale and for rent. Keep us advised of your wants. Ruby Camera Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

LOCAL FILMS

MOTION PICTURES MADE TO order. Commercial, Home or Industrial. We have excellent facilities and the best cameramen. Our price, 20c per foot. Ruby Film Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

WHETHER YOU WANT TO HIRE some one or be hired; buy or sell a theatre; trade or sell equipment, or do almost anything else in the motion picture business, an ad in this department will get you results. If you want us to word the ad for you, the services of our advertising experts are at your call. Simply tell us what you want to do, and how many words you want used. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

ANNOUNCING

GEORGE JESSEL

THE ORIGINAL
"JAZZ SINGER"

STAR OF
"THE WAR SONG"

in

"LUCKY BOY"

A Picture the Public Has Been Waiting For

"LUCKY BOY," with GEORGE JESSEL in the title role, will be the outstanding box office attraction of the year. Known from Coast to Coast, both on the legitimate and vaudeville stages, Jessel has made for himself a host of admirers.

"LUCKY BOY" IS GEORGE JESSEL'S FIRST ALL TALKING AND SINGING PRODUCTION.

The score has been specially written for the star by Dr. Hugo Riesenfeld and synchronized by R. C. A. Photophone.

The supporting cast includes Margaret Quimby, Richard Tucker, Rosa Rosanova, Gwen Lee, Gayne Whitman, William Strauss and other well known screen players.

The story is by Viola Brothers Shore and directed by Norman Taurog.

WATCH FOR OUR THEME SONGS

TIFFANY-STUHL PRODUCTIONS INC.

1540 BROADWAY

NEW YORK CITY

DIRECTOR FROM BROOKLYN

Played at
IT HIT N.Y.
WITH A BANG

BEING BOOKED BY THE LEADING CIRCUITS AND FIRST RUN THEATRES IN
THE UNITED STATES.

PLAYED NEARLY THREE WEEKS AT THE EMBASSY,
NEW YORK, AT $2.00 TOP.

Playing
Newark Theatre, Newark, N. J.
Capitol, Lawrence, Mass.
Regent and Piccadilly,
Rochester, N. Y.
Modern and Beacon, Boston.
Colorado, Denver, Col.
Globe, Philadelphia, Pa.

MARRIAGE BY CONTRACT

A JOHN M. STAHL SPECIAL PRODUCTION
REMARKABLE SYNCHRONIZED SCORE WITH SONGS AND MUSIC

WITH
PATSY RUTH MILLER
LAWRENCE GRAY
AND A GREAT CAST
DIRECTED BY JAMES FLOOD

JACK SAVAGE

TIFFANY-STAHL PRODUCTIONS INC.

1540 BROADWAY

NEW YORK CITY

DIVAY TO YOU!

$ 2 ^{top}

PLAYED FOR $2.00 TOP AT
THE EMBASSY THEATRE, N. Y.

Booked by the leading Circuits

Playing:

Regent and Piccadilly,
Rochester, N. Y.
Columbia, Dayton, Ohio
American, Salt Lake City, Utah
Garde, New London, Conn.

TIFFANY
CO-NE

THE CAVALIER

WITH A GREAT SYNCHRONIZED SCORE by HUGO RIESENFELD

A REGINALD BARKER
SPECIAL PRODUCTION

TIFFANY
CO-NE

THE TOILERS

WITH A THRILLING SYNCHRONIZED SCORE
By HUGO RIESENFELD

WITH
DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS JR.
JOBYNA RALSTON
AND OTHERS

A SENSATIONAL HIT WHEREVER SHOWN!

The Eckel, Syracuse, N. Y.
Strand, Brooklyn, N. Y.
United Artists, Detroit, Mich.
United Artists, Los Angeles, Cal.
Capitol, Marbro, Granada—Chicago, Ill.
Lafayette, Buffalo, N. Y.
Regent and Piccadilly, Rochester, N. Y.
Newark, Newark, N. J.
Garde, New London, Conn.
Regal, Hartford, Conn.
Hippodrome, Baltimore, Md.
El Capitan, San Francisco, Cal.
Mainstreet, Kansas City, Mo.

TIFFANY-STAHLE PRODUCTIONS INC.

1540 BROADWAY

NEW YORK CITY

4 OF THE STAR SERIES

NOW READY FOR PLAY DATES

TIFFANY COLOR SYMPHONIES

IN A PERSIAN
MARKET

A JAPANESE CARNIVAL

THE TOY
SHOP

THE HAWAIIAN
LOVE
CALL

IN A CHINESE TEMPLE
GARDEN

The finest synchronized short subjects ever offered to an exhibitor. Taken in natural color, and synchronized, they have been hailed by the public and by exhibitors as the classiest short ever flashed upon a screen.

AS A PRELUDE TO TIFFANY TONE PRODUCTIONS THE EXHIBITOR CAN OFFER TO HIS PATRONS CLASS SUBJECTS THAT ELICIT APPLAUSE WHEREVER SHOWN.

TIFFANY
TONE

TIFFANY-STAHLE PRODUCTIONS INC.

1540 BROADWAY

NEW YORK CITY

ELEVENTH ANNUAL
ANNOUNCEMENT NUMBER
 of
DAILY REVIEW
 EXHIBITORS

THE DATE

TUESDAY, JANUARY 1, 1929

THE COPY

Early copy means first attention AND best position

THE ISSUE

The finest in the history of this publication

In Philadelphia
 Choose

HOTEL MAJESTIC

Broad Street and Girard Avenue
 Philadelphia

400 Large Rooms

Only Hotel in Philadelphia with a subway entrance from main lobby

Wire at our expense
 for reservations!

JNO. C. GOSSLER
 Mgr. Dir.

50 Rayart Filmtone Road Show Companies to Tour With 15 Talkies

LAEMMLE TO AWARD $3000 PRIZE MONEY

Victor Hugo Scholarship Contest Ends December 31

High school pupils of the United States and Canada are bringing the Carl Laemmle-Victor Hugo Scholarship Contest to a spirited close. It is reported at the Universal home office. The award offer ends at midnight December 31st, and the high school students are rushing their essays to the Contest committee with accelerated activity. The awards, to be made to winners selected by a group of internationally known judges, will total to $9000.

The Scholarship Award was conceived by Carl Laemmle, president of the Universal Pictures Corporation, as a means of stimulating the reading of Victor Hugo by American boys and girls. The subject chosen for the essay was "What Ideals for Life Do You Find in Victor Hugo's 'Les Miserables,'" The entry period dated from September 1, 1927 to December 31, 1928, both inclusive.

The judges who will select the winning essays are "Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University; Octavus Roy Cohen, famous short story writer; Dr. John J. Tigert, U. S. Commissioner of Education; Dr. Ernest L. Crandall, Director of Visual Education, New York City, and Dr. Thomas Finnigan, Chairman of Visual Education of the National Education Association. The essay contest has had the whole-hearted support of boards of education, high school principals, and teachers, and parents and teachers associations, as well as of libraries, book stores and guilds, and other civic organizations.

The awards will consist of a first Award of $1000, two awards of $750 each, and thirteen awards of $500 each. Part of the award money was contributed by Jean Sapene, editor of the big French daily paper, Le Matin.

Woodhull at N. C. Convention Today

(Continued from page 1)

Among those who are attending the convention will be M. A. Lightman, president of the Arkansas and Tri-State Exhibitors Association, who has committed his organizations to the M.P.T.O.A.; Julian Brylawski of Washington and R. F. Woodhull.

Hone N. W. Group to Meet on December 18

(Continued from page 1)

tion to the Allied Amusements of the Pacific Northwest.

Members of the Idaho Unit will probably attend this convention as it has been decided that Idaho will amalgamate with the Washington group. A banquet in the evening will wind up the convention.

Rayart Pictures Corporation, in conjunction with Filmtone, announces that production has now been completed of the five talking and singing novelty acts which, together with the feature film, "Should a Girl Marry?" Rayart's first dialogue picture, make up the program of an entire evening's entertainment, now being booked throughout the country as a roadshow attraction.

The five acts consist of "The Overture of 1812," by the Filmtone Harmonists; Val and Ernie Stanton. "The Two English Boys From America," "The Dancing Colleens" with the Erin Tap Dancers, "At the Night Club" with Shaw's Hawaiians, and the Radio Franks, singing popular songs. All these artists have achieved wide popularity over the radio or in vaudeville.

Roadshow companies will start touring the country within the next two weeks, each carrying a Filmtone Reproducing Machine and the necessary technical staff to install the equipment and conduct the performance. This presentation is especially designed for theatres which are not wired for sound films, as the Filmtone eliminates this necessity.

2 PATHE PHOTOPHONE SCORINGS STARTED

The recording of the musical synchronization of two Pathe features—"The Spleen" and "Sal of Singapore," was started this week at Sound Studios in New York, under the supervision of Josiah Zuro. Dialogue sequences for both productions were made at the Pathe Studios in Culver City.

No DeForest Control Of Jenkins Television

(Continued from page 1)

practical reception in every home within a short time.

The DeForest company has a deal on with the Jenkins company to manufacture Television receiving sets.

Jenkins radio movies may also be worked out, according to Biddle, but instead of pictures being projected on a screen, they are projected line by line into an electric eye or photo-electric cell, the impressions of which are amplified and impressed on the propagated radio wave.

Allied—M.P.T.O.A. Struggle Keener

(Continued from page 1)

ern territory today of Al Steffes. Theodore L. Hays, Colonel Cole and others for a stumping tour will intensify the lining up of more state units one way or the other.

New Jersey, Maryland and California are considered in the bag by the Steffes group and Ohio may also follow the same way.

The National organization is not lying quiescent either and R. F. Woodhull is doing yeoman service with fair success in keeping many state units in line. He will attend the opening of the North Carolina convention today in Charlotte.

J. Eagels Signs $125,000 P-F-L Contract

Will Receive $60,000 for Second Paramount Prod.
$65,000 for 3rd

As reported exclusively in the Daily Review some weeks ago, Paramount Famous-Lasky Corporation has lost no time in signing Jeanne Eagels to a new contract as a result of her work in "The Letter" which will be seen on Broadway soon.

Miss Eagels, who is under contract to Sam H. Harris, the theatrical producer, and the new deal whereby she will make two more productions for Paramount was made through him, on the stipulation that she would appear in a Harris play next September.

For the first production, which will be started next March at the Astoria studio, Miss Eagels is to receive the flat sum of $60,000 and the second which will finish before rehearsals for the legitimate play start, she is to get $65,000. O Equity, O Mores!

POLA NEGRI FORMS PROD. SYNDICATE

PARIS—Pola Negri announces the formation of a European syndicate, the active control of which will be in the hands of Charles Jourjon and Edwin Miles Fadman, to whom the star is now under contract.

It is understood that one of the large American distributing corporations, as well as an international bank, are interested in the proposed combine.

Fadman, well-known in American as well as Continental picture and theatrical circles, for many years, recently sold, with his associates, to Ganna Walska, the three huge theatres des Champs-Élysées in Paris.

As a result of the new arrangement, Mr. Fadman will also act as personal manager for Pola Negri, and is arriving in New York on the "Berengaria" on December 11th to confer with Prince Mdivani, the star's husband.

Fox Comedians Start

Clark and McCullough have started work on their next Fox Movietone comedy to follow "The Diplomats." The new two-reel talker is called "In Holland" and is being directed by Norman Taurog, who produced their preceding vehicle. In the supporting cast are Marjorie Beebe, George Bickel and James Marcus.

"San Luis Rey" Cast

The cast of "The Bridge of San Luis Rey", Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's picturization of Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize Novel, has been practically completed with the addition of Don Alvarado and Duncan Rinaldo to enact the parts of the twin brothers Manuel and Estaban. Other principals include Lily Damita as Camila, Raquel Torres as Pepita, Ernest Torrence as Uncle Pio and Emily Fitzroy as the Marquesa. Charles Brabin is directing.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Anna Q. Nilsson has completed her first picture since breaking her hip, for FBO, "Blockade" and saw a projection room screening of it.

Charles Delaney will have the lead in Columbia's production of "The Faker." Phil Rosen will direct.

Hugh Allan and Douglas Gilmore will split masculine leads in "Object, Alimony," opposite Lois Wilson.

Dorothy Sebastian's two starring pictures for Tiffany-Stahl are both in the process of being edited and titled by Frederic and Fanny Hatton.

Belle Bennett, Alma Bennett and Billy Bennett all have parts in "Reputation." None of them are related.

Fay Wray and Gary Cooper will next be seen in "Through the Night", which will be a talkie, for Paramount.

Benjamin Christiansen has completed the filming of First National's "Seven Footprints to Satan."

Martin Justice has finished the Tiffany-Stahl Color Symphony, "The Toy Shop."

Richard Barthelmess will make "Diversion" as his first picture under his new contract. It will be an all dialogue as will be all his pictures for the coming year.

James Flood will direct Ricardo Cortez in "Life" for Tiffany-Stahl.

Warner Klinger has been given a part in Murnau's new picture, "Our Daily Bread," starring Charles Farrell and Mary Duncan.

Pauline Frederick will leave the movies again to play on the New York stage in "The Scarlet Woman."

Bert Lytell has also decided to try the "legit" again in a play called "Brothers."

False Colors" the title of George O'Brien's new picture has been changed to "True Heaven."

Madge Bellamy's next picture has been renamed "Fugitives." William Beaudine is directing.

Parlo Going Home

Dita Parlo, the German star that Paramount brought to this country several months ago, is going back to Germany without having made a picture. The talkies are to blame for this, as Miss Parlo has such a decided accent that it was impossible to use her.

Reed Resigns

Luther Reed, who recently completed his work on "Headlines," a newspaper story for Fox, asked Winnie Sheehan for his release as production supervisor and got it. It seems that this picture, Reed's first for Fox, did not satisfy Mr. Sheehan.

RICHMAN CALLS OFF 'SAY IT WITH MUSIC'

Harry Richman's singing film, "Say It With Music," will be made in Hollywood, not in New York, and it will be produced after the current stage run in New York of "George White's Scandals," in February or March.

It is at the request of Richman and White that production is postponed when Richman's time will not be so fully occupied.

John W. Considine, Jr., production executive at the United Artists Studio in Hollywood, came to New York with director Alan Crosland and scenarist C. Gardner Sullivan to arrange filming of this Irving Berlin original story. They return west Wednesday. En route, Considine will stop off at Chicago for the national sales convention of United Artists.

KENTON DIRECTING COL'S 'TRIAL MARRIAGE'

"Trial Marriage," based on Elizabeth Alexander's famous Saturday Evening Post serial of the same name, is the next Columbia special to go into immediate production. Columbia plans to make this one of the most pretentious offerings of the year.

Erle C. Kenton, well known for his sophisticated handling of marital problems, will handle the megaphone on "Trial Marriage." Sonya Levien, who recently completed the adaptation of "The Younger Generation," another Columbia special, will write the screen version.

Norman Kerry, one of the screen's most prominent stars has been signed for the leading masculine role. He will share the featured roles with Sally Eilers.

King Working on Big Secret War Scenes

Although the production has reached the half-way mark, Henry King still has the most important sequences of his current effort, "She Goes to War!" to make.

With the secret closely guarded by production managers, the director is preparing to film certain phases of the world war, which have never before been brought to the screen, it is reported.

Eleanor Boardman has the title role with John Holland, Al St. John, Alma Rubens and a score of other screen notables augmenting the cast.

It is Inspiration Pictures current picture, produced in association with Victor & Edward Halperin for United Artists.

Brenon Here

Herbert Brenon, who is to direct Fannie Hurst's "Lummox" for United Artists arrived in town today to confer with J. W. Considine and Fannie Hurst on the last details before start of production.

GOSSIP OF LONDON

By LIONEL BURTON

(Special to Exhibitors Daily Review)

In England the novel and stage fame of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" has continued hardly less effulgent than in the land of that classic's birth. Revivals of the stage version have always been welcomed by the masses, and now, as the feature of one of the first all sound and talkie program to be shown outside the United States, Mrs. Stowe's literary sensation of the Civil War period is hailed by British exhibitors as one of the most attractive opportunities of the season.

Pre-release showings of Universal's movietone presentation of "Uncle Tom", given at Manchester and Liverpool seem fully to bear out this expectation. "S.R.O." and spontaneous applause are clearing away any possible doubt. Reports place emphasis on the fact that the use of special sound effects have added in extraordinary amount of interest to the old melodrama. The general release of the "Uncle Tom" program is scheduled for December 31.

Let it be noted that "Onlooker", in the Cinema, has made his official surrender to the newest development of the movie industry. He writes: "Those people who still hold that 'talkies' are just a passing phase are right behind the times." And then—probably for purposes of record—adds: "I have said from the very beginning that 'talkies' have come to stay."

Now let those British producers go ahead with their announced program of twelve "sound" features to be completed this coming year in two elaborate "sound" studios to be ready by March, and fear not.

"The Medical Press" feeling called upon to invade the field of motion picture criticism, declared apropos of a certain popular war picture: "A vulgar cinema and a vulgar press can do much to make a vulgar people. Whereupon the regular cinema reviewer for a London newspaper promptly returned the compliment in these words: Vulgar surgeons operating on vulgar patients for appendicitis are doing much to vulgarize a once aristocratic ailment."

Under the head of extraordinary activities at all London film headquarters, here is a "nifty" that gets over without the aid of a chart. Impressed by front page "scare heads" being used by all the trade journals about high pressure schedules in effect, a scholarly reviewer for one of them paid a visit to the offices of the Gaumont British Corporation eager to witness the spectacle of Britishers transformed into American type "go-getters." In an elegantly appointed waiting room, otherwise empty, he waited. Dead silence prevailed. He waited some more—one hour, two hours. Nothing happened. Disappointed, chagrined, seeing a row of buttons on the wall, he pushed one of them. The effect was instantaneous. Doors were flung open on all sides. Excited girls poured into the room—a mob of them. They besieged the startled visitor, demanding: "Where's the fire?"

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 134

New York, Tuesday, December 11, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Manipulators and the Films!

By ARTHUR JAMES

The stock market has been in a great turmoil for weeks. Immediately after Election Day every kind of stock began to behave as if there were no roof. But recently it has begun to appear that the cellar was what was missing. Manipulators are seldom content to let nature take its course and to permit real values to govern stock fluctuations. Many devices are used in "the street" to influence the price trend—one of the favorite ones is Dame Rumor. And the most popular rumor these days is the merger rumor. And since there have been many mergers and rumors and mergers in the Motion Picture business of recent months, it has been found to be pretty effective propaganda.

If you would stop to catalog the number of mergers that have been pending in this business but have never come to pass you might be surprised. It is our opinion that too much attention is paid to these idle rumors by the trade press of the business. Of course, they make good reading and since a merger may pend for ever without coming to pass, it is not even necessary to deny these irresponsible statements. Therefore the printing of them is easier than taking the trouble of digging up real and worthwhile news.

This sort of thing is most disquieting to the equilibrium of people engaged in trying to make their organizations make money. Mergers mean fewer jobs and when minor executives and hired help are worrying about their own heads, those heads become foggy and incapable of best efforts for the job in hand.

The salvation of the motion picture industry lies in one direction and that is so simple that it is axiomatic. The company in this business that makes the best return on its invested capital in a given period is the company that consistently turns out the largest number of good pictures. Everything else has been tried but no satisfactory way to get away from this fact has yet been discovered.

FOX MAY ANNEX 100 "U" THEATRES

$2,000,000 Additional Tax Income Seen Through New Acquisition

MINNEAPOLIS—Indications grow stronger that some hundred theatres in the Universal Chain in this section of the country will be sold to Fox Theatres as soon as the disposition of a number of undesirable houses are straightened out.

In the key spots, the acquisition of these theatres will give Fox a clear theatre operating field in strong competitive territories, or open new sales angles in towns formerly closed by Fox.

Rumors are again cropping up that Fox will invade the Minnesota territory, despite the deal for representation made with F & R, but this

(Continued on Page 2)

FEDERAL TRADE COM. BLOCKED IN 8 CASES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—The Federal Trade Commission in its annual report to Congress places emphasis on the extent to which it is hampered by court rulings in enforcing its orders, particularly those directed against unfair methods of competition. The report cites the Second Circuit Court at New York as holding that the court will first determine whether such an order is valid. The Seventh Circuit at Chicago has held that the Commission must prove that its order has been violated before the court will consider the val-

(Continued on Page 2)

AMPA Meeting Tonight

Don Haucock, Chairman of the A.M.P.A. Hollywood Masque Ball Committee, has called an important meeting of the executive committee and chairmen of all sub-committees to be held this evening at the Paramount Hotel.

Critics Rave Over "U" "Magic Clock"

European critics are raving over the greatest short subject produced abroad this year. It is "The Magic Clock" a Universal De France Production, produced by Louis Nalpas, and is a Christmas holiday film of wistful charm and delightful fantasy, reminiscent of Barrie's "Peter Pan."

SEIDER WOULD KEEP NAT. ORGANIZATION INTACT

Believes Reconstruction Should Come From Within--New Exhibitor Group Unnecessary

Steffes Asks for N. J. Hearing This Week Before Administrative Board

Al Steffes, leader of the Allied group has petitioned Joseph M. Seider, who returned from Europe last Friday, to get the Board of Directors of the New Jersey Theatre Owners together this week, in order to give Steffes a chance to address them, regarding to a tie-up with the Allied States organization.

Seider doubts the possibility of being able to call the directors together in time to accommodate Steffes, but is willing to have his Administrative Board listen to the Steffes proposition.

Regarding the Eastern stumping tour of Steffes, Richey, Cole and others, they seem to be only four important states which might be swung to one side or the other by these speakers, and they are Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maryland and New Jersey. The rest of the states are in more or less of a disorganized state or under the thumb of a few men who represent scatter-

(Continued on page 7)

STEFFES TO LINE UP MARYLAND FRIDAY

Al Steffes and Theodore Hays of the Allied States Association announced yesterday in N. Y. that the organization will attempt to affiliate Maryland as a member on Friday, when they invade the state.

Steffes further intimated that he

(Continued on page 7)

125 TO ATTEND U.A. CONVENTION FRIDAY

At the United Artists national sales convention in Chicago, December 14th and 15th, home office executives, district sales managers, branch managers and salesmen to the number of 125 will be present. Every exchange in the country will be represented at this first national sales convention in the company's ten years of operation.

Al Lichtman, Cresson E. Smith,

(Continued on Page 2)

F. N.—Warner Fireworks Expected Today

An extensive meeting of Warner and First National executives occurred yesterday at the First National headquarters, with all leaders approached keeping mum as to details.

Changes in operating personnel and new policies will be announced today.

BAR 'HIT OF THE SHOW' --'DANCING DAUGHTERS'

LYNN, Mass.—The City of Lynn has banned two pictures on the ground that the censors found them "objectionable." These pictures were "Hit of the Show" FBO production and M-G-M's "Our Dancing Daughters."

The censorship system in this city was abolished three years ago under agreement with the theatre managers which agreement Mayor Bauer contends has not been kept.

The discriminatory action was a personal action by the Mayor.

British Filmcraft In U. S.—Ger. Tie-up

By Sam Harris "Today's Cinema"

LONDON — Negotiations are well advanced and will be concluded shortly for the amalgamation of British Filmcraft Productions, Ltd., which was formed a year ago with a capital of $750,000 with important American and German film interests.

Capt. George Banfield is film director and founder of the original British Filmcraft, Ltd.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; James Cron, Advertising Manager; Herman J. Schierer, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

Irv Wolfson, King Busy Bee of the Film Center project is so busy roping the new tenants, he hasn't any time to dash off that effective advertising copy he writes so well . . . and this is no solicitation . . . Heard that marvelous Bell-O-Phone disc apparatus in the Fifth Avenue Playhouse last week and was enchanted by the Blue Danube score . . . Melvin Hirsh of Aywon in New York is pushing this one . . . W. E. Raynor, Pathe executive is out of the hospitable and up and active again . . . Joseph M. Seider, President of the N. J. Theatre Owners returned to town last Friday from an 11-week trip abroad, where he visited Germany, Switzerland, Italy and Belgium . . . Sol Raives, T.O.C.C. president, has just recovered from a slight illness and is peeking into the office a few minutes each day now . . . Laurence Irving, artist and grandson of Sir Henry Irving, has completed the art work for Fairbanks' "The Iron Mask" and sails this Saturday for England . . . W. J. Cammer, manager for Educational at Oklahoma City was severely injured in an auto accident. He is expected to recover . . . Adolph Osso, Paramount French representative and M. Aubert of the Chambre Syndicale has returned to France from their trip to the U. S. and Aubert is reported as saying, he thought the talkies were wonderful . . . W. B. Frank, Eastern representative of Mack Sennett has forgotten all about his broken toe, in the joy of reading congratulatory telegrams from all over the country on "The Lion's Roar" Preview . . . Sigmund Moos, manager of the leasing department at Universal City is in New York on a ten-day visit . . . Wouldn't it be funny if Sigmund were an Elk? . . . Pat Powers is working longer per day than ever before in his whole career, in an effort to get "White Lilacs" out on Broadway on his Cinephone apparatus . . . U. A. executives in the home office are dolling up for that trip

Federal Trade Com. Blocked in 8 Cases

(Continued from page 1)

idity of the Commission's finding.

Eight important investigations are pending before the commission — power and gas utilities, resale price maintenance, open price associations, lumber trade associations, price bases, du Pont investments, Chain Stores and blue sky securities. Efforts to compel production of testimony have produced long drawn-out procedure. Owing to the court rulings referred to measures taken to secure obedience to cease and desist orders are "cumbersome, tedious and expensive."

Fox May Annex 100 "U" Theatres

(Continued from page 1)

last is not likely, as long as Fox pictures continue to get the showing they deserve.

Metzger Policy

Louis B. Metzger, General Manager of Universal, is reported to be in favor of disposing of part of the Mid-West chain to Fox and Midwesco Theatres which Fox controls.

Metzger, according to some, has always been opposed to the former policy of buying and operating the company's own theatres. The sale of 100 houses at this time will leave Universal with about 180 theatres. Increased Fox revenues through the new acquisitions are estimated will run over $2,000,000 annually.

125 to Attend U. A. Convention Friday

(Continued from page 1)

Victor M. Shapiro, Paul N. Lazarus, Emil Jensen, Carroll Trowbridge and Henry Ginsberg will go to Chicago from the home office in New York. Paul Burger, now in the field, also will report to Chicago for the convention.

District Managers L. J. Schleifer, Phil Dunas, Harry Gold, William Rosenthal, Arthur Kane, David Bershon and Haskell Masters will be present.

Branch managers who will be at the convention are H. E. Lotz, J. B. Reilly, Charles Stern, Moe Streimer, Jack Von Tilzer, M. J. Garrity, W. G. Carmichael, C. E. Peppiatt, Jack Bower, Joseph Levy, J. Abrose, J. D. Goldhar, Bert M. Stearn, A. H. Fischer, Oscar Kuschner, C. C. Wallace, Saul Resnick, Harry Stern, Doak Roberts, William E. Truog, Hoyt G. Morrow, Mannie Gottlieb, Guy Gunderson, Frederic Gage, Russell Egner, D. J. McNeerney, Joseph Myers, A. J. Jeffery, S. Jacobs, S. Glazer, M. C. Hill and Joseph Cantor.

Because two big topics up for discussion are talking pictures and volume distribution, Al Lichtman has summoned salesmen from all parts of the United States and Canada to this convention.

to the Windy City on Wednesday . . . Abe Waxman has added a reception room to his private office . . . We understand there is no truth in the rumor that Wilson is about to effect a merger of Arrow Pictures and Associated Exhibitors.

First National "Barker" Premiere Display Stuns W. C. Boulevardiers

Miller Boys, Frank Murphy And Walter Strohm Put on Gala Show At Carthay Circle

HOLLYWOOD—Tossing colors and far flung rainbow lights against a moving background of stream clouds and the white and jewelled Carthay Circle theater tower, made the premier showing of "The Barker", First National's talking feature starring Milton Sills, a spectacle that out rivalled anything the motion picture capital had ever seen.

The long approaches to the theater were colorful in another way, too. Carnival settings, the tinselled and fascinating scenes of the story itself, were laid out along the streets and walks. Tents and side show fronts, barker stands and freak concessions added to the gayety of the atmosphere, altogether a proper setting for the carnival picture.

Colorful Setting

Hours before the announced show time the streets in the whole Carthay Center district were filled with people anxious to have an advantageous view of the electrical display and of the motion picture stars and executives as they arrived.

The promenade to the theater doors was a blaze of white light into which these celebrities stepped as they came from their cars, paused before the microphone and cameras on the insistence of the master of ceremonies and then moved on toward the theater.

Along the parkway that leads directly toward the facade of the theater were great steam lines shooting white clouds into the air, clouds that changed to many colors as the lights played on the tumbling banks of vapor. Dozens of batteries of studio lights, search lights, whirling spots, revolving kaleidoscopes and all the brilliance and beauty of the spectrum were loosed at once against the steam and the blustering theater walls.

All Turn Out

The motion picture world turned out almost to a person. The parade of beautiful women and popular men of the screen as well as of those who are powerful in the executive capacities of the industry, was almost unbroken for an hour. First National stars, who made this occasion a particular festivity, opening as it did, that company's entry into the production of talking pictures were nearly all included in the lists of distinguished patrons.

Colleen Moore

Colleen Moore, whose arrival was the signal for a general ovation, Richard Barthelmess, master of ceremonies on the stage, Milton Sills, whose special night it was as star of the picture, Dorothy Mackaill and Betty Compson, both with leading roles, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., with an important role in the picture, Jack Mulhall, Alice White, Doris Dawson, Loretta Young, Katherine McGuire, Ben Bard and Grant Withers, were some of those connected with First National pictures who were present.

A whole galaxy of stars from other studios appeared for the occasion, so many it was impossible to note or announce them all, but including Al Jolson and his bride, Conrad Nagle, Bebe Daniels, Doris Kenyon, Claire Windsor, Lila Lee, Phyllis Haver, Ruth Roland, Marie Prevost, Ruth Elder, Anita Stewart, Joan Crawford, Gus Edwards, Johnny Farrell, Ben Lyon, Hoot Gibson, Leatrice Joy, Julia Faye, Agnes Ayres, Louise Dresser, Franklin Pangborn and scores of others no less prominent.

Other Executives

Executives who were noted included H. B. Franklin, Samuel Goldwyn, Louis B. Mayer, Al Rockett, Darryl Zannick, Jack Warner.

The opening of "The Barker" for its Los Angeles premier was in charge of Fred Miller and Roy Miller for the Carthay Circle theater and of the publicity department of First National studios, George Landy, director.

The electrical effects were arranged by Frank Murphy and Walter Strohm, heads of the electrical departments of Warner Brothers studios and First National studios, respectively.

AT A SACRIFICE

Full equipment for small house.
650 leather uph. chairs.
2 projectors.
12 large lobby frames.
1 large ticket booth.

Can be examined by appointment,
by—

Mr. I. Goldstein

691 Elizabeth Ave. Newark, N. J.

Classified Advertisement

Advertisements in this section, 5 cents per word. Cash must be sent with order. No charge for Box Number line. Minimum order, $1. 10% discount 12 issues or more.

FOR SALE

520 CHAIRS, CASH BOOTH, OUTSIDE wall frames and lobby frames. Box 50. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

WHETHER YOU WANT TO HIRE some one or be hired; buy or sell a theatre; trade or sell equipment, or do almost anything else in the motion picture business, an ad in this department will get you results. If you want us to word the ad for you, the services of our advertising experts are at your call. Simply tell us what you want to do, and how many words you want used. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

SCREEN TESTS

Incandescent Lighting
Local No. 644 Cameramen
Complete Equipment
Studios for Rent

BROWNING STUDIOS

110 West 40th St. N. Y. C.
PENN 1258

One Year Ago

ON December third, 1927, the first regular weekly issue of FOX MOVIE TONEWS was released. The success of this revolutionary talking news-reel was instantaneous. It rapidly became such an important ticket-selling feature that a second weekly issue was necessary. With Movietone reaching out to new countries to record in sound and action the news of the world, material for two weekly issues increased in quality as well as quantity. Throughout the first year of its operation, Fox Movietone news broke all records for exclusive and speedy newsreel service.

TODAY

FIFTY recording trucks now in operation are covering the world to supply live news for the three separate and complete issues now being released weekly. Fox Movietone news today is serving every important theatre circuit in the United States and Canada:

LOEW - FOX - SAENGER - LIBSON - ED FAY - WEST COAST - SKOURAS
(See Page 2)

PUBLIX - SPARKS - NATHANSON - MIDWESCO - INTERSTATE - COMERFORD
(See Page 3)

STANLEY - FINKLESTEIN & RUBEN - UNITED ARTISTS - FRED J. DOLLE
(See Page 4)

TOMORROW

BETWEEN now and September first, 1929, the service will be increased until a weekly schedule of daily issues is maintained — one complete talking newsreel every day. Beginning February second, there will be four issues weekly, which will be increased to five issues weekly by April sixth. Twenty-five more recording trucks and crews will be placed in operation between now and April first of next year.

F It Speaks for Itself
MOVIE TONEWS
X 3 Times Every Week

The Choice of the Leading

The following LOEW theatres are now playing FOX talking newsreels

GREATER NEW YORK THEATRES

State	Bedford	Yonkers	Elsmere	Lexington	Victory
Lincoln	Gates	Hillside	New York 42nd St.	Sheridan	Burnside
Orpheum	Bay Ridge	Willard	Circle	Broadway	Astoria
Victoria	Oriental	Corona	Greeley	Brevoort	New Rochelle
Delancey	46th Street	Flushing	86th Street	Alpine	Mt. Vernon
Commodore	Boulevard	Avenue B	7th Avenue	Boro Park	Kameo
Metropolitan	Fairmont	Inwood	116th Street	Coney Island	Melba
Palace	National	167th Street	Rio	Burland	Woodside
Premier	Grand	Freeman	83rd Street	Spooner	Warwick

and the State in Newark, N. J.

and the following LOEW theatres throughout the country

TOWN	STATE	THEATRE	TOWN	STATE	THEATRE
Atlanta .	Georgia	Capitol	Kansas City .	Missouri	Loew's Midland
Nashville	Tennessee	Loew's Vendome	Memphis . .	Tennessee	{ Loew's State Loew's Palace
Boston .	Massachusetts	Loew's State	New Orleans .	Louisiana	Loew's State
Providence	Rhode Island	Loew's State	Harrisburg .	Pennsylvania	Loew's Regent
Syracuse . .	New York	Loew's State	Reading . . .	Pennsylvania	Loew's Reading
Columbus . .	Ohio	{ Loew's Broad Loew's Ohio	Pittsburgh . .	Pennsylvania	{ Loew's Aldine Loew's Penn — United Artists
Dayton . . .	Ohio	Loew's Theatre	St. Louis . . .	Missouri	Loew's State
Canton . . .	Ohio	Loew's Theatre	Washington .	Dist. of Columbia {	Loew's Columbia Loew's Palace
Cleveland . .	Ohio	{ Allen Loew's State	Baltimore . .	Maryland	{ Loew's Parkway Loew's Century Loew's Stanley
Houston . . .	Texas	Loew's State	Norfolk . . .	Virginia	Loew's Norva
Indianapolis .	Indiana	Loew's Palace	Richmond . .	Virginia	{ Loew's Colonial Loew's Theatre
Louisville . .	Kentucky	Loew's Theatre

NOW Three separate and complete

Circuits is Fox MOVIEONEWS

These PUBLIX theatres are now playing FOX talking newsreels

TOWN	STATE	THEATRE
Newburgh . . .	New York	Broadway
Poughkeepsie . . .	New York	Stratford
Atlanta	Georgia	Rialto
Augusta	Georgia	Modjeska
Birmingham . . .	Alabama	Strand
Chattanooga . . .	Tennessee	Tivoli
Daytona Beach . . .	Florida	Florida
Ft. Lauderdale . . .	Florida	Sunset

Knoxville . . .	Tennessee	Majestic
		Tennessee
		Lytic
		Queen
		Strand
		Riviera

Macon	Georgia	Rialto
Miami	Florida	Hippodrome
Montgomery . . .	Alabama	Strand
Ocala	Florida	Dixie
St. Petersburg . . .	Florida	Phiel
Tampa	Florida	Victory
Sanford	Florida	Milane
Tuscaloosa	Alabama	Bama
Anniston	Alabama	Ritz
Columbus	Georgia	Grand
Allston	Massachusetts	Allston
Bangor	Maine	Opera House
Boston	Massachusetts	Wash. St. Olympia
Boston	Massachusetts	Fenway
Boston	Massachusetts	Scolley Square
Brockton	Massachusetts	Strand
Cambridge	Massachusetts	Central Square
Chelsea	Massachusetts	Olympia
Dorchester	Massachusetts	Strand
Dorchester	Massachusetts	Field's Corner
Haverhill	Massachusetts	Colonial
Lynn	Massachusetts	Olympia
New Bedford	Massachusetts	Olympia
Newport	Rhode Island	Strand
Pawtucket	Rhode Island	Strand
Pittsfield	Massachusetts	Capitol
Salem	Massachusetts	Salem
Woonsocket	Rhode Island	Stadium

TOWN	STATE	THEATRE
Buffalo	New York	Shea's Hippodrome
Buffalo	New York	Kensington
Buffalo	New York	Bailey
Asheville	North Carolina	Imperial
Charlotte	North Carolina	Imperial
Columbia	South Carolina	Ritz-Imperial
Greenville	South Carolina	Carolina
Greensboro	North Carolina	Carolina-National
Johnson City	Tennessee	Majestic
Spartanburg	South Carolina	Montgomery
Chicago	Illinois	McVickers
South Bend	Indiana	Colfax
Austin	Texas	Queen
Dallas	Texas	Melba
Ft. Worth	Texas	Palace
Galveston	Texas	Queen
Houston	Texas	Kirby
San Antonio	Texas	Texan
Colo. Springs	Colorado	Rialto
Denver	Colorado	Rialto
Greeley	Colorado	Sterling
Pueblo	Colorado	Colorado
Cedar Rapids	Iowa	Capitol
Des Moines	Iowa	Des Moines
Rock Island	Illinois	Ft. Armstrong
Waterloo	Iowa	Riviera
Indianapolis	Indiana	Indiana

		Skouras
Kansas City	Missouri	Newman
St. Joseph	Missouri	Missouri
Los Angeles	California	Rialto
Minneapolis	Minnesota	State
St. Paul	Minnesota	Capitol
Yonkers	New York	Strand
Chickasha	Oklahoma	Rialto
Oklahoma City	Oklahoma	Capitol
Enid	Oklahoma	Criterion
Ft. Smith	Arkansas	Joie
Omaha	Nebraska	Riviera
Sioux City	Iowa	Capitol
Lincoln	Nebraska	Lincoln
St. Louis	Missouri	Missouri

talking newsreels weekly from FOX

— and more than that!

These Theatres in the STANLEY Circuit Show FOX MOVIE TONEWS:

TOWN	STATE	THEATRE	TOWN	STATE	THEATRE
Albany . . .	New York	Strand	Philadelphia .	Pennsylvania	Benn
Troy	New York	Troy	Philadelphia .	Pennsylvania	Colonial
Utica	New York	Stanley	Philadelphia .	Pennsylvania	Cross Keys
Bayonne . . .	New Jersey	De Witt	Philadelphia .	Pennsylvania	Earle
Brooklyn . . .	New York	Strand	Philadelphia .	Pennsylvania	Felton
Hackensack . .	New Jersey	Oritani	Philadelphia .	Pennsylvania	{ Kent Iris Harrowgate
Jersey City . .	New Jersey	Stanley	Philadelphia .	Pennsylvania	Karlton-Stanton
Newark	New Jersey	Mosque	Philadelphia .	Pennsylvania	Mastbaum-Stanley
New York . . .	New York	Strand	Philadelphia .	Pennsylvania	Ogonty
Passaic	New Jersey	Capitol	Philadelphia .	Pennsylvania	Poplar
Paterson	New Jersey	Fabian	Philadelphia .	Pennsylvania	Strand
Ardmore	Pennsylvania	Ardmore	Reading	Pennsylvania	Capitol
Atlantic City .	New Jersey	Stanley	Wilmington . .	Delaware	{ Aldine Arcadia Queen
Camden	New Jersey	{ Towers Grand Stanley	East Liberty . .	Pennsylvania	Regent
Chester	Pennsylvania	Stanley	Erie	Pennsylvania	Strand
Lancaster . . .	Pennsylvania	{ Grand Hamilton Capitol	Pittsburgh . . .	Pennsylvania	Stanley
Philadelphia . .	Pennsylvania	Belmont	Frederick	Maryland	Tivoli
			Martinsburg . .	West Virginia	Apollo
			Washington . . .	District of Columbia	Tivoli

ALL the leading showmen can't be wrong
—and they all play the leading newsreel—

F It Speaks for Itself
MOVIE TONEWS
X 3 Times Every Week

T-S EUROPEAN EXPANSION GETS UNDER WAY

F.N. Gets Ogden in Denver As New First-Run Outlet

WARNERS COMPLETE 20 FOR RELEASE

At the end of the most active schedule in the Warner history, the company has succeeded in assembling 20 productions for distribution during the Winter, Spring and Summer.

The last scenes have been shot on "Alimony Annie" and "From Headquarters," and camera work on the entire program for the current year is finished.

Three all-talking pictures are among the twenty completed films. They are "Conquest," "Stark-Mad" and "Queen of the Night Clubs" starring Texas Guinan.

Jack Warner is laying out the new schedule for 1929-30, which will be announced within a few weeks.

NEW NON-FLAM STOCK INVENTED IN ENG.

LONDON—A non-flam stock, involving a new photographic principle has been invented by W. Robins, who claims it to be as cheap as ordinary stock.

The new non-flam is supposed to be unscratchable, untearable and without a gelatine coating which means that the photographic image cannot be removed or washed out.

Reed Replaces Gilpin

George Reed, negro actor, will take the leading role hitherto assigned to Charles Gilpin in the All-colored Fox talking picture, "Hearts in Dixie." Gilpin recently left Broadway to make his Hollywood debut in the talkers.

'INTERFERENCE' DOING CAPACITY AT CRITERION

"Interference", Paramount's first all-talking picture, has entered its fourth week at the Criterion Theatre with exceptionally heavy business reported.

Its grosses for the first three weeks have bettered even the remarkable figures compiled in the early stages of the run of its predecessor "Wings". Every seat has been sold for each show of "Interference" to date and the removal of the Magnascope employed for thrilling effects in "Wings" has enabled the theatre management to replace a number of side seats which were not sold during the "Wings" engagement.

Books 9 Consecutive Pictures in Former Second-run Theatre

First National Pictures has a new first run home in Denver, the Ogden Theatre which has hitherto been a second run, neighborhood house, near the downtown section. With the change in ownership and policy of the Colorado Theatre, which had played First National product in first runs in Denver since the organization of the company, it was necessary for First National to find a new first run theatre.

The Ogden had been a popular second run house, easily accessible, playing pictures for two and three lays. J. H. Ashby, manager of First National's Denver exchange sold H. A. Goodridge, owner and manager of the Ogden, the idea of converting his theatre in a first run, sound picture house. With the aid of Stanley W. Hatch, Western sales manager for the company, Mr. Ashby put the deal through and a contract was closed with Mr. Goodridge for nine First National pictures for consecutive playing in the Ogden, opening on January 1, 1929 with Colleen Moore's "Synthetic Sin."

Baxter Signed

Warner Baxter, who was signed up a long term by Winfield Sheehan, vice-president and general manager of Fox Film Corporation, on the strength of the young leading man's showing as the bandit in "In Old Arizona", is to play the male lead in "Through Different Eyes," from Milton Herbert Gropper's play, as his first assignment under the new contract.

Carol-Stuart Cast

Nick Stuart and Sue Carol, who have been seen together socially a great deal during the past year, are at last to play the first picture together. They are to appear under the direction of Lew Seiler in "Girls Gone Wild," a story written by Bertram Millhauser.

Two Veteran Directors Appear in "True Heaven"

Two veteran directors credited with over 100 productions each, are now playing character roles in "True Heaven," Fox Film co-featuring George O'Brien and Lois Moran. They are Phillips Smalley, remembered for his directorial association with Lois Weber, and Oscar Apfel, who wielded the megaphone on the first feature length production in Hollywood, "The Squaw Man," with Cecil B. DeMille as his assistant.

Oklahoma Lobby

OKLA. CITY—A strong lobby committee was appointed at the Oklahoma M.P.T.O. Convention last week, to combat any anti-theatrical legislation that may be offered in the coming session of the Oklahoma Legislature.

M. P. CLUB TO GIVE LICHTMAN DINNER

Al Lichtman, president of the Motion Picture Club and General Sales Manager of United Artists will be signally honored by the motion picture club when he is given a testimonial dinner next Monday night, December 17th, after his return from Chicago and the big United Artists sales convention.

The dinner will be formal and will be a tribute to the efforts of Lichtman in putting over the club in a high-class way. A bill of Broadway talent will be provided and reservations are now being made.

Sonora—Bristolphone Goes on Air Over WPCB

Mike Simmons, Sonora-Bristolphone publicist, who for two years has given Movie Lectures over radio station WPCB, has contracted for a "Sonora-Bristolphone hour" over WGBS every Wednesday.

The first of the series starts December 12th, with Ernest Maas, production supervisor, and Fredericka Sagor, scenarist, contributing a triologue on "Sound in the Movies."

Steffes to Line Up Maryland Friday

(Continued from page 1)

and Hays while here would come to terms with the I.A.T.S.E. for the stage hands of the theatres in their territories. Also that Rltter, Ritchie, Cole and several other Allied leaders would be in town tomorrow for a conference on the Eastern stumping tour.

Seider Would Keep Nat. Organization Intact

(Continued from page 1)

ed members.

Seider yesterday commented on the action of the N. J. group which issued a statement while Joe was in Europe, maintaining their own independence and non-affiliation with any group. Seider's personal view of this action is that the N. J. group wished to go on record as indicating that the National organization did not represent the independent theatre owner and could not speak for him, and also if member states in the M.P.T.O.A. are dissatisfied with policies or leaders there ought to be a change and revision from within, through a truly representative and honest election of officers and directors rather than an effort from without to start new organizations.

French and English Producing-Distributing Cos. Formed

BELGIUM TO FOLLOW

'DAILY' SCOOPS FIELD

Tiffany-Stahl has formed a British company under the name of Tiffany Productions, Ltd., and also a French corporation known as Societe des Films Tiffany. The corporations were formed by Grant L. Cook, Secretary and Treasurer of the company, on his recent visit to Europe where he worked out the plans and details for the formation of the two companies, thereby placing Tiffany-Stahl on the same footing, both on the British Isles and on the Continent, with the other large producing and distributing organizations. This news was exclusively reported in the Daily Review ten days ago.

The company formed in England is to distribute all the American made Tiffany-Stahl productions and the British pictures made by the same company. The British company, under the managing directorship of Mr. C. F. Bernhard, will produce British pictures, the exact number to be produced as yet uncertain. The pictures made in Great Britain will be distributed throughout England, the Continent and the United States.

The Tiffany exchanges in England will be located in London, Liverpool, Leeds, Cardiff, Manchester, Glasgow, Newcastle-on-Tyne, Birmingham and Sheffield.

Mr. Cook has arranged to make Tiffany-Stahl productions.

Four British productions, the first of which will be one of the most sensational plays running in the West End; these productions are to be distributed through America and Canada by the Tiffany organization in the United States.

In forming the French company, Mr. Cook appointed J. Frank Brockliss as the administrateur de laque of the company. Associated with Mr. Brockliss is Phillip De Becker who up to the time of his coming with Tiffany's French company, held a similar position with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer on the Continent.

The French Tiffany company will be the headquarters for all the continental business of the company and a renting organization for France and Belgium is now in the process of formation.

Tom Reed Awarded "Show Boat" Titles

Tom Reed has been assigned to write the titles for Universal's million dollar production of Edna Ferber's novel, "Show Boat" which is now being edited.

Laura La Plante and Joseph Schildkrant are to be seen as Magnolia and Ravenal, respectively, in this super-production which was directed by Harry Pollard.

22 Universal Movietone Prods. Shooting

9 100% Talkies to Go in Production Shortly — Double Shift Started

HOLLYWOOD—Universal's heralded $5,000,000 talking picture program got under way at Universal City. The two new sound proof stages at the big Universal studio, were formally inaugurated under the personal supervision of Carl Laemmle, president of Universal.

Dialogue and sound scenes now are being made with Movietone for twenty-two films, of which the silent sequences are already completed.

Nine 100 per cent talkies will go into production shortly, as well as an elaborate program of short sound subjects.

Universal, Laemmle said, plans to concentrate the production staff on talking scenes alone for the next few weeks. Following this the studio will adhere to the regular schedule which calls for about seventy-five percent sound pictures and the rest silent. Silent versions will be made of all talking pictures, he said, for those theatres that have not installed sound equipment.

A double shift is being carried out on the sound stages in order to complete the program as rapidly as possible.

Three of the 100 per cent talkies will have dialogue from the stage productions from which they are adapted. These are "Broadway", "The Shannons of Broadway", and "The Climax."

Other 100 per cent talkies are "A Bargain in the Kremlin", starring Joseph Schildkraut, "The Minstrel Show", starring the noted minstrel man, Eddie Leonard; "The King of Jazz" with Paul Whiteman; "Collegiate" with the original cast of the "Collegian" series and "The Play Goes On."

Stories are now being prepared for Pat Rooney and Benny Rubin, who will each appear in a series of Movietone subjects.

Musical Director, Joseph Cherniavsky is writing musical scores and theme songs for many of the synchronized features.

BEATRICE LILLE PLAY TO BE MADE TALKIE

Charles B. Cochran announces thru the "Daily Mail," that the first English revue to be made into a talking picture will be "This Year of Grace." It is planned to make some of the scenes in this country with Beatrice Lille and Noel Coward and the rest will be filmed in England with Jessie Mathews and Sonnie Hale. Production to start the early part of next year.

"Evangeline"

Edwin Carewe has decided to make "Evangeline" after all and plans to start shooting before Christmas. Dolores Del Rio will play the title role. Alec B. Francis will be Father Felician. So far no Gabriel has been chosen. Roland Drew seemed pretty definitely signed up for that part, but Carewe has decided that he is not the right type.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Otis Harlan has been signed by Universal to play one of the hijackers in their production of "Broadway."

* * *

Joseph Henaberry and Roy Neil have been signed by Harry Cohn to direct pictures for his organization.

* * *

Bessie Love, it is rumored, will have the lead opposite William Haines in "Lord Byron of Broadway."

* * *

Julian Josephson is writing the continuity and dialogue for Al Jolson's next picture, "Mammy," Erich Von Stroheim, Jr. is playing a part in Pathe's "Square Shoulders," starring Junior Coughlan.

* * *

* * *

Marguerite Churchill has been selected by Fox to play the lead opposite Paul Muni in "Valiant." This will be an all talkie and marks Muni's first appearance in pictures.

* * *

Jack Oakie, stage comedian who recently went into pictures, has been given a new contract by Paramount.

* * *

Lola Kane, a newcomer to the screen via the stage, will play the lead in "Speakeasy." This is a Fox production featuring Paul Page.

* * *

Harry Carey, whose popularity remains undiminished, will have his latest Pathe Western, "The Border Patrol," released December 23rd.

* * *

Clive Brook has arrived in New York for a short vacation. This is the first trip East in two years when he made "The Popular Sin."

* * *

Norman Kerry is replacing Ralph Forbes as the male lead in Columbia's production of "Trial Marriage."

* * *

Esther Ralston has completed work in "The Strange Case of Lena Smith." Josef von Sternberg directed this picture.

* * *

Raymond Keane has been assigned a part in Tiffany-Stahl's picture, "Reputation."

* * *

Scott Dunlap has finished shooting on "Object, Matrimony," a Columbia production.

* * *

Irma Harrison will sing "I've Never Seen a Smile Like Yours," by Frazier and Johnson, in United Artist's "Nightstick."

* * *

Doris Dawson has had her option renewed by First National at a salary of $125 per week, for six months.

FBO SCHEDULE 100% DONE BY XMAS

The Christmas holidays will find FBD's 1928-29 program of features practically 100% completed and ready for showing. Eight special productions have been synchronized with music, sound and talking sequences. These include "The Perfect Crime", "Hit of the Show", "Gang War", "Taxi 13", "Blockade", "The Circus Kid", "Love in the Desert" and "The Jazz Age".

The second week in December finds the studio humming with activity. Four productions are in course of filming, including "The Jazz Age", with music and talking sequences, "The Red Sword", a Tom Mix production as yet untitled and "Pals of the Prairie" with Buzz Barton.

Coldeway and Baker Win New Warner Jobs

J. L. Warner, studio head of Warner Bros., made an announcement this week of two important promotions. Anthony Coldeway, formerly western scenario editor, has been given the post of Assistant Associate Executive and in this capacity will in the future act as chief aide to Darryl Francis Zanuck.

The scenario editorship left vacant by Mr. Coldeway will be filled by Graham Baker.

"Companionate Trouble"

Earl Snell and Gladys Lehman, highly rated story and scenario experts, are collaborating on an original screen story for Universal, tentatively entitled "Companionate Trouble."

The story will be used as a Reginald Denny vehicle, and follows the lines of that star's popular successes in the farce comedy field. It is said to present a new angle on the marriage agreement issue.

Miss Tovar's Debut

Lapita Tovar, the Mexican beauty who was brought to Hollywood by Fox, will make her screen debut opposite Victor McLaglen in "King of the Kyber Rifles." This is a story of the secret service in India at the start of the war, by Talbot Mundy. John Ford will direct.

ACKERMAN-HARRIS SELL 5 TO FOX

SAN FRANCISCO—Five Theatres in neighborhoods of San Francisco and Oakland, which were formerly operated by Ackerman and Harris have been acquired by William Fox. These theatres are the Roosevelt, El Capitan Avenue, Amazon and Caisson in San Francisco and the Franklin and Hippodrome in Oakland.

This deal is one of the largest in local history and leaves A & H only one house each in Frisco and Oakland.

GOSSIP OF BERLIN

By XAVIER STRASSMAN

(Special to Exhibitors Daily Review)

German film producers seem to have discovered no striking new addition to the galaxy of screen beauties among the resplendant frauleins recently contested for the title of "Miss Germany" in the American Beauty tournament. While the contest was in progress the "freedom of the press" was bitterly commented on by official experts who were more than three score and ten years old. At that age, one newspaper brutally declared, no man was longer competent to consider the tout ensemble in passing beauty judgment, a flash of white teeth or a pair of smiling eyes serving to warp his verdict beyond repair. The editor solemnly proposed that all applicants be required to wear masks — and not much else. Many promptly did so. Result: a near riot of applicants whose faces were their fortunes. However, the cooler heads among the jurors saved the day by adopting the "point system." Vive le tout ensemble!

* * *

While the mass of Teutonic screen patrons continue proud of the world wide record of German productions for solid dramatic value, including competent acting, the leading producers are learning that the popular appeal of physical beauty plus "screen faces", even in instances where the histrionic is not strikingly apparent, is well worth considering. It is even stated that the recent more general application of this principle is largely responsible for the healthier look of UFA's latest balance sheet, which is for the financial year ending May 31, 1928 and shows net profits of 161,215 marks on 33 features, 100 news reels and 35 shorts. It has been noted that typical German Juncesque figures in ensembles are making room for quite a passable Venus here and there. But as yet no flappers. America is too far away, and England too near with its angular examples so terrifying to German eyes.

* * *

A swift survey of German production programs for the next half year fails to reveal any present intention of making screen comedy of Hasenclever's dubiously received stage production called, "Marriages are Made in Heaven." At the Frankfort-am-Main municipal theatre the audience's reaction was considerably more than dubious. Fortified by protests from protestant clergymen, it came armed with tear gas and evil-smelling chemical bombs with which the actors were rewarded at the close of the first act. In this act the Deity is represented sitting on a sofa with women, smoking a cigar and sipping coffee. The attitude of the gallery, particularly, is reported to assure the success of united efforts of religious bodies to have the play barred from all German stages.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 135

New York, Wednesday, December 12, 1928

FIVE CENTS

A Cowardly Course!

By ARTHUR JAMES

Irresponsible motion picture journalism that also is defiant, destroys respect for the decent leadership of this business and represents to an interested outside world that our industry is led by gamblers and liars.

The Film Daily on Monday asserted in bold type that Loew's-M-G-M was to be purchased by Fox. This yarn was denied by the heads of the two institutions. Nicholas M. Schenck on behalf of Loew's-M-G-M and William Fox as president of the Fox Companies.

These two denials were printed by the offending newspaper and the following was added:

As the result of the Fox-M-G-M story in yesterday's issue, one of two alternatives was demanded of THE FILM DAILY by M-G-M officials.

"First publicly apologize through the columns of this publication for the story or "Second divulge the informant (there were more than one, and each of unquestioned integrity). "THE FILM DAILY respectfully declines to do either."

"The unidentified informants were of unquestioned integrity," which statement places Nicholas M. Schenck and William Fox as of doubtful integrity and not sufficiently to be believed to warrant an apology for a business injury!

This is either stupid or cowardly and plus either it is irresponsible. It is part and parcel with a record for callous indifference to the constructive progress of this industry. It is part of a course that destroys respect for great and responsible leadership. In its irresponsibility, it prefers to hold two leaders as liars in order that two anonymous informants may be credited as of "unquestioned integrity."

We resent this course and call for its discontinuance. Our great business and its leaders are entitled to a better break from those who thrive through its continued progress.

Reckless defiance is not strength and an apology is not cowardice.

If the newspapers of the industry do not show respect for its recognized leaders what can be expected of the public?

Disrespect leads to defeat and destruction in human endeavor.

NO CHANGES IN FIRST NATIONAL

Officially Announced as Herman Starr Takes Presidency

No substantial changes in the personnel or policy of First National Pictures is contemplated, it was officially announced yesterday, and that corporation will continue to operate as a separate and individual entity.

This was further evidenced by the announcement of Herman Starr, the new president, that he had severed his connection with Warner Bros. In taking over the duties of his new office he announced his desire that First National Pictures should continue to occupy its high position in the industry, and that that position would be made still more important.

Irving D. Rossheim, President of the Stanley Company of America, announced yesterday at the regular meeting of the Board of Directors of First National Pictures, Inc., held on December 10th, 1928, at the of-

(Continued on page 4)

SAENGER TO WINNING TEXAS BLUE FIGHT

Making a stubborn fight in its determination to nullify the blue laws of Texas which prohibit the exhibition of motion pictures on Sunday, Saenger Amusement Company appears to have won the first heat in the Texarkana contest when a suit to prevent Sunday operations was dismissed in the district court.

The judge of the court at Boston, Tex., near here, where the case was being tried, entered an order for dismissal of the suit which also

(Continued on Page 2)

We Correct A Mistake

As this newspaper is not too timid to correct a mistake when it makes one, we herewith correct a statement accredited to Louis B. Metzger, general manager of Universal yesterday, that he favored disposing of part of Universal's Middle West chain to Fox and Midwesco which Fox controls. Mr. Metzger said, Universal was not getting out of the theatre business and that no negotiations are pending. The correction of this mistake is made in fairness to Mr. Metzger and in accord with this newspaper's invariable desire for accuracy.

PATHE AND FBO ASSURED PROD. OUTLET IN FRANCE

INJUNCTION IS DENIED PHONOFILM

Quebec Court Finds No Infringement on De Forest Patents

The Superior Court of the Province of Quebec, District of Montreal, Canada, has dismissed the petition of DeForest Phonofilm of Canada, Ltd., in which an interlocutory injunction was sought against Famous Players Canadian Corporation, Ltd. The DeForest Company alleged infringement of some eight DeForest Canadian patents by reason of the use in the Palace Theater at Montreal of certain talking motion picture apparatus and combined sound and picture films.

The theater equipment in question was furnished by Electrical Research Products, Inc., through the Northern Electric Company, Ltd., of Montreal, and these companies de-

(Continued on Page 2)

DIRECTORS IN 3RD PLACE BY TALKIES

On the same day appears the news that Malcolm St. Clair is no longer a Paramount director and a statement from Bryan Foy declaring that the advent of the talkies has deposed the director as first in production responsibility, reducing him to third place. The story and the players, says Mr. Foy, take precedence in the order named.

Inquiry at Paramount headquarters failed to connect Mr. St. Clair's resignation, or that of any other director, with any curtailment of authority. The point made by Director Foy, eldest of the well known "Seven Little Foyes", was not considered important. Recent reports from Hollywood however, have noted the fact that quite a number of directors have exchanged the megaphone for acting roles, while it is no novelty to find actors functioning as directors, particularly of sound and talkie pictures.

Bryan Foy's statement was printed in Regina Cannon's column in the New York American in connection with his arrival from Hollywood to direct several Vitaphone short subjects at the old Vitagraph studio.

Franco Films to Exploit Pictures—Marquis De La Falaise Interested

An international distribution deal has been closed by the Marquis de La Falaise, representing jointly Pathe International Corporation and FBO Export Corporation, under the terms of which Pathe and FBO product will be exploited in France by Franco Films, S. A. The contract involves the product of both American companies for a period of years, giving these companies widespread distribution through the French Exchange and theatre circuit combination.

Both FBO and Pathe consider the deal a very advantageous one, as it places their distribution in the hands of one of the most aggressive and fastest-growing film organizations in France. Although Franco Films, S. A. is a comparatively new organization, it has made tremendous strides both in developing a circuit of theatres and in launching distribution and production plans.

Franco has just purchased 11 theatres from Gaumont and a deal now closing with Metropole for 15 houses

(Continued on page 4)

M. P. Salesman Elect

The annual election of officers of the Motion Picture Salesmen, Inc., will be held on December 15th. Joseph Felder and Joseph Weinberg have been nominated for President; St. vice-pres. and chairman of Board G. William Wolf; 2nd vice-pres., Matty Cahan; treas., Sol Trauner; recording secy., M. H. Markowitz; financial secy., H. Carlock; historian, Jack Ellis; sergeant-at-arms, Chas. Gould, Jules J. Jasper; trustees, R. Gledhill, Irving Gumberg and Sol Title; Board of Directors, Gus Solomon, L. C. Weschsler, Jack Ellis, Ben Roman, R. Gledhill, Sol Title, L. Kutinsky, Howard Levy, Moe Kurtz, M. Meyers, H. Zittel, Dave Black, H. Kram and Charles Gould.

Roxy Party

The annual Roxy party and special Christmas performance for ten thousand of the city's poor children, will be given the morning of December 26th. There will be a full performance of the holiday week stage show and specially arranged numbers for the entertainment of the children.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; James Cron, general manager; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

Il. Dietz of here is back from Chicago and both look well—Chas. Cierich of Cinephone has a new necktie, a speckled one—In three days the exodus of the office force from First National to newly prepared quarters under the Warner tent will begin — Ye rumor business in ye illum industry are getting sour at this writing — H. Reichenbach is studying over the problem of parting his hair on the other side. The other side, the way he wears it now would be the inside—Dorothy Cleveland says that press agenting is the thief of time—She is beauty editor now of the Brooklyn Home Builder where rubber plants grow and homes are built around 'em—Al Lichtman's big dinner bids fair to be ye sell out—Joe Schnitzer has received the official good wishes of the Motion Picture Club via the Bulletin—Gabriel Hess gives us a big hand on designing the word snoopee as a descriptive for censoring — Thanx, Gabriel, thanx! — One writer said that Milton Sills in The Barker proved a "great spectacle"—He's great in it but I be blasted if he's a spectacle—Rose Pelwick of the Evening Journal thinks this column is swell — Ray Rockett has a Skye terrier and sure they call it Skye Rockett —Eddie Smith is extended tripping for Tiffany-Stahl — Atlanta today—Jack Trop is Reeltoney these days—Eddie Montaigne was Hi Dabbling vestiddy — Jack Enslin is in from Chicago and World Ticket Supply staff is busier.

New Damita Contract

Lily Damita, who plays the leading role opposite Ronald Colman in "The Rescue" directed by Herbert Brenon has signed a contract under which she will continue under Mr. Goldwyn's direction for the next five years. The original contract under which Mr. Goldwyn brought Lily to Hollywood provided for her services for one picture only, after which Miss Damita planned to return to Paris.

All-Pathe Bill

Memphis, Tenn.—When the new Orpheum Theatre opened recently the Pathe rooster crowed early and often on the bill. It was an all-Pathe program with Pathe News, two-reel comedy, an Aesop's Film Fable, a Grantland Rice Spotlight, Topics of the Day and Pathe Review.

P-F-L to Give Up Toronto Theatre

N. L. Nathanson is reported as having promised the City of Toronto that the Famous Players Canadian Corp., will release to the City the lease covering a period of fifteen years which the company has on Shea's Hippodrome.

The city is proposing to expropriate two blocks bounded by Queens, Chestnut, Albert and Bay Sts., tearing down the present buildings for the erection of a Police Administration Building and linking up the City Hall to Osgoode Hall with public utilities buildings. It is also proposed to arrange for a City Garage and downtown park such as other large cities have.

Lloyd Signs for Studio

Through his general manager, William R. Fraser, Harold Lloyd yesterday completed a deal with Phil L. Ryan and Charles Christie whereby he will have extended use of the new sound stages and equipment at the Metropolitan studio.

Injunction Is Denied Phonofilm

(Continued from page 1)

fended the suit through their Canadian counsel, Russel S. Smart, K.C., of Ottawa, and Messrs. Brown, Montgomery and McMichael of Montreal.

Numerous affidavits were filed showing the history of the development of talking motion pictures, beginning with the work of many inventors prior to DeForest, and describing also the elaborate development work of the Western Electric Company and Bell Telephone Laboratories in the production of the modern equipment which is in such extensive use at present.

The court dismissed the petition of DeForest Phonofilm of Canada, Ltd., with costs.

Saenger to Winning Texas Blue Fight

(Continued from page 1)

sought to prevent the Saengers from doing business in Texas because of alleged repeated violations of the Sunday laws.

A few days earlier the district judge had denied a motion of the district attorney to dismiss the case, but later said he was convinced he had no power to appoint special counsel to prosecute the suit from which District Attorney Patman had retired when the court refused to honor his motion.

Acting for Texas Attorney General Pollard, Patman instituted the suit, but asked for its dismissal, declaring his intentions to reinstate the case in district court at Austin.

Melotone Latest Entry in Synchronous Sound Field

Melotone Corporation is the latest entry in the sound film field. This company owns a complete manufacturing plant capable of producing fifty machines a week and will aim at the low price field.

The machine is an interchangeable synchronous device and has proven satisfactorily under varying conditions. It has been put through rigid tests before being offered to exhibitors and is now pronounced perfect by the manufacturers.

The company is beyond the experimental stage and is now making eight installations in theatres in New York, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Detroit and Philadelphia.

Sales and service offices have been established in several of the larger cities and the expansion will soon try.

Jolson to Advise

David Lee's next picture for Warner Bros. will have the benefit of Al Jolson's advice and supervision through every stage of its production. Jolson is now in consultation with the Warner scenario department preparing a story for the talented three-year-old actor to begin work in immediately after New Year.

It was Jolson who discovered David Lee and selected him for the child role in "The Singing Fool".

AMPA Bus. Meet. Thurs.

President George Harvey of the Associated Motion Picture Advertisers announces an important business meeting for this Thursday. Many important matters which are awaiting consideration will be decided at the closed sessions. All members of the Board of Directors and the Advisory Committee have been requested to attend so that their presence will enable them to pass on certain matters immediately.

A complete sales organization has been established and engineers are now in the field making a survey of houses and are prepared to advise theatre owners regarding the installation of synchronous mechanism. Include every key city in the country.

Roxy Theatre

CLASS A-COMMON-UNIT BOUGHT AND SOLD

BAINBRIDGE & RYAN

Members of Stock Exchange

100 Broadway

New York City

Telephone Rector 3960

Attention of Edward E. Smith

AT A SACRIFICE

Full equipment for small house.
650 leather uph. chairs.
2 projectors.
12 large lobby frames.
1 large ticket booth.

Can be examined by appointment.
by—

Mr. I. Goldstein

691 Elizabeth Ave. Newark, N. J.

"The Center of Motion Picture Society"

If you want to see Who's Who in the motion picture industry, dine at

THE PARK CENTRAL GRILL

Open for lunch, dinner and supper

DINE AND DANCE

To the tunes of BEN POLLACK

and his

PARK CENTRAL ORCHESTRA

THE PARK CENTRAL

FIFTY-FIFTH STREET AT 7th AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY

MELOTONE

speaking

THE VOICE OF THE MOVIES

AT LAST

A PERFECT SYNCHRONIZED MACHINE
ABSOLUTELY INTERCHANGEABLE
WITH
AMPLIFICATION SECOND TO NONE
IMMEDIATE DELIVERY

Complete Equipment $1,500

WITHIN YOUR PURCHASING POWER
DEMONSTRATIONS IN THEATRES
YOU KNOW WHAT YOU ARE BUYING
Delivery Made in Accordance with Receipt of Order

ACT QUICKLY

MELOTONE CORPORATION OF AMERICA

1650 Broadway .. New York City .. Pho. Circle 4119

HAD HADLEY

Columbia Launches Talkie Program

Six Talkers for Current Season — Well Known Stage Plays Selected

Columbia Pictures definitely launches its talking picture plans this week, with the announcement of a program of six "talkies" to be produced on the current season's program. These six will be in addition to "Submarine," which has already been released in the synchronized form and is making a sensational record for itself wherever it has played.

The six stories that are to be produced as "talkies" have complete musical scores, and sound effects are "The Younger Generation," "The Donovan Affair," "The Fall of Eve," "Father Love," "The Lone Wolf's Daughter" and "A Broadway Hooper."

"All the production brains and financial resources of Columbia Pictures will be placed behind our talking picture program," stated Joe Brandt, president of the company. "We have demonstrated to the industry what we could do with a synchronized picture when we made 'Submarine.' Everywhere theatre owners tell us this is the greatest synchronized picture now before the public. We prophesy that our talking pictures will acquit themselves on as high a plane. They will be talking picture specials in every sense of the word."

Several productions in the selected "talkie" group are already completed. The remainder are either in work or in various stages of preparation for early release.

"The Lone Wolf's Daughter," to be released with dialogue, an original synchronized music score and sound effects, counts Bert Lytell as one of its most important highlights.

"The Younger Generation" is now nearing completion under the direction of Frank Capra, the famous director of "Submarine." It is a vehicle especially suited to dialogue, being based on the famous stage play, "It Is to Laugh" by Fannie Hurst. Jean Hersholt is starred.

"The Donovan Affair" is another vehicle ideally suited to the new form of audible screen entertainment. As an added attraction it will present Jack Holt for the first time in a speaking screen role.

"The Fall of Eve," another stage play, from the facile pen of John Emerson and Anita Loos, will add a note of comedy to Columbia's "talkie" group.

"Father Love," a powerful drama of paternal devotion, will star two prominent male stars.

"A Broadway Hooper," a story of vaudeville and backstage life on the Gay White Way, will introduce many novelties both in music, sound and talk effects, because in unrolling the story it touches on musical comedy, the two-a-day and the legitimate.

Columbia is making its sound pictures over the Western Electric System which affords the choice of either the disc or film method of production.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Laurence Irving, having completed his work of designing sets for Doug. Fairbanks' picture "The Iron Mask," is in New York on his way back to London.

Marion Nixon, after free-lancing for a while, is said to be on the verge of signing with Pathe.

Ned Sparkes is on his way to New York to play his original role in "Nothing But the Truth" for the movies.

Vilma Banky has signed a new five year contract with Samuel Goldwyn under which she will have her own production unit. She will make not more than four pictures a year.

Lupino Lane, Educational comedian, is deserting movies for a while to appear in a Christmas revue of his own on the coast.

Emil Jannings will not speak a word in his next picture nor any picture in which he appears. He is too valuable as a pantomime artist.

Landers Stevens has been added to the cast of M-G-M's "The Trial of Mary Dugan."

Dan Healy, star of the stage show, "Good Boy", will go to Hollywood to play in Universal's "The Minstrel Man."

Duane Thompson became the wife of Buddy Wattles at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Richard Barthelmess, having fully recovered from the "flu" is back at work in "Weary River" for F.N.

Archie Mayo, Warner Bros. Director, who is now in New York, will stay until December 22nd for the premier of "My Man."

Marcia Kagno, four and a half years old, is making her screen debut in Paramount's picture, "The Hole in the Wall."

Raymond Hatton and Sam Hardy are to make another talking short for Al Christie. It will be called, "Dear Vivian."

Mary Pickford has completed the casting of her all talking picture, "Coquette."

Warners Re-Issue

Warner Brothers have decided to re-issue "When a Man Loves." This was the last picture in which John Barrymore and Dolores Costello appeared together. Many theatres have already booked the production.

Price Sells Territory

Oscar A. Price, announces that the rights for "The Bachelors' Club," first of a series of four fast-moving comedy dramas for which Richard Talmadge is under contract to Mr. Price to star in, for Argentine, Chili, Bolivia, Uruguay, Paraguay and Ecuador, have been sold to Max Glucksmann, of 729 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

H. M. Warner to Be Host

H. M. Warner, in accordance with his annual custom will play the host to fourteen hundred orphans at a Chanukah party in the Hebrew Orphan Asylum. The event will take place Sunday evening, December 16 at 6 P. M. There will be dinner, games and professional entertainment.

Film Art's Theatre

The Film Art Guild will open late this month, an entirely new idea in moving picture theatres at 52 West 8th Street. The interior of this house is made so that it may be changed at a moment's notice to suit any type of picture being shown. In addition it will be possible to project films simultaneously on four screens, three of which are black. The experiment is of great interest to picture people and will be watched for new possibilities along exhibition lines. Frederick Kiesler is the architect.

No Changes in First National

(Continued from page 1)

After resigning his office as President and Director by virtue of his having been elected to the Board of Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc. In addition to Mr. Rossheim's resignation the following members of the Board of Directors of First National Pictures, Inc., likewise resigned: John J. McGuirk, Jacob Fabian, Harry M. Crandall, Albert L. Smith, E. V. Richards, M. Finkelstein, A. H. Blank, Morris Wolf, Barney Balaban.

The Board of Directors of 14 was reduced to 10 and is now constituted as follows: Herman Starr, Stanleigh P. Friedman, R. W. Perkins, S. P. Skouras, Harold S. Bareford, R. C. Lieber, G. E. Quigley, Jack Leo, Richard Hoyt, S. W. McDonald.

The newly appointed officers are as follows: Herman Starr, President; S. P. Friedman, Vice President; G. E. Quigley, Vice President; Warren Boothby, Treasurer; Robert Perkins, Secretary.

Pathe and FBO Are Assured Product Outlet in France

(Continued from page 1)

will build their circuit to 26 theatres. According to plans announced by Paul Kastor, assistant general manager, Franco will continue its extensive campaign of expansion and is on the market to buy first class houses as well as standing ready to build a number of its own. The largest production studio in France has just been completed by Franco in Nice.

The French distributor for Pathe and FBO is backed by the Bank Intermediare and DeCapeane, head of the Franco Wyoming Oil Company. The capital is 25,000,000 francs and it is understood that this will be increased shortly to 100,000,000.

GOSSIP OF PARIS

By ROLFE P. GILSON

(Special to Exhibitors Daily Review)

If anyone doubts that the French people, of all ages and conditions, deserve the palm among nations for being "air minded" he needs only to study the reactions of those who all the Paramount Theatre at every performance of "Wings." Not since "Lindbergh" dropped out of a Paris night sky after his lonely flight across the Atlantic have Parisians had such a chance to indulge their imagination of what must be the supreme joy of competing with the birds in their own native element. Despite their tragic incidents, the air sequences are received with expressions of delight, while the less inspiring scenes of the picture's story are applauded for their value in adding to the significance of what happens in the air. Mel Shauer, Paramount's foreign representative with headquarters in Paris, is sailing this week to spend the Christmas season in New York. He will tell you that he expects to find "Wings" still running on his return.

New theme for a movie: Economic conflict between the Apaches of Paris and the Apaches of the screen. More fact than fiction in this. The movie Apache is so much more convincing than the genuine article that the latter are being driven out of the Apache business — that is, the ornamental part of it heretofore provided by notorious cellar cafes to attract American tourist custom. And while the down trodden Apache, as recognized by the Paris Police, is forced back into his original criminal enterprises, the young clerks and "gigolos" employed by underworld resorts to double for him are repudiated by sight-seers from across the Atlantic. The Hollywood Apache has established himself on the international screen so firmly that anything short of him is pooh-poohed.

In Paris film circles much interest is expressed in current efforts of Louis Nalpas to educate picture audiences up to appreciation of the fantastic in themes and characters with elaborate productions emphasizing the note of unreality. Nalpas experimented along this line for several years before Paramount leaped into the arena so triumphantly with Barrie's "Peter Pan." His name is now on all tongues owing to the striking popular success of his short subject production of "The Magic Clock" for Universal-De France, which European critics unite in declaring a masterpiece. Themes of this sort seem to demand a definite knack in characterization, and special judgment in the choice of mechanical resources in production. This may explain why Paramount was not altogether happy in the manner of its filming of "The Beggar on Horseback."

A few months ago, when the fate of "The Magic Clock" was still in the lap of the gods, the recent announcement that Nalpas was starting work on the greatest of all English political travesties, "Gulliver's Travels", would have brought him tears of sympathy rather than the smiles of approval which he now enjoys. Faith in his ability to make the "Lilliputians" and the "Brobdignagians" of the Dean Swift classic convincing is quite generally expressed on this side of the English Channel.

Harry Marx, Ex-Publix Official Slated for Allied V. P.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 136

New York, Thursday, December 13, 1928

FIVE CENTS

The Ole Run-around.

By ARTHUR JAMES

The American vernacular is frequently enriched by the picturesque addition of phrases that describe conditions and situations better than the more classic forms of English speech. For instance, the phrase "run around" or rather "the run around". This is descriptive of a dodging maneuver, a system of avoidance that keeps the benighted individual, who is the victim, in the air.

In operation the "run around" resorts to subterfuge in the matter of the telephone. A promise is made, the one to whom it is made calls on the telephone to bring about a realization of the promise. He is advised in various ways by the "run around" or usually by the secretary, that there has been a delay in the proceedings but not to worry. Or the secretary says: "Mr. Katzenjammer is looking at a picture", or "Mr. Spoopendike is in conference", or "Mr. Fitznoodle is out of town".

The believing one bides his time and again seeks information or confirmation. The same program with slight variations is repeated and in the end the promise is broken and disappointment and despair fill the soul of the victim of the broken promise.

The folly of the "run around" lies in its non necessity. It was born undoubtedly in the reluctance to hurt people's feelings. On the other hand it is in essence a rather cowardly course. It is a waster of time, it is a destroyer of confidence, it is a nuisance, it is an inspirer of revenge, of dislikes and of even hatreds. It incites to profanity and in less civilized conditions would inspire to murder.

In the next Federal Trade Practice Conference for the motion picture industry the "run around" should be brought up as one of the five issues. Then all the advertising men in the picture business could be called upon to give their testimony and possibly the commission would sanction the printing of a series of portraits of continuous offenders and then perhaps also, life sentences could be meted out to the end that the "run around" should disappear if not from the face of the earth, at least from the picture business.

Frankness, even though it may hurt, is far better than the promise with a "run around" in its wake.

LOEW CIRCUIT IN DEAL FOR JENKINS TELEVISION MOVIES

GILBERT RE-SIGNS M-G-M CONTRACT

Renews for Long-Term And Sets Rumors At Rest

Various rumors as to the future affiliation of John Gilbert were dissipated yesterday with the announcement that the star of "The Big Parade" has signed a new long-term contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Thus it is definitely assured that Gilbert will remain with the company under whose supervision his outstanding successes were produced.

A joint statement regarding the signing of the new contract was made by Nicholas M. Schenck, pre-

(Continued on page 6)

SIGNOR BISI IN UFA CONFERENCES

By Dr. R. OTTO

(Special Cable to Exhibitors Daily Review)

BERLIN—His Excellency, Signor Bisi, former Italian Under-Secretary of State and now President of the newly formed "Ente Nazionale" (National Corporation) for the production and distribution of pictures is here in Berlin to start cooperation with UFA.

The funds for this organization

(Continued on Page 2)

Here's a Tip

As a favor to every exhibitor in the United States who has sound equipment we direct attention to the Mack Sennett Educational comedy in sound — "The Lion's Roar" as one of the absolute knock 'em over, rock the house, make 'em all laugh type of attractions.

It is slapstick comedy but in this one you can hear the slaps. It uses every variety of sound successfully and is contrived in so showmanlike a manner that it is one of the funniest pictures, sound or silent, we ever saw since we were born.

We saw this under the most difficult conditions with only eighteen persons present in a projection room (an almost deadly test for a comedy) and yet they all went away laughing.

We congratulate all concerned and especially the exhibitors who have a chance to clean up on this unusual piece of show property.

LESSER-WARNER TO FINANCE OWN PROD.

There is no hitch in the deal between the Sonora-Bristolphone individual producers and the Sonora group who have taken over the rights to Bristolphone.

The question of who was to put the advance money for produc-

(Continued on Page 2)

Pictures to Be Sent Over Radio Direct to Theatres

HOME OPPOSITION

Negotiations were yesterday started by the Jenkins Television Corporation to broadcast movies by radio television directly to the screens of motion picture houses, and it is definitely understood that this deal is being made with the Loew Circuit of Houses.

While the primary intention of the Jenkins Television is to manufacture television receivers and transmitters which will broadcast motion pictures direct into the home within the next three months, this move to get Television into the theatres will partially forestall the natural animosity of theatre owners to home competition.

As a distinct novelty, the broadcasting of short Television subjects

(Continued on Page 2)

HERRON SUCCEEDS PLATTEN AT HAYS

At yesterday's regular quarterly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., announcement was made that Mr. J. Homer Platten, who has been Treasurer of the Association, had resigned to accept the position of Executive Vice President of the White Rock Mineral Springs Company. Mr. Platten will assume his duties with that company on December 15.

F. L. Herron, Foreign Manager of the Association, was elected Treasurer to succeed Mr. Platten, and George Borthwick, Assistant Treasurer.

Off for U. A. Convention

United Artists' first national sales convention will be held in Chicago in the Stevens Hotel on Friday and Saturday with 125 members of the sales force present from all parts of the country.

Al Lichtman, general sales manager, and Victor M. Shapiro, director of publicity and trade relations, left yesterday for Chicago to complete the arrangements.

Allied Gets New and Stirring Slogan at Very Secret Pow Wow

'RIO RITA' FIRST OF FBO ADVANCE SERIES

No sooner had Joseph I. Schnitzer, newly elected President of FBO Productions, Inc. taken control of the destinies of the film company, than he purchased the screen rights

(Continued on page 6)

"Make All Checks Payable To A. S. Myers"

"Make all checks payable to A. S. Myers!"

That's the slogan, the rallying cry and the short battle hymn for the Allied as announced, at a secret meeting—oh! too secret for any-

(Continued on page 6)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernatein, Managing Editor; James Cron, general manager; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1439. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

Victor Saville, Director of Burlington Films, B. I. Subsidiary in England will be with us shortly to look over the talkie situation . . . Britain is heading for sound . . . Pres. Elect Hoover's canned voice is now in the official archives in Washington, sent there for posterity by Pathe Sound News . . . Others are still uncanned . . . Paul Bern pulls a Gene Tunney today up at Cornell, when he lectures the Rah Rah boys on the talkies . . . Paul is professor from now on . . . Walter Eberhart, long of the First National regime had lunch on Broadway yesterday and afterward was seen journeying Eastward instead of Westward . . . ata boy Walter, keep up your good habits . . . Add Mrs. Edward (Major) Bowes formerly Margaret Illington to the sick list . . . Mike Simmons of Gotham likewise . . . 10,000 kids are going to have an Xmas party at the Roxy Theatre on Christmas morning, with all the trimmings . . . Some day they may throw a party for column conductors, the poor ones . . . Thomas Meighan is conferring around the Warner offices these days . . . plus the iron derby . . . Franklyn Warner, ex-banker, is up and doing again after siege of the flu . . . Vic Shapiro, C. Smith, P. N. Lazaarus, E. Jensen, C. Trowbridge and H. Ginsberg left the stem yesterday for the U. A. Convention in Chicago . . . Moe Mark is a limburger cheese connoisseur and Joe Plunkett never tasted any . . . D. Herzog once of the press agency but now a flicker cricket and sneppeh writer for the daily or lay press has a lurch for the words "opus" and "yclept". The first is discarded by critics not too lazy to develop a good supply of useful words. The second is from the ancient Chaucerian "ycleptomania". Aside from slovenly English the Herzog is developing as a good mean dig artist and an entertaining writer . . . Good luck and congratulations, Major Herron.

Schenck Due Saturday

Nicholas M. Schenck left the Coast last Tuesday after conferences with Allied producers and will reach town on Saturday. Schenck will shortly have public announcements concerning any new plans made while in California.

Lesser-Warner to Finance Own Prod.

(Continued from page 1)

tion has been settled as far as the Lesser-Warner outfit is concerned. Sonora will have nothing to do with production but will center their attention of production and distribution of the machine and units for recording.

Warner-Lesser will finance their own productions and are now conferring with distributing channels for the release of their future product. Sol Lesser is now in Hollywood arranging for the start of production.

The Asher-Small-Rogers outfit will also undoubtedly finance their own series of Sonora-Bristolphone productions, as will Gotham.

Loew Circuit in Deal for

Jenkins Television Movies

(Continued from page 1)

through the Loew houses is bound to create a tremendous impression and stand them up outside the doors.

The decision of Television to go after theatres will not only be productive of greater financial returns, inasmuch as the home market is as yet an unknown quantity, but will also follow the course pursued by RCA and others who originally intended to manufacture sound apparatus for the home, but who went after the theatre market first.

The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer organization has been very keen in the matter of Television and Telephoto and only this week sent the first sound-on-film by telephoto process from Hollywood to New York, transmitted by William Haines, by which his short conversation will be used in a title to be inserted in his latest picture "Alias Jimmy Valentine."

Roxy Theatre

CLASS A-COMMON-UNIT BOUGHT AND SOLD

BAINBRIDGE & RYAN

Members of Stock Exchange

100 Broadway
New York City

Telephone Rector 3960

Attention of Edward E. Smith

Theodore Hays in Town On Canavan Confab

Theodore L. Hays, of Finkelstein and Ruben, President of the Board and Directors of Public Relations of the North West Theatre Circuit, Inc., is here on labor matters pertaining to the theatres of the North West and incidentally to visit several friends.

He has already had several conferences with Canavan and has another conference scheduled for tomorrow.

Signor Bisi in

Ufa Conferences

(Continued from page 1)

are supplied by Italian banks, insurance companies and similar institutions and the whole production and distribution will of course be under the control of the Fascist authorities.

But otherwise, the whole concern will be run as much as possible on international principles. There is no nationalism in film production. "Italians like all other nations must produce for the world's markets," Signor Bisi told me. And he added that foreign directors and artists will be welcomed in Italy.

He repeated to me that all European and American pictures sent to Italy under a reciprocity arrangement with an Italian producer and distributor are counted as domestic producers under the Italian exhibitors' quota law.

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.

for Libray Stock Scenes

130 W. 46th St. New York
Bryant 8181

SCREEN TESTS

Incandescent Lighting
Local No. 644 Cameramen
Complete Equipment
Studios for Rent

BROWNING STUDIOS

110 West 40th St. N. Y. C.
PENN 1258

C. Myers at FBO

Carmel Myers, brilliant and internationally popular leading woman of the films, is playing her first role for FBO in "The Red Sword", now in production under direction of Robert Vignola, veteran megaphonist with a lengthy record of hits.

Select Title

"Lady of the Pavements" is the title finally selected by David Wark Griffith for the film that he has just completed for United Artists.

Jetta Goudal, Lupe Velez and William Boyd are the principal players. It has been decided that the film shall not contain 65% dialogue, as was once intended.

AT A SACRIFICE

Full equipment for small house.
650 leather uph. chairs.
2 projectors.
12 large lobby frames.
1 large ticket booth.

Can be examined by appointment,
by—

Mr. I. Goldstein

691 Elizabeth Ave. Newark, N. J.

TRAVELERS select the Great Northern for its wonderful location in Chicago's "loop". They return because the large comfortable rooms, homelike environment, attentive service, excellent food and moderate charges make it an ideal hotel.

400 Newly Furnished Rooms,
$2.50 a day and up. Sample
Rooms $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00
and $8.00.

Walter Craighead, Manager
DEARBORN STREET FROM JACKSON
TO QUINCY
New Garage One-Half Block

CHRISTMAS CARDS AND PARCELS

SHOP EARLY

MAIL EARLY

"The Government would be grateful if you would—

SHOP EARLY

WRAP CAREFULLY

ADDRESS PLAINLY

and MAIL PROMPTLY

HARRY S. NEW,
Postmaster General."

SHOP EARLY

MAIL EARLY

MAIL EARLY FOR DELIVERY BEFORE CHRISTMAS

PARAMOUNT QUALITY TALKING PICTURES PROGRAM

Released between January 1 and July 1, 1929

4 PARAMOUNT ALL-TALKING SHOWS

"INTERFERENCE" plus Eddie Cantor, Ruth Etting.

"DOCTOR'S SECRET" plus Borrah Minnevit, "One Word".

Jeanne Eagels in "THE LETTER" plus Eddie Peabody, Giersdorf Sisters.

"NIGHT CLUB" plus "Pusher-in-the-Face", "Bishop's Candlesticks".

22 ALL-TALKING FEATURES

"Canary Murder Case".* "Wolf of Wall Street" (Bancroft).* "The Dummy".
"A Genius Is Born". "The Hole in the Wall". "Close Harmony" (Rogers).
"Nothing But the Truth" (Dix). "The Studio Murder". "Gentlemen of the Press". "The Woman Who Needed Killing". "Through the Night". "The Tong War".* "The Wild Party" (Bow).* "Darkened Rooms". "Here Comes the Band Wagon".* "The Saturday Night Kid" (Bow).* Menjou All-Star.*
Bancroft All-Star.* (silent versions also.)

17 TALKING SOUND FEATURES

"Abie's Irish Rose". "The Shopworn Angel". "Innocents of Paris". "The Carnation Kid" (MacLean). "Redskin" (Dix). "Wolf Song". "Sins of the Fathers" (Jannings). "Behind the German Lines". "Black Eagles" (Bancroft).
"River Boat". "Homecoming". "Two Shall Meet". "Looping the Loop".
"The Man I Love". "Ellis Island". Dix Special. MacLean-Christie Special.

NOTE:—All these pictures have silent versions

52 TALKING SHORTS

13 Paramount-Christie two-reel short features. 28 Paramount Talking Acts, 15 in two reels, 13 in 1-reel. 6 Song Cartoons. 5 Famous Composers.

PARAMOUNT SOUND NEWS

Very soon, industry's leading news reel in Sound!

PARAMOUNT—leader Sound & Silent!

FOX FIRST
to produce

1

0

100% LOVE
100% DRAMA
100% CAST
100% STORY
100% PRODUCTION
100% BOX OFFICE

%

DIALOG PICTURE FILMED OUTDOORS

PUBLIX FIRST

to play this outdoor talker

Opens 2 Weeks' Engagement

Saturday, December 22nd,

CALIFORNIA Theatre,

San Francisco

Begins

extended run

December 25th,

CRITERION Theatre,

Los Angeles.

WILLIAM FOX PRESENTS

IN OLD ARIZONA

With This All-Talking, All-Star Cast:

EDMUND LOWE

Sergeant Quirt of "What Price Glory" in another hard-boiled characterization.

DOROTHY BURGESS

A screen find from the legitimate stage, with plenty of "it."

WARNER BAXTER

Always a good actor, in this talker he's a great actor in a great role.

FARRELL MacDONALD

No better character actor on the screen. He's perfectly cast.

IVAN LINOW

The giant of "The Red Dance" rushes into Russian on the Movietone.

Directed in Dialog by

RAOUL WALSH

and

IRVING CUMMINGS

F
MOVIETONE
X talks profits!

FIVE FOX THEATRES FINISHING

Murnau, Beaudine, Klein, Ford and Tinling Shooting

Production activities of Fox Films at the West Coast studios continue to be of the pace-setting order. Five important feature pictures are on the point of being completed.

F. W. Murnau is expected to finish "Our Daily Bread," with Charles Farrell and Mary Duncan, in a week. William Beaudine is scheduled to wind up Madge Bellamy's new vehicle, "Fugitives," from Richard Harding Davis's story entitled "Exiles," in about the same time.

James Tinling is likely to bring "True Heaven," with George O'Brien and Lois Moran, under the wire at the same time. "White Fury," in which Charles Klein has been guiding Nancy Carroll and Lawrence Gray through the leading roles, and "Strong Boy," Victor McLaglen's new vehicle directed by John Ford, are moving according to schedule and nearing completion, rounding out an unusually large number of productions which will be finished contemporaneously.

K. McGuire Signed

Kathryn McGuire has been signed to play the feminine lead opposite Tom Mix in his latest FBO production, as yet untitled, on which camera work began this week.

Walter McGrail, who registered a remarkable performance in FBO's recently completed "Blockade," will play the heavy in the latest Mix vehicle. Eugene Forde is directing.

Gilbert Re-Signs

M-G-M Contract

(Continued from page 1)

sident of M-G-M and by Gilbert.

"The new contract between our company and John Gilbert is a long-term agreement," said Mr. Schenck. "It definitely sets at rest many conflicting rumors regarding his future activities. The signing of this immensely popular star is one of the most important moves in the history of our organization. Elaborate plans for his future productions will get under way at once. We are indeed proud to announce that his services will remain with our company."

Gilbert expressed keen enthusiasm over his new contract.

"I am glad to say that I will continue with the company which contributed so largely to any success I may enjoy," he declared. "I have always felt that I would rather be with M-G-M than with any other concern and I look forward with particular pleasure to a continuance of my association with Louis B. Mayer, Irving Thalberg and other co-workers at the Culver City studios."

Gilbert's most recently completed film "A Woman of Affairs," in which he co-stars with Greta Garbo, is scheduled to reach Broadway in the near future. "Thirst," in which Gilbert has the part of an African adventurer, is now in production under William Nigh.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Arthur Gregor is directing the silent version of Pathe's "The Missing Man."

Barry Norton will star in the Fox production of the famous stage play, "The Command to Love."

Al Rogell, having completed his two year contract with Charles Rodgers, is seeking new connections.

Donn McElwaine has been made western editor of Pathe sound news weekly.

Lowell Sherman's talking short, "Phipps," has suffered a change of title. It is now called "Nearly Divorced."

M-G-M's technicolor picture, "The Viking," has been synchronized at the Sound Studios in New York.

Robert F. Burkhardt, writer of serial newspaper stories, has joined the Fox publicity staff.

Frank O'Connor will direct "Just Off Broadway" for Chesterfield. Production to start January 3rd.

Edmund Gouding is now devoting his time at Pathe to making tests of unknown players in the search for screen talent.

Molly O'Day's contract with First National is not being renewed. Miss O'Day has not made a picture in some time.

Marcel Silver will be the only one to do any megaphoning on Fox's "Movietone Follies." Edward Royce will assist him in the staging.

"Rio Rita" First of FBO Advance Series

(Continued from page 1)

of "Rio Rita" the famous Florenz Ziegfeld musical show, as the first special on FBO's 1929-30 program.

With the purchase of this valuable piece of show property President Schnitzer effected the beginning of a revolution in the quality of the company's product, which is only a forerunner of the program of expansion on which he is now at work.

"Rio Rita" will be made as the first special on FBO's 1929-30 program in affiliation with Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation. Contracts for transferring the Ziegfeld show into a talking and singing motion picture were signed yesterday between Mr. Schnitzer and Florenz Ziegfeld.

"Rio Rita", one of the most colorful musical plays in the history of the American theatre, will be the first Ziegfeld show to be transferred to the screen with its songs and dialogue intact. The original "Rio Rita" cast, headed by Ethelind Terry and J. Harold Murray, will play and sing the leading roles. Other players in the original cast include Bert Wheeler, Ada-May, Walter Catlett, Vincent Serrano, Walter Petrie, Helen Clive, Noel Francis and Alf P. James.

Italian Hollywood

ROME—The Italian "Ente Nazionale per la Cinematografica" the Government National Corporation for development of the Italian Film Industry has decided to create an Italian "Hollywood" in the neighborhood of the Government Aerodrome at Littorio.

18,000,000 Lire may be invested in studio construction.

Allied Gets new And Stirring Slogan

(Continued from page 1)
thing!—in the Hotel Biltmore yesterday in rooms 1108-1110-1112 and 1114. Al Steffes in booming tones told the Administrative Board of the New Jersey M.P.T.O. that they were wanted for the new organization and to prove they (Steffes, Col. Cole, Ritter and Ritchey) were "on the level", he voiced repeatedly "Make out all checks to A. S. Myers."

It is known to the wide world that one A. S. Myers is the new chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, and it is known also that this A. S. Myers has denied he will head Allied. Rumors had it that he wanted to know where the money for the pay envelope was to come from before he would resign from the Federal Trade Commission to head the exhibitor group into the Land of Promise.

Steffe's needs no loud speaker so his words went out of the secret meeting and boomed into the late afternoon air. This newspaper's sensitive receiving set picked them up.

Jersey is headed for the Allied if the Administrative Board can put it over. That also came through the air. Other neat bits were the Steffe's assurance that Fred Biechle had already joined; that Harry Marx, late of Publix, is to be vice president; that the name will be either M.P.T.O. of Allied States or National M.P.T.O. of Allied States; that Indiana, Wisconsin, Montana, Washington, Southern California and Kansas were in and that Ohio, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and North Carolina were hoped for; that $20,000 was raised in Chicago and that "Man power to get money" was much needed.

Col. Cole, as presiding elder, announced that the national headquarters would be in Washington. The headquarters will be parked in the best hotel visited by the organizers.

"Make all checks payable to A. S. Myers" ought to be a rallying cry to arouse a nation, like—"Lafayette, we come" or "Out of the trenches by Christmas".

At the meeting's close a statement was refused but the radio replied with a low, mocking "heh!heh!"

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

HOLLYWOOD—There is gloom in the hearts of a great many of Hollywood's best known stars. It has been intimidated by producers that at the expiration of present contracts a number of the high priced stars will find difficulty in connecting.

Talkies is the reason. In spite of the persistent publicity regarding this and that star's wonderful speaking voice, it is a well known fact that the tests have proven otherwise, and many stellar performers will be forced to lineup with second rate companies who are not using dialogue in order to keep the wolf from the door.

The great influx of New York legit artists is not adding to the peace of mind of the silent performers. Each day new faces coming from the East. Not only actors and actresses, but legit directors are bringing their baggage and preparing for a long stay.

The legit people have all the confidence in the world and their nonchalance is creating a contrast to the gloom of the local boys and girls.

It is reported that at the expiration of high salaried contracts producers are prepared to make offers on a very much lower basis and there is every indication that there will be acceptances rather than haggle and lose out entirely.

Some of the stars, who have not kidded themselves into the belief that their voices register well, are casting their eyes on the foreign fields and it would not be surprising if England and Germany would prove salvations to those who fail to connect when the heads start to lop.

Although the producers are not dubbing the move an economical one it is just that. The adverse criticism to the last outburst of economy reflected in a bad light and there is more caution being taken.

Producers can now sign New York artists of note under a picture to picture contract and they feel this is a sensible arrangement and saves the cost of supporting a stock company.

"My Tonia" Theme Song

B. G. De Sylvia, Lew Brown and Ray Henderson, who wrote words, music and lyrics for those Broadway musical hits, "Good News" and "The New Moon", have written a theme song, "My Tonia," for "In Old Arizona," the first all-talker dramatic feature to be made by Fox Film Corporation, to whom these writers are under contract.

Cooper With Jannings

Gary Cooper has been assigned to a big part in Emil Jannings' new Paramount picture, which will have a picturesque setting.

Cooper will play the role of a Swiss artist in love with Esther Ralston, Jannings' wife. Lewis Milestone, director of "The Racket" and "Two Arabian Nights", will have the megaphone for this story.

If you were a multimillionaire you couldn't buy this Advertising. but you can have it free of any charge

If you had millions of dollars, you couldn't buy the world-wide advertising which has been given to Stern Brothers' Comedies in the finest newspapers published. They wouldn't sell it to you for money or for love or for anything else. Hundreds of newspapers have used daily cartoons of "The Newlyweds and Their Baby" and "Let George Do It" and "Buster Brown" and "Mike and Ike." Millions of people read them and are unhappy if they miss them. That kind of advertising cannot be bought. But all the benefits of it are yours free of any charge when you show the Stern Brothers' Comedies based on these popular cartoons. They are the most staple comedies of the world. They have withstood the acid test of time. They are like money in the bank. The best theatres in the world are showing them regularly. WHAT MORE COULD YOU ASK?

SNOOKUMS

IN
"THE NEWLYWEDS AND THEIR BABY,"
From the Famous Cartoons
by George McManus.

BUSTER BROWN

A series made from the renowned comic feature by R. F. Outcault.

MIKE AND IKE

Rube Goldberg's side splitting characters brought to life.

LET GEORGE DO IT

Another series from the brilliant pen of Rube Goldberg.

TWO REELS EACH

STERN BROTHERS COMEDIES!

Released by UNIVERSAL!

Otterson Indicates W.E. Interchangeability Stand

EDUCATIONAL PLANS FULL SILENT PROGRAM

Both talking and silent subjects are included in an especially fine group of Short Features arranged for the first of the year by Educational Film Exchanges. Added to the usual quota of silent comedies, novelties, magazine and news releases, on Educational's January program, will be the second subject in the new series of Mack Sennett Talking Comedies, "The Old Barn," which follows quickly upon the immediate hit made by "The Lion's Roar."

No curtailment is to be seen in Educational's line-up of silent pictures, in keeping with the promise of E. W. Hammons, president of Educational, that there will be no neglect of Educational's silent subjects because of its entry into the sound field. The silent pictures for the month include five two-reel productions, four one-reel comedy or novelty subjects and eight releases of Kinograms, the news reel. Included in these subjects are several outstanding pictures with Educational's best known stars in them.

GENERAL TALKING PICT. STARTS SALES FORCE

General Talking Pictures Corporation, owner of the DeForest Phonofilm systems of projection and recording, has organized a sales force for the distribution of theatre installations in every part of the country. The force will generally start activity this week in each territory and to supply the demand manufacturing facilities of the projector has been arranged on an expandable basis so that deliveries can always be kept within a reasonable time limit in regard to the placing of the orders.

The corporation has recently acquired manufacturing facilities in the middle west and this will be operating by the first of the year on a scale which will permit expansion beyond any point which may be reached by the sales department. The eastern factory, limited in space, has been increased to full capacity, and a night shift was added on Oct. 10th. The full capacity of this factory from now until the first of the year, will be devoted to the filling of orders which have already been received. Orders written between now and January 1st will be delivered not later than Feb. 15th, with both the eastern and western plants fulfilling the orders.

V. B. Trade Show Today

Three Pathe short sound and talking subjects produced by the Amedee J. Van Beuren Corporation will be presented for the trade at the RCA Studios at 411 Fifth Avenue, 11:30 this morning. The following subjects will be shown: The talking Topics of the Day, "Pressing His Suit" and "The Petters" and Aesop Sound Fable "Stage-Struck".

"The industry is naturally interested in what progress is being made in equipping theatres for sound projection. Last week our company completed its 900th installation, and from a recent report in one of the trade papers I understand there are all told twelve installations of other makes of equipments. During November we equipped 159 theatres. By January 1st, we shall have more than 1000 theatres actually giving their patrons pictures with sound, and early in the year we shall have increased production to 250 a month." W. E. Otterson, Pres. of Electrical Research Product said yesterday.

"Regarding interchangeability," Otterson stated, "we have no expectation that our system will be the only one theatres can install, nor are we spending very much time to send out experts to test the results of each new installation of another device as it is made, or even to examine the equipment for patent infringement. Having a common interest with the producers who have adopted our system, we are asking their judgment of the quality of the reproducing in each instance where they have the opportunity to book a sound picture for showing on other than Western Electric machines.

"We are inclined to believe that many of the systems now being offered for the sale on the basis of studio demonstration will not stand the test of operation in a theatre.

"Some of the trade press have expressed surprise because we have not taken a more aggressive attitude in seeking to shut down those shows on their equipment as fast as they have bobbed up in various parts of the country. May I say in reply to that, as I have said before, that our policy in this industry is not one of aggression; we are not trying "to stamp out competition wherever it shows its head. In the long run inferior systems will fall of their own accord without any pressure from us. Some already have.

"If we find other manufacturers invading the field of our patents, we shall ask the courts to see that our rights are respected, but we are not out trying to pick a quarrel. We are trying, rather, to meet to the best of our ability the obligations to serve the business of talking pictures, in the success of which we, and the great producers who are aligned with us, have such a tremendous stake."

Gallagher Leaving

Richard, "Skeets" Gallagher leaves for Hollywood today to play an important role in "Close Harmony." This is the Elsie Janis story which is being made into an all-talkie by Paramount. John Cromwell, stage director, will handle the megaphone on this production.

B. Bennett With FBO

Barbara Bennett, daughter of the famous Richard, has been signed by FBO for the feminine lead in a picture tentatively titled, "Stepping High." This is to be made at Sound Studios, 134th Street and Park Ave. and Bert Glennon will direct.

PATHE EXCHANGE, INC.
will move on January 1st to the 8th floor in
Film Center Building
44th Street • NINTH AVENUE • 45th Street

WHEN Film Center Building opens its doors in three weeks, it will house every large film exchange except those who have their own buildings on this same block.

A Structure Tailored to Fit the Special Needs of the Film Industry

Telephone Ashland 4200 for plans of part floors, small offices, storage or shipping units.

225 FIFTH AVENUE

Spear & Co.
INC.

Phone Ashland 4200

FILM CENTER, INC., Builders . . . ABE N. ADELSON, Pres.

Northwest Theatre Trouble Ends After Long Fight

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 137

New York, Friday, December 14, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Star Stuff! FBO's New Show Life

By

Cutler James

JOHN Gilbert's signature to a new long time contract with M-G-M demonstrates that the good ones, well advised, stay where the money is.

...

REPORTS, inspired by offers of various sizes—all large — led to definite statements that Mr. Gilbert would be found in new surroundings. But this writer to more than several of the important exhibitors offered a modest wager that he would stay with the company that made him and kept him artistically and personally happy.

...

THE comment among these exhibitors yesterday and from many others was that they felt they would benefit especially because of the tremendous vehicles M-G-M has provided him and in such numbers as to assure the future.

...

A GREAT earning power at the box office can be wrecked in inefficient hands. The handsome Mr. Gilbert is in his best possible association.

...

WHEN FBO was solely in the hands of showmen it handled its pictures to the best advantage but when under a purely financial leadership its pictures suffered and its campaigns in the trade went flat through under or at times no nourishment.

...

THE master showman brain that conceived and directed that well remembered showman campaign is now in full authority as president of the company. He now has the resources of so formidable a financial group as RCA. The balance is where it belongs, the money backing and the showman management. The first evidence of this is the big show hit "Rio Rita" which will be the first FBO special under the definite show regime of Joseph I. Schnitzer.

...

WE expect to see this company heading for the prestige and profit that comes from great show performance.

NORTHWEST THEATRE TROUBLE IS SETTLED

Both Sides Make Concessions in Coming to Agreement — Long Battle Is Ended

(Special Wire to Exhibitors Daily Review)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Dec. 13. All stagehand labor matters between the Publix Theatre Circuit and the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees have been settled. Those present at the conference between these two organizations were Mr. Canavan, president of the Alliance, Theodore L. Hays, of Finkelstein and Ruben, President of the Board and Director of Public Relations of the North West Theatre Circuit, and Harry Sherman, Publix Director of Public Relations. The theatres involved were, the State, the Minnesota, and the Garrick, all

(Continued on page 4)

ATLANTIC CITY TO PROMOTE PICTURES

(Special to Exhibitors Daily Review)

ATLANTIC CITY—Dec. 13. — A new moving picture producing unit has been formed here to make pictures in and about Atlantic City, and to be known as the Atlantic City Motion Picture Corporation.

The organizers plan to start with a series of comedies to be made in the old Brunton Studios until such time as the company's own studio can be erected. They expect to begin work on these comedies within the next sixty days.

The officers of the new corporation are: Armand T. Nichols, president John C. Brunton, vice-president James N. Rogers, vice-president John D. Moyer, secretary-treasurer. It is the ambition of these men to make Atlantic City the Hollywood of the East, which is some ambition.

Meet the King!

His Imperial Majesty the King of Spain appearing in person, as it were, and speaking through Fox Movietone News will be released to the theatres and the public tomorrow.

The King is acclaimed as an actor and a comedian that would have given Chaplin a tussle if he hadn't been so busy in the king business. This without question is a guaranteed box office smash.

AL STEFFES FAILS TO STAMPEDE JERSEY GROUP

POWERS DEPLORES WASTE IN SOUND DUPLICATION

"Standardization in sound picture production should receive immediate attention as a matter seriously affecting present prosperity and bearing vitally on the future of the entire motion picture industry", says P. A. Powers of Powers Cinephone. "Common sense and the simplest principles of business efficiency demands the abolition of the present disrupting practice of producing sound pictures on two widely separated recording systems", declares Mr. Powers. "Thousands of loddars are being lost to the producers through confusion in the studios, duplication of effort, and uncertainty in executive offices."

"I am convinced", says Mr. Powers, "that the system of recording sound on the film will be the ultimate standard adopted by the picture producers. Many economic reasons and features of efficiency favor the sound-on-film system. Synchrony cannot be lost in pictures synchronized by the sound track methods. They call for single shipments saving the extra carrying charges called for by the disc system and are saving in valuable storage space."

EMERSON RESIGNS AS PRESIDENT OF EQUITY

John Emerson resigned Wednesday as president of the Actors' Equity association.

He gave as his reason the fact that he had been "troubled by a persistent and aggravating throat affection, which, despite extensive travel and treatment, has yielded very slowly."

Emerson was the head of Equity for eight years. He will leave soon with his wife, Anita Loos, for their Palm Beach home to recuperate further.

Frank Gillmore, known throughout the theatrical world as "the father of Equity", was appointed to succeed Emerson. Gillmore has been executive secretary and treasurer for several years.

Paul Dullzell, assistant to Gillmore, was elevated to the latter's position. Berton Churchill was made treasurer. They hold office until the annual meeting of the association next June.

Investigations Sent to Washington and Cleveland to Check Statements

Al Steffes, the Allied fire-eater made his annual oratorical outburst at the Biltmore Hotel Wednesday, at which time he made an effort to line up the New Jersey exhibitors in the ranks of the Allied group but whether or not the table pounding, chest thumping, hair mussing ordeal will have the desired effect remains to be seen. At any rate he did not stampede the members of the Administration Committee of the New Jerseyites. They were as unresponsive as a Syracuse audience.

Al's chief aim seemed to be to impress those present that his organization is on the level. To drive this home he kept exclaiming with great gusto, "Make all checks payable to A. S. Myers". He repeated this time and again until it finally became the war-cry.

It would seem on the face of this phrase that Al is desirous of obtaining a sufficient number of checks made payable to Myers to cause that gentleman to relinquish his position

(Continued on page 4)

SEASONAL SLUMP HITS ALL BROADWAY HOUSES

The pre-Christmas season is not greeted with any cheers by Broadway theatres. The women who as a rule patronize the theatre in the afternoons are now fighting their way among the thousands of Christmas shoppers and they are too tired to take in a movie in the evening.

Theatres are not going to any great pains to make a bid for patronage at this pre-holiday period knowing it is useless to combat the shopping spirit. Business will no doubt pick up immediately after Christmas and remain so for some time and special presentations and

(Continued on page 4)

Stanley Earnings

The Stanley Company of America shows net earnings of $202,982 for the 13 weeks ending September 29. For 39 weeks ended September 29 net income totalled $695,640 after deductions.

IT'S HERE ALL TALKING produced by MACK

We have been promising you details of Educational's sound program. Here is the first important detail: Educational's first all-talking two-reel comedy is ready for you to see and hear—and play.

Without resorting to high sounding phrases, we have told you simply that you could rely on Educational to lead the way in short subjects with sound, as it has led the way in silent short subjects for years. All we need to say now is to ask you to see and hear "The Lion's Roar" This we invite you to do.

Other talking comedies from the great Sennett Studios will follow in quick succession.

And other groups of short subjects with sound will be announced soon.

E. W. Hammond
PRESIDENT

EDUCATIONAL FILM EXCHANGES, Inc.

MEMBER OF THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF PRODUCERS AND DISTRIBUTORS OF AMERICA, Inc., WILL H. HAYS, President

First COMEDY
SENNETT

"THE LION'S ROAR"

with

Johnny Burke

Daphne Pollard

Billy Bevan

Vernon Dent

EDUCATIONAL PICTURES! The trade mark that for years has dominated the short subjects field! Now, the sign of the best in short subjects with sound! EDUCATIONAL is proud to present, as part of its great sound program, this series of two-reel comedies from the oldest comedy producer — MACK SENNETT.

The world has been waiting for comedies with sound and talking on a par in quality with the best that has been done in talking features. They are here in MACK SENNETT TALKING COMEDIES.

"THE LION'S ROAR" begins a series of talking comedies that will pull like big features. No short subject series has ever held greater promise of profit for the exhibitor who books them.

Talking, Music,
Natural Sound Effects,
From Start to Finish

Produced by
RCA Photophone Process

Pictures

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; James Cron, general manager; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by
GORDON TRENT

Joseph I. Schnitzer is making life in FBO general offices just one live conference after another on schedules of all departments for the beginning of the New Year. N. B. Watch FBO for big doings. . . . George Jessel is keeping both eyes open for some extra boosting of "Lucky Boy" . . . There are indications that Al Selig will see that it is forthcoming . . . Some of our steamed contemporaries (polite word for lowlifes) set forth that Sam Jacobson had replaced Mark Larkin as Wampas president when Mark went Photoplay. Wrong! Barrett Kiesling, none other and no less, was elected president and now is. Sam Jacobson is first vice president and Joe Sherman is second vice president. Now the record is on straight! . . . George Brown, of Warner Brothers is shadow-boxing with Old Man Grip, and hopes to give him a good licking . . . George Blair, of Eastman, and his cheerful smile were with us yesterday . . . Bill Murphy in his publicity job at World Wide Pictures is just as well-pressed and no more dignified than usual, which means its natural rather than painful.

Warners in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA — Warner Bros. are reported as having taken over the new theatre which Al Boyd, formerly of Stanleys, is building and thus removed any threat of opposition which might have arisen through the house going exclusively to another distributor.

Fox and Paramount were reported at various times as back of Boyd's new project. A Paramount special, probably "Interference" will open the house around December 27th.

Flu Closes Theatres

Because of the sudden influenza epidemic now raging in Columbia, S. C., all theatres and places of amusement will remain closed until further notices.

Al Steffes Fails to Stampede Jersey Group

(Continued from page 1)

as chairman of the Federal Trade Commission and become leader of the Allied exhibitors. It is generally believed that Mr. Myers is a man of sufficient intelligence to be able to fathom why a chicken crosses the road.

Mr. Steffes, during his Swiss bell ringing act, asked the Jersey contingent not to take merely his word that the new movement is growing by leaps and bounds, but to investigate all his statements. The Jerseyites have adopted a Missouri attitude and taken Al at his word. They have despatched emissaries to Cleveland and Washington to check up and report to the state organization just what is what. The report will be made at a meeting of the Jersey committee next week.

After shaking the foundation of the Biltmore with his oratory, Al and his seconds, Col. Cole, Ritter and Ritchey, departed for Maryland where they are today trying to wean that state organization away from the M.P.T.O.A.

To the casual observer it would seem that Al's swing through the Eastern territory will prove negative in results. Mr. Steffes has nothing to offer but oratory. His organization has not, as yet, accomplished anything, whereas the M.P.T.O.A., although it functions far from perfect, has undoubtedly done considerable good for exhibitors. If Mr. Steffe's organization can, at the end of a year, show that it has made accomplishments greater than those of the national body, he will no doubt find a number of states ready to follow, but if he can offer nothing more than hot air he will find the exhibitors amused but he will also discover that they take their theatre owning more seriously.

Seasonal Slump Hits All Broadway Houses

(Continued from page 1)

pictures will be the lure to drag 'em in.

Theatres in New York, however, are faring better than those of other cities where flu has put a damper on picture going, owing to instructions from physicians to avoid crowds.

As a whole, Broadway houses are doing their regular seasonal business.

HITCHCOCK GETS FOX STEREO-COLOR-SOUND

(Special Cable to Exhibitors Daily Review)

LONDON — The third-dimension stereoscopic sound pictures in color which will be produced in Hollywood, based on the Spoor-Thompson process, was brought to Fox by Frank H. Hitchcock. The first pictures of Niagara Falls has been viewed by Fox officials and found to be free of all distortion and to create a life-like illusion.

The original Spoor-Thompson process required a special projector and lens. The new Fox system is used with standard-size film. Fox is banking on these pictures for a new sensation and they may revolutionize the industry as sound has done.

Bow-Wow-Wow-Wuff!

The gentleman at the box-office of the Central Theatre where First National's first talking picture, "The Barker," co-starring Milton Sills and Dorothy Mackaill, is playing, announces publicly that he is sick and tired of assuring ticket purchasers that "The Barker" is not a dog picture and that Rin-Tin-Tin does not head the cast. He declares that up to last night's performance he had answered that question forty-one times.

From F.N. Publicity Office.

Divorce for Plants

PARIS—Dec. 13 — The way has finally been cleared for a divorce for Philip M. Plant, youthful and debonair Long Island multimillionaire, and his charming wife, the former Constance Bennett, former picture actress.

This was learned from unquestionable authority last night as Plant sailed westward on a trans-Atlantic voyage homeward for the holidays.

While everything is the most amicable between the two, the situation is best described by the old phrase that "they've agreed to disagree."

REINHARDT ARRIVING DEC. 24 FOR U. S. PROD.

Max Reinhardt, foremost figure in Europe's theatre, sails Saturday from Boulogne for New York, on the S. S. New York. He comes to America to make his first motion picture. This film will be produced at the United Artists Studio in Hollywood and Miss Lillian Gish will be its star.

Miss Gish is now in New York, awaiting arrival of Professor Reinhardt on Monday, December 24th. After three days in New York the entire party will go to Hollywood, where the picture will be placed in production immediately. Reinhardt will import several players from Europe for the cast of his initial film.

British Censor 598

During the first nine months of this year, as reported by the Department of Commerce, the feature films censored in Great Britain numbered 598, 429 being censored during the first six months, the other 169 during July, August and September. These were films of 3,000 feet and over.

Northwest Theatre Trouble Is Settled

(Continued from page 1)

in Minneapolis.

After conferring for three days the terms were finally agreed upon. They are: that 28 shows constituted one week instead of the 23 shows demanded by the stagehands. That there are to be only 3 stagehands at each theatre instead of the 6 there now.

A settlement was also reached in the controversy between the stagehands and the Hennepin Orpheum Theatre, also of Minneapolis.

ACADEMY STARTS SERIES OF TALKIE EDUCATIONALS

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 13—Today the first of a series of talking picture addresses planned for the use of colleges and other educational institutions and for general exhibition was completed and it was announced by Douglas Fairbanks, President of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. The speech is by Milton Sills, film star and former member of the faculty of the University of Chicago. It was recorded at Warner Bros. studio and will be given its first public reproduction during the National Convention of Teachers of Speech in Chicago, December 27th to 29th.

It will supplement a paper to be read at the convention by Ray Kimmel, Dean of the School of Speech of the University of Southern California. This practical demonstration of talking pictures for informative purposes was made possible for the academy through the cooperation of Warner Bros., the Eastman Kodak Company and Will H. Hays, President of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc.

Germans Active

According to the Department of Commerce, reporting on foreign production, Berlin studio activity increased during October, 157 studio days being fully and 290 studio days partly occupied out of the 575 available.

Roxy Theatre

CLASS A-COMMON-UNIT BOUGHT AND SOLD

BAINBRIDGE & RYAN

Members of Stock Exchange

100 Broadway
New York City

Telephone Rector 3960

Attention of Edward E. Smith

AT A SACRIFICE

Full equipment for small house.
650 leather uph. chairs
2 projectors.
12 large lobby frames.
1 large ticket booth.

Can be examined by appointment,
by—

Mr. I. Goldstein
691 Elizabeth Ave. Newark, N. J.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 138

New York, Saturday, December 15, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Words To Wylie

By

Arthur James

THE Reverend David G. Wylie, D.D., president of the Lord's Day Alliance, says: "I am against commercializing the day (Sunday) and what disturbs me is how to have a law universally applicable to all citizens. Why should men who want to sell shoes, hats, clothes and other articles be arrested and the men who sell amusements go free?"

THE manifest reason, Dr. Wylie, is that the men who sell amusements are essential to the recreation at low cost for the general public. The trolley cars and railroads run on Sunday, and properly, for the convenience of the public. Amusements are necessary, as is fully recognized by thoughtful people, to the well being of those who for six days in the week are on the treadmill of business.

THE Sunday motion pictures do not commercialize Sunday. They do not run morning shows in opposition to the pulpits of the country and the fact that they are able to receive money to pay the expenses and to pay the employees for their services is no reason why they should be classed as fully commercial.

EVEN the great charities have to have their expenses paid and the Sunday shows in many theatres of the United States are run more for the convenience of the public than for the profit of the owners.

DR. WYLIE wants a "law universally applicable to all citizens". Now why doesn't the good doctor and his organization recognize the fact that there already is a fundamental law of this republic which calls for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness for every citizen?

TO mess into the people's amusements, to seek to restrain them from their harmless pleasures and recreations is to tie down the safety valve and invite an explosion. The good doctor is too excellent a man to permit his beliefs to warp his judgment of the rights of others.

LAWs don't make people over. Sometimes persuasion does. If the Sabbath Alliance would change the public's ideas of Sunday let it

(Continued on page 4)

RCA MERGES WITH VICTOR CO. PLAN 3-WAY TELEVISION SETS

FOX N. Y. CLOSINGS WAIT UNTIL JAN. 20

All Fox deals to take over the circuits of the independent exhibitors are scheduled to be closed within the next three weeks have been postponed until January 20th. Billy Brandt's Brooklyn houses

(Continued on page 4)

PHONOFILM SALES SET IN 4 TERRITORIES

Authorized distributors of DeForest Phonofilm theatre installations recently appointed by General Talking Pictures Corporation have already established their headquarters in four of the twelve zones into

(Continued on page 4)

Goetz Here Monday

Harry M. Goetz, comptroller at the Paramount studios in Hollywood arrives in New York Monday on his annual trip to the eastern headquarters to attend a series of business conferences.

Beware!

In face of absolute denials by Nicholas M. Schenck and William Fox, both men of the highest standing and veracity, that there was to be a sale of Loew-M-G-M to the Fox organization the rumor broke loose again yesterday in Wall Street, leading to the belief that they originated in and were a part of pool propaganda. Many times in the history of the street an outside group seeking to influence the stock, either up or down, has hired professional propagandists to keep the rumors going along the lines they desired. In some cases publications have been victimized for that purpose. The attention of the trade is called to this pernicious practice.

ORGAN COS. LOSE LABOR DECISION

Six organ companies yesterday lost an injunction appeal against seven labor unions in the U. S. Circuit Court before Judges Swan, Hand and Manton.

The companies, Aeolian, Wurlit-

(Continued on page 4)

Woodhull Returning, Chuckles At Mention of Allied States

France May Modify Contingent Law

By Sam Harris
"Today's Cinema"

PARIS—France expects to face trouble with America again on the contingent question. The trade has come to suitable agreements with the Germans, but America stands firmly in the way.

M. Delac, President of the Chambre Syndicale has stated that a period of difficulties and disagreements is ahead in regard to the U. S. A. It is highly probable that the trade will ask the Government to modify the contingent requirements.

R. F. (Pete) Woodhull, National president of the M.P.T.O.A. stepped off a train yesterday in the Pennsylvania Station after a tour which took him to Omaha, St. Louis, the Tri State Convention of Mississippi, Tennessee and Arkansas and his trip included visits to Oklahoma and North Carolina.

As Mr. Woodhull swept down the train platform it was noted that he was laughing and our special Pennsylvania Station correspondent stepped up to him and asked him why.

"I am sorry, but I can't let you in on the joke just yet, it wouldn't be nice for me to do it," Mr. Woodhull replied between chuckles. And then after inquiry about the progress of the Christmas shopping the Na-

(Continued on page 4)

Radio — Phonograph and Television All in One Cabinet Coming

NEW CO. FORMING

The deal for taking over the Victor Talking Machine Co. was closed yesterday by the Radio Corporation of America. The market on Radio went up 42 points immediately on receipt of the information by the Street.

It is not expected that the Victor Corporation will lose its identity but that the associations with these companies will resolve themselves into new companies being formed, in which the Radio Corporation will

(Continued on page 4)

WARNERS BUYING SIXTY THEATRES

Within a week or the next ten days, Warner Brothers expect to close negotiations for the purchase of some 60 theatres throughout Ohio, Maryland and Pennsylvania, located in 25 cities.

Major Albert Warner, in discussing the expansion move, expects to make public the names of the cities and theatres, as soon as the papers are signed. The new acquisitions will be operated under the general Warner-Vitaphone policy.

Adler For Talkies

Bert Adler has formed a new company called the Bertad Pictures with a capital of 200 shares of common stock, to produce and distribute a talking picture and Adler is now a member of the firm of Woody & Adler, distributors of roadshow pictures.

STANLEY PROFIT FOR 9 MOS. $695,640

Net income of Stanley Co. of America for 13 weeks ended September 29, 1928, was $202,982 after depreciation, federal taxes and minority interest in subsidiaries. For 39 weeks ended September 29 net income totaled $695,640 after above deductions.

ANOTHER KING GIVES ROYAL APPROVAL TO FOX MOVIEZONE

Hear! hear!

Alfonso XIII

King of Actors

What a comedian!

What a regular fellow!

Your audiences will love to meet the King of Spain.

And after they've met him, they'll feel they have a new pal.

That's how the warm,
friendly personality of
King Alfonso registers in
Fox Movietone.

Like the royal recording of King George of England,
this intimate talk to America by His Majesty was recorded exclusively for

F
MOVIETONEWS

X Your Speaking Acquaintance with Kings

This ticket - selling feature to all theatres playing issues

WILLIAM FOX
has the honor to present
A Voice From The Throne
HIS MAJESTY, ALFONSO XIII
KING of SPAIN

supplied at no extra cost
A, B or C F
MOVIE TONEWS
X

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; James Cron, general manager; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

M. A. Kraus was elected to membership of the Motion Picture Club with his name sandwiched between Patrick J. Casey and John W. Maloney . . . Now what chance has that guy to start anything! . . . Pat Garyn observes that every gathering outside of business is referred to as "making whoopee" whether the said whoopee is made or not . . . Dr. Straton may soon put on whoopee sermons . . . Henry Henigson of Los Angeles is in what is often referred to as our midst . . . Charles Pettijohn who hasn't been so spruce lately because of a gastrical nursery that laid him good and flat, will leave today for a few days rest and recuperation before the big legislation program begins . . . Col. W. F. Clark of Toronto is due back in New York Monday . . . A short reel subject is a mid-gest with three drinks, says Charley Einfeldt . . . Glendon Allvine is a gripe victim . . . and speaking of which the ribald persons will soon be calling it "making gripe-pee" . . . Fannie Brice will warble "My Man" on the Warner Brothers Vitaphone Jubilee Hour next Monday night over WOR . . . That fair-haired youth Skeets Gallagher is marching on to bigger and better things, starting yesterday, when he left for California to play with Charles Rogers in that Paramount star's next picture . . . Charles Grapewin and Anna Chance, vaudevillians, are making a two-reel talkie for Universal out on the Coast . . . Film Arts Guild has obtained the American rights to a French film called "The Hunchback" by producer of "The Soul of France" which Paramount will release . . . Gaston Jacquet plays the hunchback and won't Lon Chaney be sore . . . Ad noted in the Cinema Star of India—"Wanted, experienced cinematographer at salary of $50 per month to start—good prospects" . . . Any takers?

Snoopee Lynn Mayor Gives Wide World A Giggle, Approves "The Naked Truth"

O, and the Things They Call That Feller!

The film industry is having a grand giggle over Mayor Bauer, the big snoopee king of Lynn, Mass., who banned "Our Dancing Daughters" because it now comes to light that he saw and approved of "The Naked Truth". The excellent Burlington, Vermont, News says:

"The Naked Truth" was recently barred by Mayor Nichols from its showing in Boston, claiming that it was unfit for public exhibition. However, the film was then shown to Mayor Bauer, of Lynn, Mass., who greatly differed with the Boston mayor, and claimed that a film such as "The Naked Truth" would be of beneficial value to any community, and had granted permission to the management of the Auditorium in Lynn, to show the film where it ran for four weeks showing to tremendous crowds . . . It is said that this film is not hesitating in presenting the bare facts as they are. It has the support of the welfare organizations, women's clubs as well as the clergy in most of the large cities where it has recently been shown."

Snoopee

It appears that this snoopee Mayor Bauer is a good deal of an old fusspot. In a speech made by him at a meeting held under the auspices of the Reading, Mass., Board of Trade, and appearing in the Reading Chronicle of Nov. 23rd there appears a resume of the Mayor's talk:

"One day the Mayor visited some of Lynn's public schools and found that the teachers were smoking cigarettes after school hours."

"You can't teach in the public schools of Lynn and smoke cigarettes," he told them. "I have been called an old fashioned prune for this statement," he went on "but it didn't phase me. The standards of living are formed in the students while they are in school and it certainly isn't going to make good citizens of boys and girls if they see or know that their teacher is smoking cigarettes."

He is called variously, "The Big Prune of Lynn", the "Lounge Lizard of Virtue" and the wrong as against the right, Bauer.

Fox N. Y. Closings

Wait Until Jan. 20

(Continued from page 1)

were to be taken over today; Rachmil and Rinsler's Brooklyn Theatres, 9 in all, were to be taken over on December 20th; Joelson and Suchman's 14 theatres in Manhattan, Bronx and Brooklyn, were to be acquired on December 27th.

The Springer circuit of 9 theatres in Manhattan and Bronx, and Grob and Nobel's houses in Fordham and Long Island, were to be taken over on January 5th. The reason for this change of schedule was not revealed.

BERLIN LIKES FRED THOMSON AND NOVARRO

By Dr. R. OTTO

(Special Cable to Exhibitors Daily Review)

BERLIN—Fred Thomson in the Paramount picture, "Jesse James", directed by Lloyd Ingraham, had a splendid success here in the Ufa Pavilion, also Ramon Novarro delighted his admirers again in the Metro-Goldwyn production, "The Road to Romance."

On the other hand the French Albatros picture, "Le Groom de Chez Maxim" starring and directed by the comedian Nicolas Rimsky was decidedly turned down by the critics and the British and Foreign production, "Villa Falconieri" directed by Richard Oswald and distributed in Italy by Pittaluga, evoked a loud whistling at the end.

GLAUBER HANDLING REELTONE SALES

The Four - Square - Distributing Corporation has been formed by Arthur and Stanley Less, and Charles and Murray Weintraub for the purpose of distributing Reeltone in Connecticut and also in Tennessee, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Mississippi.

Jack H. Glauber has been retained as Sales Manager and this new organization has already begun an intensive campaign for educating the exhibitors in their territory as to the value of Reeltone.

Organ Cos. Lose

Labor Decision

(Continued from page 1)

zer, Moller, Estey, Skinner and Austin sought to restrain the unions from forcing them to employ union labor in the installation of organs, through sympathetic strikes.

The dissenting opinion by Judge Manton, clears the way for an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

RCA Merges with Victor

Co.—Plan 3-Way Sets

(Continued from page 1)

have a stock interest, contributing in each case that which is necessary to the success of the merger interests, in return for stock.

The Victor company has been deriving a large share of its current revenue from the synchronization of motion pictures both in its Camden and Coast studios.

It is understood that the negotiations for Victor will take in the developments in television, in which both companies are interested and which means that eventually a joint cabinet including radio, talking machine and television, would be put on the market. By this merger, the greatest measure of economy in perfecting and marketing this ultimate of machines will be effected.

WORDS TO WYLIE

(Continued from page 1)

do it by persuasion and not by law, leaving it to the individual the right to choose. Any other course is slavish and un-American not to say very unwise.

Phonofilm Sales Set In 4 Territories

(Continued from page 1)

which the country has been divided.

E. S. Manheimer and George Mooser, who are the distributors for New York State and northern New Jersey, have established headquarters at 729 Seventh Avenue, New York City. They will also have a sales room in the executive offices of General Talking Pictures at 218 West 42nd Street. Within the next two weeks a branch office will be established in Buffalo or Albany.

P. Harrison, Jr., who was appointed authorized distributor for the southern states, has established sales forces in each of the branch offices of the Harcol Motion Pictures Industries, Inc., of which he is the head. Harcol's main office is at 610-612 Baronne Street, New Orleans, and there are six branches covering each of the exchange centres in the southern states.

Jesse C. Fishman, who is the authorized distributor for Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky, western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, has his headquarters in the Film Building, 21st and Payne Streets, Cleveland and has established branch offices in Pittsburg, Cincinnati, and Detroit.

Ben Amsterdam who was given the territory embraced by eastern Pennsylvania, southern New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and The District of Columbia, has established headquarters at 1329 Vine Street, Philadelphia.

Woodhull Chuckles at Mention of Allied States

(Continued from page 1)

tional President was asked about the Allied States Organization.

"Oh, that", he said, "I found very little talk about it on my trip. The topics under discussion at the various sessions were sound pictures, legislation, big overheads, combating censorship and other matters important to the nourishment of the box office."

"I see no reason for two national organizations, as I believe that the exhibitors should pass the public reviewing stand in solid procession. I don't think we need waste any time on it. Let's see what we can find out about interchangeability."

During the pedestrian interview Mr. Woodhull continued to smile and occasionally to chuckle, so it was the special correspondent's guess that the thing he was laughing at was the Allied States movement.

English Talkie Inventor Here To Launch Device

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 139

New York, Monday, December 17, 1928

FIVE CENTS

There's Peskay For Instance

By

Arthur James

EDWARD PESKAY, who conducts the Rivoli Theatre in a suburb of St. Joseph, Mo., recently sent letters to the editors of the trade papers—all of them as far as we know—in which he presented himself in the role of martyr. He accused the Missouri Theatre—the Publix Cooper house—of having under control practically every picture from every company in the territory and of deliberately buying them with the single purpose of not permitting Peskay to re-enter the first run field.

IT IS unusual for suburban theatres located close to the big cities to come under first run class, but that is neither here nor there. The point is that Peskay charged the Missouri Theatre with setting up a monopoly. The facts are presented fully elsewhere in today's issue of this newspaper.

IN brief, there are three first run houses in St. Joseph, the Electric, Colonial and Missouri. These houses all along have taken precedence over the suburban house of Peskay. Each is independently owned and each house uses 104 pictures a year or a total of 312 pictures on the first run basis.

HOW Peskay figures out that there was any monopoly in that section is beyond the view of this writer.

SEVERAL of the papers in the field published Peskay's howl without investigation. This one didn't. A look into the situation developed the facts which are presented elsewhere. From where we sit it would look as though the martyr business in the suburbs of St. Joseph, Mo. is not likely to flourish heavily.

THE very excellent Morning Telegraph speaks of the events of ten years ago and observes that "Two Gentlemen, one Samuel Goldfish, the other S. L. Rothafel, were indulging in a transcontinental procession during which they were wine and dined legally by exhibitors and newspaper men".

WILL the Morning Telegraph oblige in some forthcoming issue what newspaper men were buying dinners and wine for these two gentlemen?

Peskay Charges Against Missouri Theatre Unfounded--Product Available

Grindell-Matthews Talking Co. Formed--Warners After Patents

German Government Taboo on Films

By Dr. R. OTTO

(Special Cable to Exhibitors Daily Review)

BERLIN—Members of the German Parliament do not look upon films with high esteem. From high authority in the Reichstag, I hear that government funds for the motion picture industry is out of the question; all parties, including the powerful Socialist Party, would fight any bill granting money for pictures.

U. A. EXPLOITATION STAFF DISBANDED

SEATTLE — The United Artists exploitation department from coast to coast has been done away with, effective last Saturday.

This includes Irving Waterstreet, working out of the Seattle office, who has completed a campaign for "The Awakening."

PINCUS MANAGING PUBLIX PORTLAND

PORTLAND—Charles M. Pincus, new Publix manager of the Portland Theatre has arrived from the South to take over the reins from Floyd Maxwell, who has been called back to the Broadway.

Pincus' first week was one of the

(Continued on page 4)

Only 37 F. Nationals

First National, it is understood, will schedule 37 productions for the coming season instead of the usual 50. It is unlikely that any outside pictures will be made for First National release this year. Jack Warner and Al Rockett will supervise all production.

Pioneer's Photo-Electric Cell, Sound-on-Film Method Sought

H. Grindell-Matthews, the famous English inventor of the death-ray, and one of the founders of the photo-electric cell for talking motion pictures, has arrived in the U. S. and has formed a new company, the Grindell-Matthews Speaking Film Corporation, with a $25,000 capital. The Grindell-Matthews process is the sound-on-film method with a very fine sound track.

It is understood that Warner Brothers are greatly interested in the Grindell-Matthews patents and the report is current on film row that some understanding has already been reached. If this is so, it may not be surprising to see the Warners floating a sound-on-film program, if there should be a reversion of the disc method of recording among producers.

Hatrick Returns

E. B. Hatrick, in charge of the motion picture interests of William Randolph Hearst, returned Saturday from his quarterly trip to the coast.

60 FIRST RUNS BOOK PATHE'S "ANNAPOLIS"

The sound version of Pathe's "Annapolis," with a spirited musical score of famous navy and specially composed popular melodies of nautical theme, is reported going as strong as the silent edition. Already over sixty houses have lined up for current or early showing of the synchronized version.

Nichols—"U" Suit Up

Suit of Anne Nichols against Universal, for alleged piracy of "Abie's Irish Rose" for the film "The Cohens and the Kellys" is scheduled to be heard this week before Federal Judge Goddard.

Unplayed Contracts and Labor Troubles Cause of Rivoli Shut Down

FILMS OBTAINABLE

Edward Peskay, the proprietor of the Rivoli, a suburban theatre of St. Joseph, Mo., lately addressed a letter to the editors of exhibitor magazine, which examined under the light of fact, is clearly misleading. It may be that Mr. Peskay imagined that St. Joseph was so far distant from the editors of these exhibitor journals that he could talk fast and loose, and not be found out. If this was the case, he was laboring under a delusion. It may be, to, that Mr. Peskay desires to be considered a martyr. From all accounts, however, it seems that those who have had to dispose of pictures to him are the ones who are entitled to the crown of martyrdom.

One of the chief allegations in his yelp is to the following effect: "The Missouri Theatre, the Publix-Cooper house, has under contract for first run showing, practically every picture from every company in the territory, deliberately buying them with the one thought in view; of not permitting us to re-enter the first run field."

Mistaken Idea

In the first place, Mr. Peskay's Rivoli Theatre is a suburban theatre. The first run houses are not, as is well known to the trade, usually located in the suburbs of any city. As to the charge that the Missouri Theatre has under contract for first run showing, practically every picture from every company in the territory, this is either wilful falsification on Mr. Peskay's part, or else downright ignorance.

There are three first run houses in St. Joseph,—the Electric, Colonial, and Missouri. These houses have

(Continued on page 4)

AMPA TIE-UP WITH T.P.R.A. UNDER WAY

Two important developments in the closed meeting of the AMPA last week were the decision to establish its own headquarters and the proposal to affiliate with the Theatri-

(Continued on page 4)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; James Cron, general manager; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London W. 1

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

Aaron Singer has written a play on the subject of trade papers and it will be interesting to see who is to be cast as the heavy, who for the juvenile lead and who for the comedian — conscious or unconscious — It's all set—Joseph Hergesheimer is to go again to Hollywood where, two years ago, he cut a wide swath as a social lion, a lion amiable and with a wiggly front tooth. Joseph goes at the gilded beckoning of Samuel Goldwyn, who is one of the industry's best beckoners — Mike Lewis of Paramount once described as the handsomest man in that organization, is today so fit that somebody yesterday called him the Beau Brummel of statistics — Albert S. Howson of the famous old English family of actors, who story authorities for Warner Brothers, is still threatened with the tasks of Eastern production manager, whether he knows it or not. Already he has enough to do to keep his hair mussed — Louis E. Schneider, Division Manager of Publix Theatres holding responsibility as far south as San Antonio and west to Denver, enjoyed three whole nights in a regular bed during the recent meeting of District Managers at the home offices, his normal sleeping accommodations being on wheels — John Friedl, Publix District Manager for Texas, finding himself threatened with a well-earned Eastern assignment, spent one night in each of three Broadway hotels, and reported favorably to himself on all of them—no wheels, no rumbles, no roars except at the bell hops.

Believe It Odor Not!

Now that motion pictures are to be seen and heard, Terry Ramsaye, who creates those little screen novelty d'oeuvres for Pathe Review, is hoping somebody will perfect an ol factory device for the camera soon. He is in the midst of making a Pathe Review showing the evolution of perfume from flower to bottle and would like to be able to announce it as the first "smell picture".

7% Hedwig Dividend

The regular quarterly meeting of the directors of the Hedwig Motion Picture Laboratories, Inc., was held December 13 at the laboratory offices at Congress Avenue, Flushing, L. I. Dividends were declared on the Preferred stock of 7% and a small dividend on the common.

The company showed a good profit for the nine months of 1928 ending October 31st.

Pat Kearney Back With Paramount

Patrick Kearney, one of the most successful members of the younger group of American playwrights is now on the writing staff at the Paramount studio in Hollywood. Kearney is best known for his dramatization of Theodore Dreiser's "An American Tragedy" and also of "A Man's Man."

"LISTEN BABY" SECOND PATHE TALKIE FEATURE

"Listen Baby" will be the second all-talking Pathe feature to be produced after "The Missing Man". The story which was based on Elsie Janis and Gene Markey, will be a Paul Bern Production, supervised by William Counselman.

Eddie Quillan will have the lead, further sound tests for other parts being conducted by Edmund Goulding.

Thursday Openings

Beginning with December 20th all Paramount-Publix Roadshows will open in New Haven, Ct. with their initial performance on Thursday. Their former opening day was Friday.

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.

for Library Stock Scenes
130 W. 46th St. New York
Bryant 8181

Classified Advertisement

Advertisements in this section, 5 cents per word. Cash must be sent with order. No charge for Box Number line. Minimum order, $1. 10% discount 12 issues or more.

FOR SALE

MOTION PICTURE AND "STILL" cameras rented, sold and exchanged. Portable lights for sale and for rent. Keep us advised of your wants. Ruby Camera Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

LOCAL FILMS

MOTION PICTURES MADE TO order. Commercial, Home or Industrial. We have excellent facilities and the best cameramen. Our price, 20c per foot. Ruby Film Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

WHETHER YOU WANT TO HIRE some one or be hired; buy or sell a theatre; trade or sell equipment, or do almost anything else in the motion picture business, an ad in this department will get you results. If you want us to word the ad for you, the services of our advertising experts are at your call. Simply tell us what you want to do, and how many words you want used. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

UNITED ARTISTS

Will Move Their Exchange on January 1st to 6th Floor in

Film Center Building

44th Street · NINTH AVENUE · 45th Street

On January 1st

NEW YORK'S FILM DISTRIBUTING CENTER
WILL BE DEFINITELY ESTABLISHED ON NINTH AVENUE

First National Educational
F. B. O.
Pathe Exchange

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer
Universal
United Artists
Hollywood Pictures

All will be located in Film Center Building

SEND FOR PLANS OF DIVIDED FLOORS
AND SMALLER OFFICES

225 FIFTH AVENUE

Spear & Co.
INC.

Phone Ashland 4200

FILM CENTER, INC., Builders . . . ABE N. ALELSON, Pres.

PICTURE REVIEWS

"Revenge"

United Artists
Directed by.....Edwin Carewe
Starring.....Dolores Del Rio
SLOW P A C E D H E A V Y
D R A M A P I C T O R I A L L Y
B E A U T I F U L . W I L L A T -
T R A C T T H E C U S T O M E R S
O N T H E S T R E N G T H O F M I S S
D E L R I O ' S D R A W I N G P O W - E R .

Dolores Del Rio is Rascha, the bear tamers daughter who aches and writhes for a man to come along who will sweep her off her feet, one who will completely subdue her even as she has tamed the wild bears. He comes along in the person of Jorga, the bandit, who is out to revenge himself on Rascha's father, but he meets Rascha first and cuts off her hair, which is Gypsy for "shame". From then on it's just a question of time before Rascha realizes that she doesn't hate Jorga and gets her man for a neat fade-out.

Miss Del Rio goes thru hundreds of feet of bosom heaving and facial contortions and someone should teach her the art of restraint. Even gypsies have moments of calm. However, the gal is attractive and at least gives the picture life. The photography is very fine and there is a novel way of introducing the characters, done in technicolor, which is very good.

Exhibitors need not worry about this one, for the boys and gals will like it. It's just disappointing after the fine pictures Carewe and Miss Del Rio have made before.

"Veiled Lady"

Fox
Directed by.....Emmett Flynn
Featuring.....Paul Vincinti,
Lia Tora and Joseph Swickard.
S O P H I S T I C A T E D D R A M A
I N T H E E U R O P E A N M A N -
N E R . T H E S T O R Y I S N O T H -
I N G N E W A N D T H E P R O -
D U C T I O N D R A G S V E R Y
O F T E N . T H E S I T U A T I O N S
R E C E I V E G O O D T R E A T -
M E N T T H O A N D T H E P U B -
L I C W I L L N O T B E D I S A P - P O I N T E D .

The plot gets itself all tangled up in the fact that the heroine has three sweethearts, almost making John Gilbert look like an amateur. However, there is a good climax that works out the situations satisfactorily and everybody's happy.

The tempo of the picture is slow and speed would have helped it considerably, but Emmett Flynn has done a good workmanlike job on it and deserves to have better and simpler working material. The picture serves to bring to the public faces that are quite unfamiliar, in the persons of Paul Vincinti and Lia Tora. They register well, altho their work lacks finesse. Kenneth Thompson and Lu Gosi give capable support.

Altogether this picture will go much better when it is distributed in foreign lands. It will do well enough in the big cities here but its success is doubtful in the neighborhood theatre.

"Show Folks"

Pathe
Directed by.....Paul Stein
Featuring.....Eddie Quillan,
Lina Basquette, Robert Armstrong, Bessie Barriscale.
G O O D B E T F O R N E I G H -
B O R H O O D H O U S E S . F A S T ,
L I G H T C O M E D Y - D R A M A
W I T H T A L K I N G S E Q U E N C E
F O R C L I M A X . E N T E R T A I N -
I N G , E S P E C I A L L Y F O R
T H O S E W H O L I K E D A N C I N G
A N D S T A G E L I F E .

A "hooper" sets out in search of a partner and meets up with Rita Carey, a clerk in a pet shop. He teaches her to dance with the result that she becomes better than teacher and consequently the star of the act. She meets Robert Owens a big time producer, who is anxious to secure her as his leading lady in his new show. Shortly after she breaks with Eddie and signs a contract with Owens. During a dress rehearsal she learns that Eddie's act is a flop. She rushes to the theatre to help him out, when Owens puts in an appearance, demanding an explanation for her actions. Rita explains that she loves Eddie and doesn't intend leaving him again. Owens makes the best of the situation and does the disappearing act, promising he will forget her contract.

The same old theme but handled very nicely. Eddie Quillan and Lina Basquette stand out from the rest of the cast, and the performance as a whole is sharp enough to provide good entertainment.

"Apaches of Paris"

UFA
Directed by.....Nikolai Malikoff
Featuring.....Nikolai Malikoff,
Jaques Catelain, Ruth Weyer.
P O O R , D I S C O N N E C T E D
D R A M A O F T H E A P A C H E S
I N P A R I S . W H A T L I T T L E
H U M O R T H E R E I S , I S
H E A V I L Y H A N D L E D . P H O -
T O G R A P H Y I S T E R R I B L E
A N D T H E P R O D U C T I O N
H A S E V I D E N T L Y L O S T
M U C H I N T H E C U T T I N G
A N D E D I T I N G F O R A M E R I -
C A N C O N S U M P T I O N .

The story concerns itself with the leader of an apache gang Henri, who falls in love with an American heiress. He steals her bracelet and then returns it to her leading her to believe that he is a hero. They go slumming one night and in a low dive, they meet Henri's gang. The gang steals the girl's bag which she has given to Henri for safe keeping and attempt to rob her house but her chauffeur has gotten there first and so the gang is foiled, Henri is vindicated of the suspicion of theft that has hung over him and the girl decides that she loves him.

The direction is amateurish and the acting is all decidedly ham. It cannot begin to compare with the average American program fare and it is obvious that the foreign conception of Americans is equally as funny as our idea of European people.

"Adoration"

First National
Directed by.....Frank Lloyd
Featuring.....Billie Dove,
Antonio Moreno, Nicholas Sous-sain, Emile Chautard.
A T T R A C T I V E L Y P R O D U C - T I D , W E L L A C T E D D R A M A
O F F A I T H F U L L O V E
A G A I N S T A B A C K G R O U N D
O F R E V O L U T I O N A R Y
S C E N E S I N R U S S I A . O R -
C H E S T R A L S Y N C H R O N I Z A -
T I O N A N O T E O F T R U E S E N -
T I M E N T T H R U O U T .

Mobs in the streets of Petrograd are gathering to initiate the revolution. Prince Orloff, about to leave for the war front, is driven to sudden jealousy by the attentions to his wife of Vladimir, and aristocratic voluptuary. As he leaves, he believes he sees his bride entering the house of Vladimir—though it is the figure of Elena's maid wearing her mistress's coat. Later, Vladimir, lives luxuriously in Paris with Elena's maid among his favorites, while the Prince and Princess are exiled there in poverty. He carries a revolver with three cartridges—one for the Princess, one for Vladimir and the last for himself. The prince is a dissipated drudge in a Paris-Russian cafe. There, as a waitress, Elena meets him. She realizes that nothing but proof of her innocence will cause the Prince to be reconciled. She goes to Vladimir's house for it. The Prince follows, and is about to use the three cartridges when the former maid appears and clears Elena of all suspicion.

Billie Dove fits into her sentimental role excellently. The production throughout should please the average audience anywhere.

"The Yellow Ticket"

Amkino Presentation
Featuring.....Anna Sten
and I. I. Koval Samborski.
Directed by.....F. Ozep
A N U N E X C I T I N G R U S S I A N
P I C T U R I Z A T I O N O F P O V E R -
T Y . S L O W M O V I N G T H R U -
O U T W I T H A S E R I E S O F
D I S C O N N E C T E D S E Q U E N -
C E S A N D P O O R A C T I N G .

Peter and his family live on a farm. They work hard but are not rewarded for their efforts because the land is bad. They have no money with which to pay the rent so Maria accepts employment as a nurse for the landlord's grandchild. She doesn't send any money and Peter is forced to give up the home. He comes to the city to see her and learns from the doorman that she had an affair with the master. Utterly disappointed and dejected he returns to the village. Maria quits shortly after and becomes innocently involved in the arrest of a crowd of street women thereby acquiring what is known as the yellow ticket. This prevents her from finding employment and she begins to frequent these women's haunts. Until one night she meets a friend of her husbands who informs her that Peter had been crippled in an explosion. She rushes back to him and all is forgiven.

Mr. Ozep dwells too long upon details of unimportance. Many feet of film unwind itself, revealing so many scenes of trees and flowers that one might think a lesson in Botany was the directors object. However it will attract people who like pictures.

"Three Week Ends"

Paramount
Directed by.....Clarence Badger
Starring.....Clara Bow
with Neil Hamilton, Harrison Ford.
T H E U S U A L " I T " S T U F F
O N L Y M O R E S O . A B I T
T I R E S O M E A F T E R M I S S
B O W ' S O T H E R P I C T U R E S
B U T I T H A S A L L T H E I N -
G R E D I E N T S S O T H A T H E R
P O P U L A R I T Y S H O U L D N O T
S U F F E R .

THE USUAL "IT" STUFF ONLY MORE SO. A BIT TIRESOME AFTER MISS BOW'S OTHER PICTURES BUT IT HAS ALL THE INGREDIENTS SO THAT HER POPULARITY SHOULD NOT SUFFER.

In order to vary her situations Madame Glyn has Miss Bow impersonate a night club dancer in this one who is of course, of poor but honest parents. Gladys, (Miss Bow,) aspires to riches and ease but naturally when she discovers that the man she has promised to marry is a struggling insurance agent, she decides that it must be love and sets about to make it possible for him to sell a million dollar policy to the wealthy Mr. Turner.

Thin stuff at best, this entirely original plot, but in it the red-headed Bow, looking for all the world like a blonde, is permitted to go fully clothed in only about a dozen scenes, which makes the plot ticken. The one bright spot in a garish picture is Harrison Ford's work as the rich Mr. Turner. He has kidded his part beautifully. Neil Hamilton is so loggone hero that it's as easy as saying. Clarence Badger directed the picture but just why Joe Glutz (al) didn't have done it is a mystery. No reflections on Mr. Badger but this kind of story tells itself. However, it will undoubtedly aid the box-offices of the "Geraldine"

Pathe
Directed by.....Melville Brown
Featuring.....Marion Nixon and Eddie Quillan.
F A I R C O M E D Y D R A M A .
H A S N ' T G O T M U C H P E P
A N D T H E P R O D U C T I O N
L O O K S C H E A P B U T I T
S H O U L D D O G O O D B U S I -
N E S S I N T H E S M A L L T O W N S .
I D E A I S O L D B U T I T I S O N E
T H A T W I L L A L W A Y S R E - T A I N I T S A P P E A L .

FAIR COMEDY DRAMA. HASN'T GOT MUCH PEP AND THE PRODUCTION LOOKS CHEAP BUT IT SHOULD DO GOOD BUSINESS IN THE SMALL TOWNS. IDEA IS OLD BUT IT IS ONE THAT WILL ALWAYS RETAIN ITS APPEAL.

Marion Nixon as Geraldine, plays the part of a rich ugly duckling who is in love with a gay, no-account lawyer. Eddie Quillan is Eddie Abel, the boy who gets a job from Geraldine's father on the strength of his guarantee to change Geraldine into an irresistible beauty. Of course that part is easy and when all is said and done, including a cafe raid, Geraldine discovers that it is Eddie whom she loves and who is worthy of that distinction and so the audience presumes that they live happily ever after.

The director missed a flock of chances for some good comedy gags in this one. Altho the theme is anything but original, there is always room for new angles on the methods used in making a plain unattractive girl into a snappy modern number. Marion Nixon and Eddie Quillan are pleasing but it is Albert Gran as the fond father that walks away with the picture.

This will never go with sophisticated audiences but there are still plenty of people who like to see the plain, virtuous girl learn to burn 'em up while retaining all her in-

2 M-G-M Dialogue-Sound Features Done

Thalberg Lines Up All Features for Talkie—Music Synchronization

Swinging into capacity production on talking and sound pictures less than six months from time construction was first begun on the big new stages, is the record established by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

At the present time, two features completely synchronized with dialogue and sound effects are finished and more than a dozen West coast short subjects are on the market in addition to the large number of Movietone subjects completed in the East.

According to announcement by Irving G. Thalberg, dialogue or natural sound synchronization will be incorporated into virtually every feature film turned out at the Culver City plant, and a number of 100 per cent talking pictures are slated for immediate filming.

The first of the 100 per cent talkies to reach the public under M-G-M release will be "Broadway Melody," a spectacular screen musical extravaganza of back stage life. In it will be the first original musical comedy score to make its debut via films. Harry Beaumont, who made "Our Dancing Daughters" is responsible for the megaphoning and the featured players are Bessie Love, Anita Page and Charles King.

Henabery With Columbia

Joseph Henabery is the latest director of prominence to be added by Columbia to the directorial lineup the company is assembling to handle its "talkie" and silent productions. He joins such well-known megaphone handlers as Frank R. Capra, Erle C. Kenton, Phil Rosen, Christy Cabanne, Renaud Hoffman and Scott Dunlap.

Pincus Managing Publix Portland

(Continued from page 1)

biggest since it opened. The Portland under the Publix regime may show a different speed from this time on, as Pincus intends to remove the "chain operation" idea from this house, instituting instead a locally managed machine, with all responsibility on himself.

AMPA Tie-up With T.P.R.A. Under Way

(Continued from page 1)

cal Press Representatives of America. Paul Benjamin, Business Manager of AMPA is working out the clubroom idea while President Harvey appointed a committee of 4 to meet with the T.P.R. of A. Committee.

Nine new members were elected to AMPA last week. They were Melville A. Phillips, artist; Fred Eichorn, Universal; M. L. Simmons, Gotham-Bristolphone; Hank Linet, Associated Publications; C. J. Geigerich, Powers Cinephone; Al Steen, Associated Publications; Gavin C. Hawn; Hy Daab, FBO and M. J. Kandel, General Film Library.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Marian Davies will be starred in M-G-M's talkie version of Florenz Ziegfeld's musical success "Rosalie."

George O'Brien's next picture will be a dramatization of Ben Ames William's story, "Son of Anak."

Betty Boyd has the feminine lead opposite Monty Collins in "Social Prestige."

Arthur Stone and Marjorie Beebe have been added to the cast of "New Year's Eve," Mary Astor's next for Fox.

Warings Pennsylvanians will be seen and heard in the new FBO talkie, "Stepping High."

George Fitzmaurice has started actual shooting on Billie Dove's new picture, "The Man and the Moment."

Peskay Charges Against Theatre Unfounded

(Continued from page 1)

all along taken precedence over the Rivoli. Each has all along been an independently owned house, and each one of these houses has been using two pictures a week — first runs,—so that each house is using 104 pictures each year, or a total of 312 pictures a year.

If Mr. Peskay was correct in his statement that the Missouri had secured practically every picture from every company in the territory, the Electrical and Colonial could not have been kept open. When the Missouri Theatre opened in 1926, all of the Paramount product was split with the Electric, a competitive house. The Missouri bought the major part of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer product. The Electric has all of the First National product; the Missouri none of it. The Colonial has United Artists, Universal, Pathe, Fox, and other companies.

All Product Divided

This has been the lay of matters in St. Joseph up to the current season. At the present writing the products of the various companies are divided between these downtown, first run houses, in St. Joseph. The Colonial lately closed, preparing for sound installation.

It has been seen that these downtown theatres in St. Joseph have been using over 300 first run pictures in a year, and every one of these pictures is available to Mr. Peskay after the usual time limit.

Hard Customer

This, too, is not the first time that Mr. Peskay has closed his theatre. And when he states that he is unable to secure even second run pictures, the only answer to the same can be that the film salesmen and distributors have found him a hard person to deal with.

While Mr. Peskay claims that he is unable to keep his house open because the Missouri gets all the pictures, it is reported from St. Joseph that the reason given by him for his home town, for closing his theatre was because of labor troubles.

Peskay's final blast is to this

MORRIS SETS NATIONAL DATES ON 4 PICTURES

Warner Bros. will get away to a conspicuous start in 1929 with four big pictures released nationally both in Vitaphone and silent versions during the month of January, according to official announcement yesterday from Sam E. Morris, General Manager of Distribution.

Al Jolson in "The Singing Fool" is named by Mr. Morris for January first. This will be followed on the fifth by Audrey Ferris in "The Little Wildcat" directed by Ray Enright.

On January twelfth Fannie Brice's first motion picture, "My Man" directed by Archie Mayo is set for showings in wired and unwired houses throughout the country. The fourth feature of the January group is Monte Blue's starring special, "Conquest" made by Roy Del Ruth.

effect:

"We cannot obtain first run films, and we cannot obtain second run films."

It has already been shown how the first run pictures have been contracted for. As to Mr. Peskay being unable to secure any second run film, we turn to a paragraph earlier in his letter, to wit:

"On the basis of three changes a week or even two changes a week, you will instantly see, that we are overbought right now on the basis of playing all of the product released in one year during one year period from the Film Companies whose product we now have under contract."

As to the above, it is known that Mr. Peskay is under contract with Pathe for fifteen sound pictures, to be delivered during the year. He had a contract with Warner Brothers for a sound picture, December 8th to 9th, with two more coming in January. These were cancelled because of the closing of his theatre.

Plenty of Bookings

He is under contract for second run pictures with Paramount. He had a silent picture booked for last week, and three sound pictures for the three following weeks. In point of fact, Mr. Peskay was booked for each week up to the first of the year. All of these pictures were cancelled because of the closing of the theatre. First National had various sound pictures available, and many silent pictures to offer, but could not dispose of them to him. There are available to Mr. Peskay at least sixteen Universal Pictures.

FBO has eight sound pictures, and thirty other available, which he could secure. He has six pictures under contract with Fox, which he has not played. Also, he refused to contract with Fox for various other second-run pictures. He is under contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for second-run pictures in his theatre also. This firm has various pictures available at the present time, and was unable to secure dates from Mr. Peskay for the same. And he says he can't get any pictures!

Is Mr. Peskay trying to work the old army game?

GOSSIP OF LONDON

By LIONEL BURTON

(Special to Exhibitors Daily Review)

Some of the old settlers in Film-land are predicting "terrible headaches" for the coming year. These prophets are, of course, the preternaturally wise ones whose financial interest in the movies continues to be wholly "eye-minded." One of them is even charged with attending a performance of "The Home Towners" with cotton in his ears.

Speaking of this triumphant George M. Cohan talkie the pens of London reviewers are hardly less laudatory than those of their New York confreres. A writer in the Bioscope refers to the dialogue as "continuously and consistently brilliant, both in story-telling value and in wit. The film becomes something the like of which never before has been shown in this country." The same writer, as though by way of rebuking those who croak dismally about breakers ahead for talkie producers who run wild with their money in their hands, elaborates thus: "Are we wearied at all by the Yankee drawl of the actors? Well, it does obtrude upon our sense; but this is a story of Yankee life, and Yankees speak American. So we forgive these characters, just as we forgive the American after dinner speaker so often inflicted on us in real life."

Comment on the foregoing by a well known American movie actor: "Than awfully for forgiving the 'Yankee drawl', old top. You reconcile us in advance to yards of 'Eh whats' and 'Quite all rights' naturally to be looked for in the forthcoming British talkie that is to match the success of 'The Home Towners.'"

The report, first printed several weeks ago, that John Barrymore is nibbling at overtures from Adelqui Millar of Whitehall films, dies hard. In fact it has just been galvanized into fresh vigor by the published statement that a forthcoming British production to be directed by Fred Leroy Granville will, in all probability, present Barrymore as its hero. Nothing, however, is said about the new Mrs. John Barrymore, who was—and still is with multitudes of adoring "fans"—Dolores Costello; nor of the statement current in New York theatre circles that nothing, not even the screen, henceforth shall come between them. (Signed) John and Dolores.

Apropos of the secret of determination of all young British movie actresses, sooner or later, to reveal their possession of the valuable asset accorded to Clara Bow by Elinor Glyn and called "It", and consequent generous displays of the feminine form divine, the husband of one of the ambitious ones is the hero of the following incident: She sent him to a certain fashionable shop for a dozen pairs of stockings. What shade?" inquired the attendant. "Eh?" said the absent-minded spouse; and then — "Oh nude; to match my wife."

Educational and Tiffany-Stahl to Combine

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 140

New York, Tuesday, December 18, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Aha! The Kibitzer!

By

Culture James

THE persistence of the rumor in Wall Street circles that William Fox was buying Loew and M-G-M has caused considerable surprise in view of the definite denials of both Mr. Fox and Nicholas M. Schenck. We learned yesterday that a man of considerable money who has had some tempestuous experiences in the pictures and who came on from the coast, is responsible in large measure for the rumor because of his assaying the role of kibitzer.

THIS kibitzer, or buttinsky for profit is reported to have gone to the Fox organization and to have asked if they would like to buy Loew and M-G-M. He was advised that he was talking through his hat but he persisted that what he suggested was feasible.

HE THEN went to M-G-M but not to the heads and had some conversation, pointing out that several million dollars could be made neatly and happily if such a purchase were effected. Then he is reported to have gone downtown and to have made suggestions to stock brokers which resulted in the forming of a pool to deal with the issues of the two companies.

THIS man had no authority whatever to speak for either of the big companies mentioned but was apparently hoping to place himself in a position, if by some remote chance a deal was at the present time or in the future brought to pass, to cut in on the commissions.

THIS is not the first time that the kibitzer has figured in mergers and purchases in the picture business and possibly it won't be the last but it would be interesting if it were revealed whether or not this person was one of the high authorities on which Film Daily stubbed its toe, making out that the estimable Mr. Schenck was not to be believed and that the admirable Mr. Fox was not to be relied upon, when unidentified informants spoke to the contrary.

THIS newspaper prefers to accept the word of the leaders of the motion picture industry as against the leaders of the kibitzer industry and it holds that all right thinking men (which by the way constitutes an overwhelming majority of our industry) will be similarly minded.

R C A SEEKS BIG THEATRE CHAIN PROPOSITION 180 N.Y. "INDIES"

32 FILM BOARDS EXAMINED BY GOV'T

Federal Trade Investigation Completed—New Suit Filed

The Federal Government has practically completed its investigation of the 32 Film Boards of Trade, having had men going through the books of the various film boards throughout the country since last Spring. Cincinnati was the last key center investigated.

This can be taken to mean that the Commission will within a short time either be prepared to come into court with their findings, or face the possibility of their auto-

(Continued on Page 2)

SIMULTANEOUS SOUND PROD. FOR P-F-L ASTORIA

The Astoria studios of Paramount have about completed the installation of their second Western Electric recording unit. When this is completed it will provide for the simultaneous shooting of two talking pictures in this studio.

The first two to start on this new arrangement will be the Richard Dix picture "Nothing but the Truth" and the production of "Gentlemen of the Press" which will be directed by Millard Webb.

Tiffany-Stahl, Educational to Merge Stahl, Hoffman and Smith Resign

Would You Sell?

Loew's Incorporated, for the year ending August 31st, 1928, earned more than $2,000,000 net profit over the corresponding period of 1927. The figures are $8,568,162 for 1928 and $6,737,205 for 1927.

EINFELD APPOINTED F.N. ADV.-PUB. HEAD

division of the industry. He under Herman Starr, president of First National Pictures, Inc., announces the appointment of S. Charles Einfeld as director of advertising and publicity for that company. Mr. Einfeld has already assumed the duties of his new office.

In length of service with the company he is one of its oldest employees, having joined the organization about nine years ago. During that time he has served in practically all capacities in the advertising and publicity department.

Mr. Einfeld is one of the best equipped men in the advertising

(Continued on Page 2)

MOVIE INDUSTRY ON SOUNDER BASIS

WASHINGTON—The motion picture industry is on a much sounder basis financially than ever before, and economy in production of pictures is being practiced increasingly, C. J. North, chief of the motion picture division of the Department of Commerce, has informed the Wall Street Journal. The future of the industry is seen as somewhat speculative at present, due to the sound films, although houses now showing sound films are reaping a harvest

(Continued on Page 2)

Fox Options Gain Further Extension but Radio's Offer Being Considered

Radio is after theatres—and this being the case, Radio will probably get theatres.

Having completed their deal for the Victor Talking Machine company, together with everything arranged but the actual signing of at least two other big deals of the importance of the Victor merger and having their production forces so geared for a good healthy start, this powerful organization is going after theatres on a big scale.

After N. Y. Indies

It is known that several members of the independent group of theatre owners who have optioned their houses to William Fox, have had several talks with executive members of Radio and were told that this organization was interested in the 180 or more houses Fox had optioned and twice postponed

(Continued on page 2)

F. NAT. EXCHANGE PERSONNEL CUT

Warner Brothers completed the cleaning up process in the various First National exchange centers last Saturday in their campaign of co-ordination and efficiency.

Numerous office employees in each of the exchanges were given notice and in Jules Levy's New York branch, 8 or 9 employees were let out, much to everyone's surprise. No further changes in exchange personnel and sales force are contemplated.

Front Page Stuff!

Lee Marcus advises that the snoopee mayor of Lynn Massachusetts, did not ban the FBO picture "Hit of the Show" as averred on Lynn information received. We believe it must have been two other pictures and we are glad to proclaim the entire usability of the "Hit of the Show".

Also we put down the two advertisements to the account of good will.

Ye Ed.

(Continued on Page 2)

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U S Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; James Cron, general manager; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

John McCormick has influenza and pleurisy as if either one wasn't enough—Mike Simmons is back on the job but he should go slow as getting out of a sick bed too soon is not so hot — Joseph Brandt is still in the prime of life—Al Jolson is writing a Mammy book and I double dare him to call it Pappy—Local grundys were saying yesterday that Luther Reed got a tough break when for alimony and child support he was stuck for 450 of those dollars per week and at the same time became a free lance — And among the others more litigated against than litigating is Francis X. Bushman, a decent man who has for years paid a heavy price for his chivalry — Pat Powers is out again after making grippie but the little old cold lingers on — Uncle Carl Laemmle came to New York for the holidays but New York isn't boasting of the weather offered thus far — Harry Reichenbach sent out keys of mystery to intrigue exhibitor interest in a picture and Piffle Pete not only spelled his name wrong but threatens to tell exhibitors not to book the picture. Piffle Pete thought that wives might get suspicious and that therefore Harry was the lowest form of animal life. If I were Pete (which denk Gott I aren't) I would beware of the sock for if ever a man deserved a smesh in the kisser he does and Harry has been known to settle arguments that way—and how!—Mr. and Mrs. Melville A. Shauer and their son, Kenneth, arrived in New York Sunday from France for a 7-week visit to the Paramount home-office. Mel is Special Foreign Representative for his company—F. J. Smith, Liberty flicker 'critic' takes a horrendous slam at Pola Negri's "Woman from Moscow" and advises readers of the magazine to "stay away from the box-office — Negri's last picture for Paramount happens to be one of the best she has made! So there!

THE HOUSE THAT SHADOWS BUILT

Will Irwin's description of Adolph Zukor, pioneer, visionary, practical dreamer and unemblazoned doer of deeds in a fascinating industry, brings home for the first time to many of us who thought we understood the racket and understood Zukor, the exact pattern of a crossword puzzle in which he, the films and Paramount Famous-Lasky Corporation are the revealing keys.

Even those of us who had seen active service on the Paramount front, and had been close to the man, the leader and the father, it is now evident could never have had a very clear idea of what it all meant. We knew we were giving our best to a great organization and to inspiring leaders; we knew that we were making the finest pictures and selling them to more theatres than anyone else; we knew we would always be, and had faith enough in Adolph Zukor, to keep us one step ahead of the pack.

But did we know the real, the taciturn, the indomitable spirit of the man? Did we know how humble his beginning really was—how the motion picture leaped into his ken and blazed a path from which he has yet to deviate? Did we really think we knew how organized and worth-while productions had come about—how distribution on the scale is now functions had evolved — how the pictures were nursed along and kept getting better one by one—how the out-of-the-way theatre owner was often financially helped along and encouraged to put on the best show possible?

We did not — not until this invaluable chronicle, which draws reference to the magnificent Paramount Theatre Building in Times Square, the cross-roads of the world monument to the industry, the company and to Zukor, came into being to register indelibly the vivid account.

Irwin deals with Zukor's struggles as an immigrant, his early business troubles and progress; the Penny Arcade Era; his relations with William A. Brady, with Marcus Loew, with Frank Meyer, Elek J. Ludvigh, with Morris Kohn, with Al Kaufman and other prominent figures some of us know right well.

The narrative further deals with Zukor's courage in launching the Famous Players; his negotiations with Belasco; Daniel Frohman; Mary Pickford; Doug Fairbanks; Hiram Abrams; Al Lichtman; Jesse L. Lasky; Samuel Goldwyn and others who today are luminaries on the film horizon. An entrancing story for those in the business; and of general interest to others outside it.

A.B.

Tiffany-Stahl and Educational to Merge

(Continued from page 1)

that such a merger was being discussed and it seems now that everything is all set for the combination.

Educational will come in full charge of Tiffany-Stahl production and distribution. They will also take over the big West Coast studios of T-F.

Live Turkeys— Good Bait—

Exhibitors having houses in the neighborhood sections of Greater New York have run across a sure fire business builder. They give away live poultry, chickens, ducks and turkeys at each performance to holders of the lucky numbers.

Einfeld Appointed F. N. Adv.-Pub. Head

(Continued from page 1)

stands show psychology, writes clean convincing show copy and some of his creations are models of selling effectiveness. This newspaper felicitates Mr. Einfeld and congratulates Mr. Herman Starr on the appointment.

32 Film Boards Examined by Gov't.

(Continued from page 1)

matically dropping the charges brought against the alleged methods of film arbitration boards.

The Government has not met with notable success thus far in attempting to prove the numerous dark deeds attributed to "film trusts" and farther continues the filing of new charges from time to time, clothed in new language but merely repeating the same formulas upon which they some day hope to achieve a slight measure of victory. As is usual in such circumstances, it only takes one conclusive decision to effect a precedent for all the other actions, and by this they will either stand or fall.

Another action, such as the one which was filed by the Department of Justice in Washington, Saturday, asking injunctions against certain alleged practices of nearly all the companies in Chicago and the Middle West, is probably nothing more than another gesture.

The latest complaint again sets forth the fact the defendants named, among whom are the Balaban & Katz Corp.; Paramount Famous-Lasky, Publix Theatres, Universal, Fox, Pathe, United Artists, ad infinitum, own the best theatres, distribute the best pictures and discriminate against independent theatre operators in favor of the defendant exhibitors.

RCA Seeks Big Theatre Chain Proposition

(Continued from page 1)

final closing. The deal for these houses were supposed to be set for closing, starting December 1st. Fox asked for postponement until Dec. 15th. Last week he asked for a further set back until January 15th.

Last Postponement

If for some reason or other Fox is not ready to definitely close for these houses January 15th, it seems a cinch that many members of this group will bow out of the Fox picture and go over to Radio or some other organization.

Movie Industry On Sounder Basis

(Continued from page 1)

of profits.

More Financiers

Inclusion of financial men on the boards of directors of the film corporations, together with the introduction of banking capital into the industry, is seen as a greatly stabilizing influence. Time and cost of production are being budgeted very closely at present, Mr. North says, and the director whose expenditures are higher than estimated is called to a close accounting.

No Production Waste

Efficiency of the studios in their production is a feature of interest in Hollywood. Contrary to popular belief there is little waste in time or money, and one is reminded of industrial production.

The sound films are a great perplexity in the industry with almost everyone doubtful of their future. Present public interest and curiosity in the "talkies" have brought huge profits to exhibitors prepared to show them thus far, however. In some cases profits have increased as much as 33%. The spectacular rise in Warner Bros. stock is attributed in part to the fact that this company was the first prepared with sound films for release.

MORE MEN HAVE BEEN SCALPED

by the intensity of our modern life than ever were made hairless by the Indian Tomahawks.

But the billiard ball dome is not hopeless now that modern science has found the way to grow hair!

Not every bald head can be helped but nine out of ten can. You can know whether yours can be helped or not before you start!

Write for information appointment, without cost, or telephone to

GRACE GIRARD
One Fifth Avenue, New York
Spring 7000

ARE YOU FROM MISSOURI?

WIRE
WRITE
OR
PHONE

PATRONS ARE REQUESTED TO FAVOR THE COMPANY BY CRITICISM AND SUGGESTION CONCERNING ITS SERVICE 12208

CLASS OF SERVICE This is a full-rate Telegram or Cablegram unless its deferred character is indicated by a suitable sign above or preceding the address.	<h2>WESTERN UNION</h2>	SIGNS DL = Day Letter NM = Night Message NL = Night Letter LCO = Deferred Cable NLT = Cable Letter WLT = Week-End Letter
---	----------------------------	--

NEWCOMB CARLTON, PRESIDENT J. C. WILLEVER, FIRST VICE PRESIDENT

The filing time as shown is the date line on full-rate telegrams and day letters, and the time of receipt at destination as shown on all messages, is STANDARD TIME.

Received at

1928 DEC 3 PM 6 43

KA535 23 NL 2 EXTRA-BELOIT KANS 3

BUDD ROGERS, BRISTOL PHONE SERVICE-

Bz

CO 6 1650 BROADWAY NEWYORK NY=

AFTER INVESTIGATING OTHER SOUND EQUIPMENT WHILE IN NEWYORK
HAVE DECIDED UPON BRISTOL PHONE SEND APPLICATION AND ADVISE EARLIEST POSSIBLE INSTALLATION DATE-

W J GABEL GRAND THEATRE

THE QUICKEST, SUREST AND SAFEST WAY TO SEND MONEY IS BY TELEGRAPH OR CABLE

SONORA -
BRISTOLPHONE
50 WEST 57 ST. N.Y.C.
CIRCLE 8550

*Too busy to come
To New York?
Read the above wire and be
CONVINCED!*

FLAHERTY HAS NARROW ESCAPE ON LOCATION AT ALBERQUERQUE

"Nanook" and "Moana"
Producer in Auto
Accident in N. M.
MAKING FOX EPIC

Robert J. Flaherty, noted producer of films of primitive life, has had a narrow escape from death while motoring, according to word just received at the Fox Film headquarters in New York. Flaherty, who has lately been in New Mexico starting a picture of authentic Indian existence along the lines of "Nanook of the North" and "Moana of the South Seas," was riding in a car with Gerald K. Rudolph, his assistant, and Mayor Clyde Tingley of Albuquerque when the accident occurred on a mountain near that town.

While rounding a corner near the top of the Sandia range, at an elevation of 10,000 feet, their automobile turned over, due to the snowy road. It dropped into a ravine at the edge of the road. Miraculously, none of the party was injured when they brought up in a snow bank, and they were able to get out.

A period of hardship and hard work followed. The trio set about righting the capsized automobile. The snow was deep, about two feet in the road and up to their necks at the sides, and all the men were dressed in light summer clothes and wore low shoes. For four hours during the day they worked to get the automobile out, rather than seek help at the nearest home, which was ten miles down the snowclad mountain.

Finally they righted the car but were unable to get it out of the drifts, and decided to give up, ploughing their way toward assistance. About $5,000 worth of cameras were left unguarded in the car while they went shivering on their way. From the nearest residence they managed to reach Albuquerque in another car and took to their beds, exhausted and chilled. Next day a wrecking crew recovered the abandoned car and cameras.

Clive Brook Leaves

Clive Brook, one of the principals in the Paramount all talking picture, "Interference" at the Criterion Theatre, left for Hollywood yesterday.

Upon his return to the studio, Brook will begin work on the talking sequences of the Schoedsack-Cooper adventure film, "The Four Feathers", which will be the most important picture offering of Paramount since "Wings".

Josephson at Warners

J. L. Warner announced this week that Julian Josephson has been put under a long term contract and has received as his initial duty the preparation of the scenario for Al Jolson's next Vitaphone special, "Mammy".

STUDIO GOSSIP

Lila Lee has been given a part in Sophie Tucker's Picture, "Honky Tonk," which Warner Brothers are making.

Florence Eldredge, famous stage actress, is about to make a talkie with Edward Everett Horton for Educational.

Lily Damita has agreed to learn to speak perfect English in six months, according to her new contract.

Lloyd Bacon will direct "Honky Tonk" for Warner Brothers. Production will start right after the holidays.

Neal Burns will again direct Jack Duffy in his next Christie comedy.

Russell Simpson, George Fawcett and Black Craig have been assigned parts in Paramount's "Innocents of Paris."

Ruth Taylor, Jack Luden and Jack Oakie will be in the supporting cast of Clara Bow's picture "The Wild Party."

Alma Bennett, while working in Tiffany-Stahl's picture, "Reputation" received word of the death of her husband.

Walter Pidgeon will have the lead opposite Eve Southern in "The Miracle."

Buster Keaton will wear a full set of whiskers in his new picture, "Spite Marriage."

Adam Hull Shirk has been signed as director of studio publicity activities for Columbia pictures.

Harry Sweet has been signed on a long term contract by Fox on the strength of a picture he made which cost $185.

Max Reinhardt sails for New York tomorrow on the "New York" to make a picture starring Lillian Gish.

Collette D'Arville, French prima donna, is making an M-G-M short talking subject this week.

Colleen Moore will make as her next starring picture, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling."

Ramon Novarro and "The Pagan" company have left Tahiti and will arrive in San Francisco two days before Christmas.

Casey Robinson will direct "Lisbon Baby" for Pathe. He formerly wrote titles and supervised for Sam Sax.

Lewis Milestone will direct "Front Page" for Caddo. It will be an all talkie.

Sidney Lenfield is doing the story of "Big Time" which Howard Hawks will direct for Fox.

Things We Do Not Believe

Edmund Breese, who enacted a prominent role in "Port of Dreams" for "U", was told that his work in the production was concluded a couple of weeks ago, whereupon the actor rushed to the nearest barber shop and had his silver locks, which he had permitted to grow long for the picture, shorn. The next day the studio discovered that it was essential to make retakes of certain important scenes. When Breese informed the Universal officials that he had indulged in a haircut the previous day he was advised to refrain from visiting a tontorial parlor for two weeks and then to report to the studios for the additional work. Naturally, Breese's salary was continued during the period he was marking time.

Editors Note: Ed Breese has been wearing a toupe for the past ten years.

No Richman Picture

It seems that instead of postponing the production of the Harry Richman picture "Say It With Music" it has been called off altogether. This due to the fact that the Richman voice tests did not measure up to expectations, (that is for the amount Richman valued it at) and no one seemed to be able to turn out a story that Johnnie Considine would O. K. even the one he wrote himself. So at an initial cost of around $100,000, the whole thing is to be thrown in the scrap basket.

Sol Lesser Returns

Sol Lesser, president and general manager of Lesser-Warner Productions, is in New York for a short stay preparatory to an extensive production program of pictures to be made in the Lesser Warner studios in the San Fernando section of Hollywood. The pictures will be all-talkies and are to be recorded via Sonora-Bristolphone.

Quinn Martin Sails

Quinn Martin, motion picture editor of the New York morning World, is sailing December 28th, for a tour of Europe accompanied by Mrs. Martin and will not return to his desk at the World until February 15th.

Luckett Appointed

First National Pictures has appointed Joseph E. Luckett as manager of the company's branch office in Dallas, Tex., it is announced by Ned E. Depinet, general sales manager. He succeeds Leslie Wilkes who resigned to become associated with Louis Dent in theatre operation.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

JANNINGS

One of the more famous Hollywood scribblers, has written Emil Jannings out of the American picture business all together. She says that Herr Jannings will be compelled to return to Germany, there to carry on his trade of being the screens greatest actor. This, it is claimed, has been brought about due to the advent of talkies in this country and the fact that Jannings can not speak English with sufficient fluency to make himself understood.

BOSH

This scribbler may be right, but we hardly think the talkies will ever reach the stage that will permit the expulsion from our studios of a man who stands head and shoulders over any other actor or actress in motion pictures, today, yesterday or tomorrow. We think Herr Jannings is of such sufficient value to screen entertainment that Paramount or any other company would change any contemplated policy over night in order to be in a position to have him for their pictures. In other words it is our opinion that Jannings is "bigger" than the talking picture itself and if Paramount refuses to believe this, other companies are waiting to prove otherwise. We don't think this sterling artist will ever be forced out of American motion pictures.

POSTPONEMENT

Those New York independent exhibitors who have been dealing with William Fox with a view of selling their houses to him, are sort of, up in the air at the several postponements insisted on by Mr. Fox. They don't know what to think of it. Everything seemed slated for a December 1 closing and "W.F." asked for a postponement until December 15th. Last week he asked for a further delay until January 15th. "What's the answer?" they are asking each other. Some feel that there is really a deal on for the Loew houses and this being the case, there are a lot of the independent theatres that Fox will not want. Others are of the opinion that the question of taking over 180 or more representative theatres is no child's task and Fox found out he would require more time in which to get all of his strings set.

Whatever the answer, these boys are sitting in the anxious seat. Have been for weeks and will continue to be for several weeks to come.

RADIO

This Radio crowd are out for big game in this picture business. They are moving with a precision that is becoming devastating. They have plenty of ammunition and will soon do a lot more shooting. The ground work is being laid and the structure has a solid foundation. Theatres are going to receive the main consideration from now on. They want houses and will get them. Plenty of them.

Woodhull Sweeps Maryland Back Into M.P.T.O.A. Ranks

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 144

New York, Saturday, December 22, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Just a Frank Talk

By

Arthur James

THERE must be a reason for everything save the utter frivolities of life and even those may have a reason back of them. This newspaper is eleven years old. It began as a weekly publication and flourished so long as it was within the management of those who knew the picture business and its people. Its original plan was laid down by this writer, but eleven years elapsed before the fates brought it into his hands.

IT became a daily newspaper to serve, as it might, the needs of an alive news situation in the picture business and it endeavored under various editorial leaders to meet those needs. All of those men were good men but not until all of them were picture men imbued with the picture spirit, possessed of a keen sense of the responsibility of a trade newspaper in protecting and defending the great business which grew up around a new avenue of human expression.

IN THE matter of the news of the day this newspaper has been fortunate in its record of being so frequently first with information about the events of the day and hour. This is in part a matter of good luck because it had no trained newspaper opposition and newspaper men are first born and later made by the experiences of reporting.

BUT there is more than a news purpose to be served and we therefore ask you to read with care and thought the dedication of this newspaper to the motion picture business which now appears daily under the masthead, usually in column one, page two.

MORE than a dozen years of active experience in the picture industry have deepened our conviction that this great enterprise of pictures needs eternally and continuously a newspaper that not only speaks the truth and prints the news but a newspaper that is militant in the defense of the business against its enemies without and within the business, that believes profoundly that those in this busi-

(Continued on page 4)

Federal Trade Commission Drops RCA--W. Electric Suit

SAMUEL E. MORRIS
Newly created Executive Vice-President of Warner Brothers in Charge of Distribution

Sam E. Morris

The appointment of Sam E. Morris as Executive Vice President of Warner Bros., in charge of Distribution is a proper recognition for the abilities and industry of one of the greatest sales managers the motion picture business has ever known.

Mr. Morris has friends throughout the industry, both personal and business, and these friendships have been built upon the firm foundation of a recognition of his sincerity. His personal qualities have endeared him most to those who know him best and this newspaper takes pleasure in congratulating both the Brothers Warner and Sam E. Morris on this appointment.

A J.

C. A. Neeper Marries

Creed A. Neeper, sales manager of the Harold Lloyd Corporation with offices in the Paramount building, New York City, yesterday married Elizabeth M. Vesey.

W. E. Licenses First British Co. For Movietone Production

FED. JUDGE SCREENS 'ABIE'--'COHENS-KELLYS'

The Anne Nichols suit against Universal for alleged plagiarism of "Abie's Irish Rose" proceeded a pace yesterday, with Miss Nichols again taking the stand in the late afternoon.

Friday morning, Judge Goddard viewed the two pictures involved in the film contention at the projection rooms of Paramount. He saw the film versions of "Abie's Irish Rose" produced by Paramount and "The Cohens and the Kellys" produced by Universal, the latter

(Continued on Page 2)

By Sam Harris
"Today's Cinema"

(as to Exhibitors Daily Review)

LONDON—The First English producing company to be licensed by the Western Electric Company for the privilege of recording pictures made in England with the Movietone method, is the British and Dominions Film Corporation.

This company which will do pioneer work in Movietone production in this country announced they will commence the building of a huge studio at Brighton. A number of stage plays have been bought and it is planned to complete sixteen Movietone sound features within the first twelve months.

The new studio at Brighton will

(Continued on Page 2)

Charges Against Major Combines Whitewashed—Only 'Pictures' the Goat

One by one, the various monopoly suits brought by the Federal Trade Commission against several industries are being snowed under by the Commission or by the Courts.

The latest complaint to be dismissed, was the one brought against the Radio Corporation of America, the Western Electric Co., the General Electric Co., Westinghouse Electric and Mfg. Co., Int. Radio and Telegraph Co., and others, which charged unfair methods of competition in the manufacture and sale of radio devices.

Still another complaint under the Clayton Act is now pending, in the matter of the contract in connection with the sale of tubes for radio sets.

MARYLAND--VIRGINIA STICK TO M.P.T.O.A.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — R. F. (Pete) Woodhull, national president of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America, swept the Tri-State exhibitors meeting at the Washington Hotel, here, so completely that Maryland and Virginia will not join the Allied organization but will remain in the ranks of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America. Maryland already had gone over to the Allied before this meeting but many of the exhibitors, after the Washington session, expressed the regret that they had

(Continued on Page 2)

'LUCRECIA BORGIA' FINE FILM FARE

"Lucrecia Borgia" launched last night at the Little Carnegie proved to be a powerful picture which just misses being one of the greatest.

In cast, direction, setting, lighting and sheer unadulterated drama few exceed it.

Exhibitors who are yelling for good pictures had better look this one over and they won't need a talkie program.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; James Cron, general manager; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

This newspaper is dedicated solely to the causes and the purposes of the motion picture industry and all its elements; to the fostering of its ideals; to the furthering of its proper business purposes; to its defense against its enemies without and its enemies within; to the dissemination of information of moment and interest to the industry; to the encouragement of all sincere effort within the business; to the nurturing of a proper and justified respect for the industry and its leadership and to a faithful and continuous service to pictures and picture people and this newspaper seeks to serve no other purposes.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

C. C. Pettijohn returns today from French Lick after a needed rest from indisposition in the digestive region. The industry needs him too much to have him ill and I share the hope that he is now ready for all that formidable legislative program which in so many states seeks to sock the picture business with censorship and taxes—E. V. Richards was in and out of town yesterday. One of those hurried trips — Paul Scofield, galvinating about the country with Paul Whiteman trying to piece together a yarn for Universal, is in town—Mal St. Claire is not worrying about the future. His contract with Paramount having expired, he decided to spend Christmas in New York. Since here his phone has been on the "go" with propositions for him to direct this or that picture — We hear the FBO crowd gave Joseph P. Kennedy quite a dinner at the Ambassador Wednesday evening. A good time was had by all, and on such an occasion, who would not have a good time?—"Rudie" Cameron, we hear, is right hand man for Bob Kane up at the Sound Studios. Seems to be the right man for the right job, for "Rudie" knows everybody that ever spoke one or more lines on the American stage for the past 20 years.

FOX DICKERS FOR HOBLITZELLE CHAIN

Karl Hoblitzelle, who operates the Interstate Circuit of 9 theatres in Alabama, Arkansas and Texas has been negotiating in New York for the past three weeks for the sale of his chain to Fox Theatres.

Hoblitzelle has been a heavy user of Fox product this past year and his circuit is wired for Movietone. Those on the inside believe that Fox will have first call if Hoblitzelle's price can be met.

$155 SHARE RCA-VICTOR SWAP BASIS

Now that the Victor and Radio Corporation of America companies have been merged, it is generally expected that each share of Victor will be exchangeable for $5 in cash, one share of new Radio 5% Preferred and one share of new Radio common, which will be created by a five-for-one split-up of the present Radio common.

Under the proposed terms of exchange, Victor is given a new rating of 155, as far as the Victor stockholders are concerned.

Bryan Foy at AMPA

Bryan Foy, Vitaphone director who has made "Queen of the Night Clubs" starring Texas Guinan and "The Home Towners" with Richard Bennett, has accepted an invitation of the Associated Motion Picture Advertisers to be their guest of honor at their weekly luncheon at the Paramount Hotel on December 27th.

Andersson New Mgr. Swedish Biograph

STOCKHOLM — The directors of the Swedish Biograph Company have appointed Olof Andersson to succeed Charles Magnusson, as managing director.

Andersson joined the company in 1919 and together with Magnusson, directed the destinies of the enterprises.

W. E. Licenses First British Co. for Movietone Prod.

(Continued from page 1)

be on a grand scale and a laboratory will be included so that "talkies" can be developed and printed on the spot. At present the only laboratories are in America.

A Movietone truck will also be furnished to the company by Electrical Research Products so that exterior sound work can be undertaken.

Federal Trade Commission Drops RCA—W. Elec. Suit

(Continued from page 1)

of which is alleged to have been taken from the Nichols play.

In the evening Judge Goddard, who is bent on performing a thorough job of the controversy, journeyed to an 86th Street Theatre of the so-called Subway Circuit, to view a stage performance of the play.

WARNERS DROP KAO BOOKING FOR OWN

Since the ratification of the Stanley Deal by Warner stockholders, two weeks ago, the likelihood of a new booking Circuit of vaudeville acts for Stanley houses will be established by the Warners, to be directed by Lew Golder and E. V. Darling.

The Stanley houses for years have been booking their vaudeville presentations through Keith-Albee-Orpheum, but now it is the Warner intention to do their own booking.

Harold Kemp, who now books 18 Stanley houses from the K-A-O booking offices may also join the Warner booking staff. The K-A-O people do not necessarily stand to lose all the bookings in the 18 houses, since they hold a 25% interest in the Earle, Philadelphia and Earle Washington.

Affiliated European Gets "Unholy Love"

Affiliated European producers, Inc., have acquired the American rights to "Unholy Love" from the Landerfilm G.M.B.H., of Berlin, Michael J. Gouland, president of the Affiliated, announced yesterday.

"Unholy Love" stars Brigitte Helm, the girl of Metropolis, Paul Wegener, John Loder and Ivan Petrovich.

Lee Marcus Off to Hollywood for Confab

Lee Marcus, general sales manager of FBO left New York yesterday for Hollywood. While on the Coast, Mr. Marcus will confer with William Le Baron, vice-president of FBO, on the company's new product. He will also visit the FBO exchanges in San Francisco and Los Angeles in the interests of sales and distribution.

Maryland—Virginia Stick to M.P.T.O.A.

(Continued from page 1)

been so hasty in their action.

The Washington session was called to discuss increased overhead, arbitration, insurance and other matters, and was presided over by Julius Brylawski, who introduced A. F. Hancock for an address on insurance. George Aarons spoke of "Why and Because" and David Barist dwelt on the ethics of horse back riding in so touching a manner as to bring tears to the eye of a needle. Then Woodhull spoke and spoke plenty, to such an effect that the gathering was moved to a point of the greatest enthusiasm over the national body and its president.

At its conclusion Tommy Goldberg delivered a eulogy rarely given to men while they are living. It is interesting to note that wherever allied has met opposition on the part of the national body represented by its president, they have been put to rout and the city of Washington, where Abram S. Myers is to have his national headquarters has definitely decided to stay out of his organization, as well as the neighboring body of Virginia exhibitors.

SOUND NEWSREELS

FOX MOVIEZONE NEWS

Vol. 2—No. 12-A

World's Bird Men Hold Congress
Xmas Fur Subject
Empire Cat Show
The Real Argentine Tango
Xmas Greeting

FOX MOVIEZONE NEWS

Vol. 2—No. 12-B

Santa Claus Visits Sick Kiddies
Norwegians Honor Hero Explorer
German Flappers Grow Muscular
Boy Locomotive Driver
Tars Celebrate Return to Port

FOX MOVIEZONE NEWS

Vol. 2—No. 12-C

College Girls At Hockey Game
Dynamite Digs Deep Ditches
Swimmers at N. Y. Athletic Club
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman Subject
Child Violinist and Youngsters
Xmas Subject

Ampa Ball March 2

Don Hancock, Chairman of the AMPA Masque Ball Committee announced yesterday that the date of the affair had been set back to March 2nd. The annual Christmas party of the Associated Motion Picture Advertisers was a merry one with a record attendance. The McCarthy Sisters, now featured at the Club Cassanova, sang several of their well known hits. Harry Hoch sang "My Annapolis," the "Masked Baritone," sang several numbers accompanied by Johnny Tucker of air fame who also obliged with two pianologues and George Kelting, radio harmonist, offered classical renditions in his inimitable style.

HOPE HAMPTON MAKES GRAND OPERA DEBUT

Hope Hampton, celebrated stage and movie star, made her operatic debut with the Philadelphia Grand Opera Company last evening in the opera "Manon" at the Academy of Music, Philadelphia. Miss Hampton was heard in Philadelphia last in the musical operetta, "Madame Pompadour", where she first came to the attention of opera lovers there. Originally she was to have made her debut on November 19th last, but she was stricken with an attack of influenza from which she has since fully recovered.

Born in Texas of poor parents, Miss Hampton came to New York to win success in the theatre. She scored first in motion pictures and later won new honors on the stage, notably in "My Princess," an operetta that was seen in New York last season.

More than 200 writers from New York will journey to Philadelphia to be present at Miss Hampton's operatic debut. The party will include Harry Hershfield, Ward Morehouse, Arthur James, Bide Dudley, Kelcey Allen, Victor Watson, Charles Isaacson, Leonard Liebling, Pierre Vi Key, Regina Cannon, Whitney Bolton, Delight Evans, Mordaunt Hall, Eileen Creelman, Grena Bennett, Victor Talley, Sam Marx and Madeline Reardon.

THE Rotogravure Sections of Motion Pictures Today Holiday number are closed and on the press. Black and white copy, both pictorial and text, will be received up to next Wednesday at 12 o'clock noon

Those who already have signified their intention and those who at this Christmas season now remember that they desire to send a greeting to their friends throughout the industry are now advised that they should waste no time in getting in touch with—

MOTION PICTURES TODAY

Title Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

25 West 43rd Street

Telephone Bryant 5224

New York

Warners Open "My Man" on Broadway

Fannie Brice Appears in Vehicle Especially Adapted To Songstress

By W. R. WILKERSON

Warner Brothers displayed their Fannie Brice picture, "My Man" at the Warner Theatre last evening, preceded by two unusual short reel Vitaphone subjects. Pieced end to end the performance ran from a little before 9 o'clock to a short while after 11 and when it was all over we came out thinking what a great reel the Irene Franklin subject was, and how funny the Codee and Orth all-German short picture must have been to those who understood what it was all about. There were plenty of laughs throughout the entire length of this picture from the very smart first night audience and although we enjoyed the Fannie Brice picture we feel that had it been half as long it would have been twice as good.

"My Man"

Warners took a song success of a few years ago and attempted to write a story around it. In this they failed. But when Miss Brice was singing and talking the entertainment was at its best. She sang eight or ten songs all with the exception of two Brice successes of years ago. The story meant nothing and the surrounding cast just as little. It was all Fannie Brice and as such will prove good entertainment wherever shown particularly at points where Miss Brice has not been seen and heard on the spoken stage.

We enjoyed every second of her sound appearance, even at one time when one of the songs was so poorly recorded it was just as difficult for this reviewer to follow as the Codee and Orth German picture.

However, as long as it is and as poor as the story appears it is good entertainment.

The picture was directed by Archie Mayo from the story by Mark Canfield with a supporting cast that included among others Guinn Williams, Edna Murphy, Andre De Segurole, Richard Tucker and Ann Brody.

Ray Taylor Signs With Universal

A long-term contract has been entered into by Universal Pictures Corporation and Raymond H. Taylor, director, it has just been announced by President Carl Laemmle.

He will shortly start plans for the first of Universal's 1929-30 chapterplay program under the supervision of William Lord Wright.

M-G-M Starts "Dugan"

"The Trial of Mary Dugan" was called to order at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio yesterday morning, with Bayard Beiller author of this successful Broadway play, directing the all-talking screen version. The cast of the new film is headed by Norma Shearer, H. B. Warner, Lewis Stone, Raymond Hackett and Lilyan Tashman.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Pathe will make an all-talkie based on early Spanish history. Songs and dialogue will be made in both Spanish and English.

Count Ilya Tolstoy has returned to Los Angeles and will operate as a free lance scenarist.

Betty Compson has been signed by Warner Brothers for the feminine lead in "The Time, the Place and the Girl," a talkie.

Lynne Overman is starring in S. Jay Kauffmans talking short for Paramount, "Kisses."

D. W. Griffith is on his way to New York for a vacation which will last until the end of January.

Florence Moore, famous stage comedienne, is busy working in a Paramount talking short, "Apartment Hunting."

Alice White's new picture has been retitled, "Red Hot." Production has not yet started.

Malcolm Stuart Boylan is writing the titles for "True Heaven" for Fox.

Robert Ellis will have the part of Steve Carndall in Universal's production of "Broadway."

Wilfred North has been added to the cast of "The Trial of Mary Dugan."

Lucien Prival has been signed by Caddo for a part in "Front Page."

Frank Albertson has joined the cast of Fox's "Nobody's Children."

Raymond Taylor has signed a new long term contract with Universal to direct pictures.

Tremm Carr is making two pictures. "When Dreams Come True" and "Brothers."

William Blakewell will have the lead opposite Alice White in "Red Hot."

M-G-M has bought the screen rights to "Jungle" a Saturday Evening post story from the pen of C. F. Scoggins.

Kay Johnson, well known stage player, has been selected by Cecil DeMille to play the feminine lead in "Dynamite."

Al Jolson is the composer of the theme song for Edwin Carewe's picture of "Evangeline." The name of the song is the same as the picture's.

Pathe has completed the silent version of "The Missing Man." They now have two sound versions and a silent picture in the making.

Rowland Lee Signs

Paramount's Christmas gift to Rowland V. Lee, the director, came yesterday in the form of a new contract which was presented to him after executives had viewed the all-dialogue picture "The Wolf of Wall Street," starring George Bancroft.

'U' OFFICIALS HERE ON 'MINSTREL SHOW' CAST

Elaborate plans for Universal's singing-talkie of minstrelsy are being whipped into shape by Harry Pollard director, Curtis Benton who is writing the script, and Edward Montagne, scenario chief of Universal City. This 100% talking picture of minstrelsy will be one of the super-productions offered by Universal in the coming year.

Eddie Leonard, the famous black-face comedian around whom "The Minstrel Show" is being built, is already in Universal City going through the ropes of motion picture acting. The Universal 100% talkie will signalize his premiers on the screen.

'DYNAMITE LEADS' CHOSEN BY DE MILLE

The feminine lead in "Dynamite," Cecil B. DeMille's first talking picture, which he will make at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, has been given to Kay Johnson, well-known Broadway actress. This selection follows closely that of Charles Bickford for the masculine lead in the new film.

"Dynamite" is an original story by Jeanie MacPherson. The only other members of the cast so far chosen are Conrad Nagel and Carol Lombard. Production is scheduled to get under way early in January.

"Prep and Pep" Roxy Christmas Week Film

"Prep and Pep", the William Fox comedy of campus life, has been selected by S. L. Rothafel for presentation at the Roxy Theatre next week, as appropriate entertainment for thousands of students who will be at home for the holidays.

The cast in support of David Rollins and Nancy Drexel includes John Darrow, E. H. Calvert and Frank Albertson. The film was directed by David Butler from the story on which he collaborated with William Conselman.

"Low Bridge"

Robert Benchley has finished a new one reel movietone comedy for Fox. Mr. Benchley not only wrote, but acted in it and is about to start in on his second offering, "Low Bridge", which will deal with the troubles of a family in the throes of a bridge game. The picture just completed is entitled, "Lesson Number One."

JUST A FRANK TALK

(Continued from page 1)

ness should respect it and its leaders and should give honor to those who have done the heavy pioneering to bring the industry to its present greatness.

If this is idealism make the most of it. To us it seems just plain practical common sense.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

ST. CLAIRE

Give Mal St. Claire the semblance of a story, a couple of people for the leads that will accept direction, a camera and a studio floor, and nine times out of ten he will turn out a better than the average picture. We do not recall ever having seen an out and out "flop" made by St. Claire. All of which brings us to the point of our opinion. Malcolm St. Claire is one of our best directors and worth every penny he has been drawing. With the rush to sound and the thought that stage directors must be recruited for the making of talking pictures and with the added knowledge that a stage director can be bought for at least a third that would have to be paid a good "movie" director, St. Claire finds himself off the pay roll of Paramount for the first time in five years. But . . . other studios probably have different ideas and one of them is going to put in a bid for this director. The term of St. Claire's idleness rests with St. Claire himself. That we will bet on.

SCHENCK

If either of the Schencks have a thought, they are not afraid to express it. Both have the courage of their every conviction. Consequently it was with no great surprise that we read a statement given to "Red" Kann by Nicholas Schenck on the question of talking pictures. He said "This last year, for the first time in my memory, has proven to be one in which patrons were driven from theatres rather than attracted to them and sound is responsible". And that, dear children, comes from one of the best brains in this industry. Why is it that other producers do not seem to realize that fact?

T.O.C.C.

The T.O.C.C. (Theatre Owners Chamber of Commerce) got themselves good and mad yesterday. And they had every reason for this action. The big electrics together with most of the big producers and distributors were invited, along with the manufacturers of the so-called, independent sound equipment, for a confab on interchangeability. The big boys did not show and this sort of gummed things up as the exhibitors had a lot of questions to ask but no one there to answer them. However they are going after their answer, and those absent members will probably be sorry they did not join the confab in the first place.

PRO AND CON

We have heard a lot of pro's and con's on this interchangeability business and we are of the opinion the big electrics will not have a foot to stand on nor a place to put it. It is just as ridiculous for Mr. Victor to tell the public, "You can only play Victor records on Victrola's". They are going to be licked sooner or later, that's a cinch. Why not come to an amicable agreement now? It would be to their advantage and the advantage of all their licensed recorders.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 145

New York, Monday, December 24, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Hail Tomorrow!

By

Arthur James

OUR greetings, the most pleasant of the season, to all those engaged in the great enterprise of motion pictures.

OUR wish is for the merriest of days to be celebrated regardless of race or creed by all mankind because its underlying spirit of kindness, of charity, of good will and of friendship, every man may share.

ORIGINATING in the pagan feast of lights, appropriated by the early Christian church and in modern times adopted with an almost complete universality because its outward manifestations were pleasant in family and friendly relation and not in the least frowned upon by the merchants who found a definite business stimulation that defied in comparison.

MILLIONS in money are placed in circulation to the advantage, at least spiritually, to those who give good gifts and millions are returned to the workers who make the good gifts. Like the flag of the nation, Christmas was too great an institution to be held in exclusion by any class or group so that tomorrow it will again be celebrated, not as religious feast by the millions of men and women and children but rather as the great day of generosity toward those beloved. Christmas is the great day of days for children and for those of maturer years who are fortunate enough to hold the spirit of childhood within their breasts.

THE greatest of all writers on the subject of Christmas was Charles Dickens and his greatest Christmas contribution to the ages was the Christmas Carol. In it he contrasted the spirit of Scrooge, the miser, with the poorer but richer folk about him who opened their hearts on Christmas. This great Christmas episode, written by the Christmas master, gave to the world the most appropriate benediction in the words of the little crippled boy, Tiny Tim, and as our last line of this greeting we quote:

"God Bless Us All".

BLAINE-THOMPSON HANDLING F.N. ADS

Warner Bros. have given the Blaine-Thompson Co., in addition to the Warner Bros., advertising, full charge of future advertising to be placed by First National Pictures, Inc. Also this company will place all out-door advertising for Warner Bros., the Vitaphone Corp., and First National Pictures, Inc.

The newspaper advertising campaign, for Vitaphone, in progress for some time, will be continued under the direction of Myer Lesser, president of the Blaine-Thompson Company.

M-G-M TALKING NEWSREEL OUT MAR. 1

The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Corporation is proceeding rapidly with its plan to launch its M-G-M Newsreel in sound and join the company of Fox Movietone News and Pathe sound News.

According to home-office esti-

(Continued on page 3)

Reinhardt Arrives in N. Y. -- Leaves Wed. for U.A.-Gish Film

Fight Idaho Tax In Legislature

IDAHO — James M. Hone, secretary of the Washington M.P.T.O., appeared in Boise last week on behalf of Northern Idaho showmen, to make a fight in the legislature against a proposed tax measure against exhibitors.

Max Reinhardt gets in today from Europe and will leave Wednesday for the coast to begin on the new picture for Lillian Gish, which is to be produced from an original story by Hugo von Hoffmanstahl, whose handling of "De Rosen Cavalier," "The Merryman," "Electra" and other important offerings have made him famous.

Reinhardt's "Miracle" which played to $200,000 worth of business in New York, which brought 20,000 people at one time to the Olympia in London and was played successfully in 26 cities in the United States make him well known as an amusement impressario who lives up to his word that he does not believe in "Art for Art's sake" and who sees no wrong in having a profit attached to his enterprises.

The new picture will be in sound

(Continued on Page 2)

NAT ROTHSTEIN SIGNED FOR PROD. AT 'U' CITY

Nat. G. Rothstein, formerly Advertising and Exploitation Director of Universal Pictures is going to the Coast on or about January 1st, for Universal and will be associated in production at Universal City.

HIRAM BROWN SETS NEW R-K-O POLICY

Hiram S. Brown, new president of Radio Keith Orpheum announced yesterday that the splitting of commissions by the company with the booking agents had come to an end, and hereafter agents booking acts will receive their full commission of 5% less a minor percentage for the actual cost of collection from the artists.

This move is important in that

(Continued on Page 2)

War—P-F-L 5-Yr. Contracts

SEATTLE — The Theatre Operating Company which owns the Babcock, Regent and Lyric Theatres at Billings, Montana, has closed with Warners and Paramount for five-year contracts.

Two to One

The District of Columbia and Virginia are two M.P.T.O.A. organizations which remained steadfast and Maryland the one that went over to the Allied. This sets the record right and corrects a mistake emanating from Washington on Thursday.

JOS. S. SKIRBOLL J. D. WILLIAMS AL S. ARONSON
Present "Exhibitor's Choice" Selling as World Wides Christmas Gift to Theatre Owners for the New Year. The New Company's Selling Starts in January.—Adv.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; James Cron, general manager; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cune Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

London Office and Correspondent, Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada

This newspaper is dedicated solely to the causes and the purposes of the motion picture industry and all its elements; to the fostering of its ideals; to the furthering of its proper business purposes; to its defense against its enemies without and its enemies within; to the dissemination of information of moment and interest to the industry; to the encouragement of all sincere effort within the business; to the nurturing of a proper and justified respect for the industry and its leadership and to a faithful and continuous service to pictures and picture people and this newspaper seeks to serve no other purposes.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

Willis Kent says that when a snatch or two of shouting is used in a sound picture it might be classed as a "yellie"—Winchell calls the dialoguers the "lispiers" because of the flattening of the sibilants—if you know what I mean—yes?—great!—Brod. Fenton says that if Abe Cantor and Bruce Gallup were to meet Vincent Trotta it could be called a young horse show. Ain't he the flip!—Joe Ferguson insists that a film company is known by the Christmas presents it gives. To whom?—Evelyn Brent and Charlie Chaplin have the flu which may be of comfort to those similarly afflicted and more so to those who aren't—Joe Skirboll reports from the south that there is more talk about pictures than about flu because they are vastly more interesting—Aw gwan, pictures are the pastime and pleasure, flu is the excuse for lotsa things—

$65,000 GIVEN TO FED. CHARITY BY INDUSTRY

Picture and Theatrical Notables Commended By Goodman

Sol M. Stroock, president of the Federation for the Support of Jewish Philanthropic Societies, yesterday made public a list of members of the Motion Picture, Theatrical and Allied Industries who have made contributions to the $5,300,000 budgetary program of the Federation, for the maintenance of its ninety-one institutions for the current year.

The names of contributors, together with the total amount contributed for 1928, follow:

Joseph Leblang, $15,000; Adolph Zukor, $6,000; Maurice Goodman, Jesse L. Lasky, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc., $5,000; Edward F. Albee, Mr. and Mrs. David Bernstein, Walter Reade, $2,500; Marcus Heiman, Irving Berlin, Saul E. Rogers, $2,000; Morgan Lithographing Co., P. J. Morgan, $1,500.

Sydney S. Cohen, $1,100; A. C. Blumenthal, Eddie Cantor, David L. Loew, $1,000; Louis Bernstein, Jack G. Leo, $750; Ben Blumenthal, Joseph I. Schnitzer, Amedee J. Van Beuren, $500; Al Lichtman, Julius Stern, $400; Samuel M. Forrest, Akiba Weinberg, $350; Alexander S. Kempner, $300.

B. K. Bimberg, Jerome D. Kern, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Marcus, L. N. Olmsted, Rudolph Wurlitzer Piano Co., $250; Joseph Pollak, $220; Edward N. Bloomberg, Harry A. Bloomberg, Toby Gruen, B. B. Kahane, $200; James E. Stroock, $150; Employees FBO Pictures, $119.

Amalgamated Vaudeville Agency, Inc., R. L. Giffen, J. R. Grainger, Oscar Hammerstein, 2nd, Jacob Jutkowitz, Harry Marx, Herman Robbins, Max Verschleiser, $100; N. L. Mannheim, $80; Capitol Theatre Orchestra, $58.

C. P. Sheehan, $50; Benjamin Leo, $30; Harold Rodner, Isidore Witmark, $25; Karl N. Bernstein, Emil Marx, Fred G. Wilson, $10.

Mr. Goodman reported that subcommittees are out working in the various branches of the industry and that special credit for good work is due Eugene Zukor, Famous Players Lasky Corporation, A. P. Waxman, Warner Brothers, Milton J. Schwartz of the William Fox Organization, Joseph I. Schnitzer of the FBO, and J. L. Ryan of the Rudolph Wurlitzer Piano Co.

Hiram Brown Sets New R-K-O Policy

(Continued from page 1)

it tends to eliminate graft and gives both the artists and the agents a fair business break. Mr. Brown made a good impression on the newspaper men who were gathered to hear the announcement because of his frankness and the evidence of an open policy on the part of this, the most important of all the vaudeville organizations.

Keith-Albee Opening New Flushing Theatre Xmas Day

The outstanding event upon Flushing's Christmas calendar is the opening of the magnificent new Keith-Albee theatre scheduled to give its first performance on Christmas afternoon, at one o'clock.

An imposing and beautiful edifice, gracing the Northern Boulevard, the new playhouse is quite a distinct departure architecturally from recent Keith-Albee entertainment palaces.

The entire theatre is equipped with mechanical ventilation and a giant refrigerating plant.

This addition to the nation-wide Keith-Albee-Orpheum chain of theatres was designed by architect Thomas W. Lamb of New York City, N. Y. It was constructed under the personal supervision of E. F. Albee, president of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum Circuit.

A combination of vaudeville and photoplays will be presented with programmes changed on Sunday and Thursday. From Monday to Friday matinees will be presented from 1:00 to 5:00 o'clock and evening performances from 7:00 to 11:00. On Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays, continuous performances from 1:00 to 11:00 P. M. will maintain.

Classified Advertisement

Advertisements in this section, 5 cents per word. Cash must be sent with order. No charge for Box Number line. Minimum order, $1. 10% discount 12 issues or more.

FOR SALE

MOTION PICTURE AND "STILL" cameras rented, sold and exchanged. Portable lights for sale and for rent. Keep us advised of your wants. Ruby Camera Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City

LOCAL FILMS

MOTION PICTURES MADE TO order. Commercial, Home or Industrial. We have excellent facilities and the best cameramen. Our price, 20c per foot. Ruby Film Company, 727 Seventh Avenue, New York City

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

WHETHER YOU WANT TO HIRE some one or be hired: buy or sell a theatre; trade or sell equipment, or do almost anything else in the motion picture business, an ad in this department will get you results. If you want us to word the ad for you, the services of our advertising experts are at your call. Simply tell us what you want to do, and how many words you want used. Exhibitors DAILY REVIEW.

New "Modern" Story

Stories of the modern younger generation having proved such big box office successes, Fox will produce a new one by Charles Condon, "Follow the Leader." This picture will go into production immediately with Lois Moran in the leading role.

Reinhardt Arrives in N. Y.

Leaves Wed. for U.A.

(Continued from page 1)

but there will be no dialogue. The name is yet to be chosen.

Professor Reinhardt, Miss Gish and their party will leave New York Wednesday, December 26th, for Los Angeles. The film will be placed in production at the United Artists Studio in Hollywood on February 1.

MORE MEN HAVE BEEN SCALPED

by the intensity of our modern life than ever were made hairless by the Indian Tomahawks.

But the billiard ball dome is not hopeless now that modern science has found the way to grow hair!

Not every bald head can be helped but nine out of ten can. You can know whether yours can be helped or not before you start!

Write for information appointment, without cost, or telephone to

GRACE GIRARD

One Fifth Avenue, New York
Spring 7900

MERRY CHRISTMAS

GOSSIP OF LONDON

By LIONEL BURTON

New light on an old subject is being shed by London film reviewers on the mysterious silence concerning the ultimate fate of many British productions taken by American concerns presumably for distribution and exhibition. What happens to them? The operation of the Quota Act seems to have accentuated the mystery. Are American quota purchasers taking anything that comes along and giving it decent burial as the easiest way out?

A writer in the Film Renter wouldn't be surprised if such things happen—considering the mediocrity of much of the available British product. "Famous Players," says this writer, "have not so far been too lucky with the quota pictures they have secured. It is no fault of theirs and candidly, they are to be commiserated with. A few weeks ago they showed a Welsh-Pearson film which was a very mediocre production, and yesterday's screening of a British Screencraft picture is not likely to gain them any medals. Pity, because nobody is more loyally abiding by the film acts than F.L. Let's hope they strike a bit of luck next time."

Some of the films which fail to impress London critics are baited with alluring publicity tie-ups. A British Filmcraft production called "Spangles" dangles a catchy theme song called "Natalie," composed by Fred Elizalde, conductor of the Savoy Havana Band and designed to be broadcast along with announcements of "Spangles." Another bit of bait hung at prospective buyers of the same feature is engaging publicity for the star, Baroness Fern Andra, declared to be the most beautiful woman in Europe with an income of $15,000 a year from a famous Berlin photographer. Per contra, the published critical judgment that the picture "might have been made twenty years ago, judging by the story, the crudity of its acting, and the entirely uninspired direction."

However, many a dark publicity cloud has a silver lining. Witness the following, reprinted verbatim from a Middlessex theatre program: "What would you do if you had one hour to live? One fleeting hour! If, in the next room, the girl you love was waiting, the soft strains of a last waltz inviting you to her arms for one last embrace—one last kiss—one last hour of love—what would you do?"

Answer (by the reprinting editor): "Although inexperienced along such lines, still we think it probable that we should eat a hearty breakfast of ham and eggs and coffee, and march straight to the waiting gallows."

Rogers Claims Sonora-Bristolphone Meets Otterson-W. E. Requirements

Charles R. Rogers, General Manager of Sonora-Bristolphone stated Saturday that his company agrees in spirit and general principle with J. E. Otterson, chief of the Electrical Research Products, regarding the survival of meritorious synchronizing devices and Rogers reiterates the policy of allowing the showings of pictures synchronized with its system over other reproducing systems.

Rogers, however, advocates an open door for any type of system, providing it is practical and profitable. As to Sonora-Bristolphone efficiency, Rogers points to the fact that their apparatus have played the product of Paramount, M-G-M, First National and United Artists in various theatres, achieving flawless performances.

Chopin's Passion

"Chopin's Passion" has been selected as the title of the first Powers Cinephone all sound production which is now in its final stages of editing and cutting, under the personal supervision of Director Harry Revier. It was originally Shubert's "White Lilacs."

Kallett Circuit Signs For Columbia Product

The Kallett Circuit, one of the most important theatre chains in New York, has booked Columbia's entire product for the following theatres:

Lincoln, Orpheum, James in Utica; Capitol in Iliou; Madison in Oneida; Capitol, Strand, in Rome; Harvard, Regent and Avon in Syracuse.

The deal was engineered by Joe Miller of the Buffalo office and C. R. Halligan of the Albany exchange.

DE LUXE MASTER-PHONE LAUNCHED ON COAST

SEATTLE — The Great Western Theatre Equipment Corporation has become exclusive distributors of a new sound device, the De Luxe Master-Phone, which claims complete disc interchangeability and also claims to be the only device which will successfully handle both synchronized and non-synchronized discs. The equipment is handled from the operators booth. The device is manufactured in the East.

Installations will cost from $2,000 to $3,500 and there are no service or maintenance charges.

Sin Sister

The final title selected for Charles Klein's production for Fox Films, hitherto called "White Fury," is now announced as "The Sin Sister." Nancy Carroll, Lawrence Gray, Myrtle Stedman, Anders Randolph and Josephine Dunn are in the cast.

M-G-M Talking Newsreel out March 1

(Continued from page 1)

mates, the first issue of the M-G-M Movietone News will make its appearance on Broadway screens and elsewhere on or about March 1st.

The Paramount Movietone News will appear about the same time.

Fisher Buys Ohio Territory From Chase

Meyer Fisher, head of the Fisher Film Exchanges of Cleveland and Cincinnati, has departed for the West, after closing a deal in New York City with Motion Pictures Synchronization Service, Inc., for the exclusive sales franchise of the company's service for the State of Ohio.

This was announced Saturday by Maurice A. Chase, president of Motion Pictures Synchronization Service, Inc. Sepp Morscher and Maurice Nitke are the musical directors of the company.

"PETER PAN" CHOSEN

Film Bureau Picks Xmas Fantasy For Kid Party

The Film Bureau well known both in the social and professional world announces that in co-operation with the management of the Plaza Theatre they are sponsoring a specially prepared Christmas party for poor children to take place on Saturday morning, December 29th in the Plaza Theatre at Madison Avenue and 59th Street.

As usual in screenings with which the Film Bureau is affiliated, attention has been focused on the selection of the feature picture. "Peter Pan" has been chosen by the committee as the motion picture most suited.

WAFILMS, Inc.

Walter A. Futter, Pres.
for Library Stock Scenes
130 W. 46th St. New York
Bryant 8181

SCREEN TESTS

Incandescent Lighting
Local No. 644 Cameramen
Complete Equipment
Studios for Rent

BROWNING STUDIOS

110 West 40th St. N. Y. C.
PENN 1258

VICTOR TO RATIFY RCA MERGER SOON

Declares Dividends of $1.75—$1.50 and $1.00 On all Stock

Regular quarterly dividends on the preferred and preference stocks of the Victor Talking Machine Company were declared Saturday. The company will pay $1.75 on the preferred, payable January 15th; $1.75 on the 7% cumulative prior preference stock, payable Feb. 1; and $1.50 on the $6 cumulative convertible preferred stock, payable Feb. 1. A dividend of $1.00 per share on the common, payable February 1st, was also declared.

There will be a special meeting of the Victor Board of Directors the first week in January to ratify the merger with Radio Corporation of America.

Sonin Making Special M-G-M S. A. Tour

BUENOS AIRES—Carl Sonin, director of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer activities in South America will soon undertake a tour to the Pacific Coast to inspect the agencies of the enterprise and at the same time will open a branch in Peru.

Incorporations

The F-P-F Productions have been formed in New York to engage in Motion Pictures, with a $40,000 capital.

The Theatrical Artists of America have incorporated to enter motion pictures with a $10,000 capital, in New York.

42 Minutes from Broadway

THE GLORIOUS
HALF MOON HOTEL
CONEY ISLAND N.Y.

Sea Baths ~ Roller Chairs
Exceptional Restaurant
An Enchanting Hostelry
Offering Astounding Rates
$3.00 Daily
$65.00 Monthly
100 ROOMS WITH BATH!
Attractive Winter Rates
$5.00 Daily $65.00 Monthly

MERRY CHRISTMAS

"The River" Premiere - Farrell-Duncan

By W. R. WILKERSON

There was a new program of Fox pictures shown at the Gaiety Theatre, Saturday evening consisting of the Frank Borzage production of "The River", a Movietone News and a two reel all-talking comedy, "The Diplomat," with those two funny fellows Clark and McCullough.

Speaking for Itself

The hit of the show to this reviewer was the King of Spain. Boy-oh-boy what a personality this Spanish monarch has. King or no King what a bet he would be for pictures. This appearance took place in the Movietone News, an asset to any program and to the one shown Saturday evening, a lifesaver.

"The Diplomat"

The Clark and McCullough subject, "The Diplomat" written by Bobby Clark and Arthur Caesar was a riot. There were plenty of belly laughs throughout, even though it had some very bad recording at different spots.

"The River"

The big item on the program was the production of the Tristram Tupper story, "The River" directed by Frank Borzage. The idea of the yarn was excellent but it got lost in a world of inaction and died a slow and somewhat painful death. Where to place the fault is beyond this reviewer. If the story as photographed, is the one the Fox organization should receive the blame. But it is our opinion that the Tristram Tupper story was better than the one we saw on the screen. Maybe the blame should rest with the person making the adaptation, or maybe the whole burden of failure should be shouldered by Frank Borzage. Whoever or whatever was at fault the fact remains that the picture, off to a good start, died, and somehow or somewhere there seemed to have been a great chance lost for an outstanding production.

Credits

The main credits for whatever merits this production has should go first, to the persons who picked the locations and secondly to the man who photographed them. Both were unusual and held our chief interest. Charles Farrell and Mary Duncan were excellent in their parts.

Corinne Griffith Done With "Sat. Children"

A dispatch from Hollywood states that Corinne Griffith has completed filming her latest First National picture, "Saturday's Children," at the Burbank Studios. After enjoying a brief vacation Miss Griffith will commence work on "Prisoners," which is now being prepared for the screen by Forrest Halsey who is writing the adaption and continuity.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Bodil Rosing, mother-in-law of Monte Blue has been signed by M-G-M for the featured role of the wife in "Wonder of Women."

Patsy Ruth Miller, being assured of being on Warner Brothers 1929 program, will play the lead in "The Hottentot." This will be her first talkie.

Clarence Brown will handle the megaphone for M-G-M's production of Suderman's "Wonder of Women."

Greta Garbo's new picture has finally been titled "Wild Orchids." This is from the story by John Colton.

Milton Sills latest starring vehicle has been renamed "Love and the Devil."

Lilyan Tashman has been signed for an important role in "The Trial of Mary Dugan."

Edward Earle has signed a new contract with Warner Brothers for 1929.

Charles Sellon and Robert Schable have been added to the cast of F.N.'s "The Man and the Moment."

Florence Vidor, having completed her part in "The Wolf of Wall Street," is on her way to New York.

Alice White has signed a new starring contract with First National for a long term which calls for at least four big pictures.

Alice Joyce will play the part of the mother in the picturization of "The Squall."

Marceline Day Signed

Marceline Day has signed a contract with Fox whereby she is to have the feminine lead in two of their pictures. Her first assignment will be opposite George O'Brien in "Son of Anak," a movietone production.

Dowling-Dooley Talkie

Charles and Al. Christie have succeeded in getting Eddie Dowling famous stage comedian and his equally famous wife, Ray Dooley to go to Hollywood and make a talkie. The picture will be a minstrel story.

"Syncopation" New Title

Robert Kane of FBO announces that the FBO special, "Stepping High" has had its title changed to "Syncopation." This is the production which features Warings Pennsylvanians, Barbara Bennett, Osgood Perkins and Bobby Watson.

3,000,000 FANS WRITE TO P-F-L STARS YEARLY

Thirty-three persons in Hollywood receive more mail than any other group of equal number in the world. They are the stars and featured players under contract to Paramount. They receive an average of 10,000 letters a day, 250,000 a month, 3,000,000 a year. Their mail is delivered to a postoffice ten by fifteen feet in size—probably the busiest 150 square feet in the country.

The chief recipient of mail is Clara Bow, the girl who made "It" a household word around the globe. Miss Bow receives almost 40,000 letters a month. Others of her fellow and sister stars on the Paramount lot who keep Uncle Sam's mail clerks busy are Bebe Daniels, Esther Ralston, Florence Vidor, George Bancroft, Richard Dix, Emil Jannings, Adolphe Menjou and Charles Rogers. These are the stars.

Columbia Adds 2 More —Neill and McCarthy

Columbia's directorial line-up is still growing. R. William Neill and John P. McCarthy, two of the screen's best known directors, were signed this week to wield the megaphone on Columbia vehicles scheduled for early production.

The addition of Mr. Neill and Mr. McCarthy follows closely upon that of Joseph Henabery, who joined the following prominent directors on Columbia's staff last week: Frank R. Capra, Erle C. Kenton, Phil Rosen, Christy Cabanne, Renaud Hoffman and Scott Dunlap.

Halperin's 3-Dimension

The Halperin boys, Victor and Edward, are going into three-dimension and natural color production, with sound synchronization.

The Halperins will establish studios in New York and Hollywood and will release through Inspiration-United Artists.

Bellamy Leaves Fox

Madge Bellamy, for years a star on the Fox lot, having completed "Fugitives" for that company, will be seen no more in their pictures. Fox terminated her contract while it still had a long period to run and has given no definite reason for the act.

Hopper Hops to Fox

Hedda Hopper left the Broadway production of "Tomorrow," last week, and has returned to Hollywood to act in a Fox comedy. Together with William Russell and Leslie Fenton, Miss Hopper has been added to the cast of "Girls Gone Wild," to be directed by Lew Seiler with Nick Stuart and Sue Carol in the leading roles.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

SHAKING OUT

Looks like the "shaking out" process is on out Hollywood way. What with the daily arrivals of stage players, renewals on the contracts of stars and featured players are being passed up. And this does not apply to players alone but directors as well. Sound producers have found they can employ stage directors of great reputation for a third of the cost of a fairly good movie director.

Do producers believe that a good speaking voice with a bad face and figure will be of greater benefit to the exhibitor in his play for patronage than a dashing looking face and figure with plenty of sex appeal and probably a poor voice? The camera does not lie as easily as a lot of cosmetics supporting a homely countenance on the stage. If a player is easy to look at on the screen this beauty in most every instance is natural and not constructed and if this attractiveness is lacking it is pretty tough for a camera even with the aid of good lighting to make it up.

AFTER ALL

Where is the proof that in exchanging a high-salaried movie director for a low-priced stage director, that a knockout talkie will be the results? It seems pretty obvious by now that in order to produce a good talking picture the director must have knowledge not only of stage technique but of movie mechanics for the action of each is different and the two must be combined to avoid disaster.

NEEDS

The movies still need the guiding hand of expert picture directors with strong co-operation from the stage; or better yet, intensive training along the lines of the stage, for while pictures are still made on film with its rapid change of scene, they demand first and foremost good movie direction. The players, too, need voicing training—and it must not be forgotten that voice recording still has plenty of room for improvement. The main thing seems to be the mistake of rushing things to satisfy the public demand for something new. Time alone will solve the problem and teach the lesson.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 146

New York, Wednesday, December 26, 1928

FIVE CENTS

How About This Myers?

By

Arthur James

DOES the advent of Abram S. Myers in the picture business as the leader of a new, unnecessary and rival exhibitor organization mean that a constructive man has been added to picture leadership or is he just another outsider who has come in without any special necessity for his presence and with no especial equipment other than a definite ambition to milk the old cow for his gallon or so?

REPUTED among the exhibitors who have heard salaries discussed Myers is a high priced article just as Aaron Sapiro was a high priced article. There is no possible objection, of course, to the price if the article is worth it. It is true too that large salaries are paid executives in the picture business but only to executives whose earning power to their organizations make big salaries justifiable. And these organizations in the production and distribution group not only contract to pay these salaries, they pay them.

IT IS easy to understand how Myers will get his first year's salary at least in part but when the assessment becomes regular the exhibitor groups will have to be shown a good entertainment for their money if they are to continue to dig deep among the fish hooks.

CAN Myers put on a continuous show that will keep the boys pepped up to the paying point? Will they find it necessary to hold an annual or semi annual hall to meet the budget? Will producers and distributors be assessed for tickets for these affairs and is assessed will they stand for it?

OUR experience with exhibitors is that there are many things they would rather pay than dues. They have enough bother with film rentals and fluctuations of business to want to support somebody unless they see a definite business advantage in it. They will respond to a crisis or a crying need. They will aid a charity or assist the widow and the fatherless but the irksome routine of paying dues for a political leader to gallop over the plain giving a political show that's no especial

(Continued on page 4)

TIFFANY-STAHN BRANCHING OUT WITH OWN THEATRE CHAIN

BROADWAY MOVIE HOUSES CONTRIBUTE XMAS CHEER

GORDON IN DETROIT BUTTERFIELD EXPANSION

Owing to the expansion and growth of the Butterfield Circuit in the years 1927 and 1928 and the expected new business for the year 1929, a readjustment of the main office in Detroit has been made.

It is now announced that Mr. Lawrence E. Gordon of Battle Creek, Michigan, who has a law practice of fifteen years standing, and has developed as a financier, being president of two local finance companies, has been engaged to act in the ca-

(Continued on page 4)

Every large motion picture theatre on Broadway is entertaining poor and crippled children to the capacities of the various houses, showing Christmas programs for the enjoyment of these unfortunate tots.

The Roxy will entertain 6,000 children at a performance Thursday morning, showing their regular program with the additions of the films "Sleeping Beauty", "English Christmas Carols" and "The Nativity". The full Roxy orchestra will play appropriate music.

The Capitol will play host to over 5,000 poor and crippled children at a special performance Thursday morning also. A gala Christmas

(Continued on page 4)

N. Y.—Phila.—Chicago Sites Chosen — First Runs Needed for Product

10 TALKIES COMING

In line with the expansion policy announced by Tiffany-Stahl a short time ago in the formation of an English Company and a French Company, plans are actively under way for the acquisition and building of a chain of first run theatres in the principal cities of the United States. Negotiations have been going on for some time for theatre sites in New York, Philadelphia and Chicago.

With their new expansion policy in mind and with big feature sound pictures in the making, Tiffany-Stahl has been quietly negotiating for their own theatres so that their productions will have first run presentations in all the principal cities of the United States.

The company intends to produce within the next few months between

(Continued on page 4)

Laemmle to Coast

It is expected that Carl Laemmle will leave for the coast today, providing he has been called to give his testimony in the suit of Anne Nichols regarding her production of "Abie's Irish Rose".

Mr. Laemmle is hurrying to the coast to attend the wedding of his daughter Rosabelle.

Can This Be True?

There is a tip floating out of Hollywood that one of our best producing organizations and one of the pioneer's in sound have about determined to take out all the dialogue in their feature product to be released during 1929-30 using sound only for the synchronization of music and effects, leaving the talking for their short reels.

If this is true and the announcement is forthcoming shortly after the new year, it is our guess that quite a few of our other big producers will jump on the wagon and start announcing themselves in the same voice.

The world's our stage—and all the wonders of it

The NEW company with a NEW idea will bring to American screens the representative photoplays from the far places of the earth. "Exhibitor's Choice" Selling.

World Wide Pictures, Inc.

Advt.

It Certainly was a Merry

"I used to think I was pretty good at inventin' mechanical marvels in my workshop up North, but gosh, these here new-fangled talking pictures, got out on the Fox Movietone, just flabbergast me. Out on the West Coast, I followed the crowds to see and hear this new Fox Movietone picture called IN OLD ARIZONA, and I want to tell you, folks, the way these characters all talk on the screen, you'd think they was real people,

WILLIAM FOX

IN OLD

with EDMUND LOWE

Directed in Dialog by RAOUL WALSH
and
IRVING CUMMINGS

LOS ANGELES

*Coast to Bigger Profits
with*

Christmas on the West Coast

loving, hating and fighting right in the flesh. With all the wonderful gifts I gave to people out on the West Coast, none ever made 'em as happy as the wonderful entertainment they got out o' that picture. Christmas comes but once a year, but the Christmas spirit that makes people happy can go right on every day in the year as long as there's picture houses showin' Fox Movietone talking pictures like IN OLD ARIZONA."

Money Talks— and the FIRST ALL-TALKING OUTDOOR FEATURE IN OLD ARIZONA is NOW TALKING MONEY

CRITERION Theatre, Los Angeles
BROADWAY Theatre, Portland, Oregon
FIFTH AVENUE Theatre, Seattle, Wash.
—and that's just the start!

For Greater Prosperity in 1929, play the GREATER FOX MOVIE TONE
ALL-TALKING FEATURES:

IN OLD ARIZONA	THE VALIANT
THE GHOST TALKS	SPEAKEASY
HEARTS IN DIXIE	THRU DIFFERENT EYES

Now Ready or in Production at Movietone City

presents

ARIZONA

WARNER BAXTER DOROTHY BURGESS

Story and Dialog
by
TOM BARRY

F All-Talking
MOVIETONE
X Features

● PORTLAND

● SEATTLE

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; James Cron, general manager; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

This newspaper is dedicated solely to the causes and the purposes of the motion picture industry and all its elements; to the fostering of its ideals; to the furthering of its proper business purposes; to its defense against its enemies without and its enemies within; to the dissemination of information of moment and interest to the industry; to the encouragement of all sincere effort within the business; to the nurturing of a proper and justified respect for the industry and its leadership and to a faithful and continuous service to pictures and picture people and this newspaper seeks to serve no other purposes.

MAIN STREET

by

GORDON TRENT

Paul Leni Arrives

Paul Leni, Universal director of "The Man Who Laughs," "The Cat and the Canary," and whose latest special, "The Last Warning," has just arrived in the East, will arrive in New York today to spend the Christmas holidays.

Windsor to N. Y.

Claire Windsor, who recently returned from New York, will go east again early in January to make RCA talking sequences for "Life", a Tiffany-Stahl picture in which she is starred. Ricardo Cortez, who also plays a leading role, will accompany her with James Flood, the director. Silent sequences of the picture went into production early this week at the Tiffany-Stahl studios.

New "Disraeli" Film

Warner Brothers has definitely decided to remake "Disraeli" as an all talking production starring George Arliss. Some years ago Arliss was starred in a silent version of this ever popular play and now he will start on the talkie picture right after the holidays. Michael Curtiz will direct.

Lasky Bans Dialogue in "Four Feathers" Fearing Impairment

Paramount took a definite stand on talking and silent motion pictures today with the announcement by Jesse L. Lasky for that film organization that "The Four Feathers" will be released with sound effects and music synchronization only.

"'The Four Feathers' will be released in its natural form," said Mr. Lasky. "Dialogue can augment the dramatic passages of many subjects but it certainly cannot help, and it might impair, a production of such sweeping action and emotion as this story. Therefore the characters in 'The Four Feathers' will not talk. As the old saying goes, actions speak louder than words."

Broadway Movie Houses Contribute Xmas Cheer

(Continued from page 1)

performance will be given, consisting of pictures which among others will be, "Mary's Little Lamb" and an "Our Gang" comedy.

The Paramount will receive groups of children from different institutions throughout the entire week at its regular afternoon performances. There is a special Christmas prologue arranged by Sam Katz revealing Santa Claus and his pack.

Mrs. William Randolph Hearst will give her yearly childrens party at the Strand Theatre on Christmas morning to over 3,000 kids.

The Colony entertained crippled children on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

All artists, musicians and theatre employees are giving their services gratis for these special performances.

Gordon in Detroit Butterfield Expansion

(Continued from page 1)

capacity of assistant to the President in the handling of financial matters. He joins the Detroit force on January 2nd of next year.

Besides the plans for the new theatres in Jackson, Muskegon, Ionia and Sault Ste Marie, the development in several other proposition in the State is also under way.

HOW ABOUT THIS MYERS?

(Continued from page 1)

treat to showmen has never yet in the history of the picture business appealed to the great majority and it will take the great majority, giving us freely and regularly to support a three ring national exhibitor circus that glorifies only a group and which could not possibly accomplish anything more constructive than can be accomplished by the meeting around the table of business exhibitors with business producers and distributors who gather to settle their problems in a business way. They didn't want Myers enough in Washington to reappoint him. What is this new deal—a place of refuge in the picture business with exhibitors taxed for the joy ride?

Speaking of Voices—

At the showing of a $2.00 picture recently, a singing prologue preceded the showing of the feature attraction. This singing of the theme song was the cause of a lot of laughter on the part of the audience because of the extremely funny facial adornments of the singers, a man and a woman. On his high notes the male songster contorted his mouth in a manner that would permit the entrance of a horse drawn wagon, and as soon as the feminine shouter made her appearance, the laugh was so loud the voices were completely drowned.

Some of our producers should see and hear this prologue and then write their own ticket on the debate of whether it is best to take our silent screen players and make the best of their vocal capabilities or do their future casting with an eye and ear for the voice alone.

UNIVERSAL SIGNS DR. MARSTON PSYCHOLOGIST

Motion pictures at last are to employ regularly the services of a psychologist. He is to devote himself to every branch of the business, from the purchase of stories to the solving of sales problems. Dr. William M. Marston, noted psychologist and lecturer in psychology at Columbia University and New York University, has just been placed under contract by Carl Laemmle, president of Universal Pictures Corporation.

Dr. Marston's title will be the Director of the Public Service Bureau, creating an entirely new department for the purpose of applying psychology to every branch of the activities of Universal Pictures Corporation.

Dr. Marston will make his headquarters at Universal City, California, on or about January 15th, at which time he will have completed his lectures at Columbia and New York University. From California he will keep in constant touch with all production activities.

Al Boasberg Here

Al Boasberg, free-lancing gag-man and publicist of Beverly Hills is arriving in New York this morning and will stop at the Forrest Hotel for about 10 days.

Tiffany-Stahl Branching Out With Own Chain

(Continued from page 1)

eight and ten dialogue and singing productions of special feature calibre with famous stars in the principal roles of each picture which will start their initial performances in the new Tiffany-Stahl houses.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

A POT OF MONEY.

They tell us that the London papers are filled with the news of a new $50,000,000 British company that has been formed for the construction of "cinema palaces" patterned after our big houses on this side. That's great news if true. England is making great strides in the motion picture industry, what with their world wide distribution of British made pictures, their reciprocal agreements with all the European nations for the exchange of pictures, directors and players. All they need now to make everything perfect is the production of a few good pictures for the millions upon millions of dollars raised there the past couple of years for production "in order to compete with the American producers."

SORE SPOT.

This making of pictures has become a sore spot on the British pride for industry. Almost every production organization loaded themselves down with money for the making of pictures, engaged a lot of people, made a lot of noise, put on the quota act, hurried here and there in an effort to keep busy, but where are the pictures? What has become of all that money? What is the final answer going to be? Our American market is as wide open as a cigar box for any picture or pictures that have a bit of merit and this reviewer sees a lot of pictures throughout the course of a month. We have seen and liked many foreign pictures during the past six months but do not remember having run across one English made picture bearing any merit save the film assembled from the archives of the British war department. Are they holding back on us? Are they getting shaped up for the "great drive" on the theatres and fans of this and other countries?

SPOTTY SOUND

It seems the further some of our best producers go in this sound racket, the more spotty their recording becomes. We have seen and heard quite a bit of faulty recording during the past few weeks and are at a loss to know the reason for it. For instance, we have seen a couple of pictures recently that on long shots, the voice sounded great, and while the same players were talking with no change of scene or continuity of speech, the camera moves in for a closeup and the voices sound as if they are miles from the microphone. One would think just the opposite would be true. What's wrong? Why should this happen? And it seems that this being the case, and the scenes are run off in the rush form in the studio projection room, studio executives would order them retaken in an effort to give a recording in an even tone. Maybe everything was O.K. in the projection room with the first print and the trouble was caused by the development of future prints. Whatever the cause, sound has been with us long enough to eliminate these, what seem to us to be, minor difficulties.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 148

New York, Friday, December 28, 1928

FIVE CENTS

That Rumor Business

By

Arthur James

THIS newspaper has had occasion before to deal with the subject of pernicious rumors in the picture business. Tiffany-Stahl, one of the fastest growing and best managed concerns in the picture business today, was, a few days ago, subjected to this same rumor process and on careful investigation this newspaper found that these rumors emanated from a discharged and disgruntled employee.

...

THIS man rendered himself liable to prosecution as it is against the law to provide newspapers with false information, but as the company and this newspaper have no desire to make martyrs or to hit a man when he is down, prosecution was naturally not seriously entertained.

...

IT IS well, however, for the information of the entire business, to call attention to the fact that Tiffany-Stahl was never in better business shape than now, its product was never so definitely box office and its present and future never brighter, so that the inspired rumors served no damaging purpose other than the temporary distress natural in such an instance.

...

THE above is printed for the information and advantage of the entire business. It is coupled with the very serious word that the rumor mongers may not get off so lightly in future cases.

...

OUR congratulations to Lee Marcus, newly made vice president of FBO and the same hearty good wishes go to Charles Rosenzweig, now general sales manager with B. B. Kahane, new secretary and treasurer. President Schnitzer has surrounded himself with an able cabinet for his master showman policy.

MARCUS NEW FBO VICE-PRES. ROSENZWEIG TAKES OVER SALES

YOUNG AND COOK OPEN T-S SALES MEET TODAY

CHICAGO—The special sales convention called by Tiffany-Stahl for their Eastern branch and sales managers open here this morning at the Hotel Stephens. President L. A. Young, who came on from Detroit, will make the opening address, on the new plans of the company for sound and synchronized productions for 1929.

Executives who arrived this morn-

(Continued on Page 2)

Sells R-K-O Holdings

Marcus Helman, former President of the Orpheum Circuit, Inc., and later Executive Vice-President of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation, has disposed of all his holdings in the Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation.

2 BIG ELECTRICS JOIN HAYS ASS'N

RCA and W. E. Cast Lot With Banded Producers—Sarnoff—H. Brown—Warners Elected Directors

RCA Photophone, Inc., the subsidiary of the Radio Corporation of America yesterday joined the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., of which Will H. Hays is President.

John E. Otterson, President of Electrical Research Products, Inc., of the Western Electric Company,

(Continued on Page 2)

Kahane Chosen Treas-Sec'y And Zohbel, Leatherman, Assistant

Scollard-Delehanty Out

At a meeting of the board of directors of FBO Productions, Inc., held yesterday, Lee Marcus was elected vice-president of the company, with headquarters in New York. Charles Rosenzweig was appointed general sales manager, while B. B. Kahane was elected treasurer and secretary, following the voluntary resignations of Clinton J. Scollard and Thomas Delehanty, former treasurer and secretary, respectively. Herman Zohbel was elected assistant treasurer and secretary.

Lee Marcus has been associated

(Continued on Page 2)

DERR IN CHARGE AT PATHE STUDIO

(By Special Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD—E. B. Derr, right hand man for Joseph P. Kennedy, will be in charge of production activities at the West Coast studios of Pathe.

William Sistrom, studio manager, and Benjamin Glazer in charge of sound, will work under Derr.

$5,000,000 WESCO LIBEL SUIT AGAINST J. & V. H.

LOS ANGELES—Harold B. Franklin, President of the West Coast Theatres, Inc., and the Pacific Northwest Theatres announced yesterday that a $5,000,000 libel suit is to be filed against Jensen & Von Herberg Seattle Theatre Interests, charging that Jensen & Von Herberg issued

(Continued on Page 2)

R-K-O 'Broadway' In N. Y. Shuts Door Jan. 2

On Wednesday of New Year week, Keith-Albee's Broadway Theatre, at 41st Street and Broadway, another famous theatrical landmark, "goes dark" forever as a playhouse.

The Broadway Theatre opened on March 3, 1888, with Sardou's "La Tosca", the first American presen-

(Continued on Page 2)

Made in Mankind's Cradle of Romance

Egypt! A great, grim, battle-scarred fortress; hundreds of wild tribesmen; Battalions of British troops, a "Beau Geste" story of a beautiful girl and her lovers.

That's "Tommy Atkins—Fighting Lover"—World Wide Picture—Advt.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; James Cron, general manager; Herman J. Schlier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada

This newspaper is dedicated solely to the causes and the purposes of the motion picture industry and all its elements; to the fostering of its ideals; to the furthering of its proper business purposes; to its defense against its enemies without and its enemies within; to the dissemination of information of moment and interest to the industry; to the encouragement of all sincere effort within the business; to the nurturing of a proper and justified respect for the industry and its leadership and to a faithful and continuous service to pictures and picture people and this newspaper seeks to serve no other purposes.

MAIN STREET

by
GORDON TRENT

Gordon White caught a trout last summer in Canada that was so big it was brought in on a flat car and nobody could believe that meticulously veracious man until he proved it. Why do Izaak Waltons and editors always have to prove everything?—and speaking of the gentle fisher folk. P. A. Parsons and Bill Yearsley cast a mean fly and visibly warm to the subject of fishing. Can you imagine either of these three playing ping pong? Wot? Well, neither can I—Taste in dress, dignity sans display, bear an important part in our contract with our business men and social fellows. Our notion of the industry's really best dressed man is one who would possibly be most surprised at our choice. He is a vice president and general counsel of M-G-M—Four men told me yesterday that Clark and McCullough in the Fox Movie-tone mirthful offering "The Diplomats" takes the medal as the funniest offering of the year. Having seen it, I agree with them—Charlie O'Reilly had Ned Hawkins to lunch yesterday which reminded me that Pete Harrison is recovering from injuries received during his Christmas shopping. He was caught between two push carts.—

Laemmle Xmas Parties In "U" Chain Theatres

Carl Laemmle played host to hundreds of thousands of kiddies and poor and lonely people on Christmas Eve. Practically every Universal Chain Theatre throughout the country extended Laemmle's invitation to the poor and lonely on this night to attend their shows gratis. Newspapers joined in the celebration everywhere. Local merchants and organizations contributed gifts. These parties have been the custom of the Universal Chain Theatres each year.

2 Big Electrics Join Hays Ass'n

(Continued from page 1)

was also elected a member.

The two new members were admitted at a special meeting of the board of directors. David Sarnoff, President of RCA Photophone, Inc., was elected to the Board. Changes in the Board were made by the election of Harry M. Warner, representing Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc., and Vitagraph, Inc., and Albert Warner, representing First National Pictures, Inc., also Hiram S. Brown was elected a Director, representing FBO Pictures Corp.

The addition of these leading factors in the sound picture field, RCA Photophone and the Western Electric subsidiary, means that talking pictures will be guided by the same cooperative policies that have accompanied the growth of silent pictures since the formation of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc.

Mr. Will H. Hays, president of the Association, stated:

"The organized industry is pleased, of course, with the affiliation of these two new and strong units with our Association's efforts. They represent very large interests in the new phases of the motion picture industry, and their ability and constructive advice and cooperation will be most helpful in solving the problems of the industry and in the further development of its largest usefulness."

Marcus New FBO Vice-President

(Continued from page 1)

with FBO since its inception seven years ago. He entered the organization as assistant to the late Harry Berman, general sales manager. Upon Mr. Berman's death, Mr. Marcus became general sales manager and has been serving FBO in that capacity for the last four years.

Charles Rosenzweig is another veteran of the picture business. Mr. Rosenzweig has been in pictures for thirteen years, and like Mr. Marcus, associated with FBO Productions since its inception seven years ago. He was promoted last year to eastern division manager.

B. B. Kahane, newly elected treasurer and secretary of FBO, is also treasurer and secretary of Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation as well as Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation.

Herman Zohbel, newly elected assistant treasurer and assistant secretary of FBO, has been connected with the United States Leather Company for the last twenty-four years as auditor and assistant comptroller.

MUSSOLINI O.K.'S FIRST FRANCO-ITALIA PROD.

ROME — Premier Mussolini has O.K.'d the first film production to be made by joint Italian-French efforts and in which the Fascist Government is largely interested.

The story is "Renaissance" written by J. J. Frappa and it is a historic story of the Italo-French wars of the Middle Ages. The picture will shortly go into production.

$5,000,000 Wesco Libel Suit Against J. & V. H.

(Continued from page 1)

statements recently indicating that the Pacific Northwest Theatres, the West Coast Theatres and other affiliated corporations were insolvent.

Franklin pointed out that the owners of the Empress Theatre Company are attempting to force a settlement of an action now pending against the Liberty Theatre, Seattle, for rentals due.

Pacific Northwest Theatres indirectly acquired some of the stock of the Liberty Theatre Company, which was organized by the Jensen & Von Herberg interests. Franklin declared the Liberty Company never was furnished with sufficient assets and that in view of its being a "shell" company an effort is being made to force settlement of the litigation by bringing in the Pacific and West Coast properties, which Franklin declares are in no way interested in the Liberty Theatre Company.

Young and Cook Open T-S Sales Meet Today

(Continued from page 1)

ing from New York were Grant L. Cook, Secretary-Treasurer of the company; Oscar Hanson, General Sales Manager, William Shapiro, of Boston; S. F. Juergens, Comptroller and Al Selig, Advertising and Publicity Manager.

The Western Branch managers will attend the second convention in Hollywood after January 1st, with Mr. Young, Cook, Stahl and Hoffman in charge. Other executives are returning to New York Monday.

R-K-O "BROADWAY" SHUTS DOOR

(Continued from page 1)

tation of that play.

In 1908, B. S. Moss acquired the time-honored Broadway for vaudeville and pictures. In 1927 when the Keith-Albee-Orpheum merger was made the theatre was taken over by Keith-Albee together with other B. S. Moss Theatres in Greater New York.

But the Broadway no longer fulfills the needs and expectations of the 20th Century Public. In its time the Broadway Theatre was among the best of its contemporaries, and made an unsurpassable record in the number and distinction of artists who appeared upon its haloed stage. On Wednesday of next week it "goes dark" forever as a playhouse. It gives way to a new sky-scraper business structure.

Previn Leaves Fox

Charles Previn, musical director of Fox's Brooklyn Theatre resigned his duties with that theatre yesterday and it is understood his successor in that post will be Dr. Klein.

"Abie's" Suit Continues

The Anne Nichols-Universal "Abie's Irish Rose" suit will continue for 4 or 5 days longer before Judge Goddard. Yesterday was taken up with Universal cross-examination of Malvinsky, who testified on Thursday.

'Submarine' in Big

"Submarine," Columbia's first sound special, has been booked by the Midwesco Circuit of Milwaukee, into the Garfield, Oriental, Modjeska and Tower Theatres in Milwaukee; the Jeffris in Janesville; the Retlaw in Fond du Lac; the Majestic in Beloit; the Gateway in Kenosha; the Park in Waukesha; the Wausau in Wausau; the Strand and Colonial in Green Bay, and the Oshkosh in Oshkosh.

"Submarine" in silent form will be shown in Midwesco's Miller, Mirth, Strand, Merrill, Savoy, Tivoli and Plaza in Milwaukee; Strand and Rialto in Marinette and Neenah in Neenah.

MORE MEN HAVE BEEN SCALPED

by the intensity of our modern life than ever were made hairless by the Indian Tomahawks.

But the billiard ball dome is not hopeless now that modern science has found the way to grow hair!

Not every bald head can be helped but nine out of ten can. You can know whether yours can be helped or not before you start!

Write for information appointment, without cost, or telephone to

GRACE GIRARD

One Fifth Avenue, New York
Spring 7000

13 TALKIE AND SUPER-SPECIAL F.N.-VITAPHONES ANNOUNCED

Depinet Lists Two Corinne Griffith Super-Specials

Now that arrangements have been completed whereby First National Pictures, Inc., will have full use of Vitaphone talking and sound synchronization facilities, Ned E. Depinet, general sales manager, announces the list of pictures for coming release, all of which will have dialogue. They will be known as First National-Vitaphone Productions.

The list includes the Corinne Griffith pictures under her new contract, whereby she will make two super-specials a year; also the remaining pictures to be made by the star under her former contract. Coming productions starring Richard Barthelmess and Billie Dove also will be with dialogue.

Pictures being completed for this year's program now definitely set for dialogue are "Weary River" starring Richard Barthelmess; "His Captive Woman" with Milton Sills and Dorothy Mackaill; "Saturday's Children" and "Prisoners" starring Corinne Griffith; "Hot Stuff" starring Alice White; "The House of Horrors," a mystery melodrama; "Two Weeks Off" and "The Girl in the Glass Cage" with Dorothy Mackaill; "Children of the Ritz" with Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall; "The Man and the Moment" with Billie Dove and Rod LaRocque and "Pat and Mike". A number of productions in this list are completed and others will be ready in time to meet the Winter and Spring release schedule.

The first of the eight sound-proof stages being constructed at the First National Studios in Burbank, is now in use and others are being rushed to completion. In addition to the stages on the First National lot, there are eleven Vitaphone sound-proof stages in California and one in Brooklyn all of which may be used if necessary.

Potsdam Sound Theatre

BERLIN—Germany's first sound-film theatre will be erected in the Spring of 1929 in Potsdam. Herbert Polke, theatre owner is associated with the new venture. The house will be equipped with Tonebild Syndicate apparatus.

BROADWAY CAST IN TALK'PHONE 'BLACKFACE'

The first picture of the Talkaphone Pictures Corp., a company formed to back Johnnie Walker and Howard Rogers in the production of a series of all-talking pictures, will start about January 3, using the DeForrest Phonofilm method and studio.

The picture will be titled "Blackface" which is an original story written by Rogers. Walker will direct with a cast consisting of Phoebe Foster, William Harrigan, Charles Dow Clark, William Frawley and Jack Cherry.

STUDIO GOSSIP

Mary Pickford has started shooting on "Coquette" after rehearsing for three weeks.

Paramount will not renew its option on the services of Phillips Holmes, son of Taylor Holmes.

Raymond Cannon will direct Lois Moran in her next picture for Fox, "Follow My Leader."

Mahlon Hamilton has been signed to play opposite Sophie Tucker in her Vitaphone production, "Honky Tonk."

James Hall, having completed his role in Vilma Banky's picture, may be signed to play opposite her in her next starring vehicle.

George Duryea has been signed by Warner Brothers to play the young love interest in "Honky Tonk," the Sophie Tucker picture.

Lily Damita is being considered for the feminine lead opposite John Gilbert in "Redemption," that is, if M-G-M and Sam Goldwyn can come to an agreement.

Jerry Mandy has the featured role in the new Educational comedy, "All in Fun."

Charles Hill Mailes, Flora Finch, David Mir, Fred Kelsey and Lon Poff joined the cast of Columbia's "The Faker" which is now in its final week of production.

Camilla Horn has been borrowed from U. A. to play the lead in the Fox production of "The Lady From Hell."

Thelma Todd has been signed by First National for a part in "The House of Horrors."

Marceline Day has been added to the cast of Clara Bow's new picture, "The Wild Party."

Universal has built a new studio to house the sets for their talking special, "Broadway."

Frank Relcher, who plays an important role in Pathe's "The Missing Man," has been doubling for that company as director for the dialogue sequences of "Geraldine."

Joyce Compton is still another beautiful girl to be added to the cast of Paramount's "The Wild Party."

Lillian Gish and Max Reinhardt are on their way to the coast to start filming of Miss Gish's next picture.

"Night Stick" 3 Ways

United Artists evidently figure their production of "The Night Stick" in the bag. For this reason they are making it three ways, an all silent and two different recordings on the all-talkie; one on the film and another via the discs.

Some Bridge Player

A Hollywood play and story broker visited one of our foremost producers some time back and offered him "The Bridge of San Luis Rey" for pictures. The producer commented: "Who is dis Louie Ray? He can't be much of a bridge player. I have never heard about him. Anyhow I don't want it, you can't make a good picture out of a book about a card game. Maybe you got something else to sell?"

"The Fog" Gets Started

The first British made picture to be started in Hollywood got under way last week under the direction of Marshall Neilan titled "The Fog" and is being made for the British Dominions Corporation, with Movie-tone. Those in the cast are Mary Brian, John Loder, James Kirkwood, Lloyd Hamilton, Robert Ames and Hallam Cooley.

Cozine P-F-L Stage-Mgr.

Arthur Cozine, location manager for several years past for Paramount's eastern production department, was appointed stage manager of the Long Island studio yesterday by John W. Butler, executive manager of the studio. His new position will include responsibility for set constructions and the movement of units and supervision of all work done on the stages.

First Roy Cohen Done

Al Christie has completed the first all-talking and all-colored Octavus Roy Cohen story, "The Melancholy Dame," for Paramount, which launches the first of these famous fiction tales, filmed with a hot colored jazz band and talked with the true colored dialect as spoken in the original published stories.

Paramore Joins Paramount

Edward Paramore, Jr., author of "The Ballad of Yukon Jake" and the stage play, "Ringside", arrived at the Paramount studio yesterday and was assigned to the writing staff. He will specialize in dialogue films.

Reiser Returns as Strand Conductor

After a four weeks engagement at the Stanley theatre in Utica, as guest conductor, Alois Reiser, conductor of the Mark Strand theatre orchestra is back again at the theatre, this time, the proud possessor of a beautiful silver cup which was presented to him by the members of the orchestra in Utica.

OPINIONS

By W. R. WILKERSON

DIRECTORS

It is our opinion that some of our big producers are going to regret the day that caused them to decide that a good stage director at a salary of $750 is better suited to their present demands than a good motion picture director whose salary runs from $1,500 to $2,500. Our reason being it will take longer to transform a stage director into a maker of good motion pictures than it will be required to perfect the megaphone man of days gone by in the proper direction of dialogue inserted in scripts of all, or part, talking pictures. And the procedure will be considerably more expensive. There is hardly a doubt to this and this conclusion seems to us to be only a matter of common sense. However the stage director is getting the call in several studios, and it will be interesting to see how long this will last.

COOPERATION

We got a great laugh out of a story in a Los Angeles paper recently, reporting the results of a meeting held by the technicians' branch of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences regarding the sound situation. The story had a head reading "There will be no more secrecy in sound" and went on to say that the sound problems of one studio will be the problems of another and that whatever progress one technician made in the sound field would be progress for the entire industry. In other words this committee of technicians would report to each other any progress made with the explanation of how it was accomplished, etc., etc.

Applesauce say we. Can you picture, for example Mr. Zilch, head cameraman for this or that star, telling Mr. Doakes, cinematographer for another player, how he was able to light a particular scene so effectively in his last picture, or whether it was back lighting or rays from the front that caused this or that particular player to look so good? If you think so you are crazy. And the secrecy with a motion picture camera is not one, two, three with the screen everyone constructs around any accomplishment in this sound business. That cooperation is a lot of boloney.

FAN MAIL

It has long been our opinion that the cost of fan mail is not worth the expense. Now, two of our big production organizations have arrived at that conclusion. Up to this time, a star or featured player was paid in a lot of cases on the basis of his or her fan mail. This mail coming from only a small percentage of picture patrons and for the most part from kids, who visit the theatre not more than once a week. The cost of handling this mail, with the requested autographed photograph, reached tremendous proportions and after a thorough investigation was found to carry little effect. Accordingly thumbs are down on this expense and the letters that formerly cluttered the mailing department of the studio, will be relegated to the nearest waste basket.

Standing on the threshold of an era that seems destined to eclipse, in accomplishment and progress, the greatest the Motion Picture has known extend their greeting to the exhibitor and to the industry at large.

Educational Pictures

Educational Pictures

"THE SPICE OF THE PROGRAM"

EDUCATIONAL FILM EXCHANGES, INC.

E. W. HAMMONS - President

Member, Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., Will H. Hays, President

LEVENTH ANNUAL ANNOUNCEMENT NUMBER

DAILY REVIEW

EXHIBITORS

VOL. 24 NO. 149

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, DEC. 29, 1928

FIVE CENTS

"I wanna break records!"

"IT'S A LION!"

Congratulations! Looks like 1929 is another M-G-M Year! 1928 brought "Dancing Daughters", "Show People", "White Shadows", "Excess Baggage", "While the City Sleeps", "Masks of the Devil", "West of Zanzibar" and other M-G-M hits! 1929 brings "The Trail of '98" (Dolores Del Rio), "A Woman of Affairs" (Gilbert-Garbo), "Alias Jimmy Valentine" (Wm. Haines), "The Flying Fleet" (Novarro) and more Big Ones. Stick to Leo of M-G-M and wear diamonds and smiles in the New Year!

RING IN THE NEW!

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer extends to the entire industry its sincere wishes for a happy 1929

A HAPPY NEW YEAR

SEASONS GREETINGS
from
MALCOM ST. CLAIR

Will Direct Harold Lloyd's New Picture

Sound Market Wide Open For Quality Equipment

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.—Formerly Exhibitors Trade Review

Devoted to the fostering and developing of the Motion Picture Industry.

VOL. 24 No. 149

New York, Saturday, December 29, 1928

FIVE CENTS

Wishes and Predictions

By

Arthur James

This is the season for predictions as well as good wishes and first we extend you the good wishes.

We bespeak the Fates for you, arguing in your behalf a new year full to brimming of successful industry and fruitful endeavor.

We wish for you as much personal happiness as can be crowded into a twelvemonth and this calls for health, for suitable revenues as the reward of effort and, to insure your own happiness, those dear to you must enjoy similar blessings of health and prosperity. Therefore, full heartedly and in the spirit of the day, we wish for you all your happiest year.

In prediction, which is the bounden duty of prophets and executives and the privilege of editors who sit in the watch tower, we assert with the most positive conviction that the year 1929 will be the greatest in point of public patronage in the history of motion pictures. We see on the horizon a farther realignment of companies that produce and companies that carry the show goods to market, with at least three of the organizations rising in the year to positions of importance and trade power that may surprise the trade and delight it as well, because of the growing movement toward sane competition on a basis of entertainment excellence.

Sound will increase in excellence and headway will be made against the disfavor brought about by inferior sound devices and reproductions. The squawkies, the shriekies, and the screamies will be in eclipse before the year has passed away. Silent pictures will regain ground lost temporarily because of their inherent entertainment value and the pictures will have the dual attractions with which to compel the enthusiasms of the great public whose servant the pictures are and by whose favor alone do they thrive.

These predictions are based on a view of present conditions and trends and though we disclaim the gift of prophecy either through inheritance, acquisition or inspiration, we verily believe this forecast summary of the events that are casting their shadows before.

Otterson Finally Sanctions Movietone Interchangeability

Western Electric Agrees to Permit Licensees' Product to Play Other Quality Machines

The question of interchangeability has been settled once and for all. A question that has been causing headaches to everyone in the motion picture business has been clarified in an interview given out by J. E. Otterson, president of the Electrical Research Products, yesterday controlling licenses of the Western Electric and, as such, virtually the first and last word in all sound pictures due to the fact that Western Electric has most of the prominent producers and distributors of motion pictures licensed for their recording.

Otterson says: "We have just reached an understanding with the producers licensed by us that they will play their productions on any equipment which in their judgment gives results of satisfactory quality. If they find or we demonstrate that the quality is not up to the standard then they will cease to serve such equipment."

Suggestion to Exhibitors

"To the exhibitors we say, if you can get an equipment as good as ours for less money, buy it, but if it is of lower quality, don't buy it at any price. Wait until you can offer your public the best. Our interest is to see you prosper through talking pictures. The success of talking pictures means more to us than the sale or loss of sale of equipment," stated Otterson.

Schenck Celebration

Out Hollywood way they gave Joseph Schenck a bid dinner at the Roosevelt in honor of that well known gentleman's birthday. Among the prominent guests were: Adolph Zukor, Winnie Sheehan, Louis Mayer, Hal Roach, Sam Goldwyn, John Gilbert, Louis Wolheim, Charlie Chaplin, Milton Sills, Douglas Fairbanks and Buster Keaton; Dr. A. H. Giannini, Lou Anger, Joe Topitzky, R. C. Durant; also Nathan Burkan, Kent Parrot, Fred Beetson and Leo Diegel, Bill Mehlhorn and Bobby North.

HAPPIER NEW YEAR, EVERYBODY!

Mark this historic month. Why?

JANUARY 1929

SUN.	MON.	TUE.	WED.	THU.	FRI.	SAT.
..	..	1	2	3	4	5
6	7	8	9	10	11	12
13	14	15	16	17	18	19
20	21	22	23	24	25	26
27	28	29	30	31

Because this month of January, 1929 A.D.

will see the inauguration of

"EXHIBITOR'S CHOICE" SELLING

by World Wide Pictures, Inc. Importers of "Photoplays made where the story's laid"—Advt.

DAILY REVIEW

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
Published Daily Except Sunday

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor
W. R. WILKERSON, Publisher

Abraham Bernstein, Managing Editor; James Cron, general manager; Herman J. Schleier, Business Manager.

Executive and Editorial Offices, 25 West 43rd Street, Suite 409, New York. Telephone Bryant 1489. Address all communications to Executive Offices. Subscription Rates including postage paid, per year United States and Canada, $10; Foreign, $15; single copies, 5 cents. Remit by check, money order, currency or postage. Entered as second-class matter January 4, 1926, at the post office of New York, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published and copyright by Picture Publishers, Inc. Printed by Cline Printing Corporation, New York City.

Most of our New York City subscribers are furnished their papers by carriers, in order that they will get a more prompt service than that given by mail. Subscribers will oblige by notifying us about any lapse in service.

London Office and Correspondent: Samuel Harris, "The Cinema", 80-82 Wardour Street, London, W. 1.

Canadian Office: Canadian Moving Picture Digest, 259 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Canada.

This newspaper is dedicated solely to the causes and the purposes of the motion picture industry and all its elements; to the fostering of its ideals; to the furthering of its proper business purposes; to its defense against its enemies without and its enemies within; to the dissemination of information of moment and interest to the industry; to the encouragement of all sincere effort within the business; to the nurturing of a proper and justified respect for the industry and its leadership and to a faithful and continuous service to pictures and picture people and this newspaper seeks to serve no other purposes.

Talkies Forcing New Prod. Marketing-Exhibiting Methods

Will Not Supplant Speaking Stage Although Spur To Higher Development

By LOUIS B. MAYER
V.P. in Charge of MGM Production.

The year 1928, which has brought to the screen industry some of the greatest and most sensational developments in its entire history, has also left a heritage for 1929, in the shape of many important problems that the united brains of this great industry must grapple with.

Primarily, the talking picture is the cause.

The past year has seen what is almost a revolution in the art of the screen. Stars once silent now must talk; pictures that once appealed to the intelligence through a single sense now reach human consciousness through two instead.

Great sound stages and intricate equipment have been produced and every day new engineering facts are brought to light to better the new drama.

A new and separate art is being formed.

Irrespective of the great engineering task involved, and of the technical problems that will be solved, many of them in the coming year, the screen industry is on the threshold of other problems even more intricate.

NEW PROBLEMS.

Our theatres are rapidly being equipped for the talking picture, and Europe is following suit. We have the problem of different languages to cope with; we have the problem of keeping the expressionistic art of our silent films and still meeting the inhibitions of the sound stage apparatus in its present form. We have new market developments to consider—new stars to play before the public in many cases, and a new form of entertainment to introduce to audiences.

Will it change the entire structure of screen drama? Some believe it will, others believe not. Some say it is a passing novelty and others that it will supplant even the speaking stage. Who knows?

LEGITIMATE TO REMAIN.

I personally am sure the talking picture will never supplant the speaking stage, for both have their spheres. But it is certain, I think it will work vast and important changes in our productions, our methods of marketing, and our methods of exhibition. Millions are involved, and the importance of every new development must be carefully weighed and examined.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, when the sound picture dawned, did not at once rush in. The organization studied the situation carefully. We employed the greatest engineers and constructed what probably is the most scientifically correct sound equipment in the industry. As our president, Nicholas M. Schenck, announced at the time, we have gone into production of sound only after every possible means to make such productions artistic and entertaining rather than 'merely just sound' of itself, had been employed.

SPUR TO ACHIEVEMENT.

I think that such productions as "Broadway Melody" and "The Trail of Mary Dugan" directed by Bayard Veiller, the stage playwright who created it; of "Hunted," produced by Willard Mack, its author, and others will demonstrate what we mean by

(Continued on Page 10)

NEW YEAR'S OBSERVATIONS

By Gordon Trent

Russian pictures are full of art, swell character actors, great types and more palaces than a plenty but for success in America they are too damned gloomy.

John Foster tells me his New Year's resolution is not to gossip or dish the dirt for a whole year. That's like tying down the safety valve on a steam boiler.

Mussolini will be regarded in America as a great guy just so long as he doesn't get thin skinned about Italian types in American pictures. We have a national aversion to anybody without a sense of humor—our humor.

Canon Chase hasn't been seen in print since his Washington upset when ane persons refuted his hokum propaganda in open meeting. But the Reform Racketeer won't stay dead long. He has to agitate or bust.

A subscription grafting sheet that makes its money by contributed subscriptions at $10 a year but virtuously declines advertising, had a lousy New Year's greeting in the failure of a clear headed young executive to renew 450 subscriptions to his weekly pamphlet of poison and piffle. This refusal cost the sheet four and a half grand and a headache that may be permanent.

Harry Bowlby of the Lord's Day Alliance will never be known as the Flowing Bowlby unless he grows nice long whiskers. Personally I don't believe he has much to shave.

Lee Ochs would make a swell Santa Claus for the Motion Picture Club next year if he maintains the girth and can master the patter. He could raise the beard if the forest rangers didn't interfere.

Al Lichtman's standing in the club aforementioned is one of affectionate regard and appreciation from the members and that's a lot more in life than many things I can think about.

ON the occasion of the eleventh anniversary of the Exhibitors' Daily Review, I am very glad indeed to join in extending the paper and its management hearty good wishes for the future.

The last eleven years in the motion picture industry have seen progress scarcely comparable in any other activity. To have contributed to that progress has been your privilege.

Our greatest need is the realization that the industry must go forward through the solution of common problems to a mutual, sustained prosperity. Any publication which can convey to its readers the constant need for cooperation of all elements within the industry will have contributed vitally to this end.

WILL H. HAYS.

Merry Xmas and Happy New Year

to all

the little kids and big kids in our Land of Make Believe
from

GUS EDWARDS

INTERCHANGEABILITY IS HERE—OFFICIALLY APPROVED—

Melotone

—ready for immediate installation—is absolutely interchangeable—all of the desirable features of the expensive equipments at a fraction of the cost

$1500.00 COMPLETE outright sale.

MELOTONE CORPORATION OF AMERICA,

1650 BROADWAY, NEW YORK CITY

HOLIDAY GREETINGS

FROM

WESLEY RUGGLES

LATEST PRODUCTION

"PORT O' DREAMS"

IN PRODUCTION
"THE HAUNTED LADY"

IN PREPARATION
"KING OF JAZZ"
with Paul Whiteman

ALL FOR UNIVERSAL

Complete Fox Production Plans for 1929 Announced

Fox Film Corporation plans another imposing schedule for 1929, more comprehensive and advanced than that of the past year and rallying still more strongly around a vanguard of talking pictures. Besides Movietone News, which will be progressively expanded until it will have seven issues weekly by the end of the year, Fox is assembling six full length dialogue films which will be presently put in circulation, as forerunners of others to be made at the newly completed Movietone City, first studio specially designed for "speakers."

6 Dialogues

These six trail-blazers are "In Old Arizona," first outdoor talker, directed by Raoul Walsh and Irving Cummings, acted by Edmund Lowe, Warner Baxter and Dorothy Burgess in the leads, and showered with praise already at the advance showings in California; "The Ghost Talks," first Fox comedy feature, with Charles Eaton and Helen Twelvetees under the direction of Lew Seiler; "Hearts in Dixie," with an all negro cast of actors and spiritual singers under the direction of Paul Sloane; "The Valiant," with Paul Muni and Marguerite Churchill in the stage play by Holworthy Hall and Robert Middlemass under the megaphone guidance of William K. Howard; "Speakeasy," with Paul Page and Lola Lane, directed by Ben Stollhoff from the stage play by Edward Knoblock and George Rosener; and "Thru Different Eyes," screen version of a play by Milton Herbert Gropper and Edna Sherry, directed by John Blystone with Sylvia Sidney, Warner Baxter and Mary Duncan.

Among the special productions will be a realistic depiction of Indian life now being done by Robert J. Flaherty, famed for his primitive life films, in Mexico and New Mexico.

Gaynor-Farrell Again

The famous trio of Janet Gaynor, Charles Farrell and Director Frank Borzage will be re-united in their first film together since "Street Angel." The new vehicle will be an adaptation of a story by Tristram Tupper which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post under the title, "Three Episodes in the Life of Timothy Osborn." Miss Gaynor will also be seen in the newly finished "Christina," a Holland idyll directed by William K. Howard. Farrell, in addition to his newly current Borzage production, "The River," with Mary Duncan, will appear again with Miss Duncan in "Our Daily Bread," now being finished by F. W. Murnau, director of "4 Devils" and "Sunrise," for early exhibition.

3 For McLaglan

Still another Fox topnotcher, Victor McLaglan, will add a couple of more portraits soon to his already popular gallery of dynamic, entertaining modern swashbucklers. His new offerings will be "Captain Lash," a stokehole romance just finished by Director John Blystone, and "Strong Boy," in which he plays a baggage-smasher under the tutelage of John Ford. Plans have been broached for McLaglan also to appear in "The Cock-Eyed World," a sequel by Laurence Stallings to "What Price Glory," in which he will be reunited with Edmund Lowe under the direction of Raoul Walsh.

2 With O'Brien

David Butler, after producing several hits depicting the humors of young America, will strike out in a new vein with "Son of Anak," with George O'Brien and Farrell MacDonald in the screen version of Ben Ames Williams' story. Another O'Brien picture will be James Tinsling's production of "True Heaven," in which his co-featured partner will be Lois Moran, already teamed with him in "Blindfold." Mary Astor will be in Henry Lehrman's "New Year's Eve."

Balance of Program

Other impending Fox features, replete with box-office names and stories, are Madge Bellamy in "Fugitives," directed by William Beaudine from Richard Harding Davis' story, "Exiles," and supported by a cast including Don Terry, Earle Foxe and Arthur Stone; "Red Wine," with June Collyer and Conrad Nagel, directed by Raymond Cannon; "Making the Grade," with Edmund Lowe and Lois Moran, directed by Alfred E. Green from a story of the same name by George Ade; "Scarehead," a newspaper story directed by Fred Newmeyer, with Robert Elliott, Sally Phipps and Frank Albertson; "Trent's Last Case," a Howard Hawks production with Raymond Hatton; "The Veiled Woman," in which Lia Torra, Latin beauty, figures as both authoress and leading woman under the direction of Emmett Flynn; "Big Time," vaudeville picture with Marlan Nixon directed by Howard Hawks; "Girls Gone Wild," with Sue Carol and Nick Stuart under the guidance of Lew Seiler; "Follow My Leader," with Raymond Cannon megaphoning and Lois Moran featured; "Nobody's Children," with Helen Twelvetees and Frank Albertson, directed by Albert Werker; "The Grouch Bag," with Louise Dresser directed by Irving Cummings; "The Lady From Hell," with Camilla Horn under the direction of John Erickson; "Chasing Through Europe," with young Stuart under the direction of David Butler, and "Behind That Curtain," from the mystery story by Earl Derr Biggers.

Among the outstanding productions lined up for Movietone shorts are Clark and McCullough in "In Holland" and "Waltzing Around"; a new Robert Benchley series, of which "Lesson Number One" and "Furnace Trouble" have already been completed; "Forget Me Not," a Marcel Silver production with David Rollins and Nancy Drexel; "Friendship," written and directed by Eugene Walter from his play of the same name, with Robert Edison and Donald Gallagher, and a new picture by Arthur Caesar, who wrote "Napoleon's Barber" and "The Diplomats."

Schnitzer-LeBaron Plan 30 Big Specials for 1929 FBO Program

DOWLING EFFECTS BIG FBO-RUSSIAN DEAL

Ambrose Dowling, General European Sales Manager of FBO, who has returned from an extensive European tour and reports excellent business for his company in Central Europe and the concluding of some very satisfactory deals with the Soviet for FBO product.

Subject to screening, the FBO product will be well represented in Russia and Dowling believes the Russian market will develop prices. He found many new film studios now building in Russia. While he found existing cinemas well kept and clean, there is room for in Russia for cinema development which will be well repaid.

Warner-Vitaphone for Photophone Houses

Vitaphone Pictures, according to George E. Quigley, V. P. of the company, will soon be served to theatres equipped with the new RCA-Photophone disc device, which costs about one-third less than the film equipment, and is intended for smaller houses.

This is the only device Warner Brothers have O.K.'d for Vitaphone discs.

With the purchase of Florenz Ziegfeld's musical success "Rio Rita", Joseph I. Schnitzer, president of FBO Productions inaugurated the commencement of a revolution in the quality of the company's product.

FBO is now in a strategic cinema vantage point as the producing and distributing company for the recently created Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation.

Mr. Schnitzer announces that the company has scheduled 30 special productions for the 1929-30 program. To take care of wired houses, houses that are not wired, and the foreign market, sound and silent negatives will be available on each production.

William Le Baron, vice-president of FBO in charge of production, announces that the great program of expansion will be inaugurated with the sound-proofing of the present stages at the FBO Studios in Hollywood. In addition, a new sound-stage will be erected. Construction on this stage will begin as soon as plans and specifications are ratified within the next few days. As equipment for FBO's sound operations, Photophone outfits are enroute from New York for installation at the studio.

To carry out the magnitude of FBO's increased undertakings, a larger producing personnel will be built up, and an array of acting, directorial, writing and technical talent will be assembled to execute the new enterprises.

WALTER CAMP, Pres.

JOHN BOYCE-SMITH, V. Pres.

E. C. JENSON, Sales Manager

INSPIRATION PICTURES, INC.

Executive offices,
565 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK

Production: Tec-Art Studios,
5360 MELROSE AVENUE, HOLLYWOOD, CAL.

HENRY KING'S

"She Goes to War!"

featuring

Eleanor Boardman, Alma Rubens, John Holland, Al St. John

Adapted by Fred de Gresac from the novel by

RUPERT HUGHES

Scenario by Howard Estabrook

Directed by Henry King

The epic of woman's imperishable part in the Great Conflict.

Produced in association with Victor and Edward Halperin

INSPIRATION PICTURES, INC.

Released through United Artists

BEST WISHES OF THE SEASON

FROM

WILLIAM K. HOWARD

Current Production
"THE RIVER PIRATE"

In Production
"CHRISTINA"

FOR FOX

LAEMMLE SEES GREATER PROMISE FOR 1929

Better Talkies, Fuller Entertainment,—Scope Of Industry Widened

By CARL LAEMMLE

President Universal Pictures Corp.

The question of Sound and Talking Pictures will continue to drown out all lesser problems in the motion picture industry for many months to come. Just what the ultimate outcome will be as regards Talking Pictures is hard to say yet. Certainly, it would be a brash man who would state, in the light of present developments, that dialogue in pictures has no future. Yet, that future is still hazy.

REBIRTH OF AMUSEMENT.

The overwhelming swing of the public fancy to Talking Pictures is a Voice no showman can fail to heed. I am convinced that the public reaction is based on something far deeper than mere novelty. It is based on the warmth, the personality, the human quality which voice gives to motion pictures. This being so, we must accept the birth of a new amusement medium, for the talking picture in its ultimate construction will be far different from a screened stage play, or a present day motion picture with injected lines.

THEATRES FINAL ARBITERS.

Of course, there will continue to be silent pictures—as long as there are motion picture theatres unequipped for sound films. Many theatres are being equipped monthly. Eventually all will be able to get equipment if they desire it. Whether they will desire it, in the final analysis will depend upon the advancement of the art of talking pictures during the next year or so. The technique of conceiving and making talking pictures is making rapid strides, but there is much distance yet to be covered before the talking picture arrives at the same state of technical perfection that the current silent picture has reached.

No industry ever faced such a complete change-over as has faced the motion picture industry during the last six months or more. "Give us Talking Pictures!" was the public's demand. That demand had to be met quickly.

The extent to which the various companies have met this demand is a remarkable tribute to enterprise.

There is no parallel in the entire history of industry. It is even more remarkable than the change-over of industrial plants into munition plants in war-time. And the change-over is far from completion. Certainly the first half of 1929, perhaps the entire year, will be a continuation of the hectic present.

The Voice of the Screen! It resounds from Broadway to Hollywood, but out of the babel of voices and opinions there rapidly is arising order and harmony. The elusive elements that make for good continuity and good theatre in talking pictures rapidly are taking form.

GOOD STORIES NEEDED.

The effect of this situation at present, is a growing necessity for the selection of stories that will make good silent pictures while at the same time being suitable for sound and dialogue treatment, since most talking pictures, for many months to come, also will be made in silent form as well. Thus, the stories must continue to be filled with action and other qualities demanded by the silent screen, so that they will offer first-rate entertainment, even when lacking their dialogue sequences. The selection of stories is becoming increasingly difficult, for this reason.

UNWORRIED ABOUT STARS.

There are other conjugate problems, such as the availability of present day motion picture stars for talking pictures. There is much being said on this subject these days. I, for one, am not taking it very seriously. With the exception of a few stars whose foreign accent might limit them to foreign roles, the average screen player's voice should register fair enough. I've heard some which register better than the voices of trained stage stars. At least they seemed more natural, and that is by far more preferable than vibrancy, or nuance or the other much mooted voice qualities.

Whatever the minor problems and the day to day obstacles, the motion picture industry will go on. Talking pictures make for better, fuller entertainment. The scope and possibilities of the industry are widened. 1929 enters with greater promise than any year in the history of the screen.

Where the holiday spirit prevails the whole year 'round

"The Leaders for Half a Century"

KEITH-ALBEE ORPHEUM

CIRCUIT OF THEATRES
EVERYWHERE—PRESENTING VAUDEVILLE AT ITS BEST and FEATURE PHOTOPLAYS
In Animation and in Sound

Composite Programs of Novelty and Distinction, embracing all the Newest and Most Advanced Devices of Modern Amusements.

GENERAL BOOKING OFFICES:
PALACE THEATRE BLDG.
NEW YORK

CORPORATION
1560-64 Broadway, New York

FBO PICTURES CORPORATION

Preparing for an Era of Colossal Expansion in All Branches of Sound and Silent Screen Showmanship.

NOW AVAILABLE—
EIGHT SOUND and DIALOGUE
ATTRactions
Synchronized by the Miraculous
R.C.A. PHOTOPHONE

STUPENDOUS PROGRAMS of Silent Productions, including Western Super-Features starring Tom Mix and Trade's Greatest Line of Short Products.

Now, more than ever—
MASTER SHOWMEN of the WORLD!

"BUILT ON A FOUNDATION THAT HAS NO EXACT PARALLEL IN AMUSEMENT HISTORY"

—New York Times

PAUL SCOFIELD

EXTENDS

SEASONS

GREETINGS

At present writing original screen story
"THE KING OF JAZZ"
which will star
PAUL WHITEMAN
and his band for
UNIVERSAL

Mal St. Clair Lands Rich Plum For 1929 -- Will Direct Lloyd-Paramount Prod.

Malcolm St. Clair, in New York for the Christmas holidays, left yesterday for Hollywood to assume direction of the next Harold Lloyd picture, as yet untitled. It will go into production almost immediately on St. Clair's arrival and will be made first as a silent picture with dialogue inserted after screening the finished product provided there is a place and a need for it, otherwise it will be released as an "old fashioned movie" with a musical synchronization and sound effects.

This will be the first picture St. Clair has done on other than a Paramount contract since he quit the two reelers a few years ago and went in for features. With the Paramount idea of stage directors for talking pictures and the resultant saving in salaries, they did not take up St. Clair's option a few weeks ago. As soon as this became known most every big producing organization put in a bid for his services with the result that he has grabbed the prize plum of the year in the Lloyd picture.

TERRA FILMS MAY AMALGAMATE WITH UFA

By Dr. R. OTTO

(Special to Exhibitors Daily Review)

BERLIN — The Ufa stockholders meeting was a very quiet affair and the director's report and balance sheets were approved without much discussion.

It was noticed, however, that the representative of the great dye concern L. G. Farbenindustrie, Herr G. Lederer, who is also Vice-Pres., of the Terra Film Company, was elected a member of the Ufa board.

The Terra Company under Herr Morowsky's able direction, one of the most thriving Berlin producers, has been working with the capital of the radical publishing concern Ullstein.

It is now reported that the Ullstein's are withdrawing their capital from the Terra Company and that the latter, owning only one theatre in Berlin, may be desirous of getting access to the Ufa Theatres and may amalgamate with UFA.

Talkies Forcing New Prod. Marketing Methods

(Continued from page 4)

intelligent handling of the sound problem. In the coming year the different studios will all produce many great sound pictures—the best that the brains at their disposal can conceive and execute.

We all have problems—yes, But I am sure that the spirit in which the whole industry is approaching them means that these problems will only spur us on to greater achievement, and a higher development of the great art to which all our efforts are dedicated.

Vitaphone--Past And Future

H. M. Warner, president of Warner Bros, foresees 1929 as a no less important year for Vitaphone talking pictures than 1928 has been. The advance, he believes, will come from three directions—first, through further technical improvement; second, through fuller understanding of Vitaphone as a dramatic medium and third, through the addition of new personalities to the roster of picture stars.

"It is almost inconceivable what strides Vitaphone has accomplished during the past year," says Mr. Warner. "Its improvements show more advancement than has been wrought in pictures during the two decades preceding it. I don't think it is unwarranted to say that 1929 will take credit for equally amazing attainments."

TECHNICALITIES OVERCOME.

"Let us first glance back at the technical improvements realized during the past twelve months. Vitaphone is no longer subject to the limitations that confronted it during its experimental stages. For instance, exterior shots can now be filmed with clarity that was once only possible within the sound proof studio walls. Out-of-door Vitaphone sequences are part of Monte Blue's first all-talking picture, 'Conquest,' and have been worked out even more completely in his coming vehicle, 'From Headquarters'."

ROVING CAMERAS.

"No longer does the camera have to remain stationary during the taking of Vitaphone scenes. Al Jolson's picture, 'The Singing Fool,' for instance, illustrates how perfectly we have mastered the moving camera and the moving microphone, which have added immeasurably to dramatic realism. Other technical intricacies have been worked out satisfactorily until today any scene which formerly could be shot by a camera at all can be accomplished now with its incidental sound recorded on the Vitaphone."

STUDIO FORCES EDUCATED.

"The second improvement to be noted in 1929 will be a reflection of the familiarity which our directors and studio force have acquired with the new medium. Vitaphone no longer seems a strange instrument for us to work with. Through our pioneering we have learned how to use it to the best advantage, we know how to get the maximum effect through it, we understand what is proper dialogue and what is not.

"Review for a moment what we have actually effected during 1928. Within that year we exhibited the first picture with dialogue—Dolores Costello in 'Tenderloin'; the first picture with dialogue in its dramatic climaxes—'The Lion and the Mouse'; the first all-talking picture—'Lights of New York'; the first picture to eliminate every subtitle—'The Terror'. We have clarified to exhibitors the public's stand in regard to Vitaphone by making the biggest box-office draw ever filmed—proved so by actual receipts—Al Jolson in 'The Singing Fool'. We have made the first Vitaphone spectacle—'Noah's Ark' and the first Vitaphone operetta—'The Desert Song'. Warner Bros. have a high mark to shoot for to accomplish as much next year but I do not doubt for a minute that it will be done."

NEW PERSONALITIES COMING.

"Great personalities new to the screen are something else that may be expected from Vitaphone during 1929. In 1928 we presented to the motion picture public for the first time Fannie Brice. In 1927 it was Al Jolson. Sophie Tucker and Ted Lewis will be among those whose debuts will be sponsored in the future. We will also present film favorites in their first speaking roles—Thomas Meighan, for instance, and George Arliss. Then there will be new stars developed directly by Vitaphone as David Lee, the remarkable youngster in 'The Singing Fool' who has come into such pronounced popular favor that we have decided to star him."

VITAPHONE WILL IMPROVE.

"And let me reiterate again what I have said often before. Vitaphone pictures will continue to improve the quality of silent pictures. Producers are now exercising infinitely more care in the selection of stories than they did in the days when the screen was silent. More care too goes into their filming, their editing and their cutting."

"Just as Warner Bros. have taken in bigger grosses with their Vitaphone productions than have been realized by any other company, so have their silent pictures been more profitable. Vitaphone has been, and will continue to be in 1929, a boon to all exhibitors whether their policy is a Vitaphone policy or a silent one."

Valli-Glass Cast

Virginia Valli and Gaston Glass have been signed for the leads in Columbia's latest production, "Behind Closed Doors," a mystery drama which pictures political intrigues in a fictitious country, and then moves swiftly to an American setting.

McDermott Ill on Coast

HOLLYWOOD — Marc McDermott, veteran screen actor was reported critically ill in a Glendale, Cal., hospital. He was said to be suffering from a stomach and liver disorder.

WORLD WIDE GREETING LAUNCHES NEW YEAR

International Group of Foreign Productions
Ready Jan. 15

By J. D. WILLIAMS
Executive V. P. World Wide Pictures

The anniversary of any member of the industry is an occasion for congratulations. Anniversaries suggest that in a field of keen competition the celebrant has contributed a measure to the general welfare of the industry else there would be no anniversary.

So World Wide Pictures, about to enter the field on January 15th and contribute its part to the success of American exhibitors by giving them a new line of imported product, felicitates the Daily Review on rounding out a healthy period through sheer merit and fair play to all.

More power to you in 1929, and about this time next year you can come around and congratulate us—we will be open for it.

BERN RETURNS TO W. C. 'NOISY NEIGHBORS' NEXT

Paul Bern, Pathe producer, who has spent the past two weeks in New York surveying the local book and play markets, left Thursday on the Wolverine for the West Coast where he will immediately assume charge of the production of Pathe's second all-dialogue picture, "Listen Baby!" adapted from the story of the same name by Elsie Janis and Gene Markey.

Bern's first picture for Pathe is a screen adaptation of Booth Tarkington's popular story "Geraldine." This picture, in both silent and in sound editions with dialogue sequences, will be released on January 16th. His second, "Noisy Neighbors," will be released on January 27th, both in sound and silent versions.

What A Cast—

M-G-M have certainly gone the limit in casting "Our Modern Maidens" the sequel to "Our Dancing Daughters". Have a look at those assigned so far. Joan Crawford, Anita Page, Rod LaRocque, Josephine Dunn, Edward Nugent, Albert Gran and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. It is a story by Josephine Lovett, who was responsible for "Dancing Daughters" and will be directed by Jack Conway.

Seasons Greetings

From

WILLIAM K. HOWARD
EDDIE CLINE
LEWIS MILESTONE
HOWARD HIGGINS
CLARA BERANGER
F. HUGH HERBERT
RICHARD ARLEN
NEIL HAMILTON
NORMAN KEERY
MELLVILLE BROWN
F. RICHARD JONES
EDWARD SUTHERLAND
RICHARD WALLACE
JOHN FARROW

ERNEST PASCAL
WALLACE SMITH
RUTH CHATTERTON
LILA LEE
OWEN MOORE
NICHOLAS SOUSSANIN
WILLIAM DEMILLE
RUPERT JULIAN
ALFRED GREEN
JULES FURTHMAN
FRANK BUTLER
RALPH FORBES
LAWRENCE GREY
RUSSELL SIMPSON

MYRON SELZNICK

Taft Building
HOLLYWOOD, CALIF.

Sonora

CLEAR AS A BELL

Interchangeability Clarified !

From A Statement By
J. E. OTTERSON
Pres. Electrical Research Prod.

"We have just reached an understanding with the producers licensed by us that they will play their productions on any equipment which in their judgment, gives results of satisfactory quality. If they find, or we demonstrate, that the quality is not up to the standard then they will cease to serve such equipment. To the exhibitors we say:

" 'If you can get an equipment as good as ours for less money, buy it but if it is of lower quality don't buy it at any price. Wait until you can offer your public the best. Our interest is to see you prosperous through talking pictures. The success of talking pictures means more to us than the sale or loss of a sale of equipment'."

WE point with pride to the satisfaction of exhibitors who have played Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Paramount, First National and United Artists pictures on the Sonora-Bristolphone reproducing system.

With the deepest appreciation of the splendid support which greeted the advent of this instrument in the theatres, we extend our wishes for a bright and prosperous New Year to all members of the industry.

Bristolphone

